WINDWARD OAHU STAMPEDE SAT-SUN

Cowboy and Indian Parade Through Kailua To Signal Start of Two-day Rodeo Events

PLEASE COME! On behalf of the rodeo committee, pretty six-year-old Cheri Chung extends an invitation Monday to Governor William F. Quinn to attend the Windward Oahu Stampede—with Mrs. Quinn and the five little Quinns. Assuring the Governor that the invitation signed by Lt. Col. Jack E. Conger, military co-chairman, is authentic is Mr. Vernon L. Parker, president of the Windward Chamber of Commerce. Petite Cheri is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Chung of Kailua. It just happens, of course, that Dr. Chung is the civilian co-chairman for the rodeo. PHOTO BY SGT TOM WHITTINGHAM.

It's rodeo time again.

And that means it's time for military and civilian citizens hereabouts to don boots and spurs and 10 gallon hats and mosey to the Windward Oahu Stampede at MCAS's Truan Arena for two days of rollicking fun tomorrow and Sunday. That ain't all either. For the small-fry who may tire of the sight of horse and cow flesh cavorting about the arena, there is a carnival situated just a calf-throw away.

A colorful cowpoke parade through the heart of Kailua and ending at the rodeo grounds will signal the start of activity on each of the two days. Each day, prizes will be awarded to the "best mounted" and the most "select costume" for men and women in two age groups, under and over 16 years.

The 1st Marine Brigade band will lead off the parade promptly at 12 p.m.

The American Indian, long a part of Mainland rodeos, will be represented in the parade by SSgt. Carl Bryant from Nebraska; Cpl. Herman Tallus of Arizona; and Cpl. William O'Brien of Wisconsin. They will ride in the parade in authentic Indian costumes made from materials procured locally. This includes feathered headdresses. Bryant and O'Brien are Sioux and Tallus hails from the Hopi tribe.

When the parade ends here, action in the rodeo arena will start and continue for about three and one-half hours. The grand entry will be made at 1 p.m. by all rodeo contestants. And then on-stage will be the cream of the island crop of military and civilian bronc busters. The events in which 100 cowboys will vie for the prize money include bareback bronc riding, calf roping, senior reining, saddle bronc riding, team roping, junior reining, steer wrestling, cloverleaf barrel race, ribbon roping, junior bull riding, and bull riding.

These same events will be held each day closing with a calf scramble open to youngsters age 12 and over. See WINDWARD STAMPEDE, P-3

Gen. Greunther To Visit K-Bay Monday, Oct. 14

Gen. Alfred M. Greunther, U. S. Army, (ret.), President of the American National Red Cross, will conduct a whirlwind tour of some Oahu military bases Monday, Oct. 14, according to ComFourteen Notice 5050.

The general is scheduled to arrive at the Kaneohe Bay Marine Corps Air Station at 8:30 a.m. on that date.

He will discuss Red Cross matters briefly with Brig. Gen. Avery R. Kier, 1st Marine Brigade commanding general, and members of his staff, and Col. Jack R. Cram, CO, MCAS, and members of his staff. After this, Gen. Greunther will address officers, noncommissioned officers and petty officers, of the Marine Corps and Navy in the Station Theater at 9 a.m.

A Marine Corps helicopter will airlift the general to Schofield Barracks for his next appointment. He is also scheduled to visit the Naval Base, Pearl Harbor and Fort DeRussy.

At each place, he will give a 35 minute talk to tell some of the Red Cross story to members of the Armed Forces.

DRIVE KICK-OFF—The MCAS phase of the Red Feather campaign began Monday when MSgt. Eugene E. Adams, MCAS S-4 NCOIC and keyman for the administration building, delivered pledge card and campaign literature to Col. Jack R. Cram, MCAS CO. In the Brigade, the drive rapidly gathered momentum when it was reported that the 4th Marines' 4.2 Mortar Co. pledged 100 per cent shortly before leaving for maneuvers on the Big Island.

4.2 Mortar Co., 4th Marines Gives 100 Per Cent to Red Feather Drive

A keyman system of solicitation is being used this year to spur the Honolulu Community Chest campaign which began Monday in the 14th Naval District. Both the 1st Marine Brigade and the Marine Corps Air Station have joined in the drive to fulfill this year's goal of $85,000 which is $30,000 more than last year.

The keyman system employs one Red Feather representative for about every 25 men. These keymen then turn contributions over to the department representatives. The plan ensures that almost every man in the unit will be called upon to contribute.

Maj. N. M. Bennett, Brigade Chairman, said the 4.2 Mortar Co., 4th Marines, jumped off to an early lead when that unit participated 100 per cent on the first day (Monday) of the drive just before leaving for maneuvers on the Big Island.

Brigade representatives from the 4th Marines; MAG-13; Service Bn.; 3rd Bn., 12th Marines; Brigade Hq. Co. and HMR-161 held an organizational meeting last Thursday. Maj. J. W. Kirkland, MCAS Drive chairman, and Mr. Edward D. K. Ching, civilian employees chairman, addressed the MCAS kick-off rally in the Station conference room Monday. At both meetings department heads and unit representatives were instructed in the conduct of the drive, and were given Community Chest literature.

Almost every man and woman aboard the Station is expected to be contacted before the Drive ends Oct. 18.

GENERAL PATE REAPPOINTED COMMANDANT

President Eisenhower last week announced the reappointment of Gen. Randolph McC. Pate as Commandant of the Marine Corps for two years beginning Jan. 1, 1958.

Gen. Pate, the 21st Commandant of the Marine Corps, assumed his present duties on Jan. 1, 1956, replacing Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr. Prior to Gen. Pate's appointment the Commandants were appointed to serve a four-year tour. The Marine commander's tour was changed to coincide with the tenure of the other members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Gen. Pate, a graduate of Virginia Military Institute and a Marine officer for 37 years, is a veteran of the Korean conflict, World War II and pre-World War II expeditionary service in Santo Domingo and China.

The Commandant is married to the former Mary E. Bunting of Winnipeg, Canada.

Brigade Units Begin Embarkation For Training at Pohakuloa, Hawaii

Over 750 Marines of the 1st Marine Brigade, FMF, embarked on LST's here last weekend and Monday for transportation to the Big Island and a month's training in the rugged Pohakuloa maneuver area. They were the first contingent of an estimated total of about 3,400 Leathernecks who will receive intensive live firing and infantry training exercises on Hawaii during October.

First to embark were Service Battalion personnel, who will set up and maintain the base camp at the saddle area training site. Some 250 members of the battalion left last Friday and Sunday. Maj. Edward J. Orem, battalion executive officer, who will be base camp commander, flew to the Big Island Sunday.

Also loading out Sunday were 47 members of the Anti-Tank Co., 4th Marines, and 40 artillerymen from the 3rd Bn., 12th Marines. The Anti-Tank personnel will act as aggressors during the maneuvers.

MarCor Announces Reduction Policy

The Marine Corps is continuing the early release of certain enlisted Marines in connection with the first reduction in personnel according to a Headquarters, Marine Corps, release. There will be no additional early releases necessitated by the cut announced last week by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson. Reductions will be accomplished by lowering recruit quotas and by reducing officer input.

The announcement last week ordered the Corps to cut an additional 10,000 men from its previously announced ceiling of 190,000. It has until July, 1958 to reduce its strength to 188,000, and is allowed to delay the remaining reduction until early in Fiscal Year 1959.

The Corps will maintain three Divisions and Wings, although at somewhat reduced levels, Headquarters said.

Before dawn Monday, 127 officers and men of the 4.2 Mortar Co., 4th Marines, embarked. This unit, with the artillery and Anti-Tank Co will remain at Pohakuloa for the entire month of October.

Infantry battalions from the 4th Marines, who were scheduled to follow this week, will undergo training on a rotating basis during the month.

A second detail of 250 men from the 3rd Bn., 12th Marines, left Kaneohe Wednesday and were followed by 160 more on Thursday.

An advance party of 30 men from the 3rd Bn., 4th Marines, accompanied the artillerymen Monday. The remainder of the battalion, some 750 strong, were expected to embark yesterday or today. They will return to Kaneohe on Oct. 16.

The 2nd Bn., 4th Marines, will begin embarkation on Tuesday, Oct. 8. Last unit to load will be the 1st Bn., 4th Marines, scheduled to begin the move to Pohakuloa on Oct. 14.

A detachment of personnel from HMR-161 will accompany the troops moving by LST. The aircraft will be flown to the Big Island.

Principal purpose of the October training is to afford the artillery and mortars unlimited live firing opportunity unavailable elsewhere in the Hawaiian Islands. The infantry units will conduct realistic battalion size problems and will be actively supported by both the artillery and planes of MAG-13.

Each infantry battalion will be on the Big Island for a nine-day period.

Much of the fresh food required for use by Brigade units will be purchased locally on Hawaii. Purchases will include vegetables, bread, milk, ice cream and fresh produce.

A Year Around Task

CARELESSNESS! Did you know that 90 per cent of all fires are caused by carelessness? The annual 1957 "Fire Prevention Week" being observed during the week of Oct. 6 thru 12 calls our attention to this. Our nation has made a good start in fire prevention and real progress is being made. It's up to us as individuals to keep the ball rolling.

Matches can be helpful in many ways. We need them and use them in cooking, heating, building campfires, burning trash and other necessary chores. However, last year alone matches and smoking were responsible for more fires in our country than any other single cause. They caused one out of every four fires, and damaged or destroyed homes, stores, schools, churches and other property worth millions and millions of dollars.

What is even worse, of course, is the large number of persons, young and old, who were hurt or killed in fires caused by those little phosphorous-covered sticks called matches. Many were youngsters or smaller children left unattended by careless adults. Children are curious and matches have a purpose. When these two come into contact with each other they form a deadly combination which is responsible for causing one-fifth of the destruction and tragedy caused annually by fire.

Panic can be a killer! Ironically, though it springs from a consuming desire to stay alive, it is apt to destroy you. Time after time it has turned relatively minor emergencies into riots in which scores of people were suffocated or trampled to death. Panic is contagious! It can spread in an instant from one hysterical person to a roomful of people. We as individuals have to know how to act quickly when fire strikes.

You should familiarize yourself with the location of the fire alarm box nearest your home or place of business. After turning in an alarm you should remain at the box to direct the firemen to the scene unless the fire is of sufficient size to be plainly seen.

Unfortunately, no one has discovered an inoculation against fire injury, or we could perhaps get a vaccination along with our shots for polio, smallpox or diphtheria. In place of this we are going to have to use plain common sense. Knowing what to do in an emergency may save your life someday, or the life of one of your children, so let's get with it! Don't be careless, it may hurt you.—BG.

TOASTMASTERS CLUB 1805

By Skipp Wishall

"THEY TEACH THEMSELVES TO SPEAK ON THEIR FEET"

Feel awkward when you get up to make a speech before a Basic Training Class or even a PTA meeting? More than 87,000 men in this country and abroad claim they have the solution. They say there is no safer place in the world for a man to act awkward than a meeting of a Toastmaster Club.

For these men banded together in some 2,500 local clubs this acting awkward has a purpose. They want to learn to speak well, and they are determined that the best way to do it is to make their mistakes among themselves and to teach each other.

In a Toastmaster Club that is exactly what happens. No experts preach enunciation, gesticulation and modulation. The Toastmasters simply climb shakily to their feet and let loose. Their fellow members are their critics as well as their applauders.

There is a fixed program, designed to bear out the club slogan: "Toastmasters is more than a club—it is an education." The neophyte orator first goes through what is known as basic training, which includes 12 speaking assignments over 12 to 18 months of club membership. After that, he can take a 16 assignment course called "beyond basic training." Or he may go into other projects planned to advance his speaking ability.

The learning process works like this: A new member undergoes indoctrination from the club's educational chairman. He is then assigned his first speech which he will deliver in a few short weeks with assistance from the educational committee which works with each new member. And that's all there is to it.

Next week we will discuss the training manual and the methods it prescribes to mold a speaker. Why not drop over to the Staff Club next Wednesday night at 8:30 p.m. and sit in with the Toastmasters—once again you are reminded you're under no obligation—just enjoy yourself.

the K-BAY KIBITZER

by bradley

This week has dawned clear and dry and, as I write this column, I keep coming back to the hope that the weekend will be equally as nice for the Windward Oahu Stampede.

With payday this week, there should be no critical financial problems for those who wish to attend and it is my belief that most Marines will. I know the civilian community is going to turn out in force.

At least, if high level backing counts, the civilians are going to be here. Last Friday Mayor Blaisdell signed a proclamation declaring the first week in October Windward Oahu Stampede Week. In the proclamation he cited the fine military-civilian co-operation and urged all Oahu citizens to support the stampede with its worthy cause of raising money for the Windward Hospital.

On Monday Governor Quinn signified his support by publicly accepting an invitation to attend the rodeo. He seemed quite interested in the project, although I doubt he'll find time to bring Mrs. Quinn and the five little Quinns to the rodeo.

Delegate John Burns, Hawaii's delegate to Congress, has expressed his kokua and willingness to assist. Delegate Burns is a Windward resident and a strong supporter of the progressive efforts of residents on this side of the island.

The rodeo gets underway at 1 p.m., following a cowboy parade from the Campos Dairy in Kailua. This, by the way, should be quite a colorful affair since the parade is open to any military or civilian riders. An added note of interest will be real, live American Indians in authentic dress. As far as I know, there have never been Indians in a cowboy parade here in the islands before. This should prove a real drawing card.

I think there will be three of them and they are, of course, Marines. Who else? This is not particularly astounding but I think their attire will be. They have been very busy making it themselves. Where all of the ingredients came from, I know not. They acquired some feathers. They have obtained bows and arrows (Special Services, I suspect), and tomahawks (not Special Services issue).

From what I understand, their basic attire was not too difficult to create. I hear it rumored that the old, reliable loin cloth will be the principal item of clothing.

On the streets of New York this might cause an eyebrow or two to be lifted. But it shouldn't create much of a stir here in Hawaii. The Hawaiians were wearing the equivalent as far back in history as the Indians. Here it's called a malo. If you went to the Aloha Week Preview at the station theater last night, you saw the malo being worn by the Aloha Week King and his court.

Suppose you tire of rodeo in the course of the afternoon. The planners have not overlooked this possibility and have created some amusement that should be right down my alley, anyway. Two attractions at the carnival, or midway, are for adults more than for children, I'm sure. Or at least they are for the older children about my age.

One of these "specials" is a car that you can beat on with a sledge hammer—for the appropriate crossing of palms with script. This is something I haven't done before but I understand the car-beating booth has been a big attraction at other carnivals. If you're a little unhappy with the first sergeant, stroll out to the carnival and take your revenge out on the helpless piece of steel that can't fight back. Save a blow for me, though.

There will be quite a number of booths at the Rodeo, manned both by civilians and military. There should be something to appeal to each individual's tastes. However, there is one other booth I've heard about that sounds as though it should draw crowds. It's a dunking booth.

The hard-charging carnival committee has arranged to have a big water tank (courtesy of the engineers, I think) with a dunking rig over the top of it. Through the simple expedient of hurling a baseball against a target, the gents with the strong right arms get to see somebody tumbled into the drink.

I don't know who is to have the doubtful honor of sitting in the chair waiting to take a header but I understand the committee is refusing to accept applications from privates who are volunteering their platoon sergeant's services.

Now it seems to me this is enough of a sample of the fun in store for those who attend the Windward Oahu Stampede. If you still are not interested in buying a ticket so that you can enjoy yourself, better put in a call to the undertaker. All of your good, red American blood has run out.

There's one other thought, of course. Why not buy a ticket anyway. The money from this rodeo is all going for the benefit of the Windward Oahu Hospital building fund. True, you and I probably will never see it but those who follow behind us will certainly appreciate our efforts. Also, this is a pretty nice civilian community we live with. Why not just bear a hand to help them out?

Now that I've dropped a few hints, I think I'll head for home and scrape the mildew off my boots. Wonder if they'll still fit. If you see a guy at the rodeo who looks like he's walking on eggs it'll probably be me—but I'm going to wear those boots if it kills me.

Best Costumes At 'Vegas' Night To Win Prizes

Further details of the Las Vegas night to be held tomorrow at the Commissioned Officers' Mess (Open) were announced this week.

A new wrinkle is the award of prizes to the best dressed "buckaroo and cowgal." Of course, for the easterners, informal clothes are all right.

The bar will open at 7 p.m. and chuck wagon chow will be served from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Roast beef, appropriately, is on the menu.

There will be special games to help carry out the theme of the rodeo weekend affair and these will be topped off with an auction at midnight.

The club announcement proclaims dancing from 8 to midnight and invites "stomping" to the music of the Mellows.

The no host party will include a number of civilians who have been instrumental in making arrangements for the Windward Oahu Stampede.

Two-hundred dollars in gift certificates await the winners of the 1st Marine Brigade-MCAS photography contest which is being held to determine entries for the Marine Corps Photography Contest and the Seventh Interservice Photography Contest.

A Joint Brigade-Station bulletin, now in the process of preparation, will explain details of the contest.

Deadline for K-Bay contestants to turn in entries is slated to be 12 noon, Monday, Oct. 21. Entry blanks and a copy of the pertinent rules may be obtained in the Brigade and Station Special Services Offices located topside in Bldg. 258. (This building is near the EM-Club). Entries may be turned in to these same offices. Judges will be announced at a later date.

Jackson College Offers Classes

Jackson College in Honolulu has announced their tentative fall night schedule for 1957 which began on Sept. 30. Late registrations will be accepted until Oct. 8.

Courses offered are Business Administration, Bible, Education, Political Science, Psychology, Secretarial Science, Sociology, Law, Engineering, Nursing, Dental, Medical and Pharmacy.

In order to meet the needs of adults in the community for work on the college level, a campus program offers courses in the evening. These include both under-graduate and graduate courses and carry full college residence credit. Classes offered under this program are part of the regular college offerings and are taught by faculty members of the college, but moved to an evening hour to permit in-service teachers, public service personnel, businessmen, off-duty military personnel, and others to attend.

Tuition is charged at the rate of $10.00 per credit hour. Jackson College will grant a 50 per cent discount on tuition to all Air Force, Army, Navy and Marine Corps personnel although the school does not now have a military approved assistance program.

WINDWARD STAMPEDE PROCLAMATION—Honolulu's Mayor Neal S. Blaisdell, center, signs the proclamation declaring the first week in October as "Windward Oahu Stampede Week." The edict urges all citizens to support the Stampede which is a co-sponsored effort between the Windward Community and the Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station for the benefit of the Windward Community Hospital building fund. Lt. Col. Jack E. Conger, co-chairman of the Stampede, and Miss Joyce Ehlers, Miss Kailua, who will reign as queen of the rodeo, look on as the mayor signs.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the citizens of the Windward Oahu community and the officers and men of the Marine Corps Air Station, Kaneohe Bay, have established and maintained a most friendly and cooperative relationship; and

WHEREAS, the outstanding spirit is being manifested in the joint civilian-military effort to conduct a Windward Oahu Stampede on October 5 and 6, 1957; and

WHEREAS, this undertaking has as its goal only the betterment of the community through the raising of funds for the construction of the Windward Oahu Community Hospital; and

WHEREAS, this rodeo and carnival will give the people of Oahu an opportunity for pleasure and entertainment at reasonable cost while helping the Windward community to achieve its goal,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, NEAL S. BLAISDELL, Mayor of the City and County of Honolulu, do hereby proclaim the first week in October, 1957, as Windward Oahu Stampede Week, and do hereby urge all of our citizens to support the Windward Oahu Stampede.

NEAL S. BLAISDELL

Mayor

City and County of Honolulu
Done this 27th day of September,
1957, in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Over 125,000 Service Dependents Treated Under Medical Care Plan

WASHINGTON — More than 125,000 members of service families were given medical attention by civilian hospitals and physicians at a cost of $15.5 million in less than seven months.

A progress report on the Dependents' Medical Care Program for the period Dec. 7, 1956, to July 1, showed that the Defense Department received 103,000 bills totalling over $10.7 million from civilian hospitals and almost 128,000 claims from doctors amounting to $8.8 million.

Average amount of the hospital claims was $103.60; that of the physicians $68.84. Under PL 569, military families generally pay the first $25 of any combined expenses for treatment at civilian facilities.

Of the claims submitted, approximately 40 per cent were for Air Force dependents, 30 per cent Navy, 27 per cent Army and slightly more than two per cent for Public Health Service families. Maternity cases headed the list with tonsillectomies' second.

In a sampling of 1,000 cases, about 42 per cent of the sponsors were separated from the patients by duty assignment. A similar month-to-month survey among families participating in the program discloses that the only criticisms concern the lack of provision for dental and outpatient care in the plan.

The DMCP office now is making a complete study of dental care for dependents through a committee authorized by the Secretary of Defense to make recommendations for future action on the problem.

The report concludes that the program is providing medical care for many service dependents who might otherwise be unable to get treatment in Armed Forces facilities and that the plan is being accepted by civilian physicians and hospitals as well as military families.

Windward Stampede

12 and under from among the spectators. About 20 of these aspiring cowhands will be arrayed at one end of the arena and an antipaid 10 calves will be turned loose at the other end. Each youngster who catches and holds a calf may keep it as a prize.

Tickets, to gain entry to the rodeo arena may be obtained at the rodeo grounds tomorrow. No admission will be charged to the carnival area but tickets must be presented to be admitted to the rodeo. Truan Arena has a seating capacity of 7,000.

In addition to kiddie rides in the carnival area, there will also be food, soft drink and script booths, plus one prize booth. The Fort Hase recreation area will be used for the sale of beverages also. The carnival area will open at 12 noon and remain in operation until 7 p.m.

It won't be necessary for civilians to have a pass to get into the Air Station, it was announced. Plenty of free parking will be available off Mokapu Road to the general area of Middaugh Street. Military traffic police will be posted to direct motorists to parking areas.

Packed Auditorium Marks Meeting Of Mokapu Elementary School PTA

Spirited discussion and the presentation of leis to staff members highlighted the first meeting of the Mokapu Elementary School PTA last Thursday evening in the school auditorium. The meeting opened with the invocation being intoned by Chaplain Carl A. Auel. Presiding chairman, Navy CWO William H. Garing, Mokapu PTA vice-President, then introduced Mr. James K. F. Lee, Mokapu school principal.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Lee discussed the increase in his staff, revealing that enrollment at his school numbered 774 students, an increase of about 100 over last year.

Each teacher was introduced to the assembled parents who filled the auditorium to overflowing. A member of the audience placed a lei on each teacher as he or she was introduced.

The main topic of discussion, at least from a point of time consumed, was the working of children in the school cafeteria. Mr. Garing, Mr. Lee and Mrs. Ruth Wilkins, sixth grade teacher, explained the policy of school children employed in this manner. They emphasized that the work was not hard, the working conditions were favorable and that all heavy work was accomplished by cafeteria employees. A motion to investigate the possibility of hiring an adult worker, to be paid out of PTA funds, was voted down. It was further stated that insufficient funds allotted the Territorial Department of Public Instruction prevented the hiring of additional workers.

The sixth grade room of Mrs. Wilkins won the banner for parent attendance.

Thursday, Oct. 24 is the date set for the next meeting of the Mokapu PTA in the school auditorium. Time will be announced at a later date.

Cross-Observer Program Slated For Oct.-Nov.

A cross-observer program based on a two week mutual exchange of officers among Marine Aircraft Group 13; 4th Marines; Service Bn; 3rd Bn., 12th Marines and Marine Helicopter Transport Squadron 161 is being planned for October and November.

The program permits an officer to acquire a full and mutual understanding of how other units are operated.

Five MAG-13 officers and two from HMR(L)-161 will depart from MCAS on Monday Oct. 7 for a first hand view of the maneuvers at Pohakuloa. The visiting party will remain with the host unit for a period of one week. The following week the relationship will be reversed with the parent unit becoming the host unit.

Observers assigned to Pohakuloa will be air-lifted to and from the training area. Field equipment and mountain sleeping bags will be furnished observers by the Base Camp Commander.

Each officer will submit a report on what he saw and learned and give any helpful suggestion that will tend to make the cross-observer program more effective.

Funeral Services For Major Doyle Conducted Tues.

Funeral services were held Tuesday for the late Marine Maj. Ernest R. Doyle Jr. who was killed Sept. 17 when his plane crashed at sea off the Naval Air Station at Iwakuni, Japan.

Chaplain Carl A. Auel conducted the funeral service at the Rainbow Village chapel at K-Bay at 1 p.m. The service was attended by many of Maj. Doyle's fellow pilots and friends now stationed here.

Following movement of the body under escort, full military honors were rendered during graveside services at Punchbowl Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific at 2 p.m. The 1st Marine Brigade, FMF, furnished the band, military escort and firing squad.

Brig. Gen. Avery R. Kler, Brigade commanding general, presented the flag to Maj. Doyle's wife, Mary Louise, who resides with their son, Bruce, 14, at 210 N. Kalaheo Ave., Kailua.

Maj. Doyle was attached to VMA-332 of the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing in Japan.

Contest Winner Kauai Bound For Mitzi Date

The winner was slated to get his prize today. Pfc. James W. Monahan, H&S Co., 2nd Bn., 4th Marines, was scheduled to leave by commercial air this morning for a "day on the set with Mitzi."

Pfc. Monahan won the recent contest to select a title for Miss Mitzi Gaynor, the lovely 20th Century-Fox Star of South Pacific. His title, "A Marine's Dream in the 20th Century" not only earned him a $50 cash prize but the all-expense paid trip to Kauai as well.

The plans, revealed earlier this week, were for Pfc. Monahan to spend today on the set with Mitzi, then remain overnight at the Coco Palms hotel and return tomorrow morning.

RIPPING the "scalp" off "Coconut-head Jane Doe," SSgt. Carl Bryant, a full-blooded Sioux Indian, stationed at MCAS, is getting in the mood for his participation in the Windward Oahu Stampede tomorrow and Sunday. The authentic costume was made by Bryant this week from materials obtained locally.

RODEO COMPETITION RULES PROVIDE COLORFUL ACTION

The action stemming from the many events in a rodeo witnessed by thousands of spectators is varied, colorful and exciting. Because of the wealth of action inherent in this rugged sport, the rules governing the conduct of the contestant might possibly be overlooked. For the few seconds he is in the limelight, the contestant has his hands full. He must meet the requirements of the individual event with a combination of brawn, brains and agility.

Most of the events included in the Windward Oahu Stampede taking place tomorrow and Sunday at MCAS's Truan Arena are described below. Remaining events are listed elsewhere in this issue.

SADDLE BRONC RIDING

Tough and treacherous, saddle bronc riding is one of the more exciting events. Broncs are fitted with a plain halter, a rope to use as a rein and a regulation bronc saddle. The rope must be held by the rider with one hand and on the same side of the horse's neck. The other hand must remain free. Both feet must be kept in the stirrups and the bronc must be spurred continually with both feet. Being bucked off, changing hands on rein, wrapping rein around hand, pulling leather, loosing feet from stirrup, touching bronc or saddle disqualifies the rider. He must stay on the horse for ten seconds. Points are given for spurring properly, good riding and the performance of the horse.

CALF ROPING

The roper starts from behind a rope barrier. When this barrier is released, it permits horse and roper to enter the arena for timed events. A ten second penalty is imposed if the rider's mount breaks this barrier before the starter's flag drops.

The rope must pass over the calf's head. The rider must then dismount, grasp the rope and walk toward the calf and then throw the calf by hand. He cannot throw the calf by use of horse or rope. If the calf is down when the rope reaches it, he must let it up before proceeding to throw him by hand. The calf is then tied by any three feet with a "piggin" string. The roper is allowed two loops but he must pack two ropes if he intends to use two loops. After tying, the cowboy signals by throwing both arms in the air.

BAREBACK RIDING

The rules of the bareback game are different from those that govern the saddle riding contest. Bareback affords only a surcingle for balance. Under the rules, the rider is allowed to use only one arm while attempting to keep two legs around his twisting bucking mount. The free arm he must wave in the air to prove to the judges he is playing the game according to Hoyle. He must stay aboard for eight seconds.

BULL RIDING

The bull is rigged and the cowboy mounts in a bucking chute. At a signal from the rider, the chute man opens the gate, the bull charges out and time begins. The contestant must ride with one hand grasped on a "riggin" called a bull rope. Also attached to the underside of the bull rope is a cowbell which infuriates the already unhappy bull. Getting bucked off or touching the an-

Rodeo Rises From Obscure Contests To Events of National Prominence

By TSGT. GARRY M. CAMERON

"Ah got fifty-cents that says 'Red' can beat Johnny's time calf ropin,'" drawled a lean Texan to another cowboy perched on the corral beside him. It was the year 1882 on a big cattle spread in Texas. Round-up time was over and the spirited cowhands gathered around the corral for relaxation. Informal wagers were made as the men competed with each other in roping, bronc riding, steer wrestling and other contests of skill.

At the turn of the 19th century this scene was typical of cattle ranches throughout the Western United States. And from this beginning rodeos were gradually developed into public exhibitions of riding and roping skill.

They spread rapidly to all parts of the country west of the Mississippi River and eventually into Canada and the Eastern part of the United States.

Authorities generally agree that the first public competition for prizes for bronc riding and steer roping was held in Pecos, Texas on July 4th, 1883.

Popularity of these annual celebrations soon expanded to other cattle raising centers and eventually organized rodeos became known as Frontier Days, Roundups, and Stampedes. A rodeo in Western communities on July 4th soon became as traditional as firecrackers.

From local events the excitement of seeing dare-devil cowboys perform grew to big regional affairs that drew thousands of spectators. Among the rodeos that have grown to national fame are those at Calgary, Alberta; Salinas, Calif.; Sidney, Nebr.; Cheyenne, Wyoming; Pendleton, Ore.; and Fort Worth, Texas.

In 1917, Fort Worth, Texas held the first indoor rodeo in the Stockyards coliseum. Indoor rodeo became popular in many Western and Midwestern towns and by 1920 had spread eastward. Sharp-eyed eastern sports promoters noticed the tremendous drawing power of this dare-devil activity and from the first program at Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn, N. Y. in 1916 it ended up as an annual event in Madison Square Garden.

When the new Garden was completed in 1929 the name of the event was changed to World's Champion Rodeo. It has topped all similar sports programs in prize money and attendance.

Also in 1929 producers formed the Rodeo Association of America, adopted rules to govern all rodeos and award authentic titles, prevent conflicting days, and in general further the interest of rodeo. Standard point systems of scoring the bucking and riding events were adopted and calf roping, steer roping and wrestling, wild cow milking and chuck wagon races were to be judged on a time basis.

Except for roping, bucking and riding events moving faster, the Pendleton show has changed little in 47 years. Cowboys don't just ride now until the judges are satisfied, they are out to 'beat the clock.'

Although Eastern fans are able to see all the thrills and excitement provided by top performers, it is towns like Pendleton, Salinas, Cheyenne, Okanogan and the many other Western communities where the rip-roaring Wild West had its beginning and once a year relives the Frontier Days.

Truan Rodeo Arena Is Largest in Isles; History Revealed

Tomorrow at 1 p.m. during the Windward Stampede, Truan Rodeo Arena will resound for the second time with the wild west yell of "ride 'em cowboy."

Dedicated last year to the late Marine Sergeant Fritz Truan, by Brig. Gen. George R. E. Shell, then Brigade CG, the rodeo arena is the newest and largest in the Hawaiian Islands. Constructed by "C" Company, 7th Engineer Battalion, under the expert guidance of Lt. Col. Fraser E. West, Truan Arena is picturesquely located in the Ft. Hase area on the shore of Kailua Bay.

Sergeant Truan was killed during the fighting on Iwo Jima in 1945. His last big rodeo was here in Honolulu, in early 1944, when he rode off with saddle bronc honors. This Hawaiian Crown was added to his World's All-Around Championship of a few years earlier.

Leather-pounding Fritz blasted into the rodeo circuit from Cella, Calif., as a lean, dynamic youth of 19. Wiping out more experienced competition rapidly, he was soon recognized as a topflight performer, and in 1940 gained the distinction of being named All-Around Champion.

A real Champ, in the truest sense, hard-riding Fritz was the only rodeo contestant to stay aboard the fabulous horse, Starlight, for a qualifying ride. He was equally proficient riding bareback or wrestling steers.

At the zenith of his career, war clouds broke over the nation and in 1941 the high-spirited cowboy joined the Marine Corps. Sergeant Truan was killed leading a group against a Japanese position on Iwo in 1945.

In a dramatic tribute, fans in Honolulu attended a rodeo on May 2-3, 1945, shortly before the war ended and on opening night a silent crowd of 6,000 bared their heads in Fritz Truan's honor. Spotlit in the center of the arena was the stately stallion which Fritz rode to the top point position in the contest of the year before. With empty saddle, the proud horse stood motionless in the quiet arena while a Marine bugler sounded taps.

SADDLE BRONC RIDING

BAREBACK RIDING

CHILDREN LAUGH and cheer at his antics, and he appears to be much like his counterpart in Barnum and Bailey's three ring circus, but each time the rodeo clown is called upon to display his talents, he flirts with mutilation and possible death from the thrusting horns pounding hooves of enraged bulls and wild horses. In actuality, the rodeo clown is a seasoned athlete in prime condition and is frequently the only thing between a fallen cowpoke and a rampaging animal. Often, he is forced to leap into a barrel, one of the tools of his trade, and allow himself to be butted about the arena, thus drawing the attention of a destruction-bent bull away from an injured competitor. The wilder and funnier his gyrations, the better he performs his assigned task of drawing attention to himself.

TWO VARSITY TEAMS READY FOR MAUI TRIP

The Hawaii Marines' football and boxing squads will journey to the island of Maui this coming week where they will participate in the 35th Annual Maui County Fair beginning Thursday. The evening of the opening day will see coach Marvin Hewlett's gridders engage the Hawaii Navy eleven under the lights at Kahului fairgrounds in a University-Armed Forces Conference game and on the following two nights, SSgt. Matt Hargman's Island Leathernecks will oppose a combined squad of Maui Athletic Club and Army 25th Division opponents.

In keeping with this year's theme of the Valley Isle festivities, "Salute to the Armed Forces," many other Oahu military units will participate in the four day fair including the FMFPac Drum and Bugle Corps, the Navy

Band, the FMFPac Drill team, and the 25th Division's Cossack Drill team.

The Leatherneck-Navy football encounter will mark the second meeting of the infant season for the two arch service rivals, the Marines having emerged victorious from the two clubs' previous battle last Sunday when they fought off a determined second half Blue-jacket offensive to nip Navy 12-7. Game time is 8 p.m.

SSgt. Hardiman will enter 12 of his mittmen in the two-night fight card including National Inter-Service and All Marine lightweight king, Cpl. Luis Molina. ### Three TKO's Feature Fistic Action In Rugged Smoker Held By Regiment

Fists were flying in all directions last Thursday night as the 4th Marines staged their first smoker after a lapse of two months. Seven bouts were arranged and three of them were won by TKO's. Sgt. Ralph Worlds of "G" Co., 3rd Bn. pounded out a TKO victory over Pfc. Stanley Calico from Regimental H&S Co. in the only heavyweight bout of the night. The fight was stopped in the third round.

In light-heavy competition Pfc. Morse Green of Regimental H&S Co., decisioned Pfc. Tommie Gully of "D" Co., and Pfc. Cleveland Johnson of "D" Co. whipped Pvt. Arsenio Mcreno of "H" Co., 3rd Bn. in their three-round affairs.

The only welterweight battle of the night was an exciting one as Pfc. James Healy of "E" Co., 2nd Bn. slugged his way to a third-round TKO victory over Pfc. Warner Leslie who hails from "F" Co., 2nd Bn.

Lightweight Tony Miles, a Pfc. from "D" Co., 2nd Bn., ended his bout in the second round with a TKO victory over Cpl. Oliver Lendecker of "C" Co., 1st Bn. Sgt. Gilbert Dawkins of "D" Co., 2nd Bn. eked-out a split decision over Pfc. Bill Brown of Wpns Co., 3rd Bn. Cpl. Ronald Butler won a split decision over Pfc. Harold Moss of "F" Co., 2nd Bn. Cpl. Butler is a member of "C" Co., 1st Bn.

In the future, smokers are being planned for once a month. No bouts will be held during this month however, due to the Pohakuloa exercises. There will be two smokers

ATTENTION GRIDDERS

Following is an addition to the Brigade-Station 6-Man Football schedule published in last week's WINDWARD MARINE. On Nov. 13, Serv. Bn., 1stMarBrig will play 3rd Bn., 12th Marines at K-Bay's field 2 as well as the scheduled Marine Barracks-2nd Bn., 4th Marines tilt at Pearl Harbor.

in the month of November.

Participants in last week's bouts were treated to a steak dinner and were also awarded special liberty.

K-Bay Devilpups Lose Exhibition

Stopping their opponent on the ground but unable to muster a suitable pass defense, the Station Devilpups bowed to the Kailua midget gridders by a count of 26-0 last Sunday afternoon in an exhibition contest at Kaneohe's Castle High School Football field.

In preparation for the regular Pop Warner season opener Saturday, Oct. 19, TSgt. Al Rappold's charges will meet the Wheeler AFB eleven tomorrow morning at the field alongside the EM Pool here at K-Bay. Game time is 10 o'clock.

The Kailua equipment fund benefit tilt between the two Windward candidates to the Oahu Pop Warner Football League saw "Happy" Hanohano's Kailua midget aggregation upend the Station gridders with a devastating passing attack.

Devilpup head coach, TSgt. Al Rappold, however, was not altogether displeased with his team's performance and stated "Well, now we know that pass defense is what we have to work on. We stopped them (Kailua) on the ground and they by no means ran over us as the score might indicate." Coach Rappold also added, "Our opening league game is Oct. 19 against Kaimuki and by then we'll have our pass defense."

Leathernecks Win Opener; Face Hawaii Rams Sunday

The Hawaii Marines made good their debut in the 1957 University-Armed Forces Invitation Football Conference last Sunday afternoon by thwarting a second half Hawaii Navy rally to win 12-7 before 5,500 avid fans at Pearl Harbor's Ward Field. Scoring the first time they had possession of the ball, the Leathernecks went on to tally once more in the first half while holding the Bluejackets scoreless to own a 12 point bluge at the intermission. However, the beginning of

The victors tallied first with five minutes gone in the first period when guard Lt. Mike Collins recovered a fumble deep in Navy territory. The scoring drive of six plays was culminated when Lt. James Milne slammed off tackle into pay dirt from the three yard marker. Milne's conversion attempt was wide.

The second Leatherneck scoring drive originated from the Navy 39 yard line in the second quarter. Halfback Cpl. Al Daniels got the offensive rolling by gaining four followed by HM3 Ken Wedemeyer, who drove to the 24 for a first down. Fullback Pfc. Lawrence Patzer carried for four yards, and Daniels added 11 to put the pigskin on the nine.

Wedemeyer followed a short thrust with a five yard end sweep, good for the TD. Milne's conversion attempt was blocked.

Lt. Dan Garza's Bluejackets came back strong after the half-time intermission, tallying early in the period on a series of plays originating from the Marine 35. The seven-play scoring march was climaxed when halfback Faasuka Luto took a John Girard pitch-out for a five romp around left end for the tally. Dick Austin's try for the point was good.

The Bluejackets threatened a few minutes later when they recovered. See VARSITY FOOTBALL, P-7

GOOD FOR 13 YARDS—The camera catches the spot where Marine Lt. Fred Franco's knee touched the ground in one of the driving fullback's sparkling runs last Sunday afternoon during the Leathernecks' 12-7 conquest of Navy. This particular bit of broken field running occurred during the third quarter and was called back to the point of contact for a 13 yard gain. Leading Franco's interference (far left) is tackle Cpl. Louis Summerford and pursuing the elusive fullback is Navy end Don Thomas.

K-Bay Keglers Vanquish SubPac 3-0 To Advance in Inter-Service League

The K-Bay Marines' Bowling team of TSgt. Jim Thresher, TSgt. Von D. Michael, Sgt. Glen Slusher, Sgt. Roger K. Smith and Cpl. Frank O'Bryant swept three straight games from SubPac last Friday night at the bowling lanes here to move up two notches in the Armed Forces Classic League standings.

Team captain TSgt. Jim Thresher copped high game and series honors in the match to help boost the Windward Leathernecks from their previous ninth place berth in the 18 team league to a more respectable seventh place position.

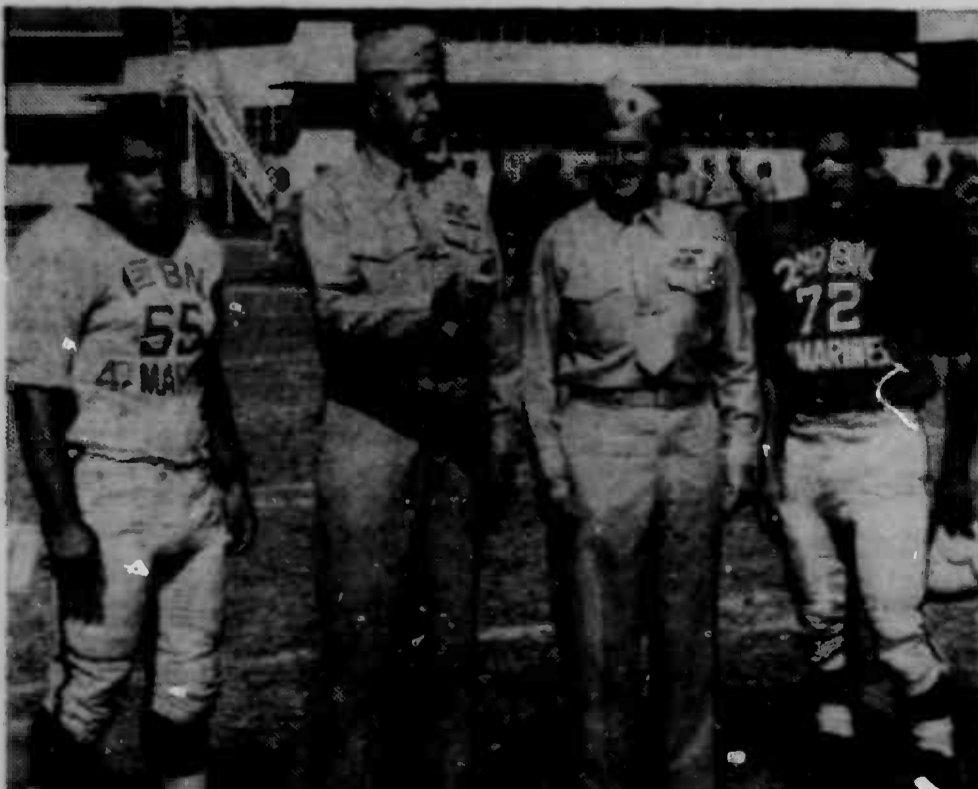

Sgt. Thresher notched two 200 games and recorded a high series of 556. Teammate O'Bryant followed Thresher with a 551 series.

Tonight the Marine quintet bowl against NavComSta at the Hickam AFB Lanes at 6:30 p.m.

Following are the standings and game won-lost records of the first ten teams in the Oahu Armed Forces Classic League after seven weeks of competition:

Don't forget the Windward Oahu Stampede at the MCAS rodeo arena October 5 and 6.

6-MAN FOOTBALL OPENER—Action in the 54 game 1957 Brigade-Station 6-man football league got underway Wednesday afternoon when Brig. Gen. Avery R. Kier, CG 1st Marine Brigade flipped the coin (left photo) to decide who would kick-off or receive in the 1st Bn. vs. 2nd Bn. (4th Marines) contest on K-Bay's field No. 1. From left to right are Sgt. Don Jose, 1st Bn. team captain, Gen. Kier, Col. George A. Roll, CO 4th Marines, and one of the 2nd Bn. team captains, Pfc. Joe Rodriguez. The other co-captain, 1st Lt. James Smith is not pictured. The 1st Bn. won the flip and chose to receive.

In the photo at the right, 2nd Bn., back Pfc. J. Ledlow Jr. jumps over an unidentified defender on his way to a short gain during the 1st half. The picture is a good illustration of the hard running and tackling which both teams employed in the initial Brigade-Station football tilt. That's Pfc. C. Johnson leading the interference for Ledlow. At the same time this contest was being played, Serv. Bn., 1stMarBrig was enroute to a 31-26 victory over the Camp Smith squad at field No. 2 here.—PHOTOS BY SGT. ARLEN WALSTEN.

Maui Home and Home Series Closes As McIntyre Garneres Low Net Award

By JIMMY UKAUKA

Stuart McIntyre, who garnered Low Net honors when Kaneohe invaded the Maui Country Club a couple of weeks ago, repeated his triumph last Sunday at the Kaneohe Klipper Golf Club when the Maui team visited Kaneohe in the final half of this series. McIntyre fired a 91-26-65, and led Capt. Perry Jensen by two strokes in the "net" division. Capt. Jensen fired an even par 72 gross and with his handicap of five ended up with a 67 net and runner-up honors.

Mike Hess of the Maui Country Club won the Low Net honors for his team with 79-10-69, and was followed by "Scotty" Kinneer who registered 78-8-70.

Bob Gannon, also of the Maui contingent, won the overall Low Gross title with a sparkling one under par 71 effort.

PAUL HAHN SHOWS

Paul Hahn, nationally known trick shot artist and celebrity was a surprise visitor to Kaneohe while the matches between Kaneohe and Maui were in-progress.

Hahn graciously accepted the opportunity to hit a few practice shots to the delight and amazement of all present. He further accommodated by giving a fifteen minute dissertation along the "Bob Hope" routine during the banquet immediately following the tournament and kept his audience literally in "stitches" throughout.

Brigade-Station Champs Named In Badminton

In the singles division, 1st Lt. Thurston Barron, representing Hq. Bn., 1stMarBrig, copped first place honors with 1st Lt. Kenneth Danison taking the runner-up spot.

Maj. Kenneth Nelson and TSgt. Melvin Kander of the MAG-13 Champions won the doubles bracket of the tourney. SSgt. John D'Adamo and MSgt. Keith Fox were runners-up, representing the MAG-13 All Stars.

With this showing in the Brigade-Station volleyball circuit, the MAG-13 Champions upped their first place total to 255 in the current General's Cup race.

ed a Leatherneck fumble on the Marine 25 yard line. The Navy aggregation's drive stalled after a gain of five yards however and the Leathernecks took over on downs on their own twenty yard marker with six minutes left to play. The Marines then employed a strict ground offense and had gradually advanced deep into Navy territory when time ran out.

This Sunday at Honolulu Stadium, the defending champions engage the Hawaii Rams who also boast a win over Navy. The Rams subdued the Bluejackets 13-6 two Sundays ago.

The Marines reign as favorites going into their second tilt of the current campaign, mostly by virtue of their high caliber player potential and deep reserve strength. In preparation for the Marines however, the Rams have brought three new players into their fold, including two ex-University of Hawaii standouts, end Sherwin Fellez and halfback Jerry Stothers. Tackle Bob Nakea, a former St. Louis High School performer was the third member added to the Ram roster.

The Leatherneck-Ram tilt will get underway at 2:30 p.m.

AIKIDO CLUB ORGANIZED

An Aikido Club for any and all judo fans based aboard MCAS is in the process of being organized here.

Developed in the Orient, the art of Aikido, commonly known as "scientific judo," is still relatively unheard of in the States, and is the most recent form of self defense to be originated.

Anyone interested in learning this art and becoming a member of the club is asked to contact either SSgt. Frank Candelario at 73442 or Sgt. Bradberry at 72333. Both men may be contacted at their respective numbers after normal working hours.

GOLF TOURNEY SET

Tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock on the K-Bay Klipper links, Lt. Col. S. V. Titterud CO, HMR-161, will tee off to officially open the 18-Hole Match Play tourney between golfers representing HMR-161 and VMC-1. The 12-man teams will vie for the Perpetual Team trophy, presently in possession of VMC-1.

The 4th Marines are currently in the process of conducting a regimental-wide volleyball tournament on the courts adjacent to the 4th Marines' handball areas.

The single round-robin type tourney is divided into two brackets, the National and the American. The teams in first place in each category at the end of regular season play will duel each other in a best-of-three games series to decide the regimental champion.

Nine unit representatives comprise each league division.

MARINE SWIMMING AWARDS—Soichi Sakamoto, University of Hawaii swim coach, (left) presents Lt. Gen. Edwin A. Pollock, CG, FMFPac with a trophy which the Hawaii Marine swimming and diving team won during the Keo Nakama meet this season. Gen. Pollock, who accepted the trophy on behalf of Capt. Ivar Svenson's Marine swimmers, later presented individual awards to each member of the team. The awards were made during a banquet in the Robert Louis Stevenson room of the Princess Kaiulani Hotel last Wednesday night in honor of the 1957 All Marine swimming and diving champions.

STRAIGHT SHOOTERS of the 2nd Bn., 4th Marines, winners of the Windward Rifle intra-mural league competition held recently, pose with the trophy they won by firing a score of 2628 x 3000. The infantry battalion team won by the slim margin of one point over 3rd Bn., 12th Marines, the 1st Marine Brigade artillery unit. They are left to right, SSgt. Robert C. Allison, Lt. Col. Foster C. Lahue, commanding officer, 2nd Bn., 4th Marines, Cpl. Daniel L. Miars, Cpl. Thomas J. Neptune, TSgt. Conrad T. Johnson and SSgt. James C. Teague.

South Pacific Stars to Appear Here During Both Days of Windward Rodeo

The Windward Oahu Stampede will feature movie stars, too. It was learned at virtually the last minute that 20th Century-Fox shooting schedules on Kauai for the movie South Pacific will permit top stars to appear at the rodeo both Saturday and Sunday. The lovely Mitzi Gaynor has promised to fly to Oahu

Fire Prevention To Be Subject In Rodeo Parade

In cooperating with the 1957 "Fire Prevention Week" program, a fire truck from the Station Fire Department will participate in the parade during the Windward Oahu Stampede tomorrow and Sunday. After the parade the truck will be on display at the rodeo grounds.

A treat is in store for the two winners selected in the fire prevention poster contest being held at Mokapu School. They will go on an exciting tour of the Station on the fire truck.

Sometime during Fire Prevention Week a surprise fire drill will be staged at the school, presenting a first hand view of modern fire fighting techniques to the children. The base fire department will present demonstrations on ladder raises, hose efficiency, teamwork and rescue work. An injured man will be carried down a ladder to demonstrate the proper way.

Pamphlets concerning fire control were distributed to all buildings last week and were displayed on bulletin boards.

Rodeo Rules

Final with a free hand disqualifies the rider.

BULL DOGGING

The contestant, known as the "dogger," and his helper who rides on the right side of the steer to keep him going straight and is called the "hazer" are mounted on each side of the chute. Time is started when the steer crosses the line which is about 10 feet in front of the chute. The "dogger" must ride alongside of the steer, jump from the horse, catching the steer by the horns, then bringing it to a stop before twisting it down.

If the steer breaks loose the "dogger" may take no more than one step to catch him. The steer is considered fallen when lying flat on its side with its body twisted in the same direction as its head. The "dogger" must have his hand on the steer when flagged. No penalty for breaking horns.

WILD RIBBON ROPING

This event is humorous. A team of cowboys attempt to catch the cow. While one holds the protesting animal, the other, dodging hooves and horns, attempts to remove a ribbon securely tied to the lashing tail. When the ribbon has been removed, the first cowboy must retrieve the rope from the horns or the neck of the animal; then both cowboys race hand in hand, hobbling on their high heels, to the finish line.

Sunday just for the big benefit rodeo. Her husband, Jack Bean, will accompany her. If she can get away from Kauai soon enough, Mitzi probably will ride in the cowboy parade as well as participate in the Grand Entry.

When contacted by long distance telephone, the leading lady of South Pacific indicated that she didn't just want to put in an appearance—she wants to see the whole rodeo.

The name of the star for Saturday was not available at press time but there was a strong possibility that it might be Ray Walston, the veteran Broadway and Hollywood actor who plays the scene-stealing part of comical Billis in the 20th Century production.

Christmas Mail Deadlines Set

It is just the first week of October but it is also time to start thinking of mailing your Christmas packages before the established deadlines. As customary, the post offices will process a large volume of mail during the holiday season. If packages are to have a reasonable expectation of delivery, the following mailing deadlines must be observed:

SURFACE mail packages (parcel post and first class) to localities east of the Rocky Mountains should be mailed by Nov. 30.

SURFACE mail packages (parcel post and first class) to localities west of the Rocky Mountains should be mailed by Dec. 3.

SURFACE mail greeting cards (first class) to all localities should be mailed by Dec. 3.

AIR MAIL parcels (air parcel post) to all localities should be mailed by Dec. 10.

AIR MAIL greeting cards to all localities should be mailed by Dec. 10.

Then There Were Five—A Hoop Team

Five sons in six years of married life might not be a record, but it is an accomplishment of which TSgt. Frank E. Cooper, H&S Co., 4th Marines, is very proud. The fifth son Michael Joseph, put in an appearance Sept. 21 at St. Francis Hospital in Honolulu.

Young Michael's four brothers are Frank E. Jr., 6; Robert George, 4; and twin brothers Timothy John and Thomas Michael, 2½. TSgt. and Mrs. Cooper and their male quintet live in Rainbow Village.

TSgt. Cooper commented, "Last year, I had a Marine fire team, but now it looks like I got me a basketball team."

Civil Service News

BENNY SUGGS ADOPTED

Eight civilian employees received cash awards last Friday just one week after being notified that their beneficial suggestions had received favorable action by the Incentive Awards Committee at its Sept. 18 meeting. A recent change in the procedure for processing adopted suggestions and in the presentation of awards assures earlier receipt of checks by employees.

Floyd H. Tompkins, Fireman in the Public Works Department, received a total of $75.00 for his five adopted suggestions dealing with improvements in Boiler Plant operations. Also in Public Works, Manuel Ferreira and John H. Y. Kim received $7.50 each for their joint suggestion of an improved method to straighten a shaft. Albert M. Ferreira was awarded $20.00 for suggesting a one-way traffic sign at the intersection of Dewey Square and "E" Street. Gavino Ordonez received $15.00 for suggesting an improved method of recording gas and oil issued from the service station located in the transportation compound.

Carol Shimada, Payroll Clerk in the Comptroller Department, received $15.00 for suggesting changes to the building directory in Bldg. 209. In the Industrial Relations Department, Ruth E. Croft was presented with a $15.00 check for suggesting that shelter assignments be posted in dependent housing area.

Clarence H. Y. Hee, Supply Department, received $20.00 for his suggestion regarding the safety of children in the Commissary Store area.

INCENTIVE AWARDS AND PROMOTIONS

Question to supervisors at all organization levels: In selecting employees for promotion, are you giving due weight to awards granted under the Incentive Awards Program? This is a very important consideration—both as to the number and quality of awards.

Station Order 121.1A, Promotional Policy for Civil Service Employees, spells out this requirement which is based on the following portion of Title III of Public Law 763, 83rd Congress (The Government Employees' Incentive Awards Act):

"An award under this title shall be given due weight in qualifying and selecting employees for promotion."

The benefits to be gained from coordination between the promotion and incentive awards programs are many. For instance, successful participation in the awards program can provide insight on a promotion candidate's qualification for the job to be filled. A review of employees' awards records may reveal qualities frequently sought in filling vacancies—initiative, resourcefulness, foresight, planning ability, or other specific qualifications that are desired for a particular job.

Supervisors' judicious consideration of employees' awards records, which are available for review in the Industrial Relations Department, as a part of promotion determinations, will enhance the meaning of the awards program and in turn motivate greater participation in this program of improving government operations.

CIVIL SERVICE HEAD TO VISIT

Both families were taken by complete surprise—in fact, LCdr. McArdle was caught in the midst of washing dishes and Mrs. McArdle was busily ironing when the gang pulled up in front of their home on Kainui Street, Kailua. Around 40 people enjoyed a delicious teriyaki steak dinner, followed by typical Hawaiian entertainment. Among the accomplished hula dancers were Mrs. Thora Sand, Mrs. Ada Wolfe and Mrs. Sally McClellan.

KNOW YOUR RETIREMENT SYSTEM!

A very valuable little pamphlet, "Your Retirement System," is being distributed this week to all Civil Service employees. This pamphlet answers most of the many questions about retirement which are asked by employees, former employees, and prospective employees of the Federal Government. It explains in simple terms the operation of the Federal Civil Service retirement system and the benefits it provides for employees and their families on the basis of the law as amended to Oct. 1, 1956.

Included in the pamphlet is an excellent subject index for ready reference to topics covered in the 275 questions and answers.

All employees are urged to read the material carefully and to keep the pamphlet among their valuable papers. Duplicate copies cannot be furnished.
