

K-Bay Set to Celebrate Corps Birthday

Windward Marine

Vol. VI, No. 45 U. S. MARINE CORPS AIR STATION, KANEOHE BAY, T. H. Friday, Nov. 8, 1957

Cake-Cutting Today Starts Events; Ends With Two Celebrations Sunday

The current week has seen a frenzy of activity as all hands prepare to celebrate the 182nd Marine Corps Anniversary in grand style. A series of events starting this afternoon will note the birthday of the Corps, ending with two celebrations Sunday evening. Col. Jack R. Cram, MCAS CO, will conduct a cake cutting ceremony at 3 p.m. today at Dalley Field for all civilian employees aboard this Station in observance of the Corps birthday. This is the first time that civilian employees have taken part in a cake-cutting on such an occasion.

Tomorrow at 8:30 a.m., a troop formation for all members of Headquarters and Headquarters Squadron, MCAS, will take place on Dewey Square for the purpose of reading of paragraph 24451, Marine Corps Manual, which is traditionally read on the Marine Corps' birthday. Music for the formation will be provided by the 1st Marine Brigade band.

The initial 1st Marine Brigade observance will occur at 10 a.m. when a combat review with fly-by begins on runway 18-36. As previously announced, the reviewing officer will be Lt. Gen. Edwin A. Pollock, FMF-Pac commanding general. Guests will include distinguished civilians and military personnel.

The combat review is open to all Marines and their dependents and properly sponsored civilian guests. Adequate seating will be provided.

During the ceremony, the appropriate portion of the Marine Corps manual will be read relating to the Marine Corps Anniversary.

Three separate parties have been planned for all K-Bay personnel to allow maximum participation.

A birthday ball for sergeants and below, their ladies and guests will be held in Hangar 105 tomorrow between the hours of 8 p.m. and 1 a.m. The Staff NCO birthday ball will be held Sunday in Mess Hall No. 2 between the hours of 8 p.m. and 1 a.m. The Commissioned Officers birthday ball will be held Sunday in the Commissioned Officers Mess starting at 6 p.m. and ending at 1 a.m. See below schedule of events.

Brig. Gen. Avery R. Kier, Brigade commanding general, will cut cakes at all celebrations. Tomorrow night, at the sergeants and below celebration, honored guests will be the youngest and oldest Leathernecks. Receiving the first piece of cake will be senior Marine Sgt. Maj. Donald E. Waldron, MCAS sergeant major, followed by the youngest Marine Pvt. Larry Jack Savage, 17, of Wpns. Co., 3rd Bn., 4th Marines.

At the Staff NCO ball, Sgt. Maj. Waldron will again receive the first piece of cake from Gen. Kier. Rear Adm. Nejl K. Dietrich, Commandant, 14th Naval District, will be the honored guest at the Commissioned Officers Mess.

Marine Corps Birthday Messages From:

CMC

On this, the 182d birthday of our Corps, we take time out from our rugged and relentless training routine to pay tribute to a long line of Marines extending back through our country's history to its very origins. Whether we serve in the far flung forces with the Fleets or in the supporting forces of the shore establishments, on this memorable day we reflect with justifiable pride on the heritage passed on to us by those who have gone before—a history of selfless service to our Country, a record untarnished since the first Continental Marine was recruited at Tun Tavern in 1775.

Since that historic year, our Corps has passed through many trying periods. At times, our numbers were pitifully few, our weapons and equipment barely adequate. But even in our years of greatest austerity, we were rich in the one priceless ingredient that has ever uniquely characterized our Corps—the indomitable spirit of the United States Marine. It is this spirit that has enabled us to bear adversity without complaint; it is this spirit that has inspired us to victory over seemingly impossible odds on battlefields across the world.

It motivates every Marine—from the rawest recruit to the oldest veteran. It is intangible but nonetheless real. It is difficult to define but, as the hall mark of our Corps, it is obvious to all. It is symbolized by the battle honors, citations, battle streamers, and silver bands which give added luster to the Battle Color of the Marine Corps. It cannot be issued; no amount of money can purchase it: It is indeed the priceless ingredient which makes uncommon valor a common virtue in our beloved Corps.

With full confidence that this same indomitable spirit will continue to inspire each of us in the ensuing year, and that our records in the future, as in the past, will be one of exemplary service to Country and Corps, I extend my heartiest congratulations and best wishes to every Marine—regular and reserve—and to all Marine families on this happy occasion, the 182d birthday of the United States Marine Corps.

R. McC. PATE
General, U. S. Marine Corps
Commandant of the Marine Corps

CG, 1st Marine Brigade

This is the 182nd anniversary of the founding of our Corps. Reflect for a moment on its meaning. The Marine Corps through the years has developed sound traditions while leaving deep imprints on historical records. You know the history; you know the traditions; and you know that wherever you go, whether it be with the 1st Marine Brigade or another unit, you carry a mark of distinction—you are a Marine. The pride and spirit that goes with being a Marine forms the unique bond that links all Marines today, as always, in common unity of purpose—members of our country's fighting force in readiness.

You train hard, play hard, and fight hard because that's the Marine way—the Marine Spirit. So long as YOU maintain that spirit so will your Corps and your Country.

A. R. KIER
Brigadier General, U. S. Marine Corps
Commanding General, 1st Marine Brigade

CO, MCAS

We Marines are a proud Corps and we have reason to be proud. One hundred and eighty-two years ago today the first Marines started building a reputation for determination, professional ability and valor that has been unsullied to this day. It is to us that this unparalleled tradition has been entrusted and on this Marine Corps Birthday it behooves us to rededicate ourselves to the accomplishment of our mission in the year ahead. To all Marines, their families and friends and to our loyal civilian employees I express my warm personal best wishes.

JACK R. CRAM
Colonel, U. S. Marine Corps
Commanding M.C.A.S.

'In the Air, on Land and Sea'

The ancient Phoenicians and Greeks carried units of Marines—"soldiers of the sea" in their fighting ships. They built an early reputation through prowess on the sea as well as land. In this century, the skies from Europe to the Far East were filled with heroic deeds as the U. S. Marine Corps began to show the world its fighting ability wasn't limited to land and sea with its aviation arm.

Long ago in the days of wind-driven ships, Marine sharpshooters swarmed aloft and, from high in the rigging, picked off the enemy as hostile men-of-war came within musket range. The accent on individual shooting skill has carried right up to the present day. To make a landing, Marines and sailors went ashore in small boats.

Today, the Corps uses helicopters and transport planes, as well as the reliable landing craft to put men ashore where they are needed to seize harbors, islands, and airfields, required as advance bases.

The Marine Corps hymn best describes the Corps' three-pronged job:

*"We fight our Country's battles
 In the air, on land and sea."*

The Marine Corps has always been a comparatively small, close-knit organization, whose members are very conscious and proud of their special mission, and the tradition that has been built as a result.

Tradition has been built up ever since the Corps was organized in Philadelphia in 1775, when Tun Tavern proprietor Robert McMullan, was commissioned a captain in the Marine Corps to become the first recruiter.

Four months after being organized, the first amphibious assault was carried out in the Bahamas with resounding success. Marines served with distinction in the American Revolution, on land and sea.

Since then, the Corps has fought in every war in which this country has engaged. In support of U. S. foreign policy, Marines have served many times in action "short of war." In so doing, the Marines carried out a total of some 280 combat landings prior to World War II.

On this, the 182nd anniversary of the Marine Corps, Marines can reflect on their motto Semper Fidelis (Always Faithful). We know that future national emergencies will find them, along with other military services, ready at all times to help keep our country strong and free.

Chaplain's Corner

A.W.O.L.

By Chaplain R. E. Jackson
 Occasionally one hears that someone has "gone over the hill." For some unknown reason he's "fed up." Someone's "got it in for me." "I'm not getting a fair break." "I just felt like it." There's many a reason given, but seldom is it truthfully "I didn't do my duty."

Naturally one who takes such an "easy way out,"—although in the long run it may not be so easy,—is actually shirking his duty. It's simply running out on those to whom an obligation is due. Try though one may, it is difficult to understand, harder to justify.

Trying though this may be, what can be said of the one who makes himself AWOL from God? Can it be because he's "fed up" with the very life loaned him and kept in existence by God? Certainly no sane person could say that God "has it in for him," when He gave him existence, helps him by divine grace, and even redeemed him by His Precious Blood.

"Not getting a fair break? Yet gratuitously assured of supernatural assistance and guidance if only asked for. Rather it would be given every break possible, though unmerited and undeserved.

"Just feel like it?" But man is a rational creature, given an intellect by which to know and understand; a will with which to freely choose his actions. Surely if guided by feeling alone, that man is acting like an irrational animal.

What can be the explanation? Simply the old story, running out on an obligation. Every creature has an obligation to render prayer and honor to his Creator. A duty to observe His laws as He gave them. He who seldom, if ever, puts his foot inside the church door; uses the name of God as if it were a common word of expression, practices all kinds of immorality and violates the various commands of God, is simply shirking his duty towards the One to whom he has the utmost obligation.

True, sleeping in on Sunday morning,—acting in a wholly irresponsible manner, may be the "easy way out" for now,—but it too, in the long run may not be so easy.

One can't profit by being AWOL.

New License Law For Wash. State

The Washington State Legislature has recently enacted a new law which places all military personnel in the same category as civilians with respect to driver's licenses, according to an article in the September issue of "Information from Headquarters."

All residents of the State of Washington serving in the Armed Forces should exchange previously valid "Military Duplicate" drivers' licenses for regular drivers' licenses to conform with the present State of Washington law.

Renewal and exchange of drivers' licenses can be obtained at a cost of $4.00 by corresponding directly with Driver's License Division, Department of Licenses, State of Washington, Olympia, Wash.

The new law repeals the section of the Washington Motor Vehicle Code which heretofore granted a moratorium for drivers' licenses issued to service personnel.

39 MCAS Marines Get Pay Boosts

Thirty nine Marines from Hq. & Hq. Sq hit pay dirt last week, when they discovered that they had been promoted.

Maj. George C. Knapp, CO of Hq.&Hq.Sq. presented the warrants. Twenty eight Pfc's became NCO's, while five corporals were advanced to the rank of sergeant.

The remaining six men became staff sergeants. Their names are, R. A. Bailey, D. G. Capps, L. Hill, L. E. Buchanan, T. P. McEnroe, and W. T. Coffey.

If you want some good entertainment in something less than sheer comfort, I'd say "Around the World in 80 Days" is a good bet. I was privileged to take in the press preview last week. The movie is fine, all three hours of it.

That's right, it's a full three hours long. There is an intermission that arrives at the end of the first two hours, just in the nick of time. The seats are made of fibreglass and do not possess any softness. However, the movie is of such interest that I wasn't particularly conscious of the seat until it was about time for intermission.

Despite what I had heard about acoustics, I thought the sound was good. The TODD AO system employs a large curved screen, not unlike many other present-day movie screens. In conjunction with this, however, is a sound system not to be found in the average theater. I imagine there must be about four soundtracks on the oversize film. The result is, at times, startling. For instance, in a street scene, you hear a band playing offstage right. Then it comes into view on the screen and the sound appears to move right along with it. As the band marches offstage left, the sound moves offstage too.

This same effect is used many times during the movie. In one scene there are a number of persons gathered in a club, talking. The camera moves so that one individual is no longer visible but you know that he is just off to the right. When he next speaks, his voice comes from the direction where you sense that he is and the tendency is to look over to the right to see him.

Aside from interesting sound effects, real hi-fi, the film is well produced and has plenty of color as the trip around the world progresses. I'm planning to take my family, even though I've already seen it once.

Helping out is the fact that tickets for military are being offered at a reduced price. They are available through Special Services. This means it is possible to take the whole family at the reduced prices. As I understand it, only military personnel themselves can obtain these prices directly through the box office.

Don't see how you can go wrong.

Sunday our Corps will be 182 years old. This is a very respectable age, even though there are other U. S. services technically older.

I think the important thing is not the age but the respectability. Tradition is built of many things but it is of value only when its ingredients are pride and success. There are few who would care, for instance, to point out a tradition of failures.

The fact that we as Marines are proud of the full 182 years of tradition points up the fact that there are no skeletons in the closet. We can take pride in the fact that Marines have always been world renowned marksmen and have been paid tribute by virtually every major fighting force in the world. Even the Germans, often considered the epitome of the polished professional soldier, noted the bulldog determination and the prowess of Marines in World War I.

Let's look back a little. These traditions have been building up since the Continental Marines were organized on Nov. 10, 1775, the date we observe as the birthdate of the Corps. They have an important part in our training and the prosecution of our missions. The result: the U. S. Marine Corps, perhaps to a greater degree than any other military group, demonstrates the power of pride in tradition to unify and motivate a fighting force.

From the American Revolution, when Marines served with distinction, through Korea in 1950, U. S. Marines have made some 300 landings in war and peace and have planted the American flag in both hemispheres and on all continents. The Corps has answered the call of the Navy, the Army, the President, and many executive departments of the Government in carrying out every type of duty on the sea, on land, and in the air. These duties have run the gamut from sea battles in wooden frigates with musket and cutlass to extensive land campaigns utilizing the combined arms of modern warfare.

As methods and weapons of warfare changed through the years, the Corps was always ready to meet the new challenges. It has pioneered in such revolutionary concepts as amphibious warfare, close air support, and vertical envelopment and then has gone ahead to develop and refine these techniques.

The 1st Marine Brigade is a good example of what this means. Since the title was born in Jan. 1901, the Brigade has been employed in the defense of this country's interests from China to Iceland and the Philippines to Mexico and Haiti. In each instance, it has been formed for a specific purpose and when its mission has been accomplished, it has been disbanded. Today, it is a brigading together of already existing units to form the only coordinated air-ground team of its kind in the world, as far as is known, under a single tactical commander. It is a small, compact, extremely powerful force attuned to the military facts of life in the atomic age. As a vital part of the closely knit, well-disciplined, finely trained whole, the U. S. Marine Corps, this 1st Marine Brigade is adding to the traditions even in the day-to-day accomplishment of its training missions.

When I speak of the unit I mean, of course, the officers and men who breath the life into it. It is you and I, Marines, who carry in this generation both the valued tradition and the responsibility for keeping its lustre bright through adding to the laurels of the Corps.

We do this by doing our best to keep ourselves trained and ready. That is why we can proudly bear the title, U. S. Marine.

TSgt. Robert E. Denson and TSgt. Joseph A. McCullum, both of Hq. and Hq. Sqdn., MCAS, have been commended at meritorious masts conducted by Col. Jack R. Cram. TSgt. Denson, who is military police chief, was cited Tuesday for the smoothness and efficiency in which the traffic situation was handled during the recent Windward Oahu Stampede.

TSgt. McCullum, jet repair NCO-IC, was commended last Friday for his "cheerful willingness to undertake any and all extra details and to work many extra hours" which has not only contributed immensely to the high availability of both F9F and TV aircraft, but "has inspired and set an outstanding example for subordinates."

Part of the citation commending TSgt. Denson read "You performed an outstanding task considering the limited area and comparatively small number of personnel allotted to control the tremendous numbers of vehicles involved."

Defense Officials Due November 15

Two officials of the Defense Department are scheduled to arrive Nov. 13 for a three-day look at military installations on Oahu and to confer with top military officials, the Navy disclosed last week.

They are Mansfield D. Sprague, Asst. Secretary of Defense for Internal Security Affairs and Floyd S. Bryant, Asst. Secretary of Defense for Property and Installations.

They are scheduled to arrive at K-Bay at 9 a.m., Friday Nov. 15 and will spend approximately 45 minutes aboard the Air Station. After being briefed they will then be taken to the Capehart Housing site.

Their visit here is the last stop of an around the world trip, during which they inspected American military installations in Spain and North Africa.

basic understanding of the every day legal problems which are bound to appear from time to time. Various legal subjects of general interest will be discussed, not in terms that only a lawyer could understand, but rather in terms of the language of the lay person.

This column will discuss any legal subject requested by the reader. Requests addressed to "The Legal Beagle," c/o Windward Marine, Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station, will be answered in this column if they are of general application. If not answered in this column, they will be answered in separate correspondence.

Did you know that you have your own lawyer available for consultation whenever you have a legal problem? Not everybody has his own personal legal advisor, but you do. Under the legal assistance program as instituted by the Navy Department, both the Station and the 1st Marine Brigade have Legal Assistance Officers available, whose primary mission is to assist you in all your legal difficulties.

The Legal Assistance Officer is a trained lawyer with a wealth of experience behind him. His experience and knowledge is yours for the asking. Due to a Navy directive, he cannot actually represent you in court, however, he can give you valuable information preliminary to court action and he can provide you with a list of local lawyers who can actually represent you at a trial or other legal proceedings. In this connection, this command works closely with the Legal Aid Society of Honolulu. This Society, as a public service, provides legal advice free of charge and in some cases provides other types of free legal services.

Of course all conversation between you and the Legal Assistance Officer is in strict confidence—he wants to help you and your dependents. So if you have a legal problem, don't try to fight your way through the legal entanglements yourself; don't take the advice of an amateur; and most important, don't just let the matter drop. In many cases erroneous advice or heedless delays on your part may cost you money or the loss of valuable legal rights.

If your automobile breaks down, you seek a skilled technician to repair it; similarly, if you have a legal problem, take it to a skilled technician—your own attorney, the Legal Assistance Officer. The Legal Assistance Officer for the 1st Marine Brigade is located in Bldg. 221, first deck, and the Legal Assistance Officer for the Station is located on the first deck, Bldg. 220. You may go to either officer, depending on your own choice.

Did you know that the Territorial District Court maintains a Small Claims Division whereby, for a nominal fee, a suit may be instituted to recover $150.00 or less? Procedure in a Small Claims Court is simple and a lawyer is not required and in many cases not even necessary. If a landlord will not surrender your deposit or if you feel you have been swindled by a merchant, and the total amount involved is less than $150.00, your answer is to bring action in the Small Claims Division of the Territorial District Court.

Your Legal Assistance Officer can get you started on the right track if you plan to file suit in the Small Claims Court.

W'ward Oahu Maps Go on Sale at MX

For those who have been in a quandary about how to find their way around Windward Oahu, help has arrived. For the first time a guide map of Windward Oahu Communities has been printed and is being sold through the Marine Exchange, probably starting today.

The map, published by The Windward Register, shows and identifies all currently existing streets in Kailua, Lanikai, Waimanalo, and Kaneohe. In addition, there are insets of the Heiaia, Kahaolu, Waihee, Kaalaea area beyond Kaneohe, and the Pohakupu Tract in Kailua.

The attractive, folded maps are easily read and show some projected roads as well as all of those presently built. They will be on sale at both the main exchange and the Regimental branch. In the former they may be found at the counter outside the self service department and in the 4th Marines area they will be in the self service department, the Marine Exchange announced.

Mokapu School Sets Open House As AEW Event

Nov. 10, as well as being the Marine Corps birthday, is also the start of American Education Week. The week ends Nov. 16. In observance of American Education Week, Mokapu Elementary School will hold an open house Thursday and Friday, Nov. 14-15, it was announced last week.

Parents of Mokapu School children are invited by principal Mr. James Lee to take advantage of these two days to visit the classrooms and to talk with the teachers. November each year the attention of the whole nation is directed toward the schools. People are urged to see their schools in action and to decide whether or not they are adequate. AEW is audit time, when the schools report to their owners, the general public.

Specific purposes of American Education Week are to (1) increase public understanding and appreciation of education, (2) explain the present day school program, current teaching materials, and newer teaching methods, (3) increase pupil appreciation of their school, (4) reveal school needs and problems, and (5) encourage and strengthen the all-year program of school-community cooperation.

If it's news, call the WINDWARD MARINE at 72104.

Former WWII Pilot of Famed Sqdn. Is Now Its Commanding Officer

Lt. Col. Bolt Lt. Col. Nehf

Serving as squadron commander for the past two years, Lt. Col. Nehf instituted a new attack training syllabus upon the redesignation of VMA-214 last June from a fighter unit to an attack squadron.

In his farewell address, Lt. Col. Nehf commended the men of VMA-214 for their devotion to duty and their overall efficiency which enabled the squadron to reach a high state of combat readiness.

Upon reporting to Norfolk, Lt. Col. Nehf will serve with Aircraft, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic as a staff member.

A veteran of over 16 years commissioned service and a former pilot with VMF-214 during Bougainville operations of WWII, Lt. Col. Bolt joined the Brigade last August upon completion of the Senior Officers School at Quantico.

In observing the men of VMA-214 prior to the change of command ceremonies, the new commander expressed utmost confidence in the abilities of the squadron to accomplish any mission assigned and to set new precedents in aviation.

BIRTHDAY BALL BUS SERVICE FOR EM PARTY

Bus service will be provided tomorrow, Nov. 9, during the 182nd Marine Corps Birthday Ball for sergeants and below at Hangar 105.

The first bus will depart from Bldg. 1090, regimental headquarters, at 6:45 p.m. and will stop at all regular bus stops enroute to Hangar 105.

Buses will depart from this point every eight minutes with the last bus departing at 8 p.m. The vehicles will park at Hangar 105 and will depart every 10 minutes or when 10 or more persons are aboard.

Buses will continue to return passengers from the party until the party is secured.

Red Devils Plan Open House Day Next Saturday

VMF-232, MAG-13, will hold a squadron Open House next Saturday, Nov. 16, Lt. Col. Jay W. Hubbard, Commanding Officer, announced this week.

Dependents, the immediate family and "best girls" of squadron members will be the guests at the Open House where they will be guided through a balanced program of the various flight and ground activities in which the squadron participates. The program will explain to them what the squadron is doing—and why.

Department heads and departmental NCO's will discuss their sections. The mission and tasks of a Marine Fighter Squadron will be enumerated, the broad functions and relative self-sufficiency of an operating squadron will be pointed out, and the responsibilities of each member of the team will be emphasized.

The guests will be given an opportunity to see the barracks and mess hall, and to inspect the various shops and offices where the work of the squadron is carried on, as well as to get a first hand look at an FJ-4 Fury jet.

Veteran's Day Observance Set

Veteran's Day 1957 will be observed in special services to be conducted at St. Andrew's Cathedral, Honolulu, at 10:45 a.m. Nov. 11. The sponsor is the Disabled American Veterans, Dept. of Hawaii, with the support of the Governor's Veteran's Day Committee.

All Navy and Marine servicemen, regular and reserve, are extended a cordial invitation to attend. The wearing of uniform for active duty personnel is appropriate.

Honorable William F. Quinn, Governor of Hawaii, will give the main address. The program will also include the "massing of colors" of all Services, selections by the Air Force Band, and the Kamehameha School Choir.

Military participation is being coordinated by the Commandant, 14th Naval District.

The Olde Corps-- And the New

Then

MIDDLE PHOTO—In the 1930's this M-3 Marmon-Harrington was considered a first-line tank by the Marine Corps. Capable of speeds up to 15 mph, it carried a crew of two and was armed with a single .50 caliber machine gun. Steering directions were transmitted to the driver by a series of sound thumps on his shoulders and neck by the tank commander's knees and feet.

BOTTOM PHOTO—Received by the U. S. Marine Corps in 1920 as part of Germany's reparations following World War I, the Leatherneck pilots used the Fokker D-7 for training purposes only. The Fokker, ranked as one of Germany's best fighter planes, had a top speed of around 130 mph and was powered by a 200 horsepower Mercedes-Benz engine. Its armament consisted of twin Spandau synchronized machine guns.

Now

TOP PHOTO—With the adoption of the helicopter the Marine Corps found another useful instrument in its ever expanding amphibious assault techniques. In keeping with the atomic age, the helicopter provided the Corps with the advantage of choosing the point of assault, striking with the element of surprise, and the advantage of landing troops in the enemy's rear or flanks. During Korea, helicopters were used to transport whole companies and battalions to the front lines to relieve men on duty and to evacuate the wounded. All told, these Marine whirlybirds made nearly 10,000 rescue and evacuation flights, and airlifted 500,000 tons of cargo.

MIDDLE PHOTO—Tabbed the ONTOS by the Marine Corps (taken from a Greek word meaning "the thing") the M-50 is but one of the new highly potent weapons adopted by the Corps. Designed to give added punch to modern day amphibious warfare, the ONTOS carries a crew of three and is armed with six 106mm recoilless rifles and four spotting .50 caliber machine guns.

BOTTOM PHOTO—Marine pilots in today's era of rockets and atomic weapons fly aircraft capable of supersonic speeds. This F4D Skyraider is equipped with a Pratt and Whitney J-57 engine with after-burner and is capable of climbing to 10,000 feet in 46 seconds. As an all-weather fighter, the Skyraider holds two closed-course speed records.

FOUR K-BAY LEATHERNECKS NAMED WINNERS IN MARINE CORPS PHOTOGRAPHY CONTEST

Four K-Bayites won top honors in the Marine Corps-wide phase of the 7th Annual Interservice Photography contest held at Camp Pendleton this week.

Capt. Glenn B. Stevens, Informational Services Officer, copped first place in the experienced color transparency category. His entry, "The Nature of Work" was a closeup of a hornet building its nest.

In the experienced black and white picture story class, second and third place honors went to Sgt. Thomas H. Whittingham, ISO, and TSgt. Gerald C. Kelley, station photo lab, respectively.

Sgt. Whittingham's picture story portrayed a bowling sequence, while Sgt. Kelley's dealt with deep sea fishing.

In the black and white, novice class, SSgt. William J. Murphy, Station Special Services, won second place. Murphy's entry portrayed a youngster attired only in his birthday suit and a gaily decorated hat climbing on a chair.

A former K-Bay ISO photog, SSgt. Don Dunaway, now of Camp Pendleton, Calif., nosed out Whittingham and Kelley to take first place in the experienced picture story class.

Winners of the Marine Corps phase of the contest will receive individual trophies at a later date.

Their entries will be forwarded to the Interservice contest, to be held at Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, D. C., about Dec. 4.

"I am a Sword"

I am a sword, but not just any sword.

I am a Marine Corps officer's sword and my lineage traces back to the Mameluke sword presented to "The Hero of Derne," Marine Lt. Presley N. O'Bannon at Tripoli in 1805. To this day every Marine officer's sword looks like my twin.

In my case, I was born in the year 1908. My scabbard is silver plated, with a gold tip and bands. The owner of the skilled hands that created my cut and thrust blade is probably dead now and his name escapes me. But stamped near the hilt are the words, F. J. Schmidt, which attest the workmanship of this firm in Annapolis, Maryland.

This I know. I have had a full life, a useful life. It has been a proud life for I have served with the U. S. Marine Corps around the world and the time to retire has not yet arrived.

But steel is cold and quite lifeless unless it is loved and carefully tended. This has been my good fortune. From generation to generation I have accompanied stalwart Marines of one family whose lives have been dedicated to their country and their Corps.

There can be no doubt of it for on my blade is engraved the name A. S. Shinkle. This Officer left the Marine Corps in 1918 as a result of wounds received in World War I. I was passed on to his son, Capt. R. C. Shinkle, who is serving today with Marine Helicopter Squadron 161, 1st Marine Brigade, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific.

I recount this story now because I have just discovered that I am to be honored for my long service. I have been an important symbol in many parades and ceremonies as my blade flashed with elan in execution of the manual of the sword. I was once carried by the 19th Commandant of the Marine Corps, then 2d Lt. Clifton B. Cates, who borrowed me for a Marine ceremony early in the twentieth century. I have gently eased through many beautiful cakes during ceremonies on anniversaries of the Corps.

This year, on November 10, the 182nd anniversary of the U. S. Marine Corps, I have been selected to cut the giant cakes at each of the pageants to be held at the Kaneohe Bay Marine Corps Air Station. At the enlisted men's, the staff noncommissioned officers' and the commissioned officers' balls, I will be lying alongside the cake as it is wheeled in under escort.

This will be the final symbol in the pageant that traces the illustrious history of the Corps. An escort will lift me and pass my hilt to Brig. Gen. Avery R. Kier, commanding general of the 1st Marine Brigade, who will gently use my tip to cut the first piece of cake.

Do you wonder that I am a proud sword?

Holiday Greetings May Be Filed At Communications

Christmas greeting messages may be filed at the Station Communication Center, Bldg. 505 during the period Dec. 6 through 16, according to a memorandum from the MCAS Communications Office.

Such greeting messages will be held by Western Union for delivery between Dec. 20 and 25.

These greeting messages will be handled in accordance with instructions for handling Class "E" messages and will be charged for at the present night letter rate. All messages must be paid for at the time of filing.

Holiday Routine Thanksgiving Day

Holiday routine will be observed by military and civilian personnel aboard the Marine Corps Air Station on Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, Nov. 28. Thanksgiving Day is a National holiday.

Officers in charge and Department Heads have been directed to ensure that adequate military and civilian personnel are retained on the Station to handle any emergency that might arise.

TRAFFIC BUREAU CLOSING

Effective tomorrow, Nov. 9, the Honolulu Traffic Bureau will be closed every Saturday. Fines will have to be paid during the week.

NAVY RELIEF COURSE—Approximately 80 wives attended the first class of the Navy Relief training course for volunteer women last Thursday at the Commissioned Officers Mess. Miss Myrle James, inset, is instructing the four-week course on Tuesday and Thursday of every week. Upon completion of the course, the ladies will receive certificates of graduation. Miss James is the field representative of Navy Relief headquarters in Washington, D. C.

VMA-232 Speeds Training Cycle

Marine Fighter Squadron 232, MAG-13, has embarked on a new and vigorous air-to-air gunnery and field carrier landing practice program. The Red Devils of "232" are flying an intensive gunnery schedule three days each week in a move to up-grade all the pilots in gunnery. Every half hour a gunnery flight becomes airborne on these days.

Two flights of three aircraft fire at each banner. Each firing plane carries ammunition painted a different color so that a pilot can tell which hits are his when the target is returned to the field. All pilots will qualify in air-to-air gunnery at several altitudes in accordance with the Training and Competition Manual.

One of the tasks assigned to a fighter squadron by Headquarters is to maintain the capability to operate from aircraft carriers. Carrier operations center around efficient and safe aircraft recovery. Therefore a good carrier landing pattern by each pilot is of prime importance.

In order to achieve and maintain the degree of competence necessary to get aboard a carrier the pilots of VMF-232 are "bouncing" in the FCLP pattern. They are making mirror approaches and paddles approaches with one of the squadron Landing Signal Officers waving the flags. The Red Devils hope soon to get the opportunity to qualify all their pilots aboard a carrier when a deck becomes available.

CHAPLAIN ARRIVES

Cmdr. David A. Sharp arrived here recently and is presently assigned as Regimental Chaplain of the 4th Marines.

Chaplain Sharp was the Staff Chaplain for the Military Sea Transport Service, (MSTS), at San Francisco before assigned to Hawaii.

Gridders Open Mainland Campaign Tomorrow

Coach Maj. Marvin Hewlett and a 32-man traveling squad left for the Mainland Monday afternoon where they will open a two-week grid campaign tomorrow afternoon against San Diego State, followed by the second and last contest of a home-and-home series against the powerful MCRD Devildogs the following Saturday.

The Hawaii Marine-San Diego State clash tomorrow is slated to take place in the port city's Aztec Bowl and will pit Maj. "Hoss" Hewlett's charges against a strong Aztec aerial attack. Coached by former Columbia All American, Dr. Paul Governall, the collegians and locals have one opponent in common in the current grid campaign, that being the Recruit Depot Devildogs who own victories over both the locals and the San Diego State eleven.

Last month CWO "Bull" Trometter's Devildogs recorded 20-13 and 20-7 triumphs over the Marines and the collegians, respectively, in establishing their undefeated season's slate which at latest word reads at five straight.

Relying on an offense which is centered primarily around a strong aerial attack, the San Diego grid-ers are led by a pair of iron-armed quarters, Joe Duke and Don Magee, and two sticky-fingered receivers in the persons of Braxton Pinkins and Dallas Evans. Signal callers Duke and Magee alternate the quarterback chores with equal effectiveness, Duke being a transfer from San Diego Junior College where he won All American J. C. recognition last year. Magee is a four year veteran of Dr. Governall's squad.

Pinkins has been the top receiver for the Aztec's aerial offense the past couple of years while teammate Evans has put his extensive track experience to good use on the gridiron. The latter San Diego speedster holds his school's record for the 440 yard run. With the memory of last month's 20-13 loss to "Bull" Trometter's marauders still uppermost in their minds, Maj. Hewlett's grid-ers should be "fired up" in their attempt to smash the Devildogs' undefeated skein. However, the locals will once again be forced to muster all their defensive know-how if they hope to contain the Recruit Depot's hard-running backfield of Ernie Merk, Jim Pyles, Bob Liles, and Al "Rocket" Hall.

Staff NCO's 2nd In 'Over 10' Loop

The Kaneohe Staff NCO's Softball team under the management of SSgt. Calvin Greenfield has won three games and lost three in the Island's Armed Forces "Over Ten" Staff NCO League which began play Oct. 11.

Last Friday the K-Bayites beat Hickam 11-6 and Sunday afternoon they won a 1-0 forfeit victory over Ft. Shafter.

At present the local Staff NCO softballers are second to Barber's Pt. in the overall four team standings. The end of this month, four more teams will join the league.

At present league members are: Barber's Pt., Ft. Shafter, Hickam and the K-Bay Leathernecks.

Schofield Barracks, SubPac and Pearl Harbor Naval Base are slated to join the league in the near future, it has been reported. One of the above units will field two teams.

Twenty-five K-Bay Staff NCO's make up the locals' squad.

The Armed Forces "Over Ten" League is open only to NCO's who have over 10 years service in the military.

The host team of each league game provides the "refreshments" during and following each contest.

This afternoon the K-Bayites will face the undefeated Barber's Pt. nine at 4 o'clock here. This coming Monday another home game is "on tap" for the locals when they meet Hickam at 1:30 p.m.

Life Saving Courses Slated by Red Cross

Plans are now being made to schedule a swimming program featuring Junior and Senior Life Saving courses for K-Bay personnel. The classes are slated to be given at the Enlisted Men's Pool here and will be conducted by qualified Red Cross instructors.

Required time for each course will be 20 hours, two hours a day for 10 days, and will be offered Mondays through Fridays.

Separate courses will be conducted for service personnel and dependents. There will be no charge for the instructions.

All interested personnel are asked to contact the Red Cross office here for further information. Phone 72617 or 72606.

Series Highlights

Yankee killer Lew Burdette was the receiver of a Chevrolet Corvette, an award presented annually to the World Series' outstanding player by the sport publication "Sports Illustrated." Burdette's feat of two successive shut-outs in Series competition matched the performance of baseball immortal Christy Mathewson in 1905. Burdette hurled three complete games in the 1957 Series, allowing only two runs; the Brave right hander pitched 24 consecutive scoreless innings after Hank Bauer's home run in the third inning of the second game.

Marines & UofH Battle to 7-7 Tie; Defensive Play Hi-lites Annual Tilt

The 1957 chapter of the Territory's hottest football rivalry went into the record books as a standstill last Sunday afternoon as the high-g geared Hawaii Marine and University of Hawaii grid machines fought to a 7-7 deadlock before an estimated 10,000 spectators in Honolulu Stadium. In a contest highlighted by fierce and spirited line play by both contending elevens, the Leathernecks broke into the scoring column first when a wild collegian pass from center set up the first Marine TD midway in the initial period.

On a fourth down punt situation on his own 35, quarterback Don Botelho of the Hank Vasconcellos-coached squad was forced to go back as far as his nine yard marker in retrieving the elusive pigskin where he was tackled by Marine end Lt. Dick Gagliardi.

HM2 Ken Wedemeyer tallied three plays later on a one yard plunge. Lt. Jim Milne's conversion attempt was good and coach Maj. "Hoss" Hewlett's charges held a 7-0 bulge until late in the final period of play when the collegians stormed back with a touchdown of their own.

Marching 75 yards in 13 plays, the University cracked into the point column on Talbot George's two yard romp around end. Botelho's boot attempt for the point just skimmed over the outstretched fingertips of the hard charging Leatherneck forward wall but it split the uprights cleanly with the game-tying extra point, giving each team a record of two wins, two losses, and one tie in their torrid four yard grid feud.

Unbeaten Serv Bn Takes First Place In 6-Man Football

Serv. Bn., (1stMarBrig) scored its fourth straight win, a decisive 42-28 triumph over previously unbeaten 2nd Bn., 4th Marines Tuesday afternoon to gain sole possession of first place in the Brigade-Station 6-Man Football League as the 11-team circuit completed five weeks of play. At the present time, 2nd Bn., 4th Marines are in a tie for the runner-up spot with Marine Barracks, P. H. who also went down to their first league defeat during the week's play losing to Camp Smith 39-33 last Wednesday, Oct. 30.

A brief recap of other 6-Man grid action follows:

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 30

Camp Smith 39—Marine Barracks 33
Camp Smith tallied a pair of last quarter TD's to deal the Pearl Harbor Leathernecks their first loss of the current campaign.

Behind 26-8 at the half, Marine Barracks rallied for four touchdowns in the third period to hold a temporary 33-26 advantage as fourth quarter play got underway, but the Camp Smith 13 point out-break proved too much for the second placers.

1st Bn., 4th Marines 47—MAG-13 Champions 26

Battalions' Pfc. Charles Ayers ran back the initial kick-off to the Champions' five where he lateraled to teammate Sgt. Don Jose who went over for the score to put 1st Bn. into a lead which was never relinquished.

Pfc. Robert Johnson led the victors' scoring parade by accounting for five touchdowns, four of them coming via the ground route and one by passing. Pfc. Lester Millington passed to Pfc. A. Lincoln for the final 2nd Bn. score.

Pfc. Eugene Zippilli garnered five points for the winners by kicking two extra points and passing to Pfc. Tex Hinojosa for another.

The score at half was 29-6.

THURSDAY, OCT. 31

BOXING CLINIC CANCELLED

The Boxing Clinic which was originally scheduled to take place at K-Bay Monday through Thursday of this week was cancelled due to an error in determining the dates on which the two coaches would appear here.

Investigation has revealed that the Clinic was held in the Far East, on the dates previously published.

No information is available concerning if and when the Boxing Clinic will be conducted here.

By JIMMY UKAUKA

Capt. P. D. Jensen who trailed Maj. K. B. Nelson and MSgt. George Shouse by three strokes going into the final 18 holes of the 54 Hole Medal Play Golf Championship, picked up eight strokes on the leaders and emerged the victor by a five stroke margin. At the end of the first six holes of the final 18, Maj. Nelson was one over par while Capt. Jensen was three over par, and at this stage of the game it appeared that Maj. Nelson was a "shoo-in" winner, with a five stroke bulge with but 12 holes remaining to be played.

"That's when the roof fell in," as Maj. Nelson double bogied the easy par 4 seventh hole while Capt. Jensen picked up a birdie three. Capt. Jensen continued to play spectacular golf and sunk his pitch shot for an eagle two on the eighth hole. He then parred the ninth hole, and this birdie-eagle-par finish on the last three holes brought him in even par for the first nine holes and tied with Maj. Nelson after 45 holes of play.

Capt. Jensen continued to "burn 'em up" on the final nine holes registering another par 36 round and finished with even par 72 while Maj. Nelson slipped to five over and an 18 hole total of 80 blows. MSgt. George Shouse finished a stroke behind for third place in the "Championship" Flight.

TSGT. JIM REID "A" FLIGHT VICTOR

TSgt. Jim Reid emerged victorious in the "A" Flight of this tournament but had to play 72 holes before being crowned the winner. Reid fired rounds of 86-81-36 for a 253 total and was deadlocked for first place with TSgt. C. O. Morse and Col. G. A. Roll at the end of the scheduled 54 holes.

In the ensuing 18 hole play-off TSgt. Reid out-steadied his two opponents and won by one stroke over TSgt. Morse and two strokes over Col. Roll.

This was beyond a doubt the closest contested "Flight" in this tourney and proved to be the most interesting.

TSgt. Reid needed a par three on the final hole in the 18 hole play-off to become the winner, and calmly stepped up to a fifteen foot putt and tapped it right into the center of the cup.

TSgt. Morse then faced an eight foot putt which he needed desperately for second place, as Col. Roll had placed his second shot but three feet from the hole. Morse likewise came through and knocked his putt right into the cup.

Tragedy struck Col. Roll earlier on the par 3 fourth hole. After hitting his tee shot out of bounds Col. Roll proceeded to take a horrendous five over par eight on the hole, leaving him with a deficit which proved in the final analysis too difficult to overcome.

GEN KIER WINS "B" FLIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP

Brig. Gen. A. R. Kier topped the "B" Flight field with a steady performance throughout the entire 54 hole route. Gen. Kier fired rounds of 91-88-91 for a 270 total and a five stroke bulge over his nearest competitors.

Gen. Kier, whose 49-39 performance in the second round of the tournament "hook" the troops, again flashed some brilliance on the first nine holes of the final round. Trailing at the end of the first six holes of the aforementioned nine, he unleashed a 3-3-3 attack on the final three holes to once again go into the lead which he never relinquished. This birdie, birdie, par, finish put the general in definite command of the situation from there on in.

MSgt. E. A. Bruce who trailed Gen. Kier by a single stroke going into the final 18 holes slipped to a 95 on the last round, and was tied for second place by Lt. D. G. Williams who fired steady rounds of 92-92-91.

In the ensuing play-off for second place Lt. Williams emerged the winner, defeating E. A. Bruce. Lt. Williams fired a 40-37-77, an incredible performance for a 19 handicapper.

MSGT. WAKEFIELD TOPS "C" FLIGHT

MSgt. W. Wakefield, the last man to finish the 54 hole Medal Play Championship Saturday, was the first man score-wise in the "C" Flight of this tournament.

Sgt. Wakefield fired rounds of 97-88-92 for a 277 total which put him six strokes ahead of his nearest competitor. Terming the 88 fired in the second round of the tournament "the finest round of golf played since arriving at Kaneohe," the affable Wakefield was all smiles as he received the plaudits of his fellow competitors.

Second place in this division went to CWO J. Green, who fired rounds of 95-92-96 for a 283 total. Green, a veritable newcomer to golf, has served early warning that next year he will not only move up a Flight or two, but will "win it to boot."

Boxing Smoker Set for Wed.

The 4th Marines will stage a boxing smoker this coming Wednesday evening in the area alongside Bldg. 1095, Lt. Sherwood Prescott, Regimental Special Services officer, announced this week.

At latest report, eight bouts will make up the fight card.

The first match is slated to begin at 7 p.m.

Women's Golf

Last Thursday, Oct. 31, the weekly tournament was a Low Putts tourney for the K-Bay Women's Golf Association. Carol Wilder won first place in the "A" Flight with a 29 while Betty Koch topped the field in the "B" Flight with a card of 30.

Carol Wilder also won the "Ace of the Month" prize with a total score of 83-17-66.

A Low Putts tourney was played by the Nine-Hole group also with Ginger Bailey winning high honors. Bonnie Vaught took second place.

Sue Ewers won the "Monthly Ace" for the Nine-Hole group.

54 HOLE MEDAL PLAY CHAMPIONS—The winners' and runners-up in the four Flights of the K-Bay 54 Hole Medal Play Golf Tournament completed this week were presented trophies by Col. Jack R. Cram, Station CO, Wednesday afternoon at the Klipper course clubhouse. Pictured (l to r) are: (kneeling) Col. Cram, TSgt. C. O. Morse, 1st Lt. D. G. Williams and Maj. K. B. Nelson; (standing) Brig. Gen. A. R. Kier, Brigade CG, TSgt. Jim Reid, Capt. P. D. Jensen and MSgt. W. Wakefield. Missing from the photo is CWO J. Green. See details of final round in story at left.

K-Bay Bowlers Top CinCPacFlt 2-1 Y-Guide Tribes As Isle Loop Passes Halfway Mark In Weekend Hike

The K-Bay Marines' Bowling team passed the midway point in the 18 team island Armed Forces Classic circuit last Friday night at the Hickam lanes by beating the CinCPacFlt kegling squad 2-1. Sgt. Roger Smith led the locals by notching high series honors for the Marines with a three-game total pinfall of 552.

MSgt. Tom McMasters took high single game honors for the locals with a 214 effort in the third game of the match.

Tonight TSgt. Von Michael's kegglers will face Ford Island at the Schofield lanes. First game is slated to begin at 6:30.

The standings of the first 10 teams in the Armed Forces loop are as follows:

TEAM	W	L
1. Ft. Shafter	27½	8½
2. Hickam No. 1	25	11
3. Naval Base	24	12
4. Schofield	24	12
5. Wheeler AFB	24	12
6. Tripler	23	13
7. K-Bay Marines	22	14
8. CinCPacFlt	20	16
9. FtTrngCtr	19	17
10. NavComSta	17	19

NOTE: Where ties exist, places are determined by total pinfall.

6-Man Football

the long end of a 24-0 count at the intermission.

The second half of play found Maj. Richard Smith's victorious squad utilizing an aerial offense to good advantage as passes from Pfc. D. E. Gorell to ends Pfc. C. Johnson and Pfc. C. H. Ford accounted for 14 more points. Hq&HqSq tallied in the fourth quarter on a pass from quarterback Sgt. Jack Mayberry to Cpl. George Murray who gathered in the aerial on the 10 and scampered over for the losers' only score.

FRIDAY, NOV. 1

3rd Bn., 12th Marines 34—3rd Bn., 4th Marines 26

Making their debut in the 1957 6-Man circuit, the Cannoneers beat their 4th Marines opposition by the count of 34-26.

Quarterback C. T. Eames sparked the victors' offensive with some timely passing and signal calling while teammates Pfc. T. G. Seiple, Pfc. W. A. Beck and Sgt. D. K. Paleka each struck paydirt, Beck making the 6-point trip twice.

Pfc. W. F. McKinney suffered an arm injury in the second half and may be out of the Cannoneer lineup for the remainder of the season as a result. It was reported.

TUESDAY NOV. 4

Serv. Bn. 42—2nd Bn., 4th Marines 28

The week's top game took place at K-Bay's field one Tuesday when last week's co-league leaders squared off in a hard fought tilt which found Serv. Bn. on the long end of a 42-28 count as the final gun went off. The victors enjoyed a 22-0 bulge at the intermission largely through the running of Pfc. Henry Clements and H. Reid and the passing of Cpl. Richard Nord.

The efforts of 2nd Bn.'s Cpl. D. E. Gorrell, who passed for three second half scores and HN J. C. Van, who galloped 50 yards for another 2nd Bn. tally were not quite enough to compensate for the league leaders' three-touchdown outbreak in the final half.

With "Chief" Rush Morgan of the Cherokee tribe leading the way, members of the Comanche, Cherokee and Apache Y-Indian Guide tribes will hold a weekend council meeting "powwow" tomorrow, Sunday and Monday at Bellows AFB. This council meeting will take place at Bellows' Camp area No. 4.

Sponsored by the Windward YMCA in Kailua, the Y-Indian Guides is a father-son organization in which both participate as active members. Each tribe is composed of 8-10 persons, including fathers, and as the name implies, the Y-Indian Guides program is based upon the lore of the American Indian.

All interested K-Bay fathers and sons are cordially invited by "Chief" Morgan to attend the "longhouse" meetings to be held each evening of the weekend "powwow."

Further information is available by calling SSgt. Morgan at his home phone, Kai. 26-7072.

MCAS Devilpups Lose 3rd Straight; Bow to Kalaniana'ole Midgets 20-13

The K-Bay Devilpups outfought the visiting Kalaniana'ole midget gridders for the better part of three quarters last Saturday morning here but weakened in the final minutes of the fourth period as the invaders pushed over a final TD to nip TSgt. Al Rappold's midgets by a 20-13 margin. Back Mike Smock scored the locals' two touchdowns, going over from the two-yard line in the second quarter and punching over from six yards out in the third period to temporarily knot the count.

The victorious Kalaniana'ole representatives called their winning score with a little over two minutes remaining when William Souza took a handoff from quarterback Paul Leader and carried into paydirt from the four.

The loss was the Devilpups' third straight in the Oahu Pop Warner Midget Football League.

Tomorrow morning, TSgt. Al Rappold's charges will face Schofield in another league contest here. Game time is 10 o'clock.

Yacht to Visit Here Nov. 16-17

The vessel presently acclaimed as the Trans-Pacific (Los Angeles to Honolulu) record holder for Botter class yachts, the "Groote Beer," will be made available to K-Bay personnel for the purposes of moonlight or daytime cruises, it was announced this week.

The vessel will visit K-Bay Friday, Nov. 15, and will be available for viewing Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 16-17. It will be moored to the Special Services boat dock. The visit here is designed to stimulate interest of parties who plan to take advantage of reduced charter rates.

Capable of accommodating up to 30 persons, the "Groote Beer" cruises will last approximately six to eight hours.

Additional information can be obtained and reservations can be made by contacting Station Special Services at 72548.

Completed in 1948 under the direction of one of Holland's best marine architects, Mr. Robert Johnson, the "Groote Beer" was originally built for Herman Goering when construction ceased at the end of WWII.

Theater Schedule

By PFC. BILL GOINS

Two shows daily—6:05 p.m. and 8:20 p.m. at both Main Theater and 4th Marines. Movies at 4th Marines Theater are one day later than scheduled below.

TONIGHT

LAST OF THE BADMEN — Best part of this picture is the fact it's in Cinemascope and color. This western is a little different, stars George Montgomery, with a real "tough" surprise ending. Rating good.

SATURDAY MATINEE

TENSION AT TABLE ROCK — RKO has produced another western in color that didn't sell. The only tension evident is in the producer's wallet. Dorothy Malone and Richard Egan have the misfortune of being the guinea pigs, rated fair.

SATURDAY

GUN DUEL IN DURANGO—Mean hombre "gets religion" and turns on his former gang members. Stars Robert Montgomery and Ann Robinson. This flick is so terrible it doesn't even make good reading! Rating says fair.

SUNDAY MATINEE

LOADED PISTOLS — Gene Autry, and Champion of course, in a Columbia re-issue which means this dilly has probably celebrated more birthdays than the Corps. Rate it fair, "ugh."

SUNDAY

A STAR IS BORN — Bet you thought all we had was westerns? This is an old movie but some of the scenes are fabulous. If you see this flick, and you should, note the beautiful house these people live in and pay particular attention to the modern conveniences. Judy Garland and James Mason have the lead roles. Very good.

MONDAY MATINEE

TRUE STORY OF JESSIE JAMES — Whoops, another western! Opened my fat trap too soon didn't I? Rated good and features Robert Wagner and Jeffery Hunter.

MONDAY

THE BARRETT'S OF WIMPOLE STREET—Bill Travers heads the cast in a tender and dramatic love story. This should be interesting if you are a lover. It's always interesting to compare techniques, you might learn something! It's in color, rate is good.

TUESDAY

MONSTER FROM GREEN HELL —Fantastic science fiction about 30 foot wasps. Take your fly swatter! Rated poor, it stars Bob Griffin and Jim Davis.

WEDNESDAY

FEAR STRIKES OUT—The heart warming story of Red Sox slugger Jim Piersall and his struggle to find himself. Can't say too much without revealing a good plot. Rate this the best flick of the week with Anthony Perkins and Karl Malden starring.

THURSDAY

SWEET SMELL OF SUCCESS — Burt Lancaster and Tony Curtis team up in a smashing story of Broadway night life that smells anything but sweet. Fast moving, hard hitting, and evil, Susan Harrison has the female lead. Good.
