News in Brief

Military Budget Cutbacks

The U.S. military will see a 10 to 12 percent cut in funding over the next five years that will affect the size of the active duty forces, as well as the number of civilian employees.

Deputy Secretary of Defense William H. Taft said in a conference Dec. 8, that DoD will cut the projected budget for fiscal years 1989 through 1994 by 10 to 12 percent. Currently, the services are drawing up plans to meet the cut.

Taft said that no program would be exempt from cuts including force structure — the number of men and women on active duty.

"There would certainly be some force reductions and (the Secretary of Defense's) statement of his priorities indicates that will happen," Taft couldn't say exactly how much the reduction would be but indicated the military would be a smaller force by 1994 and said there would be civilian cutbacks.

Taft reiterated the plan outlined by Secretary of Defense Frank C. Carlucci III in his testimony before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

"We prefer to end programs in order not to stretch out all programs or larger numbers of programs," Taft continued, "to keep our buying of systems at efficient rates, and to go to a somewhat smaller force, if for the same price, one could have a larger force structure as a lower priority than readiness and sustainability."

After the services submit cutback plans, the Department of Defense will review them and formulate reductions during the next several months.

Civilian employees of the Air Station who have questions concerning employment cutbacks or hiring status, may contact the Employment Branch Civilian Personnel Office, here at 257-3524.

Outdoor Christmas Lighting Limited

In order to promote a sound energy conservation program here, exterior Christmas lighting in Station housing areas is authorized only from now to Jan. 4, according to a recent Air Station Bulletin.

Outdoor lighting decorations must be limited to the front of the home. For safety purposes, outdoor lighting for trees, shrubbery and lawns is prohibited. Lights may remain on from 6:30 to 10:00 p.m. and until 1:00 a.m. on Christmas and New Year's eve.

Indoor and outdoor lighting for unit work place areas is prohibited. Use of non-electrical decorations, such as tinsel, ribbons and Christmas wreaths, is encouraged.

For more information, call the Station Safety office at 257-2096.

1st MAB Marines return from 'Guam Ex'

Training tests MPF mission

The 271 1st MAB Marines who left for Guam Dec. 7 for a Maritime Prepositioning Force (MPF) training exercise returned here Tuesday, ending what a number of participants described as "an outstanding learning experience."

Primary training goals included the testing of procedures and equipment to be used during the early stages of an MPF deployment and in off-loading the four huge cargo ships containing combat equipment for the 1st MAB.

Although many of the participants will file formal, detailed after-action reports later, the officer in charge of the exercise expressed satisfaction with most phases of the training.

Col. Paul J. Smith, Assistant Chief of Staff, G-4, called the Survey, Liaison, Reconnaissance Party (SLRP) portion of the exercise 'gratifying.' But he pointed out that procedures for the Arrival and Assembly Organizations will need more work, including additional training exercises.

The Marines used new Automated Data Processing Equipment to account for the tons of equipment which were hypothetically off-loaded from the ships and directed into the hands of the Brigade's notional 16,500 Marines as soon as the Marines were flown into the area of operations from Kaneohe Bay and elsewhere.

Although the complicated flow of personnel and equipment was simulated with coded 8x5 cards, the need to communicate and transmit data was "real-world." Of all the Marines participating in the exercise, 57 of them were "communicators." The largest number of those were from 1st MAB's own B Co., 7th Comm. Bn. Among their many other tasks, B Co. Marines set up a new PSC-3 satellite uplink system to communicate with the Movement Control Center at Kaneohe Bay.

Another 7th Comm. Bn. unit from Okinawa also participated in the exercise and set up an AN/TSC-96 satellite uplink system with teletype capability. Marines from Brigade Service Support Group-1, 3d Marines (Rein), and Marine Aircraft Group-24 were also kept busy once simulated cargo was offloaded and ready for distribution to the major subordinate commands.

"I was reasonably impressed with 'comm,'" Col Smith said, "It worked well."

Although there were a number of "artificialities" built into the exercise, Col Smith said, "We accomplished a lot more here than we could have at MCAS Kaneohe Bay."

The deployment afforded the opportunity to work directly with the Maritime Prepositioning Ships which are normally located in the vicinity of Guam. Also, living in tents and operating in an unfamiliar expeditionary environment presented exercise participants with many of the challenges they will face during a full-scale MPF deployment.

"The next time," Col. Smith said, "it will not be just data we're unloading from the ships — it will be the real thing."

Marine security guards needed

HQMC, Washington, D.C., — Now that some of the publicity has died down, it's time to get back to business. The serious business of locating qualified Marines to serve around the world as Marine Security Guards in support of the Department of State.

According to Maj. John R. Sykes, plans officer, MSG Section, HQMC, the number of Marines volunteering for MSG duty has decreased somewhat since the situation in the Moscow Embassy came to light in early 1987. Many Marines appeared hesitant to volunteer, and those who did come forward have indicated a concern for the stiffer screening processes established in April.

ALMARS 248-87 and 249-

87, published Oct. 30, are meant to clarify and speed up this screening process for MSG volunteers, he explained.

In April, major commands were directed to convene a review board of qualified officers and staff NCOs to screen nominees for the MSG Program. These boards will now be held at the battalion and squadron headquarters level and will consist of at least one officer and one staff NCO, one of whom preferably has had prior MSG experience. The board's function is to ensure that applicants have the maturity, reliability, and good judgment needed for a successful tour on MSG duty.

Also in April, initial medical qualification screening was expanded to include a psychological evaluation to detect disqualifying personality traits before applications could be forwarded from the unit. This has proved cumbersome for the field, so under the new ALMARS, this responsibility has been shifted to MSG School at Quantico, Va., where plans call for the psychological screening to take place during training.

Basic requirements for MSG applicants have not been changed and are outlined in Marine Corps Order 1306.2M.

To encourage Marines to apply for the MSG Program, an MSG screening and information team began a tour of east and west coast Marine Corps based in mid-November. The team's purpose is not only to interview applicants, but to educate commanders on the qualifications and requirements of the MSG Program. Though this type of team-screening has been conducted periodically in the past, Maj. Sykes says such tours are now being scheduled twice each year. This should ensure a continuity in the screening process and encourage a steady flow of applicants for the program.

Marines interested in additional information concerning a potential assignment to Marine Security Guard duty at one of the 137 diplomatic missions around the world should consult MCO 1306.2M and contact the unit career planner.

MajGen. Cooke chairs '88 CFC

By SSgt. B. Ann Morton-Thompson

Sand Island, Hawaii — The chairmanship gavel of the Combined Federal Campaign changed hands here recently during a meeting culminating the 1987 "Dare to Care" campaign.

Major General Richard M. Cooke, deputy commanding general, FMFPac, accepted the gavel and assumed overall responsibility for the Marine Corps for the 1988 Combined Federal Campaign from RAdm. William P. Kozlovsky, commander, 14th Coast Guard District and chairman for the 1987 campaign.

"We're happy to take this on," said MajGen. Cooke. "There's a lot of things that need to be done to enhance contributions to the Combined Federal Campaign."

Lieutenant Colonel Sam Tillet, who is on the staff of the CG Headquarters, FMFPac and the state project officer for the 1988 campaign, acknowledged the challenge the campaign presents. "The 1987 campaign brought $3,027,082, which is the highest amount raised in the state of Hawaii through CFC.

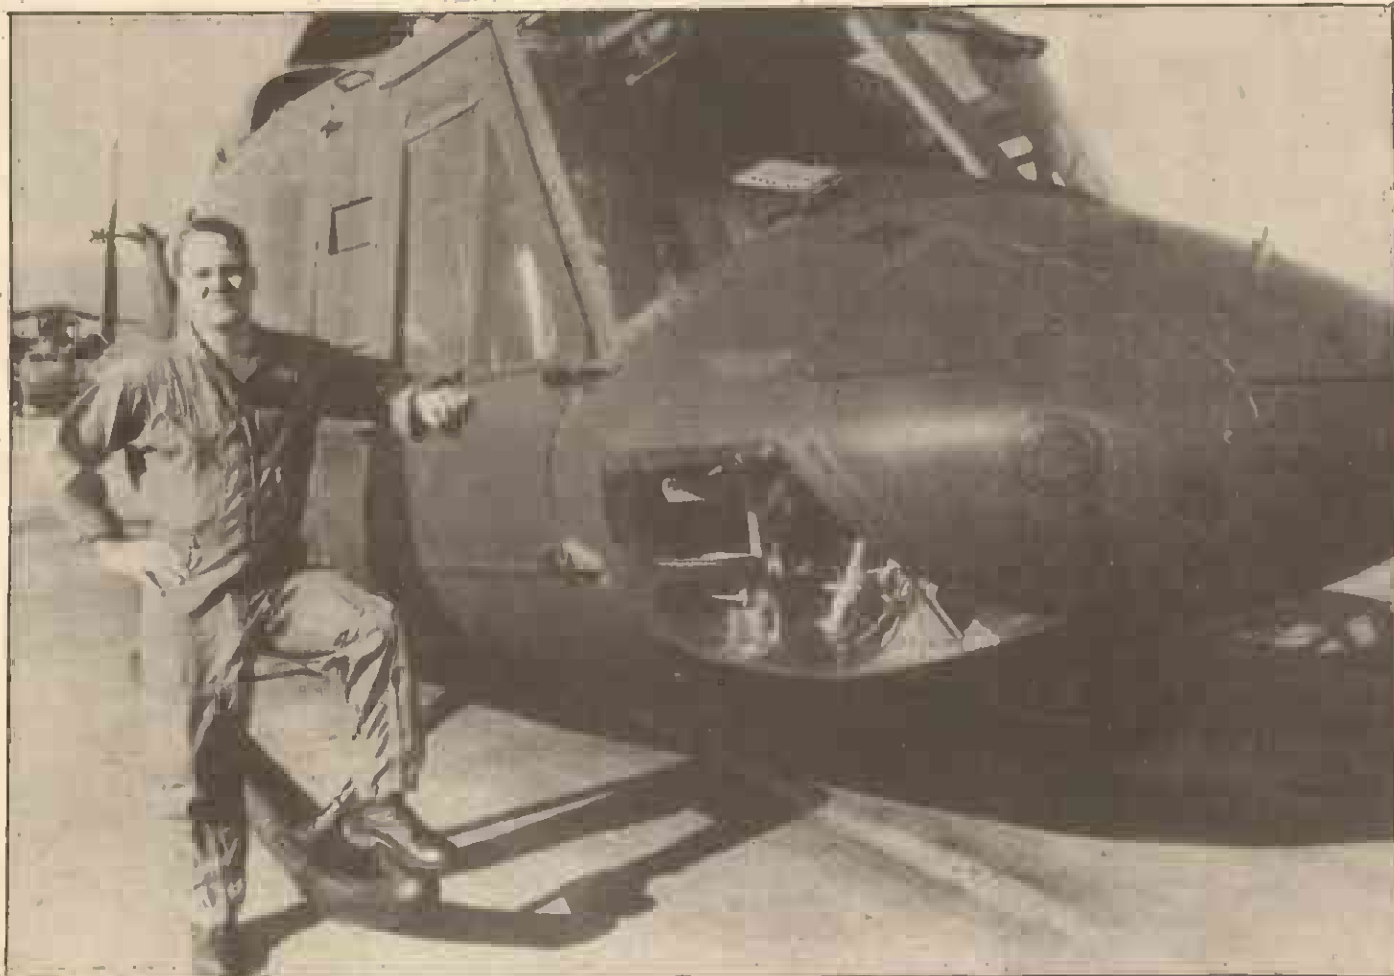

"We'd like to continue that level of giving for 1988," he said. The overall amount of the campaign was a 13 percent increase over last year, and is one of the highest increases nationwide for 1987. Within the amount is $289,511.30 contributed by Marine Corps personnel.

A goal for the 1988 campaign should be established by January 1988.

Coast Guard Rear Admiral William P. Kozlovsky, 1987 Hawaii State CFC chairman, passes the chairmanship gavel to MajGen. Richard M. Cooke, deputy commanding general, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific at the final meeting of the 1987 campaign.

Sgt. Earl Eckles, 463, former NCOIC of the UH-1N flightline, poses by one of his Hueys that departed the Air Station Thursday.

So long 'Huey' It's been nice knowing 'ya

Story by
SSgt. Virginia Bueno

On Dec. 10, HMH-463 said goodbye to the last of its five UH-1N helicopters, as they were flown from the Air Station to the USS Duluth enroute to the west coast of California.

The UH-1Ns, a detachment of HML-367, MAG-39, 3d MAW, have served with 463 since June 1977, and are being reassigned to Camp Pendleton which has greater needs for the "Hueys," said MAG-24 Rotary Wing Coordinator, Capt. Norman Flake. Those needs include support for MAU deployments with 3d MAW.

Flake said that HQMC has reconfigured its Huey and Cobra squadrons so that each squadron will have a mixture of both aircraft, vice a squadron with only one type. He also points to manpower changes throughout the Marine Corps as another reason for the Hueys' departure here.

"It takes a considerable amount of manning just to support a detachment of four aircraft. That was the one primary reason for this whole departure evolution," Flake said.

Currently there are no plans to replace the UH-1Ns here with another type of aircraft, he said.

There was no fanfare for the Huey's last flight here on Nov. 25; however, Sgt. Earl Eckles, former NCOIC, UH-1N flightline, remembers the mission well. "We took up the MAG-24 CO, Col. W.R. Gage, MAG-24 Sergeant Major John H. Manor and a couple of Marines on a routine island orientation flight of Oahu and Molokai. It was pretty quiet in the Huey. No one said much," he said.

The pilots, enlisted flight and maintenance crews assigned to the detachment have been reassigned to various Marine Corps commands. Eckles, currently on orders to HMLA-269, MAG-29 at MCAS New River, N.C., feels that the Huey was an invaluable asset to the 1st MAB.

"Everyone in the Brigade, especially the ground troops, is going to lose in the long run by not having the Huey around anymore. For training purposes, such as reconnaissance team insertions and extractions, the CH-46 and the CH-53 can never take the place of the Huey.

"This helicopter can go wherever it wants; the other helicopters can't measure up to that. It's small and you can get a better view of what's outside, than in the '46 or '53. Besides, it's just a more personable aircraft," Eckles said.

The Huey is one of the Corps' most versatile aircraft. More than 9,000 were produced since its inception in 1964. Its primary mission is to provide utility combat support to a landing force in ship-to-shore movements and in combat operations ashore.

Capable of speeds up to 120 miles per hour, the Huey can carry 16 troops, guns and rockets. It can also be used for medical evacuations and has space for six litter patients and one medical attendant.

Flake agrees that the Huey's service to the 1st MAB will be greatly affected. "The Huey is one superb aircraft. Without it to support the Brigade's ground units, we're going to encounter some hardships in our command and control abilities and in troop transport."

The UH-1N is used extensively in ship-to-shore movements.

One motorcycle victim is one too many

By Sgt. Michael Weaver

Editor's Note: The following is an actual motorcycle accident which resulted in the driver's death. The names have been changed to protect the others involved.

1:30 a.m. — After an evening of motorcycle racing, LCpl. Odin and LCpl. Reeves ride their motorcycles from Campbell Industrial Park to go have breakfast at a local restaurant. During breakfast, they meet two friends, John and Terry, who are also driving motorcycles, and they all decided to drive to the North Shore to see the sunset.

It was a clear morning, good weather, light traffic and a dry road. Reeves takes the lead, with Terry and John in the middle, and Odin brings up the rear.

5:30 a.m. — Reeves bends into a curve, where the others lose sight of him. Going into the curve at about 50 or 60 miles per hour, Odin passes Terry and John. The flashing lights and the yellow sign indicated a dangerous curve. The recommended speed on the sign was 25 mph.

But as LCpl. Odin tries to negotiate the right curve, he loses control. The bike slams to the right, driving Odin into the pavement.

After sliding 79 feet, the motorcycle slams into the guard rail, but John cannot see if the bike has crushed LCpl. Odin between it and the railing.

The bike comes to rest on the highway side of the guide rail and Odin ends up on the far side of the rail. Odin is conscious as John tries to apply first aid to him.

6 a.m. — An off-duty Honolulu police officer arrives at the scene. Odin loses consciousness.

6:15 a.m. — The paramedics arrived and rendered first aid to Odin.

6:25 a.m. — Odin dies due to shock, combined with the severe lacerations on his right hip and his upper thigh and a great loss of blood.

Fact: For every 100 million miles driven, there are 2.5 automobile-related deaths and 38 motorcycle-related deaths.

Since October 1986, nine FMFPac Marines have been the victims of motorcycle related deaths and 81 have been injured in motorcycle accidents.

Safety regs to be enforced off-Station

By Sgt. Willie Alexander

Concern over recent statistics that show an increase in motorcycle deaths has caused the Military Police Department and the Station Inspectors office here to begin enforcing safety regulations off Station.

ALMAR 278-85 requires all Marines operating motorcycles or mopeds to wear an approved helmet, eye protection and reflective vest both on and off Station. But because many state laws don't require the protective gear, some Marines have disregarded Station regulations when they get out in town, said LtCol. J.G. Plantz, Station Inspector.

"I see Marines all the time who ride just outside the gate, pull off the road and take off their helmet and vest," said Plantz. Since Hawaii doesn't require this safety equipment, some Marines think they don't have to go by the Station's rules. But the Station 'regs' and being rewritten so the rules can be enforced both on and off Station."

A recent 1st MAB/Air Station message turns to the Corps' leadership for help in tracking down offenders.

The message, dated Nov. 16., asks officers, SNCOs and NCOs who see Marine motorcycle violators off Station to write down the license number, describe the motorcycle and its rider, and the time, date and location of the violation. The observer should then report the incident immediately to the Military Police desk sergeant at 257-2123.

"We are not talking about a 'Big Brother' concept here," said Plantz. "But we are talking about a brotherhood concept. As 'brothers' we are concerned for one another's safety. I don't know all the 'stats' but I do know many motorcycle deaths have been attributed to improper safety precautions and we will do everything in our power to prevent deaths and serious injuries of our Marines."

3d Marines' 71st Anniversary

The 3rd Marine Regiment (Rein) will hold a Family Day at Platt Field on Dec. 21.

Festivities will begin at noon and include displays of equipment and a visit by Santa. Everyone on the Air Station is invited to attend.

For additional information contact Capt. Quinlan at 257-5935.

The history of the 3d Marine Regiment dates back to Dec. 20, 1916, when it was formed by consolidating Marine detachments from various ships in the Atlantic Fleet.

Campaigns in Mexico and the Dominican Republic highlighted the early years of the regiment until it was redesignated a reserve unit in San Francisco, and ultimately disbanded in December 1937.

The outbreak of World War II brought the 3d Marines back into action. Reactivated at New River, N.C. on June 16, 1942, the regiment was instrumental in the Bougainville and Guam operations of the Pacific theatre.

Following World War II, the regiment saw duty in China, and was in training, here, in Japan and on Okinawa during the Korean Conflict. In 1965, the regiment moved to Vietnam, where it participated in 48 major operations.

After Vietnam, the regiment moved to Camp Pendleton, Calif., where it was part of the 5th Marine Amphibious Brigade, until April 1971 when it joined the 1st Marine Division. Two months later, the 3d Marines moved to their present home at MCAS Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii.

Legally Speaking

Check to bank . . . to the brig?

By The Legal Services Center

Gone forever are the days of the paymaster who would pay each Marine in cash on payday. With the advent of direct deposit of pay, also known as "check to bank" programs, many Marines now have checking accounts for the first time. The Marine Corps has strongly encouraged servicemembers to enroll in check to bank programs, especially those preparing to deploy overseas. Armed with a checkbook and an appetite for the "good life," unfortunately some Marines embark on a bad check writing "spree" which almost always guarantees a court-martial.

In Okinawa, a place well-known to deploying ground combat and helicopter units of the 1st MAB, the statistics regarding bad checks are staggering. In the first four months of 1987, the military banking facility in Okinawa, the National Bank of Fort Sam Houston, processed 10,753 bad checks with a face value of $1,450,942.05. The Okinawa Area Exchange broke its 1986 record for bad checks by May 1987 with $964,967.77 in bounced checks. The Exchange could recover only 75 percent of its losses through voluntary payment and involuntary pay checkages.

Although the bad check problem among Marines in Hawaii is not nearly as bad as Okinawa, there has been a decided increase in courts-martial of Marines writing bad checks here.

Profile of the bad check writer

The typical Marine bad check writer is an unmarried lance corporal or below from a suburban neighborhood. He has little or no experience in maintaining a checking account, does not maintain a check register, and floats his bad checks for entertainment and luxuries. When his check writing spree collapses, he finds little sympathy from his leaders or the military justice system.

The evil of bad checks

The plain fact is bad checks reflect discredit on a disciplined military force, injure the credit reputation of all Marines and undermine confidence in commercial transactions involving checks.

Bad checks also result in the loss of thousands of dollars which must be made up by taxpayers and consumers. This causes an enormous loss of productive time in efforts to recoup the money by voluntary payment or involuntary checkage of pay.

Small unit leaders are forced to waste time and energy on collection efforts as the bounced check notices are received.

During this year, close to a dozen Marines from the Brigade have been convicted and punished at general court-martial for bad checks. Countless others have gone to special courts-martial, summary courts-martial or received nonjudicial punishment.

Bad check offenses under the UCMJ

The UCMJ provides two separate offenses that allow prosecution for bad checks. Article 123a, UCMJ, applies to situations where a Marine writes a check and gives it to another for something of value knowing that at the time he wrote the check he did not have sufficient funds in the account. The other offense, Article 134, UCMJ, applies to situations where a Marine writes a check but fails to maintain sufficient funds in the account.

The big difference between these two offenses is that under Article 123a, the person writing the check must know that he doesn't have sufficient funds in the account when he writes the check. Under Article 134, UCMJ, the person writing the check does not need to know that he does not have sufficient funds to cover the check. There only needs to be insufficient funds in the account due to the gross indifference of the check writer.

Prosecution of both offenses is a relatively simple matter consisting of introducing the accused's checks, bank records, and any bad check notices into evidence because all persons are presumed to know the status of their pay and bank accounts.

Both offenses are quite serious and carry with them substantial punishments.

For a single violation of Article 123a, UCMJ, that is, for one bad check, an accused at a general court-martial can receive a dishonorable discharge, reduction to E-1, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, confinement for five years, plus an unlimited fine. If the amount of the check is $100.00 or less, an accused can receive a bad conduct discharge, reduction to E-1, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and confinement for six months.

For any single violation of Article 134, UCMJ, an accused can receive a bad conduct discharge, reduction to E-1, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and confinement for six months.

HIV test needed to marry foreign nationals

Marines who plan to marry foreign nationals are now required to have their prospective spouse tested for Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV) as part of their marriage application, according to a message recently published on the subject.

The new requirement is based on State Department medical guidelines that made HIV blood tests mandatory for all visa applicants. These applicants include prospective spouses and dependents 15 years and older who are now required to get medical examinations.

The message states that positive HIV tests are not waivable for permanent admission into the United States; positive tests are now grounds for commanders overseas to disapprove marriage application.

This new rule, published by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, puts Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome (AIDS) on the list of "Dangerous Contagious Diseases," and into a category with other diseases which presently require overseas blood tests.

HIV tests taken outside U.S. borders are good for one year or until the person reaches the U.S. port of entry, whichever comes first, the message said.

For more information, see the appropriate medical authorities.

On the Blotter

Editor's Note: The following are actual incidents which occurred on the Air Station. The military Police Department here is bringing significant cases to your attention to prevent these types of incidents happening to you or your family. To report a crime, or if you notice suspicious activity on the Air Station, please call the Military Police Department's 24 hour Crime Stopper number 257-2123.

- A private first class was arrested for DWI and underage drinking at the main gate. The Marine chose to have his breath tested which resulted in a .11% blood alcohol level. He was later released to his unit.

Assaults/Breaches of Peace

- Three privates first class were apprehended for a breach of peace, assault, and underage drinking while at the Enlisted Club. The Marines harassed a lance corporal and his date, which led to an argument. The three Marines were released to their unit representative.

- A lance corporal was the victim of an assault in Kailua. A staff sergeant reported that he found the lance corporal in the parking lot of a fast food restaurant, and that he had apparently been beaten up. The lance corporal was taken to Tripler Army Medical Center by ambulance. The Marine gave the Honolulu Police Department a description of the vehicle. The lance corporal was treated for a broken nose, broken ankle, and multiple facial contusions.

- Two privates first class were apprehended for a breach of peace, and one for underage drinking following an argument near their barracks. Then the MP's arrived, the Marines stated that they were friends and just having a disagreement. They also stated that they had been drinking at the Enlisted Club, and one of them is 20 years old.

- A lance corporal was apprehended for larceny of private property and fraudulent use of a state inspection sticker. The Marine was stopped for making an unsafe lane change, and it was discovered that his inspection sticker appeared to have been altered. The serial number on the sticker did not match that of the certificate. The lance corporal admitted taking the sticker from a vehicle in Kailua. He was released to his unit.

- Two bicycles were reported stolen from the Mokapu School. The vice principal reported that the bikes were taken from the bike rack. The MP's made search of the area, but the bikes were not found.

- An employee of a construction company here reported that someone had stolen a company vehicle. The perpetrators apparently drove another vehicle through a fence to gain access. The stolen vehicle was found later. The theft is still under investigation.

- A corporal reported that his 12-speed bicycle had been stolen from a bike rack near his barracks. The bike had not been locked to the bike rack.

- A private first class was arrested for theft by the Honolulu Police Department. The Marine was detained by the manager of an ABC store in Waikiki for attempting to leave the store with a bottle of whiskey in his pants. The private first class was held in lieu of $25 bail and is scheduled to appear in court.

- A private first class was apprehended at the Enlisted Club for assault and underage drinking. A woman reported that she had been struck by the private first class. The Marine was also charged with underage drinking. He was taken to PMO and later released to his unit.

- A lance corporal was apprehended for fraudulent use of a state inspection sticker. He stated that friends of his removed a decal from a vehicle and taped it to his car. He refused to give the friends' names. He was released on his own recognizance.

Take note

Square it Away!

Backpacks of civilian manufacture and design are not authorized for wear with any service of utility uniform. Except as noted below. Carrying the backpack by wearing only one strap over the shoulder is still considered to be wearing the backpack and is not authorized. Civilian backpacks may be carried over the back when riding a

Travel Tip

If you are attending a conference while TAD, ensure your orders show authorization for the conference fee. If they do not, get a modification to your orders upon return to your permanent duty station stating conference fees were authorized.

Alcohol incidents are again the most frequent issue on the Military Police Blotter. There were twelve apprehensions for underage drinking in two nights alone. Other incidents include DUI/DWI's on base and in town, and breaches of peace.

Last month, alcohol incidents included 20 DWI/DUI's, and seven underage drinking apprehensions.

A first offense for driving under the influence in the United States could bring a mandatory jail sentence, community service work, alcohol rehabilitation, and license suspension, fines and legal fees.

Sentry magazine reported in its fall issue some DWI laws in other parts of the world:

Finland: Automatic one year at hard labor.

Malaya: The drunk driver, along with his/her spouse is jailed.

Turkey: Drunk drivers are driven 20 miles out of town and forced to walk back.

Bulgaria: A second offense carries the death penalty.

El Salvador: Execution by firing squad for the first offense.

Russia: Driver's license is revoked for life.

England: One year in jail, $250 fine, and one year license suspension.

Although the consequences of driving drunk in the U.S. are less severe than other countries, it is agreed that no matter where you are, driving drunk is simply not worth it.

- A corporal was arrested by the Honolulu Police Department for DWI in Honolulu. The corporal was pulled over for lane weaving, and the odor of alcohol was detected by the police officer. The corporal elected to have his breath tested which resulted in a .13% blood alcohol level. He was released on $225 bail and is scheduled to appear in court.

Toys for Tots campaign underway

It's time once again for the Marine Corps Reserve's annual Toys for Tots campaign.

Founded in 1947, the campaign organizes collections of donated new toys to be distributed to needy children so they can have a joyous Christmas.

For anyone wishing to donate any new toy, collection boxes and booths will be set up at the following locations near the Air Station: Akahi Park Shopping Center

Inter-Island Auto Painting, Alaloa Street, Kaneohe

For more information, call GySgt. Brick, 4th Force Recon Bn., at 471-0202.

Commissary Holiday Hours

The Commissary will be closed on Dec. 25 in observance of Christmas Day. Hours for Dec. 24 will be 9 a.m.-3 p.m. The Commissary will also be closed on Jan. 1, in observance of New Year's Day. Hours for Dec. 31 will be 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

Food Basket Drive

The SNCO Wives Club is a non-profit organization contributing to help the Air Station and community needs. The club meets the first Monday of the month at the SNCO Club at 7 p.m. All SNCO wives are welcome.

The SNCO Wives Club will continue collecting for its Food Basket Drive through Dec. 21. Anyone desiring to donate canned goods or money for the drive, please contact Kathie Cash, V.P. SNCO Wives Club at 254-2491.

Should any Air Station family need a food basket, or knows of a family who does, contact the Armed Services YMCA-Outreach at 254-4719/4965. All calls will be confidential.

Christmas Meal

Family members of military personnel here won't have to pay a surcharge for the upcoming Christmas meal in the enlisted mess hall this year.

The cost of the meal for all military personnel and their family members will be $2.25. Any Marine or sailor wishing to take their family to Anderson Hall should contact the mess officer, at least three days prior to the event, at 257-3568.

The menu for the Christmas meal, which will be served Dec. 25, will consist of steamship round, roast turkey, sweet potatoes, mashed potatoes, turkey gravy, buttered corn, peas with onions, and assorted desserts and pastries.

Christmas Musical

The Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station Combined Chapel Choir will present the Christmas Musical, "The New Nativity" by Carol Pohly, on Dec. 20, 6:00 p.m. in the Air Station Chapel. The Choir will be under the direction of special guest conductor Reggie Fields. It will be an exciting time! Come and share the Christmas Spirit with all. For more information call RPI Penny at 3552/3506.

Special Services

Holiday Hour
All Special Services activities will be closed for Christmas and New Years with the exceptions of Beaches 10 a.m.-4 p.m.; and the Child Care Center, closed Dec. 24 and 25, open New Years Eve until 2 a.m., and closed the remainder of Jan. 1.

Camp Smith

The Camp gymnasium will be closed Dec. 21-27 to resurface the floor. The facility will reopen Dec. 28.

POV Pick-up Information

Are you waiting for your car to arrive from your last duty station? To get arrival information, call the Pearl Harbor Naval Supply Center (NSC) at 423-1300/8/9 between 7 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. on weekdays. The POV information office is on the 3rd floor in Bldg. 475.

To avoid frustration during pick-up, make sure you bring the following items:

★ Military ID, or if an agent is making the pick-up, proper identification.

★ Member's copy of DD Form 788 (Private Vehicle Shipping Document).

★ Power of attorney or letter of authorization if spouse or agent is to pick up the POV.

★ Complete set of keys.

Personal Property New Hours

The Joint Personal Property Shipping Office, (JPPSO) and the Naval Supply Center, Personal Property Department, (PPD), will close at 3 p.m. on Tuesdays beginning Jan. 1.

The hours of operation are:

JPPSO
Mon, Wed, Thu, Fri — 8 a.m.-4 p.m.
Tue — 8 a.m.-3 p.m.
PPD
Mon, Wed, Thu, Fri — 7:30 a.m.-4 p.m.
Tue — 7:30 a.m.-3 p.m.

Persian Gulf Greetings

Being away from loved ones during the holiday season is tough, but it's especially taxing for Marines and sailors serving in the Persian Gulf.

Because of many requests from the American public, a special system has been set up to direct letters to service members on ships and shore stations in the Persian Gulf.

Write: "Any Marine/sailor," Asu Bahrain, FPO NY 09542.

9th MAB changes helm

Camp Courtney, Japan — As the band played, Marines from the 9th Marine Amphibious Brigade bid farewell to BGen. Frank A. Huey and greeted BGen. Robert B. Johnston as he assumed command of 9th MAB Nov. 17, in a change of command ceremony.

BGen. Huey will continue as Commanding General, Marine Corps Base Camp S.D. Butler, Okinawa, Japan.

BGen. Johnston also will serve as Assistant Division Commander, 3rd Marine Division, Okinawa.

Born in Edinburgh, Scotland, BGen. Johnston emigrated to the United States in 1955, received his bachelors degree from San Diego State University and was commissioned a second lieutenant in December, 1961. After commissioning, he served as a rifle platoon commander, company executive officer and assistant Regimental S-3 for the 1st Marine Brigade in Hawaii. In May 1965, he deployed with the brigade to command 3rd Bn., 9th Marines.

Between Vietnam tours, BGen. Johnston served as commanding officer, Guard Co., Headquarters Marine Corps. Following this tour he completed the Amphibious Warfare School and was subsequently assigned to MCRD, San Diego, where he served as depot assistant G-3, staff secretary and executive officer, 2nd Recruit Training Bn., and was promoted to major.

Following an assignment to the Joint U.S. Military Advisory Group in Korea from 1972-73, BGen. Johnston completed graduate school in San Diego in March, 1975. He returned to HQMC for a three year tour serving as a manpower systems analyst, then as head of the Enlisted Plans Section. During this time he was promoted to lieutenant colonel. He then attended the National War College and later assumed duties as the aide-de-camp to the Commandant of the Marine Corps from June 1979-81.

Ordered to the 2nd Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, he commanded the 2nd Bn., 8th Marines from 1981-83, then commanded the regiment from 1983-84. He was promoted to colonel in 1983.

BGen. Johnston served as commanding officer of Officer Candidate School at Quantico, Va., and while serving in this capacity was selected for promotion to brigadier general.

His personal decorations include the Legion of Merit, Bronze Star with Combat "V", the Meritorious Servicer Medal with gold star in lieu of a second award, Joint Service Commendation Medal, the Navy Achievement Medal and Combat Action Ribbon.

BGen. Johnston is married to the former Sandra Blodgett of San Diego. They have two sons, Robert and Gary.

LFTCPac FAC school

MCAS Tustin, Calif. — What was advertised as a tactical air control party turned out to be a real blast. Literally.

Not just anyone can have a TACP, though. There's a military occupational specialty required, otherwise the blast can backfire. Painfully.

Marine aviators learn to be forward air controllers in charge of a TACP during a three-week school at Landing Force Training Command, Pacific, at Naval Amphibious Base Coronado.

"The FAC is the interface between the ground unit and the air assets," explained Lieutenant Colonel R. Willard, of the Marine Aircraft Group 16 operations office. "He represents the air wing and can tell the ground unit what the capabilities and limitations of the aircraft are."

Aviators attend FAC school after receiving orders to an infantry unit. After a week in the classroom at Coronado, they go to Twentynine Palms for practical experience. There the officers learn to call and control artillery, naval gunfire and supporting aircraft.

Back at Coronado, the third week covers fire support coordination — how to coordinate other supporting arms as the air liaison officer with the Fire Support Control Center.

Perched on two sides of Observation Post X-Ray at Twentynine Palms, the students spent one day calling artillery fire before two days of air support with both rotary and fixed-wing assets and a C-130 carrying an airborne Direct Air Support Center.

"Because they're students, they'll dance around the target at first," said Captain Gilbert Rangel, commanding officer of N Battery, 5/11, which was firing for the students. "With artillery you don't have to hit dead on target, though. When we fire for effect, the other five rounds would hit around the first in a star or pentagon shape. The effective casualty rate of the 105 millimeter howitzer is 35 meters, so in artillery, close counts."

LFTCPac runs seven forward air controller courses each year, while LFTCLant, in Little Creek, Va., holds three. On the East Coast, limited ranges force the use of inert bombs. The wide-open spaces of Marine Corps Air-Ground Combat Center Twentynine Palms allow West Coast FAC students to use live ordnance.

"On Wednesday we'll have 22 fixed-wing sorties with 18 more Thursday," said Major Ron Snowden, the senior instructor on OP X-Ray. Thursday, the final day of the practical application, the air assets would check in with the airborne DASC, which would hand them over to the forward air controller. The FACs run the mission, complete with tanks and artillery marking targets. "It simulates what an actual operation would be like."

The course grants a second MOS to students. Once assigned to infantry units, the FAC works with all the other members of the tactical air control party. A senior captain usually will work as a battalion commander's air liaison officer while a lieutenant or junior captain will be a company's FAC.

The skill and accuracy with which the FAC directs air and artillery support for his unit play an important role in the successful completion of its mission.

Thank you for designating your CFC contribution to the American Red Cross.

Victim/ from A-2

The profile of a motorcycle accident victim is usually a person who is inexperienced, has had a drink of an alcoholic beverage before driving or was not wearing the protective equipment required by MCO 5100.19C. At least one of these three factors have been noted in most motorcycle accidents.

LCpl. Odin was a very experienced motorcycle rider, but not with the motorcycle he was operating during the accident. That motorcycle was much heavier than others he was used to, and heavier than the one he had qualified with for his safety card on the Air Station.

Since October 1986, 21 FMFPac Marines have been injured or killed due to their inexperience on motorcycles.

No alcohol was found in LCpl. Odin's blood, but many motorcycle drivers who have had accidents, drank before they drove. What they consumed was not enough to break the legal limit of .10 percent blood alcohol content; they usually drank only enough to result in a .02 to .05 BAC.

Fifty seven percent of the nine fatal accidents involving FMFPac Marines in FY 1987 were alcohol-related. Of the 90 motorcycle accidents in which the FMFPac Marines were injured or killed in that fiscal year, 24 involved drivers who had been drinking.

Twenty-three of those FMFPac motorcycle accidents involved drivers not wearing the required safety equipment.

MCO 5100.19C requires Marines, who are drivers or passengers of motorcycles, to wear helmets, goggles (or other certified eye protection), a reflective vest and closed-toed shoes. The order is applicable on and off Station.

Although an accident may not be a direct result of not wearing closed-toes, or a helmet, or goggles, the person involved in the accident will probably sustain fewer injuries, research has shown.

MCO 5100.19C charges all Marines to uphold and enforce this order. Marines may face non-judicial punishment if they violate the order.

The best reason to wear this protective equipment, and to not drink and drive is because a life may be saved.

Embry-Riddle University

Are you currently working in an aviation specialty? Depending on your area of aviation expertise and if you are high school graduate, you could be awarded from 18 to 60 semester hours of credit toward an Embry-Riddle degree.

E-RAU'S bachelor of science degree in Professional Aeronautics requires 126 semester hours of credit. With credit awarded for your experience, training and college courses already undertaken, you could be well on your way to completion of a degree. Come by the office next to the Station Theater (Room 5, Building 219) for an evaluation. Most evaluations can be done while you wait, so call the E-RAU office (254-2106) soon, to find out what you need to do to get started.

Registration is underway for January 1988 Mini-Term, which begins Jan. 4 and ends Jan. 30. The course offered is Introduction to Computers in Aviation. We are also registering students for the Winter 1988 schedule of classes, which includes Airframe Systems and Applications, Aircraft Performance, Aviation Law, English Composition and Literature II, College Mathematics for Aviation I and Corporate Finance I. The Winter term commences Feb. 1.

E-RAU office hours are from 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Santa's Village ★ Christmas spirit shared ★ by Marines, sailors, families

Story and photos by Sgt. Diane Oban

Hundreds of Air Station families took part in crafts and holiday cheer at Dependent Recreation's "Santa's Village" in Hangar 105 on Dec 5, here. The day's activities, naturally included a visit from the jolly ol' fat man himself. Santa Claus, alias GySgt. John Stavesky, Station Chapel, arrived via a SOMS CH-46A helicopter. Santa spent some time and had photos taken with tykes of all ages.

"We wanted a special holiday event for the families," said Pam VanDyke, Dependent Recreation. "We wanted to bring the holiday spirit to everyone, especially to those families who are separated by deployment, or whose families are on the mainland."

Entertainment flowed from all ends of the hangar. The Computones, a local musical group, the children's choir from the Station Chapel, and the FMFPac Band played Christmas music for everyone's listening pleasure. A hula show added a little island culture to the festivities. Also a holiday fashion show featured the latest attire for the upcoming season.

Children were able to put their creative energies to good use at some of the different booths. The Red Cross provided materials for the children to make paper Christmas decorations. Parents were given a free blood pressure checks. Special Services set up a multi-craft center to make Christmas toys, and the Armed Services YMCA provided children with paints and ceramic molds for Christmas ornaments.

Other booths were set up by the Air Station Girl Scouts who sold holiday treats, and Boy Scouts who sold snow cones. The Girl Scouts also read Christmas stories for all the youngsters present. The Staff NCO Wives Club painted the children's faces and sold baked goods.

Military personnel and their families enjoy a variety of entertainment, craft booths, and foods at Santa's Village.

This young lad spends some time decorating a paper Christmas tree at the Red Cross booth.

Children express their holiday creativity at the Armed Services YMCA booth by painting their own Christmas ornaments.

From horses and bugle . . . to Techcon vehicles

Marine develops new mobile switching center

Story by
Sgt. Stephen Frank

When Teddy Roosevelt, stormed up San Juan Hill with his Rough Riders, all he needed for field communications was a few hand and arm signals, and a bugle. The rest is history.

On modern battlefields, however, with combating units spread over several miles, a commander has to be able to communicate with his units quickly and efficiently. Keeping his communications facilities out of enemy hands is also a high priority for him.

With those concerns in mind, a Marine with Co. B, 7th Communications Bn., here, designed to plan to put his company's communication facilities on wheels. His innovation now allows his company to set up their communication facilities, or Techcon anywhere a tactical vehicle can go, and enable them to move their facilities at a moments notice.

The mobile Techcon is the brainchild of Staff Sergeant Joseph Braxton, wire chief and Wire Platoon sergeant for Co. B. Braxton explained the reason behind his invention:

"During exercises, Techcon is usually located in an isolated area because it needs a relatively quiet area to work in," said Braxton. "At our last PTA exercise, we were in a tent inside the concertina wire, along with radio nets and the communication center. With all those noises in the background, it became difficult for us to work."

"Techcon is the troubleshooting center for all of the Brigade's wire communications," said 1stLt. John Sweet, Wire Platoon commander, whose Marines helped Braxton build a new mobile Techcon. "From Techcon, we control all of the wire communications, and if anything goes 'down,' we try to troubleshoot it."

Built on an M105 trailer, the mobile Techcon contains everything needed to maintain communications in the field, Braxton said.

"With the mobile Techcon, the Wire Platoon can be ready to go anytime, and have communication in as soon as we arrive," said Sweet. "All we have to do is run the cables and connect them to the trailer."

"The trailer now gives us the flexibility, and the mobility, to put Techcon wherever we want it. This is an option we didn't have in the past," Sweet continued.

Using available wire, wood, and scrap metal, Braxton and his crew of "Wire Dogs" built the unit in less than a month, with some help from the company's engineering section which wired the components together.

The trailer is also equipped with a backup power source to maintain communications if the command post is without power. The backup power, consisting of two truck batteries hooked in series, is the idea of Sgt. Mark Groth, one of the technicians who helped build the mobile Techcon.

"If the power goes out, all the watch officer has to do is flip a switch. They won't have lights or fans, but they'll still have communications," said Groth.

Braxton doesn't think his idea will become a standard item in the Marine Corps' communication field because "different units have different needs," he said. "However, the mobile Techcon fills our needs, and other units could come up with similar ideas. It'd be up to them to modify it to their needs," he added.

K-bay wrestlers keep a hold on the Army

The Air Station's Marine Wrestling team upset the highly-touted Army Hawaii team, 6-4, on Dec. 9, at the Station Gym.

Dave Kelly (125 lbs) lost on a close decision. Bob Wright won a decision at 136 lbs. At 149 pounds Kelly Gleason came out to take his three-time All-Army opponent Rick Erpinoza to the mat, until he lost at a close decision.

According to coach Ken Berger, the Gleason match started the momentum for the Marines, followed by "Doc" Madrid who scored a win at 163 lbs.

James Morgan scored the biggest upset of the evening as he stuck his All-Army opponent in 49 seconds of the first period. Darrell Terrel pinned his man in the 180 lbs.

match, and Larry Wilske (All-Navy 1986) lost in a heartbreaker 7-5 at 180 lbs.

Jerry Gerken (198 lbs.), another All-Marine candidate, scored a major upset as he defeated All-Army Woody Sardin. Vince Cotton (220 lbs.) clinched the Marine victory with a win, and heavy-weight Ken Westra wrestled a tough match to come out on the short end of a decision.

Berger said his team had improved since the Nov. 19 match which they lost to Army, 7-3.

The Marines continue to practice Tues. and Thurs., 6:30-8 p.m., Wed. 8:30-10 p.m., and Sat., 11 a.m.-1 p.m. The next event will be a Freestyle/Greco tourney on Jan. 15-16 at Schofield. New wrestler's are welcome.

Kaneohe Bay Rod & Gun Club

The Kaneohe Bay Rod & Gun Club will meet at the 19th Puka tonight at 7:30 p.m. to finalize plans for the Molokai hunt scheduled for Dec. 18-20, and for the reestablishment of the archery range. For more information, call 254-5570.

Deer Season on Lanai

The Department of Land and Natural Resources announced that application forms for the 1988 axis deer season on Lanai, together with instruction sheets are available at Division of Forestry and Wildlife offices and license agents statewide. The season this year is scheduled to begin on March 6, and end on May 29. The bag limit will be one axis deer of either sex per hunter.

Interested hunters may apply only once. Hunters should turn in or mail their applications to the Division of Forestry and Wildlife offices on their respective islands. The deadline for submitting applications will be 4 p.m., Jan. 14. The public drawings for the assigning of hunting dates will be held on Jan. 20, at noon on Wailuku, Maui and 4 p.m. on Lanai in the Division of Forestry and Wildlife Office. Only senior citizen hunters (65 years of age or older) will be allowed to be accompanied by hunter's assistants and standbys will be allowed to replace non-participants. There will be no make up Sunday for no-show hunters.

An archery season for axis deer will be held on Feb. 21 and 28. No drawing for permits will be required and there will be no limitation on the number of archers that may participate. Archers must check in at the checking station in Lanai City between 3 and 7 p.m. the day before the hunt or between 7 and 9:00 a.m. on the morning of the hunt to obtain a tag. The tag will authorize the archer to take one (1) axis deer of either sex per season. Successful archers will not be eligible for the rifle season. Units 1 and 2 will be open to archers.

Additional details for this season are available at Division of Forestry and Wildlife offices at 244-4352 on Maui; 565-6688 on Lanai; 553-5019 on Molokai; and 548-8850 on Oahu.

Forty-eight 300 PFTs

Running is secondary to Marine officer

By Sgt. Stephen Frank

A perfect PFT score is something many Marines strive for but only a few achieve. However, for 1stLt. James Eusse, the 1st MAB's embarkation officer, perfect PFT scores are a matter of routine. In fact, he's had 48 perfect PFTs, and has scored nothing less, since joining the Marine Corps 13 years ago.

Eusse, a native of Colombia, South American, discovered that he had a natural ability to run while undergoing recruit training at MCRD, Parris Island, S.C. in 1974. Despite the fact that, at 22, he was one of the "oldest" recruits in his platoon, he scored the first of his 300-point PFTs.

"When I graduated boot camp I was told that the record for perfect scores was about 11 or 14, so I set myself a goal of 10. When I reached that goal, I set a new goal of scoring perfect PFTs until I retired from the Corps, said Eusse.

Eusse's ability to run earned him a spot on the '76-'77 Marine Corps Track Team while he was assigned to MCB, Camp Smith. While on the track team, he represented the U.S. in the 1977 European Olympics in Finland, and won gold medal in the 5,000 meter and silver in the 10,000 meter.

Now at age 35, Eusse continues to run, logging about 14 miles a day. This is less than the 20 to 25 miles he used to do when he had more time. What takes up his time is training his nine-year-old son, Jasson for marathon competition.

But as staggering as his skill on the road is, Eusse's idea of what constitutes an accomplishment is somewhat different.

"Running is secondary to me," said Eusse. "What I want is to be good at my job. I want to be known as a good embarkation officer, or at least as someone who knows his job."

"I don't necessarily want to be known as just a runner. I've had opportunities to 'just run' but to me that's just a 'skate'. You can't go very far doing that," he concludes.

Eusse seems imbued with the kind of skill that most others can only strive for. But instead of letting that go to his head, Eusse is content to strive for excellence in an area that most take for granted, a day-to-day job.

James Eusse, then a sergeant stationed at Camp H.M. Smith, poses for a portrait after winning gold and silver medals at the European Olympics held in Finland in 1977.

MCJROTC Openings

Getting ready to hang up the old sea bag but don't want to completely cut your ties with the Corps and your pay and allowances?

The Eighth Marine Corps District has the answer. We have openings NOW for qualified Marines as Senior Marine instructors (SMIs) and Marine Instructors (MIs) for Junior ROTC units at three southwest highschooLs.

To qualify as a SMI you must be a retired Marine Corps Officer (not more than three years), a college graduate with 20 years minimum service with an exemplary military record.

To become a MI you must be a retired officer or SNCO (not more than three years) with 20 years minimum service. You must also have a high school diploma or GED equivalent and an exemplary service record.

Instructors receive, at a minimum, active duty pay and allowances with the possibility of additional pay from their school district.

For more information contact Capt. Sneed or M. Bryan at (504) 361-2523 or Autovon 485-2374.

Great Aloha Run, Feb. 15

By JO3 Paul R. Floyd
Pearl Harbor — Military men and women are invited to enter the 1988 Great Aloha Run/Walk, Feb. 15, at 6:45 a.m. The eight-mile course will begin at the Aloha Tower and end at Aloha Stadium.
 The run/walk will be followed by entertainment and an awards ceremony at the stadium. Each finisher will receive a T-shirt, and there will be over $60,000.00 in prizes given away at random from a drawing during the awards ceremony.
 The run will kick off the Carole Kai Bed Race Festival, ending the weekend of April 16-17, with the 15th Annual Parade of Beds and Bed Race in Waikiki.
 The Great Aloha Run/Walk has the motto, "KE KUKINI ME KE ALOHA PAU'OLE" — meaning, "The Race with Compassionate Love." The run/walk will benefit 12 organizations, including the Military Morale, Welfare and Recreation Fund, the USO of Hawaii and the Military Affairs Council, Chamber of Commerce of Hawaii and Hawaii Military Week.

 The run will include three special divisions: Military, Wheelchair and Racewalker. There will also be men's and women's divisions of various age groups, as well as divisions for boys and girls.
 All active duty military men and women stationed in Hawaii are eligible to compete in the Military Division, in which trophies will be awarded to the first three male and female finishers.
 Special trophies are to be awarded to the branch of service with the best participation in the Military Division, determined by the percentage of assigned personnel. In addition, special door prizes and recognition will be given to the largest military unit running in formation. Units interested in participating should submit applications to the event no later than Dec. 28 in order to help organizers accommodate the teams.

 The trophies are to be presented at Aloha Stadium by popular radio and television personalities Kimo Kahoano and Emme Tomimbang. In addition to the trophies, prize money will be awarded and donated to a recognized charity chosen by each of the individual trophy winners in the special age divisions.
 Entry forms for the Great Aloha Run/Walk are available at Special Services ticket offices at the various military installations. The tax-deductible individual entry fee is $13.50, and entries must be postmarked on or before Jan. 18. Late entries accompanied by a check of $18 will be accepted if postmarked by Feb. 1. The cost to individuals in unit formation is $6.50.

 Entry fees will help cover the cost of charitable donations and such necessary services as aid stations, police support and the use of the star area. Part of these costs are being underwritten by several local businesses that are sponsoring the run.
 In conjunction with the Great Aloha Run/Walk, the Honolulu Marathon Clinic will conduct three free seminars for runners who are not sure how to prepare for such an event. The seminars will take place Jan. 3, 10, and 17 at 8 a.m. and runners will meet at Kapiolani Park.

National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week

The Department of Defense has designated Dec. 13-19, National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week. Traditionally the holiday season has been plagued with accidents caused by driving under the influence. To help reduce tragic and needless losses, commanding officers are encouraged to promote local designated driver programs and the use of public transportation. The theme for this years' awareness week is: "First a friend . . . Then a host."

We need you.

Off-island mailing tips

It's getting closer and closer to Christmas and it's taken you until now to find the special gift or card for that special person... only that person is on the mainland.

If you're ready to mail by mid-December, Honolulu General Manager/Postmaster Michio Harada suggests considering Priority Mail.

This First-Class service delivers packages weighing up to 70 pounds to most major mainland cities within three days.

"It's ideal for people who want packages delivered promptly, but at a lower cost," says Harada.

Priority Mail can be sent from any post office, station or branch, or through rural carriers, to any address in the United States. The service is available with insurance, return receipt, COD, and certificates of mailing.

"For those who wait to mail until just before Christmas, Express Mail is delivered overnight from our Honolulu post office to most major mainland cities in the country if you mail early in the day. Express Mail to other destinations will be delivered in two days," Harada says. "The Postal Service will be delivering Express Mail messages and gifts in metropolitan areas even on Christmas Day."

"You can send a package weighing up to 70 pounds by Express Mail and the package will be delivered by 3 p.m. the next day within major cities on the mainland. For $10.75, you can send up to two pounds," says Harada. "Express Mail packages are insured for up to $500 at no additional cost."

Harada also suggests the use of Express Mail to make a big impression on that special person.

"Imagine it," Harada says. "The packages and cards have all been opened on Christmas morning, but there's nothing from you. Then a postal jeep pulls up out front and there's a knock on the door. Your special gift is delivered — and in style!"

Holiday messages and parcels to foreign destinations can be sent by Express Mail International Service. Now available to 69 countries, it is the Postal Service's quickest method of shipping items abroad.

Shopping tips

The hustle and bustle of the Christmas season is now upon us. This includes many long hours of shopping, standing in line, and wrapping gifts.

Many of us may want to take some short cuts to save time while shopping, but remember, crime doesn't take holidays.

Act wisely during the Christmas season. Here are a few tips:

- Keep receipts for all merchandise.
- Never leave purses or wallets unattended.
- Don't leave children in the car — no matter how quickly you plan on returning.

• Lock packages in the trunk where they can't be seen.

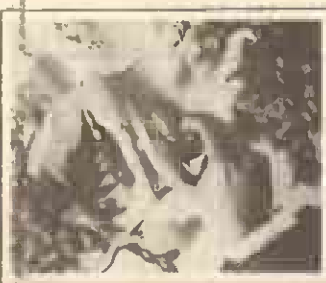

• Always park in a well lighted area at night. Lock the car while you're gone and while you are driving.

• Avoid carrying large amounts of cash — use a checking account.

• Maintain a record of all credit cards. Keep this in a safe place at home.

• After Christmas, record the serial numbers of all new appliances, bicycles, cameras, stereos, and other high-value items.

You're probably getting a lot of advice these days.

Here's some that will last you a lifetime.

The Association for Retarded Citizens wants to make sure that if you plan to have children, they turn out to be happy, healthy children.

So we suggest you follow four basic rules before you conceive a child:

1. Follow habits of proper nutrition.
2. Avoid alcohol and tobacco.
3. Beware of too much exposure to X-rays.
4. Ask your doctor about genetic counseling if mental retardation of unknown cause has occurred in your families.

For more good advice, call or write your local unit of ARC, the Association for Retarded Citizens.

Holiday Food Baskets

The Pearl Harbor Memorial Chapel is seeking donations of funds and canned goods to help fill Holiday Food Baskets for needy Marine Corps, Navy and Coast Guard families in the Pearl Harbor area.

This year over 100 families will be helped by the program that reaches out to families who may not otherwise have a special holiday dinner. The Chapel suggests donating festive foods including canned yams, sweet potatoes, corn, beans, pie fillers, evaporated milk and cranberry sauce. The Chapel also encourages the donation of food staples such as rice and gelatins.

Donations may be made by either bringing canned goods to the Pearl Harbor Naval Station Chaplain's Office, or by mailing monetary contributions to: Holiday Food Basket Project, Office of the Chaplain, Naval Station, Box 47, c/o Code 021, Pearl Harbor, HI 96860-60090. Checks should be made out to "NAVSTA Religious Offering Fund." All donations are tax deductible.

All Marine Corps, Navy and Coast Guard personnel that would like to receive a Holiday Food Basket may confidentially submit his or her name to their Executive Officer or Command Point of Contact. For more information, contact the Naval Station Chaplain's Office, at 471-3971.

Waimea Falls, Sea Life Park Hrs.

Sea Life Park and Waimea Falls Park will remain open on Christmas and New Year's Day. Sea Life Park's hours are 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

daily and Thursday, Friday and Sunday to 10 p.m. Waimea Falls Park is open from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily.

Waimea Falls Park Moonwalks

Make your New Year's resolution to get more exercise and take a healthy stroll through a lush, green valley when Waimea Falls Park holds their free full moon walks on Jan. 2 and 3.

Departing from the Visitor's Center at 8:30 p.m. sharp, a park guide will lead a one-hour walk to the waterfall and back by the light of the full moon. Participants are encouraged to wear walking shoes and bring mosquito repellent.

Although the popular moonwalks are free to the public, some visitors have been donating $1 to the Waimea Arboretum Foundation; Waimea Falls Park gratefully accepts such donations to further their efforts to protect endangered plants.

For more information, contact Waimea Falls Park at 638-8511.

Christmas Lighting Ceremony

Pearl Harbor — Don't miss your chance to see Carole Kai take part in the Navy's Christmas Lighting Ceremony tonight at 5:45 p.m., at Pearl Harbor's Ward Field.

Kai will perform Christmas carols with the Pacific Fleet Band, and later the Le Jardin Academy French Choir will perform their selections of music.

Kai and Rear Admiral Robert T. Reimann, Commander Naval Base/Commander Naval Surface Group Middle Pacific, will throw a switch which will "turn on" the Christmas lights of all the ships and shore commands throughout Pearl Harbor.

All Navy and Marine Corps personnel, their dependents and civilian Department of Defense employees and their families are invited to attend.

On Dec. 20, Navy shuttle boats will be available to the general public departing from the USS Arizona Memorial Visitor Center boat landing to view the Pearl Harbor Christmas lighting. Boats are scheduled to depart the boat landing at 15-minute intervals beginning at 7 p.m. and ending at 9 p.m.

Ala Moana Yuletide Production

The Friends of McCoy Pavilion, INC. and the Department of Parks and recreation will once again present the yuletide fantasy: THE ENCHANTED FOREST, a free, fabulously costumed, walk-through production, which features leprechauns, fairies, wizards, dragons, and talking animals in a theme appropriate for the season. The spectacular will be presented at McCoy Pavilion in Ala Moana Park:

Dec. 18, 6 to 10 p.m.*
Dec. 19, 6 to 10 p.m.*
Dec. 20, 6 to 10 p.m.* with prelude activities

(* Gates open at 5 p.m. The performances will run continuously from 6 p.m. until the final guest is accommodated.

Tickets for all and 10 free game scrip for children under 12 will be issued at the Ewa-Portico gate, where anyone may visit with Santa on his sleigh, play on a unique rocking unicorn, and other animals in the playroom, listen to the entertainment, watch the magician and get a free animal balloon. The children with game scrip are encouraged to test their skill in dart games, ring and bean-bag tosses, cork-rifle arcade and other games of skill where winners will receive their free prizes. Free trolley rides around the park will also be available.

Over 30,000 children and children-at-heart have requested the forest over the last five years. For more information call Mr. Nat-suyama at 522-2288.

Joseph, the three Wise Men and shepherds are represented; live animals surround the stable which is lit by the "Christmas star." For more information, call 988-2136.

New Year's Eve Events

New Year's Nostalgia in DeRussy Hall will be an evening of musical memories. Dance to your favorite Golden Oldies to the music of Mitch Hazama and his six-piece band, Asian Blend. The $39.95 per-person price includes an international buffet featuring prime rib, wine with dinner, entertainment, dancing, party favors, a champagne midnight toast and gratuity. Doors open at 7 p.m. for the buffet.

Live Nativity Scene

The Salvation Army will present a Live Nativity Scene December 20-24, from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Waioli Memorial Garden next to the Waioli Tea Room, 3016 Oahu Avenue in Manoa. Mary,
