CMP's 2018 National Pistol and Rifle Matches Start Off With a Bang at Camp Perry

By Ashley Brugnone, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, Ohio – When most think of summertime in Port Clinton, they think beaches, boating and, in general, having an unlimited amount of fun in the water and on the shore. For others, summer in Port Clinton still means fun on the shoreline, but fun gearing up for the incomparable World Series of Shooting Sports at Camp Perry.

The National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches has welcomed millions of competitors and guests to the Port Clinton area since 1907. Embracing competitors from across the country, (and even some from countries like England and Australia, among others), the National Match event features a variety of rifle and pistol competitions and clinics for marksmen ranging from some of today's most prestigious shots to those who have never pulled a trigger. The National Matches are held to promote competition and excellence, while also striving to teach marksmanship safety and fundamentals to the old, young and everything in between.

The annual event at the Camp Perry National Guard Training Base is hosted by the Civilian Marksmanship Program (CMP), with help from the Ohio National Guard.

Maj. Gen. LeMasters fired this year's ceremonial First Shot.

National Trophy Rifle Matches

A Message from the COO:

The CMP is pleased to provide this special printed edition of the Final Results of the 2018 National Trophy Rifle Matches. We hope this publication, with its featured information and photos, will be a memory of your unforgettable National Matches experience.

The 2018 National Matches rifle events began on 23 July and extended through 5 August – offering an abundance of marksmanship competition and learning opportunities. Returning events to the schedule included CMP Cup Series Matches, such as the 800 Aggregate matches, an EIC match and a 4-Man team event, along with the Oliver Hazard Perry Match and the Roosevelt Commemorative Match.

New to the 2018 schedule were two past series of events that had gone on hiatus in recent years: Smallbore and Long Range. The CMP brought these matches back to Camp Perry, with a fresh spin, to give back the traditional National Matches events competitors have enjoyed for decades.

Training events held during the National Matches for adults and juniors alike included the Marine Corps Junior Clinic, Rifle Small Arms Firing School and the Advanced Clinic, led by members of CMP's highpower team.

As always, the matches featured many incredible shooting performances by noteworthy marksmen and women that included the following:

- SFC Brandon Green, 33, of the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit (AMU), not only overtook the prestigious President's 100 match for the very first time in his career, but also fired a new National Record as he cleared the course with a perfect score of 400-20x – something no other person has done in the century-plus history of the National Matches.
 - SFC Green also went on to win the National Trophy Individual (NTI) event – narrowly missing his record score that he set last year's matches by firing a 498-34x.
 - Green teamed up with fellow AMU member SFC Shane Barnhart to reach a combined score of 590-24x in the Hearst Doubles team event to nab the win.
 - SFC Green's aggregate scores from the President's 100, NTI and Hearst Doubles individual results landed him with his third Mountain Man trophy, the highest honor of the Matches, and another National Record – blowing past the record he set at last year's National Matches by three points with 1296-83x.
- Firing a new record score, the team of AMU Craig racked up a total of 2968-141x in the National Trophy Team (NTT) event – stripping the previous record that had stood for over a decade.
- SGT Ben Cleland, of the AMU, cleaned the Oliver Hazard Perry Match with a perfect score of 300 for the win. SGT Cleland also earned the Pershing Trophy as the highest scoring competitor of the NTT Match, with a remarkable score of 499-30x.
- California Grizzlies Shilen, earned the coveted Minuteman Trophy as the High Junior Team during the NTT Match and set a new record with an overall aggregate score of 2894-86x and a Top 10 finish.
- In the National Trophy Infantry Team (NTIT) event, or "Rattle Battle," the Army Reserve Arcularius team members collectively fired a score of 1391 for the overall win. The team outshot the second highest scoring team by over 60 points.
- Earning the Leatherneck Trophy as the High Civilian team of the NTIT was Coalinga Rifle Team Gold from California, which came in third overall, with a score of 1308. Texas Jr. Shilen was named the High Junior team.
- Washington Warriors teammates Luke Rettmer and Jordan Freed claimed the overall win in the two-man National Trophy Junior Team event, with a score of 966-25x.
- Luke Rettmer, 19, of Ferndale, WA, who won the Col. Bill Deneke Trophy as the top overall junior of the President's 100, National Trophy Individual (NTI) and the National Trophy Junior Team events, with a score of 1270-39.
- Kade Jackovich, 19, earned the Golden Eagle Trophy as the highest junior competitor of the National Matches, collecting a score of 1269-40x in the President's 100, NTT and NTI aggregate. He was named High Junior in the NTI Match with an outstanding score of 492-15x.
- In Games events, Brad Diehl, 42, of Corunna, IN, earned the top spot and a new National Record in the National John C. Garand Match, with a score of 294-9x. Also firing a new National Record was Mark Stout II, 20, of Waterford, MI, with a High Junior score of 292-10x. The score was enough to earn him third place overall in the match. As if that wasn't enough, Danny Gray, 69, of Manassas, VA, set a new High Senior record of 293-7x and received the runner-up spot behind Diehl.
- Mark Stout II was also the High Junior of the Carbine event, with another record-setting score.
- Making the record board in the Vintage Military event was Dustin Carr, 17, of San Diego, CA, with High Junior score of 283-7x. Larry Stonecipher, of Ada, OK, fired a score of 289-7x for the High Senior record and a third place finish overall.
- Brian Williams, 44, of Granby, MA, won the Four-Gun Aggregate for the second year.
- In Smallbore, SPC Tim Sherry of the AMU led the Open Aggregate category with a score of 2240-77x. He also led the Open Iron Sight match in the prone competition. PVT Emily Stith, also of the AMU, topped the Juniors Agg. with a score of 2188-55x. Stith also led the Juniors in the Iron Sight Championship and won the Junior Final event.
- SFC Eric Uptagrafft of the AMU led the Open 3200 Aggregate Championship, with a score of 3198-282x. Tobin Sanctuary was the top Junior of the event. Sanctuary also led the Junior class in the Iron Sight Championship as well as the Any Sight Championship.
- In Long Range, winning the overall aggregate was SFC Shane Barnhart, 39, of the AMU, with a score of 1244-71x.

National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches

The National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are the annual U. S. national championship in service pistol and service rifle shooting. The National Trophy Matches were established by federal law in 1903, are still conducted under the statutory authority of the U. S. Code (Title 36 USC § 40725-40727) and are now governed by the Civilian Marksmanship Program. Shooters from all over the U. S., civilian and military, test their skills and compete to determine the nation's best service pistol and rifle shooters. To fulfill the CMP's statutory responsibility to "instruct citizens in marksmanship," the National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are open to all shooters regardless of skill level. Beginners compete and learn while shooting side by side with champions. The tradition of the matches and their competitions for prestigious national trophies celebrate marksmanship excellence and provide incentives to develop individual marksmanship skills, equipment and a national competition infrastructure. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are held in conjunction with the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships through a partnership between the two organizations. The Ohio National Guard and U. S. Army Reserves also provide vital support for the matches. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches and the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships are collectively known as the NATIONAL MATCHES.

Each year, the CMP pulls together a show of distinguished guests and historic elements to celebrate the official opening of the National Matches with its renowned First Shot Ceremony. The event is always open to the public and includes authentic vehicles from the past, including a World War II B25 bomber and a U.S. Navy TBM Avenger, along with a parade of Model T cars that provide free rides for guests. The ceremony concludes with a rifle shot fired downrange – signifying the “first shot” of the matches.

Members of the 555th Honors Detachment color guard from Wooster, Ohio, and veterans from a variety of wars were also in attendance, along with the Ohio National Guard’s 122nd Army Band. Mr. Lloyd Boyer, a 92-year-old veteran who served in field artillery in General Patton’s third Army in the European Theatre, proudly stood at the entrance of Rodriguez Range, where the event is held, fully dressed in uniform.

The ceremony began with the booming blasts of three historical cannons promptly at 10:00 a.m. – aimed downrange at Camp Perry’s iconic black and white firing lane numbers. CMP’s Chair of the Board, Judy Legerski, greeted the crowd and gave a short history of Camp Perry and the National Matches as she kept the ceremony moving.

A light and pleasant breeze cooled the morning air when the crowd in the stands at Shooters’ Plaza in front of Rodriguez Range suddenly turned their eyes to the bright blue sky overhead – the buzzing of the World War II aircraft steadily growing from the distance as they approached the stands. Spectators cheered when the stunning aircraft flew low towards Lake Erie, giving a close view of their timeless craftsmanship. The planes then looped over the water to come back and wow the stands again, as bursting clouds from the pyrotechnics exploded on the range below to simulate an air strike.

After the planes left sight, a truly unforgettable display of American sacrifice and spirit cascaded to the ground when retired SFC Dana Bowman, a U.S. Special Forces Army Ranger and member of the Army’s Golden Knights parachute team, jumped from 6,000 feet and parachuted onto the range – towing behind him a massive 2,500 square-foot American Flag. Many were brought to tears as SFC Bowman gracefully descended towards the green range grass with the classic “God Bless the U.S.A.” ballad playing over the loudspeakers.

In 1994, during a parachute team practice with SGT Jose Aguilon, SFC Bowman collided with his teammate in air at nearly 300 miles per hour. SGT Aguilon was killed in the accident, while SFC Bowman’s legs were severed mid-air. Unwilling to be defeated by the disaster, he astoundingly became the first double-amputee to re-enlist in the Army and rejoined the Golden Knights, now jumping with specially-designed prosthetic legs.

A native of nearby North Ridgville, Ohio, Bowman’s mother, sister and other family members were present at the ceremony. As founder of the non-profit HALO for Freedom Warrior Foundation, Bowman became connected with the CMP after purchasing a few rifles from the sales department. When the idea of jumping at the First Shot Ceremony was discussed, he was more than happy to take part.

Double-amputee SFC Dana Bowman parachuted from 6,000 feet to the ground, with an American flag behind him.

“This is my kind of team here,” he said. “I got to speak and meet-and-greet with so many people.”

Bowman seized the opportunity to shake the hands of veterans and children in the crowd after the First Shot, thanking the veterans for their service and implanting inspiration into the next generation of Americans – a common theme of the National Matches.

“Look what the CMP does for our youth. We can’t forget about our youth,” he said. “CMP instills from the beginning to never forget about why we’re here. Our forefathers started this. Why not leave a legacy? I’m just glad to be part of it.”

Distinguished guests at the First Shot Ceremony included Jon Husted, Ohio Secretary of State, Maj. Gen. Mark Bartmen, Ohio Adjutant General, Congresswoman Marcy Kaptur of Ohio’s 9th district and CMP Board members.

This year’s First Shot Speaker was Maj. Gen. Clark LeMasters, Jr., Commanding General of the U.S. Army Tank-automotive and Armaments Command and the Senior Commander of TACOM Life Cycle Management Command, U.S. Army Garrison-Detroit Arsenal, Mich. After briefly addressing the crowd, Maj. Gen. LeMasters strolled up to the 600-yard berm of Rodriguez Range, put on his eye and ear protection and fired the ceremonial “first shot” downrange with one of CMP’s M1 Garand rifles. The target downrange exuded a puff of smoke to imitate the shot bursting on impact – marking the true start of the National Matches.

After the First Shot ceremony, those in attendance took a short walk across the street to witness the ribbon cutting ceremony of the new Hough Theatre, presented by the Ohio National Guard. Over the years, the interior of the auditorium has witnessed some of the greatest American marksmen in history and famous entertainers like Bob Hope and Bing Crosby. The $1.6 million restoration of the theater pays homage to its beginnings in 1938, leaving some of its historical characteristics and adding modern conveniences that will accommodate guests well into the future.

The ribbon cutting ceremony also featured the pinning of a Bronze Star on one of Port Clinton’s own Vietnam veterans, Steven Fultz, who served as an Army Staff Sergeant during the war. The medal was presented by Congresswoman Marcy Kaptur.

Representatives of the Ohio National Guard stretched the 2,500 square-foot flag on the range.

World War II aircraft, a B25 bomber and a U.S. Navy TBM Avenger, provided a breathtaking aerial display.

The first competitions of the CMP’s 2018 National Matches begin on Saturday, July 14, with pistol and continue through Wednesday, August 8. Along with pistol, the CMP will also hold smallbore, service rifle, vintage rifle and long range rifle events and clinics. CMP staff and trained support members will be on the firing line at each competition to ensure safety throughout the National Matches.

Open to the public year-round, guests may visit the grounds of Camp Perry at any time to observe or participate in National Match competition, with festival-style food vendors and shopping opportunities open during event days. Entry and parking around base is completely free.

2018 CMP Cup 1000 Aggregate and Team Matches

By Serena Juchnowski, Feature Writer

CMP Targets were used for the CMP Cup Matches which displayed shots on the monitors next to competitors on the firing line - no pity duty required.

The 2018 Civilian Marksmanship Program (CMP) Cup Matches, a series of rifle competitions, boomed this year as it claimed a new spot on the annual National Trophy Rifle Matches schedule, boasting 44 teams and 267 competitors during its July 23 through July 25 run.

Last year marked the introduction of the CMP Cup events, held prior to the start of the annual National Matches on the grounds of the Camp Perry National Guard Training Facility in Ohio. During that opening year, competitors (hailing from a variety of areas of the country) were unable to make the long trip to Camp Perry to attend the new Cup Matches. But, with the success of the inaugural matches, many decided to make the trek to experience the added marksmanship opportunities in 2018.

The events were held just days before the prestigious President's 100 Rifle Match and National Trophy Individual Rifle Match that draws more than a thousand competitors every year. All three days of the Cup Matches were fired upon electronic CMP Targets, featuring Kongsberg Target Technology.

A 4-man team match started off the Cup events, followed by over 200 marksmen competing during the two days of 1000-point Aggregate matches. The Course of Fire for the 1000-point event includes 20 shots standing and two strings of rapid-fire sitting at 200 yards, followed by two strings of rapid-fire prone at 300 yards and 40 shots slow fire prone at 600 yards, with two sighters at each position.

USAMU Team Howard claimed the service rifle team title with a score of 1985-111x. Firing members included SSG David Bahten, SSG Amanda Elsenboss, SGT Verne Conant and SGT Lane Ichord. Elsenboss coached the team with Ichord serving as captain. SSG Bahten cleaned the course with a perfect 500-32x.

Camp Valor Outdoors Red took first place of the match rifle teams, with a score of 1923-53x. Firing members included Harry Harrison (also serving as team coach), MAJ John Schwent, USMC (Ret) (also serving as team caption), Danny Gray and CDR Kevin Glancey, USN.

Good weather accompanied both days of the CMP Cup 1000 Aggregate, though the extra 20 shots at 600 (compared to an 800 Agg Course of Fire) proved to considerably lengthen the day. Competitors were happy to have a break between strings to rest their arms, their vision and to take off their heavy shooting gear in the heat. The second day ran faster than the first, but overall, most competitors seemed to like the extra 600 yard and wind-reading practice prior to the larger events of the National Matches.

Tom Killingsworth of Springfield, Mo., noted the exceptional work the CMP has put into running and organizing matches and noted that he liked the way the Cup Matches were set up this year. He did wish that the Cup Matches directly preceded the National Matches, but understood that the two-day gap between the Cup and the Oliver Hazard Perry Match was to allow time for clinics like the Small Arms Firing School, United States Marine Corps Junior Highpower Rifle Clinic and the CMP Advanced Highpower Clinic.

An awards ceremony followed a shooter's reception on July 25. Shooters were recognized for performances on day one, day two, aggregate and stage scores in both service rifle and match rifle.

Concerning service rifle, SGT Ben Cleland, of the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit (AMU), placed first in the July 24 standing slow fire results with an impressive 199-7x. SSG David Bahten, also of the AMU, followed this the next day with a 199-6x. SSG Bahten edged out SGT Cleland to claim the high standing aggregate for both days with a 397-17x. In match rifle, Robert Gill, of Visalia, Calif., fired a 196-6x on day one of the Cup and a 193-7x on the second day, also claiming the standing aggregate with a 389-13x.

Thirty-two service rifle competitors cleaned the sitting rapid-fire strings on day one of the aggregate, including SSG Sean Morris, U.S. Army Reserve, taking the lead by x-count with a 200-16x. Thirty service rifle competitors cleaned sitting rapid-fire on day two of the aggregate, as SSG Amanda Elsenboss, AMU, took the day's stage lead with a clean 200-17x.

Ten service rifle competitors cleaned sitting rapid-fire both days, with SSG Elsenboss taking first for the two days with a 400-31x. In match rifle, Robert Gill shot a 200-8x on day one, closely followed by Terry Paul of Cleveland, Ohio, with 200-7x on day two. Paul claimed first in the match rifle sitting rapid-fire stage aggregate with a 399-17x.

At the 300-yard line, Sgt Cody Luckinbill, U.S. Marine Corps, and James Root, Lasalle, Mich., topped the prone rapid service rifle charts with a 200-13x and a 200-12x, respectively, for days one and two of the CMP Cup.

In the aggregate, Root's 400-23x was the high of the prone rapid stage. In match rifle, prone rapid was another close stage in which Terry Paul and Robert Gill were separated by x-count. Paul won the stage on day one with a 200-9x, while Gill won the second with a 200-7x. Paul also had the high prone rapid match rifle stage aggregate with a 399-17x, beating Gill by eight x's.

In the final 40 shots of the July 24 match, James Vaughn of Bloomington, Ind., and SSG David Bahten had 600-yard high scores of 200-16x and 200-15x, respectively. Narrowly missing a double clean, Robert Gill shot a 199-11x with his match rifle as James Schieltz of Harrod, Ohio, fired a 199-13x.

Day two yielded similar close results in both categories. SGT Ben Cleland cleaned the first 600 stage with a 200-16x. Teammate SFC William Pace stayed right behind SGT Cleland with a 200-14x in the second stage. In the two-day aggregate, SGT Cleland topped out the first stage of prone slow with a 400-22x. SFC Pace followed in the second stage with an impressive 400-27x. In match rifle, Robert Gill shot a 398-18x in the first 600 stage aggregate, but lost his lead to Baird Copenhagen of Rockwood, Mich., who shot a 399-15x.

Two hundred shots were recorded on the first and second days of the aggregate for each competitor. SSG David Bahten went on to win overall service rifle, with a score of 1990-107x. High Woman was SSG Amanda Elsenboss, with a 1978-95x. Other notable performances included High Junior Luke Rettmer of Ferndale, Wash., with a 1961-66x, High Senior Jim O'Connell of Alameda, Calif., and High Grand Senior was David Shellhammer of Slatington, Pa. In match rifle, Terry Paul won overall, while James Schieltz claimed High Grand Senior.

Green Marks Perfect Score During 2018 National Trophy Rifle President's 100 Event

By Ashley Brugnone, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, Ohio – “Ain’t nothin’ gonna stop Brandon Green,” said one spectator after the President’s 100 Rifle Match Shootoff, smiling and shaking his head in disbelief.

And, he was just about right.

The man was referring to SFC Brandon Green, a member of the Army Marksmanship Unit (AMU) and one of the most talented shots in the country. With a long and decorated career, Green has accumulated a collection of repeat wins and records at the national level that continues to grow just about every time he steps up to the firing line. Though he’s quickly approaching two decades as an athlete with the military Unit, he shows no signs of slowing down.

At the 2018 Civilian Marksmanship Program (CMP) National Trophy Rifle Matches, held at Camp Perry, Green not only overtook the prestigious President’s 100 match for the very first time in his career, but he also fired a new National Record as he cleared the course with a perfect score of 400-20x – something no other person has done in the century-plus history of the National Matches.

“I just wanted to do the best I could for the conditions. That was the main thing I was worried about, seeing the conditions and trying not to mess it up too bad,” he said with a smile.

Unhappy with his technique the week before during the CMP Cup events, frustrated by missed shot calls and bad decisions, he entered the President’s 100 Match with a new game plan – knowing very well the mishaps that could occur on the notoriously unpredictable Camp Perry ranges.

“I was mainly just trying not to get caught for anything big. With the pick-ups and let-offs at Camp Perry, kind of the way this place is known for, trying not to make a huge mistake is the big thing and not get caught for too many points,” he said. “Normally, you’re going to lose a point or two for the wind, so just to get lucky enough to get them all in there is a pretty big thing for me. I’m proud to be lucky, for sure.”

He took that mentality into the President’s 100 Shootoff final, which places the Top 20 competitors of the match onto the firing line in a 600-yard, 10-shot prone match, where the winner takes all. He focused on taking clean, deep shots, concentrating hard on the sights and the trigger, trying desperately not to move.

After nine shots of doing just that, it came down to his last. He loaded the round into his rifle, the same rifle he used during his record-breaking performance at last year’s National Matches, fixated his gaze downrange, held and pulled the trigger.

“I knew it broke really well, it looked good during the shot process, so I figured it was going to come up pretty good. And then after the fact, I didn’t even realize it was going to be a record – that it was the first time anyone had shot it clean all the way across,” he said with surprise in his voice.

“Yeah, I didn’t know it, so, ignorance is bliss,” he added as he laughed.

Prior to his 15+ years with the AMU, the Louisiana native began his career on the Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps air rifle team out of Bogalusa High School. His successes there sparked the attention of the U.S. AMU out of Fort Benning, Ga., which immediately recruited him after graduation.

From there, the 33-year-old has made his name known across the country, earning several accolades including being named Soldier of the Year by the Military Marksmanship Association in 2014 and taking home the Mountain Man aggregate trophy (a composition of the most respected events) during the CMP National Matches for the first time that same year.

At the National Matches in 2017, Green fired a new record score of 499-30x during the National Trophy Individual (NTI) event – one of the highest regarded competitions of the Matches. He went on to earn another Mountain Man title and a National Record score of 1293-69x.

Though the 2017 National Matches was full of highs for the reputable marksman, it also dealt him one of the most disturbing blows of his career.

During the President’s 100 Shootoff, Green lost the lead he held going into the final by dropping three points – losing the win to Mineola, Texas, native Justin Utley. The loss was a disheartening jolt to Green, who was looking to clasp onto the President’s 100 match, which was his last untouched win of the National Matches.

Over his career, Green’s careful attention to range conditions has led him to multiple national-level wins.

during the Shootoff again this year, adding a thrill and some unsettling reminders to the event for Green. But, this time, he was determined to create a different ending to the story.

“I think (last year) I let the nerves get to me a little bit, shot them on the move a little bit, and they slipped out,” he said. “This year I made extreme effort not to shoot anything on the move and it paid off, thank goodness.”

He added, “It was pretty exciting to do it twice in a row with him (Utley), but I’m very happy with the outcome. I just stuck to the plan – that’s all. I’m real happy.”

Utley landed in second place in the event, with an extremely respectable score of 398-24x. A powerful force on the firing line, Utley also had his own record-setting performances during the 2018 National Matches as his combined scores in the President’s 100 and NTI events earned him the Alice Bull trophy as high overall civilian, with a new National Record score of 793-38x.

After Green’s win in the President’s Match, competitors and spectators – old and young – came up to him, one after another, taking pictures alongside him and shaking his hand. A celebrity in his own right in the competitive shooting realm, Green admits he has learned over the years how to stay humble and appreciate every compliment and every awe-struck fellow marksman that comes his way.

“It means a lot. It really, really does,” he said. “You have the best in the country out here doing this, and to have them all come up and shake your hand is a pretty big deal. It means a lot – it means you performed very well. And at our level, that’s kind of the goal – just to perform at your best.”

After the crowd thinned, he pulled out his phone and sent a text to his biggest fan who was waiting patiently states away to hear how he fared in the match.

“I always text Mom,” he said with a bashful grin on his

Along with the President’s rifle event, Green also won the NTI and Mountain Man aggregate with the same rifle he used at last year’s Matches.

face. “She follows from home, but I know she’s waiting to hear from me to see how I did.”

Though he prevailed in one of the most prominent matches in existence today, set a new National Record that raised the bar to a nearly untouchable level, all while marking a new Camp Perry legacy no one has ever reached before, Green still sees room for improvement, saying, “I wouldn’t say I performed at my best, but I came really close. I shot very, very well, and I’m very happy with it.”

His sought after win in the President’s 100 Match finally placed a big checkmark on his personal list of accomplishments. Once that was achieved, he set his sights on the rest of the National Matches, hoping to keep his focus, stay on top of the conditions and maintain scores high enough to reach his next desired goal – another esteemed Mountain Man trophy.

After the President’s 100 Match, Green went on to win the NTI event – narrowly missing his record score that he set last year by firing a 498-34x. Green squeaked past AMU teammate SSG David Bahten, who fired a score of 498-23x for second place.

Green then teamed up with fellow AMU member SFC Shane Barnhart to reach a combined score of 590-24x in the Hearst Doubles team event to nab the win.

His aggregate scores from the President’s 100, NTI and Hearst Doubles individual results landed him with his third Mountain Man trophy, the highest honor of the Matches, and another National Record – blowing past the record he set at last year’s National Matches by three points with 1296-83x.

“You always find somewhere where you could’ve done a little bit better – could’ve cleaned it up just a little bit more. I guess that’s what makes us keep doing it,” he said. “If you just shoot a really good score and accept that as being the best, then you kind of lose your edge. So, it’s all about hunting the next little thing to get you over the next edge.”

Green’s teammates greeted him with a water bath, traditionally given to the winner of the President’s Match.

USAMU Beats Decade-Old Record Score During 2018 National Trophy Team Events

Written by Ashley Brugnone, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, Ohio – Firing a new record score, the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit (USAMU) Craig racked up a total of 2968-141x in the National Trophy Team (NTT) event in August – stripping the previous record that had stood for over a decade. The match was fired during the 2018 National Trophy Rifle Matches, held on the ranges of Camp Perry.

The previous NTT National Record of 2958-113x was set in 2006 by USMC Arrieta.

Members of the talented USAMU team consisted of some 2018 National Matches stars, including SFC Brandon Green, who was the winner of the President’s 100 and National Trophy Individual (NTI) matches and was the overall rifle aggregate competitor, SSG David Bahten, who earned second in the NTI as well as the Army Infantry Trophy in the match, and SSG Amanda Elsenboss, who earned High Woman honors in a number of events and took home the overall High Woman title for the Matches.

Also helping USAMU Craig was SFC Shane Barnhart, who teamed up with Green to overtake the Hearst Doubles and was the highest scoring individual of the pair event, SGT Ben Cleland, who cleaned the Oliver Hazard Perry Match with a perfect score of 300 for the win, and SFC William Pace, who joined up with Cleland to earn second in the Hearst Doubles behind Green and Barnhart.

The record-setting team was coached by SFC Walter Craig, who said its members have really become cohesive over the season, directing themselves on details as simple as putting all of the guns on the same cleaning cycle, which has made a difference in their training strategy.

“This year, our team has been exceptionally focused,” he said. “We’ve spent time covering all facets of the sport, from our equipment to ammunition, mental management, physical fitness training and with our training plans to support it.”

He added, “It’s very much a synergistic combo, and you look at their performances as individuals, the pairs together – we’ve been able to exceed performance.”

SGT Cleland also earned the Pershing Trophy as the highest scoring competitor of the NTT Match, with a remarkable score of 499-30x. High Civilian team of the event was Illinois State Gold.

In the Hearst Doubles event, Green and Barnhart bested their AMU teammates by exactly one point – recording a score of 590-24x over Cleland and Pace, who put up a score of 589-24x.

Reserve Arcularius team of SSG Kristoffer Friend, SPC Daniel Lowe, SFC Joel Micholick, SSG Sean Morris, SPC Keith Stephens and SGT Nick Mowrer collectively fired a score of 1391. The team outshot the second highest scoring team by over 60 points in the win.

Earning the Leatherbeck Trophy as the High Civilian team of the event was Coalinga Rifle Team Gold from California, which came in third overall, with a score of 1308. Members of the team were Joe Blacksmith, George Carr, John Henderson, Jim O’Connell, Robert Taylor and Vincent Van Hoven. Team captain was James Jaquet, and the team was coached by Robert Gill.

“We brought together a team of guys who have been shooting here for 15, 20 years, and now they're going to get to see the stage from the other side," Gill said with a smile, anticipating his team receiving their awards. "This means more to me than anything else."

Grizzlies Fire New Record Score in Junior Competition at 2018 National Trophy Rifle Matches

By Ashley Brugnone, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, Ohio – Junior athletes raised the competitive bar during the 2018 National Trophy Rifle Matches, as one team’s members collectively registered a new National Record score with their noteworthy performances.

California Grizzlies Shilen earned the coveted Minuteman Trophy as the High Junior Team during the National Trophy Team (NTT) Match, with an overall aggregate score of 2894-86x and a Top 10 finish. Team members Koa Van Hoven, Miles Grove, Loet Van Hoven, Justin George, Amber Kingshill and Nathaniel Nye surpassed the old high score of 2889-80x, which was set back in 2016 by another California Grizzlies team. Team coach of CA Shilen was Kaitlyn Bispo, and Jim O’Connell served as team captain.

In individual competition, winning the Col. Bill Deneke Trophy as the top overall junior of the President’s 100, National Trophy Individual (NTI) and the National Trophy Junior Team events was Luke Rettmer, 19, of Ferndale, WA, with a score of 1270-39. Rettmer was only nine points shy of the National Record score, set by Liam McKenna at last year’s National Matches.

The Top 6 junior competitors of the aggregate are named to the honorary National Junior Highpower Team. The 2018 members, along with Rettmer, were Loet Van Hoven of San Rafael, CA, Thomas McGowan of Hortonville, WI, Justin George of Corcoran, CA, Alex Vitous of

The California Grizzlies Shilen set a new National Record in the NTT event.

Martinton, IL, and High Junior winner Kade Jackovich of Mesa, AZ.

Rettmer used his completed White Oak upper, barrel and a White Oak Leupold scope to nab the High Junior title of the President’s 100 Match – the only junior to make the accompanying Top 20 Shootoff – with a score of 380-9x.

“It’s always my goal to go up on stage (at National Matches), every year, and I’ve done that every year except my first year,” Rettmer said, with confidence.

Last year, he was the overall NRA Junior National Match winner. He returned to Camp Atterbury in Indiana to compete in the NRA National Matches in 2018 before heading to Camp Perry and won the High Junior honor for Long Range and Across the Course.

“But this was the one that I wanted,” he said, referring to his CMP success. “This was the only major junior award that I haven’t accomplished yet, so I definitely wanted that one the most.”

He spoke favorably of the unanticipated conditions this year at Camp Perry, known for its challenging weather, saying, “This is actually, as far as I can remember, the calmest wind I’ve seen here in a long time.”

In the National Trophy Junior Team Match, Rettmer joined forces with Washington Warriors teammate Jordan Freed to claim the overall win, with a score of 966-25x.

Born and raised in Washington, Rettmer began smallbore shooting at age 11 and became distinguished in the discipline just a few years later. He then moved onto highpower shooting, Across the Course and Long Range for the national “Young Eagles” Under-21 team.

He’s been to the National Matches six times and won the silver medal in the U21 Long Range World Championship, held at Camp Perry in 2015. He has also competed in Canada. From here, he plans on attending the Long Range World Championships in New Zealand in January/February 2019 as a coach and competitor.

“Unfortunately, the service rifle is going to have to take a little bit of a break,” he said. “But, service rifle will always be there.”

National Junior Team member Kade Jackovich, 19, earned the Golden Eagle Trophy as the highest junior competitor of the National Matches, collecting a score of 1269-40x in the President's 100, National Trophy Team and NTI aggregate. He was named High Junior in the NTI Match with an outstanding score of 492-15x.

A talented competitor himself, Jackovich has earned Distinguished Badges in both Service Rifle and Junior Three Position Air Rifle. He is currently attending Northern Arizona University where he is a member of the Army ROTC and the color guard.

In air rifle, Jackovich took first place in the Air Force sporter JROTC Regional Service Championships in 2017. That same year, he went on to earn second at the CMP Three-Position Regionals.

As a member of the Arizona Scorpions Junior High Power team, he has earned a spot in the President's 100 as one of the Top 100 competitors overall in 2015 and 2018. Also in 2015, he and teammates Zac Clark and Sarah Nguyen overtook the NRA's Whistler Boy honor and set a new National Record in the match that had stood since 1999.

This year, Jackovich and teammate Donnie Smith earned second in the Junior Team Match, just five points behind the Washington Warriors.

Iron Women Compete in the 2018 Rattle Battle

Written by Serena Juchnowski, Feature Writer

"I thought it would be a good promotion for the shooting sports to put together an all-girls team," said New Jersey Garden State Gunners Coach Walter Bachmann. "This was the first year that we were able to do that while we were out at Camp Perry."

During the 2018 National Matches, New Jersey fielded what, to everyone's knowledge, was the first all-female team to ever compete in the National Trophy Infantry Team match, more commonly known as the Rattle Battle.

Bachmann first became involved in the shooting sports when his sons wanted to learn how to shoot. He took them to the Central Jersey Rifle and Pistol Club and asked if they offered a junior program. Two months later, Bachmann was informed he had been made chairman of the new junior program, much to his surprise, and subsequently, he went about earning all of his coaching certifications and credentials.

The Garden State Gunners junior team started off with smallbore, but in 2008, the team started into highpower when they were approached by another New Jersey club asking if their juniors would be interested in trying the discipline. That was the first year the team traveled to Camp Perry with two girls and four guys. A decade later, the Garden State Gunners traveled to the Camp Perry National Matches with enough junior shooters to fill two teams, six girls and six boys.

While the teams for the National Trophy Team (NTT) match were determined based on skill, Bachmann split the team according to gender for the Rattle Battle. This was not a singular decision, but one that had been discussed and decided upon by the girls themselves.

Bachmann had been trying to get an all-girls team together for several years. In 2017, he finally had six female juniors on the team, but one was unable to attend Nationals, so 2018 was the year for them to do it, with six females able to attend and one aging out of the junior program.

Firing members on the 2018 Garden State Gunners Girls Rattle Battle

Team included Shelby Falk, Amy Flood, Sierra Loutraris, Jessica Peoples, Dorothy Speers and Victoria Wheatley. Jessica and Sierra were the two swing shooters, each firing upon two of the eight Rattle Battle targets. Each of the girls shot iron sights in the match. Several commented on how they started into highpower and on their thoughts of being part of what one member called "an awesome moment."

Shelby Falk is the one member of the New Jersey Garden State Gunners Junior Team that does not live in New Jersey. Falk, from Pennsylvania, joined the team since it is closer to her residence than the Pennsylvania based junior highpower teams.

She has always had an interest in shooting, starting with .22's and graduating to the .223 when she decided she wanted to become more serious about marksmanship. Shelby attended her first team practice, a reloading and dry-fire session, on her 15th birthday. In 2018, with two years remaining a junior, Shelby "actually really, really loved the idea" of an all-girls junior team, she remarked.

Shelby viewed it as making a statement, taking the equality side as opposed to the novelty perspective. Shelby noted, "Everyone's opinion coming to the subject was very different from each other. One was worried about what it would look like and to set an example for other teams and other shooters. I just thought overall it was just a really good thing to do."

Shelby's fervor for an all-girls team stemmed from a desire to inspire females who want to be on a team but are uncomfortable shooting with males. While Shelby herself has many male friends, she tried to see highpower from the perspective of girls who are more shy around boys.

Concerning the match, her rifle zeroes were accurate, and though they had a few malfunctions, the girls still managed to beat the New Jersey boys team (Garden State Gunners Red). Garden State Gunners Girls concluded the Rattle Battle with a score of 592. Garden State Gunners Red finished with a score of 265.

Regardless of score, and all jesting aside, Shelby was certain to point out that “everyone’s always really supportive of one another.”

Team member Amy Flood elaborated on the closeness of the entire New Jersey team, saying, “We all work so well together and we love each other.”

Flood started shooting pistol at age 13 before starting smallbore after she found herself connecting more to rifle than to pistol. She still desired something different, finding her niche in 2015.

Amy said of highpower service rifle, “I couldn’t have asked for something better, I love it.”

The team arrangements for Rattle Battle began early in the year with a vote. Coach Walter Bachmann had consistently had three girls on the team for the past few years, and the team really wanted to help fulfill his dream when the opportunity arose this year. It was decided that to accommodate everyone’s goals, the teams for the NTT match were determined by skill level, while the team split across gender lines for the National Trophy Infantry Team Match.

Amy said of this arrangement, “We want to win. We don’t care if it’s all guys, all girls or mixed in. We did it the way we did it. and I am glad we did.”

Dorothy Speers truly agreed with the way the teams were divided, acknowledging that she loves it, but as a casual shooter, she thought an “A” team was necessary for the NTT.

As she is aging out of the junior program this year, this was Dorothy’s first and last chance to shoot on an all-girls junior team. Having spent most of 2017 teaching English at a Tibetan Buddhist monastery in India where she was unable to practice, Speers says she was “shocked to be welcomed back and was thrilled to support her team again.”

She thought it was fun having an all-girls team but did not think that it warranted any extra publicity, saying, “If we start making a giant big deal out of it, it is almost like going backwards because we aren’t looking to be put on a pedestal for being girls with guns.”

Still, she does not regret the experience, as “it was fun to shoot with my friends. That’s what it was.”

Speers took a few moments to reflect on her highpower career thus far, noting that she started by attending a local venturing crew meeting and, “in a matter of one week I went from never shooting a gun to being on the highpower team.”

Sierra Loutraris has been shooting highpower on the Garden State Gunners team for about two years. She noted that she has always casually gone to the range with her dad but had never shot highpower until she joined the team. Her dad saw an advertisement in the local club newsletter that the junior highpower team was looking for another girl to make an all-girls junior team possible.

Sierra thought it was a great idea as she “just wanted to be a part of something that could show other girls that you can do anything you want as long as you just go for it.”

Sierra has proved this in her own accomplishments, earning her Expert classification over the course of three months and is rapidly approaching Master classification.

Though the newest girl on the team, Sierra has earned her spot as one of the top shooters on the Garden State Gunners. Her strongest position is prone, with her greatest scores shot at the 600-yard line. Her teammates attest to her skill and ability as well as her tenacity as she stuck with the team and proved herself over the past two years.

Jessica Peoples has been shooting highpower since March 2016, and after a “lot of time and a lot of effort,” has earned her Master classification through the National Rifle Association and a “hard” 10-point leg in the 2018 National Trophy Individual Rifle Match.

She was most surprised that an all-girls team had not happened sooner with the larger numbers of juniors some states bring. Though she prefers a co-ed team, with “all personalities merging,” Jessica acknowledged that the “dynamic [was] different...we were significantly more organized, and the guys were a little more ‘tactical’ in their methods.”

Even with some magazine issues, the team was “pretty proud of how [they] did.” Some of their Rattle Battle magazines do not feed well or lock in well, leading to annual magazine issues, but the team is not currently in a position to get fresh ones.

The Garden State Gunners team hopes to make an all-girls Rattle Battle team a tradition, but it may be difficult with some girls aging out. Team members not only indicated an appreciation for the support of their families and club, but also for their coach, Walter Bachmann.

Dorothy Speers noted that “he deserves credit for a lot of things. He works really, really hard for us. I think it’s been a dream of his to have an all-girls team. [Bachmann is a] really big supporter of juniors shooting and a really big supporter of females shooting. Having an all-girls junior team has been a milestone for him, to put that together.”

Coach Bachmann recounted that “Dick Whiting, the head coach from West Virginia, came to me and he said he was very upset with me because he’s been trying to do this for four years, and I beat him to it.”

Even with the differing opinions surrounding the all-girls team, it was not only a milestone for Bachmann but also for the sport itself, completing a dream that many others had but were still working on completing.

2018 Small Arms Firing School

By Serena Juchnowski, Feature Writer

Every year, the rifle Small Arms Firing School provides one of the greatest opportunities to learn a variety of marksmanship essentials for those new to the sport as well as those more experienced. The course is part of the National Trophy Matches, held annually during the summer months at the Camp Perry National Guard Training Facility in Ohio.

The Small Arms Firing School (SAFS) is a two-day clinic that includes a safety training and live fire portion on the first day and an M16 Rifle Excellence In Competition (EIC) match on day two. The program is designed for beginning marksmen or those looking to earn their first EIC points, which are earned and applied toward receiving a Distinguished Rifleman Badge. Participants are provided a rifle and ammo for training during the class and also receive a souvenir SAFS t-shirt.

Coaches on the firing line help record zeroes as well as correct and improve positions, including assisting new shooters in finding comfortable ways to position the rifles with gear. Shooters with personal coats and gloves may use them but must use the rifle provided.

At the 2018 SAFS course, a group of 370 competitors attended and fired 30 shots on the first day, July 27, during their instruction from the trained military members and CMP certified coaches.

gan after colors were presented, followed by a safety briefing in the newly renovated Hough Auditorium. A safety and basics class was then conducted within the auditorium by members of the Army Marksmanship Unit (AMU), who facilitate the SAFS course, before heading to the range to work one-on-one with positioning. Those who attended SAFS in the past or have significant highpower experience stayed for an advanced class, where the AMU members offer tips and in-depth instruction on wind-reading and other more detailed concepts.

Out on the range, four persons were assigned to each target, one firing per relay, and each target shared an AR-15, magazines and sling. Instructors showed each person proper standing, sitting and prone positions, before firing 10 shots from each. Participants also spent hands-on time learning how to pull and mark targets in the pits.

Observers noted a diverse array of not only positions, but also gear. Someone pitched a tent for shade near the 200-yard line, while another converted a bicycle into a shooting cart to pull gear.

The M16 EIC match the next day, July 28, offered competitors without any EIC points a chance to earn four introductory points by placing in the top 10 percent of eligible competitors. Eligible competitors included those who are non-Distinguished and without any EIC points.

The course of fire for the M16 EIC match consists of 10 shots slow fire prone in 10 minutes, 10 shots rapid-fire prone in 60 seconds, 10 shots rapid-fire sitting in 60 seconds and 10 shots slow fire standing in 10 minutes, all fired from the 200-yard line.

Match winner for this year's M16 Match was Nathan Russell of Emlenton, Pa., with a score of 391-15x. Thirty-one competitors earned four EIC points with scores at or above 378-6x.

While some competitors' main motivation for attending SAFS was for the EIC points, others, such as Lisa Wheeler of Beavercreek, Ohio, sought greater rifle experience. She attended the school with her husband of 39 years, Jon, a former Air Force veteran. Jon Wheeler heard about SAFS through some acquaintances and thought it would be an anniversary trip his wife would not expect.

Coaches first had SAFS participants find their natural point of aim and dry fire before firing live rounds.

Lisa Wheeler at 2018 SAFS.

Lisa Wheeler, having only shot handguns a few times, hopes to get her concealed carry weapons (CCW) permit and to become more proficient with a rifle. As a teacher, she participated in ALICE (Alert Lockdown Inform Counter Evacuate) active shooter response training and “really wanted to be fairly comfortable should the district ever allow CCW.”

Others, such as Walter Haley, the head coach of the Texas Junior Rifle Team, have been coming to Camp Perry for years. Haley not only brought along 14 Texas juniors, several of them participating in SAFS, but also taught the 2018 SAFS as a coach.

When asked what rewards Haley derives from teaching, he noted that the “ability to impart the knowledge of the shooting sports to somebody who has actually spent the time and the effort to come [to Camp Perry] and many times [has] never fired a rifle...[or] pistol” is incredibly special. Haley most enjoys helping provide people an opportunity to see the joy that competitive shooting can bring.

CMP Clinics offer Top Notch Marksmanship Training

Written by Serena Juchnowski, Feature Writer

The USMC had members of their shooting team demonstrate the standing, sitting, and prone positions for the juniors before they worked on their own positions.

Before the firing of the Civilian Marksmanship Program's (CMP) National Trophy events, the National Matches schedule offers training clinics for all levels of shooters to receive personalized help and information.

For junior shooters, the United States Marine Corps (USMC) Junior Highpower Rifle Clinic offers one-on-one training, dry firing and class work focused on safety, trigger control, fundamentals and effects of weather, among other things. For those looking for more than the basics, an Advanced CMP Highpower Clinic offers marksmen supplementary training, dry firing exercises and position work.

Many juniors (age 20 and below) attend the USMC clinic year after year, using the opportunity to freshen up their skills before the bigger National Trophy matches, to socialize with other juniors and to receive coaching.

A classroom session is held on the first day of the clinic, during which basic safety and marksmanship fundamentals are covered. Previous attendees are released to Petrarca Range for dry-fire practice, while newer shooters remain in the classroom for additional instruction. When the classroom portion is finished, the classroom juniors join the rest of the clinic participants for snap-in and dry-fire positioning.

The Marines show several examples of their own standing, sitting and prone positions and break them down before having all participants get into their positions and dry fire. Coaches are open to answering questions and to helping each junior find the positions that work best for him or her.

At the 2018 National Matches clinics, attendee Dorothy Speers of New Jersey said she highly recommends the clinic, noting that any junior looking for "personalized in-depth, hard-core help" should attend. Speers elaborated, noting that all of her insecurities, questions and doubts could find an answer at the clinic. Instead of worrying, she could simply "ask a Marine," as she often advised her peers to do. This year, Speers experimented with a new crossed ankle sitting position at the clinic, looking for improvements and suggestions.

Jacob Rohr of Oklahoma agreed that the USMC junior clinic can be incredibly helpful before the big matches, as it gives shooters a chance to work on their positions. This year, like Speers, he also received some advice on the sitting position.

Previously taught by Remington, Team CMP has taken over running the CMP Advanced Highpower Clinic for the past two years. Team CMP member Nick Till noted that the clinic had more attendees, 48 students in total, than the previous year, with some returning.

An especially popular exercise was a 15-minute dry-firing, holding drill in which lasers were attached to each person's gun, giving insight into aim, hold and other fundamental habits. Mounting lasers to the guns allowed participants to note movement and wobble, and trainers provided tips on how to remedy or improve their positioning based on the results.

In the future, Till would like to add air rifles into the clinic to help as standing practice. This would add a live-firing portion to the clinic that many so desire as well as introduce shooters to a discipline that can help enhance their standing position.

Morgan Carrier of Illinois echoed this sentiment, wishing that there was a live-firing aspect to the clinic. With both Viale and Rodriguez ranges occupied, range time and space during the clinic is hard to find. Carrier attended the Small Arms Firing School in 2017 and decided to attend the clinic this year, her second year at Camp Perry. Following one-on-one instruction from Team CMP's Sara Rozanski, Carrier found that she felt much more comfortable in both her standing and prone positions.

Unlike Carrier, who is nearly in her fifth year of highpower, Allan King of North Royalton attended simply to learn. While he shoots some vintage rifles, he primarily shoots offhand as a member of the North South Skirmish Association.

Sara Rozanski, highpower coordinator for the CMP and a Team CMP member, recognized her responsibility to grow the sport. Team CMP officially formed about two years ago and is a civilian team that began with CMP employees who wanted to shoot and transitioned into a conglomerate team of some of the best civilian shooters across the United States.

Rozanski reminded her students that they are free to contact her and her teammates with questions.

Numerous National Records Set During 2018 National Matches Games Events

By Ashley Brugnone, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, Ohio – A pack of record-setters emerged during the 2018 National Matches Games events in August. The John C. Garand Match alone saw new overall, junior and senior records, while the Vintage Military Match also established new scores in the junior and senior categories.

The Games are facilitated by the Civilian Marksmanship Program (CMP) and feature a variety of vintage and modern military rifle competitions. Read ahead to learn more about the noteworthy performances of each 2018 National Matches Games event.

JOHN C. GARAND:

Brad Diehl, 42, of Corunna, IN, earned the top spot and a new National Record in the National John C. Garand Match, with a score of 294-9x. Also firing a new National Record was Mark Stout II, of Waterford, MI, with a High Junior score of 292-10x. The score was enough to earn him third place overall in the match. As if that wasn't enough, Danny Gray, 69, of Manassas, VA, set a new High Senior record of 293-7x and received the runner-up spot behind Diehl.

MODERN MILITARY:

In the Modern Military event, CPT William Richardson, 28, of Wilsonville, AL, fired a score of 298-12x for the overall win – cleaning the first two stages and dropping only two points in the slow-fire standing portion. High Junior of the match was Collin Williams, 20,

RIMFIRE SPORTER:

The National Rimfire Sporter match fired on Sunday, July 22, with a total of 273 entries throughout the day. Low Claims Win in AiR 15 Challenge at 2018 National Matches Air Gun Events

By Ashley Brugnone, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, Ohio – Winning this year’s AiR 15 Challenge during the National Matches Air Gun series of events was SPC Daniel Lowe, 25, of the U.S. Army Reserve team. The match was fired on August 4 at the Gary Anderson CMP Competition Center, located at the Camp Perry National Guard Training Facility.

During the Challenge, competitors fire in a 20 Shot Match using AiR-15 lead pellet air guns that mirror the look of high-power service rifles. The Top 20 then compete in a shoulder-to-shoulder Shoot Off, with the overall winner of the event determined through an elimination challenge.

Lowe is no stranger to the air gun range. A past champion and medalist at the national level in air rifle, he qualified for the 2016 U.S. Summer Olympic team after finishing in second place in the qualifying match, held at Camp Perry.

“I walk through those doors (to the Camp Perry air range), and immediately, goosebumps,” he said with a smile. “My heart rate goes up, I get a little excited – ‘Hey, I remember this place!’”

Lowe said he even secured his AiR Challenge win on the firing point directly across from where he established his place on the men’s 10-meter and 50-meter air rifle Olympic teams two years earlier.

He’s taken a break from air rifle competition since December 2016, focusing more on service rifle as a member of the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit team, then moving to the Reserve team in January 2018. During the 2018 National Matches highpower events, Lowe was a member of the overall winning team in the famous “Rattle Battle,” National Infantry Trophy Team event.

Though no longer in training for air rifle, Lowe says the years he put in for the discipline in the past ultimately prepared him for any marksmanship competition he enters.

“The fundamentals are all there,” he said. “All of those many, many hours of hard work kind of shined through.”

Since leaving active duty, he’s been busy adjusting to civilian life and starting his own business in Washington – a coaching company for air gun and smallbore shooters in the Pacific Northwest area of the country. In the future, he’s also hoping to keep working towards earning a spot onto the podium in the highpower realm.

Both air pistol and air rifle events were held during the National Matches air gun series. Last year’s AiR 15 winner, SGT Nick Mowrer, led the 30 Shot Air Pistol event by one point, with a score of 288-9x.

Bruce Martindale, 60, of Charlton, NY, came out on top of the 60 Shot Air Pistol event, with a score of 563-7x. Earning the high score in the 60 Shot Air Rifle event was Peninah D’Souza, 15, of Ellicott City, MD, with a score of 612. D’Souza also earned the win in the 30 Shot Standing event.

A Top Center Shot was awarded during the 30 Shot Pistol Match to the competitor who fired the closest shot to center.

Competitors of all ages and skill levels are welcome to come into the air range at any time to compete or to simply give the air guns a try.

This year’s winner was Paul Lalancette, 57, of Attleboro, MA. For his win, Paul received a monetary prize of $197.00 from the CMP, based on the number of entries. The next seven closest competitors also received money for their efforts.

SPC Daniel Lowe was the overall winner of the AiR 15 Challenge.

A Center Shot was also awarded in the 20 Shot Sporter Rifle Event, with Wynn Lekhavanija, 18, of Ellicott City, MD, earning the top prize money.

A series of Bench League rifle matches, fired from a fixed position, were also held during the month. Rodney Snyder, 62, of Fremont, OH, placed first in the 30 Shot AR-15 match, as Miki Marciniak, 61, of Macomb, MI, fired the overall score in the 30 Shot Sporter event for the second consecutive year. Gavin Barnick, 15, of Mora, MN, took home the win in the precision 30 Shot Bench Match.

CMP Sees Unexpected Numbers at Inaugural National Smallbore Matches at Camp Perry

By Ashley Brugnone, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, Ohio – Just like the blustering winds off of Lake Erie, the 2018 National Matches smallbore rifle series returned as a powerful force across the ranges of Camp Perry. Drenching rainstorms and consistent heavy gales tested the abilities of the competitors on the line – appropriately welcoming the events back to the venue notorious for its unpredictable outdoor conditions.

With over 430 entries, 2,232 targets and 44,640 shots recorded in the new line of smallbore matches, fired July 16-22, the discipline’s homecoming was greeted with participation that transcended expectations.

After being removed from the National Matches in 2014 by the National Rifle Association, high demand from competitors for smallbore’s return motivated the Civilian Marksmanship Program (CMP) to begin work on reestablishing it into the Camp Perry schedule.

In 2017, the CMP organized a team of staff members and some of the country’s most experienced smallbore marksmen and markswomen to compile a fresh lineup of events to unveil at the National Matches in the summer of 2018.

Not only did the events return, but they returned with a renewed spirit and a modernized core – sustained by the latest technological advancements in competitive shooting sports that established a higher stage for national-level smallbore.

With the help of Orion Scoring System, an innovative scoring software app was designed to read shot scores simply by snapping a photo. After firing concluded for each stage, CMP personnel walked downrange with a handheld device to take photos of each target. The photos within the app linked directly to the Orion scoring system, which then identified shots on the targets and scored accordingly – all before the next stage of fire even began.

Along with an advanced scoring system, the CMP also implemented its electronic targets during the smallbore finals events – the first time such a system has been used during a National Matches smallbore match.

The reintroduction of smallbore at Camp Perry brought back veteran competitors, like SFC Eric Uptagrafft, who has had a successful marksmanship career as an Olympian, a multiple World Cup gold medalist and a current member of the Army Marksmanship Unit

Competitors at this year’s events were able to check their scores online before their next stage even began, thanks to a new electronic scoring system used for the paper targets.

(AMU), among other accolades. When he heard smallbore would be making a comeback at Camp Perry, he became intrigued by the idea.

“I thought it was interesting. There’s so much tradition at Camp Perry, it’s so nice to come back here and be able to see improvements,” he said. “We got the whole Camp Perry experience here with the weather the last couple of days, so that’s always entertaining. Hopefully there will be more next year.”

The AMU cleaned up during the smallbore series – overtaking the top spot in nearly every category, including the team events. SSF Hank Gray, a past smallbore competitor himself and now coach of the team, was looking forward to seeing what his athletes could do this year at the National Matches.

With a number of new members, including their most recent addition, PVT Emily Stith (who went on to win several 3-P Junior honors at the National Matches), Gray was anxious to show them the ropes of the historic facility.

“I was really excited to bring them back to Camp Perry,” he said. “We have a really young team this year, so it was some of their first times to Camp Perry, and some haven’t been since the last time the events were here – so they were all excited to be here.”

Scott Rockett won a number of Intermediate Age titles during the smallbore matches.

Tobin Sanctuary, a current member of the University of North Georgia team, was pleased with the operation of the smallbore events.

He went on to discuss his team's group and individual wins, saying, "I was really excited for the success that they had. We kind of like to use it as a training opportunity, get them out here in the crazy winds that you can see at Camp Perry. I think they really learned a lot and the results showed that they're well on their way to getting them to where we want them to go."

The addition of smallbore to the schedule also attracted new faces to the National Matches, like junior Scott Rockett of Cary, NC. He's been shooting smallbore for the last five years, starting with a junior club near his hometown, but has really shown improvement in the last two years after buying his own smallbore rifle.

At this year's National Matches, Rockett took home the Intermediate Junior Age Group award in the 3-P Aggregate Championship, the 3-P Iron Sights, 3-P Any Sights, as well as in the Prone 3200 Aggregate Championship, Iron Sights and Any Sights categories – leading the next generation of talent at the National Matches.

"I've heard so many great things about smallbore at Camp Perry, and this was my opportunity to go experience it," he said. "I really enjoyed it. It was fun, and the windy conditions made for a good challenge."

Also giving a noteworthy performance was Tobin Sanctuary, originally of Alstead, NH, who overtook nearly each Junior title during the Prone smallbore series. He has been shooting the discipline for the past six years, beginning on a Cheshire County Junior Club team in New Hampshire. Currently studying Business Management at the University of North Georgia as a scholastic athlete, he now shoots for their rifle team and was looking forward to his chance to finally compete at the Camp Perry National Matches.

"You get to be outdoors, you get to come to Camp Perry and shoot in the conditions. I was really excited about it, and I thought it was great," he said.

"The conditions were tough for 3-P, but it ran really smooth. I was a little skeptical about the scoring, but that worked out really great too. And, I really liked the finals," he went on. "The facilities here are great. I thought it went really well."

History of Smallbore at the National Matches:

The National Matches made its debut in 1903 and first appeared at Camp Perry in 1907. Through its long history in the following decades, which included two World Wars and other military conflicts that periodically halted the annual event, the National Matches has seen events come and go, and come again – including smallbore.

The first smallbore rifle events in the National Matches were held in 1919 at the initiative of the CMP's predecessor, the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice. The National Rifle Association (NRA) became active in smallbore activities in the 1920s and 1930s, with a focus on youth, Dewar Team Matches and U. S. international team trials.

The smallbore rifle prone 3200 Aggregate became an established national championship in the years after World War II and was conducted in several locations during those years before it returned to Camp Perry in 1953.

An NRA national position championship was first fired at Camp Perry in 1958, with prone and position championships continuing as parts of the National Matches until 2014 when the NRA moved its smallbore rifle competitions to Indiana.

Returning to its 1919 roots, on July 17, 2018, the very first CMP smallbore event, and the first National Matches smallbore event held on Camp Perry's soil in 5 years, fired on Rodriguez Range – beginning a new tradition of smallbore at Camp Perry.

Mark Del Cotto, of Lexington, KY, edged out competitor Edward Hahn, Middle Grove, NY, by a tenth of a point during the Prone Final event, firing a 251.8. For the first time, electronic targets were utilized in the smallbore finals events.

Anticipated Long Range National Matches Return Met With Success in 2018

By Ashley Brugnone, CMP Writer

Six matches were fired during the Long Range series of events at Camp Perry.

CAMP PERRY, Ohio – At the 2018 National Matches at Camp Perry, the Civilian Marksmanship Program (CMP) introduced its new series of Long Range events to competitors. Three days of long range rifle matches, held at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards, were added to the event schedule to allow long range marksmen the opportunity to fire on the Camp Perry grounds following the National Rifle Association’s decision to leave the annual event in Ohio.

Those who participated in the inaugural matches were generally pleased with the series lineup and the organization of the competitions brought back to Camp Perry after a two-year absence, leaving such comments with the CMP as:

- “Being back at Camp Perry already put things in such a positive light, but once we started shooting, how smoothly things ran made it a very positive experience.”

- “Camp Perry is one of the best ranges in the U.S. with a long and proud history. Thank you, CMP, for all of the work expended on the 2018 season.”

- “The matches were well organized and went smoothly.”
- “I liked the fact that they were held at Camp Perry. That’s where the National Matches should be.”

- “Good job! I enjoyed the matches. It was great being back at Perry for long range.”

- “Overall a very positive and fun championship for me. I applaud your efforts in bringing long range back to Camp Perry and your efforts to improve. Thank you!”

Competitors at the 2018 National Long Range Matches at Camp Perry fired in service, match and Palma rifle classes.

Geissele Automatics served as a generous sponsor for the new Long Range events, donating a prize to every winner in each category. Capstone Precision, the parent company of such entities as Berger and Lapua, also donated prizes from various companies to several winners during the National Long Range Matches.

The overall aggregate winner of the Long Range Matches received the Coats Brown Memorial Trophy – donated to the CMP by the Military Marksmanship Association. Chief Warrant Officer 4, Coats Brown, U.S. Army, began his extensive shooting career in 1935 following enlistment and became proficient in an array of firearms, from a 1911 pistol to a water-cooled machine gun. Brown was a repeat National Matches champion, individually and with teams, and went on to become the head coach of the newly-formed Army Marksmanship Unit in 1956. Retiring from the Army in 1965, he dedicated his life to serving as a mentor in the shooting community for the remainder of his life – molding countless individuals into skilled marksmen.

Winning the overall aggregate was SFC Shane Barnhart, 39, of the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit (AMU), with a score of 1244-71x. Teammate SGT Lane Ichord, 24, led the service rifle aggregate, marking up a score of 1228-48x, as Robert Steketee, 68, of Haslett, MI, fired a score of 1233-56x to top the Palma rifle category.

Six matches were held during the Long Range series, with talented competitors emerging in each event. Winning the Viale Memorial Match and the Critchfield Memorial Match with a service rifle was SFC Christopher Gervasio, 48, of the U.S. Army Reserve. Gervasio dropped only one point in the Viale Match, winning with a score of 199-11x, and only three points in the Critchfield event, with a score of 197-7x.

John Whidden, 42, of Nashville, GA, cleaned the Viale Memorial event with the match rifle, with a score of 200-12x. Whidden won the iron sights match rifle category by only two x's over the second and third place competitors, who also recorded perfect scores of 200. Robert Gill, 59, of Visalia, CA, led the Palma rifle portion, while David Thompson, 56, of Keyser, WV, dropped only one point to win the match rifle with optics class.

SFC Shane Barnhart, who landed in second in the Viale Memorial Match behind Whidden in the match rifle iron sights portion, earned the top spot in the classification in the Critchfield Memorial event – besting teammate and second-place finisher SFC Brandon Green by just two “x” shots.

Robert Steketee cleaned the event in the Palma rifle class, as Harry Harrison, 57, of Corona, CA, earned the win in the match rifle with optics event.

Both the Viale Memorial and Critchfield matches featured a course of fire of 20 record shots in 30 minutes at 1,000 yards.

The same course of fire was also played out in the Henry Memorial Match and the Kerr Memorial Match, fired during the Long Range series. Overtaking the events in service rifle were AMU members SSG David Bahten and SFC Evan Hess, respectively. Bahten, 29, overtook the Henry competition with a score of 195-6x, while Hess, 32, dropped only two points for a winning score of 198-10x in the Kerr match.

SFC Barnhart also earned the win in the match rifle class in the Henry Memorial event, dropping only one point, while AMU teammate SSG Amanda Elsenboss, 29, cleaned the match rifle portion in the Kerr Memorial event and won by just one “x” shot, with a score of 200-15x.

Also winning by just one “x” was Kent Roach, 58, of Toledo, OH, who overtook the Palma rifle class in the Henry Memorial Match, with a score of 193-6x. SSG John Coggshall, 33, of the Army Reserve National Guard, earned a perfect 200 to pass Robert Gill and receive the win in the Palma class during the Kerr Memorial event.

The Bataan Memorial 4-Man Team Match, which included 20 shots by each member at 1,000 yards, saw wins from the AMU in both the match and service rifle categories. Members of AMU Green (SSG Elsenboss, SFC Barnhart, SFC Green and SGT Ben Cleland), each dropped only one point in the match rifle class to record an aggregate score of 796-54x. AMU Craig members (SGT Ichord, SSG Bahten, SSG Augustus Dunfey and SGT Verne Conant) earned a score of 776-21x in service rifle for the win.

All Guard Coggshall members (SSG John Coggshall, Hanne Brantner, MSG Michael Hester and MSgt Garey Diefenderfer) claimed the win in the Palma category with a score of 787-33x.

A Camp Perry Palma Match was also fired during Nationals, where competitors fired 15 record shots at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards, in a block time of 22 minutes at each firing line. Winning the service rifle portion was SGT Verne Conant, 22, of the AMU, with a score of 448-22x. David Thompson led the match rifle any sight category by just on “x” count, recording a score of 447-28x.
