SHUSHANNA BECKONS MANY GOLD SEEKERS

Excitement at Fever Heat Over
Latest Strike Reported in Alaska

LABOR SHORTAGE NOW FOLLOWING STAMPEDE

Special Train Chartered and Attempt Planned for an Aeroplane Stage

SHIPMENT OF HORSES ORDERED FROM SEATTLE

Cordova, Alaska, July 24.—Excitement such as had not been known since the rainy days of the great rush to the north prevails here over the Shushanna strike. Interest among miners is at fever heat and stampedes are exhausting every known means to reach the new strike at the earliest possible moment. Despite the reports that the country has already been well staked there is no stoppage of the plans of all who are able to get together an outfit to take the trail.

Shortage of labor at many camps is resulting from the stampede, all trails being used, and because of the members setting out new roads are likely to be made soon. Scarcity of horses for conveying supplies is apparent by the rapid increase from $50 to $300. A movement is on foot to secure Captain Martin, the aviator who made the aeroplane flights in Fairbanks, July 4 and who is expected to Juneau within a day or two, and prevail upon him to go to McCarthy and run an aerial express for passengers from that point to Shushanna. The distance is about 100 miles and it is believed that many stampedes would avoid themselves of this means of travel.

Tuesday night a party of thirty chartered a special train, which left at 7 o'clock yesterday morning for McCarthy, the point at which the trail to Scotia Pass leaves the railway line. Travel over this route is becoming so large that a reconnaissance party is out selecting the best and safest route to the pass, and as soon as a report is made, which is expected within a few days, a force of men will be put to work breaking trail. It is expected the new trail will cut several dangerous river crossings, and those that cannot be bridged. The latest reports from the interior are to the effect that men are still leaving daily from every camp on this side of the range, and the shortage of labor at several copper mines is becoming acute, and that unless more men were secured work will have to be considerably curtailed or cease entirely.

Horses are in great demand by the stampede. Chitina reports that a horse to be had at any price. Animals that were sold for $50 a short time before news of the strike reached this place brought $250 to $300 when the stampede commenced, and a cable message has been sent to Seattle to ship forty horses.

SUFFRAGETTES CAUGHT BURNING MANSION

Glasgow, July 24.—Two suffragettes, Miss Margaret Morrison and a young woman who refused to give her name, were arrested here today as they were about to set fire to a large mansion which was once the residence of the late Sir John Muir, lord provost. When the police entered they found a woman standing with a match in her hand in front of some piles of combustibles which had been banked against the doors. Shortly afterwards, Miss Morrison, who had disheveled her hair, descended a chimney where she had hidden. A quantity of suffragette literature was found in the house.

STEAMER BRINGS NEWS OF SCHROEDER-STRAZ

Bremen, Germany, July 24.—The rescue of the missing German Arctic explorer, Lieut. Schroeder-Stranz, was indicated in a wireless dispatch received here yesterday from the steamer Grosser Kurfurst, which is cruising in Spitzbergen waters. The message says: "Dr. Robitsch, of the German observatory at Gross Bay, came on board yesterday at Moeller Bay, and made important communications about Schroeder-Stranz. Help has been received. A detailed report will be sent by wireless from Tromsø." The Grosser Kurfurst is due at Tromsø on Friday.

CONVICT ESCAPES.

Centralia, Wash., July 24.—A convict named Stevens escaped from the state rockpile at Meakill Tuesday. Under fire of the guard on the wall Stevens climbed the stockade, ran up the rail, crossed track and took to the bush. Apparently he was not hit and is still at large.

OMMUNDSEN PIERCES BULLSEYE THIRICE WINNING BRONZE MEDAL IN THE KING'S TWELVE CANADIANS IN SECOND STAGE

Denholm, of Winnipeg, Heads the Canadians in Graphic Telegraph and Alexandra Totals With 310; Carr, of Victoria, Scores 307 and Makes High Score 48 at 600 Yards

Bisley Camp, July 24.—A bright sunny morning greeted riflemen today after a week of cold inclement weather, mists and driving rain which caused the Canadians to gather eagerly whenever possible around the big open fire in the vestibule of their hut. The best scores in the St. George's were made by Capt. Woomerov, of Wiltshire; Sergt. Tyrrell, 16th London County and Corp; Mercer, of Leicestershire, who tied at 49. Of the Canadians Sergt. Carr, Victoria, with 48, and Staff-Sergt. Freeborn, Hamilton, with 47, enter the second stage. Pte. Denholm, Winnipeg, is tied with 49 others at 48, and shoots off for the bottom place. Light at this range was very perplexing all morning. Scores counting in the grand aggregate for service rifles closed today with the first stage of the St. George's, other competitions counting in the King's first stage.

In the Daily Graphic, Daily Telegraph and Alexandra, Canadian totals were as follows: Brown, 254; Bullock, 284; Carr, 307; Crowe, 299; Denholm, 210; Freeborn, 306; Guthaus, 308; Hatcher, 278; Hawkins, 304; Hawley, 300; Laman, 298; Lee, 305; Macpherson, 293; Parker, 290; Perry, 294; Richardson, 292; Stock, 302; Sterns, 288; Steel, 305; Taylor, 296; Mortimer, 309 and Bayles, 281. Thus Denholm, of Winnipeg, heads the Canadians. The Canadian challenge shield, associated with the Queen Mary and provided through the Dominion government grant to the N. R. A., was won today by the 8th Highlanders.

The Imperial Tobacco trophy was won by J. J. Stewart, of the City Rifle Club; Sergt. Lewis, 8th Welsh, was second, and Corporal Taylor, of Sussex, third.

In the St. George's challenge vase, open to all comers and consisting of 10 shots at 600 yards. Entries numbered 1,111 or 99 more than last year, and the top hundred shot in the second stage on Saturday; fifteen shots at 400 yards. Following are the Canadian scores at the first stage:

Sergt. Brown, Edmonton, 42; Sergt. Bullock, Toronto, 35; Sergt. Carr, Victoria, 48; Capt. Crowe, Guelph, 35; Pte. Denholm, Winnipeg, 48; Staff-Sergt. Freeborn, Hamilton, 47; Sergeant Guthaus, Ottawa, 48; Q.-M.-R. Sergt. Hatcher, Victoria, 40; Pte. Hawkins, Toronto, 41; Staff-Sergt. Hawley, Winnipeg, 43; Sergt. Laman, Halifax, 48; Sergt. Lee, London, 42; Pte. Macpherson, Stellarton, N. S., 44; Sergt. Parker, Halifax, 37; Color-Sergt. Perry, Vancouver, 47; Lieut. Richardson, Victoria, 44; Lieut. Stock, Truro, 44; Sergt. Steele, Guelph, 41; Lieut. Sterns, Souris, P. E. I., 40; Sergt. Taylor, Dundas, 37; Staff-Sergt. Bayles, Toronto, 43; Lieut. Mortimer, Ottawa, 46.

SECOND FIRE IN WEEK INSIDE OF SING SING

Damage Amounting to $150,000 Occurred on Tuesday Convicts Blamed for Conflagration.

Ostington, N. Y., July 24.—Another fire at Sing Sing prison today gave the mutinous convicts a chance for more riotous demonstrations. The blaze started in the clothing shop and the prison fire brigade extinguished it after a hard fight, without outside aid. It was the second fire in the prison buildings, this week, although the guards had been doubled, since $150,000 worth of property was burned up there two days ago. Although it is generally believed that the fires were started by convicts, the warden has been unable to place the blame. The men at work in the building were marched out in good order and the blaze extinguished, while a chorus of yells came from prisoners locked in their cells. Warden Clancy attributes the recent disturbances among the convicts to an order for the transfer of some of them to the state prison at Auburn. Most of the prisoners at Sing Sing came from New York city and object to being sent up state, where their friends will find it difficult to visit them. It was this element that led the mutiny yesterday that first promised to develop into an organized attempt at prison liberty.

SEATTLE PIONEER DEAD.

Seattle, July 24.—Andrew Simon, a pioneer business man of Seattle, died yesterday morning at his home, 68 West Blanchard street. He was 89 years old. Mr. Simon is survived by his widow, two sons and three daughters, one of whom, Mrs. John Cochran lives in Victoria, B. C.

Bisley Camp, July 24.—In the shoot off for the bronze medal this morning Sergt. Ommundsen made three straight bulls, while Capt. Marchmont could do no better than two bulls and an inner. The Edinburgh ex-King's prize man, therefore, captures the bronze medal for the highest aggregate in the first stage of the King's prize for the second year running.

Ninety-four men, including Carr, Parker and Steel, of Canada, shot off today for the bottom places in the hundred who enter the second stage, all having tied at 54. The best the Canadians could do was 29 points, made by Carr and Steel, but that was not good enough, as scores of 21 were the lowest to qualify. Only twelve Canadians, therefore, enter the second stage as against 14 last year, 15 in 1911, and no less than 22 in 1910, the latter being known at Bisley as Canadian year.

The twelve Canadians now qualified to enter the second stage of the King's prize on Friday, all having aggregates of over 94 in the first stage shoot, are as follows:

Private Hawkins, Toronto, and Sergt. Steele, Guelph, with 109; Private Denholm, Winnipeg, and Sergt. Lee, London, Ont., 97; Lieut. Mortimer, Ottawa, 97; Capt. Crowe, Guelph, and Staff-Sergt. Hawley, Winnipeg, 95; Sergt. Bullock, Toronto; Sergt. Guthaus, Ottawa; Sergt. Latham, Halifax; Lt. Sterns, Souris, and Sergt. Taylor, Dundas, Ont., all with 95.

Besides Sergt. Ommundsen and Capt. Marchmont, who top the aggregate with 104, one short of the possible, the following are the leading scores: Pte. Gibson, Scottish Rifles, 102; Sergt. Mackenzie, Scottish Horse; Major Varty, Honorable Artillery Company; Sergt. Fenby, of Warwick; and Sergt. Keeffe, of London, all with 101.

In addition to the two Canadians, eight other men made the flat century. The best Canadian scores at the 600-yard range, shot yesterday, together with their total aggregate for the first stage, are:

Name	Score
Staff-Sgt. Bayles	29
Sgt. Brown	42

EXPULSION LEADERS OF MUTINY IN VATICAN

Detachment Leave Service and Others Will Depart in October

CRY "VIVA GARIBALDI" SING MARSEILLAISE

Commander Ordered to Hold
His Men in Readiness, Now
Controls Exits

ARMS AND CARTRIDGES TAKEN FROM REVOLTERS

Rome, July 4.—Throughout yesterday the vatican was in a veritable state of siege as the outcome of a mutiny of the Swiss Guards, whose demands, in the form of a memorial relating their grievances and setting forth conditions on which they would remain in the service, were rejected flatly. The three leaders in the movement were expelled from the vatican. Four others left last night, and twelve have requested leave to depart for their homes in October.

Those who left were accompanied to the gates of the vatican by their comrades. At the moment of separation they cried "Viva Garibaldi!" Some of them joined in singing the Marseillaise. Never before was such a scene witnessed in front of the vatican. The guards have been relieved of their cartridges, and rifles were taken from them as it was discovered that they had succeeded in concealing cartridges.

A further detachment of the mutinous Swiss Guards left the vatican this morning. Some of them threatened to make unpleasant revelations. The commander of the guardsmen promised the pope today that the entire corps would be re-established within a few weeks with new and more suitable armaments.

Count Coccozzini, commander of the gendarmes, has been ordered to hold his men in readiness for emergencies. They are in control of all exits, and have instructions to prevent any of the guards from leaving the building without permission or from communicating with those outside. The entire neighborhood is patrolled by a strong force of police.

Serious trouble was expected when the guards were notified that all their demands had been refused, and it had been arranged that any of the guards attempting a demonstration should be arrested by the papal gendarmes, and turned over to the Italian police for transportation to the Swiss frontier. When the reply to their memorial was read, the commander and other officials, armed with revolvers, stood ready to suppress any show of force.

ARMY OF FROGS MAKES ITS ANNUAL JOURNEY

Thousands Invade Klamath City in Cross Cut Across Land to Upper Klamath.

Klamath Falls, Ore., July 24.—Frogs, big and little, treble and bass, paunchy, goggle-eyed old bullfrogs, and slender, striped little acrobats which were tadpoles last spring, invaded this city by thousands, hopping solemnly and earnestly through the streets, on their way from Lake Ewauna to Upper Klamath lake. Not all of them escaped, for they are excellent trout bait, and all the anglers who could possibly take a day off made the most of the supply.

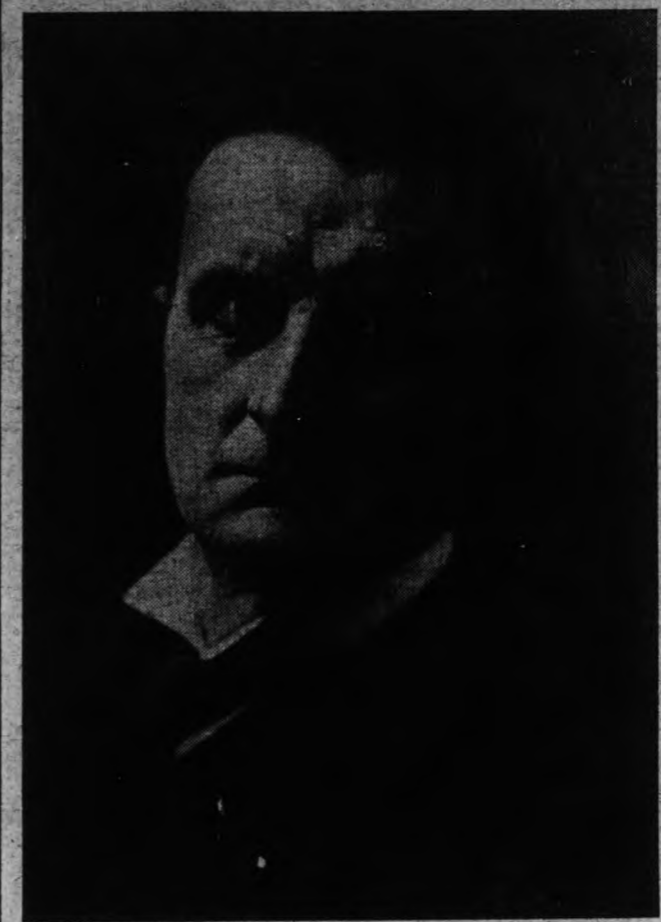

From time immemorial the frogs have made this annual migration at this same season from the lower to the upper lake. They might follow the waterway connecting the two if they chose, but nobody knows when they discovered an overland crosscut, three miles long, and ever since they have stuck to it.

The fields vanished and the city came. It made no difference to the frogs. They continued to hop stolidly each year over cobble and asphalt, through dust and across macadamized roads, regardless of men and horses, or later of automobiles, bent only on their solemn purpose. What impulse or signal determines the migration is unknown. Apparently the army has no leader and it does no foraging on the march.

TRUCE IS CONTINUED.

New York, July 24.—The truce between the eastern railroads and their conductors and trainmen pending attempts to adjust labor differences, continued today but the employees showed that they were growing restive. The delay in settling terms of arbitration, they say, is costing the unions $8,000 a day. The men said today that they were not satisfied with the concessions made yesterday by the railroad managers.

MISTAKEN SHOOTING FOLLOWING MURDER

Police Return Shots of Man Who Fires Instead of Surrendering.

Newark, N. J., July 24.—William Butler, of Kenilville, was shot and killed today at Dover by police officers, who mistook him for William Corduran, husband of the woman who was murdered Tuesday night at her home in Newark. Corduran was arrested shortly afterward near the scene of the shooting. The police theory is that he killed his wife by forcing a sharp rat taff into the roof of her mouth into her brain. The woman's husband disappeared after the murder, and the police learned that he had gone to the house of a friend near the race track. The story is that as they waited outside they saw a man who in the darkness looked like Corduran. They called to him to surrender, but instead of doing so he fired at them.

BRITISH ISLES ARE NOT INVULNERABLE

Attacking Party Landed on East Coast
During Annual Naval Manoeuvres.

London, July 24.—Germans, represented by the "red fleet" in the annual manoeuvres of the British navy raised in progress in British waters noted the east coast of Great Britain this morning and landed troops in the neighborhood of the Humber. After the warships had engaged and defeated the defending fleet, four transports laden with soldiers ran the blockade which had been established and upset the cherished belief of the British admiralty that the British Isles were invulnerable.

Vice-Admiral Sir John Jellicoe commanded the fleet representing the enemy which made the successful descent on the coast.

MOON RAINBOW SEEN BY UNIONVILLE MAN

Meteorologist of Standing Tells of Phenomenon in Heavens
Last Night.

Hartford, Conn., July 24.—A moon rainbow appeared at 10:45 o'clock last night and was seen here by M. R. Friable, of Unionville, church member and citizen with no anatomical affiliations and a meteorologist of standing. He says he saw it, and testifies as follows:

"About 10:30 in the evening heavy black clouds rolled up from the south-west, followed by vivid flashes of lightning, heavy thunder and a down-pour of rain. The shower lasted but a few minutes, and the clouds passed overhead very rapidly, as everyone who saw the storm will remember.

"The moon broke through the clouds about 10:45, and immediately a perfect rainbow appeared in the north-east brilliant and conspicuous against the heavy background of storm clouds. There was no positive colors noticeable, only a wonderful band of light, curving in an arc from the horizon upward and back again and lasting distinctly about two minutes."

DIAMOND STOCKINGS WORN BY ANNA HELD

London, July 24.—Stockings at $5,000 a pair are, mercifully, not likely to become universally popular, and it is improbable that the fashion which the ever fascinating Miss Anna Held set at the London opera house will find many devotees. The explanation of the value attached to that portion of Miss Held's attire is that they are openwork but, where, so to speak, the openwork usually is, diamonds have been inset. In making a triumphant return to London, Miss Held sang "Oh, You Beautiful Doll," and other songs in French and English with her famous gdash and chic.

BRITAIN WATCHING AFFAIRS IN MEXICO

Sir Edward Grey Keeping in Communication in Case
Warship is Needed

NO REPORTS OF DANGER RECEIVED FROM CONSUL

Constitutionalists Would Not Hear of United States Mediation in Republic

ELECTION UNDER ARMS WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE

London, July 24.—Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, is keeping in communication with the British admiralty in case the presence of a British warship in Mexican waters should be considered advisable. Thus far, however, the British minister in Mexico City has not reported British subjects in danger.

It was pointed out by the foreign office today that the British subjects in Mexico, in common with other foreigners, have suffered from the continued disturbances.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—Discussion of the Mexican situation today turned toward proposals that the United States act as a mediator while elections are held and a constitutional government established. Although such suggestions have at various times been made to President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and members of congress by persons in this country and Mexico, the proposition has never reached the stage of serious consideration because of the insistent attitude of the constitutionalists that they would not entertain mediation under any circumstances.

"Who will guarantee the honesty of an election? The only guarantee we can have is to take possession of the government by arms, put in a provisional president and hold elections when the country is pacified. Elections with most of the country up in arms would be impossible."

This was the answer of the constitutionalist representatives here today to reports that mediation was about to be undertaken through the offices of the United States.

The constitutionalists profess to see in such a proposal an effort on the part of the Huerta government to secure a suspension of hostilities during which it would take retaliatory measures to suppress the constitutionalists' cause. The constitutionalists point out that the same kind of proposals were repeatedly made in the declining days of the Diaz administration.

TURKS SEND REPLY AND CROSS FRONTIER

Claim Reoccupation of Adrianople Due to Atrocities of Their Balkan Enemy.

Constantinople, July 24.—The Ottoman government in replying today to the Bulgarian protest against Turkey's alleged violation of the Treaty of London, claims that the advance of the Turkish troops was impelled by Bulgarian atrocities.

It expresses the hope that Bulgaria will recognize the reasonableness of Turkey's re-occupation of Adrianople and will help to restore friendly relations by a display of similar pacific sentiments to those animating Turkey.

Vienna, July 24.—Turkish forces have crossed the Bulgarian frontier, according to reports received here today, and are now marching on Jamboult, a Bulgarian town on the Tuna river, fifty-six miles north of Adrianople.

London, July 24.—A telegram was received this morning from the Bulgarian minister at Paris reporting that Turkish troops had entered the Bulgarian town of Philippopolis, that the populace was fleeing and the situation was desperate.

SEVEN ARE KILLED IN ST. HILAIRE EXPLOSION

St. Hilaire, Que., July 24.—A terrible explosion took place at 11:30 this morning at the works of the Canadian Explosives Company, Ltd., near Biopiant, about one mile and a half from St. Hilaire railway station, resulting in the death of seven of the employees. Four men and three girls were killed and injuries of a more or less serious character to a number of others resulted. All details are not yet available, but so far as can be ascertained the explosion took place in the building in which the girls handle the nitroglycerine.

UNIVERSITY AID TO OVERSEA SETTLERS

Direct Scottish Emigration From Glasgow to Canada This Season 23,576

Edinburgh, July 24.—It was said by a great man more than half a century ago that the two things requisite for the welfare of the British race were education and emigration. Government and generous individuals alike have nobly assisted the first of these requirements, and in order to aid the second, in view of the vast emigration wave, it has been proposed to establish a British colonial university to train intending settlers and persons destined to become government servants in overseas lands.

The direct Scottish emigration from Glasgow to Canada this season is already 23,576 persons, the average type being described as "very good indeed."

General Booth, speaking of emigration, once said that to be worthy of the name it must be of threefold usefulness. First, it must benefit the individual by raising his life to a new level of hopefulness and endeavor; second, it should relieve the strain of the over-populated motherland, and third, it should serve overseas lands by securing for them people of good character, whom they need in the interests of their development.

It is the want of training and organization alone that causes the disappointment and hardship of many an honest emigrant, and now that government is about to give the subject its earnest attention the danger of further random exodus will surely be averted.

DR. SUN YAT SEN BACKING REBELLION OF CHINESE PROVINCES AGAINST NORTH

sin-Nanking railway crosses the Hwai river, to await the arrival of the Canton expedition, which is expected to land 15,000 troops at Pukow. The government declares that the navy will sink every ship engaged in transporting the Canton expedition if ever it starts.

A manifesto has been issued stripping General Chen Chi Mei, the ex-minister of Commerce, and General Huang Hing, the former generalissimo of the revolutionary army, and now commander of the Southern army, of their ranks and orders, offering a reward to any of their followers who arrest or kill them, and a pardon to all the rebels who surrender, except the leaders.

President Yuan Shi Kai's firm determination to suppress the rebellion, in restoring confidence to the wavering Chinese, and has elicited the approval of all the legations, with the exception of the Russian and Japanese.

The Chinese government protests in bitter terms that the rebels have been enabled to perfect their plans through the existence of the system of foreign settlements and concessions, and that if the system did not exist the rebellion would not have occurred.

Shanghai, July 24.—Southern rebels, reported to number 3,000, attacked Kiang Nan arsenal at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. The defenders, not exceeding 2,000, were strongly entrenched and, assisted by the navy, repelled the attacks. The fighting lasted until 7.30 o'clock. According to the estimates, 600 rebels were killed.

Another attack was repelled at 1 o'clock yesterday, the Southerners being unable to gain any ground, an only 200 were engaged in the attack, but their casualties largely exceeded the official estimate. Many of those killed were civilians.

The attacks were delivered simultaneously from three sides. The thick vegetation and insufficient men prevented the garrison from attempting a sortie and enabled the rebels to fall back on their camps and reorganize their forces.

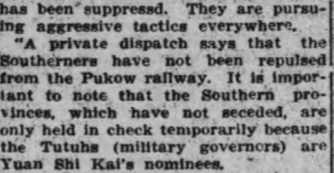

Reports are current that Japanese are fighting in the Southern ranks. Foreign volunteers were called out to guard the settlement. A few shells burst in the French concession, and one French man and several Chinese were injured. The latest estimates place the casualties at 1,000, for the most part innocent peasant. The flag-ship Hai Chu found a deadly fire on the attacking forces, raking the plain north of the arsenal. Three other cruisers and a gunboat scattered their fire in the same direction.

It is expected that a foreign naval brigade will be landed. Volunteers are erecting barricades around the approaches to the settlement.

Many shells from the arsenal fell into the French concession, damaging the houses and more damage was done to the Chinese city. Many of the Southerners fled to the French concession, where the police disarmed them.

It is reported that the French consul will intervene owing to the damage sustained in the French quarter. The French man was wounded.

In view of the danger to the British settlement, the Shanghai Mercury demands that the Powers shall arrange for a neutral zone.

London, July 24.—The Peking correspondent of The Daily Mail sends this message to-night:

"The declaration of martial law here shows that the Northern government admits its desperate position. This synchronizes with the creation of a complete confederate government at Nanking. Parliament has not yet been dissolved, but it is unlikely that it will survive a week. The principal newspaper of the Non-Kwang party has been suppressed. They are pursuing aggressive tactics everywhere.

"A private dispatch says that the Southerners have not been repulsed from the Pukow railway. It is important to note that the Southern provinces, which have not succeeded, are only held in check temporarily because the Tatuhs (military governors) are Yuan Shi Kai's nominees.

"All indications point to a great explosion in Ku Peh province. There is a general reluctance among the mercantile classes to hazard their lives and fortunes, but the iron will of the Southern forces must shortly bring all into line. The problem is insoluble, save by the fall of the present regime.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former provincial president, issued a manifesto last night irrevocably backing the rebellion. He makes three appeals. In the first to Yuan Shi Kai, he reviews the situation in the Southern provinces and declares that just resistance to tyranny is no rebellion. He concluded:

"I am determined to oppose you as firmly as I did the Manchus. Retirement is absolutely your only course in the face of the crisis."

"The other appeals are addressed to the officials and the people, and are in the same strain. Dr. Sun Yat Sen said: "This fight will continue if it takes ten years. I stake my life on the outcome."

Peking, China, July 24.—The government professes to view the revolution movement in the South without alarm.

Southern troops from Nanking, known as the Yuan expedition, have suffered a fresh reverse, and have retreated from Show Fu taking up a strong position at Linwakwan, in the province of Anwei, where the Tient-

AUSTRALIAN SQUATTERS PREFER BREEDING SHEEP

Export of Beef to America Will Never Reach Startling Proportions Says Grazer.

Seattle, July 24.—"The importation of beef from Australia will never assume any startling proportions," declared J. M. Campbell, a wealthy grazer of the Antipodes last night, "for the reason that practically all the Australians controlling stations are devoting their time to raising mutton. Mr. Campbell, accompanied by his wife, arrived on the Makura, and came to Seattle last night.

"Australian stations are being given over more and more each year to sheep raising," he said. "The herds are not making any noticeable increase, while the flocks are rapidly increasing. Australian mutton is now sold in Chicago and New York markets, as well as throughout the interior of the United States and Canada.

"Should the United States take the duty of ten cents per pound of wool, sheep raising in Australia would be still more lucrative. Although recent shipments of beef have been made to San Francisco and the Sound ports, I do not anticipate any heavy export trade. Flock raising is too profitable."

BANDITS BESIEGING AMERICANS AT MADERA

El Paso, Tex., July 24.—Huddled in two houses on the main street of Madera, Mex., the Americans besieged by bandits had been reduced practically to starvation when a messenger left there fourteen days ago. He arrived yesterday and said the bandits had surrounded the town, bent on the murder of the Americans for the protection they had given cowboys who attacked and killed two members of the bandit band while stealing cattle. The bandits were firing into the little settlement at intervals, he said, the day he left.

The messenger said all canned goods had been exhausted when he left and that the Americans had been reduced to subsistence on meal and a little flour. There are a number of Englishmen and other foreigners in addition to the Americans.

HOLD INVESTIGATION IN BINGHAMTON FIRE

Binghamton, N. Y., July 24.—State and local authorities to-day began an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the fire in the factory of the Binghamton Clothing Company, in which at least fifty persons, mostly women and girls, lost their lives.

Workmen continued to search the ruins of the burned factory building. Of the 28 bodies thus far recovered only three have been identified. The others are burned beyond possibility of recognition and will be buried in a plot to be set apart by the city for the unidentified dead. Of those in the hospital, four are so badly injured that their recovery is not expected. Beside the known dead, 34 have been reported missing and probably are dead. Fifty-four survivors have been accounted for.

JAPANESE JUNK IS SAFE WHILE AT SEA

Must Come in Three Mile Limit to Provision and May Then Be Seized

Vancouver, July 24.—Sharp watch is being kept on the movements of the mysterious Japanese junk, which landed eleven contraband Japanese at Bella Bella, Vancouver Island, who were captured and are to be deported. The vessel scurried away before a good breeze when it was found the customs officers and police had rounded up the men who landed to provision her at that point. The fisheries patrol boat, which was commissioned by the late William Jolliffe, Captain Newcombe, Prince Rupert to start in pursuit of the Japanese boat, is on her heels, and a United States patrol boat has been sent north to search for her.

When the junk put out to sea from Bella Bella her skipper evidently knew what he was doing, for according to marine law he is safe from interference so long as he remains outside the three-mile limit. Neither the William Jolliffe nor the United States vessel can molest them outside that limit without causing international complications, although admissions from the captured Orientals lead to the suspicion that this is not the first Japanese vessel to land Japanese without passing inspection of the immigration officials.

There is, according to marine authorities, but one way to apprehend the Japanese junk, which is to starve them out. They ran into Bella Bella for provisions, and did not have much time to get supplies, and if the patrol boats now in pursuit succeed in sighting the antiquated craft, they need only to keep her in sight until the skipper is forced to come within the three-mile limit for supplies, and then arrest her.

The investigation of the case by Immigration Commissioner Reid was continued yesterday and further evidence was secured as to the terms upon which the travellers on the junk set out their passage. It was completely shown that they were bound for the United States, and not for a Canadian port, and also that they were all military reservists of the first class. No decision has yet been reached as to the disposition of the men, but they will undoubtedly be deported at the first opportunity, and it is also probable that upon their arrival in Japan they will be placed on trial for having evaded the national law in leaving their native country without passports.

The officials of the Japanese consulates in Vancouver are doing all in their power to assist the officials of both Canada and the United States in capturing the captain who has set at defiance the comity of nations by endeavoring to smuggle his countrymen into America regardless of international agreements.

BEGIN TO WHISPER BONAR LAW MUST GO

Unionists Sorry They Lost Balfour as Leader; King George is a Hard-Working Ruler

(Special Correspondence.)

London, July 23.—"O for a man with a heart, head, hand in the prayer, uttered or unexpressed of the Tories and verily their need is great. Not so very long ago the cry of 'Balfour must go,' was raised and Balfour, head and shoulders above his successor, went. Now the refrain 'Bonar Law must go' is being whispered in various disaffected quarters, and it is certainly more likely to gain in strength than to tremble away into silence as time goes on. Significant were the utterances at Prince's restaurant the other night at the annual Chamberlain dinner. Mr. W. A. S. Hawkins, M. P., could think of nothing more important in the present critical state of British politics than the celebration of the birthday of such a man as the Right Honorable Joseph Chamberlain for there never was a time when the Tory party more sorely needed strong men. Lord Amptkill, who was formerly 'Joe's' private secretary at the colonial office said inter alia that what he felt most strongly about his late chief was that he was above all things a strong man and the thing most bitterly missed and longed for just now was a man at the head of affairs, who judged a question from the point of view of common sense and good faith, who when he had said a thing should be done would not go back on it, who having once set his course would hold on to it and never give way to any puff of contrary wind whether proceeding from the quarter of public opinion or private intrigue. None so pleasant hearing for the present leader of the Tory party. What is to be their programme, and who is to voice it? That is the question.

Tariff reform was the plank, but one needs a microscope to find reference to it in the Conservative papers nowadays. With trade returns month after month and year after year on the expanding grade the people of this country have as much use for tariff reform as they have for fricasseed frogs. When the beam tips the other way and, of course, it will sooner or later, they may cease to turn a deaf ear to the voice of the charmer when the Tories have decided who he is to be and what he is to say. They have been singularly unfortunate of late. By the untimely death of Alfred Lyttleton and George Wyndham they lost two brilliant men, richly endowed and replete with good gifts in the House and out of it. Both or either of them would certainly have come to the fore. And now Mr. Walter Long is seriously ill. As they by any chance looking to Winston? Who knows?

The Naval Manoeuvres.

No less than 50,000 men in 346 ships of war, about 60 per cent. of Britain's effective naval strength, are to take part in the mimic fight commencing on the 22nd inst. As usual the opposing forces will be designated "Red" and "Blue," and the problem to be solved will be much the same as it was last year. It may briefly be stated as follows: "The 'Red' fleet is to disposition of the fleet in time of peace calculated to expose the East Coast to the possibility of a sudden raid." The question of serious invasion is not being taken into account for it is considered that such an operation could only be effected consequent upon the complete rout of the navy, and that is not regarded by those responsible as coming within the purview of practical politics. On the other hand it is realized that quite possibly the disposition of the fleet, or fleets, for there are several, might leave the east coast open "on a small scale" to attack. Though not one naval man in a hundred believes it could be successfully made. The "Red" fleet is to make the attempt, the "Blue" to frustrate it. I am willing to back the "Blue," but so far have found no takers.

Monsieur Poincare Entertains.

London eastenders who rarely have an opportunity of dining not wisely or too well were the guests on Wednesday last of the French president, and now probably appreciate the entente cordiale far more heartily than they did. Each guest, to the number of 2,500, received as to the entered the dining assembly hall a paper bag containing a veal and ham pie, a roll, a mince pie and a pound of currant cake, to be washed down with oceans of tea. It was noticeable that a very large proportion solemnly munched the dry roll and took away the tasted viands to be "consumed off the premises," probably by sick or needier relatives. An incident not lacking in pathos.

The Lord Mayor of London resplendent in scarlet and gold presided, and told how prior to the president's departure M. Poincare had given him £200 for the benefit of London poor. After paying for the repast to 2,500 people the balance (and I don't see how there is going to be any) is to be devoted to giving poor children a day in the country. I wonder how many of the president's guests had previously heard of his existence.

The King, God Bless Him!

Never was there a more indefatigable worker than his most gracious majesty George V. He and the Queen, who is no less untiring, started on Tuesday on their tour through the industrial districts of Lancashire, and for the next fortnight will be "hard at it" visiting factories receiving addresses and deputations (we trust not conferring knighthoods) with scarce a moment's breathing space between. The King means to know his England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland as he knows the rest of his empire, and that is thoroughly. He is unquestionably right. Quite apart from other considerations—that way lies popularity, Mark my words George V. is going to

SCULPTOR AT WORK ON QUEEN VICTORIA STATUE

London, July 24.—Albert Bruce-Joy, the distinguished sculptor, informs the Canadian Associated Press that he is now at work on a large statue of Queen Victoria, which is to be erected in front of the parliament buildings at Victoria, B. C., the commission having been given by the British Columbia government. The statue will be about thirteen feet high and will stand on a pedestal seven feet in height, representing the Queen as she appeared soon after her accession to the throne, crowned and bearing a sceptre on her right arm.

STOMACH TROUBLES DUE TO ACIDITY

So Says Eminent Specialist.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, stomach-ache and inability to retain food, instead of indicating that the stomach is out of order are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as "heartburn," while the acids irritate and inflame the delicate lining of the stomach. The stomach, however, is not at fault. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may involve the most serious consequences if not prevented. To prevent or stop fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia, probably the best and most effective antacid known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, neutralizes the acid, and in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisulphate of magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. FOOLING THE PEOPLE A PART OF THE TIME

No wonder the Republican Senators seem to be just as anxious as Democrats to adopt a substantial measure of tariff reform. The fact has just been revealed through a Congressional investigation that the National Association of Manufacturers practically framed the Republican platform of 1908. Although the Republican party was then elected on a tariff reform platform, it reformed the tariff upward instead of downward. Public opinion has been so aroused by the latest revelations that the party feels it must do something to set itself right in the esteem of the voters. But the manufacturers did more than frame the Republican platform. They maintained a lobby in the House at a cost of from half a million to a million dollars to keep the legislators in line with their views.

The manufacturers of Canada are not a whit behind their neighbors in the United States in this to them essential matter of controlling the legislature. There is now no question about the fact of the manufacturers shaping the policy of the Borden government. They directed the campaign against reciprocity and subscribed the funds that were not the least of the factors in the fight. They waved the old flag with enthusiasm, shouted "no truck or trade with the Yankees," and now they are just as emphatic in declaring that Canada must firmly maintain the barriers against British trade. If they dared they would compel the government they control to raise the tariff as "high as Haman's gallows," but they are discreet enough to see that in face of the revelations in the United States it is just as well to "let well enough alone." In the meantime the combines and the trusts and the mergers are working their will upon a duped and deceived people.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

The chief magistrate and some of the aldermen of Canada's greatest city are visiting Victoria, following their attendance of the municipal convention recently held at Saskatoon. They have acted wisely in extending their trip to the coast, for the concerns of Montreal affect the whole dominion more intimately than those of any other single community. Montreal is the commercial capital of the country. It is the headquarters of Canada's premier transportation systems and of many important financial institutions doing a large business in this province. Its historical associations are fresh in the minds of our school children, because the early history of Montreal was largely the early history of Canada. In short, it is the big brother of the municipal family, and it is quite fitting, therefore, that its administrators should pay us a fraternal visit.

The civic administration of Montreal is no picnic. Conditions exist there with which our western cities are wholly unfamiliar. The population is composed mainly of French and English speaking elements, the former largely predominating. The composition of the council and board of control reflect generally the composition of the population, but all are imbued with the common desire to keep their big charge in the forefront of Canadian municipalities.

a small town, but it is hopelessly inadequate for present conditions. The Times knows that it speaks for the whole body of our citizens in heartily welcoming Mayor Lavallee and party to the city, and in expressing the hope that their visit here will be most enjoyable and profitable.

IMPORTANT WORK.

The various public bodies of Vancouver Island should urge upon the federal government to continue with all dispatch the geological and topographical survey of the island which has been in progress for five years. This was systematically begun by a very capable staff, the chief topographer being borrowed from the United States survey for the purpose. That officer has since returned to Washington and this branch, for the present, at any rate, has been discontinued. Fortunately there remains some time before the geologists who are still working on the island can catch up with the topographical sheets, but there is a danger of the whole work being abandoned when this is done.

The matter is too important to allow to lapse and an assurance should be obtained from the Minister of Mines that the work will be prosecuted without unnecessary delay. Excellent progress has characterized the operations to date, although, unfortunately a congested printing bureau at the federal capital is a long way behind in the production of the maps.

IN HOLLAND AND RUSSIA.

British papers announce that the Furness Shipping and Agency Company contemplate putting down a large shipbuilding and repairing plant at Rotterdam. The company already has purchased a considerable tract of land for the purpose. A dispatch from St. Petersburg to "Engineering," says: "The Imperial Decree for the establishment of gun works in Zarzin, in Russia, by Russian bankers in co-operation with Messrs. Vickers, Ltd., has just been signed by the Emperor. The capital of the company is to be £1,500,000 sterling, and the construction of the new works has already been commenced, the company having secured important orders for guns of large and small calibre."

Thus we see that a British shipbuilding firm is about to establish a large branch in Holland and a British armament company will co-operate with the Russian government in installing gun works in Russia. We presume the Furness Company will construct battleships at Rotterdam. Although Holland has to protect itself from the encroachments of the sea by dykes, the difficulty of obtaining ground solid enough to bear a plant, which Churchill says Canada lacks, evidently is negligible. Holland also must be fortunate in the possession of an ample number of trained riveters and special workmen, which, again according to Mr. Churchill, Canada lacks.

Champ Clark, Speaker of U. S. House of Representatives, also rises to explain that he lectures and takes pay for his discourses because he wishes to lay by something for a rainy day. If he attempted to live and save on the beggarly salary he receives from a niggardly country, there is a danger that he might die in the poorhouse of his native country. American statesmen are becoming quite anxious about their future. Witness the case of Secretary of State Bryan, who claims twelve thousand a year is not sufficient to enable him to save a dollar or two and that he positively must supplement his meagre stipend by selling his words of wisdom to the students of the Chautauqua Circle. The United States ought to adopt an old age pension system.

The death of James Conmee, ex-M. P. for Rainy River, removes a picturesque figure from among the public men of the dominion. For many years before his return to the House of Commons he served in the Ontario Legislature. Although handicapped from the standpoint of early educational advantages, he developed in time into one of the most formidable debaters in parliament and was regarded by the ablest members as a dangerous man to cross swords with. He was a born fighter, and although he often received hard knocks he always returned them with interest. Mr. Conmee had a genial disposition which won him wide popularity even among those opponents upon whom he most frequently turned his batteries.

The Liberals of St. Pancras East have passed a vote of censure on a gentleman by the name of Joseph Martin for voting in the House of Commons against the government. Have not the Liberals of St. Pancras known Joe long enough to understand that he is too sturdy and independent in character to allow himself to be tied to the coat tails or any other part of any government or any party? Although the member for St. Pancras East is not an Irishman, he just naturally cannot help being agin' a gov-

Government or anything else which is ought to be a unit. Discussing the conditions under which Australia is building up and maintaining an effective naval unit in the south seas, the Colonist asks if the Times would favor the creation of similar conditions with a similar end in view. We gather from the attitude of the morning paper that it does not believe Canada can ever hope to emulate the example of the Commonwealth. Ergo, the Colonist favors permanent contributions to the British navy and is opposed to the creation of a Canadian naval unit on the Pacific.

"As is well known, Sir Donald has always taken the keenest interest in the problem of Canada's participation in naval defence,"—Colonist. All Canadians should interest themselves in the problem of Canada's participation in naval defence. We trust that Sir Donald will use his influence towards the protection of the large interests on this coast, which include the extensive enterprises of his own company.

A short time ago our contemporary said it favored a Canadian navy as a permanent policy. We hope it will join with us in urging this upon the minister who is now in the city. It would never do for him to carry away the impression that a Victoria newspaper is opposed to the establishment of a fleet unit on the Pacific coast.

Mr. Crothers failed to settle the coal strike; Mr. Foster failed to arrange a reciprocity treaty with Australia, and is now trying his luck in the Orient. Let us hope Mr. White does not add to the list of failures in his flirtation with the London money market.

NO-SURRENDER OATES.

No poet now alive sings of courage more convincingly than Mr. Frank Taylor, says the Literary Digest. He has a subject decidedly to his taste in the following lines (which are taken from the London Spectator), and his treatment of it is admirable in its vigor and brevity. The proper names refer to actions in which the Sixth (Inniskilling) Dragoons were concerned.

"It was blowing a blizzard. Oates said: 'I am just going outside, and I may be some time.' He went out into the blizzard and we have not seen him since."—The Diary of Captain Scott. The swift, earth-shaking tumult, and the shout of close-knit squadrons riding hard and home. That he went out.

For him no trumpets called with jubilant blast, Alone into the solitude he passed, Yet not alone.

For joyfully the long line of his peers, Most joyously those stanch old bands and true, Which rode at Balaklava in far years, and Waterloo,

Warburg, and Paardeberg, and Dettingen, Watched him go out into the deathly wild— Ay, many valiant souls of mighty men Saw that, and smiled.

FLAG INCIDENTS.

(From the Lethbridge News.) It may be an evidence of poor taste on the part of the man who parades the foreign flag to do so, but it is even worse manners on the part of the people who assault him. The man with the flag possibly imagines he is doing something that will glorify his native country, while the fellows who knock him about may think they are doing signal service thereby for King George and the Empire. Both are mistaken.

THE EMBARRASSMENT OF IGNORANCE

A group of women were sitting on a hotel porch discussing themselves. "I have one of chiffon-cloth," said one woman. "Mine is point d'esprit, I think it is so much daintier," said another. "Mine has the cutest little rosebuds on it," said a third. And so the stream of comments ran on. Finally a new voice joined with the question, "What are you all talking about? What is a 'game-sole'?" Every face was turned toward the questioner. The gentle stream changed to a torrent of inquiries. "Don't you know? Where have you been? Where are your eyes? Haven't you read the papers?" etc. There is nothing so embarrassing as a woman as finding herself ignorant of some new thing that her friends are not only discussing but wearing. If this woman had read the advertisements of the good newspapers regularly she could never have overlooked the existence of game-soles. Do you know what game-soles are? If you don't you may find yourself in a bad position at any moment. Better begin now to read the advertising columns regularly so that you won't be caught in a similar predicament on that or any other subject of apparel.

SPEAKS OF IMMIGRATION

Dr. Polesant, Montreal, Says Italians Are Good but Roumanians Unwelcome.

Now that the subject of immigration is occupying the attention of people in this province, the remarks of Dr. J. C. Polesant, who has observed conditions closely in his own city of Montreal at the other end of the continent, will be apropos to the season.

Dr. Polesant, who is an alderman of the city of Montreal, is here with Mayor Lavallee and the other members of the deputation to the Winnipeg convention. In his civic position, coupled with his experience as a medical man and his consequent visitations among the houses of the poorer quarters of the city he is able to base his observations on the solid foundations of actual facts.

He said this morning: "Montreal benefits largely from immigration, the greater part of which comes from the British Isles. Along with natural increase, the annual increment per year in the neighborhood of sixty or seventy thousand souls. At this rate we hope to have before very long a standing population of a million people."

Roumanians Bad. Speaking of the various brands of immigrants which flock into the great eastern port every year, Dr. Polesant said:

"We get a very large number of Italians, increasingly so every year; for those who have already settled and are doing well, write to their friends inviting them to come too. On the whole these people are a distinctly valuable adjunct to the population. They are for the most part decent living men, and work and save very well indeed. Many of them have managed to save sufficient to buy some property and are now doing well.

"On the other hand we have many peasants arrive in our city from Roumania. These men are bad citizens and do no good to the city. For the most part they live in houses that are grossly overcrowded, fifteen or sixteen people to one small dwelling house, and the conditions are very bad. In my work as doctor I have seen the manner in which they have been hived, and it was not good."

In spite of reports of financial stringency and poor business, Dr. Polesant is firmly assured of Canada's prosperity, of which he believes there is just as much back east as there is in the west.

"Property is no higher in price there," he said, "and I venture to think that its value rests on a very stable foundation."

Tea and Rest Room.—Final arrangements for opening a tea and rest room in the big hall of the Alexandra Club, during carnival week will be made at a meeting Monday of the Local Council of women and affiliated bodies in the Alexandra Club at 2:15 p. m.

Miller, of Aymer, Ontario, supreme president, the supreme secretary, John W. Carter, of Toronto, and J. R. Watts, district deputy supreme president, of Vancouver.

EACH TO ITS OWN.

Because I cannot fly No angry grouch have I; To birds I'll leave the air; And joy that on the street Two fairly nimble feet Will take me anywhere.

You'll never see me weep Because I cannot swoop The depths as fishes free. To them I'll leave the seas And all that in them is. The water's not for me.

But here upon the land, With sweets on every hand, Contented with my lot, I'll take what comes my way And thank God every day For troubles I have not.

HELD FINE FLOWER SHOW Colwood Women's Instit. Has First Exhibit in Province of School Gardening.

The third annual flower show of the Colwood Women's Institute was opened on Tuesday afternoon under the most auspicious circumstances by Mrs. Hutchison, president of the Royal Oak Institute. In a few well chosen words Mrs. Hutchison congratulated the members on the excellent of their exhibits and declared the flower show open. The institute were fortunate in securing Mr. Tomper, of the Luxton green houses, to act as judge and thanks are due him for the efficient manner in which the exhibits were judged.

Among those fortunate in capturing prizes were: Mercedes Bleckford, Parker, Gregory, Peat, Clements, Stockand, Zala, Veness, Bernard, Hall, Lohr, Pike, Goodall, Alkman, Hallow, Ruddle, Beckett and Shields.

The government prizes were awarded as follows: First, Mrs. H. Parker for best collection sweet peas; second, Mrs. Bleckford for best collection cut flowers.

A special feature was the number of dainty decorated tea tables. First prize and special going to Mrs. Ruddle and Mrs. Beckett; second, Mrs. Bleckford.

Two long tables, of which the members were justly proud, were devoted to school gardening. This is the first exhibit of this kind shown in British Columbia and the excellent collection of flowers and vegetables testifies to the interest taken by the children. Alfred Lohr, captured for the Colwood school, the silver cup presented by R. Forter for the best collection of vegetables. This cup has to be won three years in succession to become the final property of the school.

Milton Alkman, of Highland, took second prize for vegetables. It is the ambition of this institute to make their school one of the most model and attractive ones in the province. To further this end a lady who is an institute member has been elected trustee.

During the afternoon Mrs. Lohr and Mrs. Veness served tea in the daintily decorated tea rooms. In the evening R. H. Pooley, M. P. P., acted as chairman and also presented the prizes to the successful exhibitors. A short programme of songs and sketches brought to a close a most pleasant day.

The members wish to thank all those who came from Victoria and the surrounding districts and who in any way contributed to the success of the flower show.

Fletcher's Great Midsummer Sale of Pianos

By Midsummer each season we are in receipt of a large number of Pianos that have been out to rent or that have been turned in in exchange. In many instances these instruments are almost like new, and with the minor overhauling and tuning that may be necessary, they cannot be distinguished, either in appearance or action, from brand new instruments. In fact, if anything, they are more satisfactory in that they have been limbered up. One of these instruments, purchased on our easy terms, gives you a first-class Piano at just a fraction of what a new one would cost. There are few better opportunities for gratifying your longing to have a Piano in the home without laying out more money than you feel you can afford at this time.

The Big Sale Began This Morning

And we expect to see the last instrument taken by Saturday evening. If you want one of these Pianos, we would suggest that you come early, because we know from experience, that there will be a keen demand for them, and, of course, we play no favorites; it's a case of first come, first served.

There are some particularly good bargains in this lot of Pianos, and every instrument has been tested and is in the best possible condition, ready for immediate transfer to home or apartment. The makes include

GERHARD HEINTZMAN STEINWAY NORDHEIMER HEINTZMAN & CO. CHICKERING

Not one of these instruments has a blemish on it, and the prices have been reduced to the very minimum in every instance to insure quick action. Thus, instruments that originally cost $700 to $800 will be sold at from $350 to $400, a Player-Piano that originally cost $1000 will go for the absurd price of $475. Pianos will be sold at as little as $90.

This Will Be a Rare Opportunity for All. Arr. Reasonable Terms Will Be Accepted.

The members wish to thank all those who came from Victoria and the surrounding districts and who in any way contributed to the success of the flower show. Mr. Arthur T. Shand, who is now at The Empress Hotel, is the special representative of the Guinness Brewery, Ireland, makers of the famous Guinness's Stout. His mission is to study the causes that have brought such a phenomenal demand for Guinness's Stout in the Dominion and to report in the most exhaustive manner what the future development and growth of the Dominion will be, as seen from personal contact and student observation of affairs, industries, and trade conditions throughout every section of Canada. There seems to be a mutual bond of interest between the Dominion and the Guinness concern, both being able to show unprecedented records in the way of increasing prosperity and trade expansion. The figures of the Guinness business read like a tax budget, while the demand and consumption of the product lead the world's output by three to one of the largest brewery in the United States.

CASH OFFER FOR THE BEES

CLUB MAY CHANGE HANDS

Geo. Young After Franchise; Willing to Invest Thousands; Senators Still Slumping

A deal whereby the controlling interest in the Victoria Baseball Club will be transferred from the present owners to George Young, of the firm of Copas & Young, Fort Street, may be completed to-day. A cash offer for the Victoria franchise was wired to the owners of the Victoria team, T. P. McConnell and L. A. Wattlelet, and as the offer is a very generous one, it is expected that the sale will be completed in a few days.

Mr. Young is deeply interested in the local club and a week or so ago, had an interview with Messrs. Wattlelet and McConnell, regarding a deal for the franchise. He even went so far as to bring a baseball expert over from Vancouver to look over the ground and while the report of that gentleman was not any too bright as to the present state of the club's effectiveness, Mr. Young did not drop the proposition altogether.

Should the club change hands, it is the intention of Mr. Young to go out after new material that will strengthen the club at once. A couple of good right-handed twirlers are in view, and a capable playing manager will be secured at once. A general shakeup in the team will be made to produce a winning club and some of the present aggregation will go if they cannot show better ball.

According to recent information from Seattle, it is now learned that the Bees will only have half a week here during the Carnival festivities. The Seattle club has refused to give Victoria three games in the Capital and the Bees will perform at Seattle for the first half of carnival week. This will be a disappointment to the carnival committee, who had been given to understand that the ball club would be here during the entire week and have billed the team on the daily carnival programme. That the Bees are on the toboggan properly may be judged from the fact that they have won only two games since July 11. They dropped two to Seattle, seven to Vancouver and two to Portland and will be on the road for two more weeks. On July 11 the Bees had a percentage figure of .487, while to-day they are resting one-half game above Tacoma with a mark of .444 a drop of over forty points in less than two weeks.

Though the general opinion appears that Connie Mack is having an easier time winning the American pennant than McGraw is in the National, the standing of these two clubs show that McGraw has a bigger lead than the Athletics, while the club is playing far better ball. On the other hand the Mackmen have started to slump and have dropped fifty points of their lead over Cleveland in the last month.

LYNCH SUSPENDED FOR THREE DAYS

Seattle, July 24.—Mike Lynch drew a three days' suspension for insinuating in a scuffle with umpire Toman did not observe the curfew flash of cluster lights. In his efforts to strengthen the Seattle champions, Manager Raymond last evening signed Bobby James, the former third baseman of the Vancouver club. James will play third base. He was drafted from Vancouver last fall by the Southern League, but he did not care to go there. James presence at third will help materially in straightening out the infield which is in a bad way owing to the physical condition of George Hill.

PORTLAND AGAIN

WINS FROM BEES

Locals Score Seven Runs in Last Two Innings; Score 8 to 7

Portland, July 24.—Bert Delmas and his strengthened Victoria team delayed their sprint until just a wee bit too late yesterday afternoon at the ball park and the Pippins walked off with the second game of the present engagement, the final score being 8 to 7, the Pippins having tallied all of their runs in the last two stanzas. It was a thrilling windup and twirler Pat Eastley had the jinx which he carried over the Bees, working overtime. The Victoria club has not beaten this slab artist in an age, but they looked like winners yesterday. Swain, whose hitting was a big factor in the Victoria win on Tuesday, failed to come through with Meek on second when a hit would have tied the score.

Both teams indulged in quite a bit of free hitting. Harry Meek and Charlie Swain getting a brace of two-baggers apiece, while the teams were even up on the number of safe blows, the twirlers allowing eleven safe hits to each club. Eastley kept Victoria at a safe distance until the eighth, when an error followed by three hits, including a double by Swain, cleared the sacks, Swain scoring a moment later. In the ninth a bobble by Coltrin put Eastley in a bad way, and when Harry Meek pounded out a double, bringing Victoria's total to within one run of a tie, things looked bad for Portland. Swain, however, could not connect for a safe hit and hostilities ceased with Portland a one-run winner.

Fitzgerald, the Victoria twirler, went along like a big-leaguer until the sixth, when the Colts began to nick his offerings. He was fairly steady and two of Portland's runs were the result of errors. The fielding on both sides were a bit rocky, Portland especially having an off day. Williams sent Conroy, a Chicago City league backstop, behind the bat and he performed well.

"Iron Man" Joe McGinnity halted the Beavers, being practically invincible, while his team mates touched up two Vancouver twirlers for a total of eighteen hits. The final score was 8 to 7.

BARRIEAU AND O'BRIEN.

Two ten-round bouts, making twenty rounds of boxing in all, will be the programme on Saturday afternoon at Brighthouse Arena. Chet McIntyre last night signed up Ernie Barrieau, the former amateur lightweight champion and Will Darnley, also a Pacific Northwest amateur champion, to meet in the first event, while Young Philadelphia, Jack O'Brien and Frank Barrieau will hook up in the second contest.

AS SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

Bees should have started their sprint earlier. Fitzgerald looks a better batter than a pitcher.

Pat Eastley would not let go that winning hoodoo which he holds over the Bees.

What about Mike Lynch again beating the Tillikums? That old battery of Smith and Grindle looks familiar.

Bob Ingersoll did not last long against the Tacoma batters, while the Iron Man went the whole route.

Charlie Swain has certainly recovered his batting eye, he had a timely double yesterday.

Spokane has lost but five games since Mike Lynch took hold over two weeks ago.

A few more defeats and the Bees will be in fifth place, with the Indians getting closer every day.

Bob Brown's $3,000 beauty was roughly handled yesterday, but at that Ingersoll looked good against the Bees.

To-night's amateur fracas at the Royal Athletic Park between the Hills and Capitals will draw a big crowd.

This fellow Doty works about every other day for Vancouver, and is a good relief hurler.

Bert Lamb's batting has been very timely since he got back into the game again at third base.

Charlie Alberts is slated to twirl one of the games against the Pippins. Given a decent trial in the box Alberts is a nice pitcher.

Fred Clarke and his Pirate crew have run up against a big stumbling block in the shape of the Giants.

Tony Walsh is playing great ball around the initial sack these days and he is also hitting hard. Walsh looks like the best prospect in the league for the majors this season.

That Coast League race is a beauty, with Portland having the edge on the other clubs because of their smooth working infield and pitching staff.

Just as long as Seattle continues to lose and Vancouver drops a game now and then, there are hopes for the Bees.

CANADIANS LOST.

St. Paul, July 24.—The United States retained possession of the Cameron cup of the White Bear international yacht race for another year, when the Nomad, sailed by Den Taylor, crossed the finishing line seven minutes and twenty seconds ahead of the Verve, the representative of the Lake of the Woods Yacht Club. It was in no sense a yacht race, however, as the wind at noon was almost blowing a hurricane, but was dead at the starting time, and the few puffs that rippled the lake made it merely a drifting match.

TO-DAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1903.—Jim Belcher, the Bristol butcher who had won the championship of England by defeating all comers, was knocked out by a ball while playing racquets. Belcher was blinded by the accident, and had to relinquish the title. Joseph Berks, who had been defeated by Jim, claimed the championship, but lost it to Henry Pearce, who in turn was succeeded by Gully and Cribb. Belcher, half blind, sought to recover his laurels by fighting Cribb, and in the early rounds had Cribb almost out, but lost in the end.

1906.—Jack Johnson outpointed Joe Grim in six rounds at Philadelphia.

1907.—Peter Sullivan defeated Cyclone Johnny Thompson in 20 rounds at Ogden.

AGHDOE A WINNER.

London, July 24.—The St. George's stakes, $10,000 for three-year-olds, one mile and three furlongs, was won by F. Fitzgerald's bay colt, Aghdoe, by Farman-Arden, which started at 6 to 1. W. Hall-Walker's Nighthawk, 8 to 1, was second and the Derby winner, A. P. Cunliffe's Aboyeur, which started on odds on favorites at 5 to 4, was third.

SWIMMING MARATHON.

Entries may be made to the secretary of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club for the Marathon race, which is to be held on August 16. The race will start from the J. B. A. A. boathouse and finish at the Gorge, a distance of about three miles.

HIGH SCORES IN WEEK-END MATCHES

London, July 24.—Owing to good weather the first half of this week, all five of the scheduled county cricket matches were brought to a conclusion. Due largely to the fine bowling performance of Woolley, who captured six wickets for thirty-three runs, Kent scored a nine wicket victory over Lancashire, at Maidstone. On their home ground at Birmingham, Warwickshire, had no difficulty in disposing of Derbyshire, winning by an innings and 31 runs. For the winners, Parson contributed a useful 118, while Field (F. E.) took six Derbyshire wickets for 25 runs.

Playing at Portsmouth, Worcestershire suffered defeat at the hands of Hampshire, to the tune of an innings and 20 runs. Abercrombie, for Hampshire, put together 144 before being dismissed, Northamptonshire nosed out a victory over Sussex, at Moreham, by the narrow margin of fifty runs, due to the fine bowling of S. C. Smith and Thompson (G. J.). The former took five wickets for 25 runs, and the latter five, for 21. In the closest and most exciting game of the season, Gloucestershire scored a glorious victory over Yorkshire, at Sheffield, by two runs. For the losers, Drake dismissed eight Gloucestershire for 59 runs.

The match between Middlesex and Surrey, at Kennington Oval, which started Saturday, ended in a draw. For Middlesex P. F. Warner, captain, scored 115 and Tarrant 88. While for Surrey, the old reliable Hobbs, delighted the spectators with a brilliant 144 not out.

'PEG TEAM AFTER CUP.

V. A. C. will have a pretty fair sort of a team to defend the Mann Cup against any challengers in the fall. Besides, a host of capable intermediates the club still has five of its senior players available. Fiesheller, Jack Davis, Art Wright and Gilmour, members of the old V. A. C. team which won the Mann cup, will remain in the amateur ranks, playing on the team which will defend the trophy. Dodger Dodge is also remaining in the amateur ranks.

Winnipeg, July 24.—The three senior lacrosse teams here are working hard to win the championship of the local league, as the winner will travel west for the Mann cup. Not for eight years has there been so much interest shown in lacrosse circles here and the boys are putting up a brand of lacrosse which is fully one hundred per cent better than last year.

AFTER RITCHIE.

Los Angeles, July 24.—Willie Ritchie is in Los Angeles to talk fight with Tom McCarey. The pair expected to get together to discuss a probable match here for the lightweight championship.

Ritchie declared that he was willing to consider any match for Labor Day, and that the highest bidder will get his services, regardless of the opponent selected.

McCarey probably will offer Ritchie a match with Rivers or with the winner of the Cross-Baldwin battle here July 29.

TELLS OF GOVERNMENT OF MONTREAL CITY

Mayor Lavallee, Here on Visit, Explains Present Position of Civic Affairs

The chief citizen of the chiefest city of the Dominion of Canada arrived in the city last night accompanied by three of his aides...

The purpose of their visit to the coast, explained Mayor Lavallee to the Times last evening, was in a measure not a purpose at all...

As is well known, the problem of civic government is exercising the public mind of the great eastern port of entry, the city being divided into camps as to the efficacy of the methods now in vogue...

"We have," said Mayor Lavallee, "two forms of government that are interdependent and yet co-working. Neither of these bodies can do any real civic work individually and alone, and yet they have no absolute connection one with the other."

"On the one hand there is the board of commissioners elected by the people of the city as a whole. They are in number, four, with the mayor as ex-officio president making five. On the other hand there is the council proper, consisting of 21 members elected on the ward system, and the mayor is president of that."

"And what," asked the Times man, "are the varying functions of these two bodies?"

"To put it very briefly," responded Mayor Lavallee with a smile, "the council makes the appropriations for expenditure and the board spends the money. The council has what I might term the legislative part of the business in hand. It approves appropriations generally, and no money can be spent without this body having voted it. Any starting of permanent work is done by the commissioners but the council must first approve of the expenditure."

"Is there not at the present time some discussion as to which form of government would be the best in Montreal?" the mayor was asked.

"The question at issue," answered Mayor Lavallee, "at the present time is whether the ratepayers shall give up representation by ward or not. This is the subject over which the discussion wages. Of course, it is plain to you that no change may be made until a special bill is brought into the provincial legislature authorizing the same. Without that no change could be made."

Travelling Incognito.

Mayor Lavallee confessed that the party was really travelling incognito west of Saskatoon, their official work having ended when they left that city. All the way westward, however, they have been inquiring closely into the various systems of civic government in use and have gathered all available information from the mayors throughout Canada by whom they have been welcomed. In this way they have collected ed much valuable information, for they have toured all the provinces very thoroughly. On their return eastward M. Lapointe, M. P., will stop over at Winnipeg, where he will attend the convention of American Municipalities, of which he is a vice-president. Mayor Lavallee is president of the Union of Canadian Municipalities.

All the party are looking forward to witnessing the arrival of the battleship cruiser New Zealand.

A Historic City.

The history of the town whose chief citizen is a guest here to-day, is positively steeped in romance. From that first remarkable scene, so graphically described by Francis Parkman, when on May 18, 1642, Maisonneuve and his little band of religious enthusiasts landed upon the spot where the customs house now stands, and planted in the woods of saintly Dumont, a grain of mustard seed destined to overshadow the land, the history of the town was to be intimately associated with missionary enterprise and such heroism as the world has rarely seen.

Montreal began as a religious colony, but its very situation on the outer confines of civilization and at the very door of the Iroquois country, forced it to become a military settlement, a fortified town with a military garrison. Similarly its position, even then an ideal one from a commercial point of view, made it the dominating centre of the fur trade.

For a hundred years after its foundation these three influences held sway, more or less mutually antagonistic, the streets of Montreal presenting an animated picture of sombre priests and jovial soldiers, savage hunters in their native finery and more than half savage fur traders. Within another hundred years, although both priests and soldiers were still to be seen on her streets, they had become but atoms in a larger and more varied population. The fur traders of New France, merged after the conquest in the fur trade of the North West Company, which had its origin in Montreal, remained for a time the one picturesque survival of earlier and more romantic days. Finally he too disappeared in the multi-form and strenuous life of the modern city.

Thus in many ways the city of Montreal is the most interesting on the whole continent of America. That its future will be even greater than its past, few can doubt and its people confidently expect a million population before many years have passed into the limbo of things forgotten.

Two Units of Government.

knowledge in their business. I was very much surprised some years ago to see the city putting sand over a flat macadamized road on Cook street, as I was certain it would never form a bond, which has proved quite true, to the sorrow and expense of the ratepayers on this street. It follows responsible for this preferred taking the chance rather than sending a telegram to the Good Roads Association of Eastern Canada and being told how to do it. Men with village ideas willing to experiment in this way should not be elected to represent a beautiful growing city.

I was one of a council responsible for laying cement walks in an eastern town at 8c per square foot, and only last year, in the face of increased wages, they were put down at 7 1/2c per square foot, which proves that work can be done for less money with increased wages if the contractors are specialists in their line and know the various parts of the work where time and money can be saved. The majority of the citizens believe that very extravagant prices have been paid in Victoria for asphalt and cement walks, hence the above.

My remarks are in the interest of the city and not with a purpose of hurting the feelings of any, so I hope they are not misplaced.

J. O. STINSON.

A MODERN NUISANCE—THE MOST CRYING EVIL OF THE DAY.

To the Editor:—I have noticed that on more than one occasion your good friend the Colonel has called attention to the subject of unnecessary noise and their abolition, and I had entertained hopes that as no political issue was involved, your invaluable support might also be given to the movement, in order that public attention may be sufficiently aroused to insure definite action in the proper quarters, to provide a remedy for what may be regarded as the most crying evil of the day.

Whatever may be said of the whistles of steamers (stems) or otherwise, of locomotives, of mills and factories, of the ringing of car bells, fire bells and church bells, none of these can be said to be unmusical, or that they jar upon the ear. The inventive genius of the twentieth century has, however, produced a new sound, one heard perhaps a hundred times a day, and the number is bound to increase, a sound so terrible, so exasperating, so indecisibly vulgar and abominable, so shocking to the nervous system, that it is simply amazing that it should be tolerated for one single day. It is the cross between the snort of a wild boar and the bray of an ass, with a side suggestion of the croak of a crocodile, magnified a thousand times, but infinitely more rasping, piercing and vile than either. And the strangest of paradoxes is that it emanates from a vehicle, which is one of the triumphs of modern civilization, the automobile. You see one of these machines coming towards you, in which luxury has expended its last resource to provide a comfortable way of getting about. It approaches swiftly, smoothly, easily and majestically. Then you remember the old buck board and spring wagon of by-gone days. You are lost in admiration at the change, but you will not be allowed to lose yourself entirely. Before your admiration has had time to rise to high water mark, while you are in that calm and contemplative mood, suddenly your ears telegraph to the sensitive ganglia of the brain a sound more appalling than was ever heard in American forests or in the wilds of a South African jungle. You recall from it as if you had been stung to the core by some infernal korgantula. Now, it is your admiration that is lost in the pangs of that moment. While you are endeavoring to pull yourself together, it vanishes, becomes lost as it were. You recall the roar of the lion, the hoot of the owl, the scream of the eagle, the howl of the wolf, the cackle of the hyena, perhaps the bellow of famishing cattle on ranges covered with snow, and that is terrible enough, but they are a mere toot to the blast of this villainous thing.

Here is one case when it is blessed to be deaf, for what you hear is the supreme blasphemous sound.

Where did the inventor of the device that produces it get his inspiration? Better, perhaps, not to be too particular on this point. But, when you hear it, and hear it repeated again and again at every street corner, and often between, you wish that the inventor had one tied to each ear to blow alternately upon him, every moment, night and day.

For my part, I cannot understand how the public can complacently endure the infliction much longer, when any gong, whistle, or bell will answer the purpose of alarming pedestrians equally as well. I will not dwell upon the quasi-ethical side of this question, or the effect of such an instrument of auricular torture on the aesthetic tastes or susceptibilities of the rising generation, or on the implication conveyed by the operator in the "get-out-of-the-way-you-excrementator-or-I-will-juggernaut you" suggestion, in the bray that pollutes the air.

I trust I have said sufficient to show that definite action is needed, and needed at once, to abolish, once and for all, this abomination. The chief of police may have power under the by-law to approve of auto-horns, but it is unfair to saddle this responsibility on one man. It should be dealt with by legislation that will ban the thing itself for good.

PHOTOGRAPHY REVOLUTIONIZED

BY NEW INVENTION.

Films, Plates and Dark Room Made Unnecessary.

New Camera Takes Finished Pictures in Two Minutes.

Mr. Edmond F. Stratton, of New York city, has invented a camera that takes and completes pictures ready to see in two minutes. It does away with the expense of buying films or plates and the trouble, expense and delay of having them developed and pictures printed by a photographer.

This camera, which is called the Gordon Camera, is being manufactured by the Gordon Camera Corporation, New York. As they are desirous of making it known in every locality, they are making a special offer to our readers. For a limited time they will sell Model H at $5.00 and Model B at $7.00. The regular price of Model H, which takes pictures 3 1/4 x 5 inches, is $8.00, and the regular price of Model B, which takes pictures 3 1/4 x 5 1/2 inches, is $10.00. Whichever one you order, enclose 50 cents additional to cover express charges, sensitized cards and developing powders.

The sensitized cards are wrapped for daylight loading, and the powders make the developing solution to be put into the developing tank, which is inside the camera. Model H is 6 1/2 x 9 1/2 x 10 inches in size and weighs 2 lbs. 7 oz. Model B is 6 1/2 x 9 1/2 x 10 1/2 inches and weighs 4 lbs.

The cost of taking pictures with the Gordon camera is almost nothing in comparison to all other cameras. Extra sensitized cards for Model H can be bought for 2 1/2 cents each (cards for Model B, 3 cents each), and 16 cents worth of developer will develop over 40 pictures. The Gordon Corporation sells flash-light lamps for $1.00, which will enable you to take pictures at night in your own parlor, or out-of-doors.

The operation of this new camera is so simple that any person of ordinary intelligence can easily take pictures with it after reading the directions sent with each one. There is no customs duty to be paid as the Gordon Corporation will ship to you from their Canadian branch which is near Toronto. All orders and letters, however, must be sent to their office, which is at 684 A Stuyvesant Building, New York, N. Y.

When ordering a camera under this special offer be sure to mention that you are a reader of the Victoria Evening Times.

Simple Treatment for Removing Hairs

(Modes of To-day.)

A quick, harmless, painless way to remove unwanted hairs is to make a paste with a little delatone and water. This should be applied to the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple treatment banishes every trace of hair or fuzz and leaves the skin without spot or blemish. No harm can result from using the delatone treatment, but care should be exercised to see that you get real delatone.

Frequent applications of pyroxin at lash-roots with thumb and forefinger will make them grow long, silken and curly, greatly adding to woman's physical charms. Rubbing pyroxin on eyebrows makes them come in thick and glossy. Use care and don't get any pyroxin where no hair is wanted.

MANY CHANGES IN CAST

Pollards Repeat "The Belle of New York" Before Two Good Houses.

With seven or eight changes in the cast made necessary by the absence of the three Moores, all of whom had prominent parts when "The Belle of New York" was last played, the Pollards again brought out this lively old musical comedy yesterday afternoon and evening before two of the best houses they have had in some time.

Teddy and Nellie McNamara, Willie Pollard and Charlie Bennett retained the parts they played when the company opened its season here and repeated their former successes. Eva Pollard and Willie Bevan strutted around in the parts of the two bawdy toughs. While Patie Hill replaced Miss Pollard in the prima donna part and Leslie Donaghy, with a Foxey Grandpa make-up, took Mr. Bevan's part as the theatrical promoter, Queenie Williams played the dainty part of Fifi and Ethel Naylor replaced her acceptably as Cora Angelle. Ivy Moore took Leslie Donaghy's old part as one of the quaint little Portuguese counts.

With all these changes in the cast, some of which were made between the afternoon and evening performances the show went with great dash and finish. Indeed, the alterations in themselves were of especial interest to those who had seen the show before.

CLAIM OF LEADING HUNTER IS HEARD

Melville Collinson, Sealing Continuously From 1891, Claims $17,759

Melville Collinson, one of the best hunters that ever sailed out of Victoria, who, owing to his skill and ability was never out of employment from the time he started in 1891 until the pelagic sealing treaty forced him to retire in 1911, was on the witness stand this morning before the sealing commission. Collinson is claiming $17,759 compensation.

When the case of Collinson was called and his claim read, Mr. Justice Audette remarked that it was one of the cases of claimants that is more meritorious than those who started sealing after the regulations came into force.

During the majority of the years he was sealing Collinson was employed as mate and hunter, and only in one year was he unsuccessful in being high boat for the local fleet. In that year William Porter defeated him by several skins. Porter lost his eyesight and had to leave the business.

In 1891 Collinson was taken out as "an experiment," according to his own story, on the schooner Borealis, and he took 282 skins. He was a good experimenter, and from then on he was eagerly sought by different schooner owners. Collinson had sealed with both guns and spears, and he told the court that he could get ten seals with a shot-gun to one with a spear.

In 1900, when he was on the Vera, Collinson was signed on to receive $3 for each skin he shot, but the owners gave him $1.25. He explained that the regular price paid hunters was always put on the articles. So that the other men might not know how much he was really getting, he had put the regular price on the articles and received the extra from the owners.

It was in 1910 that Collinson signed on as mate and hunter of the schooner Western Slope. When the sealers reached the Straits the crew condemned her, and said they would not go outside Cape Flattery in her. The schooner returned to Victoria, and he then got a berth on the Ubrina.

Collinson claims that had it not been for the restrictions in Behring Sea he would have made about $475 more in each year. He estimated his annual income during the years he was sealing at $1,000. Since being forced to quit sealing he had just made a living in 1912, and this year he had dropped $700 in the sea lion business. He thinks he is entitled to five years' compensation in order to work up some other business.

Mr. Curran was to take up the examination of Collinson this afternoon.

Richard Hall, who has a claim in the schooner Jessie, the case having been heard some days ago, was recalled to the stand this morning to show vouchers for one of the years the Jessie was sealing. He also gave the court considerable information regarding the insurance of sealing vessels. He said that the rate on sealing schooners was somewhat higher than on other sailing ships, due principally to the fact that the schooners carried powder, and were smaller.

The case of G. H. Keays, who asked compensation to the amount of $400, out sealing two years as boat-puller, and bases his claim on the loss he sustained in 1894 through not being able to enter Behring Sea and use firearms.

The Canadian Pacific steamer Monteaige, Capt. F. L. Davidson, took out a large cargo and numerous missionaries when she got away for the Orient yesterday evening. Among the latter were Sisters Francis, St. Raphael and Bernadette, of Assisi, who go through to the isle settlement at Seoklung, Capiton.

FOG PALL OVERHANGS STRAITS THIS MORNING

Osaka Liner and Other Vessels Inbound Delayed; Monteagle Had to Wait

The dense pall of fog which overhung the Straits this morning led to several delays in arrivals of vessels. The Panama Maru, of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha line, was to have reported at daybreak, but anchored near the Race light conveying at a later hour to the agents, R. P. Rithet & Company. The information that it was impossible to make quarantine, and that it would be necessary to wait till the fog cleared before the steamer could pass in at the station.

The Monteagle, which went out just before seven o'clock last evening heavily laden, was also held back by fog. It being felt unwise to take any chances under the circumstances. The sailing ship which was seen occasionally in the fog was yesterday also still enveloped in a shroud of mist, and her name and position are still merely guesswork. There are several other vessels which are due, notably the Hamburg-American liner C. Ferd Laeisz, which sailed from Yokohama on July 9, and the Glenartney, with coal for H. M. S. New Zealand. As a consequence of the delay involved the Glenartney may not pass up the Straits till to-morrow, being routed to Burrard Inlet with coal to bunker the little cruiser. Laeisz, which will fill her own bunkers at Union Bay.

Unless the fog lifts there is some possibility that the cruiser herself may be held back. However, she has reported to the Estevan wireless station in 40.59 N. and 132.30 W., showing that good time has been made since early yesterday. However, the impression of a shipping man is that that thick day on this coast is generally followed by a fine atmosphere. In view of the numerous engagements planned for the reception of the visitors it is hoped that such will be the case to-morrow.

SOME SCHOONERS NOT FIT TO PUT TO SEA

Witness Before Commission Says Vessels Were Rotten; Barnswell's Claim Amusing

Some new evidence as to why a number of the sealing schooners did not put to sea in the first few years of the twentieth century, was produced at the sitting of the sealing commission yesterday afternoon. Anton Jansen, when being examined in connection with his claim, stated that he could not get work after 1905 on the schooners. Mr. Justice Audette wanted to know why he was not signed, whether it was because he was too small or too old. He replied as follows:

"There weren't as many schooners going out then and some of them weren't fit to go to sea. They were rotten. Some of them had to be laid up."

When pressed by the lawyers as to what schooners he knew of that were unfit for sea, Jansen said: "There was the Dora Steward. They hauled her out on the ways and the stern dropped out of her. Then there were the Geneva and Ada, which hadn't been to sea since I was sealing and they were unfit to go. And the Ocean Belle wasn't fit. There were some others but I don't remember their names. The Indians wouldn't go to sea in them. They were afraid."

"By whom were these schooners owned," asked Mr. Curran, representing the government.

"The Victoria Sealing Company," was Jansen's reply.

Jansen is making a claim of $629. He is 86 years of age and was born in the Shetland Islands. He was employed principally during his sealing career as a boat-steerer. At sealing he made an average of $250 a year, while since quitting the sealing business he has made between fifty and sixty dollars per annum. "Just enough to buy my grub," he said. Jansen has been fishing since he was compelled to leave the sealing business.

Another Amusing Witness.

James Barnswell, who would like to receive $2,921 as compensation from the government, was a most amusing witness. He produced convulsions of laughter at times and the court had to abandon questioning for some minutes. The prompt manner in which Barnswell answered all the questions put to him without the aid of memorandum led the commissioner to remark that he had a good memory.

"Well, they always claimed that, sir," was the reply.

Mr. Curran asked him again if he was not quoting from some document and he answered in the negative. "I can tell you anything since I started sealing," stated the witness.

"But, have you not been talking this matter over with some other sealer in order to refresh your memory?" asked Mr. Curran.

"No, sir. I never conversed with anyone. I didn't need to. But many fellows have come and asked me about what we got in this year and what we go in that year. This was Barnswell's answer to the question.

"Did the owners ever ask you?" queried Mr. Curran.

"No. The figures might be too true," said Barnswell. This last answer caused an outburst of laughter in the court.

During the time he had been sealing Barnswell was chiefly employed as a boat-steerer.

"Was that job hard to learn?" asked Mr. Curran.

"Well, it all depended on the man," said the witness. "If he wasn't nervous he could learn in about three months. I've seen some fellows steering up to the seals with their hands and feet both shaking."

"Shaking, why?" said Mr. Curran.

"Might arouse 'em."

"Scared they would wake up the seal, put in the witness, much to the amusement of the court.

Mr. Curran then wanted to know if Barnswell had ever tried his hand at hunting.

"Well, sir," he said, "only about two seals during the time I was sealing. Then he corrected himself. "At least I shot at them. I mean; we never got them."

Barnswell stated that the restrictions certainly interfered with the business. They could not hit seals with the wooden guns, by which he meant the spears.

Barnswell started sealing in 1896 when he was 18 years old. He said $50 then looked as big as $500 now. He stayed ashore for several years, having saved up enough money to take a little holiday. In 1903, one of the years he was ashore, he was asked to go out on the Dora Steward, but he heard that she wasn't seaworthy and so he stayed home. He was not afraid, though.

The claims of Fred Paine and Thomas Ains were also heard yesterday afternoon.

The walls of Mansfield workhouse are covered with paintings, the work of casual inmates. A proposal to obliterate the pictures was made by a guardian recently, but was defeated. One of the artistic casuals is a man seventy years of age. At one end of the dining hall are three large panels illustrating Biblical subjects, and each occupied a week in painting. Half of another wall is covered with one painting alone. On other walls are numerous sea views and landscapes, baronial castles, churches and scrolls. The infirmary walls have been similarly treated, the pictures being copies of English, Welsh, Scottish and Irish picture postcards.

EMPRESS OF RUSSIA SAILS ON SECOND VOYAGE TO-DAY

On her second voyage to Victoria and Vancouver the Empress of Russia will sail from Yokohama to-day, and will probably equal the splendid steaming results achieved when the maiden voyage was completed here on June 7. The actual steaming time then averaged 19 knots an hour. Her reappearance here will serve as an earnest of the coming of the Empress of Asia in five weeks' time, which is being eagerly expected. Externally they are the same, but the interior finishes are in different styles.

A prominent Old Country shipowner who travelled on the Empress of Russia, stated that the cost of operation, maintenance and sinking fund for a vessel of this class must be of such an enormous extent that the question of it paying would be a serious thing on the Pacific ocean.

While the Niagara, of the Canadian-Australian line, is not so ambitious a vessel, yet Sir James Mills, general manager of the Union Steamship Company, has been frank enough to give some information about the cost of operating that vessel which demonstrates that a steamship company, which is after all a business concern looking for returns, has to turn over a large sum on every voyage to meet the cost of operation and fixed charges.

The Empress of Asia leaves Hongkong on August 12, and on that date commences the last leg of the journey which has taken Capt. Robinson and his world encircling tourists by way of South Africa and Southern Asia to the Far East.

HEAD LIGHTS

H. S. Clements, M. P., who is in the city, has declared that he believes the government should stop issuing further licenses to Asiatics for fishing in the province. He also thinks the department should investigate the conditions under which the present licenses are held. The exploitation of the fishing industry ought to be curtailed, he says, as far as possible in respect to international rights.

Completing loading at the outer wharf, the Blue Funnel liner Talthybius will leave to-day to continue loading at Puget Sound ports. She returns to Victoria on August 6, and will then clear for the Orient. The Bellerophon arrives on Saturday week.

Among the passengers taken out on the Prince Rupert for the north this morning were M. H. Scott, Mrs. E. E. Ardagh, R. A. C. Grant, and H. M. Ross. Captain Mackenzie has many from Seattle, who go to escape the heat.

On Wednesday the B. C. Coast Service proposes to take the excursion of the British Columbia Retail Merchants by special steamer to New Westminster, this excursion being a very popular one.

There are 300,000 copies of the Bible scattered throughout the world.

MILWAUKEE IS FINE STEEL TUG FOR TOWING

The Milwaukee, the powerful tug built at the plant of the Seattle Construction & Drydock Company for the Milwaukee Terminal Railroad Company, which was sent down the ways by Miss Imogen Lenore Calkins on Tuesday evening, will cost approximately $100,000 when completed, and will be the most powerful and best equipped craft of her type on this coast. She will be an oil burning, all-steel tug, 117.5 feet over all, 22.6 feet beam, and will be equipped with a triple expansion engine of 1,000 horse-power.

The Milwaukee is the last word in tug-boat construction and holds the distinction of being the first vessel ever constructed for the Milwaukee railway system and the first steel tug ever built for a railroad company on this coast. She will be used in towing the Milwaukee's big car barges between the railroad's terminals and Sound ports.

Captains Rushforth will bring the Captain, of the Harrison line, up at an early hour to-morrow morning from San Francisco.

WILL INSTAL EQUIPMENT ON RETURN TO ENGLAND

Everett, Wash., July 24.—Either wireless equipment must be installed by the British tramp freighter Beachy before she proceeds to sea with lumber from the Weyerhaeuser mill, or the master of the vessel will be compelled to dismiss twenty members of his crew.

The Beachy is first foreign bottom in American waters to find herself in this predicament, brought about by the radio law, effective July 1, providing that all craft, American or foreign, touching at United States ports shall be equipped with wireless if the crews number more than fifty men.

Before the new law went into effect the Beachy left England. The skipper heard the news while in the Hawaiian Islands. His owners directed him to proceed to America. It is the plan of the skipper to reduce his crew by sending a score of seamen to British Columbia, where he will pick them up later.

The master of the Beachy says his vessel will doubtless be equipped with wireless, though not before she reaches England, where he says the installation is less expensive.

TO ESCORT CRUISER.

The Quada will leave about 9 o'clock to-morrow with the official party to meet H. M. S. New Zealand, and will head for the Straits with the intention of exchanging messages of greeting with the cruiser. She will accompany the vessel back to the anchorage at Esquimalt, and later the official welcoming ceremonies will take place on board the warship. The Quada, completing her overhaul at the Victoria Machinery Depot, coaled at the Canadian Pacific wharves yesterday.

NEWS OF PROVINCIAL TOWNS

PORT ALBERNI

A splendid list of outside entries keep coming in for the championship swimming meet which is to be held in this city on Saturday, August 2. And there is no doubt that the combined entry will furnish sport in the water world never previously seen in this district. A strong effort is being made to have that well known Indian sprinter, Edward Klutes represented at these sports and see how he will fare against the Vancouver and Victoria cracks. It is well known that there is no local swimmer who can give him a tight race, and the local adherents of the sport are keen to see him tried out against foemen more worthy of his marvelous powers.

All intending competitors must register with the "Canadian Amateur Swimming Association" through the secretary of the local swimming club and have their entries in on or before the 26th inst. Entry fee to the association is 25 cents, and a similar fee is charged for entry to each event on the programme.

Under no circumstances will entries be received from intending competitors unless accompanied by request for registration.

All information can be had from the secretary, D. Owen, Port Alberni. It is the intention to have a practice at the club's quarters to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock when all swimmers are requested to attend.

The following is a list of the events:
Fifty yards, championship of B. C.
Fifty yards, scratch club race.
One hundred yards, scratch race, open.
One hundred yards, scratch club race.
Relay race, championship of B. C.
Quarter mile, scratch race, open.

SMITHERS

The approach of the railway has greatly stimulated mining in this vicinity. The owners of many promising claims on Hudson Bay mountain, close to Smithers, are redoubling their efforts to open up their properties.

One of the most widely known mining properties of the district, the Cornudas, will be operated on a large scale in the near future, according to the plans of R. J. McDonell, the principal owner. The group, which is located on Hudson Bay mountain, ten miles from Smithers, has one of the finest showings of silver-lead in the province, returning high values. Conditions for working are most favorable, tunnels on the vein being the method of development. A great deal of work has already been done, with the result that there is now ready for shipment considerable high-grade ore. The construction of a road from the mine to Smithers will be undertaken at once. It is stated, so that supplies can be taken up to the mine and the ore brought to the railway at greatly reduced expense.

Mr. McDonell is expected to arrive here in the course of a few days, to perfect plans for development.

HAZELTON

The approach of the railway has greatly stimulated mining in this vicinity. The owners of many promising claims on Hudson Bay mountain, close to Smithers, are redoubling their efforts to open up their properties.

One of the most widely known mining properties of the district, the Cornudas, will be operated on a large scale. The construction of a road from the mine to Smithers will be undertaken at once, so that supplies can be taken up to the mine and the ore brought to the railway at greatly reduced expense.

Mining development around Babine lake is progressing favorably, according to Charles Newman, the veteran miner, who was in town on Monday. Mr. Newman is developing the Babine group of five claims, located four miles south of old Fort Babine.

The sale of a block of 100,000 shares of treasury stock in the Harris mines is announced by Duke Harris. The purchaser is S. D. Trethewey, a Chilliwack capitalist, who has spent several days looking over the camp, making a thorough examination of the American Boy group, the Harris Mines property.

The working force at the mine will be immediately increased. It is intended to develop the number three vein, with its notable ore bodies, by means of tunnels on the vein, starting on the north side of the hill, which considerable depth may be gained.

PENTICTON

The Penticton Board of Trade authorizes the statement that a Calgary concern of fruit evaporation is considering the advisability of establishing a plant at Penticton.

President Warren of the K. V. R. has been approached with a view to obtaining a suitable site for a factory. The C. F. R. is also investigating the proposition and will grant transportation facilities if the proposals made to establish the industry are bona fide. The board now await the reports of these people before making any definite proposition to the company.

The process patented by the company is said to be one of the most excellent ever perfected for the preservation of fruits. The fresh fruit is taken and all moisture removed, reducing its weight by about seven-eighths. No chemicals of any description are used but upon the dry fruit being again placed in water it assumes its normal size, shape and flavor.

The desire of this company to establish in Penticton indicates a wide knowledge of the advantages of this district as a basis for industrial openings in connection with fruit growing. If this plant is established it seems certain that a market for the fruit that is grown in the district will be afforded right on the ground. The products will be sold of course through the local Fruit Union, it will enable the growers to sell their fruit that has hitherto gone to waste and had to be dumped.

PRINCE RUPERT

The Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company will soon embark upon another end of the enterprise for which it was organized. This new branch of business will be the cod curing department. The company has long been fitted up for this department, having an immense building erected for the purpose alongside of the cold storage plant. Some time ago Mr. Brown, the manager of this particular branch of the business, purchased a schooner for the purpose of embarking on this work, but owing to the fact that there was plenty to keep all hands busy in other lines it was decided that there was no hurry in connection with this branch. Accordingly, this end has been allowed to lie idle.

It is evidently the intention of the company, however, to get started in this line now without delay. Accordingly the schooner that was bought will be started upon the industry immediately.

On outfitting here she will make for the best known banks for the cod on this coast and proceed to take her first catch. The cod industry is not carried on as the halibut trade. The schooners that go out to take cod are not in the same haste to return to port, as the fish are more easily taken care of on board the schooner than is the more delicate halibut.

NELSON

Highly successful were the demonstrations of the efficiency of the explosive "Stellite," to manufacture which it is proposed by the Steelite Explosives (Canada), Limited, to build near Nelson a factory with a capacity of five tons per day. This company, which has been formed by a number of Nelson business men, has purchased the Canadian rights for the manufacture of this powder from the inventor, Ernest Wells Steel.

For six months Stellite was made at Silverton, and was used with success in the Shocan mining district during that time.

Advantages of the explosive were demonstrated at the tests. After one blast had been made at H. Kane's mining claim, above the Great Northern railway track, those present went into the tunnel for a distance of about 20 feet and another charge was set off immediately. It was generally agreed that Stellite was much safer than dynamite, while the mining men present expressed absolute satisfaction regarding the efficiency of the powder.

W. B. Poole remarked that the hole made was large enough to accommodate a man.

Bears and deer are unusually plentiful along the north shore of the west arm, according to ranchers visiting Nelson. At Six-Mile a few days ago a Nelson resident who is spending a summer vacation at that point saw two bears within a few yards of her garden, while another Nelson resident who has a summer home near Five-Mile had to drive several deer out of his orchard. Four bears were seen near the Silver King mine.

FIRST THINGS

First Love Letter.

The first love letter, among those now in existence, was written 2,098 years ago to-day by one Isias to Hephastion, her husband. This papyrus missive, bearing date of July 24, 186 B. C., was recently found in the ruins of a temple in Memphis, the ancient metropolis of Egypt. The epistle, although full of emendations, indicated that the husband to whom it was addressed had deserted his spouse, who begged him to return. The writer complains of "the high price of corn," and declares that she, her child and her mother-in-law are "utterly distressed." A subsequent letter informs the recreant husband that their child is dead. It seems that the deserted wife was in sore straits, and had had to visit a pawnshop, as she writes, "I took all the jewels and trinkets of myself and your mother to Serapion, son of Apel, and had from him 100 drachmae of silver." The writer adds, pathetically, "This is gone long ago and the child is dead. Corn was high and your child was not strong." That a despoisoned notice had been served on Isias by a cruel landlord is indicated by the statement, "I have nothing left, and to-morrow I go forth out of the house, I know not where." Who can conjecture the fate of the deserted wife?

JAPANESE IN INDIA.

In view of the recent visit to Japan of a Buddhist leader from India, and his attack on British administration in that territory, it is noteworthy to learn, says a Japanese exchange to hand on the Tambo Maru, that the Japan Buddhist Association, under the superintendence of Chief Priest, Hisauchi, of the Chooji Temple, has decided, in view of the alleged fact that many Japanese priests desire to proceed to India on a tour of inspection of various ancient temples and other things in India, to organize a large tourist party, consisting exclusively of priests. It is also proposed that, upon arrival of the party in India, a monument should be erected at a suitable spot, and a large building and memorial hall will be built where Japanese travellers can put up.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

The Essex Historical Society has recently placed a bronze tablet, with raised letters, on the River Canard bridge to commemorate the conflicts which took place there during the War of 1812. It bears the following inscription: "This marks the place of several engagements between British and United States troops in defence of the River Canard bridge, where first blood was shed during the War of 1812—July 24, 1812." Some days earlier, however, General Hull who, in anticipation of the declaration of war, had been moving his troops towards the frontiers of Canada, had crossed the Detroit river and taken possession of Sandwich. But the British at Fort Malden had received the news two days before he did, and had quietly made a prize of an American packet, the Cuyahoga, capturing the crew, soldiers and passengers on board as prisoners of war. One of these kept a journal, which has been lately published, with notes, and, according to the latter, the six Americans, under Major Denny, slain in the fight which took place with a body of Indians at the Canard bridge, were the first to fall in the struggle, though there had been several previous skirmishes.

The proposed visit to Canada of the Prince of Wales recalls the American tour of his grandfather, the late King Edward VII, which commenced fifty-three years ago to-day; July 24, 1860, when the then Prince of Wales arrived at St. John's Newfoundland. The Prince, accompanied by the Duke of Newcastle and other prominent men, reached Halifax six days later, and spent some time in the Maritime Provinces before proceeding to Quebec, where he arrived on August 15th. A week later he left for a tour of the United States, which included Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Washington, Richmond, Philadelphia, New York and Portland, sailing for home from the latter city on October 20th.

George William Allan, the Canadian statesman, died in Toronto, his native city, twelve years ago to-day. He began his public career as a lawyer in 1846, at the age of twenty-four, and in 1855 was elected mayor of Toronto and became president of the Canadian Institute of that city. He sat in the legislative council of Canada for York division from 1858 until confederation, when he was called to the Senate. He was elected chancellor of Trinity College in 1876.

Capt. Webb, a celebrated swimmer, was drowned in an attempt to swim the Niagara whirlpool thirty years ago to-day. Webb had swum across the English Channel from Dover to Calais and performed other notable aquatic feats before coming to Canada.

SCRAP BOOK.
Latin Republics Celebrate Bolivar's Birthday To-day.

Bolivar's birthday, the 13th anniversary of the nativity of the great "liberator" of South America, will be celebrated to-day in most of the Latin republics.

Simon Bolivar y Ponte was born in Caracas, Venezuela, July 24, 1783. He was the son of one of the families of Mantanzas which, in the days of the Spanish supremacy, constituted the creole nobility. He was educated in Spain and France, and in the latter country assimilated many of the ideas of the Encyclopedists and revolutionists.

When he returned to his native land he found that the doctrines of Rousseau and other preachers of democracy had already made a profound impression on the minds of his countrymen. When the revolution against Spanish authority broke out in 1810, Bolivar, although he had everything to lose and apparently little to gain by such a course, joined the rebels. He was sent to London to seek the protection of England, but his mission was all but fruitless.

Passing over his first military exploits, not altogether to his credit, Bolivar persisted and in 1812, just a century ago, entered his native city at the head of the patriot army. Rejected followed, but in the end he effected the liberation from Spanish dominion of what are now the republics of Venezuela, Colombia, Panama, Ecuador, Bolivia and Peru.

Reform, rather than revolution, at first animated Washington and the other pioneers of North American independence, and it remained for Thomas Paine, the English stay-maker, to turn the tide toward independence and republicanism. It was the same in South America. Bolivar's original plan was a constitutional monarchy under a foreign prince. Later he apparently essayed the role of a Latin-American Napoleon, and for a time gave full scope to his propensities for arbitrary power. The "Code Napoleon," was an imitation of the "Code Napoleon." With the assumption of dictatorial powers his popularity declined, and only his death, which occurred in 1830, saved his fame from utter extinction. Dead, his faults were speedily forgotten, and the Bolivar monument in Caracas is now the chief shrine of South America hero worship.

The "George Washington and Napoleon of South America"—and to a certain extent he was both—was described by Ducoudray-Holstein in the following language: "Simon Bolivar is five feet four inches in height, his visage is long, his cheeks hollow, his complexion livid brown; his eyes are sunk deep in his head, which is covered thinly with hair. His moustache gives him a dark and wild aspect, especially when he is in a passion. . . . He gives way to sudden gusts of resentment, and becomes in a moment a madman, throws himself into his hammock, and utters curses and imprecations upon all around him. He is fond of hearing himself talk."

To-day is the centenary of the birth of Viscount Edward Cardwell, the English statesman. He entered parliament as a Peelite, and held portfolios in four cabinets. He was one of Peel's literary executors, and edited his "Memoirs." He was the son of a Liverpool merchant.

Utah Mormons will celebrate Bolivar's birthday to-day.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

Frank Wedekind, who has been called the Shakespeare, the Voltaire and the George Bernard Shaw, of German drama; and who is variously described as angel and devil, herald of the dawn and imp of darkness, was born in Hanover 49 years ago to-day. As novelist, playwright and poet he is praised and damned, but never ignored. In German literature to-day there is nothing as vital as the art of Frank Wedekind, in the opinion of one critic, Julius Hart. "The Messiah of the new freedom" is the label supplied by an admirer. Wedekind's career, before he became a literary lion, was a checkered one. To please his father he studied law; but that profession had no attractions for him. Afterward he lived in the underworlds of Berlin, Paris and London, associating with all sorts of people in all varieties of places, lending his budding literary genius to the composition of advertisements for soap and soup, and displaying his histrionic talent in music halls, cabarets, circuses and fairs. He was 27 when he wrote "Frühlingserwachen," known to Americans as "Spring's Awakening," the pitiful story of an innocent girl of 11 whose first love affair ended in tragedy. A term in prison, the reward of a biting criticism directed against Emperor William, added to his fame. "The Box of Pandora" attracted the attention of the German Anthony Comstock, and the author was forced to expurgate certain passages in deference to public morals. One of the most interesting of Wedekind's works is "The Marquis of Keith." The hero of this drama is an engaging rogue, a sort of sublimated "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," a thorough rascal but a witty and enjoyable one.

It was just 20 years ago that Edward Frederic Benson jumped into fame as the author of "Dodo," and, although he has since written many more finished novels, he is still chiefly known by reason of his amusing but somewhat boyish and frivolous maiden effort. The novelist was born 46 years ago to-day, the third son of the late Archbishop of Canterbury. He had two literary brothers, Prof. Arthur C. Benson, of Cambridge; author of many volumes of essays, biographies and poems, and the Rev. Robert Hugh Benson, a Catholic priest, author of the widely read historical novel, "Dodo." Mr. Benson caricatured Miss Margot Tennant, now Mrs. Asquith, still persists, although without basis of fact.

Sir Edward Austin Stewart-Richardson, fifteenth baronet, is chiefly famous as the husband of Lady Constance, exponent of bare-legged dancing and flimsy draperies, and known as "the most unconventional woman in England." Sir Edward was born 41 years ago to-day and married Lady Constance Mackenzie, daughter of Francis, Earl of Cromarty, and granddaughter of the Duke of Argyll, in 1894. The baronet's mother was a Canadian, the daughter of B. J. Cochrane, of Halifax. Lady Constance's recent appearance on the New York variety stage was, she frankly explained, "to earn money, since both my husband and I are stony broke." She had the added object, however, of teaching the people that classical dancing purifies the mind and tends to strengthen and perfect the body, and that "false modesty is idiotic and wicked." The titled dancer predicts that the feminine costume of the future will be "a loose flowing tunic showing the perfect lines of the form," which will also have the merit of being inexpensive.

Want Mines Portfolio.

In urging the desirability of the creation of a portfolio of mines, the mining committee foresaw that objections might be raised on the ground that there were other departments more overburdened with work, and that mines were at present under the control of the provincial government. Nevertheless the committee urged that the industry was of such national importance as to require a Dominion minister who should give his whole attention, directing exploration work in a more practical kind than that conducted by the geological department, and conducting international negotiations. It was urged that the work was too technical to be handled as an adjunct to a portfolio, and the committee drew attention to the fact that the government had recognized this in creating a department of agriculture. Such staple industries of the nation should be encouraged by a special department, and this would do much, the committee said, to put the industry right in the eyes of investors.

ON ACCOUNT OF THE PROVISION OF THE MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT PERMITTING THE FREE IMPORTATION OF VESSELS CONSTRUCTED IN GREAT BRITAIN THE NAVIGATION COMMITTEE URGED THE MINISTER TO TAKE COGNIZANCE OF THE FACT THAT IF THE SHIPBUILDING INDUSTRY, WHICH IS A DESIRABLE ONE, WERE TO BE ECONOMICALLY POSSIBLE HERE, GOVERNMENT ASSISTANCE MUST BE GIVEN.

Seldom has so much sympathy been shown by personal presence and by floral tributes than that for the relatives of the late George Herd, whose remains were interred amid every mark of respect at Ross Bay cemetery this afternoon. Mr. Herd's long residence in the city, and his wide circle of friends served to make the occasion notable, the obsequies taking place from the Hannaford-Thompson undertaking parlors at 3 o'clock, the Rev. Herman A. Carson officiating. Many beautiful floral emblems covered the casket. The service was choral, the First Congregational church choir attending. Among the hymns rendered were "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "Lead, Kindly Light." To the hearse the coffin was borne by J. S. WHEAT AND OATS ARE DULL, FLAX ADVANCES

Ideal Conditions Shown by Weather Map for Crops at Winnipeg To-day

Winnipeg, July 24.—Wheat and oats opened practically unchanged this morning, but flax at a sharp advance and trade in it was active during early hours, but was generally dull at the close. The weather map shows ideal conditions prevailing for the maturing of the crops, moderate warmth and clear skies being general. Wheat prices opened unchanged to 1 higher and closed unchanged to one cent lower. Receipts were light, being 200 cars in sight and 155 inspected.

WHEAT PRICES SHOW BARELY ANY CHANGE

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
Chicago, July 24.—For the third day the September price in wheat held close around 97c and closed a shade better than that figure. There was a fraction less in December price at 96c. In the face of improved weather and crop reports on the spring wheat country, prices held remarkably well. It was explained by exporters that the acceptance over night on bids to the northward side were moderate. Several crop authorities have expressed the opinion that there is little chance for black rust in the majority of important states.

MARKET IS UNYIELDING ON SELLING PRESSURE

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
New York, July 24.—The market did not yield to early pressure emanating from professional sources, and the short element were conspicuous for their covering, which with generally favorable market influences forced a higher range of prices throughout. Some leading issues reached levels not seen for a long while. Particularly were copper issues firm, and the advance of electricity to 34 3/4c. per pound as well as the decreasing supply of the metal were bullish factors for such.

LOCAL STOCKS LIST IS BUOYANT IN TONE

Glacier Creek Closes Higher and Active Demand Noted for Portland Canal

Victoria, July 24.—The local list was buoyant in tone with a fresh impetus to advance movements noted in Glacier and Portland Canal. There were sales of the latter at 34c, and an active demand at that figure at the last. Glacier was bid 5 1/2c, on the close, which is a still higher level than at which last sales were recorded while offerings were nil. Coronation showed further signs of steadying and gradually the bid price is creeping up and there is more of a buying confidence noted in the issue. Granby as a reflection of Boston action was above the 60 point and the strong commercial situation of copper metal is placing standard copper issues on an attractive investment basis evidenced by increased buying power daily.

MUST RESORT TO ELK LAKE SUPPLY

The situation with regard to the city water supply is such that the arrangements for closing down the Elk Lake plant till the rainy season have had to be abandoned. About half a million gallons are being used daily through the twelve-inch pipe to the northwestern section of the city. In fact this source is being increased to the maximum capacity of 700,000 gallons.

EXTRAVAGANCE OF CITIZENS COMPELS RECOURSE TO OLD PLANT TO SUPPLEMENT SUPPLY

The position is that the city, according to Assistant Engineer Foreman, is using four and three-quarter million gallons a day of the available five-million from Goldstream, and half a million from Elk Lake, and in consequence is using far more water than last summer, a quantity out of all comparison with the growth of the community in the meantime. That there is waste there can be no question, hence the restrictions upon the use of sprinklers which are published. It seems that people who live on the lower levels give no consideration to those less fortunate placed, and have been running their taps without interruption during the past two weeks of tropical weather. The call on the reservoir at Smith's Hill has been such that the gain in night has not compensated for the pressure on the storage supply in the daylight hours, and the level has been falling two inches a day.

ALLEGED VESSEL CARRIES PASSENGERS ILLEGALLY

Seattle, July 24.—Complaint was made at the offices of the United States steamboat inspectors yesterday by the second mate and members of the crew of the freight steamer Melville Dollar, which arrived in port last Friday from the far north, that the vessel carried passengers while bound from Bethel, on the Kuskokwim river, to St. Michael, in violation of federal statutes.

PROTECTION AGAINST MASHERS.

Boston, July 24.—Canes and whistles as protection against mashers are to be carried by the members of the Women's Homestead Association. The whistles are to attract attention. The mayor's secretary informed the secretary of the association that no law would be violated as long as the whistles were not blown, but the women declared to-day they would blow them just as hard as they possibly can, and if any member is arrested for disturbing the peace, the association will pay her fine.

MONMOUTH'S RECORD WILL BE SURPASSED

New Zealand Will Be Largest War Vessel Yet in Esquimaut Harbor

The long history of Esquimaut harbor as a naval station is to have another page written to-morrow, when the largest war vessel which ever entered the harbor will take her place at the mooring berth.

The New Zealand will be the largest vessel representative of the British admiralty ever yet received in the harbor, the record to date being held by the Monmouth, of the China squadron, which was ordered by the British admiralty to convey Prince Fushimi, cousin of the Emperor of Japan, to Japan after the mission to London in February, 1907. The Monmouth arrived at Esquimaut on June 21, and the Prince left with his entourage on June 24, the visit of the cruiser being the cause of much enthusiasm. The Monmouth belongs to the county class, is of 3,500 tons displacement, while her contract speed is 23 knots. She is 460 feet long, 66 feet beam, and 23 1/2 feet in depth. She was built on the Clyde in 1901, and cost about £1,000,000. She carries a crew of 600 men, compared with about 300 on the New Zealand. After several years in the atmosphere of the Far East, the officers had to deal with desertions, and some 40 escaped during the stay in port here, then leaving either by swimming to shore in the darkness, or slipping away from the guard of honor to Prince Fushimi.

Many of the vessels which have been at Esquimaut in the years since the station was established have won, historical fame in the annals of the navy, so that the new battle cruiser will be in good company. Around the magnificent harbor may be seen the relics of a civilization which were reared when the sister Dominion, New Zealand, was in the throes of its triumph over the native inhabitants, the warehouse of the Hudson's Bay Company, the naval cemetery where sleeps the second governor of British Columbia, and the naval yard with its buildings ranging over half a century. Truly the victors will agree with Galiano that the "Bay of Cordova," as the Spanish navigators called it, is indeed beautiful.

WANTS YARD OPENED

Mayor Asks Authorities to Relax Regulations at Esquimaut During Cruiser's Visit.

In order to arrange for the public to have free access to the naval yard during the visit of H. M. S. New Zealand, Mayor Morley is in communication to-day with the authorities at the dockyard in an effort to have the customary strict regulations somewhat relaxed. He expects to hear later of the success of his efforts, and the mayor of the officials is limited in dockyard matters, there is some doubt expressed as to whether the permission can be granted. When the Karluk was preparing for the Canadian Arctic Expedition numbers visited the naval yard and in each case they were required to go round with a constable and to surrender all cameras.

HOT SPRINGS ARE FOUND ON ISLAND

C. H. Clapp, of Dominion Geological Survey, Announces Important Discovery

A discovery of more than ordinary import to citizens of Vancouver island was announced last evening by C. H. Clapp, a member of the Dominion geological survey last evening, in an interview with the Times.

This was to the effect that hot springs—the first known to exist on this territory—have been located near Kyoquot Harbor. Mr. Clapp had the information that hot springs had been discovered near this point, and while making a long trip from Alberni to Kyoquot in a fifteen-foot motor boat, turned aside at Clayoquot Sound to inspect the district. Here after exploring the ground, he found that hot springs actually existed, and that they were running at the rate of three or four gallons per second. As this is the only place of its kind in the island the discovery is likely to prove of great importance. As is well known to all who have travelled along the west coast, the scenery at this point of the run is exceedingly fine, the immediate surroundings of the district where the springs were located, being particularly beautiful. It is not hard to forecast, then, since this discovery has been made and ratified by a government official, a future watering place on the Clayoquot Sound, where sufferers from ill-health will be able to partake of the life-giving waters of the hot springs. Mr. Clapp has brought a good sample of the hot water from the springs with him.

Continued to Kyoquot. Mr. Clapp continued his journey in the motor launch to the northerly point of Kyoquot, where he made geological investigations. He is engaged at the present time on a geological examination of the programme in pursuance of the programme outlined several years ago during the time when Hon. William Templeman was minister of mines in the Dominion. At that time the government borrowed from Washington an expert topographer in the person of Mr. Chapman, who spent several seasons on the island, and prepared during that time a number of topographical maps. Some of these have been published, but delay in the printing bureau at Ottawa has prevented the publication of the remainder. Mr. Chapman returned to the United States service some time ago, but the topographical work up to date covers practically the whole of the lower half of Vancouver island. Unfortunately for all this very important work is not being continued at present, and it is hoped that steps will early be taken for its continuance, as it is the topographical work is necessarily a couple of years ahead of the geological.

LUMBERMEN BUSY

Active in This Province but Not Operating in United States.

A prominent lumber man whose large interests are largely confined to this province was in the city this morning in the person of George E. Lammer, of Stillwater, Minn., who together with his wife, son and daughter, is making a round trip via Spokane and Portland for the purpose of looking over his interests in this province. Seen by a Times representative this morning, Mr. Lammer stated that the early future of the lumber industry in the Northwest was assured by the news that a good crop is expected this year. On his own mills at Chase the men are now working day and night and before long he expects the mills to be working to capacity. "Over the line," said Mr. Lammer, "there is another tale to tell. I am connected with the McDouglrick Lumber Company and I can tell you right now that there is precious little doing in the lumber business there. It is dull, dead, dull, and the supply is therefore not very great. The mills at Chase with which I am identified," he went on, "can turn out 50 millions of lumber annually when working at full steam. Our chief market is with the farmers, and of course there is a large amount goes to the cities and towns for building purposes. This last outlet has diminished a whole lot since the depression set in and there is comparatively little stir in building just now." The present financial condition, thinks Mr. Lammer, will remain in the United States until the tariff issue is finally settled; in Canada until there is a good deal less unrest in Europe. At present, he says, the banks are not letting out any money for new developments or industries, but are carrying on all the old obligations right up to the hilt. A man can run along with a nice business at this time with success, but it is the wrong time to branch out.

VENDOR MUST RETURN THE PURCHASE MONEY

Another Lower Mainland Land Case; Misrepresentation Was Made as to Character of Lots

There have of late been several land cases on the lower mainland where the title to property has been in jeopardy for one reason or another. There was the Anderson tax sale case in the South Vancouver district, and the Temple case in North Vancouver. The former was settled some months ago by the Privy Council reversing the order of this province, which had given property to Anderson for the reason that the circumstances surrounding the tax sale at which it was disposed of were not legal.

The Temple case, decided by the Court of Appeal on Tuesday last, was another tax sale case with somewhat different circumstances, and in it also a host of small purchasers who had bought from an intermediary owner were confronted with the loss of their little holdings if it should be held that the sale by the municipality was illegal. The court having held that the sale was good they can breathe freely.

Now comes the decision in a third case, which arose at Port Mann. At the time when there was great activity in real estate there one W. J. Olyphant purchased a large acreage in section 3, a quarter of a mile from the townsite of Port Mann, from one Louis Alexander, and sold to purchasers. Complaints were made to Olyphant that the lots were not as represented, and he instituted action against Alexander for the return of the amounts paid on account, misrepresentation being alleged. The trial was a notable one in the annals of New Westminster, occupying six days before Mr. Justice Murphy, and in it appeared leaders of the bar, B. P. Davis, K. C., and D. B. Kerr acted for the plaintiff, and S. S. Taylor, K. C., and J. Edwards Sears, formerly of this city, for the defendant.

Plaintiff claimed that in December, 1910, Alexander was the owner of section 3, between which and Port Mann section 3, and that Alexander showed the whole property as his own, whereas he owned only section 3. The vendor represented the property as level, and plaintiff found this to be so far as section 3 was concerned. He agreed to purchase two lots and act as broker for the sale of the remainder of the acreage to other persons, but discovered that section 3 contained ravines, and was not level.

taken the plaintiff out to the property and had shown him a plot of ground which was in real estate parlance at all events, level, representing it to contain the lots that were being sold, whereas the fact was that the lots were not there and were of a totally different physical character.

School Board Deals With James Bay Case; Accept Tenders for New School

After an hour and a half in special session last evening the school board having transacted a considerable amount of business, adjourned till this afternoon at five o'clock for the purpose of considering the twenty one competitive designs submitted for the new Hollywood brick school.

The following resolution to expedite the sale of unsuitable lots held by the board in James Bay, and the purchase in lieu thereof of other more favorably situated property was adopted unanimously on the motion of Trustee Riddell, seconded by Trustee Dr. Donald: "Whereas lots 1832 and 1833 in the James Bay district are not considered suitable for school purposes by reason of recent commercial developments in that neighborhood and whereas the board considers that lots 9 and 9 of east portion of Section 2, Beckley farm estate, is a suitable location for the proposed new James Bay school.

"Therefore be it resolved that the board proceed forthwith to acquire the aforesaid lots 9 and 9 and to erect a school building thereon with the least possible delay out of funds that have been voted for the purpose. Further that the board take steps under the amendment to the School Act at the last session of the Legislature to dispose of the above mentioned lots 1832 and 1833; and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the city council."

Tenders were opened for the building of the Domestic Science department at the Victoria West school. Although S. E. Matthews was the lowest, with a total of $4,150, the tenders of Parfitt Brothers, at $4,193 was accepted, on the ground that Parfitt Brothers were carrying out large contracts for the board, and the work done by them. There were nine bids, ranging up to $7,792.

BANDIT HAS FLOWN

Believed to Have Got Away From Shaw Island With the Aid of Settlers.
Yesterday afternoon the provincial police who were still on Shaw Island engaged a hunt for the bandit who has been at large there for some days were withdrawn, and it may now be taken for granted that the search has come to a close on the islands.

Whether Deputy Sheriff Boyce, of San Juan county, Washington, will continue the hunt on the mainland of that state or not is not known here, but the provincial authorities hope that he will do so. There is a reward of $2,000 in all offered for the capture of the two men who held up the Royal Bank clerks at Union Bay on July 4.

It is the opinion of the police that the man who was on Shaw Island has been aided in his escape by the settlers on the island, as well as having been supplied with food by them and having his wounds attended to. The settlers did not relish the presence of the man on the island, even though it brought some variation in the monotony of daily existence on a small island.

For some time it has been pretty well known that the man who was on the mainland, presumably waiting for his share of the loot which the other had gone to Orcas Island to secure when he was cornered temporarily, is William Sanson or Sampson. The other is believed to be known as Gus Schiel, or some name that sounds like that. Both are sailors of foreign birth but speak English fluently with an accent.

A reward of $1000 is now offered for the arrest of the latter and one of $500 for that of Sanson, while the Royal Bank offers a reward of $500 for the capture of the two men. The police description of "Schiel" is: Age about 25 years, hair brown, scar over left eye, wore dark blue suit and black laced boots with medium square toes, height about 5 feet 8 inches, weight about 150 pounds.

Sanson's description is: Age about 34 years, hair dark brown, height about 5 feet 7 inches, weight about 150 pounds, sharp features, long nose, thin lips, brown eyes. All toes are missing from the left foot, and he walks lame. On the right forearm is tattooed a ship, on the left forearm a cross, anchor and heart.

Bellingham, Wash., July 24.—One of the latest stories is that the bandit talked matters over freely with one of the island residents, expressing his desire to surrender, providing the officers would agree to deport him to Germany. This rumor has not been satisfactorily traced.

Deputy Sheriff Wilson Stewart of this county, who returned from the island last night, said he believed the bandit had left the island last Monday night.

Interest in the hunt has declined and, barring a few deputies who make intermittent forays into the woods from the beach on the east side of the island, no concerted action is being taken to capture the bandit.

The Elk Lake Banquet to the "New Zealand" is postponed--they're all invited to the Open-Air Cafe "at the Kaiserhof."
