Journeyman Construction

MBE-WBE-AABE-SBE Policy

Currently, the San Antonio area accounts for 30% of Journeyman Construction's $300 million project portfolio value and each of our projects in that area utilizes local subcontractors and suppliers for nearly all trades. That translates to approximately $48 million in revenues to San Antonio area businesses over the past 10 years. We have developed excellent and long-standing relationships with many firms in the San Antonio area through out the course of our business, and we continue to include them and new companies on our projects. Once the design consultation phase of the project is complete, our estimating department will solicit, in writing, quotes for work from subcontractors and suppliers located in the San Antonio area for all scopes of work as designed. From the quotes received, we will contract with firms that present the value to the City of San Antonio.

Typically, the conceptual cost breakdown is divided into the 16 divisions according to the Master Format system developed by the Construction Specifications Institute (CSI). Upon final design, a much more detailed final cost estimate is prepared using smaller construction categories that can be scheduled and managed more easily. These categories for this project include: masons, steel workers, concrete companies, roofing companies, and electrical companies, to name a few. Using this identification, we are able to target subcontractor and supplier firms providing our needed services and products for this project in order to solicit their involvement. As we target all applicable subcontractor and supplier firms, we are able to focus on the participation of small and minority certified firms, as well. We maintain an extensive database of subcontractors that is updated with every project on which we propose. Each of the firms within the database that are small and/or minority certified is labeled as such, and we are able to send specific correspondence requesting their proposals. We additionally notify local plan rooms and trade associations of our request for subcontractor proposals. The plan rooms and trade associations include the Hispanic Contractors' Association, Black Contractors' Association, Women in Construction, Associated Builders and Contractors, American Subcontractors' Association, among many others. Our team will collaborate with the Economic Development Department to coordinate availability list of local, minority, and small businesses, as well as, other plan rooms and trade associations that we do not already have identified.

Journeyman Construction provides access to plans and specifications for projects on the internet to all interested firms. Through this online plan room, proposers are able to view all project information on the computer and print specific sections of the information they need. This provides an economic method of plans distribution to all interested parties. We are also able to notify all firms of any addenda, amendments, or revisions. As interested firms review the plans and specs for the project and develop questions, our team will be available to assist with those questions. We are also available to work with firms who are not able to utilize our internet-based source for plans and specs by providing them access through other means, whether it is through plan rooms, using a CD-ROM, or other method.

Journeyman Construction is committed to achieving the goals set forth by the City of San Antonio on this project. We are confident in our ability solicit proposals from a minimum of three small, minority, local firms for each portion of the work identified for the project.

Building Up, Moving Forward

Journeyman Construction is also very active in supporting small, minority and local firms as they participate in our projects. We are able to work with firms on payroll assistance, joint supplier payment, insurance coverage, and bonding support. Our subcontractors enjoy our company policy stated in our subcontract that we pay within seven days of being paid by the owner. The industry often sees ten, fifteen or more days as a standard.

As mentioned previously, Journeyman Construction's portfolio in San Antonio accounts for approximately $48 million in subcontracts to firms in the San Antonio area over the previous seven years. Typically, we experience significant participation of certified small, minority, and local firms on our projects. As our portfolio of projects in the San Antonio area grows, so will our impact on the local economy. Currently, Journeyman Construction is working on approximately $44 million worth of contracts in the San Antonio area at this time. Our share of the San Antonio market is growing, providing us the opportunities to develop new relationships and to continue fostering existing ones with firms in the area. Journeyman Construction is fully committed to working with the Economic Development Department to achieve the goals of 24% for MBE, 11% for WBE, 1.5% for AABE, and 50% for SBE. We will also work with the Department to maximize the participation of local firms.
