STEP INTO YOUR LEADERSHIP ROLE

Gain Key Skills and PDHs through ASCE's Live and Online Leadership Training Programs

ASCE's in-depth leadership training is aimed at developing the next generation of civil engineering leaders! You will gain increased confidence in leadership, deepened interpersonal skills, and specific actions you can take to continue with your leadership journey. Special training available upon request for local sections.

asce.org/leadership-training

Advocate and Work Toward Sustainability*

ASCE provides you with a wealth of resources on standards, best practices, and recognition of the design, implementation, and maintenance of sustainable civil infrastructure globally. Advance your practice in this important area with tools, courses, conferences, and publications.

asce.org/communities/institutes-and-technical-groups/sustainability

Get Involved in the Legislative Process at the State and Local Level

ASCE members can monitor current legislation and regulations in their state through State Track, ASCE's legislative tracking service.

asce.org/advocacy/state-legislative-tracking

Sections and branches are invited to request complimentary advocacy and media relations trainings through ASCE's Government Relations University, and Public Relations University.

Promote Diversity and Inclusion* Throughout the Civil Engineering Profession

Stay abreast of trends, solutions, and programs to actively promote diversity, equity, and inclusion and further inclusiveness within the Society and the civil engineering profession. ASCE's diversity programs include diversity webinars, manuals, journals, best practices guide, videos, and other resources to support the ASCE Code of Ethics. ASCE's Best Practices Resource Guide is a living document designed to provide strategies for incorporating diversity, equity, and inclusion into ASCE activities and initiatives. asce.org/diversity

Make Your Mark During Engineers Week

Celebrate and promote engineering as part of this global event, held each February. ASCE helps lead programs including the Future City Competition, Introduce a Girl to Engineering, New Faces of Engineering, and more.

Younger Member Group

ASCE members 35 or younger are encouraged to join an ASCE Younger Member Group. Enter your zip code to find your local group.

Demonstrate Leadership in One of ASCE's Many Specialized Committees

Join thousands of professionals who participate in an institute or society committee. You'll raise your professional profile as you help establish standards, solve important issues, and advance new initiatives. asce.org/communities/committees

Help Your State and Nation Make the Grade

The Infrastructure Report Card* is the premiere source on infrastructure, positioning ASCE as an expert cited by Presidents of the United States, Congress, governors, and the media. Last released in 2021, the Report Card for America's Infrastructure assessed 17 categories of infrastructure and assigned an overall grade of "C-", as well as offered solutions to raise the grades. ASCE uses the report to explain to lawmakers, the media, and the public why infrastructure investment matters.

State Infrastructure Report Cards are prepared by sections and branches to further localize the findings of the national Infrastructure Report Card and serve as an advocacy tool to ignite action at the state and local level.

infrastructurereportcard.org

Shape Public Policy as an ASCE Key Contact

As a Key Contact, your voice joins those of other ASCE members to advocate for the profession by telling lawmakers about priority issues such as infrastructure investment and licensure. This program offers special resources to support you in building relationships with lawmakers and asking them to support legislation ASCE endorses. Members can also apply to participate in the legislative process each year at the Fly-In in Washington D.C., which culminates in meeting with Members of Congress.

asce.org/advocacy/key-contacts

Inspire a New Generation through STEM Outreach*

Inspire the next generation and promote civil engineering careers using ASCE's Pre-College Outreach resources. Find a library of hands-on activities, learn how to communicate with kids, borrow the Career Fair-in-a-Box, and order free or low-cost brochures and giveaways. Sign up to be an Outreach Champion, and browse the online catalog of instructional webinars.

asce.org/career-growth/pre-college-outreach

Show Your Family and Friends What It Means to Dream Big*

Available for streaming on Netflix, ASCE also offers this inspirational film on DVD, accompanied by a robust suite of educational tools to help engineers and educators ignite kids' interest in engineering. Dream Big is more than a movie—it's part of a movement, with an eclectic, stereotype-busting engineer cast. The film takes the audience on a journey through engineering's greatest wonders as it tells a story of human grit, aspiration, compassion, and the triumph of human ingenuity.
