This quadrennial meeting of long-distance enthusiasts allows the daring to take up a personal challenge: Cover 1219 km with more than 11000 meters of elevation gain in a maximum of 90 hours.

No ranking at the finish, just the satisfaction of having managed to complete the journey, receiving a medal, and watching the souvenir film.

It is also the occasion for a great celebration of cycle tourism. The city of Rambouillet, for this edition, has made a great effort by bringing animations to life throughout the duration of the event. Along the entire route, there was no shortage of initiatives: folklore animations, children's postcards, decorations of all kinds and, above all, the support of the local populations.

Kilometres in your legs, images in your eyes and memories in your head, here is the cocktail offered to you by the Audax Club Parisien, organizer of this splendid event. Of course, it was very helped by the 2500 or so volunteers spread over 10 control sites and several other welcome sites. They will never be thanked enough for their dedication and all the energy expended in serving despite the language barrier.

In my name and in the name of the Audax Club Parisien, I would like to thank all of you who have made this Paris-Brest-Paris randonneur a very successful festive organisation.

We look forward to seeing you in 2027 for the next edition. Until then, train well and be careful on the road. »

The 20th made you want to do it!

The many testimonies from all over the world confirm that the organizers of the Paris-Brest-Paris Randonneur® 2023 have made people want to do it.

Participants, volunteers, partners, institutions, economic actors, the public... all those who shared the fervour of the 20th edition of the PBP already "want to be there" in 2027.

This indicator is certainly the best criterion for appreciating the fantastic event that we have just experienced and shared.

The board of the Audax Club Parisien had built a project strategy on structuring concepts that we respected throughout the implementation.

The security framework was maintained by proposing a new route, by integrating new sites, in particular for secret controls, and by benefiting from local expertise to ensure the supervision of the ride. The deployment of digital tools has greatly contributed to ensuring a much-needed level of responsiveness in this area.

There were many exchanges with the regional teams; They were implemented from the 1st recognition of the course. The elected representatives of the control sites on the starting podium, as well as the presence of all the public on the route, confirmed the territorial dimension of the event.

The party, the pleasure, the joy of being together: the organizers greatly appreciated the simple pleasure, shared by all audiences during this week at the end of August, the "PBP week". We also salute the initiatives of the local authorities for all their involvement in this sector.

For my part, I was appreciative of the trust placed in me by the managers of the Audax Club Parisien to support them in an operational role of project management. The message of satisfaction they sent me at the closing of the event particularly touched me.

I consider the PBP to be one of the most important events; We need to improve our fundamental values: deep history, community culture, territorial exposure, challenges and dreams, sports projects, collectively shared individuality, celebrations. We must also take advantage of the opportunities it provides to ensure its sustainability.

It is necessary to equip ourselves with methods, tools and reflexes that are close to the entrepreneurial world to maintain and develop attractiveness and success; I would like to thank all those who have embraced the new approaches adopted in my role as Project Manager, and who have embraced the proposed changes.

I wish the next organizing teams to experience this project intensity, to take a lot of pleasure in orchestrating the event, and above all to do "even better" each time; the Paris-Brest-Paris Randonneur® deserves it.

Passionate, supporter, participant, volunteer, service provider: I really like my personal story with this mythical ride.

Long live the PBP!

of the year for our territory, the event of a lifetime for most of the participants from all over the world.

Nearly 70 nationalities were represented in Rambouillet!

This edition was a success both in terms of organisation and logistics and in terms of what we wanted to promote as unifying values: those of sport, conviviality, living together and surpassing oneself. More than a sporting week, each day of the Paris-Brest-Paris gave way to moments of mutual aid, altruism and letting go. Fantastic moments that left a positive impression on all the participants and the audience present.

The city of Rambouillet, with its many partners and the Audax Club Parisien have worked tirelessly to host this international event in the best possible conditions. We should also highlight the strong mobilization of citizens for this event: the shopkeepers of What an unforgettable adventure we had during the 20th edition of the very famous and mythical Paris-Brest-Paris ride from August 18th to 24th. The event

Rambouillet, the volunteers, not to mention all the French people who warmly welcomed the randonneurs throughout the ride to Brest.

We are delighted because the participants of the Paris-Brest-Paris have expressed deep satisfaction with their stay in Rambouillet. They praised our warm welcome, our hospitality. Our bustling streets of cycling enthusiasts have created a memorable atmosphere.

During these unforgettable days we were also able to learn a lot about the passion, determination, and dedication of the randonneurs. The Paris-Brest-Paris was a real source of inspiration for us, local elected officials, but also citizens. We are deeply grateful for this and will continue to promote and defend cycle tourism.

It was an honour to be the starting and finishing point of this legendary event, and we hope that Rambouillet will remain a privileged place for lovers of cycle tourism and Paris-Brest-Paris.

PARIS-BREST-PARIS RANDONNEUR AS SEEN BY...

The last edition of Paris-Brest-Paris took place in very favourable weather conditions, protecting the participants from the heat wave or abundant rainfall. All those who finished expressed their satisfaction, quite legitimately, after these prolonged efforts.

Despite this, as in previous editions, there was a relatively large number of dropouts. Is it due to the changes in the course, which have been variously appreciated, and which have increased the difficulties, or to other reasons?

It's hard to say. One thing is certain, what makes unanimity and success of this extraordinary

SECRET CONTROLS

The secret controls were positioned on 2 new sites: CANIHUEL on the way out and PLEYBEN on the way back.

If the Paris-Brest-Paris had already passed through Canihuel, it had never stopped there. The secret control on the way out was set up in the municipal hall in the heart of the town. The participants were welcomed by a team of regulars recruited from cycling clubs in the St Brieuc region. Most of them had already taken part in controls, for others it was a first time after having participated in the PBP on the bike during the previous editions.

As soon as the checkpoint opened, we saw the first group of 8 randonneurs arrive. As usual, the passages were spaced out during the first few hours before becoming continuous. Pleyben, a town selected for the secret return control, saw the event pass through its town for the first time.

Immediately, the elected representatives adhered to the idea of receiving this control on their territory and opened the Arvest room to us in the centre of the town. Under the impetus of the Town Hall and first and foremost Amélie CARO, its mayor, we have managed to federate a dozen local associations around the cycling club and its president. Very quickly, the idea of organizing a food stop was born. This was very much appreciated by the participants and what can we say about the brilliant idea of bringing out the event is the unfailing mobilization of volunteers all along the route, in the welcoming points and official checkpoints but also all along the route where the anonymous welcome the participants for the pleasure of greeting them, offering them something to quench their thirst or to eat, and always comfort and encouragement. They also participate in Paris-Brest-Paris and contribute to ensuring that the many foreigners who come on this occasion keep a unique memory of this "adventure" in France.

Let's already think about the next edition in 2027. Among those who participated in the youth edition in 2023, a few may be tempted to participate next time with adults. Succession must be considered at all levels, for the most experienced as well as for the novices.

drinking-trough that had been used, during Covid-19, as a sink in the municipal school. This one was a delight for riders to fill the water-bottles, to take a dip and to cool off.

A local folklore group enlivened the day on Tuesday around the refreshment bar and the catering. This is an opportunity to thank all these volunteers, cyclists, and others who, in anonymity, allow this event to take place in the best conditions.

I warmly thank the elected officials, and first and foremost their mayors of the two municipalities, as well as the municipal services for the logistical help provided and their support at all times, before, during and after the event. If we sometimes wonder about the usefulness of these secret controls, a recent report on TV showed an endurance event during which 2/3 of the participants took the train between 2 checkpoints!

HOST TOWNS

DREUX

The Paris-Brest-Paris 2023 was a success with its record number of entries, which obliges us, as a stage city. The Vélo Sport Drouais, the organizing club, was therefore looking for help to take up this challenge for the umpteenth time. As in the 3 previous editions, we wanted to welcome the participants to the very heart of our beautiful city of Dreux. It is a royal city because it is home to the royal chapel that houses the necropolis of King Louis-Philippe and the Orléans family. That's to tell you that you'll have to go back to Dreux, well rested, to discover it better!

So, to do better than in 2019 (that was our goal), we turned again to our town hall who followed us wholeheartedly to make it easier for us and make the rest room and showers available free of charge. For Mr. Alain GUENZI, municipal councillor for sports, and I quote, "it is a minimum that we owe to the committed when we commit ourselves to such an organization". I thank him for that and I think the participants will have enjoyed it. Just like the configuration of the premises, tighter, around the Palais des Sports, a setting in which everything was grouped together, from the check-in to the catering (provided by our professional caterer "Le Billot du Marché") including the toilets and the rest room. And no unnecessary trips to get from the bike park to the entrance of the site! All this is thanks to the municipal team and its technical and sports services. For the first time, there was also a real medical service in the same enclosure with 2 doctors, who volunteered for 2 days and 2 nights. It was a desire for the organizing team to set up this service, and well we did, because our 2 doctors have not been idle... It must be said that we are close to the goal, Rambouillet, and that the various injuries, back pain, neck pain and other burns are there. Thank you Christine, thank you Talal.

And to put a little balm in the hearts of those who were tired, our animator Olivier GENOU set the mood thanks to a contribution from the Departmental Council. Another first!

© Jean-Pierre ENRICO

I must also thank the Pays de Dreux agglomeration and, of course, the 100 volunteers who took turns during these 3 days of presence. They made themselves available as much as possible, appreciated the friendliness, the respect shown to us by the participants and had a great time... So, I can say that, even though not everything was perfect, we rose to the challenge!

So, thank you to the 5200 participants who came to Dreux. Thanks to your courage, you have filled us with happiness, lots of memories and juicy anecdotes!

MORTAGNE-AU-PERCHE

It is always with great enthusiasm that the 160 volunteers and the entire team of the Cyclos Randonneurs du Perche welcome the participants of the mythical Paris-Brest-Paris.

Every effort is made to ensure that the visit to Mortagne-au-Perche remains in the memories of all participants.

To make them want to come back to the Perche one day, a self-service restaurant was set up, a giant outdoor grill with local products, a dormitory with showers and a bike park were at their disposal.

It was with joy, good humour and a lot of conviviality that all the volunteers, the city and its representatives experienced a superb 2023 edition of the Paris-Brest-Paris.

VILLAINES-LA-JUHEL

HOST TOWNS

Every 4 years and a real ritual since 1979, Villaines-la-Juhel comes alive at the end of summer. The excitement reaches its peak this Sunday, August 20 at the end of the evening. Paris-Brest-Paris randonneur is once again making a stop in our town. PBP: 3 letters that make participants and volunteers dream.

On Sunday evening, the swarms of cyclists, some of them taking part in their first long-distance challenge, form a veritable luminous serpent in the Mayenne countryside. Arriving in Villaines-la-Juhel, guided through the bike park, some choose to clock in and out quickly while others have a good breakfast. The medical station, with a doctor and nurses, provides some treatments and massages, and interpreters are already on hand.

It's a real anthill, seen from the inside it's impressive. Our volunteers must deal with this huge rush, always with a smile. Monday morning, the sun is slowly breaking, and we haven't seen the night pass. The day will go off without too many problems, with the centralisation point recording the dropouts, the assistance vehicles carrying out some interventions mainly to recover bicycles from hospitalised participants. This Tuesday, the first ones, back from Brest, are pointing and heading for Rambouillet. Wednesday will be the biggest day. After more than 1000 km travelled, randonneurs are welcomed with music, and multiple activities set up by Cultural & Tourist Actions allow the public to have fun because the sun and heat are here. On the bike park side, several randonneurs are interviewed by our 3 animators. An audience of connoisseurs applauds the participants. On the catering side, the St Nicolas school group is seeing the queue get longer as randonneurs eat before tackling the hills of the Perche. The night from Wednesday to Thursday will be less difficult to manage than in previous editions. It won't be the same for our friends at the Randonneurs du Perche...

Congratulations to all the riders!

Thousands of you have been on the starting line, repeat offenders or worried neophytes, from nearly 70 nations. You have achieved a dream or a challenge for the pleasure of personal glory: to be at the start of the 20th Paris-Brest-Paris randonneur with disillusionment for some and success for others.

Respect!

You have given us a lot of joy, the enthusiasm of our volunteers, your smiles exchanged with them, and your kindness have set the tone for this edition.

Christian BULLOT
For the Cyclo-Club of Villaines-la-Juhel

Thanks: to the City of Villaines-la-Juhel for the first essential support, to the Community of Communes of Mont des Avaloirs, to the Departmental Council of Mayenne and the Regional Council of Pays de la Loire for their respective aid. Thank you to the shopkeepers, craftsmen, and industrialists of our territory for their support, to the Cultural & Tourist Actions for the entertainment, to the local medical staff, to the bicycle operators, to the Club de la Retraite Sportive de Villaines-la-Juhel and to the Cyclos des Avaloirs. A special mention should be made of the St Nicolas school group, which once again provides catering, showers, sleeping and multiple services. Thank you to the Audax Club Parisien for the trust they have placed in us.

But also and above all a huge thank you to the 500 volunteers spread throughout the site as well as to the members responsible for the commissions set up by the club to make this 20th PBP a huge success. Without this volunteering, nothing would have been possible.

We will of course be available, if the Audax Club Parisien wishes, to host PBP in 2027.

FOUGÈRES

Paris-Brest-Paris when you possess us!

Beyond the challenge, beyond the physical performance of the riders, it's the enthusiasm you generate.

Enthusiasm for all these French and foreign cyclists.

Enthusiasm for these volunteers working on our reception and control site.

Fougères is the first town at the entrance to Brittany, with its unmissable medieval castle.

For a few days, the Jean Guéhenno high school was equipped and transformed into a stage site for the occasion. 270 women and men ensured the welcome, control, security, catering, mechanical assistance, medical care, peaceful rest, etc., for the participants. All this, of course, day and night, with a smile.

Yes, Paris-Brest-Paris, you unite us. Yes, Paris-Brest-Paris, you possess us with your little scent of adventure.

2023 fades away with lots of memories of encounters with the whole world, unusual, improbable, but so human between the riders and the volunteers.

The PBP 2027 is on the horizon, and quite a few of us are already thinking about it.

Long live Paris-Brest-Paris.

TINTENIAC

At Tinteniac, we have experienced a real popular and sporting success.

People are still talking about it. Not a day goes by that we don't get praised.

To sum up, a lot of investment from all the volunteers but it was worth it for such a result.

HOST TOWNS

It was with great pleasure and good humour that the volunteers of Quédillac welcomed the PBP participants.

The first riders passed by on Monday morning at 3:27 am, then it was an uninterrupted flow, the cyclists were able to refuel at will and some tasted and enjoyed our famous sausage galette for the first time.

Mechanical assistance was also a great success with 85 repairs carried out during the three days.

Our two volunteer doctors intervened 27 times (gastric problems, falls, tendonitis, cervical problems). Our dormitory, with 193 mattresses, was full on Wednesday morning and the free mobile phone charging service was much appreciated.

All the volunteers were satisfied and are ready to go again in four years.

Pierrick LOCHET
President of SEP Cyclos

Every 4 years, the Paris-Brest-Paris returns to Loudéac and, each time, the Amicale Cyclo and the city mobilize to welcome these randonneurs from the four corners of the world.

During this 20th edition, Loudéac was for the 12th time a control city. Constantly evolving in terms of the number of participants, we have been able to adapt as best we can to satisfy the participants and ensure that everything takes place in the best conditions.

More than 420 volunteers mobilized on the ground and on the roads for 52 hours non-stop from Monday morning to Wednesday morning for control, security, catering, sleeping, etc., in short a whole city in turmoil during this event. And let's not forget our local bike shop, who, for some, has worked miracles to make their dream come true. All this in an atmosphere of a great cycling festival with local folklore groups and a large public day and night on the site who spared no encouragement to bring a little comfort and motivation to those who needed it most. It smelled like a sausage galette, to the delight of all, to share with the whole world a little piece of our Breton and local culture.

The city of Loudéac and its municipal services are investing a lot in the success of this extraordinary event awaited by an entire population. The implementation of the site requires a lot of human and logistical resources.

This 2024 vintage is exceptional for us. Radiant weather, very friendly and very fair play riders, top volunteers. All the ingredients for an edition that will be remembered. A big thank you to all those involved in this success, especially to all the volunteers who worked tirelessly day and night, and to the ACP for the trust they have placed in us for so long for the organization of control in our city.

Our eyes are already in 2027 to give you the best welcome once again. Long live the Paris-Brest-Paris and see you in 2027 in Loudéac.

President of the Amicale Cyclo
Loudéac

SAINT-NICOLAS-DU-PÉLEM

Volunteers recruited by the Sports Office were on duty a few days before to welcome the 6,820 cyclists.

The delivery of the signage material as well as the T-Shirts was ensured by volunteers from the Audax Club Parisien

Popular activities

The Celtic Troupe « Les Blés d'Or » offered a show of Breton dances for the pleasure of the cyclists. Some even enlarged the circle to do a dance step under the amused gaze of spectators and randonneurs.

The barrel organ was appreciated. Several well-known tunes have been heard such as La Vie en Rose, à Bicyclette, etc. applauded, among others, by Japanese and Americans.

Monday August 21st, in Saint-Nicolas-du-Pélem, everything was about the passage of the largest cycling tour in the world, namely, the Paris-Brest-Paris.

At 7 a.m., the first eight cyclists received encouragement from volunteers already on site. As St Nicolas-du-Pélem is only a welcome town, it was only from 9 a.m. that the first cyclists began to set a foot on the ground and take advantage of our welcome.

Locally, this event allows intergenerational exchanges and to bring together around twenty associations.

From 5 p.m., more and more cyclists arrived in small groups or sometimes alone. Some, already marked by the 480 km traveled, chose to take a break, others preferred to continue to arrive in Brest as quickly as possible. For those who wanted to regain their strength, there was a choice: hot, cold, soup, sandwiches, complete menus. It was from there that some went to sleep to recover. The heat was a handicap for the body. It's also the time when at the refreshment bar, the scent of pancakes and grilled sausages gave an air of celebration.

Many Pélemois people came to the Highschool courtyard to applaud and encourage the cyclists and see their different bicycles, velomobiles, tandems, tricycles, recumbent bikes.

Until Tuesday noon, the volunteers of St Nicolas-du-Pélem were keen to satisfy the participants of the 20th edition of the PBP. These two days were strong moments of sharing, emotion, satisfaction, and service for cyclists.

Cathy LE MEAUX

In a friendly atmosphere, the local associations had the pleasure of TOGETHER welcoming people from all over the world.

HOST TOWNS

CARHAIX

On the occasion of the 20th PBP, the control of Carhaix once again experienced an intense moment, full of emotions, encounters and sharing. Of course, we didn't all speak the same language, but a look, a gesture, always made it possible to establish contact and to guide and inform these convicts of the road of modern times. A glance at the brevet card to know the country of residence, the stamp and the time of passage, a "good road" and already it was the departure to the next checkpoint.

Some of them arrived at the check-in exhausted by the efforts made, but with this desire to reach their Holy Grail. A kind word, a piece of advice "go and eat and rest a little", and the charm often worked. A smile of thanks, photos exchanged, small gifts (postcards, Korean banknotes...), what a joy this short but intense moment of exchange. There was no aggressiveness on the part of these extreme pedallers, quite the contrary. Especially among Asians, smiling and courtesy were the order of the day, despite sometimes suffering and, for some, the end of a dream, with the inevitable abandonment, the body having reached its limits. We did our best to manage this difficult moment, by offering repatriation solutions by train or beds in private homes.

During 2 full days, we saw more than 11000 cycle tourists pass by, in a beautiful harmony of colours, beautiful mechanics: traditional bikes, tricycles, tandems, triplets, and superb faired bikes. The outfits were each more beautiful than the last. The spectacle of the night was even more beautiful with these little eyes mounted on the bicycles that lit up the night, and crossed each other, arriving at check-in, some on the way to Brest, some on the way back to Paris. A luminous and luminescent show, like a cohort of will-o'-the-wisps in the beautiful carhaisan night.

The Carhaix control centre, with its many volunteers, has honoured its mission, it has been a warm, dynamic and competent welcome point. A big thank you to this great team that I had the pleasure of supervising. No one was left to fend for themselves, even after the control was closed. All of them got the official stamp. Just reward for the efforts made.

One randonneur, well out of time, told us: "I had 2 options: finish on time, but it's too late. So, I opted for the second option: to go to Paris, and I shall have done my PBP." With a big smile on his face, he hopped on his bike, which had been transformed into a cargo bike, which allowed him to be completely independent. Respect, sir, and have a good trip. This is also what the PBP and its beautiful encounters are all about.

We will be waiting for you again in 4 years. We will be loyal to the post.

Ernest MANACH

President of the CCTP Carhaix

After a first meeting with representatives of the Audax Club Parisien on October 18, 2022 in Carhaix, it then took about thirty meetings for ACAP to organize the control and welcome of the participants of the PBP. The meetings of the commissions, the meetings with the technical services of the city, the visits to Carhaix High School which served as a stopover site, the negotiations with suppliers, the participation in the ACP seminars, the numerous exchanges of emails, all this took place from January 1 to August 20, 2023. In short, 8 months of work for 2.5 days at the service of 6,500 participants.

A huge thank you to them.

President of ACAP and Finisher of PBP 2023

So many debates in committees, so many technical details to be settled, unforeseen events that had to be overcome, such as the last-minute

This was the 11th edition in central Brittany. Each time we try to improve the control site made available to us by the Principal of the High School, the Region and the Intendant of the High School. The control of Carhaix cannot be done without the help of our partners: The Town Hall of Carhaix with the Technical Service, the Sports Office, as well as the infrastructures, the High School, the Vieilles Charrues, the local companies that provide various equipment, the Civil Protection which has done a remarkable job with the help of the hospital, the fire brigade and the Emergency Medical Rescue. Once again this year, the young people of the CLAJ completed the flags of the countries represented. The relationships with our suppliers are excellent. One month after the Vieilles Charrues festival, which mobilises more than 6,500 volunteers, Carhaix, with his 450 volunteers, has gathered 730 4-hour slots to ensure that the welcome of randonneurs and the public is very satisfactory. Everyone felt involved for 2.5 days by this sporting event which requires months of preparation for some and 8 dense days. The hot food, fast food and bar were a success. For sleeping, the provision of cots with the Civil Protection was insufficient due to the chasing and the proximity of Brest. The association responsible for the welcome, which brings together interpreters and internet communication, was very much in demand. The scoring system had gone into overdrive, given the intensity of the passes at certain times. The guarding as well as the security at the entrance and exit of the site were top-notch. The checkpoint, despite the back-and-forth, fulfilled its mission very well by extending the closing by 2.5 hours to give latecomers a chance.

For security, we had 7 positions to fill during 44 hours of presence.

The public, numerous on the side of the road and inside the site, spared no encouragement to bring a little comfort to those who needed it, to share with the whole world a little piece of our Breton and local culture. A big THANK YOU to all those involved in this success, especially to all the real volunteers who work tirelessly day and night on this event. Together with the municipality, we welcomed the young cyclists doing the PBP Youth of the French Federation of Cycle Tourism, and a reception was held with a souvenir gift for each participant. The Club Cyclo de Carhaix would like to thank the ACP for this organization. The 21st edition is already in preparation with a debriefing and some modifications.

Welcome to Carhaix. Degemer mad e Karaez! Kénavo ar C'hentan.

PASSING THROUGH BREST

The 2023 edition allowed participants to discover the treasures of the Brest region under a radiant sun. The Plougastel bridge, overlooking one of the most beautiful harbours in the world, will remain in the memory as the spot not to be missed for souvenir photos.

The opening of the Brest site started with an inauguration, the various officials and partners appreciated the performance of the young bellringers of the Bagad de Guipavas who led the way to the moment of conviviality concocted by the local organizing team. Mireille, wife of the late Jean-Claude RAOUL, was particularly moved by the tribute paid to the organizer of previous editions of the PBP.

The activities throughout August 21 and 22 allowed participants and spectators to share local folklore: brass band, Breton songs, etc.

All the 200 volunteers, well-motivated to receive the athletes and their companions in the best conditions, were invited by the mayor of Brest to thank them for the success of the event.

A great adventure which will have made it possible to forge links between the organizing team, local associations, elected officials, and city services; very promising to launch the next edition.

President of the Brest Organizing Committee of the PBP

FAREWELL TO PARIS-BREST-PARIS

Georges Brassens knew how to sing it in a few words that summed it all up: "And time is a barbarian in the style of Attila". On Paris-Brest his horse also passed and for the first time the grass did not grow back. Fifty-two years after we first met, and while twelve times it was a real joy, I had to accept the tyrannical law of time.

Goodbye Paris-Brest, then!

And it wasn't easy to let you go, you my adventure friends, you young people who are discovering Paris-Brest and you also the older ones, in better physical condition than me. And yet I have done all I could to accompany you, once more, one last time, Mr. Executioner. The experience of the last two Flèches Vélocio had been clear. It was around the five-hundredth kilometre, after twenty-four hours without sleep, that the ridiculous position of a Pisan tower was systematically set up, and that the cyclist - does he still deserve that name? - became a danger to himself and others. Irresistibly drawn to the right side of the road, unable to keep my line, even tapping my knee against the top tube and my heel against the chainstay, I had been forced to stop. Problem of a tired cerebellum, like that of a drunk, bent, and staggering man. However, I wanted to see if this nightmare would still occur in brevets. If all went well until the 400 km brevet, that of 600 km sounded the end of illusions. Knowing that at Paris-Brest, given my cruising speed, I would have to at least reach Carhaix before sleeping, as I had managed to do in 2019, I had chosen to do a serious 600 km with a significant difference in altitude and to complete it without forcing, but without sleeping either. It was that of my friend Jean-Claude in Angers, and while I watched him, like Richard, Séverine, Didier, and so many other great randonneurs, finish smoothly, I had to give up near Bain-de-Bretagne, despite the ten hours that remained to me for the last hundred kilometres.

The case was settled, the goose was cooked, and Paris-Brest became an inaccessible star. That is why I have joined the long list of those who have been retirees from the quadrennial event since 1931.

"Retired" also means opening the big box of memories. They float like water lilies on the pond of a past, almost as long as my life. So, here's a too copious summary:

• The first.

The young man from 1971, in the middle of the second row of the photo, will be at the crossroads of the Châtaigneraie in La Celle-Saint-Cloud among 325 cyclists, who are waiting for the starting signal of Bob Lepertel. With my friend Suzanne Motte, we will reach la Croix de Berny 88h57 later. A three-week cyclo-camping trip through Prague, Budapest, Vienna, and the Dolomites was a bit too much of a prologue, but we felt carefree.

• The impasse.

1975, I skipped for personal reasons. But no regrets, because the woman I married that year will never put a hindrance to this passion that dwells in me. Thank you, thank you, Colette.

• Learning.

In 1979, my memories are a bag of pasta as a mattress in a school near St Hilaire-des-Landes, Geneviève Rouy's group as an escort when I didn't advance before Brest, my brother, and my friends from the ASPTT Paris far ahead, and on the way back to Montesson, a homologation card in 78h07. Ten hours less; it's a learning curve.

• Other ten less.

Like the previous edition, 1983 will be a participation with the most limited training, due to family life. Birth of our third son, and barely 5000 km on the starting line. With that, don't expect anything better, when you get back to Rueil, than 7000 km. I'm going to have to take it more seriously if I want to make any further progress. Going under fifty hours, for example.

• A performance?

It was better in 1987, inaugurating a long series of less than sixty hours, having discovered that not sleeping at all was possible. A beautiful return route shared with my friend Michel Collin who was kind enough to wait for me and an arrival in Rueil in 57h41. The joy of having finished in good condition, despite three sleepless nights, and my friend P'tit Louis who said to me coldly when he learned of the time of which I was nevertheless proud: "What the hell did you do?"

• The easterly wind.

1991 is the centenary of PBP with Jacques Chirac, Mayor of Paris, wishing good luck to more than 3000 starters. It's also a permanent easterly wind that will wreak havoc on the way back. This will be the year of Nicole Chabirand, with whom I will cycle for a while. For the first time, Saint-Quentin-en-Yvelines welcomes us, and it will take me again three nights without sleep and 58h53 to complete the ride.

• Routine.

Paris-Brest became a habit, and in 1995 I had trouble staying under sixty hours, in 59 hours and 40 minutes. The training continues to be very insufficient with less than

on the starting line

PBP 2019 : it's leaning one last time...

under downpours in the forest of Rambouillet. At the Human Rights Gymnasium it will be 59:13.

• Simple happiness.

At sixty-two, the goal is still less than sixty hours. And 2011 will be the last in its category. To be stored in the best memories. A dream finale at 40 kilometres an hour with Jean-Yves Glinche and his son Nicolas. At 4:00 a.m., my friend Jean-Claude Margry is waiting for me at the Gymnasium and covers me with his fleece jacket for a nap. Not really tired, when I hand in my brevet card in 59:11.

• Hassle.

In 2015, time has done its work, but I'm not really aware of it; I still want to sleep as little as possible and give this PBP my all, as I always have. A mistake, which will already see me well bent over the return. I foolishly chase after time and turn what was supposed to be a pleasure into a nightmare. At the finish, the time, which I consider mediocre, was 70h02.

• Serenity, at last.

I don't know yet, but 2019 will be the last, and I'll finally approach it differently. No more running after time, just getting back without being demolished within the 90-hour time frame. Despite generous sleep breaks, the Leaning Tower of Pisa will reappear, and I'll be leaning over the whole return. My son Antoine, who accompanied me from Dreux, could testify to this. However, it will be a real pleasure to arrive at the National sheepfold of Rambouillet, in the middle of a crowd of friends who have come to welcome me. 86:04: I don't think it's mediocre anymore.

The rest is history...

I didn't want to leave without a word of departure, without saying how happy I was on this road and without thanking all those without whom nothing would have been possible. From the bottom of my heart, thank you to you, the leaders of the ACP, thank you to you in all the controls, thank you to you the workers in the shadows, thank you to you on your doorstep, thank you to you, my fellow riders, and finally, thank you to you who are the next generation of this splendid adventure.

Long live Paris-Brest-Paris.

PBP WORLDWIDE

It is my great pleasure to open these pages dedicated to the short reports coming from our worldwide representatives. Beyond their tremendous actions to develop long-distance cycling in their countries, they are also active participants that you may have met on the road or at the checkpoints. Above all, they are enthusiasts, some of whom have been working for more than 40 years to promote the Brevets de Randonneurs Mondiaux, following the impulse of Bob and Suzanne Lepertel. You will find their enthusiasm over the next pages. A big « thank you » to them!

The history of Paris-Brest-Paris is full of great encounters and the 2023 edition allowed us to verify this once again. Personally, the arrivals of Jean-Claude Chabrand and Dominique Lamouller for their 13th participation were strong, very strong moments. But my meeting with Herman De Munck was also a surprising moment. 24 years after the last of his 8 participations, he still wanted to experience this intense moment of the PBP Randonneur arrivals. And while talking to him, I remembered the little man that I was listening to his grandfather recount the exploits of the strong character DE MUNCK monument finishing in 1983 in a record time of 43h24 to wash away the affront of 1979...

Paris-Brest-Paris Randonneur is much more than a long-distance ride. We were so lucky to experience it and many of us are already looking forward to the next edition.

International BRM Correspondent

Austria

For many members of the Audax Randonneurs Autriche, Paris-Brest-Paris 2023 has been the big goal. Since 1995, Austrian cyclists participate in this exceptional event.

For me, PBP is the Randonneur's Olympics. It's been my 7th time at the starting line and I hope, like many others, that I can enjoy this extraordinary life event many more times.

Our qualifying-Brevets, on scenic and mostly quiet routes, proceeded without severe accidents.

So it's been an honour to welcome the 6,820 cyclists of the Randonneurs Autriche before the start for a photo shooting at Rambouillet Castle.

At the evening event of our 200 km long end-of-the-season-Brevet on 02.09.2023 we paid tribute to the PBP-finishers and „Super Randonneurs“. There the finishers reported on their experiences on the road.

My wife and I organise Brevets in Austria since 2006. In this time convivial gatherings and get-togethers always stood in the foreground for us.

Although organising Brevets is time-consuming and intricate, I'm happy how well the Austrian Randonneurs-scene developed in the last few years. My wife and I are very proud to foster solidarity and friendships among the cyclists.

But to be honest: If there wasn't PBP there wouldn't be Audax Randonneurs Autriche either. So many thanks to the promoters of PBP. I'm sure we will again be represented in large numbers at the starting line in 2027.

Belgium

Augustus 2023 zal ongetwijfeld door veel randonneurs wereldwijd herinnerd worden als de maand waarin ze van Parijs naar Brest fietsten en weer terug.

PBP blijft een letterwoord dat am-per toelichting vraagt en dat telkens opnieuw veel mensen doet dromen. De twintigste editie ligt intussen al enkele maanden achter ons maar wat een avontuur was het alweer. Ook de Belgische delegatie tekende voor de twintigste keer present met meer dan 100 deelne-mers. Ieder met zijn eigen verwachtingen en persoonlijke uitdaging maar wel collectief verenigd in de liefde voor de fiets en het smeden van vriendschapsbanden met me-derijders van over heel de wereld.

Dit grootse feest van de fiets blijft een onvergetelijke ervaring door de unieke sfeer onderweg, de duizend-en aanmoedigingen van enthou-siate toeschouwers en het onge-looflijke gevoel van verbondenheid.

PBP had dit jaar een paar nieuwigheden in petto die best gesmaakt werden. Het onthaal in de mooie setting van het kasteel van Rambouillet was andermaal zeer warm en uitnodigend. De parcourswijziging die ons meer zuidelijk Bretagne instuurde, werd zeer gesmaakt.

Ik wil als fiere voorzitter van de Belgische randonneurs de organisatoren van PBP, de Audax Club Parisien en de honderden vrijwilligers in Rambouillet en onderweg uitdrukkelijk danken en waarderen voor de tomeloze inzet om dit evenement voor de vele duizenden deelnemers mogelijk te maken. Julie doen ons steeds opnieuw dromen en brengen elke keer zoveel mensen uit alle culturen en overtuigingen samen. En zo is PBP niet enkel een evenement waar deelnemers hun grenzen verleggen maar vooral een feest van verbroedering waar grenzen vervagen. En vandaag is dat misschien wel een van de meest waardevolle cadeaus die we mekaar kunnen geven. Bedankt en tot in 2027 voor de 21^e editie.

August 2023 will remain in the memory of many randonneurs from all over the world as the month they drove from Paris to Brest and back. PBP remains an abbreviation that requires little explanation and that makes many people dream every time. The 20th edition is already a few months old, but it was once again a great adventure. The Belgian delegation was present for the 20th time, with more than 100 participants. Each with their own expectations and personal challenges but all brought together by the love of cycling and to make friends with cyclists from all continents. This great cycling festival remains a unique experience for the atmosphere encountered along the road, for the thousands of cheers from the enthusiastic spectators and for the incredible feeling of connection between the participants.

A few new features were appreciated at their true value. The welcome, in the beautiful setting of the Château de Rambouillet, was once again very warm. The change of route that took us further south of Brittany was very much appreciated.

As the proud president of the Belgian randonneurs, I would like to thank the organizers of PBP, the Audax Club Parisien and the hundreds of volunteers in Rambouillet and on the stages of the route for their unwavering commitment that makes such an event possible for thousands of participants. You make us dream again and you manage to bring together so many people from different cultures and beliefs every time. In this way, PBP is not only an event where participants go beyond their limits, but above all a celebration of fraternity where boundaries are blurred. And right now, it's probably a great gift that we can give to each other.

Thank you and see you in 2027 for the 21st edition.

Canada

Récidiviste

In 1979 the first Canadian Randonneurs ventured to France to ride Paris-Brest. Since then, PBP has become a dream for Canadian cyclists. Some ride ACP events for a year or two to qualify and join the throngs now leaving Rambouillet, and others are life-long randonneurs and PBP récidivistes, like Deirdre Arscott of British Columbia who rode her 10th PBP in 2023.

Deirdre's first PBP was in 1987 when she still had long golden braided hair. There were 104 women in the 2600 starters including Nicole Chabirand, the impressive French rider, also a life-long randonneur and PBP récidiviste, along with her husband Jean-Claude who finished his 1st PBP in 1975 and his 13th in 2023!

What makes PBP so special for these PBP-aholics? From a Canadian perspective, Deirdre loves the incredible roadside support from the people of Brittany and Normandy, the camaraderie of riders from all over the world, the beautiful, quiet, rural roads, the challenge of the non-stop rolling hills, the excitement of participating in an event with such a long history and tradition and of course the great organization and wonderful volunteers.

In this 2023 edition of PBP, there were 6500 participants, with more international riders than back in the 1980's. The start is now outside the urban area, which makes the riding more enjoyable with no traffic lights and very few motor vehicles. Sadly, some of the little family-run hotels and bakeries along the route have closed.

Now there are additional refreshment and sleeping stops, so more riders can be accommodated to live their dream of riding PBP, maybe more than once!

Feelings on participating in the PBP1200 challenge in France

I had a dream that I could participate the famous PBP event one day. It's not only an exciting party for the cyclists all over the world, but also a great challenge for me. Fortunately, it became true in year 2023 under the help of Wakan, the ACP representative of China mainland. It improved me a lot, and is still vivid in my minds. I seemed to have passed through a hundred villages and towns, because they were very European; I seemed to have enjoyed a hundred customs, because they were very wonderful; I seemed to have looked at a hundred good farmlands, because they were very rural. The residents along the way provided free food supplies, and I returned 1 or 2 euros to show my heart; the riders along the way took a rest to relax my mind, and I still kept going forward one after another. I waved to the villagers watching me all the way, to return their enthusiasm; I high-fived the childish children all the way, to give them power.

I got volunteers' help all the way, and they made me stronger. In a foreign land, everything is unfamiliar. On the way to the foreign country, I was guided by many international friends, and on the way back, I was guided by many international friends.

them, I would never have completed PBP, let alone returned 8 years later. At the same time, I want to thank the volunteers who organize PBP. Thanks for your time, dedication, passion and great atmosphere every step of the way.

This year was marked by a small but still record Czech participation. The Czech Republic was represented by only one courageous woman and 5 men. The only female cyclist was also historically the first woman from the Czech Republic or Czechoslovakia to successfully complete the ride.

It was real and dreamy, beautiful and felt like a fairy tale. This is the charm of the PBP trip!

Finally, I would like to thank ACP for providing lots of help to Chinese team, for raising Chinese flag again and again. It inspired us very much and we felt very warm. As Wakan said: "Chinese team will be larger and larger, and there will be hundreds of challengers in 2027". I am looking forward to seeing a bright future.

B223 Zeng ZHU

Czech Republic

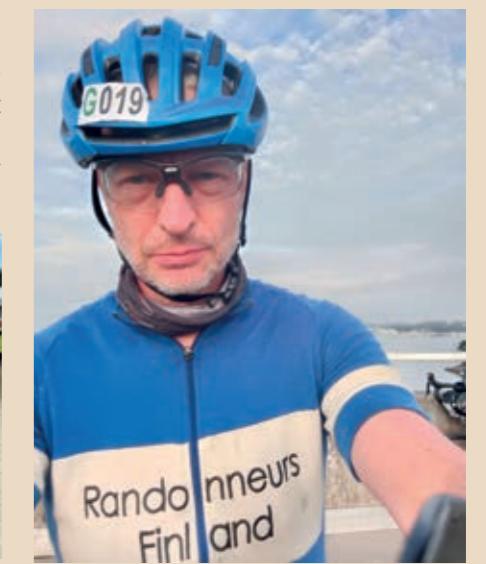

I'll start a little unconventionally by saying thank you. It usually ends with it, but I would like to highlight and thank all my friends and acquaintances with the organization of brevets in the Czech Republic for their long-term selfless support. I would also like to thank my family, friends and acquaintances for their support and kindness. Without public will try to complete this legendary monument in the world of cycling.

Czech brevet organizer

Finland

Paris-Brest-Paris 2023 offered very warm welcoming and experience for 38 Finnish riders, we have surely been used to slightly cooler climate. Anyway, we adapted well, with over 90% finishing rate and especially all our lady riders rode strongly from start to the end. I think we all got surprised with the amount and supporting attitude of spectators and supporting personnel on all the controls, organized ones and ad-hoc types as well. Also, we found the start & finish controls to run smoothly in Rambouillet. The new sections of the route with so far unseen hills offered some new twists for the ancients. For anyone interested in long quiet rides, on 2024 we have to offer the Finland Lucky Four 1200 km in June-July and with autumn coolness and Northern Lights the Ruska ride in September.

Germany

Paris-Brest-Paris was once again a celebration for randonneurs worldwide in difficult times. This year, 759 riders qualified for Audax Randonneurs Allemagne, a new record number of participants.

More than 400 German randonneurs met the evening before in Rambouillet, where they listened attentively to Claus Czucholl's (founder of ARA) talk about the beginnings of the event. The participants really enjoyed the perfect organisation by the ACP and the great commitment of the city of Rambouillet, a thousand thanks for that! It was even better than in 2019 and we had the impression that even more Bretons were out on the streets at night to cheer us on and provide us with food and drink. Many, many thanks also to the countless volunteers at the checkpoints. We are really looking forward to 2027!

Jörg KURZKE

ACP representative
Audax Randonneurs Allemagne

cipated once or even more times, I understood that it's an event that every long-distance cyclist should experience at least once. I also understood that it's not a simple LRM. It's a cycling celebration as the French hospitality and cycling enthusiasts line up outside their homes and wait for the randonneurs to pass while cheering, offering them help, encouragement and their own souls for those 90 hours. I wanted to experience it...

And that's where I was blessed to be on the 20th of August 2023. The start line! Impressed by the crowd of cyclists, the different types of bikes, the tandems. Among men and women from various countries some of them near and others far, cyclists of various ages who had come to take part. Let the party begin!

The route was amazing! Through little old villages and endless green hills. So much peace...and so much beauty...like a painting! Soon the first night came. Just magic! The famous rolling hills were lit up by the thousands of cyclists that had poured out like a river, like a fiery snake! Unforgettable scene.

But the greatest surprise came from the locals. The love they generously gave us along with everything they could offer: water, food, encouragement! No description from my Greek friend would have been good enough to prepare me for what I was experiencing. The locals of all ages, at all hours of the day and night waited for us to help us, to cheer us on. Children extended their hands to us "Allez, Allez, Allez"! As if we were their heroes...

It is pointless to refer to the pain, the tiredness and the insomnia of these days. Obviously, we all hurt, more or less. But it worthed it 100%! As the time goes by, each one found his pace. I think that's what randonneuring is. To be able to face and evaluate the difficulties that come up, to control your pace, your time, your needs. To meet unknown people and ride with them for a while. To come across with people you know, familiar smiles but still ride on with the pace your body and soul ask. To be able to embrace the quietness of solitude. To enjoy the sunset and the sunrise. To enjoy the journey but also to give your best to finish it. Regardless of whether you end up finishing in or out of time. Who will win at the end? My body or me?

And hours were passing by, days were passing by...

And here comes a time that you stop being impressed by the crowd of the cyclists lying on the side of the road, especially at night, for some time of rest. The so-called "corpses". It's the time that you become one of them. You decide when, you decide how long, how often. With the helmet on and the Apidura as a pillow, everything is just fine! There is no luxury for wasting time... Now you count down the kilometres for the finish line...

It dawns again, last day, last hours. It starts to drizzle but it doesn't matter. Let's finish it! And yes, finally, the long-awaited finish line arch! Emotion! And so much joy!

I wish in 2027 we will be there again. And even more riders. Men and women. We can. It worths it.

15 Randonneurs represented India at PBP for the first time in 2011. India's participation at PBP has grown with each edition which is representative of the growing popularity of brevets in India and the enthusiasm to participate at the Grand Randonnée - PBP. Audax India had 300 riders start at PBP in 2019 with only 40 riders able to finish in time. This abysmal finish rate of only 13% was very jarring for the Indian Randonneuring community. Raghu Vishal took up the National Rep position at Audax India on 1st Nov 2020 and in the following year he oversaw India to top all the countries in total homologated km. To improve the performance of Indian Randonneurs at PBP, Raghu Vishal personally assisted all aspirants with various aspects of preparation for PBP including sharing all event details, anticipated challenges and recommended training & prep via YouTube videos and WhatsApp group chat. There was a lot of interaction and assistance given to riders right from pre-registration to visa application & travel to France. In addition, we coordinated with various local brevet organisers to conduct particularly hilly brevets to get our Randonneurs hardened for the tougher terrain at PBP. The routes in India have now grown diverse from flat highways to gorgeous countryside hilly courses. As a result, in 2023 edition we had 265 riders start and 126 riders finish within time. Although the finish rate has significantly improved to 48%, the Indian team is still lagging behind overall amongst most countries represented at PBP but vow to perform even better at the next edition.

memorable experience for all the Irish participants who were lucky to make it to the startline. Once again, The ACP organised a great few days for all interested in the wonderful world of randonneuring. Great to see so many new countries taking part. A big thank you to ACP, control towns, volunteers and all involved in allowing us to experience the world's oldest cycling event.

For the 20th edition of PBP, the team India jersey was designed by Ms. Divya Tate (former National Rep) and it showcased India's national bird - the majestic Peacock. The entire team has enjoyed the picturesque route across the French countryside and felt proud for being a part of this international festive spirit of Randonneuring at PBP. Our riders shared many anecdotes of helpful local French villagers along the route and of kind volunteers at controls and of their own personal transformation in attempting this challenging ride. The route selected by the organisers took the riders on an unforgettable journey that has helped create memories that will last us a lifetime. We are already looking forward to 2027!

Ever since I started my first brevets, I very soon heard about the famous PBP. A brevet that takes place in France every 4 years and it's considered perhaps the most important as it's the oldest. It started as a race in 1891 and it's the most popular cycling event. Thousands of SR cyclists from all over the world, China, America, Europe gather every 4 years to complete the route of 1216 km within 90 hours. From friends' storytelling who had particles and night waited for us to help us, to cheer us on. Children extended their hands to us "Allez, Allez, Allez"! As if we were their heroes...

It is pointless to refer to the pain, the tiredness and the insomnia of these days. Obviously, we all hurt, more or less. But it worthed it 100%! As the time goes by, each one found his pace. I think that's what randonneuring is. To be able to face and evaluate the difficulties that come up, to control your pace, your time, your needs. To meet unknown people and ride with them for a while. To come across with people you know, familiar smiles but still ride on with the pace your body and soul ask. To be able to embrace the quietness of solitude. To enjoy the sunset and the sunrise. To enjoy the journey but also to give your best to finish it. Regardless of whether you end up finishing in or out of time. Who will win at the end? My body or me?

PBP 2023 was a magical and methe advantage of avoiding the lights with those going to Brest. Another interesting fact was the new ACP checkpoints along the route, to resupply themselves, making the sections more bearable for the participant. Most of the cyclists from the Basque Country finished within their means, and goals. Some due to inexperience or personal impulses had to abandon, but they will be able to succeed in the next edition. Thank you all for your participation and congratulations to the Audax Club Parisien. Each edition surpasses itself, making it more difficult for the next appointment. CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL

Many years and 14 PBP's have passed since that first participation in the Paris-Brest-Paris, in these years 819 Spaniards have obtained the homologation, many of them being repeat offenders, making a total of 1351 homologations.

I would like to talk about repeat offenders.

- 19 Spaniards have 5 homologations.
- 12 have 6.

- With 7 homologations, there are 3 participants: Julià MARTINEZ CARDONA, Ángel GARCÍA PARDOS and Emilio ALVAREZ MARTINEZ, the latter is one of the co-founders of the Spanish Federation of Cycle Tourism.
- 1 has 8 PBP's, it's the comrade Pere MARTÍ CARRERAS, seriously injured in 2018 when he participated in a brevet 1200 in France.
- With 9, there are 2 participants from the Basque Country: Román HERNANDEZ SIERRA and José Luis GARCIA RODRIGUEZ who is the ACP Representative in the Basque Country.
- Miguel RAMÓN CORED has a total of 10 homologations, he is an enthusiastic friend of cycle tourism and has promoted BRM's throughout Aragon.

I must consider all of them as my successors and thank them for their collaboration because they have been able to perpetuate the Randonneur Spirit throughout our territory during these 52 years.

Our Paris-Brest-Paris was like a road trip with a crazy French host called "Pain au chocolat". We drove, ate croissants, and drove on. Our bums became baguettes, our legs became Eiffel Towers. In the villages, children cheered us on and shouted: "Vive les cyclistes fous!" Exhaustion accompanied us at every turn. But when we finally reached the finish line, the stars seemed to laugh at us. The sky above Rambouillet shone brightly. We wondered if the Mona Lisa had ever shone like that. PBP, a heavenly adventure that we will never forget! Many thanks to the Audax Club Parisien and all the volunteers for this symphony.

This was my second time working as a volunteer at PBP and it was again a memorable experience. To be inside the event, helping riders from all over the world to achieve their goals, and sometimes in surprising ways, was engrossing and enthralling. My duties were varied: two days spent giving out the individual rider packs in the days before the start, two stints on the bike check, for the 90-hour groups and then an early start in the dark with the 84-hour groups. Great to meet riders who I've met before, and to meet new ones, all filled with hope and determination. While the riders were away, work didn't stop as the park had to be reconfigured for the finishes. I then bagged a couple of stints on the finish line, welcoming finishers and directing them to the velo parking and brevet book stamping. A night shift enforcing a road closure within the park followed, and my final business was clearing tables in the food marquee. Through it all I had the unmatched company of the other volunteers, and of riders at start and finish. Rambouillet was a wonderful friendly town, and the Château and its grounds a stunning venue bathed in magnificent Summer. It proved a fitting base for a PBP that can continue to draw in riders in future years.

Undoubtedly, the riders had the better of the experience, reaching their chosen goals or having a memorable time even if they did not. Personally speaking, it was pleasing for me that so many Audax UK riders took part and so many finished within time. I took heart for knowing that some of them had qualified for it by riding events that I had organised. And yet that could only happen because of the existence of Audax UK which oversees randonneur events in the UK, and deserves credit. Credit must also go ultimately to Audax Club Parisien, which originated the randonneur format, and produces its apotheosis in Paris-Brest-Paris.

Vive le PBP.

I rode my first Paris-Brest-Paris Randonneur in 1983. Back then I was part of a small contingent of randonneurs from the USA. It started a love affair with this beautiful event, and I have been to PBP many times since, once more as a participant in 1999, but more often as a helper for other randonneurs, and as a control volunteer in 2019. The growth I have seen of the PBP Randonneur during the past 40 years has been phenomenal!

1000 homologations. 2023 was the first participation in PBP for Vietnam with 6 participants - including 2 on a tandem. Four riders successfully completed the 90-hour time limit. We look forward to the further growth of randonneuring in Vietnam with the view for increased participation in PBP 2027.
