B&B IRELAND'S TOWN, COUNTRY, FARM, AND HISTORIC HOMES

B&B Ireland offers you a unique selection of superb bed and breakfast properties spread across the island of Ireland.

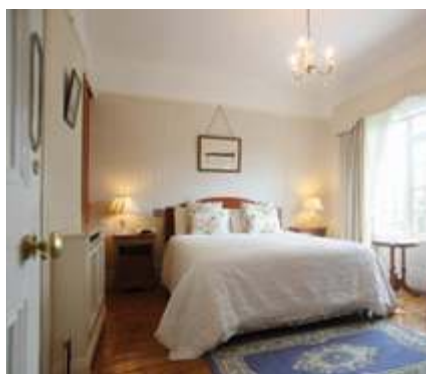

The B&Bs are all independently owned and reflect a charming diversity of style and character. Although no two properties are the same, each in its own way represents life in an authentic Irish family home. With the B&Bs all ideally located close to Ireland's most visited tourist attractions and popular activities, you're guaranteed to be right at the heart of things.

Whether you want a remote farmhouse retreat, a cosy cottage, a rustic country home, city B&B, a grand townhouse or a hideaway in an historic home; you'll have your pick and more.

The definitive guide to B&Bs, this guide features almost 800 properties across all regions, including the East Coast & Dublin, South East, Cork, Kerry, Shannon, West, North West, Northern Ireland and the Midlands.

B&B Ireland is pleased to offer you the assurance that quality is completely guaranteed, all properties are certified by the Irish Tourist Board.

B&B Ireland proudly supported by:

IMMERSE YOURSELF IN THE REAL IRELAND

What makes an Irish B&B so special? It's guaranteed to give you the best start possible.

Like the best home-cooked breakfasts that give you a delicious taste of real Irish living. You'll also stay in a home as unique as the Irish themselves and receive a welcome so warm you won't need the fire. After all, B&Bs in Ireland aren't just accommodation, they're an experience and, more importantly, they're an Irish family home.

Once you've been given a welcome like no other, you receive a hot cup of tea, and a "So, how was the journey? You must be exhausted!". Of course, behind the smiles and welcomes there's also a wealth of local knowledge. Want to know where to find the best Guinness? The top angling spots? Or perhaps where to enjoy the best traditional Irish music session? The answers to all these questions and more lie with your host.

Each of these homes are built upon years of tradition. And, as a result, many of the B&Bs have been a family business for generations. Expect to hear, "My grandfather caught a huge pike on that lake!" or "My grandmother taught me to bake this soda bread. Would you like the recipe?". It also means if you're hoping to trace your family roots, your B&B host is the best person to talk to. Ireland's B&B hosts have been welcoming visitors for years. They simply excel at it.

Ask any Irish person and they'll tell you that breakfast is the most important meal of the day. That's why when you stay at any B&B you'll get a breakfast fit for a king. You will have a variety to choose from, but a tasty full-Irish breakfast is as popular today as ever.

As well as the cosy vibe in each B&B, services such as Wi-Fi connections are also available. Every B&B is classified according to a star rating system, from approved to three-star, four-star and five-star. As the ratings go up you'll be treated to larger rooms, more facilities and a wider range of mouth-watering breakfast options. The one delight in all B&Bs is the fact that you'll be treated as a member of the family and you'll always have a restful night's sleep. And, with almost 800 Irish family homes to choose from, you're assured to find the perfect B&B to suit your location and needs.

From cultural vultures to city-break seekers, country escapers to adventure thrillers, whether your stay is in a townhouse, country house, historic home or an Irish farm house, quality is guaranteed, as well as the personal touch.

In fact, some B&Bs are even more unique, offering specialised facilities like 'Anglers Welcome', 'Walkers Welcome', 'Food Lovers Welcome' and many more. This gives you the opportunity to stay in a B&B that matches your needs exactly.

Now, all you have to do is drop your bags and put your feet up. After all, it all begins with a B&B.

Ha'penny Bridge, Dublin

EAST COAST & DUBLIN

Stretching from as north as the Cooley Peninsula in Co. Louth to the wild mountains of Co. Wicklow is the East Coast and Dublin region of Ireland.

Beyond its blue flag beaches and lively capital city are the sweeping green acres and secluded blanket bogs, once mystical home to Ireland's ancient royalty.

Built on the River Liffey, and situated beside the sea and mountains, capital city Dublin has all the trappings of a bustling metropolis while also being a bona fide activity destination. With evidence of its Viking, Georgian and Medieval history around every corner, Dublin is the perfect city to explore on foot. Top attractions include Dublin Castle, Christ Church Cathedral and the shopping haven of Grafton Street. Of course, no visit to Dublin would be complete without popping by the home of the black stuff, the Guinness Storehouse, located in the heart of the St James's Gate Brewery.

Dublin quickly gives way to the wild, remote countryside of Wicklow. Amongst the beautiful surrounds of Ireland's garden is the wooded glacial valley Glendalough, sheltering Ireland's finest monastic settlement. Driving north towards Dublin, the imposing Powerscourt Estate stands amid timbered hills and magnificent waterfalls.

Steeped in history, this part of Ireland is an assembly of magical tombs and noble ruins. Situated in the heart of the Boyne Valley, Co. Meath, the Hill of Tara is the burial site of the last high king of Ireland. Just north stands one of the most impressive ancient Irish monuments — the UNESCO World Heritage Site Newgrange.

Outdoor enthusiasts have much to choose from in this part of Ireland. Carlingford, Co. Louth boasts all manner of fun for thrill-seekers, from archery to abseiling, windsurfing to body zorbing, and even zip lining. The Irish National Stud, Co. Kildare is the birthplace of many of Ireland's most famous racehorses and, also on the grounds of the stud, the Japanese and St Fiachra's Gardens are an enchanting gateway into another world. The spectacular backdrops and purpose-built trails make the adjacent highland passes of the Dublin and Wicklow Mountains ideal for biking and hiking.

The full Irish experience.

Clonmacnoise, Co. Offaly

MIDLANDS

With serene loughs, countless castles, craic, ceol, festivals galore, and superb sights steeped in history, there's nothing middle of the road about the Midlands.

Ireland's most inland county, Laois is brimming with stately homes, majestic gardens and idyllic unspoilt scenery.

Go back in time and get lost among the restored fire engines and steamrollers at the fascinating Stradbally Steam Museum, or roam the stunning grounds of 18th-century mansion Emo Court.

In need of a rural retreat? Take the eco-trail up the tranquil Slieve Bloom Mountains. A natural meeting point between counties Laois and Offaly, explore these rugged slopes with a knowledgeable local guide or take off by yourself with your pick of the trails. Or for a smoother ride, take one of the Slieve Bloom's many driving routes, with an array of viewing points to embrace along the way.

Explore the resplendent plains of rural Co. Longford, where the provinces of Leinster, Ulster and Connacht meet. At Corlea, near the village of Kenagh, discover Europe's biggest and heaviest prehistoric bog road – The Corlea Trackway. An ancient Iron Age road of oak planks unearthed in 1984, learn all about its archaeological significance at its fascinating visitor centre, where an 18m stretch of the road is on permanent display.

Trail rich bogland, heathered hills or follow the Grand Canal walking route to discover the scenic gems of Co. Offaly. Boasting the sixth-century monastery of Clonmacnoise with its three high crosses, two round towers and cathedral, the area is a veritable tour of ancient Irish history.

Tucked away in Co. Westmeath, the bustling town of Athlone showcases culture, heritage and stunning scenery at every turn. This historic garrison town is split right down the middle by the River Shannon and is home to the oldest pub in Ireland, Sean's Bar, which dates back to 900AD.

In picturesque Mullingar explore Belvedere House and Gardens, a stunning 160 acres Georgian estate with a walled garden boasting an array of unusual plantlife. Or take the Fore Trail, a tour of Mullingar's historic and scenic sites that includes the seventh-century ruins of Fore Abbey, Loughcrew Cairns – some of Ireland's oldest archaeological landmarks, and the pictorial Tullynally Castle. The historic 15th-century Franciscan friary at Multyfarnham also sits among beautiful scenery and is well worth a visit.

Sample some of the nectar Ireland's famous for with a trip to The Kilbeggan Distillery Experience in Co. Westmeath, or the Tullamore Dew Visitor Centre, Co. Offaly.

For the ideal day outdoors, an afternoon angling on tranquil Lough Owel is a must. A noted spot for beautiful birdlife, anglers will have their pick of brown trout, which are in resident supply on this idyllic lake.

Immerse yourself in the real Ireland.

SOUTH EAST

Five contrasting counties and five spritely rivers make up the South East region of Ireland.

The abundant waters of the Barrow, Blackwater, Suir, Slaney and Nore wind their way through a countryside rich in antiquity. Luminous and laidback, this region's coast is famous for its warm climes and stunning beaches.

The bustle of Kilkenny city presents a tangle of 17th-century passageways, rows of colourful shop fronts and timeless pubs, all overshadowed by the magnificent, centuries-old Kilkenny Castle. Visitors seeking other city breaks in this area need look no further than the coastal city of Waterford. This Medieval metropolis is a shopping haven and is home to the internationally renowned Waterford Crystal, manufacturers of the world's finest crystal.

Moving out from Waterford city, and along the scenic southern shoreline towards Co. Wexford, a multitude of small, picturesque fishing villages are peppered along its bountiful lands and pleasant tides. The waterfront towns and villages of Dungarvan, Dunmore East, Kilmore Quay and Rosslare are steeped in maritime history and full of coastal activities. It is these pretty coastlines of Waterford and Wexford, as well as the region's temperate climate, that earn its name as the 'Sunny South East'.

Also located in Wexford is the Dunbrody Famine Ship, a reconstruction of a 19th - century famine ship docked on the New Ross quays. If a mere 200 years does not suffice for history fanatics, the Irish National Park at Ferrycarrig provides the sights, sounds and smells of Ireland stretching back 9,000 years.

The Rock of Cashel in Co. Tipperary is one of the most famous Irish attractions. Towering over the town of Cashel, this ancient fortress, parts of which date back to the 4th century, was once the seat of the kings of Munster. The lush, landlocked nugget of Co. Carlow also delivers a dramatic chunk of mystical Irish history in the form of Brownshill Dolmen, the largest portal dolmen in Europe.

Blarney Castle, Co. Cork

CORK

Cork is the largest county in Ireland and has a personality almost as big.

From the thriving metropolis of Cork city to the sweet serenity of Mizen Head, Cork is a miniature version of all that's great about Ireland. Lush farmlands are divided by river valleys, and quaint seaside villages suddenly give way to magnificent coastlines scooped and carved by the Atlantic Ocean.

Cork is a sea-lovers dream. Fans of maritime history can retrace the footsteps of the final passengers to board the fateful Titanic ocean liner in Cobh. The rich coastline of vast bays, rocky headlands and secret coves begs for exploration — be it through diving with seals in Baltimore, sailing the crystal clear waters of Bantry Bay or swimming at one of West Cork's golden beaches. The coastline of Cork makes up a substantial amount of the Wild Atlantic Way — a rugged coastal route spanning seven of Ireland's counties.

Organic farmers, artisan producers and award-winning chefs are leading a delicious revolution revolving around a languorous devotion to slow cooking in Cork. Sample the fresh seafood on offer at Cork city's renowned English Market or spend your days indulging in Kinsale's world-famous gourmet delights. Meanwhile, the Jameson Experience in Middleton offers visitors a chance to look back on the distillery's fascinating history.

For activity seekers, Cork's playground has lots to offer. Fota Wildlife Park, Ireland's only wildlife park, allows visitors to interact with the free-roaming animals. A cycling tour around Sheep's Head Peninsula, a hike in Blackwater Valley or a spot of whale watching in Skibbereen provide other chances to get up close and personal with nature.

Of course, no visit to Cork is complete without locking lips with its most famous monument — the Blarney Stone. Situated in Blarney Castle, legend says those that kiss the stone will be forever blessed with eloquence, or as we say in Ireland 'the gift of the gab'.

Your key to the real Ireland.

KERRY

Containing some of the most iconic scenery in all of Ireland, Co. Kerry must be seen to be believed.

Here, rolling green hills are criss-crossed by tumble-down stone walls and jagged cliff faces are fretted by the ferocious tide. Against the backdrop of a marauding Atlantic, music, culture and craic flow from every corner of its old-world villages and towns.

One such hub for culture is the picturesque Dingle Peninsula, where panoramic views and ancient forts are waiting to be discovered. The extended sands of Inch Beach and breathtaking visages of Sleah Head cut a sharp contrast to Dingle town's lively music scene. Further north, the town of Tralee is home to the internationally renowned celebration of Irish culture, the Rose of Tralee Festival.

The Ring of Kerry is one of the world's most famous touring routes. Covering a distance of 179km, these coastal roads form part of the Wild Atlantic Way – a captivating, seascape route along the west coast of Ireland.

With more than one way to explore, the Ring of Kerry can also be tackled by foot, bike or on the lolling seat of a pony and trap.

Vibrant Killarney is the perfect place to lose a few hours perusing its many shops. Located on the edge of the Killarney National Park and the otherworldly Torc Waterfall, there is an air of magic to this Celtic kingdom town. Other distinctive villages and towns dotting the Iveragh Peninsula include the colourful Cahersiveen, the Gaeltacht village of Ballinskelligs, and Sneem with its array of cosy pubs.

As well as being home to Ireland's highest mountain Carrauntoohil, Kerry has a varied landscape of glacial lakes, imposing peaks and windswept beaches. This makes this part of Ireland an ideal destination for an activity escape. From surfing Castlegregory's insurgent waves to hiking the inimitable trails of the Black Valley, to mountain biking the Glenbeigh Loop, adventure's only a stone's throw away.

*Q. Are B&Bs child friendly?
A. Just ask the kids!*

SHANNON

The Shannon region's low-lying farmland is framed on its boundaries by swelling uplands and the River Shannon's tidal waters.

With boisterous Limerick city at its heart and Co. Clare's hub of traditional music at its soul, this part of Ireland is very much alive and kicking. Framed by the windswept seascapes along the Clare coast, this part of the Wild Atlantic Way is a mecca for walking and water sports enthusiasts alike.

For many, this region's draw is the iconic Cliffs of Moher, Co. Clare. However, in terms of vivid scenery the outcrops of Loop Head to Kilkee have much to offer. Traveling north, the rocky, karst backdrop of the Burren illustrates an alien landscape that differs greatly to the Ireland of postcards.

Limerick city's packed programme of cultural and sporting events caters for all tastes. Looking further outside the city, the archaeological sites surrounding Lough Gur give an insight into times long gone, while Adare is an adorable thatched village that's home to one of country's best woodland golf courses.

Full to the brim of history and heritage, this area has some of the finest fortresses in Ireland. King John's Castle is a 13th-century bastion located on King's Island in Limerick. While in Co. Clare, visitors can act like a 15th-century king in the living museum of Bunratty Castle.

The villages of Miltown Malbay, Ennistymon, Kilfenora, Killaloe and Doolin are where the absolute richness of Irish character is found. In these market towns traditional music pours from pub doorways as easily as the Guinness flows from its taps.

The coastal town of Lahinch, Co. Clare is a magnet for novice and seasoned surfers waiting for the perfect set. Those searching for other outdoor pursuits could explore the purpose-built adventure hub of Ballyhoura by bike or foot. Alternatively, cruising the inland waterways of East Clare's River Shannon and its largest lake Lough Derg, is a leisurely way of seeing Ireland's hidden nooks and crannies.

Where Journeys begin.

WEST

Explore lush landscape, stroll idyllic sandy shores, go wild in the city or unwind in the countryside. What the West hasn't got isn't worth knowing.

With incredible scenery and sweeping coastal vistas, the ideal way to experience it is with a drive on the Wild Atlantic Way - the world's longest coastal driving route. Boasting fun, family-friendly activities, an array of watersports and even a seaweed bath or two, it's a road trip like no other.

Experience the infectious energy of Galway city, known as the City of the Tribes. Shoppers can splash the cash in the eclectic range of stores, lovers of traditional music can hear it played on the busy streets and in the cosy pubs, while those with a hearty appetite will be more than satisfied by the city's sumptuous gourmet dining scene.

Get outdoors in beautiful Connemara, one of the scenic jewels of Co. Galway, or take a trip out to the stunning Aran Islands for a slice of serene island life. Admire the epic Atlantic Ocean from coastal Clifden, stroll the white sands of Gurteen Beach in Roundstone, or take a dip at picturesque Silver Strand near Barna.

Get on your bike or lace up the walking boots and follow Co. Mayo's Great Western Greenway trail. Ireland's longest offroad walking and cycling trail (42km), it stretches all the way from lively Westport to Achill Island, showcasing all the exceptional scenery in between.

Take the underground tour and discover Mayo's mining heritage at the fascinating Arigna Mining Experience, or spend an afternoon angling on placid Carrowmore Lake.

Those who brave a climb up Croagh Patrick, a 764m high mountain and historical site of pilgrimage, are justly rewarded with incredible views of beautiful Clew Bay.

Roam Co. Roscommon's Lough Key Forest Park with its 12th-century abbey and viewing tower, while history buffs can discover Ireland's past and some Gothic architecture too, on the impressive 12ha estate of Strokestown Park House and Famine Museum.

Sliabh Liag, Co. Donegal

NORTH WEST

Roam rugged terrain, take a lakeside break, walk in the footsteps of poets and embrace the windswept Atlantic in the inspiring North West.

With a lake for almost every day of the year, Co. Cavan is a wildlife haven and an angler's delight. Killykeen Forest Park, along Lough Oughter's shore, is home to all manner of birdlife, while the area's lakes host superb bream, roach and tench.

The misty mountain trails and dramatic scenery of Co. Donegal simply beg to be explored. Boasting the longest stretch of coastline in Ireland (almost 650km) and Sliabh Liag, the highest sea-cliffs in Europe, this is one county that knows how to impress.

Get positively tongue-tied as locals speak the native language in the Gaeltacht (Irish-speaking) areas, or explore the countless Stone Age and Early Christian ruins dotted across the landscape.

In charming Co. Leitrim why not hire a boat and cruise The Shannon Erne Waterway, Europe's longest inland navigable waterway. Visit the grave of Celtic warrior Fionn Mac Cumhaill and explore the beautiful restoration of 17th-century Parke's Castle on the shores of Lough Gill.

Or jump in the saddle and cycle the North West Trail through Leitrim and Cavan's lakelands, leading you right to the magnificent Wild Atlantic Way.

Roaming Co. Monaghan? Be sure to visit the Patrick Kavanagh Rural & Literary Resource Centre to learn all about the lauded poet.

Stunning Co. Sligo has long been immortalised in art and poetry thanks to Nobel Prize-winner WB Yeats and his artist brother Jack.

Discover Benbulbin Mountain and the remarkable scenery that inspired the siblings, or recite some poetry at WB Yeats's final resting place at Drumcliffe Church.

With some of the best waves in Europe, surfing the likes of Strandhill, Easkey or Enniscrone beaches means you're sure to catch a big one. Whether taking your first lesson or dusting off your old surf board, you'll have a memorable day in the sea spray.

Where colourful characters meet.

NORTHERN IRELAND

With lush glens, majestic mountains and cities brimming with culture, enchanting Northern Ireland can even lay claim to giants and saints.

Showcasing striking geological phenomena, a trip to Co. Antrim's Giant's Causeway is one to remember. The result of a volcanic eruption, but said in folklore to have been built by giant Fionn Mac Cumhail, the causeway is a mesmeric 40,000 interlocking columns of basalt.

Sample a tippie at the Old Bushmills Distillery, the oldest whiskey distillery in Ireland, or thrill-seekers can blow away the cobwebs by crossing the 30m high Carrick-a-Rede Rope Bridge. In bustling Belfast step back in time with a stroll around the Titanic Quarter. While away the hours in the Titanic museum immersed in the history of the great liner built in the city's shipyards but destined for tragedy Discover Co. Armagh, a county that sings with heritage and history and is also the very place St Patrick began his Christian mission.

Take a break from it all among Co. Down's magnificent Mourne Mountains. With a breathtaking coastline, Ards Peninsula and the beautiful Strangford Lough, a day wandering around these parts is a day well spent.

A little lake district unto itself, Co. Fermanagh boasts a wealth of natural beauty. Explore the Marble Arch Caves, or discover local craft at Sheelin Antique Irish Lace Museum.

Follow the famous city walls of Londonderry and you'll get a dose of nightlife and culture too, with the bars, clubs and festivals making the atmosphere positively infectious. And don't forget to stop off at the Museum of Free Derry, the place to learn all about the city's remarkable people and history.

The largest county in Northern Ireland, Tyrone is a treasure trove of pre-historic sites, verdant forest parks and mountainous landscapes. The county's close ties to America are showcased at the Ulster American Folk Park where visitors can enjoy the stories of immigrants who left Ulster in search of the American dream.

WILD ATLANTIC WAY

B&B Ireland

The Wild Atlantic Way is the longest defined coastal driving route in the world. It stretches 2,500km along Ireland's west coast, from Malin Head in Donegal to Kinsale in Cork. You'll pass through places like Connemara, Kerry and Clare, witnessing amazingly rugged and beautiful scenery.

Every few miles, there's some place worth stopping, whether it's a stunning viewpoint, a cosy café or a bustling town. The opportunities for activity are endless too. Choose from water sports like surfing, sea-kayaking, windsurfing and scuba diving. Or if you're more of a landlubber, what about walking, cycling, angling, horse riding and golf. And if you need relaxation, why not try a seaweed bath? This spa treatment is an age-old West of Ireland tradition.

If heritage is your thing, there are some spectacular historical sites to visit. In Sligo, check out Carrowmore, Ireland's largest cemetery of megalithic tombs. It is older than even Egypt's famous pyramids. You can also climb Knocknarea Mountain to Queen Maebh's Cairn, a Neolithic passage tomb. Heading south into Mayo, your journey through time continues at the pre-historic Céide Fields. Further south again, don't miss the Cliffs of Moher, standing tall and proud at 214m over the crashing Atlantic, or the UNESCO World Heritage Site of Skellig Michael, a remote Kerry island that's home to a 6th Century monastery.

Between all this sightseeing and activity, you'll need to recharge with some good food. There is plenty to be enjoyed along the Wild Atlantic Way. The route's southern end is at Kinsale, fondly known as the Gourmet Capital of Ireland thanks to its award-winning restaurants, chefs and producers. Other towns famous for food include Clonakilty for black pudding and Dingle for ice cream.

The Wild Atlantic Way has something for everyone. Whether you conquer it in a few days or a few weeks, it's sure to be an experience you won't soon forget. And you will find over 600 Irish family B&B homes along the route.
