SPEAKS AT KIWANIS

Tuesday night at the Mason Kiwanis meeting, the speaker for the evening was Donald Edgington, Mason high school teacher, whose talk was on the comparison of the United Nations and the League of Nations. Edgington declared that both organizations are flat because they have no police powers to enforce them. He stated that the League of Nations failed because the United States wasn't with them and the UN is failing this time because of the veto issue. County School Superintendent Alton J. Steind discussed the propositions on the election ballots which will affect the schools.

Rites Planned For Wheatfield Woman

Funeral services for Mrs. Mabel Johnson, 43, will be held at the Jewett funeral home on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. F. A. Lendrum, pastor of the Dansville Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Maple Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Johnson, who had been seriously ill for the past 18 months, died at the farm home, 3071 Burkley road, Wheatfield township, early Thursday morning. It was her 43rd birthday anniversary. Before she was taken ill, Mrs. Johnson was active in community affairs and extension work.

She was born on October 28, 1905, in Wheatfield township, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Foler. Except for a few years when Mr. and Mrs. Johnson lived in Lansing, Mrs. Johnson had resided in Wheatfield township all of her life.

Surviving are the husband, Wallace, a son, Wendell; a daughter, Nancy, her father, Percy Foler; five half-brothers, Wayne and Maynard Foler of Williamston, Eugene and Leslie Ribby of Callonia; and three half-sisters, Mrs. Emma Parker and Mrs. Arlene Jones of Mason and Mrs. Annabelle Baker of Jackson.

HUNTERS MAKE THREATS

While Eugene and John Royston were in a field husking corn Monday morning they saw two hunters entering upon their posted land. When ordered to leave, the hunters pointed their guns at the owners. One of the brothers reached over into the wagon box and came up with a shotgun. At that the trespassers fled. The Royston brothers were unable to secure the numbers on the backs of the hunters or the numbers on the license plate of the car. Sheriff Allan A. MacDonald investigated the situation but has been unable to learn the identity of the hunters.

In Justice Court

Franklin Marshall of Stockbridge was arrested on a drunk charge Saturday night by Deputy Howard Trapp. Marshall was lodged in the Ingham jail until Monday afternoon when he was taken before Justice Roy Adams. Marshall pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $5.00 plus costs of $11.05. Ernest Herrick of Onondaga, arrested October 2, on a drunk driving charge following an automobile accident, was found guilty before Justice William S. Seelye Tuesday afternoon. Jury trial was waived. The judge gave Herrick a straight 30-day jail sentence. Herrick was released on bond following his arrest October 2.

Freedom of the Press

This edition of the Ingham County News, the final before next Tuesday's election, carries considerable political advertising, and advertising for and against certain propositions.

That is freedom of the press, permitting people and groups of people to express themselves. On Page 2 space has been given to Mason's two political parties to tell why their candidates should be elected.

A group of people in Holt have space to set forth their stand on the proposed incorporation. That same space could have been bought from the Holt Recorder. The Holt group bought copies of the Ingham County News to distribute in Holt this week.

The extra copies of this newspaper were not sold to the Holt group to embarrass the publishers of the Holt Recorder. The papers were sold in line with the policy of press freedom.

There are many people in Holt who favor the Holt Recorder stand on incorporation. There are other people who oppose it. As seen here, the publishers of the Holt Recorder not only have the right to take a stand, they have the duty to take a stand. That's part of their community responsibility, whether the stand they take is approved or disapproved by the majority of the people in the community.

G.O.P. Cavalcade On Tour Saturday

The accessories are here for you to work with yourself or you may turn the whole problem over to us, just sit back and watch your home blossom.

Zimmerman's Decorating Service

This new interior decoration service is the result of a dream we've had for a long while, a hope that we might provide not only the odds and ends, the bric-a-brac, but also the essentials of a gracious home: the furnishings, the paint and the paper that is the frame for the picture of your house.

We know what you're thinking: that all the experience you've ever had with interior decorators has been expensive, even prohibitive. Well, isn't so at Zimmerman's. Our service, our home furnishings have been created and selected with an eye toward economy. Most of the folks we know live on budgets. We do, too, and we've searched and collected and worked until we've got beauty and quality and dependable merchandise at prices we both like. We want you to know, too, that our service doesn't mean doing a whole house or a whole room, even. We'll help you select a lamp for an uninteresting corner of the living room or suggest a new look for the spare bedroom.

Direct From Hawaii
When your bones ache with Michigan's damp cold winter air this fall and winter, you can at least have the atmosphere of south-sea swept Hawaii in your home, according to Dick Jewett.

For the first time since the war, regular and direct shipments of Hawaiian flowers and foliage are being flown to florists in the United States in quantity. Foliage, commonplace to the islands, are now being used in centerpieces and floral arrangements. Jewett said. The broad flat waxy leaves of the Croton plant, tea leaves and a foliage known as Defenbaucha, along with Hawaiian maiden hair make unusual arrangements possible. Shipments of the tiny Vanda orchids are also on florists orders these days, he added. The miniature orchids are as small as pansies but with the traditional orchid markings. Air service has improved to the point where flowers shipped Wednesday morning from Hawaii are in florists' cases Thursday afternoon.

Japanese Silk Gowns Bride For Marriage at Stockbridge

Wedding vows were exchanged by Lola Marie Musolf of East Lansing and Darrell R. Brown of Okemos at the Stockbridge Presbyterian church on Saturday evening at eight o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Musolf of Stockbridge are the bride's parents and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Brown of Okemos.

Palms, candelabra and baskets of mums backed the church altar. Rev. F. C. Behner, pastor of the church, read the double ring service. Miss Helen Clark of East Lansing rendered vocal selections of "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

INGHAM COUNTY NEWS
October 28, 1948 Page 6

She was accompanied by Miss Mildred Koorman, who also played traditional nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of Japanese silk, fashioned with fitted bodice and sheer yoke, outlined with a chantilly lace bertha. The long pointed sleeves were edged in matching lace. An overskirt, forming deep points and ending in a cathedral-length train, featured the full skirt. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, centered with a pullout corsage of white rosebuds. Rosebuds were also fastened to the white satin streamers.

Mrs. Harold Stearns of Ilwaco, a sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Miss Lily Mayer was bridesmaid. Frank Brown of Holt attended the bridegroom as best man and Delbert Musolf, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Seating the guests were Arnold Musolf, brother of the bride, and Dan Brown, brother of the bridegroom.

A floor-length gown of gold taffeta was worn by Mrs. Stearns. The gown was styled with high neckline, mesh yoke and fitted bodice which ended in a pleatum with two ruffles falling from the waist to the floor on each side of the skirt. Her colonial bouquet was made up of bronze mums. Miss Mayer wore a gown of aqua taffeta styled like the gown worn by the matron of honor. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink mums. Both attendants wore headresses of baby mums, matching their bouquets.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Musolf chose a forest green crepe gown and black accessories. Mrs. Brown, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in a green print dress with black accessories. Their corsages were of American Beauty roses.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception which followed in the church parlors. A white linen cloth covered the serving table which was centered with an arrangement of white mums, flanked on either side by crystal candle holders. Mrs. Delbert Musolf and Mrs. Harold Musolf poured from silver coffee services at either end of the table. A four-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and bridegroom and wedding bells, the bridegroom's cake and ice cream with pink wedding bell center were served. The cake was cut by Mrs. Arnold Musolf and Mrs. Dan Brown and Mrs. Frank Brown served the ice cream. Miss Shirley Schockow presided at the guest register.

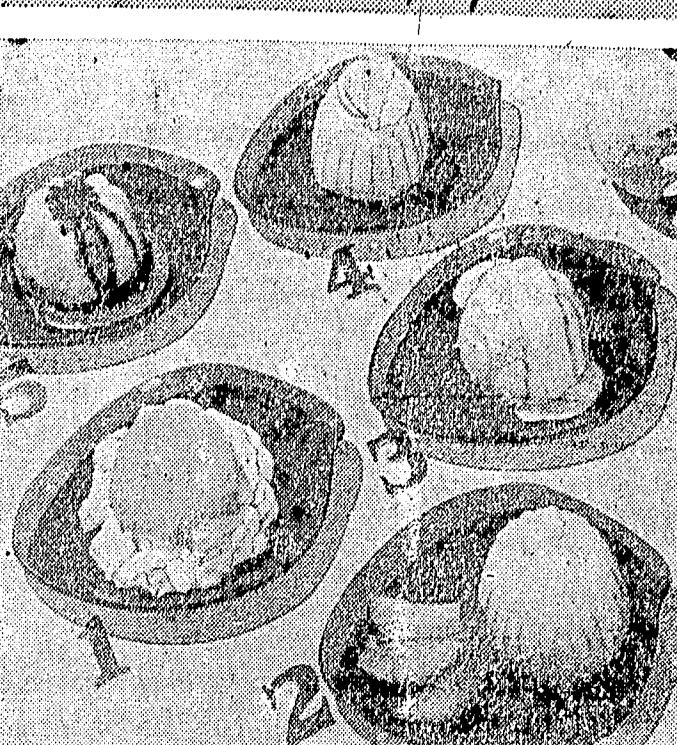

Mr. and Mrs. Brown are honeymooning in Chicago this week. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue suit and navy accessories and the pullout corsage from her bridal bouquet. When the couple return they will reside at 445 Barry road, Okemos.

Mrs. Brown graduated from Stockbridge high school in 1946 and for the past two years she has been employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in Lansing. Following his graduation from Haslett high school in 1944, Mr. Brown served with army in Japan for a year. He now operates a farm near Williamston.

Wedding guests were present from Lansing, East Lansing, Holt, Williamston, Okemos, Riverdale, Milford, Hamburg, Brighton, South Lyon, Wayne, Northville, Milan, Dansville, Grass Lake, Munith, Morris, Ann Arbor and Stockbridge.

John Lethbridge of Glencoe, Ontario, Canada, and Mrs. Wilfred Laughton of Appleton, Canada, were guests over the week end at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. R. Lethbridge.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Varying Basic Recipes Assures Interesting Meals
(See recipes below)

Canning Relishes
BY THIS TIME you undoubtedly have finished your fruit and vegetable canning, but there still remain those late-in-the-season relishes. Those spicy, zesty accompaniments to meat and other entrees are almost as essential as the fruits and vegetables, and many women do not consider their canning complete without them.

Most relishes are easy to put up and there is little opportunity for spoilage if directions are followed. Enlist some help from the family for cutting up some of the vegetables and fruits and work will go forward rapidly.

SPICED GRAPES are delightful with mild-flavored meats such as lamb, veal and chicken.

Apple Butter
1 peck apples
1 gallon sweet cider
6 cups sugar
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
Wash and slice apples. Add cider and cook until soft. Press through sieve. Boil the strained pulp until thick enough to heap on a spoon, then add sugar mixed with spices and continue boiling until so thick that no liquids runs from the apples. Pour into hot jars and process for 10 minutes in a boiling water bath. Complete sealing if necessary.

RELISHES SHOULD be moist but not juicy. Chief ingredients in them should have a firm rather than mushy consistency. Vegetables in both of these relishes should be finely chopped.

Chow-Chow
1 gallon chopped cabbage
12 onions
12 green peppers
12 red peppers
2 quarts tomatoes, chopped
5 cups sugar
4 tablespoons ground mustard
1 tablespoon turmeric
1 tablespoon ground ginger
4 tablespoons mustard seed
3 tablespoons celery seed
2 tablespoons mixed pickling spice
1 gallon vinegar
Mix all vegetables, which have first been chopped, with one-half cup salt. Let stand overnight, then drain. The spices in a bag. Add sugar and spices to vinegar. Simmer 20 minutes. Add all ingredients and simmer until hot and well seasoned. Remove spice bag and pack hot chow-chow into sterile jars; seal at once.

LYNN SAYS:
Following Rules for Pickling Fruits and Vegetables
Pickles should be crisp and firm, solid and evenly colored. The correct color for the green pickle is olive rather than bright green.
Pack sufficient liquid in the jars in which you can pickles so that those on top will not shrivel.
Fresh spices are your best guarantee of flavor when making pickles. Spices lose flavor as they stand so only freshly opened packages should be used.

CRAB APPLE PICKLES

6-8 cups sugar
3 cups water
4 cups vinegar
1 stick cinnamon
1 tablespoon ginger
1 tablespoon whole cloves

Released by WNU Features.

Fruits and vegetables used for pickling should not be overripe. The same rules for selecting pickling material as for general canning holds true.
When making fruit pickles, cut the fruit in uniform sizes and shapes so the pickles look attractive when served. The syrup for fruit pickles is as thick as that for preserves.
Vegetables which are brined should be kept thoroughly covered with the brine, otherwise those standing uncovered by brine will spoil.

Illinois Balloon Lands Near Leslie

On October 14 George Barker of Leslie picked up a toy balloon which was released September 12 at Addison, Illinois, 20 miles west of Chicago.

The Barker youth was walking across a wheat field when he spied something red with a tag attached to it. The red was the red rubber. The tag bore the message, "The balloon to which this card is tied has been entered in the balloon race on September 12, 1918, on behalf of Glen Schneider, a child receiving care from the Lutheran Child Welfare association, which operates a child placing program and institution at Addison, Illinois (20 miles west of Chicago) and is celebrating this year the 75th anniversary of Lutheran child welfare work in Illinois.

Legion Will Issue Permits to Gripes

At the polls next Tuesday every Mason voter will be presented with a permit to gripe. Those who don't vote won't have permits and therefore, according to Post Adjutant Ralph G. Stroppe, their gripes against the government will have to be kept to themselves.

There is a serious angle to the gripe permits, Stroppe pointed out. The permits set forth that all the rights of American citizenship are based on the right to vote, and if that right is abandoned the other rights may have to be surrendered.

M-37 Extension To Open Nov. 15

Wright Construction Co. of Williamston is hurrying completion of the new 12 1/2-mile extension of M-37 from M-63 in Lake county north to M-56 in Wexford. Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, is hopeful that the road can be opened by November 15.

Bituminous aggregate, 2 1/2 inches thick, will provide an all-weather surface on the 22-foot roadway.

This new section of M-37 will open numerous hunting areas and trout streams. It will also serve as an all-weather facility for hauling logs. The area is densely wooded.

The contract price is $159,628.08.

In a striking clock, the first stroke usually marks the exact hour.

There are 3,028 miles of Great Lakes frontage bordering on Michigan, including 878 miles of shoreline on the various islands. Of this, the state controls only about 200 miles, or less than seven per cent, and most of this is in widely scattered parcels.

Use Plastic and Nerve Surgery For Facial Paralysis

Two possible procedures, one involving nerve surgery, and the other a plastic operation that are now being used to correct facial paralysis, are described in an article by Paul W. Greeley, M.D., Chicago, in the current issue of the Archives of Surgery, published by the American Medical Association.

Facial paralysis is due to an injury or tumor of the seventh, or facial nerve. The best method of repair, according to the Greeley article, is to sew together the ends of the cut or torn nerve trunk in order to enable the face to gain motion again. Where the injury has caused too large a gap for this procedure, it is possible to graft part of one nerve to another to fill the gap. Results have been undesirable. However, because the associated movements involved in trying to move the facial muscles are awkward, and frequently more conspicuous than the original facial paralysis.

When nerve surgery cannot be undertaken, the simplest and most satisfactory plastic surgical correction was described as simply supporting the face by means of tissue grafting. Strips of fibrous tissue, taken from around the muscles of the thigh, are transplanted under the skin, extending from the muscle of the temple, down the side of the face to the muscle underneath the lip. This will not make the face active again, but it will improve the appearance and comfort of the patient.

Willingness on the part of the patient to diligently practice movements of facial expression before a mirror until he has taught himself how to use the muscles in their new location, was described as essential to the success of these operations.

Not a Duty—a Privilege

Voting is a duty; but more than that, it is a privilege. It is the duty of every qualified citizen to participate in elections. It is the privilege of men and women over 21 who possess the necessary qualifications to go to the polls and help choose the people to run county, state and federal government. This year, with six proposals on the state ballot, the voters will actually have a strong voice in determining basic government policies. With a millage proposal for Ingham voters, those who go to the polls will be given the privilege of helping set their own tax rates, of helping to give better care to people suffering from tuberculosis.

In Mason the voters who go to the polls will have the privilege of choosing half the city council along with clerk, treasurer, assessor, justice of the peace and a constable. Over in Holt the voters will have the privilege of making a choice between township and city government.

It is every citizen's duty to know the candidates and the issues at an election. It is his privilege to cast his ballot for or against any candidate, or for or against any proposal.

Our rights which some of us have regarded as guaranteed under the constitution are based only on the one right to vote. Without that right, or without our exercise of that privilege, the other rights can not exist.

In most of the world today people are governed without their consent. They have nothing to do or nothing to say with the form of government over them. Here in the United States we have the privilege of deciding who shall govern us and how we shall be governed—actually how we shall govern ourselves. That's why we should exercise that privilege next Tuesday.

Unless we govern ourselves someone else will take over the job.

Easy on the Chloride

Once in a while during the course of the winter the use of calcium chloride mixed with sand becomes the lesser of two evils—the other evil being streets sheathed in ice. But the chloride should be used sparingly, more sparingly than it has been used in the last few years.

Chloride mixed with sand has ruined the underside of thousands of automobiles. The cost of undercoating cars to withstand the action of chloride on steel runs up into the millions of dollars. The damage done to shoes by the sand-chloride used on city streets is appalling. Tracked into houses, the chloride spoils rugs, floor finishes and furniture.

There are times when a little chloride should be mixed with sand to cut ice. Most of the time, though, the sand alone will do the trick. Chloride costs considerable mixed with sand, but the cost to automobiles, shoes, rugs and furniture runs up into the millions. So let's go easy on the chloride this winter.

Local Control is Best

In Germany and throughout most of Europe the schools are controlled by a ministry of education. There is no local control. School administrators and teachers are appointed by the politicians in power in the nation's capital. Children are taught what the minister of education says shall be taught. Initiative among either students or teachers is not encouraged and is not rewarded.

One day last week three German teachers visited Ingham schools. They marveled at the buildings and at the equipment provided. They were duly impressed by the school cafeterias and the school transportation. But what they liked best of all was the local control. To them that was the most important.

The importance of local school control is one of the things we take too much for granted. There are strong groups crying for more state and even federal school control. At the last session of congress the federal school aid bill, and that would have meant federal school control, was almost lobbied through. Another try will be made in the 81st congress. Here in Michigan teacher groups and teacher-controlled groups are continually clamoring for more state aid. They are entirely willing, some are even anxious, to surrender local control for bigger buildings and bigger checks.

The strength of the American school system, the German visitors declared, lies not in the massive buildings and the school bus lines, but in the local control, the election of local school boards, the responsibility of local school districts, the decision of local residents on how their schools shall be operated.

Perhaps the visiting Germans are right. It may well be that local control is the most valuable part of our educational system. It might be that federal control, even with federal aid, would actually harm instead of help the schools. The evaluation of the visitors may be nearer right than our own.

War on Rats

City and farm residents can almost eliminate the rat population of the county November 5 by co-operating in the placing of red squill bait. The baits have been made easy to get. Red squill is poison which will harm few animals other than rats.

Rats run up an appalling feed bill in both city and country. They help spread disease. Individual efforts are effective to some extent, yet often a campaign on one farm merely drives the rats to shelter on a neighboring farm. By everybody fighting rats at the same time there will be a heavier kill.

The campaign mapped out against Ingham rats November 5 is a campaign well worth while. It should have the support of every resident, whether he lives in town or country.

A Suggestion for Mason

Over in Williamston the school building is crowded. To provide more room for classes and to do away with noise and confusion resulting from band practice in the school, the board of education has leased the Williams-ton Legion building. All the band rehearsals will be held in the Legion building.

That sounds like a good idea.

Here in Mason the Legion building is within two blocks of the school.

Has the Mason board of education considered leasing the Legion building for band rehearsals and practice?

Eight Questions on Ballot Demand Yes or No Decisions

By Vernon J. Brown

During the past few weeks this column has been devoted to an attempt at explaining the purpose of the many proposals to amend the constitution of Michigan which proposals will confront the voter when he goes to the polls at the next election on November 2.

Let us review them for a moment.

First, there is that separate ballot calling for your vote on whether or not a complete rewriting of the basic law of the state shall be attempted and a constitutional convention called for that purpose. We said it might not be a bad thing to do, that such a forum might provide the means of ridding our administrative and legislative chambers of some of the screw ideas that now seem to be fog them.

Next there comes the big sheet with six different proposals, five to amend the constitution and the sixth to adopt or reject the so-called Callahan act to regulate and control foreign agencies within the state.

At the head of the list of proposed amendments is one to clarify the language of the existing section in respect to the order of succession in case of the death or disability or removal of the governor. One cannot get too excited about the emergency which calls for this amendment in view of the fact that during the entire history of Michigan only one governor has died in office and in that case the lieutenant-governor did a good job. Over in our neighboring state of Wisconsin, the governor died during the last two years. His successor, the lieutenant-governor who succeeded him, was renominated this fall in the face of heavy opposition and is now looked upon as almost certain to be re-elected. Georgia did have some trouble, but Michigan is not Georgia. However adoption of this amendment does no harm and might come in handy some time. No. 1 on the long ballot is a good place for a "yes" vote in case the voter wants to cast at least one in the affirmative.

Second on the big sheet is the proposal to repeal the sales tax diversion amendment adopted two years ago. We said "no", and that until the administration made an honest attempt to adjust the fiscal affairs of the state to the new mandate of the people and offered some relief to schools and cities the people should reject the proposal to repeal.

No. 3 and 4 propose to strike from the constitution all references to fixed salaries for state officials and leave the matter of pay and spending money to the legislature. "No" was said again.

Proposal No. 5 would emasculate the 15-mill tax limitation entirely. Unquestionably there should be some relaxation from the present language but this proposal goes altogether too far.

The voter should save a "yes" vote for proposal No. 6. The 1947 legislature passed a law to compel foreign agencies to register and make known to the public their purposes and aims. Radicals did not like this law so they circulated petitions among their number and on the streets and forced the abatement of enforcement until the voters could decide. So here it is before us this fall. A "yes" vote means you approve of the law and want it enforced. A "no" vote means you agree with the radicals who would undermine us without letting us know it is being done.

The TB Issue

Here in Ingham county there is still another question which the voters are called upon to decide.

The board of supervisors has been laying aside a little money each year to make some much needed improvements at the county tuberculosis sanatorium. New methods of treatment have been developed since the sanatorium was built back in the late 20's and new methods of surgery discovered which shorten the period of treatment and convalescence were applied.

Proper facilities with which to make use of these new methods are not now available. Authorities want to do some remodeling, make some changes and improvements and add on some room for specific operations, all of which costs more money than is now available. Instead of waiting for several years during which the fund could be built up at the rate of say $50,000 a year, it is now proposed to increase the county millage to the extent of half a mill a year two years only to provide the means immediately and do the construction next year, thereby making available to Ingham county TB victims the latest in surgery and treatments. It means five dollars a year on each $10,000 of taxable property in the county.

Holt voters will pass on the question of incorporating as a city. Voters in the city of Lansing have several local propositions.

Down by the Sycamore

The Ingham County News was first printed from type originally brought into the territory to print the Detroit Free Press, so the legend goes. It was freighted to Mason from Grass Lake. Most of that type is no longer in use. That's one reason why this column bears so little resemblance to the Bingay column in the Detroit Free Press.

But if there are Seattle readers in the audience they may notice a resemblance between this column and the late lamented Seattle Star. The Seattle Star plummeted to earth in 1947 and no longer shines by its own light. Some of the star-dust is used in this column.

Lines like these, after they are conceived, and hammered out on the Remington, are cast into lines of type. Each line of type is cast from an assembly of brass matrices. Some 1,200 to 1,400 matrices, or mats, make up a font. When the Seattle Star fell there were 107 fonts of mats among the wreckage. The Ingham County News bought one font and it arrived by express last Friday. It is now being used.

Book Talk

From Ingham County Library

Hours open to the public at Hall Memorial Library, Mason: Every day except Sundays and holidays, 2-5 p. m.; Monday, Wednesday, Saturday, 7-9 p. m.; during school year, Tuesday, Friday, 11:45-12:45; Story Hours, Saturday, 1-3:30.

Betty MacDonald has used much of the inimitable sense of humor that she used in EGG AND I for her latest adult book, PLAGUE. It is a story of her years in a tuberculosis sanatorium. The personalities, the rules and regulations, often very cold and impersonal, are all described. Methods of treatment have changed in the few years since she had her treatment, but it will be of interest to patients, present or past, and many others who enjoy EGG AND I.

I LOVE MY DOCTOR is "sort of" a sequel to THE DOCTOR HAS A BABY, by Evelyn Larkins. This is the experiences of a young couple who marry on little, but have love, education, energy and a sense of humor. Their wait for the first patient, (who leaves without paying); their "socializing," their first car, and preparations for the first baby are all told with good fun.

Louis Bromfield continues with his prolific output of books with his latest novel WILD COUNTRY, a story of a dramatic summer in the lives of several men and women, but principally of a boy, Ronnie. Sensitive to both nature and the people around him, Ronnie learns much of people and their ways as he observes and as he is helped to comprehend through the understanding of his grandfather on whose farm he spends this, his 13th summer.

For the who-dun-it fans we recommend particularly CAT AND MOUSE, a series of murders which coincide with a weird cat's cry over the telephone and a dead mouse in the recipient's bed. Unexpected ending, plausible solution. Rex Stout returns with another Nero Wolfe story in AND BE A VILLAIN, typically Stout and Wolfe.

Of Interest to Farmers

Don't Blame Farmers for High Prices

Those who place the blame for high food prices on the American farmer are not familiar with facts or the philosophy of farm people according to E. L. Anthony, dean of the school of agriculture at Michigan State college.

"Facts show the production of food products on American farms has increased steadily since 1936," Dean Anthony declared. Today the production of all farm products is 50 per cent greater than the base 1910-1914 average and nearly 30 per cent higher than the 1936-1940 average."

Greater supplies of foodstuffs normally act to keep prices lower, Dean Anthony maintained and added: "The farmers certainly have done everything possible to keep production up."

"The farmer is by instinct a producer. He wants to produce more because he has always worked on the theory that the more he produces from his land without causing lasting harm to the soil, the more income he will have to spend for things that make life more enjoyable."

Dean Anthony jokingly theorized that maybe the farmers were having it easier today than several years ago. He remarked: "I see the latest federal survey shows the average Michigan farm operator is working only 11.8 hours a day compared with 12.1 hours a day in 1940. Perhaps they're enjoying it easier today than they were trying to figure out how they can buy the lumber at present day inflated prices to make needed repairs on their barns."

Cooling Milk Still Important

Wise dairymen aren't counting on cooler air temperatures these days to help with the job of cooling milk properly. Don Murray, extension dairy specialist at Michigan State college, says that correct cooling is just as important now as it was this summer.

Air does a slow job of cooling milk and bacteria has more time for growth. Murray urges dairymen to take every precaution in the care and handling of milk so that low count milk is produced.

A new pamphlet written by Murray and published by the Michigan State college Cooperative Extension Service gives many hints on correct cooling of milk. A copy may be secured at county extension offices or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State college, and asking for folder P-124, "Keep Your Milk Cool."

Achievement Week For 4-H Planned

Achievement week for Michigan's 4-H boys and girls is planned for the week of November 1 to 7. Many county organizations have set the dates for special 4-H observances.

National achievement week is set each year for reviewing 4-H accomplishments and launching a new year of club work. Special events help to demonstrate the outstanding contributions of 4-H club members in the production and conservation of food for home and abroad. Rural young people who do not belong to 4-H clubs will be encouraged to enroll so they may find the many benefits of 4-H club work.

County 4-H leaders, extension workers, businessmen and farm groups in many counties are joining to help the 4-H members celebrate the close of a successful year and to plan for another one.

Automobiles are again taking a sizable toll of deer. Deadliest spot thus far is a 40-mile stretch on US-23 in Presque Isle county, where in a 30-day period the count was three bucks, three does and a fawn.

Next Tuesday, November 2—is the day!

Voters of Michigan will decide many important matters by the democratic principle of majority action. Ballots cast may reach the 2,500,000 mark.

Citizens will have an opportunity to vote for president, vice-president, United States senator and congressmen. They will choose state officials for two-year terms, together with members of the state senate and state house of representatives.

Furthermore, five constitutional amendments and two referendums are up for consideration—a lengthy and somewhat confusing responsibility. This column will endeavor to explain the major issues on the special ballot. We assume that you have made up your mind, by now, regarding your preference of federal and state officials.

Ballot proposal No. 1 was approved by the Michigan state legislature to avoid the Georgia experience after the 1916 election. The Georgia governor-elect died before he could take office, and a bitter dispute developed as to whether the lieutenant governor should take office or whether the legislature had power to appoint his successor.

This proposed amendment would fix the succession of officers as follows: governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor general, state treasurer and auditor general.

So far, we have not heard of any opposition to this proposal. Constitutional lawyers concede that the present charter is not clear.

Rexine Glynn

Henry Brotherton, a long time resident of this neighborhood, died early Sunday morning following a stroke on Thursday night. Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Ball funeral home in Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. DeForest Pierce of Eaton Rapids were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Watkins from Tuesday until Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Glynn were Sun dayguests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Glynn and Dale.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Glynn spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bob and family in Danville and celebrated their wedding anniversary and Mrs. Price's birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Watkins were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Fisher in Wheatfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pollok attended the 40th wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Otis at Rives Junction Sunday. Miss Erna Pollok and Mrs. Frank Everett and Donald also attended the anniversary party for Mr. and Mrs. Otis.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Murray of Flushing were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Warren in Lansing.

Mrs. Leo Glynn visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brenner and Mrs. Minnie Backus in Williamston Thursday. In the afternoon she attended the Christmas workshop.

Harold Glynn, Mrs. Leo Glynn and Mrs. Howard Pollok attended a surprise stork shower for Mrs. Lawrence Doan at the Farrell home last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Charles Greenman slipped on a rug at her home Friday and painfully injured her shoulder. She was taken to the hospital where it was found to be dislocated and slightly cracked. She is now at the home of her daughter, Grace, in Lansing.

Proposition No. 3 on the special ballot would permit the state legislature to fix salaries of state elective officials. The constitutional salary of Governor Kim Sigler, as set according to 1909 standards, is $5,000. The same sum is earmarked for the attorney general. The 1909 constitution also fixes the salary of secretary of state, state treasurer and auditor general at $2,500 a year.

How does Michigan manage to induce qualified citizens to serve as state officials? Answer: By a legislative subterfuge, upheld by the state supreme court, of allowing either an additional salary for membership on the state administrative board, or the use of the governor, an "expense account" with no strings attached.

Governor Sigler is paid $20,000 a year on this basis. Other state officials get $7,500 a year with the exception of the lieutenant governor who draws $3,500 a year plus $3 per day, or around $1,500. Governor Dewey and Governor Warren are paid $25,000 a year by their respective states—New York and California. A further adjustment in the governor's compensation may be forthcoming in the future when the governor's residence at Lansing is ready for occupancy.

Ballot proposal No. 4 would permit adjustment of the $3 per day salary now paid to members of the state legislature. Sigler's amount is paid daily, whether the legislature is in session or not. The year's compensation averages $1,095.

New York pays $2,500 a year plus actual traveling expenses for a round trip once a week; Pennsylvania, $3,000 for each session and $500 for a special session; Illinois, $5,000 for two year term plus 10 cents a mile traveling expense; and Ohio, $2,000 a year plus traveling mileage once a week.

On a basis of compensation for time served at Lansing during a session of the legislature, Michigan legislators received the fol-

Twenty-one states now permit the legislature to fix salaries of its members, but not for the term for which members are elected.

Other ballot issues are as follows:

Proposal No. 5: An amendment to modify the 15-mile limitation.

Proposal No. 6: A referendum on the act to regulate and control the operation of foreign agencies within the state.

Separate ballot: A referendum on the question of calling a convention for the purpose of general revision of the constitution.

Lime Check Is Needed Before Planting Legumes

If you're planning to make a seeding of alfalfa, red clover, or other legumes, it will pay to check the lime needs of the land. James A. Porter, extension soil scientist at Michigan State college, reports.

Seed and fertilizer for these seedings will cost from 12 to 15 dollars per acre. If the lime requirement of the soil has not been met, the return from this investment will be greatly reduced or even lost.

A number of things can cause this crop failure. Perhaps the farmer does not suspect that the soil is acid. Maybe liming material is applied but not in sufficient quantity to neutralize the acidity.

Sometimes the liming material is applied such a short time before seeding that there is not time for the necessary chemical action to take place.

Porter says the farmer need not guess. He can know whether any soil needs lime by having the soil tested or by testing it himself. For this test, or the outfit to make his own tests, he can arrange with his county agricultural agent.

Full application of lime is good insurance that liming material will have time to correct soil acidity before seeding. Liming material can be spread on sod land in the fall, and even when the soil is frozen, if conditions are good for spreading.

On sloping fields where the liming material might be washed away, it is best to apply at a time when it can be worked into the soil soon after applying.

TEST U. P. DAIRY HERD

The 14-cow herd of registered Holstein Friesians at the Chatham branch of the Michigan State college agricultural experiment station has recently completed a year of production testing. An average of 436 pounds of butterfat and 12,232 pounds of milk has been officially recorded. Milking was done two times daily.

Annual consumption of apparatus in the United States amounts to approximately 800,000 crates.

Good Breakfasts Mean Good Health

Are you feeling down in the dumps? Chances are you didn't eat a good breakfast. That's what the Michigan department of health says.

What did you eat? Breakfast, the most important meal in the day, is the most neglected meal, especially among women and children, Mrs. Alice Smith, chief nutritionist of the department, said today. Nine poor breakfasts are eaten for every good breakfast in the state.

A good breakfast includes: (1) fruit or fruit juice, preferably citrus; (2) whole grain or enriched cereal or bread; (3) milk; and (4) butter or fortified margarine. None of these four items should be omitted from any breakfast, and in addition, growing children need eggs, bacon, sausage or other breakfast meat.

Breakfast neglect is most common among children, particularly teenagers, among office workers, among plant and factory workers and among housewives, especially the mothers of little children. It reveals itself in irritability, fatigue, poor morale, lowered efficiency and ability to concentrate, less care with work, poor work performance, nervousness, accidents—and even wrinkles, Mrs. Smith said.

The time between dinner at night and breakfast the following day is the longest interval between meals. The human mind and body need refueling for efficiency and smooth operation during the morning and early afternoon hours.

The U. S. Bureau of Human Nutrition has found that those who skip breakfast get less done in the first working hour and become less efficient as the morning hours progress. Wartime study showed that most industrial accidents occurred between 11 and noon to those who had little or no breakfast.

Excuses usually given for eating poor breakfasts are (1) "haven't time," (2) "not hungry," and (3) "fattening."

The department of health recommended these solutions: Get up earlier. Serve breakfast earlier (you can set the table the night before.) Make breakfast a real family meal and take time to enjoy it. Vary the menu and serve it attractively. If you would streamline your figure, eat more in the morning and less at night. Eat a good breakfast to start a good morning and a good day.

Hunters Fewer With More Birds

The spot polling of downstate small game hunters covering the first days of the current season indicates low gun pressure and slightly more pheasants, according to the conservation department.

Biology students from the University of Michigan and Michigan State college, guided by conservation officers in their checking, found that 59 per cent of the first 461 hunters contacted believed there were more pheasants this season. Twenty-seven per cent told the future game managers that the number of birds approximated that of last year, while 14 per cent felt there were less than before.

Part of the current difficulty experienced by pheasant hunters is attributed to dry weather. With colder days in prospect, sportsmen anticipate better work by dogs.

Conservation officers said hunters were quite responsive to the polling. The survey will continue through the final week end of the season.

Rural Tele-news

SPARE THAT TREE!—Graduate foresters at Michigan Bell are in charge of trained crews that trim trees and control brush which might menace telephone lines. They work with utmost care to preserve the beauty of trees and landscape. Thus far this year, tree trimming and brush control have involved 450,000 man-hours.

"BLIFFY SNIFFER"—That's the nickname for a sort of "electrical bloodhound" used by telephone men. When work needs to be done on a certain pair of wires in a cable, an electric tone is placed on those wires at the central office. Out on the cable, the "Bliffy Sniffer," a pencil-like instrument, quickly picks out the wires by detecting the tone they carry.

GOOD NEIGHBORS—Everyone has good rural-line service when everyone helps make it so. This means spacing out calls, not interrupting when others are talking, giving up the line when a rural-line neighbor has an emergency call to make, and always making sure the receiver is in place when not being used.
