Gentlemen:

Costa Brava Partnership III, L.P., the general partner of which is Roark, Rearden & Hamot Capital Management, LLC ("Costa Brava") is the largest holder of CCA Industries' ("CCA" or the "Company") publicly traded common stock. We write to advise you of certain developments, and to pose certain questions, regarding our Company.

Costa Brava has been engaged in discussions with Ira Berman ("Berman") and David Edell ("Edell") regarding the potential purchase of their controlling Class A common stock. We believe that the CCA Board of Directors (the "Board") should be aware of our offer of July 6, 2006 to Berman and Edell. As matters stand, our offer is as follows:

- o Costa Brava is prepared to purchase the entirety of the Class A common stock at a substantial premium to the market price of the public Common stock that reflects the Class A shares' controlling position in the company.
- o Berman and Edell would retire from their positions with the company, and from the Board, effective upon the sale of their Class A shares.
- o Following the purchase of the Class A shares from Berman and Edell, Costa Brava would sell 200,000 Class A shares to Drew and Dunnan Edell, with financing to be provided by Costa Brava if necessary.
- o Drew would join, and Dunnan Edell would continue on, the Board, and would manage the business on a daily basis. They would report directly to the Board.

As noted, Costa Brava's believes that it would maximize value for all constituencies to grow profitably the cash flow generation of the business over the next decade, both through organic means and through acquisitions. Costa Brava believes that the foregoing transaction would move the Company in the right direction to pursue these goals, while providing Berman and Edell with the appropriate liquidity to realize the proceeds of their investment in the Company.

Last week, we learned for the first time that the Board may have tentatively agreed to have the Company purchase for itself -- with Company cash -- all of Berman's Class A shares and certain of Edell's Class A shares, with the remainder of Edell's Class A shares being converted to ordinary common stock. We understand that the Board has tentatively agreed to pay Berman and Edell a 30% premium to the market price of CCA's common stock. In addition, we understand that while Berman and Edell would reduce their salaries from their current level, the Company would make continue to make significant payments to Messrs. Berman and Edell.

We have also noted a number of developments the timing of which, at a minimum, raise questions that the Board may wish to consider. On February 6, 2006, the Company issued a positive press release that was followed by a rally in the Company's stock price. Just four days later, on February 10, Berman and Edell each sold 100,000 shares of common stock back to the Company in a private sale at $10.50 per share, a price that supposedly reflected a discount to the then-market price. However, the market price fell shortly thereafter, and the "discount" turned out to be a premium.

Now, a similar phenomenon appears to be taking place. The Company recently issued a press release, followed by a revised press release, highlighting its financial performance and announcing the hiring of investment bankers. The "good financial performance" includes pro-forma numbers -- non-GAAP -- and the discussion of "investment bankers" misleadingly fails to disclose that it was in connection with potential acquisitions, rather than a potential merger or sale of the Company. The stock is now up greatly, which would artificially boost the 30% premium that the Board has apparently agreed to pay for Berman and Edell's Class A shares.

Costa Brava has a number of questions about the proposed transaction between the Company and Berman/Edell:

1. What provisions have been made, if any, for arm's-length negotiations between Berman and Edell, on the one hand, and the Company on the other? Berman is the Company's Chairman of the Board, Executive Vice President, and Corporate Secretary. Edell is its Chief Executive Officer and a director. It goes without saying that they are interested in any transaction that would acquire their shares. How if at all is the Board dealing with this conflict?
2. What is the Board's rationale for expending over $7.5 million of cash in a share repurchase at a 30% premium to the market price? To the extent that the goal may have been to provide Berman and Edell with liquidity for their Class A shares, the pending discussions with Costa Brava would meet that need. In light of that development, what proper corporate purpose would be served by the proposed buyback of the Class A shares?
3. What provision has been made for the Class A shares following the Company's contemplated repurchase?
4. What are the terms under which the Company has been buying back, and now proposes to buy back, Berman and Edell's public Common shares? What protections are in place to ensure that these transactions (a) comply with all applicable laws, including the federal securities laws, and (b) are in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders?

Please provide us with answers to the foregoing questions by no later than this Friday, July 14, 2006. Costa Brava of course reserves all its rights, including the right to seek this and additional information under Section 220 of the Delaware General Corporate Law.

Very truly yours,

/s/ JAMES SHULMAN
