Office Chair buying guide

If you sit for more than 4 hours each day, it's critical you find a chair that supports your body. Your long-term health depends on it!

Not sure which chair is right for you?

Let us help you find your perfect chair in 3 easy steps!

1. Determine which ergonomic features you need to stay comfortable all day.
2. Choose a chair type that best suits your daily activities.
3. Choose your favourite fabric and colour.

STEP 1: Choose your ergonomic features

1
Back/Lumbar Height
Adjusts to provide lower back support

2
Chair Tilt Lock
Freezes chair movement, except swivel

3
Seat Height
Adjusts so feet are flat on the floor

4
Back Angle
Adjusts to provide support and reduce spinal disc pressure

5
Seat Angle Adjustment
Allows seat to tilt forward changing the angle of your thighs

6
Arm Height
Adjusts so arms are supported in neutral position

7
Width Adjustable Arms
Adjusts so arms are parallel to your body

8
Seat Depth
Moves seat forward or back to correct distance

9
Tension Adjustment
Controls resistance of chair back to tilting

STEP 2: Choose your chair type

Pages
479-486

Multi-Tilter

The most ergonomic choice. Seat and back can be adjusted independently. Tilt tension and height adjustment come standard. Typically comes with many more adjustable features.

Pages
487-490

Synchro-Tilter

Like the Multi, but with fewer paddle adjusters. Seat and back synchronize at a 2:1 ratio. If back reclines 30°, seat tilts forward 15° to reduce thigh stress.

Page
491

Mesh

These chairs often have the same ergonomic features as their filter cousins, but instead of fabric or leather, they are mesh, which allows air to circulate.

492

Intensive Use/Big&Tall

These chairs are created for heavy-duty use. They are perfect for areas in shift rotation or for extended use. Reinforced for added strength, they have a double-clutch system and use high-density foam.

Pages
494-497

Manager/Boardroom

These chairs are ideal for multi-taskers and those who aren't seated for long periods. With height adjustment and tilt tension control, most pivot from the centre of the seat pan for ease of movement.

Pages
498-499

Task

Non-tilting chairs ideal for short-duration workstations. Perfect for the home office, warehouse or other areas where the user sits for a short period of time. They typically come with seat and back height adjustment.

STEP 3: Choose your fabric and colour

This is just a small sampling of fabrics available. Your Basics® Dealer will help you find the right fabric for your needs and décor.

Ergonomics at Work : The ideal way to sit

Support your neck

Keep your head level and your neck in a neutral position to minimize muscle stress.

Tip: Look for a chair with a height-adjustable back for full support.

1

Support your back

Moulded foam back cushions and lumbar support help keep your spine in alignment.

Tip: look for a chair with built-in lumbar support, or consider adding a backrest.

2

Get up and move!

In order to maintain a relaxed yet supported posture, change positions frequently. One way is to take a break from sitting in an office chair every half hour for two minutes in order to stretch, stand, or walk.

Tip: consider adding height adjustability to your workstation. This will allow you to change your position from sitting to standing as often as you like for as long as you need.

Keep your monitor at eye level

You should be looking downward slightly at your monitor, where your eyes naturally fall when resting.

Tip: If your monitor is too low, use a monitor stand or monitor arm to adjust the height of your screen.

3

Support your arms

Your elbows should be bent at around 90 degrees and your arms should always be parallel to your body.

Tip: use a chair that has height and width adjustable arms so you can customize to fit you properly.

4

Support your wrists for keying

Your arms should be on a slight downward angle for keying, without having to flex your wrists upward.

Tip: move your keyboard from your desktop to an underdesk keyboard tray.

5

Keep your feet flat

Your legs should be about 2-3" from the seat, and your feet should be flat on the floor.

Tip: Look for a chair with a height-adjustable seat or consider a footrest if your feet don't touch the floor.
