THE manuscript book containing the following register of baptisms consists within its boards of 134 leaves. On the first page is the notice regarding the church of Bairnie and its officials, down to the word "beadle." This is followed by two and a half leaves of church collections and distributions. Those for 1763 appear to have been collections for the erection of the chapel, which seems to have had four windows, and from the entry "To Geo. Sangster for casting 7000 divots, 7s.," was probably roofed with turf. The collections in that year appear to have amounted to £16 : 0 : 1, with £1 : 10s., "Bp. Gerard's contribution to Udny," borrowed. A minute, dated Ellon, 3rd July 1766, of a meeting of the minister and elders of the chapel at Bairnie regarding the funds of the chapel, occupies the next page, which is followed by eight leaves of church collections and disbursements from 1766 to 1774. The next page contains the particulars regarding the church at Tillydesk, which are printed on page 7. The next page consists of contributions for the chapel, and the next page distributions, both evidently referring to Tillydesk, followed by six and a half leaves of church collections and distributions from 1776 to 1783, and after a blank leaf there is a leaf of "money received from the congregation at Tillydesk, from 1783 to 1787."

Turning to the other end of the book, the second leaf begins "List of baptisms," and on eleven and a half leaves are the baptisms as printed down to 26th August 1783. The next page is blank, and on the next are the seven entries relating to the Kennedys. The rest of the book is blank.

It is interesting to notice that, owing probably to the disturbed times after the "45" the practice in Episcopal congregations of bringing infants to be baptised in the chapels had become neglected, and each priest for the most part travelled through the districts assigned to him for the time being, and baptised infants in their homes or at other convenient houses. The following Register therefore contains a list of baptisms celebrated by the priest to whom the Register belonged. The chapel is understood to have been removed from Bairnie to Tillydesk about the year 1776, and this is probable, as a new page is commenced in the end of 1775 for recording baptisms, and the handwriting is changed at this date. I have therefore ventured to allocate the baptisms prior to 10th May 1775 to the period when the chapel was at Bairnie, and those of a subsequent date to Tillydesk.

On a loose page inside the book were the following Jacobite verses :—

" 10th June 1739.

" This day we celebrate, our Faiths being sealed,
The Paracleteis (sic) being sent, and Truth revealed
Seven times ten yearis, and three times three beside
Have had their period since 'twas thus employed.

What Floods of Comfort did that year abound?
 With what success were Truth and Duty crowned?
 This day! a scene of joy and grief presents,
 Chequered, like Life with good and bad events:
 Glad were our Sires for a hoped Monarch born,
 We wail with grief his unperformed return;
 But Heaven be praised, he lives, and yet may be
 The comfortable mean to make us free;
 So may the faithful Prayers preferred to-day
 Draw down the Blessing then indulged to May;
 And James restored give equal joy to June
 At any time next year, we'el count it soon."

Seventy-nine years before 1739, i.e., in 1660, Charles II. was restored on the 29th of May. Why the 10th of June was celebrated I am not aware.

The chapels at Bairnie, and later at Tillydesk, were places of worship set up by the Episcopal congregation, which up to about the year 1705 worshipped in the Parish Church at Ellon. After the "'45," information was laid in the proper quarters that services forbidden by the Acts 1719 and 1746 were being held, and a company of soldiers was despatched from the garrison at Aberdeen, and the chapel at Ellon was demolished, as was also the chapel at Green of Udney, in a neighbouring parish. It was not until 1764 that the Ellon congregation ventured to set up another chapel, and this not in Ellon but some two miles or more out, in a retired spot on the road from Ellon to Dudwick Hill, in the district known as Bairnie. For some reason, about the year 1776, this chapel was given up and a move was made to Tillydesk, Turnerhall, some three miles further away, but still in the parish. There the congregation was served by priests, who for a time also served the Old Deer congregation at Crichtie, but later the Udney congregation at Chapelhall, Esslemont. This latter arrangement continued until 1817, when, on the advice of Bishop Skinner, once himself the priest at Bairnie, a chapel was erected at Craighall, Ellon, to serve both the congregations, and at this date the chapels at Tillydesk and Chapelhall were dismantled and the woodwork was roused. The site of the chapel at Tillydesk can be traced in the garden of the present farm of that name.

The following Registers are in the custody of the Rev. Mr. Haslewood, incumbent at Ellon :—

I.—Relating to Tillydesk (Ellon) and Chapelhall of Esslemont (Udney).

(This Register also applies to other centres than above until 1784.)

III.—Relating to Ellon, after Chapels at Chapelhall for Udney and Tillydesk for Ellon were closed, and Chapel built at Craighall, Ellon, to serve both Congregations.

Register of baptisms, marriages and burials, in one book, 1816-1871.

Do. do. do. to present date.

Roll of communicants, 1816-1817.

Do. do. 1818-1853.

Possibly the most interesting entries in the baptismal register are those relating to the family of John Skinner, afterwards Bishop at Aberdeen. According to the Dictionary of National Biography, he was the son of John Skinner, schoolmaster at Echt, afterwards minister at Longside. The future Bishop is stated to have been born at Longside on 17th May 1744. He was ordained deacon in 1763, priest in 1764, and appointed to the congregations of Ellon and Udney, and in 1775 to Longacre. His wife, whom he married on 27th August 1764, was a daughter of William Robertson, Episcopal clergyman, Dundee. Bishop Skinner's second son, William, is stated in the Dictionary of National Biography to have been born at Aberdeen on 24th October 1778. It will be observed, however, he had a son of that name baptised on 20th July 1773.

The manuscript volume was among a number of other papers which belonged to a son of the Rev. Mr. Cruickshank. These were being burned, but a servant preserved the volume, which now belongs to Duncan Warrand, Esquire, 16 Buckingham Gate Gardens, London, S.W., and is published by his kind permission.
