2019

Wine List

Enotria&Coe

Challenge paves the way for opportunity. The current market is undisputedly tough, but we're convinced that the UK remains the most exciting and dynamic wine market on the planet. At E&C, we continue to see both customers and consumers choose quality over quantity. Wine drinkers are seeking out products with provenance and authenticity; they want to know more about the story behind the wine. Against the backdrop of a changing political and social landscape, consumers increasingly want to be wowed and delighted – that's what we're here for, and we're happy to help!

Our Buying team's vision is to source with inspiration and verve, and to bring you the world's most exceptional, sought-after wines from across the globe. Couple this with the strongest possible commercial offering, and I'm pleased to say that the 2019 portfolio is the best it has ever been.

We have a delicious line-up of new wines to share with you, and our French portfolio in particular has undergone some seismic changes. It has been further strengthened with the additions of the iconic Lucien Lurton wines from across Bordeaux, undisputed Malbec innovators Georges Vigouroux in Cahors, and famed biodynamic pioneer Domaine Cazes in Roussillon.

As the thirst for all things eco increases, so does our portfolio, with a host of newcomers including Francesco Cirelli, a range of certified organic Montepulcianos made in amphora; Cruz de Alba, biodynamic Ribera del Dueros made with holistic and unorthodox principals by Sergio Avila; and Californian sustainable pioneers, Bonterra.

Energetic and new wave winemakers continue to add excitement to our list, including two newcomers: Chaffey Bros in Australia's Eden Valley and Boschkloof from South Africa, who are both pushing boundaries and delivering pleasure to you and your customers.

Here, you'll also find the wines from Fazi Battaglia, Brancaia and Kir-Yianni – bringing more prestige and dynamism to the range.

We're proud to offer not only our prized portfolio, but also a team of experts who are here to work in partnership with you to grow your business. Our focus lies in strong relationships with both customers and producers. Our flexible, industry-leading supply chain allows us to meet your business needs, and our wine list Design gurus and Marketing mavericks are always on hand to offer advice and insight.

Here's to a fantastic 2019. We hope that you enjoy perusing from the portfolio as much as we enjoyed crafting it.

Champagne & Sparkling

The popularity of all things fizzy remains at an unprecedented high, and here at Enotria&Coe we are embracing this burgeoning trend with gusto; proudly presenting our most electric and comprehensive selection of sparklers to date.

Whilst Prosecco shows no signs of slowing, Cava's cheap and cheerful image is finally waning, and is now gaining the recognition it deserves.

Agency Champagne

We've carefully cultivated a list of celebrated Champagne producers that we feel deserve a place on every list throughout the UK.

Individuality, style and craft are key, and each of our agency Champagnes showcase the terroir of the village from which they hail. Our range spans from household names to the lesser known, emerging Champagne houses, who are more than worthy of a chance in the spotlight. We are certainly spoilt for choice, but we wouldn't want it any other way!

Champagne Baron de Marck

Our exclusive On Trade 'House' Champagne, Baron de Marck, is meticulously sourced, aged, and packaged by Thierry Gobillard. In terms of value and reliability, it over-delivers, and the fresh, balanced, and surprisingly complex Champagne is a delight to drink.

Champagne Alfred Gratien

For four generations, the Epernay-based Jaeger family has been handing down the trade of cellar master from father to son, ensuring the Alfred Gratien style lives on. The estate is home to 1.56 hectares of Grands Crus and Premiers Crus classified vines, in the heart of Champagne. Century-old expertise, quality supplies, and 'sous-bois' oak vinification all contribute to transforming their wine into a prestigious Champagne, characterised by freshness and longevity.

Champagne Gobillard

If you're after the true heart of Champagne, then look no further. The Gobillard family lives mere metres from the grave of Dom Pérignon, and, following decades of hard work, have secured 26 hectares of vines, much of which is Premier Cru that was once owned by the Benedictine Hautvillers Abbey. A handful of carefully selected growers tend to a further 125 hectares nestled in the most prestigious crus, yielding a range of Champagnes that accentuate brightness, minerality and elegance over power and richness.

Champagne Taittinger

The Taittinger family have managed their Champagne house for nearly a century, with its aim always being the pursuit of excellence. In their own words, having a family name on a bottle conveys the skills and knowledge of their past, as well as a commitment to the future – something Pierre-Emmanuel Taittinger has embodied for 40 years.

Champagne Jacquart

Housed in the opulent 19th century Hôtel de Brimont, on the Boulevard Lundy in Reims, Champagne Jacquart is kept in good company, with fellow Champagne producers Krug and Roederer among its neighbours. As well as enabling winemaker Floriane to pick the best fruit for wines such as their cuvée de prestige, Alpha, and the house's benchmark Blanc de Blancs, the many growers and vineyards supplying Jacquart also guarantee consistency and quality for the core non-vintage cuvée, Brut Mosaïque.

Champagne

The popularity of all things fizzy remains at an unprecedented high, and here at Enotria&Coe we are championing this trend with gusto.

In addition to our agency offerings, we're presenting a list of some of the most renowned and respected Champagnes in the world, in a selection that is sure to inspire and excite. Nothing says celebration quite like a glass of effervescent Champagne!

Pol Roger

Pol Roger has been producing exceptional Champagne for over 160 years. To its credit, the house remains small, family-owned, fiercely independent and unrivalled in its reputation for quality. Indeed, it's this quality which led to Sir Winston Churchill's lifelong attachment to Pol Roger, who famously insisted, "In defeat I need it, in victory I deserve it."

Bollinger

The House of Bollinger was created, in 1829, in Ay, through the exciting partnership of two eminent men, Admiral Athanase-Louis-Emmanuel, the Count of Villermont, who owned vines on the Montagne de Reims, and Jacques-Joseph-Placide Bollinger, his son-in-law. Since this time, it's earned a reputation as one of the most respected and reliable Champagne houses, producing full-bodied Champagnes, characterised by great longevity and grace.

Moët & Chandon

Since its founding in 1743, Moët & Chandon has been passing down unrivalled winemaking savoir-faire and an innovative, pioneering spirit from generation to generation. Claude Moët was the first person to embody these values when he made his Champagne the most sought-after in Europe. The 1,190 hectares of rich limestone soil – 50% of which is classed as Grand Cru and 25% Premier Cru – today make up the largest vineyard area in Champagne.

Veuve Clicquot

Veuve Clicquot is undoubtedly one of the best known and most recognisable of all Champagne marques. Founded in 1772, the house was built on the formidable reputation of the widow Clicquot, who managed the business for most of the 19th century. The vibrant orange label has become a hallmark of consistency and Champagne of the highest quality.

Ruinart

Way back in 1729, Nicolas Ruinart, a Reims draper like his father, started his first account ledger devoted to “wine with bubbles.” This ledger serves as the birth certificate for the first Champagne House ever created. Since its inception, Champagne Ruinart has taken pride in the excellence of its cuvées. Interestingly, the unique shape of its bottle pays tribute to the historic bottles of the eighteenth century.

Krug

Krug may well be part of the Louis Vuitton-Moët Hennessy group, and incorporated into the Veuve Clicquot company; however, it is still a family run business. Since 1843, when the firm was established in Germany, Krug has been producing oak-fermented wines, a practice that adds complexity, finesse and richness. Long ageing on the yeast, strict selection of grapes, and a unique father-to-son winemaking tradition all help to create the quality that makes Krug so highly regarded.

Mumm Champagne

With a legacy dating back 170 years, Champagne G.H. Mumm has celebrated remarkable feats of endurance and human achievement. In 1875, the House began decorating its bottles with the Cordon Rouge as a tribute to the red ribbon of the Legion of Honour, France’s highest civilian distinction created by Napoleon I. This bold and emblematic red sash has now become synonymous with G.H. Mumm, and the extraordinary achievements it supports.

Perrier-Jouët

Ever vigilant to the changing tastes of its customer, Perrier-Jouët has a remarkable history of innovation. In 1854, it became the first-ever producer of dry Champagne, and they were the first House to release 'millésimes' or 'vintage' Champagne. A few years down the track, in 1858, it was also the first House to state the 'cru,' or village name, and the year of the harvest on the cork, and then on the label itself by the 1860s.

Laurent-Perrier

Situated in Tours-sur-Marne, just outside Reims, Laurent-Perrier is one of France's most respected Grande Marque Champagnes. Their rosé is one of the rare Champagnes made exclusively from Pinot Noir, by the traditional method of leaving the must in contact with the skins long enough to impart a pale rose-petal colour to the wine.

Besserat de Bellefon

Besserat's Cuvée des Moines was created in 1930 following a challenge to Victor Besserat by the manager of the famous Parisian restaurant, La Samaritaine de Luxe, to create a true gastronomic Champagne: "Make me a Champagne unctuous enough to accompany any meal, and I'll be ordering 1,000 bottles instead of 100." Today, it's these fine bubbles and elegant, creamy style that many perfectly with food, that are the hallmarks of Besserat's Champagne.

Champagne Lanson

When Jean-Baptiste Lanson took the helm of the Champagne house, the company prospered and exports grew, particularly in Great Britain, where Lanson was awarded the Royal Warrant by Queen Victoria in 1900 - an honour it has retained to this day. Early on in the company's history, the classically crisp house style was established when the family made the decision to vinify its wines without malolactic fermentation. This, combined with extended ageing in their cellars before release, contributes to what can best be described as beautifully complex and rewarding wines.

Roederer

Made by one of the very last family-owned large houses with their own grapes, from 214 hectares of fully-owned vineyard, Roederer is arguably one of the most reliable non-vintage Champagnes of them all. The toasty house style is a result of the decision to age for three years on lees with reserve wines.

Champagne Pommery

In 1857 the wool industry was in crisis, and Mr Pommery moved into the Champagne trade to provide for his daughter. He died a year later in February 1858. The rest, as they say, is history: the young widow Pommery took over the Champagne business and led it on to success and glory. Pommery's Cellar Director Olivier Damas created the first vintage brut in the history of Champagne: Pommery Nature 1874. It was a revolution in Champagne. The Pommery style became known as 'full of finesse and cheery lightness,' a style still evident in the Brut Royal. It is always different and ever unique, after slow ageing in the shadows of the chalk cellars.

Piper-Heidsieck

Piper-Heidsieck's story began in 1785, when Florens-Louis Heidsieck founded Heidsieck & Co, and swiftly made a name for himself with a distinctive Champagne, whose reputation quickly spread beyond the local regions and won favour at court. Piper-Heidsieck owns vineyards from the Montagne de Reims to the Côte des Bar. However, the majority of the hundred growths used for the blending of its signature cuvée come from expertly selected vines that represent the true diversity of Champagne.

Beau Joie Champagne

Produced in Epernay by Bertrand Senecourt, Beau Joie is a zero-dosage Champagne with a distinctive and innovative look. Its recycled-copper casing is a nod towards Paris's copper roofs and the armour that French knights wore from days gone by. Both the brut and the rosé are crafted from a combination of Pinot Noir and Chardonnay grapes, and are fabulous enjoyed alongside food.

Veuve Ambal

The association of widows or 'veuves' and sparkling wine extends beyond Champagne, south into Burgundy where Veuve Ambal, the leading producer of Crémant de Bourgogne, is established. Marie Ambal married a Parisian banker and, when he died, returned to her home village of Rully in Côte Chalonnaise and to pursue her family involvement in wine. Today, Veuve Ambal has 230 hectares of vineyards in Burgundy and is one of the most pristine wineries in the region.

Sylvain Gaudron

The Gaudron family – fourth generation Gilles Gaudron is currently at the helm – have been making wine in Vouvray, Vernou since 1890, farming a 27-hectare vineyard, two-thirds of it with an average age of 30 years. The cellars date back to the 13th century, with 1km of galleries burrowed deep into the rock. These are classy wines, superb vehicles for Loire Chenin Blancs – all racy fresh with a fine, chalky minerality.

Ruggeri

As Prosecco continues to enjoy its time in the sun with UK consumers, seeking out an authentic expression of this crowd-pleasing sparkling wine becomes all the more important – and ever more difficult. This is where Ruggeri enters the picture. Established by Giustino Bisol in 1950 and now run by his son, Paolo, and grandchildren Giustino and Isabella, this winery's collection of Proseccos – many bottled as top quality Prosecco di Valdobbiadene DOCG – are some of the finest examples coming out of the region.

Ferrari

Inspired by Champagne and propelled by his winemaking studies in Montpellier, Giulio Ferrari's vision was unwavering: to make the finest Metodo Classico sparkling wines in Italy. A bold pledge in 1902, but to this day, the wines of Ferrari remain true to their creator's vision, persisting through the arrival of the Lunelli family as owners of the business in 1952. This consistent philosophy has turned Giulio's dream into reality, and today Ferrari has firmly established their position as the finest sparkling wine producer in the country.

Modena – the home of Ferrari and Maserati, of Pavarotti and Acetico Balsamico – is also the home of Lambrusco. Chiarli's long and rich history in the region is intertwined with the great – and much misunderstood – wine style, and their expertise in everything from wine quality to marketing has helped spark a Lambrusco revolution. Located near the hills surrounding the village of Castelvetro in the Modena Province, the Chiarli family have been cultivating vineyards for more than a century, and today have 42 hectares under vine at Chiarli Castelvetro. ## Planeta

In Planeta's early years, expertise came from a surprising source: Australia. The winemaker brought in by Diego Planeta was an Italian – Carlo Corino – but one who had soaked in the latest warm-climate winemaking secrets during a stint in New South Wales. Ever since, Planeta has managed to capture the intrinsic perfume and fresh flavours of Sicily's grapes in their wines. The early success of their Chardonnay – which now boasts a cult following - gave Planeta the credibility it needed to open the world's eyes to the charms of Sicily's indigenous grape varieties, ushering in a broad range of wines that today owes as much to Grecanico and Nero d'Avola as it does to the winery's signature Chardonnay.

Torelló

The Torelló family has been growing wine for centuries, and as they enter the 22nd generation, the tradition shows no sign of slowing. It wasn't until 1951 that Francisco Torelló started the production of Cava, from the Can Martí estate, made up of 135 hectares in the fertile region of Alt Penedes. Torelló favours traditional agriculture, prioritising quality and respect for the environment. His Cavas are true to type - made with typical Spanish grapes.

Lobban

Scotland, Australia and Spain – they mightn't seem like the closest of bedfellows, but the melange of this trio with Lobban Wine is nothing short of stunning. Lobban Wines is a small, speciality estate based in Catalonia, the autonomous region in north east Spain. Scottish-born winemaker Pamela Geddes began her career in Australia, before eloping to Spain to establish her own estate and create a European take on an Aussie classic – Sparkling Shiraz. Blending 95% Shiraz and 5% Garnacha, Pamela handcrafts this wine using the traditional method. From disgorging the sparkling and corking and crowning the bottles, to applying the distinctive tartan strip that adorns the bottle, she manages the whole venture herself.

A family-owned business in the heart of Hampshire, Hattingley Valley have been winning international acclaim and awards ever since their first vintage in 2013. Their English wine project began in 2008 and has developed into a custom-built, eco-friendly winery, farming some 24 hectares of vines across two separate sites. The first winery in the UK to adopt solar power, Hattingley Valley is recognised as a top estate abroad, and looks to be gaining just as much recognition across its native land.

Without the efforts of industrious men like Ken Forrester, South African Chenin Blanc might be scarcely more than a footnote to the country's winemaking history – a workhorse grape, producing vast amounts of unmemorable white wine. Thankfully, this Zambia-born former restaurateur saw beyond the grape's obvious quaffability, going on to produce wines such as The FMC that have not only elevated the varietal to world renown, but resulted in their creator being bestowed with the moniker 'Mr Chenin.'

The Pellers are Icewine pioneers, and were one of the first families to explore the possibilities of this unique Canadian style of wine. Commitment to Icewine production isn't for the faint-hearted, but this didn't daunt the Pellers; the family took it one step further, planting their Niagara Peninsula vineyards closer to Lake Ontario to make their products even fresher and more food-friendly. Their efforts paid off – the wines that result are uniquely unctuous, with a piercing streak of lip-smacking freshness.

The global landscape of wine grows more diverse and competitive by the day, but France continues to evolve and develop as an undisputed producer of some of the world's greatest wines.

As international demand for fine Bordeaux and Burgundy deepens, the quest for true value in these historic regions becomes ever harder – but it's one that we relish. Superlative estates from the Loire, Alsace, and along the length of the Rhone also feature heavily, together with an intriguing selection of producers in the sun-kissed hinterland of the south-west, and clustered around the sparkling Mediterranean.

Alsace

Alsace is one of the great, under-appreciated treasures of the wine world. Nestled in the lee of the forested Vosges Mountains, where the aromatic whites are still despite global warming much more successful than the light reds.

Unlike in Germany, the winemaking philosophy here was to ferment all of the grape sugar into alcohol, resulting in dry, full-bodied wines; there is no better expression of this than the world-renowned Trimbach wines.

Alsace

Trimbach

Even after 13 generations, the Trimbachs of 2019 remain true to the philosophy handed down to them by their 19th century ancestor, Frédéric Emile. This means wines made to a bone-dry template, strong on structure, longevity and fruit, with unparalleled elegance, balance and food-friendly versatility. Trimbach offers a pure reflection of the sun-warmed, limestone-dominated vineyards surrounding Ribeauvillé, the medieval town the family has called home for nearly a century.

Lucien Lurton & Fils

The Lurton family is by far one of the most emblematic families in Bordeaux, having revived several of the region's Grands Crus Classés. In the 1950s, 3rd generation winemaker Lucien Lurton acquired a number of Bordeaux flagship properties including many classified growths. A great connoisseur and champion of the best terroirs, he made his name by defending many parcels of land, which were coveted by gravel merchants when the vineyards were in major crisis. In 1992, he handed down his properties to his ten children. Today, Denis has Desmirail (3ème Cru Classé Margaux); Henri has Brane-Cantenac (2ème Cru Classé Margaux); Marie-Laure has Villegeorge (Haut-Médoc); Sophie runs Bouscaut (Cru Classé Graves) and Lamothe-Bouscaut (Pessac-Léognan) which was purchased in 1999; Gonzague looks after Château Durfort-Vivens (2ème Cru Classé Margaux), and also manages Château Haut-Bages Libéral (5ème Cru Classé Pauillac) with his wife, Claire Villars; Thierry is owner of Camarsac (Entre-deux Mers), and Bérénice is at the helm of the sumptuous Château Climens (1er Cru Classé Barsac).

Château Camarsac

Between Bordeaux and St. Emilion, on a hill surrounded by vines in the Entre-Deux-Mers, lies the Camarsac fortress, home of Château Camarsac. Built in the early fourteenth century, the winery is steeped in history, having been owned by the Black Prince of Wales during the 100-year-war; a heritage which Thierry Lurton and his team are determined to perpetuate in their approach and products today. The vineyards of Château Camarsac extend over the communes of Camarsac, Loupes, St.Aubin de Branne, Cabara, and Sainte-Terre. This mosaic of individual plots and terroirs encourages complexity through the range, as does the utmost attention to authenticity, precision and quality.

The wines of Château Villegeorge have been highly sought after reaching as far back as the 18th century. Upon the Cru bourgeois level's establishment in 1932, the Château was awarded Exceptional Growth status, one of only six wineries to receive the honour. Lucien Lurton purchased the property in 1973, eventually awarding it to his daughter Marie-Laure, who had been winemaker at the Château since 1986. Building on the quality afforded to the wines by the deep gravel soils of the estate, in recent years the cellars have seen incredible upgrades and modernisation. The winery has been recognised and certified as environmentally friendly by Terra Vitis since 2003.

Château Desmirail

Château Desmirail is a Third Growth in the 1855 classification, which has an outstanding terroir bordering the Route des Châteaux. The elegant 18th century manor house is located behind a majestic gate made of pink marble. The cellar features a vat room typical of those in late 19th century Médoc. Jean Desmirail gave his name to the Château after marrying an heiress from the Rauzan family in the late 17th century. The current owner and manager, Denis Lurton, took over from his father Lucien in 1992.

Château Durfort-Vivens owes its name to the Durfort de Duras, a powerful family in the South-West of France. In 1824, the Viscount of Vivens' name was added to that of Durfort. The 1855 classification ranked the wine as a Second Cru Classé. In 1937 the estate was bought by the company owning Château Margaux, whose main shareholder at that time was the Lurton family. In 1961 Lucien Lurton, a great lover and protector of wine-producing terroirs, acquired and restored this exceptional vineyard. In 1992, his son Gonzague inherited the property. #### Château Lamothe-Bouscaut

Situated in Cadaujac, 200 metres from Château Bouscaut, Château Lamothe-Bouscaut is an old wine estate owned by Sophie Lurton and Laurent Cogombles. The house dates back to the 12th Century, with parts of the actual vineyard being recorded on the 18th century Belleym map. Lamothe-Bouscaut wines were very famous in the 19th Century. In 1969, the vines were loaned to Château Bouscaut, who finally acquired the estate in 1999 under owners Sophie Lurton and Laurent Cogombles. The Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon vines grown on these deep, gravelly soils are on average 35 years old. The vineyards are sustainably managed, and pruning is carried out by hand, by five vineyard workers, on the nine hectare estate.

Château Haut-Bages Libéral

Château Haut-Bages Libéral was founded at the beginning of the 18th century, with its former owners gathering some of the best soils in the Pauillac area. The winery was included as a Fifth Growth in the 1855 Paris Classification. This beautiful vineyard found a new youth in 1960, when the Cruse family purchased the estate and launched a vast programme of replanting the vines – but it was not until the arrival of the Villars-Merlaut family in 1982 that Château Haut-Bages Libéral returned to its former splendour. Claire Villars Lurton took over the estate in 2000, modernising the winemaking facilities and introducing environmentally friendly methods, to gain the best from the terroir.

Château d'Issan

Château d'Issan - Margaux Third Growth from the 1855 Bordeaux classification - is reported to have been served at the marriage of Eleanor d'Aquitaine and Henry Plantagenet during the Middle Ages. There are records of Château d'Issan being kept in the cellars of The Prince of Wales during the 18th Century, and in the late 19th Century the Emperor Franz-Joseph of Austria thought so highly of this wine that he regularly served it at court. The Château's motto is "For the Tables of Kings and the Altars of Gods" – if you are looking for a claret with pedigree, you can't go far wrong with this timeless classic.

Château Phélan Ségur

Château Phélan Ségur, in the iconic Bordeaux Saint-Estèphe appellation, had an origin a little different to the majority of French châteaux; it was established by Bernard O'Phelan, a young Irish wine merchant, in the 19th century. Four families and two centuries of winemaking passion later, Château Phélan Ségur has created an identity based on elegance and finesse. Ancestral know-how, authenticity and ultimate respect of traditions are of the most importance to the team, who continue to craft quality wines today, within what they perceive as a 'living heritage.'

Château Talbot

This important estate owes its name to Constable Talbot, an English warrior defeated at the battle of Castillon in 1453. Cloaking the banks of the estuary of the Gironde, the estate vineyard extends over the famous outcrops sculpted in ancient quaternary gravels, the only conditions in which such truly fine wines come into being, in the area of St-Julien.

Château Lynch Bages

Overlooking the Gironde Estuary at the entrance to Pauillac, the vines of Lynch Bages are located on the Bages plateau, one of the finest gravelly rises in the appellation. The estate once belonged to the famous Lynch family, of Irish origin, and was acquired by Jean-Charles Cazes in 1934. His grandson, Jean-Michel Cazes, restructured the estate in 1974, adding state-of-the-art winemaking equipment, but kept the former wooden vats as a reminder of the 19th century.

Château Rauzan-Ségla

Rauzan-Ségla is a château that has gone from strength to strength in recent years, making wines worthy of its 'Second Growth' status. This is mainly thanks to the winemaking team led by David Orr and John Kolasa (both from Château Latour). There are 51 hectares under vine – the average age is 25 years – and production is 8,000 cases per year. The soil is a mixture of fine gravel and clay, and the vines are planted to a density of 6,600 to 10,000 vines per hectare.

Château Sainte-Marie

Sainte-Marie owner Stéphane Dupuch's determination and superb results stand out against the ocean of indifferent Entre-Deux-Mers whites and Bordeaux Supérieur reds that are produced in the region. Since the property has been in Stéphane's hands, he and his wife have raised the standards enormously. In a region of varied soils, the focus is to plant vine varieties in the places that will bring out the best qualities in their fruit, fully allowing the grapes to express the inherent, subtle qualities of their terroir.

Château des Gravières

A small château in the Graves appellation of Bordeaux, Merlot-dominated where usually Cabernet Sauvignon is king, Château des Gravières makes wines that satisfy both the palate and the pocket. The Labuzan family, who continue to own and run the winery today, with brothers Thierry and Denis at the helm, are part of a long line of wine specialists, their first Labuzan vines being planted as far back as 1847. ## Château Saint-Ange

Descended from sailors, the Doublet family has been anchored in the Bordeaux vineyards since the end of the 18th century. The 1970s saw the emergence of their first winery at Château Vignol, the base of their operation and the source of a range of quality Bordeaux wines. Later years saw the family cross into Graves and the Dordogne to establish estates at Château Tour de Calens and Château Saint-Ange. Today their wines, all marked with the distinctive dragonfly that has become the emblem of the family, can be sourced in all four corners of the globe.

Domaine Louis Michel

That classic tasting note for benchmark, premium Chablis – precise, linear, with the scent of sea-washed shingle – could have been composed with the wines of Louis Michel in mind. ## Domaine Bernard Defaix

After speaking to Didier and Hélène Defaix for just five minutes, you start to realise what makes their wines so special. Not only do they have holdings in some of Chablis' best-situated vineyards, their attention to detail in vine growing and winemaking is astounding. Their focus has been on taking care of the vineyard through improving soil structure, biological pest control and painstaking vegetation management; their cellar work is similarly precise. All this enables the potential of each 'terroir' to fully express itself through fine, powerful and distinguished wines, which have a succulence of texture married to serious intensity of flavour that makes them delicious young, yet also capable of considerable cellaring.

Based in Nuits-Saint-Georges, Lupé-Cholet was the creation of Alexandre de Mayol de Lupé and Félix de Cholet who founded the winery in 1903. Bringing together tradition and modernity, these wines are purposed with expressing their character from the soil they originate. Careful sorting of the grapes, light pressing, partial or total de-stemming, and cold maceration prior to fermentation are the techniques used to imprint Lupé-Cholet's unique signature on the wines, which are rich and complex, and redolent of fruit.

Côte de Nuits - Gevrey Chambertin

Domaine Lucien Boillot

In 1950 Lucien Boillot left his family in Volnay to lay down his own roots further north in Gevrey-Chambertin. Since 2003, his son Pierre has overseen the seven-hectare domaine: its vineyards are 60% in the Côte de Nuits and 40% in the Côte de Beaune. Each wine produced is a classic representation of its appellation - from Pommard to Gevrey - as Pierre's work in the cellars is geared towards transparent, terroir-driven wines of purity and finesse. That's not to say, however, that he's against rich, plump, lusciousness in his reds.

Domaine Harmand Geoffroy

Taking the reins from his father, Gérard, Philippe Harmand seeks to continue the good work of emphasising fruit, finesse and faithful expression of individual vineyard sites' personalities. Since Gevrey confers upon its wines a natural intensity and power, he does not seek to accentuate these characteristics further; instead looking for balance and succulence.

These wines bear the name "La Gibryotte" a combination of the words Gibriacois (the inhabitants of Gevrey-Chambertin) and Layotte (a historical name for the women who used to do all the work in the vineyards). The wines, all from vineyards close to the family domaine, show similar elegance and poise but at a considerably more affordable price.

Château de la Maltroye

By Burgundian standards the Château de la Maltroye is a baby. The superb 18th century château with its 15th century cellars was purchased by the Cournut family in 1940. Current owner and winemaker, Jean-Pierre Cournut, is an inimitable host and remains restlessly involved with the domaine, which today covers around 15 hectares – large for a private domaine, but useful, Jean-Pierre points out, in handling the shift in fashion for planting Pinot Noir in the area.

Domaine Régis Rossignol Changarnier

Diminutive but energetic and very hospitable, Régis and his (unofficially) adopted son, François, bring well over a century's experience to bear on running their seven-hectare estate. Régis' winemaking philosophy is very much to craft 'vins de terroir,' and as such he has retained most of the traditions handed down to him by his father, including the belief, "It is the quality of the grape that makes the quality of the wine and not just the winemaking." Having said this, he is also keen that his wines excel, so he does modify his practices where he sees room for improvement.

Domaine Jean-Michel Gaunoux

Jean-Michel Gaunoux has brought an extraordinary energy and zealous enthusiasm to the seven-hectare estate he took over in 1990. Focused around Meursault, he also owns vineyards in Puligny, Volnay and Pommard. Jean-Michel's Meursaults are classically rich and opulent, with fresh balancing acidity. Jean-Michel is one of our few suppliers to keep back a proportion of his production every year in order to be able to offer older vintages when the wines are fully mature.

Domaine Gilles Bouton

Gilles Bouton excels in producing white Burgundy of elegance and a real sense of place, at particularly reasonable prices. Gilles inherited less than four hectares from his grandfather in 1977 and has expanded to eight since then, renting and cultivating an additional six. The total area is divided into over 70 vineyard plots: an example of the extremely fragmented vineyard ownership that occurs in Burgundy.

Domaine François Mikulski

Unlike the vast majority of Burgundy's small-estate proprietors, François Mikulski neither came from a winemaking family, nor did he inherit any vineyards. He feels that in many ways this has been an advantage, as he hasn't been restricted by entrenched family attitudes. After gaining experience in California, he founded Domaine Mikulski in 1992. While he admires American technical expertise – and has applied it to his winemaking – he's a strong advocate of Burgundy's unique terroir. Now recognised as one of Meursault's superstars, his wines express a tension between explosive aromatics, sumptuous textures and crackling minerality.

Domaine Alain Chavy

A decade ago, brothers Alain and Jean-Louis Chavy split their family estate (Domaine Gérard Chavy) down the middle, with each brother receiving 6.5 hectares of prime Puligny-Montrachet vineyard. Alain has proved himself a very skillful winemaker, producing elegant and very stylish Puligny-Montrachets in a cellar beneath his property in the heart of the village of Puligny.

Côte Chalonnaise

Domaine Michel Juillot

Mercurey and the Côte Chalonnaise run through the veins of the Juillot family, whose domaine of more than 30 hectares is one of the most respected in the area – praised for wines that champion fruit and fresh elegance over exoticism and extraction. There's evidence that the Juillots were tilling the vineyards of Mercurey as long ago as 1404, and Louis Juillot – great-grandfather of current manager Laurent – planted the first vines after the phylloxera catastrophe. The irrepressible Laurent gained his winemaking experience in New World regions – California, Australia and New Zealand – and so brings a cosmopolitan perspective to a domaine which remains unswervingly true to its Chalonnaise origins.

Domaine Saumaize-Michelin

Domaine Saumaize-Michelin is located at the foot of the dramatic Roche de Vergisson, seven kilometres west of the town of Mâcon. Owners Roger and Christine Saumaize took on the domaine in 1978, and have been dedicated to caring for the health of the soil and vines ever since. A faithful practice of organic viticulture, followed for 20 years, has combined perfectly with their attention to detail to result in beautiful wines, faithful to their origin.

Domaine Manciat-Poncet

Domaine Manciat-Poncet was born from the merging of two family-owned Pouilly-Fuissé estates: the Manciats in Charnay-lès-Mâcon and the Poncet family in Vergisson. The vines are all aged between 40 and 60 years. Up until the early 1980s, Claude Manciat sold in bulk to local négociants, but a shift in market trends eventually made it possible for him to make a living bottling his own wine. In 2003, Claude handed over the reins to his daughter, and we're pleased to report the quality remains as good as ever.

Domaine Paquet

Set on a hill overlooking the little town of Fuissé, Jean Paul Paquet, his wife Monique and their son Yannick make wines with tremendous character, which benefit from sensitive barrel ageing, accentuating the wines' natural intensity of pure fruit. The family owns a total of eight hectares of vines, and their small parcels are spread across the hills above the village at up to 300 metres in altitude. Only Chardonnay vines are planted, and the majority of the vines are over 50 years old. Jean Paul's Mâcon-Fuissé provides a great introduction to the charm of Mâconnais whites, while the Saint-Véran vines sit right next to the famous 'Deux Roches.'

Cave de l'Aurore

A Mâconnais specialist since 1926, Cave de l'Aurore produces good quality, consistent Mâcon-Villages. The vineyards are situated around the village of Lugny, and benefit from a predominantly southern exposure. The wine is vinified and aged in stainless steel tanks, and retains a lovely delicate flavour on the palate.

Domaine J A Ferret

In 1840, the Ferret family established this 18-hectare estate, which is located at the heart of the most famous 'climats' of the Fuissé amphitheatre. Renowned for 'parcel by parcel' vinification pioneered by Madame Ferret, today this tradition is carried on by winemaker Audrey Baccini. At Domaine Ferret, they are driven by the belief that in order to make a great wine, one needs, above all, to respect one's heritage. Add to this a tailor-made approach to viticulture, and you've got a collection of truly sublime, complex wines.

Beaujolais

To the south of Bourgogne lies Beaujolais, a region famed for its production of light, vibrant and fruity reds. Its vineyards are almost entirely planted with Gamay – the grape from which Beaujolais’ signature style is derived – making this one of the few winemaking regions in the world to place such focus on a single grape variety.

Refreshing acidity, fruit-driven flavours and low tannins are the distinguishing characteristics of the region – a vast separation from the heavy, tannic styles from surrounding regions. It’s also home to the now-famed Beaujolais Nouveau, an early-release style bottled a mere 6-8 weeks after harvest, with no barrel ageing at all – a stylistic tradition that has propelled Beaujolais into public awareness and popularity.

Beaujolais

Domaine Chermette

Pierre and Martine Chermette are producers of serious Beaujolais. They avoid the ubiquitous use of cultured yeasts and chaptalisation, believing that character comes from ripe grapes and local yeasts. Consequently, the wines are a revelation, showing what the Gamay grape is truly capable of when handled with respect. All the wines from this excellent estate are bottled without filtration.

Domaine Jean Tête

Jean Tête's family has been producing wine in "Les Dépôts" since the beginning of the 19th century, a few kilometres from Beaujeu, the historical capital of Beaujolais. Tête's Fleurie "La Bonne Dame" is the top wine that he produces. Most of the grapes are sourced from the "La Madone" sector of the Fleurie appellation, with perfect southern exposure ensuring maximum fruit ripeness and consistency of wine quality. The "Bonne Dame" is plummy and rounded, and a classic expression of Gamay.

Domaine Laporte

Domaine Laporte is one of the most highly respected estates in the Loire Valley, comprised of more than 74 acres of vineyards in Pouilly-Fumé and Sancerre. Their flagship Sancerre comes from one of the finest vineyards in the appellation, Domaine du Rochoy, a 25-acre monopole vineyard carved out of the flint hillside overlooking the Loire River. As a certified organic producer, Domaine Laporte makes their wines in a very traditional and natural way, ensuring a sense of purity and excellence in the finished product.

Caves de Sancerre

Located at the heart of France's Loire region, Caves de Sancerre pride themselves on being champions of the flagship Loire Valley wine, Sancerre. Their vineyards stretch across 15 communes, covering a vast diversity of villages, each with their own individual soil type – the primary trio being comprised of 'terres blanches' (white earth), 'caillottes' (little stones), and siliceous clay. The range of flavours achieved by utilising grapes from these separate terroirs ensure that Caves de Sancerre are responsible for some of the best blends in the region.

Alain Cailbourdin

Few illustrate the influence of 'terroir' more effectively than Alain Cailbourdin. This is achieved through a policy of short pruning, low yields, gentle pressing and controlled fermentations using indigenous yeasts, which results in wines of concentration, purity and intensity. The Cuvée de Boisfleury, from chalk vineyards with sand topsoil, is the most aromatic and immediate of his wines. 'Triptyque' is marvellous: made in 50% oak from 70-year-old vines, it balances Loire freshness with complexity.

Château Favray

The well-established vineyards of Château Favray sit in an enviable position, south-facing, sun-filled and with a hillside location high above the Nohain river. This is quintessential Pouilly in a fresh, open and relatively fruit-forward style, helped by the presence of heat-reflective pebbles in the limestone soil. And yet, as recently as the beginning of the 1980s, this was farmland – until its potential became obvious to Quentin David when he inherited the land, converting it to 15 hectares of some of the finest Sauvignon Blanc territory to be found anywhere.

Alliance Loire - Muscadet

Alliance Loire

Alliance Loire began trading in January 2002, with the aim of representing a number of cooperatives in the Loire under one umbrella brand. The winery leverages the combined talents, resources and vineyards of growers situated in fine terroirs across several important winegrowing villages. Solidarity, sharing, respect, creativity and teamwork are the driving forces behind their exceptionally well-crafted and consistently quality wines, with the winery constantly striving to improve and deliver better results at every stage of its winemaking process.

La Divatte

There can be no doubt that La Divatte is a champion of its appellation. Wines from the estate retain a strong loyalty to traditional production methods, and are crafted expertly from grapes grown on the left bank of the Loire, just upstream from Nantes. Here, volcanic rock combines with light, stony soil and good sun exposure to produce wonderfully alkaline and aromatic wines, characterised by a zesty freshness that have secured La Divatte's reputation throughout France.

The winery spans four noted terroirs, each with individual traits that result in wines that are vastly different in some ways, but uniform in their level of quality. The whole winery has followed sustainable practices since 2001, and is well on its way to achieving organic certification; all the grapes produced are harvested from vines that have been entirely cultivated, ploughed and harvested through natural methods.

Sylvain Gaudron

The Gaudron family – fourth generation Gilles Gaudron is currently at the helm – have been making wine in Vouvray, Vernou, since 1890, farming a 27-hectare vineyard, two-thirds of it with an average age of 30 years. The cellars date back to the 13th century, with 1km of galleries burrowed deep into the rock. These are classy wines, superb vehicles for Loire Chenin Blancs – all racily fresh with a fine, chalky minerality.

If wine is in the blood, it seems you just can't fight it. Lionel Gosseaume resisted until the age of 37, before giving in to the inevitable and taking on this small estate on the Touraine/Sologne border, between the Loire and its tributary, the Cher. Named after Lionel's father, Domaine de Pierre's vineyards date back to the late 19th century, the wines they produce having risen far above and beyond the Touraine norm.

Domaine Pierre Sourdais

Pierre Sourdais has built a reputation for the consistently high quality of his Chinon. With a plethora of different soil types on his 25-hectare property from which to choose his fruit, Pierre is able to produce wines of great character year in, year out. The Chinon Tradition, recently certified organic, is soft and supple, with ripe tannins and an elegant finish – a classic expression of Cabernet Franc.

Rhône

Rhône: One of the world's most successful and popular wine regions. This is the birthplace of Syrah – the first cultivated vines in the region were planted around 600 BC.

The Rhône's great strength lies in the broad spectrum of choice and value on offer, from Côtes du Rhône and Côtes du Ventoux at one end, to the twin summits of Châteauneuf-du-Pape and Côte-Rôtie at the other. An enviable variety and wines to suit any list at any price point.

Domaine Yves Cuilleron

Having trained as a mechanic, Yves got bitten by the wine bug in the 1980s. So when his uncle retired in 1987, Yves jumped at the chance to run the family estate. At the time, Condrieu was relatively unknown, and Yves' perfectionist approach from vine-planting to wine bottling resulted in wines that were to grab the attention of both consumers and critics – making them hugely in-demand, and raising the profile of the appellation as a whole.

Domaine Combier

Before 1990 all the grapes from Combier's 13 hectares of vineyards were consigned to the local cooperative. However, when son Laurent Combier returned from oenology school, imbued with a vision of the heights that could be achieved with the estate's grapes, the family built a winery and began making its own wine. Today, the estate covers 19 hectares and the wines are considered amongst the very best of the appellation. All the wines from Combier are made from organically-grown grapes.

Domaine Gilles Robin

Gilles took over the running of this estate in 1996. With a history of winegrowing spanning four generations, his aim was to realise the potential of the then 25-year-old vines. Using only natural fertilisers and reduced yields, he was able to develop a richer concentration of fruit and quality. A new winery was built into the ground to allow the wines to be moved delicately by gravity. Gilles' first vintage was so good that he won a gold medal at the Mâcon Fair, and his reputation has grown ever since, with accolades from industry heavyweights Decanter, Wine International, Robert Parker and Wine Spectator, just to name a few.

Domaine de la Janasse

More than 40 years after Aimé Sabon established Janasse at Courthézon, this iconoclastic young Turk of yesteryear is now established as one of the southern Rhône's finest wine estates, spanning some 80 hectares of vineyards. Now under the control of Christophe Sabon and his sister Isabelle, Janasse's much lauded Châteauneuf-du-Papes are a quintessentially modern interpretation of the vineyard's superlative raw material: deep colour, excellent fruit, supple tannins and extraordinary richness.

Domaine Chante Cigale

Domaine Chante Cigale is situated on the left bank of the Rhône, between Orange and Sorgues, on a variety of soils which contain a high proportion of 'galets.' These are the large stones of Châteauneuf-du-Pape, which heat up during the day and release their heat at night, allowing the grapes to achieve maximum ripeness. The red is powerful, with defined fruit characters and supple tannins. The white is fresh, robust and attractive – an interesting alternative to the ubiquitous Chardonnay.

Domaine Brusset

The broken crags of Les Dentelles de Montmirail form a dramatic, gap-toothed backdrop to some of the finest vineyards of Gigondas. Steeply terraced, low-yielding and back-breaking to work, they simply wouldn't be worth cultivating if they didn't produce great wine. Thankfully, in cuvées such as Laurent Brusset's Le Grand Montmirail and Les Hauts de Montmirail, these south-facing terraces prove all that trouble worthwhile. The presence of a decent amount of Mourvèdre in the Brusset vineyards also gives an understated power and backbone that goes beyond typical Gigondas.

Domaine de Montvac

The best way to find new gems in the Rhône Valley is to ask people in the region what they like to drink, and we were gladly given the name of Cécile Dusserre at Domaine de Montvac. Here, wine has been a woman's domain for the past three generations. In the vineyards, the emblematic Grenache grape is dominant and the terroir is the focus, with organic farming throughout the property. The cuvée Variation is a 100% Grenache made from 85-year-old vines.

Laudun Chusclan

These two villages, 6km apart on the right bank of the Rhône, and not far from Châteauneuf-du-Pape on the opposite bank, symbolise a new spirit of dynamism for the Côtes du Rhône Villages appellation. Despite the characteristic differences in the wines produced from the villages of Laudun and Chusclan, the two joined forces in 2008, uniting 250 growers, many of them young and distinctly modern in their approach, and all determined to breathe new life into an area with a winemaking history dating back to Roman times.

Charles Helfenbein

The region of Brézème, where Charles owns about two hectares, was originally abandoned after phylloxera hit in the 1800s. However, a century later, a few local growers realised that the steep clay and limestone slopes were better suited for wine than the peach trees that grew there at the time. After completing degrees in oenology and viticulture, Charles Helfenbein took over the vines and cellar work that his uncle had started in the year 2000. Charles' first solo vintage was 2007, and it wasn't long after that he was recognised by Rhône authority John Livingstone-Learmonth as an "impressive newcomer."

Domaine Cazes

Emblematic French fortified wine estate Domaine Cazes is by far one of the most respected estates in Southern France. Founded by Michel Cazes in 1895, Domaine Cazes is located in Rivesaltes, in the heart of the Roussillon region - "The French Catalunya" - between the Pyrenees Mountains and the Mediterranean Sea. In 1997, fourth generation winemaker Emmanuel Cazes took over the estate from his father and initiated the organic and biodynamic conversion of all vineyards. Today, Domaine Cazes produces not only fortified wines such as Muscat de Rivesaltes, but has also acquired vineyards in different Roussillon appellations, including the recently created Clos des Paulilles in Collioure and Banyuls. Domaine Cazes is Europe's largest organic and biodynamic certified wine estate.

Picpoul de Pinet

Domaine Roquemolière

The white Picpoul variety is grown throughout southern France, but has gained a particularly strong reputation for quality in one specific area in the Languedoc – Pinet. This small appellation is situated halfway between Béziers and Montpellier, the vine's tolerance to sandy soils making it a popular variety for the area's coastal vineyards. Picpoul translates as 'lip-stinger,' a name which gives a clue to the lip-smacking high acidity of this variety – the fresh, crisp wines produced from the grape are an ideal accompaniment for the oysters sourced from nearby Étang de Thau.

Château Morin Langaran

The Morin family have been established winemakers for well over fifty years, but the Langaran estate where they craft their wines is a little older than that. Located near the Bassin de Thau, its existence can be dated back to 1330, when it belonged to the Order of the Knights of the Holy Spirit. After passing through many hands, it was where the Morin family started their winemaking in 1966, and today is the base of production for a fantastic range of Vins de Pays and IGP Pays d'Oc wines.

Established in 1922 as a co-operative, Cave de l'Ormarne is still owned by the local growers today. Continuing a long history of technical innovation, the company provides winemaking facilities and expertise for roughly 504 members who together own 1900 hectares of vineyards lying in a narrow strip of land between Adge and Sète, very close to the Mediterranean Sea. Approximately 520 hectares are planted with the celebrated Picpoul vine. This local variety has long been recognised for its unique minerality, and the vineyards of Pinet themselves were recognised as a distinct terroir as early as 1773. More recently Picpoul de Pinet was a VDQS from 1947 until 1985, when it was finally awarded AOC.

Château du Vieux Parc

The Cuvée Tradition Corbières has a lovely blend of dark ripe fruits with a supple, ripe tannin structure, and a reassuringly traditional château label, making it a brilliantly fruit-driven but nevertheless food-friendly wine. We recently added the Vin de Pays 'Les Amandiers' (meaning almond trees) to the range. This blend of Merlot, Grenache and Syrah may not be varietally labelled but more than makes up for this with moreish spun-sugar Grenache richness allied to ripe Merlot body, Syrah structure and unbeatable value.

Georges Vigouroux

The Vigouroux family pride themselves on being specialists in France when it comes to the production of Malbec wines and hospitality. Since 1887, four generations of the family have focused on this varietal, maintaining continued techniques, passion and know-how in order to produce some of the finest expressions of French Malbec on the market. Today 4th generation winemaker Bertrand-Gabriel Vigouroux looks after the winemaking and has strong bonds with top Argentinean winemakers. In addition to being French Malbec experts, the Vigouroux family own the Medieval Castle of Mercuès: a Relais & Châteaux in Cahors with a one star Michelin Chef.

Vignobles Dubard

The Dubard family owns several properties both on the right bank of Bordeaux (Lalande de Pomerol, Puisseguin-Saint-Emilion) and the south-west wine region. The secret of the Dubard success story? Fresh wines with great purity of fruit, including a Sauvignon Blanc that can give more hallowed names a run for their money, a Montravel of great leesy complexity and a supple, fragrant Merlot made in a way that lets the fruit sing.

Château d'Aydie

Since 1927, three generations of winegrowers have succeeded each other at the Château d'Aydie. It was Frederic Laplace who first established the vineyard, placing it at the forefront of mixed farming in the region. The estate has risen to great success and renown since then, with Marie, Jean Luc, Francois and Bernard Laplace at the head of the operation today, working consistently to promote the appellation as well as maintain the sustainability of their vineyard. A variety of cuvées are now produced on the estate's 58 hectares, available to wine lovers the world over.

Provence

Provence has experienced something of a revolution within the past few decades. Previously overlooked for its reputation as a producer of underwhelming wines, today the region has reinvented itself as a pioneer of dry, mineral-driven rosés with a characteristically light pink colouring and a serious reputation that couldn't be further from that of the sweet, cloying styles of old.

Despite this recent resurgence into public popularity, Provence boasts a winemaking history of over 2,600 years, making it the oldest wine-producing region in France. Today, it continues to position itself at the helm of modern thinking and experimentation, being the only place in the world to boast a research institute dedicated solely to the production of rosé and improvement of the style that has made it so famous.

Château Gassier

A specialist producer of Côtes de Provence rosé wines, Château Gassier is nestled in 40 hectares of vineyards at the foot of the Sainte Victoire mountain, occupying a privileged position at the meeting point of three Provence appellations. Syrah, Cinsault and Grenache are blended to produce classic and refreshing Provençal wines of outstanding quality, stemming from years of passion and hard work. The estate has been certified organic since 2016, with all efforts made to ensure Gassier wines express the subtlety and purity of their terroir.

Château Sainte Marguerite

The amiable and very talented Jean-Pierre Fayard has built up one of Côtes de Provence's most dynamic and well-respected estates. He now owns 91 hectares of prime vineyard around the village of La Londe, much of which is Cru Classé rated, and all of which he tends using organic viticulture. The elegant, food-friendly rosés are made predominantly from Grenache, with differing proportions of Cinsault, Mourvèdre and Syrah. Château Sainte Marguerite wines are notably respected for their freshness and maritime influence due to the La Londe terroir facing the Mediterranean Sea.

Anything but Ordinary

We've got you covered with a selection of classic wines, hailing from all the right regions, for all the right reasons.

La Lande

La Lande provides an impressive but affordable range; one of the best value ranges in our list. The white, from the relatively cool climate of the Comté Tolosan, is crisp and aromatic and is made from Colombard, one of the most successful varieties planted in the region. The red, made from a blend of Carignan and Grenache, is sourced from the warmer 'Hérault' region and is round and plummy with an attractive soft finish. Finally, the Cinsault rosé is fresh, light and eminently quaffable.

Cave de Saint Désirat

Proof that if you look long enough, you can discover gems at any price. At this level, wines are often increasingly interchangeable, trading a sense of typicity for homogenous international fruit appeal. Not so here! We defy anyone to taste this blind and not place it as Northern Rhône Syrah. However, we would forgive you for assuming it was St-Joseph quality, because we did too. Located in La Cadière d'Azur, the Estate of la Garenne owes its fame to its red and rosé wines in the Bandol appellation, key in the Provence wine region. Its microclimate allows the spicy Mourvèdre grape, king varietal of the Registered Designation of Origin (AOC), to produce rich red wines and outstanding rosés which stand out from the other wines of Provence.

Laudun Chusclan

These two villages, 6km apart on the right bank of the Rhône, and not far from Châteauneuf-du-Pape on the opposite bank, symbolise a new spirit of dynamism for the Côtes du Rhône Villages appellation. Despite the characteristic differences in the wines produced from the villages of Laudun and Chusclan, the two joined forces in 2008, uniting 250 growers, many of them young and distinctly modern in their approach, and all determined to breathe new life into an area with a winemaking history dating back to Roman times.

France has long been considered the cradle of viticulture, and these wines are testament to this notion. Refined, classic and crafted with great attention to detail, and all coming in under £8.

This is where it all began for Enotria, founded more than 40 years ago as a specialist Italian wine importer with just a handful of friendly suppliers. In 2017, we proudly continue to honour this heritage as Enotria&Coe via the depth and breadth of our Italian offering which is truly excellent.

Italy is a complex country, with a great diversity of indigenous grape varieties and a long tradition of winemaking. From the historic pedigree of Piemonte and the Veneto, down through Tuscany and central Italy to the excitement of southern Italy, our range remains esoteric, enviable and extensive. The classics of Chianti and Barolo have strong representation here, and are joined by distinctive wines from Sardinia and Sicily, Calabria and the Marche.

Veneto & North Italy

The wines of north east Italy are the powerhouse of Italy's vinous authority.

Thanks to the climate and soils in this area, there is a huge bias towards white wines, but the whole area is still vastly diverse in its output. Alongside the globally-known Soave and Valpolicella, the hugely popular Prosecco and Pinot Grigio also find their natural home in this region.

Ruggeri

As Prosecco continues to enjoy its time in the sun with UK consumers, seeking out an authentic expression of this crowd-pleasing sparkling wine becomes all the more important – and ever more difficult. This is where Ruggeri enters the picture. Established by Giustino Bisol in 1950 and now run by his son, Paolo, and grandchildren Giustino and Isabella, this winery's collection of Proseccos – many bottled as top quality Prosecco di Valdobbiadene DOCG – are some of the finest examples coming out of the region.

Stelle d'Italia

Stelle d'Italia literally means "stars of Italy," which makes it the perfect name for this wine - firstly, in reference to Prosecco's ever-increasing popularity, and secondly to the wine itself. High quality fruit is sourced from the Treviso and Venice provinces, resulting in a wine that's fresh, quaffable, and full of personality and pizzazz!

Casa Vinicola Botter

Casa Vinicola Botter was established in 1928 by Carlo Botter, in Fossalta di Piave, 30 km north east of Venice. Today, the winery is managed by third-generation cousins Annalisa and Luca Botter. More than 75 years on, tradition, family values, and wines of reliable quality, character and value remain at the heart of everything the Botter family does. Today, the company exports more than 90% of its production, and Botter wines can be found in more than 40 countries around the world.

Via Vai

Via Vai means 'comings and goings' and embodies a culture that celebrates those everyday special moments. The company was established in the nineties by the Furia Family in Valgatara in the heart of the Veneto region, which stretches from the Dolomite mountains to the Adriatic sea. Over the years, it has rapidly developed, becoming one of the landmark producers for premium quality Prosecco. The resulting product is a lively, dry, crisp sparkling wine with delicate apple and citrus aromas. On the palate there are delicate lemon and floral flavours with a refreshing finish.

Accordini

This family-run domain extends over two sites in the heart of Valpolicella Classico; four hectares in Negrar and six of the highest hectares in the appellation, at 400 metres altitude, in Fumane. The wines are outstanding and the reputation of the Acinatico name is growing all the time. Modernity is balanced by earth and roses, so characteristic of the terroir. Best of all, the wines are accessible when young, so there is no need to wait to experience them.

Bertani

From its status as the father of Amarone, to the presence of its Soave on the menu for King George VI's coronation in 1937, Bertani's checkered history is illustrious to say the least. Established in the 19th century, during the unification of Italy, the estate has been a symbol of that new nation's pride and dynamism ever since.

Sartori

Back in the late 19th century, Pietro Sartori's trattoria was a bustling venue where Veronese merchants and industrialists would meet, do business, eat and, of course, drink. As a result of these comings and goings, Pietro needed to maintain ample supply of good Rosso Veronese, which led him to buying a vineyard in Negrar in 1898. It was here that the Sartori story began. Stretching the boundaries of Veronese wine, without sacrificing the grapes and local winemaking styles, these are bespoke wines for today's market.

Ferrari

Inspired by Champagne and propelled by his winemaking studies in Montpellier, Giulio Ferrari's vision was unwavering: to make the finest Metodo Classico sparkling wines in Italy. A bold pledge in 1902, but to this day, the wines of Ferrari remain true to their creator's vision, persisting through the arrival of the Lunelli family as owners of the business in 1952. This consistent philosophy has turned Giulio's dream into reality, and today Ferrari has firmly established their position as the finest sparkling wine producer in the country.

Tenute Lunelli

Following their success in the world of sparkling wine, the Lunelli family has decided to further their footprint with a range of top quality still wines. Made in three different regions throughout the country – Trentino, Tuscany and Umbria – these wines are elegant and honour their respective terroirs. Comparing themselves to artisans of time who wait patiently for their grapes to ripen on the vine and for their wines to mature in the dark depths of the cellar, the Lunelli Estates have chosen to represent their new identity by resorting to the symbolism of the phases of the moon.

Colterenzio

The hamlet of Schreckbichl (Colterenzio in Italian) is situated amid cool, vine-covered rolling hills to the south of Bolzano. It forms part of South Tyrol's largest self-contained winegrowing area called Uberetsch, or 'beyond the Adige.' Formed in the 60s by a group of 28 winegrowers and estate owners, the co-operative has grown considerably over the years, and now has members supplying grapes from over 320 hectares of vineyards scattered throughout some of South Tyrol's finest sites.

Giovanni Puiatti

An innovator in his own right, Vittorio Puiatti developed what is now Italy's dominant winemaking technique for white wines, frequently called the "Metodo Puiatti." Only 100% stainless steel is used during both the fermentation and ageing of the wines. The winery is the first cellar in Friuli to be constructed using only steel, concrete and glass, reflecting his motto of 'Save a Tree, Drink Puiatti' – in other words, no oak is used in any of the wines.

Jermann

Without question, Jermann's Pinot Grigio is iconic. It's been described as the monarch of this highly trendy category, and continues to set the benchmark for premium Pinot Grigio. A state-of-the-art winery, which was beautifully designed to sit in a 'bowl' amongst their vineyards. It's the talk of the region, and very much reflective of Silvio Jermann's forward-thinking approach to winemaking. Silvio uses unique blending methods prior to vinification to produce highly-prized wines with hints of floral aromas, piercing varietal character, and an elegance that will only improve with age.

Cantine Giacomo Ascheri

Take the road north towards Barolo and, in viticultural terms at least, you're faced with a choice: left to the sterner, more powerful expression of the Nebbiolo grape; or right towards its gentler, more perfumed and elegant. As a winemaker, which do you choose? If you're the charming Matteo Ascheri, you don't – you have vineyards in both areas. The result is a bevvy of Barolos that, when tasted together, illustrate the disarming diversity of this beautiful part of Piemonte.

Cantine Volpi

Founded in Tortona in 1914, Cantine Volpi is still family-run, with fourth generation Carlo Volpi now at the helm. With a long winemaking history, the Tortonese hills sit at the meeting point of Lombardy, Emilia Romagna and Liguria, and there is evidence of wine production as far back as 1198 with a grape press found in the local monastery. The Barbera and Cortese wines in this range are a reflection of the climate and the unique characteristics of the Tortona region.

Tosti

Seven generations of the Bosca family, two centuries of grape harvests and over 15 million bottles sold worldwide make up the history that is at the heart of Tosti. A family-run estate in the heart of Moscato country, Tosti's heritage is made up of culture and tradition, which guide the estate in its choice and in the challenges of the future. Tosti and the vineyards of Canelli are characterised by a blending of a remarkable historical territory, with a willingness to think outside the box, and constant room for innovation, creativity and design. Their wines are created to be as light and fun as the bubbles they contain, and the continued success of their products worldwide are a source of endless satisfaction for the winery.

Conterno Fantino

Conterno Fantino stands at the summit of 21st century Barolo, both literally and figuratively. From its stunning winery atop the Monforte d'Alba hill, this alliance of the Fantino and Conterno families produces a range of wines that are both unmistakably modern, also utterly respectful of the region's winegrowing heritage. That heritage is centred on vineyards that balance the need for Nebbiolo, with plantings of Barbera, Dolcetto, Cabernet Sauvignon and Chardonnay.

E. Pira

Since 1990, this jewel of Barolo has been run by the energetic and multi-talented Chiara Boschis. Her mission? To add an aromatically elegant edge to the legendary power of these great wines. She has added vineyards in Monforte to the original estate, but the heart of E. Pira remains as it was in the days of the late Luigi Pira – just 2.5 hectares of vines in Barolo's prized enclaves of Cannubi, Cannubi San Lorenzo, and Via Nuova.

Fontanafredda

Fontanafredda's history is peppered with tales of intrigue surrounding the Italian Royal family, but it is in the sympathetic hands of Oscar Farinetti, founder of the Eataly chain of Slow Food restaurants, that the winery has found its true fame. Under Farinetti, Fontanafredda's revival looks assured and this sleeping beauty of the Langhe – its vineyards are among the finest in the area – is now on a clear upward trajectory. It's a winery that combines this great history – Fontanafredda used to have its own bakery and school, and still preserves a great sense of community – with thoroughly modern production facilities for everything from Asti to Barolo.

Nicola Bergaglio

Organics are meaningless as far as the Bergaglios are concerned; what matter are the numbers of swallows which come back each year to enjoy the insects which thrive in their vineyards on the old and healthy Cortese plants. Consequently, what can be achieved through hard work is important, and getting hold of the family is difficult: in the first week of December 2011 they were cutting down chestnut trees on their estate; then they cut the timber into shape; then they took some other timber which had been seasoned in the open for over a year and they used it to replace stakes in their vineyard. The Gavi di Gavi, La Minaia, bears testament to this. 'Minaia' means 'mine' and mines mean minerals; lots of lemony minerals.

Tuscany & Umbria

Home to some of Italy's most beautiful cities...and most iconic wines. The most important region in central Italy, this is where the Italian language was born. Given its artistic and literary roots, Tuscany continues to have a romantic and idealised image in the eye of the consumer.

Wines such as Chianti have been made here for over six centuries, but producers continue to innovate and evolve their winemaking practices, combining tradition with modernity to produce some of Italy's finest wines.

Castellani

Since 1903, Castellani has been exporting its finest estate wines from Tuscany. Although the wines have changed and evolved over the decades, their philosophy has remained consistent, with a strong belief that the quality of the wine begins in the vineyards. So too has their primary aim and aspiration – to create memorable wines, reflective of the family’s passion, investment in research and new cellar technologies.

Cantine Leonardo da Vinci

When Cantine Leonardo da Vinci was founded in the Chianti winegrowing village of Vinci – also the birthplace of the genius Leonardo – the winery covered just 70 hectares and 30 small winegrowers. Over the past 50 years, the cooperative has expanded to include 200 partners who cultivate 750 hectares in the Tuscan hillsides. Their approach to winemaking is to harmonise the new and old together, by blending centuries-old winemaking heritage with the most modern winemaking techniques.

Podere di Brancaia

La Brancaia, encompassing the two estates Brancaia and Poppi, has been owned by the Swiss couple Brigitte and Bruno Widmer since 1981. Located in the heart of the Chianti Classico area, it saw a vertical take-off when its vintage 1983 won first place at a major Chianti Classico tasting. Since then, through uncompromising dedication to quality and a strong identity, the continuous recognition of Brancaia has been built up - spearheaded by the estates top wine Brancaia IL BLU, being already a classic for many wine lovers all over the world.

In 1969, the term 'Super Tuscan' was coined to describe the winery's Brusco dei Barbi, and the family's combined land holdings in Montalcino and Scansano continue to produce a stunning range of wines today. From the signature Brusco through to a supple Morellino di Scansano - not forgetting its redoubtable Brunellos - the winery now boasts a dairy and butchery, producing mouth-watering meats, sausages and cheeses - not to mention olive oil and honey. ## Il Poggione

High on its perch overlooking the lush Maremma, Tenuta Il Poggione has been synonymous with top quality Brunello for more than a century. Its dramatic scenery proved irresistible to Florentine landowner Lavinio Franceschi in the late 19th century, drawn to the area by the tales of a local shepherd whose sheep spent the summer months on the sunlit slopes between Montalcino and Sant'Angelo. Now in the capable hands of fifth-generation owners L & L Franceschi, Il Poggione has about 125 hectares of the finest Brunello vineyards going, and a 10-year-old winery that combines modern equipment with a traditional approach, not least in the large French oak barrels so vital to the development of its classic Brunello and Rosso di Montalcino.

Poliziano

Since its foundation in 1961, Poliziano has swiftly established a reputation as one of Italy's leading producers of Montepulciano. The winery's story taps into the history and culture of this picture-postcard corner of Tuscany. The name Poliziano is a tribute to the 15th century scholar Angelo Ambrogini, tutor to the children of the Medici. His 'nickname,' Poliziano, is a simple reference to his birthplace – Montepulciano was originally Mons Politianus in Latin. And why Asinone? The vineyard gets its name from its shape, said to resemble the back of a mule.

Tenute Lunelli

Following their success in the world of sparkling wine, the Lunelli family has decided to further their footprint with a range of top quality still wines. Made in three different regions throughout the country – Trentino, Tuscany and Umbria – these wines are elegant and honour their respective terroirs. Comparing themselves to artisans of time who wait patiently for their grapes to ripen on the vine and for their wines to mature in the dark depths of the cellar, the Lunelli Estates have chosen to represent their new identity by resorting to the symbolism of the phases of the moon.

Fazi Battaglia prides itself on belonging to a brand that inherently conjures up an image of pure Italian identity and culture. Created in 1949 in a small cellar, the winery spent decades investing in improvements in the vineyards and focusing specifically on a single grape varietal, Verdicchio. ## Cantina Cleto Chiarli

Modena – the home of Ferrari and Maserati, of Pavarotti and Acetico Balsamico – is also the home of Lambrusco. From the day in 1860 when Cleto Chiarli shut the doors of his Osteria dell'Artigliere to concentrate all his efforts on winemaking, the Chiarli name has been tied to this great – and much misunderstood – wine style. Chiarli's expertise in everything from wine quality to marketing – its innovative bottle, label and cork were much admired as long ago as 1900 – sparked a revolution in selling Lambrusco.

South & Islands

Where tradition meets innovation. Italy's 'boot' enjoys geographical and climatic diversity: from the mountains of Campania to the rocky shores of Puglia by way of the sandy beaches of Sicily.

The styles of the wines themselves are as diverse as the topography: pure, aromatic whites from Avellino, the robust reds of Menfi and the intense sweet wines of Noto. Sicily's mountainous terrain with lean soil, intense summer heat and scarce rainfall make it ideal for viticulture, enjoying a hot ripening season and elevated vineyards.

Campania

Antonio Caggiano

The Caggiano winery is based in the town of Taurasi, the heartland of Aglianico, which is the base of their production. Antonio Caggiano, founder of the winery, designed one of the wineries himself - the most spectacular of its time in Campania. Today, thousands of bottles are laid down in its galleries - which are made of the local "tufo" stone - giving the sturdy Aglianico time to soften and develop the deep crimson hues and intense fruit flavours it is best known for.

Cenatiempo Vini d'Ischia

Based on the stunning volcanic island of Ischia - known by the Romans as 'Aenaria,' or 'wine country,' just off the coast of Naples-Cenatiempo is one of the most historic wine cantinas on the island. Here, local grape varieties such as Biancolella and Forastera are biodynamically grown, making the most of their two main influences; the sea and the volcanic hills of Ischia.

Picco del Sole

Falanghina is one of the most exciting, and one of the least known white wines to come out of Italy; straw-white colour with greenish hues. The bouquet has notes of fresh fruits such as apple, banana and pineapple; there is also an aromatic note which gives elegance to this wine.

Elena Fucci

The vineyards were purchased in the 60s at the foot of Mount Vulture, an extinct volcano. Elena's grandfather and great-grandfather took care of these vineyards, selling the grapes after harvest and keeping just enough to produce a small batch of wine for personal consumption. Their first thought was that "six hectares of land are too many to keep for fun," so they decided to sell the land. Interested buyers were knocking down the door, but at the eleventh hour Elena backed out. She simply couldn't bear the idea of a stranger buying the family vineyard she had grown up in, or that someone else would do something great with the oldest vineyards on Mount Vulture. At this point, Elena completely changed the plans she had for her future, and decided to invest in the area. Today 'Titolo', her Aglianico del Vulture DOCG, is one of the most respected red wines of Southern Italy.

Librandi

The Librandi winery works with 230 hectares of vineyards around the Cirò region on the south coast of Calabria. Although the company was founded in 1950, the family has been working with wine for centuries, steeped in a love of tradition. The Librandi brothers are acutely aware of the benefits of technology and work closely with consultants and academics studying local varieties, clones and vineyard density. Their concentric vineyard, which somewhat resembles an alien crop circle, is just one example of this. The wines reflect their philosophy, with modern, clean, pure fruit melded together with distinct local character.

Botter

Primitivo, a native varietal of Puglia, is derived from the Latin Primitivus meaning 'early to ripen' - it's no surprise then that it's one of the first red grapes to be harvested in Southern Italy. Thanks to modern winemaking skills, this grape's been elevated from a humble quaffing wine to a delicious, jammy and moreish style, whose quality belies its price tag. A hugely popular red for casual dining lists.

Botromagno

The Botromagno estate is located in Gravina in Puglia, the sun-drenched heel of Italy. Despite the harsh and rocky soil, the land is resplendent with vineyards and olive groves, and was once called 'a garden of earthly delights by King Federico II of Italy.' Here, Botromagno has 75 hectares of vineyards where Primitivo thrives producing rich wines full of character. Interestingly, Botromagno are also the only producers of the historic Gravina Bianco grape.

Francesco Candido

This historic, family-owned producer is now under the guidance of Donato Lanati, one of Italy's top winemakers. Francesco Candido purveys one of the most eclectic and innovative ranges in Puglia - the wines have interest and balance in spades, but continue to offer unbeatable value for money. The climate is Mediterranean with low rainfall, and ripening takes place slowly due to the striking contrast between day and night-time temperatures, resulting in deep fruit aromas, richness and concentration.

Varvaglione

Passion and commitment are key to this modern winery, which oenologist Cosimo inherited from three generations of family winegrowers. Lying in the very heart of Magna Grecia, it's one of the region's best examples of innovation and tradition. Varvaglione's main focus is on enhancing indigenous grape varieties, such as Primitivo and Negroamaro, and pursuing quality through the extremely careful selection of grapes, canny harvesting, and special attention to new technology.

Planeta

In Planeta's early years, expertise came from a surprising source; Australia. The winemaker brought in by Diego Planeta was an Italian – Carlo Corino – but one who had soaked in the latest warm-climate winemaking secrets during a stint in New South Wales. Ever since, Planeta has managed to captured the intrinsic perfume and fresh flavours of Sicily's grapes in their wines. The early success of their Chardonnay – which now boasts a cult following - gave Planeta the credibility it needed to open the world's eyes to the charms of Sicily's indigenous grape varieties, ushering in a broad range of wines that today owes as much to Grecanico and Nero d'Avola as it does to the winery's signature Chardonnay.

Tenute Orestiadi

Formed in Gibellina in 2008 by a group of wine growers and the Orestiadi Foundation, Tenute Orestiadi is one of the most important cultural institutions in the Mediterranean region, existing to promote the identity of indigenous Sicilian grapes through the union of art and wine. On the west side of Sicily, an island known for its winemaking heritage and great cultural tradition, Tenute Orestiadi crafts wines of provenance and quality. Theirs is a unique territory of vineyards particularly suited to growing grapes with personality in spades, including Grecanico, Fiano, Perricone, Nero d'Avola and Nerello Mascalese. This is authentic viticulture, wines made with a respect for the land and its people. We are delighted to welcome them to the Enotria&Coe portfolio.

Santadi

It sometimes helps to think of Sulcis, in south-western Sicily, as Sardinia's Yorkshire (but with better weather)- a coal-mining region where the mines have been shut by government decree. For the people of Sulcis, alternative employment came either through migration – it's said that if you look in any Italian restaurant kitchen in London you'll find at least one Sardinian working there – or through grape-growing. Local producer Santadi is of the latter group, with the company's dozens of growers producing wines prized throughout Italy for their suppleness and refinement. They don't tend to promote this however – Sardinians are often unassuming and, by Italian standards, even introverted – but these Carignano and Vermentino wines are suffused with distinctive character, and are a perfectly pitched combination of warmth and freshness.

Spain & Portugal

Which part of the world is currently making the most exciting range of wines on the planet?

We could debate the answer for hours – if not days – but the Iberian peninsula has a stronger argument than most. From the established heartlands of Ribera del Duero to the Douro’s sun-baked terraces, from Catalunya to Ribeiro and Monterrei, our portfolio is a powerhouse of wines that are fierce in character and have a true sense of place. Throw in a selection from sunny Mallorca and historic Jerez, and you’re left with a collection that’s hard to top.

North Central

High elevation viticulture at its very best. Protected by both the Pyrenees and the Cordillera Cantábrica mountains, North Central Spain covers a vast area of land, with most vineyards sitting high up on the Meseta.

Spicy reds from Rioja remain a firm favourite across the UK, whilst powerful Tempranillos from Ribera del Duero and herbaceous Verdejos from Rueda are also stealing hearts. On top of that you have historical Navarra and quirkier Toro - all testament to new wave Spanish wine, where tradition meets innovation.

Rioja

Ramón Bilbao

Established in 1924 and based in Haro, Ramón Bilbao has 180 vineyards spread across Rioja. Today, it is the fastest growing winery in the region and has firmly established itself as one of Spain's most exciting and innovative producers. The jewel of the star-studded range is the Crianza, which holds the spot as the most popular Rioja Crianza in the Spanish on trade. Born and bred in the region, chief winemaker Rodolfo Bastida is a man who likes to push the boundaries and believes the future lies in trial and exploration.

Sierra Cantabria

Nestled between the foot of the Sierra that gives the winery its name and the Ebro River at, sits the town San Vicente de la Sonsierra, a town of great winemaking tradition. Sierra Cantabria is a much-lauded, family-owned producer who crafts wines of freshness, elegance and poise. Six generations of obsessive attention to detail and deep respect for the land has earned them a loyal following.

Viñedos Sierra Cantabria

While the Eguren family produces traditional Rioja wines under the Sierra Cantabria estate, the more contemporary expression of their craft can be found at Viñedos de Sierra Cantabria. Grapes for these modern wines are sourced from some of Sierra Cantabria's finest vineyards, resulting in wines that have a distinctly premium sensibility. The distinctive Eguren approach to attention to detail is very much in evidence here: only the finest, perfectly-ripe clusters are hand-picked at harvest, with just a small pool of these grapes getting beyond the sorting table to be manually destemmed and trodden by foot, in the traditional way. The Eguren family has constructed a new winery at Viñedos de Sierra Cantabria out of stone found on the estate, as a fitting tribute to the terrain that bears their vineyards.

Vintae

In Vintae, we're proud to have a one-of-a-kind, revolutionary producer – restless, creative and sometimes rebellious, with projects in over 15 DOs. The heart of their winemaking heritage lies in Rioja, Bodega Classica, specifically in the historic village of San Vicente de la Sonsierra. The Riojan Sonsierra is an area located on the south side of the Cantabrian Mountain Range and the Toloño mountains, which protects it from cold winds and humidity.

Ribera del Duero

Pago de los Capellanes

Upheld as the rising star on the Spanish scene over the past few decades, the landscape of Ribera del Duero is actually suffused with centuries of wine heritage – from gnarled Tinto Fino vines of venerable age, to the labyrinthine wine cellars that wind beneath the old cobbled streets of Aranda de Duero. Pago de los Capellanes may have all the modern bells and whistles, including a recently-expanded vineyard and stunning winery facilities - but their history is rich and long, dating back to the 14th century.

Cillar de Silos

Although Cillar do Silos was founded in 1994, the origins of the winery started back in 1970 when Amalio Aragon began buying small plots of high-quality vines from neighbouring growers, waiting for the right moment to achieve his dream of becoming a winery owner. A combination of old vines, new technology and the use of the best barrels available on the market is what sets the Aragon family aside from the rest.

Cruz de Alba

Cruz de Alba is a boutique winery located in the 'Golden Mile' of the Ribera del Duero, which started its own wine production in 2003. A standard-bearer of the expression par excellence of viticulture, Cruz de Alba is also the epitome of passion for oenology, respect for the local environment and balance. Its origins can be found in the Los Hoyales vineyard, a terroir in the heart of the 'Golden Mile'. The special characteristics of this plot are usually associated with fine, elegant wines, perfectly representative of the singular character of the vineyard, which has been consistently evident in wines since production began. Cruz de Alba is made in small quantities using the best Tinto Fino grapes, cultivated using agrohomeopathic treatments according to the biodynamic calendar, and harvested carefully by hand.

Bodegas Chivite

J. Chivite Family Estates is an illustrious family with one of the longest histories of winemaking in Spain. When Julian Chivite Lopez inherited the now renowned estate, he acquired eleven generations of experience to go with it. Convinced that the winery's future lay in a quest for excellence, he introduced sweeping improvements and innovations throughout the winery. His dogged commitment to quality was reflected in the wines themselves, which today are a benchmark for innovative, prestigious Spanish products.

Mas Delmera

Pamela Geddes also works her magic at Mas Delmera. Jumilla vineyards in Ontur offer a typical example of the region's arid, desert-like conditions. Persistent sunshine and lack of rain mean that the vines never reach more than a few centimetres in height, while producing grapes of enviable ripeness and intensity. This quality of fruit produces a wine that can stand up to considerable ageing; in fact it needs it in order to develop its full complexity of flavour - a rare find at this price point.

Galicia & Atlantic

Lush and green land, where native varieties thrive. Modern technology – specifically stainless steel introduced in the 70s – has a lot to do with one of the most exciting products of Spanish winemaking: cool climate, mineral and elegant white wines from the north Atlantic coast.

Also known as 'Green Spain,' Galicia is a far cry from the hot, arid conditions we usually associate with Spain. Instead, lush, foggy, and often wet climates prevail, providing perfect conditions for indigenous grapes, Albariño, Treixadura and Godello, to thrive.

Rias Baixas

Mar de Frades

Meaning 'Sea of the Friars' in Galician, Mar de Frades lies in the Arousa estuary, overlooking the Atlantic ocean. Proximity to cooling ocean breezes creates the characteristic freshness and aromatic intensity of the wines produced here, and the location is also reflected in the design of the winery; created to resemble a sailboat. Innovation is key at Mar de Frades, and their iconic blue bottle is designed to symbolise the modernity of Atlantic wines.

Pazo das Tapias

The Pazo do Mar winery, founded in 2006, was discovered by now-owner Manuel Mendez and, amazingly, the future success of the winery all began when his car ran out of fuel one afternoon. Manuel, whose family had been in the wine game for 40 years, walked to the closest petrol station where he met an old school friend working the till. After a quick exchange, the old friend gave him a bottle of wine. The bottle of red was so magnificent that Manuel made it his mission to find out where it was made. When he finally tracked down the producer, he managed to twist his arm into selling him the entire winery. The winery resides in Pazos-Verín in the province of Ourense where they produce indigenous, up-and-coming Godello and Mencia in their 13 hectares of vineyards. The average age of the vines here is 25 years, the harvest is a completely hands-on affair.

Ramón Bilbao

Established in 1924 and based in Haro, Ramón Bilbao has 180 vineyards spread across Rioja. Today, it is the fastest growing winery in the region and has firmly established itself as one of Spain's most exciting and innovative producers. The jewel of the star-studded range is the Crianza, which holds the spot as the most popular Rioja Crianza in the Spanish on trade. Born and bred in the region, chief winemaker Rodolfo Bastida is a man who likes to push the boundaries and believes the future lies in trial and exploration.

Ailalá-Ailalelo

Ailalá, whose name can be found in traditional Galician folk songs referring to happiness and dance, is a venture by three expert winemakers situated in the most ancient Valley in the Ribeiro DO, the Avia Valley. The young oenologists behind the wine are Xosé Lois from Coto de Gomariz, Inma Pazos and Javier Gonzáles from Casal de Armán. Their first mission was to exploit the aromatic quality and complexity of the little-known Treixadura grape variety - and what resulted is a fresh and feisty alternative to Albariño. Since then, they've honed their efforts into creating a red of similar innovation, and the result is the delightfully summery Sousón; packing a punch with acidity, and smoothed off with judicious use of oak.

Cillar de Silos

Although Cillar de Silos was founded in 1994, the origins of the winery started back in 1970, when Amalio Aragon began buying small plots of high-quality vines from neighbouring growers, waiting for the right moment to achieve his dream of becoming a winery owner. A combination of old vines, new technology and the use of the best barrels available on the market is what sets the Aragon family aside from the rest.

O Luar do Sil

After a 20-year tradition making red wines in Ribera del Duero with Pago de Los Capellanes, the natural restlessness of the Rodero Villa family carried them on to a new adventure in Valdeorras, Galicia. The name of the new estate, O Luar do Sil, means 'The Reflection of the Moon on the River Sil', alongside which vineyards cloak the steep terrain of the rugged valley. This specific location was chosen because the land here is unique: the granite and slate soils, together with the microclimate, have created the ideal conditions for artisanal viticulture. The wines produced in the region using the indigenous Godello grape are subtle, mineral and fresh, with enough complexity to evolve over the years.

Adur

The vineyards of Txakoli occupy the north-west corner of the Spanish Basque Country. Hugging the Atlantic coastline in Getaria - the smallest region to produce this unique wine - is where Bordeaux-trained couple Maitena Barrero and Hector Gómez chose to set up and create their wine, Adur Txakolina. They work the vines to produce small yields - only 8000 bottles a year - to concentrate the Hondarribi Zuri grape in order to extract an intensity of aromas. It's a Txakoli with poise, weight and an insatiable salty tang.

Xeco

With a mission to make sherry accessible again, XECO is the brain-child of three 30-something Fino fiends who have set out to put a contemporary edge on an age-old product. To do so, they've joined forces with a magnificent Spanish sherry house that has been producing wines since 1876. Their flagship Fino is an utterly modern, refreshing introduction to the fortified wine, delicious served straight up or over ice with tonic or lemonade.

In the words of the great Robert Parker, Bodegas Emilio Lustau's sherries are simply staggering in quality: "sherries such as these remain among the last great unknown wine bargains of the world. They must be tasted to be believed!" Established in 1896, Emilio Lustau is perhaps best known for pioneering the Almacenista system, whereby individual dry sherries are produced from small private holdings. With the racy Amontillado, powerful Oloroso and refreshing Manzanilla, this bodega offers something for every palate.

Bodegas Barón

The story of Bodegas Barón began in 1895, when Manuel Barón Fernández acquired a collection of old soleras in Sanlúcar de Barrameda in the southern Spanish region of Andalusia. More than 100 years later, they may be one of the oldest bodegas in the region, but they're still steadfastly committed to quality and innovation. The family-owned estate has invested in the future of sustainable development, and uses environmentally friendly products to guarantee quality across their portfolio. In 2014, Bodegas Barón embarked on a makeover of their entire range, and now with new avant-garde labels, they've set themselves on a trajectory of modernisation that will set them apart from their peers.

Tío Pepe

In 1835 in Jerez, Spain, Manuel Maria Gonzalez, an ambitious 23 year old, set up the company that was ultimately to become Gonzalez Byass. Manuel was mentored in this by his uncle, José Ángel y Vargas, (affectionately known as Pepe), already a renowned authority on sherry and its production. Manuel gave his first cellar to his uncle so that he could continue his passion and make a sherry to his taste which was at that time, not the norm. Later, Manuel sent a couple of barrels of his uncle's new, dry wine over to his London agent, one Robert Byass. The beautifully dry taste of José Angel's wine proved a great success and in 1849 Manuel named what is now the world's best-selling Fino after its creator, (tio being Spanish for uncle) – Tio Pepe.

Dow's

The name of Dow has long been associated with the finest Port from the vineyards of the Upper Douro Valley. Throughout the 20th Century and into the 21st, the Symington family has built on the legacy of the preceding Silva and Dow families. Generations of Symington winemakers have worked at the Dow's vineyards, Quinta do Bomfim and Quinta da Senhora da Ribeira, creating from them superbly concentrated wines that are intense and tannic when young, and mature towards a superlative racy elegance with age. Dow's attractive and distinctive drier finish is the recognisable hallmark of the wines from this great Port house.

Cockburn's

Quinta dos Canais is the home of Cockburn's Port, in the remote Upper Douro Valley. The mountain vineyards hug the slopes of the ridge running down to the river, surrounded by rocky crags, rushing waterfalls, wild scrub and flowers. Canais has been the heart and soul of Cockburn's Vintage Ports for over a hundred years.

Rozès

Frenchman Ostende Rozès founded his Port house in 1855, and it has been run by French hands ever since. This French influence produces Ports with different nuances that be found in fellow Portuguese or British houses. The finished product is airier, though still perfectly balanced and with plenty of charm and finesse.

Central Europe

When you think of European wine, Italy and France immediately spring to mind, but it's from the heartland of continental Europe where some of the most exciting gems can be unearthed.

Here, the winters are typically harsh and the summers warm and sunny, providing great conditions for vineyards to produce a rainbow palette of flavours. Little wonder, then, that Germany, Austria and Hungary are home to some of the most historic wine styles and producers in the world. Legendary sweet wines, piercing, mineral scented whites and increasingly impressive reds are the order of the day – and the price/quality ratio remains remarkably attractive.

Austria

The steep slopes of the Wachau tumbling down to the Danube and the misty, rolling hinterland around the Neusiedlersee provide contrasting landscapes for vineyards – and highly distinctive wines to boot.

The Wachau marries minerality to opulence in producing unique expressions of Riesling and Grüner Veltliner, while the noble rot-rich sweet wines of Burgenland are rightly ranked among the best the world can offer. But Burgenland offers much more than TBA and Eiswein, showcasing another facet of Grüner, Austria's signature varietal par excellence.

Erich Machherndl

Weingut Machherndl, an 18 acre estate established in 1786, is run by eighth generation owner Erich Machherndl, who believes in honest viticulture without compromise. His philosophy is simple; keep focused on tradition, believe in the vines – especially the 100-year-old vines – and do not become distracted by the status symbols of modern viticulture. His first goal is to produce exquisite wines that can be enjoyed and admired for many years.

Pfaffl

R&A Pfaffl was founded in 1978 by Roman Pfaffl and his wife Adelheid. Located just north of Vienna in the Weinviertel, Austria's premier winegrowing region, the winery was originally a working farm with less than two acres under vine. Over the years, the winery has expanded and now encompasses more than 200 acres of sustainably farmed vineyards, planted with indigenous Austrian varieties including Grüner Veltliner and Zweigelt. In their short existence, not only have the Pfaffl wines been recognised for their excellence with international accolades, but the family has also been praised for helping to bring the world's attention to Austria's wine scene and their indigenous varieties.

Germany

When there's evidence that a vineyard was first planted more than 1,000 years ago, you know you're in a country whose winemaking heritage is beyond question.

Few wine regions on earth encapsulate their terroir in more expressive and evocative fashion than the Mosel, while the reliably warm summers of the Pfalz produce wines dripping with sunshine, from racy, steepledged Riesling to world class Pinot Noir – or rather, in this case, Spätburgunder.

Mosel

Paulinshof

On the banks of the Mosel River, in the town of Kesten, lies a small, family-owned producer oozing with history; indeed, records suggest the St-Paulin estate was involved in vine growing as early as AD 936. Named as the top site in the Mosel in Napoleon's 1804 classification, the famed Brauneberger Juffer vineyard also has religious overtones; 'Juffer' means 'maidens' in the local Moselle dialect and, reputedly, the original vineyard was planted by an industrious trio of nuns.

The Knipsers, originally from the Italian Südtirol, have been farming in Pfalz since 1876, Heinz Knipser assumed the title as one of the region's first winemakers in 1948, selling his produce directly to knowledgeable locals and restaurants. Now, under the guidance of brothers Werner and Volker Knipser – and more recently, Werner's children, Stephan and Sabine – Weingut Knipser farms some 40 hectares of vines in Laumersheim, Grosskarlbach and Dirmstein.

Hungary

Famously name-checked as 'vinum regnum, rex vinorum' ('wine of kings, king of wines') by Louis XV of France, Tokaji is a dessert wine honed to perfection by centuries of history and its surroundings: the sheltering Carpathian Mountains and the influence of the Bodrog and Tisza rivers.

It remains home to an utterly inimitable wine style which, even when unaccompanied, is an unforgettable experience – and it also produces ever more characterful dry wines too.

Tokaji

Patricius

While Tokaji is on the same latitude as the cool-climate Chablis region in France, the central European location of this Hungarian region means it enjoys a much warmer climate. It's because of this, along with the influence of the Tisza and Bodrog rivers, that the area has the perfect conditions for noble rot. Patricius came to be after Hungarian exile, Deszö Kékessy, returned to Tokaji and acquired 150 hectares of vineyard after building a successful business in Switzerland. The attention to detail at Patricius is breathtaking; re-planting and even re-orienting rows of vines where necessary, and upholding admirable standards of perfection in both their vine-growing and winemaking endeavours. This dedication and passion pays off in spades, with wines that display exquisite elegance and class, complex fruit and honey flavours, minerality and rapier-like acidity.

These are boom times for English wine – new wineries spring up by the week, new vineyards are being planted at a feverish pace, and new international renown comes with almost every tasting competition.

From the chalky Sussex Downs to picturesque counties of Devon and Cornwall, English wine is maturing fast. The sparkling wines generate the most column inches – and with good reason – but an ever wider and finer range of still wines is also helping the country to assert its own style and character.

The first winery in the UK to adopt solar power, Hattingley Valley is recognised as a top estate abroad, and looks to be gaining just as much recognition across its native land.

Greece & Lebanon

With the wines of Central and Eastern Europe now firmly fixed in public awareness, as well as on wine lists across the world, other lesser-known regions are starting to emerge as the new kids on the block – at least in terms of their presence in the UK.

In fact, countries such as Greece and Lebanon have histories of winemaking that stretch back millennia, with traditions that stretch back far beyond those of France and Italy. Producers with provenance abroad are now extending their reach into the UK, bringing with them a fresh mix of indigenous varietals that offer exciting alternatives to the norm.

Greece

With over 6,500 years of winemaking history under its belt, it's somewhat surprising that Greek is only recently emerging as an industry trend within the UK.

In recent years, this often-overlooked country has stepped into the spotlight, with quality, value-for-money wines that express the rich terroir of Greece's rugged landscape, sunlit days and oceanic climate. With a huge number of indigenous varietals lending themselves to new wines emerging onto the market, Greece is fast becoming one of the most exciting players in the UK industry today.

Ktima Kir-Yianni

Kir-Yianni was founded in 1997 by Yiannis Boutaris, one of the leading figures in the Greek wine industry, when he left the Boutari Wine Group, the premium family wine company that his grandfather established in 1879. Today Stellos Boutaris, member of the fifth generation of winemakers, leads the winery into the next phase of its history by dynamically exploiting the cornerstones of the Kir-Yianni philosophy; desire for innovation, respect for tradition and true knowledge of the wine, from the grape to the end consumer.

Lebanon

Lebanon's troubled recent history has ensured that areas such as the Bekaa Valley remain better known for reasons other than winemaking, but the vine has been important to people here since ancient times – as visitors to the Roman temple of Bacchus in Baalbek will tell you.

Incomers have also shaped recent winemaking history, with French grape varieties dominant, including Cinsault, Carignan, Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot. The secret here is altitude: with vineyards commonly planted at 1000m, the heat is softened and harvests are typically later than some parts of the Languedoc.

Ixsir

Al-Iksir, meaning Elixir, is the purest form of all substances, a secret potion that grants eternal youth and love. Ixsir was therefore chosen as a fitting name for a new project established by a group of friends who share the desire of creating the finest wines Lebanon has to offer, and have been willing to spare no expense in realising their dream. Grapes are selected from the best terroirs throughout Lebanon, sponsoring sustainable development within growers' communities.

Chaffey Bros. Wine Co.

This is the exciting new face of winemaking in Australia. Established in 2008 by brothers-in-law Daniel Chaffey Hartwig and Theo Engela, Chaffey Bros champion Riesling, Shiraz and Grenache from the Eden and Barossa Valleys. Working in the realm of minimal intervention, artisan, small-batch wines, the pair prioritise experimentation and quality. Dan and Theo share a love for the sometimes brutal, remote landscapes of the Barossa and Eden Valleys, which also boast a rich tapestry of passionate communities.

Henschke

The story of the Henschke family and their wines has almost as many layers and facets as a great vintage of Mt Edelstone or Hill of Grace Shiraz; this is a producer for whom the descriptor 'New World' seems utterly inappropriate in anything but geographical terms. It's an inescapably involving saga, from Johann Christian Henschke's emigration from German Silesia in 1841 in search of religious freedom, to the planting of their two legendary vineyards, Hill of Grace and Mt Edelstone.

Cable Crossing

The majestic Murray River brings life to the Riverland region of South Australia, where sun-kissed vineyards laden with Chardonnay and Shiraz weave around the river. The Chardonnay delivers an unmistakably vibrant and fruit-driven style, while the Shiraz is spicy and peppery, with a real sense of place.

Tooma River

The Tooma River flows from Mount Jagungal, high in the Snowy Mountains of New South Wales. It carries the snow-melted water gently downstream until it feeds the winelands around the famous Murray River, without which viticulture would not be possible in the arid climate of inland Australia.

Victoria

Cool-climate wines with plenty of purity. Home to some of mainland Australia's coolest vineyards, Victoria is best known for these cool-climate expressions of classic varieties.

Geologically the land is hugely diverse – from the ancient granite boulders of the Strathbogie Ranges, to the rugged mountain ranges of the Grampians, via the wind and sea-battered Mornington Peninsula – this is Australian wine at its most dramatic. Victoria is fast becoming synonymous with quality and purity, and this is an enviable trio of Victorian producers.

Fowles Wine

When a company calls one of its wines 'Ladies Who Shoot Their Lunch,' you know you're experiencing a wine story that's just a bit, well, different. Matt Fowles – self-taught hunter, chef, winemaker and jazz trumpet player – was an unfulfilled lawyer before buying a winery out of administration and creating Fowles Wine. Food-friendly wines are Fowles' focus, with their products specifically designed to be consumed with game.

Kooyong

The pastoral charms of the Mornington Peninsula form the backdrop of Kooyong's vineyard, the cool and maritime climate contributing to some very exciting wines. The winery has crafted a reputation for some of the very best representations of Pinot Noir and Chardonnay, with a commitment to showcasing expressions of individual terroirs lying at the heart of everything the estate does.

New South Wales

Lying on the continent's east coast, New South Wales is Australia's second largest wine-producing region, and home to a variety of winemaking communities, each of which represents a diversity of unique terroirs and climates.

The most notable region within the state is the Hunter Valley, the birthplace of Australian wine, which is defined by its rich historical tapestry of vines and a past steeped in winemaking traditions. The warm and humid climate of the region is unique in Australian wine, allowing them to produce iconic wine styles including delicate Semillon and earthy Shiraz.

Hunter Valley

Mt. Pleasant

The vast Australian landscape provides a rich canvas of winemaking regions, but with its challenging climatic conditions and richness of unique sites, the Hunter Valley is one of the most characterful, celebrated and distinctive. Mount Pleasant's legacy dates back to 1880, when English immigrant Charles King planted vines on rich, volcanic soil at the southern end of the Hunter Valley. In 1921, legendary winemaker Maurice O'Shea purchased and extended the property, naming it Mount Pleasant after the peak that rises behind the winery. Today, the winery is one of the most awarded in Australia, and under the direction of winemaker Jim Chatto, who has been described as having a forensic palate, they continue to release wines of a consistently high calibre.

McWilliam's

Few have helped shape the evolution of the Australian wine industry like McWilliam's Wines. From humble beginnings on the outskirts of Corowa in 1877, their philosophy of putting quality fruit first has ensured that McWilliam's continues to be one of Australia's most popular, respected and iconic wineries. With six generations of winemakers and more than 140 years' experience, theirs are wines that tell the story of a family's long love affair with their craft.

Western Australia

Pioneering wineries producing elegant wines. While Western Australia is the country's largest state, production accounts for just 5% of the total wine produced in Australia.

Its wine regions are almost entirely in the cooler climes of its south-western tip, and can proudly boast having been awarded more gold medals than any other Australian wine region – this is no mean feat! The coastline is breathtaking and the wines – crafted mostly in Margaret River and Great Southern – are of serious quality and effortless sophistication.

Western Australia

MadFish

It's safe to say that Western Australia's MadFish has one of the more memorable names in the Enotria&Coe stable. MadFish owes its name to Madfish Bay, where two ocean currents meet, catapulting fish into the air as if bewitched by the swirling sea into a state of insanity. And the wines? Very much in tune with Western Australia's relaxed, unpretentious way of life; fruit-forward, pin-sharp, and fresh.

Howard Park

Howard Park is Western Australia's largest family-owned and operated winery. Part of Australia's First Families of Wine collective, the winery was born from the ambition to craft wines with generational cellaring potential. Starting from humble beginnings, with just a shed and a visionary winemaker, Howard Park were one of the earliest adopters of multi-regional fruit sourcing and continue to champion the cool-climate Great Southern wine region today.

Tasmania

Tasmania is a place of breathtaking natural beauty; windwhipped, rugged and unforgiving.

Here, Riesling, Chardonnay and Pinot Noir have found a natural home, and this year we're delighted to introduce our first wines from this island outpost, Stargazer. These wines express the purity of the island, and are typically bright and fresh with great structure, racy acidity and incredible verve.

Tasmania

Stargazer

Stargazer – the brainchild of winemaker Samantha Connew – pays tribute to Abel Tasman, an explorer and navigator who spent much of his time gazing towards the heavens. Tasman, a Dutchman under the employ of the United East India Company, was the first European to sight Tasmania and the South Island of New Zealand, nineteen days later. Samantha, a gifted innovator in her own right, fell in love with the and the mystery surrounding it, and after only four vintages she has already gained five-star recognition from James Halliday.

New Zealand

New Zealand's standard-bearers are rightly hailed as Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc and Central Otago Pinot Noir, but to concentrate purely on this formidable duo is to lose sight of the big picture: does any country in the Southern Hemisphere do a better job with aromatic grape varieties?

Riesling, Pinot Gris, Viognier, Gruner Veltliner, Gewurztraminer – all thrive in New Zealand's ideal climate. As for the reds, Pinot certainly remains the trump card, and not just in Otago! From artisan estates such as Waiheke Island's Man O' War, to established producers like Yealands, we think our cluster of New Zealand wineries are punching well above their weight.

Yealands Estate

Conventional wisdom warned against planting vineyards in the rugged foothills of the Awatere Valley, a region subject to harsh weather conditions and tough soils. Thankfully, Peter Yealands saw opportunity in this long-ignored area. Long hours and unstinting determination brought about the creation of the remarkable Seaview Vineyard – New Zealand’s largest privately-held, fully carbon-neutral wine estate, and producer of some of the Southern Hemisphere’s finest aromatic white wines.

Mohua Wines

Mohua Wines is a family-run winery where talent and love for great wine-making combine with a desire to preserve and enhance the land from which it comes. They craft Sauvignon Blanc from Marlborough and elegant Pinot Noir from Central Otago, capturing the essence of New Zealand’s finest grape-growing regions in every bottle.

Cloudy Bay

Established in 1985, Cloudy Bay was one of the first five wine makers to venture into Marlborough. At the time, it was almost an unimaginable place to set-up a vineyard. But Cloudy Bay's founder - David Hohnen - was convinced of its potential to produce great wine and invested in the best land in the region. Since then, Marlborough has risen to become New Zealand's leading wine region, as well as one of the finest winemaking locations in the world. The winery was named after Cloudy Bay, a body of water explorer Captain James Cook came across during his voyage to New Zealand in 1770. His discovery coincided with flooding in the region, which washed large amounts of sediment into the sea. Noticing the water's opaque appearance, Cook cleverly christened the area Cloudy Bay.

The Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc category has spearheaded New Zealand's fierce expansion into the UK, and accounts for a significant proportion of all New Zealand's sales. This is one of the few regional and varietal combinations from the New World that's become a 'must-list' alongside well-established classics, such as Chablis, Rioja and Chianti.

Urlar

If farming is in the blood of ex-pat Scot Angus Thomson – he represents the fifth generation of Thomsons to work the land – then so too are wines and spirits. Both grandfathers were in the whisky business, but Angus forged a new path when he sold his farm in Forres and set up shop in New Zealand. More than a decade later, the Thomsons have a 31-hectare vineyard and a range of organic wines that shine with beautiful varietal expression. The mission here is sustainability, following organic and biodynamic principles in the vineyard. It's no surprise that the estate's name, 'Urlar' means 'the earth' in Gaelic.

Man O'War

Man O' War is a stunning array of coastal hillsides with high cliffs and pristine beaches on the eastern end of Waiheke Island. Captain James Cook first sighted the rows of magnificent Kauri trees on this coastline on his first voyage around the islands of New Zealand, and noted they'd make ideal masts for the Navy's Man O' War battleships - hence how the land gained its name. Today, Man O' War is made up of 150 acres of vines planted in 76 individual hillside blocks, each with a distinct soil profile and microclimate. Winemaker Duncan McTavish ensures each small parcel of vines is carefully tended and harvested by hand, then vinified separately, fusing classic Old World techniques with innovative New World ideas to give his wines great intensity, depth, and personality.

Carrick Winery

It's been more than 20 years since Steve and Barbara Green established the first of Carrick's vineyard plantings on the Cairnmuir terraces at Bannockburn in Central Otago. What was at the time a tangle of wild thyme and briar roses has now evolved into one of the region's most successful wineries. Pinot Noir is the trump card here – richly coloured, immensely aromatic and full of cherry and plum fruit – but don't underestimate Carrick's characterful Chardonnay, which has enviable fruit purity.

Peregrine Wines

Set in the rugged, majestic mountains of Central Otago, Peregrine is committed to enhancing the environment, both with their organically certified estates and winery, and their hands-on involvement in the conservation of New Zealand's native birds, the Saddleback and Mohua. Since 1998, passionate wine producers and estate owners Lindsay McLachlan and Greg Hay have pursued a philosophy of producing wine that's truly representative of the region, selecting only the very best hand-picked fruit from 11 sites around the Lowburn, Bendigo and Gibbston sub regions. Although best known as a specialist Pinot Noir house, it also produces excellent whites, including Riesling, Pinot Gris, Chardonnay and Sauvignon Blanc.

South Africa

With the dawn of democracy in South Africa 20 years ago, there also came a renaissance in the country's vineyards.

A flood of innovation and inward investment brought ever greater diversity to regions such as Stellenbosch, Paarl and Franschhoek, which quickly proved themselves capable of making world-class wines from a broad range of international grape varieties. At the same time, producers have been creating new and exciting expressions of local flagship grapes Pinotage and Chenin Blanc, as well as exploring dynamic new cool climate regions such as Elgin and Elim.

The Journeymaker

Produced in the heart of the Swartland, South Africa, The Journeymaker is produced by Riebeek Cellars, who have been making wines since 1941. Sheltered by the Kasteelberg Mountain, the vineyards have a Mediterranean climate, creating ideal conditions for producing wines full of flavour. The excellent terroir is complemented by modern viticulture techniques; only free-run juice from the finest grapes are used, resulting in crisp wines that are true to type with focused fruit and great purity.

MAN Family Vineyards

The story behind MAN Family Wines started as a simple idea, with its founders Jose, Tyrrel and Philip resolving to make wines that they would actually want to buy and drink. To keep the peace over the amount of time they foresaw spending making this vision a reality, the winery was named after the first initials of the founders' three wives; Marie, Anette and Nicky. Today, MAN Family are champions of unirrigated, quality wines, with great packaging.

Richard Kershaw Wines

Richard Kershaw Wines was established in 2012, focusing on clonal selected, site-specific cool climate wines. The Smuggler's Boot range was launched in 2018. The name derives from the time of trade embargoes, when growers and winemakers smuggled grapevine material into the country by hiding the cuttings in Wellington boots. Celebrating their ingenuity, this range of wines is created using innovative techniques, in particular the use of breathable eggs (both polymer and ceramic) for fermentation.

Ron Burgundy Wines

Boschkloof was purchased in 1995 and named after the natural ravine or -kloof- on the farm. The land consists of rolling hills and picturesque mountain backdrops, and the soil mostly of decomposed granite and koffieklip. The original vineyards on the farm were mainly planted with Cape Riesling, but Jacques decided to remove it and plant better-suited cultivars like Syrah, Cabernet Sauvignon, and Chardonnay.

Ken Forrester Wines

Without the efforts of industrious men like Ken Forrester, South African Chenin Blanc might be scarcely more than a footnote to the country's winemaking history – a workhorse grape, producing vast amounts of unmemorable white wine. Thankfully, this Zambia-born former restaurateur saw beyond the grape's obvious quaffability, going on to produce wines such as The FMC that have not only elevated the varietal to world renown, but resulted in their creator being bestowed the moniker 'Mr Chenin.'

Kleinood

The de Villiers family has left deep footprints in the history of the South African wine industry through the centuries, and Kleinood and the Tamboerskloof wines are no exception. The French Huguenot, Jacob de Villiers, bought the wine farm Boschendal between Stellenbosch and Franschhoek, after immigrating to the Cape of Good Hope in 1688. In the year 2000 Gerard de Villiers, a direct descendant of Jacob, and his wife, Libby, found the piece of land that stole their hearts – complete with mountains, river and a pristine tract of indigenous forest. Tamboerskloof is once again an integral part of the de Villiers family history as well as that of Cape Town and the Boland. The name Tamboerskloof means the valley (kloof) of the drums (tamboer).

Morgenster

New and Old Worlds meet at Morgenster. The estate was bought by Giulio Bertrand in 1992, who held a vision of making the best Bordeaux-style wine outside France. Requisite shale soils, cool breezes and proximity to the Atlantic provided ideal growing conditions, while Château Cheval Blanc's Pierre Lurton added expertise and experience for the winemaking. The result is the perfect marriage of South African and French know-how. Only a portion of each vintage is released on launch, with the rest kept, evaluated bi-yearly and released in batches, allowing customers access to several vintages of the same wine.

Thelema Mountain Vineyards

Cabernet may be their hero, but Thelema's origins owe more to the wines of Burgundy than Bordeaux; it was a bottle of Puligny-Montrachet that acted as the catalyst for Gyles Webb to abandon an accountancy career for winemaking. These days Gyles is Cellar Master, with the talented Rudi Schultz responsible for the winemaking. However, the philosophy remains true to Gyles' original vision, centred on the principle of what he calls 'benign neglect' – minimal fining and filtration, and no use of commercial yeasts in the red wines.

Arendsig

Lourens van der Westhuizen is a fifth generation farmer, but the first to make his own wine on the farm. In 2004, Lourens was given an untouched part of the farm, on the slopes, and worked for four months to prepare these soils, for the future of Arendsig wines. Lourens' philosophy is to create great single vineyard wines from unique soil climate and location. It's the soil with all the microbes, cycle of elements and the help of living organisms that create the heartbeat for his vines. The location towards the sun, wind and holistic climatical conditions reflects the uniqueness of each vineyard.

FRAM

After 12 long years working at Boschendal Wineries, Thinus Krüger decided it was time to be his own boss. Part of a new-wave generation of young winemakers in South Africa, Thinus does not limit his talents to just one part of the country. He travels all regions, intent on the quest to discover uncharted areas with the best quality grapes. With Pinotage and Chenin from Citrusdal Mountain, Chardonnay from Robertson, and Shiraz from Swartland, the wines make up an eclectic snapshot of the best of South Africa, and all in the bold, intense style that Krüger has perfected along the way.

Elgin

Sutherland Estate

With Thelema, Gyles Webb had warm-climate wines, so in contrast his next venture, Sutherland Vineyards, focused on cool-climate wines. Just nine kilometres from the Indian Ocean and at up to 250m above sea level, its aromatic white wines and Pinot Noir are fast developing a reputation for quality. When purchased in 2002, the Sutherland estate – like much of the Elgin Valley – was apple-growing country, but the 100-hectare property was soon home to Sauvignon Blanc and Chardonnay, with Riesling, Viognier and Pinot Noir following soon after.

Chile

It may be a phrase overused to the point of cliché, but ‘vicultural paradise’ really does apply here: reliably sunny, dry summers, the twin cooling influences of the Pacific’s Humboldt Current and the lofty Andes, and plentiful water thanks to the mountain snowmelt.

Chilean winemakers are increasingly refusing to take it easy, preferring instead to embrace experimentation and to explore more marginal conditions in exciting regions such as Leyda and Elqui – while never losing sight of the quality offered by established Central Valley enclaves including Colchagua and Maipo.

Casablanca

Viñamar

Located in the high quality Casablanca Valley and within close proximity to the Pacific Ocean, Viñamar vineyards are situated in several exceptional sites. In the scorching Chilean summer, the vines are cooled by ocean breezes and rolling mists that funnel up the valley. These ideal conditions allow grapes to ripen slowly and gently - creating intense yet delicate flavours and lovely fresh acidity.

Viña Leyda

Casablanca Valley might represent Chile's first intrepid steps into cool-climate production, but it's Leyda that took a series of determined, confident strides. Just 14km from the vast Pacific Ocean, the Sauvignon Blanc, Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Syrah planted here express a crispness, minerality and fine-boned structure not found elsewhere in Chile's viticultural paradise. Under the direction of winemaker Viviana Navarrete, Leyda's pioneering spirit has continued with single vineyards, along with success experimentation in the way of different clones and soil types.

Elqui Valley

If your knowledge of the vineyards of Chile is limited to Maipo, Rapel and Colchagua, the Elqui Valley might come as a bit of a shock. This northern enclave of earth tremors and UFO-spotting really does resemble a valley, running east to west and with a growing population of vines drawing on the vital irrigation of the Elqui River (there's typically less than three inches of rainfall a year in this arid region).

Viña Falernia

Vina Falernia was founded in 1998, when Aldo Olivier Gramola realised the potential for producing superb wines in the semi-arid Elqui Valley. Having produced solely pisco for decades, Gramola was inspired to branch out into viticulture by his oenologist cousin Giorgio Flessati- and so the Falernia project was born. As Chile's northernmost winery, it is a product of innovation, experimentation and passion.

Lanya

Lanya, Primera Luz and Los Tortolitos are all produced by Viñedos Puertas, a family-run business founded in 1950. The vineyard is comprised of 80 hectares of fields irrigated by water flowing down from the Andes Mountains, and a one-million-litre capacity winery known as El Milagro, located at the heart of the Curico Valley. The wines embody the character of the region, and display brilliant freshness.

Laberinto

Rafael Tirado is the creator and winemaker of the boutique Laberinto, based in a stunning location overlooking Lake Colbun, Maule. Sitting at the foothills of the Andes, 600m above sea level, this is considered the coolest spot in Chile, with wines of a naturally lower pH than the Leyda Valley. Raphael's Sauvignon Blanc is gaining something of a cult following, and the volcanic ash and clay impart an undeniable minerality to the wine. Interestingly, the unusual labyrinths of the vineyards – hence the name Laberinto – were planted to achieve more complexity in the wine, as a result of varying exposures of the fruit to the sun.

Terroir Sonoro

Juan Ledesma is a jazz musician and an erudite, artistic soul who made his first vintage in 2013, after discovering 300-year-old vines in Itata and Bio Bio. Feeling that everything he had learnt studying agronomy was a lie, he set out on a winemaking mission to support the growers, one of which is his cousin, in a quest to make exceptional wines. Juan's methods are both unusual and pioneering. Lees are suspended by the resonance of jazz music that he records and then plays in the wine when it's ageing in barrel. This combines two visions – the science of using sound waves to mimic batonnage and his emotional ties to jazz. A lot of his inspiration, including the names of his wines, are taken from his hero, Chilean poet, artist and scientist Nicanor Parra.

Argentina

Argentina boasts a rich cultural legacy in relation to wine, with more than 400 years of history, built on a tradition that fuses together New World and Old World wine regions. Over the last five years, Argentina has been taking the UK wine market by storm. As a result, Argentina has become the envy of other wine producing countries.

Why? Because it's cool.

The wines have carved an identity as exciting, quality focused and food-led, with plush and velvety Malbec leading the revolution and clearing the path for what's starting to unravel. We are very excited about our Argentinean range, which boasts unprecedented diversity, equipped with some of the most desired brands in the market.

Santa Ana

The story of Santa Ana is defined by constant evolution and development, from the winery's foundation by Italian émigré and winemaking pioneer Luis Tirasso in 1891, to the company's leadership in the Argentinian market in the late 1970s as well as its exploration of overseas destinations in the years since. Today, its wines are sold in more than 50 countries around the world, and the secret of Santa Ana's success lies firmly in the vineyards. Esteemed winemaker Rodolfo 'Opi' Sadler has access to an enviable array of quality fruit sourced from all over Mendoza.

El Esteco

Among the Calchaqui Valley's lush vegetation, rivers and rocky mountains, there emerges, unexpectedly, a stretch of desert. At an altitude of 1,800 metres, with its radiant sunshine and ideal temperature range hot days and cool nights, the environment is perfect for vine growing. It is here, in the heart of this unique valley that El Esteco stands. French immigrants David and Salvador Michel founded the winery in 1892, taking advantage of this special region to produce distinctive and elegant high-end wines, with great concentration of colour, deep aromas and well-defined flavours.

Humberto Canale

If Río Negro is a relative newcomer to many people's wine repertoires, Humberto Canale has experience on its side. The winery was established back in 1909, taking its name from its founder, the pioneering engineer who did so much to develop Patagonian agriculture. More than 100 vintages and four generations later, Guillermo Barzi Canale stands at the helm, overseeing a range of elegant wines that run the gamut from Pinot Noir to Malbec and Cabernet Franc.

North America

- 230 California
- 236 Washington State
- 239 Oregon
- 242 Canada

Winemaking in the USA has never been more interesting, and this year we're proud to bring you our most impressive line-up to date.

In fact, with producers including Ste. Michelle Wine Estates, Share a Splash and Bogle, we can honestly say this is one of the most diverse American portfolios in the UK. Here you'll find wines of great balance and value from sun-bathed Sonoma, wind-whipped Monterey and the cooler parts of Sacramento's Delta region – not to mention the rich depth of Paso Robles reds. New wines from the cooler climes of Washington State and iconic Napa Valley add depth and excitement to the portfolio which is going from strength to strength.

California

Potentially the largest, most well-known and diverse winemaking region in the whole of the United States of America, it's not hard to see why California inspires such interest.

Since the infamous 1976 Judgement of Paris, Californian wine production has gone from strength to strength, ascending both in fame and in popularity. A hugely diverse range of climates can be located here, varying from abundant sunshine to cool coastal air, all contributing to wines of astounding quality that are largely characterised by ripe, fruity flavours and an abundance of oak.

Napa Valley

Stag's Leap Wine Cellars

This is one of the undisputed icons of the Napa Valley. Just three years after the winery was founded, in 1973 their Cabernet won the famous Judgement of Paris tasting, beating first and second growth Bordeaux. Since then they have become one of the most compelling and sought-after wine producers in the world. The winery is located in the Stag's Leap District, a small sub-region in the south-eastern Napa Valley known for producing particularly elegant and age-worthy wines.

Motto

These are a collection of distinct, dark, rich wines from California that deliver a definitively bold wine experience. The winemaking team keeps the wine lots separate throughout fermentation and ageing, and the final blends are determined right before bottling, once the wines have evolved to reveal all their true character and complexities.

Share A Splash

Share a Splash wine co. (formerly Cannonball Wine Company) was established by Yoav Gilat in 2006, and since then has grown from a modest Cabernet producer to a solid industry player. Their mission is to produce wines that offer quality, character and approachability that surpass expectations for the price, and always deliver a serious splash! Winemaker Ondine Chattan embodies the company's uncomplicated approach to wine: 'I am inspired by the purity of flavors in the grape varieties themselves and endeavor to present those flavors in various ways – be it bold and direct – no translation needed, or subtle and layered – unfolding slowly.' Share a Splash wine co. embraces the belief that wine, like life, is best enjoyed when shared.

Orin Swift

The story of Orin Swift Cellars dates back to 1995 when, on a lark, David Swift Phinney travelled to Florence for study and quickly fell in love with wine. Just three years later, Phinney started his own venture with just two tonnes of Zinfandel and an insatiable passion for his craft. What started as a tiny production project has now grown into an empire of wines distributed across the world, with Phinney establishing himself as one of the most influential and innovative winemakers in California.

West Coast Swing

West Coast Swing is the official state dance of California and can be danced to almost any music; it's all about matching rhythm, melody and mood. The same can be said this the delicious White Zinfandel. The wine bursts with vibrant ripe peach, mango and melon aromas, while a fresh acidity balances the sweetness of this much-loved classic.

Washington State

Although grapes were first planted here in the early 1800s, with commercial plantings really taking off in the 1960s, Washington's wine industry is still rapidly evolving to this day.

At least 40% of the state's vineyards were planted over the last decade alone, and the winemakers who have chosen this as their home are still experimenting with grape varieties and vineyard sites. The warm, dry climate lends itself well to bold and red grapes, with Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Syrah emerging as the key players here.

Chateau Ste. Michelle

Chateau Ste. Michelle's were pioneers of vinifera grape growing in Washington State, directly challenging the previous conception that great American wine could only come from California. Since 1967, the winery has been producing top class European varietal wines under the Chateau Ste. Michelle label, all of which highlight the quality, style and expression of their Washington State vineyards. The winery combines an ongoing pursuit of innovation, particularly evident in their many joint ventures.

Eroica

Eroica is a labour of love for two of the world's great Riesling producers – Germany's Dr Loosen and Washington State's Chateau Ste. Michelle. In this venture, the duo is committed to classic winemaking traditions in the pursuit of crafting some of the highest quality wines Washington has to offer. Named after Beethoven's Third Symphony, Eroica reflects not only its variety and site, but also its heritage: bold and forward from its Washington roots, elegant and refined from German inspiration.

Tenet

A union between the iconic Washington state winery Chateau Ste. Michelle and the acclaimed Rhône winemaker Michel Gassier, Tenet Wines establishes as a parallel between Syrah's cradle and most renowned region, the Rhône Valley, and its tremendous potential on Washington's basaltic slopes. Chateau Ste. Michelle's Head Winemaker Bob Bertheau and Michel Gassier have combined their experience with the assistance of Southern Rhône's famous oenology consultant, Philippe Cambie. The result? Wines that are balanced, vibrant, have a true sense of place, and showcase their respective character and common excellence.

14 Hands

14 Hands wines are inspired by the unbridled spirit of the wild horses that once freely roamed eastern Washington. Measuring just fourteen hands tall — a "hand" being equivalent to the width of one's palm — these tenacious little horses would travel down from the hills every day to drink from the mighty Columbia River and graze along the riverbank, before retreating back to cool off at night. Washington's wild horses have become living symbols of the pioneer spirit of the American West.

Columbia Crest

In 1983 Columbia Crest opened its doors in the heart of Washington State's Horse Heaven Hills. Nestled alongside the Columbia River in eastern Washington, Columbia Crest is the north west largest winery as well as one of the world's most highly acclaimed. Columbia Crest delivers handcrafted, superior-quality, small-lot wines, as well as affordable everyday Washington wines. The first release in 1984 started a tradition that established Columbia Crest as one of America's most popular and fast-growing wineries. Year after year, the winery maintains its commitment to quality, heritage and innovation in grape growing and winemaking to craft exceptional wines.

Oregon

The Oregon wine region has been exciting wine professionals and ahead-of-the-curve consumers for a while.

Its cool-climate, high-quality Pinot Noir has been compared with Burgundy in terms of outright quality, and due to sheer popularity this grape is planted across approximately 60% of the region. The long summers are warm and dry, with cool evenings that preserve acidity and help produce the elegant and distinctly ripe character that Oregon wines have become known for.

Oregon

Omero

If Napa is the Bordeaux of California, then Oregon is the Burgundy. There are obvious climatic and varietal parallels, but Omero Cellars sees things slightly differently. This family-owned and operated winery, set in Ribbon Ridge, the smallest AVA of the Willamette Valley, is quick to point out that it's not aiming to replicate the Côte d'Or, but to champion Oregon's unique soils, climate, fruit – and most importantly people. It's an individuality that is apparent in the Omero wines, from Pinot Noir to Chardonnay. Winemaker and biodynamics specialist Chad Stock's Pinot Noirs are the product of an attention to detail that borders on obsession, from the tailoring of Burgundy clones to Oregon terroir, to his treatment of prized yeast cultures as if they were sourdough.

Canada

If there's a pantheon of the great sweet wines of the world – one inhabited by the likes of Sauternes, Tokaji and Vin de Constance – then Canadian Icewine is clearly worthy of taking its place there.

This remarkable style, born on the Niagara Peninsula between Lake Ontario and Lake Erie and based on the toughest grape harvest on Earth (late December,  $-10^{\circ}\text{C}$ ), has been moulded by generations of growers into a perfect combination of luscious sweetness, biting acidity and dazzling purity of fruit. 'Nectar' is the tasting note that springs most readily to mind here.

Peller Family Estates

The Pellers are Icewine pioneers, and were one of the first families to explore the possibilities of this unique Canadian style of wine. Commitment to Icewine production isn't for the faint-hearted, but this didn't daunt the Pellers; the family took it one step further, planting their Niagara Peninsula vineyards closer to Lake Ontario to make their products even fresher and more food-friendly. Their efforts paid off – the wines that result are uniquely unctuous, with a piercing streak of lip-smacking freshness.

Olive Oil & Vinegar

With Enotria&Coe's roots stemming from Italian wine, it only made sense that we also harbour a passion for Italy's other great export- olive oil.

Some of our most longstanding and world-renowned producers have been carefully cultivating olive groves alongside vineyards for decades. Expanding on this foray into bringing culture and quality to your kitchen, we also boast an exceptional range of balsamic vinegars that bring with them history, tradition and true crafting skill.

Planeta

In Planeta's early years, expertise came from a surprising source: Australia. The winemaker brought in by Diego Planeta was an Italian – Carlo Corino – but one who had soaked in the latest warm-climate winemaking secrets during a stint in New South Wales. Ever since, Planeta has managed to capture the intrinsic perfume and fresh flavours of Sicily's grapes in their wines. The early success of their Chardonnay – which now boasts a cult following - gave Planeta the credibility it needed to open the world's eyes to the charms of Sicily's indigenous grape varieties, ushering in a broad range of wines that today owes as much to Grecanico and Nero d'Avola as it does to the winery's signature Chardonnay.

Morgenster

New and Old Worlds meet at Morgenster. The estate was bought by Giulio Bertrand in 1992, who held a vision of making the best Bordeaux-style wine outside France. Requisite shale soils, cool breezes and proximity to the Atlantic provided ideal growing conditions, while Château Cheval Blanc's Pierre Lurton added expertise and experience for the winemaking. The result is the perfect marriage of South African and French know-how. Only a portion of each vintage is released on launch, with the rest kept, evaluated bi-yearly and released in batches, allowing customers access to several vintages of the same wine.

Enotria&Coe

The UK's leading wine and spirits supplier, focused on building strong partnerships with customers, producers and brands to produce results. We work tirelessly to exceed customer expectations across all channels.

Our reputation is built on three core and constant factors: obsessive product knowledge, the creation of strong partnerships, and a commitment to excellence in everything we do.

We challenge ourselves to stay ahead of the curve, leading trends and adapting to the market. This means that we're trusted to offer in-demand products, deliver brand activation, think creatively and apply our insight and expertise to meet a variety of customer needs.

As a full-service wine and spirits company, with the UK's most comprehensive, premium and inspired portfolio, we're here to add value to our customers' businesses, ensuring everyone's success.

Owning the 'last mile' means that we're uniquely placed to go above and beyond to deliver reliably quick, confident and precise service.

In short, we love what we do and we're passionate about what you and your customers drink. That's what makes us different, and that's why people continue to choose us.
