RECEIVED
FEDERAL ELECTION
COMMISSION
OFFICE OF GENERAL
COUNSEL
OCT 3 10 20 AM '96

Dear Chairwoman Elliott:

This letter constitutes a formal complaint filed pursuant to 2 U.S.C. § 437g(a) of the Federal Election Campaign Act ("Act") on behalf of the Georgia Republican Party (the "Party"). As this letter and the attached documents demonstrate, the Friends of Ken Poston Committee has violated the Act and the regulations of the Federal Election Commission (the "Commission") by accepting illegal corporate contributions. The funds came from Poston's state campaign committee, which federal law bars from subsidizing his federal campaign.

The foundation of the Act and regulations is that a federal candidate cannot in any way accept or receive any contribution from a corporation. 2 U.S.C. § 441b(a); 11 C.F.R. § 114.2(d). The regulations also expressly prohibit a candidate from transferring assets from his non-federal campaign committee to his federal campaign committee. 11 C.F.R. § 110.3(d). Moreover, it is a fundamental tenant of federal election law that contributions to a federal candidate from a "person" other than a multi-candidate political committee may not exceed $1,000 per election. 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(1)(A); 11 C.F.R. § 110.1(b)(1). As the evidence set forth below demonstrates, the Poston Committee has violated each of these provisions.

McCraken ("Ken") King Poston, Jr. is currently a member in the Georgia House of Representatives from District 3. Pursuant to a Statement of Candidacy filed with the Commission on December 21, 1995, Mr. Poston is also the Democratic candidate for the 1996 United States House of Representatives election in the 9th District of Georgia. As such, Mr. Poston has both a non-federal campaign committee ("Committee to Elect Ken Poston") and a federal campaign committee ("Friends of Ken Poston Committee"). The Committee to Elect Ken Poston is required to report all contributions and expenditures to the Georgia Secretary of State, while the Friends of Ken Poston Committee must report all such activities to the Commission.

In a Campaign Contribution Disclosure Report filed with the Georgia Secretary of State on December 31, 1995 (attached at Exhibit 1), the Committee to Elect Ken Poston discloses that it paid $5,907.04 to Circuit City for a computer system for the non-federal campaign and $1,097.08 to Comp USA for a laser printer for the non-federal campaign. Conversely, none of the reports filed with the Commission thus far by the Friends of Ken Poston Committee (attached as Exhibits 2-5) indicate any expenditures whatsoever for a computer system for the federal campaign.

9 / 0 4 3 8 3 6 9 7 9

Despite the absence in these federal reports of any indication of spending on a computer system, there is overwhelming evidence that the Friends of Ken Poston Committee has used and is still actively using a computer system in support of the federal campaign. Such evidence includes:

1. A September 5, 1996 article in the Washington Post stating that Ken Poston has been "inviting constituents to take part in a computerized, virtual-reality town hall meeting once a month" (attached at Exhibit 6);
2. A June 11, 1996 article in the Catoosa County Tribune describing Ken Poston's first on-line town hall meeting and other information about his campaign's web site (attached at Exhibit 7);
3. A June 5, 1996 article in the Catoosa County News entitled "Poston Takes his Campaign to Cyberspace" in which Ken Poston boasts about the on-line computer capabilities of his Congressional campaign and provides an address for his campaign web site (attached at Exhibit 8);
4. A June 2, 1996 article in The Times, Gainesville, Georgia detailing Ken Poston's plans "to hold the first 'virtual reality' town hall meeting via computer" and his campaign's focus on "politicking expressly by computer" (attached at Exhibit 9);
5. An April 7, 1996 article in The Times, Gainesville, Georgia which reports how Ken Poston provided his E-mail address during the formal announcement of his candidacy for the 9th District Congressional seat (attached at Exhibit 10);
6. An entry in the Friends of Ken Poston Committee's January 31st Year End Report to the Commission detailing a $477.50 disbursement to Inc. Trilix on December 12, 1995 for "software for computer" (see Exhibit 2); and
7. An entry in the Friends of Ken Poston Committee's Pre-Primary Report to the Commission detailing petty cash payments on April 25, 1996 of $210 and $28 for "computer" expenses (see Exhibit 5).

This information raises a basic question: How can the Friends of Ken Poston Committee have on-line capabilities, computerized town hall meetings, a web site and computer software expenses if the Committee, according to its FEC reports, does not own a computer system? The only reasonable explanation for this discrepancy is that Mr. Poston's federal campaign has been knowingly using the computer system purchased by the non-federal campaign in clear violation of 11 C.F.R. § 110.3(d)'s prohibition against transfers of assets between a candidate's non-federal and federal campaigns. Given that the funds used by the non-federal campaign to purchase the computer system were derived from both corporate and individual contributions as allowed under Georgia law, the use of such computer system by the federal campaign would constitute a clear violation of 2 U.S.C. § 441b(a)'s prohibition against the receipt of corporate contributions in connection with a federal election. Moreover, the value of this contribution exceeds the $1,000 contribution limit in violation of 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(1)(A) and 11 C.F.R. § 110.1(b)(1).

The contribution of the computer system received by the Friends of Ken Poston Committee is only one concern. A number of other expenditures made by Mr. Poston's non-federal campaign shortly before or after he declared his candidacy for federal office on December 21, 1995 may have been intended for the benefit of, or may be currently benefiting, his federal campaign in violation of the Act and regulations. These other questionable expenditures include: (1) a $1,510 payment to AD Graphics for "Campaign Poston Logo T-Shirts"; (2) a $478.41 payment to BellSouth Mobility for "mobile phone & equipment"; (3) a $254.40 payment to Office Max for "campaign office supplies"; (4) a $51.41 payment to the Print Shop for "printing of campaign materials"; (5) a $233.86 payment to P & S School and Office Supply for "campaign office supplies"; and (6) a $493.16 payment to Sam's Club for "campaign office supplies". (See Exhibit 1). The Party requests that the Commission fully investigate the timing and nature of each of these expenditures to determine whether any or all of them were made for the purpose of illegally benefiting Mr. Poston's federal campaign.

The facts set forth above raise serious questions concerning fundamental violations of the Act and regulations by the Friends of Ken Poston Committee. Accordingly, the Party respectfully requests that the Commission expeditiously review this complaint and take the appropriate enforcement action.

Sincerely,

Russell K. "Rusty" Paul
Chairman
Georgia Republican Party

To Whom It May Concern,

Accompanying this letter, please find the Federal Election Commission 1995 Year End financial disclosure report for the Friends of Ken Poston committee. This committee is the principal campaign committee for Georgia State Representative McCracken Poston, who is a Democratic candidate in Georgia's Ninth Congressional District.

I would like to thank the staff of the FEC for their assistance as we were preparing this report. As you will see in the report, the Friends of Ken Poston committee has raised $106,055.55 from early November 1995 thru December 31, 1995 from over 300 contributors. An interesting point is that most of this initial effort was undertaken before the federal court announced the district lines for the new Georgia congressional districts. Needless to say, with such success in our fundraising efforts, there were many times when we needed the advice of the FEC. The staff at the FEC was always courteous and helpful whenever we needed their assistance.

If you have any questions about the report please feel free to call me or campaign manager Jim Tanner at (706) 965-1996. Thank you again for your help.

Sincerely,

Laurie M Sapp

Switching Parties Has Been No Picnic for Some GOP Lawmakers

By Eric Fassin
Washington Post Staff Writer

GAINESVILLE, Ga.—When Georgia Rep. Nathan Deal started his constituents and Democratic colleagues in Washington last year by becoming the first House Democrat to switch parties since the Republican takeover, some agreed it was a shrewd move.

As a new member of House Speaker Newt Gingrich's Republican revolution, the fiscally conservative, probusiness Deal could expect to attract more in campaign contributions and preserve his hold on an increasingly Republican North Georgia district.

"The district had already changed, the population had changed, and Nathan was just running along to keep up," University of Georgia political scientist Charles Bullock said.

So far the gambit has worked, as Deal, a lawyer and one-time power-lawyer in the Georgia state Senate, is favored to win election to a third term in November. Gingrich smoothed the way for Deal by discouraging other Republicans from challenging him in the primary and he has out-raised and out-spoken his Democratic challenger, state legislator McCracken "Ken" Poston. Deal holds a better than 2-to-1 lead over Poston in his campaign's most recent polling.

But the abrupt transition from Democrat to Republican has proved to be rockier than Deal and some of the other House members who switched anticipated. A new party label did not guarantee reelection or advance career, and in some cases the change tore at long-established political traditions and alliances. Of the four other Democratic House members who made the switch, one lost in a GOP primary runoff and another is trailing badly in his bid for the Senate. Two others are virtually assured of reelection.

"There always have been hazards for people who switched parties," said Rep. Martin Frost (D-Tex.), chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. "It's a very mixed situation." House Minority Leader Richard A. Gephardt (D-Mo.) added that the GOP defections were little more than a blip on the screen. "If Democrats win the election big in the fall, you might see some Republicans switch to the Democratic side."

While one or two other Democratic defections are still possible if the GOP retains control after the November elections—Reps. Gary A. Condit (Calif.) and Collin C. Peterson (Main.) are frequently mentioned as possible candidates—the experiences of some of the 1995 switchers provides a cautionary note about the potential consequences.

Four-term Rep. Greg Laughlin of Texas—who switched to the GOP two months after Deal—was defeated in a Republican primary runoff in April by a former congressman, Ron Paul, who has close ties to the Libertarian Party. Laughlin had the backing of state and national GOP leaders, including Gov. George W. Bush and House Majority Leader Richard K. Armitage (Tex.), but it wasn't enough.

Louisiana Rep. James A. Hayes, another switcher, jumped into the race for an open Senate seat but is trailing badly in a crowded field. His House seat now is vulnerable to being reclaimed by a Democrat. Of the two others, Rep. Mike Parker of Mississippi is favored to win reelection and Rep. W.J. "Billy" Tauzin of Louisiana is running unopposed.

As the GOP continues to tighten its grip on the once-solid Democratic South, most of the switchers believe they made their move in the nick of time. "If I have any regret," Laughlin said, "it's that I didn't do it sooner."

Of the 26 or so "Blue Dog" southern Democrats in the House prior to the 1994 election, five switched to the GOP last year and six others either announced their retirement or lost bids for other offices this year. Of the 15 remaining, some face tough challenges in their district.

"There just aren't that many left to switch," said Bullock, the University of Georgia professor. "If the Republicans do reasonably well picking up seats coming open, there just aren't going to be many white Democrats left."

Deal insists that his decision to switch has all but vanished as a campaign issue and that he is rarely asked about it. Yet many state Democrats continue to complain bitterly that Deal musled them or outright led by assisting right up until the 1994 election that he would remain a Democrat—only to announce 12 weeks later that he had switched parties.

Richard Saul, a businessman who operates a large plant nursery in neighboring Lumpkin County, sternly lectured Deal on his integrity during a town meeting last week. "You nudged most of the Democratic voters in this district," Saul told Deal at the Murrayville Public Library. "Why didn't you switch parties before the election?"

"This is not a personal vendetta against Nathan," said J. David Burroughs, chairman of the Hall County Democratic Club in Deal's home town of Gainesville, "but dangone it, he has sold his soul."

Nathan Deal's Democratic challenger, has called Deal "a liar" who has flipped so often on issues from his party-switching to the minimum wage to the environment that he no longer can be trusted by the voters of Georgia's 9th Congressional District. "Those kinds of things go beyond issues," said Poston, whose campaign has begun to pick up steam in recent weeks. "They go to your complete makeup as a person."

Deal's metamorphosis from Democrat to Republican also has antagonized the state's environmental groups, which endorsed him four years ago but now are working to defeat him. Environmentalists complain that Deal abandoned his commitment to tough clean water standards and to a logging moratorium in sections of north Georgia's Chattahoochee National Forest and that he supported a controversial 1995 timber salvage measure that opened the door to renewed clear-cutting of green timber in forests throughout the country. The Sierra Club recently dubbed Deal an "Eco Thug."

Deal, 54, first won election to Congress in 1992 on a platform of balancing the budget and cleaning up welfare. But he soon grew impatient with a Democratic leadership that was unwilling to debate and vote on those and other issues important to him. He co-founded a coalition of mostly white southern Democrats, known as the Blue Dogs, to develop conservative bipartisan alternatives to Clinton administration and GOP budget proposals.

Shortly after the Republican takeover, House Democratic leaders tried to persuade Deal and other conservative Democrats threatening to bolt their party by supporting an alternative to the Republicans' welfare reform legislation that Deal helped draft.

But Deal said he had concluded by then that he had irreconcilable differences with the White House over policy and tactics. "I think I could have been reelected without changing parties," Deal said. "The trouble I saw was... having seen Clinton in office for going on three years I most definitely couldn't run with him as the head of the party."

"And then you had to ask yourself, 'Well, what are you doing in the Democratic Party?'" Deal added. "You're really a Republican in Democratic clothing, and after a while that gets to be rather unconvincing."

Deal's decision to switch was still a surprise because he had been so emphatic in his assurances until then that he would remain a Democrat. "I don't think you run with one party label and then, after the election, change parties," he told reporters in November 1994. "I don't think it's honest."

After he won reelection in 1994, with 58 percent of the vote, Deal said that should he decide to change parties "the honest thing to do" would be to resign his seat and seek a special election, to allow voters to decide for themselves whether they wanted to be represented by a Republican. Although Deal's district has voted Republican in each of the past two presidential elections and the majority of its state legislators are Republican, the 9th has not sent a Republican to the House since the turn of the century.

Last week, Deal denied ever saying he would seek a special election, a denial that Poston cited as additional proof that Deal can no longer be trusted.

Poston, 31, has done much to pump life into his long-shot campaign, from bombarding Deal with a barrage of critical press releases and letters to organizing some of the hottest names in rock-and-roll to raise money for his campaign, to inviting constituents to take part in a computerized, virtual reality town hall meeting over a month. His relentless campaigning has caught the attention of a local newspaper columnist who wrote last week in the Gainesville Times: "Watch this race."

Ken Poston is taking his campaign to new heights by trading handshakes and baby-kissing for a computer and the Information Age.

The first ever virtual reality town hall meeting will be held over the Internet with Poston, the presumptive Democratic nominee in Georgia's 9th Congressional District.

"Now that North Georgians can participate in a Congressional town hall meeting from the comfort of their own home, we have entered a new era of political involvement," Poston said. "I am proud to be the first candidate in the nation to offer this opportunity for constituent involvement."

"The Internet is a great place for the North Georgia voice to be heard. My virtual reality town hall meetings will give me the opportunity to listen to the voters' concerns and heighten their awareness of the issues being dealt with in Congress," Poston said.

Virtual reality technology is rapidly growing and becoming more and more accessible to all Internet users. In fact, the technology used for Poston's town hall has only become available in the past few months. The virtual reality town hall demonstrates an innovative use of Internet technology to reach and communicate with citizens.

Throughout his campaign, Poston plans to use town hall to communicate with the constituents in scheduled monthly meetings.

Senate hopefuls more alike than not on key issues

The Associated Press

ATLANTA — One candidate in Georgia's U.S. Senate race wants to build a three-tier, 14-mile long fence near San Diego to help stem the flow of illegal immigrants. Another wants to allow military maneuvers on the border.

Another pulls no punches when asked if homosexuals should be allowed in the military, calling them "misfits of nature."

But in more instances than not, the six Republicans and single Democrat seeking Sam Nunn's position in Washington stand more together than apart on the issues.

"Probably because they all have a similar reading on the concerns of the electorate," said Georgia State University political scientist

Michael Binford.

"They all think this is an era and constituency that is concerned with conservative issues."

In their written responses to a survey by The Associated Press, the six Republicans and Democrat Max Cleland attacked affirmative action quota systems. All called for changes to the tax system and to welfare programs, and most said homosexuals should be discharged from the armed services.

There was disagreement over how the government should respond to armed militias that advocate changing the country's form of government and, as always,

Poston plans 'virtual meeting'

As campaigns advance into the '90s, the customs of handshaking and barbecues may seem rather quaint.

Nowadays, political advisers will tell candidates they must not only capture the hearts and minds of the public but their computer modems as well.

The major parties have their own websites, and do many of the frontline Georgia candidates for the U.S. Senate and House.

Democrat Ken Poston of Ringgold, who is challenging U.S. Rep. Nathan Deal, a Lula Republican, is taking it the next step.

Imagine visiting a town hall meeting, discussing the issues with the candidates and your neighbors, and never leave your home.

No, Poston isn't holding a rally in your foyer, but he is planning to hold the first "virtual reality" town hall meeting via computer this week.

At 7 p.m. Wednesday, computer users will be able to log on to a three-dimensional board and interact with Poston and other visitors.

Using new technology, each visitor is represented by an avatar, a graphical representation of the person.

This avatar can be directed anywhere on the board, discussing policy with Poston (he doesn't know what his loon will look like yet) or chatting with other visitors.

"It's an additional way to reach out to voters," said Tracey Reese, Poston's communication director.

Poston plans a second virtual meeting June 10, to be operated out of Netsite Digital Publishing at 100 Washington St., Gainesville.

Despite the high-brow concept of politicking expressly by computer -- heck, you have to have Windows 95 capability to use the software -- Poston's campaign doesn't think it will get out of touch of the Ninth District's people.

"More people have computers than you think," Reese said. "Colleges now are providing Internet services. It's really growing fast."

And Poston still plans to visit Hall County in coming months for speeches and to meet people face-to-face, instead of screen-to-screen, Reese said.

For more information on the meeting, visit Poston's website at <http://martincentral.com/poston>.

GOP TIME:

On the GOP front, the Hall County Republican Party will hold its monthly Conservative Forum at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in the Georgia Mountains Center.

The program will focus on a series of debates between candidates battling in the Republican primary July 9, said Chair Stacey Reese.

Oh, and there will be no modems in sight.

The Honorable Lee Ann Elliott

Federal Election Commission

Washington, D.C. 20463

Dear Chairwoman Elliott:

In responding to a Complaint that his congressional campaign is benefiting from illegal contributions by his non-federal committee, Ken Poston has unwittingly admitted to additional violations of the Federal Election Campaign Act ("Act").

The Georgia Republican Party (the "Party") hereby submits supplementary evidence to the Complaint filed against the Friends of Ken Poston Committee in MUR4492 . This amendment is based on Poston's own recent statements demonstrating additional violations of the Act and the regulations of the Federal Election Commission (the "Commission") by the Friends of Ken Poston Committee.

MUR4492 concerns substantial evidence showing Poston's federal campaign had been knowingly using a computer system and other equipment purchased by his non-federal campaign in violation of : (1) 2 U.S.C. § 441b(a)'s prohibition against corporate contributions; (2) 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(1)(A)'s contribution limits, and (3) 11 C.F.R. § 110.3(d)'s prohibition against transfers of assets between a candidate's non-federal and federal campaigns. In response, Poston "said that the equipment -- which included some campaign signs and shirts as well as a computer -- became his personal property when he ended his state House race to run for Congress" and he is now "loaning the computer to the [federal] campaign". The Chattanooga Times, 10/9/96, attached as new Exhibit 11 . Poston also admitted that his campaign failed to report this loan to the Commission. Id.

Poston's own public response indicates his "loan" of the computer system and other equipment to his federal campaign constitutes a "contribution" under 2 U.S.C. § 431(8)(A)(i). As such, this loan should have been reported to the Commission as required by 2 U.S.C. § 434(b)(2)(G) and 11 C.F.R. § 104.3(a)(3)(vii)(B). However, a review of the Friends of Ken Poston Committee's reports on file with the Commission indicates that this loan was never disclosed to the Commission, a clear violation of these provisions. See Exhibits 2-5 of the Original Complaint. In failing to disclose this loan worth over $5,000 in value, the Friends of Ken Poston Committee has also violated 11 C.F.R. § 104.8's requirement of disclosure of the identification of each individual who contributes an amount in excess of $200. Most importantly, by lending his federal campaign a computer system and other assets that were purchased with corporate funds from his non-federal account, Poston has unwittingly admitted a knowing and willful violation of 2 U.S.C. § 441b(a)'s prohibition against the acceptance or receipt of any corporate contribution.

GOP says computer transfer illegal

FEC asked to fine Poston for finance report omissions

By Judy Watton
The Chattanooga Times

Georgia Republicans say Ken Poston broke campaign funding rules in his quest for the 9th Congressional District seat in Georgia.

State party chairman Rusty Paul filed a complaint this week with the Federal Election Commission charging that Poston is using computers and other materials he bought during his campaign for state representative in his current congressional race.

"Ken Poston has shouted to everyone who will listen that he believes in using computers in his campaign, but when you look at his campaign (finance) report, he has never purchased a single computer," Paul said Monday. He called the conversion fraudulent and called on the FEC to fine Poston.

"Ken's violations go beyond a mere technical error, these are blatant and raise serious questions into Ken's ethics," Paul said.

Poston, the Ringgold Democrat who's trying to unseat Rep. Nathan Deal in the 9th District, called the charges unfounded.

He said the equipment — which included some campaign signs and shirts as well as a computer — became his personal property when he ended his state House race to run for Congress. He's loaning the computer to the campaign, he said, and it was left off the report because of a simple clerical omission.

"I take full responsibility for it," he said, adding that he'll file an amended campaign report with the FEC.

But Poston said he thinks the charge is a ploy by Republicans to distract attention from his attacks Tuesday said the Republican complaint reflects poorly on Poston's ethics.

"We're very disappointed in Ken," said Chris Riley.

Poston fired right back.

"It's interesting that Nathan is hiding behind the Republican Party — he doesn't like to get his hands dirty," Poston said.

Deal claimed Poston voted against reforming welfare and for giving welfare to illegal aliens.

Poston countered that Deal snatched welfare reform in Congress and charged him with faking the ads.

Deal's campaign manager said

Dear Ms. Smith,

I am writing to request an additional seven (7) day extension of time to respond to the allegations of the above-named complaint. The campaign received the amendment to the complaint filed by the Georgia Republican Party in the week preceding the election. As you can imagine, Mr. Poston was not available during that time period to review and answer the allegations in the amended complaint. Since the election, Mr. Poston and his campaign manager have been out of town and I have not been able to communicate with them regarding this important matter.

For these reasons, I respectfully request a seven (7) day extension of time to respond to the complaint. Thank you for your consideration and if you have any questions, please feel free to call.

Respectfully yours,

ENFORCEMENT PRIORITY

SENSITIVE

AUG 19 1997

EXECUTIVE SESSION
SUBMITTED LATE

GENERAL COUNSEL'S REPORT

I. INTRODUCTION.

The cases listed below have been identified as either stale or of low priority based upon evaluation under the Enforcement Priority System (EPS). This report is submitted to recommend that the Commission no longer pursue these cases.

II. CASES RECOMMENDED FOR CLOSURE.

A. Cases Not Warranting Further Action Relative to Other Cases Pending Before the Commission

EPS was created to identify pending cases which, due to the length of their pendency in inactive status or the lower priority of the issues raised in the matters relative to others presently pending before the Commission, do not warrant further expenditure of resources. Central Enforcement Docket (CED) evaluates each incoming matter using Commission-approved criteria which results in a numerical rating of each case.

Closing such cases permits the Commission to focus its limited resources on more important cases presently pending before it. Based upon this review, we have identified 34 cases which do not warrant further action relative to other pending matters.<sup>1</sup>

Attachment 1 to this report contains summaries of each case, the EPS rating, and the factors leading to assignment of a low priority and recommendation not to further pursue the matter.

B. Stale Cases

Effective enforcement relies upon the timely pursuit of complaints and referrals to ensure compliance with the law. Investigations concerning activity more distant in time usually require a greater commitment of resources, primarily due to the fact that the evidence of such activity becomes more remote and consequently more difficult to develop. Focusing investigative efforts on more recent and more significant activity also has a more positive effect on the electoral process and the regulated community. In recognition of these facts, EPS also provides us with the means to identify those cases which, though earning a higher rating when received, remained unassigned due to a lack of resources for effective investigation. The utility of commencing an investigation declines as these cases age, until they reach a point when activation of a case would not be an efficient use of the Commission's resources.

The U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, however, held in Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee v. FEC, Civil Action No. 95-0349 (D.D.C. April 17, 1996) that 24 months was too long a time in which to hold a case in an inactive status.

Twenty one cases have remained on the Central Enforcement Docket for a sufficient period of time to render them stale, all of which are recommended for closure in this Report.<sup>4</sup> This group includes four MURs that became stale several months ago, but were held pending criminal prosecution by the Department of Justice.<sup>5</sup> DOJ obtained convictions in the two criminal cases related to these four MURs (U.S. v. Jay Kim and U.S. v. Dynamic Energy Resources) based upon guilty pleas by the key defendants, who are also the principal respondents in our pending matters. Pursuit of civil enforcement action in view of the satisfactory results obtained in the criminal cases would not be the most effective use of the Commission's scarce resources at this time.

We recommend that the Commission exercise its prosecutorial discretion and direct closure of the cases listed below, effective August 29, 1997. Closing these cases as

MUR 4492
FRIENDS OF KEN POSTON

Russell Paul, the Chairman of the Georgia Republican Party, alleges that Friends of Ken Poston, a federal committee, accepted prohibited in-kind funds from the Committee to Elect Ken Poston, a non-federal committee established for Mr. Poston's Georgia House of Representatives candidacy. He alleges that the funds transferred from the non-federal committee originated from federally-prohibited corporate and individual contributions. He claims this unlawful transfer occurred through the provision of approximately $10,000 in computer equipment and other expenditures by the non-federal to or on behalf of the federal committee.

In response to the complaint, respondents, Friends of Ken Poston Committee and Barbara Varnell, as treasurer, states that Mr. Poston's state committee purchased computer equipment that has been continuously used in Atlanta and at Mr. Poston's home in Ringgold, Georgia. They deny that this equipment was used for the federal race. The computer equipment utilized by the federal committee staff was purchased with personal funds by Mr. Poston on December 17, 1995 and loaned to the federal campaign. The Committee maintains that the other questionable expenditures by the state committee were for the state campaign and not for the federal race.

There is no indication of serious intent by the respondents to violate the Act and this matter is less significant relative to other matters pending before the Commission.

MUR 4492

FRIENDS OF KEN POSTON

Russell Paul, the Chairman of the Georgia Republican Party, alleges that Friends of Ken Poston, a federal committee, accepted prohibited in-kind funds from the Committee to Elect Ken Poston, a non-federal committee established for Mr. Poston's Georgia House of Representatives candidacy. He alleges that the funds transferred from the non-federal committee originated from federally-prohibited corporate and individual contributions. He claims this unlawful transfer occurred through the provision of approximately $10,000 in computer equipment and other expenditures by the non-federal to or on behalf of the federal committee.

In response to the complaint, respondents, Friends of Ken Poston Committee and Barbara Varnell, as treasurer, states that Mr. Poston's state committee purchased computer equipment that has been continuously used in Atlanta and at Mr. Poston's home in Ringgold, Georgia. They deny that this equipment was used for the federal race. The computer equipment utilized by the federal committee staff was purchased with personal funds by Mr. Poston on December 17, 1995 and loaned to the federal campaign. The Committee maintains that the other questionable expenditures by the state committee were for the state campaign and not for the federal race.

There is no indication of serious intent by the respondents to violate the Act and this matter is less significant relative to other matters pending before the Commission.

ANSWER

Respondent, the Friends of Ken Poston Committee and Barbara Varnell, as Treasurer, by and through their attorney, J. Michael Giglio, hereby respond to the complaint filed with the Federal Election Commission by the Republican Party of Georgia. Respondents would show to the Commission the following:

(1)

McCracken (Ken) King Poston, Jr., was the Democratic candidate for Congress from the Ninth District of Georgia. Nathan Deal was the Republican candidate and the incumbent Congressman.

(2)

Mr. Poston resigned a seat in the Georgia Legislature that he had held since 1988 to run for Congress in 1996. He has had four successful campaigns in his House District and has retained the same campaign treasurer throughout.

(3)

Mr. Poston's state campaign purchased computer equipment that has been continuously in use in Atlanta and at Mr. Poston's home in Ringgold, Georgia. This equipment was not used for the federal race. The location and use of this equipment may be verified by sworn affidavit of third parties if the Commission so desires.

(4)

The computer equipment utilized by the federal campaign staff was purchased with personal funds by Mr. Poston on December 17, 1995. (See attached Exhibit A.) This equipment was loaned to the federal campaign by Mr. Poston and said loan will be reported on the next required FEC filing.

(5)

The complaint lists several other "questionable expenditures" made by the state campaign. All of these expenditures were made for campaign materials relating to the state campaign -- not the federal race. Mr. Poston is notorious for purchasing campaign novelty items to disburse to volunteers in return for their efforts in his campaigns. Enclosed please find just such a novelty T-shirt that was purchased with the funds that the Republican Party claims to have been illegally channelled to the federal race. All of the "campaign office supplies" were used in the state campaigns or given away as novelty gifts. The "mobile phone and equipment" was used by Mr. Poston for state campaign business and was then returned to Bell South Mobility.

CONCLUSION

Based upon the above and foregoing information provided, the Committee and Mr. Poston as Respondents respectfully requests that the complaint filed by the Georgia Republican Party be dismissed.

Respectfully Submitted,

J. Michael Giglio
