JOURNAL OF PROCEEDINGS

FIRST DAY.

WEDNESDAY, October 4th, 1911.

The Holston Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, met in its eighty-eighth session, in our church at Morristown, Tenn., October 4, 1911, with Bishop John C. Kilgo in the chair. The Bishop read hymn 301, beginning

"Arise my soul, arise, Shake off thy guilty fears."

The Conference sang, after which Bishop Kilgo led in prayer. The Bishop then read and commented on a part of the first chapter of Romans.

RESOLUTIONS.—The following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS our Holston Conference is being blessed with a great revival, nearly 13,000 souls having been converted during the past year, and

WHEREAS it has been decided by the Conference to continue the Revival Campaign, and it is our faith and hope that the spiritual tide will rise yet higher during the coming year, and

WHEREAS the Annual Conference session is a great opportunity for furthering and inspiring evangelistic zeal, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That it is the sense of this Conference that at the next annual session to be held at Abingdon, Va., the revival movement be given the right of way, and especial prominence given to the preaching of the Word of God, the instrument of all true evangelism. Be it further

RESOLVED that inasmuch as our connectional brethren should be heard by all the members of the Conference, which is not the case when the Bishop's cabinet and the various boards and committees are in session, these brethren be given opportunity to speak in regular Conference session, and that such anniversaries as by disciplinary requirement must be held, be observed at some special hour in the afternoon, leaving the popular preaching hour of the evening open to distinctly evangelistic services, and that the local committee on public worship be asked to order the Conference program with a view to promoting the gracious work that God is carrying on in our midst. Be it further

RESOLVED that all previous resolutions in conflict with the foregoing, be, and are hereby rescinded.

STATISTICS.—The statistical minute questions were called and answered. Bishop Kilgo exhorted on the support of the ministry.

RESOLUTION.—The following resolution was adopted:

RESOLVED, That we hereby request and urge all the preachers to remit all money for all benevolences to the Conference Teller, Mr. R. P. Purse, Chattanooga, Tenn.:

J. MILTON BROWNE, Bd. of Missions,
J. L. MULLENS, Bd. of Education,
E. F. KAHLE, Ch. Extension Bd.,
S. V. MORELL, Bible Board,
J. WESLEY SMITH, Joint Bd. Finance.

REPORT.—The treasurer of the Board of Missions made report, which was received. See Supplement "N."

THANKS.—On motion of F. Richardson a vote of thanks was given to Mr. J. Milton Browne for his painstaking and accurate work as treasurer of the Board of Missions.

Bishop Kilgo exhorted on Christian education.

E. A. Shugart and Frank Jackson were granted leave of absence to go to the bedside of G. B. Draper who is dying.

The minutes of the afternoon session were read and approved.

Question 49—"Where are the preachers stationed this year?" The Bishop made a brief talk; the Conference sang "Am I a Soldier of the Cross?" Bishop Kilgo led in prayer.

The presiding elders pledged money enough to keep G. B. Draper's daughter in school during the remainder of this year. The collection for Bro. Draper Saturday night and since amounted to about $117.00.

Bishop Kilgo then read the appointments, and the Conference adjourned sine die.

John Kilgo
President

James A. Burrow,
Secretary.

CONFERENCE REPORTS

Fearing that I will not be able to report to you in person my work as historian, I have prepared this written report. In January last I had a slight paralytic stroke, which reduced somewhat my working capacity; but I continued to work; but more moderately, in the preparation of the fourth volume of Holston History, till some time in April, when I had a second stroke that rendered it necessary that I should cease altogether from work for a few weeks. Yet I have done something between that time and this, using an amanuensis.

I have carefully composed twenty-seven chapters, reaching to the year 1897. These chapters will probably make a larger book than either of its predecessors by several pages; but I think it best to put it all in Volume IV. I would endeavor at once to make a contract with Smith & Lamar for publishing this volume, but for the fact that I still owe them $376.45. This amount would be easily wiped out if my agents would pay what they owe me. There are fifty-nine of these in arrears to the aggregate amount of $455.05. During the past year, in order to meet the claim of the publishers, I have paid to them out of my historical salary $257.00. During the year I have made three statements to my agents through the mails; but these statements have not met with satisfactory responses, owing to the fact, no doubt, that the preachers have been pressed in their finances. Some of them, perhaps, have not been as successful in making sales as they desired.

The labor of preparing Volume IV has been prodigious. I think the volume will be considered of more historical value than its predecessors. It wades through the stirring events of the war. It deals with men known to the present generation, some of whom are living. It also deals with the gruesome events of the reconstruction period; but while I have been candid I have endeavored to be fair and impartial. In Volume IV I have mentioned several hundred preachers and laymen in one connection or another, and have given brief sketches of scores of them, among whom, the most prominent are: Robert A. Young, Allen H. Mathes, John Bowman, David R. McAnnally, Charles Collins and wife, David Adams, John M. Kelly, Robertson Gannaway, Conaro D. Smith, Rufus M. Stevens, Edwin C. Wexler, Thomas C. Catlett, Henry C. Neal, Jacob Smith, William E. Munsey, Carroll Long, Wiley B. Winton, James Atkins, Sr., Timothy Sullins, Nathanael G. Taylor, William W. Bays, George Stewart, George W. Miles, Ephraim E. Wiley, John M. McTeer and Sewell Phillips. My rule has been to sketch men after death; but I have departed from this rule with some of our Bishops, and those who have left the Conference by location or transfer; since, if this were not done, they might never have adequate mention in Holston History. But I have written reservedly and cautiously of those living.

I have dealt gently with the brethren, and have omitted all scandals from notices of their lives, when this could be done consistently with a fair and honest portraiture. It will be seen that I have treated of some men of fame, such as Robert A. Young, who would have made an excellent Bishop; David R. McAnnally, the distinguished editor; Charles Collins, the finished scholar and able debater; Conaro D. Smith, the noted mineralogist; William E. Munsey, the marvelous logician and orator, the strongest and weakest of mankind; Nathanael G. Taylor, the Cicero of upper East Tennessee; Landon C. Haynes, one of the finest declaimers in the world, and E. E. Wiley, the eminent educator and able preacher.

Brief sketches have also been given of the Bishops who held the Conference between 1844 and 1897, namely: Andrew, Capers, Paine, Pierce, Early, McTyre, Wightman, Doggett, Kavanaugh, Keener, Wilson, Hargrove, Galloway, Fitzgerald, Duncan, Granbery, Key—a fine array of talent, learning and piety.

I hope the Conference, alias the Historical Society, will adopt measures which will enable me to put the manuscript of Volume IV into the hands of the publishers at once.

I am rejoiced to say that my health and strength have steadily improved since my attack in April, and I have hope that I may yet do a great deal of work; for I think of much that I wish to do and much that I wish to write before I am called hence. I can only calculate upon a few more months or years of earthly existence. I hope to be ready when the Master calls for me. I feel that my life has been a comparative failure. I have not done as much or as well as I could have done; but I am thankful to God that I have not done less or worse.

I cannot conclude without thanking the preachers for the cordial aid they have rendered me in this work. The number is few—very few—of those who have declined to lend a helping hand. The majority have manifested a commendable unselfishness, public spirit, loyalty to Methodism, and Christian liberality, and have aided me in rescuing from oblivion the noble men and women that founded Methodism in this beautiful hill country, and have maintained, enlarged and improved it. They shall have their reward, here and hereafter; and together with the satisfaction of having done a useful but humble and honest work, I shall be content with having saved myself from forgetfulness by promoting the memory of the good men and women of whom I have written.

CONFERENCE EVANGELISM.

At the last session of the Holston Conference, held in Chattanooga, Tennessee, a campaign for a Conference-wide revival was undertaken according to a carefully considered plan, with the motto, "A revival in every charge and every church throughout the Conference." The plan provided that the campaign should be under the direction of a committee of five, three of whom should be the Evangelistic Secretary, the Conference Missionary Secretary, and the Conference Lay Leader, the other two to be appointed by and from the Board of Missions; the work in each district to be under the direction of a committee of three, the Presiding Elder, and one pastor, and one layman appointed by the committee of five. The Secretary of Conference Evangelism was to be elected on nomination of the Board of Missions, and it was made his duty to conduct the correspondence of the executive committee, arrange for meetings, circulate literature, and especially to promote a concert of prayer.

A short time after the adjournment of Conference, the committee of five, consisting of J. M. Carter, Conference Missionary Secretary; Maj. A. D. Reynolds, Conference Lay Leader; T. J. Eskridge, R. A. Kelly, and J. A. Baylor, Secretary of Evangelism, was called to meet in Bristol, Va.-Tenn. All were present except R. A. Kelly. At this meeting the secretary was instructed to write all the presiding elders and advise with them as to the most suitable persons to compose the several district committees, to have suitable stationery printed for use of the committee, and to have printed for use by the pastors and the Prayer Covenant adopted, which was as follows: "Believing that all real revivals come in answer to prayer, and realizing the great need for a revival in our Conference, I covenant with the preachers, the lay leaders, and all others who assume this pledge, to pray daily for a Conference-wide revival in Holston this year, and that it may begin in my church, and with me." To this was appended the Scriptures, Matt. 18:19, and 2 Chron. 7:14.

As soon as the presiding elders had been heard from, a second meeting was called and the secretary was instructed to send out a letter to all the pastors urging immediate entrance upon the campaign, and especially the importance of enlisting the people in the concert of prayer contemplated in the prayer-covenant quoted above. The same letter urged the wide circulation of the Midland Methodist, for the publication of the revival plans and news.

Quite a number of pastors responded to this appeal, and perhaps as many as one thousand names were sent in. The secretary received many letters from men and women of the laity breathing earnest desire for the revival, and many good meetings, resulting in hundreds of conversions, were held. The Missionary Institutes were held in most of the Districts in December, and at all of these meetings the campaign was emphasized. A majority of the pastors, however, did not respond to this first appeal, so on January 15th, a second letter was sent out, urging more strongly the importance of this great work, and the importance of unity and prayer as related thereto. To this second letter there was a general and ready response, and names came in to the number of about four thousand, as being definitely committed to intercessory prayer. At the Mid-year Meeting held in February, the committee held a meeting, discussed what had been done, and the revival was made prominent in the program.

As secretary, in addition to sending out the letters already mentioned, I have endeavored to acknowledge in every case the many hundreds of letters from the brethren enclosing names for the prayer covenant, or reporting meetings, as well as many from the laity; I have tried to help where possible by advice and correspondence, and have sent out lists of books calculated to inspire evangelistic effort, and by reports in the Midland Methodist have tried to keep the work before the minds of our people.

Thus it will be seen that the plan under which we have been operating does not contemplate the employment of outside agencies, or new and complicated machinery. The all-important and essential features are unity of purpose, spirit, and prayer; intelligent brotherly co-operation; and placing the salvation of souls as the chief aim of our ministry. The function and object of the executive committee is, and has been to promote these essential things, and keep them before the minds of our people.

Some of the results of our revival work for the year have been gathered from reports of the presiding elders. The figures are in some cases approximate, as they were given before the last Quarterly Conferences were held. By Districts:

	Converted	Accessions	No. Meetings	Charges had Revivals	Preachers Engaged
Bluefield.....	1600	1000	61	22	23
Tazewell.....	1340	600	40	19	18
Radford.....	700	500	35	19	19
Wytheville.....	1140	857	35	17	17
Abingdon.....	1100	810	55	16	16
Big Stone Gap.....	1500	1000	55	23	23
Morristown.....	1723	828	50	17	17
Knoxville.....	1500	800	45	23	23
Chattanooga.....	1200	683	58	24	24
Harriman.....	1100	700	40	21	16
Total.....	12983	7778	474	201	196

Only three Districts report any appreciable help from evangelists other than the pastors themselves. Thus it will be seen that nearly all of these meetings, resulting in the largest number of conversions and accessions in many years were held by the pastors. This is a fact of the deepest significance. It shows that all of our preachers practically can do evangelistic work. Some men have surprised themselves this year. The large result shows what can be done by all aiming at the same thing. It means that the revival will be permanent because the leader remains on the ground, and lastly that the preachers have a quickened zeal and larger vision.

There is not space in this report to comment minutely upon the various meetings held, but a great many noteworthy revivals have been reported. Some of these have been in the towns and cities, others in the country. In this connection it should be said that a large part of our most effective evangelism is in the country, and some of the most successful evangelists are preachers on circuits and missions. The largest number of names sent in by any one pastor, was sent from a circuit, and needless to say that circuit has been ablaze all the year. It has been the observation of the committee that the pastors who took hold of the campaign early, who thought it worth while to get their people to pray definitely for a revival, and actually undertook the work, have had great success. We do not believe there can be any failure. Our God has promised to hear and answer prayer. The promise is, "There shall be showers of blessings."

Your committee feels that what has been accomplished under God this year should be taken as an encouragement to a larger faith. In many respects it has been but a beginning. The plan under which we have worked was not brought before the Conference until the last session, when it could receive but scant attention, the preachers but imperfectly understood it, and everything had to be explained by correspondence. Only about four thousand names have been sent in as signers of the prayer-covenant during the entire year. But with the result of the year before us, the understanding and confidence and increased faith which it brings, and the possibility of enlisting ten or twenty thousand people for prayer and work, what may we not expect?

We do not agree with those who despondingly say, "The day of the old-time revival is past." It is past for those preachers and those people who are content to have it so, and drift with the current. For those who believe in the unchanging God of the Bible and Wesley, it is here and now. A revival, the old-time revival, in the power and demonstration of the Spirit, is the only effectual answer to the materialism, skepticism, and mammonism of our time. The church has not, nor can exhaust her resources. The Bible with its never failing promises, faith, consecration and prayer, are sufficient to put to flight all the adversaries, and to clothe her with robes of victory.

We therefore make the following recommendations:

1. That the Conference-wide revival campaign be continued according to the same general plan as that followed during the past year. We do not use the word campaign as in any sense authorizing or indicating a spasmodic and shortlived zeal; but in the sense of a definite and united effort to lift our whole church life to the plane of an aggressive evangelism.
2. That as experience has shown the winter and spring months to be the most fruitful in revival work, all the pastors begin immediately after Conference to plan their meetings, and especially get the work upon the hearts of the people.
3. That a general and earnest effort be made to definitely enlist and enroll as many of our people as possible as members of the prayer covenant. Some may say, "Why not just announce it to the people, why sign names?" The answer is, that if we do not think it worth the time and trouble to be definite about it, there is room to question the degree of our faith. If prayer means anything, it means much, and any plan that will impress it upon the mind and heart of the church should not be despised. Besides this, it is a reliable indication of the interest being taken both by preachers and people.

4. That the matter of arranging for co-operation among the pastors, as provided in Article 5 of the plan, be left to the District Committees, as experience has shown that it can most effectively be done in that way.

5. That the pastors write more for the Conference paper, giving reports of meetings, revival plans that have succeeded, names of books that have proven helpful, and anything that will stimulate interest.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

When God gave the ten commandments to Moses, he wrote them on two tables. The first table contained four commandments showing man's relation to God, comprising three things: First, God's being—there is none like him. (First and second commandments). Second, God's name—not to be lightly or carelessly handled. (Third commandment). Third, God's time. (Fourth commandment). Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Sixth-sevenths ours, one-seventh his. This day God has never given to man, but has sanctified it and called it holy. This day is set apart from all secular and profane uses. The man, or company of men, who use this day for secular purposes are not only profaning the day, but are robbers of God. "Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me, even this whole nation."—(Malachi).

Can not this indictment be brought with equal propriety against this so-called Christian nation? Is this a Christian nation? Do we really believe in God? We stamp on our money "In God We Trust." Is our trust really in God, or the money upon which we stamp our trust? Is not the love of money the cause of this wholesale desecration of God's day and the real cause of our robbery of God? Is not gain and personal pleasure at the bottom of all Sabbath desecration? What did the men of Tyre mean by bringing fish and all manner of wares to Jerusalem to sell on the Sabbath? Was their object solely to minister to the comfort of the Jews? Was not gain at the bottom of it all? Let us not forget this—that if there had not been a demand for fish and all manner of wares on the Sabbath day by God's chosen Israel, there would not have been any supply on the part of these Tyrean sinners.

Can it be true that God's people are creating a demand for Sabbath desecration, that will justify a sinful world to supply? Can a sinner make money by administering to the comforts and pleasures of God's people on the Sabbath? If so, they are certain to do it. What can a soulless corporation do when the people of God, if they do not demand it, encourage by patronage, the desecration of God's holy day? One of the most blatant methods is travel and traffic on the Sabbath. What is the object of such travel and traffic? Is it for the comfort of the people only? Is not gain at the bottom of it all? Then are we, as God's people, keeping holy God's day when we, in any way, patronize these schemes and devices whose sole purpose is to make money and who put gain above godliness and money before God?

If we may be allowed to mention, or single out one of the most defiant and proficient of all the Sabbath desecrations, we would say the street car and railway traffic, and their consequences. Does the Christian believe that the street car and railway systems are doing what God commands in the fourth commandment? Then, if these corporations are not keeping the Sabbath holy by such traffic, what are we doing to encourage them by buying their tickets and riding on their cars on God's holy day? Are not many of our ills, misfortunes and failures due to our disobedience of God, and failing to keep his holy day?

Let us hear God as he speaks to us through Isaiah: "If thou turn away thy foot from the Sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day; and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honorable; and shall honor him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words; then shall thou delight thyself in the Lord, and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father; for the mouth of the Lord has spoken it."

To whom shall we look for the most perfect example of Sabbath observance? To all true Christian men and women, and more especially to our preachers and their families. If we allow ice wagons, milk wagons and other delivery wagons to come to our homes on the Sabbath, what may we expect of the unconverted? If we, as preachers, and presiding elders; travel on the trains and street cars, and hold Quarterly Conference on the Sabbath, how can we rebuke business men and politicians when they meet in their places of business, post up their books, fill out checks, sign contracts, write business letters?

God says he will bless us if we will turn away from doing our pleasure on his holy day, therefore, be it resolved—

First: That we, as preachers, will shun even the appearance of Sabbath desecration.

Second: That as far as in us is, we will, both by precept and example, urge our Methodist people to turn away from all forms of Sabbath desecration and to a full assurance of the ability and willingness of God to bless and sanctify his church when she complies with the conditions laid down in his word.

Third: That we most heartily condemn baseball, golf, pleasure excursions, and all such diversions on the holy Sabbath.

EUGENE BLAKE, Chairman.

SPIRITUAL STATE OF THE CHURCH

All things else are secondary in importance to the spirituality of the church, nothing can substitute vital godlines and true piety. There have been over twelve thousand conversions, and over seven thousand additions to the church this year. This indicates that we have made substantial advancement in the matter of saving souls, for which we are profoundly thankful to Almighty God. We still see much to be done, we have not reached the greatest heights of our possibilities.

There are thousands of people all around us to be saved. Every minister and member of the church should feel personally responsible, "as far as lieth in them," for bringing all men to a saving knowledge of Christ. We should live such high and holy lives as to convince all reasonable men that we "have been with Christ and have learned of him."

We insist that our people attend upon the public services of the church, especially the preaching of the word, that there be heart searching, close and prayerful reading of the Scriptures, family prayers in our homes, after the manner of our fathers. We would emphasize the importance and necessity of training our children in the "way they should go." This strenuous age, and the prevalent social conditions, demand this for the very safety of the church in the years to come. Our children should be baptized and brought into the church in infancy.

We endorse our Holston Conference Evangelism, and anxiously hope that our preachers and people may have a burning Christ-like passion for saving souls. We pray that the Holy Ghost may come upon the church with pentecostal power, so that we may be willing to go anywhere and do anything in our power to save souls.

J. A. H. SHULER, for Committee.

F

TEMPERANCE.

Your Committee on Temperance and other moral questions beg to submit the following for your consideration and action:—

First of all, we feel that we have reason to rejoice over real progress year by year in the great moral reform work of our country. In the last few years we have witnessed remarkable advancement in the moral sentiment of our people. We rejoice to believe that a revolution is taking place in the morals of politics. In a republican government too much emphasis can not be placed on this fact. The time was when politicians took the position that the private moral character of an aspirant to office was not to be considered; intellectual qualifications and a good public record were the only qualifications, but our people are beginning to realize that there cannot be two standards for morals, one for private life and the other for public life, and that the man who does not lead an exemplary private life can not be trusted in public positions. They not only realize that almost every political question involves the question of morals but that it is of paramount importance that public officers should set an example of moral integrity before the young people of the land. While, therefore ministers of the Gospel, may not take an active part in partisan politics and personal contest for offices, the pulpit is the conservator of the morals of the people in every sphere, and we dare not refrain from instructing our people concerning the importance of voting for men of pure moral character and lofty ideals for public office. We rejoice in the fact that this higher moral sentiment of our citizens and that this general demand for good morals in men who offer for office has placed a better class of men in official positions and has secured the enactment of moral laws such as the laws against race track gambling, bucket shops, the sale of cigarettes, laws against impure foods, hurtful drugs, and above all the law prohibiting intoxicating drinks. We rejoice in the enactment by the State Legislature of the state-wide prohibition law and the recent victory of the moral and religious element of the State of Tennessee in the election of men of all parties pledged to its maintenance.

While we have great reason for rejoicing we have great need of warning. A few years ago our problem with the liquor traffic was worked out with the saloon men, the bartenders and their advocates in each community. There was no formidable national organization back of them. The only thing necessary was to arouse the good element in each community and the result was assured under this condition. County after county and state after state voted out the saloon. This rapid spread of prohibition throughout the South thoroughly aroused all men interested in the sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquors. A national convention was called, and complete and thorough national organization was formed backed by millions of dollars, a new method of operation was inaugurated by the friends of the liquor traffic, based upon the purchasing power of money. A financial trust was organized to maintain vice by vicious methods operated by vicious men. Thus organized, demonized and monetized they undertake to politicalize their nefarious traffic. Debarred by the iniquity of their business from the use of higher motives such as honor, character, patriotism and manhood, because their business corrupts honor, debauches character, destroys patriotism and ruins manhood, they are driven to the use of baser motives. By the use of illy gotten and wickedly used money they plan our defeat, first, by subsidizing the press. This they do indirectly by purchasing a vast amount of advertising space, thereby becoming the most profitable patrons of the press and claiming its favor as a matter of justice. In this way they are securing either the silence or the support of the many periodicals of the country. They do not secure the open and direct advocacy of the saloons; the periodicals thus subsidized usually pose as champions of good morals and temperance, but always support the men and measures endorsed by liquor dealers.

In the state-wide prohibition campaigns such periodicals joined the liquor dealers in a hypocritical fight for local option. In local option campaign these same periodicals joined the liquor dealers in a fight against local option and for personal liberty, or some other popular element of good citizenship. This liquor organization, with millions at hand, undertake to subsidize politicians and political leaders, professional lobbyists and ward leaders, convention manipulators and primary bolters.

They secure shrewd men to build platforms and inject into them all the popular planks in the political lumber yard. Then by their shrewd leaders they select a popular political demagogue who by some past acts has found his way to the hearts of the people and who will ride any horse that will carry him into office. They furnish money for campaign funds and machinery and men to operate the campaign. They talk loud of party principles, political honor, the principles of our fathers, ever remaining silent on the main issue. They advocate good roads, good schools, good buildings; they are friends to the farmers, to the laboring man, and above all to the business man. They call their organization the "Business Men's Organization," the "Laboring Man's Club" and any popular name. Their plan is to divide the people, mislead the people, do anything, any way, anywhere, with any folks, to carry their nefarious plans. We warn our people against this mammoth, monetized, organized demonized, politicalized liquor traffic. It is the friend of every evil, and the foe to every good. While we urge our preachers and people to the utmost diligence in fighting the liquor traffic as an organized aggressive force, we urge a continued effort to reform and save the individual. While we endeavor to stop the fire, let us be as diligent as ever to save the thoughtless youth of our land from the destructive flames.

While the liquor traffic is the greatest enemy to morals and religion, and to all good institutions, there are other moral evils that claim our attention. What is termed "worldliness" among church members is one of Satan's most subtle ways of leading the Christian away from his God. Men who would spurn the thought of indulging in the grosser evils are easily lead into the fascinating meshes of worldliness, and their influences lost to the church. Worldliness in all its forms appeals to all ages and classes of people. The excessive love of money appeals to men of industry and thrift. The various forms of social amusements are drifting our young people and our women from a life of piety. The dance hall, the card table, the questionable play, the vaudeville and all kindred amusements with immoral tendencies call for the most careful and prayerful consideration. The spirituality of our churches depends upon the earnest and successful fight made against these inroads upon our religious life. The moving picture shows inaugurated in every town, are agencies of both good and evil. If the pictures are properly censored, and proper pictures are exhibited, they may be made instruments of usefulness, and may serve to keep the youth from places of vice; but we urge upon our ministers to do all in their power to have the picture shows in every community put under such censorship as that the things which debauch our young people may be eliminated. We warn our people against the increasing tendency of our young people in the use of what is by them styled the drug store dopes. Many of these tend in the wrong direction and need to be most carefully guarded.

We call the attention also to the growing evil of improper marriage and illegal divorce. We would emphasize again and again the widespread use of the various forms of tobacco among the boys. Having thus called your attention in a warning note to these various evils we beg to submit the following resolutions calling for your definite action:—

RESOLVED, First, That believing as we do that our present prohibition laws have been secured largely by the influence and activity of the Christian churches, and that the question of prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors is the paramount moral question in every political party, we will use all legitimate and possible means to retain in office and elect to office regardless of party affiliations, only such men as pledge themselves unequivocally to the maintenance and execution of the state-wide prohibition laws in Tennessee, and the enactment of such laws in Virginia and West Virginia as will secure to these states state-wide prohibition.

RESOLVED, Second, That we commend most heartily the action of the recent Tennessee Legislature in the heroic fight to maintain the state-wide prohibition law; and that in view of the fact that secret and subtle agencies are being organized for its overthrow we renew our diligence and continue our efforts in every honorable way to keep this law in force.

RESOLVED, Third, That inasmuch as over three-fourths of the rural territory of Virginia is dry, and 140 of the 161 towns and cities of Virginia are dry, and inasmuch as the saloons of Virginia nullify local option by shipping liquors into every part of the state both "wet" and "dry," we hereby heartily endorse the action of the Anti-Saloon League of Virginia in its last convention, in asking the General Assembly of Virginia of 1912 to pass an Enabling Act so that the citizens of Virginia may be given the right to vote on the question of state-wide prohibition, and we hereby pledge to the Virginia Anti-Saloon League our hearty and enthusiastic support.

RESOLVED, Fourth, That in the estimation of this Conference the advertisement of liquor in the columns of newspapers not only indicates the friendly relation of such newspapers to the liquor traffic but makes them equally guilty in the sight of God with the man who fills the orders.

RESOLVED, Fifth, That we endorse the work of the Anti-Saloon League in the State of Tennessee and urge upon our people to support this organization which has for its sole object the destruction of the liquor traffic.

RESOLVED, Sixth, That in view of the wide-spread contamination of our social and religious life by numerous divorces from other than Scriptural reasons, and that these divorces are frequently the result of hasty and improper marriages, we urge upon our preachers the importance of giving proper instruction to their congregations upon this very important question which underlies the home life of the nation.

RESOLVED, Seventh, That we are in hearty accord with the action of our last General Conference on the subject of the use of tobacco among our preachers, and we hope the day will speedily come when precept and example will unite to discourage its use among our preachers.

GEORGE R. STUART, Chairman.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.

If it were known that in every pastoral charge of our Conference there were one or more schools organized for instruction in methods best adapted for destroying the Christian Church; that these schools aggregating over seven hundred had enrollment of over sixty-five thousand, the great majority of whom were children and youth, and that these were under the tuition of fifty-three hundred of the strongest exponents of atheistic doctrine obtainable, these facts would appall the most resolute defenders of the faith, send all cowardly camp followers to the rear, and bring to agonizing prayer every man not willing to bow the knee to Baal. If, on the contrary, we know that this great camp of instruction is occupied by 65,000 recruits who are being drilled for the defense of the truth as it is in Christ Jesus by the choicest spirits the Church can command, and that these recruits are to fill the ranks of Israel when depleted by death or desertion, are these facts less worthy of our serious consideration and less a subject of devout thanksgiving? Concerning all of which this further question is pertinent, namely: Is this mighty Sunday school force getting from our Conference the attention to which it is entitled?

Possibly so in local ways, but in its broad significance, in its tremendous bearing upon the future history of the Church it certainly is not reckoned with at its potential value. As is the Sunday school of today so, inevitably, will be the Church of tomorrow, in numbers, character and influence. It is developing gigantic strength and occupying the most important strategic position known to the religious world. One has only to consider the vast literature and other equipment devoted to the growing needs of this rapidly expanding movement to be impressed with its power for the weal or woe of mankind. Indifference to it or ignorance of it imperils all the supreme interests to which it is so intimately related.

Statistics for the past year are not accessible to us, but we gather from wide observation that there is throughout our Conference increased activity in Sunday school work.

We again heartily commend the superior literature issued under the supervision of Dr. Chappell, the enlarging work of Dr. Hamill in the Teacher Training Department, and the Wesley Adult Bible Class Department under Dr. Bulla. Correspondence for information is invited by all these heads of departments at Nashville, rendering details by us unnecessary. We suggest, however, the vital importance of increased interest in the Cradle Roll, Home and Adult Classes.

The following resolutions have been adopted by the Board at this session of our Conference:

1. That no financial aid be extended to Sunday schools where Children's Day is observed and where the proceeds of the collections for the day are not applied according to disciplinary provisions.

2. That no financial aid be extended to Sunday schools where the general collections are applied to causes other than the legitimate operating expenses of the schools.

3. That no financial aid be extended to Sunday schools failing to conform to the rules and regulations of the Sunday School Board.

Where lay members of the Board are, for any reason, found inefficient, presiding elders are authorized and requested to accept the resignation of such members and notify the chairman of this Board of the appointments of others instead—in accordance with provisions made in our report of last year.

We recommend that each Sunday school within the bounds of the Conference devote the offering of one day during the year 1911-12 to the fund for the erection of a Model Sunday School building at Lake Junaluska, Waynesville, North Carolina, and that such offering be forwarded to Dr. E. B. Chappell, treasurer, 810 Broadway, Nashville, Tennessee.

We also urge that care be exercised in training our young people to generous and systematic giving in behalf of missions and that the fifth Sunday collection for the Greeneville Orphanage be not overlooked.

We would emphasize the necessity of district organization, our policy being to develop efficient leadership in the lay members of our Board, who are recognized by us as District Secretaries. We trust that presiding elders and pastors will incite them to activity and give them co-operation. They should have a correspondent in every school in their respective districts and conventions and institutes should be provided for throughout our territory. Experts in such work while desirable will be found less necessary than many believe. Develop local talent by exercise.

The Board respectfully calls attention to the unlawful diversion of the Children's Day Fund in many of the charges. In some instances these collections are applied to church debts, in others, to the benevolent assessments, and in some cases to the pastor's salary. The Board to be successful in carrying on its work, and inaugurating advanced movements, must have more money. These collections are the only source of revenue which the Board has with which to do its work, and we urge the pastors to see not only that this service is held in each school, if at all practicable, but that the collection is not unlawfully diverted to the detriment of the Sunday school cause in Holston Conference. During the past year the Board has given help as follows:

First Quarter: 11 schools received 1,426 pieces of literature.

Second Quarter: 22 schools received 2,203 pieces of literature.

Third Quarter: 14 schools received 1,279 pieces of literature.

Fourth Quarter: 6 schools received 630 pieces of literature.

Total for year, including Children's Day programs, schools 53, pieces of literature, 6,381.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE RECORDS.

Your Committee on District Conference Records find that of the nine records committed for inspection care has been observed in the keeping of them and that with regard to arrangements, penmanship and neatness, they are generally in good shape. The Abingdon record did not come into the hands of the committee.

EPWORTH LEAGUE BOARD.

The Epworth Leagues of our Conference are still doing effective work. We recommend to our preachers a deeper interest in them. We feel that as the only school in the church for the training of the young people to be workers and leaders, it is worthy the sympathy, prayers and help of the preachers in making it even more useful than it is.

While we do not believe it now possible to organize and carry on successfully a Senior League in every church, or even in every charge, we do believe that in every charge, at least, a Junior League can be organized and used successfully. We therefore urge that this be done. For if this be done now, in a few years it will be possible to have both a Junior and Senior League in every church in the Conference. We believe the Junior League to be one of the best agencies a pastor can use in the instruction of children.

We commend our General Secretary, Dr. F. S. Parker, for his painstaking work; and we recommend the Epworth Era, of which he is editor, to our people, young and old, as our Conference organ, and one of the best magazines published.

We urge our preachers to see that the ten-cent assessment be paid more faithfully and promptly than in the past.

The spirit of our Leagues as manifested in their interest in both foreign and home missions, and in the education of church workers is gratifying and commendable.

We recommend that the second Sunday in February be observed as League Day, and that where there are Leagues, they be given the privilege of conducting the principal service on that day, and that where there are none, the pastors preach on the Epworth League work. We recommend, further, that where there are Leagues, the preachers engage other preachers to come to their charges, and preach each day or evening on some particular phase of League work, for the whole of the week preceding or following the Sunday to be observed as League Day. Let the emphasis in these meetings be laid on "Leadership."

Where on account of lack of leaders Senior Leagues can not be organized, we urge prayer to God, that he will raise up leaders for the work; remembering the words of Christ, "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth laborers into his harvest."

THOMAS PRIDDY, President.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

It is with gratitude to God that we record the fact of another year of success in the great work of Church Extension. Twenty-nine years have passed since the organization of the Board of Church Extension, and although the work of the Board has moved along in a quiet way the achievements are almost phenomenal. During this time more than eight thousand church enterprises—nearly half the total number owned by the church—have received aid. The total amount invested is more than three million dollars, or an average of $378.00 to each church aided. In our own Conference there are 717 buildings and of this number 277, or nearly 40 per cent. of the total, have Church Extension money in them. In the bounds of our Conference there are 112 congregations without church buildings, and a number of other churches need new houses of worship to replace their old buildings. This will give us some idea of the work yet to be accomplished in our midst.

We would call the attention of our people to the great connectional enterprise of the General Board—the Washington City Church. Dr. McMurry informs us that gratifying progress has been made in securing funds. It is to be hoped that this great representative church in our capital city may soon be an accomplished fact.

Special attention should be called to our General Loan Fund. Many years ago the goal was set at half a million dollars, but this goal has not yet been reached, but the present capital is nearing $400,000.00. The Board is in position to pay as large an annuity on contributions to this fund as can be had elsewhere.

We have made a modest beginning toward a Conference Loan Fund, the Sullins-Price-Richardson Loan Fund, and recommend it to the favorable consideration of our people. We should not be satisfied till this fund has reached at least $10,000.00, and this should be done in the near future. The former parishioners and pupils and all the friends of these worthy men for whom this fund is named should count it a great privilege to contribute to the fund. The parsonage work, formerly in the hands of the Woman's Home Mission Society, was transferred by the action of the last General Conference to the Board of Church Extension, and applications for parsonage aid, in the future, will be made to this Board. We call upon the presiding elders to lay special stress upon the work of Church Extension at their quarterly meetings and district conferences. We beg the preachers not to discriminate against this interest in the division of money as has been done in the past by some. Please give us a "square deal."

Church Extension literature is provided by the office of the General Board, and can be had free of charge by preachers and people by applying to said office.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Our educational institutions have enjoyed a year of marked prosperity, and the outlook for their future has never been more encouraging than now. During the year there have been in the schools and the school churches, gracious revivals of religion in which many of the young men and women have been converted. Christ is being magnified.

Hiwassee College, under the efficient management of Dr. Eugene Blake, is doing a great work against great difficulties, and appeals strongly to the sympathy and support of every preacher and layman in the Conference.

Centenary College, is doing the high class of work characterizing this splendid institution in the past, with enlarged facilities and opportunities for the future. $15,000 have been raised for improvements.

Sullins College has spent $5,000 on reduction of debt and repairs on college building. A large lot running from street to street, fronting 131 feet on James and King Streets, has been bought this year. As soon as a little preliminary work can be done, the citizens of the community stand ready to pay off all indebtedness, and to put this great institution in condition to surpass the record of the past.

Martha Washington College has had one of the best years in her history. Rev. J. B. Ward, Financial Agent, has raised $22,500 and from this amount the old debt of $19,070 has at last been paid. The remaining amount of $3,000 is in the bank to be applied to the erection of a new building. When the remaining $2,929.40 has been collected, we will receive the gift of Mr. Carnegie of $12,500. The college work of the past year has been most satisfactory.

The Board of Trustees of Emory and Henry College have seen a demonstration of their wisdom in the selection of Dr. Charles Weaver as President. In his report to the Board he says: "Taken as a whole, the work of the past year was most satisfactory in every particular." Knowing the wonderful work of this institution during the past, hampered by debt and with inadequate facilities, we can get some idea of what the future will be with adequate endowment and necessary buildings. Considering therefore especially the immediate need of the administration building, the Board passed the following resolution:—

In view of the movement to endow and enlarge Emory and Henry College,

RESOLVED: First, That we endorse the plan submitted to the Board and that we bind ourselves to support the movement in every way possible.

Second, That our presiding elders and pastors be requested to give the matter right of way in their charges, and that they call the attention of their people to the needs of the college, and urge a liberal response.

Third, That we endorse the plan of Rev. S. B. Vaught to begin a vigorous campaign to embrace the months of January, February, March and April, looking to the raising of a cash fund for the immediate erection of an administration building.

We request the trustees of Emory and Henry College to rescind their action with reference to the granting of degrees to young ladies.

We recommend the fourth Sunday in November and on circuits the succeeding Sundays until all our congregations have been reached as "Hiwassee Day" on which offerings shall be made to build a dining hall for that college.

The following resolution was adopted with reference to ministerial education: "In view of the urgent need of a better trained ministry, as shown by statistics presented to the Conference by our General Secretary of Education, Dr. Stonewall Anderson, the Board of Education would impress upon all our ministers, and, especially the presiding elders, the importance of encouraging the young men who expect to join our Conference to see the opportunity and duty of preparing for their life work by taking, if possible, a full four years' course at Emory and Henry College, or its equivalent.

The Board has had under consideration the important matter of perfecting the titles of our school properties in the church. Competent attorneys, selected by the Board are now preparing papers which will in their judgment accomplish this end. Hiwassee College has already met the conditions and when the formality of signing the papers has been completed this property will be the fee simple property of the church. The same will be true of our other properties in the near future.

We recommend the re-appointment of Rev. J. B. Ward as Financial Secretary of Martha Washington College; Rev. S. B. Vaught as Financial Secretary of Emory and Henry College; Marvin G. Maiden as Principal of the Independence High School; S. C. Beard to the General Board for financial aid in securing an education.

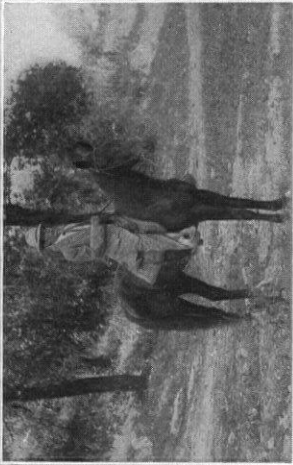

The following statistics have been given:

	Val. Property	End. Profs.	Pupils
Emory and Henry College.....	$150,000	$10,000	12 226
Martha Washington College.....	100,000	-----	20 172

Centenary College.....	105,000	-----	22 167
Hiwassee College.....	15,000	-----	7 106

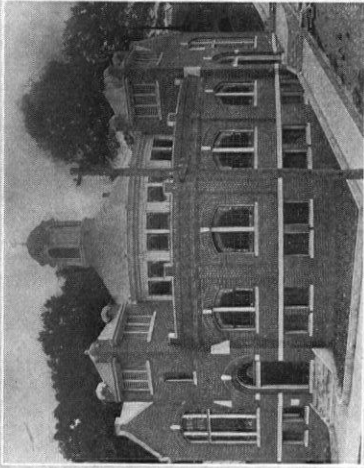

The following shows the apportionment made by the Conference Board and the General Board:

BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

We are pleased to state that our books and periodicals, throughout the entire series and range of them, compare favorable with those to be found elsewhere, both in substance and form.

Our Midland Methodist has increased its circulation each month during the past year, and we recommend that each district leader commit to each lay leader of every pastoral charge the service of securing subscriptions and doing the work of an agent for our Conference organ and our general organs, as is now his business so to do.

The Christian Advocate and Epworth Era have met the cost of their publication the past year, and should be in the home of every intelligent Methodist layman.

Our Methodist Review is regarded in the class equal to any review published. It now enjoys the largest circulation ever, and yields some revenue to the Publishing House. Every Methodist preacher will find nothing beyond it of its kind more to his use and inspiration.

During the past fiscal year our Publishing Houses have measured gratifying improvements over the former years of signal and successive advancement. "The building operations being now complete, larger appropriations will hereafter be distributed among the Conference claimants."

The introduction of the Graded Course of Sunday School Lessons Study made an additional demand upon the funds of this department, yet the cost of publication has not exceeded the income. Our ably edited Sunday school literature is more and more in demand.

Our excellent consolidated Missionary Voice is meeting the wants and expectations of our people in the united missionary organizations of our church.

The books, "The Recollections of an Old Man," by Dr. Sullins, and "From Sunrise to Sunset," by Dr. Richardson, delight and strengthen our people, young as well as elderly.

Your Historical Committee has arranged for the publication of 1,000 copies of the fourth volume of Price's History of Holston Methodism, and for three hundred additional copies of Volume I and for one hundred copies each of Volumes II and III.

We recommend for the Publication Committee, R. A. Kelly, R. B. Platt and Creed F. Bates.

Whereas we are able to offer to our people current and standard literature equal to the best:

THEREFORE, RESOLVED, That we as preachers and laymen will diligently direct the attention of our people from the hurtful classes of obnoxious reading to our books and periodicals.

M

BIBLE BOARD.

Your Board believes the Bible to be the inspired word of God. We believe it contains the only story of the Gospel of Christ, therefore, we believe, the Bible ought to be in every home of our land.

We heartily endorse the work of the American Bible Society, and believe that the assessment for the past year was modest, and should have been raised in full.

The Bible is printed in one hundred and twelve languages and dialects. Total issue for the year, at home and abroad was 3,231,722 volumes. This time last year the number of colporters in employ of the Society was 800. This year, the number is 1,025, an increase of over 200. The increase of work and workers calls for larger contributions—especially so, as the income from invested funds will not pay over half the actual running expenses. Reports all over the world tell of multitudes who cannot have the Bible, unless we give it to them.

We rejoice at the interest and enthusiasm manifested in the Ter-Centenary Celebration of the American Bible Society. Some five or six thousand churches having made it a point to emphasize the observance of the Ter-Centenary Celebration of the King James version, the greatest factor in the development of the English speaking people. More than one audience numbered 10,000 and over. Only good can come from this celebration.

We believe the Bible to be the basis and inspiration for missionary endeavor, and therefore, its distribution and assessments for the same to be of at least equal merit with any other cause of our church, and we deprecate the discrimination sometimes made in the interest of other claims. Why were the relative merits of these claims, as manifested in the assessments, not carried out in the amounts reported paid? Let us as preachers present this work to our people, and we doubt not they will as cheerfully meet this claim as any other.

The total assessment for the past year was $1,060; receipts, $864. We recommend that the assessment remain the same for next year.

RESOLVED, That as pastors and laymen, as far as possible, we will make a thorough canvas of our people, and supply their needs.

N. RHEA CARTRIGHT, Secretary.

W. S. LYONS, President.

N

BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The report of the General Board of Missions and the representation of its work made to our Board by the General Secretary give cause for devout thankfulness to Almighty God and places us under obligation to renewed effort and sacrifice in the great work of bringing the world to Christ. The debt of $200,000 incurred by the Board is a providential indication of what God wants us to undertake as a great forward movement. Instead of considering the debt as a burden, the church should gladly meet and go beyond this obligation incurred, as it was, in an effort to reach a few more of the forty millions of people looking to us for the Gospel.

We endorse the action of the General Board in placing practically all specials, except bequests, in the regular budget, and allowing the money raised to be counted on the regular assessment. We have reason to hope that the bequests made to the Board will create a sinking fund which, in a few years, will be sufficient to liquidate all indebtedness.

We recommend the pamphlet, "A Financial Plan for Methodists," to pastors, lay leaders and missionary committees. If the entire plan cannot be adopted in every church, it will at least be suggestive. One feature, the "Every Member Canvass," will solve the problem of full collections anywhere.

Your Conference Board rejoices in the hearty response made to the increased assessments. The amount paid on the regular assessments is larger, by about $2,000 than last year. Undoubtedly the payments on the regular assessments constitute a more steady and a surer income than specials can possibly afford.

The mission charges under the care of this Board have justified the expenditures that make them possible.

God has honored the united efforts of the Epworth League and our missionary to the Italians by pouring His Spirit upon these foreigners in our midst. Forty or more have professed conversion, and nineteen have joined the American congregations. Enthusiasm for this mission has never been so great, nor on so sound a basis as at the present time.

Hiwassee is meeting in a splendid way the great need of our young people who cannot attend a more expensive school. The Christian influence of the institution is manifest in the great revival this year that swept like a flame until only two were left who had not definitely accepted our Christ as a personal Savior. The success of the college calls for enlargement, and people of means who are looking for investments that will yield large dividends in the years to come would do well to consider this institution.

The time has passed when the church can reasonably hope for any enlargement of our missionary operations at home or abroad as a result of blind loyalty or merely sentimental motives, however powerful they may be. A conviction that grips is born of an intelligent conception of the duty, as well as privilege, of joining Christ in His struggle for the mastery of the world.

The agencies for the development of this intelligence are not to be created. They are at our hand. There is not an organization of our church that is not shot through and through with possibilities for imparting missionary information. The first and greatest is the Sunday school. Its systematic study of the Bible, which, Genesis to Revelation, is the pre-eminent text-book on missions, the presentation of facts fresh from the field, and the first Sunday's collections, cannot fail, if properly stressed, in developing a generation with a missionary conviction too strong to be resisted.

The next agency is the Epworth League. It has borne the banner inscribed "Collections in Full," and has led, not only the missionary forces, but every other division of our Conference army, to success formerly deemed impossible. It has gone into the foreign field to educate a preacher for the millions of Japan; its liberality has abounded in a scholarship for one or more worthy girls at Hiwassee. Of all the agencies of our Conference it alone saw with the vision of youth, and attempted with a zeal that laughs at the impossible, the task of reaching the thousands of degraded and neglected Italians in our coal field territory. Surely such a force deserves the heartiest efforts of our pastors in making the monthly missionary meeting, the mission study class, and the effort to raise the fund for the Italian mission, a glorious success. Let us cheer on the Leaguers whose recent conferences have given us that accomplished woman, now ready for the foreign field, Miss Blanche Webb, that splendid young lawyer, Hugh E. Kelso, now pleading for Christ, and the eleven other consecrated volunteers of this year.

Nor should we forget or neglect the Woman's Missionary Society which is not a detached and independent force, but an integral part of our army. "Help those women that labor with us in the Gospel." Not only will they produce missionary conviction through their meetings and study circles, but they easily furnish the most available leaders for league or general mission study classes. Their unconquerable zeal has built itself a monument in those two splendid institutions, the Greenville Orphanage and the Holston Institute in Korea.

After these, comes the Laymen's Movement, possibly somewhat discounted at the present time, but nevertheless destined to become, in spite of all difficulties, the mightiest single human factor in the conquest of the world for Christ. We exhort presiding elders and pastors alike to encourage and use to the fullest extent possible the district and church lay leaders and the missionary committee in each congregation. The determination of the Laymen's Movement to raise all collections in full and a surplus of ten thousand dollars to be divided equally between the foreign and conference missions, will have our heartiest support.

In the consummation of the Holston plan and maintenance of its high standard, the presiding elders have been the key men who, with superb leadership, have marshalled the district forces and led them to full collections. We count on their unabated zeal and wise generalship in attaining the laymen's object of full collections and a surplus. A live missionary institute and the close supervision of all collecting agencies in each charge, will by another year, attain to the high standard of the Holston plan from which, by reason of an increased assessment we have fallen this year.

At the center of all missionary educational factors and operating agencies, stands the pastor, burning with a consuming passion to bring a lost world to Christ. The leader of all the local forces, giving utterance in missionary sermons and exhortations to the convictions that hold him in the vice-like grip, cannot fail to develop the Sunday school, the Epworth League, the Woman's Missionary Society and the laymen, to a high point of efficiency. For ten years our heroic pastors, in the face of tremendous difficulties, and often at a financial sacrifice out of all proportion to the offerings of their people, did not fail to secure for our Conference what we have lost the present year, the fulfillment of the motto, "Collections in Full."

We make the following recommendations:

1. That we join the Board of Education in designating the fourth Sunday in November as Hiwassee Day. On circuits we recommend the use of the ensuing Sunday until all the classes in the charge have been reached.
2. That the Missionary Institute in each district be held early in the year, before January first, if possible.
3. That the assessments be collected early in the year.
4. That the Training School at Nashville be presented to our people and contributions for this worthy institution be secured.
5. In view of the crying need of entering the large territory now practically unoccupied by any church, we urge the presiding elders to secure the needed support for small circuits by rearrangement, rather than by asking for a small appropriation.
6. We do not now recommend any plan of comity, but in view of the large number of small towns where from two to five churches are struggling for existence, we call attention to the unseemly competition and ask the question, Is not the appropriation of a fund, as sacred as the mission fund, to perpetuate ourselves in such competition, a waste that amounts, in some cases, to a sin?
7. We most heartily recommend John C. Hawk to the presiding elders and pastors to be used by them in educational and inspirational missionary work. Pastors or presiding elders using Brother Hawk are expected to pay his expense of travel.
8. If there be an undirected surplus on the foreign mission assessment at the close of the Conference year, we request the General Board to apply it to Brother Hawk's work in China.
9. We invite the executive committees of the Sunday School Board, Epworth League, the Conference, the Church Extension Board and the Woman's Missionary Conference, also the district lay leaders, to attend the mid-year meeting.

We nominate J. A. Baylor as Evangelistic Secretary for the Conference wide campaign, J. Tyler Frazier as Missionary Evangelist, and P. L. Cobb as Conference Missionary Secretary.

It is a source of great sorrow that we could not allow all the appropriations to missions called for by the presiding elders. With the funds in hand we have done the best we could. We wish it were in our power to enterprise the twenty-five or more mission charges needed to reach the practically unoccupied territory in our Conference.

The apportionment made to our Conference for Foreign Missions is $13,300, and for Home and Conference Missions, $18,324. The total of these two assessments is practically the same as last year.

MEMOIRS

JOHN WOOLSEY

Rev. John Woolsey was born in Meigs county, Tennessee, October 13, 1851. He was the son of Samuel and Harriet Woolsey. He was happily married on March 27, 1873, to Miss Alice Goddard. To this union were born eight children. Two died in infancy. Six—three sons and three daughters—are still living. His religious life began at the age of eighteen. He first joined the Baptist Church. A few years later he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. When a young man he was licensed to exhort. Later he was granted a license to preach. While a local preacher he was used as a supply for several years. He was admitted on trial into the traveling connection in 1888, and remained a member of Holston Conference till he was called from labor to rest.

He served the following circuits: Spring City, Dayton, Dunlap, Ooltewah, Knoxville, and Robertsville. He was granted the super-annuate relation in 1905, and was never again able for the active work of an itinerant Methodist preacher. He died at his home in Knoxville, Tennessee, March 28, 1911. The funeral services were held in the Broad Street Church, conducted by the Methodist pastors of the city. We laid his body away in the new Gray Cemetery to await the resurrection morning.

Brother Woolsey was an earnest, sincere Christian. I have not known a purer man. He was a good preacher. He believed in the doctrines of the Methodist Church, and preached them with clearness and convincing power. He loved men and counted it a great privilege to tell them of Jesus and His power to save. His ministry was blessed by gracious revivals, and many were by him turned unto the Lord.

He was a kind, thoughtful father and a devoted husband. When he realized that the end was near, he called his family around his bed and gave them a parting blessing. The eternal world seemed very near as he said: "I die in peace. Be good. Meet me in heaven."

"Servant of God, well done!
Rest from thy loved employ;
The battle fought, the victory won,
Enter thy Master's joy."

—W. M. MORRELL.

JACOB R. PAYNE

The subject of this sketch, Rev. Jacob R. Payne, was born near Washington College, in Washington county, Tennessee, on January 24, 1840; and departed this life at his home in the same neighborhood on December 10, 1910, being almost seventy-one years old. He was educated at Washington College, and had a good degree of scholarship. He spoke and wrote the purest English, knew something of Latin, and perchance other languages.

Early in life he professed religion and joined the Church, but the exact date is not known. He was licensed to exhort by Rev. Carroll Long on December 8, 1860, and was licensed to preach at Ebenezer Church by the Quarterly Conference of the Rheatown Circuit on May 25, 1861. He entered Holston Conference, M. E. Church, South, on trial at Greeneville, Tennessee, in October, 1861, Bishop Andrew presiding. The record shows that he passed the prescribed course of study regularly, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Early in 1863, and elder by the same bishop in 1865.

He filled successively the following charges: Jeffersonville Circuit as junior preacher under W. M. Kerr, Clinton Circuit, Princeton Circuit, Jonesboro Circuit, Hendersonville Circuit as junior preacher under W. P. Doane, Cleveland and Charleston Circuit, Independence Station (two years), Grayson Circuit as junior preacher under George W. Callehan, Elk Creek District High School, Morristown Circuit, Knoxville City Mission, Knox and Lenoir Circuit, Unita and Morganton Circuit, Knox and Lenoir Circuit. For two succeeding years he was connected with the Knoxville District High School, one year as assistant and the second as principal. He then became editor of the Holston Methodist for one year. After that he served the following charges: Weaverville Circuit, Andersonville Circuit, and Morristown Circuit (two years). In the fall of 1884 he was granted the supernumerary relation, which he held in the various pastoral charges where he lived till the autumn of 1897, when he was given the superannuate's relation, and remained on the honor roll until called from earth to heaven.

Brother Payne possessed the highest and the one essential qualification for all Christian workers, and especially all Christian ministers—he was morally and spiritually a good man. During a ministry of forty-nine years there was never whispered aught against his Christian character. As a citizen, a husband, a father, a pastor, a teacher, an editor, in all of the relationships of life he met responsibility and gravely did his duty with a conscience void of offense toward God and men. His sermons were carefully prepared and delivered in excellent English, without storming or ranting. As a pastor he was conscientiously and painstakingly faithful; as a father he was tender and just; as a husband he was faithful, tender, and affectionate. His care for years of his invalid wife was most beautiful and touching. He had consecrated the whole of his stronger ingenuity, and his purse, including the little home, which is mortgaged, to her service. He died trying to soften her sorrows and ease her sufferings.

As Statistical Secretary of Holston Conference he performed an immense amount of drudgery, for which we owe him an immense debt of gratitude which money could scarcely liquidate. At his home, near Telfords, Tennessee, he was largely isolated from his ministerial brethren. This was a great privation to him. He loved his brethren, and basked in their company. Deprived of this, he substituted his facile pen and wrote prolixly to the Church papers and to his brethren on almost all subjects which agitated the thought and concerned the life of the Church. His thought and correspondence ranged from the country Sunday school to the entire work of the General Conference. He was disappointed that some of the things he wished done failed; but he was not soured. He had learned how to grow old gracefully. Till the end came he was the same sweet-spirited, Christian gentleman as in his earlier manhood.

A few hours before his release came he had a number of hemorrhages, which stole away the little strength of his frail body; so that on December 10, 1910, he passed from labor to rest. A short service was held at the home by the pastor, Rev. J. M. Walker. At the Methodist Episcopal Church at Telfords a choir from Washington College discoursed sweet music. I doubt whether I ever heard sweeter. Brother Walker read some statistics as to his birth, death, etc. The writer read the first lesson and Dr. Burrow read the second and led in prayer. Talks were made by Drs. Burrow and French, and his body was laid to rest in the cemetery of the Church to await the resurrection of the just.

GEORGE D. FRENCH.

WILLIAM H. KELLY

William Howell Kelly was born September 3, 1824, in Carter county, Tennessee. He was the son of Vincent and Ann S. Kelly. While attending school at Emory and Henry College, November, 1838, he was happily converted to God and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was licensed to preach the Gospel in 1846. In the fall of 1848, he was admitted on trial in the Holston Annual Conference at Knoxville, Tennessee, and was sent to the Princeton Circuit and Flat Top Mission. From that time till 1883 he was sometimes local and sometimes supernumerary. One year he was agent for Martha Washington College. He served the following charges: Princeton Circuit, Hillsville Circuit, Jefferson Circuit, Pearisburg Circuit (3 years), Cleveland Circuit, Chattanooga Station, Loudon Circuit, Asheville Station, Burke's Garden, East Tazewell Circuit (3 years), Rich Valley Circuit, Emory Circuit, Athens District, Blountville Circuit, Sharon Springs Circuit, and Pocahontas in 1883, which was his last charge. He was then given the supernumerary relation, which he sustained until a few years before his death; he was put on the honor roll, or superannuated list, and was there when called from the Church below to the Church above.

Brother Kelly was twice married—first March 23, 1843, to Miss Elizabeth Carpenter, of Washington county, Virginia. She died July 3, 1863, a very triumphant death. A few years thereafter he was married to Miss Rachael Graham. This union was blessed with a number of children, who are highly respected.

Brother Kelly was received into full connection in the Conference, and ordained deacon by Bishop Capers in 1850. He was ordained elder by Bishop Payne in 1853. He was well educated, had a sound mind, well stored with useful knowledge. He was well poised, was fluent in conversation, and was a very fine preacher. He died in his eighty-sixth year at the home of his son in Bluefield, West Virginia, without a cloud over his moral or spiritual horizon. We took his body to his old home at Tazewell, where funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. E. Wiley. A number of the brethren were present and participated—C. W. Kelley, the presiding elder, Rev. C. R. Brown, Rev. W. W. Hicks, and the writer. He was then buried by the Masonic fraternity, of which he was a long and honored member. Sleep on, dear brother! We intend, by God's grace, to see you again.

D. H. CARR.

WILLIAM W. PYOTT

The subject of this sketch ranked high among the most unique and efficient men that ever belonged to the Holston Conference. Physically, he was of strong and rugged build; mentally, he was apt and tenacious; spiritually, of tender heart and imperial faith.

In June 1846, in the vicinity of Sulphur Springs, Tennessee, there came into the home of Edward and Margaret McPherson Pyott a son, whom they named William Washington. The boy grew up in that home, and attended the common schools of the neighborhood and the high school at Sulphur Springs, Tennessee. He came joyously into the second birth at Phillip's Chapel, Washington Circuit, on the night of February 6th, 1865. He arose from the altar and delivered a fervent and eloquent exhortation to sinners.

Almost immediately he entered the ministry as a supply on the Washington Circuit. That fall he joined the Conference. From the very beginning his pulpit efforts were eminently evangelistic. By his direct and fiery appeals hundreds and thousands were brought to Christ. In fact, this order prevailed during a ministry of fifty years, almost. Brother Pyott rose rapidly as a preacher and man of affairs. While yet young, comparatively, he was placed at the head of a district. As a presiding elder he was unusually laborious and successful. Considerate of the interests of the people, strong and gentle toward his preachers, courageous and persistent in meeting his appointments, bold and determined in council, and debate on the Conference floor, he was easily a friend to be trusted and a foe to be feared.

"His sermons were joint-work and preached with fluency and earnestness; indeed, sometimes with power. He never plagiarized, but preached his own sermons." So writes an ardent admirer, but an honest critic. The same gentleman adds: "His business qualities were fine, and in the chair of a Quarterly or District Conference he overlooked nothing essential to the business. His memory was both philosophical and circumstantial: it swept the field of business in hand."

Brother Pyott was, in some respects, Pauline in makeup—nothing moved him. Several years since a traveler told the writer of visiting this itinerant knight far away on the Cumberland plateau, trudging on foot, saddlebags across his shoulder, on his way to a Quarterly Meeting. He had walked ten or fifteen miles and was walking still.

As gradually the weight of years wrought its hard lines upon his brow, he only rallied, when others would have faltered, and quit the field. Just last year, when our body was in session in Chattanooga, he dragged himself heavily along the street, and more than once feebly requested help in reaching the home of his own brother in whose home he was domiciled. Many of his brethren believed him to be near the end, and suggested that he retire. He persisted, and was assigned to the Knoxville Circuit. Burdened with increasing feebleness, he remained at his post, preaching his last sermon a short while only preceding his departure. In his own home, surrounded by his family and friends, he died suddenly while sitting at the dining table. In the historic city of the dead at Emory, Virginia, the last of the veteran reposes in peace. His spirit, redeemed by the Blood, mingles with the joys of heaven.

JAMES I. CASH.

JOHN BELL CARNES

John Bell Carnes was born in Virginia on January 11, 1838; and died at Knoxville, Tennessee, on July 9, 1911. When he was about three years old, his father moved to Knoxville, where he was reared and where he lived the greater part of his life.

He was twice married—in 1858 to Mary Ann Clemons, and in 1864 to Annie C. McKenzie. He is survived by his wife and eight children.

Brother Carnes was a charter member and the first Sunday school superintendent of Broad Street Church, and had been more or less closely identified with that Church and its work ever since its organization. It was altogether appropriate, therefore, that he should be buried from that church. The very large attendance at the funeral service showed the affectionate regard for him by those who knew him best. They came from every part of the city and represented every class of society—preachers, lawyers, doctors, merchants, teachers, mechanics, members of all Churches and of no Church, including some colored people, who came to shed a tear on his bier. It was a great ovation, showing the estimate placed on a life of unselfish devotion to the welfare of the race by all classes of people.

I had known Brother Carnes for forty-two years. We had been intimate friends, and I had access to his inner life. I doubt if I ever knew a better man. When I first knew him, he was a painter in the railroad shops and a Methodist exhorter. Afterwards he received a license to preach as a local preacher, and in 1888 he was received on trial into the Holston Conference. Always and everywhere he was a thoroughly consecrated Christian and an unselfish toiler for the welfare of others. He had a fine physique and a good mind. His early educational advantages were meager, and he had the care of a large family; but he put in all his time and made full proof of his ministry. He delighted in revival work, and many hundreds have been converted under his ministry.

I have known Knoxville ever since it was a small town on the Holston River, and I have had special opportunity to observe intellectual, moral, and religious influences, but I doubt if Knoxville owes a larger debt of gratitude to any man than John B. Carnes. When an exhorter and afterwards a local preacher, he would toil all day in the railroad shops and at night he would go here and there holding cottage prayer meetings or visiting the sick or bereaved. He was no respecter of persons. No night was ever so dark and cold and cheerless that he would not at midnight answer a call from the humblest home in which there was distress of any kind. There is no street or alley in all the city that has not been pressed by his feet as he went on missions of mercy.

The Lord of the harvest has gathered this year out of the Holston Conference several ripe sheaves for the garner of the skies. Heaven grows richer all the while. What a joy and an inspiration is the hope of a home there!

FRANK RICHARDSON.

MRS. J. R. PAYNE

Hester Tatum was born April 6, 1845. She joined the Church in Asheville, North Carolina, when but a child. At Asheville, on the 19th of December, 1866, she was united in marriage with Rev. Jacob R. Payne, Dr. James S. Kennedy performing the ceremony. January 2, 1911, near Washington College, Tennessee, she fell asleep in her 68th year.

Mrs. Payne was the personification of patient gentleness. For years past she had been a great sufferer, coming finally to complete helplessness. Yet in the midst of it all she manifested only a beautiful spirit of resignation and of Christian faith. Her life was beautiful; her devotion to husband and son was beautiful; her unflinching confidence in God was beautiful. As an itinerant's wife, she showed those qualities of character which so often mark the noble women of the Methodist parsonages. She was tender and true, always and everywhere.

Only a little while was she left in lonely helplessness after her husband's death. In a few weeks she followed him. We buried them side by side in the church yard at Telford, Tennessee. No purer spirits ever went out from us to live in God's good world forever.

JAMES A. BURROW.

MRS. ELIZABETH M. HICKS

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Hicks was born March 22, 1822; married to Rev. William Hicks, March 22, 1844, and departed this life at the home of her son, attorney J. W. Hicks, Graham, Virginia, October 17, 1910. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Ward, and she was widely related to some of the best families of Southwest Virginia.

She was a woman well worthy to be an itinerant preacher's wife, and although, on account of her age, not many of the younger preachers knew her, all of any age who did have the privilege, saw that time in its passage never placed the almond blossoms on a nobler brow. She was as faithful in her relations as a conscientious mother, as her husband in his wider sphere. "And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless." In the absence of her husband from home she always held family prayers morning and evening.

For a number of years she made her home with her son, J. W. Hicks, at Graham, and she made hosts of friends there. A Presbyterian minister, Rev. Samuel Moore, writing of her death, to the Bluefield Daily Telegraph, said: "She was one of the most gentle, loving Christian characters to be found in any community. She always carried the sunshine with her, and her friends always found her bright and happy and cheerful. Her life has been a veritable benediction to many hearts and lives."

Although she came to her grave like a shock of corn fully ripe cometh in his season, Death had no terror for her. Not a doubt obscured her faith. She quoted aptly many passages of Scripture appropriate to her connection. She exhorted her friends and relatives to be faithful: for it was her privilege to testify that the religion which had been her support and solace was not a disappointment in the dying day.

Last Conference when she was at death's door she sent this message to the body: "Tell the preachers to preach Jesus and the resurrection, and to meet me in Heaven!"

Among her last words were these: "I shall know Jesus and his whole family. I love him and I love his word. I can't preach, but my death can preach. I want to be more humble." When she could not rest for pain and intolerable exhaustion, she would sing with her children and grand-children. It was almost too sacred to mention, when the three children of the house-hold ere she lost consciousness received her parting message and kissed her good-bye.

Dr. DuBose said at Bishop McKendree's grave, as he plucked away a tiny nest where a linnet had reared her summer hopes: "As I plucked away the tiny silken house and weighed its emptiness in my hands, it came to me that the mother linnet was chasing the summer with song through Southern lands. So the spirits of God's children leave here their outworn earthly houses and go far away into the fellowship of light." And I wished when I read that, that with my mother and sainted father the family at last might sing together the song of triumph on Heaven's eternal shore.

She is survived by two sons and three daughters: Rev. W. W. Hicks, of the Holston Conference; J. W. Hicks, Esq., of Graham, Virginia; Mrs. E. A. Mills, of Bluff City, Tennessee; Mrs. L. N. Kinser, of Montgomery county, Virginia, and Mrs. W. D. Comley, of Oceans, West Virginia. Four had passed on before.

MRS. C. T. CARROLL

No one will doubt that a good woman is the very best of all things left us from the wreck of Eden. In her very large acquaintance, extending over nearly the whole Holston Conference, no one will doubt that the subject of this sketch was a thoroughly good woman. She was naturally broad-minded, sweet-spirited, unselfish; and she added to these natural characteristics all those rare charms which the religion of Christ gives to womanly character.

Elizabeth Esther Shields was born near Morristown, Tennessee, on February 4, 1844; and died in the full triumph of the Christian faith on December 10, 1910, having had an earthly pilgrimage of nearly sixty-seven years. In her veins flowed some of the best blood of Tennessee. Blessed with rare natural capacity, she was educated at Jonesboro Female Academy, then under the presidency of Rev. Dr. Tadlock, which is sufficient surety that she was carefully and well trained. During her long and eventful life she bore upon her character the impress of that school. While attending school at Jonesboro she professed religion, and united with the M. E. Church, South, from which day till called from the Church below to the Church above she was a faithful, consecrated, and useful Christian. Her character, like that of her Master, was marked by unselfishness. She lived for others and the Church of her choice, which she loved with a perfect passion, and not for herself.

She was happily united in marriage with Dr. Charles T. Carroll on December 18, 1867, and became the mother of seven children, three of whom went before her to the Father's house, and four remain. All of the living children are good, reputable men and women and useful members of the Church which she loved and served so well. As the family on earth decreases it increases in heaven. The earth will not long have the majority. Some one declared: "The hand which rocks the cradle rules the world." The touch of the hand of this noble, consecrated Christian mother may be seen on all of her children. Blessed are the children of such a mother! They have patrimony worth more than millions. Sister Carroll did not marry for money. She resented any intimation that the itinerancy entailed hardships on preachers or their wives. On the contrary, she claimed that they have the best time of any people in the world. While I have never had any sympathy for men who prate about the great sacrifices which they have made for or in the Gospel ministry, I have the deepest and tenderest sympathy for those noble women who have foregone their innate desire for a fixed home, have become homeless wanderers on the earth, for the sake of their husbands and the Gospel which they preach, who "stay by the stuff," mothering the children, and live on parsonage fare, while the husband feasts on the daintiest viands in the larder and sleeps on downiest beds of his parishioners. Sister Carroll was an itinerant with her husband for forty-three years, and no one ever heard of her complaining. She loved and enjoyed the Methodist itinerancy. She loved God and humanity at large, but she loved her husband and children with the deepest and tenderest devotion. They all rise up and call her blessed.

Her last sickness was short, lasting a little over a week. She suffered much at times, but bore all with Christian patience and fortitude. For several days she was unconscious. We thought all was over; but she rallied and talked exultantly of the better country which she claimed to have seen, and of the dear ones who had gone before. She then bade her family and friends good-by, and urged them to meet her in the heavenly home. In a few hours she passed away.

At the church in Morristown Rev. J. F. Jones, her pastor, had charge of the funeral service. Though the people had almost gone wild about Christmas, the great church was almost filled with sympathizing friends. The casket was almost covered by beautiful floral offerings. The choir sang her favorite songs. Rev. J. H. Parrott read the first lesson, Rev. J. E. Naff read the second, and Dr. J. A. Burrow led in prayer. Talks were made by Drs. R. N. Price, George D. French, J. A. Burrow, and Rev. J. F. Jones. The body was then laid to rest in the cemetery at Liberty Hill Church to await the blast of the archangel's trump. One woman of good sense and taste remarked that it was the most beautiful funeral she ever saw, and that one could almost afford to die to be buried thus. The blessing of God be upon the bereaved family.

GEORGE D. FRENCH.

MRS. B. F. NUCKOLLS

Mrs. Mary Fletcher Nuckolls, daughter of David Goodykoontz and Ruth Harter, was born February 18, 1835, near Floyd courthouse, Virginia; and died at her home near Oldtown, Virginia, October 21, 1910; aged seventy-five years. She was married to Rev. Benjamin Floyd Nuckolls on November 6, 1866. From this union were born four children, two sons and two daughters. William David was born at Concord, Tennessee, and died when about three years old, while his father was in charge of Athens Circuit, and was buried at Wesleyana Church, near Athens, Tennessee. Isaac Clark was born at Independence, Virginia, while his father was in charge of Grayson Circuit, and was buried at Oldtown, Virginia. Rosa Allen was born at Athens, Tennessee, was married to G. B. Witherow, and lives at Oldtown, Virginia. Ruth Frances was born at Floyd courthouse, Virginia, was married to J. E. Johnston, and lives in Cleveland, Tennessee. Ballard Ernest Ward, whose mother was a sister of B. F. Nuckolls, and died when he was an infant, was reared to manhood as one of the family. He lives in Pocahontas, Virginia. Mrs. Nuckolls was a sister of Mrs. Bishop, wife of Rev. B. W. S. Bishop and mother of Rev. C. M. Bishop, of the Missouri Conference; also a sister of Mrs. Z. C. Cecil, of Pulaski county, who was present at the funeral. She was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the morning time of life, and developed a strong and noble Christian character. Her religion was the ruling principle of her life, and made her true to her home, her children, her Church, and her God. As her bereaved daughters looked on her quiet and peaceful face while she lay in the calm sleep of death in the casket, they could faithfully say she had been "faithful until death." For more than twenty years she gladly bore the hardships, disappointments, and bereavements of an itinerant preacher's wife, going with her husband to any charge to which he was assigned; and when he was no longer able to do active work in the ministry, she settled down in her quiet home to wait until Jesus came. It was a great bereavement to her when the death angel came into the parsonage home at Athens and took away little William, the first-born son; but she looked up into a loving Father's face and submissively said, "Thy will be done." And again, when all the tendrils of a mother's love were woven about little Isaac Clark, the youngest child, it was hard to realize that "all things work together for good to them that love God." Yet her faith in a Father's love did not falter, and she trusted him to the end. A very large congregation of friends and relatives gathered at the old home to express their love for the departed one and sympathy for the honored husband and bereaved daughter. The services were held by Revs. J. O. Straley and T. C. Vaughn, assisted by Revs. P. P. Kinzer and C. R. Melton; and then we carried the precious body away to the family burial ground to rest with the kindred dust until Jesus comes.

T. C. VAUGHN.

MRS. W. G. E. CUNNINGHAM

The funeral of Mrs. W. G. E. Cunningham, who died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. D. M. Smith, Nashville, Tennessee, on Tuesday night, June 27, was conducted from the home Thursday afternoon, June 29, and was in charge of Dr. J. S. French, assisted by Drs. Lamar and R. K. Brown. It was largely attended by the preachers, especially the connectional men. The funeral was simple and beautiful. Dr. French read the Psalm, Dr. Lamar the Epistle, and Dr. Brown offered prayer. "I love to tell the story of unseen things above" was sung as a solo, and "Asleep in Jesus" as a duet. A sad feature was the absence of Brother Smith, who was in California, and could not return in time for the funeral. Sister Cunningham was formerly Miss Bettie Litchfield, of Abingdon, Virginia. She was in her eighty-first year, and had been the honored President of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of McKendree

Church for more than thirty years. Her illness was of short duration. She had resigned her work in the society only one month ago. She ceased at once to labor and to live. A noble life has been spent for the Master.

—MIDLAND METHODIST.

MRS. J. A. H. SHULER

"Is she dead whose noble mind
Lifts thine on high?
To live in hearts we leave behind
Is not to die."

Amanda Emalyne Shuler, wife of our brother, Rev. J. A. H. Shuler, was born in Grayson county, Virginia, August 18, 1863; and died in East Radford, Virginia, April 2, 1911, in her forty-eighth year. From childhood she was a child of God. Over thirty years ago she pledged marital vows with Brother Shuler at the itinerant altars of Methodism. Five dutiful children—two sons and three daughters—blessed their union. One promising son, Carl Philip, passed into the unseen five years ago, and welcomed mother at the gates of pearl. Both of them fell asleep on Sunday. The last service was the more pathetic because of the unavoidable absence of the only remaining son in Texas, who sent a beautiful floral tribute of filial affection, and because of the serious illness of the youngest daughter, Lois, who could not be told of her mother's death.

The great audience that assembled in the East Radford Church at the early hour of nine o'clock on a cool, rainy morning; the presence of all the pastors in the city to take part in the service, the many beautiful floral designs, the specially tender considerations shown the bereaved family by the officers of the church, attested the esteem and devotion of a true people, gave evidence of the abiding worth of a consecrated womanhood, and expressed an endearing and enduring confidence in the value of a self-denying manhood.

Sister Shuler was a Harrington, one of the best families in Virginia, and blood will tell. To a high order of natural endowments she added the refinement of Christian culture, and there was typed God's best ideal of human life. In her frail form, during her later years, she retained the strength of an invincible faith, the devotion of an unconquerable love, the inspiration of a soul-mastering hope; chastened by pain and grief, yet cheerful under fleshly ills; walled in at home, yet longing to join in the battle song; deeply interested in the discussion of divine themes; ever anxious to see visions and hear the voices of the heavenly world. In her submissive soul blent the heroic elements that make for righteousness. No wonder her children loved her so devotedly, and her husband trusted her so implicitly, and nursed her so tenderly. The Christ of her faith and love crowned her with His pardon and peace, and in life, in death, she crowned Him with her service and praise, lisping the name of Jesus as she passed into His presence forever.

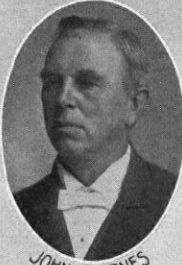

Beside her boy, in the classic soil of the cemetery at Emory, Virginia, her body rests in peace, awaiting the eternal morn for all who love our Lord's appearing, and who have done what they could, as did she.

JOHN M. CROWE.

MRS. W. M. MORRELL

Linnie Kerr Wolfe was the daughter of James K. Wolfe, deceased, who was a faithful and efficient minister of the Gospel and member of the Holston Conference. He was the nephew of Rev. W. M. Kerr, who fifty years ago was a leader among Holston Methodists. Sister Morrell's mother's name was Ella Sproule. She was born on December 4, 1873; and graduated at Martha Washington College in 1894, the same year that her future husband graduated at Emory and Henry College. She taught school three years. She was married to Rev. W. M. Morrell, of the Holston Conference, on July 7, 1897, with whom she lived a happy life till her death, which occurred at Knoxville, Tennessee, on January 17, 1911. Her funeral service was conducted at the Broad Street Methodist Church by the writer, assisted by brothers John C. Orr, John B. Carnes, Keener W. Cox, and George L. Lambert. A very large concourse of people attended, filling the capacious church. The Broad Street people showed their high appreciation of and sympathy for her by every delicate attention during her protracted sickness; and when we laid her to rest in the beautiful Greenwood Cemetery, the grave was banked with the most beautiful and expressive floral designs.

Sister Morrell was the mother of three children, one of whom died in infancy and preceded her to heaven, and the other two survive. She is also survived by her husband, mother, one sister, and two brothers.

In the case of Sister Morrell, heredity and environment conspired to the production of a very fine character. Her ancestors were excellent people. She was reared in a Christian home and carefully trained in all the elements of good character, and she had the best educational advantages afforded by our schools. She was a tractable scholar and diligent student, else all of these advantages would have been of no avail.

Her body was frail, but her mind was vigorous and bright. She graduated at Martha Washington College with a distinction, receiving the first honor of her class and two medals. She tied a number of her classmates for a third medal, and in casting lots for it it fell to her; but she declined to receive it, which is an index to a generous nature so manifest in after life. She kept up her studies after leaving school, reading extensively, exhibiting a commendable literary taste, and manifesting an increasing interest in current movements in the literary world.

Her ideals were pure and elevated. She had an acute sense of obligation. As daughter, sister, wife, and mother she discharged with resolute firmness the duties devolving upon her. It is doubtful if any mother ever trained her children more carefully and patiently.

She had an affable and pleasant disposition, and made friends readily wherever she went. In all the communities in which she lived, in the changeful life of an itinerant preacher's wife, her friends are numbered by the score. They were our neighbors at St. Elmo, and no one ever had more enjoyable neighbors. The spirit of hospitality pervaded their home, and that of Christian love and fellowship their entire life.

Her religion, which began in early life, and developed and ripened to the end, was her chief characteristic, her reigning grace. It was the foundation of her strong and comely character. It pervaded every department of her life, and illumined the whole with a bright radiance. Hers was an active, working religion. She loved her Church with a consuming devotion, and found enjoyment in helping her husband in his delicate work as pastor. In spite of much physical feebleness, she was abundant in labors for the welfare of the Church and the salvation of the people. She has left the impress of her noble life and character on every community in which she lived.

The death of such a person is no ordinary event. By her departure earth is made poorer and heaven richer. Faith and affection follow her up through the shining portals of the skies into the land of light and love. The gates are left ajar, and through them is streaming the supernal light of endless day. The horizon of our faith is broadened and brightened, and the anchor of our hopes gets a firmer hold amid the verities of the eternal city. We catch a glimpse of the blood-bought millions in their home of light, and see their radiant faces all aglow with infinite love. We hear the sweet melody of the song of redemption through the blood of the Lamb, and feel anew the charm of heavenly attraction toward that home of perfect peace.

No one doubts that Sister Morrell is there, that she has met her Saviour face to face and sees Him as he is, and that she has found exquisite delight in reunion with her father and her babe. There are all our glorified friends. They await our coming, and will meet us at the beautiful gate, and we shall be forever with the Lord.

"Forever with the Lord!

Amen, so let it be!

Life from the dead is in that word,
And immortality."

FRANK RICHARDSON.

MRS. T. J. HOUTS

Lula May, the only daughter of R. G. and Malisie C. Blackburn, was born near Pikeville, Bledsoe county, Tennessee, November 28th, 1869. She married T. J. Houts, January 1st, 1893. She was the mother of four children, one of whom, a daughter, died when about two years old. She was educated at Peoples College, was a good student and always about perfect in everything she studied. She taught three public schools. She professed faith in Christ at about sixteen; of her conversion, she always said that she had no doubts. She was timid and unassuming; still, she was a leader, often leading the young ladies' prayer meeting. While her husband was in charge of Clintwood, Virginia, she organized a Woman's Missionary Society, in which she worked. She did more work of this character at Blountville.

Sister Houts' health failed her while at Tom's Creek, and continued to decline until the end; a heroic fight was made to restore her to health, and as a last resort she was taken to San Antonio, Texas, only to find disappointment. When she found all hope of recovery gone, she, among other requests, wanted to be buried at Blountville, Tennessee. So she was hurried back before her death and arrived one evening; the people filled the house and yard to welcome her back. They came with everything they thought could minister to the wants of Brother Houts and family. She said to the writer of this: "I never doubted my conversion, but I have not the peace I felt was so sweet and precious when I was converted. I prayed one night sometime ago until midnight for it but failed to get the peaceful answer, and I dropped off to sleep; just as I awoke, it came to me or had come to me while asleep. I rested in this for a week or more but it is gone." However, she was directed not to fear. About twenty-four hours before she departed it came to her. Faith—realizing faith—saw the hills beyond the Jordan covered with the sunlight of righteousness on which is written in letters of living light, "Eternal Day."

On August 12th, 1911, at about eight o'clock p. m., she departed from the shores of earth for her heavenly home. On the following Monday the writer of this sketch preached her funeral in the Church at Blountville, Tennessee, to one of the largest congregations ever assembled at a funeral and burial at that place.

F. ALEXANDER.

MRS. FANNIE J. McTEER

Mrs. Fannie J. McTeer, widow of the late Rev. John M. McTeer, passed away Saturday morning at 8 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. L. E. Painter, at Ivanhoe, Va., after a protracted illness. The deceased was sixty-six years of age, and was born and reared in Rock-bridge county, Virginia. She was Miss Fannie Hatcher, and had a wide circle of relatives and friends who are deeply grieved to learn of her death. Mrs. McTeer was an active member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and was a consecrated Christian. She is survived by one brother in Colorado and two sisters, Mrs. William M. Painter and Mrs. L. E. Painter, of Ivanhoe. The funeral services were held Sunday at 11 o'clock from Forest Church in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends. The funeral services were conducted by Brother Walker, and the interment was in a near-by cemetery.

THE HOLSTON ANNUAL

is a good test of the capacity and ability of any printing office. We have had the contract for the past four years and from the communications we have received, believe the work has been satisfactory. We have also been favored with contracts for edition work by such writers as Dr. Richardson, Dr. Sullins, and Rev. Booth. While our facilities for handling large contracts are exceptional, we make a specialty of commercial and professional stationery. Every minister should use high-grade stationery. We can furnish you with a quality of work designed after the most dignified styles at prices not exceeding what you usually pay for country work. Wedding Invitations, Announcements and Cards engraved after the latest styles at most reasonable prices.
