Derecognition

- Derecognise an insurance contract when:

all rights and obligations
are extinguished

OR

B

specified modifications of the terms of the

- A Existence of a reinsurance contract does not constitute a derecognition event
- B The exercise of a right included in the terms of a contract is not a modification

Further information:

IFRS 17 Basis for Conclusions paragraphs BC316–BC317 and BC321–BC322

B Specified modifications resulting in derecognition (1/2)

19

If the modified terms had been present at contract inception, the modified contract would have:

See next slide for further specified modifications resulting in derecognition

Further information:

IFRS 17 paragraphs 72(a) and 74

B Specified modifications resulting in derecognition (2/2)

20

the definition of an insurance contract with direct participation features (vice versa)

the eligibility criteria for the premium allocation approach

After derecognition, the entity treats the modified contract as a 'new' contract under IFRS 17, if the 'new' contract is within the scope of IFRS 17. If so, the modification date is both the recognition and the inception date of the 'new' contract.
