Welcoming address

Welcome

by Michel Wieviorka, President of the International Sociological Association

To the participants of the Forum

It is a great pleasure for me to welcome you to the Forum which has been jointly organized by the Spanish, the Catalan and the International Sociological Associations. It is therefore demonstrated that our association is fully "global", as it can organize itself without any hierarchical principle, at different levels. It is an important fact that this meeting is held in Barcelona, a "global" town as it has long received people from different origins and which has been open to the world while maintaining a strong cultural identity.

Researchers in social sciences usually wonder about their utility, on their social or political role. Some try to stay apart from public debate and specialize as pure academic researchers. Others tend to contribute more or less on a regular basis as experts with their expertise or their abilities to the service of a power or of a counter-power or even to the media. Others express themselves within the political scope, taking a position, participating in debates on social or international issues. And there are sociologists too who think that their participation in the life of the town is based on their ability to perform research-action, and to change "in the heat of the moment" the role or the actors they perform with; or they are even certain that, by putting the actors in a self-analysis position, they encourage them to consider the sense of their actions and therefore they contribute to the increase of their knowledge level and their ability to perform, etc. The ways in which sociologists participate in public life are many and diverse and it is good to take a positive approach towards them and to think about it: our meeting is focussed on this reflection, and I am happy because of it!

This meeting has been built around the core and the strength of the association which I preside: the Research Committees. Throughout the Forum they will, on one hand, develop their reflections and their own work, and on the other, they will merge with other committees in order to develop new and particularly innovating exchanges – anyone can appreciate its richness when reading the programme.

And although our Forum is a sociology meeting, we have also invited to the debate other representatives of knowledge or of action. Social science can only gain when its barriers are removed especially towards other disciplines such as life sciences: this Forum is also a chance to make some progress in this direction.

I am sure we are about to live moments of high intellectual quality in a lively ambience. Let me give you my warmest welcome.

Bienvenue

par Michel Wieviorka, Président de l'Association internationale de Sociologie

Aux participants au Forum

C'est une grande joie pour moi que de vous souhaiter la bienvenue au Forum organisé conjointement à Barcelone par les associations espagnole, catalane et internationale de sociologie. Notre discipline est ainsi parfaitement "globale", puisqu'elle sait s'organiser, sans principe hiérarchique, à différents niveaux. Le fait que cette rencontre ait lieu à Barcelone, une ville elle aussi "globale", puisqu'elle accueille depuis longtemps des populations venues du monde entier, et qu'elle est ouverte au monde tout en maintenant une forte identité culturelle.

Les chercheurs en sciences sociales s'interrogent souvent sur leur utilité, sur leur rôle social, ou politique. Certains entendent se tenir à distance du débat public, pour ne se consacrer, comme chercheurs, qu'à leurs activités scientifiques. D'autres se constituent à l'occasion, ou de façon plus ou moins régulière, en experts, mettant leur savoir ou leurs compétences au service d'un pouvoir ou d'un contre-pouvoir, ou bien encore à celui des médias. D'autres encore s'expriment dans l'espace politique, prennent position, interviennent dans des discussions sur des enjeux de société, ou sur des questions internationales. D'autres encore considèrent que leur participation à la vie de la Cité passe par leur capacité à faire de la recherche-action, et à modifier à chaud le jeu des acteurs avec lesquels ils travaillent; ou bien encore ils sont convaincus qu'en mettant des acteurs en position d'auto-analyse, en les encourageant à réfléchir au sens de leur action, ils contribuent à élever leur niveau de connaissance et de là leur capacité d'action. Etc. Les modalités de la participation du sociologue à la vie publique sont nombreuses et diverses, et il est sain de l'accepter, d'y voir une richesse et d'y réfléchir: notre rencontre est placée sous le signe de cette réflexion, et je ne peux que m'en réjouir.

Cette rencontre est structurée autour de ce qui constitue le cœur et la force de l'association que je préside: ses comités de recherche, qui tout au long de ce Forum, vont d'une part développer leur réflexion et leur travail propre, et d'autre part se mêler les uns aux autres pour développer des échanges souvent inédits et particulièrement novateurs -chacun pourra voir, à la lecture du programme, qu'il est singulièrement riche. Et si notre Forum est une rencontre de sociologues, nous avons souhaité aussi débattre avec d'autres représentants du savoir, ou de l'action. Les sciences sociales ont tout à gagner à débattre aux frontières, et notamment avec d'autres disciplines comme les sciences de la vie, et ce Forum est aussi une occasion de faire quelques pas dans cette direction.

Je suis convaincu que nous allons vivre des moments de grande qualité intellectuelle, dans une ambiance conviviale, et j'adresse à tous mes salutations les plus cordiales.

Bienvenida

por Michel Wieviorka, Presidente de l'Asociación Internacional de Sociología

A los participantes en el Forum

Es para mí una gran satisfacción darles la bienvenida al Fórum, organizado conjuntamente en Barcelona por las asociaciones española, catalana e internacional de sociología. Se pone de manifiesto así el carácter perfectamente "global" de nuestra disciplina, ya que sabe organizarse, sin principio jerárquico, a distintos niveles. Resulta también importante el hecho de que esta reunión tenga lugar en Barcelona, una ciudad también "global", dado que desde siempre ha acogido a gente venida de todo el mundo, manteniendo a la vez una fuerte identidad cultural.

Los investigadores en ciencias sociales se preguntan a menudo sobre su utilidad, su papel social o político. Algunos se apartan del debate público, para consagrarse como investigadores a sus actividades científicas. Otros se constituyen en ocasiones, o de forma más o menos regular, en expertos, poniendo sus conocimientos o su competencia al servicio de un poder o de un contrapoder, o en ocasiones al servicio de los medios de comunicación. Otros se expresan dentro del espacio político, tomando partido, interviniendo en debates sobre los problemas de la sociedad, o sobre cuestiones internacionales. Los hay que consideran que su participación en la vida de la ciudad pasa por su capacidad para la investigación – acción y para modificar sobre el terreno el papel de los actores con los cuales trabajan. O bien están convencidos de que colocando a los actores en posición de auto-análisis, animándolos a reflexionar sobre el sentido de su actuación, contribuyen a elevar su nivel de conocimiento y su capacidad de acción. Etc. Las modalidades de la participación del sociólogo en la vida pública son numerosas y diversas. Resulta saludable aceptarlas, ver en ellas una riqueza y reflexionar sobre ellas: nuestro encuentro se sitúa bajo el signo de esta reflexión, de lo cual yo no puedo por más que alegrarme.

Este encuentro se estructura alrededor de aquello que constituye el corazón y la fuerza de la asociación que presido: sus comités de investigación, que a lo largo de este Fórum desarrollarán, por una parte, su reflexión y su trabajo específicos, mientras que, por otra, se mezclarán con el resto de grupos para desarrollar intercambios inéditos y particularmente innovadores – cualquiera podrá ver, al leer el programa, que éste resulta a este respecto especialmente rico. Y aunque nuestro Fórum es un encuentro de sociólogos, hemos querido también debatir en él con otros representantes del saber o de la acción. Las ciencias sociales tienen mucho que ganar en el debate fronterizo, particularmente con otras disciplinas como las ciencias de la vida, y este Fórum es también una ocasión para dar algunos pasos en esa dirección.

Estoy convencido de que vamos a vivir momentos de gran calidad intelectual, dentro de un ambiente de camaradería. En esa esperanza, quiero hacer llegar a todos mi saludo más cordial.

Welcome and Introduction to the Forum Programme

by Arturo Rodríguez Morató, ISA Vice-President for Research and Forum Director

Welcome to the 1st ISA Forum of Sociology. Its programme is the result of a long process of interchanges amongst many people: colleagues from all over the world who are working in many specialities and who have contributed to shaping it. Crystallized, this programme is now the starting point of an experience which all who have taken part in the organization of the Forum are hoping to be really stimulating and fruitful.

The idea of the Forum was born out of an intuition, a perception of some neglected practical necessities existing in ISA as well as some missed opportunities and some important challenges for the sociological community. These had to be addressed.

The Forum combines all these principles in a new model of sociological meeting. On the one hand, the aim is to provide a basis for the different research committees and groups constituted in ISA to develop their usual interim meetings under a common umbrella.. On the other hand, the intention is to encourage their interlocking and their contrasting while preserving their independence in the pursuit of their own thematic interests. This was sought mainly through the central programme of the Forum – the Common Sessions – a programme conceived as a dialogue among the different groups. Finally, another aim is to open the meeting outwards by projecting it towards the citizenry in order to contribute to the necessary updating of the link between sociology and the public sphere. The main theme, Sociological research and public debate, provides us with the key to merge all these requirements: it is the common basis for the dialogue among the various sociological specialities. It is also a reference for the themes developed by the groups and committees and it paves the way for debates beyond the scholarly scope in order to show the public relevance of sociological discourse for our societies.

The call for papers has been a great success and the outcome is a vast range of sessions. Many thematic programmes have been designed covering a great number of relevant social issues on which sociology can provide fundamental analyses and views. As it was to be expected, the own logic of the chosen subjects has prompted the organizers of those programmes to move beyond the boundaries of committees and therefore many joint sessions between them have been scheduled. This transgression of border areas between sociological specialities will be a great experience for the organization of ISA and for the sociological community at large.

The general programme of the Forum developed by the Scientific Committee deals with the main subject: Sociological research and public debate and the plenary sessions provide its framework. Beyond that, the Common Sessions set a dialogue on the same subject among different views from different sociological specialities. Selected invited speakers also contribute to this dialogue addressing some of the most current social issues from the point of view of sociology. Furthermore, the general programme also includes many other valuable initiatives coming from inside and outside the organization, thus creating a great number of special and ad hoc sessions. Following the aim that has been stated from the very start - to open ourselves to society and to face its main concerns – this programme also includes a series of debates open to the citizens.

Consequently, and thanks to the many contributions, the Forum offers a very complete and attractive programme. But be aware! You will probably find some difficulties in choosing the sessions you would want to attend. I am afraid I am not in a position to help you out of this painstaking yet exciting dilemma. That will be up to each and every one of you.

At the start of the 21st century sociology is facing a process of renewal. This first ISA Forum of Sociology has been conceived and organized in order to help us to advance in this process. Now it is up to us, the participants of the Forum, to make the most of the input we are about to generate at our meeting.

Bienvenue et introduction au programme

par Arturo Rodríguez Morató, Vice-président de Recherche de l'AIS et Directeur du Forum

Soyez les bienvenus au I Forum de Sociologie de l'AIS. Ce programme est le résultat d'un long processus d'échanges entre un grand nombre de personnes, collègues de tout le monde, appartenant aux spécialités et orientations les plus différentes, qui ont contribué à lui donner sa forme et à le remplir de son contenu. Ainsi cristallisé, ce programme est maintenant le point de départ d'une expérience que ceux qu'avons participé à l'organisation du Forum espérons qu'elle soit vraiment stimulante et enrichissante.

Le Forum est issu comme une intuition à partir de la constatation de l'existence de certains besoins pratiques insatisfaites dans l'AIS, des opportunités ratées et des défis importants pour la communauté sociologique, donc nous devons donner une réponse. L'idée du Forum combinait ces principes en une toute neuve formule de réunion sociologique. D'un côté, on voulait offrir une base pour que les différents comités et groupes de recherche pussent développer ses réunions entre les différents congrès sous une couverture commune. D'un autre côté, tout en respectant l'indépendance thématique de fond de chacun d'eux, on voulait aussi promouvoir leur emmêlement et leur contraste, spécialement à travers du programme central de sessions du Forum – les Sessions Communes -, un programme conçu comme un dialogue entre tous eux. Finalement, on voulait aussi ouvrir le rencontre en dehors, le projeter vers les citoyens, afin de contribuer à renouveler la liaison entre la sociologie et la sphère publique. Le thème central choisi La recherche sociologique et le débat public nous a donné la clé pour mêler toutes ces exigences: c'est la base sur laquelle on peut construire le dialogue entre les différentes spécialités sociologiques, au même temps que c'est la référence pour le choix des thèmes à développer par les différents groupes et comités, et il nous a donné en plus l'occasion d'organiser des débats au delà du monde académique en montrant l'importance publique du discours sociologique dans notre société.

L'appel a été un très grand succès, que nous a apporté un grand nombre de sessions. Les programmes thématiques sont très nombreux et traitent une quantité énorme de questions importantes de notre société, sur lesquelles la sociologie fournit une analyse et une vision fondamentales. D'autre part, tel qu'on pouvait s'attendre, la logique propre des questions choisies a incité à dépasser les frontières des comités, en donnant lieu à l'organisation d'un grand nombre de sessions conjointes entre eux. Cette exploration intensive des frontières entre différentes spécialités sociologiques sera bien sûr une expérience très positive pour l'organisation de l'AIS et de toute la communauté sociologique.

Le programme général du Forum, mûri par le Comité Scientifique, développe le thème central La recherche sociologique et le débat public. Les Sessions Plénières en sont l'encadrement le plus essentiel. En deuxième place, les Sessions Communes fournissent un dialogue autour du même thème entre des voix qui représentent les différentes spécialités sociologiques. Ce dialogue incorpore aussi la contribution de certains rapporteurs invités, lesquels abordent, du point de vue de la sociologie, plusieurs des questions sociales les plus importantes d'aujourd'hui. En plus, le programme général a accueilli beaucoup d'initiatives provenant du dedans et du dehors de l'organisation, ce qui a donné lieu à un grand nombre de sessions spéciales et de sessions ad hoc avec un très grand poids spécifique. Enfin, en suivant la vocation qu'on a formulé dès le début, de s'ouvrir et se confronter avec la société, ce programme présente aussi des débats ouverts aux citoyens, sur des questions d'une grande importance publique.

En définitive, grâce aux multiples apports qu'il a reçu, le Forum offre un programme très complet et très attractif, qui peut sans doute satisfaire n'importe quel appétit, et que bien sûr ne laissera personne indifférent. Au contraire, il est probable que nous ayons tous des problèmes pour choisir les sessions. C'est un problème douloureux, mais excitant, que chacun de nous devra solutionner.

Au début du 21^e siècle, la sociologie doit affronter un procès de renouvellement. Ce 1^{er} Forum de Sociologie de l'AIS a été conçu et organisé afin de nous aider à avancer dans ce processus. Maintenant, il faut que tous les participants au Forum fassions de notre mieux afin de profiter au maximum de l'élan collectif de notre rencontre.

Bienvenida e introducción al programa

por Arturo Rodríguez Morató, Vicepresidente de Investigación de la AIS y Director del Fórum

Bienvenidos al I Fórum de Sociología de la AIS. El programa que tenéis entre las manos constituye el resultado de un largo proceso de intercambios entre muchísimas personas, colegas de todo el mundo, de las más diferentes especialidades y orientaciones, que han contribuido a darle forma y a llenarlo de contenido. Así cristalizado, este programa es ahora el punto de partida para una experiencia que todos los que hemos intervenido en la organización del Fórum esperamos que resulte verdaderamente estimulante y provechosa.

El Fórum surgió como una intuición a partir de la constatación de la existencia de una serie de necesidades prácticas insatisfechas dentro de la AIS, de oportunidades desaprovechadas y de retos importantes para la comunidad sociológica, a los cuales convenía dar respuesta. La idea del Fórum combinaba estos principios en una nueva fórmula de encuentro sociológico. De un lado, se pretendía ofrecer la base para que los diversos comités y grupos de investigación constituidos en el seno de la organización pudieran desarrollar, si lo deseaban, sus tradicionales encuentros intercongresos bajo una cobertura común. De otro, aún respetando la independencia temática de fondo de cada uno de ellos, se quería propiciar también, sin embargo, su entrelazamiento y su contraste, especialmente a través del programa central de sesiones del Fórum –las Sesiones Comunes–, un programa concebido como un diálogo entre todos ellos. Finalmente, se buscaba asimismo abrir el encuentro hacia fuera, proyectarlo hacia la ciudadanía, para contribuir a la necesaria renovación del vínculo entre la sociología y la esfera pública. El tema central escogido, La investigación sociológica y el debate público, dio la clave para efectuar la fusión de todas estas exigencias: constituyó la base común para armar el diálogo entre las diversas especialidades sociológicas, sirvió al mismo tiempo como referente para la elección de los temas a desarrollar por los distintos grupos y comités, y dio pie para organizar debates orientados más allá del mundo académico y para mostrar la relevancia pública del discurso sociológico en la sociedad actual.

La convocatoria ha sido un éxito y ha cristalizado en un extensísimo conjunto de sesiones. Los programas temáticos son muy numerosos y cubren una enorme cantidad de cuestiones sociales importantes sobre las cuales la sociología proporciona análisis y visiones fundamentales. Tal como cabía esperar, por otra parte, la propia lógica de los temas escogidos ha incitado a traspasar las fronteras de los comités y ha llevado a organizar un sinnúmero de sesiones conjuntas entre ellos. Esta intensa exploración de terrenos fronterizos entre diferentes áreas de especialización sociológica constituirá una valiosa experiencia para la organización de la AIS y de toda la comunidad sociológica.

El programa general del Fórum, madurado por el Comité Científico, desarrolla el tema central de La investigación sociológica y el debate público. Las sesiones plenarias proporcionan su enmarcamiento más básico. En segundo lugar, las Sesiones Comunes plantean un diálogo en torno a ese mismo tema entre voces representativas de las diversas especialidades sociológicas. A ese diálogo contribuyen también una serie de ponentes invitados, que abordan, desde el punto de vista de la sociología, algunas de las cuestiones sociales más importantes de la actualidad. Además, el programa general ha acogido muchas iniciativas valiosas procedentes de dentro y de fuera de la organización, lo que ha dado lugar a un amplio conjunto de sesiones especiales y de sesiones ad hoc con mucho peso específico. Por lo demás, siguiendo la vocación formulada desde el principio, de apertura y de confrontación con la sociedad, este programa incluye también toda una serie de debates abiertos a la ciudadanía, sobre algunas cuestiones de especial relevancia pública.

En definitiva, gracias a los múltiples aportes que recoge, el Fórum ofrece un completísimo y atractivo programa, que sin duda puede saciar todos los apetitos y que desde luego no va a dejar inapetente a nadie. Por el contrario, es probable que todos vayamos a experimentar dificultades para escoger las sesiones a las que acudir. Será un problema doloroso pero excitante, que cada uno habrá de resolver.

Al inicio del siglo XXI, la sociología está abocada a un proceso de renovación. Este I Fórum de Sociología de la AIS ha sido concebido y organizado para ayudarnos a avanzar en ese proceso. Ahora es cuestión de que todos los participantes en el Fórum pongamos lo mejor de nosotros mismos para aprovechar al máximo el impulso colectivo de nuestro encuentro.

Sociology as culture

by Emilio Lamo de Espinosa, President of the Spanish Sociological Federation

Dear friends

Let me give you my warmest welcome to Spain on behalf of all the members of the Spanish Sociological Federation (FES) to one of its most beautiful and welcoming towns: Barcelona. Let's hope the weather is good to us in this month of September since walking the streets of this old Mediterranean town is a truly lovely experience.

Of course I am not inviting you to walk away from the Forum (which is what you're supposed to be here for) but to take a good look around and make you feel better claiming that you are doing "participating observation" (for instance, in the melting pot of the Raval quarter, next to les Rambles and to the sea).

Despite the fact that Spain has produced some of the greatest sociologists of the 20th century (no doubt Manuel Castells is currently the most famous, almost as much as was Ortega y Gasset, author of "The Rebellion of the Masses" 1930), it has been hard for Spanish sociology to establish itself during the last three decades in the mainstream of world sociology. Yes, language is a barrier, though less than it used to be, due mostly to the fact that "international" sociology is increasingly opening itself to other languages and that Spanish is growing as an international language. During the ISA Congress in 1990, Spanish sociology met world sociology, a fact that I am sure will be repeated at a much higher level at this Forum. In fact, the participation of Spanish sociologists in this Forum will be greater than ever. The Forum has grown to an amazing dimension and it can proudly boast with almost all the great names of current sociology.

Crisis in sociology? Was it ever not so? During the 1940s, the great Robert K. Merton warned us that sociology lived on its own crises and fed on them. I guess sociologists (prone to criticism) are the last to realize the outstanding importance that social research has attained in modern knowledge and science societies which are also social knowledge societies. We have established hundreds of observation centers which generate many a type of data and models without which the complex machinery of modern society would be impossible to manage.

Perhaps it is in the sociological contribution to public debate where this influence is most visible. Let's consider the fact that, while some decades ago it was impossible to approach a social problem without analyzing its economical background (financing, budgets, consequences), nowadays it is impossible to approach it without analyzing its social dimension. Sociological discourse forms now a main part of public speech just as much as juridical or economic "speeches" do. Surveys are just the superficial part of this constant flow between social research and modeling, on one hand, and natural discourse, ethnosociology, on the other. Both poles mutually enrich. No matter if we speak about immigration or gender violence, euthanasia, disease or globalization, mega-towns or villages, sociological language is always present, providing concepts and models, descriptions, data series or prognoses: namely providing enlightenment.

We are not dealing with the crisis but rather with the victory of the sociological way of thinking which is no longer an esoteric language of a minority but another element of collective culture. From sociology as a science to sociology as a culture can be a fruitful way to approach our debates in Barcelona.

La sociologie comme culture par Emilio Lamo de Espinosa, Président de la Fédération Espagnole de Sociologie

Cher ami, chère amie

Permetts-moi de te donner à travers de ce moyen, et au nom de tous les membres de la Fédération Espagnole de Sociologie (FES) notre bienvenue en Espagne, dans une des villes les plus belles et accueillantes, Barcelone. Nous espérons que le temps soit généreux avec nous, et que la chaleur humide en septembre ne soit pas excessive, parce que se promener dans cette vieille ville méditerranéenne, en regardant ses endroits et sa vitalité extraordinaire, c'est une des expériences humaines les plus recommandables.

Bien sûr, je ne te propose pas d'oublier le Forum, que c'est le propos de ta visite, mais je t'invite à faire une bonne promenade, en légitimant et apaisant ta mauvaise conscience avec l'argument que tu fais de "l'observation participante" (par exemple, afin d'observer l'immigration sur le quartier du Raval, près des Rambles et de la mer).

Malgré qu'il-y-a des grands sociologues espagnols du XXème siècle (bien sûr Manuel Castells est le plus connu aujourd'hui, presque tant comme fut Ortega y Gasset, auteur de "La rébellion des masses" en 1930), il a été difficile pour la sociologie espagnole, bien constituée et mûre depuis il-y-a plus de trente ans, de rejoindre le mainstream de la sociologie mondiale. Bien sûr la langue est une barrière, mais de plus en plus moins, à mesure que la sociologie internationale s'ouvre a des autres langues, et l'espagnol (ou castillan, tel qu'on l'appelle ici) devient une langue plus internationale. Lors du Congrès de l'ISA en 1990, la sociologie espagnole s'est retrouvée avec la sociologie mondiale, et je suis sûr que cette rencontre sera encore plus intense dans le Forum. En fait, la participation des sociologues espagnols dans ce Forum est plus fluide que jamais.

C'est logique, parce que le Forum est devenu si grand qu'il est capable d'attirer sur lui l'attention de presque toutes les grandes personnalités de

Sociologie en crise? Ce n'était pas toujours comme ça? Pendant les années 40, le grand Robert K. Merton remarquait que la sociologie vivait de ses crises, et se nourrissait d'elles. Je soupçonne que nous les sociologues (plus critiques que n'importe qui) sommes toujours les derniers à nous rendre compte de l'importance extraordinaire acquise dernièrement par la recherche sociale dans les sociétés de la connaissance et la science, qui sont aussi des sociétés de la connaissance sociale, pendant ces dernières années. Nous avons institutionnalisé certaines de centres d'auto-observation, qui gèrent toute sorte de données, modèles et schémas, sans lesquels il serait impossible de gérer tout le complexe appareil social moderne.

C'est peut-être dans la contribution sociologique au débat public ou cette influence est plus visible. Pensons, tout simplement que, si il-y-a quelques décennies c'était impensable d'affronter un problème social sans analyser son contexte économique (financement, budgets, conséquences), aujourd'hui c'est impensable de l'aborder sans analyser ses dimensions sociales. Le discours sociologique est devenu une partie essentielle du discours publique, tel que le juridique ou l'économique. Les sondages ou surveys ne sont que la partie superficielle de ce transfert continu entre la recherche et la modélisation sociale, d'un coté, et le discours natif, l'ethnosociologie, d'un autre, qui s'enrichissent mutuellement. N'importe si on parle d'immigration ou de violence sexiste, d'euthanasie ou de pauvreté, des maladies ou de globalisation, de mega-villes ou de villages, le discours sociologique y-est toujours présent d'une façon incontestable, en apportant des concepts ou des modèles, descriptions, séries de données, pronostiques... C'est à dire, en apportant illustration et lumière.

Nous ne sommes pas devant la crise, mais plutôt devant le triomphe de la pensée sociologique, qui n'est plus un langage ésotérique de quelque minorité, mais il est devenu un élément habituel de la culture collective. De la sociologie comme science à la sociologie comme culture, ça peut être une façon productive d'aborder nos débats à Barcelone.

La sociología como cultura

por Emilio Lamo de Espinosa, Presidente de la Federación Española de Sociología

Querido amigo, querida amiga

Permíteme que te haga llegar por este medio, y en nombre de todos los que formamos la Federación Española de Sociología (FES), mi más sincera bienvenida a España en una de nuestras más hermosas y acogedoras ciudades, Barcelona. Esperemos que el tiempo sea generoso con nosotros y el calor húmedo de septiembre no se haga notar en exceso. Pues pasear por esta vieja ciudad mediterránea, observando sus rincones y su extraordinaria vitalidad, es una de las experiencias humanas más aconsejables.

Por supuesto no te estoy invitando a que hagas pellas y abandones el Foro, que es para lo que vienes, pero sí a que practiques un buen paseo y legitimes y tranquilices tu mala conciencia con el argumento de que estas haciendo "observación participante" (por ejemplo para observar la emigración en el barrio del Raval, muy cerca de las Ramblas y del mar).

A pesar de que España ha producido algunos de los grandes sociólogos del siglo XX (Manuel Castells es sin duda el más conocido actualmente, casi tanto como lo fue el Ortega y Gasset de La rebelión de las masas de 1930) a la sociología española, constituida y madura desde hace al menos tres décadas, le ha costado incorporarse al mainstream de la sociología mundial. Sin duda el idioma es una barrera, cada vez menos importante a medida que la sociología "internacional" se abre a otras lenguas y el español (o castellano, como lo llamamos aquí) crece como lengua internacional y mercantil de un modo bastante inesperado. Ya con ocasión del Congreso de la ISA de 1990 se produjo un encuentro de la sociología española con la mundial, que estoy seguro será mucho más potente en este. De hecho la participación de sociólogos españoles en este Foro es la más fluida que se ha dado jamás.

Es lógico pues el Foro ha adquirido unas dimensiones impresionantes, siendo capaz de atraer a la práctica totalidad de las grandes figuras de la sociología actual.

¿Sociología en crisis? ¿Cuándo no lo ha estado? Ya en los años 40 el gran Robert K. Merton nos advertía que la sociología vivía de sus crisis y se alimentaba de ellas. Sospecho que somos los sociólogos (gremio crítico e hiper-crítico como pocos) los últimos en darnos cuenta de la extraordinaria importancia que la investigación social ha adquirido en las modernas sociedades del conocimiento y la ciencia, que son también sociedades del conocimiento social. Hemos institucionalizado cientos de centros de auto-observación que generan todo tipo de datos, modelos y esquemas, sin los cuales sería imposible gestionar la complejísima maquinaria social moderna.

Es quizás en la contribución sociológica al debate público donde esta influencia es más visible. Pensemos simplemente que si hace décadas era impensable abordar un problema social sin analizar su contexto económico (financiación, presupuestos, consecuencias), hoy es impensable abordarlo sin analizar sus dimensiones sociales. El discurso sociológico es ya parte esencial del discurso público, al igual que lo son el jurídico o el económico. Los sondeos o surveys son sólo la parte superficial de ese constante trasvase entre investigación y modelización social, de una parte, y el discurso nativo, la etnosociología, de otra, que se enriquecen mutuamente. Ya hablemos de inmigración o de violencia de género, de eutanasia o de pobreza, de enfermedades o de globalización, de megaciudades o de aldeas, el discurso sociológico está presente de un modo indiscutible, aportando conceptos o modelos, descripciones, series de datos, prognosis, aportando ilustración y luz, en definitiva.

No estamos ante la crisis sino, más bien, ante el triunfo del modo de pensar sociológico que ha dejado de ser lenguaje esotérico de minorías para transformarse en un elemento más de la cultura colectiva. De la sociología como ciencia a la sociología como cultura puede ser un modo fructífero de abordar nuestros debates en Barcelona.

Welcome to the First ISA Sociological Forum

By Oriol Homs, President of the Catalan Sociological Association

I would like to welcome all the participants of the First ISA Sociological Forum on behalf of the Catalan Sociological Association. It is a great pleasure for all of us to provide all our colleagues with this opportunity to debate in Barcelona on the most relevant issues and subjects of our societies which are increasingly becoming a global planet society.

Barcelona is the capital of Catalonia, a small country which maintains its personality within Spain and within the European Union, while being fully involved in the worldwide changes which affect most of our societies.

The strain between local and global dimensions is particularly intense in Catalonia, and therefore, the Forum will have a privileged view in order to exchange different points of view between home and guest sociologists on common issues.

The local organizing committee has been working hard so that all the organizing issues make your stay comfortable while providing interesting scientific debates. Furthermore, through the open activities we intend to achieve an involvement of Barcelona's civil society, in order to contribute to the motto of this Forum: the impact of sociological research on public debate.

Sociological research requires a greater visibility in public areas and we hope that this Barcelona Forum can be a good opportunity to know the contributions that sociology may provide to the interests and hopes of the citizens in our societies.

Welcome to the Forum

Au nom de l' Association Catalane de Sociologie je voudrais donner la bienvenue à tous et à toutes les collègues participants dans ce Premier Forum de Sociologie de l' AIS. C' est pour nous tous un très grand motif de satisfaction offrir à tous et toutes nos collègues l' occasion de débattre à Barcelone sur des questions parmi les plus brûlantes de nos sociétés, qui deviennent de plus en plus une société globale planétaire.

Barcelone est la capitale de la Catalogne, un petit pays qui dans l' Espagne et l' Europe préserve sa personnalité historique, en participant dans les transformations mondiales que concernent presque globalement toutes nos sociétés.

La tension entre les dimensions locale et globale est particulièrement intense en Catalogne. De cette façon, le Forum aura un observatoire de privilège à leur disposition pour échanger des points de vue entre les sociologues locaux et ceux qui sont venus d' ailleurs sur des questions qui nous sont communes.

Nous avons travaillé au comité organisateur local afin que toutes les questions d' organisation rendent agréable le séjour de tous les participants, en facilitant des débats scientifiques d' intérêt. En plus, moyennant des activités ouvertes au public, on veut atteindre l' implication de la société civile de Barcelone afin de contribuer à la devise de ce Forum: l' impact des recherches sociologiques sur les débats publics.

Les recherches sociologiques ont besoin d' une plus grande visibilité sur les espaces publics, et nous souhaitons que ce Forum de Barcelone soit une bonne occasion pour connaître les contributions que, de la sociologie, nous pouvons apporter aux inquiétudes et les espoirs des citoyens de nos sociétés.

Soyez les bienvenus au Forum.

Bienvenida al Primer Fórum de Sociología de la AIS

por Oriol Homs, Presidente de la Asociación Catalana de Sociología

En nombre de la Asociación Catalana de Sociología quisiera dar la bienvenida a todos y a todas las participantes en este Primer Forum ISA de sociología. Para todos nosotros es un motivo de satisfacción brindar a los compañeros de la disciplina la oportunidad de debatir en Barcelona sobre los temas más candentes de nuestras sociedades que cada vez se asemejan más a una sociedad global planetaria.

Barcelona es la capital de Cataluña, un pequeño país que dentro del Estado Español y en el marco de la Unión europea mantiene una singular continuidad de su personalidad histórica a pesar de estar plenamente integrado en la vorágine de las transformaciones mundiales que afectan de forma global a casi todas nuestras sociedades.

La tensión entre la dimensión local y la global es particularmente intensa en Cataluña por lo que el Forum podrá disponer de un observatorio privilegiado para intercambiar los puntos de vista entre los sociólogos locales y los provenientes de otros países sobre las temáticas que nos son comunes.

Hemos trabajado en el comité organizador local para que todas las cuestiones organizativas hagan agradable la estancia de todos los participantes y faciliten unos debates científicos de interés. Además, a través de las actividades abiertas al público queremos conseguir la implicación de la sociedad civil barcelonesa para contribuir al lema de este Forum sobre el impacto de la investigación sociológica en los debates públicos.

La investigación sociológica necesita una mayor visibilidad en los espacios públicos y esperamos que este Forum de Barcelona sea una buena oportunidad para conocer las aportaciones que desde la sociología podemos hacer a las inquietudes y a las esperanzas de los ciudadanos de nuestras sociedades.
