Executive Letter

Dear Friends,

This time last year, we were all getting ready for a new beginning—the start of 2020. Each of us had our own, deeply personal thoughts and hopes for what it would bring. Perhaps this was the year your child was graduating high school. Or maybe you were planning a big move—whether to a new home or in your career. Whatever the case, it’s safe to say none of us could have expected 2020 to turn out the way it did. From the global pandemic that is still very much a part of daily life, to ongoing civil unrest, to one of the most polarized political environments in history, this year has been anything but easy. No one has been unaffected by the past several months.

But despite all the turmoil, discomfort, and pain, together we achieved something remarkable: We helped thousands of families and individuals find well-being, health and stability during a moment more critical than ever before.

Mr. Perez* is one of those individuals. He and his wife have two children under the age of 5. Due to the pandemic, Mr. Perez was laid off from his handyman job, which was keeping the family afloat. Since the family is ineligible for unemployment benefits, Mr. Perez patched odd jobs together to the best of his ability. The family turned to JFS for help, and we assisted them with rent plus a late fee, helping the Perez family avoid homelessness. This assistance gave them some time and peace of mind while Mr. Perez looks for new work.

Or Sarah*, a deaf client at our Polack Food Bank, who is at high risk for health issues. To prioritize safety, she initially received groceries via our home delivery program, but that proved to be problematic because of the difficulty of communication when the groceries were delivered. We were able to match Sarah with a volunteer who shops just for her and delivers the groceries directly to her door, texting when she arrives. Thanks to this arrangement, Sarah does not have to leave her apartment at all and her health is not compromised.

As the late Rabbi Lord Jonathan Sacks (z”l) stated, “Faith is not certainty. It is the courage to live with uncertainty.” Rabbi Sacks had the right idea. After all, we don’t know what 2021 will bring—but if we can find the collective courage to approach the new year with all its uncertainty, we can continue making a difference in the lives of our neighbors.

From the bottom of our hearts, thank you—and please continue to stay safe.

Our Impact

Thanks to our caring and generous community, in FY20 JFS helped more than 5,000 families and individuals in need—many of whom never thought they would need to ask for help.

COVID-19 Response Highlights

- 1 Provided a total of $1,020,196 in financial assistance to community members for eviction prevention, move-in costs, help with utility payments, and more.
- 2 Pivoted our agency-wide operations in March and April to transition staff to remote work environments, depending on their roles. All staff who are not essential for office operations or direct client services (70%) have been working remotely since then.
- 3 Conducted 522 telehealth counseling sessions when in-person appointments became impossible due to COVID-19.
- 4 Changed food bank model to allow clients to safely pick up pre-bagged food and increased home delivery service.
- 5 Increased emergency financial assistance from $5,000 a week to $15,000 a week (later settling to $10,000 per week) and added a case manager staff position to handle increase in clients and aid.

Program Highlight: Supportive Living Services and Older Adult Services

For many older adults and individuals living with disabilities, isolation is a harsh reality even during normal times. But during COVID-19, loneliness and disconnection have escalated at an alarming rate. “During the pandemic, in order to protect the well-being of clients and staff, we have restricted our Instruction and Support Specialist (ISS) shifts to serve clients with only the most critical in-home health and safety needs,” says Rosemary D’Agrosa, Director of the Supportive Living Services (SLS) department at JFS.

These restrictions are hard on clients and staff alike—and even the in-home visits that do occur look and feel much different than before. ISS staff must outfit themselves in full Personal Protective Equipment to conduct these visits, which leave little room for conversation and connection the way they once did. “Staff have been incredibly flexible and resilient in changing the way they meet with clients and show dedication and determination on a daily basis,” adds Rosemary. “Services such as leisure support and community integration have been temporarily suspended. We look forward to when we can provide the full scope of services our clients need and deserve.”

In the meantime, however, Rosemary’s team has been hard at work finding ways to curb the growing isolation and hopelessness that many clients are feeling. Thanks to ongoing community financial support as well as a generous grant from the Seattle Association of Jews with Disabilities Foundation, the Supportive Living Services department and the Older Adult Services (OAS) department have been able to provide clients with special Shabbat dinners from local Kosher catering company, Leah’s Catering.

Beginning in mid-September 2020 and slated to run through at least summer 2021, 85 Shabbat meals are being delivered to 70 households (27 SLS clients, 57 OAS clients and eight live-in family caregivers). The deliveries — which consisted of cheese lasagna, green beans, salad, challah, blueberry cheesecake and grape juice for the first round—have a two-fold purpose: to feed clients and help them feel connected to the meaning of Shabbat, and to remind them that they are not alone.

“Multiple clients have commented that receiving the Shabbat meal is now one of life’s highlights, noting the joy in the human connection and food that the meals bring.

They have commented that just seeing the volunteer makes their day, and they have also noted how the food is so beautiful and so delicious,” explains Miri Kudinov, Russian Language Information and Assistance Specialist.

“For some clients from the former Soviet Union, the meals present an exciting opportunity to try new foods. Others save a bit of the food so that they can share it with neighbors or family, using the food to further connect with others. And the challah alone is a standout—more than one client has asked how they can order more of it!” says Miri.

One client added, “Thank you so much for the Shabbat meals. The food is incredible. It is the best lasagna I’ve had in my entire life.”

In addition to the meal deliveries, gift baskets have been given to 96 total clients (36 in SLS and 60 in OAS) as another way to combat social isolation. Each “care package” included a handwritten note, digital thermometer, deck of cards, a fig bar and stationary with stamps and envelopes for writing letters. Additional packages will include items like other non-perishable snacks, jigsaw puzzles, chewing gum, more stationary and menorahs and candles.

Everyone deserves to know that they are part of a community—even if we can’t gather together in the same way that we are used to. Through these programs and thanks to ongoing support from our community, older adults and disabled individuals know they are not forgotten.

DESIGNATE JFS AS A BENEFICIARY

There are several ways to include JFS in your estate planning:

- Specifying monetary, stock or real estate gifts.
- Stipulating a percentage or remainder of your estate.
- Designating JFS as the beneficiary of your life insurance, annuity or retirement instruments (IRA or 401k).

ESTABLISH A NAMED FUND

With your gift of $100,000 or more — either now or through a bequest — you may establish a named endowment fund to provide ongoing support for the community needs closest to your heart.

For more information, or if you have designated JFS as a beneficiary and would like your name added to this list, please contact:

Donor Highlight: Gary & Karen Schwartz

Gary Schwartz started his carpet business with $15,000 and an idea. That idea combined with keen business skills and dedication made it possible for Gary and his wife Karen to make an extraordinary one-million-dollar gift to Jewish Family Service in January 2020. “It was Gary who pushed it,” Karen shared. “Gary’s heart is with JFS. It has been very exciting for us.” Karen continued, “You don’t always need to get something in return.” Sometimes it is the giving which is the gift. Gary and Karen came from humble beginnings, but they were both taught early the importance of giving back, even when there wasn’t much to give. “It’s a mindset,” they explained.

That mindset of giving led Karen and Gary to make an additional gift of $350,000 at the start of the COVID-19 pandemic in March 2020, when it became clear that JFS would have to pivot its programs and services significantly. Looking back over the year, Gary shared: “At a time where there are so many people struggling, Karen and I can’t sit on the sidelines. We need to do more. 2020 was a challenging year for so many with the pandemic and economic downturn. We want to do our part to bring about hope.”

JFS will use the incredible investments provided by Gary and Karen to expand services to teens and young adults struggling with anxiety, depression and other mental health challenges. It will also help support clients in our Supportive Living Services program who have cognitive disabilities and persistent mental health issues. In addition, their tremendous donation will provide assistance to clients with urgent financial needs, intensified by this public health crisis. During 2020 alone, JFS increased emergency financial assistance from $5,000 a week to $15,000 a week (later settling to $10,00 per week) and added a case manager staff position to handle the increase in clients and aid.

“Gary and Karen have made an extraordinary difference not only for the people we serve, but the people who serve them,” said JFS CEO, Rabbi Will Berkovitz. “They made

EACH OTHER,
WHO WILL?”

it possible for our care managers to do what is necessary to remove stumbling blocks preventing people from finding stability in their lives.”

In explaining the decision, Gary and Karen shared, “When we are gone, we won’t get to see the impact of our philanthropy. We wanted to be able to see the change we were able to help make in the community.” With a smile Karen continued, “We reached a moment when we realized how fortunate we have been, and we wanted to give back to the community. It’s a nice feeling to share our good fortune with others.” Gary added, “Being older, I noticed there were more needs today, or it may be I became more aware of them.”

Karen and Gary agreed it was time to start giving more and to set up a foundation. “I was born and raised in Seattle,” Gary said. “I learned by following the example of those around me and those who came before me.” He continued, “I decided my main concern is Jewish causes. If we don’t take care of each other, who will?”

In reflecting on his life, Gary mused, “What did I really do? I just sold rugs.” But because of those rugs, combined with Gary and Karen’s remarkable generosity and a vision of what it means to live their Jewish values, many people will not only have a chance at a better life, but also an awareness that they are not alone. Perhaps this is summed up best by a client who wrote to us, “So often in life we experience tears of fear, pain or frustration... but your support was a real blessing. It gave me tears of joy.”

Lamplighter Society Chairs

“Each of us is a lamplighter. Each of us helps punch holes in someone else’s darkness. One lamp at a time, one soul at a time.”

- Rabbi Will Berkovitz, Chief Executive Officer

The Lamplighter Society recognizes the inspiring example of individuals and families who have contributed to JFS in one or more of the following ways:

- Given $1 million or more in their lifetime.
- Made a Named Fund Endowment gift.
- Given $100,000 in the current fiscal year and/or previous two fiscal years.

This special acknowledgement honors leaders in our community who have made an extraordinary financial commitment to JFS and whose generosity truly lights the way for others.
