DEAN'S MESSAGE

SEVEN YEARS AGO, in my first dean's message for this publication, I wrote that I was honored to take the helm of an institution as deeply loved by its alumni as the University of Virginia School of Law. As I enter what will be the last year of my deanship, I not only appreciate that affection as a historical matter, but I feel it as a very personal one.

One of the great joys of my service as dean has been getting to know you, our alumni and friends. I never cease to be amazed at the depth and breadth of your generosity—as measured in the thousands of hours you dedicate to the Law School as volunteers, guest speakers, and adjunct faculty; the hundreds of students you recruit and mentor; and in the millions of dollars of financial support you provide each year. In the last fiscal year, 9,624 donors gave a total of $17.7 million for the benefit of the Law School. An astounding 8,406 alumni—more than 46% of our living alumni contributed to the Annual Giving campaign, and more than 1,000 graduates served as volunteers in the effort. With support from 71% of our alumni, we have now raised $374 million of our $400 million campaign goal, part of the $5 billion Honor the Future capital campaign that concludes in June 2025.

Your gifts truly make everything possible here and enable the Law School to reach new heights. Over the course of my deanship, we have recruited remarkable people to join our community—hiring 34 stellar faculty members and welcoming new students who have exceeded previous records on both academic achievement and diversity of all kinds. We have expanded our course offerings—including 24 clinics and more than 250 courses—and have dramatically lowered our student-faculty ratio. To continue to make a world-class UVA Law education accessible to talented students from all walks of life, we have expanded financial aid, now providing scholarships to more than two-thirds of our J.D. students. We have deepened our financial commitments to students pursuing public service careers by increasing funding for summer and postgraduate public service work, expanding our Virginia Loan Forgiveness Program, and establishing the full-tuition Virginia Public Service Scholarships. And we have launched the Roadmap Scholars Initiative, which provides comprehensive support to first-generation and low-income college students interested in pursuing careers in the legal profession.

All this, and so much more, is the result of your extraordinary generosity. As I exit this role, let me thank you again for all you have done to maintain this historic institution and to ensure for it a future as august as its past.

LEADERSHIP REPORT

ON BEHALF OF THE LAW SCHOOL FOUNDATION Board of Trustees and Alumni Council, it is our privilege to report the results of the 2022–2023 fiscal year.

While markets remained unsettled, assets held steady. The Foundation holds approximately $677.6 million in endowed funds and $14.4 million in non-endowed funds for the benefit of the Law School. In addition, the University holds $147.5 million and the Jefferson Scholars Foundation holds $6.2 million in endowed funds designated for the Law School. The combined value of these assets as of June 30, 2023, exceeds $845.7 million.

The Foundation budgeted to spend more than $33 million for Law School and enterprise operations last year. The Foundation adheres to an endowment spending rule designed to provide the Law School with a steady income stream and long-term purchasing power to protect and support both current and future students and faculty.

The 58th Annual Giving Campaign finished with 9,624 donors, gifts totaling more than $17.7 million, and more than $5.4 million in currently expendable unrestricted gifts.

In especially good news, this year's 8,406 alumni donors represent the highest number since the 2018–2019 campaign. That campaign was the last before the pandemic. Our 46.4% alumni participation rate is (almost certainly) the highest of any law school.

Our #1 ranking is a point of pride. It takes the hard work and dedication of more than 1,000 alumni volunteers. We remain inspired and humbled by their efforts. Year after year, their shared passion for UVA Law has made all the difference.

Gifts and pledges to the Honor the Future Capital Campaign totaled more than $372.2 million on June 30, with an additional $26.1 million unlocked in University matching funds. We hope to surpass our goal of $400 million this year to celebrate Dean Risa Goluboff as she concludes her remarkable tenure leading the Law School.

We continue to expand our engagement efforts to bring UVA Law closer to our alumni. Fall events took place in Atlanta, Charleston, Charlottesville, Chicago, Los Angeles, Nashville, New York City, Richmond, San Francisco, Seattle, Silicon Valley, and Washington, D.C.

The spring included events in Charlotte, Charlottesville, Dallas, Denver, Houston, Norfolk, Raleigh/Durham, San Diego, and Washington, D.C.

More than 1,200 alumni and guests returned to Charlottesville in May to celebrate their reunions. The next Law Alumni Weekend is scheduled for May 10–12, 2024. All alumni, as always, are invited to attend the reunion weekend events.

This year's Annual Report highlights a few of the many ways donors are supporting the Law School:

- For their 50th reunion, the Class of 1973 had a bold vision—to fully endow the Class of 1973 Public Service Fund and establish and endow a new class scholarship fund. They succeeded in doing both. Class manager Rick Cinquegrana celebrates their results, “I am so proud to be a part of the great Class of '73.”
- Thanks to the generosity of Stephen '72 and Martha Anne Yandle and the Horace W. Goldsmith Foundation, the Law School expanded its loan forgiveness program this year to all graduates in qualifying jobs who earn less than $100,000 annually.
- Bill Curtin '96 endowed the Curtin Family Scholarship in tribute to the education his parents provided their family and to help others earn their own UVA Law degree.

We hope you find learning about the opportunities created by donor gifts as inspiring as we do. The Law School may have peers, but our community is unique. You make it so through your loyalty, affection, and generosity.

With our best wishes,

J. Warren Gorrell, Jr. '79 | Chair, Law School Foundation Board of Trustees
McLean, Virginia

Elizabeth Finn Johnson '87 | President, Law School Alumni Association
Atlanta, Georgia

John H. McDowell, Jr. '82 | Chair, National Appeals Committee

The Foundation holds approximately $677.6 million in endowed funds and $14.4 million in non-endowed funds for the benefit of the Law School. In addition, the University holds $147.5 million and the Jefferson Scholars Foundation holds $6.2 million in endowed funds designated for the Law School. The combined value of these assets as of June 30, 2023, exceeds $845.7 million.

The financial statements of the University of Virginia Law School Foundation for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2023, have been audited by Hantzmon Wiebel, LLP. A copy of the auditor's report is on file at the Foundation.

DEAN'S COUNCIL

Members of the Dean's Council are the leading contributors of private support to the Law School. We deeply appreciate the substantial commitments made by the following individuals.

LIFE MEMBERS

Life membership in the Dean's Council recognizes donors of gifts of $250,000 or more, over a lifetime, for any purpose.

100% PARTICIPATION

The 100% Participation Program challenges firms and companies (with at least five Virginia Law graduates) to achieve 100% participation in annual giving. Because many firms and companies are in multiple cities, individual offices with five or more graduates are also recognized.

The overall participation rate for alumni at firms and companies in the Program was a remarkable 67.5%.

Those interested in adding more names to the 100% list should contact Helen Snyder '87, Chief Operating Officer and Director of Annual Giving, at (877) 307-0158, or at snyder@law.virginia.edu.

“McGuireWoods and the Law School share many core values, including community, collegiality, excellence, integrity, and diversity and inclusion.

“We are honored to give back, and the solidarity of our alums in support of UVA Law is something of which we are particularly proud.”

— Joseph K. Reid III '93
Partner, McGuireWoods
Law Firm Volunteer

WHY WE GIVE

FOR 100% PARTICIPATION

MORE THAN 1,000 ALUMNI VOLUNTEER EACH YEAR to support the Law School in myriad ways. They help recruit admitted students, serve as first-year oral argument judges, or network with student organization members. Others serve as guest speakers and lecturers or help plan or host alumni events.

Annual giving volunteers are known to everyone in their class, region, or law firm/company. They ask their friends and colleagues for a gift to the Law School every year. Law firm volunteers reach out to every Virginia Law graduate at their company or firm.

The 100% Participation Program challenges firms and companies with at least five Virginia Law graduates to achieve 100% participation in annual giving. Because many firms and companies are in multiple cities, the program also recognizes individual offices with five or more alumni.

This year, 29 firms and companies reached 100% in all of their offices, and 14 achieved 100% in one or more of their offices. McGuireWoods had the most donors of any firm, with 82 alumni making an annual gift. The overall participation rate for alumni at firms and companies in the 100% Participation Program was an astonishing 67.5%.

REUNION GIFTS

TO OPEN DOORS

TO CELEBRATE THEIR 50TH REUNION, the Class of 1973 Reunion Committee had a bold vision—to fully endow two Class of 1973 Funds.

The Class of 1973 Public Service Fund was established to support the Mortimer Caplin Center for Public Service. Mary Stanley, a decades-long public servant, advocated for the public service fund's creation in 2021. "Those of us fortunate enough to attend the Law School decades ago had many doors opened for us," Stanley said.

The Class of 1973 Scholarship was established this year to help the school enroll the best and brightest students, regardless of their financial situation.

Randy Kell made possible a generous gift of $500,000, which served as a 50th Reunion Challenge Match for his classmates who gave to either fund.

"My parents worked hard and were productive citizens in western Kentucky despite their limited educations," said Kell. "There was rarely enough money to go around, and it was only through generous scholarship programs that I could complete my education at UVA Law."

"My education here was one of the most critical and fortunate experiences of my life and opened many doors, both in and beyond the practice of law," he said.

The Reunion Committee was delighted with the results—56% of the class made a gift, raising $2.4 million in gifts, pledges, and planned gifts. "I am so proud to be a part of the great Class of '73," said Rick Cinquegrana.

"Our 50th Reunion Committee decided to set very ambitious goals. The members of the class came together as a very caring community that willingly invests in the future of the Law School and the legal profession. True generosity has been described as giving to those who can never repay you. In this case, it is so gratifying to envision the concentric circles of yet-to-be UVA Law students who will be sustained by these gifts and will, in turn, move outward to support those who follow behind them."

SUPPORTING FINANCIAL SELF-SUFFICIENCY

THE LAW SCHOOL EMBARKED ON AN INNOVATIVE FINANCIAL MODEL
 20 years ago. It would remain part of a great public university but fund itself solely with tuition and private support.

Two decades later, financial self-sufficiency has allowed UVA Law to flourish, with more course offerings, seminars, clinics, and faculty than ever. A strategically smaller class size, more individualized attention, and enhanced student-faculty ratios have benefited our students in every respect, including improved employment outcomes and judicial clerkship placements. Gifts from alumni and friends made all of this possible and put Virginia on equal footing with its private peers.

DONOR SUPPORT EXPANDS LOAN FORGIVENESS PROGRAM

FOR DECADES, THE LAW SCHOOL HAS ASSISTED ALUMNI working in public service by helping them pay their student loans. This year the school expanded its loan forgiveness program so more graduates are eligible for greater benefits.

The Virginia Loan Forgiveness Program now helps repay the loans of all graduates earning less than $100,000 annually. Participants earning less than $80,000 annually receive benefits covering 100% of their qualifying law school loans. Those earning between $80,000 and $100,000 receive prorated benefits based on income.

“We are grateful for the alumni support making this expansion possible,” Dean Risa Goluboff said. “Our students go on to work as prosecutors, public defenders, in nonprofits and legal aid organizations, and in federal, state, and local governments. This increased funding for loan forgiveness continues to make those careers possible while also supporting graduates who strike out on their own as solo practitioners or pursue practice experiences that are less remunerative or financially secure—like working in-house for a startup.”

With the median and 25th percentile private-sector salaries at $215,000 for the Class of 2022, the program will continue primarily to support alumni working in public service. But graduates entering qualifying employment in any sector within two years of graduation or completing a clerkship are eligible, as long as their employment requires legal skills and their salaries fall within the guidelines.

“By removing financial barriers to careers in public service, we hope this change empowers students taking on graduate school loans to pursue any career they wish, with substantial support from the Law School,” said Assistant Dean for Public Service Leah Gould, who serves as director of the Mortimer Caplin Public Service Center. “Our students have more options with more financial support than ever.”

Generous gifts from Stephen '72 and Martha Anne Yandle and the Horace W. Goldsmith Foundation helped expand the program.

WHY I GIVE

A SCHOLARSHIP TO BUILD BRIDGES

WILLIAM J. CURTIN III '96, ONE OF FIVE LAWYERS in his immediate family, has a vivid recollection as to why he wanted to pursue his legal education at Virginia: “I was drawn to UVA because, in addition to the greatness of the school as evidenced by its superlative rankings and accolades, I admired the goodness that existed across the Law School community,” Curtin said.

The unique combination of greatness and goodness cemented his decision to attend UVA Law. Curtin said his parents’ influence inspired him to create the Curtin Family Scholarship in 2022. “They never celebrated material gifts—instead, they emphasized the gift of education. My professional course was made possible, and has been inspired, by the example and the generosity of my parents.”

While earning his Bachelor of Arts at Duke University, Curtin spent a summer studying at the Sorbonne in Paris and an ensuing summer studying at the London School of Economics. After graduating from Duke, Curtin spent an academic year in Paris, teaching at SciencesPo and studying international law as a Fulbright Scholar. “I’ve been very fortunate to study at special places across different countries,” he said, “but nowhere have I encountered a group of faculty, staff, and students who were more impressive and with higher character than at UVA Law.”

Curtin, now partner and global head of mergers and acquisitions at Hogan Lovells, became a supporter of UVA Law from his earliest days as an alumnus. “I realized how special the Law School was, and I wanted it to thrive so others could enjoy and benefit from an education at UVA Law,” he said. “At the start of my career, I couldn’t create a scholarship financially, but I was eager to find other ways to contribute every year.”

He became a long-time volunteer, helping recruit students and serving as the annual giving campaign’s Washington, D.C. regional manager. Curtin also gives back as an adjunct faculty member, teaching

Corporate Transactions during the spring semester. “I’m grateful to Virginia Law for giving me so many opportunities during three of the most fulfilling years of my life. The Law School really is the ideal in legal education,” he said, “and I’m thankful to be part of its community.”

In honor of his parents and siblings who studied at Georgetown, Duke, and Denison, Curtin has established the Curtin Family Scholarship for the purpose of attracting the best students from each of those institutions in order to make it possible for them to attend UVA Law.

“The idea for the scholarship is to bring together four institutions that have been so important and meaningful to me and my family over the generations,” he said. “I hope my gift will create bridges among these wonderful schools.”

Jerome W. D. "Jerry" Stokes, retired in 2004 after serving 27 years as Senior Assistant Dean and Director of Admissions and Financial Aid.

WHY I GIVE

EVERY YEAR

“ I HAVE BEEN DONATING to the Law School annually since I graduated, and I plan to continue doing so. This is because I remember Dean Jerry Stokes, who made it possible for me to attend UVA as an out-of-state student.

“During my first and second years, I made a mistake on my FAFSA, and by the time I realized it, all the financial aid had been allocated. However, Dean Stokes assured me that he would take care of it, and he did.

“He provided me with more financial aid for my second year than I had received in my first. I will never forget his kindness.

“My hope is that my small annual contribution will enable other students to benefit from the excellent education provided by the Law School. Go Hoos! Wahoowa!”

WHY I GIVE

EVERY YEAR

“MY TIME AT UVA LAW broadened my perspective, steered my professional path, and resulted in lasting friendships.

“By donating, I’m paying tribute to that transformative experience and investing in the future.

“Giving helps preserve a world-class institution and a vibrant community where knowledge, connection, and impact thrive.”
