DEAN'S MESSAGE

As we prepare for our 50th annual giving campaign, I am pleased to report that last year's campaign was our most successful ever. A record 54% of our graduates made annual gifts, marking our ninth consecutive year of 50% or greater alumni participation.

Our graduates' broad and enthusiastic support makes a strong impression on potential faculty and students. It is a simple, objective, and powerful measure of the Law School's uniquely collegial culture. I can't thank you enough for your generosity.

Paul G. Mahoney, Dean

David and Mary Harrison Distinguished Professor of Law

Arnold H. Leon Professor of Law

LEADERSHIP REPORT

We are pleased to report that your generosity produced the greatest annual giving year in the history of the Law School. The 2013-2014 annual giving campaign which closed June 30 finished with 9,172 alumni donors and a 54.4% participation rate. These are new records for annual giving and mark significant increases. This was also the ninth consecutive year alumni participation surpassed 50%.

Alumni donors came from the Classes of 1934 to 2013. High participation levels were achieved over a broad age group: the Classes of 1940, 1956, and 1957 joined the Classes of 2010, 2012, and 2013 in topping 70% participation. Sixteen classes exceeded a 60% participation rate.

The following is a financial summary of the Foundation and a report of the Alumni Association for the year ended June 30, 2014:

Law School Endowment and Total Assets

The Foundation holds more than $405 million in endowed and $28 million in non-endowed funds for the benefit of the Law School. In addition, the University holds $54 million and the Jefferson Scholars Foundation holds $5 million in endowed funds designated for the Law School. The combined value of these assets at June 30, 2014, exceeded $492 million.

Annual Contributions

The 49th Annual Giving Campaign raised $8.78 million. This year's graduation gift campaign, "The Ties That Bind Us," saw 86% of the Class of 2014 make a pledge of future support.

Gifts received by the Law School Foundation in fiscal year 2014, including annual giving, bequests, and special gifts, totaled $17,310,027. Approximately $4.9 million of the total was unrestricted and for current use.

Alumni Association

Last year Dean Paul Mahoney met alumni at events in Atlanta, Boston, Birmingham, Charlotte, Charlottesville, New York City, Northern Virginia, Providence, Richmond,

San Diego, San Francisco, Tampa, and Washington D.C. The Law School also hosted an alumni event with Professor A. E. Dick Howard '61 in Charlotte, an event in Syracuse, and a Lambda Law Alliance event in San Francisco.

This fall the Dean will host alumni and friends in Charlottesville, Chicago, Dallas, Houston, Nashville, Philadelphia, and Washington D.C. The Law School will also host alumni events in Boston and New York City.

The 2014 reunions were a tremendous success, with more than 1,200 graduates and guests returning to Charlottesville for Law Alumni Weekend in May. The 2015 reunion weekend will take place May 8–10 for the Classes of 1955, 1960, 1965, 1970, 1975, 1980, 1985, 1990, 1995, 2000, 2005, and 2010. All alumni are welcome to attend reunion weekend events regardless of class year.

The 2013–2014 results are more than incremental gains. They represent support from every class and constituency of Law School alumni and friends. We are united by pride and affection for this institution and its ideals. Thank you for providing the resources to keep it strong.

Best wishes,

Roger H. Kimmel '71

Public Interest Law Association Grants

The Law School and the student-run Public Interest Law Association provided $438,000 to 99 students working nationwide and internationally in low-paying or unpaid public service jobs during the summer.

Second-year student Brooklynn Moore received a Public Interest Law Association fellowship to work in the Justice Department's Federal Tort Claims Act section. "Not only have the attorneys given me excellent constructive criticism, but I was able to watch my work product be put to use," Moore said. "Working at 'America's Law Firm' has been an invaluable summer experience and I wouldn't trade it."

100% PARTICIPATION PROGRAM

Initiated in 1993, the 100% Participation Program challenges and recognizes firms and companies (with at least five Virginia graduates) that achieve 100% participation in annual giving. Because many firms and companies are in multiple cities, offices with five or more graduates are also recognized in the program. Those interested in achieving 100% participation should contact Helen Snyder '87, Chief Operating Officer, at (877) 307-0158 or at helensnyder@virginia.edu.

Seminars in Ethical Values

Seminars in Ethical Values are designed to enhance students' understanding of ethical issues and address the broader ethical and moral responsibilities of the lawyer as citizen and leader. In a typical year, the Law School offers more than a dozen one-credit seminars, which often meet at the professors' homes.

The small-group seminars cover a broad range of legal and ethical topics, such as the seminar exploring the impact of DNA testing on criminal law, family law, and private law taught by Brandon Garrett and Kerry Abrams.

Jonathan Cannon and George Rutherglen teach a seminar investigating environmental values. One of Anne Coughlin's recent seminars examines the ethics of lying: Which lies should be punished by the legal system? Which lies should be protected from punishment? Are all lies bad?

Dan Ortiz and David Gies (Commonwealth Professor of Spanish at the College of Arts and Sciences) are leading students through an exploration of the issues of aging. Because aging is a fraught subject that touches on healthcare, family dynamics, individual psychology, the ethical treatment of the old and infirm, end-of-life crises, and finances/economics, the seminar studies these issues from multinational points-of-view in order to compare and contrast different societal approaches.

The seminar gives us a moment to think differently—less about precedent or rules, and more about the world we face when we walk out of Clay Hall. It grounds the abstract and forces us to discuss issues on a personal level rather than discuss them in legal or social contexts. When you blend that introspective approach with the diversity that stems from cross-enrolling non-law graduate students, you get dynamic discussion—discussion that helps shape your personally held values.

Few classes provide that kind of self-reflection for law students. The seminar does not embolden or complement our traditional law classes; it delivers an experiential forum for ethical judgments, a forum otherwise absent from our curriculum.”

—Eric T. Haitz, third-year JD and MBA student

Recurring Gifts

Monthly or quarterly gifts, which ensure consistent support for Virginia Law, may be made in any amount and are a convenient way to increase your yearly commitment to the school. Consider joining those who make a recurring gift to the Law School at www.law.virginia.edu/gift.

“

I have benefited tremendously from my law school education and I have wanted to make a commitment to honoring that by being an ongoing annual giver; however, I often found myself putting off taking the time to write the check. Life gets busy and we all have demands on our time. The ability to set up my giving to the Law School as a recurring monthly expense allowed me to honor my commitment without complicating my life.”

Robert F. Kennedy '51 Public Service Fellows

The Robert F. Kennedy '51 Public Service Fellowships enable recent JD graduates to work in public service positions while exploring career options and building a professional network. The fellowships are named after the late Senator and Attorney General Robert Kennedy, one of the most famous public servants to graduate from Virginia Law. Funded by alumni and friends of the Law School, the fellowships provide a salary to graduates working for a year in qualifying public service employment.

Fellows work in legal aid offices, prosecutors' and public defenders' offices, federal agencies, courts, and nonprofit organizations across the country. The Law School provides ongoing career counseling aimed at securing post-fellowship employment tailored to each graduate's career objectives.

I approached the chief of staff at the Office of the Principal Legal Advisor at U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement with information about the Kennedy Fellowships when I was a 3L. I hoped the fellowship was the chance to get my foot in the door, gain experience as a government attorney, and acquire skills I would carry with me to future jobs.

A few months into my fellowship, I had the confidence to ask about staying with ICE after the fellowship ended. I was offered the position. This would not have been possible in 2013 without the Kennedy Fellowship. Due to the federal hiring freeze, entry level positions were very limited. While a résumé can state past experience and accomplishments, nothing compares to showing your future employer how qualified for the job you are.

I am blessed and lucky to have been able to translate my fellowship into a full-time federal position and am grateful to the Law School for providing the opportunity.”

— Cassandra Maximous '13, Associate Legal Advisor, Office of the Principal Legal Advisor, Immigration and Customs Enforcement, U.S. Department of Homeland Security, Washington, D.C.

Unlike my public interest-minded friends who went to other schools, I was able to take the Kennedy Fellowship and approach my first-choice organization. Because I came with my own funding, The Bronx Defenders were able to take me on. That's a mind-blowing idea. I got my dream job right out of law school at a time when most other law graduates were happy to be employed at all.

I work with fellow advocates who are experts in all areas of civil legal services and criminal law, and together we are able to help keep our clients afloat in ways that would be impossible acting alone. It's a remarkable and humbling opportunity, and one that I would not have had without the Kennedy Fellowship and UVA Law.”

— Ariel Linet '13, Attorney, Civil Action Practice, The Bronx Defenders, Bronx, NY

Graduation Gift Pledge Drive

The Class of 2014 tied up its graduation gift pledge drive, The Ties That Bind Us, with 298 members of the class making a pledge—an 86% participation rate. This year marks the tenth consecutive year that 80% or more of the graduating class has committed to future support for the Law School.

“

My time at UVA Law has been the best three years of my life. Although I think fondly of my undergraduate institution, my adoration for this school dramatically outweighs that for any other school I've attended. UVA Law is, without question, a uniquely special school and it will always hold a special place in my heart. As a result, I was happy to join in the pledge to give back.

The Constitutional Court of South Africa

Orly Rachmilovitz SJD '12 is serving as a foreign clerk at the Constitutional Court of South Africa, the nation's highest court, with the help of the Orrick International Law Fellowship. The fellowship, lasting six months to a year, is sponsored by the international law firm Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe.

Despite being a foreign clerk, my responsibilities are identical to those of the South African clerks, which allows me to learn so much about the progressive legal system, the excruciating history, and the fascinating cultural diversity here.

But there is certainly room to offer comparative perspectives to the Court's work, which relies heavily on comparative and international materials. I'm very excited to be able to bring both the American and the Israeli outlooks and experiences. And it's a huge honor to be the first Israeli to clerk at the Court.”

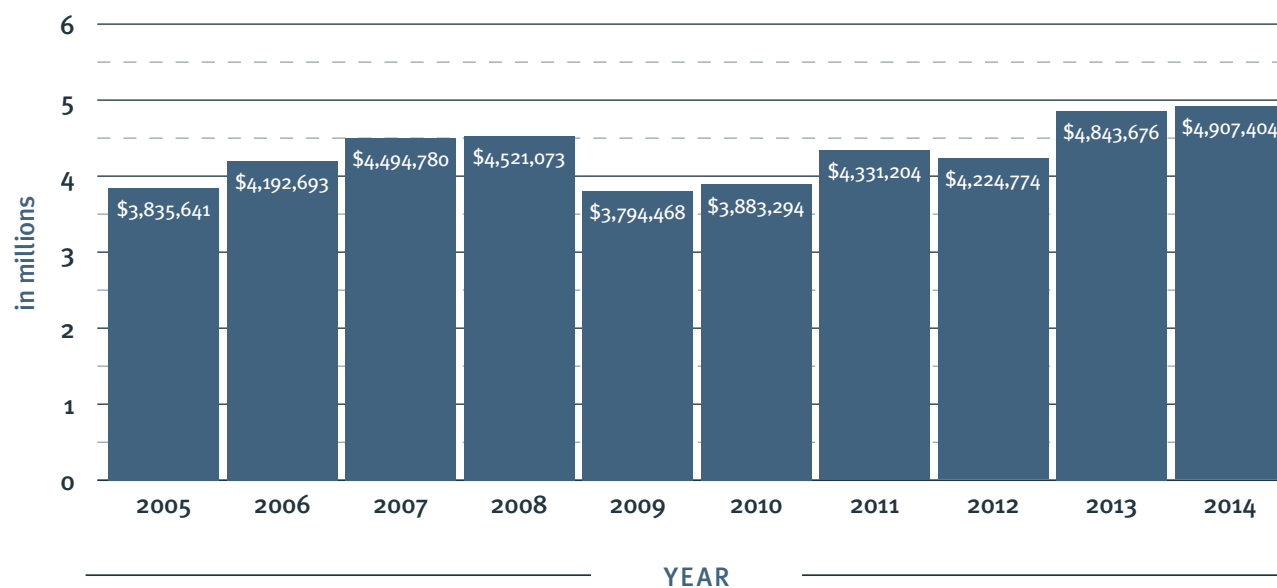

— Orly Rachmilovitz SJD '12
