Legend for Development Plan No. 3.5.2.3.

1. Areas 1 and 2.

1.1 These areas are to be developed for retailing and related uses. In exercising its discretion as to permissible development in Areas 1 and 2, the Council will ensure that the objects of the Development Plan are met, and that the environmental impact, hours of operation, provision of onsite parking, setbacks and appearance of the building and curtilage of establishments, and the provision of pedestrian links between establishments are appropriate to the proper functioning of the local centre and compatible with adjacent areas, and to this effect may grant approval subject to conditions relating to these matters.

1.2 In approving development on a lot, part of which is included in Area 3, the Council may attach conditions directed at the proper functioning of Area 3 as customer car parking.

2. Area 3.

This area has a primary function for vehicle circulation and customer car parking. However, with Council approval the area may be used for activities consistent with the establishment of the Local Centre provided the appropriate car parking provisions are retained.

3. Area 4.

Development in Area 4 shall conform with the site requirements of the uniform building Bylaws applicable to "GR5" with the following exceptions:—

- (a) Multiple development is to be in the form of grouped dwellings, similar to houses such as are commonly known as "row houses";
- (b) The number of dwellings on each lot shall be limited to that which results in a density on that lot of 35 dwelling units per hectare;
- (c) Where access to the rear of a lot is obstructed by an existing house, the Council may approve of development subject to the owner securing rights of carriageway over adjoining land;
- (d) Where, in any particular case, compliance with the site requirements would conflict with the orderly and proper planning of the locality and with one or more of the objects of the Development Plan, the Council may vary those requirements, but only to the extent that the variation would better achieve those objects.

FOURTH SCHEDULE

GERMINATION TESTS.

Part 1.—Test Conditions.

The test conditions to be used in ascertaining whether crop seed is germinable are those printed in chapter 5, and in Annexes to chapter 5, of "Seed Science and Technology" Volume 4, Number 1, 1976, published by the International Seed Testing Association, as added to and amended in—

(a) the "Report of the Rules Committee 1974-1977", printed in "Seed Science and Technology" Volume 6, Number 1, 1978; and

(b) the "Report of the Rules Committee 1977-1980", printed in "Seed Science and Technology" Volume 9, Number 1, 1981, each published by the International Seed Testing Association.

Part 2.—Growth Characteristics of Germinable Seed.

(1) Germinable seeds are seeds which, when tested under the conditions referred to in Part 1 of this Schedule, produce seedlings which—

(a) possess—

(i) a well-developed root system including a primary root, except for those plants normally producing seminal roots;

(ii) a well-developed and intact hypocotyl and/or epicotyl without damage to the conducting tissues and in dicotyledons, a normal plumule;

(iii) in the case of plants of the family Poaceae, a well-developed primary leaf within or emerging through the coleoptile; and

(iv) one cotyledon for seedlings of monocotyledons and two cotyledons for seedling of dicotyledons; or

(b) although having one or more of the following slight defects, otherwise show vigorous and balanced development of the structures referred to in paragraph (a) of this item and show the capacity for continued development into normal plants when grown in good quality soil, and under favourable conditions of water supply, temperature and light—

(i) being seedlings of the Zea species, a species of the family Malvaceae or Cucurbitaceae, or of a large-seeded legume, have a damaged primary root, but several adventitious and lateral roots of sufficient length and vigour to support the seedling in soil;

(ii) are seedlings having superficial damage or decay to the essential structures of the seedling which is limited in area and does not affect the conducting tissues;

(iii) are seedlings of dicotyledons with only one cotyledon.

(2) Where seedlings are decayed by fungi or bacteria, and it is clearly apparent that—

(a) the parent seed is not the source of infection; and

(b) but for the decay, the seedlings would have been in accordance with paragraph (a) or (b) of item 1 of this Part of this Schedule, the seedlings are deemed to be in accordance with that paragraph.

- (c) the sample taken is thoroughly mixed, divided into 3 approximately equal portions each of which is of a quantity not less than the sample size specified in the rules referred to in paragraph (b) of this Part of this Schedule, and each portion is placed in a separate package that is then fastened and sealed;
- (d) the package containing each portion is then identified by writing on it or on a label attached to it—
 - (i) the name and address of the person in charge and, where the material sampled is being sold, of the seller of the material sampled, if that information can then be ascertained;
 - (ii) a designation or code or other information sufficient to identify the material sampled;
 - (iii) the aggregate mass of the material sampled or, if the aggregate mass cannot then be ascertained, an estimate thereof;
 - (iv) the number of packages in which the material represented by the sample is contained; and
 - (v) the date on which the sample is taken;

- (e) where the person in charge is present, he is invited to mark with his name or initials each package (or the label attached thereto, as the case may be) in which each portion of the sample is contained and, where he so wishes, is permitted to so mark each such package (or the label attached thereto, as the case may be); and

- (b) the "Report of the Rules Committee 1977-1980" printed in "Seed Science and Technology" Volume 9, Number 1, 1981,
- each published by the International Seed Testing Association.

EIGHTH SCHEDULE

Reg. 15

SEED PROCESSING WORKS.

1. (1) The seed processing works shall be suitably equipped to process seed to the standards required by each seed certification scheme in respect of which the seed processing works is to be registered.
- (2) The equipment required by subitem (1) of this item shall be located in a weather-proof building that has a floor of concrete or other suitable construction.
2. The seed processing works and its equipment shall be so laid out and organized as to enable free access to all parts of it to facilitate the cleaning and inspection of all parts of the seed processing works, its equipment, and the floor.
3. A system for the extraction of dust and other waste, adequate to remove reject material and to enable all processed seed and containers to be presented for inspection in a clean condition shall be provided in each building in which seed is processed.
4. The seed processing works shall be provided with adequate lighting.
5. There shall be, in the seed processing works, a seed testing bench that has a smooth, off-white surface, is so situated as to be free of dust and draught, and is otherwise suitable for the use of an inspector for analysis of seed.
6. Storage facilities shall be sufficient to enable the adequate storage of seed so that it is separated according to species and cultivar and whether it is untreated or treated, and, where practicable, so that places where equipment is to operate are not required to be used for storage.
7. The premises shall be designed and equipped so as to enable them to be operated in accordance with the requirements of these regulations.

NINTH SCHEDULE

Reg. 16.

OPERATION OF REGISTERED SEED PROCESSING WORKS.

1. At all times during which the seed processing works is operating there shall be present and for the time being in charge of the operation a person (in this Schedule referred to as "the works supervisor") who has been nominated to, and approved by, an officer authorized to give such approval.
2. The works supervisor shall ensure that all stages of seed processing are adequately supervised, and shall have particular regard to the need to supervise casual workers.

3. Seed shall not be received for processing unless it is accompanied by a declaration—

(a) identifying the seed; and

(b) specifying the area from which the seed was harvested, with sufficient particularity for the purposes of the seed certification scheme under which the seed is to be certified.

4. Seed shall be processed to the highest standard practicable having regard to the impurities present.

5. At all stages of seed processing adequate precautions shall be taken to ensure that the condition of seed is maintained and its quality is not impaired by contamination or otherwise.

6. The quantity of seed that is to be represented by a particular sample taken for analysis by the Department shall not exceed 10 000 kilograms.

7. (1) Seed that is to be certified shall be packed in new bags having a nominal capacity of 50 kilograms and made either of jute or propylene threads and of a strength approved by an officer authorized to give such approval.

(2) Unless the seed certification scheme under which the seed is to be certified provides that this subitem does not apply in relation to seed to be certified under that seed certification scheme, seed that is to be certified shall be packed in double bags each of which complies with subitem (1) of this item.

(3) An officer authorized to give such approval may approve of the packing of seed for certification otherwise than in accordance with subitems (1) and (2) of this item, and seed packed in accordance with such approval is deemed to be packed in accordance with those subitems.

8. The works supervisor shall ensure that any seed packed and marked for certification is able to be positively identified as the seed to which a particular declaration such as is referred to in item 3 of this Schedule relates.

9. The works supervisor shall give to the inspector responsible for the sampling and initial analysis of seed the declaration referred to in item 3 of this Schedule that relates to that seed.

10. (1) Where sampling is to be by hand, the bags of seed to be sampled shall be in rows not more than 4 bags wide and otherwise so presented as to facilitate access by the inspector.

(2) Where sampling is to be by an automatic sampling device, it shall be operated in accordance with the directions of an officer authorized in that behalf.

11. (1) Where upon a preliminary analysis for seed content conducted at the seed processing works it appears to an inspector that the seed represented by the sample meets the seed content requirement of the relevant seed certification scheme, the bags containing the seed shall be sewn up so as to sew in the labels allocated to the seed that are provided by the inspector.

(2) In sewing up a bag and sewing in the label in accordance with subitem (1) of this item—

(a) a machine shall be used that is approved by an officer authorized to give such approval and the bag and label shall be sewn with a single line of continuous sewing with thread of an appropriate strength (a double line of sewing is not acceptable); or

(b) the bag shall be sewn up pursuant to, and in accordance with any conditions attached to, special permission given by an inspector in a particular case.

12. Markings appropriate to the seed certification scheme under which seed is to be certified shall be stamped or stencilled on the face of each bag containing seed to be certified.

13. Seed packed and marked and awaiting certification shall not be removed from the seed processing works until it is certified, except with the special permission of an inspector.

14. (1) Where seed is packed and marked and awaiting certification and the Department declines to certify the seed, the seed shall be removed from the bags in which it is packed and the labels sewn into the bags shall be returned to an inspector.

(2) Seed that is not certified shall not be sold in bags marked for the purposes of a seed certification scheme and it shall be ensured that such seed is neither expressly or impliedly represented to be certified.

15. (1) The works supervisor shall ensure that all parts of the seed processing works, including the floor, are cleaned between the processing of each quantity of seed that is to be separately certified.

(2) The works manager shall cause records to be kept, to the satisfaction of an inspector, relating to the species, cultivar, and mass of each quantity of seed that is separately analysed.
