Special LETTER CARRIER POLITICAL FUND Issue

MAPPING OUT OUR POLITICAL ACTIVITY

WHAT DOES 2022 HAVE IN STORE FOR LETTER CARRIERS?

Install the free NALC Member App

for your iPhone or Android smartphone

As technology increases our ability to communicate, NALC must stay ahead of the curve. We've now taken the next step with the NALC Member App for iPhone and Android smartphones. The app was developed with the needs of letter carriers in mind.

The app's features include:

- Workplace resources, including the National Agreement, JCAM, MRS and CCA resources
- Interactive Non-Scheduled Days calendar
- Legislative tools, including bill tracker, individualized congressional representatives and PAC information
- Instantaneous NALC news with personalized push notifications and social media access
- Much more

Go to the App Store or Google Play and search for "NALC Member App" to install for free

Restoring faith in our democracy

Fredric V. Rolando

n this issue of The Postal Record, we honor the members of NALC who contribute to the Letter Carrier Political Fund (LCPF), our political action committee (see story on page 14.) NALC uses the fund to support candidates in both parties to build bipartisan support in Washington for pro-letter carrier policies and programs. It thereby facilitates a deeper participation in our nation's nearly 250-yearold democracy. I am profoundly grateful to every member who contributes to the LCPF. Your voluntary contributions have allowed us to defend our collectivebargaining rights, to preserve our health and retirement benefits, and to protect affordable universal service through the U.S. Postal Service.

Normally, this annual rite of appreciation is also a chance to celebrate our country's democracy, our birthright as Americans. Sadly, as we go to press, much of the country is bitterly divided and fearful about the future of our democracy. A recent poll by National Public Radio found that 64 percent of Americans believe "our democracy is in crisis and at risk of failing." Some 60 percent of Americans polled by Pew Research said they are "dissatisfied with how democracy is working in the U.S." A survey by CBS found that a shocking 36 percent of Americans believe political violence "is sometimes justified," up from just 13 percent in 1995. These polls, taken one year after the attack on the U.S. Capitol on Jan. 6, 2021, reveal a deep pessimism and bitter partisan division in our country.

At the center of this division is a fundamental difference of opinion about the way we conduct elections. Half of our country believes that voting should be made easier, while the other half focuses on new restrictions they say are necessary to prevent voter fraud. Given NALC's and the labor movement's strong support for civil rights and universal vote-by-mail (with appropriate measures to ensure election integrity), there is no secret as to which side NALC has taken in this debate. But no matter where individual members come down on this issue, I think we can all agree that we cannot ignore this crisis of confidence in our democracy. We must restore a broadly held faith in our system of government and our system of voting. Americans must be able to accept the results of elections; we must see each other as fellow citizens and not enemies, no matter the results of any specific election. That is a lot easier said than done. In this moment of extreme polarization, Democratic and Republican state governments are pulling in opposite directions. Some states are making it easier to register and to vote by expanding absentee voting, poll hours and days of early voting, while others are doing the exact opposite. In reaction, Congress has spent the last year developing legislation to establish uniform standards for federal elections, as provided by the "elections clause" of the U.S. Constitution (Article I, Section 4), which states: "The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing Senators." (Emphasis added.)

Though a decentralized system of election administration makes some sense for election security, having no minimum standards for the rules for voting also feeds partisan in-fighting. In fact, in the runup to the 2020 election, many state governments sued each other over changes in election procedures in response to the pandemic—and many members of Congress joined those suits. That's crazy and dysfunctional.

We need to establish a level playing field for registering as well as for, casting and counting votes that will bolster confidence in our electoral system and promote bipartisan support for democracy. In mid-January, as this issue went to press, the House of Representatives tried to do just that. It passed the Freedom to Vote: John R. Lewis Act, which draws elements from two other bills: the Freedom to Vote Act drafted by moderate Sen. Joe Manchin (D-WV), which establishes minimum uniform standards for the conduct of elections and the drawing of congressional districts; and the John R. Lewis Act, a bill to strengthen the Voting Rights Act (VRA), a civil rights measure that has been repeatedly reauthorized since 1965 under both Republican and Democratic presidents. (In 2006, the VRA was reauthorized for 25 years by a vote of 98-0 in the Senate and signed by President George W. Bush.) In a properly functioning democracy, the Senate would debate this bill, propose and adopt amendments, and seek a bipartisan consensus. Regrettably, that is not likely to happen with today's hyperpolarization, particularly with a closely divided Senate and the routine abuse of the Senate's filibuster rules (see this space in the August 2021 issue).

As a union, NALC strives to be a unifying force for our members in our bipartisan approach to politics. We focus on the issues that unite us and work with both parties to advance our members' interests while promoting the common good. The members who make voluntary contributions give us the tools to do this important work. We are so grateful for their solidarity. Let's thank them by working together to overcome the partisan divisions facing our country. We are all in this together.

Writing notes

Philip Dine he offerings discussed at daily newsroom story meetings for the next day's newspaper or the evening broadcast are often shorthanded as two categories of fare—broccoli or dessert.

The broccoli involves news that editors deem mandatory, because the public needs to know it. Maybe unexciting, but necessary—the latest economic figures, inside political wrangling, international trade issues.

To make it palatable, sprinkled here and there is the dessert—an entertaining feature, insightful profile, riveting analysis of a breaking news event. Journalists view this as the way to get the news consumer to, well, consume the dreary fare—or, even, as the reward for doing so.

With apologies, this column falls squarely in the first category. The hope is that it will prove useful, especially to the many of you who deliver our message by writing letters to the editor or commentary pieces for your local newspapers, or by going on TV or radio to provide information on postal matters.

What follows are small thoughts on writing—not grand theories but some practical pointers.

The purpose here: to boost our mission of getting the message out. You get the little things right, avoid obvious mistakes—and two things happen.

First, your message is more effective. If you're clear, it's easier to follow. If you're efficient, you have more space/time to get across what's important. Most of all, your presentation will be taken more seriously by readers, listeners or viewers. You will have greater credibility with them if the word usage and grammar resonate with them. They have to take your postal information largely on faith because they're not familiar with the details; they're likelier to give you the benefit of the doubt if you ace the part that they may well know about.

Also, your work is likelier to get to them in the first place, i.e. get published, if it's largely error-free. Editors receive far more submissions than they can use, so they're always looking for reasons to reject a given piece. Imprecise writing or wordiness are an easy rationale. Not only does fixing them require time and work on their end, it makes them less likely to have confidence in the arguments you're making (see prior paragraph).

Here, then, are a few notions, mostly gleaned from observing the news media, some from editing this magazine.

• Do not capitalize political positions, unless the name of the office holder directly follows, whether you're talking about senators, presidents or others. So, you met with a senator; a former president attended the meeting; but Secretary of State John Smith addressed the assembly. (Exception to this rule: the Speaker of the House—lest it be confused with someone merely speaking in the House.)

- If you decide to use a word you're not used to using, look it up first. If, for example, you want to emphasize the size of a union's political efforts, don't talk about the enormity of those efforts. Enormity doesn't mean what it sounds like it means—you're describing those efforts as evil. If you don't want to look it up, stick to the usual terms: scope, breadth, reach, extent, etc.
- Seven of the 12 months, when written as part of a date, are abbreviated, as in Aug. 15. They are January, February, August, September, October, November and December. Five are written out, as in July 18; they are March, April, May, June and July. Two easy ways to remember—write out those with five letters or fewer/the five consecutive months starting with March.
- Lose unnecessary words. When possible, for example, avoid the phrase "In order to...". Rather than "In order to accomplish their objectives..." write "To accomplish their objectives..."
- Avoid redundancy. Don't say, for example, that a congressman set a new fundraising record. Can you set an old record? Similarly, before using the word different, think twice. What, for example, does it add to say that someone went to five different cities on his speaking tour or that the senator held three different elected positions prior to her current one?
- Be precise and sparing with the language. Don't say someone served in the U.S. Army; Army suffices. If someone served in the French Navy, that's when we specify the country. And don't call someone a former veteran; it makes no sense. He is a veteran. Meanwhile, we live in the United States, not in America; USPS contributes to the U.S. economy, not the American economy. Say based on, or depends on, not upon; among, not amongst; amid, not amidst. Saves space, less pretentious.

We'll return to this topic periodically. Feel free to offer your own examples; we'll try to run them.

News from Washington

Congress expected to be busy in buildup to fall elections

n January, members of Congress returned to Capitol Hill to begin the second session of the 117th Congress. During the first session, key pieces of legislation were passed, including the American Rescue Plan, which provided COVID-19 relief, and the bipartisan Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act, which is a critical part of President Joe Biden's Build Back Better agenda and which involves a $1.2 trillion investment in the nation's roads, bridges, airports, transit, rail, broadband, electric charging stations, power grid modernization and clean drinking water. The Build Back Better Act, a second key portion of the administration's agenda, passed in the House during the first session, but negotiations regarding the $1.75 trillion social spending and tax package remain ongoing in the Senate.

With the fall midterm elections looming, this is expected to be a busy season on Capitol Hill.

At the start of the second session, with the Build Back Better Act facing some roadblocks, Democratic leadership has prioritized voting rights legislation. Nineteen states have passed 34 pieces of legislation that make it more difficult to vote, including limiting voting by mail, which allowed 54 million voters to vote safely in the November 2020 election.

Legislation that protects and secures voting rights, such as the For the People Act (H.R. 1) and the John R. Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act (H.R. 4), has passed in the House but has been repeatedly blocked in the Senate by Republicans because of the filibuster, a Senate rule that requires 60 votes to advance legislation. In a 50-50 evenly divided Senate, passing this legislation would require a rule change to the filibuster. To get this legislation through Congress and to the president's desk, the Senate currently is working on a rule change that would eliminate the filibuster, which President Biden has openly supported, but to which two Democratic senators have announced their opposition.

President Biden said that even if these measures continued to fail in the Senate, he would keep fighting for voting rights. "As long as I have breath in me, as long as I'm in the White House, as long as I'm engaged at all, I'm going to be fighting [for these measures]," he said.

NALC recently partnered with the AFL-CIO and other local affiliates to encourage senators to pass this critical voting rights legislation.

Postal reform

As this issue of The Postal Record was going to print, the bipartisan Postal Service Reform Act (H.R. 3076) was being scheduled for a House floor vote. Following House passage, the Senate is expected to expedite Senate floor consideration of the measure before the legislative calendar winds down for the midterm elections in November. NALC encourages letter carriers to continue building support for the Postal Service Reform Act (H.R. 3076 and S. 1720).

White House partners with USPS to deliver at-home COVID-19 tests

In early January, the Biden Administration announced that it would partner with the Postal Service to mail free, at-home rapid COVID-19 tests to Americans in an effort to make testing accessible to families amid a shortage of testing options in communities nationwide. On Jan. 15, the administration said that four days later it would launch covidtests.gov, where each household can request up to four free tests, which would be expected to ship within 12 days. The tests will be sent through First Class Package Service, and the administration plans to prioritize distribution to communities that have limited access to testing and that also are high-risk.

Five hundred million tests were to be made available on Jan. 19, and the White House planned to procure an additional 500 million at-home tests, bringing the total number of free tests being made available to one billion. The White House also planned to launch a call-in line for households to request these tests—as this publication was going to print, the number had not yet been made public.

"The ongoing pandemic has proven beyond a shadow of doubt the critical importance of the services we provide six and seven days a week to keep people connected and essentials moving," NALC President Fredric Rolando said. "This partnership is the perfect example in action. Letter carriers are proud to be the face of this important initiative as we continue serving all communities equitably."

Postal Board of Governors selects chairman and vice chairman

On Jan. 12, the Postal Service Board of Governors (BOG) unanimously selected Roman Martinez, a Republican, to serve as chairman and Anton Hajjar, a Democrat, as vice chairman.

After the administration declined to nominate then-Chairman Ron Bloom, a Democrat, to another term in December, Vice Chairman Martinez served as acting chairman. Also in December, the administration declined to nominate Republican John Barger to another term. The administration nominated two new governors to replace Bloom and Barger; Dan Tangherlini, a Democrat, and Derek Kan, a Republican, who are both awaiting Senate consideration for confirmation.

As required by the Postal Reorganization Act, the president nominates members of the nine-member BOG, which is responsible for overseeing the executive management of the Postal Service. By law, no more than five members can be affiliated with the same political party.

NALC will continue to update letter carriers as nominations and other changes to the BOG occur.

Supreme Court rules on OSHA vaccine and testing rule

It was announced on Jan. 13, as this magazine was going to press, that the Supreme Court had blocked the Occupational Safety and Health Administration's (OSHA) Emergency Temporary Standard (ETS) on COVID-19 vaccine and testing. This rule required workers at businesses with more than 100 employees, including the Postal Service, to get vaccinated or comply with weekly testing. The rule, a push from the administration to get more Americans vaccinated, would have affected more than 80 million workers. The case reached the Supreme Court after 26 business groups and 27 Republican-led states sued to challenge the OSHA policy.

On Jan. 4, the Postal Service requested temporary variance from OSHA that would have delayed implementation of the OSHA ETS for 120 days. At press time, the Supreme Court's ruling appears to have rendered that request moot.

While the broader OSHA rule that would have affected millions of workers was blocked, the Supreme Court upheld a separate rule that requires healthcare workers at facilities that receive Medicaid and Medicare funds to get vaccinated. PR

Deadlines set for national convention

Pelegate eligibility lists for the 72nd biennial national convention in Chicago this summer are being mailed to all branches this month. The lists must be completed and returned to Secretary-Treasurer Nicole Rhine's office at NALC Headquarters no later than June 8 in order for branch representatives to be registered as delegates to the convention. The convention is set for Aug. 8-12, 2022.

All proposed amendments to the NALC Constitution to be submitted for consideration at the convention must be received by Rhine's office by June 8 as well. That date is 60 days in advance of the convention, as prescribed by the NALC Constitution. Proposed amendments will appear in July's Postal Record for the membership to review.

Resolutions to be considered by delegates also must be received by the June 8 deadline in order to be printed in the Resolutions and Amendments book provided to delegates. Resolutions received after June 8 still may be considered at the convention.

Branches wishing to sell items in the designated branch sales area during the convention must contact Rhine's office to secure guidelines and forms. The completed forms must be returned to Headquarters by June 8, as well.

Go to nalc.org for more convention news. PR

COLA: Cost-of-living adjustment

- Following the release of the December consumer price index (CPI), the fifth cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) under the 2019-2023 National Agreement is projected to be $957 annually. This COLA is based on the change in the CPI from the base index month to January 2022, with the previous four COLAs subtracted.
- The 2023 projected COLAs for the Civil Service Retirement System (CSRS) and the Federal Employees Retirement System (FERS), which are based on the CPI's increase between the third quarter of 2021 and third quarter of 2022, is 2.1 percent and will be finalized with the publication of the September 2022 CPI in October 2022.

The 2022 COLA under the Federal Employees' Compensation Act (FECA) is 7.8 percent based on the release of the December CPI. This COLA is based on the change in the CPI between December 2020 and December 2021.

Proud to Serve

Proud to Serve is a semi-regular compilation of heroic stories about letter carriers in their communities. If you know about a hero in your branch, contact us as soon as possible at 202-662-2489 or at postalrecord@nalc.org. We'll follow up with you to obtain news clippings, photos or other information.

Honoring heroic carriers

eroism, like the mail, comes in many packages—think of police officers or firefighters. But for some citizens in need of assistance, their heroes come in the form of concerned letter carriers.

Letter carriers are members of nearly every community in this nation and know when something is wrong. Spotting fires and injuries, they often are the first to respond. The following stories document their heroism. For them, delivering for America is all in a day's work.

Carrying customers out of burning house

In the spring of 2021, Charleston, WV Branch 531 member Eric Smith was driving to work when he came across a vehicle stopped in the road. "[It] was sitting with flashers on," he recalled. "I drove past it at first, and then I saw the flames."

The flames were coming from the residence nearest to the parked vehicle, and when the nine-year carrier turned his vehicle around to investigate further, he saw that the driver of the other car was going up to the house. Smith recognized him as a customer from his route, and he recognized the house, too—he knew that three people lived there.

While another passerby called 911, Smith told the other man how many people lived in the house. Smith, the first passerby and another neighbor decided to brave the smoke and flames and try to rescue the residents. "I got the front door open," Smith said, "and there were two people lying behind the door."

The man and woman had made it to the front hallway before collapsing from the smoke. "I pulled the first lady out, and she was unconscious," the carrier recalled. "You could only go in as long as you could hold your breath."

While Smith carried the woman a safe distance from the fire, another person went into the house to pull out the man. "By that time, the whole house was engulfed," Smith said. The neighbor was unable to pull out the man by himself, due to the heat and thick smoke, so Smith went back into the house. "I went in and managed to get hold of him, and I pulled him closer to the door until I had to catch a breath," he said.

Eventually, through a group effort, they were able to drag the man out of the house and begin administering CPR. At this point, "the house was pretty much coming down," Smith said. A short time later, emergency services arrived on the scene and the woman was taken to the hospital. She was the only survivor of the fire—the man they had rescued did not survive, and a third person who had been trapped upstairs also died.

"Everything happened so fast," Smith said, reflecting on his role in saving his customer. "I just did whatever it took to try and get everyone out.

"It was instincts—just try to save them," he added.

CPR training allows carrier to provide aid

On Nov. 10, 2021, Lynn, MA Branch 7

member Steven Blaney was reloading his vehicle when he saw what appeared to be an unconscious person lying on the steps of the house across the street. "I could tell that something wasn't right," the three-year carrier said, "but I thought he was just passed out." Still, he was concerned about the man's welfare, so he called 911.

Blaney told the 911 operator about the situation. He had just finished the call when he heard noises coming from across the street. Glancing over, the carrier saw that the man, now semi-awake, appeared to be trying to vomit.

Blaney quickly went over and examined the man, who was unconscious once again. "I tried to wake him, but I got no response," the carrier recalled. Even more distressing, he could see that the man didn't appear to be breathing. "His lips were blue—so was his face, his fingernails," Blaney said.

The carrier, suspecting a possible overdose, took the man off the steps, checked his pulse, and put him in the recovery position. "In college, I took an emergency responder's course and got CPR-certified," he said, so he tried to follow what he remembered of his training.

"I also called 911 back," Blaney said, "and the operator asked if I knew CPR." When the carrier said yes, the operator asked him to do chest compressions on the man. Blaney proceeded to administer CPR until paramedics arrived and took over.

The man was given Narcan, an emergency medicine to treat opioid overdose, at the scene, and was taken to the hospital. Blaney then continued with his route. The man has since recovered—"I've seen him back around," the carrier said.

As for Blaney, he said that his heroic actions resulted from gut instinct. "I thought, it doesn't seem right," he added, "the way [the man was] lying" down outside. PR

Doherty & Donelon Scholarships awarded Six children of NALC members to receive funding for college

n recognition of their academic achievements and community involvement, six children of NALC members will receive NALC memorial scholarships.

One student from each of the five geographical regions was awarded $4,000 from the William C. Doherty Scholarship Fund, and a sixth student will receive $1,000 from the John T. Donelon Scholarship. All six scholarships are renewable for three additional years.

The Doherty scholarship was founded in 1962 to honor William Doherty, NALC's president from 1941 to 1962. The winners for 2021 are:

Eastern Region: Victoria Onajobi Parent: Oluseyi Onajobi Hyattsville, MD Branch 142 Quote: "I will become part of the 5 percent of black women who hold managerial positions in engineering. I will use my position to show all the young black women what it means to persevere through circumstances designed against them. I hope by investing in myself and my education, I can invest in the future of these young black women. I hope to create affordable personalized tutoring programs and mentorships for young black women, first at my high school, then hopefully on a larger scale. Through the mentorships, I hope to provide resources, such as engineering-based internships, which would allow for opportunities to discover their future."

Northeast Region: Alan Gansky Parent: Erik Gansky New York, NY Branch 6000 Quote: "If I could do what I most wanted to do in 15 to 25 years, I would travel the world. Traveling opens the mind to new experiences. You are able to experience and interact with new people and customs. It allows you to disconnect from your daily life, the stress of work and social media. 'Twenty years from now, you will be more disappointed by the things you didn't do than by the ones you did do.' Mark Twain describes my urge to travel the world the best. I would love to create lifetime memories, one country at a time."

Southern Region: Jackson Thomas Gentry

Parent: James Gentry Rock Hill, SC Branch 1003 Quote: "My mother has been the most influential person in my life. She was severely sick as far as I can remember, but she still cared for me and loved me with all her strength until she passed away in January of 2019. As I grew up, I also helped her and cared for her and we shared an incredible bond. ... However, seeing her suffer and struggle with chronic illness has fueled my passion for helping others and studying harder in the science of biology in order to help me achieve my mission in life. My mother instilled in me faith, compassion, determination, and a strong and dedicated work ethic, which has served me well in my education and in life."

Central Region: Andrew Momsen Parent: Eric Momsen Oshkosh, WI Branch 173 Quote: "My dad has always believed in me and supported me. He has always encouraged me to do my best. … He has gone with me on every camping outing with [the] Boy Scouts. He even sleeps on the ground in a tent and gets up extra early to get to the post office. Whenever I feel like anything is too much work to accomplish, I think of my dad. He gets up five to six days a week to deliver mail. He walks 13-16 miles a day, often six days a week. He works harder than an Olympic athlete, never having an 'off season' to rest. ... He is always heading to work with a cheerful attitude, even when his body is sore and tired. Due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, the NALC Scholarship Committee—composed of Chairwoman Sandy Laemmel, Detroit, Michigan Branch 1; Kimetra Lewis, Dallas, Texas Branch 132; and Lawrence Kania, Buffalo-Western New York Branch 3—continued using the remote communication tools that had allowed them to safely fulfill their roles during the 2020 selection process. However, the evolving nature of the pandemic did cause a delayed timeline for the 2021 selection process.

"Normally, we would have made our decision in mid-March [of 2021]," Laemmel said. "However, because everything was pushed back, we did not begin until July. We did work virtually through October, but everything was delayed six months because of the pandemic."

The Scholarship Committee reviewed each application independently and then sent them by region to the next committee member for review. As with the 2020 application process, the Scholarship Committee used the Postal Service to ship applications between committee members and to send their evaluations to NALC Headquarters.

The applications were then sent to judges with educational backgrounds for the final round of evaluation. The judges for 2021 were Dr. Georgia Booker, retired director, Office of Guidance Counseling Services for District of Columbia Public Schools; James B. Massey Jr., director, Office of Undergraduate Admissions at the University of Maryland; and Dale E. Bittinger, assistant vice provost for Undergraduate Admissions, Orientation and School Partnerships at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

"I met with the judges on Dec. 13 to go over the applications from each region, their selections and their reasoning for why they made the selection," Laemmel said.

The Committee reviewed and evaluated the applications for the scholarships and discussed problems and potential problems with the program, along with possible solutions.

The committee issued the following report:

"This is the 59th anniversary of the founding of the William C. Doherty Scholarship program and the 18th anniversary of the John T. Donelon Scholarship.

For purposes of this scholarship program, the country is divided into five geographic regions. Under the procedure, eliminations were made to reach the allowed figure of five scholarships—one to each of the five regions. At present, each Doherty scholarship is valued at $16,000, which represents $4,000 annually, for four consecutive years. The John T. Donelon scholarship provides for one scholarship of $1,000 annually, for four consecutive years.

Since the beginning, our program has aided hundreds children of letter carriers in their pursuit of higher education. We strongly urge the parents of high school seniors to watch the July through December 2022 issues of The Postal Record for 2022 scholarship applications, which will be printed only in those issues. They are also available on the NALC website, nalc.org.

It is essential that applications be complete and all submissions made timely. The Committee emphasizes the necessity of answering all questions on the required forms and providing all the information requested prior to the dead-line date. We would like to stress the importance of applicants' demonstrating diversity in extracurricular activities, sports, leadership, elective office and work experience, as well as scholastic excellence. Applicants are rated on all of the above areas.

The committee appreciates the co-operation of the various branches and state associations and encourages them to continue to publicize the scholarship program. We appreciate the contributions from our members who generously support the scholarship program. The value of a college education to our upcoming young men and women is incalculable. With the continuing increase in the cost of college, we urge each of our members to make a contribution to the Doherty Scholarship fund. Any contribution will help to keep this worthy program as strong and effective as we can make it. (The Donelon Scholarship is funded by a separate trust fund.)

The participation of President Fredric Rolando, Secretary-Treasurer Nicole Rhine, and other resident officers and staff was an invaluable contribution to this committee's work.

Our thanks to this year's judges— Dr. Georgia Booker, retired director, Office of Guidance Counseling Services, District of Columbia Public Schools; James B. Massey Jr., director, Office of Undergraduate Admissions, University of Maryland; and Dale E. Bittinger, assistant vice provost for undergraduate admissions, Orientation and School Partnerships at University of Maryland, Baltimore County—who assisted in performing the assessment of applicants and making the final selections. We wish to express our deepest appreciation to these very outstanding educators for their assistance to the NALC Scholarship Committee and the NALC.

As it has for the past decade, the committee accepted ACT test scores along with SAT scores. The scholarship committee used information provided by Dr. Jeff Schiel of the Statistical Research Department, Research Division, ACT Regional Office, to correlate the ACT and SAT scores to provide a fair evaluation for the scholarship selections.

We sincerely express our appreciation for this opportunity to serve the NALC membership in administering this program." PR

President Rolando appoints two RAAs

President Rolando has appointed two new regional administrative assistants (RAAs).

Larrissa Parde is a new RAA for Region 5 (Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas). She fills a vacancy left by David Teegarden of Kansas City, MO Branch 30, who became the national business agent (NBA) for the region last month. Parde began her letter carrier career in 1999 and joined Lincoln, NE Branch 8. She served her branch in several roles, including steward and OWCP representative, and then was elected branch vice president in 2011. In 2013, Parde became branch president, a position she held until Rolando appointed her a regional workers compensation assistant (RWCA) in 2018.

Parde also served as director of education for the Nebraska State Association and, from 2015 to 2018, as state association president. She graduated from Leadership Academy in 2011.

President Rolando appointed Ronnie Roush of Carmel, IN Branch 888 as an RAA for Kentucky-Indiana-Michigan Region 6. He stepped in to fill the vacancy created when Rolando appointed Louisville, KY Branch 14 member David Mudd as Region 6 NBA last month.

After working briefly as a rural carrier in the Cincinnati, OH, area, Roush took a job as a city carrier in Carmel in 2007. He has served his branch in several roles, including route adjustment team member, Food Drive and Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) coordinator, Letter Carrier Political Fund (LCPF) coordinator and branch secretary. He was elected president of his branch in 2015. Roush also has served as an arbitration advocate, full-time backup Step B team member, letter carrier congressional liaison (LCCL) and Indiana State Association executive board member.

Roush graduated from Leadership Academy in 2016. PR etter carriers serve their communities every day, six or even seven days a week, just by doing their jobs, but their commitment to service extends far beyond delivering their mail routes. NALC's long-time commitment to community service is evident at every level, from the letter carriers who organize and participate in numerous local charitable events to the coordinated efforts by NALC Headquarters that help the collective efforts of letter carriers have a strong, consistent impact on the national level.

NALC considers community service to be part of its mission. Community service efforts are integrated into NALC's leadership and communication efforts at all levels, with ambitious goals and strong support.

Brothers and sisters, come together and make 2022 a year to remember. Help your communities and your neighbors.

2022 Stamp Out Hunger Food Drive

A decision has not yet made on whether to hold the 2022 food drive on the second Saturday in May; however, in the meantime, the online donor drive will continue. I want all branches to put emphasis into both, because those in need benefit greatly from these letter carrier programs. The hope is that conditions will be safe enough for the traditional drive, with residents leaving bags of food by their mailboxes for letter carriers to collect as they deliver the mail. However, branch presidents can register for the 2022 food drive online. After logging into the Members Only portal, branch presidents should click on the Stamp Out Hunger Food Drive logo to get to the registration area.

2022 MDA national campaigns

On Oct. 8, 2022, Team NALC will be running the Tough Mudder 5K in Budds Creek Motocross Park, located at 27963 Budds Creek Road, Mechanicsville, MD.

All proceeds will go to the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) as we work to deliver the cure and transform the lives of people affected by muscular dystrophy, ALS and related neuromuscular diseases.

NALC/MDA gift bags

You also can still purchase the NALC/MDA gift bags for $100. I will be adding a new MDA/NALC lanyard to the bag. Remember, it is first come, first serve, and all proceeds from every purchase will help children and adults in the MDA community and support innovative research to change the future for people with neuromuscular diseases.

The second seco

"As a child, I was always into radio," Barna, a carrier technician and member of Western Massachusetts Branch 46, said. "I would play disk jockey." He used wireless intercoms and walkietalkies to pretend he was on the radio. He liked to listen to shortwave and AM radio broadcasts, which can travel from long distances. When the movie "Smoky and the Bandit" made CB radio popular, he communicated with other radio users that way.

Barna later worked as a real disc jockey on his college radio station at Westfield State University in Westfield, MA, and then for commercial station WARE-AM in Ware, MA. After working at an insurance company for years, he joined the Postal Service as a city carrier assistant (CCA) in 2018, becoming a career carrier the next year. He keeps his radio equipment at his home in South Hadley, MA, where he lives with his wife, Marcia.

Barna took up ham radio to keep in touch with a friend. "My best friend, who had been a ham since college, was in the Air Force. He was being stationed to Germany, and we thought ham radio would be a good way to keep in touch with each other," he said. After gathering some radio equipment, learning to use it and passing an exam, Barna received his amateur radio license from the Federal Communications Commission in 1989. He's enjoyed the hobby ever since.

There are certain rules and regulations that hams must follow to broadcast on the radio frequencies made available to amateur operators, such as identifying themselves with their call sign (Barna's is W1HYN) whenever they make contact or sign off.

Barna keeps it simple when explaining the radio equipment he owns and how he uses, it by avoiding technical talk. "It's kind of like the post office," he said. "There's a lot of jargon and a lot of acronyms.

"I have radios I can use to communicate locally as well as worldwide," Barna explained. "I communicate with hams all over the world." The radios that reach long distances use radio frequencies that can travel farther without interference, allowing him to reach other radio operators anywhere.

Some operators have high-powered radios and large antennas, but Barna makes do with simple equipment. He has a wire antenna strung from his house to a tree. "It's a very modest antenna—it cost me under $100," he said. "Antennas are a funny thing. You can spend as much as you want on an antenna or as little as you want. I work with relatively lower power— my maximum is 100 watts.

"With my 100-watt radio and that antenna, I probably don't do as well as the high-powered people," he added, "but I can certainly communicate with stations worldwide with that setup."

Amateur radio operators have used the airwaves since the invention of radio transmission at the turn of the 19th Century, and they have played a pivotal role in its development. By 1912, the airwaves were becoming crowded, so Congress passed the Radio Act to require licenses for operators. Hams use certain radio frequencies reserved for amateurs. Today there are nearly 780,000 licensed amateur radio operators in the United States, and nearly as many in the rest of the world.

The origin of the term "ham" is uncertain. The prevailing theory is that it was an insult by professional radio operators who resented the intrusion of the airwaves by amateurs—who in turn adopted the name with pride. It also might derive from "am," short for "amateur."

Ham operators often participate in conversations they call "rag chews" discussions with another operator that usually evolve around, not surprisingly, ham radio. "It's generally about your equipment, the contacts you've made," Barna said.

Then there are "roundtable" conversations with multiple operators. "There will be maybe a half a dozen or a dozen hams, or more, who will all be talking in turn," Barna said.

There is a custom regarding ham radio talk that keeps operators from all over the world united, Barna said: "One thing, I think it's universal because we talk with people all over the world, is politics are never mentioned." Ham operators avoid political talk with people in other countries to avoid conflict, he noted. "Even if you're in the United States, Republican, Democrat—politics are 100 percent not talked about. It's one of the unwritten rules."

Aside from talk, ham radio operators like to see whom they can reach, how far away, in which places or how many contacts they can make with others, all of it kept in their logbooks. Ham radio organizations sometimes sponsor contests, to see who can make the most contacts.

"You might exchange your call sign, your location, and then you move on," Barna said. "The objective is to make as many contacts as you can, as far away as you can, in different areas."

Ham operators often confirm contacts by mailing each other "QSL cards." The cards, named for the radio code that means "acknowledge receipt," are unique to each operator. Like other hams, Barna has a card he sends on request and a collection of cards that others have sent to him from all over the world. Ham operators may get awards from radio organizations for completing certain collections, such as receiving a card from each of the 50 states.

Q codes were invented as shorthand in the early days of radio when Morse code was the only way to communicate. The first voice transmission over radio occurred in 1906 and Morse slowly became obsolete. Barna doesn't transmit by Morse code, but some ham operators still use it. Most send and receive voice signals, though digital communication through a keyboard a process Barna sometimes uses—is becoming more popular.

Hams do more than chat—they work with weather and emergency authorities to provide communication, especially during disasters when other communication channels are out of service. "Amateur radio is very community-minded," Barna said.

With a small investment in equipment, a little instruction and an exam to obtain a license, anyone can become a ham. Veteran radio operators help new ones take up the hobby by holding classes, and even administering the exams required to obtain a license, through the American Radio Relay League (arrl.org).

"It's easier than ever to get your ham radio license now," he said.

Barna spends many hours on the radio, day or night, but he says his wife doesn't mind, because, as he explains, "One of amateur radio's credos is that our hobby should complement, not take away from, our familial responsibilities. Everything in balance—good advice for any hobby!" PR

MAPPING OUT OUR POLITICAL ACTIVITY WHAT DOES 2022 HAVE IN STORE FOR LETTER CARRIERS?

s letter carriers map out what is in store for 2022, it is important to take inventory of the significant events that are expected to shape the November midterm elections. As this article was going to press, the Postal Service Reform Act (H.R. 3076) was being scheduled for action on the House floor, which is encouraging; however, the outcome of that bill will not change the larger political landscape that will affect the 2022 midterms.

CHALLENGING TIMES FOR THE COUNTRY

For two years, a pandemic has gripped the country, affected our economy, redefined work for many of our customers, upended the nation's education system, shone a light on childcare inequity and healthcare, and magnified the racial and economic disparities in this country.

The violent insurrection at the Capitol just over a year ago has changed the institution of Congress, leaving distrust and vitriol on display for the world to see. Many congressional offices and the Capitol as a whole continue to have restricted access, increased security, and, with COVID-19 continuing to surge, limited in-person meetings and gatherings. These factors, coupled with redistricting efforts because of the 2020 census, have changed the competitiveness of several House districts as maps are redrawn and, as we've seen, have sparked a surge in announced retirements. Candidates on the fringes of each party talk of primarying members of Congress on both sides of the aisle who are deemed 'not progressive/conservative enough.' Many of the retirements involve longtime friends of letter carriers and the Letter Carrier Political Fund.

As this issue was going to press, six senators (five Republicans and one Democrat) and 41 House representatives (13 Republicans and 28 Democrats) have announced their retirements. Some are seeking higher office, while others have decided that they cannot win in their newly redrawn districts. But for many, the tension between parties and leadership as well as dwindling bipartisanship and overall lack of unity, coupled with the time and resources it takes to hold on to a competitive seat, have made serving in Congress less appealing.

"In Congress, I've witnessed how division is heavily rooted," retiring Rep. Adam Kinzinger (R-IL) said. "There is little to no desire to bridge our differences, and unity is a word we no longer use."

Kinzinger's sentiments ring true for many outgoing lawmakers. The divisions continue to grow as each side clings to its priorities, few of which seem to have a middle ground or seek to address the sharp divisions.

PARTY DYNAMICS AND PRIORITIES

Democrats are scrambling to advance the next phase of President Biden's Build Back Better agenda, which aims to tackle climate change, childcare, healthcare and education among many other matters. They also are seeking to advance federal legislation aimed at protecting voting rights, as 19 states have enacted voting laws that make it more difficult to vote. NALC, along with the AFL-CIO, participated in a coordinated effort to advance legislation in the Senate (see story, page 4).

State legislatures will continue to consider bills to restrict or protect voting rights, which will affect voter access and voter attitudes toward the parties in a midterm election where the stakes are high for the Democrats, who currently control the House and Senate by very narrow margins, and for the Republicans, who seek to gain control of those chambers.

In the Senate, there is a 50-50 split, with Vice President Kamala Harris providing a tie-breaking vote when needed. This puts the Senate under Democratic control, though under the filibuster rules, 60 votes are required in the Senate to advance most legislation. The Build Back Better agenda has been advanced by using a "reconciliation" measure, which requires only a simple majority. However, two Democratic senators have opposed the Build Back Better legislation, bringing the Senate to a standstill on the Build Back Better agenda and leaving the chamber largely focused on advancing nominations.

In the House, the 221-212 split (with two current vacancies) means that to achieve a 218 majority vote, Democrats cannot afford to lose more than three votes on any given measure, unless there is Republican support to offset those votes.

Republicans continue to warn of massive spending contained in several COVID-relief and response measures, citing a $193 trillion deficit as of November 2021, according to the Bipartisan Policy Center. Republican lawmakers point to inflation, high spending, rising taxes, and elimination of tax loopholes for the wealthiest, which together have driven GOP opposition to Biden administration priorities. As a result, legislation to reauthorize defense spending and traditional infrastructure investment, both of which are traditionally supported by both parties, were marred by partisanship and resistance. In fact, 12 House Republicans have received death threats in their districts for supporting federal investment in roads, bridges, water, rail and aviation, simply because infrastructure was tied to the Biden Build Back Better agenda.

For a variety of reasons, congressional compromise and comity are at a low point, making it more difficult for legislators to reach agreement on how best to act in the public good.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN FOR LETTER CARRIERS?

The news is not all bad. NALC members have been at the center of our economy, and that has not gone unnoticed. Two years of delivering to Americans during the pandemic so they can shelter safely at home or avoid shopping if they prefer, as well as the successful performance during both the 2020 elections and the recent holiday season, have put a spotlight on the positive role of letter carriers and the Postal Service. Maintaining a strong Postal Service continues to enjoy strong public support.

Letter carriers possess resolve, grit and determination, as we demonstrate daily on our routes and in our communities. Now, we need to once again apply that grit and determination to preserve and build our voice in Congress. NALC will remain in the center of the conversation pushing for legislation and policies that serve our members, however the elections turn out. That means engaging and finding a middle ground with every member of Congress we can.

The Letter Carrier Political Fund (LCPF) is how we do just that. It is our safe place to fight for collective bargaining, worker protections, a strong Postal Service, and health and retirement benefits that attract and retain more letter carriers to public service. It is our voice in Washington and our strength in every congressional district. LCPF puts letter carriers' agenda front and center on the map. It makes it possible for federal candidates and incumbents to not only hear us, but to see us. As one of the top labor political action committees in the country, LCPF is invaluable, and its continued growth is paramount.

"As we continue to navigate the everchanging, ever-challenging landscape, I thank every single member who has given to the Letter Carrier Political Fund," NALC President Fredric Rolando said. "This year, I challenge our generous supporters to not only keep giving but to bring someone else in to do so. Whether it is someone who is passionate about the union, the contract, or politics—bring them in. We have a big umbrella and in unity we can weather any storm." PR

THE LETTER CARRIER POLITICAL FUND Supporting those who support letter carriers

he Letter Carrier Political Fund (LCPF) is NALC's political action committee (PAC). Using funds donated voluntarily by NALC members and their families, LCPF supports letter carrier-friendly candidates. LCPF has a long history of supporting candidates in both parties, as well as independents, who support us and our issues. It is one of our strongest tools for defending our rights and protecting our jobs in the legislative and political arena, where elected representatives can affect letter carrier jobs and the Postal Service, both now and in the future.

Campaign fundraising and PACs are heavily regulated by federal law. Union dues cannot be used for political campaign contributions, so LCPF relies solely on voluntary contributions from our members. Thanks to LCPF, whenever Congress makes decisions affecting letter carriers' lives, we are more likely to have a voice in those decisions.

Using these collective funds, NALC can amplify our message on Capitol Hill, promote our priorities and identify those who will champion letter carrier issues in Congress. LCPF sends a strong message to lawmakers seeking reelection and candidates looking to join the halls of Congress: we support those who support us, regardless of political party. Those who seek to destroy our rights or dismantle our employer need not apply.

LCPF's activities make our grassroots activism far more effective. NALC keeps members informed about the issues and helps them connect with their representatives in the House and Senate to voice our concerns. Led by five legislative and political organizers (LPOs) at LETTER CARRIER POLITICAL FUND the regional level and hundreds of letter carrier congressional liaisons (LCCLs) who keep an eye on individual members of Congress, the grassroots program gets results because LCPF sets the stage. Thanks to LCPF, legislators listen to letter carriers.

DELIVERING NALC'S MESSAGE TO WASHINGTON

"Letter carriers who call, write or meet with lawmakers educate them about the unmatched services we provide," NALC President Fredric Rolando said. "The lawmakers learn about our daily acts of heroism and humanitarianism on our routes in their communities. They learn that what is good for the Postal Service and its employees is good for their constituents, good for the economy, good for democracy and good for the American people as a whole."

This year brings another crucial national election with high stakes. The balance of power in both chambers of Congress is up for grabs, and the elections have enormous consequences for letter carriers and all workers.

"We need every NALC member to come together in support of LCPF and our grassroots activism," Rolando said. "Congress controls the Postal Service, our benefits and our collective-bargaining rights, and we cannot afford not to be totally committed to our legislative and political program. If everyone pitches in, even just a little, our strength is unmatched."

HOW LCPF WORKS

LCPF builds NALC's clout on Capitol Hill in various ways. It provides direct support to candidates' campaigns, giving them resources they need to communicate with voters, and it devotes resources to working on get-out-the-vote efforts. This vital effort involves direct memberengagement through coordinated work with our brothers and sisters in the labor movement, LCPF also offers communications, education and regular outreach throughout the election cycle to our members so they are well-informed about everything regarding their states, such as voter registration, early voting, absentee and voting by mail, candidates, issues and policies.

The Center for Responsive Politics estimates that $14 billion was spent in 2020 on federal political campaigns, including the presidential race. It takes a good deal of money for a candidate to campaign for office, and the composition of any given candidate's financial backers can be very broad and contain a wide range of issues on which they want support. They can range from labor unions to environmental groups, from defense contractors to health care companies, from agricultural interests to billionaires with pet projects. Many of these people and organizations have very deep pockets and are difficult to compete with. LCPF is a small yet effective piece of the puzzle and ensures that letter carriers are at the table, as opposed to being on the menu. To be there, we need to rely on our power in numbers, and we need all of our members there with us to make a difference.

HOW TO SUPPORT LCPF

The easiest way to support LCPF is to sign up for automatic withdrawal of a small amount from your paycheck each pay period through PostalEASE.

"Most of our supporters use automatic payroll deductions, and it works well for them and for the Political Fund," Rolando said. "It spaces the total donation across the year, and it gives LCPF a steady source of income and the ability to plan how to best use the funds."

Both career carriers and city carrier assistants (CCAs) may sign up for LCPF donations through payroll deduction. CCAs must sign up again following a five-day break in service, and former CCAs who have converted to career status must sign up again following their conversion.

Active or retired letter carriers also can easily arrange for automatic deductions from a bank account, or for retired carriers, from their annuities. NALC members have the option of making one-time contributions, or supplementing their automatic donations, by writing a check to the Letter Carrier Political Fund.

EVERY DONATION MATTERS

Listed in this issue are the 2021 donors to LCPF. The list is sorted first by state, then branch, then alphabetically. Each state and branch is shown with the percentage of NALC members who donated and the average donation amount.

In this list, the total amount given by a donor last year, including automatic deductions and any additional one-time donations, is listed with each donor's name.

To sign up or get more information on how to donate, visit nalc.org/pac, or use the forms found on the following pages.

"I ask that every letter carrier add his or her name to the list of LCPF supporters," President Rolando said. "Our strength is in our numbers, and the sky is the limit for what we can achieve in Washington, DC, if everyone participates. LCPF stands up for our jobs, our employer and our rights—it needs to have as much support as we can give it." PR

By making a contribution to the Letter Carrier Political Fund, you are doing so voluntarily with the understanding that your contribution is not a condition of membership in the National Association of Letter Carriers or of employment by the Postal Service, nor is it part of union dues. You have a right to refuse to contribute without any reprisal. The Letter Carrier Political Fund will use the money it receives to contribute to candidates for federal office and undertake other political spending as permitted by law. Your selection shall remain in full force and effect until canceled. Contributions to the Letter Carrier Political Fund are not deductible for federal income tax purposes. Federal law prohibits the Letter Carrier Political Fund from soliciting contributions from individuals who are not NALC members, executive and administrative staff or their families. Any contribution received from such an individual will be refunded to that contributor. Federal law requires us to use our best efforts to collect and report the name, mailing address, occupation and name of employer of individuals whose contributions exceed $200 per calendar year. Any guideline amount is merely a suggestion, and an individual is free to contribute more or less than the guideline suggests and the union will not favor or disadvantage anyone by reason of the amount of his or her contribution or decision not to contribute.

Honor Roll

NALC recognizes its brothers and sisters for their long-term membership

NALC members who have completed 50 years of membership in NALC are awarded a Life Membership Gold Card that entitles them to all privileges of membership in NALC without payment of dues. To receive a gold card and 50-year lapel pin, the branch secretary must write to the NALC secretary-treasurer and request the award for the member. This is in accordance with Article 2, Section 5 (a) of the NALC Constitution.

branch requests for lapel pins. Accordingly, the secretary-treasurer's office can only provide suitable lapel pins "when receiving proper notification by the Branch Secretary" in the year when a member is to complete the following number of years as a member: 25 years, 30 years, 35 years, 40 years, 45 years, 50 years, 55 years, 60 years and 65 years. Special plaques are available for members who complete 70 years and 75 years. This is also per Article 2 of the NALC Constitution.

All requests must come from the branch secretary. Longtime members are encouraged to inform their branches when they reach a longevity benchmark.

Ernest V. Ferguson

Wisconsin

This is official notice to all members of the Wisconsin State Association of Letter Carriers that on May 20 and 21, nominations and election of the following officers/executive board members will take place at the state convention being held in Pewaukee: president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, director of retirees and five executive board members (one from each of the four districts; the fifth board member is from the state at large and will serve as director of communications). The terms for all offices will be two years.

There will also be the nomination and election of two alternate delegatesat-large for the 2022 national convention, to be held in Chicago, IL.

All nominations will come from the convention floor on May 20, and the election will take place on May 21. The installation of officers shall be immediately preceding the close of the convention.

Robert D. Ahnen, Sec., WSALC

The Constitution for Government of Federal and Subordinate Branches requires that notice be mailed to members no fewer than 45 days before the election (Article 5, Section 4). Branch secretaries must remember the time difference between deadline for submission of noticesthe 10th of the month-and publication of the subsequent issue of the magazine, e.g., February's deadline is for the March publication.

How to place a Mutual Exchange ad

The cost of Mutual Exchange ads is $15 for up to 30 words and $25 for 31-50 words per month.

Ads must be received by the 5th of the month preceding the month in which the ad will appear, e.g., February's deadline is for the March publication. Mail ad with check (payable to NALC) to: Mutual Exchange Ads, Postal Record, 100 Indiana Ave. NW, Washington, DC 20001-2144.

Ads are published for NALC members only. A branch officer or steward must endorse the ad to certify membership. Ads without endorsements will be returned.

Extra Ph

Include your name, address and branch number. Ads must be received in the same format and wording as they will appear in the magazine. Begin each ad with your state abbreviation, city and seniority date.

Ads should be typed in upper/lower case (or, if this is not possible, printed clearly) on a full sheet of 8.5 x 11" paper. Make certain the numerals o (zero) and 1 (one) can be distinguished from the letters O and l in e-mail addresses.

Note: Specific route information or mention of three-way transfers will not be published, nor any wording that offers cash or property to facilitate an exchange. Mutual exchanges must be approved by both postmasters involved. Seniority of carriers involved shall be governed by Article 41, Sec. 2E of the National Agreement. Carriers may not exchange assignments, since vacated positions must be posted for bids in accordance with local and national agreements.

Help your NALC family affected by natural disasters

The NALC Disaster Relief Foundation provides hands-on relief for carriers affected by natural disasters, such as wildfires, hurricanes, floods and tornados. It receives donations to be used to assist regular NALC members affected by natural disasters.

NALC response teams throughout the country are activated to go to disaster locations and offer assistance to NALC members and their families who live in the same household. Basic supplies, including uniforms and food, are available for those who need assistance.

Financial support may be available depending on the availability of funding and qualifying criterias. Any regular member of NALC who has faced hardship as a result of a natural disaster will be able to apply for assistance.

Make a donation by sending a check or money order to:

NALC Disaster Relief Foundation 100 Indiana Ave. NW Washington, DC 20001-2144

The foundation is a 501(c)(3). Your contribution to the NALC Disaster Relief Foundation may be eligible for a tax deduction. It is recommended you seek further advice from your tax advisor.
