Making a Gift to NewYork-Presbyterian

More than a decade has passed since NewYork-Presbyterian was created through the merger of the New York and Presbyterian Hospitals. When we look back to measure our progress, we are proud of the extraordinary growth and achievements the Hospital has made in many arenas – advances in medicine, establishment of new clinical programs and patient-centered services, and expansion of facilities to meet the ever-growing needs of our patients and their families.

A Defining Decade highlights some of the innovative initiatives NewYork-Presbyterian has launched during the last 10 years and the patients who have benefited from them. And while many circumstances have changed throughout these years, certain standards remained constant: our unwavering focus on quality care, our compassionate staff who truly put their patients first, and our commitment to the communities we serve to ensure their health and well-being.

Leadership Message

John J. Mack
Chairman
Herbert Pardes, M.D.
President and Chief Executive Officer

Time flies. Here at NewYork-Presbyterian we forge ahead day by day, week by week, year in and year out to make this a great hospital for our patients and their families. Only occasionally do we pause to look back and then it is largely to measure our progress. At the same time, we cannot help but note that a decade has passed since we were created by the merger of the New York and Presbyterian Hospitals. Where did the time go? More importantly, how well have we used it?

At that time, there were a number of similar mergers in the country that had failed, and many questions surrounding our own. Could we continue to strengthen the two medical centers while blending them into one hospital, and could we make that hospital a national and international leader? Could we take what some people thought at the time was a stressed and brittle institutional culture and transform it into a culture of service, compassion, and empathy? We knew we were big and intended to get bigger. Could we also become very good and establish ourselves as a high performing organization, functioning at the highest standards of excellence, quality, efficiency, and compassion?

We could and we did. By any measure you choose to select, the progress of NewYork-Presbyterian over the past 10 years has been extraordinary. We have grown from just over 90,000 inpatient hospitalizations in 2000 to over 114,000 in 2009. Our revenues over the same period grew from $1.8 billion to $3.2 billion.

Our average case mix went from 1.73 to 2.07. This means that we are taking on ever more complex and difficult medical challenges. We have become the largest transplant program in the country. We have become a leader in minimally invasive surgery, robotic surgery for prostate cancer and gall bladder removal, for multi-unrelated donor kidney transplants, heart valve repair, brain and orthopedic surgery, gene therapy, stroke treatment, multi-viscera transplants, pediatric heart disease, neonatal intensive care, high risk pregnancies, in vitro fertilization, and many more.

Over the past 10 years, NewYork-Presbyterian has named several outstanding physicians to direct the Hospital's clinical departments. At NewYork-Presbyterian/Columbia, we welcomed Mitchell C. Benson, M.D., Chief of the Department of Urology; Mary D'Alton, M.D., Chief of Obstetrics and Gynecology; Donald W. Landry, M.D., Ph.D., Chief of Medicine; Jeffrey A. Lieberman, M.D., Chief of Psychiatry; Lawrence H. Schwartz, M.D., Radiologist-in-Chief, and Craig R. Smith, M.D., Surgeon-in-Chief; and at Morgan Stanley Children's Hospital, Lawrence R. Stanberry M.D., Ph.D., Pediatrician-in-Chief, and Charles L. Stolar, M.D., Surgeon-in-Chief.

Providing new leadership at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell are Frank A. Chervenak, M.D., Obstetrics and Gynecology; Donald J. D'Amico, M.D., Chief of Ophthalmology; Matthew E. Fink, M.D., Neurology;

Vice Chairs of the Board of Trustees: Jerry I. Speyer, Frank A. Bennack Jr., Charlotte M. Ford, and Peter A. Georgescu

Gerald M. Loughlin, M.D., Pediatrician-in-Chief, Phyllis and David Komansky Center for Children’s Health; Fabrizio Michelassi, M.D., Surgeon-in-Chief; Robert J. Min, M.D., Radiologist-in-Chief; Peter N. Schlegel, M.D., Urologist-in-Chief; Andrew I. Schafer, M.D., Chief of Medicine; Thomas P. Sculco, M.D., Surgeon-in-Chief, Hospital for Special Surgery; Michael G. Stewart, M.D., Chief of Otorhinolaryngology; and Philip E. Stieg, Ph.D., M.D., Neurosurgeon-in-Chief.

K. S. Clifford Chao, M.D., was named Chief of the new Combined Program in Radiation Oncology at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital, and Joel Stein, M.D., joined us as Chief of the Hospital’s Combined Program in Rehabilitation Medicine.

And while the best doctors, the latest robots, and the new buildings are all important, to be a truly great institution we needed to strengthen quality, safety, and patient and employee satisfaction through cooperation, communication, and teamwork. And we did. We have made this a safer hospital with significant improvements in quality. Our nationally reported outcomes for heart attack, heart failure, and pneumonia are among the best in the country. We have pioneered innovations to improve quality – our Patient Safety Fridays and House Staff Quality Councils are nationally recognized Best Practices that are being adopted by other institutions nationwide.

We have made this a warmer, more friendly, more compassionate hospital as evidenced by major increases in our measured patient satisfaction scores. Staff turnover has gone down by almost half over the decade, and employee satisfaction as measured by a large nationwide survey is the highest of any teaching hospital surveyed.

We have one of the most diverse patient populations in the country, perhaps the world. We have become a national leader in medical interpreting, providing over 240,000

The Joint Commission accredits NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital as a single institution.

2001

The Beverly and Arthur Shorin Comprehensive Outpatient Transplant Center opens at NewYork-Presbyterian/Columbia for patients needing transplant.

NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell is selected as the only site for a clinical trial of a vaccine designed to fight multiple myeloma.

2002

The New York Brain Tumor Project is launched at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell to investigate promising new treatments for brain cancer.

A study by the Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center at NewYork-Presbyterian/Columbia confirms that tamoxifen is beneficial for women who are at “very high risk” for breast cancer.

2003

In collaboration with the NewYork-Presbyterian Healthcare System, the Hospital inaugurates NYPSTAT – a 24/7 hospital-to-hospital patient access and transfer service.

2004

NewYork-Presbyterian launches To Realize Medicine’s Promise – a $1 billion capital campaign – under the leadership of Jerry I. Speyer, Hospital trustee and Campaign Chair.

2005

NewYork-Presbyterian/Columbia is the first hospital in the greater New York City area to offer vagus nerve stimulation therapy for treatment-resistant depression.

A surgical option for breast cancer patients combines removal of the cancerous tumor with breast reduction in a procedure pioneered by NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell surgeons.

2006

NewYork-Presbyterian is awarded Stroke Center designation from the New York State Department of Health recognizing the Hospital for providing rapid, quality care and treatment advances.

2007

The American College of Surgeons accredits NewYork-Presbyterian as a Center of Excellence for Obesity Surgery and designates the Hospital as a top-rated 1A facility – the first such honor given in the United States.

2008

NewYork-Presbyterian is listed as one of the country’s Best Workplaces for Information Technology based on a survey by Computerworld magazine.

2009

NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital introduces a new electronic personal health record – myNYP.org – enabling patients to access their medical information wherever and whenever they need it.

2010

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) honors the Hospital with an ENERGY STAR Partner of the Year Award for Sustained Excellence in Energy Management, the energy program’s highest honor.

In Memoriam

NewYork-Presbyterian mourns the loss of the following members of our medical staff:

David V. Becker, M.D.

Fred Plum, M.D.

Desiree Pardi, M.D., Ph.D.

We were also deeply saddened by the passing of several members of the Hospital's Board of Trustees in 2009 and 2010:

As Chairman Emeritus and Life Trustee of NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital, John F. McGillicuddy made lasting contributions toward improving patient care and securing the future of our Hospital for many years to come. Critical to the success of the 1998 merger that created NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital, he generously supported the Hospital's modernization, helping to realize the construction of the Greenberg Pavilion at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell.

Life Trustee Kenneth H. Hannan was elected to New York Hospital's Board of Governors in 1957 and served as President of that Board from 1966 to 1974. One of our most enthusiastic supporters, Mr. Hannan made numerous contributions to ensure the health of the Hospital and our patients.

Marilyn Laurie served on the Hospital Board from 2003 to 2009 as a representative of the Board of Trustees of Columbia University. She was an engaged and active contributor particularly with respect to marketing and public relations, which were her fields of expertise.

Paul Milstein was elected to the Board of The Presbyterian Hospital in 1988 and served as Chairman of its Real Estate and Building Committee. Together with his family and that of his brother Seymour, he contributed generously to the building of The Milstein Hospital.

Since 2000, Lionel I. Pincus served on the Hospital's Board of Trustees, applying his pioneering financial expertise to the Board's Budget and Finance Committee and Investment Committee. He was also Chair Emeritus of the Trustees of Columbia University.

Richard D. Siegal served as a dedicated member of NewYork-Presbyterian's Board of Trustees since 2005. A generous institutional benefactor, Mr. Siegal applied his entrepreneurial spirit to facilitate medical research and development.

Sidney J. Weinberg Jr. served both Presbyterian Hospital and NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital for 40 years. During this time, Mr. Weinberg held several significant leadership positions, including Vice Chairman of the Board and Chairman of the Joint Conference Committee.

interpretation services in 90 different languages in 2009. We have become a regional and national leader in information technology, using it to enhance quality and safety and to improve care coordination. We have developed a large program of community health and outreach, pioneering new ways of improving and coordinating care through a number of programs, including the placement of patient navigators in our emergency departments to help guide our neediest patients.

We have raised well over a billion dollars and successfully completed an Eight-Year Capital Campaign and Plan, building over 817,000 square feet of new space, including Morgan Stanley Children's Hospital, the new 14th floor of the Greenberg Pavilion, the Vivian and Seymour Milstein Family Heart Center, the Iris Cantor Women's Health Center, the Lisa Perry Emergency Center, the Ronald O. Perelman Heart Institute, and the new Infusion Center in the Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center. We renovated another roughly 1.4 million square feet adding intensive care beds, operating rooms of the future, and new interventional suites.

We have made this a destination hospital, ranked among the very top hospitals in U.S. News & World Report.

As you will read in our annual report feature, the achievements of NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital over the past 10 years have been remarkable. The decade has been defined by notable milestones that have enabled the Hospital to establish itself as a premiere medical institution functioning at the highest levels of excellence, quality, patient safety, and compassion.

We know the future will hold many challenges as the country adapts to a new era in healthcare and continues to face ongoing economic uncertainty. We face this road ahead with a commitment to intensify our efforts to enhance and sustain a consistent culture of humane care; to advance quality and safety for our patients and families; and to improve the health and healthcare of our communities. We do so with the support of our donors and benefactors, the vision and acumen of our Board of Trustees, a superb medical staff, and our dedicated employees and volunteers.

A Defining Decade

Opportunity Abounds At the dawn of the new decade, NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital – now more than two years into its existence as a merged entity – passes its first Joint Commission survey, with all indications that the integration of two major academic medical centers is well on its way to becoming a healthcare leader with tremendous opportunity to be an exemplary, humane force for patients and their families. A major capital fundraising program is helping to support and facilitate the uniting of clinical programs and further collaborations with its affiliated medical schools – Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons and Weill Cornell Medical College. The creation of service lines organized around patient groups and disease categories is moving forward – a further example of the Hospital’s efforts to facilitate the development of focused, high quality care.

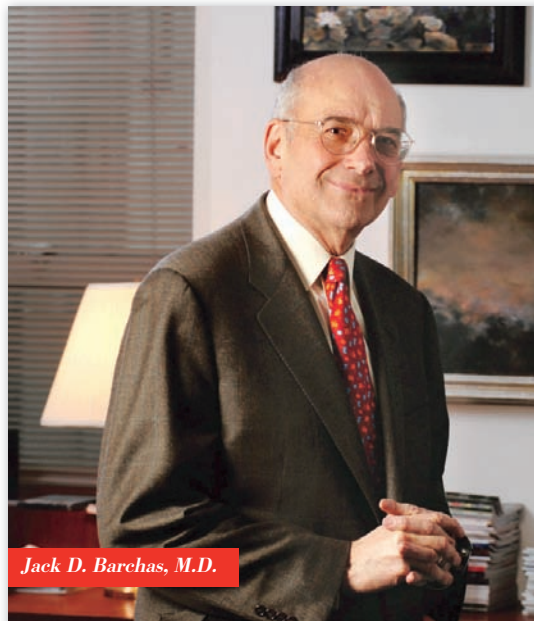

Herbert Pardes, M.D., is named President and Chief Executive Officer of NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital. Nationally recognized for his extensive experience and expertise in education, research, clinical care, and health policy, Dr. Pardes was Vice President for Health Sciences for Columbia University and Dean of the faculty of medicine at Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons prior to joining NewYork-Presbyterian.

NewYork-Presbyterian/Columbia marks its 100th liver transplant surgery. Today the program is one of the busiest in the country, performing approximately 150 liver transplants a year.

One of the largest studies ever undertaken for borderline personality disorder is begun by researchers with the Department of Psychiatry at Weill Cornell Medical College and NewYork-Presbyterian/Westchester and Harvard University that will investigate the causes and development of this illness as well as its treatment.

Triumphs and Tragedy In many ways, 2001 is a very successful year for NewYork-Presbyterian. An initial budget projection of a $10 million loss is turned into a $2 million gain. The Hospital continues to push the frontiers of medical and surgical medicine, and upgrades many facilities that mark the beginning of a major overhaul of the Hospital's infrastructure. But there is no doubt that the year 2001 will be inextricably linked to the heartbreaking events of September 11. In the wake of this tragedy, NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital employees demonstrate a singular strength that provides hope. The Hospital goes into full disaster mode, with staff mobilizing to prepare for the thousands of victims who would never come and save the lives of the hundreds who did.

Together We Heal In the wake of 9/11, thousands of individuals at NewYork-Presbyterian – at every level of the organization – open their hearts, donate their time and resources, and contribute their spirit to the healing of our community. During 2002, the Hospital also implements its Excellence at Work campaign, creating a culture of caring that is second to none. At the same time, the appointment of renowned specialists from around the country continues to enhance clinical programs and further pioneering work in such areas as pediatrics, cardiovascular disease, colorectal cancer, laparoscopic surgery, and neuroradiology, to name a few. In addition, NewYork-Presbyterian takes a leadership position in defining measures of clinical quality and patient safety, evaluating clinical outcomes using scientific methodology, and defining clinical protocols that will set standards for delivering quality care.

The Hospital's Emergency Medical Services is one of the very first on the scene of the September 11th, 2001 attack on the World Trade Center, deploying 28 responders to the site that day. As a result of the unwavering dedication of the crew, four of our EMS personnel lose their lives. In 2002, the Hospital erects a monument in their honor. The memorial, which is near the entrance to the ambulance deck at East 70th Street, is located on the same spot where mourners spontaneously placed flowers and mementos in the days after the attack.

Research at NewYork-Presbyterian/Columbia confirms that women who are at “very high risk” for breast cancer can benefit from tamoxifen for primary prevention, and that for these women, chemoprevention with the drug is cost-effective. The Food and Drug Administration had made tamoxifen the first drug to be approved for the prevention of breast cancer, but few physicians had been prescribing it for this purpose.

The William Randolph Hearst Burn Center at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell celebrates its 25th anniversary. In the months following 9/11, a sea of cards and letters received from children and adults the world over offered heartfelt words of encouragement and were inspirational to the staff and visitors who passed through the corridors on the way to the most well-known burn unit in the world.

NewYork-Presbyterian/Columbia surgeons conduct a national, multicenter trial to test the benefits of off-pump coronary artery bypass grafting (CABG) on neurocognitive dysfunction, cardiac function, and overall recovery. Initial results indicate that off-pump CABG significantly reduces morbidity and may be viable for many coronary revascularization patients.

The Power of Partnership Through partnerships with trustees, donors, and two top-ranked medical colleges, 2003 is one of continued progress and strong clinical, financial, and operational performance for NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital. At the same time, new initiatives are implemented to address unmet needs in the communities served by the Hospital's five sites. The vision of the Hospital's Board and the increasing generosity of donors enable the Hospital to strengthen clinical programs through ongoing recruitment, the building and renovation of new facilities, and the incorporation of the latest technology in patient care. Bolstered by the depth and breadth of research and education made possible by collaborations with Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons and Weill Cornell Medical College, the Hospital continues to forge a place in the top tier of academic medical institutions.

We celebrate the opening of Morgan Stanley Children's Hospital – a 10-story, 265,000-square-foot-facility funded entirely by philanthropic support. The Hospital provides comprehensive care, from diagnosis to recovery, in general pediatrics and in the full range of medical and surgical subspecialties.

The Lang Youth Medical Program at NewYork-Presbyterian/Columbia is launched, helping young people to develop intellectual and life skills that will position them to attend college and become future leaders in the sciences and in their communities.

Reaffirming Our Vision With each passing year, NewYork-Presbyterian continues to take steps to provide outstanding care to patients and families. Over the past several years, the Hospital's efforts have earned it distinction in U.S. News & World Report surveys, with rankings that have elevated its position to among the nation's best hospitals. New clinical leadership is named in several key areas, including gastrointestinal disorders, psychiatry, interventional cardiology, cancer, neonatology, pediatric neurology, and urology. Major investments are made in technology and information systems with an initial focus on computerized physician order entry systems and electronic medical records. The Hospital also plays a significant role in the development of a national health information technology policy.

NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell becomes the first center in the north-east to create a virtual reality exposure therapy program to treat post-traumatic stress disorder following the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center.

Accomplishing Our Goals The year is marked by impressive accomplishments in a number of areas. With increased patient volume, the ongoing pursuit of operational efficiencies, and revenue enhancement efforts, NewYork-Presbyterian realizes a $60.1 million gain from operations. The Hospital embarks on three priority building projects: the Advanced Therapeutic Services Center and a new inpatient floor atop the Greenberg Pavilion at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell, and the Vivian and Seymour Milstein Family Heart Center at NewYork-Presbyterian/Columbia. Great progress is made in children's health, including the opening of the Phyllis and David Komansky Center for Children's Health at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell. Our Division of Nursing remains very strong, with recruitment and retention of nursing talent that enable the Hospital to maintain very low vacancy and turnover rates compared to national averages.

Leading the Way NewYork-Presbyterian physicians continue to make history with groundbreaking procedures for a range of diverse and challenging diseases and disorders. Liver transplantation is made possible for patients with cancer of the bile duct. We initiate a stem cell clinical trial for severe coronary artery disease and are the first to implant a novel stroke-prevention device for heart patients with atrial fibrillation. Our surgeons also pioneer a combined laparoscopy and colonoscopy procedure for difficult-to-remove polyps in the large intestine and a revolutionary minimally invasive procedure called Natural Orifice Transluminal Endoscopic Surgery that utilizes natural body openings for access to internal sites, dramatically reducing the number of open abdominal surgeries. In addition, the Hospital is the site of the first catheter-based pulmonary valve replacement in New York City.

Sustaining Growth NewYork-Presbyterian's unwavering commitment to ensuring that all patients and family members receive outstanding and compassionate care is reflected in ever-increasing patient satisfaction scores through the Press Ganey Survey. The Hospital's Eclipsys Clinical Information System continues to expand across campuses, and NewYork-Presbyterian is cited by Computerworld magazine as one of the country's Best Workplaces for Information Technology. In an unannounced site visit, The Joint Commission grants the Hospital full reaccreditation for three years as a center for safe, high quality clinical care. The Hospital continues to attract superior clinical leadership in such areas as transplantation, gastroenterology, radiation oncology, radiology, and rehabilitation medicine, and further expands vital community health programs through collaborations between the Ambulatory Care Network and the Departments of Pediatrics at both campuses.

One of the nation's first three-way living-donor kidney transplant chains, and also one of the first transcontinental live-kidney donations, is initiated by NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell and its affiliate, The Rogosin Institute.

Twenty emergency medicine physicians, emergency medical services personnel, and emergency management workers from NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital, in partnership with local and international agencies, conduct emergency management trainings and drills in Mumbai, India, and Colombo and Galle, Sri Lanka aimed at improving local emergency preparedness and response.

NewYork-Presbyterian launches Patient Safety Fridays – a new initiative that focuses on Hospital-wide patient safety, quality, and service activities. This award-winning, multidisciplinary program includes weekly rounding and education sessions on clinical and environmental topics. The goal is to engage staff at all sites around continuous and consistent application of the standards, procedures, and practices that ensure high quality, safe, compassionate care.

Ahead of the Curve NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital's patient volume continues to grow, most notably in the area of very sick patients with complex problems, an indication that the Hospital is sought after as one of the nation's leading tertiary and quaternary centers. NewYork-Presbyterian also moves forward on several fronts to further achieve a cleaner and "greener" Hospital environment that not only enhances the health and well-being of patients and staff, but is economically beneficial as well. We formalize efforts to protect the environment in a unified, identifiable sustainability program termed "NYPgreen." The Hospital also begins to draw on the first hospital-based cogeneration plant in Manhattan that will generate between 60 and 100 percent of its own electricity at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell.

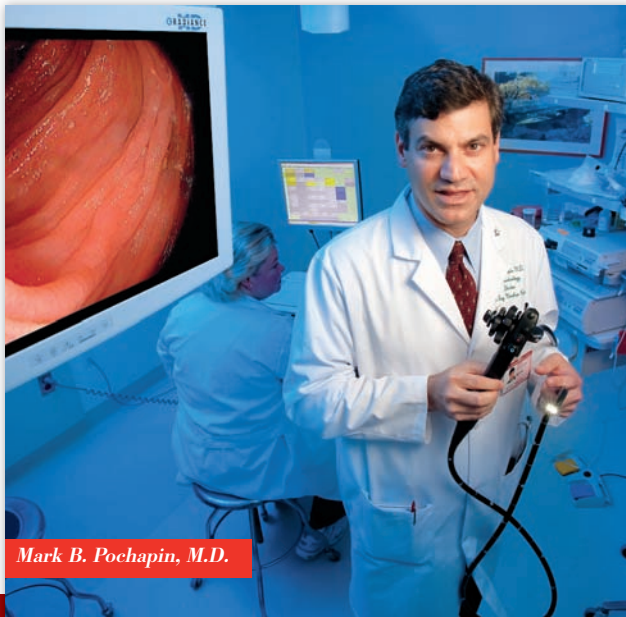

Maliza Sarmiento, Nurse Practitioner, and Holly S. Andersen, M.D.

The new Ronald O. Perelman Heart Institute at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell opens, expanding upon the Hospital's cardiac care expertise and connecting all cardiac services, from heart disease prevention to the treatment of life-threatening arrhythmias and complex coronary artery disease.

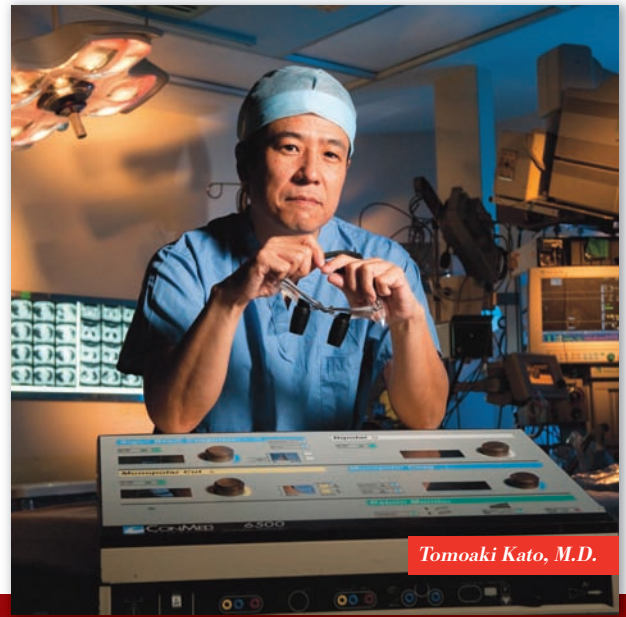

Jack D. Barchas, M.D., Philip J. Wilner, M.D., Katherine A. Halmi, M.D., Jeffrey A. Lieberman, M.D., Evelyn Attia, M.D., and Laura L. Forese, M.D.

NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital, Weill Cornell Medical College, and Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons establish an integrated Eating Disorders Center. A key clinical component of the center – The Outlook at Westchester – is the only specialized psychiatric inpatient eating disorders program in New York State.

Mark B. Pochapin, M.D.

The Center for Advanced Digestive Care at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell is established with a mission to provide high-quality patient care, research, and education for all aspects of digestive disease.

Tomoaki Kato, M.D.

An historic surgery involving removal and reimplantation of six organs in a six-year-old girl at Morgan Stanley Children’s Hospital results in successful removal of an “inoperable” abdominal tumor.

Herbert Pardes, M.D., John Mucci of Con Edison, Francis J. Murray of the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority, Graeme Mitchell, and Louis F. Reuter IV

The Hospital installs a 7.5-megawatt cogeneration plant that will reduce emissions of CO₂ by more than 27,000 tons each year – equivalent to taking 4,600 cars off the road, while adding millions of dollars in annual cost savings.

With a new name and a new look, The Allen Pavilion – now NewYork-Presbyterian/The Allen Hospital – continues to offer the highest quality of patient-focused care to residents of northern Manhattan and the Bronx in a warm and welcoming environment, just as it has for the past 21 years.

Poised for the Future NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital succeeds in filling all of its clinical leadership positions, an extraordinary circumstance for any academic medical center. The Hospital continues to excel in national and local rankings, becoming number 1 in the New York City metropolitan area and number 6 in the nation and marking 10 years on the Honor Roll, according to U.S. News Media Group's 2009-2010 edition of "America's Best Hospitals" survey. NewYork-Presbyterian is also the only tri-state-area hospital listed on the 2010 U.S. News & World Report "America's Best Children's Hospitals" Honor Roll and one of only eight children's hospitals in the nation to be ranked in all 10 clinical specialties through our two centers for children's healthcare: Morgan Stanley Children's Hospital and the Phyllis and David Komansky Center for Children's Health.

Commissioner of Health for New York State Richard F. Daines, M.D., Philip L. Milstein, Constance J. Milstein, Allan Schwartz, M.D., Craig R. Smith, M.D., Herbert Pardes, M.D., Lee Goldman, M.D., Frank A. Bennack Jr., Andria Castellanos, Steven J. Corwin, M.D., and Robert E. Kelly, M.D.

Heart-shaped confetti rains down on donors, elected officials, and Hospital leadership and staff gathered at the ribbon-cutting ceremony to mark the opening of the Vivian and Seymour Milstein Family Heart Center at NewYork-Presbyterian/Columbia. Five years in the making, the state-of-the-art, freestanding six-story building is destined to forge a new era in cardiovascular care, offering patients access to expanded ambulatory, cardiology, and diagnostic services.

NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital takes its surgery capabilities to a new level with the opening of new operating rooms that feature the Artis zeego® system and groundbreaking surgical, endoscopic, and imaging technology. The zeego system provides extraordinary flexibility, enabling the equipment to move to almost any position around the patient. The surgeon can visualize internal organs from various perspectives with access to more anatomical details, including the most minute vessels, than ever before possible.

In 2009-2010, we continued to support so many of our favorite causes such as:

- the Department of Social Work to expand employee education
- a clothing fund for the indigent upon discharge
- a newly developed domestic violence program in alliance with Avon's DOVE fund
- a medical center nursery school
- a new Community Health Academy of the Heights
- our award-winning Center for Women's Health

We remain at the service and pleasure of the Board of Trustees.

The Auxiliary's mission of supporting the Medical Center and being involved in its community outreach programs remained constant goals.

In 2009 and 2010, funding was, as always, multifaceted and added support to worthy programs, including:

- Creative Center's Artists-in-Residence
- Payne Whitney Psycho Social Rehabilitation
- Health Outreach Art Program
- Client Relations/Patient Services

2009 was a banner year for the volunteer program at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital. Our total number of volunteers rose to a new record from 2,360 in 2008 to nearly 3,008 in 2009.

Volunteer hours also increased from 241,386 in 2008 to over 279,451 hours of service in 2009. In fact, 20 percent of all hospital volunteer hours given by New York City hospitals last year were given at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital.

Our volunteers provide service in a wide array of programs and in various roles in our Emergency Departments and on patient units at every campus.

Among the many programs they serve are:

- Child Life Programs
- Pet Therapy Program
- Domestic and Other Violence Emergency (DOVE) Program
- Reach Out and Read
- Silver Spoons
- The Comfort Zone
- Healing Arts Program

- Hospital Elder Life Program (HELP)
- Trained Liaison Comforters (TLC)
- Family Advisory Councils
- Nancy's Friends
- Neural Connections
- Rejuvenate You Wellness
- Charna's Kids Club
- Voluntary Advisory Councils

Volunteers also help out at information desks and in waiting areas in all Hospital facilities. The Volunteer Services Department continues to focus on crafting roles for volunteers that allow for meaningful interactions with the patients and families we serve and also support the work and outcomes of clinical caregivers. We also provide opportunities for young people to explore health care careers and for baby boomers and retirees to continue to share their expertise in new ways.

In addition, as part of our effort to ensure that We Put Patients First, the Volunteer Services Department sponsors fund raising events, such as jewelry and book sales, donating the proceeds to the Hospital for patient-centered care grants. As a result, $50,000 has been donated, with the Hospital matching this amount. In 2009, over 150 grant proposals were submitted and 24 grants were awarded to departments across NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital to improve patient service and satisfaction. Awards included funding for sleep chairs, communication kits for nonverbal patients, patient artwork displays, and a culturally sensitive cookbook.

NewYork-Presbyterian's language assistance program, which provides services to patients with Limited English Proficiency, continues to experience enormous growth. In 2009, the Department facilitated over 240,000 interpretations in over 90 different languages.

(as of November 2010)

The NewYork-Presbyterian Healthcare System is a federation of 27 general-acute care hospital sites in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, and Texas, as well as specialty institutes, continuing care facilities, and ambulatory providers. Together, its members serve approximately one in five inpatients in the New York metropolitan area. The System is dedicated to increasing access to care; promoting quality and patient safety through the emulation of best practices; and building clinical partnerships through program development and advocacy. Acute care System members are also academic affiliates of one of the two Ivy League medical schools with whom we are affiliated: Weill Cornell Medical College and Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons. The System has pioneered the use of quality and patient safety data through its COQPIT dashboard tool to provide opportunities for demonstrable improvements in patient care. The activities of the System are overseen by a Board, which includes members from the NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital Board and the board chairs of selected member institutions. Listed here are key System leadership and members.

Making a Gift to NewYork-Presbyterian

NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital is grateful for the partnership we have with our many donors. Their dedication and commitment to our mission support our efforts and ability to provide world-class, patient-centered care. We are grateful to our Trustees, whose leadership and guidance always chart a course for growth and excellence and whose active participation has helped draw a growing list of influential and caring supporters closer to the Hospital and its mission.

We are particularly grateful to those friends who hosted dinners and receptions on behalf of the Hospital during the 12 months ending October 2009. They include Marianne and John K. Castle, Mary and Peter S. Kalikow, Julia and David H. Koch, and Kara and Stephen M. Ross. In addition, other development events and celebrations were held during that same time period, with a few of them highlighted in this report.

Dr. Herbert Pardes, President and Chief Executive Officer, honors Trustee Ronald P. Stanton during the announcement of the new Ronald P. Stanton Clinical Cancer Program.

Ronald P. Stanton Clinical Cancer Program

March 16, 2009 — We were proud to mark the official establishment of the Ronald P. Stanton Clinical Cancer Program, which will set a new standard for excellence by strengthening and expanding our ability to provide patients with the very best in cancer care. The celebration, emceed by Trustee and Development Committee Chairman David H. Koch, announced the creation of a state-of-the-art cancer program at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital/Weill Cornell Medical Center, which will improve patient flow and prepare the institution for increases in outpatient chemotherapy demands.

Greenberg 14

March 23, 2009 — We celebrated the opening of Greenberg 14, a spectacular, new 54,000-square-foot floor atop the Greenberg Pavilion at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell. The event, emceed by Trustee Peter S. Kalikow, included tours of the new space that features a 20-room Patient Care Center on its south side and a 28-bed Medical/Surgical Care Unit, funded by the Helmsley Charitable Trust, on its north side. The Surgical Care Unit is designed for colorectal, bariatric, and minimally invasive surgery patients and is also home to the new Center for Advanced Digestive Care.

Lisa Perry Emergency Center

April 2, 2009 — The Hospital formally dedicated the Lisa Perry Emergency Center at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell. Trustee Frank A. Bennack Jr., served as Master of Ceremonies for the event. The new Emergency Center was named in honor of Trustee Lisa R. Perry, whose personal experience, dedication, and keen design skills helped create a facility that will enhance the emergency patient experience at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell. A total of 18 major donors partnered with Lisa to make this project a reality.

Lisa R. Perry, in the doctor's coat presented to her, with her husband, Richard, celebrate the opening of the Lisa Perry Emergency Center.

Gala

April 16, 2009 — Gala 2009, attended by nearly 1,000 people, was held at The Waldorf=Astoria and benefitted neurosurgery and neurology services across the Hospital. More than $2.2 million was brought in, and Grammy®-nominated artist Natasha Bedingfield thrilled the attendees. Chairs for the evening were Marianne and John K. Castle, Phyllis and Ivan G. Seidenberg, and Sarah and Howard Solomon. Joining them were Medical Chairs Matthew E. Fink, M.D., Philip E. Stieg, Ph.D., M.D., Timothy A. Pedley, M.D., and Robert A. Solomon, M.D.

The Allen Hospital

September 10, 2009 — The Hospital renamed The Allen Pavilion, now known as The Allen Hospital, to reflect its full-service status. The event, emceed by Trustee Peter S. Kalikow, drew a crowd including Trustees Charlotte M. Ford and Luis A. Canela, as well as special friends Ethel Allen, New York Yankee Mariano Rivera, and New York State Assemblyman Herman "Denny" Farrell. At the same event, we celebrated The Allen Hospital's beautiful transformation, including the main entrance and lobby renovation.

Ronald O. Perelman Heart Institute

September 14, 2009 — Taking a major step in expanding and connecting all cardiac services at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell, we celebrated the opening of the Ronald O. Perelman Heart Institute. Joining Trustee Ronald O. Perelman that day were Trustee David H. Koch, acting as Master of Ceremonies, as well as New York City Mayor Michael R. Bloomberg, Late Show TV host – and “grateful customer” – David Letterman, and O. Wayne Isom, M.D. Visitors will enter the Institute via a “medical town square” offering extensive public and patient education, video kiosks, history walls, internet access, and more.

Alexandra and Steven Cohen Pediatric Emergency Department

September 15, 2009 — The Hospital broke ground for the Alexandra and Steven Cohen Pediatric Emergency Department. When it opens in the summer of 2011, this 25,000-square-foot facility at NewYork-Presbyterian Morgan Stanley Children’s Hospital will quadruple the department’s current space and offer 28 treatment rooms and two trauma rooms, which will be linked with the Hospital’s comprehensive pediatric services – all in a warm, welcoming, and safe environment for the children and families of upper Manhattan. Trustee and Board Chairman John J. Mack thanked Alexandra and Steven Cohen and spoke about the importance of this facility at the celebratory event, which also drew Trustee Sarah E. Nash, Chair of the Executive Committee of the NewYork-Presbyterian Children’s Advisory Council.

Cabaret

October 21, 2009 — Over 750 people attended Cabaret, which is held each fall in support of NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell's patient care, research, and medical education agendas. Our thanks to this year's Honorary Chair, Trustee Charlotte M. Ford, and event committee members Katie O'Neill Bistran and Frank Bistran, Leslie and Brian Brille, Lisa and James Cohen, Stephanie and Chase Coleman, Shoshanna and Josh Gruss, Julia and David H. Koch, Patricia Allen, M.D. and Douglas McIntyre, Claudia and Nelson Peltz, Pamela Lipkin, M.D. and Bruce Ratner, Samantha Boardman Rosen, M.D., and Aby Rosen, and Stephanie Landess Suslak and Neil S. Suslak. Held at the World Financial Center Wintergarden, Cabaret featured Tony Award winner Bernadette Peters, who dazzled the crowd. The event raised over $2.2 million.

Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center Adult Infusion Center

October 21, 2009 — The dedication of the Adult Infusion Center at the Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center was celebrated, recognizing another level of world-class care we can now provide our patients. The Adult Infusion Center, which includes designated nutritionists, a social worker, and a nurse practitioner, offers expanded treatment rooms, a chemotherapy pharmacy, multipurpose rooms, and a waiting room exclusively for patients. Attending the dedication, along with Life Trustee Herbert Irving and his wife, Florence, were Drs. Herbert Pardes, Steven J. Corwin, Robert E. Kelly, and Edward P. Gelmann, who is Deputy Director for Clinical Research at the Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center.

Campaign Results

A large number of donors continue to fuel our Campaign efforts. In fact, since the Campaign's origins in 2000 and through October 2009, 192 donors have given $1 million or more, including 61 who have donated $5 million or more, 28 who have donated $10 million or more, and 15 who have donated $20 million or more. Specifically in the 12 months ending October 2009, the following donors have given $1 million or more to the Hospital: Anonymous, William P. Carey, Joan Ganz Cooney and Peter G. Peterson, Estate of Edna Edison, Barbara and Peter A. Georgescu, Susan and Alan Fuirst, the Ganek Family (Howard, Judie, David, and Danielle), Arlene and Arnold Goldstein, Jamie and Jeffrey Harris, Estate of Donald Heimlich, Leona M. and Harry B. Columbia Presbyterian Health Sciences Advisory Council

The Columbia Presbyterian Health Sciences Advisory Council, under the leadership of Council Chairman David A. George through year-end 2008 and then Chair Joseph M. Murphy beginning January 2009, Lee Goldman, M.D., Executive Vice President for Health and Biomedical Sciences and Dean of the Faculties of Health Sciences and Medicine for Columbia University Medical Center, and Herbert Pardes, M.D., President and CEO of NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital, is a shared advocacy group for the 168th Street campus of the Hospital and Columbia University Medical Center. It meets twice annually, providing an important forum for educating friends, donors, and members of the community on issues of contemporary relevance in medicine. Through fellowship and friendly interaction, Council members serve as advocates and ambassadors for NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital and Columbia University Medical Center.

The Council's membership is made up of distinguished individuals drawn from the faculty and friends of NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital and Columbia University

Medical Center. They contribute a variety of professional and personal skills and experience and are strongly committed to encouraging excellence in healthcare education, research, and patient care. This Council also carries out its mission through six standing committees. During Council meetings, members of the faculty and staff present on topics pertinent to the Medical Center community. In May 2009, a Council presentation was held on "Brain Storm: Protecting and Healing Our Most Complex Organs."

The Advisory Council also presents an Award for Distinguished Service to individuals and organizations that have shown a strong committed interest in the health sciences and whose influence and reputation have made a significant public impact on healthcare. In November 2008, Bob and Suzanne Wright, co-founders of Autism Speaks, the nation's largest organization devoted to autism, were given Council Awards. In May 2009, CNN Medical Correspondent Sanjay Gupta was the Council Award recipient.

New York Weill Cornell Council

The New York Weill Cornell Council has flourished under the leadership of Jeffrey W. Greenberg, Council Chair; Antonio M. Gotto Jr., M.D., D.Phil., Stephen and Suzanne Weiss Dean of Weill Cornell Medical College; and Herbert Pardes, M.D., President and CEO of New York-Presbyterian Hospital. The Council is a shared advocacy group for the 68th Street campus of the Hospital and Weill Cornell Medical College, and it provides an important forum for educating friends, donors, and members of the community on issues of contemporary relevance in medicine. Through fellowship and friendly interaction, Council members serve as advocates and ambassadors for New York-Presbyterian Hospital/Weill Cornell Medical Center.

The popular Council Lecture Series continued in October 2008 with a presentation on “Infectious Diseases and Traveling Abroad” by Henry W. Murray, M.D., and hosted by Renee and Sy Flug. A December 2008 lecture hosted by Jessica and Natan Bibliowicz featured Joseph J. Fins, M.D., F.A.C.P., discussing “Who Decides? A Case and Conversation about Medical Ethics.” Anthony N. LaBruna, M.D., presented “All You Need to Know about Plastic Surgery” at an April 2009 lecture hosted by Kathy and Andrew Thomas. The May 2009 lecture featured pediatric heart specialists Jonathan M. Chen, M.D., and Sheila J. Carroll, M.D.

The Council’s 2008 annual Business Meeting took place in September 2008 at Christie’s, hosted by Council Vice Chair Nathalie Kaplan. In November 2008, the Council’s annual Fall Tour and Dinner featured a presentation on “What It Means to Be the Best: Advances in Surgical Practices and Patient Care.” Speakers included Jeffrey W. Milsom, M.D., and Francesco Rubino, M.D., with Fabrizio Michelassi, M.D., serving as moderator. Before dinner, attendees toured the new Greenberg 14 floor.

In June 2009, at the Council’s annual Spring Dinner held at the Griffis Faculty Club, Matthew E. Fink, M.D., and Theodore H. Schwartz, M.D., F.A.C.S., spoke about “Advances in Brain Care.” The Council was delighted to honor Hospital Trustee Frank A. Bennack Jr. with the 2009 annual Leadership Award. Finally, heart care was the topic of the Council’s 2009 Fall Tour and Educational Dinner held in October. Members and guests toured the recently opened Ronald O. Perelman Heart Institute. During dinner, Leonard N. Girardi, M.D., spoke about his work as a world-renowned cardiothoracic surgeon at New York-Presbyterian Hospital/Weill Cornell Medical Center, particularly in the field of aortic aneurysm repair.

The list of donors on the previous pages includes members of the following societies at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital:

James Lenox Society

The James Lenox Society is a dedicated circle of friends helping to improve the future of healthcare delivery at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital/Columbia University Medical Center. Membership is extended to donors whose unrestricted contributions total $1,000 or more throughout the year. These gifts allow the Hospital to provide the highest levels of quality in patient care, clinical services, and medical advances. The James Lenox Society creates a rare and profound opportunity to become an insider – and active partner – in advancing medicine. In recognition of their partnership, Society members enjoy a broad range of privileges and benefits from NewYork-Presbyterian. We would like to thank members of the James Lenox Society for their generous and continued support.

Partners in Medicine

Partners in Medicine honors the special generosity of contributors who make an annual gift of $1,000 or more to NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital/Weill Cornell Medical Center. As a Partner in Medicine, you are part of a proud tradition of caring and distinguished leadership that enables NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital to serve millions of men, women, and children with the best inpatient care, biomedical research, medical education, and community outreach. Partners are among the first to hear about exciting breakthroughs in research conducted at our Medical Center and are invited to exclusive gatherings to meet some of the world's finest researchers and physicians in medicine today. We are especially grateful for your help in advancing medical research and treatment.

Whitney~Harkness Society

The Whitney~Harkness Society recognizes the following individuals who contribute to NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital through charitable gift planning, including advised bequests, charitable trusts, gift annuities, pooled income funds and gifts of retirement plan assets or real estate. These individuals continue the legacy established through the careful planning of Payne Whitney and Edward Harkness, whose foresight was instrumental in the establishment of the two great academic medical institutions that form NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital on their present-day sites.

Leave a Legacy by Making a Gift

Gifts, bequests, and trusts are important sources of support for NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital. Such gifts allow you to leave a legacy and help fund a wide range of programs, including those that provide patient care, educate future physicians and scientists, expand community outreach, and make possible pioneering clinical research that results in new and improved treatments for disease. Providing support for these programs in your estate plan makes a moving statement about your care and concern for the health and well-being of future generations.

Gifts can be made in cash, securities, or other property and can take many forms: an outright gift, pledge, bequest, or various life income arrangements (trusts, pooled income funds, or gift annuities). Support can be designated for specific purposes or can be unrestricted, which gives NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital the greatest flexibility in planning and administering programs in patient care, education, and research. Gifts to NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital may be directed to either NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital/Columbia University Medical Center or NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital/Weill Cornell Medical Center, or both. There are many options for naming opportunities and public recognition of gifts at the Hospital.

NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital is a qualified not-for-profit institution that receives major support from private philanthropy. Gifts to the Hospital by individuals, foundations, and corporations are exempt from income, gift, and estate taxes to the extent of and in the manner provided by federal and state laws. If you are considering making a bequest, you may wish to share the following language with your advisors:

“I give, devise and bequeath to NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital, a corporation created under the New York State Not-for-Profit Corporation Law and located in New York City, New York, the sum of $_____ (or description of the property) to be used for the general corporate purposes of NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital as its Board of Trustees shall determine.”

The Office of Development welcomes the opportunity to tell you more about the Hospital’s numerous programs and activities, and to consult with you and your advisors about various gift ideas. For further information, please contact:
