PHILABUNDANCE

LETTER FROM THE CEO

Dear Friends of Philabundance,

As we reflect on the 2022 fiscal year at Philabundance, I am incredibly proud of the work we have done. In neighborhoods, workplaces, and communities nationwide, our transition from pandemic to endemic has not been without its challenges; however, at Philabundance, we remain just as committed to our mission as we did when we entered the COVID-19 pandemic nearly three years ago. In fact, in many ways, we have grown, learning from unforeseen obstacles and pivoting our distribution and operations to meet the evolving needs of the individuals and families we serve.

Through stories and statistics, this year's annual report highlights that progress, showcasing the ways in which we have been able to listen to and learn from our community members, thanks to the generous support of you—our donors, volunteers, and friends. Your support fueled our work to drive hunger from our communities and end hunger for good, challenging us to tackle the root causes of hunger and identify solutions that will promote lasting, positive change.

This year we made tremendous strides, leading initiatives and establishing partnerships that allow us to redefine the emergency food system as one that is accessible, culturally responsive, and preserves the dignity of all those we serve. Your investment in our work allows us to do more than address food insecurity—it ensures that we can provide our neighbors the right food, delivered the right way, at the right time.

On behalf of Philabundance, and the grateful individuals and families we so proudly serve, I thank you for your generosity and your partnership.

Yours in Service,

FISCAL YEAR

2022

(October 2021 - June 2022)

THE YEAR IN IMPACT

November 2021

Preston & Steve Camp Out for Hunger

The 24th annual Preston & Steve's Camp Out for Hunger, which kicked off on November 1, resulted in an astounding 2.3 million pounds of food and raised more than $1.8 million dollars to combat food insecurity throughout the region. This year also featured a new addition to Camp Out's lineup of events: Food Trucks and Fireworks. The event, which featured a donated fireworks show, included more than a dozen food trucks, each of which donated a portion of their proceeds from the night to Philabundance.

This year, our efforts resulted in

2.3 million pounds
of food

$1,800,000+
raised

January 2022

Good Food Policy

Philabundance kicked off 2022 with the announcement of our Good Food Policy, a recommitment to our mission by providing communities the foods they want and deserve. Rooted in four pillars (see page 10), the policy is a pledge to the communities we serve to offer the flavors, tastes, and ingredients they know and love, all while emphasizing the healthy and nutritious foods that help these communities thrive.

January 2022

Presidential Visit

This year, President Joe Biden and first lady Jill Biden marked Martin Luther King, Jr. Day serving alongside Philabundance staff, volunteers, and community members. President Biden's visit was two-fold, as he advocated for the renewal of the child tax credit. Before heading to the warehouse floor, where conveyor belts carried cardboard boxes full of donated food, President Biden reaffirmed his commitment to the program, which has been crucial to keep individuals and families throughout our region afloat as they struggle to keep up with inflation, rising costs, and a volatile economy. In fact, among families who received the credit nationwide, 65% reported spending those funds on food.

March 2022

Murphy's Giving Market

Murphy's Giving Market, led by Philabundance agency partner and longtime hunger advocate Desireé La-Marr Murphy, celebrated the opening of its new location in Upper Darby. Established by Desireé in early 2020 to meet the rising hunger rates in her community, Murphy's Giving Market was set up as a farmers market-style pantry in the backyard of her Upper Darby home, offering fresh produce, canned goods, toiletries, clothing, and more to community members in need.

April 2022

Driving Hunger Away During Ramadan

For the second consecutive year, Philabundance, in partnership with State Senator Sharif Street, provided meals to families each evening during Ramadan through our Driving Hunger Away During Ramadan program.

For Muslims, observing the holy month of Ramadan typically means fasting from sunrise to sunset, and those unable to fast are encouraged to help feed others in need. This year, we provided 200 meals each day, from April 2 – May 2, all prepared by our Philabundance Community Kitchen.

June 2022
Let's Eat

On June 13, we launched Let's Eat, a new effort to address hunger among children during the summer months by providing increased access to fresh and nutritious foods. The meal box program, which distributed 2,000 meal kits per week for eight weeks, did more than close the summer meal gap—it created opportunities for families to learn about nutrition and healthy eating habits by encouraging families to prepare these meals together.

A Collaborative Effort

In partnership with Philabundance Community Kitchen, Let's Eat featured recipes specially crafted by some of Philadelphia's top chefs, including:

- Meredith Laurence, Blue Jean Chef
- Robert Bynum, SOUTH
- Marc Vetri, Vetri Cucina
- Erik Oberholtzer, Tender Greens
- Elias Bitar, Norma's
- Rosemarie Tran, Melograno
- Ellen Yin, Fork
- Daniel Stern, R2L

ASTOUNDING IMPACT

Even in an abbreviated fiscal year, spanning just 9 months, the impact of our efforts to combat food insecurity throughout our region was undeniable.

53.9 million
pounds of food delivered

Philabundance serves 9 counties in Southeastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey

207,000
ready-to-eat meals distributed

72.8%
healthy food distributed

1.2 million
pounds distributed to seniors

263,000
pounds distributed to children

DID YOU KNOW?

Philabundance food reaches more than 600 community focused organizations through direct agency partners, as well as food distribution organizations that redistributed to their own network of food partners.

BOOTS ON THE GROUND

AGENCIES IN ACTION

With representatives from seven of the nine counties we serve, the Philabundance Agency Council was launched in 2017 to promote increased collaboration between Philabundance and our rapidly growing network of agencies—the community leaders, advocates, and partners who are our most valuable source of feedback and perspectives on strategic and programmatic decisions affecting member agencies.

Convening every other month, the Council meeting discussions have included general Philabundance program and service updates, feedback on special projects, and confirming agencies' interest in new resources they can use for food distributions like agency software and translation services, among others.

We are proud to recognize our current Council members and applaud their commitment to help us better serve our neighbors in need:

- Mount Zion CME
- Murphy's Giving Market*
- Ujima Friends Peace Center*
- Grace Tabernacle Christian Church*
- Bucks County Housing Group
Penndel & Doylestown
- The Simple Way
- Rowan University
- Mattie Dixon Community Cupboard
- Victory Assembly of God
- Feast of Justice
- Mighty Writers Camden
- Catholic Social Services Delaware County
- Cathedral Kitchen

* One council member represents all 3 organizations

“Family Promise Montco was thrilled to receive $200,000 of funding for our new food pantry location in Abington Township, Montgomery County. With this core support, we were able to establish our presence in a larger space which has allowed us to expand our food rescue efforts, serve more people, and provide our community with a larger variety of fresh and frozen food. This grant has truly been transformational for our agency, our community, and the people we serve.”

– Marsha Eichelberger
Executive Director,
Family Promise Montco

Improving Infrastructure

This fiscal year, Community Partnerships awarded $1.8 million in grants to agencies in order to enhance their ability to distribute food throughout their communities. This included general equipment like shelving, wire carts, hand carts, cabinets, computers, and investment and capacity grants in the following key items:

16
Vehicles

16
Fuel and Insurance grants

3
Walk-in refrigerators

3
Electrical Upgrades

4
Infrastructure
Improvement grants

1
Forklift

Inflation Impact

Average food costs rose nearly 70% from pre-pandemic levels

The cost to move donated food throughout their network has increased more than 20% in just one year

$1.1

The need to purchase high-quality food, the rising cost of food, and a reduction in government support drove monthly food costs in 2021 to an average of $1.1 million

Freight costs have increased 58% since 2019

Costs, and need, on the rise

Much like families across the country, at Philabundance, this year we struggled to keep up with rising food costs and inflation. From purchasing to transportation, increased costs impacted nearly every aspect of our operations, presenting new obstacles as we worked to acquire and distribute food. Since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic nearly three years ago, we have faced significant supply chain issues which have raised the cost of food and freight.

Additionally, new factors like the recent onset of high interest rates, economic uncertainty, and the war in Ukraine have prolonged these disruptions.

This year—maybe more than ever before—the support of donors like you helped us meet this unprecedented challenge, all while remaining committed to our mission to provide nutritious, fresh, culturally relevant food for those we serve.

MOVING OUR MISSION FORWARD

GOOD FOOD, GREAT PROMISE

Launched in January 2021, the Good Food Policy builds on our existing commitment to combat hunger and address food insecurity in a way that promotes lasting, positive benefits for the communities it serves. Rooted in four pillars, the Good Food Policy is designed to provide individuals and families with the foods they want, and deserve, offering the flavors, tastes, and ingredients they know and love.

Nutritious: providing all people, regardless of income, with access to the food necessary for an active, healthy life.

Culturally Responsive: offering connections to families, cultures, and communities through familiar and beloved foods.

Equitably sourced: intentionally choosing to purchase food from businesses that reflect our values and represent a diverse blend of local, minority, and women-owned businesses.

Accessible: partnering with organizations that can help us ensure the right food reaches the right people at the right time.

For too long, success has been measured and tracked by the number of pounds of food distributed annually. The Good Food Policy was created to reinforce that metrics only tell part of the story. Now, Philabundance is putting a bigger emphasis on quality, not just quantity.

Taking Action, with Intent

Prior to launching our signature summer meal gap program, Let's Eat (see page 6), Philabundance surveyed our network of partners to better understand how to best provide meal-kit boxes to families with children across our nine-county service area.

To ensure the right food reached the right people at the right time, we:

- selected partners that could distribute boxes outside of regular business hours for working families
- ensured our boxes were as light as possible
- sourced our recipes from a diverse collection of local chefs, with the support of our Nutrition Educator
- made certain our neighbors found ingredients that they recognized and appreciated

INVESTING IN OUR OWN

Along with the shift in our financial markets and the ever-changing state of our global health, workplaces around the world came face-to-face with another defining event: the Great Resignation.

At Philabundance, our commitment to attract and retain those who are passionate, dedicated, and aligned with our mission, remains as strong as ever—and we're committed to proving it!

While our mission to combat hunger attracts many devoted employees and volunteers, we have taken even greater measures to ensure our organization remains a desirable and forward-thinking workplace, with renewed emphasis on training, professional development, and fostering employee engagement.

We believe that by creating a diverse workforce—in backgrounds, perspectives, and lived experiences—we can grow our voice, and our reach, creating positive change for more individuals and families throughout our region.

Here's just a few of the ways your support is helping us invest in our own:

Putting Employees First

- Refining safety and compliance across the organization
- An increased focus on diversity, equity, and inclusion
- Updates to our compensation program to ensure all staff are paid at a minimum $17/hour
- Prioritizing employee mental health through initiatives like our employee assistance plan, which provides access to mental health services, including a live counselor

“The volatility of the past several years has put more and more strain on our communities and their ability to fight food insecurity. At Philabundance, our ability to adapt to meet the new challenges and emerging issues that plague our communities is only possible because of generous friends and partners like you. This year, your support provided critical resources which allowed us to reach more people and ensure that they had access to healthy, nutritious food without sacrificing their dignity and ability to choose. Thank you for your vital, and quite literally life-saving, investment in our mission.
