DEVELOPMENT HIGHLIGHTS 2015

The generosity of our donors, corporate partners and friends impacts every aspect of college life, providing the margin of excellence in teaching, research and innovation.

A few highlights from 2015:

- Thanks to generous support from Rio Tinto Kennecott and College of Engineering alumni, the Rio Tinto Kennecott Mechanical Engineering Building was rededicated on October 9, 2015. This newly renovated building is a campus model of sustainable design and serves as the academic home for more than 1,000 mechanical engineering students, faculty and staff.
- A generous donation from chemical engineering alumnus Jason Job for the pedestrian bridge that connects the Rio Tinto Kennecott Building with campus, was recognized with the naming of the connecting element as "Job's Crossing." This new feature provides 24-hour, safe and accessible transit across North Campus Drive.
- Engineering alums Gretchen and Mark McClain created a new scholarship endowment intended to encourage more women students to pursue careers in engineering and computer science. In the past 10 years, the number of women students in the College of Engineering has increased from 11% to 21%.
- Continuing support from David and Annette Jorgensen provided renewable scholarships for 22 students in 2015. Since the Jorgensen Scholars program was established in 2013, 36 students have received ongoing support.
- The John and Barbara Magdiel Financial Relief Fund in Mechanical Engineering provided emergency grants to 10 students in 2015. The fund was established to provide financial relief to students who encounter a personal emergency that could interfere with degree completion and prevent graduation.

Every gift we receive is appreciated and celebrated by our faculty, students and staff. Thank you for supporting our mission.
