Remlinger designs and manufactures farm tillage equipment, with over 60 years of experience. The company's early years were primarily dedicated to manufacturing spike tooth harrows for field cultivators and disks. In 1980, a Danish tine field cultivator, packer wheel combination became Remlinger's first complete tool. As the farming industry evolved, Remlinger Manufacturing has met the needs for new attachments on a wide variety of tillage tools serving farmers all across the United States, as well as around the globe.
