Mr. Henri Paul Roussy in memoriam

Mr. Henri [Henry] Paul Roussy was a French national who had chosen to devote his retirement in Phuket to studies of the mollusc fauna of Thailand. A lifelong interest in snails and bivalves became concentrated on species from the Andaman Sea and Gulf of Thailand. Henry Roussy was a very competent, critical, and careful amateur conchologist. If he was in doubt regarding the identification, he consulted specialists in a variety of museums worldwide, and he did not consider specimens fully identified before he had received second opinions.

The first workshop of the Tropical Marine Mollusc Programme (TMMP) was conducted at Phuket the Marine Biological Center (PMBC) from 12-18 August 1991. At that time Henry Roussy had identified more than one thousand species, i.e., his private collection contained more than two times the number of species present in the PMBC Reference Collection.

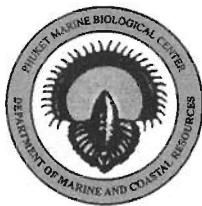

The organizing committee of the First TMMP Workshop invited Henry Roussy to talk about muricids, but Henry declined the wish. Although he had identified more than 60 species of this family, he found the family too incompletely known in Thai waters to warrant presentation at the Workshop. Instead, he offered to talk about two other families: the bivalve family Pectinidae and the gastropod family Strombidae. Specialists had confirmed specimens from these families and he felt that his collections were rather complete in regard of Thai waters. Henry Roussy displayed all his specimens in support of two inspiring and stimulating lectures. The results were published in Phuket mar. biol. Cent. Spec. Publ. (1991) 9: 20-21.

Henry Roussy's son, Mr. Frederic Roussy, has stated that his father dedicated most of his time in Rawai, Phuket Island, to collect, study, and classify the numerous species of seashells occurring in the Andaman Sea. Henry Roussy was very active during his retirement period from 1986 to the end of 2000. He published various reports in shell magazines (La Conchiglia, Hawaiian Seashell, Xenophora, and Phuket Marine Biological Center Special Publications). He welcomed visitors and exchanged information with seashell specialists around the world. At the end of January 2001 he had to return to Europe due to serious illness and donated part of his seashell collection and documentation to the Phuket Marine Biological Center. Henri Paul Roussy passed away in Luxembourg on August 1st 2002.

MARINE MOLLUSCS OF VIETNAM

Annotations, Voucher Material, and Species in Need of Verification

Jorgen Hylleberg & Richard N. Kilburn

Hylleberg, J. & R.N. Kilburn. 2003. Marine Molluscs of Vietnam. Annotations, Voucher Material, and Species in Need of Verification. - Phuket Marine Biological Center Special Publication 28: 5-300.

Vietnamese universities and research institutes of the Ministry of Fisheries maintain collections of molluscs for research, educational, and public information purposes. The deposited material has considerable historic value because the voucher specimens have been referred to in publications since 1937. However, at the moment many of the specimens have uncertain status. Thanks to funding by DANIDA/ENRECA, and the considerable effort of Vietnamese institutions, which have produced individual catalogues of species, the Tropical Marine Mollusc Programme (TMMP) presents voucher material available in those collections and make updated information internationally known for the first time. Judgements of the approximately 2200 names given to species deposited in Vietnam, and/or described in the literature, are due to the concerted efforts of resource persons of the TMMP. Classification by authors, obvious misidentification, and records of species not found in Vietnam are listed. However, we emphasize that in the majority of cases we have only judged the names given to species; not the actual specimens. Invariably this approach is associated with some qualified guessing, but taxa identified by TMMP resource persons during activities in Vietnam are specified in the list, which has an index to all taxa. The annotated inventory includes a bibliography of mollusc publications located in the library of the Institute of Oceanography, Nha Trang, in addition to remarks on published taxa, photographs of selected species, and a compilation of non-marine species in an annex.

INTRODUCTION

The original checklists, on which the present inventory is based, were prepared in Vietnam. In those lists we noticed misidentifications and errors regarding distribution and spelling. At first we considered just removing the mistakes, but we realised that the voucher material and old literature were the only sources of information available in Vietnam for a long time and therefore may have been used by many scientists and students. We therefore consider the present inventory as an opportunity to correct some mistakes found in the old material. In consequence, we have included synonyms and material in need of verification because many of the specimens are physically present in collections and available for revisions. The specimens have historic value even if some of them have an uncertain status at the moment; e.g., they may not have been collected in Vietnam. The specimens have probably been misidentified in most cases. However, the status of the species cannot be decided before a closer examination of the specimens has been made. We include them because there are documented cases of foreign fauna in Vietnamese waters, such as the occurrence of the cold-water species Mytilus edulis, which was brought to Vietnam as biofouling on trading ships from the Soviet Union (Lutaenko 2000).

When work on the present checklist started there were about 4000 names of taxa. However, the TMMP resource persons identified many species as being junior synonyms, misidentifications, or not occurring in Vietnam, which reduced the list to encompass about 2200 species of about 700 genera in 200 families, including previously published records from Vietnam.

Serène (1937) authored the first comprehensive inventory of Vietnamese molluscs. He was the former director of the Institute of Oceanography (l'Institut Océanographique de l'Indochine) located in Nha Trang.

More than six decades have passed since 1937 and the names of many species referred to by Serène, need to be updated because of synonyms and references to authors whose works subsequently have been ruled unavailable by the International Committee of Zoological Nomenclature (ICZN), e.g. Chemnitz 1769-1795. His volumes 1-11 of "Neues systematisches Conchylien-Cabinet" have been rejected for nomenclatorial purposes according to Direction 1 by ICZN (Hemming & Noakes 1958). Chemnitz did not fully use the Linnean system (binomial system) so Chemnitz, as the author, must be replaced with the first person who subsequently referred to Chemnitz's species. We have marked such invalid authorship in the list.

Serène (1937) adopted the classification of A.H. Cook "The Cambridge Natural History, Vol. III", but classification of molluscs has changed considerably since the first records were catalogued in the 1920's, particularly regarding the generic classification. Hence, we emphasise that some names cannot be used before a more complete revision has been conducted. However, we have updated the classification and put species into synonymy wherever it has been possible without having the actual specimen at hand. Species, that do not occur in the Indo-Pacific, and species we failed to trace in the literature, have been noted in the remarks. Early records of terrestrial and freshwater molluscs are listed in Annex 1.

In spite of the troublesome years 1940-1975, the collections and the library of the Institute of Oceanography have survived in amazingly good condition. Unfortunately much material has vanished, and different research traditions, and the researchers' access to mainly French literature (Serène 1937; Dawydoff 1952; Marche-Marchad 1955 a,b) resulted in different interpretations of the voucher material.

During the last couple of decades much material has been collected and stored in collections spanning Vietnam from north to south. However, it was not until the TMMP started to bring Vietnamese mollusc researchers together that it was realised how many specimens were available in Vietnam and how the species had been classified (Hylleberg 2000: 298-299).

The first national workshop on molluscs was conducted in 1999 in Nha Trang. The Ministry of Fisheries and the TMMP co-organised the workshop (Hylleberg 2000: 289-291). The same year the TMMP and the Ministry of Fisheries organised the first international training in biodiversity of molluscs at RIA3 in Nha Trang (Hylleberg 2000: 300-305). Besides looking at Vietnamese collections, we realised that many Vietnamese species were stored in museums outside Vietnam, e.g. France, Russia and USA. However, it is difficult to locate such material since most additions to museum collections have never been published.

We became aware of substantial collections deposited in Russia because of many years of Russian-Vietnamese research co-operation (Lutaenko 2000: 347-360). Thanks to the comprehensive studies by Konstantin Lutaenko (2000: 361-382) the TMMP was able to bring an overview of the bivalves deposited in Russia. Lutaenko (2000: 383-389) also described and illustrated species of bivalves previously described by Russian authors from Vietnam.

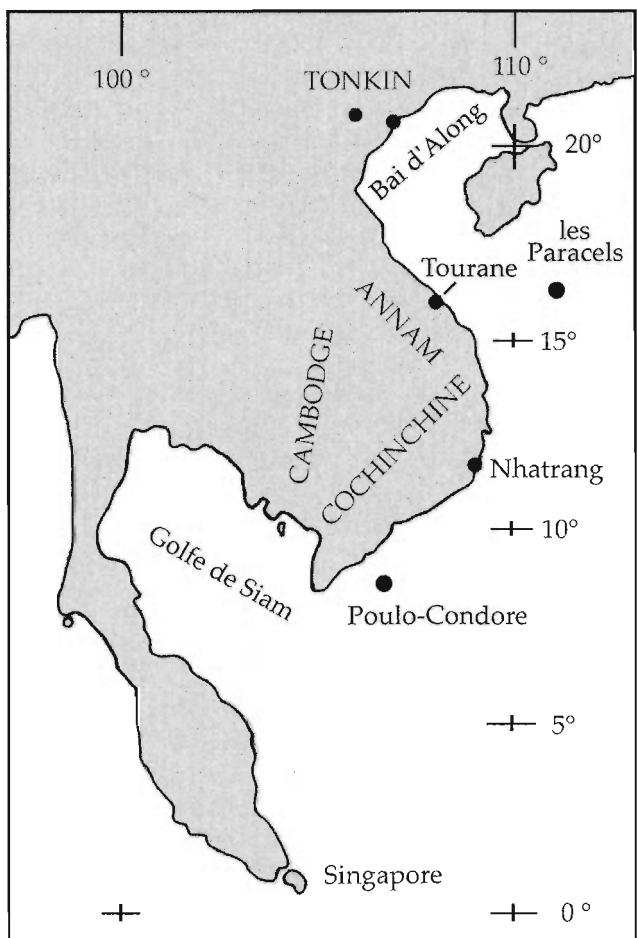

Fig. 1 shows localities referred to by Serène (1937). Annam: Republic during the French period. The region of Annam included the city of Ninh Binh to the north and the city of Nha Trang to the south, roughly corresponding to modern Central Vietnam. Cambodge: Republic during the French period, roughly corresponding to modern Cambodia. Cochinchine: Republic during the French period. The area south of Nha Trang, roughly corresponding to modern South Vietnam. Golfe de Siam: The old name for Gulf of Thailand. Indochine: Geographical term from French period. Corresponding to modern Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam. Les Paracels: Group of islands and reefs located southeast of Hainan. Poulo-Condore: Group of islands off the mouths of the Mekong River. Tonkin: Republic during the French period. The port city of Hai Phong (Haiphong) and the scenic Ha Long Bay (Baie d'Along) are located in this northernmost part of Vietnam, roughly corresponding to modern North Vietnam. Tourane: City south of Hue. Siam: The old name for Thailand.

Format of the checklist

Families of the phylum Mollusca are listed within 5 classes Polyplacophora, Gastropoda, Cephalopoda, Bivalvia, and Scaphopoda. Genera and species are listed in alphabetical order within each family. Subclasses and orders are not completely specified. Basically the present system follows the classification and nomenclature of Mollusca of Australia: The Southern Synthesis (Beesley et al. (eds.) 1998).

Terms, symbols and abbreviations

OF AUTHORS. Most species have been classified in different genera and subgenera over the years. However, it is not possible to give complete reference to classification by individual authors within the limits of the present inventory. "Of authors" means that author(s) used the indicated generic and/or subgeneric classifications. J. Hylleberg has also checked the adopted classification against the listing in Goto & Poppe (1996).

SYNONYM. This term, without qualification, implies a junior synonym.

VOUCHER MATERIAL. Records obtained for specimens deposited in reference collections of 8 Vietnamese institutions, the TMMP collection (will be deposited at the PMBC, Thailand), and polyplacophorans of Hermann Strack to be deposited at the museum in Leiden, Holland.

REMARKS. The specimens themselves have only been studied in a limited number of cases. TMMP resource persons and other specialists have contributed basic information about individual species as specified in remarks at the end of each entry. Further, Roland Houart, Belgium has commented on the Muricidae and provided data on the distribution. Enrico Schwabe, Zoologische Staatssammlung, Munich, Germany, provided information on polyplacophorans.

(#) Serène (1937) indicated collection numbers for some of the specimens in the collection. They are marked ION collection #. Serene also referred to a catalogue (Rte) where field data were registered. These Rte-notes are referred to as Field notes #. The catalogues are still present at the Institute of Oceanography, Nha Trang.

(sic) following a word means that it is printed as it appeared in the original. It normally indicates a mistake in spelling or classification. The latter errors are also marked as [err. pro].

"Known from" gives geographical records mainly listed by Goto & Poppe (1996). These merely serve as guidelines. Range extensions have been found so species can have a much wider distribution than indicated. TMMP resource persons have also added information to the known distribution of species. If there are no remarks it can be taken to indicate a wide Indo-Pacific distribution.

Spelling of geographic names and localities
Words are short in Vietnamese language implying that names are separated into individual components. The international way of spelling puts the components together so Ha Noi (Vietnamese writing) becomes Hanoi (international) etc. We have maintained the Vietnamese spelling: Can Tho = Cantho, Hai Phong = Haiphong, Ha Long Bay = Halong Bay, Nha Trang = Nhatrang, Ho Chi Minh City, abbreviated HCM City, = Saigon

Voucher material

Staff of the following institutions has recorded Vietnamese voucher material:

Northern Vietnam

Hai Phong Institute of Oceanology: Director Nguyen Chu Hoi, Dr. Do Cong Thung, Le Thi Thanh, Lang Van Ken, Nguyen Dang Ngai, Nguyen Thi Thu, Dam Duc Tien, Nguyen Thi Huyen, and Le Thi Thuy.

Central Vietnam

Research Institute for Aquaculture No 3 (RIA 3): Director Nguyen Hung Dien, Dr. Nguyen Chinh, Dr. Nguyen Ngoc Thach, Dr. Nguyen Thi Xuan Thu, Tran Huynh Cuong, and Le Ngoc Hoa.

Institute of Oceanography: Director Dr. Nguyen Tac An, Dr. Vo Si Tuan, Bui Quang Nghi and Hua Thai Tuyen of the Mollusc Collection, and librarian Do Minh Thu.

Fisheries University: Nguyen Trong Nho, Le Thi Hong Mo, and Ngo Anh Tuan.

Southern Vietnam

Research Institute for Aquaculture No 2 (RIA 2), HCM City: Director Nguyen Van Hao, Nguyen Dinh Hung, Tran Quang Minh, and Pham Cong Thanh.

Crude Oil Safety Center, HCM City c/o staff at RIA 2.

Can Tho University: Truong Quoc Phu

University of Agriculture and Forestry: Nguyen Nhu Tri

Material included

The following voucher material is included:

- Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong, North Vietnam. The institute maintains a substantial collection of more than 700 species collected from 1959 until present. N.X. Duc, D.C. Thung & a Vietnamese-Chinese group of researchers working together from 1959-1962 have mainly identified the material. Material published by Duc et al. (1997) is also available in the collection. Collection data are written on the labels. The collection is mainly for research purposes.

- Research Institute of Marine Products (RIMP), Hai Phong, North Vietnam. The institute maintains a museum with about 80 identified species and some unidentified material. Important collection data are written on the labels. Ha Duc Thang and Hoang Van Hai have mainly identified the species. The collection is mainly for public information purposes.

- Institute of Oceanography, Nha Trang, Central Vietnam. The institute maintains a museum, which harbours about 950 species of molluscs. Several researchers have identified the species over a period 8 decades. Most of the material published by Serène (1937) is still preserved in the collection so verification of the ID can be conducted. Important collection data are written on the labels. The collection is mainly for research purposes.

– Research Institute for Aquaculture No. 3, Nha Trang, Central Vietnam. RIA 3 has a small museum with about 400 species of molluscs. They have been mainly been identified by Nguyen Chinh. The TMMP group of researchers (see Hylleberg 2000 below) made additions in 1999. Important collection data are written on the labels. The collection is serving both research and public information purposes.

– University of Fisheries, Nha Trang, Central Vietnam. About 650 species have mainly been identified by the present curators Ngo Anh Tuan and Le Thi Hong Mo. Recent additions have been identified/confirmed by TMMP resource persons (see Hylleberg 2000). Important collection data are written on the labels. The collection serves research and educational purposes.

– University of Natural Science, Ho Chi Minh City, South Vietnam. The Faculty of Biology, University of Natural Science, maintains a collection with more than 300 species kept in wooden cabinets. The collection serves educational purposes, and only names of species are written on the labels.

– Crude Oil Safety Center, Ho Chi Minh City, South Vietnam. The Centre harbours more than 160 interesting species collected offshore from about 100 km south of Nha Trang to the Gulf of Thailand (see Fig. 1). The collection is dominated by small species preserved in glass bottles. The Centre is not a public facility and lists of species have not been published.

– Fac. of Agriculture, Can Tho University, Can Tho, South Vietnam. The Faculty maintains a small collection of about 60 species for educational purposes. Names of species and place of collection are written on the labels.

– TMMP. In connection with TMMP activities J. Hylleberg has collected a total of 332 Vietnamese species of molluscs.

Most of this material was identified/checked by R.N. Kilburn at a workshop in Aarhus, Denmark, in June 2001 (Hylleberg 2001). Additional identification of species have been carried out by D.G Reid, Alan Kohn, B. Tursch, J. Hylleberg, J. Vidal, K.W. Ockelmann, V. Vongpanich, and S.

Bussarawit as indicated in the present checklist. The TMMP collection encompasses a total of 1075 species from South East Asia. It will be placed in an Asian museum or reference collection after termination of the TMMP in 2003.

– Nguyen Ngoc Thach. Specimens kept in the collection of Kurodai Shop, Nha Trang.

Publications

Dautzenberg P. & H. Fischer (1905a). A total of 57 marine molluscs were collected in Tonkin by a French captain. The authors give comprehensive literature references, discuss characters, and describe new species. The paper includes 44 non-marine taxa.

Dautzenberg P. & H. Fischer (1905b). This study has a layout similar to the 1905a contribution. It contains 59 marine and 67 non-marine taxa. The material was collected in Yunnan (Chinese province north of Tonkin), Vietnam, and Cambodia.

Dautzenberg P. & H. Fischer (1906). This paper mainly deals with marine molluscs. A total of 83 marine and 19 non-marine species from Vietnam and Cambodia are included.

Serène (1937). Institute of Oceanography (IO) collection, Nha Trang. The material was collected from north to south of Vietnam and part of the Gulf of Thailand. The checklist encompasses 690 taxa, and indicates where samples were obtained. The list refers to some catalogue numbers for more data information. The catalogue and most of the voucher material are still present at the IO.

Dawyoff (1952). Contributions to studies of invertebrates of the marine benthic fauna of Indochina. About 300 taxa of molluscs are mentioned in a checklist, which has emphasis on nudibranchs.

Marche-Marchad (1955a). A list of Nassariidae encompasses 33 species, including 4 species which might occur in Vietnam, but were not collected by Marche-Marchad.

Marche-Marchad (1955b). The author records 18 species in the family Cymatiidae and 10 species in Bursidae.

Nguyen Chinh (1996). Molluscs of commercial value. The book illustrates 88 species of molluscs and gives descriptions of the gastropods, bivalves and cephalopods in Vietnamese language.

Nguyen X. Duc et al. (1997). The annotated checklist covers Cat Ba and Ha Long Bay in North Vietnam. The authors present 368 taxa, resulting from a Vietnamese-Korean co-operation. Littoral and sublittoral distributions are indicated by absence-presence marks.

Gulbin & Evseev (1997) A checklist of 153 species of gastropods collected in 9 intertidal areas along the Vietnamese coast. They collected snails from a total of 555 intertidal stations.

Hua Thai Tuyen (1998) provided an overview of 37 species of Arcoida based on a museum collection in Vietnam.

Hua Thai Tuyen (1999) recorded 193 species of marine molluscs from Con Dao National Park.

Nguyen Chinh (1999) illustrated overview of 8 species in Pteriidae from Vietnam.

Hylleberg (2000). The checklist covers 401 taxa from North and Central Vietnam plus specimens from Cambodia (Gulf of Thailand). Hylleberg (2000) compiled the list. Persons from the following institutions identified the material. Australia: Dr. Peter Middelfart, the Australian Museum, Sydney. - Belgium: Dr. Bernard Tursch, University Libre, Brussel - Cambodia: Marine biologist Ing Try, the Reference Collection, Sihanoukville. - Denmark: Dr. Jorgen Hylleberg, University of Aarhus Dr. K.W. Ockelmann, Elsinore Marine Biological Laboratory, University of Copenhagen, and Dr. Kathe Rose Jensen, Zoological Museum, Copenhagen. - France: Research Associate Jacques Vidal, Museum National d'Histoire Naturelle. - Indonesia: Docen Gustaf Mamangkey, UNSRAT, Manado.

Netherlands: Dr. Herman Strack, Nationaal Natuurhistorisch Museum, Leiden. - Russia: Dr. Yuri Kantor and Dr. Konstantin A. Lutaenko, Russian Academy of Sciences, Moscow and Vladivostok respectively. - Singapore: Dr. Tan Koh Siang, National University of Singapore. - South Africa: Dr. Richard Kilburn, the Natal Museum, Pietermaritzburg. - Taiwan: Dr. Lu C.C., The National Chung Hsing University. - Thailand: Dr. Anuwat Nateewathana, DOF Museum Division, Bangkok and Marine Biologist Vararin Vongpanich, Phuket Marine Biological Center. UK: Dr. David Reid, The Natural History Museum, London. - USA: Dr. Alan Kohn, University of Washington, Seattle. - Vietnam: Dr. Nguyen Thach, Kurodai Shop, Nha Trang and Dr. Nguyen Chinh, RIA 3, Ministry of Fisheries, Nha Trang. A wide selection of the identified material is deposited in the reference collection of RIA 3. (Hylleberg 2000: 519-537).

K.A. Lutaenko (2000). An annotated checklist shows 367 species of bivalves from North Vietnam (Tonkin Bay) deposited in Russian collections. Identifiers, literature references, and depositories are indicated for all species. Type material is illustrated (Lutaenko 2000: 361-390).

Le Thi Hong Mo. (2001). Illustrated overview of 20 species of Arcoida deposited in the University of Fisheries.

Nguyen Chinh (2001) illustrated overview of 17 species in Mytilidae recorded in Vietnam.

Nguyen Ngoc Thach (2001) illustrated overview of 5 species of volutes occurring in Vietnam.

Nguyen X. Duc (2001). An annotated checklist of 372 taxa of molluscs from Ha Long Bay and Cat Ba Island was presented at the First National Workshop on Marine Molluscs conducted in March 1999 in Nha Trang. TMMP co-sponsored this event. The checklist is an updated version in Vietnamese language of the previous work by Nguyen X. Duc et al. (1997) plus species deposited in the Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong. It should be noted that many printer's errors appear in the 2001 version.

Thach, N.N. (2002). (= Nguyen Ngoc Thach). A checklist of 1042 species of 313 genera in 111 families. The publisher uses Thach (the first name) as family name.

Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003) and Nguyen Chinh & Le Ngoc Hoa (2003) were added in the proofs.

Other sources. Various other students of Vietnamese molluscs, are mentioned in the remarks and shown in the references. Risbec (1956) described the nudibranch species from the IO, Nha Trang. Risbec listed 96 species of which 6 were described as new. Collection numbers were given for 39 species. In August 2001 K.R. Jensen checked the nudibranch specimens of the IO collection, but in no case did collection numbers match those listed by Risbec. As some of the type material is known to occur in the Muséum National d'Histoire naturelle (MNHN) in Paris (Brunckhorst 1993; Valdés & Héros 1998), K.R. Jensen assumes that all specimens described in Risbec's paper are located in that museum.

A list of publications available at the Institute of Oceanography, Nha Trang (ION) concludes the references.

Illustrations

R.N. Kilburn provided the digital colour pictures printed on this cover (inside and outside). They were transferred as Photoshop files to the editor who imported them without further editing.

The editor used a digital camera to copy plates in Dautzenberg & Fischer (1906). The figures were cut, edited, and texted (original classification was maintained).

Georg Eevsev and K.A. Lutaenko provided black & white positives. The editor scanned them at 600 dpi. They were reduced to 300 dpi, edited, texted, and arranged on Plate 1.

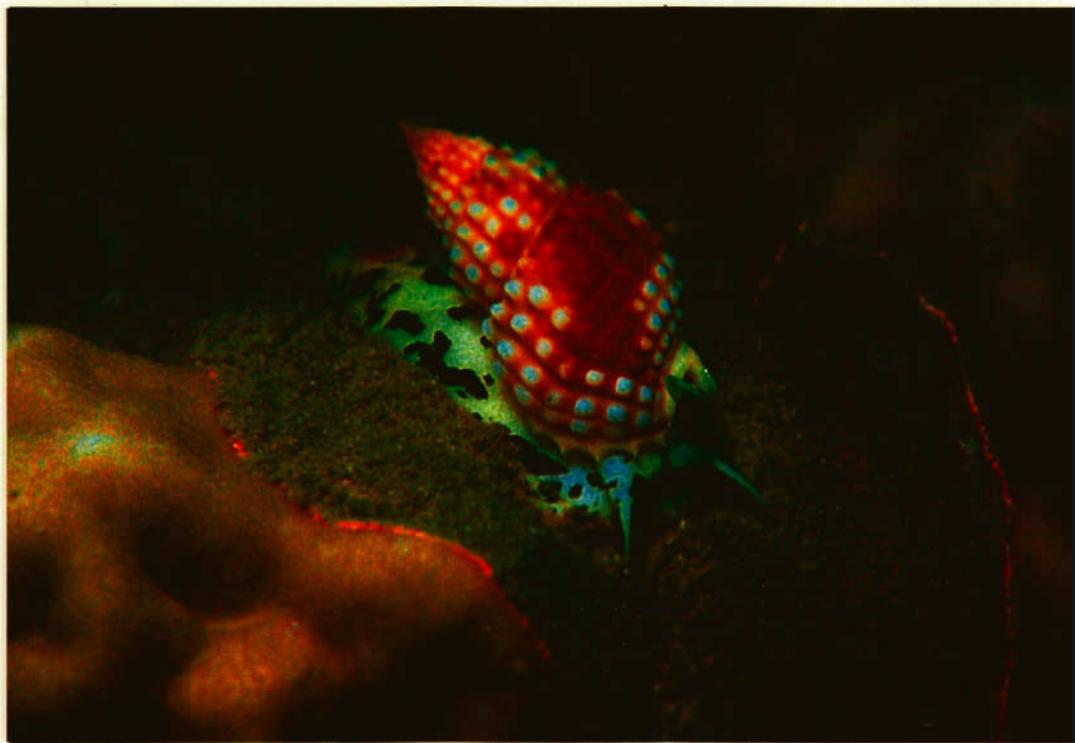

Jorgen Hylleberg produced Plates 2-5 from colour negatives scanned at 600 dpi, reduced to 300 dpi, edited, and texted.

Rudolf von Cosel provided colour dias. They were scanned at 600 dpi, reduced to 300 dpi, edited, texted, and arranged on Plates 6-8 by the editor.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Ministry of Fisheries, Hanoi, is thanked for generous support to the 10th International Congress and Workshop which was conducted in the Socialist Republic of Vietnam 20-30 October 1999 in collaboration with RIMP, Ria 1 and Ria 3 of the Ministry of Fisheries. We are particularly grateful to the chairperson of the Organising Committee Dr Ho Van Hoanh and to Mr Tran van Quynh, the Ministry of Fisheries. TMMP resource persons are thanked for having contributed essential data to the present inventory.

TAXONOMIC ACCOUNT

Families, genera, and species are listed alphabetically within class/subclass and order. The levels of suborder, subfamily, subgenus, subspecies, and infrasubspecific classification are only included in part. Bold typeface signifies Vietnamese species. Normal font signifies valid species in need of verification (may represent misidentifications). Asterisk (*) in front signifies invalid taxon (nomen dubium and nomen nudum).

Class POLYPLACOPHORA

(formerly AMPHINEURA)

Annotations and references by Hermann L. Strack.

Leloup (1952) has published the only substantial paper on Vietnamese chitons (13 species were recorded). Strack (1991) described one species, Lepidozona vietnamensis, from Cap Saint Jacques (= Vung Tau). He collected chitons from a few localities during the TMMP workshop in Cat Ba. The collected material is presently kept in Leiden, the Netherlands.

LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952) as Chromodoris hystrix. Poulo-Condore. – Risbec (1956) as Glossodoris histrio Bergh. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that this may be Chromodoris rufomaculata Pease, 1871, or C. bimaensis Bergh, 1905, or C. tumulifera Collingwood, 1881 (see Rudman 1987 p. 355).

Chromodoris iris Collingwood [doubtful ID]

LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952). South Annam. Poulo-Condore. – Risbec (1956) as Glossodoris iris. Hon Mieu. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen suggested that this may be Hypselodoris infucata (Rüppell & Leuckart, 1828) or H. festiva A. Adams, 1861 (Rudman, 1977 pp. 386–87).

Chromodoris lineolata (van Hasselt, 1824)

VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong. LITERATURE. Collected at Cat Ba Island in 1999 and identified by K.R. Jensen in Hylleberg (2000). – Nguyen X. Duc (2001).

Chromodoris marginata (Pease, 1860) [? ID]

LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952). – Risbec (1956) as Glossodoris marginata. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that Chromodoris marginata (Pease, 1860) may be Chromodoris verrieri (Crosse, 1875) or C. sinensis Rudman, 1985 (Rudman 1985 p. 262 and p. 272).

Chromodoris quadricolor

(Rüppell & Leuckart, 1828) [doubtful ID]

LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952). – Risbec (1956) as Glossodoris quadricolor. REMARKS. Not in Vietnam. K.R. Jensen states that C. quadricolor (Rüppell & Leuckart, 1828) occurs only in the Red Sea and Western Indian Ocean. The species occurring in Vietnam may be Chromodoris lochi Rudman, 1982 or C. magnifica (Quoy & Gaimard, 1832) (Rudman 1982 p. 186 and p. 216).

Chromodoris tenuis Collingwood, 1881[? ID]

LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952). Poulo-Condore. Risbec (1956) as Glossodoris tenuis. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen mentioned that this could also be C. aspersa (Gould, 1852) as Risbec has previously mixed up these species (Rudman 1983 p. 145).

Chromodoris tinctoria

(Rüppell & Leuckart, 1828)

SYNONYM. Chromodoris reticulata (Quoy & Gaimard, 1832). LITERATURE. Risbec (1956) as Risbecia reticulata. Hon Mieu. – Debelius (1996). REMARKS. K.R. Jensen: this is presently known as Chromodoris tinctoria (Rüppell & Leuckart, 1828) (Rudman 1999c).

Chromodoris cf. tumulifera Collingwood, 1881

LITERATURE. Collected at Cat Ba Island in 1999 and identified by K.R. Jensen in Hylleberg (2000).

SYNONYM. Chromodoris semperi Bergh. LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952) as C. semperi. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen: C. semperi Bergh, 1877 is Hypselodoris infucata (Rüppell & Leuckart, 1828) (Rudman 1977 p. 386).

Hypselodoris maculosa (Pease, 1871)

SYNONYM. Glossodoris decorata Risbec. LITERATURE. Risbec (1956). Iles aux Singes as G. decorata. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that G. decorata (Risbec, 1928) is a synonym of Hypselodoris maculosa (Pease, 1871) (Rudman, 1986 p. 346).

Hypselodoris ?maridadalus Rudman, 1977

OF AUTHORS. Glossodoris hilaris Bergh. LITERATURE. Risbec (1956), Baie Suot, as Glossodoris hilaris Bergh. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that Glossodoris hilaris is probably a species of Hypselodoris, and may be identical to H. maridadalus Rudman, 1977 (Rudman 1977 p. 359).

Mexichromis Bertsch, 1977Mexichromis multituberculata (Baba, 1953)

OF AUTHORS. Glossodoris multituberculata Baba. VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong. LITERATURE. Nguyen X. Duc et al. (1997). Nguyen X. Duc (2001) as Glossodoris multituberculata Baba.

*Risbecia*Risbecia tryoni (Garrett, 1873)

SYNONYM. Risbecia odhneri Risbec. LITERATURE. Risbec (1956) as Risbecia odhneri. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen: R. odhneri Risbec, 1953 is a synonym of R. tryoni (Garrett, 1873) (Rudman 1987 p. 379).

ACTINOCYCLIDAE

Actinocyclus Ehrenberg, 1831Actinocyclus verrucosus Ehrenberg, 1831

SYNONYMS. Aldisa nhatrangensis Risbec, 1956. Actinocyclus japonicus (Eliot, 1913). LITERATURE. Risbec (1956) as Aldisa nhatrangensis Risbec, 1956. Hon Lon. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that Aldisa nhatrangensis has been synonymised with Actinocyclus japonicus (Eliot, 1913) (Millen & Gosliner 1985 p. 225). Aldisa Bergh, 1878 is placed in Aldisidae Odhner, 1939 by several authors. The holotype of A. nhatrangensis is in the MNHN, Paris (Valdés & Héros 1998).

Actinocyclus papillatus (Bergh, 1878)

OF AUTHORS. Sphaerodoris papillata Bergh. Sphaerodoris Bergh, 1877. LITERATURE.

Dawydooff (1952). Spratleys. – Risbec (1956). In family Miamiridae. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen: the family Miamirida Bergh, 1891 is now considered part of Chromodorididae (Valdés & Gosliner 1999), whereas the genus Sphaerodoris is considered a synonym of Actinocyclus (Valdes 2002) in the family Actinocyclidae.

DORIDIDAE

Doris Linnaeus, 1758

Doris harmandi Rochebrune, 1882

LITERATURE. Fischer (1891). Poulo-Condore. Serène (1937). ION collection, Annam, Field notes # 91. – Dawydooff (1952) as Doris harmandi Koch (sic). Baie de Nha Trang. Risbec (1956) as Doris harmandi Kock (sic). REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that this may be a species of Asteronotus (Russell, 1971).

Doris raripilosa Abraham, 1877 [doubtful ID]

OF AUTHORS. Subgenus or genus (Discodoris). LITERATURE. Fischer (1891). – Serène (1937). ION collection, Poulo-Condore. – Dawydooff (1952). – Risbec (1956) as Discodoris raripilosa. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that the identity of this species is uncertain.

Asteronotus Ehrenberg, 1831

Asteronotus boholiensis Bergh [doubtful ID]

LITERATURE. Dawydooff (1952). – Risbec (1956). REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that this may be Discodoris boholiensis Bergh, 1877. Genus Asteronotus is sometimes placed in family Halgerdidae Odhner, 1926 (Fahey & Gosliner 1999).

Asteronotus cespitosus (van Hasselt, 1824)

OF AUTHORS. Subgenus or genus (Asteronotus). SYNONYM. Doris mabilla Bergh. LITERATURE. Fischer (1891). – Serène (1937). ION collection, Poulo-Condore. – Dawydooff (1952). – Risbec (1956) as Asteronotus mabilla. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that Abraham (1877) describes this as Doris mabilla n.sp [Bergh in sched.]. This has been synonymised with Asteronotus cespitosus (van Hasselt, 1824).

Discodoris Bergh, 1877

Discodoris concinna (Alder & Hancock, 1864)

LITERATURE. Dawydooff (1952). Poulo-Condore and Nha Trang, as D. concinna Abraham. Risbec (1956). REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that Genus Discodoris is sometimes placed in family Discodorididae Bergh, 1891.

Discodoris notiperda Risbec, 1956

LITERATURE. Risbec, (1956) Port Dayot. Nha Trang. Cua Be. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that the type specimens are in MNHN, Paris (Valdés & Héros 1998).

Hoplodoris Bergh, 1880

Hoplodoris estrelyada Gosliner & Behrens, 1998

OF AUTHORS. H. nodulosa in Debelius (1996). REMARKS. Gosliner & Behrens (1998) as H. nodulosa: Debelius (1996). Nha Trang. K.R. Jensen noted that Gosliner & Behrens identified the species figured in Debelius (1996 p. 253) as H. estrelyada.

Peltodoris Bergh, 1880

Peltodoris noumeae Risbec, 1937

LITERATURE. Risbec (1956), Hon Tre. Cay Xoai.

Platydoris Bergh, 1880.

Platydoris argo (Linnaeus, 1767)

LITERATURE. Dawydooff (1952). – Risbec (1956). REMARKS. Not in Vietnam. This is a Mediterranean-Lusitanian species according to K.R. Jensen.

Platydoris cruenta (Quoy & Gaimard, 1832)

LITERATURE. Dawydooff (1952). – Risbec (1956). Poulo-Condore, Ile Pattle, and Hon Tre. REMARKS. Platydoris of authors in Family Platydorididae Bergh, 1891. K.R. Jensen states that the species, P. cruenta and P. formosa (Alder & Hancock, 1864) have probably been mixed up by many authors in the past (Rudman 2000 d,e,f).

Platydoris ellioti (Alder & Hancock, 1864)

SYNONYMS. Platydoris speciosa (Abraham,

1877). LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952), reefs of Annam, as Platydoris speciosa (Abraham, 1877). – Risbec (1956) as Platydoris speciosa (Abraham, 1877). REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that P. speciosa has recently been synonymized with P. ellioti (Alder & Hancock, 1864) (Dorgan et al. 2002).

Platydoris laminea Risbec, 1928

LITERATURE. Risbec (1956), Baie Suot. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that this species is not included in the recent revision of the genus by Dorgan et al. (2002).

Platydoris scabra (Cuvier, 1804)

Synonyms. Platydoris noumeae Risbec, 1928. LITERATURE. Risbec (1956) as P. scabra Bergh. Nha Trang. Risbec (1956), Poulo-Condore as Platydoris noumeae. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that P. noumeae has recently been synonymized with P. scabra (Cuvier, 1804) (Dorgan et al. 2002).

Platydoris tabulata* (Abraham, 1877).

LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952). REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that this species is considered a nomen dubium by Dorgan et al. (2002).

Thordisa Bergh, 1877

Thordisa maculigera Bergh, 1877

LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952) Risbec (1956) as T. maculifera.

Thordisa punctulifera Bergh, 1907

LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952). – Risbec (1956)

ARCHIDORIDIDAE

Atagema Gray, 1850

Atagema ornata (Ehrenberg, 1831)

SYNONYM. Trippa intecta (Kelaart, 1858). LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952) as T. ornata Bergh Risbec (1956), Hon Mieu and Hon Tre. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen mentioned that Trippa intecta is now known as Atagema ornata (Ehrenberg, 1831) (Valdes & Gosliner 2001). The genus Trippa Bergh, 1878 has recently been synonymized with Atagema (Valdés & Gosliner, 2001).

DENDRODORIDIDAE

Dendrodoris Ehrenberg, 1831

Dendrodoris elongata Baba, 1936

LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952) as Doridopsis tristis Kelaart. – Risbec (1956). Hon Lon. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen mentioned that Risbec (1956) suggested that D. tristis Kelaart, 1858 and possibly D. punctata (Quoy & Gaimard, 1832) are older synonyms for this species, but see also discussion on the Sea Slug Forum (Rudman 1999d).

Dendrodoris nigra (Stimpson, 1855)

VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong. LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952) as Doridopsis nigra. – Risbec (1956) as Dendrodoris montrouzieri Crosse. Cua Be. Nguyen X. Duc et al. (1997). – Nguyen X. Duc (2001). REMARKS. Brodie et al. 1997 lists D. montrouzieri in the synonymy of D. nigra according to K.R. Jensen.

Dendrodoris fumata (Rüppell & Leuckart, 1830)

SYNONYMS. Dendrodoris rubra. Dendrodoris erubescens. LITERATURE. Serène (1937). ION collection, Annam, as Doridopsis rubra Kel. Dawyoff (1952). – Risbec (1956) as D. erubescens Bergh. Cau Da, Cua Be, Cay Xoai, Hon Lon and Baie Mien. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that Dendrodoris rubra (Kelaart, 1858) and D. erubescens (Bergh, 1905) have been synonymised with D. fumata (Rüppell & Leuckart, 1830) (Brodie et al. 1997). Risbec lists several collection numbers for D. erubescens from Nha Trang, but Jensen was not able to locate these in the ION collection. Maybe they are in MNHN, Paris with other Risbec specimens.

Dendrodoris tuberculosa

(Quoy & Gaimard, 1832)

SYNONYM. Dendrodoris carbunculosa. LITERATURE. Risbec (1956) Indochine as D. carbunculosa (Kelaart, 1858). REMARKS. K.R. Jensen mentioned that Rudman (1998b,c) points out that D. tuberculosa has often been confused with D. carbunculosa (Kelaart, 1858). Risbec's figures indicate that the Vietnamese specimens were D. carbunculosa.

Dendrodoris viridis (Pease, 1861)

LITERATURE. Dawydoff (1952) as Doridopsis viridis Peace (sic). Poulo-Condore. – Risbec (1956). REMARKS. Status not known. We have only found reference to this taxon in the cited literature.

Doriopsilla Bergh, 1880*Doriopsilla pallida* Bergh, 1902

LITERATURE. Dawydoff (1952).

GONIODORIDIDAE

Okenia Leuckart & Bronn
in Menke, 1830*Okenia plebeja* (Bergh, 1902)

Dawydoff (1952) as Idalia plebeja. Poulo-Condore and Nha Trang. – Risbec (1956).

GYMNOGORIDIDAE

Gymnodoris Stimpson, 1855
(synonym of Trevelyania)Gymnodoris alba (Bergh, 1877)

LITERATURE. Dawydoff (1952) as Trevelyania alba. Poulo-Condore and Tourane. REMARKS. Risbec (1956) lists Goniodoris alba Bergh. K.R. Jensen states that it is probably a misprint for Gymnodoris alba.

Gymnodoris ceylonica (Kelaart, 1858).

LITERATURE. Dawydoff (1952) as Trevelyania ceylonica. Spratleys. REMARKS. Risbec (1956) lists Goniodoris ceylonica Kelaart but K.R. Jensen states that it is probably a misprint for Gymnodoris ceylonica.

Gymnodoris citrina (Bergh, 1877)

LITERATURE. Dawydoff (1952) as Trevelyania citrina. Poulo-Condore and South Annam. Risbec (1956). Hon Mieu.

Gymnodoris rubromaculata (Bergh, 1905)

LITERATURE. Risbec (1956), Hon Mieu as Gymnodoris (?rubromaculata Bergh). REMARKS.

K.R. Jensen states that this species was originally described as Trevelyania rubromaculata Bergh, 1905.

HEXABRANCHIIDAE

PHYLLIDIIDAE

Fryeria* Gray, 1853

Fryeria rueppelii* Bergh, 1869

LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952). – Risbec (1956). REMARKS. Not in Vietnam. K.R. Jensen states that this is a Red Sea endemic (Brunckhorst 1993 p. 44).

Phyllidia* Cuvier, 1797

Phyllidia coelestis* Bergh, 1905

LITERATURE. Risbec (1956) as P. honloni p.p. Hon Lon. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen: Risbec (1956) considered this species a synonym of P. varicosa. However, Brunckhorst (1993 pp. 30-31), when examining the syntypes of P. honloni (see below) states that 4 of these (E34207, E34212, E34258, E34888, all in MNHN, Paris) were actually P. coeslestis. These specimens had been collected at Hon Lon.

Phyllidia elegans* Bergh, 1869

LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952). – Risbec (1956)

Phyllidia varicosa* Lamarck, 1801

SYNONYMS. Phyllidia honloni Risbec, 1956. Phyllidia trilineata Cuvier, 1804. LITERATURE. Serène (1937). ION collection, Annam # 646; Field notes # Rte 97 as Phyllidia trilineata. Dawyoff (1952) as Phyllidia trilineata. Dawyoff (1952) as Phyllidia varicosa. – Risbec (1956). Hon Lon and Nha Trang as Phyllidia varicosa. – Risbec (1956). Hon Lon and Hon Mun as Phyllidia honloni Risbec, 1956. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen states that according to Brunckhorst (1993 p. 27) this species is P. varicosa, though some of Risbec's original specimens are P. coelestis Bergh, 1905. Lectotype (number E34203) and 4 paralectotypes (Numbers E34202, E34204 and E34205) in MNHN Paris. Phyllidia trilineata Cuvier, 1804 is an objective synonym of Phyllidia varicosa Lamarck, 1801 (same holotype) (Bruckhorst 1993 p. 26).

Phyllidiella* Bergh, 1869

Phyllidiella nigra* (van Hasselt, 1824)

SYNONYM. Phyllidia serenei Risbec, 1956. LITERATURE. Risbec (1956), Ile Poulo as Phyllidia serenei. REMARKS. K.R. Jensen: Brunckhorst (1993 p. 55) synonymised this species with Phyllidiella nigra (van Hasselt, 1824). He also selected lectotype (E34210), which was also designated as neotype for Phyllidiella nigra, and paralectotypes (E34208, E34209, E34211) from Risbec's syntypes of P. serenei in MNHN, Paris.

Phyllidiella pustulosa* Cuvier, 1804

SYNONYMS. Phyllidia variabilis (Collingwood, 1881). Phyllidiella nobilis Bergh, ?1869. LITERATURE. Fischer (1891). – Serène (1937). ION collection, Poulo-Condore. – Dawyoff (1952) as Phyllidiella pustulosa. – Dawyoff (1952) as Phyllidiella nobilis Bergh. – Risbec (1956) as Phyllidiella pustulosa. – Risbec (1956). Hon Lon and Nha Trang as Phyllidia variabilis. – Risbec (1956), Hon Mun as Phyllidiella nobilis Bergh. REMARKS. K.R.

Jensen states that this species belongs to the genus Phyllidiella (Brunckhorst 1993 p. 49). Brunckhorst (op. cit.) synonymised Phyllidia variabilis and Phyllidiella nobilis with Phyllidiella pustulosa.

OF AUTHORS. Arca mortensi. LITERATURE. Hua Thai Tuyen (1998) as Arca mortenceni Lingbe (sic). – K.A. Lutaenko (2000). REMARKS. K.A. Lutaenko (2000) states that this small arcid (12 mm long) was described based on the single left valve and, probably, is not an anadarine. It has 47 sharp ribs, which is unusual for anadarines: only few species from this area have a rib number exceeding 40. The species does not morphologically resemble any of them. Examination of type material may reveal the status of A. mortensi.

Lutaenko states that Arca sabinae is a synonym of Anadara (Potiarca) pilula (Reeve, 1843).

Anadara rotundicostata* (Reeve, 1844)

OF AUTHORS. Genus Arca. Anadara (Mabellarca) consociata (Smith, 1885). LITERATURE. Hua Thai Tuyen (1998) as Arca rotundicostata Reeve. K.A. Lutaenko (2000). REMARKS. K.A. Lutaenko (2000) states that I.P. Zorina identified Anadara (Mabellarca) consociata (Smith, 1885), an abundant Vietnamese subtidal ark shell. The status of A. rotundicostata itself is not clear: the figure of Reeve (1844) refers, most likely, to a representative of the subgenus Anadara (Tegillarca) Iredale, 1939. However, type locality of this species is unknown and type specimens are not isolated in the Natural History Museum (London) (Stevenson, 1972). Moreover, A. consociata is believed to be a synonym of Anadara (Diluvarca) ferruginea (Reeve, 1844) (Stevenson, 1972) and its subgeneric position also requires verification (Evseev & Lutaenko, 1998). On other side, Arca

rotundicostata of Reeve is similar to Anadara cuneata (Reeve, 1844) described by Vongpanich (1996) from Thailand. A. cuneata is believed to be a synonym of Anadara (Tegillarca) granosa (L., 1758) (Stevenson, 1972; Evseev & Lutaenko, 1998). Lamprell and Healy (1998) regarded A. rotundicostata as a separate species in Australia. This taxonomic mess should be resolved through examination of types. It should be also mentioned that Anadara pesmatacis Oliver et Chesney, 1994 (Oliver & Chesney, 1994) is close to this complex (cuneata-rotundicostata).

SOLENIDAE

Annotated by Rudo von Cosel

Solen Linnaeus, 1758

Solen arcuatus Tchang & Hwang, 1964

VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai

Phong. LITERATURE. Nguyen X. Duc et al. (1997) as Solen arcuatus Tchang & Hwang. – Nguyen X. Duc (2001) as Solen arcuatuss (sic). REMARKS. R.v. Cosel has seen Solen arcuatus from Vietnam. Also known from China.

Solen brevissimus Martens, 1865

Synonym. Solen dunkerianus Clessin, 1883. VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong. LITERATURE. Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003) as Solen dunkerianus. REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that specimens from Japan identified as S. dunkerianus in the literature are in fact a new species (S. kikuchii Cosel 2002). Furthermore, R.v. Cosel places S. dunkerianus Clessin in the synonymy of S. brevissimus Martens, 1865. Specimens cited from China may still belong to another species, not yet identified (cf. Cosel 2002). ID of the Vietnam specimens not possible without examining them.

Solen canaliculatus Tchang & Hwang, 1964.

Of authors. Solen luzonicus (Dunker, 1861). VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong as S. canaliculatus. – Crude Oil Safety Center, HCM City as Solen luzonicus (Dunker, 1861). LITERATURE. K.A. Lutaenko (2000) as S. luzonicus. – Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003) as Solen canaliculatus.

REMARKS. R.v. Cosel has collected live specimens of S. canaliculatus off the SW coast of Taiwan, in 30–60 m; the probability of occurrence of this species in Vietnam is high. Also known from Mainland China. Further, R.v. Cosel states that Solen luzonicus (Dunker, 1861) was correctly described as “Ensis luzonicus” by Dunker. It is a juvenile specimen of E. macha Molina, 1782 from Chile. The species cited under the name “Solen luzonicus” in literature of SE Asian Mollusca is the Japanese form of S. canaliculatus Tchang & Hwang, 1964 or perhaps a close, but different species. The Vietnamese specimens are most probably S. canaliculatus.

Solen ceylonensis Leach, 1814

LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952). REMARKS. Not in Vietnam. R.v. Cosel states that this is a rather large Indian Ocean species (Aden to Indian Peninsula), which definitely does not occur in Vietnam.

Solen corneus* Lamarck, 1818

VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanography, Nha Trang. LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952). K.A. Lutaenko (2000). REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that the name is correct. The species occurs from the inner Gulf of Thailand to Sarawak and Indonesia. It is probable that it occurs also in Vietnam.

Solen exiguum* Dunker, 1862.

VOUCHER MATERIAL. University of Fisheries, Nha Trang. LITERATURE. Dawyoff (1952) as Solen exiguum Linné.

REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that the name is correct. However, confusion with "S. dunkerianus" is possible.

Solen grandis* Dunker, 1861

VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong. – Research Institute for Aquaculture No. 3. – University of Fisheries, Nha Trang. – TMMP Coll. Identified by R.N. Kilburn (Hylleberg 2001). LITERATURE. Identified by R.N. Kilburn in Hylleberg (2000). – K.A. Lutaenko (2000). – Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003).

REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that this is a Japanese species, which most probably extends southward to Taiwan. However, it is very unlikely that S. grandis occurs further southward and lives in Vietnam. The specimens from there, examined so far, belong to the very close-looking Solen brevis Hanley, 1842, of which in fact the valid name is Solen vagina Linné, 1758 (synonymy not yet published). S. brevis/vagina is strictly tropical and is widespread from the Indian Ocean to China (Hai Nan). The voucher specimens from Vietnam most probably belong to this species.

Solen lamarckii* Deshayes, 1839

OF AUTHORS. Solen lamarckii Deshayes, 1839. LITERATURE. Dautzenberg & Fischer (1906) as Solen lamarckii Chenu, 1843. – Serène (1937). ION collection, Tonkin Field notes # St. 799 as Solen lamarckii Chenu.

REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that Solen lamarckii Deshayes, 1839 was described in 1843 as Solecurtus lamarckii. Solen lamarckii Chenu is in part a synonym of S. vagina/brevis, and the Vietnamese specimens may belong to that species.

Solen linearis* Spengler, 1794.

OF AUTHORS. Solen linearis Spengler, 1778. VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanography, Hai Phong. – Institute of Oceanography, Nha Trang. University of Fisheries, Nha Trang. LITERATURE. Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003) as Solen inearis [sic]. REMARKS. Not in Vietnam. R.v. Cosel states that the Vietnamese specimens most probably belong to the new species S. pseudolinearis Cosel, 2002 with type locality Amoy (= Xiamen). It occurs along the tropical Chinese coast but is not known from Japan. The "true" S. linearis is known from the eastern Indian Ocean (Andaman Sea).

Solen reevei Deshayes.

VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanography, Nha Trang as Solen reevei Deshayes. REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that this name does not exist. There is a Macra reevei described by Deshayes, but not a Solen.

VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanography, Hai Phong. – Crude Oil Safety Center, HCM City. LITERATURE. K.A. Lutaenko (2000). – Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003). REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that this is a widespread Indo-Pacific species.

REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that this is a widespread Indo-Pacific species. The figured specimen is 70,8 mm, Nha Trang region (no precision), leg. N.N. Thach, 2001, MNHN. S. versicolor is most probably a synonym of S. sloanii.

1861. – S. strictus is a temperate species occurring in Sakhalin, Japan and Korea but not in the tropics. However, the Vietnam specimens are most probably the newly described S. thachi Cosel, 2002. It is superficially close-looking but much smaller.

Solen thachi* Cosel, 2002

Plate 6, fig. 2 (holotype).

REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that holotype is at MNHN. The type is 70.7 mm; from Long Hai, 120 km NE of Hochiminhville. Cosel has added rectification of a printer's error in Cosel 2002: the holotype of Solen thachi (plate 37) is not the specimen on Fig. 1 a–b but that on fig. 3, and only one view is shown. attenuatus (Dunker, 1861). VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong. – Research Institute for Aquaculture No. 3. – TMMP Coll. Identified by R.N. Kilburn (Hylleberg 2001). LITERATURE. K.A. Lutaenko (2000). – Nguyen Chinh & Le Ngoc Hoa (2003) as Phaxas attenuatus. – Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003) as Cultellus attenuatus [err.]. REMARKS. K.A. Lutaenko (2000) states that Cultellus attenuatus was described in fam. Solenidae. R.N. Kilburn found it present in the RIA3 coll. R.v. Cosel states that this is a rather large and widespread Indo-Pacific species. The figured specimen is 71,1 mm, Nha Trang region (no precision), leg. N.N. Thach, 2001, MNHN. The family Cultellidae Davies, 1935 is a synonym of Pharidae Adams & Adams, 1858.

Cultellus hanleyi* (Dunker, 1862)

OF AUTHORS. Phaxas hanleyi (Dunker, 1862). VOUCHER MATERIAL. Crude Oil Safety Center, HCM City. REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that it is probable that this species occurs in Vietnam.

Cultellus scalprum* (Gould, 1851)

OF AUTHORS. Ensiculus scalprum (Gould, 1850). Phaxas scalprum. VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong. LITERATURE. Nguyen X. Duc (2001) as Cultellus scanprum (sic) in family Solenidae. – Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003) as Cultellus scalprum. REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that this species occurs from Thailand (Swennen et al., 2001) to tropical China. An occurrence in Vietnam is very probable.

Ensiculus

H. Adams, 1860

Ensiculus cf. australis* (Dunker, 1862)

Plate 7, fig. 6.

REMARKS. R.v. Cosel found it cited in Clessin (1888) as Ensiculus australis (Dunker, 1862). The figured specimen is 71,1 mm, Nha Trang region (no precision), leg. N.N. Thach, 2001, MNHN. The species differs from E. cultellus among others in having the broadest part of the valves in the anterior half, a tapering posterior half, a more flaring anterior margin and more dense speckles. Species known from Vietnam to Indonesia.

Ensiculus cultellus* (Linnaeus, 1758)

Plate 7, fig. 7.

OF AUTHORS. Cultellus cultellus. Phaxas cultellus. SYNONYM. Ensiculus philippianus Dunker, 1877. VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong. – Research Institute for Aquaculture No. 3. – Institute of Oceanography, Nha Trang as E. philippianus. – Crude Oil Safety Center, HCM City as E. philippianus. LITERATURE. Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003) as Cultellus cultellus. – Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003) as Cultellus philippianus. REMARKS. K.A. Lutaenko (2000) states that Ensiculus cultellus originally was described in fam. Solenidae. Ensiculus is a subgenus of Phaxas raised to genus by authors. R.N. Kilburn found Phaxas cultellus present at RIA 3. R.v. Cosel states that this species is widespread throughout the whole Indo-Pacific and very variable. The figured specimen is 56,2 mm, Nha Trang region (no precision), leg. N.N. Thach, 2001, MNHN. A synonym is Ensiculus philippianus Dunker, 1877.

Ensiculus* cf. cumingianus (Dunker, 1842)

LITERATURE. Nguyen Ngo Thach (2202).

Ensiculus marmoratus* (Dunker, 1862)

Plate 7, fig. 8.

OF AUTHORS. Ensis marmoratus. Phaxas marmoratus (Dunker, 1861). VOUCHER MATERIAL. Research Institute for Aquaculture No. 3 as Phaxas marmoratus. REMARKS. R.N. Kilburn found it present at RIA 3. R.v. Cosel states that this species is distinguished from E. cultellus by the truncated posterior margin and the slightly smaller size. The figured specimen is 43,4 mm, Nha Trang region (no precision), leg. N.N. Thach, 2001, MNHN. It is also known from New Caledonia, where it is common.

Orbicularia* Deshayes, 1850Orbicularia orbicularata* (Wood, 1828)

OF AUTHORS. Elizia orbicularis. Orbicularia orbicularis (Wood). PROBABLE SYNONYM. Elizia tricarinata. LITERATURE. Serène (1937): ION collection, Thailand, as Elizia orbicularis. – ION collection, Gulf of Thailand as Elizia tricarinata. REMARKS. Orbicularia is a monotypic genus.

Phaxas* Leach in Gray, 1852

REMARKS. R.v. Cosel (1990) states that the genus Phaxas does not exist in the Indo-Pacific, it is restricted to the eastern Atlantic. Ensiculus was longtime treated as a subgenus of Phaxas, however, the differences are so important that he considers Ensiculus a full genus, apart from Phaxas.

Siliqua

Megerle von Mühlfeld, 1811.

Siliqua albida* Adams & Reeve, 1850

OF AUTHORS. Solen albida Adams et Reeve, 1850. VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong. LITERATURE. Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003). REMARKS. Siliqua albida Adams & Reeve was collected at north end of My Khe Beach, Danang. 4 August 2001. Fishermen's sorting area on beach. From drag nets or inshore trawling. Leg. D.G. Reid. – R.v. Cosel states that Solen albida Adams & Reeve, 1850 belongs to Siliqua. It may be conspecific with Solen minimus Gmelin, 1791, now in the genus Siliqua. [See remarks to Siliqua cf. minima (Gmelin, 1791)].

Siliqua fasciata* (Spengler, 1794)

Plate 8, fig. 9.

REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that this species is known from the Gulf of Thailand and Viet Nam. The figured specimens are 13,2 + 11,5 mm, Qui Nhon (13°33'N), beach, leg. Saurin, 1950–1960, MNHN ex-coll. Saurin.

Siliqua grayana* (Dunker, 1862)

OF AUTHORS. Siliqua greyana (Dunker, 1861). VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong as Siliqua greyana (sic). LITERATURE. Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003). REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that the species occurs in SE Asia

Siliqua japonica* (Dunker, 1862)

VOUCHER MATERIAL. Crude Oil Safety Center, HCM City. LITERATURE. K.A. Lutaenko (2000).

REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that the species occurs in SE Asia

Siliqua* cf. minima (Gmelin, 1791)

Plate 8, fig. 10.

REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that this species sometimes cited as Siliqua albida (Dunker), however, that name seems not to be correct. There is a Solen albida Adams & Reeve, 1850 (Voy. Samarang), which is a small Siliqua, and there is a Cultellus albidus Sowerby in Reeve, 1874 ex Dunker MS, which, according to the figures, seems to be a Cultellus. Both are small and have about the same outline and colouration, and both occur in SE Asia. The Vietnamese sp. is most probably Siliqua minima (Gmelin), and S. albida Adams & Reeve, 1850 seems may be the same species. One spm. and several valves from Vietnam in MNHN. The figured specimen is 27.0 mm, Qui Nhon (13°33'N), beach, leg. Saurin, 1950–1960, MNHN ex-coll. Saurin.

Siliqua pulchella* (Dunker, 1852)

LITERATURE. K.A. Lutaenko (2000). REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that the species is widespread in SE Asia.

Siliqua radiata* (Linnaeus, 1758)

Plate 8, fig. 11.

VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai Phong. LITERATURE. Dautzenberg & Fischer (1906) as Siliqua radiata (Linnaeus, 1758). Serène (1937). ION collection, Gulf of Thailand. K.A. Lutaenko (2000). – Nguyen Xuan Duc (2003). REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that this species is widespread in the Indo-Pacific; several spm. from Vietnam in MNHN. The figured specimen is 100,0 mm, Sam Son (19°44'N), beach, leg. Saurin, 1950–1960, MNHN ex-coll. Saurin.

Neosiliqua* Habe, 1965

Neosiliqua winteriana* (Dunker, 1853)

OF AUTHORS. Siliqua winteriana (Dunker, 1853). VOUCHER MATERIAL. Research Institute for Aquaculture No. 3. – TMMP Coll. Identified by R.N. Kilburn (Hylleberg 2001). REMARKS. R.N. Kilburn found it present at RIA 3. – R.v. Cosel states that the species is now in the genus Neosiliqua Habe, 1965. It is widespread in SE Asia.

Sinonovacula* Prashad, 1924

Sinonovacula constricta* (Lamarck, 1818)

VOUCHER MATERIAL. Institute of Oceanology, Hai

Phong. LITERATURE. Nguyen X. Duc et al. (1997). K.A. Lutaenko (2000). – Nguyen X. Duc (2001, 2003) in family Solenidae. REMARKS. R.v. Cosel states that this species is widespread in SE Asia, where it is farmed and consumed in many parts.

Pharella* Gray, 1854

Pharella acutidens* Broderip & Sowerby, 1829

OF AUTHORS. Solecurtus acutidens. In fam. Solecurtidae. VOUCHER MATERIAL. University of Fisheries, Nha Trang. LITERATURE. Annex

Non-marine molluscs arranged according to class and family without further treatment. J. Hylleberg has recorded the species as they appeared in the literature of this study. Some species may display a certain salt-tolerance, but the majority are limited to terrestrial or freshwater habitats. Taxa are not indexed.
