THE ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF THE WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS
FASHION MAGAZINE

UPDATED EDITION

ALBERTO OLIVA AND NORBERTO ANGELETTI

The complete history of Vogue, revised and updated in celebration of the magazine's 120th anniversary.

In Vogue is a fascinating look at the history of the world's most influential fashion magazine, tracing the history, development, and influence of Vogue as it transforms from a late-eighteenth-century social gazette, rises to the forefront of fashion and photography throughout the twentieth century, and achieves Vogue's current status as the most influential arbiter of fashion across all media today.

This book is illustrated with hundreds of covers and archival interiors, featuring the work of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries' most respected artists, illustrators, and photographers, including Edward Steichen, Toni Frissell, Irving Penn, Richard Avedon, David Bailey, Helmut Newton, Annie Leibovitz, Mario Testino, Steven Klein, Bruce Weber, and Herb Ritts. Contributions from Vogue insiders—including S. I. Newhouse, Grace Coddington, and Grace Mirabella—as well as an excerpt from Susan Sontag give life to the detailed history of the magazine traced by the authors.

Called “indispensable reading,” by the New York Times when first released in 2006, this newly revised edition updates the magazine's history through 2012 and features highlights of the past five years.

Norberto Angeletti and Alberto Oliva have been working in journalism for thirty-five years. They have been keynote speakers at the Magazine Publishers of America (MPA) as well as international journalism forums.

THE KATE MOSS BOOK

EDITED BY FABIEN BARON
WITH JESS HALLETT AND JEFFERSON HACK

PHOTOGRAPHY BY ARTHUR ELGORT, CORRINE DAY, CRAIG MCDEAN, DAVID SIMS, HEDI SLIMANE, INEZ & VINOODH, JUERGEN TELLER, MARIO SORRENTI, MARIO TESTINO, MERT & MARCUS, NICK KNIGHT, PATRICK DEMARCHELIER, PETER LINDBERGH, ROXANNE LOWIT, STEVEN KLEIN, TERRY RICHARDSON AND OTHERS

A highly personal and complete retrospective of Kate Moss's career, illustrating her evolution from girl to supermodel to photographic icon, created by Moss herself.

Kate Moss began modeling as a teenager, when the first photographs of her shot by Corinne Day appeared in The Face. While her celebrity skyrocketed in the '90s with her campaigns for Calvin Klein, Moss maintained an intense and private glamour and became known for her dressed-down personal style and resulting street cred. She has remained one of fashion's most beloved and influential forces, whose legions of admirers range from magazine editors, art directors, and photographers to fans of the collections she designed for Topshop and Longchamp.

Moss has been photographed by every top fashion photographer, and this volume spans the entirety of her unparalleled career, from model to fashion designer, and muse to icon, through images that Moss has personally selected for this book. It reveals her unique evolution from a shy and transformative young girl into an international supermodel, showing the strength of her collaborations with the world's leading photographers, fashion designers, stylists, and artists.

Jefferson Hack is the founder of Dazed and Confused, AnOther, and AnOther Man magazines. Previously responsible for managing the careers of some of the fashion industry's most famous faces, Jess Hallett has risen to become one of the industry's most respected and heralded casting directors working today.

AROUND BEAUTY

BARBARA BARRY
FOREWORD BY DOMINIQUE BROWNING
PHOTOGRAPHY BY DAVID MEREDITH

The first book from acclaimed interior designer Barbara Barry explores the beauty and principles of good design.

Barbara Barry's work has long been praised for its quiet refinement, soothing palette, and graceful furnishings, as well as for its ravishing tailoring and coloring. In her first book, Barry explores her design philosophy, meditating on the transformative power of beauty. Through a discussion of her principles of good design—simplicity, proportion, and harmony—we discover how to apply these principles to our rooms and to our lives.

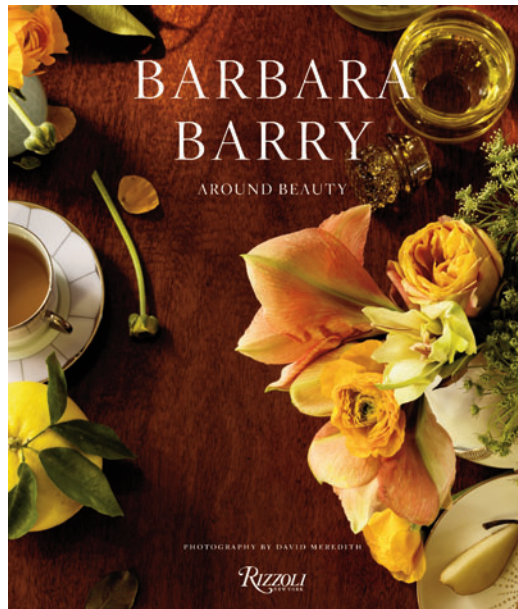

Through page after page of gorgeous, subtle, feminine interiors, Barry explains her design process and shares thought-provoking stories. She discusses what inspires her, from the quality of light to the colors of nature, and illustrates how she utilizes nature in decoration. From the simple strength of a white plate to the sensual elegance of a well-made bed, Barry explains why a gracious life, a well-ordered life, a life around beauty is the only one worth living. In Barbara's world, every detail is harmonious.

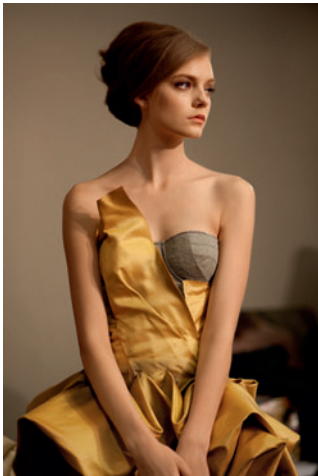

Comprehensive and beautifully designed, this unique book is a collector's piece for all design fans.

Diane Keaton: House

DIANE KEATON
TEXT BY D. J. WALDIE

A luxurious, graphically compelling vision for contemporary domestic living, as observed and artfully presented by the Oscar-winning film star.

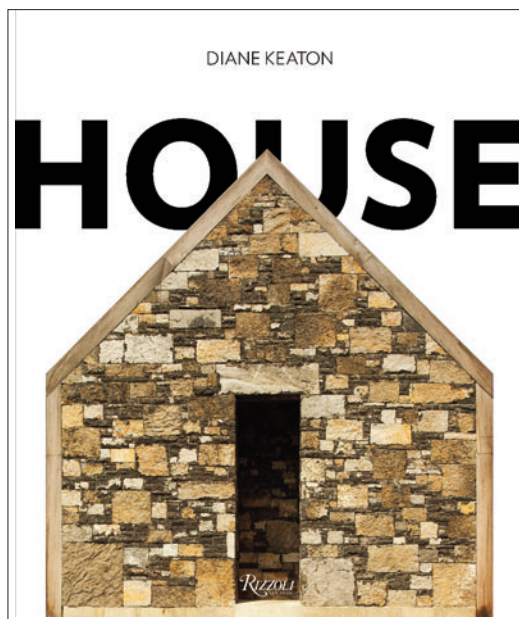

House is Diane Keaton's stunning portrayal of the way we may and do live now, in rusticated, reimagined, or repurposed spaces across the country. Inventive designers, including Annabelle Selldorf, Roy McMakin, Rick Joy, and Tom Kundig, have brought their talents to bear upon the structurally old, the disused, and the antiquated, finding in these buildings the hidden beauty that lies beneath the surface of neglect and decay, and through their work revealing to us the many possibilities we might bring to our own domestic spaces.

Through innovative design and repurposing, industrial structures and farm buildings, crumbling commercial lofts and rusting hangars are transformed and vividly revealed as thoroughly engaging spaces for living. House presents a graphically striking vision, frequently marked by strong geometries and primal coloration, that ignites the imagination of those intent upon redefining the possible as it pertains to one's space—work that is joyous and rooted in our most basic understandings of home.

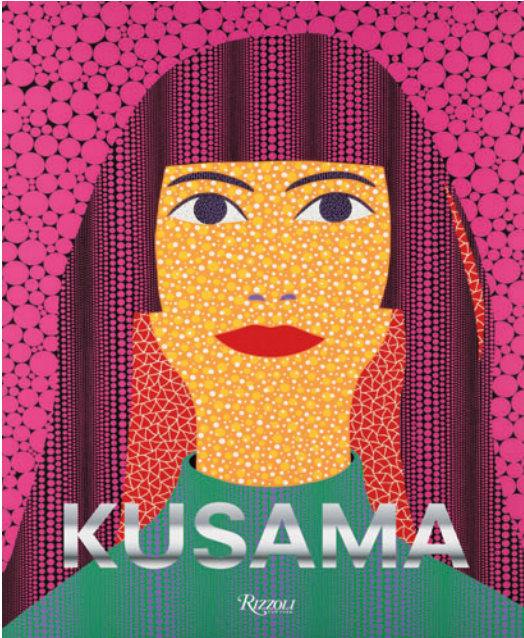

Diane Keaton is known for her work in theater and film and has won numerous awards and accolades, including an Oscar for her role in Annie Hall and praise for her work as director of Unstrung Heroes. Coauthor of Rizzoli's California Romantica, she has been recognized for her architectural sensitivity and restorations. This is her second book about architecture and interiors, following the success of California Romantica (Rizzoli, 2007). D. J. Waldie is the author of Holy Land: A Suburban Memoir. He is a regular contributor to Los Angeles Magazine, the Los Angeles Times, and other publications, and is coauthor of California Romantica.

Yayoi Kusama

EDITED BY LOUISE NERI

CONTRIBUTIONS BY AKIRA TATEHATA, LOUISE NERI, LYNN ZELEVANSKY, LAURA HOPTMAN, OLIVIER ZAHM, AND OTHERS

The most comprehensive book devoted to the incomparable and iconic work of Yayoi Kusama.

Yayoi Kusama, now in her eighties, has become a vital force in contemporary art and an influence on generations of artists. Arriving in New York City in 1958 from her native Japan, she embarked on a series of works that forged a new visual vocabulary—the Net paintings, which were composed of scores of small, thickly painted loops spanning large canvases. Her singular approach to art making continued in other extraordinary bodies of work, including the phallic soft sculptures which she later incorporated into full-scale environments. In 1973 she returned to Japan, where she lives and works today. Since then, she has created dazzling walk-in mirror rooms and her now-famous pumpkin sculptures, as well as writing poetry and novels.

In this book—created in close collaboration with Kusama and her Tokyo studio—the breadth and import of this watershed artist's career are considered in depth. In addition to studies of the development of her artistic vocabularies across different media, the book includes ephemera, sketches, and photographs from the artist's extensive archive that have never been seen before. The publication is timed to coincide with the artist's major touring retrospective, which makes its American debut at the Whitney Museum in New York in summer 2012, as well as with the much-anticipated collaboration with powerhouse fashion brand Louis Vuitton.

Louise Neri is a curator, editor, and writer and a director at Gagosian Gallery in New York. Akira Tatehata is the former director of the Osaka National Museum of Art. Lynn Zelevansky is the director of the Carnegie Museum of Art, Pittsburgh. Laura Hoptman is a senior curator at the Museum of Modern Art, New York. Olivier Zahm is the editor of Purple Magazine.

EARLY ON SALE

Raymond Pettibon

RALPH RUGOFF, EDITOR

TEXTS BY ROBERT STORR, JONATHAN LETHEM,
KITTY SCOTT, AND BYRON COLEY

The definitive collection of Raymond Pettibon's art, spanning from his early flyers for the influential punk band Black Flag through his most recent political work, including much unpublished material.

Perhaps unlike any artist of his generation, Raymond Pettibon best captured the discontent and counter-culture spirit of the late 1970s and early '80s in America. Immersed in the punk scene in Southern California, Pettibon devoted his earliest work to flyers for Black Flag and zines that he created and sold in local record stores. His distinctive style took shape in those early days: slyly sophisticated pen-and-ink drawings with cartoonlike flourishes. With biting irony and a searing wit, Pettibon let loose on the hypocrisies and greed of the capitalist political machine. His work captured the attention of the L.A. art scene and, eventually, the larger art world.

This book—produced in close collaboration with the artist—is the most comprehensive volume on Pettibon's work to date. It explores his art over the past thirty years, including many previously unpublished works, as well as works from zines and posters, and excerpts from screenplays.

Also included is a collaboration between Jonathan Lethem and the artist, commissioned specifically for the book. This extraordinary package—a slipcased 384-page volume—is fitting for an artist of his import and influence.

Ralph Rugoff is the director of the Hayward Gallery in London. Robert Storr is the dean of the Yale School of Art. Jonathan Lethem is one of the foremost novelists of today. Kitty Scott is the director of visual arts at the Banff Centre in Alberta, Canada. Byron Coley is a well-regarded music writer.

Charlotte Moss: My Scrapbooks

INSPIRATIONAL AND PERSONAL REFLECTIONS
FROM LEADING LADIES OF STYLE

CHARLOTTE MOSS

CONTRIBUTIONS BY DEEDA BLAIR, PAMELA FIORI, ALEXA HAMPTON, CANDY PRATTS PRICE, AND
DEBORAH NEEDLEMAN

The celebrated designer's latest book, devoted to gleaning design inspiration from the personal scrapbooks and notebooks of great women of style—including her own.

Interior designer Charlotte Moss has spent years collecting as well as creating scrapbooks—a pastime both meditative and instructive about her own ideas regarding design and style. In this unique book, Moss brings together her own scrapbooks along with those of notable women, both contemporary and historical, whose flair for style inspires us, including interior designer Elsie de Wolfe and society doyenne Gloria Vanderbilt—all never before published.

Organized by theme—home, garden, travel, entertaining, and fashion—each chapter includes examples of Moss's signature style mingled with excerpts from the scrapbooks of these great women. From the ambassador's wife and bon vivant Evangeline Bruce, we learn that she preferred accessorizing tabletops with simple florets of broccoli in biscuit tins. And from the iconic Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, we see her notes and menus from the legendary White House dinners she threw. One piece (among many) of sage advice includes perfecting one extraordinary meal and serving it again and again, rather than experimenting endlessly.

A celebrated tastemaker, prolific designer, and author, Charlotte Moss most recently wrote the successful Charlotte Moss Decorates (Rizzoli, 2011). Deeda Blair is a philanthropist. Pamela Fiori is a celebrated magazine editor who has helmed Town & Country as well as Travel & Leisure. Alexa Hampton is the president and owner of Mark Hampton LLC. Candy Pratts Price is the editor at large for Vogue.com. Deborah Needleman is the editor-in-chief of the Wall Street Journal Magazine.

Stars in Dior

FROM SCREEN TO STREETS

FOREWORD BY SERGE TOUBIANA

INTRODUCTION BY FLORENCE MÜLLER

TEXT BY JÉRÔME HANOVER

A love letter to the cinema from the House of Dior, featuring legendary screen actresses in signature Dior.

Embraced by Hollywood and the iconic women who are its stars, the fashions of Christian Dior have been worn by the likes of Marlene Dietrich in Stage Fright, Lauren Bacall in How to Marry a Millionaire, Ava Gardner, Marilyn Monroe, Sophia Loren, Elizabeth Taylor and, more recently, Charlize Theron, Penélope Cruz, and Nicole Kidman. Well before the successes that were to propel Dior to the forefront of the fashion world, the master couturier put his talent to work as a costume designer for the cinema, collaborating with renowned filmmakers and creating timeless ensembles for legendary actresses. Following the untimely death of the designer, the House of Dior's involvement with the cinema continued, from 1958 to the present, with more than fifty films featuring the stars of the silver screen dressed in signature Dior. Combining fashion photography and rarely seen and never before published behind-the-scenes photographs, this gorgeously produced volume showcases Dior's creations for film and the movie stars who brought them to life, and is a must for those who aspire to high style.

Christian Dior (1905–1957) debuted his first collection of long hemlines and full skirts in Paris in 1947 to great acclaim. Mr. Dior went on to become a master of couture design, creating the New Look, a vision of seductive femininity. For his achievements, the French government awarded him the Legion of Honor in 1950. Today, Christian Dior is a global brand operating on every continent with over 200 store locations worldwide.

Horses

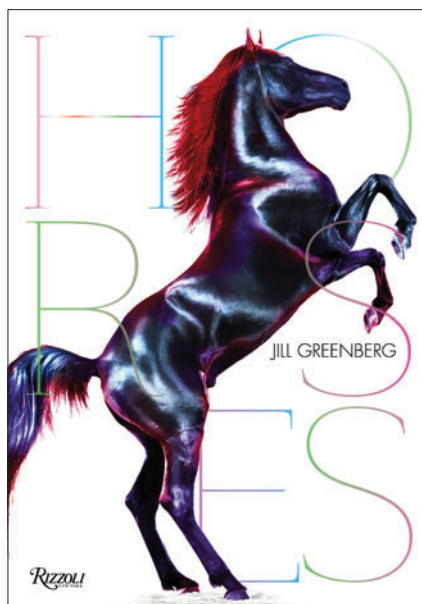

PHOTOGRAPHY BY JILL GREENBERG

Best known for her amazingly anthropomorphic and affectionate portraits of monkeys and bears, Jill Greenberg turns her lens to horses for her new photographic collection. This is the perfect gift for every horse lover.

In this beautifully conceived volume, Jill Greenberg captures the powerful, romantic, and enigmatic nature of horses through her signature lens in photographs that make these animals all the more otherworldly yet familiar. Where Greenberg's earlier books explored the mystery and depth of emotion behind some of nature's most dangerous creatures (Kodiak and polar bears, baboons, and gibbons, among others), Horses is an elegiac exploration of these heroic and often idealized creatures. Transformed by Greenberg's lens, the horse's powerful physical beauty becomes a hyper-real vision, and her gorgeous prints seduce us in a subtle manner with their sensuous, painterly textures. Horses were Greenberg's first muse and love, and for this portfolio she returns to her original inspiration.

Featuring stunning photographs of a range of horse breeds, from Friesians and Andalusians to Arabian stallions, Lusitanos, and thoroughbred performance horses, this book is a gorgeous tribute to these spirited and powerful creatures and the perfect gift for those officially and unofficially devoted to horses, horseback riding, and racing.

Jill Greenberg earned her BFA from the Rhode Island School of Design in 1989. She is represented by ClampArt in New York and Katherine Cone Gallery in Los Angeles. She has exhibited her work internationally at museums and galleries in Rome, Amsterdam, New York, Los Angeles, Paris, and Montreal, and at venues such as the TED conference and Art Basel Miami Beach.

James Prosek: Ocean Fishes

PAINTINGS OF SALTWATER
GAME FISH

JAMES PROSEK
ESSAYS BY ROBERT M. PECK AND
CHRISTOPHER RIOPELLE
FOREWORD BY PETER MATTHIESSEN

The captivating watercolors of James Prosek, the artist the New York Times calls “the Audubon of the fishing world.”

In the tradition of his acclaimed Trout: An Illustrated History, renowned naturalist, artist, and fisherman James Prosek captures thirty-five of the most pursued game fish—from striped bass to tarpon, swordfish to bonefish—as well as many creatures that share these marine ecosystems through rich, highly detailed watercolors painted specifically for this volume.

Each painting reflects Prosek’s individual experience with a single fish. The artist traveled the world to experience firsthand each species just out of the water before the fish lose their true colors. The original works are life-size portraits (from a 14-inch porgy to a 12½-foot blue marlin), and details from the originals are reproduced at full size to give a sense of scale.

This book is a must-have for saltwater anglers, conservationists, art lovers, and anyone passionate about the beauty of the coastline and the mysteries swimming off its shores.

James Prosek made his authorial debut with Trout: An Illustrated History, and is a contributor to the New York Times. He also cofounded the conservation initiative World Trout with Patagonia owner Yvon Chouinard. Robert M. Peck is a curator and senior fellow of the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia. Christopher Riopelle is curator of post-1800 paintings at the National Gallery, London. Peter Matthiessen is a National Book Award–winning novelist and nonfiction writer.

The Appalachian Trail

CELEBRATING AMERICA'S HIKING TRAIL

BRIAN KING

THE APPALACHIAN TRAIL CONSERVANCY

FOREWORD BY BILL BRYSON

In celebration of the Appalachian Trail's seventy-fifth anniversary, this official book documents in text and photos the history, beauty, and significance of America's most iconic hiking trail.

Completed in 1937 by a small cadre of volunteers, the Appalachian Trail spans fourteen states, from Maine to Georgia, and is more than 2,000 miles long. Now, seventy-five years after its completion, the A.T. remains America's premier hiking trail and is known as "the people's path." Visitors from all over the world are drawn to the trail for a variety of reasons, whether to reconnect with nature and see its beauty and wildlife, or to challenge oneself—for 2 miles or 2,000. Out of 3 million annual visitors, almost 2,000 attempt each year to earn the distinction of "thru-hiker" by walking all 5 million footsteps in one continuous journey.

The only illustrated book officially published with the Appalachian Trail Conservancy, The Appalachian Trail explores this legendary footpath in detail, with more than 250 spectacular contemporary images, unpublished historical photos, and documents from the ATC archives as well as maps pinpointing locations along the trail. With fascinating essays on topics ranging from the trail's history to the day-by-day hiking experience, this book is perfect for anyone interested in conservation, outdoor recreation, or American history, and for all those who dream of one day becoming thru-hikers themselves.

Brian King is the publisher at the Appalachian Trail Conservancy, which oversees the numerous agencies and volunteers in cooperative management and preservation of the Appalachian Trail. Bill Bryson is the best-selling author of A Walk in the Woods, which documents his attempt to thru-hike the Appalachian Trail.

M.I.A.

M.I.A.

An autobiographical monograph in collages made by the powerful and thought-provoking artist herself.

A groundbreaking and always controversial musician, M.I.A. is an influential artist and an important cultural figure of the last decade. Here is a documentation of her entire visual output and a telling of her story in collages, photos, sketches, and notes from her early years as a visual artist through to her hugely successful three albums, mixtapes, and into her latest, fourth album release and tour. The book is comprised of original artwork, original video treatments, and behind-the-scenes photos (on tour and in the studio). Also included are assorted lyrics and descriptions of her creative process for each album campaign—from recording sessions to her videos and travel photos on set to the creation of her costumes through to the live performances.

On the eve of the release of her fourth album, M.I.A. approaches this visual retrospective the same way she approaches her music—mashing up and remixing the graphics, illustrations, and provocative photos from the media and internet that have influenced her to create something new that is uniquely hers.

Mathangi “Maya” Arulpragasam, M.I.A. (her stage name, “Missing in Act(i)on”) is an English musician, producer, painter, and director. Her music combines elements of hip-hop, electronica, dance, alternative, and influences from around the world. She is the first artist to be nominated for all of the following awards: an Academy Award (for her work on the soundtrack for Slumdog Millionaire), two Grammys, a Brit Award, and Mercury Prize; and the first artist of Asian descent to be nominated for an Academy Award and Grammy in the same year. The first nine years of her life were marked by displacement due to the Sri Lankan civil war—a theme that influences her work, which is often political.

The Elegant Garden

ARCHITECTURE AND LANDSCAPE OF
THE WORLD'S FINEST GARDENS

JOHANN KRÄFTNER

The first major illustrated monograph in many years on the history of gardens, landscape design, and architecture, focusing on both the Western and Eastern traditions and their influences.

Ambitious in scope and lavishly illustrated, this book surveys every period in garden design and landscape architecture, from classical antiquity and the medieval cloisters to the latest trends in modern design. Captured here are two millennia of garden history—the most comprehensive garden photo documentary ever undertaken by a single author. From the Roman gardens at Hadrian's villa to the modern work of landscape architects, historical and contemporary gardens are showcased with special attention to the relationship between gardens and houses. The informative text reveals the evolutions, transformations, influences, and trends that characterize these beautiful landscapes, putting into context their aesthetic appeal.

Gardens are unique, reflecting the landscape, flora, and climate of their environments as well as the heritage, history, architectural styles, and influences of society. From the fountain gardens of Persia to the prairie-style gardens currently popular, from the Zen gardens of Buddhist temples to the Impressionist gardens in Giverny, the huge variety of gardens is a testament to our age-old desire to tame and refashion nature.

This gorgeously photographed book will captivate travelers and garden admirers alike and inspire gardeners with ideas for design, horticulture, and use.

Johann Kräffner studied architecture, specializing in the history of art and conservation. Since 2004, he has served as director of the Liechtenstein Museum in Vienna and curator of the Princely Collections at Vaduz, Liechtenstein.

Pools

REFLECTIONS

KELLY KLEIN

Following Kelly Klein's highly coveted first book on the subject, Pools: Reflections is a refreshing and bold anthology of evocative and sensual images of the modern pool.

Twenty years after the publication of Pools, Kelly Klein brings a new perspective to a subject that continues to epitomize status and style. Inspired to capture the evolving tastes in architecture, design, art, fashion, and photography, she has sought out the most evocative images of the most extraordinary swimming pools around the world, with an emphasis on brash and bold color photography that reflects contemporary progressive designs and imaginative palettes that catch her eye.

Revealing a wealth of styles and aesthetics in climates and cultures across the globe, the photographs in this beautifully illustrated anthology are as inspiring as they are moving. Beyond mere symbols of lifestyle, the book explores pools as icons of taste, from examples of their appearance in David Hockney's art to pools decorated with sculptures and installations by artists such as James Turrell, Tom Sachs, and Frank West. Filtered through the lenses of some of the world's best-known modern and contemporary photographers—from Helmut Newton to Bruce Weber, Tierney Gearon, Steven Klein, Robert Mapplethorpe, and Juergen Teller—these images vary from reflections on the pool as architecture within the landscape to sensual images of the pool as accessory to sex and style, but all evoke the same enduring and undeniable appeal of the swimming pool.

Kelly Klein was born in Michigan and grew up in Westport, Connecticut. She graduated from the Fashion Institute of Technology and currently lives in Manhattan and East Hampton, New York. She is the author of Pools and Horse, also published by Rizzoli.

A Table at Le Cirque

STORIES AND RECIPES FROM NEW YORK'S MOST LEGENDARY
RESTAURANT

SIRIO MACCIONI AND PAMELA FIORI
PREFACE BY RUDI SODAMIN
FOREWORD BY ALAIN DUCASSE

The first cookbook from the New York institution that has cultivated some of the best chefs of our time and has served as the social club for celebrities and power brokers for more than thirty-five years.

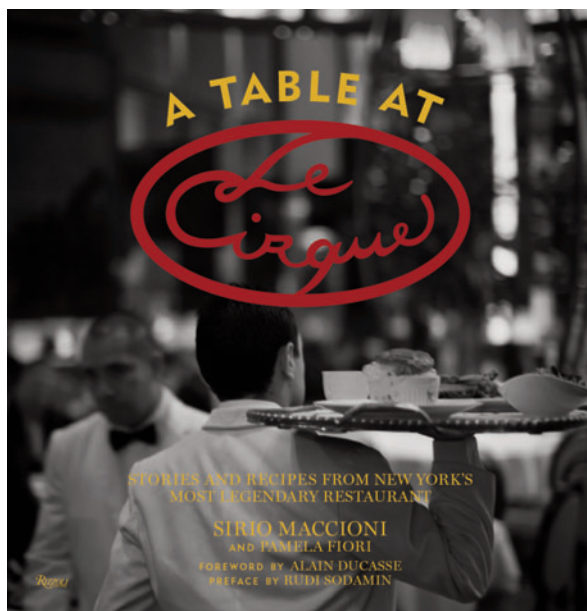

If you had to pick a single restaurant that has wielded the greatest influence in the last fifty years, it would be Le Cirque. Started in 1974, Le Cirque has redefined fine dining for the entire country. The seductive man behind it all, Sirio Maccioni, slyly introduced patrons to the delights of fine Italian cuisine alongside French classics. Most famously, he created a social club for titans and tastemakers from all walks of life—presidents and kings, café society and business magnates, and stars such as Frank Sinatra, Diana Ross, and Andy Warhol.

For the kitchen, Maccioni has always handpicked up-and-coming new talent. Among its alumni are David Bouley, Michael Lomonaco, and Terrance Brennan. Now for the first time, the recipes for the restaurant's iconic dishes are presented here, in the same form as they were originally invented—including such classics as Daniel Boulud's Black Bass with Barolo Sauce, Alain Saille's Fettuccine with White Truffles, Pierre Schaedelin's deconstructed Caesar Salad, and Jacques Torres's Bombolini. Woven throughout the book are colorful anecdotes and candid photographs documenting the glitz and glam of the restaurant, where a reservation is always coveted.

Sirio Maccioni—along with his wife Egidiana and their sons Mario, Marco, and Mauro—operates Le Cirque, Sirio, and Osteria del Circo in New York and Las Vegas; Le Cirque in New Delhi; and Le Cirque at Casa de Campo in the Dominican Republic. Pamela Fiori is a celebrated magazine editor who has helmed Town & Country as well as Travel & Leisure.

Frank Lloyd Wright: Natural Design, Organic Architecture

LESSONS FOR BUILDING GREEN FROM AN AMERICAN ORIGINAL

ALAN HESS

PHOTOGRAPHY BY ALAN WEINTRAUB

An unsung prophet of today's green movement in architecture, Frank Lloyd Wright was an innovator of eco-sensitive design generations ahead of his time.

An architect and designer of far-reaching vision, it is not surprising that Frank Lloyd Wright anticipated many of the hallmarks of today's green movement. Across his work—which stands upon a philosophy Wright termed “organic”—widespread evidence is seen of a refined sensitivity to environment, to social organization as impacted by buildings, and to sustainable and sensible use of space.

The desire to work and live with nature to create livable homes and cities is an ongoing theme of American architecture and planning. This book explores Wright's lessons on how climate, sustainability, sunlight, modern technology, local materials, and passive environmental controls can become the inspiration for excellent design, and highlights a selection of Wright's buildings to show how he dealt with these issues. The book is organized by the green concepts Wright used—including passive solar design and the use of thermal massing, passive berm insulation, environmentally sensitive landscaping, passive ventilation systems, passive natural light, and intelligent and artful adaptation of technology—with examples from different houses. It shows how Wright evolved certain ideas that continue to spur discussions of green architecture design today.

Alan Hess, an architect and architecture critic of the San Jose Mercury News, is the author of Casa Modernista and Frank Lloyd Wright: The Houses. Alan Weintraub is a widely published architectural photographer whose books include Frank Lloyd Wright: The Houses and Frank Lloyd Wright: American Master.

Antonio Lopez

FASHION, ART, SEX AND DISCO

ROGER PADILHA AND MAURICIO PADILHA
FOREWORD BY ANDRÉ LEON TALLEY
EPILOGUE BY ANNA SUI

CONTRIBUTIONS BY BILL CUNNINGHAM, JERRY HALL,
GRACE JONES, AND DONNA JORDAN

The first complete monograph on Antonio Lopez, the influential Warholian fashion illustrator of the 1960s, '70s, and '80s.

"I'm from the generation that came to New York to meet their idols. In my case it was Andy Warhol and Antonio Lopez." —Anna Sui

Best known for his illustrations for Vogue, the New York Times, Interview, and high-fashion labels, Antonio Lopez (1943–1987) was a force in the fashion world for three decades. In the '60s, his illustrations inducted youth culture into magazine pages, setting a new visual tone for fashion imagery. In Paris, where he lived during the '70s with creative partner Juan Ramos, Lopez launched the careers of models such as Jerry Hall, Grace Jones, and Jessica Lange, worked with Karl Lagerfeld and Yves Saint Laurent, and cultivated a nightlife scene at Club Sept. Back in New York in the '80s, he appropriated athletic wear and break-dancing style, inspiring designers such as Norma Kamali (creator of the Sleeping Bag Coat) and Anna Sui.

Lopez prolifically produced an incredible number of illustrations, photographs, and illustrated journals. This book showcases his most iconic works, as well as never-before-seen Instamatics, letters, and drawings, to convey his enduring influence on fashion today.

Lydia Lunch: The Need to Feed

A HEDONIST'S GUIDE

RECIPES FOR DEVELOPING A HEALTHY OBSESSION
 FOR DEEPLY SATISFYING FOODS

LYDIA LUNCH

Underground legend Lydia Lunch presents witty and provocative recipes for feeding your friends and lovers nourishing, deeply satisfying food while maintaining a hedonistic downtown lifestyle.

Lydia Lunch earned her name from cooking up banquet feasts out of whatever ingredients were on hand for fellow starving artists and musicians, including Sonic Youth, Suicide, Henry Rollins, the Dead Boys, and the Butthole Surfers. In this book, she draws on her experiences and the celebration of a healthy obsession for foods that not only satisfy our craven desires but are also nutritious, delicious, and exactly what a body hard at work and play needs.

This book serves as a provocative guide to setting the mood as well as the table for a rousing three-course meal—whether a quick pick-me-up after a long night, a party for a gang of pranksters, or a much-needed weekend detox to replenish the body after being depleted by glorious overindulgence. Written with sass and dripping with sexy personal asides from the racy author, this volume is an irresistible addition to every hedonist's library.

Lydia Lunch is a legendary underground musician, actress, activist, performance artist, and writer. She earned her notoriety in New York in the mid-1970s for her seminal no-wave band Teenage Jesus and the Jerks.

The Great American House

TRADITION FOR THE WAY
WE LIVE NOW

GIL SCHAFFER III
FOREWORD BY BUNNY WILLIAMS

Acclaimed architect Gil Schafer illustrates how he blends classical architecture, interior decoration, and landscape to create homes with a feeling of history.

As a traditional architect, Gil Schafer specializes in building new “old” houses as well as renovating historic homes. His work takes the best of American historic and classical architecture—its detailed moldings and harmonious proportions—and updates it, retaining its character and detail while simultaneously reworking it to be more in tune with the way we live now—comfortable, practical, family-oriented.

In his first book, Schafer covers the three essential cornerstones of creating a great traditional house: architecture, landscape, and decoration. He discusses the important interplay between the interior architecture and the fabrics, furniture, and wall treatments. In-depth profiles build on these essays, including Schafer’s own new “old” house in the Hudson Valley; the renovation of a historic home in Nashville designed by Charles Platt in 1915; and the restoration of a magnificent 1843 Greek Revival mansion in Charleston.

Filled with hundreds of interior and detail shots, The Great American House is an invaluable resource for anyone who loves old houses and traditional design.

Award-winning architect and AD 100 member Gil Schafer is consistently recognized as one of the world’s experts on contemporary classical architecture. From 1999 to 2006, Schafer served as president and then chairman of the Institute of Classical Architecture & Classical America. His work has been featured in many publications, including Elle Decor and the New York Times. Bunny Williams is an acclaimed interior designer and the author of four books, including An Affair with a House.

Vidal Sassoon

HOW ONE MAN CHANGED THE WORLD
 WITH A PAIR OF SCISSORS

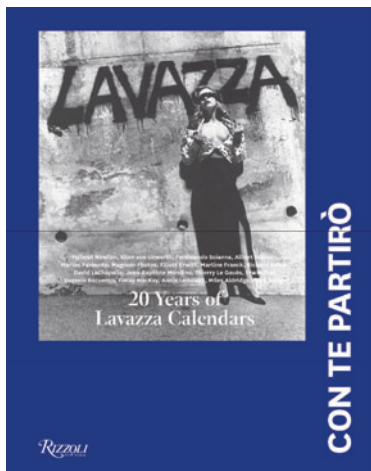

VIDAL SASSOON WITH MICHAEL GORDON
 FOREWORD BY GRACE CODDINGTON

A captivating look at the career of social and style revolutionary Vidal Sassoon.

A visionary hairstylist who became a household name, Vidal Sassoon was an instrument of change during the cultural shifts of the 1960s. Inspired by Bauhaus architecture, Sassoon's career took off with the Nancy Kwan bob in 1963, followed by the boyish five-point haircut that blurred class and sexual distinctions in the unisex era. These low-maintenance styles signaled liberation from the constraints of the past and led to a mix of social strata in his Bond Street salon as both ladies and shopgirls had their hair trimmed side by side. His singular and iconic haircuts for tastemakers such as Grace Coddington and Mia Farrow charted a new course for ideals of feminine beauty.

Combining fashion photography, candid snapshots, and recollections by Sassoon and members of his artistic circle, such as David Bailey, Terence Donovan, and Mary Quant, this book is a fascinating look at one man's driven efforts to transform style and the radical changes wrought by progressive fashion.

Vidal Sassoon is a master hairstylist and philanthropist. He was made a Commander of the British Empire in 2009. Michael Gordon is the founder of Bumble and bumble and the producer of Vidal Sassoon: The Movie. Grace Coddington is a former model and the creative director for Vogue.

Gardenalia

CREATING THE STYLISH GARDEN

FURNITURE, PLANTERS, GATES, TRELLISES, STRUCTURES, ORNAMENTS, AND OTHER GARDEN ACCESSORIES

SALLY COULTHARD

A portfolio of visual inspiration for creating beautiful, evocative, and stylish gardens with natural design and ornament, such as hedges, borders, and paintings, as well as antiques, flea market finds, collectibles, and other decorative objects.

Whether you want to re-create the look of a New England farmhouse kitchen garden, the feel of a Tuscan parterre, or the sophistication of a Parisian balcony, the possibilities offered in this delightful book are almost endless.

Beginning with a focus on the types of outdoor spaces—from patios, terraces, and courtyards to front porches, perennial borders, and landscapes—Gardenalia explores how to make the garden or outdoor space an extension of your style. Filled with inspirational ideas, the book features superb color photographs that demonstrate the different moods and spatial effects that can be achieved with a carefully selected combination of plant material and decorative objects such as furniture, architectural items, and other objects, both vintage and contemporary.

While shrubbery and hedging are the bones of an outdoor space, garden ornaments are the key to style, whether formal or informal. Objects and ornaments can create a sense of relaxed whimsy or serene classicism; they can make a space seem larger or give the illusion of privacy. A separate section is devoted to how to source “found objects” and making the best use of decorative items, including antique garden furniture, stone troughs and statues, vintage garden tools, distressed terra-cotta pots, and more. This richly illustrated volume is full of ideas for crafting the perfect outdoor space.

Sally Coulthard specializes in property restoration, salvage, and eco-living. She writes regularly for leading publications, including Country Living, The Sunday Times, The Guardian, and The Independent.

Carefree California

CLIFF MAY AND THE ROMANCE OF THE RANCH HOUSE

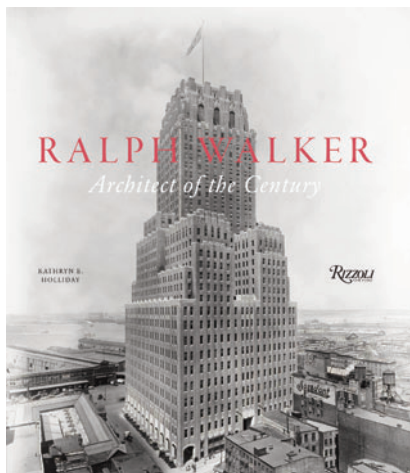

JOCELYN GIBBS AND NICHOLAS OLSBERG

This landmark volume is an authoritative, richly illustrated examination of the origins, evolution, and influence of the California ranch house.

Carefree California looks at a legendary figure in Southern California design, Cliff May, and the ubiquitous domestic icon his name evokes, the ranch house. We also see how other architects—from George Washington Smith to Rudolph Schindler—pursued different paths toward the same kind of relaxed domesticity exemplified by the ranch house.

By the late '50s, much of the world was fascinated with California living and with the ranch house in particular, which derived from architects' evocation and reworking of distinctive regional traditions, allied with the pervasive romance and myths of the California frontier, and from the cultivation of a domestic architecture that could serve distinctively Californian ways of carefree living. By uncovering patterns for living that suited the automobile age among the almost archaic forms and rhythms of mission and pioneer dwellings, an extraordinary range of modernism emerged that was at once grounded in history and soaring into the space age.

Jocelyn Gibbs is the curator of the Architecture and Design Collection at the Art, Design and Architecture Museum at UCSB. Nicholas Olsberg was formerly chief curator and director of the Canadian Centre for Architecture, and is the coauthor of Between Earth and Heaven: The Architecture of John Lautner.

Ralph Walker: Architect of the Century

KATHRYN E. HOLLIDAY

The first book dedicated to the career of one of New York's most successful and prolific yet forgotten architects.

Ralph Walker shaped New York's skyline during the Roaring Twenties, from the iconic Barclay-Vesey Telephone Building at 140 West Street to the luxurious Irving Trust bank tower at 1 Wall Street in the heart of the city's financial district. Walker was a master of modern ornament, using his skills as a designer to "humanize" the skyscraper and the city itself.

In 1957, a New York Times headline proclaimed Walker "architect of the century," an honor bestowed by his fellow architects celebrating his "brilliance" as a philosopher and a humanitarian. Walker shaped the Chicago and New York World's Fairs of the 1930s and became an outspoken advocate for his vision of a humane American city. Across the fifty years of his practice, Walker remained dedicated to defining a modern architecture from the dramatic towers of the dense city to the serene landscapes of the suburbs. Ralph Walker: Architect of the Century is the first monograph to present this forgotten vision of twentieth-century architecture.

Kathryn E. Holliday teaches architectural history and theory at the University of Texas at Arlington, where she is the director of the David Dillon Center for Texas Architecture. Her previous book is the award-winning Leopold Eidlitz: Architecture and Idealism in the Gilded Age.

The defining ethos and sensibility of Poltrona Frau is a story of comfort, taste, and hand-made products that combine tradition with innovation. It is a journey through time via classic and iconic pieces such as the Vanity Fair armchair or the Chester couch. Included are projects by Renzo Piano, Frank O. Kohn Pedersen Fox: Architecture and Urbanism, 2003–2012

PETER MURRAY AND LESLIE ROBERTSON

The fourth volume in a series of monographs celebrating the innovative architectural designs of the highly esteemed international firm.

KPF initially distinguished itself through its attention to the most characteristic American building type, the skyscraper. The evolution of the tall tower is a key part of a sustainable paradigm in which individual buildings form part of a larger system of vertical centers linked by horizontal networks of public transportation. These “vertical cities” represent a sustainable model for future development where public transport is encouraged, land is conserved, and energy and water uses are reduced. KPF leads the way, creating enduring architecture with contextual sensitivity, flexibility of use, and care for the environment.

KPF has achieved international stature, becoming the first firm to be a member of the United Nations Global Compact. This, the fourth volume of their work, explores their recent buildings in detail. The projects include buildings that have transformed the urban fabric of their respective cities, such as the Roppongi Hills Tower complex in Tokyo and the Shanghai World Financial Center, the tallest skyscraper in Asia.

Bunny Yeager's Darkroom

PIN-UP PHOTOGRAPHY'S
GOLDEN ERA

PETRA MASON

INTRODUCTION BY DITA VON TEESE

A treasure trove of pin-up girl images from photographer Bunny Yeager, celebrated for her playfully erotic photos of Bettie Page that continue to influence photography and fashion today.

The only woman pin-up photographer of her day, Bunny Yeager was also a model in her own right. After winning several beauty pageants in Miami, Yeager went to photography school, and in 1955, she hit the jackpot with her shot of Bettie Page scantily clad in a Santa hat, which sold instantly to the fledgling Playboy magazine. The beginning of a long collaboration, her photographs of Bettie have now been featured on more magazine covers than those of Marilyn Monroe.

This glamorous volume gathers more than a hundred lens-fogging photographs embodying the naughty girl-next-door eroticism of pin-up culture. Culled from Yeager's extensive archive, the collection includes her most iconic shots of the legendary Bettie as well as many previously unpublished images. Yeager's pioneering self-portraits and excerpts from her charming 1960s how-to manuals are featured alongside dozens of wholesome beauties shot in the studio and on location.

A fun and sexy book, it is sure to tap into the current burlesque trend and the popularity of glamour photography and vintage American culture.

Petra Mason is a writer, curator, and creative director who has contributed to many books and to publications such as Elle, Food and Wine, and Art on Paper, among others. Known as the Queen of Burlesque and an international fashion icon, Dita Von Teese is renowned for her opulent costumes and sets. She is also a model, an actress, a designer, and the author of three books on the art of burlesque, striptease, and beauty.

JAMES BALOG

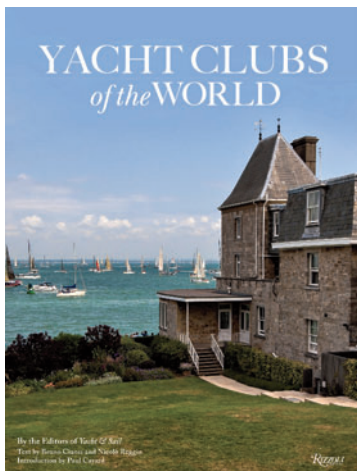

FOREWORD BY TERRY TEMPEST WILLIAMS

A never-before-seen look into the forbidding environment of glaciers, this book celebrates a realm of magnificent endangered beauty.

Since 2005, renowned nature photographer James Balog has devoted himself to capturing glaciers and documenting their daily changes. These stunning images are a celebration of some of the most extraordinary natural formations on earth, as well as a dramatic and timely demonstration of the stark consequences resulting from global warming—from Alaska to Iceland to the Alps.

Their high-resolution cameras capture approximately 4,000 images per year. From this collection of nearly half a million photos, Balog presents the most stunning panoramic photography of glaciers ever published.

Cinelli

THE ART AND DESIGN OF THE BICYCLE

LODOVICO PIGNATTI-MORANO
CONTRIBUTIONS BY ANTONIO COLOMBO,
FELICE GIMONDI, BENNY GOLD,
BARRY MCGEE,
AND SIR PAUL SMITH

A beautifully illustrated survey of more than sixty-five years of work by one of the most pioneering and influential names in bicycle design.

Since Cino Cinelli began making frames in Italy in the 1940s, Cinelli has set the standards for bicycle and component design. Cinelli has led the evolution of professional cycling and defined the ideal of the classic bicycle: from the classic Supercorsa racing frame to the cutting-edge MASH fixed-gear pursuit bikes ubiquitous on the urban riding scene; from innovations such as the first plastic racing saddles to the controversial Spinaci handlebars, banned from competition; and from timeless components, such as the Alter stem, to iconic meetings of art and design such as Keith Haring's treatment of the hour record-setting Laser.

With contributions by legendary riders such as Felice Gimondi and Gilberto Simoni, and by collaborators, from artists like Mike Giant to designers such as San Francisco's graphic impresario Benny Gold, and featuring a conversation between fashion designer Sir Paul Smith and Cinelli president Antonio Colombo, Cinelli is the definitive look at how beauty and technology can meet in this simplest form of design.

Lodovico Pignatti-Morano is a writer and consultant based in Milan. He is also the author of a monograph on Massimo Osti. Antonio Colombo has been the president and owner of Cinelli and Columbus since 1973, and is the director of a contemporary art gallery in Milan. Felice Gimondi is one of only five cyclists in history to win all three Grand Tours: the Tour de France, the Giro d'Italia, and the Vuelta a España. Benny Gold is a graphic designer and artist living in San Francisco. Barry McGee is a painter and graffiti artist from the Bay Area whose work has been exhibited in galleries worldwide. Sir Paul Smith is an icon of international style and fashion, and a passionate cycling enthusiast.

Bernard Tschumi

ARCHITECTURE CONCEPTS: RED IS NOT A COLOR

BERNARD TSCHUMI

An autobiographical look at the work of a seminal modernist architect.

This is the first comprehensive treatment of the architecture of Bernard Tschumi. Part monograph, part architectural theory, and part story, the book narrates a three-decade journey through a personal history of architecture and architectural ideas, intertwining theory, practice, and hypothetical projects with forty built works.

From Tschumi's many written works, such as Architecture and Disjunction and The Manhattan Transcripts to such renowned projects as the Parc de la Villette in Paris, major concert halls in Geneva, Switzerland, and in Rouen and Limoges, France, a high-rise in Manhattan, the Vacheron Constantin Headquarters in Geneva, the Paris Zoo, and the Acropolis Museum in Athens, the book presents a profusely illustrated tour through the work of the architect, set in the context of a rich history of architectural ideas. Written for the layperson as well as the specialist, the book is an entertaining narrative about the condition of architecture today.

Bernard Tschumi is one of today's foremost architects, with offices in New York and Paris. He has taught architecture at the Architectural Association in London, Princeton University, and Cooper Union in New York. He was dean of the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning, and Preservation at Columbia University from 1988 to 2003 and is currently a professor in the Graduate School of Architecture.

Roman and Williams Buildings and Interiors

THINGS WE MADE

STEPHEN ALESCH AND ROBIN STANDEFER

ESSAYS BY JAMIE BRISICK

FOREWORD BY BEN STILLER

For their tenth anniversary, the design studio Roman and Williams Buildings and Interiors presents projects that blend the spirit of our collective history with a modernist edge.

Roman and Williams's style honors craftsmanship, the use of natural materials, and the overlooked in unexpected ways. Their understated, glamorous sensibility is imparted in Manhattan's Ace Hotel interiors and restaurant The Breslin, The Standard Hotel, with its iconic Boom Boom Room, and the Royalton lobby. For such popular restaurants as The Dutch, the duo created environments with textured backdrops that reference a rich past with a contemporary sensibility. Their innovative work has captured the attention of firms such as Facebook—they recently completed its campus food hall—and their residences for celebrities such as Ben Stiller and Gwyneth Paltrow are equally imaginative. This book surveys the firm's prestige projects, presented with Alesch's architectural hand drawings and sketches and detailed views. Also included is their loft and Montauk home, which serve as design laboratories, and a collection of furnishings and fixtures.

Following a career as Hollywood production designers, Stephen Alesch and Robin Standefer founded Roman and Williams Buildings and Interiors in 2002. The New York firm's scope includes buildings, interior design, and product lines, where they place a premium on such aesthetic juxtapositions as high/low and spare/baroque. Former Surfing magazine editor Jamie Brisick writes for the New York Times and Details, and has authored two books, including Have Board Will Travel. Actor and film director/producer Ben Stiller is a prolific talent. Standefer and Alesch did the production design for Zoolander and Duplex and designed his homes.

Painted Bodies

AFRICAN BODY PAINTING, TATTOOS,
AND SCARIFICATION

CAROL BECKWITH AND ANGELA FISHER

The seminal volume on body painting and adornment by the world's preeminent photographers of African culture.

Following the international masterpiece Africa Adorned, Carol Beckwith and Angela Fisher have focused on the traditions of body painting spanning the vastly unique cultures of the African continent. In a contemporary world so fascinated with tattoos and piercings, Beckwith and Fisher document the origins of these fashionable adornments as passed down through African tribal culture.

Featured are portraits of the richly colored, detailed, and exquisite body paintings of the Surma, Karo, Maasai, Himba, and Hamar peoples, among others. Drawing from expeditions in the field and firsthand experiences with African peoples and cultures over the past thirty years and with more than 250 spectacular photographs, this is the definitive work on the expressiveness and imagination of African cultural painting of the human body.

Carol Beckwith and Angela Fisher have spent a lifetime studying the peoples of the Horn of Africa and have published their photography in a series of acclaimed books. Their magazine credits include major features in Time, Life, and Vogue.

Fendi Baguette

EDITED BY SILVIA VENTURINI FENDI

CONTRIBUTIONS BY ACHILLE BONITO OLIVA, PAOLA ANTONELLI, QUIRINO CONTI, SOPHIE FONTANEL, PEARL LAM, SARAH JESSICA PARKER, DANA THOMAS, AND BANANA YOSHIMOTO

This is the first book to focus on the Fendi Baguette.

Launched in 1997, the so-called Fendi Baguette instantly became one of the most popular and most important accessories of the decade, earning Fendi the Fashion Group International award for accessories in 2000 and creating an enduring style icon that women the world over coveted and collected with passion. This gorgeously illustrated book celebrates the Baguette—a story of craftsmanship, artisanship, connoisseurship, and design.

A deceptively small, simple handbag to be carried under the arm like the French loaf from which it takes its name, the Fendi Baguette has been produced in more than 700 models. Some are simple and understated, while others feature unique or deluxe materials, such as embroidery, sequins, beading, leather, fur, or crocodile skin. Some are embellished with precious stones, while others are wild, limited-edition works of art designed by artists such as Damien Hirst, Richard Prince, and Jeff Koons, making the Fendi Baguette a fashion must-have discreetly tucked under the arms of the most iconic women of our times.

Silvia Venturini Fendi is the creative director of Fendi's accessories, menswear, and kidswear lines and represents the third generation of the founding family of the historical maison. Achille Bonito Oliva is an Italian art critic, professor, and curator. Paola Antonelli is a senior curator in the department of architecture and design at the Museum of Modern Art, New York. Quirino Conti is an Italian architect, costume and stage designer, and fashion writer. Sophie Fontanel is a journalist and writer. Pearl Lam is a curator, dealer, and private collector of contemporary Chinese art. Sarah Jessica Parker is an actress who famously collected Baguettes in her role as Carrie on Sex and the City. Dana Thomas is a fashion and culture journalist. Banana Yoshimoto is an award-winning Japanese writer whose works have been translated and published in more than twenty countries.

Andy Warhol: LIZ

TEXTS BY BOB COLACELLO AND JOHN WATERS

Andy Warhol's iconic portraits of Elizabeth Taylor are images that have lost none of their explosive power in the decades that separate the present from the moment of their making.

Frequently hailed as the greatest movie star of all time, Elizabeth Taylor was a friend of Andy Warhol in the 1970s and 1980s. The personification of charisma, whose highly public life was charged with drama, tragedy, and romance, this iconic muse was a perfect vehicle for Warhol's vivid silk-screen portraiture derived from press clippings, publicity shots, and film stills. Warhol made over fifty portraits of Taylor in all her incarnations—from the ethereally beautiful child actress in National Velvet to the commanding, voluptuous screen goddess of Cleopatra. Andy Warhol: Liz sheds light on the relationship between Warhol and one of his most notorious muses.

Bob Colacello began writing for Andy Warhol's Interview in 1970. He was named editor shortly thereafter and remained at the magazine until 1982. His memoir of working with Warhol, Holy Terror: Andy Warhol Close Up, was published in 1990. He has been a regular contributor to Vanity Fair for the last two decades. John Waters is a filmmaker, writer, and visual artist. He has directed such cult films as Pink Flamingos, Hairspray, and Female Trouble.

Cecily Brown

KLAUS KERTESS

Presenting a world that pulses with excesses and appetites, Cecily Brown explores the breadth of human experience in her tactile oil paintings.

Broadly inspired by the history of painting—from Rubens and Veronese to the muscular expressionism of Willem de Kooning—Cecily Brown's personal vision transcends classical notions of genre and narrative, freeing her subject matter from its original context and positioning it within a new aesthetic reality. Submerged within her vigorous gestural abstractions are scenes in which tangles of flesh dissolve into sensuous textures. Eschewing fixed meaning, Brown's paintings reflect the flux of life through fragmentary glimpses of form. This volume is published on the occasion of an exhibition of new paintings by the artist held in November 2011 at the Gagosian Gallery in Rome.

Klaus Kertess is a writer and curator. He has curated numerous exhibitions, including the 1995 Whitney Biennial. He has published monographs on Peter Hujar, Brice Marden, and Joan Mitchell, and has written essays for Art Forum, Parkett, and Art in America, among other publications. In 2009 he received the Lawrence A. Fleischman award for scholarly excellence in the field of American art history from the Smithsonian Archives for American Art.

CONTINUUM

INTERVIEW WITH THE ARTIST BY JOHN RICHARDSON

Jenny Saville has been recognized as one of the most thought-provoking and technically accomplished talents of her generation, known for her monumental paintings of fleshy nudes.

Fascinated by the endless aesthetic and formal possibilities that the materiality of the human body offers, Jenny Saville remits a highly sensuous and tactile impression of surface and mass in her monumental oil paintings. She captures the contours and features of the face and the nuances of skin texture and color in strokes both bold and meticulous. Enlarging the facial features of her human subjects to a vast scale and rendering them in layer upon layer of paint, she imbues them with a sense of mass and weight that is almost sculptural and at times wholly abstract. Intense pinks, reds, and blues erupt through pale skin tones, disclosing the internal workings of the painting like the flesh and blood of a living organism. Continuum includes monumental paintings and drawings from her recent exhibition held at Gagosian Gallery in New York as well as highlights from the past six years of the artist's work, which have not been exhibited or published.

John Richardson is the author of a multivolume biography on the life of Picasso. He is a regular contributor to The New York Review of Books, The New Yorker, and Vanity Fair.

Mike Kelley

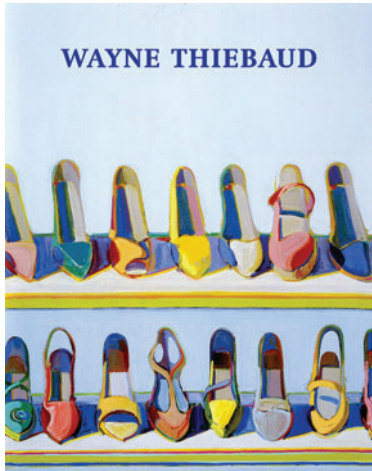

EXPLODED FORTRESS OF SOLITUDE

TEXT BY JEFFREY SCONCE

A catalogue documenting the last two exhibitions of new work by American artist Mike Kelley, held in 2011 at Gagosian Gallery in Los Angeles and London.

Mike Kelley made nostalgia, memory, and repression in everyday life the topics of his idiosyncratic sculptures, performances, paintings, and installations, which conflate vernacular sources and high modernist aesthetics. A veteran of the Los Angeles conceptual art scene, Kelley used deconstructive strategies in order to challenge the established norms of contemporary culture, both high and low.

Jeffrey Sconce is an associate professor in the department of radio, television, and film at Northwestern University and the author of Haunted Media: Electronic Presence from Telegraphy to Television (2000).

Wayne Thiebaud: A Retrospective

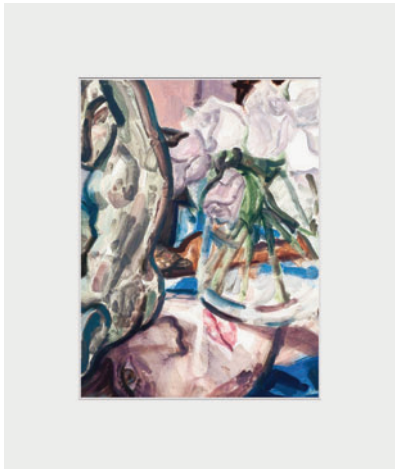

JOHN WILMERDING

Famous for his lush early '60s paintings of cakes and other sweets, this retrospective of Wayne Thiebaud is the definitive book on the seminal American artist.

Published on the occasion of an exhibition of the same title, Wayne Thiebaud: A Retrospective is the first major survey in twelve years of the work of one of the most original and accomplished American artists. This large-format book is a retrospective of his work from the 1960s to today, with numerous works coming from the artist's collection. Like many artists, Thiebaud has held on to some of the best examples of his work from every period. The book also includes his most recent work up to 2012—at 91, Thiebaud is still working from his studio in Sacramento.

With more than ninety color illustrations, this book and the exhibition it documents—put together by noted art historian John Wilmerding—reveal the painter to be preoccupied with a larger slice of American life.

John Wilmerding is a Sarofim Professor of American Art, emeritus, at Princeton University. Formerly, he was a visiting curator in the department of American art at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, and has served as senior curator and deputy director of the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C. Elizabeth Peyton

INTERVIEW WITH THE ARTIST BY HANS ULBRICH OBRIST

This volume features new paintings and drawings by the American painter Elizabeth Peyton, published on the occasion of her first solo exhibition at Gagosian Gallery in Paris.

With the statement "A painter can say all he wants to with fruit, flowers, or even clouds," Edouard Manet evoked the genre of still-life painting to rebuff the heroic and overcharged history paintings of his time. More than a century later, Elizabeth Peyton's jewel-like paintings reaffirm Manet's belief in the quiet potency of an enduring intimiste genre.

Although Peyton's paintings infer a deep knowledge of historical artistic forbears from Goya to Warhol, this awareness is processed through an instinctual understanding of the time in which she lives. Combining her insights with modest scale, a lush yet tremulous palette, and extreme graphic sensitivity, her paintings and drawings are testaments to a passion for beauty in all its forms, from the sublime to the everyday. Portraits of artists both historical and contemporary are rendered from photographs or from life. Peyton imbues each likeness with a startling freshness and immediacy, although like a still life it is distanced from its subject.

Hans Ulrich Obrist is a curator, critic, and contemporary art historian. He is the codirector of exhibitions and programs as well as the director of international projects at the Serpentine Gallery, London.

L'ÉPOQUE FRANÇOISE

A CONVERSATION BETWEEN JOHN RICHARDSON
AND FRANÇOISE GILOT

TEXTS BY CHARLES STUCKEY AND MICHAEL CARY

This publication explores Picasso's portrayals of life with Gilot and their young family in the decade they spent together.

Françoise Gilot was a young budding painter when she met Picasso by chance at a café in 1943. The subsequent ten years spent together was a time of transformation in Picasso's paintings that coincided with revolutionary inventions in lithography, sculpture, and ceramics. Picasso: L'Époque Françoise presents for the first time several of Gilot's paintings and drawings from the period alongside Picasso's when the young painter was maturing while the elder continued to change the face of modern art. The fully illustrated catalogue includes a historic dialogue between Richardson and Gilot celebrating Picasso's innovation in every medium during the postwar years of renewal.

John Richardson is the author of a multivolume biography on the life of Picasso. He is a regular contributor to The New York Review of Books, The New Yorker, and Vanity Fair. Françoise Gilot is a painter and best-selling author. She was Picasso's muse from 1944 to 1953. Charles Stuckey is a scholar of 19th and 20th century art. He has held curatorial positions at the Kimbell Art Museum, the Minneapolis Institute of Arts, the Art Institute of Chicago, and the National Gallery of Art. A Garden of Ordinary Miracles

AN ALPHABET BOOK

WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY ROBERT ZAKANITCH

A veritable illuminated manuscript cataloging the A to Z of nature's everyday wonders to create the perfect gift book.

More than a master's-eye view of nature, and infinitely more than a simple illustrated A to Z book, A Garden of Ordinary Miracles catalogues the breathtaking beauty and variety of flowers in full bloom, in glorious hand-drawn illustrations. Anyone who loves nature will be instantly transported to an alphabetical landscape where everything from azaleas and zinnias bloom all year long.

Each overgrown spread bursts with gorgeously rendered full-color and pen-and-ink representations of flora (and fauna) whose names begin with a particular letter. Prance through P, overrun by peonies and poppies, or wander around W's wisteria and water lilies.

With so much to look at and enjoy on each page, readers will be enchanted and entranced by the intricately detailed and whimsical nature of Zakanitch's art. Packaged as the ultimate gift for adults, gardeners, or those sitting at their knee, this garden book is nothing short of a miracle.

Robert Zakanitch has been exhibiting his artwork since 1965. He has had numerous solo and group shows throughout the United States and Europe and has exhibited at the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Museum of Modern Art in New York. A Poem as Big as New York City

LITTLE KIDS WRITE ABOUT THE BIG APPLE

EDITED BY TEACHERS AND WRITERS
COLLABORATIVE

ILLUSTRATED BY MASHA D'YANS

FOREWORD BY WALTER DEAN MYERS

In the best-selling tradition of This is New York and My New York, this delightful book-length poem spreads the wonder and joy that is New York, as told through the words of its children.

As part of an unprecedented series of workshops, New York City public school students were challenged to write about what it was like to live, learn, and play in New York City. The poems were collected and edited into this book. Their words provide readers of all ages an honest, kid's-eye view of the melting pot of cultures, ideas, and excitement found within the five boroughs of New York City.

Masha D'yans's beautiful illustrations complement the vivid descriptions of taking a taxi through Manhattan or a subway up to the "boogie-down" Bronx, the salty seas of Staten Island, passing the family-owned stores that form the backbone of Queens, walking through Brooklyn's Botanical Gardens, and so much more.

Lyrical, heartfelt, and bursting with imagination, A Poem as Big as New York City proves that a poem can be as vast and exciting as the greatest city in the world.

Teachers and Writers Collaborative provides and advocates for literary arts education by supporting, developing, and implementing strategies to enhance students' interest in and love of literature and writing. Masha D'yans is a celebrated artist whose work has been featured in books, calendars, and merchandise created specifically for the Museum of Modern Art. Walter Dean Myers is the award-winning author of more than fifty books for children and young adults and is the national ambassador for young people's literature.

There's nothing like Christmas in New York.

New York Originals

A GUIDE TO THE CITY'S CLASSIC SHOPS
AND MOM-AND-POPS

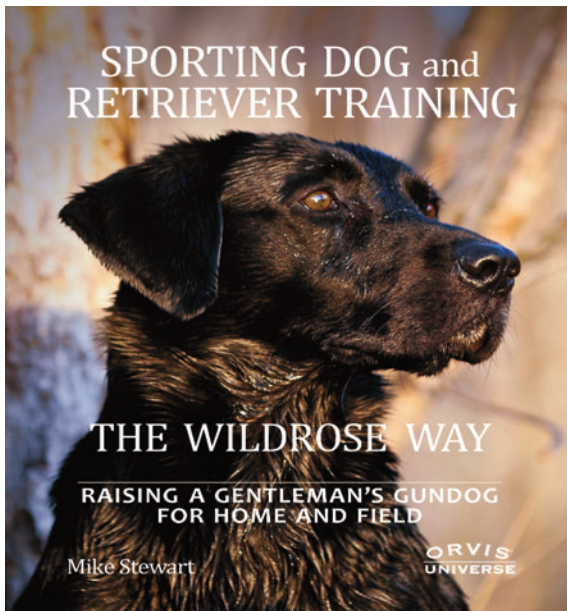

JAMIE MCDONALD

A unique guide to the most interesting and useful seventy-five mom-and-pop businesses in New York City.

This book explores the small gems of New York City that many locals and tourists do not even know exist. These surprising treasures have resisted change and held on to their old-world ways. The people who run these businesses—often fourth- or fifth-generation offspring of the original owners—devote their entire lives to serving their loyal customers.

With this unique tour through all five boroughs, readers can visit seventy-five of these classic shops, restaurants, and manufacturers, including Russ and Daughters, an appetizing shop whose owners still use their great-grandfather's time-consuming, labor-intensive recipes and who can count Lou Reed as a loyal customer; E. Vogel, a SoHo shoe factory so old it made boots for the Union Army; and Buzz-A-Rama, a Brooklyn slot-car racing facility in business since the 1960s.

Jamie McDonald writes, directs, and hosts the 2011 Emmy award-winning television series New York Originals. He is a former producer and has worked at Fox News and CBS. He is also an award-winning documentary filmmaker.

Audubon's Aviary

THE ORIGINAL WATERCOLORS FOR THE BIRDS OF AMERICA

ROBERTA J.M. OLSON

WITH AN ESSAY BY MARJORIE SHELLEY

A national treasure is celebrated in this landmark publication.

The Birds of America is a monumental classic, but it has never been explored like this before. This important new volume presents all the dazzling watercolors that Audubon painted for these monumental engravings. We are familiar with the prints engraved by Robert Havell Jr., but Audubon's Aviary illuminates the original masterpieces that were created by Audubon himself and tells the story behind their creation with fresh insights and engaging quotes from his writings. These powerful paintings—all newly photographed using state-of-the-art techniques—possess a startling immediacy, vibrancy, and fluidity that link natural history, art, and a respect for the environment.

These watercolors transmit Audubon's devotion to his craft with their inscriptions and layers of media wrought with a miniaturist's attention to detail and their revolutionary compositions, which for the first time in history depicted all the birds life-size. Audubon is considered America's first great watercolorist, introducing innovative approaches developed over a lifetime of study. Even judged alongside today's technology, his dramatic tableaux remain some of the most spectacular natural history documents and visually arresting works of art ever produced.

Dr. Roberta J.M. Olson is the curator of drawings at the New-York Historical Society. She is also professor emeritus of art history at Wheaton College in Massachusetts and is the author of numerous publications, including Drawn by New York: Six Centuries of Watercolors and Drawings, The Florentine Tondo, and Italian Drawings 1780–1890. Marjorie Shelley is the Sherman Fairchild Conservator in Charge at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York.

TAKASHI MURAKAMI AND MASSIMILIANO GIONI

A comprehensive volume—overseen by the artist himself—on one of the most renowned living artists today, Takashi Murakami.

Takashi Murakami is celebrated the world over for his deft blurring of high and low art. In this volume, accompanying a major exhibition of his work and the first in the Middle East, readers are immersed in the unique way Murakami channels the ecstasy and anxiety of contemporary culture.

Conceived by the artist as a self-portrait in the guise of a cartoon, Murakami – Ego illuminates the role of the artist as a cipher and critic of pop phenomena as well as a mirror of global networks of consumerism, interpretation, and exchange. The book features some of the artist's most celebrated series, including Kaikai Kiki Lots of Faces and Pom and Me. Murakami has conceived of the exhibition itself as a work of art, creating new modes of display that include sculptural pedestals with digital animation, a circus tent that doubles as an indoor cinema, and an impressive 300-foot-long painting, all of which are featured in the book. In addition to an interview by curator Massimiliano Gioni, Murakami will contribute writings on various works.

Takashi Murakami has become recognized as one of the most prominent contemporary artists of his time. His work has been featured in numerous solo exhibitions at museums and art institutions throughout the world. Recent shows include the traveling retrospective @MURAKAMI and the Château de Versailles's solo exhibition of his works on the palace grounds. Massimiliano Gioni is the associate director and director of exhibitions for the New Museum in New York and the curator of the exhibition Murakami – Ego for the Qatar Museums Authority.

Ghosts in the Machine

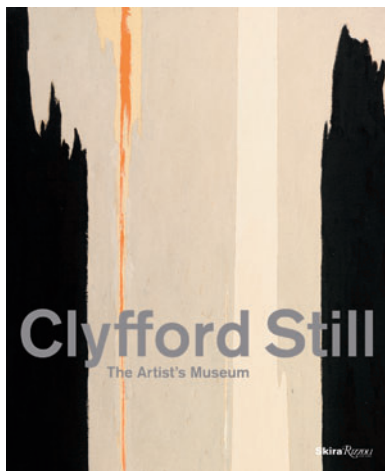

MASSIMILIANO GIONI AND GARY CARRION-MURAYARI

A sweeping survey on an evergreen subject—the relationship between man and machines.

Featuring more than sixty international artists, this volume surveys the constantly shifting relationships between humans, machines, and art. The book spans more than fifty years of history, tracing various movements' and artists' engagement with machines—both low- and high-tech—across generations. The exhibition and accompanying catalogue present a transhistorical reassessment of optical, kinetic, and technological art, bringing together a wide range of work from—among others—Bridget Riley, Hans Haacke, Gianni Colombo, Channa Horowitz, Heinz Mack, Otto Piene, Stan VanDerBeek, and Victor Vasarely. Truly diverse in its scope, the show investigates the ways in which outsider artists, writers, and other cult figures have illustrated the symbiosis between man and machine, including documents and artifacts by J. G. Ballard, Emery Blagdon, Franz Kafka, Marshall McLuhan, Emma Kunz, and Edoardo Paolozzi. A highlight of the exhibition is a reconstruction of Richard Hamilton's seminal 1955 installation Man Machine Motion. Constructed as a collage of essays, interviews, and manifestos, this publication archives an impressive range of thinking about artists' fascination with technology.

Clyfford Still: The Artist's Museum

FOREWORDS BY SANDRA STILL CAMPBELL AND DIANE STILL KNOX
ESSAYS BY DEAN SOBEL AND DAVID ANFAM

The first significant publication on Clyfford Still and his work in more than twenty-five years celebrates one of abstract expressionism's founders.

Best known for his compelling abstract works with jagged fields and powerful expanses of color, Clyfford Still (1904–1980) stands among the giants of post-World War II art. Together with Jackson Pollock, Mark Rothko, Franz Kline, and Barnett Newman, Still helped shape abstract expressionism. This vividly illustrated book presents more than one hundred of Still's greatest works and is the first comprehensive catalogue of the new Clyfford Still Museum in Denver. The book offers intimate reflections written by his daughters Sandra Still Campbell and Diane Still Knox; Dean Sobel chronicles the origins of the new museum; and David Anfam, one of the world's foremost authorities on Still's work, gives a new scholarly and critical perspective of Still, made possible by the opening of the museum. Illustrations include monumental paintings, works on paper, and Still's only sculptures, many of which have never been published or publicly exhibited.

Clyfford Still's daughters Sandra Still Campbell and Diane Still Knox have played an active role in cataloging and preserving the artist's legacy. Dean Sobel is the director of the Clyfford Still Museum and the former director of the Aspen Art Museum. David Anfam is a critic and curator who has written several books on modern American art.

Impressionist Summers

FRANK W. BENSON'S NORTH HAVEN

FAITH ANDREWS BEDFORD

A beautifully illustrated book devoted to Impressionist Frank W. Benson's life and work in Maine, where he spent summers creating the sun-drenched paintings that define American plein-air painting.

The summer of 2012—the 150th anniversary of Frank W. Benson's birth—marks the opening of an exhibition organized by the Farnsworth Art Museum focusing on Benson's life and work at his summer home on North Haven Island, at Wooster Farm. It was there that he painted almost all of his brilliant, light-filled Impressionist paintings, launched his prolific etching career, and began his highly successful watercolor period.

Through paintings, both oil and watercolor, drypoints, etchings, and lithographs, many seen here for the first time, this volume illustrates the important ways in which life on North Haven affected Benson's art. These works, as well as family photographs and new photographs of Wooster Farm taken specially for this book, present not only the art of an immensely talented artist but also an intimate portrait of a dedicated teacher and devoted family man.

Faith Andrews Bedford is a writer, curator, and expert on Frank W. Benson. In addition to numerous articles and essays on Benson, her books include Frank W. Benson: American Impressionist and The Sporting Art of Frank W. Benson.

Sorolla: The Masterworks

BLANCA PONS-SOROLLA

A new survey of the best works by the elusive and spectacular Spanish Impressionist Joaquín Sorolla.

Often compared to his contemporary, the American artist John Singer Sargent, Joaquín Sorolla (1863–1923) was a master draftsman and painter of landscapes, formal portraits, and monumental, historically themed canvases. Highly influenced by French Impressionism, the Valencian artist was a master plein-air painter known for his luminous seaside scenes of frolicking youths and for vivid depictions of Spanish rural life and its pleasures and customs.

This beautifully designed and produced volume brings together one hundred of Sorolla's major paintings, selected by his great-granddaughter Blanca Pons-Sorolla, the foremost authority on the artist. Benefiting from close proximity to the artist and his personal archives, she presents an in-depth essay that explores Sorolla's life, work, and remarkable international legacy. With virtually all of the artist's previous publications now out of print, this much-anticipated volume is an important addition to the literature on this great Spanish master.

Blanca Pons-Sorolla is the foremost scholar on the work of Joaquín Sorolla and has written and contributed to numerous books.

The Architecture of the Barnes Foundation

GALLERY IN A GARDEN, GARDEN IN A GALLERY

TOD WILLIAMS AND BILLIE TSIEN
 INTRODUCTION BY KENNETH FRAMPTON

A comprehensive description and behind-the-scenes look into the architectural evolution of the Barnes Foundation's new building in downtown Philadelphia.

In 2007, Tod Williams Billie Tsien Architects received the commission to design the new Barnes Foundation building, an enviable project that was surrounded both by controversy and the excitement of increasing access to one of America's premier collections of post-impressionist art, amassed by Dr. Albert C. Barnes in the early twentieth century.

The book presents photographs and drawings highlighting the new building's sensitivity to the ideology of Dr. Barnes and the creativity of Paul Cret, who designed the foundation's gallery in Merion. In the new facility, the Merion galleries are faithfully reproduced at the same scale with similar materials and are seamlessly integrated into the larger new building—a refined modernist masterpiece surrounded by grounds designed by landscape architect Laurie Olin.

Tod Williams and Billie Tsien are the principals behind the renowned architectural team whose work includes acclaimed museum buildings around the world. Kenneth Frampton is the Ware Professor of Architecture at Columbia University.

The Ungovernables

THE 2012 NEW MUSEUM TRIENNIAL

EUNGIE JOO, GENERAL EDITOR

The follow-up to the very successful exhibition “Younger Than Jesus,” “The Ungovernables” is the highly anticipated second New Museum Triennial.

The Ungovernables captures the perspectives, preoccupations, and experiences of an inventive and informed generation of international artists who came of age after the independence and revolutionary movements of the 1960s and 1970s. This important volume features thirty-four artists and artist collectives working in painting, sculpture, drawing, performance, video, and other activities. Through explorations of form, objecthood, material, and temporality, these artists negotiate time and their experience of our contemporary moment, often demonstrating a profound mistrust of permanence. Many of the works are provisional, site-specific, and performative, reflecting an attitude of possibility and faith in the contingent nature of our time.

The book includes a substantive essay on this international group of artists by curator Eungie Joo and essays and other contributions from many of the artists featured in the exhibition, as well as short profiles on each.

Eungie Joo is a curator at the New Museum, New York.

Mark Rothko

THE DECISIVE DECADE: 1940–1950

INTRODUCTION BY TODD HERMAN
ESSAYS BY DAVID ANFAM, BRADFORD R. COLLINS,
HARRY COOPER, RUTH FINE, AND CHRISTOPHER
ROTHKO

The first publication dedicated exclusively to Mark Rothko's art during the critical formative period of the 1940s.

Examining the development and artistic exploration of one of the greatest artists of the twentieth century, this unprecedented volume presents the works of American artist Mark Rothko from the 1940s, a time when his most essential development as a painter occurred, dramatically and in a very compact space of time.

During this period, Rothko moved from expressive figurative and surrealist canvases to more abstract multiform subjects and finally to his signature abstractions—luminous rectangles of color suspended in space. Richly illustrated with works by Rothko and his contemporaries, and with essays by prominent Rothko scholars, this important new book deepens our understanding of Rothko's art during this vital period, and that of the mature works that emerged from it.

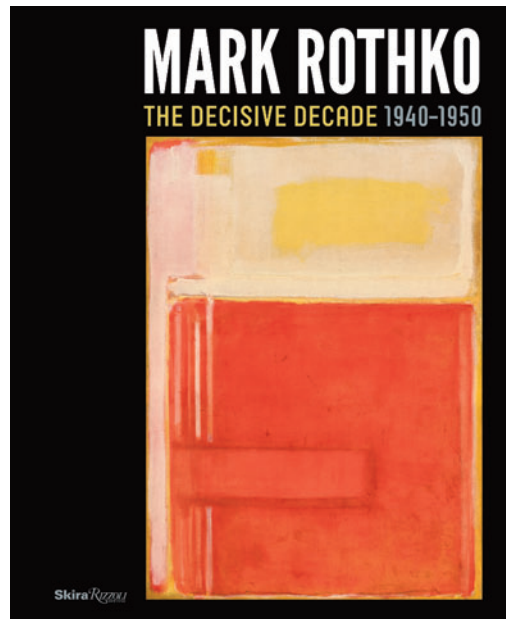

Todd Herman is the director of the Arkansas Arts Center. David Anfam is an independent scholar in London and the author of the Rothko catalogue raisonné of works on canvas. Modern and contemporary American art scholar Bradford R. Collins is the chair of the University of South Carolina's art department. Harry Cooper is curator of modern and contemporary art at the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C. Ruth Fine is curator of special projects in modern art at the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C., and the author of the forthcoming catalogue raisonné of Rothko's works on paper. The son of Mark Rothko, Christopher Rothko is a writer and psychologist.

Katharine Hepburn

REBEL CHIC

TEXTS BY JEAN DRUESEDOW, BARBARA COHEN-STRATYNER, NANCY MACDONELL, JUDY SAMELSON, AND KOHLE YOHANNAN

The first book to celebrate the irreverent and original style of this icon of stage and screen.

Glamorous when she wanted to be and tomboyish when she didn't, Katharine Hepburn developed her personal style and public image as a style rebel. Whether on stage, on screen, or in private life, Hepburn had a firm grasp on the power of her appearance. Rather than submit to studio image makers, she controlled her image and drew on her own proclivities to create a distinct antifashion persona.

This book presents the famously headstrong star in a new light: as a style icon. Through images of Hepburn's on-screen and off-screen wardrobes and essays by top fashion historians, this book reveals how modern Hepburn's insouciance and idiosyncratic manner of dressing really was and shows her as an inspirational, self-styled counterpoint to the over-managed looks of celebrities today. Full of never-before-published images of Hepburn's costumes and personal wardrobe, Katharine Hepburn is a refreshing look at a true fashion original.

Jean Druesedow is the director of the Kent State University Museum and was formerly the president of the Costume Society of America. Barbara Cohen-Stratyner is the curator of exhibitions at the New York Public Library for the Performing Arts. Nancy MacDonell is a fashion journalist and author. Judy Samelson is the former editor of Playbill magazine. Kohle Yohannan is a historian, curator, and the author of several fashion books, including Valentina (Rizzoli, 2009).

This inspiring book accompanies the first traveling exhibition about Doris Duke's estate Shangri La and its influential synthesis of modernist architecture and Islamic art and design.

Situated on five acres of terraced gardens and pools overlooking the Pacific Ocean and Honolulu's Diamond Head, Shangri La was the idyllic paradise of philanthropist Doris Duke, reflecting her personal passion for the art, architecture, and design of the Islamic world. The estate incorporates unique architectural features, such as carved marble doorways, jalis, and floral ceramic tiles, and the decor includes artifacts, such as silk textiles, jewel-toned chandeliers, and gilt and coffered ceilings, many collected during her travels. This volume presents an exclusive tour of Shangri La's breathtaking interiors and landscape, including the splendid furnishings and art. Archival photographs of Duke and friends as well as correspondence and drawings provide a view into a lifestyle defined by the highest sense of aesthetics. Doris Duke's Shangri La is sure to inspire both art and design lovers.

Thomas Mellins has organized exhibitions for many institutions and coauthored with Robert A.M. GRAVITY OF LIGHT

JAMES CRUMP

TEXTS BY DOUG AND MIKE STARN AND JAN ÅMAN

The first book to celebrate the full breadth of the Starn twins' innovative photographic career.

Defying categorization, Doug and Mike Starn combine traditionally separate disciplines such as science, sculpture, photography, painting, video, and installation. Gravity of Light focuses on the breadth of the Starns' photographic work, from their critically acclaimed debut in the 1987 Whitney Biennial to their current exploration of light as a requisite for photography and vision and as a symbol of enlightenment. In their most recent installation, large-scale photographs are lit by the Starns' carbon arc lamp—an adaptation of an 1804 model by British physicist Humphry Davy—which produces a brilliant point of light too dazzling for the naked eye.

James Crump is a curator and writer. Identical twins Doug and Mike Starn grew up in New Jersey and attended School of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. Today, their work is widely exhibited and represented in major museum collections. Jan Åman is a curator, writer, columnist, and urban activist specializing in contemporary art, urban development, and social phenomena.

Deborah Kass

BEFORE AND HAPPILY EVER AFTER

ERIC SHINER WITH CONTRIBUTIONS BY ROBERT STORR,
GRISELDA POLLOCK, LISA LIEBMANN, AND BROOKS ADAMS

The first comprehensive book accompanying a major touring exhibition by the painter Deborah Kass.

More than any artist of the last thirty years, New York City-based painter Deborah Kass has made it her life's work to position women artists on the great paternal playing field of art history. From her early paintings of the sea pounding rocky shores to her eponymous Warhol Project series and her recent text-based works, Kass has quite literally fired the canon, challenged the status quo, and refigured art history.

The book features in-depth essays by a panoply of important figures, including Robert Storr, renowned curator, professor, and onetime subject of a Kass painting, and Griselda Pollock, one of the most important feminist art historians in the field. The volume can be seen as both a primer on feminist movements of the past thirty years and as a potent wake-up call to the establishment that artists of Kass's caliber must be at the forefront of today's art world.

Eric Shiner is the director of the Andy Warhol Museum in Pittsburgh. Robert Storr is the dean of the Yale School of Art. Griselda Pollock is an art historian based at the University of Leeds. Lisa Liebmann is a curator and art critic. Brooks Adams is an art critic.

The Painting Factory

JEFFREY DEITCH

TEXTS BY JOHANNA BURTON, JAMES MEYER,
AND SCOTT ROTHKOPF

The first large-scale exhibition exploring contemporary abstract painting.

In a major exhibition at the Museum of Contemporary Art, Los Angeles, director Jeffrey Deitch considers the reemergence of abstract painting among a broad range of artists whose work is as diverse conceptually as it is aesthetically. Looking back to Andy Warhol's seminal Shadow, Oxidation, and Rorschach paintings as among the many touchstones that underwrite the contemporary impulse to abstraction, the show features artists such as Julie Mehretu, whose large-scale works densely layer maplike markings; Josh Smith, whose lush canvases often explore a single theme repeatedly, such as his signature; and Tauba Auerbach, whose highly formal explorations of materials challenge conventional modes of perception. Additional artists include Rudolf Stingel, Christopher Wool, Glenn Ligon, Urs Fischer, Mark Bradford, Wade Guyton, Kelley Walker, Seth Price, Kerstin Brätsch and Adele Röder, and Sterling Ruby. The exhibition catalogue features a roundtable discussion between Jeffrey Deitch, art historian Johanna Burton, and curators James Meyer and Scott Rothkopf.

Jeffrey Deitch is the director of the Museum of Contemporary Art, Los Angeles. Prior to becoming director of MOCA, he operated the gallery Deitch Projects. New York-based art historian and critic Johanna Burton is the director of the graduate program at the Center for Curatorial Studies, Bard College. James Meyer is an associate curator of modern and contemporary art at the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C. Scott Rothkopf is a curator at the Whitney Museum of American Art, New York.

Painting the Void: 1949–1962

PAUL SCHIMMEL

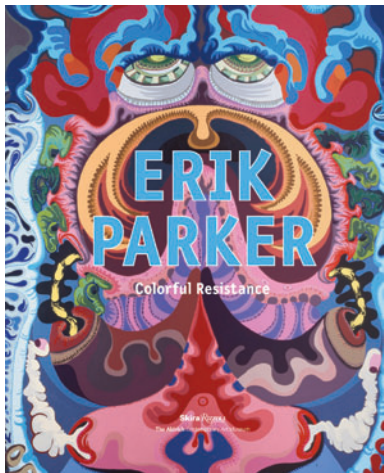

The first book to take a transnational view of destruction in abstract painting of the postwar period.

Painting the Void: 1949–1962 focuses on one of the most significant consequences of the rise of gestural abstraction in twentieth-century painting: artists' literal assault on the picture plane. Responding to the social and political climate of the postwar period—especially the crisis of humanity resulting from the atomic bomb—international artists ripped, cut, burned, or affixed objects to the traditionally two-dimensional canvas. The exhibition and accompanying catalogue mark the first time that these strategies have been considered together as a coherent mode of artistic production, expanding the scholarship on this critical moment in history. Artists featured in the exhibition include very well-known figures as well as more obscure ones, though no less important, such as Robert Rauschenberg, Lee Bontecou, Yves Klein, Niki de Saint Phalle, Alberto Burri, Lucio Fontana, Salvatore Scarpitta, Antoni Tàpies, and Kazuo Shiraga, as well as Jean Fautrier, Raymond Hains, John Latham, Otto Müehl, Jacques Villeglé, and Shozo Shimamoto.

COLORFUL RESISTANCE

MÓNICA RAMÍREZ-MONTAGUT

FOREWORD BY PETER SAUL, CONTRIBUTION BY ANGELA STIEF,
INTERVIEW WITH ERIK PARKER BY KAWS

The first retrospective look at the irreverent and boisterous artwork of painter Erik Parker.

With deep roots in alternative comics, illustration, and graffiti, internationally acclaimed artist Erik Parker's work bridges underground culture and the pop-surrealism movement. Erik Parker: Colorful Resistance presents his intense compositions, originating from word clusters, viscera-like forms, and animated figurines. Parker's work aggressively takes on the issues of the day through an antiauthoritarian approach to established ideologies.

"[Parker's] unpredictable forms are contained by, but also disrupt, relatively geometric framing devices whose radiating curves and bands of color bring to mind proscenium arches or movie marquees. In nearly every painting we seem to be witnessing the emergence of some extravagant freak of nature or perhaps consciousness—a hallucination of the first order."

African American Art

HARLEM RENAISSANCE, THE CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT, AND BEYOND

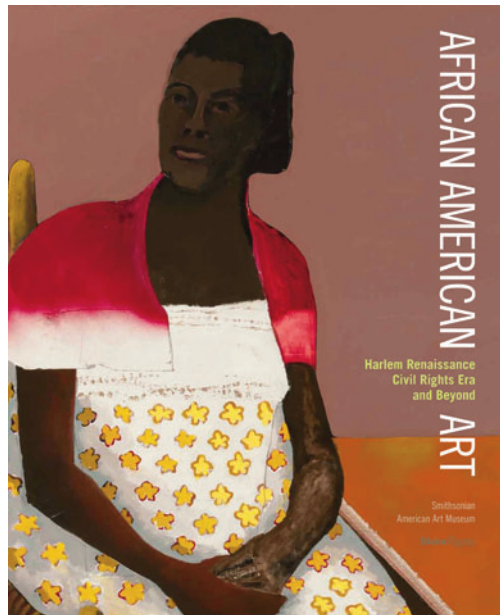

ESSAYS BY RICHARD J. POWELL, VIRGINIA MECKLENBURG, AND THERESA SLOWIK

A beautifully illustrated survey of African American art of the twentieth century, including many never-before-seen works by the most important artists of the period.

African American Art presents a powerful selection of paintings, sculpture, prints, and photographs by forty-three black artists who explored the African American experience of the twentieth century.

Embracing many universal themes and also evoking specific aspects of the African American experience such as the African diaspora, jazz, and the power of religion, the artists worked in styles as varied as documentary realism, abstraction, and postmodern assemblage of found objects. Drawn entirely from the Smithsonian American Art Museum's rich collection of African American art, the works include paintings by Benny Andrews, Jacob Lawrence, Thornton Dial Sr., Romare Bearden, Alma Thomas, and Lois Mailou Jones, and photographs by Roy DeCarava, Gordon Parks, Roland Freeman, Marilyn Nance, and James Van Der Zee. More than half of the artworks in the exhibition are being shown for the first time. In Richard Powell's text, his usual keen insights into meaning and metaphor enrich the reader's understanding of the artworks in their historical setting and contemporary culture.

Georgia O'Keeffe

LIFE & WORK

EDITED BY BARBARA BUHLER LYNES

An historical retrospective that explores the complex universe of an artist who changed the history of modern art.

Born in 1887, Georgia O'Keeffe first came to the attention of the New York art community in 1916, several decades after women had gained access to art training in America's colleges and universities, and before any of its women artists were well known or highly celebrated. Within a decade, however, she had distinguished herself as one of America's most important modern artists, a position she maintained throughout her life.

This catalog covers her entire artistic range with more than ninety paintings, drawings, and sculptures including her first abstract works from the 1910s and the large oil paintings depicting flowers and nature formations from the 1920s, as well as her famous New York cityscapes and the wide New Mexico landscapes.

Photographs, clothing, furniture, and tools shed light on an exceptional woman, who exemplified with her work how American art dissociated itself from European traditions and addressed the artistic emancipation of female artists. Photographs by Alfred Stieglitz, O'Keeffe's supporter and later her husband, and other notable photographers, such as Ansel Adams, Todd Webb, and Don Worth, show further facets of her life and work. An illustrated chronology and a bibliography complete the catalog.

Barbara Buhler Lynes is the curator of the Georgia O'Keeffe Museum in Santa Fe, New Mexico, and the Emily Fisher Landau Director of the Georgia O'Keeffe Museum Research Center. She is the leading expert on the art of painter Georgia O'Keeffe.

Painting Musée d'Orsay

EDITED BY STÉPHANE GUÉGAN

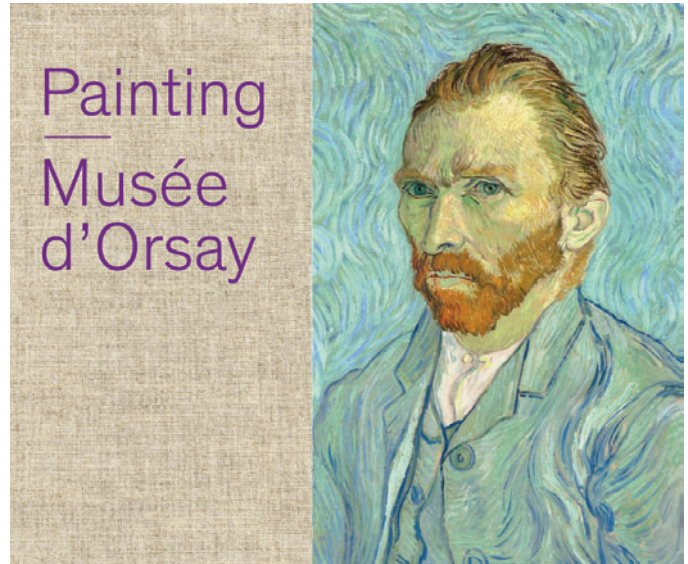

The history of painting between 1848 and 1914 through one of the most beautiful collections of pictures in the world.

Published for the twenty-fifth anniversary of the museum at the start of 2012, the volume presents 300 works in an order that is both chronological and thematic, thereby offering a comprehensive overview of the history of painting of the period, with the didactic intent of rendering it accessible to the widest possible public.

Built up over time through purchases by the state, donations and bequests from artists, collectors, and patrons, and also thanks to an active acquisitions policy, the Musée d'Orsay's collection of pictures today constitutes an exceptional holding represented by the greatest names and schools of painting between 1848 and 1914, such as symbolism (Moreau, Puvis de Chavannes, Redon), realism (Courbet, Fantin-Latour), the Barbizon school (Corot, Millet, Rousseau), impressionism (Caillebotte, Cézanne, Degas, Manet, Monet, Pissarro, Renoir, Sisley), post impressionism (Seurat, Gauguin, van Gogh, Toulouse-Lautrec), and the Nabis (Bonnard, Denis, Vuillard).

For its new hanging in the picture galleries, the Musée d'Orsay is highlighting its extraordinary masterpieces to offer the public an increasingly complete yet fresh survey of that fruitful and varied era, one of the most creative and abundant in the history of art.

Stéphane Guégan is curator at the Musée d'Orsay and has published numerous works, notably on Ingres, Delacroix, Chassériau, Gauguin, and Turner.

Photography Vol. 2

A NEW VISION OF THE WORLD 1891–1940

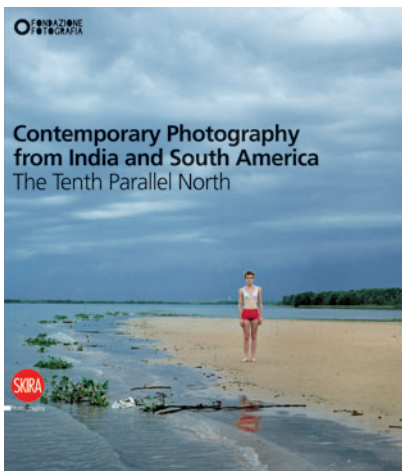

EDITED BY WALTER GUADAGNINI

The second volume in the Skira Photography series serving as a major reference in the field.

The fifty years of artistic and mass photography taken into consideration in this volume are unquestionably the most important in the twentieth century. The acceleration of technological progress, the advent of the era of the machine and the metropolis, the epoch-making economic crisis, the dramatic aftermath of the collapse of the old nineteenth-century order in Europe with political upheavals, wars, revolutions, and dictatorships, the first appearance of a mass society capable of expressing cultures and systems of communication in line with its needs: these are the most obvious stages of a history that was also recorded as it happened, in various forms and media. Among these, key importance certainly attaches to photography.

This richly illustrated book—complete with synoptic tables and glossary—offers a wide-ranging survey of this era that will delight and inform a constantly growing audience.

Former director of the Galleria Civica in Modena, Walter Guadagnini is a curator and professor of history of contemporary art at the Accademia di Belle Arti in Bologna. He also is commissaire unique for the Italian section of Paris Photo.

Don McCullin

A RETROSPECTIVE

EDITED BY SANDRO PARMIGGIANI

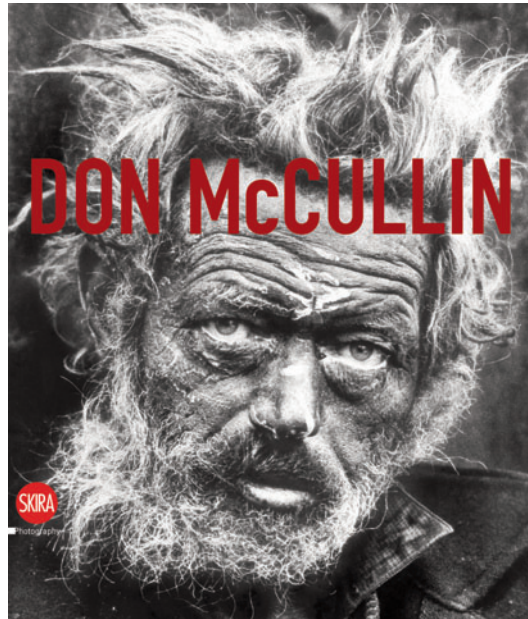

An exhibition catalog that features an impressive retrospective, covering the last fifty years in chronological order.

Don McCullin (born 1935, London) is one of the most important photographers of our time. For more than fifty years, his uncompromising black-and-white photographs have shaped our awareness and understanding of modern conflict and its consequences.

His images tell the remarkable story of his life and work, including his most famous assignments in Berlin, Vietnam, Cambodia, Biafra, Bangladesh, and the Middle East. The Winner of the Warsaw Gold Medal and the World Press Photographer Award, he was awarded the ICP Cornell Capa Award in 2006.

Key periods in McCullin's life, including his early experiences of evacuation and the Blitz, his commissions from Berlin in 1961 and Cyprus in 1964, and his most famous work for the Sunday Times are here explored alongside more recent projects with Christian Aid, his photographs of last tribes in the Omo River Valley, South Kenya, and Irian Jaya, New Guinea, and, in the last few years, those of still-life and English landscapes at his home in Somerset. A photographic journey across the ruins and landscapes of the boundaries of the Roman Empire completes the volume.

Sandro Parmiggiani is an art historian and critic. He is the curator of hundreds of exhibitions in Italy and abroad. Among the others, he published Michael Kenna: Images of the Seventh Days (Skira, 2011).

Beatles in Comic Strips

ENZO GENTILE AND FABIO SCHIAVO

A collection of some two hundred cartoon strips dedicated to the Beatles, many of which are extremely rare and now inaccessible.

Forty years after their break up, the Beatles remain the biggest phenomenon of music and mass culture in the world of entertainment. The book for the first time investigates and documents the interest that cartoonists, publishers, and enthusiasts have shown in their special relationship with the universe of comic strips—a rich and variegated relationship with thousands of publications, in every part of the world, and a production that continues to the present day. In some stories the Beatles are the protagonists, in others they make cameo appearances, while others feature their lyrics transformed into comic strips.

Published on the fiftieth anniversary of the Fab Four's first single ("Love Me Do"), the book celebrates the band with a festive, fun and original product, conveying a dimension that does not age, transmitting the legend that endures through the years and changing fashions.

Enzo Gentile, journalist and music critic, has contributed to innumerable journals and papers, written books, and produced radio and television programs, exhibitions, and festivals devoted to the music of our time. A historian of rock, he is a lecturer at the Catholic University of Milan. Fabio Schiavo has been a professional journalist since 1990. A contributor to various publications, he has been an editor at Rolling Stone Italia since 2004. A Beatles fan, he owns one of the largest collections of comic strips featuring the Fab Four in the world.

Neoludica Art and Videogames 1966–2011

LUCA TRAINI AND DEBORA FERRARI

The first analysis of the relationship between art and video games, from the sixties until today.

Video games have emerged as an art forum in the twenty-first century. Games like Portal and Machinarium have redefined the medium, blurring the boundaries between art and entertainment. In recent years they have had a crucial influence on other arts: cinema, literature, music, and visual arts. They stand at the crossroads between very diverse forms of culture and industry, and it is precisely the anomaly inherent in this encounter/clash that makes them so terribly fascinating.

Neoludica is an in-depth exploration of the relationship between art and video games, and it underlines how the video game is an art form that has yet to be understood by the world of culture.

Readers will find much to learn and explore in this beautiful collection of images from thirty-three artists, as well as brief biographies, compelling stories about the game designer's work, and historical details that contextualize the interactive media.

Luca Traini is a curator and historian. Debora Ferrari is an author and art critic.

Marilyn

EDITED BY STEFANIA RICCI
AND SERGIO RISALITI

The Museo Ferragamo in Florence pays homage to Marilyn Monroe with a major exhibition and a catalog dedicated to her a half century after her death.

Like many divas of the silver screen, Marilyn Monroe loved to wear Salvatore Ferragamo shoes. The exhibition and catalogue dedicated to her are the result of long research and preparatory work, presenting items from the actress's wardrobe worn on the set or in her private life, as well as important documents that reveal the actress's managerial side, her skill and determination in building and grooming her success.

In this volume, the curators have sought to interpret a comprehensive collection of famous photographs taken in Marilyn's day-to-day life (by such notable photographers as Beaton, Stern, Barris, Greene) that portray Marilyn in "classic" poses by comparing them with famous works of art from the past that represent similar poses and expressions, from the balanced pathos of French painter Jean-Baptiste Greuze's Alessandro morente to Botticelli's Venus.

The catalog gathers together all the photos of clothing and Ferragamo footwear, the documents in the exhibition, and a very large group of photographs and exceptional works of art from such prestigious institutions as the Museo Canova and the Warhol Foundation, and from private collections in Italy and abroad.

The catalog also includes essays addressing such themes as classic and modern beauty, Marilyn's biography, and her relationship with other women, as well as an introduction by Stefania Ricci and Sergio Risaliti, exhibition curators.

Stefania Ricci is the director of the Museo Ferragamo in Florence. Sergio Risaliti is an art critic and an author.

Georges de La Tour

THE ADORATION OF THE SHEPHERDS
 CHRIST WITH SAINT JOSEPH IN THE CARPENTER'S SHOP

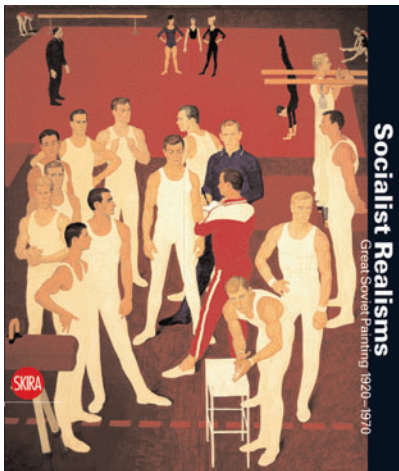

EDITED BY VALERIA MERLINI, DANIELA STORTI, AND DIMITRI SALMON

A fascinating analysis of the styles, techniques, and subjects in which de La Tour worked introduces the master of the nocturnes to a general audience.

Georges de La Tour played a particular role in the history of art. Although today he is recognized as one of the most celebrated and beloved French painters, after his death in 1652 he sank into complete oblivion. Three centuries had to pass before historians rediscovered him. Then, little by little, from 1915 onwards, scholars reconstructed his works, his career, and his life.

Starting out from an analysis of two of the artist's masterpieces, St. Joseph the Carpenter and The Adoration of the Shepherds, and through a series of well illustrated and accessible essays, rich in information and historical references, some of the greatest international historians and art historians cover almost his entire output, models, and sources of inspiration, as well as his iconography and technique.

Valeria Merlini and Daniela Storti are art historians and renowned restorers. Dimitri Salmon is an art historian and author of numerous volumes and articles on Georges de La Tour and seventeenth-century French art.

Socialist Realisms

GREAT SOVIET PAINTING 1920–1970

MATTHEW BOWN AND MATTEO LANFRANCONI

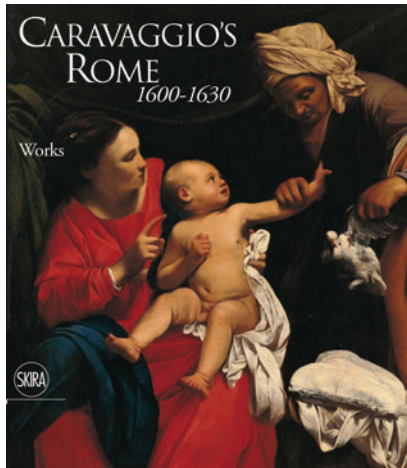

The development of Soviet realist painting over fifty years through a selection of works from Russia's leading museums.

Socialist realism remains an exceptional phenomenon in twentieth-century art. By affirming the value of content over form and restoring the central role of traditional practices, socialist realism was the declared opponent of the modern movement. In fact, it represented the only completely alternative artistic system.

Created by the great Russian artists (Deineka, Malevich, Adlivanin, Laktionov, Plastov, Brodsky, Korzhev), the works present multiple themes and approaches to art, spanning from the last phases of the civil war to the beginnings of the Brezhnev era, stopping at the early 1970s when trends in Soviet art took on varied and inconsistent directions, causing the socialist-realist trend to fade.

A non-monolithic view emerges, in which the movement does not originate exclusively as the product of totalitarian control and political pressures but as an evolving organism that reflected internal issues and echoed the great historic events of the twentieth century.

Matthew Bown is a gallery owner and author of four books on Soviet art. Matteo Lanfranconi is an author and a curator.

Rome in Caravaggio's Day

EDITED BY ROSSELLA VODRET

The works of Caravaggio and his followers and contemporaries in early 17th-century Rome.

Caravaggio eclipsed all other artists of his time. But just who were these fellow travellers? Bringing together 200 paintings from world collections, Rome in Caravaggio's Day is the first work to reconstruct the connective tissue of the Eternal City where the great genius lived and worked.

In the period between 1595 and 1635, Rome was a crucible in which artists of different backgrounds, cultures, and tongues worked side by side exchanging techniques, experiences, styles, and iconographies. In the space of a few years, they swept away the late mannerist stereotypes and ushered in the most extraordinary artistic renewal ever witnessed in Rome. The results would be felt all over Europe throughout the seventeenth century.

The catalog relates this poorly known story to a broad audience, rendering justice and visibility to talented artists who had the "misfortune" of living in Rome in the early decades of the 1600s and have languished into modern times in the shadow of the incredibly popular Caravaggio.

Rossella Vodret is director of the Polo Museale of Rome.

The History of the Nude

FLAMINIO GUALDONI

A richly illustrated and extremely enjoyable reference book on the historical evolution of the nude.

From the Paleolithic "great mothers" to the Greek athletes, from the Venus of Urbino by Titian to Leonardo's Vitruvian Man, from the Odalisque by Boucher to those by Ingres, to the Amazons of Helmut Newton and the desolate, lifeless bodies of Andres Serrano, the nude is the theme of artistic representation par excellence.

The nude body as the incarnation of perfect beauty and the suspicions concerning its sensuality imposed by Christian culture; the renewed triumph of ancient beauty in the Renaissance and the study of anatomy; the visual licentiousness of the eighteenth century and the photographic nude; ideal beauty, eroticism, pornography; the nude also as representation of the ugly and its flaunted truthfulness in the art of the twentieth century; the nude that itself becomes a work of art in the avant-garde of the post-WWII period, with performance, body art and experimental theater. These threads of the narration make for a deeply informative historical exploration of the nude in Western art, all conducted around a rich apparatus of images.

Flaminio Gualdoni is professor of the history of ancient art at the Accademia di Brera, Milan. He is the former director of the Fondazione Arnaldo Pomodoro, Milan, Italy. He is a contributing editor of The Art Newspaper and, in addition to his many books on art history, he is the author of Art: The Twentieth Century (Skira, 2009).

Art in Iraq Today

CO-CURATED BY DIA AL-AZZAWI AND CHARLES POCOCK
EDITED BY SAMAR FARUQI

A book that highlights the enduring talent of a group of contemporary Iraqi artists who are united in their experience of exile.

Modern Iraqi art represents one of the main foundation stones of modern Arab culture. As with Iran, modern and contemporary culture in Iraq draws heavily on its rich pre-Islamic and Islamic heritage, from the Sumerian, Babylonian, and Assyrian civilizations through to Ottoman Baghdad, the Iraq of the Baath Party, and today a country that has been ravaged by foreign invasion.

In the 1970s, Baghdad was at the center of a pan-Arab art movement. During the late 1970s and early 1980s, it became clear that the art movement was becoming a political tool of propaganda for the Baath Party. Forced to work within the parameters set by the government, a number of leading artists decided to leave Iraq for Europe and North America. Today, a new generation of Iraqi artists is receiving much-deserved international acclaim. Their art draws increasing attention from international seasoned collectors and is at the forefront of modern and contemporary Arab art.

Dia Al-Azzawi, an Iraqi-born painter, is an outstanding and world-class artist, art consultant, and author. Charles Pocock is a Fellow of the Royal Asiatic Society and founder of Al Noor Institute of Middle Eastern Art. Samar Faruqi, Education and Exhibitions Manager of Meem Gallery, has a B.A. Honors in History of Art from Goldsmiths College, London, and an M.Phil. in History of Art from the University of Cambridge.

Cai Guo-Qiang: Saraab

CAI GUO QIANG AND YUKO HASEGAWA

The perspective of one of the most influential contemporary artists on the complex web of conceptual and material connections between China and the Arab world.

Saraab ("mirage" in Arabic) is the catalog of Cai Guo-Qiang's first solo exhibition in the Middle East. It is a journey of personal and artistic discovery that demonstrates the emotional breadth of Cai's work, from the intimate to the spectacular. Featuring the artist's characteristic use of symbols and stories about local history and transnational movements, the book is inspired by the multilayered history of the artist's hometown of Guangzhou, China, and it illuminates the long-standing but little-known relationship between China and the Arab world dating back to the ancient maritime Silk Road. It features conversations between Cai Guo-Qiang and scholars on Sino-Arab history and a monographic essay on the artist by Yuko Hasegawa, as well as images of never-before-published early works.

Cai Guo-Qiang was director of Visual and Special Effects for the opening and closing ceremonies of the 2008 Summer Olympics in Beijing. In the same year, he was the subject of a retrospective at the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum, in New York. In fall 2010, Cai created Odyssey for the Museum of Fine Arts Houston. He currently lives and works in New York. Yuko Hasegawa is chief curator of the Museum of Contemporary Art in Tokyo, and prior to that she was chief curator and founding artistic director of the 21st Century Museum of Contemporary Art, Kanazawa (1999–2006).

Naked Architecture

VALERIO PAOLO MOSCO

An account of one of the most interesting phenomena of contemporary architecture: the return to the structure.

Over the last ten years architecture would seem to have rediscovered engineering. Now that the post modern period has passed—in which the structure of buildings was camouflaged by coverings of every kind—architecture today seems to have undressed, almost as though wishing to show how it is made.

The rediscovery in recent years of plastic form has brought about a closer relationship between architects and engineers. To this we must add the rise of new issues, such as that of environmental engineering, which has changed from being solely a technical and aesthetic practice into a movement in environmentally conscious architecture.

If there is a phenomenon today that is able to hold together the various expressions of contemporary architecture, it is this return to the structure and the methods with which it is realized. Through its six thematic categories, this book provides an account of one of the most interesting phenomena of contemporary construction—the laying bare of architecture.

Francisco Mangado

FRANCESCA FIORELLI

This new monograph of the famous Spanish architect Francisco Mangado outlines the features of his creative history through a selection of projects, drawings, and photographs.

After graduating from Pamplona, Francisco Mangado founded his own studio where he has worked since 1982 as a freelance professional and as a lecturer in architectural planning. From his studio he devotes his energies to project work in both the national and international fields, ranging from the creation of private buildings to the construction of buildings with a markedly public character, such as squares, office complexes, museums, auditoriums, and congress buildings.

With more than 400 color illustrations of projects, drawings, and photographs, this book illustrates Mangado's creative and professional development as an architect and industrial designer through models of his construction projects as well as through the digital presentations of interior and urban furniture developed over the last twenty years.

A critic and teaching fellow of Theory and Critics of Modern Architecture at the Escuela Técnica Superior de Arquitectura de la Universidad de Navarra, Francesca Fiorelli is the curator of the traveling exhibition entitled Francisco Mangado: Arquitecto at the Alfândega, Porto (2010), and the Auditorium de Teulada-Moraira and Círculo de Bellas Artes, Madrid (2011).

Inside Rio

PREFACE BY MICHAEL ROBERTS
INTRODUCTION BY LENNY NIEMEYER
TEXT BY MAURILIA CASTELLO BRANCO
PHOTOGRAPHY BY NICOLAS MARTIN FERREIRA

An insider's tour through the exceptional contemporary interiors of Rio, a vibrant creative hub and one of the hottest destinations on the planet.

Rio de Janeiro is an iconic city of vibrant contrasts: youthful energy and grand traditions, luxuriant vegetation and innovative architecture. Its unique lifestyle is diverse and culturally rich, and the city is home to some remarkable modernist and contemporary homes alongside aging colonial gems.

Lenny Niemeyer opens the doors of an insider's Rio through a tour of over twenty-five private homes, most presented here for the first time: a colonial-era mansion in Rio's artistic quarter surrounded by lush gardens; a private apartment with stunning views and a fabulous collection of modern art; sleek contemporary houses that blur the boundaries of interior and exterior—featuring warm wood-based design, floor-to-ceiling glass walls, shaded swimming pools, and furniture from Brazilian modernist designers such as Oscar Niemeyer and Sérgio Rodrigues.

Eyes turn toward Rio as it prepares to host the soccer World Cup in 2014 and the Olympic Games in 2016. This insider's visit will be a revelation for those who already know the city and for anyone seeking to discover its rich design heritage, cuisine, and unique way of life.

Michael Roberts is the fashion and style director of Vanity Fair. He has previously worked for numerous prestigious magazines and has published four books of illustrations. Lenny Niemeyer, niece by marriage of renowned architect Oscar Niemeyer and a luminary swimwear fashion designer in her own right, is a prominent Brazilian socialite. She has also published a cookbook. Maurilia Castello Branco is a Brazilian art historian specializing in twentieth-century art and architecture. Nicolas Martin is a fashion and lifestyle photographer.

TIMELESS STYLE

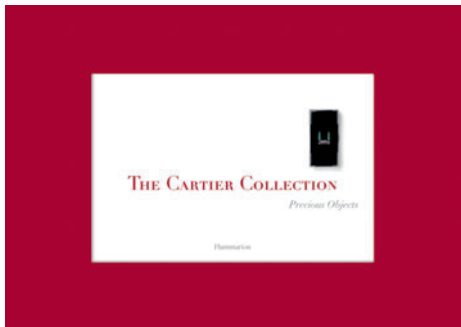

FRANCO COLOGNI
 PHOTOGRAPHY BY ÉRIC SAUVAGE

This handsome monograph charts the evolution of one of the most coveted items of modern style, showcasing the extraordinary craftsmanship of the House of Cartier.

The Tank Watch, designed by Louis Cartier in 1917, is an icon of modern timepiece design. Through designs from Cartier's rich archives, historical models, and photographs of famous clients from Clark Gable to Andy Warhol, this volume celebrates one of Cartier's greatest masterpieces.

Paris by Hollywood

EDITED BY ANTOINE DE BAEQUE

This beautifully nostalgic and wonderfully insightful volume examines Tinseltown's fascination with the City of Light, from silent movies through to modern blockbusters.

Romantic, elegant, and enticing, Paris has fascinated American filmmakers for over a century. As habile in accommodating a romantic comedy as an action-packed thriller, it is by far the foreign city that appears most frequently in Hollywood movies.

In Paris by Hollywood, eminent film commentators uncover Hollywood's role in the cultivation of now timeless Parisian clichés, examining seminal films such as An American in Paris, The Hunchback of Notre Dame, and Sabrina. Chapters on Audrey Hepburn's Parisian persona; Disney's and Woody Allen's personifications of Paris; and the American fascination with the enigmatic, glamorous Parisienne explore a cultural relationship that owes as much to the allure of Paris itself as to Hollywood's desire to paint a picture of European exoticism. Interviews with eminent figures including Martin Scorsese, Julie Delpy, and Leslie Caron provide intimate insider's perspective. Insightful analysis explores the reasons why Hollywood invests so much in depicting the French capital—an often mutually beneficial economic and cultural relationship.

Covering more than 100 years of moviemaking, Paris by Hollywood is the perfect companion for lovers of American cinema and those captivated by the magic of the French capital.

Historian and film critic Antoine de Baecque worked as editor-in-chief for Cahiers du Cinéma and the culture section of the French newspaper Libération. He has published several books, including Tim Burton (2011) and Truffaut (2000).

The Kiss

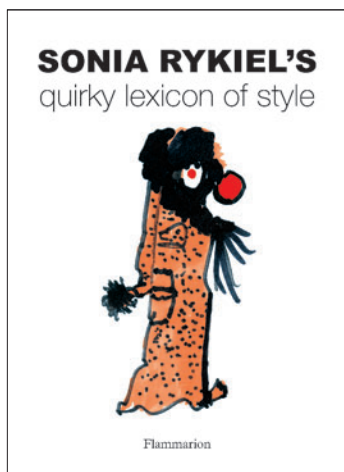

A CELEBRATION OF LOVE IN ART

SERGE BRAMLAY AND JEAN COULON

Over 130 of the greatest depictions of the kiss in art are accompanied by insightful commentary in this handsome volume.

The depiction of the kiss has held special significance throughout the history of art, from classical antiquity to the present. A symbol of erotic passion or maternal love but equally of betrayal and death, the kiss represents one of the greatest legendary motifs. Spanning the ages and the globe, this volume explores the emphasis placed by certain cultures and artists on “the meeting of lips.” From Hayez’s medieval kissers to Klimt’s iconic symbolist painting, and from Ingres’s Francesca and Paolo to Picasso’s ethereal cubist couple, this book explains the passionate undertones of the world’s greatest masterpieces. The evocative text is illustrated by works ranging from Hokusai to Cindy Sherman via Mary Cassat, Brancusi, and Lichtenstein.

PARIS, LES HALLES MARKET

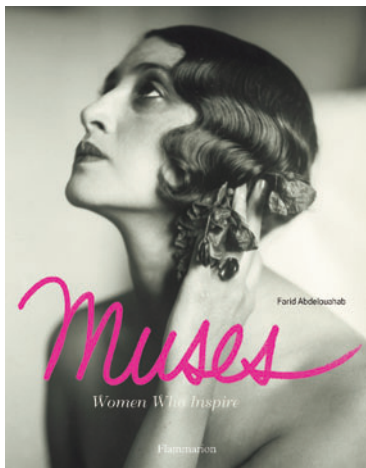

ROBERT DOISNEAU

VLADIMIR VASAK

Doisneau's photographs evoke nostalgia for the days when the now vanished Les Halles market, "the belly of Paris," sprawled across the center of the city.

From fur-clad socialites to burly market porters, Doisneau captured the essence of every brand of Parisian character and the poetry in ordinary scenes: a cheery fruit seller bellowing from behind a pyramid of oranges, a fish vendor haggling over the price of the daily catch, or a mountain of floral bouquets ready to grace Parisian dinner tables. This volume exhibits some of Doisneau's lesser-known yet extraordinary works, including six rare color photographs. Publication coincides with the ongoing long-awaited redevelopment of this Parisian hub.

Muses

WOMEN WHO INSPIRE

FARID HAMED ABDELOUAHAB

The stories of thirty-three women who enthralled society's artistic geniuses and thus inspired the creation of some of the greatest works of the past two centuries.

American Lee Miller was a successful model before traveling to Paris to become the apprentice, lover, and muse of Man Ray; Nancy Cunard, British writer, heiress, and political activist, was a lover to numerous members of the twentieth century's art and literary circles, including Ezra Pound and T.S. Eliot; Parisian-born artist and poet Dora Maar had a profound influence on her infamous lover, Pablo Picasso. While the lives of these women were very different in most aspects, they shared the ability to awaken fervor in and to influence the work of their Pygmalion painters, writers, or photographers. The vision of the artist and his muse remains an integral part of our notion of artistic creation, and the collaboration of these interwoven destinies continues to fascinate historians, art appreciators, feminists, and general readers alike.

Farid Hamed Abdelouahab, an art and photography historian, has published over twenty illustrated books.

The Kimono

HISTORY & STYLE

SACICO ITO
 FOREWORD BY ETSUKO YAMASHITA

The beauty of Japanese traditional costume—unchanged in more than a thousand years.

Developed in the eighth century, the kimono is still worn on special occasions in Japan. In this visually beautiful book, Sacico Ito introduces typical kimono styles of each era and the types of kimono for various occasions.

Sacico Ito comments, "I have created this book for two principal reasons. First, I hope to share with my readers the wonders of the deep, unbroken history of the kimono, which has helped forge our taste, our sensibility, even our humanity. That tradition, part of the context of our lives, is a source of joy. Second, I would like to propose the kimono, that set of flat surfaces that so gracefully enfolds one, as a possible answer to achieving a more gracious and magnanimous spirit."

Costume and production designer Sacico Ito has produced ideas and costumes for film, theater, and era-defining advertising. She has expanded her range to include product development, space design, and conceptual work that spans multiple genres. A kimono expert, Etsuko Yamashita is currently the head of the Etsuko Yamashita Kimono School.

Diana Vreeland After Diana Vreeland

EDITED BY MARIA LUISA FRISA
AND JUDITH CLARK

The fashion exhibitionist: an insightful look at Vreeland's iconic life.

One of the legendary figures of the fashion world, Vreeland began her career at Harper's Bazaar, where her monthly column, "Why Don't You?," dared her readers to take control of their lives, take risks, and live dreams they didn't even know they had.

Her talented eye introduced us to the new beauties of the 1960s: Twiggy, Anjelica Huston, Marisa Berenson and Lauren Hutton. In collaboration with the twentieth century's major photographers—Irving Penn, Richard Avedon, David Bailey, Horst P. Horst, Bert Stern, Lord Snowdon—Vreeland paved the way for a revolutionary transformation of fashion and photography. During her leadership of Vogue, the magazine became a vehicle destined to open the eyes of people from all walks of life.

The book is divided into four sections dedicated to Vreeland's origins and her taste; to her homes and the development of her style; to the magazine years; and finally to the years spent as consultant at the Met.

Maria Luisa Frisa is a fashion critic and the curator of the Fondazione Pitti Discovery. She is director of the graduate course in fashion design at the IUAV University in Venice. Her latest book is Italian Fashion Now (Marsilio, 2011). Judith Clark is senior research fellow and codirector of the master's course in fashion at the London College of Fashion. She has curated major exhibitions, including Anna Piaggi: Fashion-ology (London) and Spectres: When Fashion Turns Back (Antwerp).

Americans in Florence

SARGENT AND THE AMERICAN IMPRESSIONISTS

FRANCESCA BARDAZZI AND CARLO SISI

The discovery of Italy by American artists of the late nineteenth century.

The relationship American impressionists had with Italy, and with Florence in particular, became very intense in the decades spanning the close of the nineteenth and dawn of the twentieth centuries. Florence, Venice and Rome had been at the heart of the Grand Tour for centuries and had become legendary for all those eager to study the art of the past.

The book features the works by painters who, while not explicitly subscribing to the new style, were nevertheless crucial masters. Among them were Winslow Homer, William Morris Hunt, John La Farge, and Thomas Eakins. They were to be followed by great precursors such as John Singer Sargent, Mary Cassatt, and James Abbott McNeill Whistler, who could lay claim to considerable cosmopolitanism.

A place of honor is reserved for those artists who spent time in Florence and who deserve to be better known. Their number includes the American impressionist group known as the Ten American Painters. Besides them, Frank Duveneck also played an important role in fostering relations between American and local artists.

Francesca Bardazzi is an art historian and an expert in the sculpture of the first half of the twentieth century. A scholar of Cézanne and of his collectors in Italy, she has studied the figure of Italo-American collector and painter Egisto Fabbri. Carlo Sisi was the director of the Galleria D'arte Moderna di Palazzo Pitti in Florence until 2006. From 1999 to 2002, he was also the director of the Galleria del Costume. He has been president of the Museo Marini in Florence and has taught contemporary art history at Siena University.

My Abuela's Table

AN ILLUSTRATED JOURNEY INTO MEXICAN COOKING

DANIELLA GERMAIN

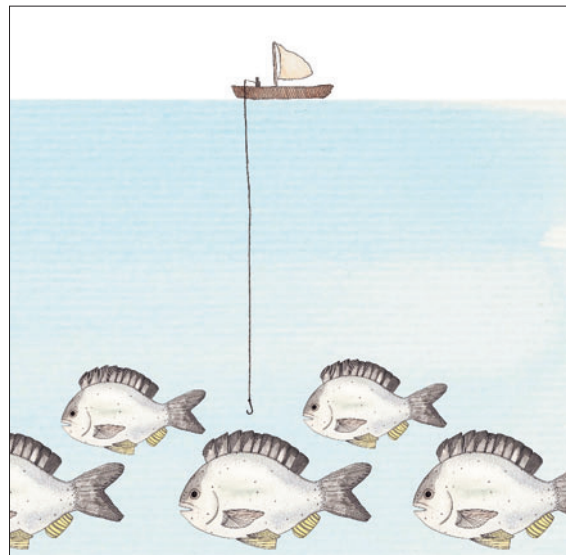

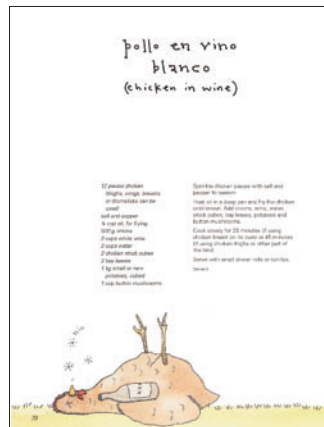

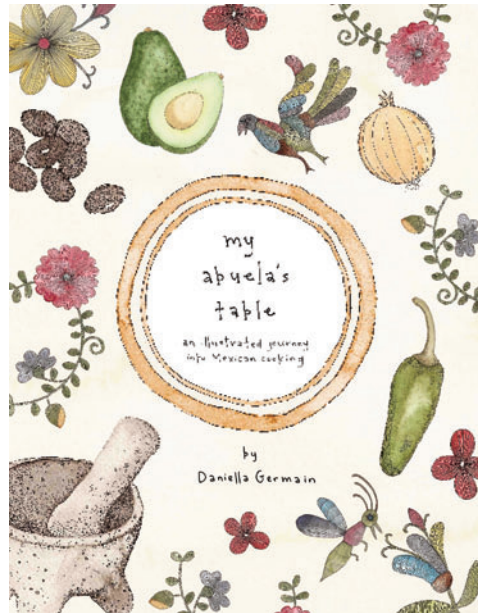

A lovingly created blend of essential Mexican recipes, magical illustrations and a family's story.

My Abuela's Table is as much a work of art as it is a book of trusted heirloom Mexican recipes. More than seventy recipes plus variations have been passed down from Daniella's abuela (her grandmother) in Mexico, transcribed and translated by Daniella's mother into English, and then brought to life by Daniella in this delightfully illustrated book of essential Mexican home cooking.

Popular dishes and favorites such as tacos, churros, empanadas, guacamole and huevos rancheros sit alongside less known delights such as Pulpos en Vino (Octopus in Wine), Chilies en Nogada (Stuffed Chilies), Pollo en Salsa de Almendras (Chicken in Almond Sauce) and Buneulos de Harina (Pastries in Syrup). The range of recipes is diverse and includes tortilla dough and sauce staples through to salads, dips, meat and seafood dishes, sweets, traditional festive fare, and even cocktails.

Daniella's gorgeous illustrations are essential to the book in the form of step-by-step instructions including how to correctly fold, tie, and steam tamale or use a tortilla press. They also provide a delightfully whimsical feel with asides such as the chicken that "highly recommend[s] the bean enchiladas." Practical as well as beautiful, careful explanations of equipment and utensils, Mexican herbs and spices, and even types of chilies and their characteristics are included. It's a book to read, use, enjoy, and display!

Daniella Germain is a graphic designer and illustrator based in Melbourne, Australia. Although she has illustrated other books, this is the first she's written herself. She's also the author of the blog I bought a pair of Camper boots and now I am broke.

Heels on Wheels

A LADY'S GUIDE TO OWNING AND RIDING A BIKE

KATIE DAILEY

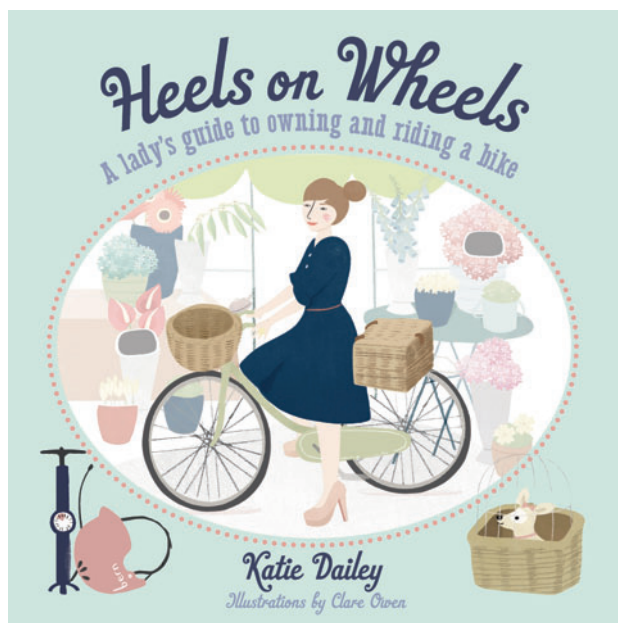

Indispensable guide for maintaining your bike and riding safely and stylishly.

With the rise in popularity of cycling, this is a well-pitched and timely guide for ladies who cycle. You might have ridden like the wind when you were 12, but how do you cycle successfully now that you wear skirts and high heels?

Packed with useful tips and advice, learn all of the cycling essentials, such as how to choose your trusty steed, staying safe on the road, fixing a puncture, and selecting the best lock for your bicycle. And there's the really important stuff to consider too: combating helmet hair, wearing a skirt without losing your dignity, and choosing the most stylish accessories.

Accompanied by stunning illustrations and quotes from high-profile (and sometimes unlikely) cyclists including Beyoncé, 50 Cent, and Albert Einstein, Heels on Wheels is the perfect guide for any lady hopping back in the saddle.

Katie Dailey is a London-based journalist and copywriter who has written for the likes of Elle, Time Out, and The Times. She has attended numerous Fashion Weeks on her bicycle and is not afraid to cycle in the rain.

First, establish what kind of cyclist you are

There are a lot of ladies burning rubber out there. Taking to the wheel for the first time can be a scary prospect, and it's good to know who you'll be dealing with: the streets can be mean! Keep your eyes peeled for these cycle-lovers.

Fashion Victim

Fashion Victim tells people she's been cycling in the city 'since way back in the day'. In fact, she was a late adopter, happy on the trains and buses for years until she noticed snaps of Agyness Deyn cruising nonchalantly around New York on her vintage bike. Now she cycles everywhere on her neon-streaked fixie, built at great expense with parts from Japan - until she gets trashed at the pub, when she has to fake a flat tyre to persuade a taxi driver to allow her to squeeze in the back with her skinny, imported wheels.

Retro Rider

Retro Rider has no interest in anything manufactured since the birth of her grandmother. She is happy to ride a bicycle that weighs more than a cement-mixer, provided it looks aged, with brass fixtures that look like they have been procured from one of Alexander Graham Bell's prototypes. She cycles in laced-up chimney sweep's boots, the same shade of worn-in tan as her Brooks saddle, and carries paper bags of organic apples and second-hand books in her large, unweirdy basket. Hogging the cycle lanes with her jangling bike and clanging her copper bell, she is unaware of the queue of more speedy riders forming behind her, as she plucks an apple from her basket, and pictures herself whooshing across a Penguin Classics front cover.

The Spooky 3D Kids' Party Cookbook

P. McNALLY

A quirky and interactive cookbook for kids that will tear them away from the TV and into the kitchen!

Does it feel like your two-dimensional cookbooks are missing something? Have you had your fill of flat cookies? Then pop on some 3-D glasses (luckily two pairs are contained in a sturdy envelope within the book) and watch your food come to life in the The Spooky 3D Kids' Party Cookbook! The sweet and savory dishes and treats with a ghoulish theme are perfect for kids' parties or Halloween. The recipes are simple enough for kids to master with minimal help from grown-ups. And, in addition to all of the fun, there is a practical section covering hygiene, being prepared (read the full recipe before starting), and most importantly, asking an adult before running amok in the kitchen. Including kids in the process of preparing food for family and friends encourages them to try new ingredients and flavors, learn new skills, and gives them a sense of achievement. And when they're done, pop a pair of 3-D glasses back on and compare your results with the colorful, quirky photos in the book!

P. McNally brought his three great loves of all things spooky, all things 3-D, and delicious cooking together in this book. When not donning a pair of blue and red lens shades, he spends his days as a publishing director at Hardie Grant Books.

An eclectic, bright, and whimsical craft book packed with unique, off beat projects to spark creativity.

This is not your standard craft book. There are no baby booties included and pastel colors are kept to an absolute minimum. In addition to being packed full of fun and inspiration, Pip includes loads of practical information. The how-to section covers basic sewing, knitting, and crochet stitches and a glossary of common crafty terms and tools, and there are also patterns to pull out. Pip even suggests some music to put you in a crafty mood, some TV shows to keep you company while crocheting, and some books to relax with in your downtime.

Borsch, Vodka and Tears

FOOD TO DRINK WITH

BENNY ROFF

A stylish recipe book that celebrates the delights of Polish cuisine and vodka.

Borsch, Vodka & Tears—a tucked-away Polish-style vodka bar and restaurant in Melbourne—has earned a dedicated following. The menus are filled with unpronounceable words, the worn tables and fittings are hand carved and built from Polish hardwood and slabs of stone, and the strange posters on the wall are the works of Polish artists and promote theater shows, ballet, and opera. If your drink of choice doesn't have vodka in it, chances are they won't have it.

Borsch, Vodka & Tears celebrates the passion, the delights, and the comforts of Polish food and vodka. Split into three chapters: Tears is the restaurant's colorful history; Vodka is a definitive guide to Polish vodkas, including vodka tasting notes, the restaurant's most popular cocktail recipes, and how to match vodka with food; and Borsch features warming Polish classic recipes such as cabbage rolls, blintzes, and beetroot soup, as well as modern dishes, desserts, and sharing plates. Edgy photography, a comprehensive vodka guide, and delicious recipes make Borsch, Vodka & Tears unique and an instant classic!

Benny Vere Roff is professional chef who graduated from the California Culinary Academy. He has cooked at Le Bernadin in New York City, Jardinière in San Francisco and Kensington Place in London. He moved to cocktails in 2006 and has managed Borsch, Vodka and Tears for three years.

From thoughtful features, like using organic, locally grown food for the reception to more imaginative solutions for making the entire event as low impact as possible, The Natural Wedding has everything couples need to make their special event naturally romantic, conscientious, and sustainable. The book shows that green weddings can be even more stylish than a traditional wedding and covers green options for all aspects of the big day: menus, the location, invitations, bridal party attire, flowers, the ceremony, the reception, gifts, the honeymoon, and beyond (since living “green” doesn’t stop at “I do”).

Louise Moon is the founder of EcoMoon, which specializes in designing and planning green weddings. Marc Wilson is a commercial and fine art photographer whose work has appeared in Elle.

Olivier Roellinger's Contemporary French Cuisine

FIFTY RECIPES INSPIRED BY THE SEA

OLIVIER ROELLINGER, ANNE TESTUT, AND ALAIN WILLAUME

Olivier Roellinger ranks among the finest chefs of contemporary cuisine.

Inspired by his region's maritime heritage, links with the French East India Company, and tales of piracy and swashbuckling adventure, Olivier Roellinger has developed a fresh approach to French cuisine. He asserts that an unquenchable quest for new ingredients has kept French cuisine world class since the seventeenth century and has spurred harmonies between local ingredients and exotic imports, such as lamb and beans, fish and potatoes, or lobster and tomatoes.

Through fifty recipes, Roellinger hails the explorers who imported bell peppers, pineapples, cloves, cumin, artichokes, and even tomatoes, once feared to be deadly, and recounts the tales that led these ingredients to our tables.

Olivier Roellinger has published several books on food and Brittany in French. He runs the Michelin-starred Relais and Château Les Maisons de Bricourt in Brittany, France. Anne Testut, photographer and cultural administrator, collaborated with Roellinger on previous projects and coauthored the book's historical sections. Alain Willaume, photographer, worked with Roellinger on his previous books.

Lighthouses of France

THE MONUMENTS AND THEIR KEEPERS

JEAN GUICHARD

WRITTEN BY RENÉ GAST

This is a wonderfully romantic photographic tribute to lighthouses and to the bravery and dedication of their keepers.

The lighthouses of France are a proud part of the country's national heritage, both in terms of their architectural splendor and the stupendous feats of engineering they represent. In building towers such as these, man pitted himself against the elements at their moist savage—and won. Throughout the book, Jean Guichard's iconic photographs illustrate the fury of the Atlantic Ocean and the perilous working conditions the lighthouse keepers face. But Guichard captures images of lighthouses in more tranquil conditions as well, perfectly communicating the romantic calm but also the solitude their situation entails. Featuring additional vintage photographs and etchings, extracts from logbooks, and architectural drawings detailing developments in lighthouse engineering, Lighthouses of France is an essential volume for all those interested in this eternally fascinating subject.

Jean Guichard is one of the world's foremost photographers of maritime subjects. His images of lighthouses are well known internationally and sell millions in the form of posters, calendars, and postcards every year. His work has been featured in magazines worldwide, including Paris Match. René Gast is a journalist who specializes in a variety of travel-and history-related subjects. He has written four books on lighthouses.

The Meaning of Flowers

FU JI TSANG

This gift book brings together watercolors and poetry in a celebration of one of the most enduring topics—flower symbolism.

Chinese artist Fu Ji Tsang, painting with an unconventional mixture of watercolor, Chinese ink, and calligraphy, unites the traditions of East and West with the influence of such masters as Matisse and Monet. The pages spring to life through the bamboo, lotus flowers, irises, orchids, plum trees, cypress trees, and other plants rendered in an explosion of color. Organized by season, the flowers are accompanied by inspirational poems, personal reflections, historical references, and myths surrounding and explaining their symbolic significances.

Fu Ji Tsang studied classical art before moving to Paris to study decorative arts. Initially specializing in calligraphy, Tsang has since developed a fascination for the colors of the south of France, inspired by impressionist painters. Tsang has exhibited his paintings in galleries and museums across Europe, Asia, and North America.

My Egyptian Sketchbook

FLORINE ASCH

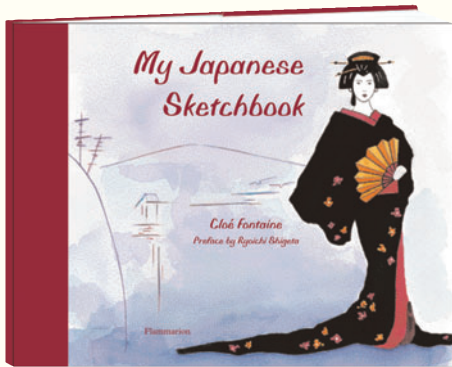

PREFACE BY CHRISTIANE DESROCHES NOBLECOURT

Evocative sketches and collages of a storied travel destination.

As daybreak spills the first warm, honeyed light over Cairo, Florine Asch sets out with her sketchpad, pencils, and paintbrushes. Her journey will take her thousands of years into the past, to the sites of ancient Nubia and the temples of Abu Simbel, to the ageless desert oases that impassively watch the centuries pass. The temples of Luxor and Karnak, the pyramids at Giza, the tranquil silhouette of a felucca gliding on the silky waters of the Nile—all come to life under her brush. The text, in the form of a personal travelogue, provides a lively accompaniment to the evocative sketches and collages.

This delightful, highly personal account of a storied travel destination makes the ideal gift for Egypt enthusiasts and amateur watercolorists alike.

Florine Asch studied at the prestigious Ecole des Arts Décoratifs in Strasbourg before beginning a career as a watercolor artist. She is also the author of My Italian Sketchbook (Flammarion, 2002).

The French Century

AN ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF MODERN FRANCE

BRIAN MOYNAHAN

Unlike most histories of France, Moynahan's work truly concentrates on the twentieth century, exploring in depth the remarkable political, scientific, and cultural feats and setbacks of France's most recent—though least understood—century.

Sixteen chapters cover the history of France from the end of the nineteenth century to the present day, encapsulating everything from political events and scientific discoveries to cultural achievements and sporting triumphs. The five presidents of France's Fifth Republic have led the country through tremendous change in all sectors, and their respective reigns are covered in detail. The Dreyfus affair, the May 1968 student protests, the onset of a socialist government in 1981, and two world wars are but a few French landmarks that have changed the face of Europe and the world. Colette, Proust, Emile Zola, and Jules Verne wrote classics in literature while Picasso, Rodin, the Dadaists, and the Surrealists redefined art. Haussmann's urban plan and I. M. Pei's pyramid set new standards in architecture. This book includes two hundred photographs of the main events and key personalities of the century.

Brian Moynahan, best-selling author and journalist, writes for many British and American newspapers, including The Times. He has published numerous historical accounts of world powers and religious subjects including The British Century, Rasputin: The Saint Who Sinned and The Faith: A History of Christianity.

CESAR PADILLA, INTRODUCTION BY LYDIA LUNCH
CONTRIBUTIONS BY BETSEY JOHNSON AND WILL OLDHAM

An unprecedented visual history of counterculture music T-shirts spanning the golden age of indie music from the late 1970s through the mid-1990s.

Carefully selected from the archives of vintage fashion collector Cesar Padilla, the 200 T-shirts in this book are classic examples of rare and extremely limited shirts created by and for the very bands who embodied the true essence of the DIY and indie movements—from The Ramones to Sonic Youth, John Cale, Talking Heads, Madonna, X, Pil, The Germs, and many others. Each shirt has been photographed in all its gritty, sweat-stained glory just as it was found—on the street, in a thrift store, or inherited from a friend. The book includes recollections and ruminations from musicians, fashion designers, and pop culture personalities on the enigmatic and enduring appeal of the rock band T-shirt.

Cesar Padilla has owned Cherry—rated among the top ten vintage boutiques in the world by the New York Times, Harper's Bazaar, Vogue and Elle—since 1997. Breathless Homicidal Slime Mutants

THE ART OF THE PAPERBACK

STEVEN BROWER
 FOREWORD BY STEVEN HELLER

A fun and dazzling look at the jacket art of the much-maligned mass-market paperback—the most comprehensive and expansive compilation available.

A visually dynamic homage to the paperback, Breathless Homicidal Slime Mutants celebrates the mass-market paperback and gives it its due. A vibrant tour that of books from the late nineteenth century up to today, examining the most popular genres—mystery, romance, Westerns, how-to, cooking, and diet, and highbrow literature packaged for the broader audience—it focuses on the history of the art and design of the format and how it is inseparable from the history of American literacy, tastes, and mores of the twentieth century.

Steven Brower teaches conceptual design at the School of Visual Arts in New York City and Kean University in New Jersey. Coauthor of Woody Guthrie Artworks, he is the recipient of numerous design awards. Steven Heller is cochair of the School of Visual Arts MFA Designer as Author program and cofounder of its MFA Design Criticism and MFA Interaction Design programs.

Lucha Loco

THE FREE WRESTLERS OF MEXICO

MALCOLM VENVILLE
 INTRODUCTION BY SANDRO COHEN

Malcolm Venville's deluxe Mexican wrestling tome, now available in a reduced format.

Lucha Libre, or “free wrestling,” is a cultural phenomenon—renowned not only for the wrestler’s high-flying moves but also for the mythology of their personas. These masked figures (a ritual dating back to Aztec culture) treat their masks—and the identities they embody—as sacred. El Santo, the first luchador pop star, rarely took off his mask even in retirement and was eventually buried in it. It is such a significant part of the sport (and the performance) that the removal of an opponent’s mask in the ring is grounds for disqualification. Malcolm Venville fell in love with the sport after catching a show in Mexico and spent several weeks photographing and interviewing wrestlers outside the ring in a small portrait studio. The result is an even more hilarious and colorful look at this already entertaining spectacle—part sport, part soap opera—as well as a window into the life of a luchador, a world normally shrouded in mystery.

Malcolm Venville, a director and photographer, was born in Birmingham, England. He has won several Association of Photographers Awards and directed several short films. Sandro Cohen is a Mexican poet, novelist, and literary critic. He is a professor at the Universidad Autonoma Metropolitana in Mexico City.
