

Dimitris Daskalopoulos is a business entrepreneur. Born in Athens, Greece in 1957.

Dimitris Daskalopoulos holds a B.A. in Management Studies from the Athens School of Management and an MBA from the Kellogg Graduate School of Management. He is fluent in English and French.

He is the Chairman of the Board of the Hellenic Federation of Enterprises (SEV), since May 2006.

He is the Chairman of DAMMA Holdings SA, a financial services and investment participations company. He has been active as member of the European Round Table of Industrialists (ERT) from 1998 to 2008. He has served as the chairman of the Federation of Greek Food Industries (1999 – 2006), as board member of the Athens Chamber of Industry and Commerce (1996 – 2000), as board member of the National Bank of Greece (2002 – 2010) and as member of the Board of Directors of the Mytilineos Group of companies (2007 – 2013). Finally he is a member of the Board of Directors of the CEO.

Dimitris Daskalopoulos is a collector of contemporary art, The D.Daskalopoulos Collection. He is the founder of NEON, Cultural and Development Non-Profit Organization, working to bring contemporary culture in Greece closer to the public. He is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Guggenheim Foundation and active in the Tate International Council and the Leadership Council of the New Museum.

As the principal owner, CEO and Chairman, Dimitris Daskalopoulos oversaw since 1983 the transformation of a family dairy business into VIVARTIA S.A., Greece's largest food company, with leading brands in dairy, bakery, frozen foods and restaurants and 13,000 employees in 29 countries. He sold the business in 2007.