MAGMA: Ideas become solutions

Visions alone are too little for us: We need impulses. Impulses and stimulation, as these give way to our partners, the DJs who use our products in their daily lives and work.

Therefore current and future products that we are developing are always closely based on the demands of the market and the feedback of our partners, which we always incorporate into our development.

The appeal, and ultimately also the quality in the details, of our products are direct results of this cooperation with our partners.

So we do not only see ourselves as a manufacturer, we also concentrate on the development of new innovative solutions. Next to practical functionality and attractive designs we place great importance in the strength and robustness of our materials as well as our customers' demand for comfort. That is why it is necessary that we subject every detail of the creation process, from the material selection to the prototype model, to continuous tests and quality inspections.

We will continuously optimise our products and work on improving them again and again.

But there are some things we will never change: the close relationship with our partners - and our philosophy:

Turning ideas into solutions
