2022-2023 Commencement

Southwest Tennessee Community College

FOUNDED JULY 2000

Commencement

Saturday, the Thirteenth of May,
Two Thousand and Twenty-three
9:30 a.m.

SOUTHWEST TENNESSEE COMMUNITY COLLEGE, founded July 1, 2000, is a comprehensive, multicultural, public, open-access college. It is one of the largest community colleges in the Tennessee Board of Regents system.

Southwest awards Associate of Arts and Associate of Science degrees for transfer to four-year colleges and universities, Associate of Applied Science degrees for immediate career entry, and technical certificates to prepare for entry-level positions. Areas of study include liberal studies, fine arts and humanities, natural and physical sciences, social and behavioral sciences, mathematics, allied health sciences, nursing, business studies, information technologies, engineering and related technologies, criminal justice, and education. The College is ever vigilant to incorporate new technologies and disciplines into the curriculum to serve new educational needs as they arise and are recognized by the community.

It is the College's mission to anticipate and respond to the educational needs of students, employers and communities in Shelby and Fayette counties and the surrounding Mid-South region; and to provide an effective teaching and learning environment designed to raise educational levels, enhance economic development and enrich personal lives.

Southwest Tennessee Community College is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia, 30033-4097, Telephone number (404) 679-4501) to award the Associate of Applied Science, Associate of Arts, Associate of Science, and Associate of Science in Teaching degrees, as well as certificates.

The Commencement Speaker

Leigh Mansberg

With over 25 years of experience in educational leadership and human capital growth, Leigh Mansberg serves as the President of Junior Achievement of Memphis and the Mid-South. Junior Achievement of Memphis and the Mid-South offers programs in 25 counties – 12 in Tennessee – and reaches some 360,000 children with experiential and layered learning. From foundational skills at the earliest grades to hands-on experiences at the middle school and advanced courses for high school students, Junior Achievement’s program strives for that continual learning process.

A native of Pine Bluff, AR, Leigh spent much of her childhood in Memphis thanks to her mother, a native of the city. She received her undergraduate degrees in English and history, and a master’s degree in curriculum and instruction (the MAT — Masters of Arts in Teaching) at the University of Memphis. Leigh started her career in the early childhood program at Temple Israel, eventually choosing to focus on American literature, and bringing her passion for great American writers to the classrooms at Overton and White Station high schools. She next moved to St. Mary’s, where she taught 10th grade American literature for 15 years and served as the English department chair for 10 of those years. Leigh left the classroom in 2012 to become assistant head at St. Mary’s. After years in education, Mansberg served as Chief Operating Officer of Epicenter and Bridge Capital before joining Junior Achievement.

A rabid University of Memphis fan, Leigh is an advocate for the entire Memphis and Mid-South area. Passionate about serving and improving the lives of children, Leigh cultivates dynamic, and unlikely partnerships focused on talent growth and development to improve outcomes. Her fundamental belief is that every experience and opportunity is a chance for a child to grow and learn.

The Student Speaker

Erika Tadeo Konig

Erika Tadeo Konig was born in Tepic, Mexico, the third of seven children. She immigrated to the United States with her family at the age of 13 years old. From a young age, Erika always had a passion for learning. She never imagined her life's journey would take her from the sprawling Pacific coastal community of her hometown to the banks of the Mississippi in Memphis where she would eventually fulfill her dream of earning a college degree.

Though Erika traversed a long road to higher education, she never gave up. When she arrived in the United States, she did not speak a word of English. Now she is earning an Associate of Arts in communication at Southwest Tennessee Community College.

Economic hardships delayed Erika from attending college as a traditional student. She worked in the Hospitality industry for over a decade before she was able to return to school. Her dream of a college education became a reality after she learned about Tennessee Reconnect, a scholarship program that provides free tuition for adult residents in Tennessee to attend community college who have not yet earned a college degree. Erika chose Southwest because of the college's small classroom setting, personalized instruction and quality of education. As an older adult, attending college was both exhilarating and intimidating for Erika. She persevered and took on the challenge of juggling work, family, and school as a 33-year-old Memphis transplant to become one of the top scholars in her class.

While at Southwest, Erika maintained a 4.0 grade average, participated in the Honors Program, and was a member of Phi Theta Kappa and Alpha Sigma Lambda. She will be transferring to the University of Memphis in the fall to pursue her lifelong dream of becoming a journalist. She would like to work for a Spanish-speaking broadcasting network where she can inform and engage the Hispanic community on issues that impact them directly. Eventually, her goal is to open a non-profit to help immigrant children adapt to life in the United States while still maintaining their own culture.

Despite the long and difficult road that led her to Southwest, today Erika stands proud among her peers, family and community as a first-generation college student. She offers this advice to those who desire to reimagine their life with a college degree: "Southwest changed my life and it can happen to you. Just stay on track, keep your eyes on the horizon and remember that it is never too late to pursue your goals."

The Seal of Southwest Tennessee Community College

The College Seal, much like a heraldic coat of arms, is symbolic of the College’s aspirations and mission. Southwest Tennessee Community College has incorporated both ancient and new elements and symbols into a seal that is 21st Century in design, to signify the College’s origin in this millennium and its commitment to the future.

The Southwest Seal is a circle, centered by a shield, which is quartered to hold four “charges,” denoting the general programs the College offers. The Torch, a symbol of general education, also stands for guidance, knowledge and enlightenment – the flame that lights the darkness of ignorance. The Gears represent the wide range of technological programs. The Atom, the most modern ideogram, symbolizes the natural sciences. The Caduceus, the most ancient symbol, illustrates the medical arts.

The Open Book, in the very center of the Seal, symbolizes knowledge and the wisdom of the universe. The Laurel Leaves, on which the shield rests, proclaim achievement, excellence and triumph. Finally, the Motto, KNOWLEDGE SERVICE OPPORTUNITY, sums up the Mission of the College.

Colors of the Seal:

The College’s official colors are red (signifying life and warmth) and blue (signifying calm, reflection, and intellect).

Use of the Seal:

The Seal is used officially to authenticate documents, such as diplomas, transcripts, and in jewelry, such as college rings and nursing pins. It is engraved on the College Mace, which is carried in solemn procession by the faculty senate president, symbolic protector of the president of the College.

Presidential Medallion

Bearing the seal of Southwest Tennessee Community College, the Medallion is symbolic of the College and represents the Office of the President. Worn by the President only during formal academic events, it signifies authority, trust, leadership, accomplishment and continuity of tradition. The sterling silver medallion, coin-struck with the College Seal, is supported by a double strand of silver links with eight sculpted silver shields. Each shield will eventually be engraved with the name and dates of tenure of a president of the College. The Medallion is a gift to the College from the Southwest Foundation.

The College Mace

The mace is an ancient symbol of authority, usually a spiked club, carried in ceremony before a king or other ruler by an officer charged with his protection. The College Mace is an ornamental “Lamp of Knowledge,” representing the body of learning imparted by the faculty to enlighten students, and also symbolizing authority as embodied in the president of the College. The silver lamp is engraved with the College Seal and is mounted on a staff of silver and carved wood. The president of the Faculty Senate carries the mace before the College president during Commencement and other ceremonial occasions as a symbol of the protector of knowledge.

Academic Regalia

Academic dress originated at universities in the Middle Ages when a warm gown and hood were necessary in unheated buildings. For centuries these gowns distinguished students from their fellow citizens; sometimes this distinction in dress symbolized unfortunate controversies between “town and gown.” The European habit of using academic robes came to this country in the eighteenth century with the founding of what is now Columbia University. In 1895, American universities and colleges standardized their styles of academic costumes, and this system, with occasional modifications, still is in force. Today, the various colors, trimmings and patterns of gown, hood and cap are all traditional and symbolize both the degree and field of learning.

GOWNS: American academic gowns are usually of black material, and their pattern varies with the degree held. The bachelor’s gowns are relatively simple in design with a closed front and long, pointed, open sleeves. Master’s gowns have an open front with long, closed sleeves, the arms extending through a slit at the elbow, giving the appearance of short sleeves. Doctoral gowns are the most elaborate, with velvet panels down the open front and three velvet bars on the bell-shaped sleeves.

HOODS: The hoods, differing in length for the three degrees (bachelor’s, master’s and doctor’s), are lined with the colors of the institution that granted the degree. Hoods are also trimmed with the color that heralds the major field of learning.

CAPS: A square mortarboard is the approved headgear. The tassel, fastened to the middle point of the top of the cap, is black or the color appropriate to the subject; it may be gold if the holder has a doctoral degree. Southwest Tennessee Community College has adopted the practice of having candidates for the associate degree wear the tassels on the right front side before degrees are conferred and shift them to the left at the moment the degrees are awarded to them. In the last few years, many universities have returned to a distinctive gown design, using colors associated with the college or university. Some have replaced the mortarboard with a soft velvet tam with a gold tassel.

Hood and tassel colors represent categories of learning. All hoods are edged with the colors listed below. The same colors may be used for the facing and sleeve bars of doctoral gowns and tassels on bachelor’s and master’s caps.
