ARCSABER

The ArcSaber Series of racquets utilise Yonex's exclusive Cup-Stack Carbon Nanotube technology to create a revolutionary blend of power and control.

Positioned at the sides of the racquet frame, this revolutionary technology absorbs and harnesses energy from the shuttle's impact to provide the player with unparalleled feel during every shot. This energy is then transferred into a return a supreme strength and pinpoint accuracy.

WOODS

With the characteristics of a heavy racquet head, stiff shaft and high balance point, Woods N90 is the perfect weapon for offensive player. The compressive-structure frame, torsion and steadiness increased. It offers great improvement in skills and control. The name "Woods" inspired from the four character proverb in Sun Tzu's Art of War: "When in movement, be as swift as the storm. When in slow marches, be as majestic as the woods. When in aggression, be as fierce as the flame. When in stillness, be as firm as the rocks". Top badminton players' supremacy and excellence share the same characteristics with woods, which is exuberant, invulnerable and inscrutable. This masterpiece racquet is now used by the world top men's single badminton player, China national Lin Dan and many other professional players.

ROCKS

With the characteristic of flexible shaft and high balance point, Rocks N30 is the perfect weapon for fierce offensive and provides precision in smashes and drop shots. Increased torsion and steadiness from the compressive-structure frame allows skillful play and better control. The name "Rocks" inspired from the four character proverb in Sun Tzu's Art of War: "When in movement, be as swift as the storm. When in slow marches, be as majestic as the woods. When in aggression, be as fierce as the flame. When in stillness, be as firm as the rocks". Top badminton players' supremacy and excellence share the same characteristics with rocks, which is unwavering, patient and invulnerable. With deft control and aggression, Rocks N30 is a perfect match for aggressive counter attackers. This racquet is exclusive to Xie Xing Fang, top women's single player of China national team.

Razor Guided Technology
Revolutionary grommetless construction at 3 and 9 o'clock ensures direct contact between the cross strings and the racket frame

TCS
By flattening the T-joint section, torsional twist is minimised on shuttle impact providing a stable platform improving shot accuracy and control.

FLEXI-CAP
By integrating soft touch polymer into the top cap design, greater cap flexion is achieved, lowering the shaft flex point and delivering greater power.

The heart of EXO3 technology is a patented, revolutionary engineering feat called the Energy Bridge™ which suspends the string bed, expands the sweet spot and delivers a myriad of playing benefits. In fact, 77% of the strings never come into contact with the frame allowing the strings to move more freely, unlike traditionally constructed racquets which restrict them. EXO3 delivers up to 26% more energy back into the ball.

ION STORM: David Palmers Choice

David Palmer is the 2008 British Open Champion.

Characteristics:
Using Nano-Crystalline Technology (NCT) as an additive to the polymer structure of the graphite frame, the Ion racquets are reinforced at key stress points without adding weight. This also effectively reduces frame distortion and torque, enlarging the sweetspot.

BADMINTON STRING - ZyMax for consistent performance, maintains tension. Available gauges 0.62, 0.67, 0.70mm
