Excellence. Accountability. Impact.™

Dear Friends,

One of the most enduring traits of humanity is the desire to be a part of something bigger than ourselves; ideally, something that will outlive us and that will leave the world a better place than it was when we arrived.

We do many things at the Toledo Community Foundation. We help individuals, families and organizations establish funds for causes about which they care deeply. We provide diligent stewardship of those assets to ensure their stability and fruitfulness for years to come. We vet and assist nonprofit organizations that benefit from the generosity of TCF donors and supporters. And we provide leadership to identify particular needs of the community and convene those with the resources and expertise to address them.

But behind all these things is the one goal we all share: to be a vital, dynamic contributor to our world, and to create a better tomorrow for everyone who comes after us.

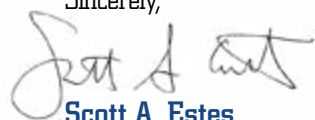

“Creating tomorrows together” is the theme of our annual report this year – and in the pages that follow, we honor the Foundation’s many participants who have supported this mission. We invite you to explore the philanthropic vision of two families who established funds with the Foundation, and to learn about a few of the many organizations that have served the community through Foundation grants.

The ways in which Foundation contributors have benefitted others could fill volumes. But one unique to TCF is the ability to assemble time, talent and treasure from multiple stakeholders to tackle difficult community challenges.

Our feature story on pages 2-3 illustrates one such challenge: the opioid crisis, and its effect on future generations. We’re excited about the life-changing impact the Chrysalis program has had for drug-dependent mothers-to-be, and the millions of dollars it has saved in caring for drug-dependent infants whose futures are often bleak. Its potential benefit to other women and children, made possible in part by TCF funding of the program’s expansion, is truly beyond calculation.

Support from people like you has allowed Toledo Community Foundation to make these things possible. For 45 years, we’ve been able to create tomorrows together for countless members of our community – and with your continued support, we all can look forward to an ever-brighter future.

Sincerely,

Healthy futures for mothers and babies

Toledo Community Foundation partners with mental health provider Harbor to change lives even before they begin

"I came to Chrysalis broken, with a baby, and they've helped me put my life back together."

— Kelly, Chrysalis graduate and mother of Jace

When Kelly first learned of Chrysalis – northwest Ohio's only inpatient drug treatment program for expectant mothers – she was pregnant, drug-addicted, and on her way to prison. So her turnaround in the program has been nothing short of remarkable.

Thankfully, that turnaround is by no means unique.

"Since we started in 2016, we've had 48 women deliver 19 babies* in Harbor's Chrysalis program," says Stephanie Calmes, Clinical Director of Harbor Behavioral Health Services, who oversees the Chrysalis program. "And every one of those babies has been born full-term, full-weight, and drug free. That's a remarkable achievement, and we're looking forward to helping even more women accomplish this."

Kelly's prison sentence turned out to be a lifesaver, not only for her, but for her new baby boy, Jace – because it was the attorney handling her case that referred her to Chrysalis. "If it weren't for Chrysalis, I probably would have stayed with the baby's father, who was also using drugs, and nothing would have changed. Now, my son and I have a future."

The potential for even more women like Kelly to deliver healthy babies and become drug-free inspired the Toledo Community Foundation. TCF awarded a $200,000 grant to expand the Chrysalis program of Harbor and move it from Bowling Green, Ohio, to Toledo.

Investing strategically for maximum impact

The grant proposal to expand Chrysalis from five to 16 inpatient beds was a large funding request, and the research conducted by Foundation staff helped the board quickly realize that the returns on an investment in this program would be profound.

"When I realized what this program was positioned to accomplish, I knew that we had to give it serious consideration," stated Susan Palmer, TCF board member and Grants & Distribution Committee chair.

"Typically, a drug-addicted mother will deliver a drug-addicted baby who won't make it to full term," Chris Dziad, TCF program officer explained. "A low-birth-weight baby with neonatal abstinence syndrome (NAS) suffers greatly their first months of life, and usually spends those months in a neonatal intensive care unit.

"Those NICU stays typically cost $1/2 million per child – and the baby can end up with serious developmental issues," said Chris. "Once those children leave the hospital, they will likely go home to mothers who still are abusing drugs and who may be imprisoned or even die of an overdose – and then the child ends up in foster care."

The double impact of improving outcomes for both mothers and their children also led the ProMedica Foundation to intensify their support of Chrysalis, and to approach TCF for funding.

“Since 2015, the ProMedica Foundation’s major annual fundraising event has supported mental health services and awareness,” said ProMedica Foundation’s chief philanthropic officer, Gary Cates. “In 2017, we met with Harbor and asked, ‘What if we used those funds to invest in a big way for significant impact in one specific area?’”

Because the program benefitted two at-risk populations at once, Chrysalis was their choice. ProMedica decided to devote a portion of the proceeds from their annual Unmasking Mental Health event to facilitate the Chrysalis program.

To scale up to a level of operation where Chrysalis could benefit from self-sustaining levels of revenue, Chrysalis needed additional resources. “We saw Toledo Community Foundation as a natural partner in supporting the Toledo-based program, because we knew it would have wide-ranging positive impact throughout the community,” Gary said.

Outcomes are key to ongoing support

“Everyone at the Foundation weighed this decision thoroughly,” noted Susan. “What led us to decide in favor of this proposal was not only the promise of helping moms and kids – it was the evidence-based treatment model Chrysalis follows.

“Other programs like this have established well-researched benchmarks and protocols for client success,” she explained.

“Chrysalis must show that they are following those protocols, and that they have a reasonably solid record of success.”

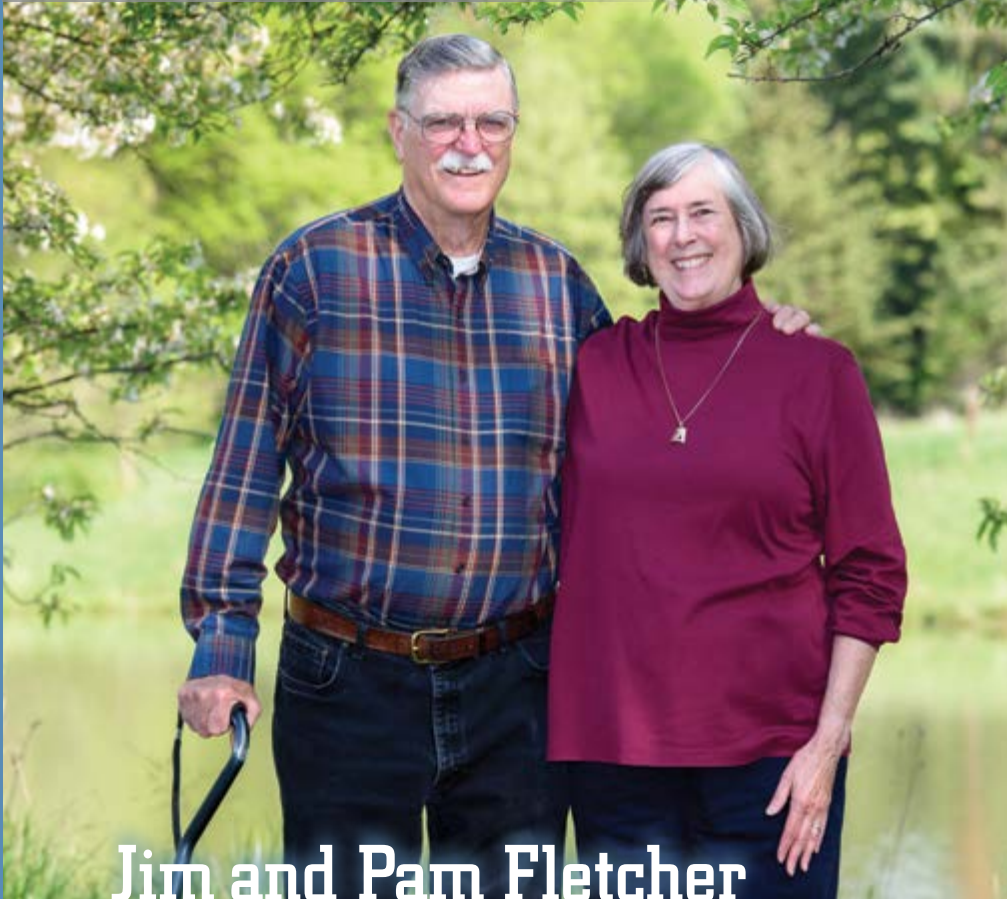

Kelly affirms the importance of those benchmarks. “You don’t just serve out your days here – you have to complete the program,” she said. “Girls know that if they want to stay here, they follow the rules – and most want to be here. They WANT to get better.”

Besides developing childrearing skills and techniques to cope with stress, the Chrysalis program emphasizes helping mothers develop a stable home to return to when they leave the program.

“In 2007, I was in another facility for 28 days,” said Kelly. “It wasn’t successful because they didn’t deal with core relationship issues, or my living situation.” In contrast, Chrysalis works with clients not only to build a strong support network but also to secure a safe place to live, a job or plans for schooling, medical resources for both mom and baby, and a substance after-care plan and provider for mom.

“I had the mindset that I had to be a perfect mom, and then my baby would be perfect, too,” said Kelly. “Now I realize I can be a good mom, and that’s good! I’ve got some great coping skills now – and I’ve learned that when something gets hard, it’s OK to ask for help.”

Jim and Pam Fletcher at Crosby Gardens

Jim and Pam Fletcher Securing the Future for Others

Jim and Pam Fletcher both had the same goal in mind when it came to estate planning – to assure that their assets would provide ongoing benefits to the causes and organizations that they care about and support. And the Toledo Community Foundation’s Legacy Fund provided a perfect means to achieve that goal.

Pam and Jim met while attending Oberlin College. They married and moved to Boston, where the two of them earned master’s degrees and Pam taught high school in nearby Quincy. After graduate school, they moved to Long Island, where Jim worked for Grumman Aerospace and Pam continued to teach. When Jim was hired by Owens-Corning, they relocated here and Toledo became their home.

“After teaching another three years at Lake Local High School, I was ready for a career change,” said Pam, “so I earned my J.D. at The University of Toledo College of Law and became a staff attorney in the Ohio Sixth District Court of Appeals. Then I took a position as in-house counsel at Libbey-Owens-Ford Company. I worked in corporate securities and other legal areas for the rest of my career, eventually retiring from Dana Corporation.”

Strategic and financial planning was a continuing thread for Jim’s career, as he moved from Owens-Corning to Arthur Young and then on to independent consulting and running his own business.

With no children or close relatives who might personally benefit from their estate, it’s not surprising that the Fletchers looked to TCF as a resource to accomplish their estate planning goals. “I knew of the Foundation through my friendship with the former executive director, Pam Howell-Beach. We worked together for a number of years as members of the Toledo chapter of Zonta, an international executive and professional women’s service organization,” Pam recalls.

The Fletchers had given some thought about how to structure their fund. “We didn’t think single one-time bequests would be as useful to the organizations we support as a continuing stream of revenue,” said Pam. Jim agreed, noting, “With our Fund, every year when distributions are made, we will be remembered as benefactors by those organizations we care about.”

They both appreciated how convenient it was to establish their fund. “The amount of our estate wouldn’t justify the cost and effort of setting up an endowment fund on our own – but with a Toledo Community Foundation fund, the work was done for us. The whole process was easy. We didn’t have to pay a fee to make it happen and there was no requirement to commit a specific dollar amount,” said Jim. “We didn’t want to lose control of our assets during our lifetimes – and with our Legacy Fund, we won’t. All we had to do was work with TCF staff to set up the fund. One meeting and some paperwork, and it was done.”

The Fletchers’ Legacy Fund will ensure that local and national causes dear to their hearts will benefit from their generosity for many years to come. As Jim observed, “Now, when I listen to public radio and hear announcements crediting the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation for their support, I think ‘and we’ve got the Pam and Jim Fletcher Fund at the Toledo Community Foundation.’”

Conda Family Funds

Facilitating Hands-on Philanthropy

It's been a long journey for Joe and Judith Conda and their daughter, Susan Conda, from their family's beginning in Burlington, New Jersey to their involvement in philanthropy in northwest Ohio.

Joe started working after high school, but did not begin college until six years later. While holding a full-time job and studying at night, he earned his bachelor's degree at age 34. In 1969 he became employed at Brockway Glass which was sold to Owens-Illinois in 1988. The family then moved to Perrysburg. He worked his way up the ranks, eventually being named president of O-I's Healthcare Packaging Company, as well as a corporate officer of the company.

"When we were kids, both of our families had very little money, but we didn't know differently," recalls Judith. "No one in either family had money to give away."

"The concept of philanthropy was foreign to us," added Joe. "In preparation for retirement, we first met with an estate attorney in 2005. He told me that we might want to consider giving some of our money away. That was a hard concept for me to digest – it took a while."

Joe admitted that, at first, he was even more reluctant to embrace working with the Toledo Community Foundation. "We were a bit nervous about it. It actually took us about seven years to give it a try – and then we finally did set up a donor advised fund. But we didn't make any grants for some time."

The Condas were no strangers to generosity, though, having already given much of their time and talent to the community. Susan had become active in public service and volunteer work in 1995 – and when Judith retired from education in 2003, the two began to work more as a team. “Collaboration is just how we do things; it’s something we focus on,” said Judith. “When we get involved with an organization, we like to see whether they’re collaborating with other organizations.”

To illustrate, Susan described a pilot program she started at the Toledo Humane Society in 2010.

“It was called Hope and Recovery Pets (HARP). ProMedica now has ownership of HARP, and is working with my long-time HARP partner, Dr. Janet Hoy-Gerlach of The University of Toledo, during the pilot phase of the program. This pilot is doing physiological studies evaluating the long-term effects of the human-animal bond.” Said Susan, “The HARP program’s adoption by ProMedica was integral for my vision of the potential of this program. With the expertise and resources of a human health care system, such as ProMedica, new ground is being broken and biomarker data is being collected and analyzed to evaluate Emotional Support Animals (ESAs) as a behavioral health treatment modality. This is the type of collaboration we love to see.”

Education was the initial driving interest for Judith; special needs in particular. Her developmentally handicapped older sister inspired her to pursue a career in special education. In fact, their family’s first significant gifts were to support scholarships for students majoring in Intervention Services at Bowling Green State University.

A new philanthropic focus

It wasn’t long, however, before the Condas sensed that their efforts were not focused. Joe’s second retirement in 2016 was the catalyst for a more strategic approach to the family’s giving. They all agreed that literacy in all its forms should be the major focus. For them, “literacy” means more than the ability to interpret the printed page. “It means understanding yourself, your community, and your world,” said Judith. “That’s why so much of our giving now leans toward ‘helping others navigate their world.’”

“Under this broad umbrella,” said Susan, “we have two strategic goals: investing in the community and positively impacting as many lives as possible.” Judith added, “We now have four distinct criteria. First, a project has to be sustainable – we want the endeavor to last. Second, we want to support programming, not capital projects. Third, desired outcomes must be clearly defined, driving toward positive change. And fourth, there must be accountability – where resources are being used and how they are promoting the objectives.”

A Conda family project that typifies their strategic orientation to giving is the Toledo Zoo’s ZooTeens, a 17-year-old program that started with 16 area youths and now involves over 500 teens. Said Susan, “These future leaders unwittingly become philanthropists themselves by voluntarily using their time and talent. And at the same time, they also build literacy in communication and social skills, while being actively involved in self development.”

Reflecting on Susan’s comment, Joe remarked: “We want them to have the opportunity to become more than they ever thought that they could be.”

TCF funds facilitate strategic giving

2017 was the year when the family started using the funds that had been growing for years at the Toledo Community Foundation, and Susan opened her own fund.

Joe laughs as he recalls the transition. “Working with the Foundation is almost TOO easy,” he said.

“It makes everything very simple. They know all the rules and regulations about granting gifts. They take care of all of the bookkeeping, and send us a quarterly fund statement.”

“We think we have a clear vision of what we want to accomplish with our giving,” added Joe, “and the team at TCF is a great sounding board for our ideas. We’ve transitioned from thinking in terms of giving money to charity to investing in community. The Foundation makes it simple to do what we envision.”

establishing a fund

Take a moment to consider the important part you might play in Toledo Community Foundation's work by creating a charitable fund. There are a number of ways to get started, and we invite you to explore them with your family, your professional advisor and with Foundation staff members.

The Foundation offers a variety of ways for you to make donations to reach your philanthropic goals. You can establish your own fund at the Foundation either during your lifetime or through your estate plan. All grants distributed from your fund – today and in the future – are awarded to charities, as determined by you, in the name of your fund.

Your gift to the Foundation may be made in many forms. Corporations and businesses are limited to gifts of cash, securities, closely-held stock, limited partnership interests and real estate. You and your family have even more options to consider.

4 simple steps to create your fund

1 Define your charitable goals.
Decide if you want family members involved, both now and/or in the future. Consider how much involvement you want in selecting the charitable organizations that will receive grants from your fund. Think about how much you want to give in charitable contributions each year.

2 Contact a Philanthropic Services Officer at the Foundation to discuss the fund option or options (described on pages 8-9) that best suit your interests and needs. We can create a personalized plan, including appropriate legal and other documentation, making giving simple and relevant.

3 Determine which asset or giving vehicle you will use to start your fund.
Evaluate the options of lifetime assets versus planned giving assets – or a combination of the two.

4 Select a name for your fund.
Many donors choose a family name, a name that honors or memorializes a loved one or a company name.

Vehicles for Giving

A cash gift is tax deductible as provided under current law.

Donations of appreciated publicly-traded securities are accepted. This type of gift avoids capital gains tax and allows the maximum tax deduction for the full market value of the gift. The Foundation also accepts closely-held stock and limited partnership interests.

A bequest in your will is a simple way to leave a lasting legacy.

A life insurance policy can be changed to designate the Foundation as the owner and/or beneficiary of a policy.

Retirement fund accounts are often your largest asset. You can give all or part of these assets to the Foundation, both during your lifetime and/or at your death.

Real estate (land, primary residences, vacation homes or farm land) can be donated to the Foundation and deducted at full fair market value, up to 30 percent of your adjusted gross income. The Foundation sells the real estate and the net proceeds capitalize a new fund or are added to an existing fund. Similarly, tangible personal property can be donated to the Foundation, which is also then sold.

A charitable remainder trust allows you (or other named beneficiaries) to receive lifetime income. Upon your death, the remaining principal creates a fund at the Foundation. You receive an immediate charitable deduction for a portion of the gift and avoid capital gains tax.

A charitable lead trust creates income for the Foundation for a specified period, after which the remaining principal is distributed to named beneficiaries. Gift and estate taxes are reduced with this type of gift.

Transfer of a private foundation affords you many advantages, including lower overhead, staff to assist with your charitable goals and a higher tax deduction for any future gift, to name only a few.

fund options

Choosing a fund option that is right for you

Toledo Community Foundation provides professional management and investment of charitable funds, as well as personalized services to meet the goals of individuals, families, businesses and nonprofit organizations.

There are many flexible ways to support your interests – the choice is yours. How involved do you want to be in your grantmaking? Do you want to give to a specific organization or a specific area of interest? Launch a scholarship to honor or memorialize a loved one? Restrict your giving to northwest Ohio and/or fund internationally? Create or continue your business giving program? Whatever your giving goals, there is a fund option for you.

The Foundation offers a number of fund options for you, your family, businesses and nonprofit organizations. A fund at the Foundation operates like a private foundation, but without the administrative and legal burdens associated with private foundations. The funds are flexible and you decide how much or how little you want to be involved in making grants.

GRANTEE: Water For Ishmael

Toledo Community Foundation supports the American School for Children program at Water for Ishmael. The program serves dual language learners from immigrant and refugee families, age 6 weeks to pre-kindergarten. Children from linguistically isolated families in which neither parent speaks English well are at risk academically when they enter kindergarten and some may never catch up. More than 100 children were served in the latest grant round, and measurable progress was made in developmental skills including fine motor skills, gross motor skills, cognitive development, pre-reading and pre-math, and language development.

Community Fund respond to changing times

A Community Fund is the broadest option and leaves the decisions about your gift to the Foundation. You trust the Foundation's extensive experience and knowledge of the community to identify the most pressing needs and effective programs. A Community Fund provides maximum assurance a fund will remain timely and relevant. Grants from these funds are given to qualified organizations to support the well-being and vitality of our region and its residents.

Designated Fund support effective organizations

You support one or more specific charitable organizations or institutions in perpetuity. A Designated Fund may help a single theatre, a food bank or a school during your life and after your death. If a beneficiary organization ceases to exist, loses its tax-exempt status or changes its mission, the Foundation redirects support to a similar organization to honor your original intent.

Donor Advised Fund engage with your giving

You take a more active role in your grantmaking (whether local, national or international). A Donor Advised Fund provides maximum flexibility for your grantmaking, allowing designated advisors (named by you) to make recommendations regarding grants from your fund.

The Foundation facilitates compliance with financial, legal and tax requirements, as well as helps develop grantmaking strategies, articulates funding guidelines and conducts due diligence, relieving you of the administrative responsibilities associated with charitable giving. If you wish, the Foundation helps you identify additional organizations that you might consider supporting.

You have several options.

Single advised fund – Allows only you to make grant recommendations.

Family advised fund – Provides a simple and popular way for your family to engage in organized philanthropy.

Corporate advised fund – Offers flexible options for your business and/or employees' charitable giving programs. Your company or business can outsource all, or any part, of its charitable giving program to the Foundation for management.

You can endow your fund, requiring that the principal of the fund remains untouched and only a percentage of the annual earnings on the fund are available for grantmaking; or you can create a growth fund (non-endowed) allowing the flexibility to distribute both fund principal and annual earnings, although not below the minimum required fund balance of $10,000.

Donor Directed Pooled Fund direct your giving to specific organizations

This type of fund allows you the privilege, during your lifetime, to annually designate specific charitable organizations to receive grants from your fund.

Field of Interest Fund connect personal values to grantmaking

You direct funding to specific causes (the environment, youth programs or the arts, for instance) or geographical areas (a town, county or region) that you feel strongly about, yet it does not restrict grants to any one particular organization. Field of Interest Funds support issues or areas that are important to you in perpetuity.

Organization Endowment Fund sustain nonprofit organizations

The Foundation's years of experience with the nonprofit community enables us to assist other charitable organizations in managing their assets. By establishing an endowment fund at the Foundation, nonprofit organizations are relieved of the administrative burdens and costs associated with holding their own endowment fund, while receiving a steady stream of income for operations, programming or other organizational needs.

Scholarship Fund invest in education

You establish an educational scholarship for a specific interest. Scholarships can support any level of education, and may be directed toward students who are graduates of a particular grade or high school, students planning to attend a particular secondary or post-secondary school, students in a particular field or students from a certain geographical area.

Supporting Organization partner with the Foundation for access to community information

A Supporting Organization is a separate and distinct legal and grantmaking entity that is in direct affiliation with the Foundation. It maintains its own board of trustees which has decision-making authority relevant to grant recipients and other matters. A Supporting Organization's alliance with the Foundation reduces administrative, investment and regulatory burdens. Family involvement, individual attention, flexibility, professional staffing and access to community information are among the key reasons that families and businesses create supporting organizations at Toledo Community Foundation.

Toledo Community Foundation offers four

creating teams

GRANTEE: Black Swamp Ice Frogs, Inc.

Black Swamp Ice Frogs (BSIF) is an ice hockey team created to benefit players with disabilities. Started in 2012 by a parent of a child with autism, BSIF creates a unique opportunity for special needs athletes to participate in a sport that many think they would never have the opportunity to be a part of due to physical/mental limitations or the high-expense of equipment and uniforms. BSIF creates a safe environment for not only socialization, but for physical activity and personal growth. For the families, BSIF is a resource and support group to help through the challenges caregivers encounter raising a special needs child. The Foundation supports this program which provides an opportunity to take the focus from medical needs and allows the children to just “be a kid” by experiencing a team sport.

GRANTEE: NeighborWorks®

In 2012, residents of the neighborhood near the burgeoning Overland Industrial Park formed a community organization known as Old West End Neighborhood Initiatives (OWENI) to improve the quality of life in their neighborhood. In support of OWENI's objectives, NeighborWorks® Toledo Region has capitalized on the inherent skills of neighborhood residents to build on existing assets and build supportive relationships with businesses, institutions and government to improve both quality of life and the environment of the neighborhood. Toledo Community Foundation has provided grants to assist OWENI in achieving continued progress towards community improvement goals at minimal cost.

GRANTEE: Police Athletic League

The Toledo-Lucas County Police Athletic League (PAL) is a sports program designed to perpetuate youth mentoring. This program is credited with strengthening and expanding the Toledo Police Department's goal of improving community relations. With the assistance of Toledo Community Foundation grants, this structured sports mentoring program, combined with effective interaction with positive role models, created opportunities for the PAL program to mentor at-risk youth.

Contributors

Every year, Toledo Community Foundation accepts donations of varying amounts from a broad range of individuals who each have their own purposes for giving.

Collectively, they help the Foundation achieve its mission to make our region a better place in which to live, work and raise a family. We are grateful, honored and pleased to recognize them in the following lists.

Listed here are contributors to non-operating funds of the Foundation.

Memorial and honorary contributions are listed separately beginning on page 44.

The list of contributors to our annual operating campaign – known as our Friends campaign – can be found on pages 50-51.

GRANTEE: Leading Families Home

Founded in 1921, Beach House Family Shelter provides emergency shelter, food and supportive services to homeless families. FOCUS was founded in 1982 in response to growing community needs for services such as longer-term supportive housing, food, job-readiness training and social support. In 2016, Beach House Family Shelter and FOCUS merged. The newly formed organization is now known as Leading Families Home (LFH). Its mission is to help families transition from homelessness to permanent stable housing. In just one year, LFH served 284 homeless families (418 adults and 477 children). LFH reports that 94% of the families who complete their service plans remain stably housed for at least two years. Toledo Community Foundation has provided funding to support their housing and shelter services for homeless families.
