THE HONORABLE
BOYD K. RUTHERFORD
LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND

Lieutenant Governor Boyd K. Rutherford is an accomplished attorney with a lifetime of experience in both the public and private sectors. He served as associate administrator for the U.S. General Services Administration, where he was responsible for increasing the use of small businesses in government procurement, as well as continually improving the efficiency of the agency. In addition, Rutherford served as assistant secretary for administration for the U.S. Department of Agriculture. He was nominated for the position by President George W. Bush and confirmed unanimously by the United States Senate. As assistant secretary, Rutherford led efforts that saved millions of taxpayer dollars.

Before serving with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rutherford served as secretary of the Maryland Department of General Services under Governor Bob Ehrlich. In that capacity, Rutherford was responsible for the administration of more than $900 million in annual contracts and 10 million square feet of state-owned and state-leased facilities. As secretary of General Services, he continued to find creative ways to save Maryland taxpayers millions of dollars, while also initiating and completing the expansion and renovation of numerous state buildings.

In addition to his public service, Rutherford has extensive legal and business experience, including service in business and government law, information technology sales, and small and minority business development.

Rutherford holds a bachelor's degree in economics and political science from Howard University. Additionally, he has a master's degree in communications management and a law degree, both from the University of Southern California.

Rutherford resides in Columbia, Maryland, with his wife, Monica. They have three adult children.

MEDAL OF HONOR RECIPIENT

On August 8, 2012, the personal security detail he was leading came under attack by a suicide bomber. Groberg tackled the bomber, saving several lives. As a result of his actions, he sustained the loss of 45 to 50 percent of his left calf muscle with significant nerve damage, a blown eardrum, and a mild traumatic brain injury. Groberg spent his recovery at Walter Reed National Military Medical Center from August 2012 through May 2015, undergoing 33 surgeries. He was medically retired on July 23, 2015.

DOCTOR OF MANAGEMENT CANDIDATES AND DISSERTATION TITLES

The Doctor of Management (DM) program, initiated in fall 2000, is a scholar-practitioner-based program designed for experienced professionals who are working full-time and want advanced scholarship and practical learning. In 2009, the DM in Community College Policy and Administration was introduced as a scholar-practitioner program designed for community college faculty and administrators who aspire to advance in administrative careers.

Doctoral students focus on learning ways to integrate their real-world professional experiences into their scholarly work. The program encompasses applied research, expanding leadership within the field of management, the integration of organizational management issues, and the critical role of information technologies. Most UMUC graduates pursue careers within local, state, or federal government agencies, private businesses, higher education administration (especially in community colleges), and nonprofit organizations.

ABOUT THE ALMA MATER

ALMA MATER VOCAL ARRANGEMENT

In 2017, University of Maryland University College celebrates its 70th anniversary. UMUC was established in 1947 specifically to serve the educational needs of adult students, many of them veterans returning from World War II. That commitment continued as UMUC first sent faculty overseas to teach active-duty military personnel in Europe in 1949 and in Asia in 1956. That mission guides us to this day.

Our Alma Mater, by former faculty member Susan C. Malone, commemorates and celebrates UMUC's unique culture and mission.

ACADEMIC DEGREES AND DRESS

HISTORY OF ACADEMIC DEGREES AND DRESS

A DEGREE is awarded for successfully completing a course of study. U.S. colleges and universities now confer more than 1,600 types of academic degrees.

The first degree recorded in history was a doctorate conferred by the University of Bologna in the middle of the 12th century. Originally, the doctor's and master's degrees were used interchangeably, each indicating that the holder was qualified to give instruction to students. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree indicated only entrance upon a course of study preparatory to a doctorate or mastership. Gradually, however, the bachelor's degree came to signify the successful completion of a level of advanced study preparatory to the higher degrees.

The associate degree originated at the University of Chicago, which began awarding them in 1900. Today's associate degree is typically awarded after two years of study and often comprises coursework that may be applied toward a bachelor's degree.

In North America, the Bachelor of Arts (BA) was first conferred in 1642, on the nine young men who constituted the first graduating class of Harvard College. Yale conferred its first Bachelor of Arts in 1702; Princeton, in 1748; William and Mary, in 1753; Pennsylvania, in 1757; and Columbia, in 1758.

The Bachelor of Science (BS) was awarded to four graduates of Harvard's class of 1851; they were probably the first from any institution to receive that degree. Women in the United States first received baccalaureate degrees in 1841, when three women graduated from Oberlin College.

The master's degree has passed through various stages since its origin in the Middle Ages. During most of the first two centuries of U.S. collegiate history, the only master's degree awarded was the classic Master of Arts (MA). The University of Michigan offered the first Master of Science (MS) in 1858.

Throughout the 19th century, the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) degree gained status in both Europe and North America. The first earned doctorates in the United States were awarded to three students at Yale in 1861. The Johns Hopkins University was founded for graduate studies in 1876, after which more universities developed doctoral programs in varied disciplines but with requirements similar to the PhD.

THE GOWNS worn by participants in today's procession indicate which academic degrees they hold. At the bachelor's level and above, the gown is usually black, but some universities use colored gowns. At UMUC, doctoral candidates wear royal blue gowns, master's and bachelor's candidates wear black, and associate candidates wear the traditional light-gray gown.

The style of sleeve connotes the level of achievement: straight-bottomed sleeves indicate the associate and bachelor's degree; longer, dangling sleeves, the master's degree; and fuller, round sleeves, the doctorate.

The gown worn by those who have earned a doctorate is usually faced with velvet and has three bars of the same material across the sleeves; the facing and bars can be either black, blue, or a color matching the field in which the degree is earned.

Hoods are lined with the colors of the school granting the degree. The velvet border of the hood indicates the discipline. The hood for the doctorate has distinguishing panels and is longer than that for the master's degree. Hoods are not usually worn for the bachelor's or associate degrees at UMUC.

Undergraduate students who have earned honors for outstanding scholarship wear cords as part of their academic regalia—gold for summa cum laude, blue for magna cum laude, and white for cum laude. These honors are awarded to students with a grade point average of 3.800 and higher.

The standard cap is the mortarboard, which is usually the same color as the gown. At UMUC, tassels are worn on the right and are moved—with great fanfare—to the left at the end of the ceremony.

Regalia worn by the university president is uniquely designed for each institution. Presidential robes have four bars of velvet across the sleeves, generally piped in a contrasting color, and may have two velvet bars down the front panel. At UMUC, the president's gown is blue with gold piping to represent the university's colors.
