MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT AND THE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

As we reflect on the past year of service to the Central Indiana community and look ahead to the new year, we would like to take a moment to thank you for your commitment to WFYI Public Broadcasting in 2008. With your help, WFYI has been able to provide distinctive programs and services that enrich and engage the community through our multiple media assets.

It was an exciting year, with our move to WFYI's new home at 1630 N. Meridian St., a dedication ceremony and public open houses, a new logo and brand identity, a $900,000 capital challenge grant from the Kresge Foundation, and completion of the $20.2 million Phase I of the Campaign for the Future: The Power of Possibilities.

For the third consecutive year, WFYI Public Television was recognized as the Non-Commercial Station of the Year by the Indiana Broadcasters Association. Two of WFYI's television productions and one radio production also earned Spectrum Awards from the IBA. Local productions also earned six Regional Emmy Awards and nine awards from the Society of Professional Journalists. WFYI Public Radio collected six SPJ awards and two honors from the National Public Radio News Directors Incorporated. WFYI's development department also earned national recognition with the PBS Award of Excellence for Overall Membership and an Overall Development Award.

WFYI TV 20 continued its commitment to provide quality programming in 2008 with a variety of offerings like The Natural Heritage of Indiana, Judy O'Bannon's Foreign Exchange and Path Breakers – The Eiteljorg Fellowship for Native American Fine Art. WFYI Public Radio built on its local news offerings and kept Hoosier voters informed with local election coverage, live candidate call in shows and special coverage of the gubernatorial debates. WFYI also added an HD radio channel, launching 90.1 FM HD2 – The Point in October, complementing 90.1 FM and 90.1 FM HD1.

Beyond the airwaves, WFYI remained committed to serve as a catalyst for lifelong learning. Educators across Indiana gained valuable professional development through PBS TeacherLine and other training opportunities. WFYI's outreach efforts also encouraged community conversations about living with cancer, access to health care and local environmental issues.

Your commitment to public broadcasting allows WFYI to provide entertaining and enlightening programs, but it also does much more. Because of your support children are ready for school, adults are improving their lives through education, engaged citizens are casting educated votes and Indiana's history and heritage are being preserved. Thank you for being our partner as we work to enrich the Central Indiana community.

WFYI PUBLIC TELEVISION

For the third consecutive year, WFYI was recognized by the Indiana Broadcaster's Association, as the 2008 Station of the Year in the non-commercial television category. The station delivered quality entertainment, public affairs and educational television on its analog channel (TV 20) and three digital channels – WFYI-HD 20.1, DT 20.2 and WFYI-Plus 20.3.

WFYI broadcasts the quality national programming associated with PBS, and remains committed to producing engaging, local programs like Indiana Lawmakers, Indiana Week in Review, Across Indiana, Judy O'Bannon's Foreign Exchange, Indiana Expeditions and Inside INdiana Business with Gerry Dick.

In 2008, WFYI's local productions collected 10 Regional Emmy Awards along with honors from the Society of Professional Journalists and additional recognition from the Indiana Broadcasters Association.

Among the local documentaries was the visually stunning documentary series The Natural Heritage of Indiana, based on the book of the same name that explores the evolution of Indiana's landscape. Other local documentaries included Path Breakers – The Eiteljorg Fellowship for Native American Fine Art, which highlighted the work of contemporary artists; and Dreamtime, a look at what our subconscious is telling us through dreams.

WFYI also highlighted the accomplishments of the Central Indiana arts community with local productions like All Access and Front Row Center.

WFYI promoted civic engagement and dialogue among its viewers with national PBS Vote 2008 election coverage and local broadcasts of the Indiana Gubernatorial Debates. It also produced and broadcast Ready to Read – A Community Conversation on Literacy.

In addition to the high quality local productions, nationally produced programs on WFYI included favorites like The NewsHour with Jim Lehrer, Nightly Business Report, Frontline, American Experience, Nature, Masterpiece Theatre, Mystery! and Antiques Roadshow.

WFYI PUBLIC RADIO

WFYI Public Radio provided quality local and national public affairs, arts and news programs in 2008, and continued its commitment to provide state and local news with reports from the Statehouse and local news updates during weekday morning and evening drive times.

News coverage on 90.1 FM HD1 earned six SPJ awards and two honors from the National Public Radio News Directors Incorporated in 2008. Bravo Butler!, produced in partnership with Butler University, earned a Spectrum Award from the Indiana Broadcasters Association in the Cultural Programming category.

WFYI's award-winning news team kept voters informed throughout the 2008 election season with national coverage from NPR; live broadcasts of Indiana's Gubernatorial Debates; live call-in shows with statewide candidates and live local election night coverage.

In 2008, WFYI welcomed Sharon Alseth to its news team and debuted Dick Wolfsie's weekly commentary.

WFYI Public Radio also launched a new HD service, 90.1 FM HD2 – The Point. This new public radio channel delivers entertaining and informative public radio talk programs like Talk of the Nation, Le Show and The Sound of Young America. It also provides a fresh dose of music on XPoNential Radio featuring an array of artists like Neil Young, Bjork, The Posies, The Clash, Bob Marley and many more.

The new channel complemented 90.1 FM HD1 and its mix of national and local arts and public affairs programs like Indiana Week in Review, Indiana Lawmakers, The Art of the Matter, The Blues House Party and Sound Medicine – a partnership with the Indiana University School of Medicine.

WFYI continues to reach listeners beyond Marion County through its community partnerships with Franklin College, in Johnson County, and Wabash College, in Montgomery County. WFYI provides NPR, PRI and BBC programming on the student-run radio stations. The simulcast agreements allow WFYI to reach listeners throughout Marion County and much of Bartholomew, Hendricks, Johnson and Montgomery counties.

IRIS

Indiana Reading and Information Services (IRIS) serves the Central Indiana community and beyond as an around-the-clock communications link for Hoosiers who are reading impaired.

IRIS staff and volunteers provide a service for those who cannot read normal print – due to blindness, low vision, physical impairments, illness, learning disorders or illiteracy – allowing them to stay connected with their community through local news and information, or to relax with a good book.

IRIS served more than 900 individuals through the Nina Mason Pulliam Statewide Dial-up Service, plus an additional 938 individuals across the state through radio broadcasts and the Web.

Every day, IRIS provides readings of regional newspapers and many other Indianapolis publications to certified listeners with special, custom-built radio receivers – provided free of charge to use as long as they are needed.

IRIS broadcasts are also available via audio streaming on the World Wide Web, allowing users to access the service anywhere there is an Internet connection and Windows Media Player.

IRIS volunteer Ken Almon

The Nina Mason Pulliam Statewide Dial-up Service connects 16 communities across the state providing residents with print impairments with a selection of 19 daily and weekly newspapers, and several other publications. IRIS also added 38 radio programs to its selection on the dial-up service in 2008.

ONLINE SERVICES

In 2008, more than 300,000 unique visitors (those coming to the Web site for the first time) clicked to wfyi.org.

On the site, visitors found schedules for TV 20, digital channels WFYI-HD 20.1 and WFYI-Plus 20.3, radio programs on 90.1 FM HD1 and 90.1 FM HD2 – The Point. The Web site also delivered information about WFYI's special events, upcoming volunteer opportunities and professional development for Hoosier educators at PBS TeacherLine.

Throughout the year, the Web site continued to grow its library of audio and video podcasts, including archives of interviews and shows featured on 90.1 FM and streaming video archives of WFYI Productions like Across Indiana, Indiana Lawmakers and Indiana Week in Review.

WFYI Public Radio provided a realtime Web stream, allowing Central Indiana residents to stay connected to their community from anywhere in the world through the Internet. The station also simulcasts its HD offerings through the Web, making them available to those without an HD radio.

LEARNING SERVICES / OUTREACH

Public broadcasting is unique in its public service mission, and WFYI's community outreach and learning services department set it apart from other broadcasters by providing these opportunities.

Established in 1991, Learning Services complements radio and television programming through community workshops, forums, training opportunities and educational outreach.

In 2008, WFYI continued to provide Indiana educators with online professional development through PBS TeacherLine. The convenient online courses are one way teachers and schools can meet student achievement goals and earn credits to maintain their certification.

WFYI's outreach efforts provided a forum for dialogue in the Central Indiana community. In 2008, the outreach department partnered with other community groups for Community Conversations centered around several PBS documentaries.

The History of Prayer in America, a documentary series about the role prayer has played throughout the history of the United States, provided one opportunity. The discussion and series were part of a partnership with the Christian Theological Seminary's Faith Learning Initiative and The Spirit and Place Festival.

WFYI also partnered with the Indianapolis-Marion County Public Library, The American Cancer Society and The Wellness Community for screenings of the PBS documentary The Truth About Cancer and public discussions with medical professionals about living with cancer.

WFYI continued its commitment to promoting literacy and education in 2008. The learning services staff informed local parents and early childhood educators about brain development, child development and literacy programs like Parenting Counts and Ready to Learn. And, more than 1,200 educators learned about PBS' educational resources through presentations and educator conferences.

In addition to its workshops throughout the year, WFYI also sponsored the 14th Annual Reading Rainbow Young Writers and Illustrators Contest, which received more than 450 entries from young authors and artists in grades K-3. The winners were recognized during the opening ceremonies of Let's Meet PBS KIDS in the Park and their stories were combined to create the local Emmy Award-winning WFYI Reading Rainbow Special.

COMMUNITY EVENTS

WFYI fulfilled its mission to be a center of discovery for all ages by sponsoring and participating in several community events in 2008.

In February, the Ice Miller Indy Wine Fest, hosted by WFYI and presented by Clark Appliance, attracted wine enthusiasts and novices to the Indiana Roof Ballroom. Wine experts shared their knowledge of fine wines from across the state and around the world during this elegant evening.

WFYI's Let's Meet PBS KIDS in the Park returned in June for the 15th year. The daylong, free, family celebration, presented by Riley Hospital for Children and Marsh Supermarkets, attracted approximately 40,000 people to Veterans Memorial Plaza and American Legion Mall in downtown Indianapolis. The largest PBS KIDS event of its kind in the nation boasted non-stop entertainment and included educational activities that reflected WFYI's commitment to getting children Ready-to-Learn.

Children and parents were treated to face-to-face meetings with several of the colorful, cuddly walkaround characters they love and admire most on PBS – including Arthur, Bob the Builder, Curious George and Sesame Street characters Abby Cadabby and Grover.

For the 11th year, WFYI hosted the Speaking of Women's Health® conference at the Indiana Convention Center in September. More than 1,200 attended the daylong event that featured engaging presentations of physical, mental, financial and spiritual health from local and national speakers. Several Central Indiana health-related organizations also hosted informative interactive booths during the event.

WFYI continued to serve the community through a variety of civic engagement opportunities. TV 20 and 90.1 FM HD1 simulcast Gov. Mitch Daniels' State of the State Address. The two stations also provided voters with quality local and national coverage of the historic 2008 election season.

WFYI participated in the Broad Ripple Art Fair in May by hosting the children's area and stage. It also participated in the Penrod Arts Fair in September, sponsoring the Blues Stage and Children's Stage. WFYI Public Radio broadcast The Art of the Matter Live from Penrod throughout the day.

“WFYI IS THE COMPLETE PACKAGE. IT IS QUALITY ACROSS THE BOARD: RADIO, TV, COMMUNITY, EVENTS, ETC. THERE IS NO ONE REASON TO SUPPORT, RATHER SO MANY REASONS THAT MAKE IT DIFFICULT NOT TO SUPPORT.”

VOLUNTEERS

WFYI was founded through a spirit of volunteerism and dedication to public broadcasting. That spirit remains strong thanks to the hundreds of annual volunteers who donate their time to help WFYI build communities and strengthen families in Central Indiana.

More than 800 individuals volunteered with the various departments at WFYI and provided over 18,000 hours of service. The dollar value of this service is more than $342,000.

WFYI volunteers lend a hand with a variety of tasks, from answering the phones during television and radio membership drives, to preparing weekly mailings every Thursday morning. They are a crucial part of Indiana Reading and Information Services, reading during live and recorded broadcasts every day for individuals who are reading impaired.

Volunteers are also vital to WFYI's efforts to connect with the community through signature events like WFYI's Let's Meet PBS KIDS in the Park, The Ice Miller Indy Wine Fest, hosted by WFYI, and Speaking of Women's Health®. They even staff a water stop each year during the OneAmerica 500 Festival Mini-Marathon.

IRIS

WFYI's Indiana Reading and Information Services (IRIS) provides around-the-clock access to the written word through both local broadcast service and a statewide toll-free telephone access system. Each day over 3,200 Hoosiers with reading-impairedments have access to newspapers, magazines, literary works and more through IRIS. Thank you to the more than 400 community volunteers who help make this possible. Thank you also to the following donors who contributed $250 or more during 2008.
