The Record Industry/Radio Industry Relationship

In many ways, the record industry's marketing techniques are primitive. Test marketing, as other industries know it, are relatively alien to the music business. TV advertising is usually limited to the television package marketers such as K Tel and Dynamic House; current albums are usually not advertised to any great degree.

Yet other industries are not as dependent on one customer for their business, as the record industry is on the radio industry. As a result, record industry marketing techniques have evolved as fairly one-dimensional: radio promotion, contests and advertising.

The radio industry, however, faces a difficulty of its own: the rating services that monitor listener number and response. Because the more listeners a station has, the more it can charge for advertising spots.

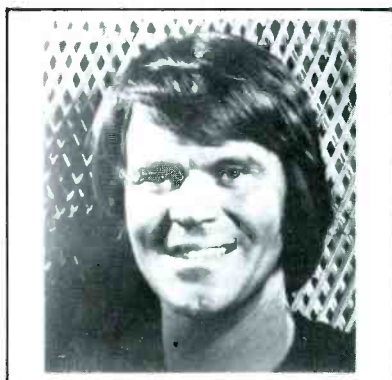

The biggest and most respected surveyor, Arbitron, has recently come under fire for inaccuracies and inefficiencies in its techniques. And since the ARB's have traditionally been respected, and used as an important tool by the agencies that place advertising, these inaccuracies in surveying, reflected in inaccurate ratings, have caused a great deal of consternation.

The problems with ARB's inaccurate surveys have largely been unfelt by the record industry. In fact, few businesses have as close contact with the radio industry as the record industry. There is no greater measure of a radio station's value, in our minds, as the number of copies of a record a station can sell by playing it. Listeners are not necessarily buyers, but buyers are most probably listeners.

And the ARB's are certainly not used extensively by record company advertising and marketing people in deciding which stations to place advertising on. They are a factor, but a minor one. How many records a station can sell from those spots is certainly a more important consideration.

It's unfortunate for our friends in radio that they have to be so dependent on a radio surveying service for their business. And the recent problems in Memphis, Phoenix and Denver point up that fact.

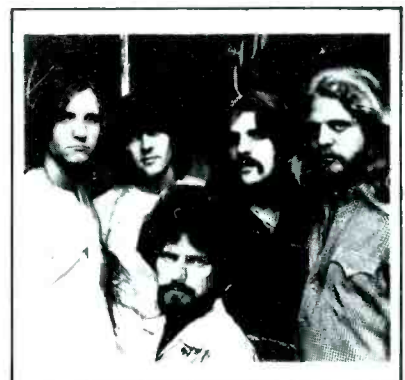

Perhaps the rating services could switch to ongoing surveying techniques, instead of their three or four times a year sweeps. By way of comparison, Cash Box would look rather silly publishing a quarterly best-selling album chart. Perhaps then the ratings would be more current, more reflective of changes in the market (and earlier too), and then there would not be as much impact, and maybe as much of a need for tampering, as has gone on in the recent past.

WCI Record/Music Group Registers Best 1st Qtr. Ever

Second Best In History

NEW YORK — The Warner Communications record and music group, including Warner Bros. Records, Elektra/Asylum Records, Atlantic Records, WEA Corp., WEA International and Warner Bros. Music, has completed its best first quarter ever. It was also the second best quarter in the group's history, topped only by the fourth quarter of 1976.

The WEA group's earnings rose 33% to $18,715,000 from $14,103,000. Its revenues also increased 33% to $113,414,000 from $85,152,000.

Domestically, WEA has had 10 albums certified platinum by the RIAA within the past six months, including two LPs by Linda Ronstadt and records by Fleetwood Mac, Jackson Browne, Led Zeppelin, Rod Stewart, Bad Company, the Eagles, the Doobie Bros. and the Average White Band. WEA's gold albums during the same period included works by Bread, ELP, George Benson, the Spinners, James Taylor, Gordon Lightfoot, Firefall, Foghat, England Dan & John Ford Coley, Van Morrison, Richard Pryor, Joni Mitchell, Queen and Abba.

WEA International continued its growth pattern, registering the highest sales and earnings in its history, according to company reports.

Altogether, the WEA group generated approximately 45% of Warner Communication Inc.'s first quarter revenues and 48% of WCI's pre-tax earnings during the three-month period.

WCI Income Up

Aided by the WEA group's performance, Warner Communications, Inc. had the highest revenues and earnings of any quarter in its history for the quarter ended March 31, 1977. Net income jumped 16% to $18,032,000 from $15,537,000 during the prior-year period, while sales advanced to $253,241,000 from $181,975,000 during the first quarter of 1976.

Steven J. Ross, chairman of the board of WCI, reported sharply increased revenues and income, not only in the recorded music division, but also in the filmed entertainment, publishing and cable communication divisions. He attributed a first quarter loss in the Atari electronic game division to "the continuing amortization of WCI's purchase cost . . . Thus amortization will be substantially completed in 1977."

CBS Records Registers Best Quarter Ever

As Division And CRI Sales Reach New Highs

NEW YORK — In the first quarter of fiscal 1977, CBS/Records Group achieved the highest sales level it has ever recorded for any quarter in its history. Sales jumped 24% over the same period of 1976, reflecting quarterly sales records for both the group's domestic and its foreign operations.

Walter Yetnikoff, president of the CBS/Records Group, stated that the "spectacular success" in the first quarter "sets the pace for the rest of the year. From all indications," he continued, "we expect that 1977 will be another banner year for the CBS/Records Group."

The showing of the Records Group, along with similar performances by CBS's other corporate groups, made the first quarter of fiscal 1977 the best first quarter in the history of CBS, Inc. Estimated net income for the parent company rose 19% to $33 million from $27.8 million in the prior-year period, and estimated net sales jumped 23% to $634.9 million from $516.3 million. Earnings per share increased 20% to $1.16 from 97c.

William Paley, chairman of the board of CBS, Inc., commented, "All indications are that our record-breaking first quarter . . . will extend into another record-setting year for CBS." Along the same line, John D. Backe, president of CBS, Inc., remarked, "Since 1976 was the best year in our history, this means that the momentum is continuing."

Backe attributed the first quarter improvement in earnings "principally to the excellent performance of the CBS/Broadcast Group, and the CBS television network in particular. Sales for the broadcast group for the first quarter were fully 19% ahead of last year's very strong pace."

During fiscal 1976, the CBS/Broadcast Group generated 47% of the revenues and 65% of the pre-tax income of CBS, Inc. For the same period, the CBS/Records Group accounted for 25% of the corporation's total sales, and 20% of its pre-tax income.

The record and tape clubs operated by Columbia House as part of the CBS/Columbia Group increased their membership 10% above its level during the prior-year period, according to Backe, though sales and earnings figures detailing Columbia House's performance were unavailable.

'Superstar' Albums Boost Sales

CBS Records Division, which includes all of the record group's domestic operations, has just completed the best quarter in its history. The division's highest previous quarterly sales were posted during the final three-month period of 1976.

CBS Records' various labels exceeded their sales quotas for the first quarter and, during March, doubled or tripled their pro-

McKuen's Class Action Bid Dismissed In RCA Lawsuit

by Mark Mehler

NEW YORK — A motion by Rod McKuen to include over 1,200 artists, producers and publishers in a $60 million class action suit against RCA Records has been denied by U.S. District Court Judge Edward Weinfeld.

In a memorandum handed down this week, Judge Weinfeld also rejected McKuen's motion to amend the original complaint to include a charge of copyright infringement.

McKuen claimed that RCA, as part of a "special marketing program," pressed almost 9.5 million "excess cutout" albums between 1971 and 1973, and avoided paying any royalty to him or to the hundreds of other artists and publishers who had albums marketed in this manner (Cash Box, April 16 & 23).

RCA, in its written response to the complaint, admitted to pressing the 9.5 million albums, which it said had been cut out of its catalog. The company further stated the royalties it paid to artists, producers and publishers were computed as 25% of what they would have received if the albums were sold as catalog merchandise.

RCA noted that its books were audited by the Harry Fox agency, and all valid claims have been negotiated and settled.

The Judge's Decision

In his memorandum, Judge Weinfeld said that according to figures supplied by RCA, only "a small number" (42) of artists and producers would be entitled to a royalty credit of $10,000 or more, making them eligible for class certification. The judge indicated that 42 members was an insufficient number of plaintiffs to certify the class action, that McKuen, because he is no longer under contract to RCA (leaving the label in 1968), is not typical of the other members of the class and, therefore, not suited to bring a class action.

In rejecting the class motion, Judge Weinfeld said that a class action would entail going over every artist's contract on some 755 different LPs, to determine such factors as the full royalty rate, and when or if the LP had been cut out of the catalog.

In denying the motion for a copyright infringement amendment, Judge Weinfeld believed that the plaintiff's allegations were adequately covered under the original breach of contract complaint.

The judge also noted in his memorandum that McKuen, through his own publishing company, Stanyan Music, has been selling his own manufactured cutouts, a charge denied by McKuen who claims he pays a full royalty on those "reissues." McKuen purchased all his masters from RCA in 1971.

RCA's Statement

In a prepared statement, the record company RCA has maintained throughout this case that it was not a valid class action and that this suit is nothing more than a contract dispute with Ron McKuen. Now the court has upheld RCA's position.

"RCA has also maintained consistently that it did not violate any of McKuen's rights. RCA continues to believe that this position similarly will be sustained."

McKuen's attorney, Lawrence Philips, however, has indicated that his client feels that even as an individual case, the suit could have wide-ranging ramifications on the music industry.

No trial date in the suit has yet been set.

Portrait Signs Heart As Legal Battles Continue

LOS ANGELES — Portrait Records has announced the signing of the group Heart. The group's exodus from Mushroom Records, where their first album has sold over 2,000,000 units in the U.S., has prompted numerous lawsuits (Cash Box, March 12). A February 22 decision in the Federal District Court in Seattle gave Heart the opportunity to enter into other record deals.

Sheldon Siegel, vice president of Mushroom, said, "We have already taken action" on the matter. "We have just filed a suit against CBS and Portrait for a whole number of things that I cannot disclose at this time."

Larry Harris, vice president and general manager of Portrait, who announced the signing, and Allen Leonard, Heart's attorney, were not yet aware of the impending lawsuit.

Rubinstein Quits Chairman's Post At ABC Records

LOS ANGELES — Jerry Rubinstein's resignation as chairman of ABC Records was due to "policy differences," and not the loss of $7 million last year, as was speculated in last week's Cash Box. Cash Box regrets the linking of the two.

In a prepared statement issued by the American Broadcasting Co. Inc., Leonard Goldenson, chairman, and Elton Rule, president of ABC Inc., indicated that they regretted Mr. Rubinstein's resignation and wished him well in his future endeavors.

CASH BOX

Established as a million-selling recording artist at age fifteen, Paul Anka has continued to be a vital force in the musical community. His twenty-year show business career includes 18 gold records, 30 million discs sold and over 400 songs written.

Anka, born in Ottawa, Canada, is noted internationally as a composer as well as performer. His lyrics for "My Way" prompted Frank Sinatra to adopt the song as his unofficial anthem, and Tom Jones had a smash hit with Anka's "She's A Lady." His songwriting is so diverse that it reflects the varied talent that have recorded his material, from Linda Ronstadt to The Osmonds.

His composing has not been restricted solely to the record industry. Anka wrote the score for Darryl Zanuck's "The Longest Day" and also the theme for Johnny Carson's "Tonight Show."

Korvettes Offers $2.99 LPs In Five Cities; Large Catalog Campaigns For Three Acts

by Mark Mehler & Ken Terry

NEW YORK — With the first appearance of an advertised $2.99 sale on six Stevie Wonder catalog LPs at Korvettes' four Baltimore stores, the chain's sale prices have now dipped below $3 in each of its five major metropolitan markets. These recent low prices in the Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore and Detroit markets prompted one retailer to speculate that they may be the result of a "carryover effect" from the New York price war, which has affected Korvettes' units there for nearly a year.

In addition to the $2.99 catalog sale, Korvettes' stores in Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia advertised Stevie Wonder's "Songs In The Key Of Life" (2 LPs/$13.98 list) for $6.99.

Spokesmen at two Baltimore Korvettes units said the chain has run $2.99 unadvertised specials on current releases by such artists as the Eagles and Rufus over the past two or three weeks.

"I guess we're doing it to draw business to the rest of the store," said one Baltimore Korvettes salesman. "It doesn't have anything to do with competition. We're the first here. I think, to go that low." The salesman said the $2.99 Wonder LPs were moving surprisingly slowly, but sales on the 2-LP set were picking up after a brief lull.

RCA Corp. Posts Record Earnings In First Quarter

NEW YORK — RCA Corp.'s first quarter earnings rose 41% to a record $48.5 million from $34.4 million during the prior-year period. Sales climbed nine percent to a record $1.37 billion from $1.26 billion last year.

During that time, the RCA Records division almost doubled its income over the first quarter of fiscal 1976, keeping pace with the rest of RCA's consumer electronics products and services.

Edgar H. Griffiths, president of RCA Corp., predicted that, "with the added impetus of an improving economy, the momentum we have developed would make this our best year ever," in a report published in the Wall Street Journal. RCA's previous record year for earnings was 1973, when the company earned $183.7 million.

For fiscal 1976, RCA Corp. had a net profit of $177.4 million on sales of $5.36 billion, as compared with earnings in fiscal 1975 of $110 million on revenues of $4.82 billion.

RCA Corp. includes the following divisions and subsidiaries: electronics/commercial products and services; broadcasting, which consists of the NBC radio and television networks; vehicle renting and related services, which includes the Hertz Corp.; RCA Global Communications; RCA Alaska Communications; RCA American Communications; Banquet Foods; Coronet Industries; the Oriol Foods Group; Random House; and electronics/consumer products and services, which includes RCA Records.

In 1976, the net profit of RCA's electronics/consumer products and services group rose to $41.8 million from $25.3 million in 1975, increasing its percentage of RCA Corp.'s total earnings from 23% to 23.6%. During the same period, the group's sales climbed to $1.37 billion from $1.17 billion, while its share of the corporation's overall revenues rose to 25.6% from 24.3%.

RCA Corp.'s annual report, however, does not detail financial information for any of its individual operations, such as the RCA Records division.

A spokesman at Korvettes' regional office in Philadelphia declined comment on the latest low prices in Baltimore and on Korvettes' price strategy in general. He did say, though, that the Wonder sale was a special promotion, and that Korvettes attempts to be "competitive" in its day-to-day pricing.

These remarks parallel those made by Korvettes divisional vice president and divisional merchandising manager David

F.W. Woolworth To Remove Current LPs From 100 Units

by Ken Terry

NEW YORK — F.W. Woolworth Co., which recently announced that it was taking a close look at the record departments in 1242 of its 1449 variety outlets, has decided to phase out current releases in approximately 100 of those units.

"We're going to pull current product out of some small stores in every market in every region of the country," stated Charles Staley, music buyer for Woolworth's. He added that no Woolco discount stores would be involved.

Staley noted that the stores were scattered geographically, rather than concentrated in a few markets. Earlier, he had indicated that most of those units expected to be affected were located in urban areas on the east coast (Cash Box, March 26).

Promotional merchandise and cutouts will replace current releases in the record departments which are being trimmed, Staley said. In addition, some of the affected stores will also carry 45s along with cutouts.

Asked why Woolworth plans to sell more cutouts instead of front-line releases, Staley replied, "The profit margin is better on cutouts than it is on current product. Also, the price-point's lower. We can be a little bit more competitive on cutouts than we can on current releases. Our top price on a cutout LP is $1.99. And, from time to time, we can come up with some very good mixes at $1.99 that keep the store in the (record) business to a certain degree."

Woolworth's record departments are supplied by several different rack jobbers across the country. Staley indicated that it would be up to each of them to meet the new levels of profitability which Woolworth expects from its record departments.

Ongoing Process

An informed record industry source viewed Woolworth's decision to phase out current releases in some of its record departments as part of a process that has been going on for "three or four years."

Noting that "a lot of Woolworth's business right now is strictly cutout business," the source explained that many of the chain's smaller stores have been dispensing with front-line goods all along, often at the suggestion of suppliers.

However, he said, the larger Woolworth stores, located either in shopping malls or in small towns where there are no other major retailers, will probably continue to stock current releases because they do enough record business to make a profit on it.

The source concluded that Woolworth's recent move "is not earthshaking. It's just a refinement. I don't think it's a signal of anything to come."

May Retail Group Continuing Record Sales Despite Recent Cutbacks, CB Survey Finds

by Alan Sutton

LOS ANGELES — Although one member chain has cut back its record involvement by nearly 50% in the past year, and another is pulling out completely, May Department Stores, the nation's second largest retail group, will continue to sell records on a store-by-store basis, a Cash Box survey has found.

May currently has record departments in 88 of its 113 affiliated stores in California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Oregon, Missouri and the Washington, D.C.-Baltimore area.

The survey, which included interviews with regional buyers and their suppliers, also found:

- That because of their relatively low markup, many stores view records as a "convenience" item as opposed to a profit center.

- That since buyers are usually responsible for other departments with higher gross profit margins, records sometimes take a backseat to these departments.

- That records are frequently shifted from one part of the store to another, often ending up in areas where traffic is marginal.

All of the record departments in the May group are rack-serviced operations; however, departments in the May Co. stores in Southern California and the G. Fox chain in the Hartford, Connecticut area are run by concessionaires.

The May Co. Southern California (24 locations), May Co. Cleveland (8), Famous Bar in St. Louis (9), Meier & Frank in Portland (5) and May D&F in Denver (9) each have record departments in all their branches. Two of the chains (May Co. Southern California and Famous Bar) reported that records were holding their own (from a profit standpoint), while the others had mixed opinions. "We pretty well dominate this market," commented Roger Holtzman, buyer for Famous Bar. "Between us, Venture — which is the May Co.-owned discount chain — and Peaches, we pretty much own the record business in this town." Holtzman, who gets records from J.L. Marsh, the nation's largest rack jobber, said he is able to boost profits by dealing (regularly) in cutouts. He added, "We also go after the accessory business in a big way, which makes the department more profitable."

Herman Platt, president of Platt Music, which has had a leasehold agreement with the May Co. Southern California since 1924, was another who said he expects his record departments to do more than just draw traffic to the stores. "It's (record sales) something we plan to continue promoting and, hopefully, make a profit on," he said. Platt Music, which is believed to be the largest department store concessionaire of recorded product, also sells radios, televisions, audio equipment and major appliances in the May Co.

John Crane, buyer for May Co. Cleveland, said that records "are more of a service at this point," adding that he had recently switched from a major rack jobber to a local distributor. "We changed because we felt we weren't being represented locally," he explained. "We wound up with a lot of goods that sold well downtown and in a couple of the branches, but the other six stores did poorly with them."

Bill Weikoff, buyer for Meier & Frank stores in Portland, said "we're playing down our record business somewhat." For the past two years the chain has been getting its records from ABC Record and Tape Sales after having previously bought direct from the manufacturers, he said, adding "sales have been down since then but a lot of other factors are involved."

Chains with records in some branches but not all include: M. O'Neil & Co., Akron (4 locations out of 9); May-Cohens, Jacksonville (1 of 5); Strauss, Youngstown (4 of 10); Kaufman's, Pittsburgh (5 of 8); G. Fox & Co., Hartford (3 of 6); and Hecht & Co. in the Washington, D.C.-Baltimore area. Results of the CB survey show that buyers for these stores fall into two distinct groups: those who actively pursue record sales and those who devote more time to the other departments they buy for.

John Gallo of the Strauss chain was one of the buyers in the first group who expressed an interest in developing his stores' record business. In the past, according to Gallo, funds had been diverted from the record department "to feed other

Court Ruling Hits Interstate Firms

by Joanne Ostrow

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The recent Supreme Court decision making firms which engage in interstate commerce liable under state sales taxes, has immediate and obviously costly portents for the record industry. The mail order record industry is worth some $330 million annually, of which 60-70% is controlled by two giants, CBS and RCA.

The Supreme Court ruled unanimously against the National Geographic Society and in favor of the state of California, upholding a California Supreme Court decision that "the slightest presence" of a business within a state is reason enough to impose a tax. California had billed the magazine for more than $3,800 in taxes on sales of books, maps and other materials the company solicited through the mails. When the magazine appealed, saying its connection with California was too remote to warrant the tax (specifically, two sales offices are located in the state), the state Supreme Court disagreed — and the decision was upheld at the U.S. Supreme Court level.

CBS, RCA

A spokesman for CBS declined comment and executives at RCA were unavailable for comment on the effects the court's decision will have on the industry. But any mail order firms which have offices in a state — even if corporate headquarters are in another state — are subject to state sales tax under the newly interpreted interstate commerce rule. Both CBS and RCA are prime examples of mail-order operations with minimal contacts (branch offices) in other states. CBS accounts for approximately $135 million of the industry's $330 million yearly total and RCA is smaller, though even gross estimates are unavailable.

Record & Book Shop Opens 3rd D.C. Store

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Discount Record & Book Shop opened a third store in the Washington area April 16. The new store is in the White Flint Mall. Anatol Dorati, outgoing conductor of the National Symphony, cut the ribbon during opening ceremonies.

UA Records On Hot Streak With Two Climbing Singles

by Dave Fulton

LOS ANGELES — United Artists is currently on a hot streak with two records climbing the Cash Box Top 100 Singles charts this week, and coming on the heels of recent management changes at the company.

The label is experiencing success with Bill Conti's "Theme from 'Rocky'" and "Lucille" by Kenny Rogers. The Conti single is the second Most Added Record on the Cash Box Pop Radio Analysis this week and has jumped from #69 to #41 on the Cash Box singles chart. "Lucille" has already topped the Cash Box country singles chart and this week moved from #41 to #25 on the pop chart.

Regarding the Conti single, Stan Mon-teiro, UA's newly-appointed vice president of promotion, said, "Some guys have commented that it's the perfect ARB record. You know that they're in the middle of the spring ARB's and it's very tough to get records on. But this is the perfect record because it's pulling such strong phones."

Competition has been tough between Columbia's version of "Theme From 'Rocky'" by Maynard Ferguson and the UA release. Gordon Bossin, vice president of marketing at UA, said, "We think that we have won the battle. It's very gratifying to win a cover battle and especially when it was evident that Columbia was out very strong.

'No One Benefits'

"But I do think that a lot of people benefited from this. Generally, on a cover battle, no one benefits. There's usually no hit and both companies spend a lot of effort in manpower, time and dollars. In this case, we are definitely benefiting. We have a hit single and a hit album, but Columbia might have gained something too because I think that Maynard is selling more albums than in the past."

In the management changes at UA two weeks ago, Pat Pipolo, formerly vice president of promotion, was elevated to vice president of A&R while Monteiro left the vice president of national promotion at Columbia to take over the promotion post.

"We seem to have the team put together right now — Gordon Bossin, Stan Monteiro, Pat Pipolo, Larry Cohen (vp-merchandising) and Joe Carbone (vp-sales). The whole team seems to be coming together now and it's just the beginning," noted Artie Mogull, president of United Artists.

In viewing the rejuvenated spirit at UA, Bossin remarked, "There is a team effort going on and they're all willing to contribute to that atmosphere. I believe our independent distributors are feeling it too, and they are an equal part of our success at this moment."

Quality Shuttters Office In U.S.; Seeks New Deal

by Mark Mehler

NEW YORK — Quality Records of Canada has closed its U.S. office here and is presently negotiating a partnership deal with an American independent label.

George Struth, president of Quality Records of Canada, said the termination of distribution deals with Private Stock and Buddah Records in America was the end of the "first phase" of the company's U.S. operation.

The firm opened its U.S. office in November 1975. In addition to Quality Records here, which was distributed by Private Stock, two associated labels, Celebration and Right On, were distributed through Buddah.

"We entered the distribution arrangements to get a feel of the market," Struth said. "It was only supposed to be for a certain period of time. It makes sense now to

by Charles Paikert

NEW YORK — As a result of Oscar Fields' appointment as WEA's black music marketing director, local black newspapers, national black magazines, and black radio stations, especially those in secondary markets, will all be receiving greatly increased ad support from the giant distributing corporation.

Also, according to Fields, "Black one-stops and black retailers that heretofore have not been able to take advantage of WEA advertising money" will be earmarked for priority attention within the newly created marketing structure, designed to expand WEA's black music sales base.

The strategy for WEA's black music marketing, Fields revealed, will be built on concentrated radio promotion and advertising, as well as strengthened field contacts between WEA branches and black retailers. Radio stations in the south and midwest will receive intensified promotional attention from WEA, Fields stated, and retailers will be provided with additional in-store display posters and mobiles.

WEA's print ads for black product will also increase, but Fields emphasized that he did not consider print as a sales vehicle. "Rather," he said, "I believe print reinforces radio. Local black newspapers in particular, like the Amsterdam News in New York, will be used to reinforce radio in urban markets." Nationally, Fields plans to utilize black speciality magazines, and cited Black Enterprise and The Black Collegian, as potential vehicles.

Label Chiefs Comment

All WEA distributed labels will be included under the newly formed black music marketing structure, and Ed Rosenblatt, vice president of sales and promotion for Warner Brothers Records, said he welcomed a coordination of marketing for black WEA product. "It will solidify our current marketing situation," Rosenblatt commented, "and give us a national direction for training WEA personnel in black product merchandising."

Rosenblatt, whose label's R&B roster includes George Benson, Graham Central Station, Bootsy Collins and Funkadelic, was joined in praising Fields' appointment by Henry Allen, president of Cotillion Records. Allen, whose R&B-based label recently signed Slave and Philippe Wynn, called the creation of a black music marketing post for WEA "long overdue." Its primary advantage for Cotillion, Allen said, would be the increased time available to "concentrate more on artist development."

According to Joel Friedman, president of WEA, Fields will be involved in all aspects of WEA black product merchandising, advertising and customer services, as part of the WEA executive marketing staff. He joins Henry Droz, executive vice president, Vic Faraci, vice president of marketing, and Rich Lionetti, vice president of sales, on WEA's executive staff, and will report to Faraci.

Fields previously was the manager of product merchandising for RCA Records, a position he held for one year.

MCA May Have Competing 45s With Third 'Car Wash' Single From LP

by Phil DiMauro & Ken Terry

NEW YORK — MCA Records has released a third single by Rose Royce from the "Car Wash" soundtrack album, "I'm Going Down," while sales and airplay of the second single from "Car Wash," "I Wanna Get Next To You," have not yet peaked in the pop market.

"I Wanna Get Next To You" made its first impact on the Cash Box R&B Top 100 Singles chart, where it is currently positioned at #9. On the Cash Box Top 100 Singles chart, however, it has ascended to #12 bullet and still appears to have plenty of momentum.

'Forced' By Radio

Pete Gideon, director of national singles promotion for MCA, explained that "radio made us release this record. If it was up to us, we would have waited until June."

According to Gideon, "I Wanna Get Next To You" "burned out" on many R&B radio stations a few weeks ago. At about the same time, DJs at several stations in Florida began playing "I'm Going Down" off the "Car Wash" album; at one station, he said, it became the #1 most requested cut. With all this airplay creating demand for the cut, Gideon pointed out, retailers in the Miami area began asking MCA for the single.

"We couldn't wait any longer," he exclaimed. What would have happened is we would have blown the excitement we've gotten on this because the R&B stations wouldn't have waited. It would have gone down the playlists at all the black stations, and when the single came out, we would have defeated any sales potential of the airplay."

Gideon conceded that it would be difficult for many pop radio DJs to play both singles in heavy rotation. However, he believed that it would be some time before "I'm Going Down" is heard in heavy rotation on most pop stations.

James Gang And Belkin Productions Awarded $1.5 Mil.

LOS ANGELES — A long-running contractual dispute between the James Gang and ABC Records ended when a jury in Los Angeles awarded damages totaling more than $1.5 million to members of the group and their management company, Belkin Productions.

The damages included a $1,294,810 judgment against ABC Records, and a $210,509 judgment against Jay Lasker, former president of the label.

The jury found in favor of Howard Stark, former executive vice-president of ABC Records.

The settlement stems from two separate counteractions filed in 1974 after an original suit brought against the group by ABC Records had been dismissed. One pleading, filed on behalf of Jimmy Fox and Dale Peters of the James Gang and their production company, James Gang Inc., charged ABC with malicious prosecution in regard to the initial suit.

A second action, filed on behalf of former Gang members Roy Kenner and Dominic Troiano and Belkin Productions, alleged that ABC had willfully interfered with the group's attempt to negotiate a new contract with two interested labels, CBS and MCA.

The two lawsuits were consolidated for the trial, which lasted for a month.

Pickwick Standardizes Its Divisions' Titles

WOODBURY, N.Y. — Pickwick International Inc. has eliminated the use of separate titles in its rack jobbing, retailing, and distribution operations, effective May 1.

J.L. Marsh Inc., rack jobber, will become Pickwick Rack Services Division; Heilicher Brothers will be the Pickwick Distribution Division; and the retail outlets, including Musicland, Discount Records, Recco and Aura Sounde stores, will become the Pickwick retailing division. The names of the individual stores, however, will remain the same.

Other changes include the use of Price Promotion Division to designate the premium supplier, and the Accessory Manufacturing Division, formerly Soma Manufacturing. The Keel Manufacturing Division on the east coast and the Pickwick Records Division, which manufactures Pickwick records and tapes, will keep their old names.

Sweet's New Release Poses No Problems For Capitol's Marketing, Promotion Execs

by Phil DiMauro

NEW YORK — Fourteen months have elapsed between the April 11 release of the Sweet's third album for Capitol Records, "Off The Record," and "Give Us A Wink," released Feb. 9, 1976. This unusually long period, however, does not seem to concern Capitol executives or the group's management in their planning of marketing and promotional campaigns for the LP.

The group's first Capitol album, "Desolation Boulevard," reached an apex of #33 on

Montana Outlaws Pirated Records

HELENA, MONT. — Montana has become the 47th state to outlaw piracy of sound recordings.

A new statute, recently signed by Montana Governor Thomas L. Judge, makes the manufacture of pirated or bootlegged recordings a felony punishable by up to ten years in jail. The sale, possession for sale or offer for sale of such illicit recordings is classified as a misdemeanor and is punishable by imprisonment of up to six months and/or a fine of up to $500.

The new law also prohibits the sale of a sound recording without the name and address of the manufacturer or the conspicuous disclosure of the name of the performer. Violation of this section is punishable by imprisonment of up to six months and/or a fine of up to $500.

Pirated and bootlegged recordings, as well as those without the name and address of the manufacturer or without the performer's name conspicuously disclosed, are subject to seizure and forfeiture according to the terms of the statute.

the Cash Box Top 100 Albums chart in November 1975, and with the momentum of two hit singles, remained on the chart for a total of 40 weeks. The two singles were "Ballroom Blitz" and the top-five-charting "Fox On The Run," which was certified gold on Feb. 23, 1976. "Desolation Boulevard" attained gold certification on May 26, 1976.

The subsequent "Give Us A Wink" came close to gold certification, according to Dennis White, Capitol's vice president of sales, although he declined to reveal precise sales figures. The one single release from that album, "Action," did not achieve the chart success of its forerunners, although the album itself reached #30 on the Cash Box Top 100 Albums chart in April 1976.

'Creative Imperatives'

Capitol executives attributed the long waiting period to creative imperatives. Bruce Wendell, vice president of promotion, pointed out that although several cuts had already shown potential as singles, the company feels that this album is the group's strongest in terms of airplay potential at AOR stations, and that this album will receive the most aggressive FM promotion of any Sweet album to date. Wendell further stated that radio programmers had thus far been "anxious" for the new album, and that no familiarization problems had been encountered.

Marketing, Merchandising Campaigns

Dan Davis, vice president of merchandising and creative services for Capitol, detailed the marketing and merchandising campaigns beginning with 60-second radio spots to air throughout the country on a regional basis. Merchandising aids will include a 24-inch square poster highlighting the new Sweet album as well as the catalog,

Sine Qua Non Sues Schwann To Achieve Listing In Catalog

by Jeffrey Weber

BOSTON — Marison Associates has sued W. Schwann, Inc. in an effort to become listed in the Schwann catalogs. Marison, doing business as Sine Qua Non, a classical budget label, filed the action in the Massachusetts Superior Court. To date, the Schwann catalog has refused to list Sine Qua Non Productions, although they were reportedly listed at one time.

In discussing the action, Samuel Attenberg, president of Sine Qua Non, stated, "We're suing for both dollars and injunctive relief. We want to be listed." Attenberg said that the case is in the deposition stage as, within the next few weeks, Sine Qua Non will be taking depositions from people at ABC Leisure Publications (ABC has taken over Schwann).

Elements Of The Case

In explaining the elements of his case against Schwann, Attenberg said, "Essentially we are saying they (Schwann) have a de facto monopoly, in that there is no other consumer publication that lists records. As such, our sales are hurt to some degree and our credibility is potentially damaged as often, if you're not listed, you're not in existence, and that is the primary basis of the suit. Their requirements for being listed are terribly vague. Where their requirements at one time stated they were a comprehensive catalog, they now say they are a selective catalog, which is a major change." Attenberg further stated that within the Schwann organization, "there is a great deal of contradiction as to the criteria for being listed, from one person to another."

Bill Schwann declined comment on the matter, referring all questions to his attorney, Anthony Mooney. Mooney told Cash Box that Sine Qua Non believes, "they have a right to be listed, irrespective of any judgment that the Schwann catalog may exercise. Schwann has taken the position that they have no legal obligation to gratuitously list anyone. The charges of impropriety have been denied."

Currently, Schwann has a pending motion to dismiss the action, on the grounds that the court lacks jurisdiction over the subject matter of the complaint and that the complaint failed to state a claim upon which relief can be granted.

MCA & Al Kooper Sign LP Production Pact

LOS ANGELES — Producer-artist Al Kooper will produce acts for MCA Records under an agreement signed between MCA and S. Polly Co., Inc.

MCA will release Kooper-produced albums by The Christopher Morris Band, a four-piece rock group based in L.A., and Peter-John Morse, a singer-songwriter. The Morris Band album is expected for release in July.

This is the second Kooper agreement with MCA in recent years.

Capitol Shows Its Singles Strength With 3 New Golds

LOS ANGELES — Capitol Records is showing its singles strength.

Three singles from the label recently were certified gold in the same week. Those records were "I've Got Love On My Mind" by Natalie Cole, "Southern Nights" by Glen Campbell and "Fly Like An Eagle" by Steve Miller. "Southern Nights" is currently #1 with a bullet on the Cash Box Top 100 Singles chart, while "I've Got Love On My Mind" is in the #3 position. "Fly Like An Eagle" was formerly a #1 single on the CB charts.

Other evidence of Capitol's hot single streak is found on this week's CB Secondary Radio Active List where four singles from the label are included. Those singles are: "Jet Airliner" by Steve Miller, currently #1; "Mainstreet" by Bob Seger, at #2; "Sub Rosa Subway" from Klaatu, at #10 and "High School Dance" by the Sylvers, holding the #12 position.

Miller's "Jet Airliner" also holds the distinction of being this week's Most Added Record on radio on the Cash Box Pop Radio Analysis. With 38 new adds, the single was charted on more radio playlists in one week than any single in the last six months.

Capitol is also responsible for 10 of this week's Top 100 CB Singles, six of which carry bullets.

NYC May Get New Concert Hall; Promoters Buy Broadway Theatre

by Ken Terry

NEW YORK — The Harkness Theatre, recently purchased for a reported seven-figure sum by a group that includes Sid Bernstein and Billy Fields, may soon become a new site for rock concerts in New York.

Speculation is that the Broadway venue might be used by "soft" rock acts like James Taylor, who was recently booked into Radio City Music Hall by Bernstein and Fields (Cash Box, April 2). "Hard" rock at the Harkness seems to be out of the question, judging by adverse neighborhood reaction to such shows at the nearby Beacon Theatre. However, the fact that the Beacon will soon be hosting Weather Report and Little Feat concerts after a five-month hiatus bodes well for a similar use of the Harkness Theatre.

Labelle Was There

The only pop group that has played the Harkness in recent years is Labelle, which headlined at the theatre for a week last year. Nevertheless, according to Theodore Bartwink, manager of the Harkness, the crowd at that event behaved very well. "With Labelle, there was the highest caliber decorum, both in and outside the theatre. It was worse when 'Ipi Tombi' (an African musical considered racist by many blacks) was there."

The Harkness has been dark inside since "Ipi Tombi" closed on February 13, and Bartwink cited insufficient use of the theatre as one factor in Rebecca Harkness' decision to sell the property. In addition, he noted, the Harkness found it difficult to compete with nearby Avery Fisher Hall and Carnegie Hall, both tax-exempt institutions.

Even the Beacon Theatre, Bartwink contended, wasn't as heavily taxed as the Harkness. "We got hit because we were right in front of Lincoln Center."

Jules Lokin, co-principal of New Audiences, the promotion firm which is bringing Weather Report and Little Feat to the Beacon, declared that he would welcome rock concerts at the Beacon. "I think it's good for the industry to have as much competition as possible," he said, noting that, in his opinion, concert promotion has become concentrated in too few hands in New York. "It makes life difficult for the rest of us."

Lokin pointed out that the seating capacity of the Harkness Theatre is only 1170, compared to 2600 for the Beacon, 2700 for Avery Fisher Hall and 2800 for Carnegie Hall. "They're going to be extremely limited as to the kind of acts they can bring in."

Nixon's Lawyers Fight For Tapes In D.C. Hearing

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Arguments before the Supreme Court over custody of Richard Nixon's White House tapes continued last week as attorneys for the former President contended Nixon should be the sole judge of what is and what isn't his personal property.

The hearing was the first since January, when lawyers representing ABC, CBS, NBC, Public Broadcasting Service, the Radio & Television News Directors Association and Warner Communications submitted a detailed plan for the distribution of the material as cassettes or tapes (Cash Box, Jan. 22). No decision is expected until late June.

Nixon's lawyers, Herbert Miller, Jr., and Nathan Lewin, contend the Presidential Recordings and Materials Act is unconstitutional. That act, created as a result of the Watergate scandals, gives the General Services Administration (of the executive branch) authority to impound, screen and control all historical materials and tapes from the Nixon administration. According to Nixon's attorneys, that violates constitutional separation of powers among the three branches of government. If it is upheld, they argued, in the future Congress could use the act to delve into the justices' personal papers or into privileged White House documents.

Attorney for the government, Solicitor General Wade McCree, said federal archivists ought to sift through the Nixon material to sort personal from official property and, he said, Nixon is entitled to the return of his personal property.

ON A&M RECORDS & TAPES

picks of the week

BARRY MANILOW (Arista 0244)

Looks Like We Made It (3:29) (Irving — BMI) (Kerr, Jennings)

Following the top ten "Weekend In New England," Manilow offers a stately ballad with a sad story. With production by Manilow and Ron Dante, this cut from the "This One's For You" album reverberates with a gargantuan choir that pushes to a towering, dynamic finale. Will reach for the heights on the pop chart as well.

ROSE ROYCE (MCA 40721)

I'm Going Down (3:37) (Duchess — MBI) (Whitfield)

Another side of "Car Wash" emerges with this bluesy love song, an intense female lead vocal with dramatic dynamic shifts between the quiet loneliness of the verses and the blasting horns of the chorus. Seems like a good bet for R&B and pop success.

DETROIT EMERALDS (Westbound/Atlantic 55401)

Feel The Need (3:02) (Bridgeport — BMI) (Tilmon)

The first single in a new label partnership features a group whose smooth vocal blend is reminiscent of the Spinners. Dulcet string and horn sections in catchy ascending patterns complete the simmering sound of a mellow record headed for R&B stations adds.

IGUANA (UA XW982)

Dream Song (3:22) (Goblet — BMI) (Falk)

Dreamy is the best word to describe this song's airy harmonies, floating along on waves of acoustical guitar. A subtle use of sound effects leaves room for appreciation of pleasing melodic plateaus in this cut from "The Winds Of Alamar."

NORMAN CONNORS (Buddah 570)

Once I've Been There (3:30) (Hot Stuff — BMI) (Mitchell)

From Connors' "Romantic Journey" LP, this single features the vocal and songwriting talents of Philip Mitchell in a cooking, big band arrangement. Mitchell's high-reaching voice lends freshness to the Connors sound, offering great possibilities for R&B and disco programming.

JUSTIN HAYWARD (Dream/London 7542)

Country Girl (3:33) (Justunes — ASCAP) (Hayward)

One of the cuts from Hayward's "Songwriter" album most favored by FM programmers, this record combines catchy rhythmic refrains with harmonized melodic turns. Like many of the Moody Blues' recordings, this has the quality of envelopment in a fine mist.

ESSENCE (Epic/Cleveland Int'l. 50377)

Relax, It's Just Like Dancin' (3:15) (Bald Medusa/Wil-Roc — ASCAP) (Peterik)

"Little bit of rhythm and a whole lot of soul" is this song's most self-descriptive line. It's a slow ballad that juxtaposes dulcet male and female leads with pillowy harmonies. Standout sound effects from the vibes and chimes complete this group's best effort to date.

NILS LOFGREN (A&M 1927)

I Came To Dance (3:04) (Almo/Helmar — ASCAP) (Lofgren)

Lofgren's individual approach is embodied in this title cut from his latest LP. Streams of sizzling guitar weave through all the tracks and the chorus brims with enthusiasm and energy. A few lyric lines sound forced, but the spirit is there.

TYRONE DAVIS (Columbia 10528)

This I Swear (3:34) (Buttermilk Sky/Content/Alynn — BMI) (Graham)

Davis follows up a ballad with a shift up in tempo, preserving the uncluttered style that puts him in the R&B mainstream. The emphasis is his relaxed, personable vocal statement, which the instrumental and vocal arrangements enhance rather than obscure.

NITE CITY (20th Century 2336)

Midnight Queen (3:26) (Bauhaus — ASCAP) (Sugerman, Manzarek, James)

The debut single from the recent album by Ray Manzarek's new band is thus far recognized as his best post-Morrison/Doors experiment. This is heavy, hammering rock and roll, with an emphasis on overdriven guitars and vocal harmonies that suit high volume music. Not for the mellow sound.

STEVE MILLER BAND (Capitol 4424)

Jet Airliner (3:20) (Sailor/No Through — ASCAP) (Pena)

The platinum mine called "Fly Like An Eagle" has finally been closed as a source of hit singles with the top five success of its title track, and the release of this preview of the forthcoming LP, "Book Of Dreams." This one has the best of Miller's past and present, including impeccable harmonies and a deep guitar arrangement that pumps along steadily. Still flying to the top chartwise.

DARYL HALL & JOHN OATES (RCA 10970)

Back Together Again (3:23) (Unichappell — BMI) (Oates)

A flowing introduction belies the syncopated phrases that are the foundation of this record's layered verses. Some striking instrumental effects, including an unaccompanied section of cellos worthy of a late sixties Beatles production. Following a number one, "Rich Girl," this is one of their most progressive experiments. A strong shot to crossover to the R&B market as well.

DAVID SOUL (Private Stock 150)

Going In With My Eyes Open (3:59) (Almo/Macaulay — ASCAP) (Macaulay)

With a number one debut single, "Don't Give Up On Us," Soul proved his musical talents were a cut above those of the vast majority of TV stars who've taken to vinyl lately. His voice retains the vulnerable quality that attracted listeners to the last hit on this selection from his first album.

THELMA HOUSTON (Tamla/Motown T54283F)

If It's The Last Thing I Do (3:08) (Chappell & Co. Inc. — ASCAP) (S. Cahn, Sir C. Chaplin)

Thelma's comeback tune was a disco smash but this one has her sweetly seducing the ear with a breezy and smooth ballad skillfully sung over a big band sound replete with bouncy brass and silky strings. The floating quality of this tune should make it a welcome addition to a variety of playlists.

CECILIO & KAPONO (Columbia 10530)

I Love You (3:08) (Seacap — ASCAP) (Cecilio)

This duo from Hawaii continues to develop its acoustically-based sound with a favored track from "Night Music." They sometimes call Seals & Crofts to mind in their use of vocal harmonies and the orchestra.

KENNY RANKIN (Little David/Atlantic 735)

On And On (2:51) (Stephen Bishop — BMI) (Bishop)

This edited cut from "The Kenny Rankin Album" is a Stephen Bishop song of mildly West Indian flavor, delivered in Rankin's distinctive, smoothly curving tones. Don Costa's orchestration emphasizes a slightly jazzy feeling with darting strings. Good shots at pop and MOR.

SEAWIND (CTI 35)

The Devil Is A Liar (3:24) (Sojourn/Seawind — BMI) (Wilson)

Scat-influenced vocals preserve the jazz flavor of this commercial offering from the debut album of this fusion band. Aggressive instrumentals create a lively quality that could attract programmers of various formats.

BRENDA & THE TABULATIONS (Chocolate City/Casablanca 009)

(I'm A) Superstar (3:37) (Midsong/John Davis — ASCAP) (Davis)

"Dreams can come true" seems to be the thrust here, though the good and bad sides of the eventual reality are explored. A forbidding hardness in John Davis' rhythm section and chanting refrains should attract R&B stations here. From an act that's seen the ups and downs.

RALPH MacDONALD (Marlin 2202)

Jam On The Groove (3:00) (Antisia — ASCAP) (MacDonald, Salter)

Disco's will immediately take to the funky synthesizer lines of this steady snapping instrumental. A whimsical MacDonald percussion solo, complete with whistles, squeakers and pie plates, brings this Latin-influenced number to a rattling close.

BOBBY VINTON (ABC 12265)

Only Love Can Break A Heart (2:54) (Arch — ASCAP) (Bacharach, David)

Vinton's version of Bacharach and David's well-known song is a straight interpretation, filled out with layers of strings and backing vocals. Initial reaction should be very strong at the MOR level, with possibilities of pop adds. From the album "The Name Is Love."

UTOPIA (Bearsville/WB 0317)

Communion With The Sun (3:38) (Earmark — BMI) (Rundgren)

An edited track from "Ra," this single is typical of producer Todd Rundgren's all-sides sonic attack. This will find its most immediate acceptance with the progressive stations, but the vocal and guitar harmonies here provide an accessibility that should bring in top 40 adds.

LEON & MARY RUSSELL (Paradise/WB 8369)

Love Crazy (3:14) (Teddy Jack — BMI) (Russell)

That mixture of earthy blues and space music could only be Leon Russell, and this single goes further with a channel hopping mix that is dizzying in effect. A creative piece of production that will be most at home with the more progressive formats.

THE NIGHTS (ABC 12266)

Country Girl (3:59) (Bar Mass — BMI) (Johnson, Satchell, Massey)

A slow ballad much in the Stylistics mold, pairing a far-reaching falsetto lead with a shimmering string arrangement. Luxuriant harmonies and a spoken section emphasizing the youthful love theme are the strong points. For R&B playlists.

MARTEE LBOUS (Image/Audiofidelity 3011)

Fallin' In And Out Of Love (3:47) (Inspiration — ASCAP) (Lebous)

In this first single from "The Lady Wants To Be A Star" LP, Ms. Lebous has given her soulful side full reign as she puts her voice through tremendous jumps in range, texture and volume. The rhythm section cooks along with squawking clavinetts and a string upbeat from the drums, constantly setting up for the chorus' memorable return.

JOE SIMON (Spring/Polydor 172)

You Don't Have To Play No Games (3:30) (Muscle Shoals — BMI) (Weaver)

Simon's voice retains its soothing quality, but he has beefed up the percussion and backing vocal strength on this single tailored for the dance floor. Clever riffing from the bass adds interest to the beat.

AMERICAN FLYER (UA XW984)

Spirit Of A Woman (2:30) (United Artists/Glasco — ASCAP, Cu'chulainn — BMI) (Kaz, Fuller)

Propelled by an undulating wall of acoustical guitars, this meandering melody is dressed with country harmonies. Will make its first big dent at the FM stations, and its subtleties could come through at top 40.

GLORIA GAYNOR (Polydor 14391)

Most Of All (3:20) (Arista/Diamond Touch — ASCAP) (Diamond)

An edit from the long album version, this single finds Ms. Gaynor's normally steamrolling voice buried beneath a kittenish female chorus. The few spots where her voice emerges provide the best moments, though the overall glossy production may sit well with certain programmers.

DELLA REESE (Chi-Sound/UA XW978)

Nothing But A True Love (3:52) (Can-Tau — ASCAP) (Reese)

Ms. Reese puts her distinctive voice to an original composition in this cool swing number arranged for a big orchestra. For MOR stations and all outlets with jazzy leanings.

ALBUM REVIEWS

A PERIOD OF TRANSITION — Van Morrison — Warner Bros. BS 2987 — Producer: Van Morrison & Mac Rebennack — List: 6.98

After 2½ years away from active recording, Van is back with a solid but distinctively different collection of original compositions. His incomparable vocal style is still present but there is a R&B flavoring throughout that lends a healthy dose of funk to this long-awaited LP. AOR, top 40 and varied playlists will join in saying "Welcome back."

V.S.O.P. — Herbie Hancock — Columbia PG 34688 — Producer: David Rubinson & Friends Inc. — List: 7.98

Last summer's Newport Jazz Festival was the occasion for Hancock to team up with some of the world's foremost jazz musicians and collaborate on this tasty two-album set. He calls the three bands who play here funk groups because of their fusion of jazz and funk. But verbal descriptions cannot adequately describe the spirit of this all-star cast production. For jazz, AOR and R&B playlists.

OL' WAYLON — Waylon Jennings — RCA APL1-2317 — Producer: Chips Moman — List: 6.98

Pop's growing acceptance of both jazz and country artists coincides with Waylon's most pop-flavored LP to date. But Waylon, one of the original "outlaw" country singers, has not compromised his down-home roots but expanded his range to capture an audience already won over by the likes of Kristofferson and other crossover artists. This one's for C&W, top 40, AOR and some easy listening playlists.

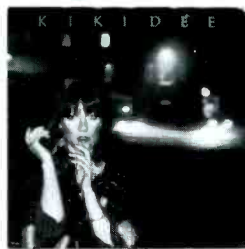

TIME LOVES A HERO — Little Feat — Warner Bros. BS 3015 — Producer: Ted Templeman — List: 6.98

The six members of Little Feat are anything but predictable, and few bands are blessed with their versatility, which has never been so amply displayed as on this album. Produced for the first time by Ted Templeman, the band's clean and polished sound gets an additional kick with the Tower of Power horn section. For AOR and top 40 playlists.

FRIENDS AND STRANGERS — Ronnie Laws — Blue Note/UA BN-LA730-H — Producer: Wayne Henderson — List: 7.98

Ronnie Law's third LP for Blue Note continues the direction that he established early on — the fusion of rock and jazz, which other artists have emulated with some success. Laws' reeds lead the band but stress balance over domination in a melodic and accessible piece of work that should find a place on jazz, R&B and AOR playlists.

KIKI DEE — Kiki Dee — Rocket/MCA PIG-2257 — Producer: Elton John & Clive Franks — List: 6.98

The only thing familiar about the "new" Kiki Dee is her voice, for she has both amplified and expanded her field of expertise with the aid of some exemplary production and the help of some talented friends who stopped in to play on this one. If she had not yet arrived as a major musical force, that achievement cannot be far away once word gets around. A solid pick for AOR, top 40 and MOR programmers.

DON'T STOP THE MUSIC — Brecker Brothers — Arista 4122 — Producer: Jack Richardson — List: 6.98

It is an infrequent occurrence when those artists proficient in jazz open themselves to playing to the ubiquitous disco beat. But the Brecker siblings eschew such artificial boundaries on this jazz-dominated but musically diverse LP. There are suitable cuts for disco, jazz and AOR playlists.

INDIAN SUMMER — Poco — ABC AB 989 — Producer: Poco and Mark Henry Harman — List 6.98.

Old-time Poco fans will be mildly surprised at the sound they hear from the grooves of this new album. The old familiar foot-stompin' style has mellowed considerably and there is a greater emphasis on strings and horns and a more polished orchestrated sound. Its all original material and quite commercial but signals a significant departure from the past. For AOR and top 40 playlists.

LIVE N' KICKIN' — Kingfish — Jet/UA JT-LA732-G — Producer: Matthew Kelly & Dave Torbert — List: 6.98

Bob Weir's obvious influence has enabled this group to combine the best of the Grateful Dead's vocal and guitar style with the band's basic rock and roll roots to form a nearly perfect marriage that avoids the sometimes endless jamming of the Dead. Though recorded live, the production is cleaner and more successful than most live LPs and should insure wider air-play. For AOR and top 40 programmers.

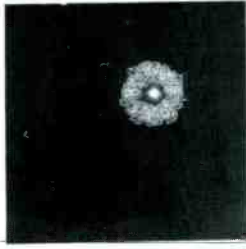

HOW'S TRICKS — The Jack Bruce Band — RSO RS-1-3021 — Producer: Bill Halverson — List: 6.98

It's been hard to live down the expectations of another Cream that have plagued Bruce's various musical involvements since the super group disbanded. But this time he has taken a giant step out of the sixties time warp by emphasizing both light jazz and hard rock, often in the same cut (e.g. "Times"). Bruce's new band is the perfect prescription for chronic deja vu blues. For top 40 and AOR playlists.

BROWNSVILLE STATION — Brownsville Station — Private Stock OGPS-2026 — Producer: Eddie Kramer — List: 6.98

Tight, brash and uncompromising rock and roll is their forte and they promise not to make you think, get involved or become spiritual. But if you like it loud, sassy and simple, this quartet has just the right sound to test your stereo equipment. No punk rockers these guys, Brownsville Station gets the point across without drowning it in over-amplification. For top 40 and AOR playlists.

REFLECTIONS IN BLUE — Bobby Bland — ABC AB-1018 — Producer: Steve Barri — List 6.98

From the man whose middle name used to be "Blue" comes a hot new blues package done up in a contemporary style that, on some cuts, is even suitable for dancing. But there's no compromising here just to be commercial, for Bland still has a number of old-style blues numbers that even purists would find it hard to quarrel with. For R&B, AOR and some top 40 playlists.

MAD LOVE — Golden Earring — MCA 2254 — Producer: Golden Earring — List: 6.98

Having already achieved a measure of commercial success with their "Radar Love" hit, Golden Earring now has the freedom to expand and experiment, which they do with this album aimed at the more sophisticated AOR market. With a more mellow acoustic touch here and a pedal steel guitar there, the Dutch exports have obviously put a lot of work into production perfection. For AOR and some top 40 playlists.

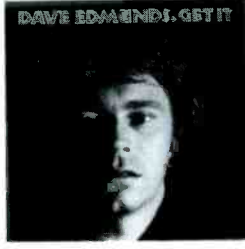

CAROLE BAYER SAGER — Carole Bayer Sager — E/A 7E-1100 — Producer: Brooks Arthur — List: 6.98

She's had a string of hits but up till now they've all been sung by other people. But after some gentle cajoling by perceptive friends, Carole went into the studio scared and uncertain about what to expect. Worries were unnecessary, however, because this is a strikingly talented and feeling woman whose singing debut is a pleasant surprise for all of us. For top 40 and MOR playlists.

ELEVEN SIDES OF BAKER — Ginger Baker & Friends — Sire/Mountain/ABC 7532 — Producer: Ginger Baker — List: 6.98

Like a favorite movie, this album reveals more of itself with each listening, and proves that the title is not at all misleading. Every song is distinctively different from the others and even though the pervading influence is rock, you'll be surprised at the musical bases Baker & Co. touch on in this album. For AOR and top 40 playlists.

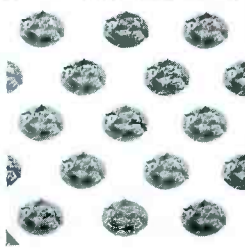

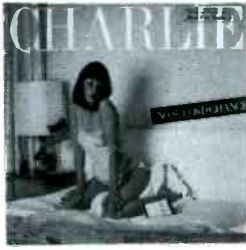

GET IT — Dave Edmunds — Swan Song/Atlantic SS 8418 — Producer: Dave Edmunds — List: 6.98

The guitar of Elvis, the rambunctious energy of Jerry Lee Lewis and the harmonies of the Everly Brothers is a good place to start describing this great and nostalgic tribute to the sounds that made a whole generation shake and shimmy back then. There's a touch of country too and a Beach Boys sounding tune but if this album does not start you moving like you used to, turn the volume up. For top 40 and AOR playlists.

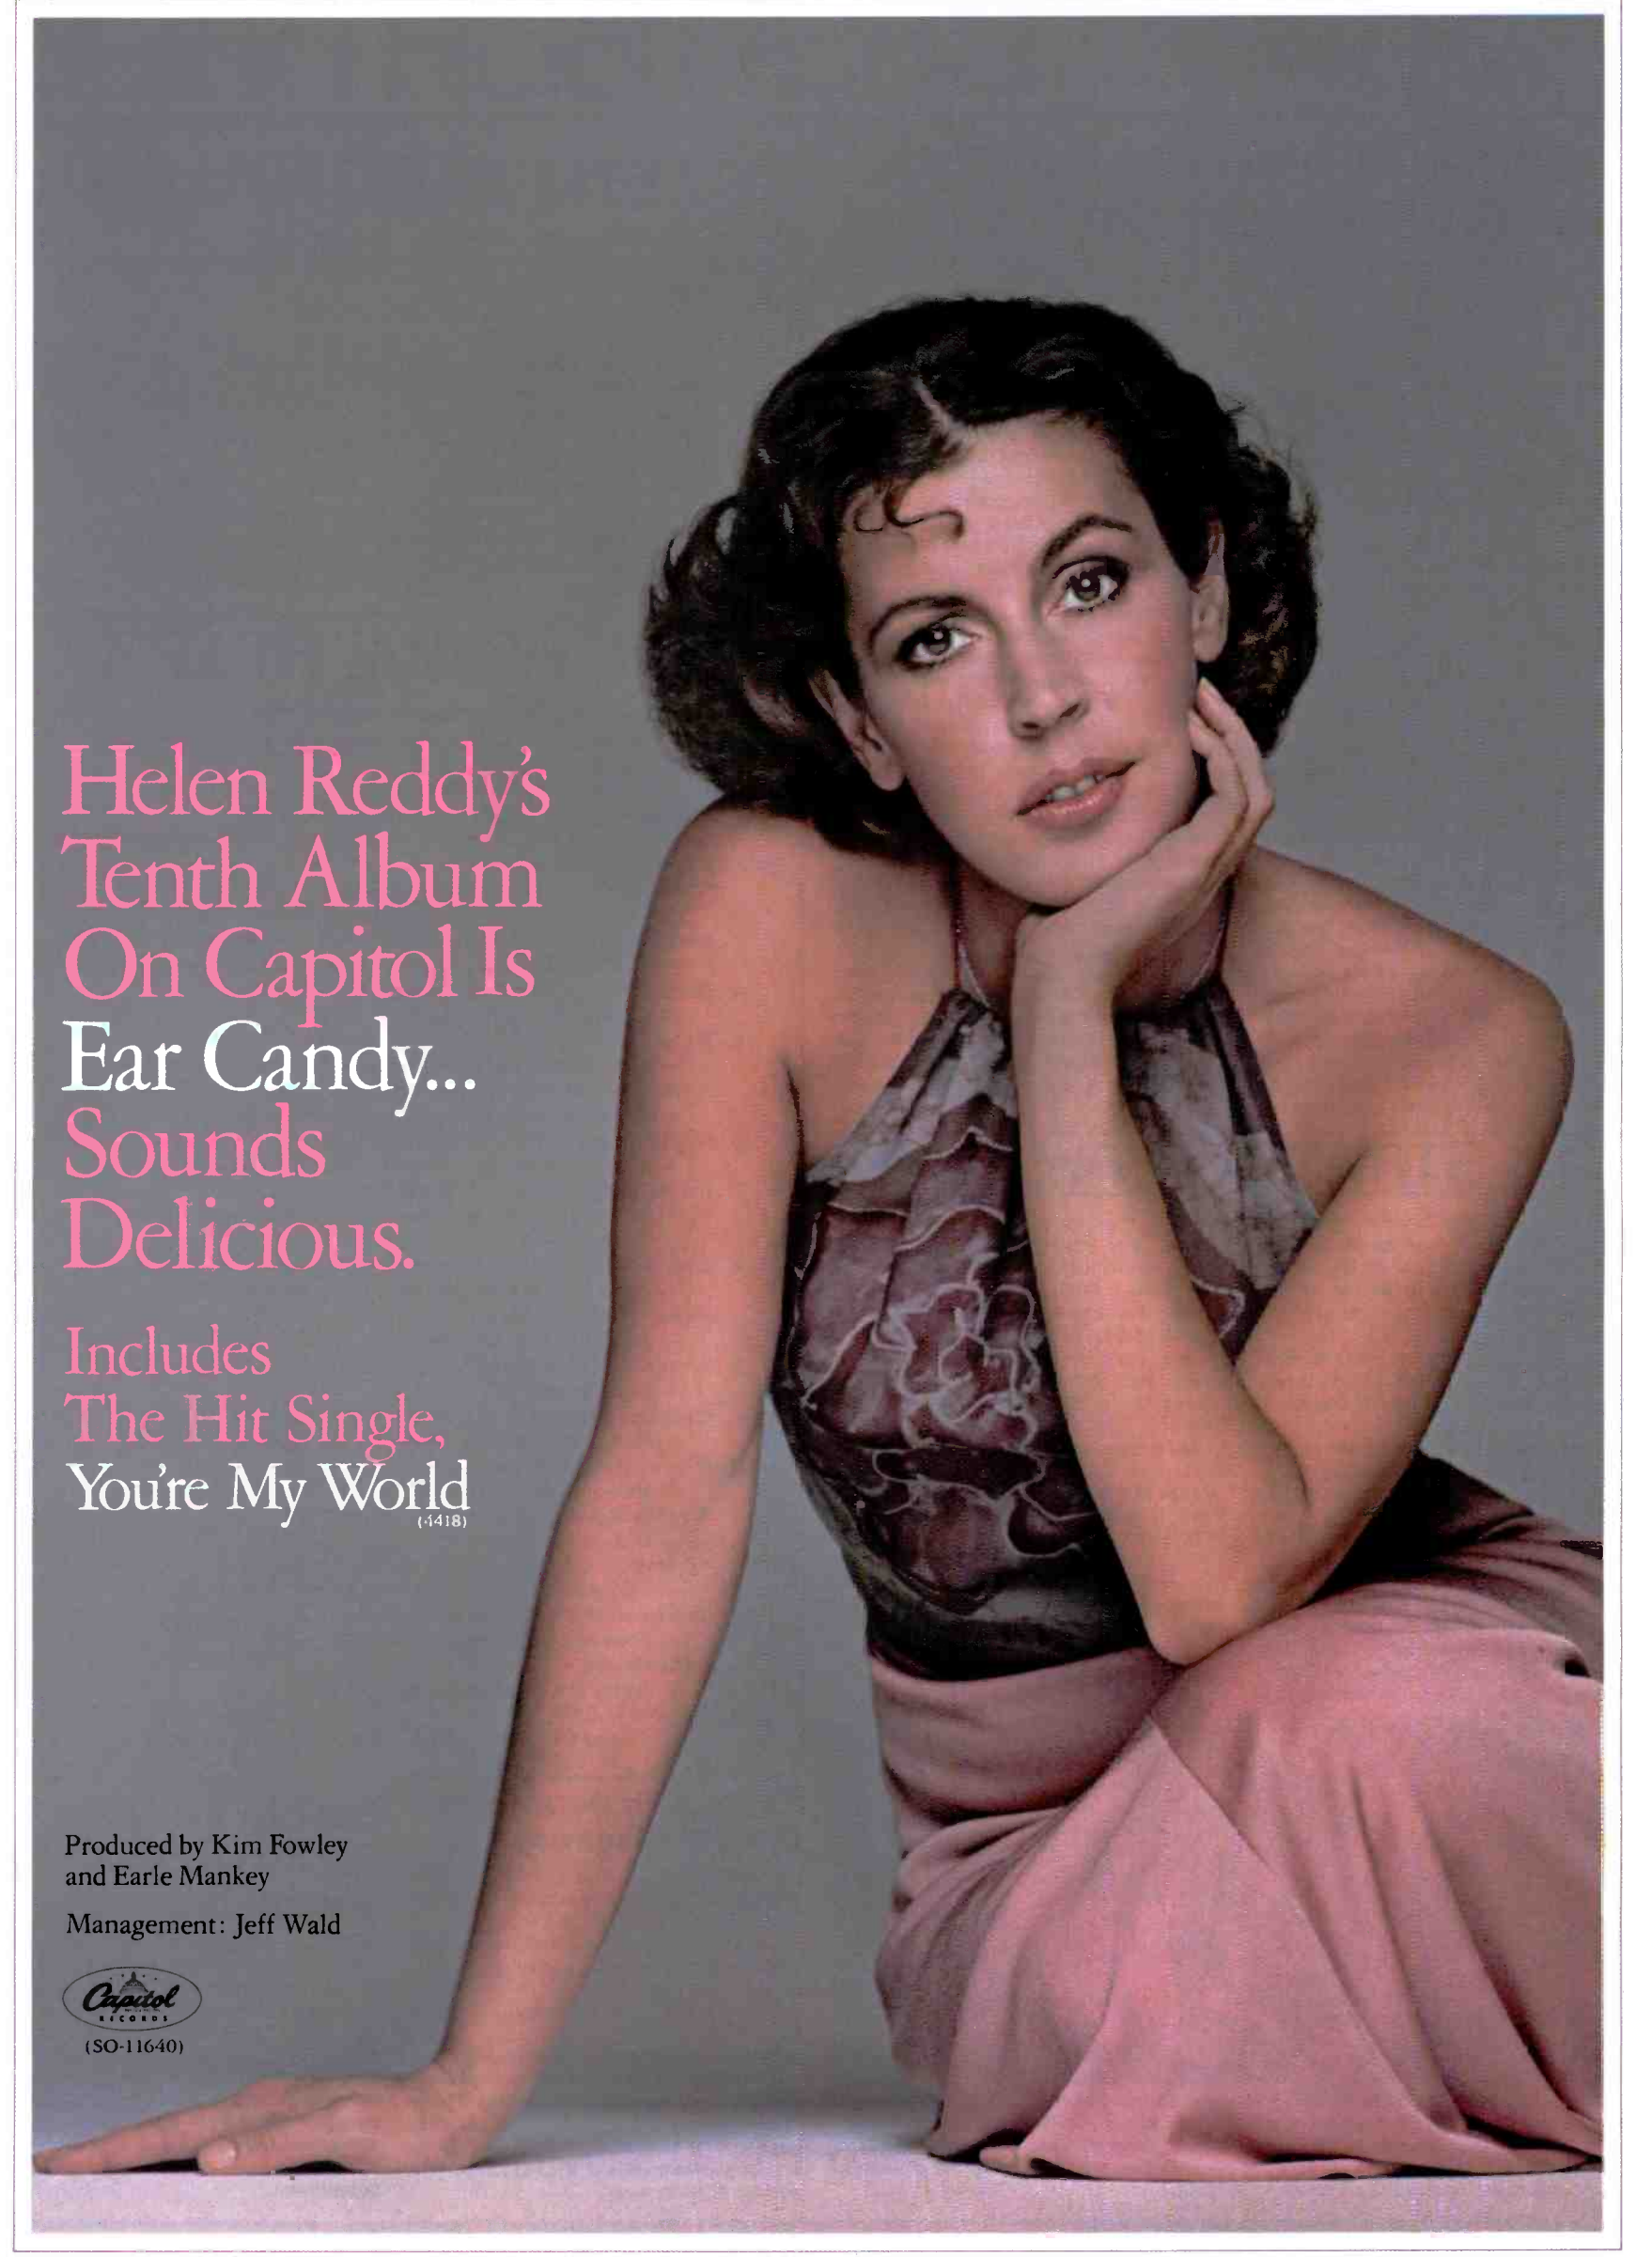

NO SECOND CHANCE — Charlie — Janus JXS-7032 — Producer: Terry Thomas & John Anderson — List: 6.98

With new keyboard man Julian Colbeck on hand, the Charlie quartet is back with an ironically titled follow-up to their debut LP. Their elegant harmonies lighten the unrelenting rhythm of their rock numbers and carry the ballads with grace and feeling. Disciplined and varied, Charlie is a British band that should continue to gain new fans with increased exposure. For AOR and top 40 programmers.

PEACHES & HERB — Peaches & Herb — MCA 2261 — Producer: Van McCoy & Charles Kipps — List: 6.98

It's a new Peaches teamed up with a rejuvenated Herb but the old formula still works in this finely orchestrated album destined for chart action. Changing with the times, Herb and the new Peaches (Linda Green) perform some disco material as well as the more familiar ballad duets, in a complementary performance that should find its way onto disco, R&B and top 40 playlists.

Phoenix In Contest Turmoil; Arbitron Unclear On Course

by Mike Falcon

LOS ANGELES — Contests which may result in increased Arbitron ratings for radio stations, yet do not necessarily reflect actual listening patterns, have presented Arbitron with an impending crisis. The contests, which originally surfaced in the Phoenix area, have spread to the Denver market, and Arbitron, although threatening five courses of remedial action, seems powerless to actually legislate change in this delicate area.

The contests are of the diary or checkbook type, in which listeners write the call letters on a piece of paper and then add the times they listen to the station.

In an effort to persuade KUPD and KRIZ to refrain from continuing contests of this type in the Phoenix area, local broadcasters called a meeting on April 14, which Arbitron vice president Rick Auerichio attended. Most people attending the meeting thought that both KUPD and KRIZ had agreed to pull their promotions, which rewarded listeners for recording increasing amounts of station-listening time with increased amounts of money.

While KRIZ deleted their promotion, holding only a drawing for remaining diary holders, which was not based on listening time, KUPD retained the same contest name, although it no longer offers a reward on a listening-time basis. But both local broadcasters and Arbitron officials think that the retention of the contest name might result in residual ratings inflation. The "KUPD Checkbook" resulted in an Arbitron sticker on the last Phoenix audience es-time, which indicated an unusual contest had been conducted.

Instituted After Complaints

The KRIZ diary contest was instituted only after repeated complaints about the KUPD promo to Arbitron by station management. Since KUPD and KRIZ have similar formats, most broadcasters surveyed by Cash Box in the Phoenix market found the KRIZ contest understandable, although objectionable.

"After the KUPD thing got started, the old general manager of KRIZ went out on a limb and really tried to do something about it," explained Eric Hauenstein, president and general manager of Mesa's KDKB. "but the broadcasters here he talked to didn't do anything and ARB didn't do anything. I wrote letters and called. We all felt that this was the most monumental prostitution of the diary rating service that had ever been done. Well, ARB pooh-poohed it and thought that it would go away. KRIZ did exactly what I would have done under the same circumstances, and they warned about this, threatening to do something unless ARB took the matter into its own hands. After this ARB walks in. Well, KRIZ said they weren't interested in this type of promotion anyhow, and said that if KUPD stopped their checkbook, KRIZ would pull their diary."

While KRIZ program director Alan McLaughlin admitted that he acted in retaliation to what he felt was an unethical action, he told Cash Box, "I was hoping that we could either get rid of this type of contest altogether by drawing attention to it or com-

LOS ANGELES — The $62,000 "Datsun Giveaway" promotion sponsored by Dallas' KLIF has resulted in 30,000 entries for the contest. A $150,000 advertising budget, which covers the cost of television spots, newspaper ads, and more than 125 billboards, has been allocated to ensure saturation exposure.

After a drawing twice weekly, entrants are called on the telephone and asked to name their favorite radio station. Those who respond "KLIF-1190" are told they have won "the keys" to a 1977 Datsun. During the six-week period, the keys to 12 Datsuns are given away.

Phoenix In Contest Turmoil; Arbitron Unclear On Course Of Action

pete on an equal basis. I don't like this type of contest, but since Arbitron will not or cannot do anything to alter the situation, we needed a contest of our own." McLaughlin added that except for album giveaways, KRIZ is now contest-free.

Although all of the broadcasters in the Phoenix market contacted by Cash Box agreed that KUPD had altered their contest by deleting mention of time-logging, KUPD station and sales manager Lloyd Melton was unsure of exactly what wording had been changed. "Auerichio said that what we're doing is perfectly okay," said Melton, "and we've checked all of our wordings and contests and everything else directly with him. If you want to find out exactly what was taken off you'll have to call him, because all the stations are calling him." When informed that Cash Box could transcribe or telephone-tape a recording of the promotional commercial, Melton stated he could not find a copy. He also declined comment on the KUPD practice of naming block numbers as specific "checkbook" search areas.

Connie Anthes, Arbitron press secretary, told Cash Box that Auerichio, who was out of town, "has not approved of anything. We cannot be referees of anything that has to do with contests or we'd be doing it for everyone in the country. Anthes added that residual effects of the KUPD contest would not be known until cross-checking was undertaken in the next few weeks. She added that Arbitron could not take any sort of police action, since it is a business firm, but that it had threatened taking one of the following five actions in regards to the April/May Phoenix report, if unfair promotions continue into the survey period, which started April 14th:

1. Cancellation of the April/May survey and market report.

2. Postpone the survey period until the stations involved discontinue the offensive promotions/contests.

3. Begin the survey period as scheduled on April 14th but exclude from the report listening estimates for the offending stations.

4. Begin the survey period as scheduled but publish the audience estimates for the offending stations in a separate supplement to the local market report, with such report and supplement to be accompanied by a letter to all subscribers; advertisers; advertising agencies; stations and the boards of directors of the Advertising Research Foundation, American Association of Advertising Agencies, Association of National Advertisers, The Broadcast Rating Council, The National Association of Broadcasters, The National Radio Broadcasters Association, The Radio Advertising Bureau, The Radio Task Force Committee and the Station Representatives Association explaining Arbitron's reservations with respect to the reliability of the audience estimates for the offending stations.

5. Conduct the survey and publish the local market report as originally planned including estimates for all stations, but to be accompanied by a letter of the nature described in the preceding paragraph to those parties listed.

These actions were all outlined in an Auerichio letter dated April 12.

Gary Eden, general manager of Phoenix' KOY, lamented the inability of Arbitron to step forcefully into the matter. "If Arbitron doesn't stop it, their entire rating service could be shot. Their product will have no meaning."

In a late development Cash Box learned that KXXK Denver was conducting a contest which rewarded listeners on the basis of listening periods. One other Denver station discontinued a similar promotion.

On Jazz

One of the most enjoyable club appearances we have heard in recent months was Illinois Jacquet & Company, who just finished two weeks at Storyville. Milt Buckner on organ and George Brown on drums provided excellent support, and young guitarist Gray Sargeant played very nice guitar. Jacquet himself was in better shape than at any time we have heard him in recent years. It has been nearly five years since this giant jazzman has made an album in the US. Isn't it about time?

Four new Emarcy reissues have arrived. The most interesting is an album featuring the remaining tracks by the Clifford Brown-Max Roach band. A Sarah Vaughan double of live material also looks delightful. Others are by Dizzy Gillespie and Roland Kirk. Alas, both of these seem to be randomly programmed.

Sunday concerts at the New York Jazz Museum continue. Danny Moore, Junior Mance and Jaki Byard are scheduled for May.

Flutist James Newton has his first album out on the Flute Music Productions label.

Charles Earland and Roy Ayers putting finishing touches on new LPs at Electric Lady Studios in New York.

Red Norvo appearing at Michael's Pub in New York for the next three weeks.

The new Xanadu release shipping May 1 looks very strong with albums by keyboard stars Walter Bishop Jr., Dolo Coker, guitarist Tal Farlow, tenor man Al Cohn and an all-star bash with Dexter Gordon, Blue Mitchell and Barry Harris.

George Benson will headline a remarkable series of concerts in New York, May 6-9. On the 6th, Benson will appear at the Metropolitan Museum of Art with Gabor Szabo, Bucky Pizzarelli and Les Paul in an all-guitar show. The following night he will appear at The Palladium with special guest Minnie Ripperton. On the 8th, he will be at Avery Fisher Hall with The Dance Theatre of Harlem, and to wrap it up he'll head an all-star show at the same location the following night. Set for this latter concert are Joe Sample, Grover Washington, Jr., Harvey Mason, Ralph McDonald and Alphonso Johnson.

Delmark recording artist Edith Wilson (who first recorded in 1921) and Little Brother Montgomery shared the stage for a WTTW-TV show in Chicago.

The latest Biograph album is by Earl Hines and is titled "Solo Walk In Tokyo."

This must have been Dexter Gordon week at Inner City. No less than three LPs (from the famous Steeple Chase series) have arrived. The LPs are: "The Meeting" (with Jackie McLean); "Swiss Nights;" and "More Than You Know."

From MCA comes a double album entitled "Guitar Player," featuring Laurindo Almeida, Irving Ashby, John Collins, Larry Coryell, Herb Ellis, Barney Kessel, BB King, Joe Pass and Lee Ritenour.

A gala benefit concert for the Consortium of Jazz Organizations and Artists, Inc. (CJOA), will be held at the Village Gate on May 16, featuring the Jimmy Owens Quartet, the Charles Rouse Septet, Frank Foster, Andy Bey, Jon Faddis, Ernie Wilkins, Kenny Barron, Billy Taylor, Charles Sullivan, Ken McIntyre, Stella Mars, Onaje Allen Gumbs, Chris White, Charlie Persip, Lisa Atkinson, Sharon Freeman and others. The CJOA is a new service organization for the jazz field.

JAZZ ALBUM PICKS

GEORGE BENSON-JACK MCDUFF — Prestige 24072 — List: 7.98

Although this set includes Benson's first album, the personnel is similar on both dates. Tenorman Red Holloway impresses almost as much as the leaders, and with drummer Joe Dukes they prove to be a remarkably cohesive unit. Benson is a bit tentative, but McDuff provides the strength and on a tune such as Benson's "Rock-A-Bye" everything jells. The result is top-notch jazz in any era.

STOLEN SWEETS — Houston Person — Muse 5110 — Producer: Michael Cuscuna — List: 6.98

Person is a straight-ahead tenor sax man with few frills or fancy stuff. He invariably sounds best in a context that suits his style and he has it here working with his regular band augmented by guitarist Jimmy Ponder. "If Ever I Would Leave You" is a stickout track and the best thing Person has done in five years. The whole album is a honey and should garner strong jazz play.

MOVIN' — Wes Montgomery — Milestone 47040 — List: 7.98

A couple of rare California recordings by the late guitar great. The first album is a studio date notable for Montgomery's use of bass guitar on three titles. The second is a live session with Johnny Griffin, Wynton Kelly, Paul Chambers and Jimmy Cobb. These sides rank with the best Wes, and the accompaniment is beyond category. Guitar fans should turn out strongly for this one.

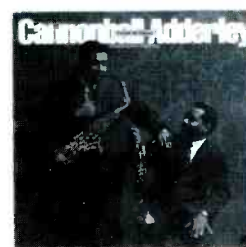

THE WOODY SHAW CONCERT ENSEMBLE — Muse 5139 — Producer: Michael Cuscuna — List: 6.98

With each week that passes it becomes more obvious that Shaw is the trumpet player for the times. His monster chops, his bittersweet lyricism and his lightning execution come together on this album recorded live in Berlin. Alas, the other soloists are not in his class and the songs run far too long. Still the album should be heard for Shaw.

ELEGANT GYPSY — Al DiMeola — Columbia 34461 — Producer: Al DiMeola — List: 6.98

Ex-RTF guitarist DiMeola had a smash with his first album last year, and this one should improve upon that. Lots of heavies here (Jan Hammer, Anthony Jackson, Lenny White) but it is the leader's show. There are lots of diverse elements in his playing and he goes acoustic and electric as well as doubling on various synthesizers. Should be a star performer in this very heavy Columbia release.

COAST TO COAST — Cannonball Adderley — Milestone 47039 — List: 7.98

The first album in this set is the one that really launched Adderley. Bobby Timmons' "This Here" was a tremendous hit which created a lot of criticism directed against the band and the hit. It all seems irrelevant now and the music stands up quite well seventeen years later. The other disc is from The Village Vanguard in 1962 and the group had Yusef Lateef and Joe Zawinul aboard. This one was greeted favorably as we suspect this reissue will be.

EAST COASTINGS IN LONDON — TRICKS AT THE VIC — The new Jack Bruce Band wound up its first European tour with a one-band appearance at London's New Victoria Theatre on April 15, presenting an appreciative crowd with two sets spanning nearly ten years of Bruce's career as a bassist, vocalist, multi-instrumentalist and composer. Opening with the devil-may-care images of "Madhouse" from their new RSO album "How's Tricks," the group offered new products of Jack Bruce's longstanding relationship with lyricist Peter Brown, such as the moving "Without A Word" and "Times," with a writing contribution by band guitarist Hughie Burns. The struggling high harmonies of the latter number recalled Cream's "I Feel Free," and of course, the audience contained its share of die-hard Cream fanatics, who were most pleased by updated, dynamically controlled versions of "Born Under A Bad Sign" and "Sunshine Of Your Love." Because Bruce's stage appearances have been rare in the past few years, however, the treats of the show were songs from his second solo album, "Harmony Row," including "You Burned The Tables On Me," "Smiles And Grins," and one of the most demented blues arrangements ever recorded, "A Letter Of Thanks," which paused and changed time signatures under the careful guidance of Simon Phillips at the drums and Tony Hymas on mixed keyboards. In an exclusive interview the day after the show, Bruce expressed total satisfaction with the writing, recording and playing environment afforded by the new band, an experience not equalled since his short stint as bassist with Lifetime, the band led by Tony Williams at the beginning of the decade, which included John McLaughlin and Larry Young. While that band was prototypical of fusion music or jazz-rock, Bruce's new band allows room for extended improvisation as well as the showcasing of his rock, blues, ballad and other eclectic leanings. He will, however, continue to record solo albums, playing keyboards, acoustical guitar and possibly reviving his work with the cello. A very humble Bruce gave one clue to his achievement of an original style in all musical efforts: "I felt from early on that it was important not to listen to everything, to fill your head with music — but to stay with what I considered the best. I think that's why the things I write are sort of personal. . . . What I'm trying to do, in my small way, is create worthwhile things." The Jack Bruce Band will begin touring the U.S. in late May or early June.

MEANWHILE, AT THE FRONT — While Bruce's concert was attended by former percussion associates Ginger Baker and Mitch Mitchell, his lyric writer, Pete Brown, was playing his own music at a dank restaurant cellar in Convent Gardens called the Rock Garden. His band, Back To Front, shows a funky jazz influence and calls Steely Dan to mind at its best moments. As Brown rapped, sang and played percussion during the set, he demonstrated that the railroad fetish revealed in his lyrics for "White Room," which he dedicated to Bruce that evening, is but part of a long-standing and yet uncured fixation.

RIDING THE WAVES — Though any clear thinker would have to concur with Mick (not a Foreigner) Jones of The Glash, who told New Musical Express of "punk" or "new wave" rock: "Call it what you want — all the terms stink," England is currently peaking in its appreciation of bands that fall into that loose category. This has resulted in a shot in the arm for the London club scene, with new talent abounding at traditional hangouts like the Marquee, the Roxy Club (where a standby of Max's Kansas City in New York, Wayne County, was appearing in mid-April) and the Nashville, a club that offers country as well as rock. The British record companies have also recently exhibited a "bandwagon behavior" similar to what occurred in New York City a few months back, as A&R departments seemed to suddenly lose their inhibitions about signing denizens of Max's and CBGB's. In the wake of EMI and A&M Records intriguing experiences with the Sex Pistols, the U.K. labels have introduced their entries in the search for the "new wave" band that will attain commercial acceptance. The Clash, characterized by a defiance that is quite sophisticated in its expressions of political and social awareness, have just come out with a debut LP on CBS U.K., while CBS has reportedly signed the Vibrators. Harvest Records has released an album by The Straps on the basis of favorable reaction to a single. Island has set its store by Eddie And The Hot Rods and The Damned (both of which will be pushed in the States) as well as a new group called Ultravox. Nasty Pop, signed to Polydor in England, seems to live up to its name with a strong dash of conventional commercialism, while The Strangers, currently recording on U.A. Records of Britain and headlining London concerts, are appealing more to psychedelic tastes. In most cases, the American record companies have yet to firm plans to import these projects of their British affiliates.

REGGAE FEVER — Bob Marley's London concerts of last year, and other reggae shows, resulted in reported incidents of thievery and vandalism and resulted in reggae being banned from the Hammersmith Odeon and the Wembley Empire Pool. Though these restrictions are difficult to support, the theaters retained their privilege to refuse to book Marley for this summer's tour. He will appear at the Rainbow Theatre on June 1. Marley and The Wailers' next Island album "Exodus," will be released in England May 21. . . . Boxer has reformed with new members under Mike Patlo. . . . Roger Daltrey's next solo album, "One Of The Boys," will include performances by Eric Clapton, Alvin Lee, Mick Ronson, Jimmy McCulloch, Rod Argent and the Who's John Entwistle. . . . Neil Diamond's five high-priced shows at the London Palladium have sold out. . . . The British Record industry will begin to make awards to artists and producers and other outstanding figures in conjunction with the Queen's Silver Jubilee and the centenary of recorded sound. These "Britannia Awards" will first be presented at a televised ceremony on October 19.

POINTS WEST — CAGEY CANUCK BLOWS KLAATU KOVER — WWDC program director Dwight Douglas in Washington became the enterprising reporter when he revealed that Klaatu is not a band of secretly recording Beatles, but four Toronto session men who recorded the album in Canada last year. Douglas consulted copyright records to discover the identity of the band which he revealed as: John Woloschuk (aka L.M. Carpenter and Chip Dale), Cary Draper, David Long and Dino Tome. According to an L.A. Times story, Douglas took on the project because "the big top 40 stations were playing the record and passing along the rumor — and the kids were buying it under the impression that these guys were really the Beatles, and that just wasn't right". . . . Rick Dees has been named 1977 grand marshal of the Memphis Cotton Carnival which runs April 30 through May 7. . . . Surprise of the week: Arbitron Television has announced that video game usage in New York and Los Angeles is heaviest during prime time. Heaviest usage for New York studied households was on Thursday evenings, with Angelinos favoring Saturday night. . . . Warner Bros. Music is still negotiating for the purchase of Belwyn Music. . . . A&M SAYS "OH YEAH?" TO LOCAL FUND DRIVE — The Los Angeles Free Clinic, famous the world over for the services it has provided in the past 10 years, received a considerable boost in this year's fund drive when A&M president Gil Friesen directed his creative services department to design and provide the materials for a major advertising campaign. The theme of the campaign is "Oh Yeah?" and is the answer to the often heard complaint that L.A. is a cold impersonal town where nobody cares. The theme is amplified in a series of 4 different black/white print ads, billboard art and 30 and 60 second radio spots, recorded by comedian Jimmy Walker, who donated his services to the project. As further proof that the clinic

Chick Corea's Return To Forever

SANTA MONICA CIVIC — Another chapter in the musical history of Chick Corea's Return To Forever unfolded brilliantly during a three-hour set at the Santa Monica Civic. The group has gone through some protean changes since its inception in late 1971, including the departure last year of guitarist Al DiMeola and drummer Lenny White, but the basic elements — drawn from jazz, rock, latin and classical music — continue to please.

The latest edition of RTF is certainly the largest (nine pieces) and most diverse. In addition to Corea and coleader Stanley Clarke, it features Joe Farrell on reeds and flute, Gayle Moran on keyboards and vocals and a four-piece brass section. The latter adds texture and coloring to the soaring exchanges between Corea and Clarke, which are the band's trademark.

The recently enlisted personnel were showcased sparingly, with the exception of Moran, a versatile performer who displayed a sparkling soprano on Corea's "Musicmagic" and Clarke's "Hello Again" and considerable dexterity throughout the evening on various keyboards. In a solo capacity, she moved to the acoustic piano to sing and play her own composition, "Do You Ever."

Farrell's return to the group is especially astute in that his nimble soprano sax fits in perfectly with some of Chick's synthesized keyboard sounds. Switching to tenor, Farrell brought the audience to its feet with some tasty licks on Corea's "Serenade."

A master of both the upright and electric bass, Stanley Clarke has a magnetic stage presence not unlike many of today's premier rock stars. If audience response is any indication, he is clearly the most charismatic member of the group.

The many highlights included Corea's acoustic piano introduction to "Spanish Fantasy" and a pair of Clarke compositions dedicated to Mickey Mouse, complete with Disney slides in the background. Farrell's tenor solo also stood out, despite a minor amplification problem that initially detracted from his superb tone.

A representative of the mayor's office presented a scroll proclaiming Good Friday as Chick Corea Day in Los Angeles. After accepting, Chick teamed up with Stanley for the first encore — a duet for acoustic piano and upright bass. When the audience demanded a second encore, the entire band returned for a spirited reprise of "Musicmagic."

Procol Harum/Walter Egan

SANTA MONICA CIVIC AUDITORIUM AND CRESCENDO, ANAHEIM — One of the most impressive aspects of Procol Harum's concerts here was not in what any of the individual band members did, but in how well they functioned as a unit.

Rather than attempting to make the audience constantly aware of his every move, each member of the group remained in the background until it came time for a solo. Pete Solley, for instance, contributed a superb organ solo on "Conquistador," but throughout the rest of the song, and most of the show, his keyboard work complemented, rather than overshadowed, Gary Brooker's unique lead vocals.

Most of the songs they performed from the new "Something Magic" album are in much the same tradition as the group's earlier works. The title tune, for example, is an excellent showcase of Brooker's now-famous classical-rock style. But "Strangers In Space," on the other hand, is slightly different from anything Procol has done before because of its open, spacey feel which is largely due to Solley's unusual handling of the synthesizer. B.J. Wilson's drumming, too, has the perfect grand, orchestral sound that often brings out the fullness and drive of many songs without becoming the central element.

Now in its 10th year, Procol Harum also showed it can build suspense and tension in a song better than almost anyone. "A Salty Dog" begins unobtrusively, but builds chorus by chorus until it virtually explodes in the final verse.

Even though the song has been performed with an orchestra, both on record and live, the five-piece band was able to deliver all the power of those earlier performances almost nine years after the song was written.

The shows offered a good balance of old and new material, with five songs taken from the new album and better than half drawn from the last three. The early material included the 10-year-old "A Whiter Shade Of Pale" as well as "Homburg" and "Simple Sister."

Walter Egan opened the Santa Monica show with an uptempo collection of youth-oriented material, featuring a wry slap at disco, a tribute to the California car culture and a sultry celebration of adolescent libido. Accenting the youth theme, Egan brought along the cheerleaders who adorn his just released debut album, and who added a clever touch of zestful exuberance to a lively unpretentious set.

Jimmy Castor Bunch

ROXY, L.A. — "The Everything Man." Jimmy Castor and his Bunch did everything possible to live up to his legend in a spirited performance before an enthusiastic and star-studded audience at the Roxy. From his opening tune, "E-Man Groovin," JC and the Bunch brought back memories, leading the crowd through a musical parade of past and present glories.

JC played a medley from "Butt Of Course," with warm, vibrant and gracious notes on his tenor, alto and soprano saxophones, backed by his six-piece band. The audience felt the relaxation of experience as Jimmy performed with comfort and ease. The Bunch gave solid support to JC as he moved pulsating bodies to sway with a well-established beat. The momentum allowed Castor to captivate the audience in a 5½ minute sax solo, "You Make Me Feel Brand New." The E-Man visually portrayed his enjoyment of performing by rotating tambourines against knees and hips.

Castor's reputation as a musician's musician was well documented by the guest list of celebrities which included Thelma Houston, Denise Hall, Yvonne Elliman, Tony King and Walter Burrell. In obvious recognition of the support Atlantic has given him, JC performed tunes that alluded to the struggle and triumph of his musical career.

Switching mood, the band demonstrated their theatrical ability in a primitive set that was visually amplified by the appearance of King Kong. With a jungle atmosphere now pervading the Roxy, the band expanded the image with "Troglodyte," Castor's tribute to his earlier work and our collective cave man ancestry.

Capping the chronological patterned set, Castor launched into selections from his latest album, "E-Man Groovin," featuring Jimmy's skills on timbales on the hit single, "Space Age." Then, in a dramatic close, Castor's guitarist appeared as Dracula and terrorized the E-Man, who showed his displeasure by fleeing the stage. Extended applause brought JC back on stage to put an end to Dracula and a well-performed show.

CBS Records Announces Best Quarter Ever Quality Closes

results to large selling new releases by both new and established artists and to continued high volume from catalog sales in all areas of music. During the quarter, 15 CBS releases were certified by the RIAA, with four earning platinum designation and 11 being placed in the gold category.

Lundvall cited two "triple platinum" sellers — the film soundtrack to "A Star Is Born" on Columbia and Boston's premiere album on Epic — as leaders in the division's continuing sales growth. "We've obviously found the marketing chemistry to maximize the super-selling album to heights far beyond what was ever previously considered a benchmark of success," Lundvall said.

Other platinum achievements during the period included the fourth album by Kansas, "Leftoverture," released on Kirshner Records and distributed by CBS; "Animals" by Pink Floyd on Columbia; and Boz Scaggs' "Silk Degrees" album on Columbia, certified platinum last year, but now double platinum, according to the company. In addition, Aerosmith's hit single, "Walk This Way," taken from their three-year-old Columbia album, "Toys In The Attic," has pushed sales of that album over 2.5 million units, topping the three other Aerosmith albums, each of which has sold in excess of one million units. Catalog albums by Chicago also continued to add to their million plus sales levels.

On Epic, the Jacksons garnered two gold records in the first quarter this year. Engelbert Humperdinck also had two gold records.

Chicago Makes Overseas Comeback

The first quarter of 1977 was also the best three-month period in the 12-year history of CBS Records International, the sister of CBS Records Division in the record group. Last year's first quarter had previously been the record-breaker for CRI.

A significant factor in the division's first quarter success, according to Dick Asher, president of CRI, was the "phenomenal" worldwide sales of albums by Santana, Tina Charles, Johnny Mathis, Earth, Wind & Fire, Wild Cherry, Sherbert, O.C. Smith, Deniece Williams, Lou Rawls and the Manhattan. Asher also noted that Chicago has made a comeback as a top-selling act in such countries as U.K., Holland, Spain, South Africa, Australia, Brazil and Mexico, and that Neil Diamond recordings continue to sell well all over the world.

The recent European tour by Chicago, said Asher, has had much to do with that group's international comeback. In addition, last fall's European tour by Santana spurred sales that continued to mount during the early months of 1977.

Top-selling CBS albums in Canada during recent months have included the soundtrack to "A Star Is Born" and the debut solo LP by Burton Cummings on CBS's new Portrait label. In the U.K., leading CBS artists include Sutherland Brothers & Quiver, Tina Charles, Sailor, Boston, Deniece Williams, Boz Scaggs, O.C. Smith and Barbra Streisand and Kris Kristofferson in "A Star Is Born."

Asher pointed out that another reason for CRI's outstanding success during the first quarter was its addition last year of four new subsidiary companies.

get into this joint venture, and then, if things go as planned, to eventually go to 100% ownership here."

Struth said both Private Stock and Buddha had done good jobs of distributing and promoting his product, but he noted that they had problems with their own lines, and consequently were limited in the amount of time they could devote to Quality's product.

Another source close to Quality added, however, that the main problem had been "product flow." The label's major acts, he said, were the Stampede and Wednesday.

Struth declined to name the label with which he is negotiating, but noted it was neither Buddha nor Private Stock.

Foster Denies Rumors That Monument Label Is In Trouble

by Lola Scobey

NASHVILLE — Fred Foster, president of Monument Records, Nashville's largest independent label, emphatically denied in a Cash Box interview that Monument is significantly reducing its staff or planning to discontinue its R&B-oriented Soundstage label.

Rumors have been rife along Music Row in the past week that Monument is in serious financial trouble, on the verge of making either major cutbacks in staff or possibly even going out of business.

Reliable sources reported to Cash Box that: (1) John Richbourg, head of A&R for Soundstage Records, and two of his staff members are planning to leave Soundstage due to a reduction in R&B activity; (2) Monument staffers have been calling other labels for jobs; and (3) since Monument switched to independent distributors after a break with Columbia distribution last year, it has had serious problems collecting any money from record sales.

Different Interpretation

Although agreeing with some of these reports, Foster interpreted them in a considerably different light than they have been portrayed in recent rumors.

First, he expresses extreme surprise at the idea that the Soundstage label was being discontinued. "We have dropped some artists who weren't productive — three or four acts of the more traditional R&B type. We are aiming more toward progressive R&B with crossover potential. By all means, we will continue the Soundstage label. We have an R&B record in the charts this week," he said.

He suggested this rumor could have been fueled by the fact that some R&B acts are being put on the Monument label to give that label a broader image.

Changes Underway

When contacted, Richbourg stated that he hadn't heard anything about Soundstage being discontinued, but that "several changes are underway." He declined to comment on what these changes are.

Concerning general staff cutbacks, Foster said, "I recently named Tom Rodden as general manager. He looked at the employee roster and made some cuts — I believe two employees were released." Rodden was unavailable for comment.

It is known that Jack Crow, formerly in Monument pop promotion, has been released, and that Tex Davis, national country promotion director for Monument for 10 years, has entered into a simultaneous employment agreement with Combine Music, of which Foster is part owner. In a press release to be issued Tuesday, Bob Beckham, president of Combine, will announce that Davis is being named head of country promotion for Combine while retaining his former position with Monument.

It is also known that Don Cusic, formerly head of publicity for Monument, left the label several months ago and has not been replaced. Paul Lovelace, vice-president of promotion for the label, has denied reports that he is leaving.

Although Monument has had considerable chart success with records by Larry Gatlin, sources close to the label state that Monument has received virtually no money from its independent distributors on Gatlin product. Distribution rights on two of the label's then-strongest artists, Kris Kristofferson and Billy Swan, were retained by Columbia Records when Monument and Columbia terminated their distribution agreement last year.

ABC Plans Country Promotion Push To Boost Product Beyond C&W Limits

by Carmen Adams

NASHVILLE — In a major push to take its C&W product "Beyond Country Limits," ABC Records is implementing a comprehensive country product program for April and May. Dubbed "Beyond Country Limits," the program includes special sales, marketing, merchandising and advertising efforts and focuses on particularly strong April and May country releases from ABC/Dot and the ABC Collection Series. There will also be renewed emphasis on the top country product released by ABC/Dot, Hickory and ABC during the first quarter of 1977, and a specially priced pre-pack of sixty of ABC's hottest country LPs has been put together for the program.

Skip Byrd, president of ABC Record Distributors, Inc., explained that the "initial aspect of 'Beyond Country Limits' is a major impact sales program with specific incentives for our accounts. The aim is to broaden their interest in country product by making them aware of its untapped potential. And we expect this in turn to increase sales and airplay, helping many of our country artists to cross over into pop and MOR fields."

Specific incentives include special discounts from the company's standard price to wholesalers, rack jobbers and sub-distributor accounts to encourage initial sales. Then extensive in-store promotions are expected to prompt consumer sales.

One of the highlights of "Beyond Country Limits" will be a special "Country In New York" concert at Carnegie Hall May 17, featuring Roy Clark, Don Williams, Freddy Fender and Hank Thompson. The event will be broadcast "live" nationwide in cooperation with WHN and a national network of over 50 top country radio stations. This live broadcast is a first in radio in that there has never been a national radio network organized for a single show.

Non-RCA Elvis Single Getting Airplay But It Will Not Be Released

NASHVILLE — A new Elvis Presley single which is not on RCA has begun receiving substantial airplay on several country radio stations, although it will not be released for commercial sale.

Presley's recording of the Olivia Newton-John hit "Let Me Be There" was issued by Al Gallico, who also published the song. He pressed approximately 2,000 copies of the record, most of which went to stations.

The record, although it carries an RCA logo, is not on the RCA label. RCA officials said they have no intention of pressing the record or making commercial copies available.

As of this week, the following stations have reported playing the record: KBOX, WMC, KVET, WINN, WXCL, WIRE, WEMP, KLAJ, KAYO, WBAM, WONE, WMAQ and WUNI.

Joe Galante, director of Nashville administration for RCA, said, "there will be no stock on the record, we are not pursuing it," and that "a new Elvis single will be out in several weeks."

Every few months she sings her way to the top.

Tammy Wynette has had enough #1 hits to launch a dozen careers. Yet every few months there's a new Tammy Wynette single that seems better than anything that's come before. And every few months she finds herself with another #1 hit. Tammy's the best there is. And she never stops proving it.

"Let's Get Together (One Last Time)," from the forthcoming Tammy Wynette album. On Epic Records.

Produced by Billy Sherrill.

Growth, Programming To Be Among Key Issues At Gospel Radio Seminar

by Lola Scobey

NASHVILLE — On May 6 and 7, the Fifth Annual Gospel Radio Seminar, an outgrowth of the Country Radio Seminar held here annually, will offer a slate of programs designed to help expand and professionalize the more than 25,000 hours of gospel music aired weekly on radio stations in the United States.

The seminar will deal with the current state of gospel radio: growing rapidly, with more and more artists competing for air time, but still a part-time affair for most stations. According to a Gospel Music Association (GMA) survey, although nearly 1,000 stations program at least 6 hours of gospel music weekly, only 75 stations are full-time gospel. In the last 20 years, the number of gospel record companies has increased from five to 40 and the number of full-time gospel groups from 30 to more than 100.

"Gospel has been growing so rapidly, we have had a hard time just keeping up," declared GMA executive director Don Butler. "Gospel musicians haven't had the experience working with radio; we don't know how hits are made."

Charlie Monk, seminar steering committee member, added: "There are no gospel music stations effectively competing for an audience. You can ride the length and breadth of this country and never hear a gospel music song."

Seminar Topics

The seminar, to be held at the Airport Hilton, will address this dilemma — of considerable growth coupled with lack of effective programming — through a series of lectures and panels.

The speakers, who will address the theme "Realizing Your Potential," include Mack Sanders, owner of four radio stations in the midwest; Dr. Jesse Peterson, founder and president of Tempo Records in Kansas City; and Butler.

Panels Planned

Panels will be held covering such topics as "Measuring Your Potential Audience" featuring an address on music programming by Les Acree at Nashville's WKDA, "Successful Sales," "Programming Services" and "Success Sells."

Reception Honors Paxton

NASHVILLE — A reception honoring songwriter/singer Gary S. Paxton for his 1977 gospel Grammy award for best inspirational performance was hosted April 20 in Nashville by The Gospel Trade, the only gospel music trade paper.

"Actually the reception was designed to allow The Gospel Trade, acting informally on behalf of the entire gospel music industry, to thank NARAS for having three gospel Grammy awards," said Steve Aune, owner and publisher of the magazine.

Paxton — writer, producer, artist, and/or engineer on several million-selling pop hits in the '50s and '60s — was honored for his gospel album "The Astonishing, Outrageous, Amazing, Incredible, Unbelievable, Different World of Gary S. Paxton" on the New Pax label. Since his religious conversion in 1971, Paxton has produced dozens of gospel records and has had several hundred songs recorded by gospel groups.

Annual NARAS Awards Banquet To Honor The 'Most Valuable Players'

NASHVILLE — A new award and a new nomination category will swell to more than 200 the number of awards to be presented at the annual NARAS banquet honoring musicians, background vocalists and recording engineers May 1 at the Hyatt Regency in Nashville.

This, the third annual banquet, will be the first at which recording engineers are honored and the first at which Nashville's Most Valuable Players awards are given.

"The concept for the banquet originated out of the idea that people in the background of a session are generally left unrecognized for their talents," said John Sturdivant, president of the Nashville NARAS chapter. The Nashville chapter is the only NARAS chapter in the nation that holds a banquet of this type, Sturdivant said.

Peer Group Awards

The Nashville Most Valuable Players awards are peer group awards with winners selected by NARAS members who mark their ballots in response to the question: "Who would you want with you in the studio?" Twenty categories of players (woodwind players, background vocalists, etc.) are listed, with members asked to refrain from voting on categories in which they are not knowledgeable.

"There is a great deal of anticipation in connection with this award," Sturdivant said. "And we feel in future years it will grow into one of the most exciting elements of the banquet."

Super Picker Award certificates will be presented to 144 musicians, 53 background singers and 19 engineers who participated on the sessions for 57 single records recorded in Nashville in 1976. The 57 singles are selected by the 26-member NARAS board of governors here from a slate of nominees proposed by the NARAS banquet committee.

The banquet committee includes session musician Charlie McCoy as chairman, plus Les Ladd, recording engineer; Dolores Elgin, background vocalist; Lloyd Green, session musician; and Willie Ackerman, session musician.

Country Singles Reviews - Album Reviews

JIM ED BROWN/HELEN CORNELIUS (RCA JH-10967)

Born Believer (2:30) (Filmways Music — ASCAP) (Gary Harju)

Sure to be the highlight of the week. Jim Ed and Helen are at their best on this tune and sure to get plenty of airplay, especially with the short time of 2:30.

MARSHALL CHAPMAN (Epic 8-50376)

Know My Needs (3:05) (Horse Creek — BMI) (M. Chapman/J. Rushing)

Take a second listen to this one. From her "Feeling Good" album, it could be Marshall's big single.

JIMMY C. NEWMAN (Plantation PL-153)

Alligator Man (2:41) (Newkeys Music — BMI) (Jimmy C. Newman/Floyd Chance)

If you like Cajun music, this is sure to be your cup of Chickory. No one sings songs of the Bayou like Jimmy and his side-kick on this cut. Rufus Thibodeaux.

CLAUDE KING (True T-103)

Cotton Dan (3:00) (Crooked Creek Music — BMI) (Don Tyler)

Yes, Claude is still around and able to sing a song in a way that makes people stop and listen. Good guitar licks and production.

FREDDY FENDER — The Best Of Freddy Fender — ABC DOT DO-2079 — Producer: Huey Meaux — List: 6.98

A sampler of Fender's best tunes. Side one is a sequence of his number one records since "Before The Next Teardrop Falls," while side two goes back to the '50s and "Rancho Grande." There is no filler material on this LP. Meaux deserves credit for a clean sound and tasteful touch.

KRIS KRISTOFFERSON — Songs Of Kristofferson — Columbia/Monument PZ 34687 — Producers: Fred Foster, David Anderle

Another collection of previously released favorites by the songwriter who introduced skin to country music. His songs still retain their original appeal. And, how long has it been since "Me and Bobby McGee?" ... or "Loving Her Was Easier," "For The Good Times," "Sunday Morning Coming Down," "Why Me. . ."

THE COON ELDER BAND — Featuring Brenda Patterson — Mercury SRM-1-1140 — Producer: Jim Ed Norman — List: 6.98

This debut album by the Memphis-based Coon Elder Band is one of the best country menage efforts to come out of this area. Brenda Patterson is a soulful vocalist with three albums behind her and Jim Ed Norman's production makes every tune unique. Their current single "What Does It Take To Win Your Love" was a hit for Jr. Walker on Motown a decade ago, and with Ms. Patterson's handling, it could have across-the-board airplay. "Minutes To Hours" and "Later On" also have hit potential.

ROY CLARK — My Music & Me/Vocal And Instrumental — ABC/Dot DO-2072/2 — Producer: Jim Foglesong — List: 8.98

Jim Foglesong's production, with Bergan White and Bill Walker's string arrangements, sweeten Clark's vocals and the result is some fine songs on the first record of this two-record set. The instrumental sides are outstanding with those Roy Clark finger-pickin' good licks on "Lazy River," Clark's own composition "Hookinit," "Georgia on My Mind," and "Breaking Up Is Hard To Do." If PD's insist on words with music, "We Can't Build A Fire In The Rain" and "Loving You May Be All Wrong" are select choices.

Country Roundup

Singer-composer Sandy Mason was the headliner at the Pickin' Parlor on April 12. Lee Richards, a new artist and longtime songwriter, opened the show singing his own compositions. A captivating performer, Ms. Mason opened her set with a mime cabaret number which will be on her new album. She went on to display her considerable vocal and instrumental (guitar) skills on numbers such as "I'm Sorry Now I Didn't Try" and "When I Dream," joined by Joe Allen on bass and Charles Cochran on keyboards.

Gene Cotton and Jennifer Warnes shared the bill at the Exit/In April 16-17. Warnes' current hit "Right Time Of The Night" has crossed over from pop into country and some MOR, and she was a compatible opener for Cotton, who is a resident Nashvillian breaking pop with his LP "Rain On."

Diane Davidson and Tracy Nelson appeared together across town at the Pizza Parlor. These gutsy vocalists will pair to tour within the coming months. It should make for an unbeatable combination.

Rick Steele and Tom Rush packed the Pickin' Parlor April 18-19.

Barbara Mandrell is scheduled to tape a show from Hugh Hefner's Playboy mansion with R&B singer Johnnie Taylor for ABC-TV in the late spring.

Arlene Hardin, new Elektra artist, debuts with "Southern Bell." Ms. Hardin has crooned on more than 16 chart records in the past and is coming back after a six-year "vacation."

Billy Swan will open for Kris Kristofferson on upcoming dates as the latter resumes performing during breaks in filming the motion picture "Convoy."

Don Williams was recently subjected to an interesting dilemma on the part of the U.S. customs office. After his return from England where he performed at the Wembley Festival, a Briton sent him a carved wood cowboy hat. But the customs office is having trouble determining the duty since it can't be taxed as apparel and it's not exactly an object d'art.

Another gift from abroad is Tina Rainford, a fraulein with a new song called "Silver Bird" on Epic. A lady heard the song while on vacation in Germany, brought it back to El Paso, got Charlie Russell at KHEY to play it and it became a regional smash. Epic picked it up here and the record is now on the national charts.

George Jones opened the second in a projected chain of his Possum Holler clubs in Topeka, Kansas last week. Several music industry figures accompanied Jones in a chartered twin-engine Corvair. Over Springfield, Mo. the plane lost one engine and was forced to land. Jones' reaction was to wish for some whiskey — although he hadn't drunk in three weeks — and to change his mind about buying the plane, which belongs to Gene Blanton, the governor's brother. Jones sang "Amazing Grace" to himself as the plane landed.

The Oak Ridge Boys, multiple Grammy winners, signed with ABC/Dot Records with intent to stretch out to country audiences.

B.J. Thomas has been in Nashville this month recording a new gospel album for Myrrh Records at Goldmine Studio and Creative Workshop, with Chris Christian producing.

Jimmy Dean's "I.O.U." did so well in the past years as a Mother's Day record that GRT is releasing it this year with confidence of another smash holiday hit. They've shipped 400,000 singles and 130,000 albums and allotted $20,000 in promotion dollars to deliver. GRT is also releasing a Jimmy Carter comedy album that will also get prime promotion treatment.

Congratulations to Tom Rodden, who was promoted from V.P. of marketing to V.P. and general manager at Monument last week.

Also the best to B.J. McElwee who has been promoted to V.P. of special marketing and has a new office at ABC in L.A.

Do R&B Stations' Spot Rates Reflect Stations Ratings?

by Cookie Amerson

LOS ANGELES — Air time rates for R&B formatted stations across the country frequently do not reflect the stature the station has in the market. The rates also differ a great deal from their general market counterparts, which may in some instances have a lot of the same audience, and not have that much of a difference in ratings. Cash Box took a general survey of rate card rates in 10 of the top markets to examine what was being charged for a 60-second drive-time radio spot.

In New York, WABC charges $250 no matter how many spots a client may purchase or for how long a period. The price does not fluctuate in drive-time. WBLI charges $118. 99X charges $80 and was apparently willing to reduce the price if one would purchase spots for several weeks. WWRL starts at $85 but will also allow leniency with the purchase of several weeks of air time.

Top Station

In Memphis, the top station in the market is the R&B formatted WDIA, which charges $28 maximum but can get as low as $24 if one purchases several spots over an extended period of time. WHBQ, its contemporary formatted counterpart which was several points behind them in the last ratings, charges a high of $100 and a low of $54 in morning drive, noting the fact that Rick "Disco Duck" Dees is the morning air personality.

In Chicago, top rocker WLS charges $235, with a low of $205 for an extended purchase. WVON charges $70 and can go as low as $50. WJPC charges a flat $35 with no variation and WBMX charges $45 but will go as low as $37.

In Detroit, top rocker CKLW charges $180, but will go down to $150. WJLB charges $55 to $40 and WCHB charges from $70 to $40, with neither station many points behind CKLW in overall ratings. With black population being the high percentage it is, the music is quite similar.

In Dallas, top rocker KLIF is getting $56 to $48. With little point difference rating wise, KKDA-FM is charging $33 to $27. Right behind KKDA, KNOK-FM charges $35 to $29.

In Philadelphia, WFIL charges $150 to $130 for drive time, but in the ratings, there is a wide margin in favor of WFIL. R&B formatted WDAS-FM is getting $38 to $27.

In St. Louis, KSLQ charges from $53 to $48. Top R&B format KATZ is charging from $37 to $11, and WESL charges $11.

In Pittsburgh, top rocker 13Q is getting $50 to $33 for morning drive air time. WAMO, which is quite a bit behind them, is getting $40 to $36.

In San Francisco, KSFX is getting from $198 to $156; disco formatted KSFX is getting from $50 to $45 and KDIA charges from $42 to $36 for drive time.

In Los Angeles, where several stations seem to be reaching for the same audience, KHJ is charging $200 to $85 for drive-time spots. K-100 is getting from $80 to $54 and 10Q, which recently went on the air, is SUNNYVALE, CA. — C. Marshall Caras has been appointed national director of marketing in the coin-operated division at Atari, Inc. Previously Caras was general manager of Rowe International, Dedham, Massachusetts and has been active in the coin-operated game industry for over 20 years.

In his new position, Caras will be responsible for directing the marketing and sales efforts of the coin-op and pinball game divisions at Atari. "We believe that Marshall's expertise and experience in marketing coin-op products will be a valuable addition to our management staff," said Gene Lipkin.

Caras has been a major contributor to the industry through his active involvement with the International Association of Amusement Parks and Attractions, and he has provided many informative articles in industry trade magazines. He is a graduate of Harvard University.

Bally To Acquire World Jai-Alai, Inc.

CHICAGO — William T. O'Donnell, president of Bally Manufacturing Corporation, and Richard P. Donovan, president of World Jai-Alai, Inc., Miami, Florida announced that Bally and World Jai-Alai have signed a definitive agreement whereby Bally will acquire substantially all of the assets and business of World Jai-Alai.

Under the agreement, Bally will acquire World Jai-Alai for 2,880,000 shares of Bally common stock. Of this amount, a maximum of approximately 375,000 shares may be reserved for payment of certain commitments, claims and contingencies. Bally common stock closed at 19½ on the New York Stock Exchange on Tuesday, April 12. World Jai-Alai has 3,565,000 shares outstanding. On April 12, the bid and asked prices for World Jai-Alai's common stock on the over-the-counter market, as reported by NASDAQ, were 12¾ and 13½ respectively.

Upon Approval

This agreement is conditioned upon the approval by stockholders of both companies and appropriate regulatory authorities. Upon consummation of the World Jai-Alai acquisition, it is anticipated that Bally would be required to modify or relinquish certain of its Nevada gaming licenses and operations.

Bally is engaged in the manufacture, distribution and leasing of coin-operated amusement and gaming equipment. World Jai-Alai owns and operates four frontons (courts and auditoriums) in Florida and one in Hartford, Connecticut for the exhibition of and pari-mutual wagering on the game of jai-alai.

Chicago: A Pinball Retrospective

collections sagged. There are far more quality pins with greater longevity and a wider range of appeal than there are videos.

Drawbacks

Amidst all this unrestrained optimism, however, it should be pointed out that there are distinct difficulties in operating pins. It is not all manna from heaven. You just can't drop off a game at a stop and empty the cash box a week later. The operator's first dilemma is what to buy. Multiple or single player? Bally, Gottlieb, Stern, Williams, or one of the secondary manufacturers? New or used? And now, electro-mechanical or solid-state? These choices, of course, are not mutually exclusive, and the operators who select a well-balanced medley reap the greatest benefit. For example, many habitually and mistakenly eschew single players, but one southside Chicago operator's top three games are one-players. They are successful in taverns and transient locations. The normally popular four-players are his weakest machines. The point is, the buyer must be selective, must choose with care.

Along with the cost of the machine, the operator has to purchase an expensive license — $200 to operate and $75 for each machine. This is a considerable cash outlay, especially for the larger operator with a couple hundred machines. A person just can't arbitrarily decide to go into the pinball business; he needs substantial finances to meet his overhead.

Other Considerations

Once he buys a machine and pays for the license, the operator encounters another difficulty — proper service. He has to know how to set up and check out a pinball before it goes on the street. Many operators have been dismayed when they took the game directly from distributor to location and it didn't work, and they complained bitterly about the manufacturers' lax quality control. One operator, for example, moaned that a new game, fresh out of the factory crate, required twelve separate switch adjustments. The customary procedure now is for the operator to go over his game in shop first, and then on location. Afterwards they constantly review percentage of free plays, score to beat, out lane pin placements, machine cleanliness, and playfield slant in order to regulate the degree of difficulty. If a game is anything but challenging without being impossible, then collections will suffer. In a highly competitive market like Chicago, an operator who doesn't maintain this conscientious service will discover that he's been unceremoniously booted into the street.

The location owners do not ease the operator's tribulations. The operator often feels he's in a vise between distributor and location. He's got to pay the former for one pin game while the latter is pressuring him for another. The operator has to fight the good fight to prevent his gross from being diluted over three or four machines when only one or two are necessary.

Given the advantages and disadvantages of running pins in Chicago, what will the future bring? Will the gold mine peter out, strike newer veins, or level off? Will rising costs force operators out of business or will the advent of solid-state pins mean bigger and better collections? Will the new technology complicate or reduce service problems? The questions can go on ad infinitum, but, in a fluid industry such as this, not even the crystal ball gazers and tea leaf readers know the answers.

CHICAGO CHATTER

See the new "Night Rider" 4-player pingame currently in release by Bally Mfg. Corp.

NSM's CHIEF FIELD SERVICE ENGINEER Rupert Mosinger was scheduled to arrive in the States last week to firm up arrangements for the company's service schools program here. He'll be coordinating a series of territorial schools involving about 30 distributor points, to be covered by fellow engineers Willy Marchand of Los Angeles and Russ Strahan of Greenfield, Mass., with Strahan concentrating on the eastern seaboard states and Marchand the remaining areas . . . As for NSM's U.S. marketing director Bert Davidson — he's anxiously awaiting delivery of another supply of NSM phonos, since his first four shipments were immediately exhausted. Bert's really elated over U.S. acceptance of the new models. He told us he'll be heading overseas in early May, accompanied by Charlie Kagels of Advance Dist. in St. Louis, to visit the Lowen Automaten plant in Germany and then continue on to Italy and Spain and, hopefully, take a brief solo trip to Glasgow, Scotland for a family visit. Bon voyage, fellas.

THE NEW "RAWHIDE" 4-player flipper is currently in full production at Stern Electronics, Inc., according to marketing director Stephen Kaufman, and sample shipments are on their way to distributors.

IN ORDER TO FAMILIARIZE operators with the specifics of electronic games, Bally Mfg. Corp. is sponsoring a very ambitious service program including a series of three 3-day schools, held at weekly intervals, May 2-18. On the final day of each series, a special Midway school will be included. The dates are May 2-4; May 9-11 and May 16-18. All schools will be held in Chicago (at an area motel or hotel) so that a full staff of Bally engineers can be on hand to participate. Interested operators are urged to contact their distributors for full details . . . Bally field engineer Bernie Powers, in addition to coordinating the aforementioned, has quite a packed schedule for April. Following an April 19 Bally session at Midstates Technical School in Wisconsin Rapids and an April 21 class (conducted by Jack O'Donnell) at Coin Op Dist. in New York (where well over 100 ops and service personnel were expected) he'll be heading for Baltimore to conduct a school at State Sales. While conversing with Bernie we asked how his recent Japan/Korea schools (Cash Box, April 9) turned out and he said everything went superbly well and the experience was most rewarding for him. The sessions attracted people from the Philippines, Taiwan, Thailand, Guam, Honolulu, Japan and Korea, he said, and everyone was so attentive and starved for knowledge that his usual full-day class of instruction was extended to a day and a half to accommodate them.

WHAT'S 14 MONTHS OLD, a dynamite seller, and very much back in production? If you said "Sea Wolf," you're right — and Midway's director of sales Larry Berke is all smiles about it. Of course, to add to his pleasure there's "Boot Hill," which has really taken off, and the new "Double Play," recently sample shipped and already stimulating much interest.

DATLINE EL CAJON, CA. — home of Cinematronics, Inc. where sample shipments of the new "Embargo" upright are currently in progress, according to the firm's marketing director Bob Sherwood. Since taking over his new post with the company Bob's been scouting around for a home in the area and found a real beauty which he and his family will be settling into very shortly. Asked if he misses Chicago at all, Bob replied, "The people, yes; the climate, no way!"

ON THE SINGLES SCENE — In the absence of Gus Tartol (who was out of town for a couple of days) this week's list of jukebox favorites comes from his very capable assistant at Singer One Stop For Ops, Sharon Ciasnocha. Titles include "On The Border" by Al Stewart (Janus), "Angel In Your Arms" by Hot (Big Tree), "Dreams" by Fleetwood Mac (WB), "Sir Duke" by Stevie Wonder (Tamla), "Hello Stranger" by Yvonne Elliman (RSO), "Let 'Em In" by Billy Paul (Phil. Int'l.), "Hollywood" by Rufus (ABC) and "Hooked On You" by Bread (Elektra).

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

Gremlin Industries has come up with a unique promotional campaign for its new video game "Hustle." Currently traveling around the country to introduce the game is Gremlin girl Sabrina Osment; at gatherings in 11 cities she will be challenging distributors and operators to a fast game of Hustle. And the clincher: beat her at her own game and win $100. In anticipation of her cross-country tour, Sabrina was in daily training at the company's San Diego headquarters. After one particularly grueling session she reportedly quipped, "My word, I'm getting a case of Hustle wrist."

SPOKE WITH Sega's Jack Gordon, who was pleased to report that the company is shipping its "Plinker's Canyon" 4-player shooting game as soon as the models come off the assembly line. Gordon was also enthusiastic about the response to "Sega Vision," a large screen TV for ops, which was displayed recently at the Ohio Music & Amusement Assn. annual convention in Columbus. He said that Sega Vision is available in 50- and 60-inch overhead models.

C. A. ROBINSON DISTRIB'S Ira Bettelman commented that manufacturers are presently "getting things out" of the factories and into the showrooms. He added that the pieces most in demand are Bally's "Night Rider," Atari's "Triple Hunt" and Midway's "Double Play" and "Boot Hill." Bettelman also said that operators are being "very conscientious" about their purchases these days. "The guys are carefully scrutinizing pieces before buying," he said.

ON THE SINGLES SCENE — California Music's Gene Mims supplies this week's list of the top 10 jukebox plays: "Hotel California" by the Eagles (Asylum), "Don't Give Up On Us" by David Soul (Private Stock), "So In To You" by the Atlanta Rhythm Section (Polydor), "When I Need You" by Leo Sayer (Warner Bros.), "Southern Nights" by Glen Campbell (Capitol), "The Things We Do For Love" by 10cc (Mercury), "Rich Girl" by Hall & Oates (RCA), "Right Time Of The Night" by Jennifer Warnes (Arista), "Sir Duke" by Stevie Wonder (Tamla/Motown), "Lido Shuffle" by Boz Scaggs (Columbia).

EASTERN FLASHES

Royal Dist., Cincinnati, hosted a good sized exhibit at the recently held Ohio Music & Amusement Assn. convention in Columbus. Among products shown were the NSM Prestige, Century 21 and furniture model phonographs as well as a lineup of games including Exidy's "Death Race" and "Attack" and Dynamo's new Black on Black foosball table. Manning the Royal exhibit were Joe Westerhaus Jr., Jerry Grotjan and Carl Dills . . . We wish a speedy recovery to Tarrytown, N.Y. operator Seymour Pollack . . . Robert Jones Int'l.-Dedham held a very successful Moyer Diebel service school a couple of weeks back and is now prepping for a school on the new Automatic Products Snack Shop, slated for late April. Bob LeBlanc tells us vending equipment is selling extremely well out there. Overall, RJL enjoyed a record March — the biggest sales month in the distrib's history, as Bob further spelled out. He also said Midway's "Boot Hill" and the Sega "Prospector" 4-player pingame are among the hottest sellers of the moment . . . Loch Sheldrake, N.Y. operator John Bullock is a proud new father. Our congratulations . . . Al Kress of Coin Machine Distributors Inc. reports present business as "fabulous" and the new "Atarians" pingame as "selling like crazy." Al was among the "large attendance" on hand at the Westchester Ops Guild meeting in Pastor's . . .

ON THE SINGLES SCENE — Frank DIMarsico of Program One Stop (Union, N.J.) has been getting a lot of operator requests for the following: "I Believe In Miracles" by Engelbert Humperdinck (Epic), "A Secret Place" by Grover Washington (Kudu), "Hot Line" by Shotgun (ABC), "Soon And Very Soon" by Andre Crouch (Light), "Dreams" by Fleetwood Mac (WB), "I Think It's Gone Forever" by Merle Haggard (MCA), "Cloudy" by Tamiko Jones (Atlantis), "Sub Rosa Subway" by Klaatu (Capitol) which Frank pointed out, closely resembles The Beatles' style, and an a capella item called "Papa Ooh Maw Maw" by the Persuasions (Elektra).

STATE ASSOCIATION NEWS

On May 20-22, the Music Operators of Minnesota will convene its annual convention and trade show at the Holiday Inn-Downtown in Minneapolis. To get things started, an association-sponsored reception and dinner will take place immediately following the opening board of directors meeting on the 20th. The remainder of the agenda will include a luncheon on the 21st, with guest speakers AMOA president Garland B. Garrett Sr., and executive veepee Fred Granger addressing the group, and Jim Snead of Kurz Kash discussing the future of electronics in the coin machine industry. A special session focusing on legislation will also be held. The Saturday evening social functions will be spotlighted by a cocktail party, to be hosted by Hanson Dist., and the association banquet, which will include entertainment furnished by Lieberman Enterprises 45s Dept. Before adjournment on Sunday afternoon, a buffet breakfast and a service workshop, conducted by Jim Snead, are planned. MOM president Dick Hawkins expects a full membership turnout at the convention and anticipates that the show will feature about 25 exhibits. . . . Kansas Amusement and Music Assn. will shortly announce the dates of its annual meeting which customarily takes place in July or August and is very much a family affair, as association member Harlan Wingrave noted. The election of officers will be held, however, and a business meeting or two in between recreational activities . . . Jo Ann Westerman, energetic executive director of Music Operators of Texas, notes that in addition to working on details for the group's upcoming June convention, she is personally channeling much effort into a current running membership drive which she considers to be top priority. The Texas group has been established for about 17 years, as Jo Ann pointed out, and is presently intent on increasing its membership ranks and strengthening its organization. As a further measure, the association has been holding four board meetings per year and distributing a monthly membership newsletter as well as a quarterly mailing to ops and non-members. Jo Ann expressed strong feelings about the necessity of state associations and plans to discuss with AMOA the possibility of focusing attention on the established groups during the annual national convention.

Korvettes $2.99 Sales In Five Cities

Rothfeld, when confronted at the recent NARM convention in Los Angeles. A Denver retailer accused Korvettes of lowballing, to which Rothfeld replied that the chain would not "ignore competition until it is too late." (Cash Box, March 19).

So far, however, other large retailers in the four major metropolitan markets Korvettes is in outside New York have resisted lowering their prices on specials below $3.70-$3.80.

'No Need'

"There's no need for it," explained Maury Bass, manager of a Record and Tape Collector outlet in Baltimore. "In New York the situation isn't of their (Korvettes) creation. They're just doing it to be competitive. But there's no reason to do it down here."

Bass suggested that rumors of a planned Peaches opening in Washington might have spurred Korvettes to begin their $2.99 promotions in that city to "create an image."

"If $2.99 becomes a continuing thing, I think it's going to create problems for top-line new releases. It's going to cut down other dealers' intake," Bass asserted. However, with only a handful of LPs at those prices, Bass indicated Korvettes posed no major threat to the stability of his market. Korvettes' normal shelf prices in Baltimore and Washington are in line with its competition.

A spokesman at Sam Goody in Philadelphia said his chain did not plan to go that low, and added that Korvettes' recent $2.99 prices have not significantly affected either Goody's business or the overall market. He added that, at least in the case of Philadelphia, which is only 90 miles from New York, the low prices could be the result of a mild price war spillover.

In Detroit, Korvettes' $2.99 prices have been attributed to the recent opening of a suburban Peaches outlet. Spokesmen at two Korvettes outlets said the special prices had helped Korvettes to retain its market position in the inner-city (Cash Box, March 19).

Catalog Promotions

In other retail price developments this week: several major acts, including the Captain and Tennille and Boz Scaggs, were the subjects of large catalog campaigns: a Cleveland retailer expanded on an old public service promotion; and a Los Angeles retailer reported a "resurgence" in tape sales.

The Captain and Tennille catalog, which includes their recently released album, "Come In From The Rain," was the subject of full-page ads in the New York Times, Dallas Morning News, Los Angeles Times, San Francisco Chronicle and Washington Post this week.

Barry Grieff, vice president of merchandising, advertising and special projects for A&M Records, explained that the ads were in preparation for an extensive television campaign starting in mid-May. He noted that over the next few weeks, A&M will run smaller print ads highlighting the three-record catalog. The TV ads will be tied to the group's forthcoming tour.

"Come In From The Rain" is bulleted at #55 this week on the Cash Box Top 200 Albums chart, rising from #79 a week ago. The two catalog releases also continue their strong showings this week. "Song Of Joy" is #90 after 59 weeks on the chart, and "Love Will Keep Us Together" is #140 after 99 weeks.

Other catalog promotions this week included Bruce Springsteen's three Columbia LPs, observed in three markets; and Boz Scaggs' "Silk Degrees" and "Slow Dancer" in seven surveyed metropolitan areas.

Sympathy For The Symphony

Record Theatre, a seven-store retail chain based in Cleveland, advertised a week-long, all-label sale, in which 50¢ from the purchase of every record would be donated to the Cleveland Orchestra fund drive. John Anderson, retailing supervisor for Record Theatre, said he wouldn't know for some time how much the promotion raised, but estimated it would be at least several thousand dollars.

While the idea for the charity promotion is not new (Disc Records has been running annual week-long orchestra benefits for 15 years, based on its classical sales), the Record Theatre commitment is apparently the largest which has been made to date by a Cleveland record retailer. Anderson said the advertisement was placed with the cooperation of several record labels, and was in keeping with the chain's efforts to stay involved in daily community affairs.

Music Plus

Another unusual ad was observed at Music Plus, which devoted one of its two full pages in the Sunday Los Angeles Times exclusively to tapes.

Steve Boudreau, buyer for the 15-store chain, said he has noticed a recent resurgence in tape sales, particularly cassettes. "As long as tapes hold steady at $7.98 list, they will become even more popular with price-conscious customers as increasing numbers of albums reach the same price," he offered.

"Anyway, it's rare to see a full page just on tapes; we're just trying something different."

industry over the years," said Greenberg of the appointment, "it is a pleasure to welcome him to the staff of Atlantic at this time. I'm sure that his experiences in all facets of the record business will prove invaluable."

Prior to this appointment, Klenfner served as vice president of promotion and artist management for Arista Records, having joined the company at its inception in 1974 as national promotion director. Before that, he spent three years as director of FM promotion for Columbia Records, 1971-1974. He started his career in the music business on the staff of Bill Graham's Fillmore East in New York, simultaneously serving as music director and part-time announcer on WNEW-FM.

Import Duty Slashed On Deletes Entering Canada

by David Farrell

OTTAWA — A ministerial prescription signed by Revenue Canada has opened up the Canadian market to U.S. deletes once again. Monique Begin, the minister of national revenue, adjusted the tariff so that importers will only pay duty based on what they paid for the records in the U.S., which could range from 10 cents and upwards.

Previously, importers of deletes had to pay duty on the original wholesale price of the record, which meant that on a $6.98 LP, they had to pay duty on $3.40, less a discount of 20 percent because the deleted records were considered obsolete.

The new provision basing duties on the fair market value of the disks in the U.S. comes under Section 36 of the Tariff Act. Books have always been taxed according to the fair market price under the Tariff Act, and according to Don Goodwin, a customs appraiser in Ottawa, an investigation has been going on since July 1974 into this aspect of the record business.

According to Ivor Liss, president of Caravan Records, a Montreal-based importer of deletes, Canadian record companies have considered a number of actions to put importers out of business. The original action taken to halt their importation, he says, involved taking a close look at the provisions of the anti-dumping laws which proved not applicable in this case. Then action was taken under the Copyright Act, but didn't hold up. Finally, the record companies found an obscure law that pertained to the fashion industry, which basically stated that if goods were once prime goods, importers would have to pay duty on the basis of the original wholesale price. That provision was then applied to the record industry.

Customs Investigation Brought

After an investigation by the Customs Department, brought about by pressure from importers, it was ascertained that records should be in the same classification as books on which duty is paid based on their fair market value in the U.S.

In an unrelated ruling, Revenue Canada has announced a new set of procedures to restrict subsidized imports. The procedure is similar to that used in anti-dumping cases and the government is urging companies to pursue it rather than seek other special measures of protection such as quotas or higher tariffs.

A provisional countervailing duty may be established if the department is satisfied that imports are subsidized and are causing material injury, and if an investigation shows the subsidy per unit and the import volume to be "greater than negligible."

The government said the countervailing duty regulations conform with Canada's obligations under the General Agreements on Tariffs and Trade, but developments in the GATT multilateral trade negotiations on countervailing duties may lead to changes in the regulations.

Dick James Music Co. Wins Queen's Award

NEW YORK — For the third year in a row the Dick James Music Company of England has won the coveted "Queen's Award," thanks to the fact that the firm's gross income from outside the U.K. topped the $20,000,000 mark in the year ended Sept. 76. The "Export" award is given to only a handful of companies each year who more than double their income into the British Isles. For fiscal '75 the firm's gross from outside UK activities totalled $9.4 million dollars. Outside the U.K. income for '76 accounted for 75% of the Dick James Organization's total billing.

KISS OVER TOKYO — While in Japan on a recent visit, Kiss visited with Saburo Watanabe, president of Victor, Japan.

Columbia House May Close Record Club

TORONTO — Columbia House has reduced its operation in Canada, and may close down its Canadian record club if an advertising blitz that ran through the month of March fails to attract a significant number of new members, according to Terry Lynd, president of CBS Records of Canada, Ltd.

Richard Gurien, vice-president and general manager of Columbia House, says that membership in the club has been allowed to trail off to 85,000 from 120,000. About 22,000 members are in bad standing with the club because of money owed to the club.

Argentinian News

BUENOS AIRES — The visit paid by Spanish singer Miguel Gallardo to Argentina was the biggest event of the week. EMI, which sold strongly his single "Hoy Tengo Ganas De Ti" last year, threw a party for the artist at the Savoy Hotel, with strong attendance among the press and radio people. Gallardo taped a TV program before traveling to Spain, and will be back here next October.

Another trade visitor was Carmen Mirabal, from Puerto Rico, where she is arranging a convention of Latin market record companies and expects to gather the main labels of this part of the world. Mirabal established contact with the leaders of the local companies and discussed the possibilities of exchange with the Puerto Rican and Latin US market.

After many years of devoting its efforts to the catalog and stereo sound market, Tonodisc will enter the pop singles competition with three items aimed at the teen market. The diskery has established a reputation of steady sales under the leadership of Jorge Cesar Esperon, who sold the company two months ago to Natalio Garber, owner of a retail and distribution chain. Now, Garber has established an aggressive campaign, headed by Francisco Vidal, the new general manager of Tonodisc.

Luis Landriscina, whose recent albums for Phonogram have appeared on the charts, is shooting a movie and will afterwards travel to the United States, Mexico and Canada for personal appearances in New York, Chicago, Montreal and other cities. Landriscina also has his own recording studios, used for taping radio programs, and a TV program on Channel 13, Monday evenings.

Copyright Revisions By Corp. Affairs Proposed

by David Farrell

OTTAWA — Canadian Consumer and Corporate Affairs Minister Tony Abbott has released a special study proposing revisions to Canada copyright legislation. The study, prepared by consultants, is entitled "Copyright In Canada: Proposals for a Revision of the Law." It is the third in a series of working papers released as part of a review of Canada's intellectual property legislation dealing with patents, trademarks, copyright and industrial design.

Not Government View

Cautioning that the paper does not present the views of the government or of Consumer and Corp. Affairs Canada, Mr. Abbott said, "It does provide a solid foundation for dialogue concerning possible copyright law revision."

"Although the copyright law, which provides a means for government to grant controlled exclusive rights to creators and owners of copyright, is originally reflective of a printing technology, its principles must be adapted to a communications technology."

The study advances proposals for a revision of the Canadian copyright law, which would consider its economic and cultural importance.

Alan Watson has been named the director of international operations for Arista Records. Prior to the new appointment, Watson served as international manager for GTO Records.

Soul Signs Heath Levy

GREAT BRITAIN — Heath Levy Music, set up by Andrew Heath and Eddy Levy, has acquired the sub-publishing rights to David Soul's publishing company, Toponga Music, for the UK. This gives the firm the B side to Soul's current hit "Don't Give Up On Us Baby." Heath Levy Music has also concluded a deal to represent Labi Siffre's Xavier Music and Hank Marvin's Tahlia Music for the world.

Jarreau Release Set

NEW YORK — Warner Brothers and WEA International are currently readying the release of Al Jarreau's third LP, which was produced by Tommy LiPuma and Al Schmitt. The LP is a live, specially priced two-record set, recorded during Jarreau's recent European tour. WEA International is scheduling the LP for immediate overseas release, and domestically, Warner's plans a May 27 release.

Where In The World . . .

John Lewis, former leader of the Modern Jazz Quartet, and Helen Merrill are about to embark on a tour of Japan. The two will be promoting their album, "Helen Merrill-John Lewis," which was released in Japan in January by Trio Records. The tour is from May 24 to June 7.

The Ramones and Talking Heads are off on their first European tour. The 45-day tour will take the groups through Switzerland, France, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and England. The tour commenced April 24 in Zurich.

May Chain Retains Records On A Store-By-Store Basis

more profitable areas. So we've restructured our stores so that a lot of the smaller businesses — like records, stationery, candy and drugs — are now together in their own division. We're really going after the small business in a big way, which includes records," he said.

Other buyers indicated that they were contacting different suppliers, pushing for additional advertising dollars and trying out new merchandising ideas in order to boost sagging record sales.

The second group's attitude toward records was summed up by one eastern buyer who said, "There's no markup — absolutely none at all." She added, "I don't really get involved in the department; I have two others that have a lot higher volume. Records are just kind of there, really." Another midwestern buyer commented, "I buy TVs, consoles, stereos and records and my volume areas get first attention."

A special case in point was the May-Cohens chain, which is currently phasing out its record operation. The chain no longer receives any new product, and the remaining inventory is being sold at substantially reduced prices on a self-serve basis at the downtown Jacksonville store only.

Like any other rack-served general merchandiser, the stores in the May group receive their records via a two-stage distribution process. Therefore, they must pay more for their albums than do retailers that buy direct from the manufacturer. The net result is that the regular shelf price for $6.98 list albums at the May stores is about $1.00 above the prevailing prices at many discount chains and full-line record stores across the country.

Among the member chains surveyed by Cash Box, G. Fox & Co. reported the lowest shelf price for $6.98 list current product — $5.67. (May Co. Southern California and Hecht reported variable prices ranging from $4.89 to $5.99, and $4.88 to $5.88 respectively.) May Co. Cleveland indicated an everyday price of $5.79, while Strauss charges $5.89. Meier & Frank, M. O'Neil, Famous Bar and Kaufman's sell current releases for $5.99.

Five of the chains (Strauss, Famous Bar, G. Fox, May Co. Cleveland, Meier & Frank) indicated that they run advertised specials on front line goods ranging from $3.99 to $4.99. In addition, seven chains (Famous Bar, Kaufman's, M. O'Neil, Hecht, G. Fox, May Co. Cleveland, May Co. Southern California) carry a regular stock of budget and cutout LPs.

Concerning record department advertising, buyers for the Famous Bar and Hecht chains indicated that they use a combination of radio, television and print ads. May Co. Cleveland and May Co. Southern California, on the other hand, primarily rely on print alone; and Strauss devotes the bulk of its budget to radio advertisements. Three chains don't advertise at all, including Kaufman's, M. O'Neil and G. Fox.

In the opinion of the buyers and rackjobbers surveyed by Cash Box, location was the biggest factor affecting record department merchandising. Joe Brown, the buyer for M. O'Neil & Co., for example, said his operations performance had been hurt by "bad placement in the branch stores we carry them (records) in. At our store in Mansfield, the department was pushed around and ended up near sporting goods." Brown said, "They've given us poor location in every store," complained Mal Vanguard of S&M Sales, Cleveland, which racks the M. O'Neil chain. Vanguard further indicated that, as a direct result of one such move, business was down "close to 40%."

Not surprisingly, the CB survey also revealed something about the state of the rackjobbing industry. Saul Moss, president of United Distributors, which racks the Strauss and May Co. Cleveland chains, pointed out some of the unique problems posed by department store accounts. "In racking a department store chain you have to remember that you are working with limited space and limited budgets," he said. "So, it isn't a matter of putting in X amount of merchandise on an 'if come' basis."

"Some independent companies, retailers or discounters might use their record departments as a (loss) leader, working on a very low markup just to draw traffic. But that is not the department store concept. They want to maintain a certain markup, which they are entitled to regardless of the competition."

Gene Patch of J.L. Marsh, which racks the May Co. Southern California and Famous Bar chains, agreed that department stores are concerned about the profit margin on records. "Like every other retailer, they're looking at the bottom line," he said. "And the retail price squeeze is affecting them just like everyone else. That's one of the areas we as an industry have to be concerned about. We have to make a meaningful contribution to bottom line."

"Maybe our gross margins are shorter," he continued, "but if we can offer better turnover, if we can offer more sales per square foot, if we can offer a department that's also going to bring traffic into the store — that's one thing. But if we don't, then I think there's going to be a mass exodus away from the record business."

DAVE EDMUNDS GET IT

Respected by Phil Spector, loved by John Lennon, suggested as Mick Taylor's replacement in the Rolling Stones, Dave Edmunds stands unchallenged as the definitive musician's musician.

"Few individuals in the history of rock and roll have possessed the qualities of consistent genius, perfect refinement and utter, natural economy in their art...In such company among Phil Spector, Brian Wilson, Buddy Holly, John Fogerty, Lennon and McCartney at their peak, and very few others, do I rank Dave Edmunds."
