Twisted Cedar 2017 Clarksburg Moscato delivers true varietal intensity. Our Moscato features vibrant, but delicate summer fruit flavors of honeysuckle, orange blossom, apricot, and peach. A soft and luscious wine with crisp acidity and a hint of effervescence to balance the natural sweetness. Certified sustainable through Lodi Rules for Sustainable Wine Growing, Twisted Cedar wines reflect a commitment to quality wine and responsible stewardship. The Twisted Cedar name honors the Cedar Band, one of 5 Bands of the Paiute Indian Tribe of Utah, named after the cedar tree that heavily populated their land. Dedicated to being good stewards for Mother Earth, these fine wines are a tribute to a proud people.

CALIFORNIA

1000 Stories signifies the melding of two American stories. The first is the story of post Gold Rush introduction of Zinfandel grapes to the state of California. The second tells of the imprint of new Bourbon barrels. 1000 Stories Zinfandel is aged in grand old bourbon barrels sources from some of America's classic bourbon producers.

ESTATE GROWN

The oldest producing vineyard in Monterey County, Chalone Vineyard Estate rests on the Gavilan Mountain Range on the north slope of Chalone Peak. At 1,800 feet, the quiet splendor of the vineyards overlooks spectacular views of the wide-open Salinas Valley, made famous by local author John Steinbeck. The vineyard's name comes from the peak, which derives its name from the indigenous Costanoan Native American tribe, the Chalone, or Chollen.

The family at Dry Creek Vineyard believes that great wines begin in the vineyard. For us, winegrowing is a collaborative effort with Mother Nature. Our aim is to strike a careful balance between soil, climate and vine. We take great care in carefully farming, harvesting and shepherding our wines through the winemaking process. The artistry of our winemaking team lies in their ability to carefully guide this process with as little intervention as possible.

Named after our mother and grandmother, Flora, and for the natural springs on the winery property that have flowed uninterrupted even through periods of drought, Flora Springs is both our life's work and our home. Third-generation vintners Nat Komes and Sean Garvey, both of whom grew up at the winery, are now poised to take the helm guiding the winery into a new era of artisanal winemaking in the spirit of tradition, innovation, and community values epitomized by their grandparents, Flora and Jerry.

FOUR VINES

At Four Vines we're wine-loving rebels who seized an opportunity to craft wines that are distinctly unstuffy, characteristically joyous and decidedly American. At the time of our first vintage the wine world was a bona fide Who's Who of Blah: Tannic Cab, Flabby Merlot, Oaky Chard, Wash, Rinse, Repeat... But while everyone else got stuck in the spin cycle, Four Vines got busy.

In 1995, the vineyard was purchased by Kathryn Hall, former U.S. Ambassador to Austria, and her husband Craig Hall, a prominent financier and investor. They embarked on a mission to make estate-grown Cabernet Sauvignon wine that would belong in the company of the finest wines of the world.

Old World meets New World in this family partnership between the Hydes of Hyde Vineyard (Carneros, Napa), their cousin Pamela (née Fairbanks), and her husband, Aubert de Villaine, co-director of the Domaine de la Romanée-Conti (Burgundy). From the very first vintage in 2000, Hyde de Villaine wines have shown their pedigree, fusing the finesse and balance of Old-World winemaking with the exuberance of California fruit from the legendary Hyde Vineyard.

The Jayson Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Red are hand-crafted with the same premium practices that produce our Pahlmeyer wines. We do not grow or purchase additional fruit for the Jayson. Rather, all of our grapes are grown and vinified for the Pahlmeyer. After winemaker Erin Green selects the blends for the Pahlmeyer wines, she composes from the remaining barrels the Jayson Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Red. As a result, the Jayson wines offer both quality and value.

We produce three limited-production, vineyard-designated Lucienne Pinot Noirs from our estate in the Santa Lucia Highlands of Monterey County. In part, these wines owe their seductive nature to clonal selection. We have an array of Pinot Noir clones, or slight genetic variations, planted in our vineyards. Each clone contributes a desired color, aroma, flavor, texture or structural element to the finished wine.

Pahlmeyer has embraced the holistic, rather than aggressive, approach and has seen the results. Growing balanced, ultra-premium wine grapes while incurring the least amount of environmental impact is the core mission of Pahlmeyer's sustainable winegrowing. The metered approach to soil health creates balanced vines with healthy canopies and Small berries, as opposed to overly-vigorous vines with pumped-up berries, which can result from synthetic fertilizer applications. Achieving the intricate and fragile natural balance in the vineyard is the challenge for even the most qualified viticulturist. Working in tandem with the elements has always been the grower's best bet and is the viticultural secret behind Pahlmeyer's successful grape harvests and vintage releases.

Recognizing a magical combination of climate and soil conditions much like those in France's famed Burgundy province, Sanford planted the area's first Pinot Noir in its Sanford & Benedict vineyard.

SONOMA-CUTRER VINEYARDS

Sonoma-Cutrer is dedicated to the pursuit of original expression in our wines. Each wine reflects its regional and seasonal climate, its specific vineyard character – its terroir. From the very first vintage of Sonoma-Cutrer Chardonnay to the limited production of our world-class Pinot Noir, this dedication has taken root and continues to grow. Our "Grand Cru" philosophy is a unique assimilation of traditional Burgundian winemaking methods and our own technological innovation. It's a perfect balance of tradition and discovery, bringing forth noble wines that express a sense of place, vintage after vintage.

Quality winегrowing in America was in its infancy in the 1970's. The Spurrier tasting in Paris in 1976 gave the first international credibility to California Cabernet and Chardonnay. Three years later, again in Paris, and the following year in Beaune, The Eyrie Vineyards 1975 Pinot Noir brought international attention to Oregon, a wine region unfamiliar to almost anyone except a handful of hardy pioneers. With these two tastings, Oregon won its first recognition as the New World home for Pinot Noir.

Dick and Nancy Ponzi moved their young family to the Willamette Valley in the late 1960s with a spirit of adventure and a passion for making world class Pinot Noir. After many research trips to Burgundy and an extensive search for the ideal location, they purchased 20 acres on a Small farm just southwest of Portland, Oregon. It was a daring risk — at the time, the Pacific Northwest was not thought to be a place to grow Pinot Noir, but Dick and Nancy realized the Northern Willamette Valley's climate was ideal for cool climate varieties. Pinot Noir cuttings were planted, and in 1970 Ponzi Vineyards was founded.

The first release, 1999 K Syrah from Walla Walla Valley, initiated the style of winemaking that Charles continues today: Small lots of single vineyard Syrah's and field blends of Syrah, Cabernet Sauvignon, Grenache, Tempranillo and Viognier, all of which are hand-picked, foot-stomped, fermented with naturally occurring yeasts and basket pressed.

EUROPEAN WINES AUSTRIA

Laurenz V. is made by the Lenz Moser family, and is the most recent offering in the family's five generations of wine making experience. The wine comes from the Kamptal and Kremstal areas of Austria where the warmth of the Danube Valley meets the cool air of the Waldviertel region. This combination develops fresh, fruity flavors in grapes while maintaining excellent acidity.

Languedoc Roussillon

John Goelet, a direct descendent of the Guestier wine merchant family in Bordeaux, France, came to the Languedoc in 1998 to produce wines that exemplify the region and terroir. Convinced of the potential for crafting high quality wines in the Languedoc, John Goelet and Bernard Portet, founding winemaker of Clos Du Val in the Napa Valley, searched and identified several vineyard sites of exceptional terroir before deciding upon the current Domaine de Nizas property. Bernard was attracted to quality of the soils, particularly the Villafranchien terroir as closely resembling that of the Chateaufort du Pape region, where the structure and depth of soils temper the heat of the climate and produce outstanding wines. John Goelet purchased 120 acres of land near the village of Nizas from Chateau de Nizas in 1998. Born and raised by his multi-generational winemaking family in the Bordeaux region, Portet's Old World winemaking style has been instrumental in crafting Domaine de Nizas wines that exude the Languedoc regionality, elegance and charm.

Provence

The Gassiers' winemaking history began at the end of the 19th century when they purchased 1,000 hectares (2,471 acres) in Saint Estève, of which 200 hectares (494 acres) were dedicated to vineyards. In 1982, Anthony Gassier, representing the fourth generation of winegrowers in the family, purchased the 40 hectares (98.8 acres) where Chateau Gassier now stands. The winery had been built in 1973 and was known as Jas du Luc at the time of purchase. Over the years, the family's passion, hard work and experience have revealed Château Gassier's potential for excellence. In constant search of the finest expression of their unique terroir, the Château Gassier team concentrates on growing and vinifying rosés from the Côtes de Provence and Côtes de Provence Sainte-Victoire

The Boutari Winery, founded in 1879 by Yiannis Boutari, represents something very special to the Greek wine industry. The original winery, outside of Naoussa, has a 124-acre vineyard. There are also five other wineries located throughout Greece in Goumenissa, Attica, Mantinia, Santorini, and Crete. Resurrecting the unique qualities of the indigenous grape varieties of classical Greece, sometimes combining them with more well-known French varietals such as Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon, Boutari has elevated the quality of wines from this most ancient of wine-growing countries.

To express this terroir to the fullest with new and exciting grape varieties. La Mozza consists of 36 hectares (90 acres) and lies in the Southwest corner of Tuscany's Maremma, a dozen kilometers from the sea and 45 minutes Southwest of Montalcino. This area is much drier than the fog-draped hills of central Tuscany. The lack of morning mist means the grapes start ripening at sunrise, and are sun-drenched until sunset. Rain is scarce as the Island of Elba off the coast acts as a windbreak, shifting eastbound moisture to the north and south.

The Estate was founded in 1981 by Marchese Lodovico Antinori when he decided to establish a new, truly exceptional wine estate in a beautiful, unspoiled section of the Tuscan coast known as the Maremma. SOUTHERN HEMISPHERE ARGENTINA BENMARCO

Owner and viticulturist Pedro Marchevsky may be one of the most educated, experienced viticulturists in Argentina (if not the world). He has degrees in Agriculture and Enology and Agricultural Engineering, and is a Professor of Irrigation and Drainage at the Universidad Nacional de Cuyo. He has managed premium vineyards for over 30 years and also owns his own vineyard in the district of Los Campamentos in Eastern Mendoza. He is at the forefront of the transformation of Mendoza into a region of world-class vineyards. His philosophy is a simple one gained from experience: make wines that are true to their place. He feels his wines should express the wonderful, powerful fruit flavors, the ripe tannins, the incredible length and balance that can only come from this one place—Mendoza.

After 22 years of winemaking, Susana Balbo has a strong sense of what she wants from her wines. From every harvest, she creates the grandest possible wines under her Susana Balbo label. To achieve this, she makes a rigorous selection of the finest barrels prior to making her final blends, dividing them into the parents (reserve level wines) and offspring or "crios". Wines under her Crios label display ripe fruit flavors, excellent balance and concentration, and are meant to be enjoyed in their vibrant youth. They are also an incredibly good value. And like Susana's own crios (a boy and a girl), they are extremely lovable and fun to be around.

del vinatero

We have tasted over a thousand wines since we began importing from Argentina. In that time, we have discovered a handful of grape growers whose results in the vineyards with specific varietals have been truly amazing--year in, year out. Our first encounter with many of these growers was at a posta del vinatero, or "tavern of the grape grower". Here they drank wine and spoke passionately for hours about their soils, their vines, and their quest for superior flavors in their grapes. We salute the hard work and skill of these growers by offering these vineyard-designated releases made solely with their special grapes.

She has been making wine since she earned her enology degree in 1981, and she has probably produced a wider variety of wines than any other winemaker in Argentina. Susana was the first Argentine winemaker to be hired as a consultant to make wine outside of Argentina. She has made wine in Australia, California, Chile, France, Italy, South Africa, and Spain, and she spends a month each year in a different wine region of the world studying with local winemakers and growers.

Frisk's eclectic team of winemakers located high in the Alpine Valleys of Australia believe wine is for enjoying. They make delicious wine with a unique prickle to it. Frisk wines are grown in decidedly different climes. Places a little cooler, steeper and more obscure than the places one would expect winemakers go, because Frisk's brilliantly conceived master plan consists of being where the grapes grow best and making wines that reflect that.

Vina Gillmore began with a dream. In the late 1980's, Chilean visionary Francisco Gillmore took over operation of the century old Tabontinaja winery and its ancient dry-farmed vineyards planted to the rustic Pais variety. He took advantage of their healthy, hearty roots and grafted them with fine French varieties. From the beginning his wines were imbued with the spirit of this unique dry-farmed condition of restriction and resistance in which their rustic personality was expressed with vibrant acidity and tremendous character.

Craggy Range

It's a great story. The genesis of Craggy Range Small Winery began in 1987, when Steve Smith was smitten by a Small parcel of land in the TukiTuki Valley, part of the Hawkes Bay winegrowing region. With one of New Zealand's most beautiful (and best stocked) trout fishing rivers to the east and the massive symbolic escarpment of Te Mata Peak to the west, this place was indeed very special. The Craggy Range formed the backdrop to the site and close investigation of the soils showed stony clay rich soils that were just perfect for producing a high-quality single-vineyard Chardonnay wine.

MOUNT NELSON

After producing a singular Sauvignon Blanc at Tenuta dell'Ornellaia for many years, Marchese Lodovico Antinori wanted to make a wine that captured the same crisp, natural exuberance of the grape, while displaying restraint, elegance and structure. He turned to Marlborough, New Zealand, and in 2003 purchased, with his brother Piero Antinori, a portion of the Meadowbank vineyard. In 2004 they produced the first vintage of Mount Nelson from this property.

In 1965, Jack and Jamie Davies established Schramsberg as a sparkling wine estate on the property originally founded in 1862 by German immigrant Jacob Schram. At a time when there were only 22 bonded wineries in Napa Valley and fewer than 100 acres of California vineyards planted to Chardonnay and Pinot Noir, they set out to make world-class sparkling wine in the true methode champenoise style. Theirs was the first California winery to provide a Blanc de Blancs in 1965 followed by a Blanc de Noirs in 1967.

Testimony that firmly places the Bisol family in the heart of the Prosecco and Cartizze production zone i.e. the land known as "Charlice" – Today's prestigious Cartizze hills – can be found as far back as the XVI century. Numerous references to the family have been made through the centuries leaving us with no doubt as to the permanence of Bisol's forefathers in the area of Valdobbiadene up to 1542 when a historical reference affirming Bisol as a grape-growing and wine producing family can be found.

It is located in the Garraf subdivision of the Denominacion de Origen Penedés, the largest wine growing area in Catalonia. Jaume Serra lies within the "El Padruel" estate in the Mediterranean Coastal town of Vilanova y la Geltru, some 50 kilometers south of Barcelona. Wine making began on this property in 1947.

IMPORTED DESSERT WINES AUSTRALIA

The Chambers winery has been owned by the same family since its establishment in 1858 - and is one of only a few wineries in Australia with this track record. They have a totally unique style - there is nowhere else in the world that produces a style like the Rutherglen Muscat's and Muscadelles (tokays) - the process of fortifying the partially fermented wine and then aging for decades in old oak barrels results in a concentrated, powerful wine that is not cloying and has amazing balance.

HUNGARY

Royal Tokaji was founded in 1989 by well-known author Hugh Johnson and a Small group of investors, including Ben Howkins, who were inspired after the fall of Communism to restore and preserve Hungary's precious wine legacy. Royal Tokaji's ensuing success can largely be contributed to its unique combination of first and second growth vineyards, including one of Hungary's two great first growths: Mézes Mály. The Small Winery produces several exceptional wines, including four single-vineyard Aszú wines.

GINGA SHIZUKU

Each year, after the temperature drops below 14 Fahrenheit, they build an Ice Dome outside near the main kura building. It is basically an igloo inside of which the temperature stays about 28 F, with 90% humidity and no wind. The low temperature means "nasty bacteria" cannot survive, and it allows them to make clean, pure, ultra-premium Sake. Additionally, they separate the clear Sake from the fermenting rice lees not by pressing, but rather by putting it into canvas bags and allowing the Sake to drip out slowly overnight, with no pressure at all applied to the mash.

Rihaku

Rihaku was named for a famous poet in China who lived from 701-762 and was famous for drinking a lot before writing. He was known to have said, "I drink a bottle, and can write 100 poems." Taste it, you'll see why. Nigori Sake is made so that some of the rice lees remain in the bottle after pressing (unfiltered). Most nigori is sweet and creamy, and thick with the unfermented rice solids. Rihaku Nigori is a bit less chunky, but more fruity and complex than most nigori Sake."

Gillmore
VINOS CON ALMA

Vina Gillmore began with a dream. In the late 1980's, Chilean visionary Francisco Gillmore took over operation of the century old Tabontinaja winery and its ancient dry-farmed vineyards planted to the rustic Pais variety. He took advantage of their healthy, hearty roots and grafted them with fine French varieties. From the beginning his wines were imbued with the spirit of this unique dry-farmed condition of restriction and resistance in which their rustic personality was expressed with vibrant acidity and tremendous character.

Located at the base of the Blue Mountains in Walla Walla (Washington State), Charles Smith opened his first Small Winery, K Vintners, in December of 2001. The first release, 1999 K Syrah from Walla Walla Valley, initiated the style of winemaking that Charles continues today: Small lots of single vineyard Syrah's and field blends of Syrah, Cabernet Sauvignon, Grenache, Tempranillo and Viognier, all of which are hand-picked, foot-stomped, fermented with naturally occurring yeasts and basket pressed.

Dick and Nancy Ponzi moved their young family to the Willamette Valley in the late 1960s with a spirit of adventure and a passion for making world class Pinot Noir. After many research trips to Burgundy and an extensive search for the ideal location, they purchased 20 acres on a Small farm just southwest of Portland, Oregon. It was a daring risk — at the time, the Pacific Northwest was not thought to be a place to grow Pinot Noir, but Dick and Nancy realized the Northern Willamette Valley's climate was ideal for cool climate varieties. Pinot Noir cuttings were planted, and in 1970 Ponzi Vineyards was founded.

In Santa Barbara wine country, it all started with Sanford. In 1971 Sanford Winery and Vineyards discovered an overlooked, grape-growing treasure in the Sta. Rita Hills. In 1965, Jack and Jamie Davies established Schramsberg as a sparkling wine estate on the property originally founded in 1862 by German immigrant Jacob Schram. At a time when there were only 22 bonded wineries in Napa Valley and fewer than 100 acres of California vineyards planted to Chardonnay and Pinot Noir, they set out to make world-class sparkling wine in the true methode champenoise style. This was the first California winery to provide a Blanc de Blancs in 1965 followed by a Blanc de Noirs in 1967. Napa Green.

Dutton-Goldfield Winery began with a hand shake in a vineyard in 1998, when longtime colleagues and friends Steve Dutton and Dan Goldfield recognized a shared vision between them-to craft wines that express the personalities of their cool-climate vineyards, and which they'd enjoy drinking at their own dinner tables.

Quality winegrowing in America was in its infancy in the 1970's. The Spurrier tasting in Paris in 1976 gave the first international credibility to California Cabernet and Chardonnay. Three years later, again in Paris, and the following year in Beaune, The Eyrie Vineyards 1975 Pinot Noir brought international attention to Oregon, a wine region unfamiliar to almost anyone except a handful of hardy pioneers. With these two tastings, Oregon won its first recognition as the New World home for Pinot Noir.

Bob Hartwell bought the Stags Leap District estate in 1986. The first harvest in 1990 was released & sold out immediately. Even more important, the inaugural release established the quality Bob Hartwell had hoped for.

Sustainability

A Mindful Approach

Barney Fetzer held a simple philosophy. What's good for the Earth is good for the grape, and what's good for the grape is good for the wine. It was true 50 years ago, and it will still be true 50 years from now. Everything we do—how we nurture our land, how we make our wine—reflects a longstanding commitment to minimizing our impact on the environment. Because how we care for the Earth matters.
