Cancer survivor Allyson Vonderschmidt, 21, will donate her drawing at Saturday's Richardson County Cancer Fund auction at the Elks Club.

'Life's Wild Ride'

By Jason Schock

An art teacher at Northern Wyoming Community College in Sheridan told Allyson Vonderschmidt that the picture she wanted to draw – one depicting a cowboy riding atop a bucking bronco – was just too difficult for her.

"I wanted to prove him wrong," she said.

So, during Thanksgiving break last fall, Allyson put pencil to paper and, although a man atop a wild horse has long represented the State of Wyoming, this particular illustration would symbolize something much more personal to Allyson. In intricate detail, her drawing depicts the cowboy taking a wild ride – and hanging on. The cowboy does not control the bronco – but he hangs on. It's difficult – yet he hangs on.

Allyson calls it "Life's Wild Ride."

"It's really important to me; I think it reflects my wild ride," she said.

Allyson's ride has been far too wild and bumpy for a 21-year-old. Three years ago, upon her high school graduation from Falls City Sacred Heart School, she felt a sharp pain in her mouth and face that would weeks later be diagnosed as Ewing's sarcoma, an extremely rare and aggressive malignant round-cell tumor. Only 250 cases are diagnosed each year and just two percent of those arise in the skull.

Instead of going off to college like her Class of 2009 mates, the rodeo competitor underwent a brutal therapy plan that included 40 weeks of chemotherapy. In the midst of that, she also took radiation treatment in an effort to avoid surgery to remove cancer-ridden bone mass in her face and skull. The aggressive therapy took so much out of her, Allyson said she hardly remembers the first few months of 2010. But it also

Burning issue not yet extinguished

By Jason Schock

City Council members last week voted down a proposal to limit burning in Falls City to just four hours per week (10 a.m.-2 p.m. Wednesdays), but the topic still smolders.

Utility customers this month will get a survey along with their bill, giving council members a better opportunity to gauge public interest in limiting burning. Depending on the public's participation with the survey, the burning issue may make the ballot in next fall's general election.

For the time being, though, it is lawful to burn from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. Mondays and Thursdays. The Council voted 5-3 against the change, with Ryan Rieschick, Steve Scholl, Jim Wisdom, Jerry Oliver and Kirby Roubidoux casting nay votes. Oliver and Roubidoux had originally voted to advance the ordinance. Councilmen Mike Moore, Hal Sutter and Brad Campbell, who is expected to resign his position as 4th Ward Councilman next Monday, voted to approve the ordinance.

The action came after several citizens addressed the Council. Jan Zinn, of 2410 Harlan St., who is against burning, said the topic should appear on the ballot. Tom Jones, of 816 E. 19th, has publicly disagreed with the new proposal, but he, too, said the subject should be put up to a public vote.

After the first reading failed, council members discussed the possibility of putting the issue on the November ballot. Rieschick said that was unnecessary.

"Isn't that why (the people) elected us, to make these kinds of decisions?," he said.

Moore, who has long supported a burning ban, tried to make a motion to put a burning ban on the ballot. Such action would have had to come at the April 2 Council meeting, but as of March 26 was not included on the meeting agenda, presumably due to the survey soon to be distributed.

In other City Council news:

— The Council agreed to support two City Wide Clean-up Days in April and October of this year. The City will pay the tonnage charge to have items hauled to the Brown County Landfill.

— Falls City Librarian Hope Schawang presented her annual report and noted the library remains one of the busiest places in town and usage compares very favorably with other communities similar in size.

Nearly 500 volunteers spent nearly 900 hours doing library projects and that does not include The Friends of the Library, Richardson County Arts and Humanities and Lydia's Gift Shop. The Falls City Library and Arts Center has more than 4,500 patrons. Schawang says area youth are drawn to the facility.

The Council will meet in regular session Monday, April 2, at City Hall.

'Old Pufferbelly' rolls through town

A steam locomotive, UP 844, pulling a load of Civil War cannons and Civil War reenactors made a half-hour stop in the Union Pacific Railroads yards Sunday morning on its way from Council Bluffs to Memphis, TN.

The engineer whistled his way into town and for the benefit of the onlookers whistled a few more times during the stop. It made their day for railroad buffs.

For most of the younger members of the crowd which gathered, it was their first view of the way the railroad used to be, when Falls City was well known as "a railroad town." For the train, with two water cars, 12 coaches and dome cars, plus a back-up diesel engine it was a "lube stop"--to grease the wheels. The cannons and reenactors were on the last car.

"Old Pufferbelly," as the big steam engines were affectionately known in the days when Missouri Pacific and Burlington freight and passenger trains were running through Falls City night and day, left Council Bluffs Sunday morning and was on its way to Kansas City, St. Louis and Memphis.

In Memphis it will be part of the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the historic Battle of Shiloh in the Civil War.

PROTECT THE EARTH - RECYCLE

Begins April 7!
9 a.m.-noon

Recycling Dates: 1st & 3rd Saturday each month at the Sunmart Parking Lot

Accepting plastics (#1 & #2), glass (brown, green, clear), magazines, newspapers, aluminum, tin cans, cardboard

During the past month, I've had the opportunity to assess the pros and cons of idleness as mandated by a right leg that was fractured in an accidental fall at home while trying to accomplish a domestic chore. The incident was chronicled in this space two weeks ago and needs no retelling, as I've already milked it for about all it's worth. Suffice to say things seem to be healing at a decent rate and I'm able to log a few hours at work on most days.

I've received a number of nice (and some very funny) cards and calls from friends and well-wishers that are much appreciated. Members of my family have been great, as Bill Schock has ferried needed Healthy Choice dinners from SunMart to my place, as well as chicken dinners and burgers from his favorite restaurant haunts. He's also supplied some great reading material. Sister Laurie sent me a fabulous book that I've finished and will have more to say about in a future column. Daughter Amy Meinzer fulfilled a small but crucial mission to the over-the-counter pharmacy that provided an untold degree of relief. She has no idea. The vitamin D delivered to me by someone special is building strong bones, I hope, and seems to be encouraging my gray hair to rapidly grow. Without Jason Schock, however, I'd have been in really tough shape. He's hauled me here and there, including to and from the Journal, shopped for groceries, run errands, mailed my bills, shared videos, given me needed anti blood clot injections, doctored my incisions, wrapped my leg, told me when I stink and, generally, gone above and beyond. Jason, Bill, Jim, Nikki, Donna and Ron have taken on added responsibilities here at work when I've been absent or unable to attend to my usual business, proving that this place can function without me. There was a time I couldn't say that. On Saturday, granddaughters Emma and Chloe completed a grocery shopping mission for me that stocked what was becoming a bare cupboard. I'm lucky and I know it.

So, about those pros and cons. The negative side is pretty obvious. Pain is no fun and using a walker or crutches to get around isn't either. There are some things you just can't do. Cooking is a chore because it requires movement and for me, that's meant a lot of walker-hopping. No taking a walk on a nice day. No getting out in the yard to jump start spring projects.

On the positive side, friends and family become personal chauffeurs. Hopping around from here to there and back is a form of exercise and, with a lower calorie intake, promotes weight loss. I figure I've dropped about 15 pounds in a month. You have plenty of time to read and I've had some excellent reading material, including six books I've finished and numerous articles in Rolling Stone magazine. I've learned to sleep on my back. There must be some sort of benefit to that. And, I've had some interesting conversations with myself and my furniture.

And, I've been honored by former Falls Cityan Larry Nedrow: "Given this 15th day of March 2012 as token recognition that the below named individual has inappropriately attempted to become a permanent member of the elite group of crutch walkers." Larry, president of Local Number 1, Crutch Walkers of America, feted me with "Temporary Membership." I'm sure I've whined more in the past month than Larry has in his entire life.

Many of you have been watching the NCAA men's basketball tournament that is getting down to the nitty gritty. Honestly, I don't watch much basketball during the regular season, but do tune in for the one-and-done tournament games. There is something I miss, though. That's the commentary that used to be from what I consider the best, the late Al McGuire, who coached a national champion at Marquette before heading for the NBC (and later, CBS) broadcasting booth. Coach McGuire, I firmly believe, had a lot to do with the dramatic rise in popularity of college basketball. Fans would watch and listen, not necessarily because of who was playing, but to hear what gem McGuire would come up with next. He was fun and funny and knew the game, but kept it all in perspective.

During his NBA days, McGuire once pleaded with his NY Knicks coach for more playing time, promising that he could "stop Coussey," referring to the great guard Bob Cousey of the Celtics. The coach put Al in and he proceeded to foul Cousey on his next six trips down the court. McGuire was the first coach to be ejected from a game in the NCAA Championships. As a broadcaster he fancied us with such terms as "French pastry (a showy move), "Dunkirk" (extremely poor performance), and "aircraft carrier" (a very big center). No one that I've witnessed broadcasting today is an original like McGuire.

I also saw a quote from the coach, who died of leukemia in 2001: "The only mystery in life is why kamikaze pilots wore helmets."

Ban burning

I no longer live in Falls City and many of you will think that I should not even care or need to mind my own business. Well, I do care and I was born with a big mouth! Have you ever witnessed a friend/relative die of emphysema? It is a horrible way to die. Do you yourself suffer from allergies and/or are unable to go outside when people burn? Would you like to tell your neighbor who burns "please don't burn - you're killing me?"

I believe most of Falls Cityans have not lived in a city that finally "learned" how offensive burning is, even fireplace burning, and have taken corrective actions to eliminate the problem in order to obtain better air quality to make people healthier (not made to take people's choices away). I have, and the solution to help improve the health of all is to ban burning altogether.

I am sure your city council has had complaints about the burning and are responding in a positive direction for the city and it's citizens. If you have kept up with the EPA, you know how opposed they are to polluting the air. I know some of you can't believe that your air pollution isn't "bad." But China's wasn't bad. Los Angeles wasn't bad. Now it seems to be bad in almost every city. I will hope the people of FC consider to ban all burning to improve your air quality. I think we all have a duty/chance to help our environment.

How sad it was to read the SEZ I in the paper making the issue a personal confrontation to Mr. Sutter and the city council. I believe that the City Council is trying to improve FC and more people should appreciate and support them. It sure is not an easy job to make everyone "happy."

Outback Hair Shack a family affair

Two things I really enjoy are watching families work together in a constructive manner and watching new improvements take place in our town!

Well, during the past five months, I have enjoyed such an example, as I have observed the families of Dan and Lee Clark and Dan's Dad and Mom, Jerry and Barb Clark, who have just completed (mostly by themselves) a wonderful new building at 21st and Chase Streets to house Lee's three-chair Outback Hair Shack.

I am particularly pleased with this one because for many years that corner had been one of Falls City's biggest eyesores! And, oh how I remember because I probably drove by a dozen times a day!

Jerry and Lee gave me a personal tour on Wednesday. It is very nice and even includes a full basement together with a very attractive storage building and a nice deck on the west side.

For those of you who like a little nostalgia, a "must see" is Dan's grandfather's, Harold Clark's, Barber Pole which began in Harold Barber Shop at 14th and Stone and was registered with the manufacturer for warranty purposes on July 26, 1960! It has obviously been cleaned up to look like new and is attractively displayed right inside the front entrance.

Hats off and congratulations to the Clark family for your nice community improvement and for working together as a family!

Sincerely,
Rod Vandenberg

Pastor Gene Rowell of the Shubert church will deliver the message with Pastor Michael Schmidt of the Stella Church, Pastor Jim Runnels of Grace Bible and Rev. Mike Conner of the Methodist church taking part in the service. An inspiring Instrumental special will be presented by the Grace church.

In case only of inclement weather, the service will be held at The Grace Bible Fellowship church instead of the Indian Cave Park.

The churches suggest if you are going to purchase a state park sticker that you do it before the service.

This is a nondenominational service and is open to the public.

All of you who read the Omaha World-Herald know that in the Thursday, March 15, issue that columnist Michael Kelly had a very interesting column about two Falls City youths, Harry Hess and Frank Hebenstreit, and their trip to New York City in 1942 to play basketball in Madison Square Garden as members of the Creighton University Bluejays. The two guys were great pals and Harry told their story to Kelly.

Harry and Frank were starters on coach Jug Brown's 1939 state Class A championship team and carried their talents on to Creighton. Harry's dad was Dr. H. H. H.H.H. Hess, a dentist, and Frank's dad was Frank A. Hebenstreit, an attorney. Harry is the only member of that championship team still with us.

During World War II, Harry was in the Army Air Corps and Frank was an infantry officer, who was mortally wounded in France in August of 1944 while leading his platoon in some fierce fighting. Frank's name is among the 64 World War II Richardson Countyans listed as killed in action at the War Memorial on the Courthouse Square. He was the highest decorated of the 64, having been awarded, posthumously, the Distinguished Service Cross, the second highest military decoration. I have always thought it to be a pretty good guess that Frank had been recommended for the Medal of Honor, but in the complex evaluation that follows, the decoration became the DSC. So far as I know, it is the top award received by any Richardson County serviceman in the wars of the last century.

Harry is a retired CPA in Omaha and is one of the good guys.

When one goes about listing the numerous Richardson Countyans who have risen to the top of their fields one must not forget Ernest R. Ulmer, who passed away in Lincoln Feb. 25 at the age of 90. Ernest, who grew up in Dawson, was a pianist extraordinaire. (I'll be passing on information about his exceptional career as it appeared in his obituary in The Humboldt Standard.)

He began his study of piano at the age of three with his mother and the study of violin with his father at the age of seven. He was a University of Nebraska grad and during World War II served in the Army in the European fighting. Then he earned his Master's at UNL, studied at the Manhattan School of Music in New York and at the Paris Conservatoire. Ernest taught piano at the Manhattan School of Music for 34 year and upon his retirement he received the Distinguished Faculty Citation from the school.

Throughout his career he played numerous concerts at the Manhattan School of Music, Town Hall, Kaufman Auditorium, two concerts at Carnegie Recital Hall as well as concerts in the major capitals of Europe; and in Southeast Nebraska. In addition to his tours as a soloist, Ernest toured the U.S. with chamber ensembles and the Robert Shaw Chorale. He traveled to Japan where he taught at Kobe College for Women for a year. In the summers of the early 1980s he traveled throughout Spain, Italy and Switzerland with his good friend Don Edman, another American pianist trained in Paris. Ernest moved to Florida in 1995 to enjoy his retirement years, continuing to perform when requested for friends. He returned to Nebraska in 2003 to be closer to family.

There was more. Those were just some highlights concerning the life of a great musician with a Richardson County background.

Many Medicare beneficiaries opting to delay coverage

Retiring at age 65 is becoming a thing of the past. Today many employees choose to continue working beyond Medicare and retirement age. Many individuals are opting to delay some Medicare coverage, including Parts B, C, D and supplemental coverage and continue with their employer group plans. If an individual continues to work past age 65 and is covered by an employer group health plan, or a spouse's employer plan, they can typically delay enrollment in Medicare without penalty, provided the group coverage is considered "creditable coverage". Health plans offered as a retiree benefit are not considered creditable coverage.

Many beneficiaries choose this option because employer group health plans may cover items normally not covered by Medicare, such as vision or dental benefits. Another reason many beneficiaries wait to enroll in Medicare Part B is because the employer plan may be less expensive than Medicare and due to the "guaranteed issue" period for Medicare Supplement policies. During this period, a company cannot deny a Medicare Supplement policy to a Medicare beneficiary due to health status. This "guaranteed issue" period lasts six month and starts when Part B becomes effective. Those who wait to enroll in Part B can push back their supplemental "guaranteed issue" period. Most beneficiaries enroll in Medicare Part A when they turn 65 as it is typically free. When a beneficiary retires or active employment health insurance ends, individuals become eligible for a "Special Enrollment Period" and have eight months to enroll in Medicare Part B without any penalty.

There are three ways for Medicare beneficiaries to get help:

— Get one-on-one help from the Nebraska Senior Health Insurance Information Program. Call the SHIIP toll-free hotline at 800-234-7119 to make an appointment.

— Visit <http://www.medicare.gov> to review enrollment and eligibility rules and find other Medicare information.

— Call 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227) 24-hours a day/7 days a week to find out more about your enrollment and coverage options. TTY users should call 1-877-486-2048.

Capitol View By Ed Howard Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN – It was remindful of the scene from The Godfather where Marlon Brando, as Don Corleone, addresses a meeting of top mob bosses who have gathered to settle a deadly business dispute.

"How did things ever get so far?" he asks, in the wake of murderous savagery, and on the verge of all-out war.

The answer is obvious: Greed and stupidity.

Sen. Bill Avery of Lincoln likewise addressed his fellow legislators during a recent debate over the state's financially disastrous attempt to privatize its child welfare system.

Fellow taxpayer: There are not enough hard-edged, mean-spirited, denigrating or insulting combinations of words and phrases to describe the wretched incompetence associated with this disgusting debacle, which has cost thee and me tens of millions of wasted dollars.

Avery's assertion as he surveyed the social and fiscal wreckage: "I don't believe anybody was prepared for the outcome that we've witnessed since we actually started the privatization process."

The dreariest of pessimists would not have imagined "reforms" accomplishing virtually nothing, with enormous cost overruns at a time when the state needs its every dime, and winding up with the contractors backing out, demanding and likely receiving millions and millions more dollars as they depart.

Foregoing a lot of details you wouldn't remember anyway, the situation Nebraska faces resulted from an arguably well-intentioned, but unarguably wrong-headed, notion that the private sector can do every job better than government. (If you believe the foregoing is true, go ahead to the sports page.)

Only at the outset, it seems, did the private sector outperform the state: It out-maneuvered the state's representatives in negotiating contracts, most especially with the Department of Health and Human Services.

"Their" people did a better job than "our" people – over and over and over.

The costs to the state show it must have been like taking the perennial candy from the proverbial baby.

The Legislature is now considering all manner of safeguards designed to protect the state when its representatives negotiate contracts worth more than $15 million.

That's fine – assuming the people the state hires to oversee the contracts and their negotiations are a whole universe smarter than the people who got us into this mess.

By the way: Should someone hang for putting dingbats in those state jobs to begin with? Remember, government has no chance to function well when those in charge put lesser lights in positions that matter.

The final view from here: The Legislature should hire a lobbyist to straighten things out.

Lobbyists for those contractors have their clients sitting pretty as they appear ready to shovel millions more out of the state treasury, effectively being paid to go away. There are a couple of lobbyists in particular who have decades of experience in getting the best of the state.

Reavis-Ashley DAR

The Reavis-Ashley Chapter DAR, Falls City, met Friday, March 9, for a luncheon at Glenda Nelson's home in Falls City with Anne Smith as a guest.

The program was presented by Glenda on her pottery and basket collection. The pottery included a vase from the 1987 World's Fair in New Orleans from the Chinese exhibit and a basket made from cornhusks from Peru. She has many pieces made by Native Americans from the Southwest that are signed by the artist. A Navajo horsehair pottery was very interesting. It is said that horsehair pottery was discovered by a Pueblo potter whose long hair blew against a piece of pottery she was removing from a hot kiln, stuck and carbonized. Navajo potters also used the Sgraffito or etched style to carve animal, geometric and symbolic designs in their pottery. Tribes have traditional clay gathering places and the color depends on the area where they live. The collection also included signed pieces over 60 years old that were inherited from Glenda's aunt in Wyoming.

Anne Moser and Dawn Feld-kamp will attend the state conference in North Platte March 23-25. Kim Vrtiska received the Nebraska State Community Service Award and will be presented with the award at the Saturday night banquet.

Sue shared doll outfits that she is working on for the "Miss Nebraska" doll for the 2017 Continental Conference. The outfits will be part of an elaborate wardrobe that will be raffled off with the doll in Washington, DC. The next meeting is April 6 at 11:30 a.m. at the American Legion Club in Humboldt.

Legion Auxiliary Post #102

American Legion Auxiliary of Post #102 met at 1 p.m. on March 19 at the Legion Club. The meeting opened with the Flag Salute, Pledge of Allegiance, the Preamble and a silent prayer for deceased members.

Charlene Schuetz conducted the meeting with minutes of the previous meeting, roll call and the treasurer's report. Bills were paid and a donation for the District President's Project was approved. Members were making Easter crosses for veterans and nursing home residents for a total of 91. Poppy Day will be Friday and Saturday, May 18 and 19. Members will turn in hours served. The Auxiliary Constitution will be updated. The meeting was closed with a Prayer for Peace.

The next meeting will be April 16.

VFW Auxiliary Post #1765

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign War Post #1765 met March 5 at 6:30 p.m. at Eastview Apartments.

President Vickie Zeigler called the meeting to order with the Pledge of Allegiance and the singing of the National Anthem. Restroom addition at Kirkman's Lakeview

Tecumseh — Golfers at the Kirkman's Lakeview Golf Course will soon see a major improvement with the addition of a modern restroom facility on the course, which is adjacent to the Kirkman's Cove Recreation Area.

Nemaha Natural Resources District board members approved a request from the Quad County Golf Association to install the new facility during their regular meeting in early March. The structure will be placed within the golf course and will be constructed to serve as a storm shelter as well. Board action to authorize the improvement was required per the terms of a lease between the NRD and Association.

Board approval was granted to renew the lease with Bartlett Grain for their use of an overhead conveyor across the Steamboat Trace trail near Brownville. The current rate of $600 was approved for the annual lease.

The board also voted to extend its agreement with The Casey Agency to provide property, liability and workers compensation coverage for the District.

Two bids were reviewed for a disk mower to replace the current mower, which is used mainly for mowing along the Steamboat Trace trail. The bid submitted by Stutheit Implement, Auburn, was approved at a cost of $7,000.

NRD Manager Bob Hilske briefly reviewed some thoughts regarding a change to the District's employee salary schedule. No action was requested at this time.

The Operations and Education Committee reviewed an engineering proposal for raising a portion of the Steamboat Trace trail. It was felt this work could be accomplished without formal engineering services. No action was required.

FC Middle School Quarterly Honors

Falls City Middle School held its quarterly honors assembly on Wednesday, March 21.

The assembly is held to honor all students with perfect attendance, honor roll, and those students meeting the requirements for the ABBiT list. At the conclusion of those announcements students are recognized for the positive behavior they exhibit. Students earn "tiger tickets" for following the ROAR Expectations. ROAR stands for Respect, Obey Safety Rules, Achievement, and Responsibility. Once a student earns a total of at least 10 tickets they can turn them in for various rewards. The groups of ten tickets are turned into the office for the quarterly drawing.

Several local businesses donate items for this drawing. The businesses that middle school would like to recognize and thank are: Above and Beyond Creations, Bredeaux Pizza, Brown's Shoe Fit, Casey's, Falls City Bowling Lanes, Farm and City, Flair, Frosty Queen, Pizza Hut, Schulenberg Bakery, Sharon's Tips and Toes, Sonic, Spirit Shoppe, Subway, and Sunmart.

There are 12 students' names that are drawn for a special lunch that is purchased at a local eatery. A teacher's name is also drawn to join the 12 students for the special lunch.

April Fool's Day Surprises

The first day of April is April Fool's Day. It is a time for lots of fun. People like to play harmless jokes and pranks. One favorite trick is to point out something that's not really there!

April Fool's Day used to be called All Fool's Day. It is thought to have started in France. A long time ago, March 21st was the date of the New Year. A little over a week of parties and fun followed. On the last day of the festivities, April 1st, formal visits were paid and gifts exchanged.

In the 16th century, the Gregorian calendar was introduced. March 21st was no longer New Year's Day and April 1st was no longer the right day to visit and give gifts. News traveled slowly in those early times, so many people continued to celebrate April 1st as the last big day of the holiday season. Many others did not like the change of date and refused to change their ways. People who clinged to the old ways were called April Fools.

Today, on April 1st, you might hear someone call out, "Poisson d'Avril!" They have fooled someone and are calling them an "April fish." The person took the "bait" and was easily "caught." April Fool's Day is a day for tricks that hurt no one. It is a time for laughter.

I love to make people laugh!

To Whom Much Is Given
God has blessed us abundantly.
But we seldom show God appropriate appreciation.
We can change.
We can ask God to open our eyes to the truth. We can honor our Lord.

SH 5th at state speech

Seven members of the Sacred Heart School District D2-1 Champion Speech Team traveled to the University of Nebraska in Kearney to compete in nine events at the NSAA State Speech Contest on Friday, March 23. Students representing all NSAA classes competed in the two-day contest.

On the basis of two preliminary round scores, three Sacred Heart students advanced to finals. Senior Tami Rethman earned the first place gold medal in Oral Interpretation of Serious Prose and the third place medal in Persuasive Speaking. Junior Janey Malcolm won the second place silver medal in Oral Interpretation of Serious Prose, and senior David Bangert was awarded the fourth place medal in Oral Interpretation of Humorous Prose. The sweepstakes points garnered by the students in these four events earned the team a fifth place finish in Class D2.

"Of course, we wanted more of our members to advance to finals," coach Diana Eickhoff said. "But this was the state competition, and you must expect outstanding performances from everyone. We didn't always agree with or even understand the judges' rankings, but all of our competitors felt that they had presented their personal best performances of the year at State. When all is said and done, if you can say you did your best, you've done everything you can do, and there is great satisfaction in that accomplishment."

seems to have worked. Doctors didn't need to remove the bone, which would've consequently led to countless reconstructive facial surgeries, and Allyson's regular checkups (conducted every three months) show she's cancer-free.

"I definitely don't take anything for granted," she said. "I'm very thankful to just be here."

After her cancer treatments ended in spring 2010, Allyson returned to the life she had planned and attended college in Wyoming, studying animal science. She has since transferred to Northwest Missouri State University in Maryville, Mo., where she is currently studying graphic design.

Allyson loves to draw, which brings us back to "Life's Wild Ride." She will auction off her piece at the seventh annual Richardson County Cancer Fund auction March 31 at the Elks Club.

"It's going to be sad to see it go," she said. "But I really want to give something back. Everybody's been so supportive of me."

ABQQ dinner precedes the auction, from 5-7 p.m., and the auction starts at 7:30. The event is sponsored by the Past Exalted Rulers Association of the FC Elks Lodge.

The first six benefits raised in excess of $60,000, which is used to help cancer patients with traveling expenses incurred during treatment. In 2011 alone, 43 cancer patients received benefits from the Cancer Fund, bringing the total number of people helped to 230, with benefits totaling $82,400.

In addition to Allyson's drawing, items to be auctioned include: a custom-made oak wine rack, Husker football tickets, a framed photo of Ndamukong Suh, a $500 gift certificate from Hullman's Ford, and other miscellaneous items.

von Behren

Finck

Von Behren, Finck to Boys' State

David von Behren of Falls City High School, sponsored by American Legion Post 102, and Clayton Finck of Sacred Heart High School, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus and Post 102, will join nearly 400 other high school juniors from across Nebraska participating in the American Legion Cornhusker Boys' State, June 3-9 at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln downtown campus.

David is the son of John and Glenda von Behren. Clayton's parents are Mike and Cheryl Finck.

The annual citizenship program, sponsored by the Nebraska American Legion, is designed to provide youth with a better understanding of how city, county and state governments operate. Each boy is sponsored locally by an organization such as an American Legion Post, or by some other patriotic, civic, fraternal or religious group in cooperation with the local American Legion Post.

American Legion Cornhusker Boys' State is set up as a functional "51st state" and each boy learns how government subdivisions operate by actually doing the job. Participants will campaign for offices, hold elections, take part in band and chorus, compete in athletics and be involved in other varied activities as part of the citizenship training program. They will set up their own state government and draft bills.

Special lectures and addresses will be delivered by experienced public officials and professional leaders including Governor Dave Heineman and Supreme Court Chief Justice John M. Gerrard. Nationally acclaimed motivational speaker JoAnne Owens-Nauslar is also scheduled to address the group.

von Behren earns Superior rating at Omaha Festival

The annual Nebraska Federation of Music Clubs Festival was held Saturday, March 17, at St. Paul Methodist Church in Omaha.

David von Behren received a superior rating for his piano solos of Chopin's "Ocean Etude Op. 25, No. 12 in C Minor," and Gershwin's "Prelude #3."

By virtue of having four or more consecutive Superiors in Federation piano competition, von Behren is eligible for the State Honor Recital to be held in Bellevue in April. Dr. Thomas Ediger of Peru State College is his piano instructor.

will combine their talents in presenting a Palm Sunday Choral Concert in two afternoon performances this Sunday, April 1.

Directed by Ben Steffen of Humboldt, the musical program will include works from Handel's Messiah as well as contemporary arrangements of a cappella spirituals. Accompaniments will include a string quartette based in Atchison, KS, pipe organ, and piano. Doug Kirkendall of Falls City is the pianist.

David Von Behren is a featured guest and will perform a tenor solo, violin accompaniment, and an organ solo.

Concert times are 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. at the Humboldt United Methodist Church. Everyone is invited.

The presentation is sponsored by the Humboldt-Area Ministerial Association. A freewill offering will be taken and refreshments will be served in the church fellowship hall following each performance.

Tiger golfers open season with victory

Falls City High junior Wade Witt was the medalist in the Tiger golf team's season opener last Thursday at the Falls City Country Club. Witt's 43 tied Auburn's Joe Nelson, but his bogey on the 410-yard par-4 second hole proved to be the difference after a scorecard playoff.

Falls City also won the team portion of the triangular against the Bulldogs and Humboldt-TR-S by shooting a score of 180. Auburn' top four shot 193 and H-TR-S is shorthanded this year with only two players out for golf. Senior Brandt Vice and freshman Weston Witt carded 45's and freshman Brody Weinmann shot a 47. Senior Brent Maze's 49 was not taken.

The varsity golfers competed yesterday in the Auburn Invitational, but results weren't available at press time. The junior varsity will open their season, weather permitting, next Tuesday at the H-TR-S/Auburn Triangular at Auburn. The varsity team is scheduled to compete at the Lewiston Invitational next Wednesday in Beatrice.

Christ and St. Paul's (6n) Lutheran Churches

The schoolyard chant says, "Sticks and stones can break my bones, but names will never hurt me." Mocking words, as well as actions, really do hurt. When Jesus was a prisoner, He told Pilate, that He was a king. Then soldiers mocked Jesus for saying this. They beat Jesus, dressed Him in a purple robe, and put a crown of thorns on His head. They said, "Hail, King of the Jews!" Those soldiers were mocking Jesus because He didn't look like a king. But we know Jesus is the greatest King who ever lived, and He rules heaven and earth. Our gracious God uses this hurtful event to show us our true King and Priest, our Savior who boldly conquers our sin and death by offering Himself as the perfect sacrifice on the cross. We thank our Lord for enduring the wound of mockery, because "with His stripes we are healed" (Isaiah 53:5). Come and worship the God who gave up His life for you.

Our next Lenten Worship is at Christ (2310 Barada) Wednesday night, March 28th at 7:30 p.m. Sunday Morning Worship: Christ at 9:00 a.m. and St. Paul's (6n) at 10:30 a.m.

Please see our website www.fallscitylcms.com or call Christ: 245-3324 or St. Paul's: 245-4643.

Extension Educator earns Holling Family Award

Lindsay Chichester, Richardson County Extension Educator, recently was awarded with the Holling Family Junior Faculty Teaching Excellence Award at a reception at the University of Nebraska – Lincoln.

The Holling Family Junior Faculty Teaching Excellence Award was made possible by a gift from the Holling Family to honor their pioneer parents. John Holling was a 1912 electrical engineering graduate of UNL and his brother, Gustave Holling attended the College of Agriculture before farming the family's land in the Wood River area. The Holling Family Junior Faculty Teaching Excellence Award recognizes individuals who have been employed in faculty positions with IANR or NCTA for six years or less.

The application that was submitted for Chichester highlights several local programming success and partnerships, in addition to state-wide and regional programming on issues critical to the beef industry. Some of these specific local programs include the Mid-Plains Beef Educational Series, chuck roll meat cutting demonstrations, the I Heart Beef campaign, and the Husker Beef Lab. Regionally, Chichester has focused on creating educational pieces and opportunities focusing on animal welfare related topics for youth and adults. In addition, Chichester and a group of Educators have developed the youth quality assurance (QA) training online, not only providing the material in age specific modules but also creating a variety of learning environments through text, video, and audio.

FCPS seeks nomination for Monsanto grant

Falls City Public Schools is always looking for new opportunities to go above and beyond for your children. In order to continue to give students the best education, FCPS is asking for your help. They are asking all community members to ask local farmers to nominate FCPS for the opportunity to compete for a $25,000 grant through America's Farmers Grow Rural Education.

America's Farmers Grow Rural Education, sponsored by the Monsanto Fund, gives eligible farmers the opportunity to grow the next generation by nominating a rural public school district in their community to compete for a grant to enhance education in the areas of science and/or math. The Monsanto Fund will award 199 grants this year across the United States. More than $2.3 million will be donated to rural school districts across 39 states, and at least $105,000 worth of grants will be awarded in Nebraska.

This is where FCPS need your help. They are applying for a $25,000 grant to improve students' interest in math through the use of iPad technology. The school district could be one of the winners, but they need nominations to be awarded the grant. So, please get out in the community and talk to local farmers about nominating the school district for this unique opportunity.

Grants will be awarded based on merit, need, and community support. The more farmers who nominate the school district, the more it demonstrates community support and strengthens the grant application. Tell your family, friends, and neighbors to spread the word. Visit GrowRuralEducation.com for more information.

In order to nominate FCPS, a farmer must be 21 years or older and actively engaged in farming a minimum of 250 acres of corn, soybeans and/or cotton, and/or 40 acres of open field vegetables, or at least 10 acres of vegetables grown in protected culture. If you are an eligible farmer and would like to nominate FCPS today, you can do so at GrowRuralEducation.com or by calling 1-877-267-3332. The nomination period runs through April 15, 2012.

FC High students complete government leadership program

Two Falls City High School seniors, Hannah Gilfillan and Phillip Doerr, and FCHS civics/government teacher Lee Kurpgeweit, completed the final year of the University of Nebraska-Omaha Civic Leadership Program during the 2010-11 school year and summer.

Another student, Chris Yoesel, was selected to attend but, due to scheduling conflicts and other commitments, was unable to complete the second year of the program.

The program was created by the Political Science Department at UNO and introduced students to college-level course work, readings and opportunities to take part in government meetings at the local, county, state and national levels. FCHS was selected to participate in this unique program based on information sent to schools from UNO's Political Science Department. Other schools selected to participate were Omaha South, Omaha Bryan, North Platte, Omaha Westside, Bellevue East and Bellevue West.

During the summer of 2010, the Falls City representatives were in Omaha for a four-day on-campus schedule that included meeting with Omaha Mayor Jim Suttle, Mayor Suttle's staff, Omaha Police officials, Nebraska Legislators, Governor Dave Heineman and other state and local government officials. Class activities and assignments focused on local government laws and ordinances, as well as state government functions.

During the 2010-11 school year, the students were engaged in academic work that focused on levels of state government. Field trips to the Nebraska Unicameral provided looks at legislative debates and committee hearings.

In the summer of 2011, the Civic Leadership Program shifted focus to national and international government institutions. Academic work, assignments and activities were conducted to develop a working understanding of the national government, including special emphasis on the three branches of government and role of the United States in international affairs. Activities during the 2011 summer session included a meeting with the Mexican Consulate in Omaha and a tour of the FBI Field Office in Omaha.

After completion of the aca-demical work for the past two summers and school year, the students and Kurpgeweit spent five days in Washington, D.C. at a variety of locations. The group toured the White House, Senate and House Chambers, Supreme Court, Smithsonian Museums, Arlington National Cemetery and other historic sites. They met privately with Sen. Ben Nelson and with congressional staff members from the Nebraska delegation of the U.S. House and Sen. Mike Johann's office.

During the visit to the Supreme Court, the students were able to see the opinion handed down regarding a First Amendment case involving regulation of video games. While in Washington, the students sat in on a panel discussion of the Council of Foreign Affairs, a foreign affairs advisory panel and a question and answer session at the Hall of States, where representatives of state governments meet with members of Congress to help shape government policies and programs.

The time in Omaha and Washington provided opportunities for all students to develop a working understanding of both the complexity and importance of government on all levels. The program was focused on building future community leaders and government interest in students who can take back and put into practice skills necessary for government operations. The program also allowed students from rural and urban areas to work hand in hand and develop a positive view of government and the varied cultural interests that occur naturally in all states and communities.

For the birds — Trees to attract feathered friends

The yard around your house may seem like it belongs just to you, but that's not quite the truth. Even the most private, enclosed backyard is home to a whole range of other creatures, from insects and butterflies to birds and mammals. We may not want neighbors camping out there, but most of us love to have birds nesting or stopping by. According to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, bird watching is the number one hobby in North America, and it's a hobby that can be pursued from infancy to old age.

What trees are most likely to attract birds to our landscapes? Not surprisingly native trees offer the most extensive resources for native birds. It's a mutually beneficial relationship, with trees supplying shelter, food and habitat and birds in turn helping trees spread far beyond their static boundaries.

If you're thinking about planting some trees this year, here are some potential "bird magnets," listed roughly by seasonal appeal and, for many, the particular species of birds that relies on them. Many of the early spring-fruiting trees are timed perfectly to help birds with the non-stop demands of feeding their young. For spring through summer, here are some great food sources:

- Cherry, Prunus -- grosbeak, northern flicker and white-throated sparrow.
- Chokeberry, Aronia
- Chokecherry, Prunus virginiana
- Coralberry, Symphoricarpos -- upwards of 14 species eat coralberry, including American robin
- Cucumber tree, Magnolia acuminata -- bright red berries in late summer and very easy-to-grow
- Dogwood, Cornus -- especially our native roughleaf dogwood
- Elderberry, Sambucus -- red-headed woodpecker, eastern bluebird, cardinal

-- Juneberry or serviceberry, Amelanchier -- one of the best early food sources for a wide range of birds

- Maple, Acer -- cardinal, bobwhite, grosbeak
- Oak, Quercus -- turkey, bobwhite quail, bluejay, rufous-sided towhee. Dwarf chinkapin oak is a great choice as it produces an abundance of small acorns on a compact small tree to 15' tall.

Some of the best late winter food sources for birds are actually unpalatable earlier in the season, needing to freeze and thaw several times before birds will eat them:

- Crabapple, Malus -- choose from smaller-fruited types that retain fruits into winter
 - Hackberry, Celtis -- cardinal, northern flicker and northern mockingbird
 - Hawthorn, Crataegus -- including our native downy hawthorn
 - Persimmon, Diospyros virginiana -- bobwhite, eastern bluebird
 - Sumac, Rhus -- more than 30 species eat these persistent fruits
 - Viburnum -- cranberry-bush, blackhaw and our native nannyberry are great choices
- Conifers offer late season food and, just as important, valuable shelter during harsh winter months when deciduous trees have lost their foliage: fir, juniper, pine, spruce and redcedar. But keep in mind that redcedar is an alternate host for rusts on hawthorn and crabapple and should not be planted near them. Leaving some leaves and litter underneath trees not only provides nesting material but also shelters insects as an additional food source!

Refrigerated Easter eggs safe to eat for seven days

By Sarah Purcell
Extension Educator

It's close to Easter, so it's time for my annual column on food safety and hard-boiled Easter eggs. One of my most memorable gatherings was a surprise 40th birthday party for a friend, which was two weeks after Easter.

The night before my friend's surprise party, his wife made deviled eggs for their family. My friend never made his own birthday party. He and his entire family were gravely ill from a food borne illness, which was attributed to the two-week-old leftover hard-cooked Easter eggs.

Follow the recommendations below on food safety and hard-boiled Easter eggs to keep you and your family safe.

—Because Easter eggs are handled so frequently, wash hands thoroughly with warm water and soap before handling eggs at every step, including cooking, cooling, and dyeing. Take advantage of this occasion to teach youngsters about cleanliness and safe food handling.

—Make sure the eggs you color aren't cracked. If any crack during dyeing or while on display, discard them.

—Refrigerate hard-cooked eggs in their cartons if you won't be coloring them right after cooking. Refrigerate them again right after the dyeing process.

—Hard-cooked eggs can maintain quality and are safe to eat for up to seven days in the refrigerator. After seven days, throw the hard-cooked eggs away.

—Discard any hard-cooked eggs that have been out of the refrigerator for more than two hours, whether by accident, for a centerpiece, or for hiding. Consider the discarded eggs an inexpensive craft project or game. Make extra eggs for eating.

—Use food coloring or specially made food-grade egg dyes. Dissolve the dyes in water that is warmer than the eggs. Be sure the label says nontoxic on any crayons, pens, paints, or other art materials you use.

—If your Easter plans call for eggshells only, use the edible contents emptied from eggshells immediately in recipes which call for thorough cooking, such as casseroles, custards, quiches, cakes, or breads.

—Or freeze the egg yolks and whites for later use. Frozen egg yolks and egg whites keep their quality and are safe to eat for one year in the freezer. Discard after one year.

If you have any questions regarding food safety, contact the University of Nebraska—Lincoln Extension Office in Otoe County at 402-269-2301.

River antlerless permit part of game changes

Courtesy of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission and NEBRASKAlandMagazine.com

A change in strategy has the state's antlerless white-tailed deer harvest focused on river corridors. The Nebraska Game and Parks Commissioners adopted big game regulation amendments at their meeting in Lincoln on March 9.

New in 2012 is the River Antlerless permit, which allows 126 days of hunting along 11,300 square miles of river corridors. The permit is not valid on federal or state public land. This $11 permit replaces the October Antlerless permit and has a bag limit of two antlerless white-tailed deer. The new permit is valid for archery Sept. 15-Dec. 31, muzzleloader Dec. 1-31 and firearm Oct. 1-10, Nov. 10-18 and Dec. 26-Jan. 18, 2013.

The River Antlerless Unit includes most of the state's major rivers and allows hunting within 3 miles of the banks on designated stretches of rivers.

"Harvest is focused on areas where white-tailed deer populations are highest and avoids most upland areas where populations are low," said Kit Hams, Game and Parks big game program manager.

Another major change this year is the removal of Earn-a-Buck rules in eastern firearm units. "The Missouri, Wahoo, Elkhorn, Blue Southeast and Blue Northwest units have had a decline in deer herds and landowner complaints," Hams said. "It is time to revert to liberal use of antlerless tags to control the herd."

Game and Parks' deer management goal is to provide quality hunting and viewing opportunities within the limits of the deer resource, while maintaining deer populations at a level acceptable to most landowners.

Other major big game regulation changes include:

— A new nonresident statewide buck permit allows nonresidents access to mule deer harvest in the high-demand Mule Deer Conservation Area during the November firearm season.

— The statewide archery permit is valid in the MDCA for mule deer and white-tailed deer.

— Season Choice Area names and boundaries are changed to match names and boundaries of November firearm deer units.

— Youth and landowner deer permits are not valid with a firearm Oct. 1-10 in the River Antlerless Unit.

— Hand-thrown spears are legal equipment for hunting big game and sex permits, and 51 firearm doe/fawn permits for pronghorn antelope have been added.

— Rifles at least 25 caliber that deliver at least 1,700 foot-pounds of energy at 100 yards are legal for hunting elk and bighorn sheep.

County, Road Dept. Union still at odds on wage increase

At their March 20 meeting, the Richardson County Commissioners reviewed the certification received from the Richardson County Clerk regarding the number of signatures found to be valid on the petitions seeking a recall election for Richardson County Assessor Regina Cummings.

After the review, the board adopted a resolution to set the date for the recall election for Tuesday, May 15, at the same time as the Nebraska Statewide Primary Election.

Randy Gilsdorf, Jimmy Counce, Matt Cromer and David Feek, representing the Road Department Union, presented a counter proposal calling for a 3 percent salary increase for year one and year two. The county had proposed increases of 2.5 percent for each year of the two-year contract. The board offered their counter proposal of 2.7 percent the first year and 2.5 percent for the second year. The union counter offered 2.7 percent for each year of the contract.

The county did not accept this counter offer. The county's counter offer will be presented to union members, who planned to meet with the board again today.

During their weekly meeting with Highway Supt. Scott Huppert, Commissioners Dave Sickel, Bill Ely and Jim Davidson awarded bids for steel and culvert materials. Midwest Sales and Service of Schuyler was the lowest bidder for items 1 and 2 of steel materials at $51,039.56. For items 3 through 9 of steel materials, the low bidder was Oden Enterprises of Wahoo at $46,400.60. All items of culvert materials were awarded to the lowest bidder, Metal Culverts, Inc., of Jefferson City, MO, at $44,786.83.

The board and Huppert discussed development of an agreement with Nemaha County, KS, for road and bridge maintenance on the State Line Road.

Sealed bids for the removal of closed bridges in the county were opened. After review, the following bids were awarded: Cory Sneath, Site 4, $257; Johansen Drainage and Tile, Sites 2 and 3, $1 each; Dan Wittwer, Site 1, $1,001.

The successful bidders have 60 days to remove the bridges.

A public hearing was held to receive comments regarding the establishment of a "Tobacco Free Policy" in and on all county buildings, grounds and vehicles. Five county employees attended and supported the policy. No one spoke in opposition.
