No Signs On Phone Poles

New York Telephone is asking residents not to attach signs to its telephone poles since this action poses a safety-hazard to pole-climbing technicians.

The signs, especially those made of heavy wood and metal, can cause injury if a technician climbing spurs get caught in the posters or nails. Injury may also result from falling posters or brushing against sharp sign edges.

Under New York State Penal law, it's illegal to post signs, advertisements, posters and notices on utility poles. New York Telephone will remove signs placed on its poles and will contact the party that placed them, when possible.

Correction

The Oyster Bay Town Board did vote on the application of Councilman Hogan's request for a change of zoning for his property at 108 Forest Ave., Locust Valley. The vote of 6-0 was taken at the conclusion of the August 26 meeting of the Board. Supervisor Joseph Colby interrupted the orderly voting of the assembled Councilmen to allow a statement by Lawrence Meli, who has opposed the change. After the statement, the voting continued.

secretary coordinator of the Hicksville School System Physical Education and Interscholastic Athletics. Mrs. Cutrone keeps a friendly face and cooperative attitude in handling the thousands of schedule, field, and official game and bus assignments required by the program. In addition she checks the physical examinations and injury clearances with the school medical offices concerning health eligibility. This important function prevents athletes who have an impairment from slipping through the cracks and playing and practicing. This is necessary to insure against gigantic lawsuits against the districts.

In New Jersey an understaffed athletic office slipped up resulting in a negligence suit upon the unfortunate death of a student not cleared for practice. The superintendent of schools and the school board tried to pass the entire blame on the athletic director but later had to withdraw the charges from the employment.

Mrs. Cutrone performs her assignments under the administrative direction of Mr. Robert Kenney.

Editorial

The only affiliation this newspaper has is with what is best for our hometown of Hicksville. We will not relent from our loathing for the township government of Oyster Bay in its last twenty-year attitude towards Hicksville.

However, pointing out conditions that need desperate improvement does not mean we advocate the dissolution of our present system of government. Our intent should not be misconstrued! We recoil at the threat to the overall quality of life represented by the petitions circulating for Councilmatic or a Legislative Form of Government.

It smacks of New York City and Queens squalid buttertub, influence-pleading politics. It is not welcome here.

If present leadership and its representatives do not function or serve within the existing framework — that can be changed at the ballot box. To oust those who serve least, or shift area representation, the Primary route is a remedy.

The contention that Councilmatic districts will not increase costs is absurd. Just look to the East. The Suffolk Legislature recently refused the right of the people to petition and redress their government by rejecting a county-wide referendum to abolish their buttertub profitable positions 9-8 and with two abstentions. The County has ten Town Supervisors also on the payroll.

The pyramid in any great business or government must have leadership narrowed at the top. Expanding to influx a lot of small minds confined to parochial interests, clouds, obstructs, dilutes and damages effective operation.

Costs!! The latest flap in Suffolk was the awarding of a $62,000 Clerk of the Legislature position. Costs!! $62,000?

In addition, the self-important need to make self-work, Suffolk district reps recently voted to BAN drug testing in Suffolk. Industry and business object strongly. It is the only other government body in the country aside from San Francisco—the liberal capital of the world—to enact such legislation. A major blow against protecting the public.

The great danger in turning aside the Nassau County and Oyster Bay government structures, tested and approved by the United States Supreme Court, is how will the districts be carved out by politicians.

Proponents have already declared one certain area to be gerrymandered to their scope of influence.

Remember how much control is lost when the State Assembly—overwhelmingly dominated by New York City influence—cuts up political divisions.

Yes, we are for Hicksville and ask all to be aroused and work for improvements. However, we urge citizens not to turn to a system which will be more repugnant in the long run.

Those who imply, use or distort this newspaper's position on Hicksville to advance their cause constitute the lack of standards we most fear.

Letters From Our Readers

To the Editor:

I've seen the column in the paper concerning the politicians in our town and the way they are allowing our town to become unattractive. I agree with you wholeheartedly and am trying to keep it from going from unattractive to downright slums. My neighbors and I are trying to keep the blocks around Robert Chevrolet from becoming commercial and destroying one of the nicer areas of lovely homes from becoming commercial and becoming a parking lot (which I don't think we need!)

We have repeatedly told the Town Board we are against such a change and now we are trying to have the Oct. 7 meeting changed from morning to evening so that most of us can attend, and declare we are against our neighbor Robert Chevrolet from commercializing our property.

The citizens don't seem to have much to say anymore and I think as a group we should remember who cares for "our town."

Catherine Fasco, Hicksville
P.S. Enclosed is a letter the Town Hall will be receiving:

To Whom It May Concern:
Attention: Councilman Clark

I have just read that Robert Chevrolet has requested a change of zone from Residence to Commercial. It is no secret that the residents surrounding Robert Chevrolet have stated time and again they were against such a change. It is a safety hazard and it will down zone the value of our property and homes. It seems to me the immediate residents and not a Brookville resident, such as Mr. Brown is, should determine what our neighborhood should be. Robert Chevrolet has not been a good neighbor. He has never been considerate of our safety. He has been testing cars that skid and screech and turn corners on two wheels. They have done absolutely nothing to enhance the parking lot so that their neighbors wouldn't have to look at broken sidewalks, and their windows in the area do nothing to beautify the surroundings either. If Mr. Clark goes along with this he should expect fewer votes the next time he runs. We are sick and tired of trying to get through to our politicians. It is "by the people and for the people." We have been voters and decent citizens of Hicksville for more than twenty years and I think we should be listened to.

We would like this meeting to be held in the evening, so we, the people, can attend. Let's be fair and make it Tuesday, Oct. 7 in the evening. We are tired of being used for the convenience of everyone else. We expect our representatives to do just that and be fair. We are near a school and this activity goes on on the school streets. I thought there was a law against racing cars on a school street. We have school buses, parents cars, people's cars, teachers and others and therefore I think we should be listened to for safety alone.

Dear Editor:

I read your article on "Weedsville, Hicksville" and I thought it was great!

I am thoroughly disgusted with our local officials and as a Hicksville resident for twenty-five years I feel totally abandoned. Hicksville is long overdue for its share of attention from our local officials.

I hope that many more Hicksville residents will voice their opinions on how they feel about the neglect of Hicksville.

Rose Marie Marrone, Hicksville
P.S. I enjoy reading your paper.

Dear Editor:

Your article regarding the neglect of Hicksville was accurate and direct. It is obvious that Hicksville is last in the race of development and maintenance of properties. Is it possible that the voters of Plainview, Syosset, Jericho, etc. have more political clout than Hicksville voters? Last spring, when Mr. Parola came to my door asking if there were any problems he should be addressing, I asked if he could do anything for the appearance and development of Hicksville. His response to this was to seek action from local officials. Surely, he could have gotten "involved" on behalf of Hicksville voters.

I do hope you "struck a nerve" through your article. All Hicksville residents should consider their town before voting in November. Demand action instead of empty promises.

Angela M. Karman, Hicksville

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter was sent to us to be published in the Illustrated News:

Nassau Co. Dem. Party
Att: Mr. John Matthews
Dear Mr. Matthews and Interested Parties:

Many years I have been a faithful Republican voter in Oyster Bay. Unfortunately I have seen political changes in Hicksville and surrounding areas that have caused the decline of the quality and suburban way of life, which has become dirty and an overgrown fortress.

I believe the Republican Town Fathers have become "soft" and more likely "sweethearts" to developers who have been in the area too long! One in mind, is building a huge house next door to me on a small lot. They are buying up small tracts of land and are able to obtain what appears to be, "easy" variances, from the Town Board of Appeals. On lots, as small as 50 feet frontage or less, they put up these large split levels for $225,000. Go down Broadway, south of Old Country Road in Hicksville and look at those homes newly built. Go to Bayville, next to the firehouse, on small tracts—there are large new homes—and one alleged to be already condemned.

Very rarely do you see street sweepers through the streets. Just check where they go and for how long.

Look at the fences going up out to the sidewalk line and over 5 feet high. When I questioned these problems with Town Hall about why the inspectors aren't aware of these problems, I was told "the inspectors only go on complaints and not on their own looking for problems" I can put in two forms at a time, I was told.

So, if M. Kastleman thinks you haven't "enough votes," and the "Republicans are in," — just go to civic organizations and ask to be invited. In the Hicksville area alone, I know, at these meetings, you'll get enough signatures to seek "elections by districts."

The uproar in Hicksville and it surrounding areas over these problems has the people reorganizing old and new civic clubs and are up-in-arms, but they need "political support." Possibly you are the one!

Maybe you can give the support they need. This is a bipartisan vote.

You have one more vote — mine — for election by district.

Please put ads in our local papers, go to civic meetings, request to talk, or just go and talk to members, put ballot entries and where to return them in local papers so you can get in touch with these people.

Good luck and you have my vote and signature.

Mrs. F. Whaley, Hicksville

Dear Editor:

On August 2, 1986 I was hit by an out-of-control car at the corner of Newbridge Road and Genesee Street in Hicksville.

While I am still in the hospital making daily progress, my family and I wish to express our heartfelt appreciation to the Hicksville Fire Department, Nassau County Police, and the Nassau County Rescue Squad for their admirable performance in getting me to the Nassau County Hospital for medical treatment.

We would also like to thank all our caring neighbors and friends for their immediate assistance and words of comfort.

Sincerely,

Mr. Jean Diradourian

Police Report

The Second Precinct has reported the following:

* August 26- Two men, one possibly armed with a handgun, allegedly robbed an attendant of $100 dollars at a gas station on Plainview Road.

The attendant, a 28-year-old Plainview man, was approached by the two suspects, in front of the gas station, who asked for cigarettes. The pair followed the attendant as he went inside to get the cigarettes. One of the subjects, who appeared to have a gun under his waistband, announced a stickup and demanded the station's receipts. The attendant handed over $80 and they then made the attendant lie on the floor and his personal wallet was taken from him. As the subjects started to leave with the wallet, the attendant asked that they take the twenty dollars in his wallet and leave the wallet. The suspects did so. They put the attendant in a closet and left the station in an unknown manner and direction. No injury was reported. One of the suspects was described as a male black, possibly armed with a handgun, 25-years-old, 150 lbs., stocky build and about 5'8" tall. The other was described as a male black, 25-years-old, 6'3" tall, medium build and about 190 lbs. Both wore blue jeans. The Second Squad is investigating.

Rapid Weight Reduction

THE GASTRIC BUBBLE

A Device That Makes Dieters Feel Full

WHILE IT IS UNCLEAR EXACTLY HOW THE BUBBLE REDUCES HUNGER IN its recipients, some researchers think the polyurethane sac—which inflates to the size of a small juice can—stimulates receptors that line the stomach, thereby causing a sensation of satiety.

1. Deflated Bubble is inserted into the stomach via a plastic tube

2. The Bubble is inflated and the tube is removed.

3. The now free-floating Bubble helps to satisfy the feeling of hunger.

4. After four months, the Bubble is deflated and removed, using a tube with a viewing scope.

- NUTRITIONAL COUNSELING

BY PROMOTING A SENSE OF fullness and by limiting food intake, the gastric bubble can help improve eating habits. It allows the adoption of an effective dietary program that provides appropriate caloric restriction and adequate nutritional intake.

A proper weight reduction program with the Garren-Edwards Gastric Bubble requires nutritional counseling and psychological support to deal with the issues that promote overeating and obesity.

It is recommended that the gastric bubble be placed in individuals whose problems with obesity pose a potential medical threat.

The National Institutes of Health have determined that obesity in excess of 20% of an individual's ideal body weight increases the risk of high blood pressure, heart disease, diabetes and stroke.

Substantial medical data indicates that weight loss can reduce the risk of these conditions.

5,700 At Schools Opening

The Hicksville Public Schools opened their doors this week for the new school year as nearly 2,300 elementary youngsters and 2,400 secondary students returned to class, ready for an exciting year of learning and growth.

District professional and support staff members met for orientation on September 2 at a program featuring guest speaker Jay Sommer, National Teacher of the Year for 1981-82 and member of the Commission on Excellence, who shared insights and experiences with the Hicksville staff.

A presentation by last year's first grade girls from Fork Lane to the music of "Hands Across America" included participants Binney Alexander, Robin Beck, Jill Dayney, Annemarie Elenio, Robin Goldberg, Renee Grenier, Mariena Horton, Jennifer Komreich, Angela Leal, Gina Pelletiere, Lisa Santoiemma, Susan Stolz, and Marissa and Abbey Toich. Amy Verbouwens, entering the Junior High School from Dutch Lane, sang a parody about school based on the song "Nine To Five," and a videotape of last year's performance of "Help Us to See the Light," a work composed for the district by Artist-in-Residence Julius Williams and performed by senior high students, was shown.

Attendees were also introduced to 22 new professional staff members and two new administrators. Geraldine Silver is the new Assistant Director of Instruction, and Michael Dunn will be serving as Principal of Willer Avenue School.

The Board of Education and district administrators are looking forward to a successful and stimulating 1986-87 school year for all staff members and students.

Museum Service Courses

The Hicksville Gregory Museum is offering three highly relevant topics and study opportunities for teachers and interested laymen as in-service training courses: Mountain Building & Plate Tectonics, The Early History of Long Island and Its Communities and Whales.

Mountain Building & Plate Tectonics - A 2 credit, two hour session course offered by Dr. Charles Rockwell. Will California eventually 'slide' into the Pacific Ocean, as some predict? Have continents really 'drifted' apart over the centuries? Answers to these questions and many others which have intrigued geologists for decades will be some of the topics of discussion. Also the theory of plate tectonics, representing the real frontier of earth science will be considered in the framework from which most other geologic processes should be viewed. This course will start Wednesday, October 1 at 4 p.m., 10-2 hour sessions. Fee $60.00.

The Early History of Long Island and Its Communities - A 2 credit, two hour, ten session course offered by Gregory Museum Historian, Richard Evers. The course will cover the early history of Long Island, and is designed to assist teachers with the State mandated 4th grade social studies curriculum and to provide any teacher with insight into Long Island history through the period of the American Revolution. This course will start Tuesday, September 30 at 4 p.m., 10-2 hour sessions. Fee $60.00.

Whales - A 2 credit, two hour, ten session course offered by Carolyn Haplerin. This course offers an overview of whales and other marine mammals. The series will supplement parts of the 6th grade curriculum project "Voyage of the Mimi", as well as studies of mammals for other grade levels. Some of the topics that will be covered: Ancestry, Anatomy and Physiology, Habits, Migration, Intelligence plus classroom projects such as vocabulary, puzzles and song. This course will start Thursday, October 2, at 4 p.m. 10-2 hour sessions, Fee $60.00.

Registration is now taking place by telephone or in person. The Gregory museum is located at Heitz Place, Hicksville, one block south of the intersection of Bay Avenue and Woodbury Road. For registration or information 822-7505.

1986 Election Policy

In 1986, as in previous years, the news space allocated to all contestants for a specific position will be equal in length and prominence. This policy has been followed during the tenure of the present publisher since we believe that the constituency should know as much as possible about the candidates who are soliciting their votes. This policy in no way subordinates our rights to make endorsements should we desire.

In order to allow all candidates the ability to address their thoughts and ideas to our readership, we have established a very attractive rate schedule for political advertising in all of the nine issues starting with September 4 and through October 30. We suggest that candidates interested contact our Mr. Mike Skahill at 747-8282 early.

So much for our part—the important part of the coming election is for the voters to take any election, large or small, seriously. Voting is more than a privilege—it is the obligation of every citizen.

THE FULL LAUREL HOLLOW TEAM, Schwartz, Amsterdam, Daley and Bianco dash to the action, with Paul Rizzo of Ravenwood the closest.

A Letter from Lulubelle...

...Nostalgia is in the air—and in my mind—and I've been thinking about dating—in my dating days—and what did we do?... And I've just remembered that one of the most important things was the movies—and, in those days, it was easy to go to three movies a week... Every village had two or maybe even three movie "palaces" and they all played different movies—usually double features—so you could go to three movies right in your own home town... And then, in the nearby towns that were larger and more important, there would be newer movies, so you could go there, too... And, if you were really adventurous, you could drive out to Suffolk County where they had even newer movies—we, in Nassau, were within the New York City circle and could not have the movies which were playing in New York—but Suffolk was outside that circle... so, movies were very important in our dating and entertainment world—and in those days, we always said, "Who's in it?" when we were asking about a movie, and we all wanted to follow our favorite stars, Joan Crawford, Clark Gable, Greer Garson, Gary Cooper, and all the wonderful ones we idolized just as the kids today idolize rock stars—(nothing changes)... and then, another evening out was at the record store... You could go to the record store, select a pile of records—and play them to see if you wanted to buy them... We would go at least one night a week, choose stacks of records, play them for hours—and maybe buy one at the end of the evening—and the store owner didn't mind at all—that was how his business was conducted... It was a great night out... And since movies cost 25¢—35¢ in the loge—and records (did I mention that these were 78s and breakable?) cost 39¢—and the ice cream parlor soda on the way home was 20¢—(leave a nickel for the waitress)—even though we had so little money—$12 a week was starting pay at most jobs... still, we could afford these "big evenings out"—and it was fun!!

Yours Lulubelle

Agatha Christie's Greatest: 'The Mousetrap' at Arena

"The Mousetrap," a mystery by Dame Agatha Christie, is at Arena Players Main Stage September 4 through 28.

Having enjoyed a London run of more than 30 years, this is Agatha Christie's most famous play. A murder is committed in a boarding house during a snow storm and each of the guests is a suspect. Is it: the newlywed couple who run the house, the architect who seems better equipped to be a chef, the retired Army major, a jurist, or a strange little man whose car has overturned in a drift? Another superb intrigue from the foremost mystery writer of all times.

Performances are Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays at 8:30 p.m., Sundays at 3:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Tickets are 17, Thursday, 19, Friday & Sunday, 22, Saturday. For information or reservations, phone: (516) 293-0074.

Long Island Strings and Reeds

The Long Island Strings and Reeds will perform a concert of chamber music by Bach, Mozart, Martini, Poulenc and Zelenka at New York Institute of Technology's Old Westbury Campus on Sunday, September 28. The program will begin at 3:00 p.m. in Salten Hall.

Presented free of charge, the concert is sponsored by New York Institute of Technology's College-Wide Cultural Committee, and the Nassau County Office of Cultural Development.

"BEAVER" AND WALLY CLEAVER are back again in the exclusive first-run series "The New Leave It To Beaver," premiering Monday, September 8, at 6:00 p.m. (ET) on SuperStation WTBS. Returning from the hit "Leave It To Beaver" series are Jerry Mathers (above right) as "Beaver" and Tony Dow (above left) as Wally, seen both as they are now and as they were in the original "LITB" series (left). "The New Leave It To Beaver" will repeat Sundays at 6:35 p.m. (ET) on SuperStation WTBS.

SAVORING THEIR legendary idyll along the mighty Mississippi, Huckleberry Finn and Jim (actors Martin Moran and George Merritt of the hit Broadway musical "Big River") try hard to ignore the bookish threat implied by the familiar black-and-orange poster: "School's Open — Drive Carefully." Representative of more than 10,000 such reminders distributed throughout the metropolitan area by the Automobile Club of New York, the poster alerts motorists to be extra careful now that thousands of youngsters are back from vacation and walking to and from school. The characters, creations of the irreverent pen of Mark Twain, evidenced some safety-minded creativity of their own by turning Central Park Pond into the Big River itself, during a break from the Eugene O'Neill Theatre where the show has won seven Tony Awards, including Best Musical of 1985.

TOM CRUISE

Cliches fly as fast as the Navy jet fighters in this flagwaving, supercharged, film about elite pilots. Tom Cruise is the ace "Maverick" who is as arrogant in the air as he is with women — especially Kelly McGillis as his unlikely civilian instructor. Their inevitable love affair strikes as many sparks as a wet sponge. The serious effort is in the slick dog fights. When the planes land, the movie plods. (PG)

DONOVAN REPORT

Real Estate:
Karen Donovan

WHAT DOES IT COST?

What does it cost to get the professional services of a real estate broker? Nothing, until the house is sold, and then just a small percentage of the selling price. And, experience shows, that selling price is probably higher when an agent negotiates for you, so your net may be higher than if you sold by yourself.

Balance that against what it costs you, in time, effort, and out-of-pocket costs, NOT to use a broker. You'll have to pay cash for advertising space. Someone will have to stay home to answer telephone calls and show the house. There's the hassle of strangers trooping through, making comments about your home. Negotiating for yourself is difficult and, even if you agree on a price with an unqualified prospect, there's still question about whether the sale will go through. It's no wonder that four out of five people who try to sell their homes themselves end up calling in a broker.

Save yourself the hassle. List right away with:

BUILT IN 1837 THE GRAND HOTEL IN Hicksville was both a summer resort residence for mostly Brooklyn families and the social center of the East Hempstead plains. It was at the junction of the Port Jefferson and Speonk lines. Before then Hicksville was the terminus for the railroad, and the huge turntable used to head the engine back to New York was behind the railroad building on the extreme right.

In the middle background is the Griffin and Rushmore Supply House.

The Hotel is viewed across the well kept grounds which is now the site of the Hicksville Memorial Park.

When the hotel, known for its fine food and Saturday night dances, closed after the turn of the century it gave a mammoth free Ice Cream Social to all residents.

Social Security

Q. You read a lot nowadays about how much it costs to run the government. I'd like to know how much of the money we pay in Social Security taxes actually comes back to us as Social Security benefits.

A. About 1.3% of every dollar paid on Social Security taxes is used to administer the Social Security program. That means that 0.8% of each dollar is used to pay benefits.

Q. My mother's application for SSI payments was turned down. She disagrees with that decision and would like me to appeal it for her. May I do that even though I'm not a lawyer?

A. Yes. Anyone who has dealings with the Social Security Administration may choose to be represented by another person. The representative need not be an attorney. There are, however, special procedures you should follow. Contact any Social Security office for more information.

Q. My father is about to apply for Social Security benefits. He's in such poor health that I would like to minimize the effort for him. Can he apply by telephone or by mail?

A. People who wish to apply for Social Security retirement benefits but who find it difficult to visit a Social Security office may make their initial application by telephone. Social Security personnel will obtain the necessary information and then arrange to complete the application by mail.

Q. Last week I tried to open a savings account at a bank and was told I had to give them my Social Security number. Is that legal?

A. Yes. Your Social Security number is also your taxpayer identification number and the Internal Revenue Service uses it in connection with income reporting. Many businesses and organizations, both governmental and private, use Social Security numbers for record-keeping purposes; and the practice is not prohibited by Federal law. Of course, by merely having your number, a business or organization is not entitled to information from your Social Security record.

Q. I'm badly in need of physical therapy.

My condition is so bad I really can't travel to a hospital to receive it. Will my Medicare pay if I get the therapy at home?

A. So long as you are confined to your home and a doctor determines that you require physical therapy, Medicare may help pay the cost of care provided by a participating home health agency. Please call a Social Security office for more information about this matter.

Q. I understand that Medicare recognizes something called a skilled nursing facility. What in the world is that?

A. A skilled nursing facility is a specially qualified facility which has the staff and equipment to provide skilled nursing care or rehabilitation and related services. Most nursing homes in the United States are not, in fact, skilled nursing facilities. You should be aware that many skilled nursing facilities are not certified to participate in Medicare. If you'd like to know whether a particular skilled nursing facility participates in Medicare, ask the facility itself or call a Social Security office.

Q. My son gets SSI disability payments. He would like to go to college if he can get a scholarship. Will the scholarship reduce or eliminate his SSI payments?

A. It depends. Any part of a scholarship spent on tuition and fees is not counted in determining the amount of an SSI recipient's income. Any amount remaining may or may not be counted. You should discuss this with your local Social Security office.

Q. I've heard that SSI is different from Social Security. Does that mean that you apply for SSI at a special SSI office?

A. No. Although they are two distinct programs, both are administered by the Social Security Administration. If you think you are eligible for SSI, you should apply at a Social Security office. It's to your advantage to contact the Social Security Administration as soon as possible, since SSI payments are not paid for any day before the day of application.

Q. My father died 3 months ago and, going through his papers, I found some Medicare medical insurance claims that he had not submitted for payment. Is it too late to submit them now?

A. The time limit for submitting Medicare medical insurance claims is 15 months.

Q. I'm going into the hospital next month for an operation. Are there any circumstances under which my Medicare will pay for a private room?

A. Medicare hospital insurance cannot pay extra charges for a private room unless the private room is determined to be medically necessary.

Q. My husband died a few weeks ago. Both of us were getting SSI. Is there anything I have to do because of his death?

A. Yes. You should notify a Social Security office of your husband's death. Any checks for him sent after the month of death or any of his checks not cashed or deposited before death must be returned to Social Security. The amount of your own SSI check will be adjusted.

Q. I am a representative payee for my mother. I move around quite a bit because of the type of work I do. Why is it necessary for me to report my change of address to Social Security if my mother's check is deposited directly into her bank account?

A. As your mother's payee, you are occasionally sent important notices and information by Social Security that relate to your mother's entitlement and benefits. Therefore, the Social Security Administration must always have your correct current mailing address.

Q. I'll be 65 next month, but I haven't decided whether to retire or to keep on working. I know I should file for Medicare benefits, but will I lose anything if I don't apply for retirement benefits?

A. You should not delay too long before applying for your retirement benefits after retirement because there is a 6-month limit on the payment of retroactive benefits. That is, you'll be able to receive benefits only for up to 6 months before you apply, but not before the month you become 65.

A. An aunt of mine who gets SSI has taken in a friend who is going to split the household expenses with her. Is this something my aunt has to report?

A. Yes. A person receiving SSI payments must notify Social Security whenever he or she begins living with others who share the household expense. It's also necessary to report any changes in the amounts contributed by those living together.

Q. Recently my wife and I were vacationing in northern New York State when she became ill and had to be taken to a hospital. The ambulance took her to a Canadian hospital because it was the closest one. Will my wife's Medicare cover the cost of the ambulance?

A. Medicare medical insurance will help pay for the ambulance if the Canadian hospital was closer than the nearest United States hospital that could have provided the needed services.

Veterans Administration

Editor's Note: The following questions are answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.

Q. When I got out of the Army after World War II, I used the GI Bill to buy a house. I am retiring soon and I want to use my current house as an income property. Can the VA help me buy a new home in Florida or is a VA-guaranteed home loan a one-in-a-lifetime deal?

A. Any veteran who has remaining entitlement to a home loan guarantee may use that entitlement to purchase a new principal residence. This is true whether or not the veteran still owns the house he or she bought with the assistance of a VA loan guarantee.

Q. I recently have been rated for a service-connected disability. My disability make it difficult for me to obtain life insurance. Can the VA help me?

A. If you apply within one year of the date you are notified that you have been granted a service-connected disability rating and are otherwise in good health, you may obtain Service-Disabled Veterans Insurance issued by the Veterans Administration.

Bonanza Stand Operated By The Fourth Generation

By MADELINE L. BONASIA

One of the many landmarks of the hamlet of Oyster Bay is the Bonanza Stand on Shore Avenue. Proprietor Philip Bonanza Sr. and his Philip Jr. operate the stand year 'round selling the best hot dogs and homemade lemon ice on Long Island.

The business was started back in 1897 by John and Emma Bonanza of Meeker Avenue in the Greenpoint section of Brooklyn. Approximately 76 years ago the couple moved to Oyster Bay and opened a candy store in a stand similar to the one you see today on Irving Place (directly across from the firehouse of Fire Co. -1). At this location, Phil Sr.'s grandparents sold only candy and soda.

No one seems to recall when the stand was moved to its present location or what it looked like exactly. David Bernstein, who came to Oyster Bay in 1908, recalls a canvas tent on the present site that sold refreshments during the summer months. Jessica Kraft recalls a more permanent structure where she would purchase refreshments after attending the old St. Rocco's Feast on Audrey Avenue. Stuart Chase, Director of Raynham Hall, remembers seeing an old photograph showing a canvas tent in the area. Some senior citizens remember a pushcart with a canvas top on the Shore Avenue corner. Philip Bonanza Sr. recalls a small wooden structure being moved to the stand's present location.

Emma and John lived in the white house next to the stand. Here they raised four children. Their son Mike and his wife Mary Bonanza, of Bayville, took over the stand when John retired. At this time it was still a seasonal operation, from Memorial Day to Labor Day. Mary and Mike sold only ices, soda and hot dogs.

Eighteen years ago Mike decided to work for the U.S. Postal Office and his son Philip Sr. took over the stand. Phil the present owner, decided 15 years ago to keep the stand open all year long. He maintains the same bill of fare: hot dogs, soda and ices; lemon, chocolate and orange made fresh daily from his grandfather's own special recipe. Phil, a resident of Bayville has supported his family on the profits from the stand. Presently, his son Phil Jr., a recent graduate of Nassau Community College, helps out.

Nick La Bella painted the illustrations on the present structure on Shore Ave. Nick has many pleasant memories of the stand and the Bonanza family. He goes back periodically to touch up his work without being asked. Nick remembers Grandpa John fondly. He recalls the door to the stand being left slightly ajar while Grandpa John made the lemon ices and the children pecking in looking for the secret recipe. Nick painted many signs for both Grandpa John and his son

7-Eleven For MDA

Four Long Island businesses have joined time and talents to assist the Muscular Dystrophy Association and "Jerry's Kids". Pepsi, A.T.V., 7-Eleven stores and the Long Island Radio Broadcast Association are working together in a $20,000 customized van giveaway called the DREAM MACHINE.

This fully customized Ford AeroStar Mini-van will be awarded to a lucky Long Islander during the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon. The winner will receive the DREAM MACHINE van keys on television from New York telethon host Tony Orlando.

Entry forms for the van drawing are available at A.T.V. and 7-Eleven stores in Suffolk, Nassau and Queens. A donation of one dollar per entry is requested — all proceeds benefit M.D.A.

7-Eleven is a national sponsor of the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Last summer, 7-Eleven celebrated their 30th anniversary of supporting "Jerry's Kids" and raised $168,000 on Long Island and over $1 million dollars nationwide. Area radio stations and Pepsi have assisted 7-Eleven fundraising efforts for several years. This is A.T.V.'s first year of involvement with M.D.A.

Notch Babies to Rally Sept. 10 In D.C.

A peaceful rally for individuals not receiving full social security benefits is scheduled for Sept. 10 in Washington, D.C.

Speakers will include congressmen, senators and others involved in the movement to have full benefits restored. Known as "notch babies," individuals born between 1917 and 1921 do not receive full social security benefits because of the terms of legislation passed in 1978 designed to compensate for over-payments made in previous years. Currently there are 135 sponsors of a bill which would restore full benefits.

The rally will take place at 11 a.m. on the west side of the Capitol building. For more information, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with a small donation to cover printing costs, to Dr. Albert DeVito, 301 Pin Oak Ln., Westbury, N.Y. 11590. Please do not telephone.

Opening lead — king of diamonds

A player cannot consistently make inferior percentage plays and expect to come out on top. Occasionally an inferior play succeeds, or does no harm, but in the long haul the player who sticks to percentages does exceedingly well.

Take this hand where West led a diamond and declarer saw he would lose four tricks — two spades, a diamond and a club — unless he did something about it.

So he won the diamond with the ace and led the ace and another club, hoping to find the suit divided 3-3 and thus establish two clubs tricks.

West took the queen, cashed the queen of diamonds, and shifted to a low spade, the king forcing the ace. Declarer played a trump to the jack and ruffed a club high, but when West showed out, South had to go down one.

Had declarer gotten lucky, he would have made the contract. The clubs might have been divided 3-3 — this occurs 36 percent of the time — but they weren't.

The plain fact is that South did not adopt the best percentage play. He should have made allowance for a 4-2 club division as well as the 3-3 possibility. This would have raised his chances to about 80 percent.

Upon taking the ace of diamonds, he should have played a low club from dummy, not the ace. He could later play a club to the ace and ruff a club high, after which he could enter dummy with a trump and ruff another club high.

Dummy's jack would thus become established as a trick. Then, after drawing trumps — ending in dummy — he could discard a spade on the jack of clubs to make the contract.

Actor Gregory Peck Makes Local Appearances

The crowds that gathered in the Walden Books and More store in the Caldor Plaza were there for more than a quick browse through the shelves. They were there to see screen star Gregory Peck, who made an appearance at the store to autograph and promote his latest project, a 20-hour long narration of the New Testament on audio-cassette.

The newly released package, which features Mr. Peck reading the entire King James Bible version of the New Testament is comprised of 10 audio cassette tapes in a bound, volume-like presentation box. Already on the Audio Book Bestseller List, it will soon be a featured Book-of-the-Month Club selection.

The audio book is the result of a collaboration between Mr. Peck and his son Stephan, a documentary film maker.

"I've enjoyed working in partnership with my son," said Mr. Peck, as he recounted their year of working together at the actor's home in Los Angeles.

Asked how he came to be involved with the project, Mr. Peck explained, "I've always been a Bible reader, since I was a boy." His objectives, he said, were to bring clarity to the readings, while maintaining a high level of energy and vigor.

Peck said that public reaction to the audio book has been very favorable.

"I've had truckers on the highway tell me they've been listening to the tapes on the road, and give me the thumbs-up sign," he explained. "That's better than a good review in the New York Times."

The Investor's Corner

The Tax Bill

This is the first of a series about the tax bill now before the full Congress.

At the outset, I will state that I am very positive about this tax reform package in the long run. If anything, it does not go far enough. I will accept half a loaf rather than no tax reform at all.

I will acknowledge that some of us are going to be hurt by the loss of our deductions. It will be fewer than most of us expect. To compensate, we have a lower tax rate. However, those of our readers who use tax shelters and other tax avoidance strategies are going to be savaged by the bill—so why am I for it?

For fifteen years, I have preached from my professor's pulpit the most simple tax plan. No deductions for anything—nothing. I coupled this with a very low tax rate of 10 to 20 percent. The tax form would be one page. It would eliminate what I termed our tax welfare system. This bill is half a loaf, and, in the long run, welcome.

I believe the economic stimulation will be tremendous. Investment will not diminish. It should increase because most of us will be allowed to keep more of what we make. We will invest for the right reasons—economic benefit from sound investments, rather than for tax avoidance reasons.

To get the full benefits of this bill, about 1991 we will have some anguish because our past decisions are not grandfathered (allowed to continue). This bill phases out some of these deductions. Consumer interest (credit cards, etc.) as an example. In tax year 1987 you will still deduct interest, but only 65% of it; in 1988, 40%; in 1991, zero.

This has been called a tax simplification bill, yet it contains more than 1,500 pages of simplification. Tax lawyers, accountants and financial planners face an intensive period of study to digest the changes of this complicated bill. They do not have to worry about their jobs in the short run. In fact, all of us must make decisions quickly to reduce the short run impact of the bill on us. We need to prepare for the long run. Tax planning and long term strategy are paramount in 1986.

In 1986 we have 14 tax rates, maximum 50% of taxable income. Definition: taxable income is our income from all sources after we have taken all deductions allowed. In 1987 we will have five tax rates with a top of 38.5%. In 1988 and thereafter, we will have two basic maximum rates, 15% and 28%. These rates are misunderstood.

The way it works for a married couple is as follows: the first $29,750 of taxable income is taxed at 15%. Over this, the rate is 28%. The rate is a mixture of these two until you reach $71,900 of taxable income. At this level of income, the rate is only 22.6%. Over this level you pay 28% and you start to give back part of the lower 15% rate break. At $149,250 you have a true 28% tax rate. This blending is misunderstood by almost everyone. It is the biggest bonanza in the tax bill.

This bill will rearrange who pays the taxes. Generally, the more affluent will pay more. The vast majority of taxpayers, 80% or more, will pay lower taxes or none at all.

Those of us who live in high tax states—and New York certainly qualifies—will pay more if we have respectable incomes.

What matters is what is fair and necessary. This bill does not eliminate some of the past abuses. In the long run, I believe we will all benefit, even if we take some lumps in the short run.

1912 Nassau County Presidential Vote

	Total Nassau County	North Hempstead
Woodrow Wilson - Democrat	6,903	1,263
William Howard Taft - Republican	4,590	922
Theodore Roosevelt - Bull Moose	6,535	1,048

For Congress:

Brown - Democrat	6,544
Cochran - Republican	5,454
Hicks - Bull Moose	5,096

New York State Senate:

Thomas O'Keefe - Oyster Bay - Republican	6,619
Blue - Democrat	5,533
Thompson - Bull Moose	4,993

Vote reflects split over Republican Convention overturned Roosevelt's clear victory in the primaries. Thirty-six years later the Republican Party would bow to the Eastern Wing and take the nomination from Taft's son, the esteemed senator from Ohio, Robert, and stampede the selection of Dwight David Eisenhower. The Credentials Committee acceded to charges in seating the regular Texas and Georgia delegations effectively blocking Taft's expected first ballot victory.

New Stores Coming To Americana

Three new stores will open at the Americana Shopping Center over the next few weeks. Among them are the Hirschcliefers Menswear and Sonia Rykiel, two clothing outlets. Sonia Rykiel is a French fashion designer. Millie's Restaurant will also open shortly. Banana Republic, another clothing outlet, will open in October.

Construction is also underway in the rear parking lot of the Americana, according to Frank Castagna, owner of the shopping center. Contractors are in the process of digging wells for 100 trees that will be planted in October. In an effort to control traffic, approximately 12 speed bumps are also being built.

"New Perspectives In Gardening With Native Plants"

A Garden Symposium at Old Westbury Gardens

On Saturday, October 25, 1986, Old Westbury Gardens will hold its Fourth Annual Garden Symposium. The title this year, "New Perspectives in Gardening with Native Plants." The gardener's role in the conservation of native plants will also be addressed.

The featured guest speaker for the all-day symposium will be Dr. Richard Lightly, who is the Director of Mt. Cuba Center for the Study of Piedmont Flora in Greenville, SC. Mt. Cuba, not yet open to the public, is the private residence of Mrs. Lammont duPont Copeland whose gardens featured in The American Women's Garden.

The contributions to register, including lunch and refreshments, are $35.00, ($30.00 for Old Westbury Gardens' Members), and $20.00 for full-time students. HICKSVILLE
A LIVE VILLAGE

She is Bound to Get "There" in Spite of the Hard Times.

Hicksville is one of those live villages which keeps pushing its way to the front in spite of hard times. In 1865 there were, all told, but twelve houses within her boundaries. Now she is a populous locality numbering twenty-five hundred or three thousand inhabitants. Hicksville has been made what she is, largely through her enterprising business men. For nearly forty years, Mr. H. J. Herzog, our wide-awake Highway Commissioner has been an important factor in the up-building of this village. His mercantile life has been in every way successful. He has been the center of a busy, active life, which has given tone and character to all about him. Then there are the Jospe Brothers, dealers in pianos, organs, musical instruments and sewing machines of every variety. Besides, they are dealers in watches, jewelry and diamonds. This firm has a large conventional business house on Broadway, where they give everybody a hearty welcome. They keep on hand a full stock of goods of the best quality which they sell for the lowest cash prices. The Jospe Brothers are an acquisition to Hicksville. We must make prominent mention of Hartmann Rohrbach, one of the most agreeable men to meet. Mr. Rohrbach is a manufacturer of and dealer in all kinds of harness. He knows how to fit your horses in the most approved and stylish way. The truth is, Mr. Rohrbach is a sort of genius, equal to whatever is required to be done, and moreover he is the jolliest of his kind.

Then there is the old and well known firm of Charles G. Voight & Son, the undertakers and manufacturers of doors, sashes, blinds, and brackets, scroll sawing and turning etc. Both Mr. Voight and his son have helped in a substantial way, to make the most of Hicksville. Reliable and competent, they have drawn to themselves a large trade.

A good word should be said of J. Kloenne, the auctioneer and insurance man. Mr. Kloenne is well known throughout Queens County for his integrity and unflinching honesty. Anyone insuring with him may know from the start that his insurance is with a safe company. Mr. Kloenne has done much for his home village. To write of Hicksville, and leave out the Grand Central Hotel, would remind one of the play of Hamlet, with Hamlet left out. The Grand Central Hotel under the personal management and supervision of Mr. August Fleischbein is indeed a comfortable and enjoyable home for both man and beast. Mr. Fleischbein is distinguished for his social qualities, so as a host he does not fail to entertain his many guests. His house is large, and the rooms are spacious, and the tables are well laden. No one goes away from the Grand Central Hotel, not having had his fill. Mr. Fleischbein certainly knows how to run a hotel. The Grand Central was erected in 1837, and it has become known far and wide. Then there is the Broadway Hotel, kept in a modern way, by W. H. Menken. Mr. Menken gives every attention to his patrons. Taking it all in all, Hicksville holds first rank with the villages in Queens County. But we shall write more of her in subsequent letters for THE ISLAND.

No rule for success will work if you won't.

Boaters Reminded To Display New Registration Stickers By October 1

Boats registered in New York State must display the new registration sticker issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles by October 1. Commissioner Patricia B. Adduci reminded today: The stickers are designed to assist law enforcement officials in verifying that a boat has been properly registered.

"We recently mailed registration stickers to all boat owners, but we realize some did not receive them because they moved and did not notify DMV of their new address," Commissioner Adduci said. "If a boat owner has not yet received registration stickers yet, he or she should visit a DMV issuing office to get a set."

Commissioner Adduci noted that updating address information with the agency not only complies with the legal requirement to do so, but also ensures that the owner will receive a convenient renewal notice by mail before the registration expires.

Nassau Sports Review

By JACK WHITE

Where in New York State is the best high school football played? If you believe the State Sportswriters Association poll, the answer is not in Nassau. Among large schools only four Nassau teams have been rated number one since the polls began in 1967 and none since Farmingdale tied in 1978. In the small school rankings no Nassau squad has finished on top.

Of course, since the eleven sections of the state don't play each other the polls are hardly scientific, but they are fun and they spark interest. They also spark controversy. Last year the Rutgers Cup winner, Hempstead, was ranked just fifth despite its 9-0-1 record. The only other Section Eight team to crack the top ten was tenth-ranked Garden City (9-1). And among the small schools, the writers ranked 10-0 Locust Valley ninth!

Binghamton of Section Four was ranked number one in 1985 and is regarded as a power again this year. Football and basketball (also number one in 1985) are big-time at that upstate school. Recently the school district attempted to sell the radio and television rights to its games. One upstate paper ridiculed the comparison with Long Island football which it regarded as clearly inferior. Some Hempstead officials were so miffed by the comments that there was talk of arranging a game but the limit of ten and the sectional playoff structure made this impossible. For those who enjoy polls, here is a list of past winners:

The overall supremacy of Hicksville High, going back a decade, over Nassau County Soccer will be sorely tested in 1986.

The defending Nassau and Long Island Champions will face a twelve game league slate in the first loop in the county.

Orange and Black will field the smallest physical team in the group of powerhouses; South Side, which it faces at Rockville Centre, Friday afternoon; Oceanside, Monday at Hicksville, Garden City, Berner, Massapequa and Syosset.

Coach Ed Moeller, who has done a superb job of teaching skills and exerting discipline, has been praised county-wide.

His boys have achieved a 34-4-4 record since he assumed control.

Mr. Moeller hopes his team can bear up against the physical odds indicating the renowned Hicksville foot and passing skills are still intact in the league's youngest team.

That was evident in a 2-0 non-league verdict over Chaminade to open the season.

Sophomores Mike Luongo and Steve Gourlay scored for the Comets. They struck at opportune times.

Dueling for the starting position in goal were Bill Neway (10 saves) and Glen Kingsley (8 saves).

Leading the sweepers this season is returning senior Mario Cirigliano.

Defensivemen are: Ron Sargent, Geoff Frey, Greg Frey Eisen and Vinnie Longo.

Midfielders are: Bill Jennings, Pat Seiden, Greg Martin, Tom Kenny, Neil McKenna, Jack Fabrizio, and Kevin Burke.

Forwards are: Mike Brigandi, Cliff Heller and Joe Hanna.
