A WELCOME CRITICISM.

is with pride—pardonable pride, we think that we publish the following extract from a letter received from our distinguished fellow-citizen, Mr. James Sexton. He writes:—

"I think the last 'Green and Gold' maintains the high standard set at the beginning. With each successive number I am confirmed in my opinion, that there has been nothing in Ireland before to compare with a periodical combining real literary faculty with an appeal to the general mind which the literary faculty, taken alone, fails to make. By this time 'Green and Gold' should be taking literary root and bringing out its colours in bloom and SANDEMAN means Fine Port Wine Fine Port Wine means SANDEMAN!

Notes from "Farmer's Gazette."

Wireworm Attack—Naturally, autumn-sown fields of either wheat or oats would be more fully advanced in April and May than spring-sown varieties, and hence better able to withstand wireworm attack. This, however, does not decide in favour of sowing winter oats, though winter wheat invariably gives more satisfactory returns than spring wheat. If wireworm is dreaded, especially in old grass land which is being broken up, it is advisable to plough as early as possible in autumn, inasmuch as the soil is so much longer exposed to the effect of frost, as well as the attention of wild birds, both of which agencies serve to reduce the number of pests that have to be reckoned with in spring. There is not much to be said in favour of salt as a preventative, but a light dressing, say, of 2 cwts. per statute acre harrowed into the top soil after the field has been ploughed, whatever deterrent effect it may have on wireworm activity, should prove beneficial in making the crop more resistant to lodging.

Feeding Apples—There is little possibility of making use of the winter supply of apples on hands this year for the purpose you mention. Apples have little or no feeding value compared with either potatoes or turnips, and their attractive tastefulness consists solely in the sugary juice they contain, which is known to chemists as malic acid. In the fruit-growing counties of England it is a common practice to give pigs the run of the orchards to munch as they will of the fruit as they care to, but this feeding does not make much bacon. Apart from pigs, it is doubtful if any other stock would consume apples even if offered to them. Apples, like potatoes, are an unusually heavy crop this year, but, while potatoes, which are a starchy food and well suited for pig feeding, can be fed to pigs and marketed as pork, there is no way to dispose of apples, which sale is impossible, but to give them as presents to friends for jam-making, or else sell in quantity to jam-making factories where freight charges permit of this being done. There are many others like yourself who may find it difficult to dispose of their apples this year, but one thing you may be sure of it will not be brought through them aside for stock feeding.

Crop After Roots—On such soils as occur in your county many of the winter varieties such as Benefactor or White Standard. Winter oats are mainly confined to Co. Wexford, though during the last couple of seasons the plan of sowing part of the area with a winter variety is spreading to the neighbouring counties. There are two chief varieties of winter oats, one Black Winter, which proclaims its own colour, and the other Tawny, which is brown and grey in colour. A new oat variety known as Bountiful has recently been grown as a winter oat, and with fairly satisfactory results.

Carrick Guardians.

A meeting of the above was held on Saturday, Mr. T. F. Morrissey (and later on Mr. G. Gill) presided. Also present—Messrs J. Barry and M. Healy.

TELEPHONE AND INSURANCE FEES.

The Chairman said he had had several applications from the Post Office authorities for payment of fees for using the telephone at the workhouse. The guardians, nor the sick or poor had not been at the workhouse since July. The board meetings are held in the Town Hall. All the workhouse and hospital are now occupied by the military. He had also received applications from the Hibernian Insurance Co. for payment of the premiums in respect of the insurance on the workhouse.

The guardians decided to adjourn the consideration of the applications from the Post Office and the Insurance Company. The Clerk said he had pointed out to the Post Office authorities that neither the guardians nor the workhouse officials had a telephone since July last. The Post Office people said they would consider the question of reducing the amount they had asked for.

£2 FOR A CARRIAGE.

The Clerk said they had got only one offer for the carriage and the ambulance they had advertised for sale. They were offered £2 each for them (laughter).
Mr. Healy—You would not get the wheels show for £2 now.
Clerk—The carriage and the van are worth £10 each.
Mr. Healy—The ambulance would make a good living van.
Clerk—It would be ridiculous to sell them for £2 each.
It was decided to endeavour to get a better offer for the carriage and the ambulance.
The tender of Mr. Verrington was accepted for the greenhouse at the workhouse at £8.

SHORT OF MONEY.

The Clerk said the only Co. Council that now sends their money is that of South Tipperary. As the Waterford and Kilkenny amalgamation schemes are now complete the Counties Waterford and Agricultural Conditions on 1st September.

The "Department" issues to-day the following monthly statistical statement.— August for the most part was a succession of cold showery days. There were, however, occasional spells of good drying weather which allowed hay to be saved in fairly good order; the continued effect of rain and the low temperature delayed the ripening of the corn crops, which in the latter count were not expected to be ready to cut for two or three weeks later than usual. Pastures benefited from the rains and carried plenty of herbage throughout. Stock of all kinds made good progress and store cattle put on more condition than during July. Dairy cows maintained the flow of milk well. Lambs made weight satisfactorily and brooding ewes were likewise well fleshed.

In the earlier counties autumn sown wheat had all been cut and harvested in good order. Yield was expected to be average and was put at 10 barrels per statute acre; the grain was described as well filled and of excellent quality. In other counties much of the crop was still in stock. Plots of spring sown wheat were still green and required heat to ripen. In some southern counties the wheat crop was considered the best cereal of the season.

The oat crop was variable, and fields on poor soils were generally light. Cutting had begun and some of the crop had been threshed. A few samples of new white oats had been already sold at from 10/- to 12/- per cwt. the yield and quality of grain was stated to be good. In the later counties the crop ripened slowly and cutting did not begin till mid-September.

Barley was described as a satisfactory crop. Ripening was slow, but the grain turned out plump and well filled, and was expected to yield up to 12 barrels per statute acre. In most counties very little had as yet been harvested.

Most of the flax crop, which is much smaller in area than last year, had been pulled and was in steep. Good fields were the exception; some were medium and many were poor. It is believed that owing to the coldness of the growing season, yield will be poor in proportion to the bulk of straw.

The potato crop was generally stated to be of exceptional promise, and the prospect was described as the best for years. Blight did not appear till the closing days of August, and fields which had been sprayed were still in strong healthy foliage. In some of the southern counties fields left unsprayed showed marked trace of disease effect at the end of August.

Root crops made great improvement during August. Mangels, though patchy, made good growth and promised to be up to average; the coldness of the season was quite unfavourable to this crop. Turnips turned out poor and unsteady in growth, but were improved by frequent rains they grew well after mid-July. Early sown fields were by far the best, some late sowing also did well.

Supplies of hay were plentiful in all counties. Notwithstanding the broken weather, both first and second crop hay were saved in good order. The crop in general is of fine quality as fodder, except some of that portion saved during August. In some counties hay was stated to be a record crop of fair quality.

Large supplies of cattle were on offer. Fat beasts declined somewhat in price from July.

The average prices paid by creameries during August for whole milk (separated milk being returned) were in Leinster around 8d. per gallon, in Munster from 8d. to 7d., in Ulster from 6d. to 7d., and in Connaught around 7d. Supplies were described as plentiful and good for the season.

Prices for fat sheep kept the same level. Lambs were somewhat cheaper. Breeding ewes met with brisk demand in all counties.

Pork was marketed in fair supply. Prices, however, were lower. Young pigs continued to sell better proportionately than bacon pigs.

Courses showed no improvement in prices. Good young working farm horses were easily bought at £15 to £22 and very few reached as high as £30. There was little or no trade done in hunters; a few young horses likely to make hunters changed hands in Co. Kildare at from £30 to £35. In Offaly, year olds sold at from £5 to £10, and the average price of one and a half year olds in Co. Meath was around £8 10/- each.

Waterford Race Co. NOVEMBER MEETING TO BE HELD.

In conversation with an official of the Waterford Race Company on yesterday, a "News" man was informed that the recent issue by the company of £6,000 preference shares has now been fully subscribed, and that as a consequence the company once again finds itself in a strong position financially. One direct result of the improved conditions is the announcement, now definitely made, that the meeting fixed for the 30th of the present month will take place. Under the new management, and with the exercise of the necessary economy, optimistic prospects are held out for the company's future.

Joseph Hunter, who ceases his connection with the Curragh establishment, Conyngham Lodge, on the expiration, in a short time, of the tenancy of the premises held by Captain Bald, intends setting up next year as a public trainer, and already he has received many promises of support.

The brothers Dixon, as well as having horses in training next year with Grundy at the Curragh, will also have others with Philip Behan at the Irish headquarters.

A new patron of the Grundy Stable next season will be Col. R. Chaloner Knox.

WATERFORD HOUNDS MEET POSTPONED.

The opening meet of the Waterford Hounds, announced for yesterday, was cancelled, owing to the illness of M.F.H., having met with an accident. It is hoped to bring the hounds out on the 9th.

DIVERTING SPORT AT TRAMORE.

A pony race run off on the Tramore Strand on Sunday afternoon provided some diverting sport for a large number of enthusiasts who assembled there to witness it. The event was for a substantial side wager, and was a challenge to decide the separate merits of two animals—Tramore Boy and Little Chestnut—owned respectively by Mr. P. J. Power, Kilbride, and Mr. J. Molloy, Tramore. At the outset it was expected that a thrilling race of the neck-to-neck variety would be provided, but, taking the lead early, Tramore Boy (owner up) maintained it to the end and beat Little Chestnut, the mount of Mr. Pierce Molloy, rather easily by ten lengths. Mr. Power's horse was well timed in the capacity of judge.

TIPPERARY FOXHOUNDS.

On Monday at Fethard the opening meeting of the far-famed Tipperary Hunt took place. Sharp to time the Master, Mr. de Sales Le Terriere, arrived on The Square, attended by T. McCarthy and T. Ryan, first and second whips, and John Shea was second horseman, with the dog pack looking in the pink of condition. There were about forty to the field.

First draw Coleman and found, but only to get to ground. Next went on to Tullemaine which held a brace of foxes. One got away, and there was a fast gallop of twenty minutes. Then went on to Power's wood where hounds found immediately, from where we had a nice hunt into Morbarnane, where a fresh fox got away and hounds hurried him down to the right-hand side of the Coolmore Creamery, wheels left again aid on to the old cover at Wood House, turning again on for Annesett and into Power's wood, where he was left thus ending a real good opening day's sport.

KILMACOW HARRIERS.

The opening meet of the above took place at Ballynacross on Wednesday. The hounds turned out in splendid condition and retained the greatest possible credit on Mr. P. Conway, under whose charge they had been since last season. A most enjoyable day's sport was indulged in. Amongst those we noticed were—Mr. T. Cronin, Master, Mr. P. Conway, Whip, Mrs. Col. Heather, Messrs T. and J. Aylward, Mr. T. Duggan, Mr. N. Lambert, Mr. P. O'Gorman, New Ross, etc., etc. The Harriers Committee regret to learn of the recent accident to Mr. Russell, M.F.H. of Waterford Hounds, and announce that as it has been decided to hold the initial meet of the Waterford Hounds on the 30th of the present month, the fixture of the Kilmacow Harriers has not been decided for the present.

HANDBALL CHALLENGE.

Mr. P. Kelly, of Kildare, has intimated to us his willingness to try handball conditions for a substantial wager with Mr. Jack Barry the runner-up in the recent tournament played in the Tramore hall court. Should the challenge be accepted it is expected that the contest will be brought off at Kilmacow on Sunday next.

HANDBALL CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

Mr. Jack Barry called at these offices yesterday to inform us that he is prepared to accept the handball challenge issued through our columns yesterday by Mr. P. Kelly, of Kildare, and will meet the latter in a home and away rubber for a substantial wager at a date to be fixed later.

FOOTBALL.

At Dunmore East on Sunday next, November 5th, the De La Salle footballers will meet the Dunmore team. As both clubs are good exponents, a treat is in store for the Gaels who will witness this game.

The Best Safeguard of Woman's Health

The best restorer of energy and activity—the best help to high spirits—the best preserver of her good looks—is the medicine proved by the experience of years to be the most suited to woman's requirements, namely BEECHAM'S PILLS. They will give tone to the stomach and regulate the liver, kidneys and bowels. They will gently and surely remove the impurities which give rise to headaches, backache, lassitude, nervousness and irritability. Try a few doses and you will know that purer blood, a better digestion and a marked general improvement follow the judicious use of this famous family medicine. You will escape unnecessary aches, pains and discomfort if you secure the help so many thousands of women have found in

A WELCOME CRITICISM.

It is with pride—pardonable pride, we hope—that we publish the following extract from a letter received from our most distinguished fellow-citizen, Mr. Thomas Sexton. He writes:—

"I think the last 'Green and Gold' fully maintains the high standard of up at the beginning. With each successive number I am confirmed in my first opinion, that there has been nothing in Ireland before to compare with it as a periodical combining real literary faculty with an appeal to the general mind which the literary faculty, taken alone, fails to make."
"By this time 'Green and Gold' should be taking literary root and showing out its colours in bloom and leaf."

Notes from "Farmer's Gazette."

Agricultural Conditions on 1st September.

Wireworm Attack—Naturally, autumn-sown crops of either wheat or oats would be more fully advanced in April and May...

The "Department" issues to-day the following monthly statistical statement— August for the most part was a succession of cold showery days.

The oat crop was variable, and fields on poor soils were generally light. Cutting had begun and some of the crop had been threshed.

Barley was described as a satisfactory crop. Ripening was slow, but the grain turned out plump and well filled.

Carrick Guardians. A meeting of the above was held on Monday, Mr. T. F. Morrissey (and Mr. G. G. G. G.) presided.

Telephone and Insurance Fees. The Chairman said he had had several applications from the Post Office authorities for payment of fees for using the telephone at the workhouse.

Prices for fat sheep kept the same level. Lambs were somewhat cheaper. Breeding ewes met with brisk demand in all counties.

Benger's Food advertisement. Benger's Food for infants, invalids & the aged. W. Bryant, Practical Coachbuilder, The Glen, Waterford.

Sporting Items. Waterford Race Co. NOVEMBER MEETING TO BE HELD.

In conversation with an official of the Waterford Race Company on yesterday, a "News" man was informed that the recent issue by the company of 26,000 preference shares has now been fully subscribed.

Joseph Hunter, who ceases his connection with the Curragh establishment, Conyngham Lodge, on the expiration, in a short time, of the tenancy of the premises held by Captain Bald, intends setting up next year as a public trainer.

A new patron of the Grundy stable next season will be Col. R. Chaloner Knox.

WATERFORD HOUNDS MET. POSTPONED. The opening meet of the Waterford Hounds, announced for yesterday, was cancelled, owing to Mr. Russell, M.F.H., having met with an accident.

EDWARD WALSH. Notice to Farmers. Hired Skin, Wool and Tallow Merchant, Horse and Cattle Slaughterer. THOMAS STREET, WATERFORD.

TIPPERARY FOXHOUNDS. On Monday at Fethard the opening meeting of the far-famed Tipperary Hunt took place. Sharp to time the Master, Mr. de Sales Le Terriere, arrived on the scene.

KILMACOW HARRIERS. The opening meet of the above took place at Ballynacross on Wednesday. The hounds turned out in splendid condition and reflected the greatest possible credit on Mr. P. Conway, under whose charge they had been since last season.

HANDBALL CHALLENGE. Mr. P. Kelly, of Rahard, has intimated to us his willingness to try handball conclusions for a substantial wager with Mr. Jack Barry, the runner-up in the recent tournament played in the Tramore ball court.

HANDBALL CHALLENGE ACCEPTED. Mr. Jack Barry called at these offices to inform us that he is prepared to accept the handball challenge issued through our columns yesterday by Mr. P. Kelly, Rahard, and will meet the latter in a home and away rubber for a substantial wager at a date to be fixed later.

FOOTBALL. At Dunmore East on Sunday next November 5th, the D. La Salle footballers will meet the D. D. Moore team. As both clubs are good exponents, a treat is in store for the Gaels who will witness this game.

Piltown Coursing. SUCCESSFUL OPENING MEET. Despite the harsh weather conditions which prevailed quite a large number of enthusiasts were attracted to Piltown on Wednesday for the first meet of the season held under the auspices of the Piltown Coursing Club.

First Round. T. Butler's Castle Crodick beat P. J. Moore's Irish Hero. Miss K. O'Reilly's Odkit beat P. J. Condon's Sean The Lion.

Second Round. B. Walsh's The Shaper beat A. G. Bower's Bravo. M. Kavanagh's Kitten beat R. Power's Piltown Prince.

WATERFORD FIFTY YEARS AGO.

(From the "Waterford News," 1st November, 1872.)

COAL AT SLIEVERUE. We have authority for stating that Nicholas A. Power, Esq., J.P., Bellevue...

WEDNESDAY'S STORM. A perfect storm, with a deluge of rain, raged here on Wednesday night for several hours from the S.W. The violence of the gale was such as to partially unroof houses and stores in the town.

COADJUTOR BISHOP. Owing to the continued infirmity of our revered Bishop, the Most Rev. Dr. O'Brien, his lordship has deemed it incumbent upon him to ask that he may be relieved from his responsibilities by the appointment of a Coadjutor Bishop.

CLONMELMAN'S BEQUESTS. The late Ald. Hackett, Clonmel, has bequeathed legacies to the Ursuline Convent, Waterford; to the St. Vincent de Paul Society, and to many religious and charitable institutions in Clonmel.

MONUMENT TO BISHOP DALY. A capitolly-executed marble monument has recently been placed in the Protestant Cathedral to the memory of the late Bishop Dr. Daly.

THE COUNTY RAILWAY. The work on the Co. Waterford railway to Lismore and Fermoy will, we understand, be commenced early in April or May.

FOREIGN GRAIN. The imports for the quarter the Toronto from Nicolaeff with 5,800 quarters of wheat for Cole and Prosser, and the Fides from Berdianski with 2,500 quarters of wheat for the same firm; the Able from New York with 4,000 quarters of maize for Going and Smith; the Imperator from New York with 4,000 quarters of maize for Spencer and Son.

A TWO-HEADED NIGHTINGALE. The two-headed nightingale was (or should it be, were?) exhibited in the Town Hall on Monday Tuesday and Wednesday with extraordinary success.

WIDENING OF GEORGE'S STREET. The last quarterly meeting of the Corporation was held to-day. A letter was read from Mr. Ambrose, solicitor, in reference to the widening of George's St., starting the Corporation could not raise money for the same until their legal adviser had a consultation with counsel as to the proper application of the Corporation funds.

Historic Relic Lost for Ever.

Lord Massereene and Ferrard will have the sympathy of everyone in Ireland on the irreparable loss which he has sustained in the destruction by fire of Antrim Castle on Sunday morning, and everything that it contained. Of all the valuable relics that were housed there, perhaps none possessed a greater interest for most Irishmen than the historic chair of the speaker of the old Irish House of Commons.

First Steps Towards Gaelicising the School.

(By Sean O'Flaherty, Carrick-on-Suir.)

The Irish Ministry of Education and their Inspectors doubtless understand quite well how difficult it will be for teachers whose knowledge of Irish is limited to that acquired at the summer courses and some private study to teach Irish conversation, composition, etc., up to the standard outlined in the new programme during the ensuing school year.

Comparatively little knowledge of Irish is required to Gaelicise the daily routine of the school. A beginning could be made thus: Greet the children in Irish when they enter the school morning, can the rolls in Irish, and train the children to answer naturally present, absent, she is ill, her father or mother is ill, etc.

Mr. Butler proposed the adjournment of the Dail for a fortnight. President Cosgrave said he would have the estimates ready for presentation to the House shortly, but not the details, and they would require careful consideration before being presented.

The country, he proceeded to say, was not satisfied with the administration, with the conduct of the prisons, the conduct of the military forces—with the conduct of anything.

It was necessary that these matters should be brought under review. The Labour Party, although it was an attitude they had not desired, become definitely and obstinately an opposition, it seemed to be the case that was the intention of the Government.

Mr. Hogan said the Dail had the power to legislate. The whole Dail could be called to-morrow, and they could repudiate the Treaty and take the consequences. It was merely a question of consequences. As long as the Dail accepted the Treaty it accepted the machinery set up by the Treaty.

Mr. Hogan said the Dail had the power to legislate. The whole Dail could be called to-morrow, and they could repudiate the Treaty and take the consequences. It was merely a question of consequences.

There was no power in the Dail to legislate without the Royal Assent so far as the Free State Agreement Act went. There was no power unless they chose now to give the Royal Assent a meaning other than the meaning laid down in their own Constitution, and they were not prepared to do that.

Legislation by that Parliament involved the utilisation of the machinery of the Royal Assent.

THE DAIL.

Can the Country Pay the Claims?

LABOUR IN OPPOSITION. Dail has No Power without Royal Assent.

There was a debate in the Dail on Wednesday about the payment of claims for post-poned damage. The President said the country was now liable for £30,000,000, and Mr. Hogan (Minister of Agriculture) suggested that if consequential damage was admitted the bill would run to a hundred millions.

England a Beggar on America's Doorstep.

The popular argument in favour of Europe's repudiation of the ten billion dollar debt to the United States is that America cannot afford to accept payment. The plea that Europe cannot afford to pay has been side-tracked, and the proper caper now is to argue that the United States cannot afford to be paid.

The Springfield (Mass.) Union suggests that Europe expects America to pay the cost of the World War, and says in some of the channels of opinion seems to be held that the United States should "pay for the war."

EUROPE'S STATESMEN TO ABANDON THE ATTITUDE OF NATIONAL MENDICANCY that seems to be one of the lamentable evidences of impaired morale of the nations.

Apparently European nations, having benefited by the lavish expenditure of men and money by America to bring Europe's conflict to an end, find it difficult to settle down to diligent application to the task of working out their own salvation without the ever-present aid of European economic restoration must be achieved.

The following letter from Mr. Joseph A. Gurne, late assistant editor of "The Irish Press, Philadelphia," appears in the "Irish Independent."

I have been for some ten months in Ireland, but have not taken sides in the present national contention. I intend to maintain this attitude of neutrality. Nevertheless, I cannot refrain from uttering a word of criticism on the "Manifesto" of the Friends of Irish Freedom, Inc., New York City which appeared as an advertisement in your issue of October 26th.

The burden of that solemn pronouncement is that "De Valera went back on the Republic." Well, granting for the sake of argument that the change is true, the Friends of Irish Freedom, an organization owned body and soul by Justice Daniel F. Cohanlan, should be the last people in the world to make it. Why? I am willing to state upon oath, if needs be, that shortly before the arrival of Mr. De Valera in the United States Justice Cohanlan declared to Mr. McCarran, then Envoy of the Irish Republic in U.S.A., that there was no such thing as an Irish Republic in existence, and further, that when Mr. De Valera arrived in America, and Mr. De Valera's name was published in Justice Cohanlan's paper as "leader" of the people of Ireland, and not as President of the Irish Republic.

I feel sure my friend, Dr. McCarran, if he were in town, would bear me out in what I have stated above regarding Justice Cohanlan.

"Clear Thinking & Hazy Argument."

In Tuesday's "Independent" Mr. Stanislaus Burke, who attacks Mr. Gurne for finding fault with Justice Cohanlan, and he says that Mr. Gurne's letter is "a good example of the confused thinking responsible for the present trouble in Ireland."

Mr. Burke says that Justice Cohanlan is a man who is willing to state upon oath, if needs be, that shortly before the arrival of Mr. De Valera in the United States Justice Cohanlan declared to Mr. McCarran, then Envoy of the Irish Republic in U.S.A., that there was no such thing as an Irish Republic in existence, and further, that when Mr. De Valera arrived in America, and Mr. De Valera's name was published in Justice Cohanlan's paper as "leader" of the people of Ireland, and not as President of the Irish Republic.

Mr. Burke says that Justice Cohanlan is a man who is willing to state upon oath, if needs be, that shortly before the arrival of Mr. De Valera in the United States Justice Cohanlan declared to Mr. McCarran, then Envoy of the Irish Republic in U.S.A., that there was no such thing as an Irish Republic in existence, and further, that when Mr. De Valera arrived in America, and Mr. De Valera's name was published in Justice Cohanlan's paper as "leader" of the people of Ireland, and not as President of the Irish Republic.

Items of the Fighting.

At Mullow railway station was halted down by the week.

On Tuesday evening work the passenger train from Carrick-on-Suir. Arrived men were held up and wrecked. A man ordered the removal of all passengers and the train was derailed and backed some distance along the line, and was then run into the other portion of the train and all passengers were completely wrecked.

At Coll between Portloughlin and Abbeyleix, armed men held up the Oxford-bound cattle train and the engine and sent it running down the line. That train was the only one to be held up and the engine was badly damaged.

NEW BOOK BY REV. P. POWER, M.R.I.A.

Irish archaeology is a subject deserving of greater attention than it has hitherto received from those who claim to be interested in the nation's history. An admirable synopsis of the results of the researches of recognised authorities on this fascinating subject is contained in "The Prehistoric Ireland" by Rev. P. Power, M.R.I.A., which the Mellifont Press will publish within the next few weeks. The manual makes no pretence to originality, but will supply the need which has long existed for a popular introduction to the study of archaeology. The book also contains a short and interesting account of the ancient Irish religion.
