Standing-room-only crowd hears city mayoral candidates

By Roger Ballas Apopka Chief Staff

The crowd overflowed into the lobby from the sanctuary on Monday, February 17, at the Victory Church World Outreach Center for the first of two Apopka political forums. This forum for Apopka's four mayoral candidates was hosted by the Apopka Area Chamber of Commerce.

"I was thrilled that so many Apopkans care about our city and turned out to hear from candidates for mayor," said Paul Seago, chamber president. "Part of our mission at the Chamber is to be a leader in local, regional and statewide issue advocacy, and host-

Hospital move explained to group

By Roger Ballas Apopka Chief Staff

Jennifer Wandersleben, Florida Hospital Apopka administrator, was the guest speaker at the Foliage Sertoma Club meeting Tuesday, February 18. The luncheon meeting was held at The Back Room Steakhouse, 1418 Rock Springs Road.

Wandersleben is the hospital's point person for explaining the proposed move of Florida Hospital Apopka from its Park Avenue campus to a new, planned facility on 71 acres between Ocoee-Apopka Road, State Road 429, and State Road 414

Land leads in latest fundraising report

By John Peery Apopka Chief Staff

Mayor John H. Land continues to lead in fundraising, according to the most recent reports filed this week by the candidates in the March 11 city election. A full list of all contributions for all city races accompanies this story on the inside.

The latest reporting period is just for the first full week of February. Candidates had to file their report by Friday, February 14.

Land gathered $2,330 from February 1-7, while challenger Commissioner Joe Kilsheimer raised $867 during the same time period. Mayoral candidates Gregg Phillips received $95, and Glenn Chancy raised no money for the second-straight reporting period.

In the City Council Seat 2 race, incumbent Marilyn Ustler McQueen received $4,220, but $2,600 of it

Charter Review Committee to meet Feb. 27

The Charter committee is tasked with studying and getting public input for three issues regarding the governance of the city: number of seats on the City Council, term limits, and single-member districts.

The group is expected to meet for several months, possibly even more than a year, and then make recommendations to the City Coun-

CITY OF APOPKA PUBLIC NOTICE

This will serve as notification that the next meeting of the Charter Review Committee will be held on Thursday, February 27, 2014, 6:30 p.m., in the Apopka City Hall Council Chambers, 120 E Main Street, Apopka, Florida. The committee will discuss the number of Council seats on the City Council.

Dated this 21st day of February, 2014 Janice G. Goebel, MMC, City Clerk City of Apopka, Florida 407 703 1704 cil, which will have the final say on what, if anything, is put to the voters for a possible change to the Charter. The group meets the fourth Thursday of each month. November and December's meetings, if held, will be adjusted due to Thanksgiving and Christmas.

At its January 23 meeting, the committee came to a consensus that they would like to see two more commissioners added to the current City Council, but couldn't agree on the timing of the change. The group is expected to take a vote on the issue during the February meeting.

If two more commissioners were added, it would mean one of them would have a two-year term and the other a regular four-year time in office during their first terms in order to keep the election times staggered as they are now. Currently, the mayor and two of the City Council seats are up for re-election at the same time, while the other two council seats are voted on two years later.

The group's votes are non-binding in terms of the issues being placed on a ballot for Apopka voters. The committee's votes will go to the City Council as recommendations and the council is the group which must vote to place the issue on the ballot for local voters. If there are any items put before voters, those Apopka voters must approve the issues for them to become part of the Charter.

Linda Laurendeau chairs the committee, and Apopka attorney Bill McLeod is the attorney for the group.

Our position

It's clear that region's largest newspaper has agenda in Apopka elections

We're very intrigued by the sudden attention paid by the Or*lando Sentinel* to the Apopka city election.

The region's largest newspaper has, in an unusual manner, taken a keen interest in the goings-on in Apopka.

And, the powers that be at the newspaper have made it abundantly clear that they must have an agenda.

Last weekend, the so-called journalists at the regional paper had two stories on the front page of the newspaper dealing with the city election in Apopka, just a couple of days prior to the mayoral forum held Monday, February 17.

In the first story about voting locations, candidates were quoted criticizing the city for having just one location, making it appear to be something new. Why now?

The second front-page story was about package sales of alcohol on Sunday. That issue, like the one voting location issue, has been around for a very long time. Why election since 1882, the year of Apopka's founding because Apopka has never had more than one voting location nor has Apopka ever allowed for Sunday package sales of alcohol.

Advertising

Where were the big daily's stories in those other elections or at any other time since 1882? Hmmm, crickets.

So, that leads us to the question of why produce the stories now when those issues have been around since 1882.

It seems to us that the regional newspaper's motivation behind the stories is driven by an agenda. We cannot comprehend any other reason behind the stories. Why now?

You will not find such agenda-driven journalism here at The Apopka Chief. If you want that from your local newspaper, you need to move because it's not going to happen here. We aren't going to push our desires and wishes down your throats and try to disguise them as news stories. If we have something on which we want to express an opinion, we put it in this spot – the Opinion page. Frankly, we're embarrassed as journalists at the daily newspaper's obvious agenda-driven stories. We would like to point out that there is an April 8 election in the city in the name on their paper, Orlando. Maybe they could concentrate on covering the Orlando city election, instead of worrying about trying to influence the Apopka city election.

Mema Says

Florida leads way in fiscal solvency

Last week, I discussed how our state's strong commitment to education was helping Florida rise in the education ratings of the states. A new study has also recently come out indicating that when it comes to the fiscal health of the states, Florida is once again leading the way. The study, produced by George Mason University, shows that Florida is ranked sixth in the nation in fiscal solvency, and the highest-ranked large state. The only states that ranked higher than Florida are the oil-booming states of Alaska, North and South Dakota, Wyoming and Nebraska. Among the four largest states, Florida is far and away the leader with our fellow large states ranked at or near the bottom of the list. California rated 46th out of the 50 states and Texas, which continues to tout itself as one of the most conservative states, rated a mediocre 20th.

The George Mason Study used a wide variety of measurements to determine each state's fiscal solvency. These included the 2012 statistics on the cash solvency, budget solvency, long-run solvency, and service-level solvency. Cash solvency discusses how easy it is for the state to access cash to pay its short-term bills. On this measurement, Florida was ranked fourth in the country. The Legislature is putting money back into our reserves and rainy-day funds in order to meet any emergency expenditure that may come up. Also, when the governor vetoes a project through use of the line-item veto, the funding that would've gone to the project is put back into general revenue. In this category of cash solvency, Florida is only beaten by Ohio, Alaska, and South Dakota.

Budget solvency addresses how the state can meet its yearly budgetary needs. In this category, Florida ranked 13th. Considering that Florida must balance our budget every year and we still have no state income tax, it is an impressive accomplishment. This year will also mark the second year in a row that Florida will have a budget surplus, with this year's surplus projected to be more than $1 billion. This will not only help the

While those may be legitimate issues, we cannot help but wonder why the big daily is so concerned about those in this particular election.

Where were the front-page stories about those issues prior to the Apopka election of two years ago? Four years ago? Six years ago? Well, you get the idea.

In fact, those could have been front-page stories in any Apopka

Orange County Superintendent Dr. Barbara Jenkins compiles a comprehensive report monthly to board members. Much of the content for these columns comes from this body of work. Today's column will highlight three submissions of interest to Apopka residents. The first is with regard to Special Olympics, the second is the district's interest in character development, and the third a new instructional management system. On January 11, Orange County was the host for the State Area 7 Special Olympics basketball Tournament. More than 600 athletes, representing 72 teams from Brevard, Lake, Orange, Osceola and Seminole counties, participated in activities ranging from 3-on-3 play, to individual ter teams. The tournaments were held at Apopka High School, Apopka Middle School, Piedmont Lakes Middle School, Ocoee High School, and Wekiva High School. These are all schools located in District 7. I am very proud of staff, students and volunteers who have made memorable sporting activities for special needs children. Thank you for giving generously of your time and talent.

Recently, district leadership met with a group of military leaders, including a retired general, to learn character traits to troops. The program centers on short videos which demonstrate kids doing "the right things." Select Orange County schools will pilot this program, which is now known as "What Right Looks Like." We look forward to increasing the program to every school throughout the county. This will require recruiting students from each school to address the character traits most needed at their own schools. Samples of videos are available online at "What Right Looks Like." Obama and Kerry being used as pawns to checkmate Israel

FEBRUARY 21 - The 1.5-plus billion Muslims surrounding Israel, whose main, if not only, desire is the destruction of this tiny nation and its population of 8 million people, are getting a boost from Obama through his Secretary of State John F. Kerry.

Psalm 48:1 and 2.

In recent meetings with Israeli and Palestinian delegations, Kerry's primary demand is that Israel cede East Jerusalem and the West Bank to the mob of killers that wants to destroy them. Instead of being a wooden Obama puppet, Kerry should pay attention to what his Muslim pals are screaming, as opposed to what has been American policy since May 1948 when Israel was reborn after 2,063 years, as was prophesied.

March 2014 Levitt Let*ter* revealed that after the 1967 Six-Day War, in order to determine our government's policy, then U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara requested that the Pentagon give their expert opinion of how we should view and handle Israel's territorial gains of Jerusalem and the West Bank.

An article in the

Levitt reports that, "The generals felt that Israel should retain control of the central high ground in Judea and Samaria. They also recommended keeping the Gaza Strip, which, configured as it is, serves as a salient for introduction of Arab subversion and terrorism ... its retention would be to Israel's military advantage."

When, some 10 years ago, Israel returned Gaza to the Muslims, against the earlier advice of our leading generals, as a gesture of peace, the results have been exactly as the Pentagon predicted.

A recent article in the Jerusalem Post, January 29, 2014, quoted the Intelligence General of Israel Aviv Erechuvi who stated that 170,000 rockets and missiles now threaten Israel from Gaza, Syria, Iran and Lebanon.

Several weeks ago, in the Mideast publication Arutz Shema, on Christmas Day, a leading headline proclaimed, "Hamas Minister: First Israel, then the world."

Not to be outdone, an Iranian Parliament Representative Mohammed

Naturuian stated on January 8, that, "We need nuclear bombs because of Israel, to put Israel in its place."

Last fall, on November 8, Iran State TV presented a declaration that missile attacks were required on the cities of Tel Aviv and Dimond, and also on the Ben Gurion Airport, where Israel's main nuclear reactor is allegedly based.

Children not property of state nor pawns of big business

Editor:

It is too bad Christine Moore feels that her opinion regarding Common Core is inconsequential. She apparently is willing to cede control of our children's education to big government and big business. Fortunately, there are many who are unwilling to surrender so easily.

Ms. Moore's February 14 article about Common Core does not tell the whole story about the federal and corporate effort to take over our educational system. Back in 2010, the Florida Department of Education (DOE) voted to adopt the Common Core standards before the standards had even been completed. They were then rushed to adoption with no real legislative input or public debate. It was only as parents and the public began to see students struggling – evidence of the experimental methodologies and untested standards - that voices were raised. Now, three years into implementation, the Common Core standards have finally been held up to the sunshine and examined ... and have been found lacking by many, from classroom teachers to parents to standards experts across the country.

As Floridians, we are now bound to the dictates of two private, Washington, D.C.-based organizations - the National Governor's Association and the Council of Chief State School Officers. These private and federally funded trade organizations have no public accountability. Why are they in control? Because they are the ones who hold the copyright to these standards.

The Florida DOE continues to move forward relentlessly in the implementation of the NGA/CCSSO copyrighted standards, but wants us to believe that they are being responsive to concerned parents across the state. In response to 19,000 public comments received just a few months ago, the board chose, on Tuesday, to adopt what they call "changes" to the standards and, in their official statement, Commissioner of Education Pam Stewart said: "I am very pleased the State Board voted to adopt standards that Florida can truly call its own." This is entirely misleading and parents are not fooled. Their so-called

"changes" to Common

Core to make them "Florida Standards" consist of just 37 places where a minimal adjustment of a word or two was made and the "addition" of calculus and a few cursive writing standards. We still retain 100 percent of the copyrighted standards and have simply put "lipstick on the pig." High standards are a useful tool, but it's time to have an honest and transparent debate about who will be in control.

Contrary to what a panelist at a Common Core debate two weeks ago said – Children do not "belong to all of us." Children are not the property of the state nor are they the pawns of big business. Children are the responsibility of parents and guardians who are their first line of defense. Parents are the ones who will ultimately answer for how children are trained - how their character is formed and how they are prepared to fulfill their unique calling. But what parents have responsibility for, they must have authority over, and that has been ripped away by the adoption of Common Core – a set of standards that drives both testing and curriculum and is controlled by nameless faceless "educrats" far from the home front in Apopka.

If we, as parents and community members, desire local control of education, it's time to repeal Common Core and replace

Self-defense class set for young women

The Apopka Police Department will hold its second annual Self-Defense Academy for College-Bound Seniors beginning March 11.

The class incorporates training methods to build a woman's fighting spirit and trains them how to respond both mentally and physically in a time of need, while eliminating the danger of freezing or shutting down in confrontations, an APD spokesman said. Participants will learn techniques on how to be aware of their surroundings, how to look and act, and how to diffuse a potential attack.

The course begins with classroom instruction in risk awareness, risk reduction, and defensive concepts, followed by handson training. The majority of the class time will be spent practicing hands on techniques, with the goal of making self-defense

The Apopka Police Department will instinctive. There is no cost to attend the academy.

Classes will be held once a week from 5:30 p.m.-7:30 p.m., beginning Tuesday, March 11, and concluding Tuesday, April 8. Class will not be held during spring break, Tuesday, March 25.

"As our young women of Apopka leave home for the first time, it is important they can recognize warning signs, plan their escape, and be able to defend themselves if there is no other option," Apopka Police Chief Rob Manley said.

Applications may be picked up from the school resource officers at Apopka High School or the Apopka Police Department at any time Monday-Friday 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

state pay for our services but also provide tax relief for hard-working Floridians.

The final two areas that George Mason measured were long-run solvency and service-level solvency. Long-run solvency includes the state's ability to pay for its long-term obligations, such as employee pensions and infrastructure projects. On this front, Florida did not do nearly as successfully as in other categories, ranking 37th in the Union. Speaker Weatherford has made state the 2014 session. As for our service-level solvency, it is a measure of how the state can deliver the services that are the state's responsibility. I'm proud to say that Florida has the smallest number of state employees per capita in the nation. At the same time, we are also ranked second in the category of servicelevel solvency. This shows that Florida is doing more with less, a model other states should follow.

The fiscal health of a state is vitally important for all other aspects of state government. If a state is not fiscally healthy, it is less able to pay its bills, and must make painful budgeting decisions, either through cutting services or raising taxes.

As we approach the 2014 session, I'm proud that Florida is ranked so highly on the list of fiscally solvent states. As your state representative, I will work to make sure we continue to enact fiscally responsible policies that continue to move Florida in the right direction.

Assuming that "never" means "never," Kerry's and Obama's demand that the Israelis relinquish East Jerusalem and the West Bank, is an affirmation of Obama's statement three years ago that we are no longer a Christian nation. This new policy against Israel, joining with their enemies, would indicate that we have become a Muslim-oriented nation, or at least an ally. Other signs would be our dances with Syria's Assad and his massacre of over 125,000 citizens and our acceptance of Iran's race to atomic weapons possession. Forum: Questions were about Land's age to parking controversy from emcee Mike Synan, a reporter for FOX News 35.

The audience, some undecided, but many seemingly having already made up their mind for mayor, listened intently, occasionally erupting into applause.

The candidates opened with introductory remarks about themselves. Each one offered what was wrong with the city and promises to make it a better place to live.

The first question was about Land's age. He is 93. The challengers treaded lightly on the issue, though, mostly agreeing it was not age, per se, but the physical ability to participate in city events. The incumbent took exception.

The city's controversial parking issue came up. Kilsheimer said he understood the hardships and suggested we keep the best parts of parking regulations. Chancy said blended families create parking hardships and that solutions can be found. Phillips said we should work together for a solution. Land said it was Kilshiemer's homeowner's association that started all this, but Kilsheimer said it was another group that raised the issue first.

Raising taxes was another question asked of the candidates. Chancy said he opposed a tax increase, suggesting there were other ways to raise revenue. Phillips said we needed to bring more commerce to the city. Land said the city is fiscally sound, the bond issue is sound and unless the city got an unfunded mandate from the state, the city is in good shape. Kilsheimer said there was no reason to raise taxes. The proposed town center area near the interchange of U.S. Highway 441 and State Road 436 was another area of contention. Land said it was a great asset and that it was already paid for. He said he looks to the future. Kilsheimer objected to the location as really not being downtown and too difficult to navigate. Chancy and Phillips had questions about the location as well. The issue of outside investment in the city was answered, too. This question probably evoked the strongest responses and time was extended for each candidate to respond.

Kilsheimer said to look at the city's website for economic development: it hasn't been updated in years. He said the city needs to look to the new hospital location and plan development around it. And he also said the airport needs to be developed. Chancy said the website was terrible for businesses looking to find out about Apopka business opportunities. He added website searchers from around the country do not see a business friendly city here. It has to be fixed, he said.

Phillips said we need to let businesses know we are growing; give them tax breaks; be ready to grow. Tell them the right reasons they can grow a business here. Land listed successes here like the infrastructure and the largest industrial center. He suggested businesses come and talk to the city

Another hot question concerned Sunday alcohol sales. Land said there was a "dark side" to alcohol consumption, and that he would appoint a committee to look into the matter. Kilsheimer said it wasn't the mayor's job to decide what was good for the residents. He said he would lead a drive for Sunday alcohol sales starting at noon. Chancy said a reasonable time to start sales would be 11 a.m. Phillips said to let the resident decide what they want.

There were other questions with less disagreement from the candidates. Closing comments were telling, though.

Chancy told of his education and career experience and said that we are all called to help. Land said Apopka was a great community, with great pride, but residents need to be wary of outside forces. Phillips said growth is not a to raise his family here and that he offered fresh ideas and leadership. Kilsheimer debunked rumors that he would fire the city staff if he won the election, and that he understood the old and new Apopka.

A rousing round of applause for all the candidates ended the forum.

The candidates shared their opinions afterward about the debate.

"I was dealing with major pain from the second-degree burns I got on my hand from an accident earlier that morning, but I think I did well," said Phillips. "I just felt like there was so much more that I wanted and needed to say, but overall I was mostly happy with how I conducted myself. The Apopka Chamber did a fantastic job putting on the event, and the unexpected large turnout of Apopka residents shows just how important this forum was."

"I was very excited by the standing-room-only turnout," Kilsheimer said. "It reflected the excitement that I'm seeing throughout Apopka over the positive prospects made possible with this election.'

"I was absolutely thrilled to see the crowd bad thing and said he chose at the debate, and that it included all the wonderful diversity of Apopka," Chancy said. "A competitive election for mayor has really invigorated the community, and I am proud to be part of a process that offers a choice of competing visions for our future."

Land said, "The debate was in front of a packed house of interested and concerned Apopka residents our town always rallies for community events and this was no exception." He added, "I was humbled with the outpouring of support I received for my plan to create jobs today while planning for tomorrow."

The next forum on Monday, February 24, will feature the candidates for two City Council seats. It will be at the same location at the same time.

The city election will be held March 11 and the voting location at the Apopka Community Center/VFW, 519 S. Central Ave., Apopka, will be open that day from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. In addition to the mayoral race, there are two City Council seats up for election, Seat 2 and Seat 3. If there is not a clear winner in the mayoral race and Seat 3 race, the surviving candidates will move to a runoff on April 8.

fer. He tried to explain the water consumption by Niagara was a sliver of 1 percent of daily water used in the state.

Land told Kilsheimer he was speaking from the point of view of Niagara since they were paying him. Land said water is a big concern for Apopka and that is why Apopka is one of the few cities with a reuse water system in place, often praised by the water district.

Kilsheimer continued his usage comparisons of Niagara's some 900,000 gallons a day permit to the 5 million gallons a day permit for Long and Scott Farms or the 22 million gallons a day for the large Deseret Ranch in south Orange County.

The volleys continued between Kilsheimer and Land until other commissioners were becoming visibly dismayed that what had started as a point of business had morphed into political banter.

Discussion slowed and Arrowsmith asked that perhaps the city attorney and Anderson file a protest with the state, the county and the water management district. Commissioner Billie Dean suggested a motion to that effect be made.

Land asked for any more comment, and Patrick McGuffin stood up questioning why Kilsheimer can speak to this matter and vote when Arrowsmith recuses himself where his banking business has a conflict of interest with a vote.

an-McGuffin was swered quickly by Kilsheimer, who said before he took the job with Niagara, he went to Anderson and asked if it would be a conflict. Kilsheimer said Anderson said it was not a conflict.

To make his point more emphatic, Kilsheimer loudly seconded the motion before council. It passed unanimously.

The meeting started with a presentation and a proclamation. Debbie Mulrine and Barry Grimm from Greenbrier Afterlife Petcare presented the city with a check for $17,500 to purchase K-9 dogs for the police department.

The administrative report given by Anderson included word he heard the Apopka tag office was being closed October 1, and that he is looking into it.

He also said that Florida Hospital Apopka agreed to fund in part a survey of land use and zoning around the new hospital location.

A proclamation made by the mayor recognized the years service of FFA and many of its benefits for students, and many FFA students who were in attendance, He proclaimed February 15-22 as FFA Week in Apopka.

Eight consent agenda items were approved. Items of note included:

* An allocation to purchase art at the 53rd annual Apopka Art and Foliage Festival for $500.

* A contract for $1,155,810 to upgrade the compressed natural gas fuel island, which Land asked Anderson to explain a little about the facility, which he did.

* Authorize the mayor or his designee to execute the Capital Facility Fees Payment Agreement for RCE Commercial Plaza located in unincorporated Orange County.

* Authorize Fleet Maintenance to proceed with the purchase of two vehicles for $57,604.

* Authorize the purchase of four vehicles, at a cost not to exceed $100,000, to be used for Criminal Investigations Division of the APD.

One ordinance was adopted on second reading. It changed the zoning of Cooper Palms Commerce Center from I-1 (Industrial) to planned unit development (PUD/I-1), for property located south of 1st Street, north of 3rd Street, east of South Bradshaw Road, and west of South Hawthorne Avenue.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of city council will be at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, March 5, at City Hall.

All council meetings are open to the public.

13th annual Apopka Fair scheduled for March 6-9

By Neal Fisher Apopka Chief Staff

Organized by the Rotary Club of Apopka and the city of Apopka, the Apopka Fair has grown into a once-during-the-year distinctively Apopka event, which was and remains the purpose. Every year, the fair takes its place as an important component of the event calendar.

This year's fair, the 13th annual, is scheduled for Thursday, March 6, through Sunday, March 9, at Kit Land Nelson Park and Edwards Field, located on Park Avenue between First and Orange streets. Lake Apopka Natural Gas, Florida Hospital (Apopka), Waste Management, Belben Realty Group and St Germaine Chiropratic are sponsoring the fair.

"It is a family-friendly event in the heart of town," Fair chairman Bill Spiegel said. "Everyone can come and enjoy it. It is an opportunity to play and socialize together while a good cause is being supported. A lot of the attendees do so because it is an Apopka theme. They would rather come to the hometown event/fundraiser than the broader events in the area. The fair is the largest fundraiser the Rotary puts on all year and over 40 charities are supported."

Over the past few years, the event has become more expansive as more activities and pieces have become a part of the fair, in particular, musical and performing-arts type entertainment. However, the 13th edition will once again be about the essence of what the event was created for in the first place, a heavy dose of family-friendly activities as a means of putting Apopka on display.

"The challenge has always been to make the fair fun for the family while making the activities distinctive," Chris DeClue, the Rotary's Club president said. "Over the years, we have done enough activities and focused on enough different formats to know what works and what doesn't. For the most part, we felt it was best to think and get outside of the box of entertainment this year. We have had some success with the entertainment over the last few years. But what has always been successful all the time is the family-friendly activities.

"That is because, what makes the area unique is it being conducive to raising children and to growing family themes. Also, in general, no event can remain the same. Every event has to change with the times. It was time to make them after 12 years and us moving away from the 10th anniversary. When we reached the 10th year of the fair, the goal was to focus its growth on being more kid-friendly. It grew tremendously during the first decade of its existence, but Apopka's way of life is centered on the family and its values are familybased."

vides what it labels as the Ultimate Ride Along program, using NASCAR machines. The experience includes all the aspects of competing in a NASCAR race, from preparing the car in the garage to pit stops to qualifying sessions. Including a Ferrari, several cars will be on display from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Sponsored by Costco Wholesale, the small Business Expo will also be a new activity for the 2014 edition. Running between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Saturday, local businesses from Northwest Orange County will be selling and displaying their services and/or merchandise. The registration deadline for companies wishing to participate is Friday, February 28. The companies have also donated door prizes for those who participate in the expo. For every five different companies' booths visited by attendees, a ticket will be given for the drawing.

"We (the organizers) are excited to have the Richard Petty and Exotic Car Experience participate in this year's fair," Spiegel said. "It will add a lot to the experience of the attendees. We believe it's a great opportunity for the experience and the small businesses to showcase what they have and do. They also have a strong interest in using the fair as a platform to showcase what they do and provide."

With the upcoming elections for Apopka's mayor and city council, like two years ago when the last elections were held, all the candidates have been given an open invitation to meet their constituency. However, there will not be a question-and-answer session like two years ago. The majority of the candidates are expected to participate.

"The forum of the fair is a great benefit for the candidates," Spiegel said. "They can meet and reach so many more people who are a part of their constituency. To be able to do so within that Apopka theme is very special and meaningful for us and the platform of candidates running an election is also exciting."

However, organizers will still use the tried-and-tested formula of the old stalwarts to re-establish the unique flavor upon which the fair was built.

Fair attendees can see and purchase food from more than 15 of Central Florida's most sought-after food trucks on Thursday, as the Food Truck Roundup takes place. It is for that day only.

The sounds, smell and shining chrome of automobiles will also return as a further expression of the purpose of the fair as the 13th anniversary of the classic antique, classic and special interest car show will take place on Saturday. Once again, more than 100 entries are expected.

Consisting of a variety of bounce houses, the Toddler Play Zone will be and under.

Other stalwarts of the fair returning are the Apopka Police Department's K-9 unit presentation and of course, the various food as well as merchandise vendors (outside of the business expo). They will be selling and promoting their wares.

Once again, as a part of the triedand-true formula which gives the Apopka Fair its special flavor, there are the rides and games, the most familiar attractions of any fair. Paradise Amusements will once again provide the midway. Prices are set by Paradise Amusements.

In addition, a local company will provide several new extreme type activities/rides such as a rock climbing wall and gyroscope.

"If the fair is supposed to represent Apopka, we wanted the family themes to be what drives it. We made the commitment to continue it over the years and that has not changed this year," DeClue said. "We think we have incorporated the need to keep changing to stay with the times while maintaining the Apopka uniqueness being put on display. We also think the activities can be something huge for this city in the future, because they are for the kids and enjoyable for the whole family to be involved with."

Proceeds from the fair are donated to local charities, service organizations, schools and other community institutions through the Rotary Club.

Family Night will once again be held on Thursday and armbands for unlimited rides will be sold for $15. Armbands will also be sold on Sunday between noon and 2 p.m. But the armbands can only be used until 4 p.m. Parking is also free on Thursday.

The fair will run from 5-10 p.m. on Thursday. On Friday, it will open at 5 p.m. and close at 11 p.m. Saturday hours are from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. It will open at noon and close at 8 p.m. on Sunday. Admission is free, but parking costs $5 per vehicle. Animals are not allowed on the property.

Sponsorships are still being sought. Craft vendor lots cost between $100 and $350. The deadline to apply for a lot is Saturday, February 22. However, organizers do reserve the right to accept late applications on the availability of space remaining.

"We (the organizers) are grateful and appreciative of the partnership we have with the city to put the fair on,' Spiegel said. "The police, the fire department, the city employees and others affiliated with the city are what make it possible. It is a great joint effort and the ability for all to make those equally significant contributions is what produces that special and unique feeling the fair has.'

City to spend over $1.1 million on compressed natural gas fuel island

By Roger Ballas Apopka Chief Staff

Two pricey, though fully funded, expenditures were approved by the Apopka City Council on Wednesday, February 20, at its regular meeting.

A contract was awarded to Guardian Fueling Technologies in the amount of $1,155,810 for the upgrade to the city's compressed natural gas fuel island at 320 E. 8th St., and a second contract was authorized for the purchase of nine vehicles for the police department from Don Reid Ford in the amount of the needs of the city as the conversion to compressed natural gas vehicles increases.

"We will be switching to natural gas incrementally as vehicles come out of service," he said. "We recently purchased three new CNG trucks for sanitation and public services making a total of 17 vehicles on CNG."

The winning bid included two electrical driven 250 hp. compressors, one gas dryer, one priority valve panel, two double nozzle dispensers, one new electrical service and slab, one 400 killowatt stand-by generator, and any incidentals to complete the project.

Anderson said the improvements are needed to speed the refueling of CNG vehicles. "Now, it takes so long, and the upgrade will make it nearly as fast as fueling a vehicle with gas." Another reason Ander-grades are needed to meet son is excited about the upgrade is the payoff for it. "We expect a three-year return on investment payment to pay for the upgrade," he said. "The CNG vehicles run cleaner, are more efficient and last longer than the diesel-powered vehicles they are replacing."

In addition to the other pluses of CNG vehicles, the city will get a $4,000, or up to a 50-percent, credit from the state on each vehicle purchased. Anderson also said the public should be able to share – at cost, initially - the use of the station to fuel privately owned CNG vehicles.

Anderson expects work to begin soon on the new island.

Non-factory CNG vehicle conversions have not worked out the best, Anderson added. "They are more trouble than they are worth," he said. "As vehicles come factory-ready for CNG use, we will purchase them. That is why the police vehicles are not CNG. The only thing we get from Ford are CNG powered F-150s as we need one."

The second bid approved was for new vehicles for the APD.

The purchase includes six Interceptor sedans, one Ford Fusion, one Ford Interceptor Utility AWA, and one Ford Explorer 4x4.

The vehicles were included in the approved fiscal year 2013/2014 budget. Pricing came from the Florida Sheriffs Association contract bid with local dealerships.

"The vehicles will replace older vehicles being removed from service," Anderson said. "These are just replacements."

Anderson said using the sheriff's bid allows for better pricing and eliminates other stipulations previously met by a vendor under the contract bid.

"It's tough to beat contract prices," he said. "They're fleet prices set by the manufacturer with little markup.'

The vehicles are already in the area and will be fitted with emergency lights and other special equipment needed by the city. "The old ones will go to auction," Anderson said.

The Lake Apopka Loop Trail now heads to the west from the Phase 1 ending at the old pump house on the north shore of Lake Apopka. Phase 2 of the trail, which was officially opened Thursday, February 20, now traverses to the Lake County line.

Lake Apopka Loop Trail now open to county line

By Roger Ballas Apopka Chief Staff

Orange County, in partnership with Lake County and the St. Johns River Water Management District (SJRWMD), held a ribbon cutting ceremony for the Phase 2 opening of the Lake Apopka Loop Trail at 1 p.m. on Thursday, February 20.

The ribbon cutting opened 6.3 more miles of trail at the Orange-Lake County line in the SJRWMD's scenic Lake Apopka North Shore Restoration Area, which is surrounded by levees and is perfect for viewing hundreds of species of wildlife. Phase 1 of the trail, which starts at Orange County's Magnolia Park, opened in June 2012 and encompasses roughly 4 miles. At the beginning of Phase 2 stands the old pump house, a three-storey, cement block building once used to pump water into the fields and to pump the water out as required. The area is the second most important bird watching area in the state. A 1998 Christmas bird count (CBC) identified 174 species of birds, the highest species total for an inland count in the 100-year history of the annual CBC.

The total list of birds observed on the north shore of Lake Apopka is 348, one of the highest totals for any site in Florida.

The portion of the Lake Apopka Loop Trail that meanders through SJRWMD's Lake Apopka North Shore Restoration Area is designed as a multiple use passive trail for hiking and bicycling. The trail is broad and hard packed, having once been used by heavy farm trucks running through

Cocoa crash kills two, including Apopka woman

By Roger Ballas Apopka Chief Staff

A gruesome crash near State Road 524 and State Road 520 in Cocoa at 10 p.m. Tuesday, February 18, left two people dead, including an Apopka woman. The other person who died in the crash was burned beyond recognition.

The driver of a 2007 Ford F-150 was traveling eastbound on SR 520 about to turn left onto SR 524 when he traveled into the path of a 1998 Audi A8 going westbound on SR 520.

According to Florida Highway Patrol reports, the driver of the Ford traveled into the direct path of the Audi. After the vehicles collided, the Ford overturned on its right side, struck a sign on the median, and then a stop sign at the corner of the intersection of SR 520 and SR 524. The Ford then caught on fire.

After the impact, the Audi overturned on its left side, ejecting the passenger, 22-year-old Wendymary Artiles, of Apopka, from the vehicle. She died at the scene. The driver, 27-year-old Jarison Rodriguez, 27, also of Apopka, was taken to Holmes Regional Medical Center in Melbourne in critical condition. Neither Artiles nor Rodriguez were reported wearing seatbelts.

The driver of the Ford was reported to be Dr. Bill Safranek, a professor at the University of Central Florida, school officials said, though Troopers were waiting on the medical examiner to make a positive identification before they release the driver's name.

The crash remains under investigation.

Trail: Magnolia Park is where trail begins

According to Orange County Parks literature, the trail opens at sunrise and closes at sunset. Only authorized vehicles are permitted on the trail. Remember to respect private property and leave no trace of your visit.

Bicyclists under age 16 must wear a bicycle helmet, and bicyclists must follow and obey all traffic laws. And, be sure to carry identification. Location markers are installed at half-mile increments for 911 or other emergency calls. The markers have a number and coordinates for a quick response by police and EMS.

Pets must be leashed on a no longer than a 6 ft. lead. Clean up after your pet.

And, most importantly, do not harm, harass, capture, pursue, or sell any animal species along the trail.

Magnolia Park on State Route 437 is where your journey can begin on foot or by bike.

Presenters at the event included Lake County Commissioner Leslie Campione, Orange County Mayor Teresa Jacobs, Orange County Commissioner Frederick C. Brummer, Orange County Parks Manager Matt Suedmeyer and Robert Christianson, director of SJRWMD's Division of Strategic Planning and Financial Services.

"As a runner for many years, I am personally excited about the opening of the Lake Apopka Loop Trail as it extends into Lake County at the Lake County-Orange County line," said Commissioner Campione, who had asked members of the Mount Dora Roadrunners to accompany her on a five-mile trail run to the ribbon cutting. "This trail will prove to be a beautiful and vital asset to nature lovers, runners and athletes alike."

Future work includes Lake County completing a portion of the trail at the western edge of the northern shore of Lake Apopka. Lake County has secured funding to purchase privately owned property that adjoins land owned by the SJRWMD to construct an overlook onto Lake Apopka.

The county also has plans to improve a boat ramp that will provide boating access to the Apopka-Beauclair Canal and Lake Apopka.

For more than 15 years, The Friends of Lake Apopka (FOLA) has worked with local governments and the SJRWMD on ecotourism in the area, including construction of the loop trail, which began two years ago. Lake Apopka, the second largest lake in Florida, is in the headwaters of the Ocklawaha River and was targeted for cleanup under the Surface Water Improvement and Management Act of 1987.

Major activities include marsh and floodplain restoration and the creation of a march flow-way system that filters Lake Apopka's waters by circulating lake water through restored wetlands.

In 1996, the Florida Legislature passed Chapter 96-207, furthering its previous mandate to clean up the lake by providing funds to buy additional agricultural lands north of the lake.

Restoration of the farmland to functioning wetlands expedited the cleanup efforts. Restoration continues today and will for years to come.

Wandersleben related how a former administrator was so excited about recruiting some cardiologists for the Apopka hospital. "It raised her budget, but after a year they left, so the budget shifted to another hospital," she said. "So she recruited and they left, recruited and they left ... and so it went."

The hospital needs access and visibility to serve critical mass to support specialists, Wandersleben said.

The capacity at the current hospital is 50 beds, in 32 rooms. "The new hospital will have 80 beds and be designed for a second floor," she said. "We expect 90 percent occupancy," noting that 90 percent of admissions come from the emergency room. "We served 37,000 patients at Apopka last year."

She said the new location will make it possible to recruit and stay staffed in three critical areas that the current hospital just cannot support. They are critical care, cardiology and general surgery. "We will offer pre-ted to the property and to keeping it for use in some complementary fashion. "Our current site is 65 acres," she said. "On it, we have a church, a nursing home, the West Orange Trail, and the medical office building."

The medical office building was built in 2007 with community and city support, a fact that is not lost on hospital administrators, she said.

"We are having consultants look at the area and submit their ideas to us," Wandersleben said. "The design driver for repurposing the property is first, economic, the highest use of the land, and something that complements the land use and area businesses."

Wandesleben said the ideas would be vetted internally and then presented to the city. "We're going to make sure something beautiful happens with the property."

AMMS places in contests, hosts National FFA Vice President

Submitted by AMMS FFA

The Apopka Memorial Middle School FFA Chapter was selected to host the National FFA Vice President on Wednesday, February 19, from 12:30 to 2:00 p.m. This is only the second visit a national FFA officer made to Apopka in 40 years. The first time a national FFA officer came to Apopka was to swear in the new Apopka Junior High School FFA officers and present the chapter its charter. For this second visit, there was a tour of AMMS and a tree planting in honor of National FFA Week and the visit by the National FFA Vice President. The AMMS FFA Chapter invited all chapters in west Orange County to send three members to meet with the Vice President. The chapter also invited local school board members and school officials along with local government personnel and some chapter supporters to come and meet the Vice President.

This year, the chapter has been very busy. For the first time in chapter history. we have more young ladies than gentlemen. This is something that seems to be happening nationwide.

With the chapter being led by President James Carter and Vice President Joshua Davies, members have been in more contests this year than in any year since the chapter was founded in January 1974. We also welcomed our second FFA advisor, Mr. Duncan Sikes, to help Mr. John Cloran with chapter activities and contests.

So far this year, members of the chapter have taken part in the following contests, placing in second and third place: Prepared Public Speaking, 3rd place; Extemporaneous Public Speaking, 2nd place; Opening and Closing Ceremony, 2nd place; FFA Creed, 6th place out of 10 schools; Soil Judging, 3rd place; and Tool ID, 24th out of 75 teams. The chapter has 5 rabbits and 2 guinea pigs that will be shown the first week of the Central Florida Fair and the chapter has 3 students showing hogs this year during the second week of the fair. If you would like to support the students showing hogs, please contact Mr. Cloran or Mr. Sikes for information. Better yet, come to the Central Florida Fair on Sunday, March 9, and bid on the hogs at the auction Sunday night. While at the fair, come by the FFA buildings for some free coordinator.

Wekiva girls win region, land berth in state basketball tourney

By Neal Fisher Apopka Chief Staff

It is something of a tradition nowadays for shirts commemorating a championship to start appearing during the celebration. At the same exact time, the girls basketball Region 7A-1 final ended, shirts bearing the slogan, "Making History, Building Tradition" began to make their appearance among the Wekiva Mustangs' faithful.

The more often those shirts found their way onto the bodies of the faithful, the more it seemed to be the most tangible and visible of the fingerprints the Mustangs had put on its newfound standing as a name to be known among the state. It was only two full seasons ago the seeds of earning the right to wear the shirts as a reminder of where the program came from, were being laid. In particular, head coach Tommie Butts and his staff were beginning their first season at the helm of the Mustangs program and the fundamentals of basketball was the focus as the losses were rising.

Now, with Wekiva advancing to the state final four by virtue of the 74-62 regional final victory over Crestview, those seeds had been cultivated into wiping away the six pervious seasons of frustration and continuous setbacks on a contest-to-contest basis. This is the second team Butts has guided to the state final four and it does so with a 24-6 record, along with seven district championships.

The state final four or as it is officially titled, the state championship tournament, takes place in Lakeland at The Lakeland Center. Wekiva faced Palm Beach Lakes in the first Class 7A semifinal contest Thursday, February 20, past press time. Palm Beach

One tough quarter does in Blue Darters

By John Peery Apopka Chief Staff

One nightmare quarter brought the season to an end for the Apopka Blue Darters girls basketball team Saturday, February 15, in the Region 8A-1 final.

Leading 27-20 at halftime, the Darters were outscored 19-1 in the third quarter by Sanford Seminole, which went on to win 53-44, securing a berth in the Class 8A state semifinals today, Friday, February 21.

The loss ended Apopa's 21-7 season with a district championship and a spot as a regional finalist in Gary Wheeler's first season as head coach of the Blue Darters. In the fateful third period, the Blue Darters faced a more defensively aggressive Seminole squad and had trouble just getting into a rhythm offensively. On its first three possessions of the third period, Apopka turned the ball over each time. For the quarter, the Darters had 12 turnovers. Apopka's only shot from the court and made no call on the play. His pleas fell on deaf ears and the game continued after Gay was helped off the court.

Heading into the final period with all the momentum and a 39-28 lead, Seminole scored the first bucket of the fourth to pull ahead 41-28 before Apopka regained its composure. A three-pointer by

For several seasons now, Nick Celella had been the face of the Apopka Blue Darters wrestling program and embodied its progress. Mustangs fall in regional game 49-46

By Neal Fisher Apopka Chief Staff

Theoretically, the two best teams in each sport and each classification meet in the state championship game. But, even the best theory doesn't always hold true.

Ranked as the top two teams in Class 7A in boys basketball for much of the season, Wekiva and Oviedo were destined to meet four times during the season, twice during the regular season, once in the District 7A-4 title game, and once in the regional playoffs.

Wekiva (25-5) won the first two meetings, but Oviedo (25-4) won the postseason contests, including a Region 7A-1 semifinal game Tuesday, February 18, defeating the Mustangs 49-46 and eliminating them from a shot at a state championship.

Although Oviedo had the upper hand as the game wore down, when Carlos Maffuz intercepted a Wekiva pass in the final seconds, the Lions felt the exhilaration of defeating its most demanding rival and advancing in its own march toward a state title.

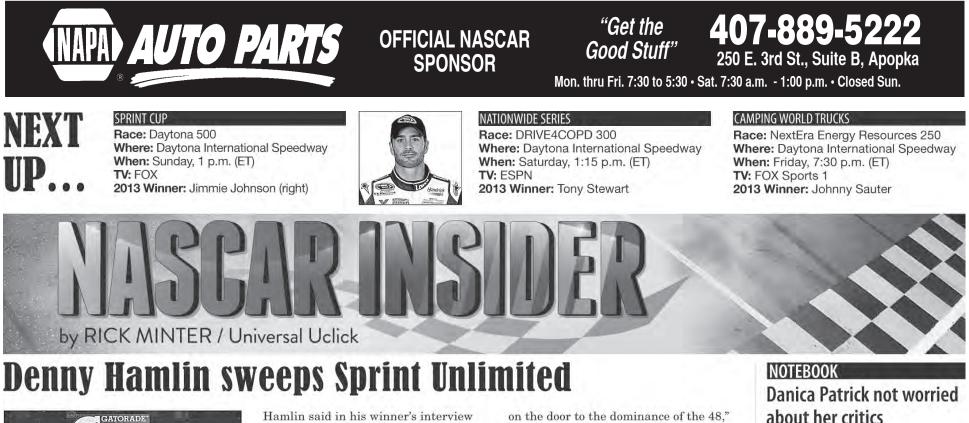

From the long grueling workouts of the summer to surmounting a schedule of the toughest competition by winning 20-plus games, Wekiva felt the pain. That pain was the season seeming to come to a close much sooner than it should have for a team which had done all it had done to cultivate the talent and caliber of skill its group of upperclassmen possessed in pursuit of a state championship.

"The difference in this game was we gave up 18 transition points," Wekiva coach Scott Williams said. "The first three times we played them, the total was under 10. Their ability to get into transition and create with it is the genie. We let the genie out of the bottle after we had done a good job of minimizing it during the first three games. We didn't make a lot of mistakes. The problem was when we did, they were brutal as far as the effect on us. Turnovers aren't the only mistake, but they are the most tangible because Denny Hamlin kicks off the 2014 season with a victory in the Sprint Unlimited.

Eight years after he opened his rookie Sprint Cup season with a surprising win in the Sprint Unlimited, Denny Hamlin began a comeback season with a dominant performance in winning the Unlimited for the second time in his career.

Hamlin actually got his comeback in high gear after a back injury at Auto Club Speedway with a victory in the 2013 season finale at Homestead-Miami Speedway, but his start to the 2014 season was even more impressive. He started from the pole of Saturday's non-points event at Daytona International Speedway and won all three segments.

His Joe Gibbs Racing teammate Kyle Busch finished third in the wreck-plagued race that saw only eight of the 18 starters running at the finish.

Busch had high praise for Hamlin, who struggled last season, missing four races and part of another with his back injury, and who never really got back to form until the Homestead victory.

"[Hamlin] won the last race of the year at Homestead, was the quickest in practice [at Daytona] by doing what he needed to do to get a quick lap in practice for sitting on the pole for this race tonight, then he wins [Saturday]," Busch said. "He's on fire right now. He's good. He's fast. He's ready."

that he's not particularly out to prove to others that he's back in winning form. "More so, I'd like to prove it to myself," he said. "Homestead kind of came out of the blue, especially how our year went. "We started feeling better. I realized after the win in Homestead — how I was feeling — that we run as good as I feel. When I feel comfortable in the car, especially in long runs and everything, you know, I can do just about anything I need to do to be a race winner.

"So it's more proving it to myself than proving it to other people. You don't like to talk about what you're going to do; I'd like to just show what we can do."

Hamlin also said that the entire Gibbs team — including teammates Matt Kenseth and Busch - is poised to challenge Jimmie Johnson and his No. 48 team when it comes down to the other end of the schedule in the deciding race of the season-ending Chase.

"The JGR cars, whether it be the 18, 20 or 11, are constantly the ones knocking he said. "You keep knocking, you'll have things go your way. Give me that opportunity I had in 2010 back at Homestead - I can promise a different outcome."

In 2010, Hamlin was in position to win the title at Homestead, having entered the race with a 15-point lead over Johnson. But he stumbled, and Johnson won the title by 39 points.

Among the cars unable to finish the Unlimited on Saturday was the Chevrolet pace car driven by former Cup driver Brett Bodine. During a caution period, smoke began trailing from the car and flames eventually erupted from the trunk area

Hamlin, who drives a Toyota, couldn't resist adding some fun "fuel" to the fire. "Should have been driving a Camry," he said with a smile.

Officials have determined that a malfunction in the system that operates the pace car lights caused the fire, and that system is not a standard part of the car.

A multi-car wreck takes Tony Stewart, Jeff Gordon and others out of the Sprint Unlimited on Feb. 15 at Davtona.

"People have said things in the past, and they're going to say things in the future," she said. "I still say the same thing: that everyone's entitled to their own opinion. People are going to judge what he said, whether they judge it well or not, and I'm just not going to.'

She said she tries not to worry about what her critics say about her.

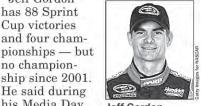

"The people that matter the most to me are my team, my sponsors, ... those little 3-year-old kids that run up to you and want a great big hug and say they want to grow up to be like you," Patrick said. "That's the stuff that I really focus on.

Afterward, Petty stood by his remarks in an interview with reporters and said his remarks had nothing to do with gender.

"It was definitely not sexist, OK?" he said. "Hey look, I've been married 55 years to the same woman. So I am not a sexist by any ways. I love women."

al Speedway got off to a fast start during Speedweeks as Austin Dillon won the pole for Sunday's Daytona 500.

It was the first time the No. 3 had run an official lap in Cup competition since Dale Earnhardt died driving it on the last lap of the 2001 Daytona 500.

Veteran engine builder Danny Lawrence, who is now the trackside manager for Childress' engine shop, was there for both occasions, and said after Dillon's polewinning run that it's a sign that the entire Childress team is back to full strength after some tough times following Earnhardt's death

"It's no secret when we lost Dale we rode on adrenaline for a little while there," Lawrence said, adding that Kevin Harvick, who was Earnhardt's first replacement until leaving the team at the end of the 2013 season, did a commendable job with the impossible task of filling the shoes of an icon like Earnhardt and helping the Childress organization continue on.

tin, driving for their grandfather Childress, and with the addition of veteran Ryan Newman to the team and Martin Truex Jr. to the closely associated Furniture Row Racing. Truex qualified second to Dillon on Sunday.

"It's a breath of fresh air to be able to see Austin and Ty and Ryan Newman and Martin Truex and these guys that are great race car drivers be able to sit in our stuff," he said. "It took us to while to recover [from Earnhardt's death]. It's been long enough and we've got that feeling again

"I think that our company is ready to go to contend, and I don't think it's just about Daytona; I think we're going to be good everywhere we go.

And Dillon made it clear that his polewinning run came because of his team's efforts, not some publicity stunt as some have speculated on social media. He cited the performance of his teammates as proof. Besides Truex's run, Ryan Newman was fifth fastest, and Paul Menard was 10th.

He said during his Media Day Jeff Gordon appearance that he likes the idea of a walk-off championship.

"If I win the championship this year, I've put in 20-plus great years," he said. "I do this now because I love it, because I like being competitive, and because I want another championship. I want to get a Sprint Cup championship.

"I go home, and I look at my trophy room. I see four trophies championship trophies. But they say Winston Cup on them. You can name me a four-time Sprint Cup champion for technical reasons all you want, but to me I'm still not. I want that before my career's over.

"If that happened, that would be all the reasons I need to say, 'This is it, I'm done.""

Father-son Nemechek team to revive No. 8 in 2014 Camping World Truck Series

Sometimes in the NASCAR world, car numbers come available at just the right times and for the right reasons.

When Tony Stewart ventured off from Joe Gibbs Racing to be a part owner of Stewart-Haas Racing, he was able to get the No. 14 made famous by his hero and mentor, A.J. Foyt. Richard Childress has not used the No. 3 that was once his own car number since Dale Earnhardt died in the No. 3 at Daytona in 2001. But this year he's bringing it back with his oldest grandson, Austin Dillon, behind the wheel.

When Chase Elliott moved to the Nationwide Series this year, he was able to secure the No. 9 that long has been associated with his father, Bill Elliott.

But few numbers mean as much to a team and family as the No. 8 does to the Nemechek family, which will see that number on the track this season as John Hunter Nemechek and his father, Joe Nemechek, team up to run the full Camping World Truck Series schedule.

The younger Nemechek, at 16, is only eligible to race in 10 events — those at oval tracks up to a little over a mile in length, and road courses of any length. His father, who has four Sprint Cup wins and 16 Nationwide Series victories but is winless so far in the Truck Series, will run the rest of the schedule.

And they'll do it under the same number that the late John Nemechek — Joe's brother — used, and was driving when he died in a crash during a Truck Series event at Homestead-Miami Speedway in 1997.

"That number means a lot to our family," John Hunter said. "It was my uncle's number that he ran before I was born, and I was named for him.

"That number is something we want to try and keep in the family, but one of the hardest things we had to do was go to my grandparents and talk to them about it. It was an emotional deal, but they liked the idea. Hopefully, we can go out and get a win and keep that number going."

Even though he'd like to be the one to get that win, the youngster has more realistic expectations for the upcoming season.

"My main goal is to finish in the top 15 or top 10 each race," he said. "I know that's a tall order, but you have to set your standards high.

John Hunter ran two Truck races last vear, at Martinsville and Phoenix, where he finished 16th and 21st, respectively, and he knows this year will see him continue the learning phase of his career.

Unlike the racer's adage "In it to win it," he said he's more likely "In it to spin it" this vear.

But in his favor is the advice he can get from his father, who was known as "Front Row Joe" for his qualifying exploits during the heyday of his Sprint Cup career.

"He teaches me a bunch, but he also lets me do my thing," John Hunter said. "If he sees something I'm doing wrong or something I can improve, he'll come up and say something to me, but mostly I'm independent."

The younger Nemechek started off his 2014 season in strong fashion with a victory in the Pro Late Model portion of Speedfest at Watermelon Capital Speedway in Cordele, Ga., on Jan. 26. It was his firstever victory in any kind of Late Model car, and it was in one numbered 8.

"It was a good race," he said. "We had a fast car all weekend."

But the win didn't come without its share of drama for the high school junior at Davidson Day School in North Carolina, where he's an A student.

"We had a late caution, right after I took the white flag," he said. "Then we had, like, seven more green-white-checkered runs.

"It was a little frustrating, but I kept my cool."

His victory celebration was a little subdued, though.

"There wasn't much to it," he said. "We were trying to get home for school the next day.

Mustangs off to a perfect start in 2014 baseball season

By Neal Fisher

Apopka Chief Staff

The Wekiva Mustangs baseball team opened the 2014 regular season as a part of the City of Eustis Invitational. While winning the event doesn't in itself make for a season of fulfilling the aspirations, three victories in as many games to open the season certainly makes life much easier and for a better position from which to do so.

"Obviously, we are excited about starting the season with three victories in as many games," Wekiva coach Jason Sanders said. "No team wants to fall behind early, but we swung the bat so well and put up a lot of offense, we felt good about what we did. We threw strikes when we had to to stay in the games and to keep the lead. The fundamentals were executed and the defense was solid.'

Wekiva 11, Tavares 6

The start of the 2014 season was as bad as it could be for any team, but out of that disconcert was borne the answer to a standard question for every team every season. The Mustangs displayed resiliency and assertion in the team's aptitude for the situation while snaring an 11-6 come-from-behind victory.

ing a 3-0 deficit.

Enter Juan Carlos Morales and five innings of shutout relief. At the heart of his steadying the ship performance was six strikeouts.

In the meantime, the Mustangs came out of the gate showing they have the offensive horses to recover after a bad inning.

The bad start was erased quickly as the offense countered Tavares' output with 13 hits by the Mustangs and they scored runs during most of the innings. The winning run was posted within the first third of the game.

Eddie Velez-Citron was 3-for-4 with a double and 3 RBI. Multiple hits were garnered by Angel Morales, Cam Miele, Yamil Rivera, and Joshuan Velezquez.

Morales had to relieve Juan Rodriguez, who left the game due to injury. Jacob Talbert pitched the final frame.

Wekiva 6, Faith Baptist 5

After the come-frombehind victory to open the season, the Mustangs had to rely on the offensive horses once again as another early deficit manifested itself.

Faith Baptist of Tampa built a 4-0 lead at the end of the third and it was 5-1 an inning later.

The comeback began

"We played three games and we did something different in each to win all three in different ways. That is where the momentum comes from. We saw glimpses of what this team can do. Blue Darters toppled Mount Dora for first baseball win

By John Peery

Apopka Chief Staff

After a rough season-opening week at the Big Blue Bonanza at Lake Brantley High, the Apopka Blue Darters baseball team picked up its first victory of the season with a 4-0 win over the host Mount Dora Hurricanes.

Josh Wicker picked up the Tuesday, February 18, victory for the Blue Darters, pitching five innings and giving up just two hits. The senior fanned three Mount Dora batters and walked a pair and hit one batter. Hunter Rotarius and Jonthan Elicier each pitched one inning of relief. He got offensive help from up and down the lineup, as the Darters recorded 12 hits. The top of the lineup had a great night at the plate, as Evan Harold, Jeffrey Crisan, and Shawn Feltner combined to go 7-of-11.

Harold and Feltner each had an RBI for Apopka, as did Jordan Hicks.

Although the Blue Darters banged out 12 hits, they still left several runners on base. However, they found enough hitting at the right time to score once in the third inning and three times in the fourth.

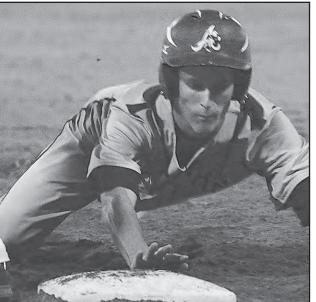

It was a solid victory for the Blue Darters (1-3) on a mild evening, but coach Eric Lassiter didn't get to see it as he was serving the first of an automatic two-game suspension for being ejected Saturday, February 15, in a 4-2 loss to Oviedo in the final game of the Big Blue Bonanza at

There was aspiration and assertive conviction among the Fletcher Senators' sideline as well as the faithful when the boys basketball Class 7A FHSAA postseason tournament regional quarterfinal contest began. Yet when the contest had ended, the homestanding Senators of Neptune Beach had gone quietly into that good night while the Wekiva Mustangs did the raging.

By the time the first quarter ended, the vibe which a Fletcher five-point lead was taken with felt like nothing more than the Senators being spotted a few points in an effort to make the contest somewhat interesting. After those first five points, the predestined trampling erupted and was unleashed against the Senators. Buoyed by Ruben Monroe's total of 25 points, Wekiva was never challenged during a 28-2 early run and the eventual 63-29 victory. "As long as I've been a coach and as many times as I've coached teams to the FHSAA playoffs, I've learned to never take victory for granted and to enjoy the experience," Wekiva coach Scott Williams said. "The team followed suit tonight. It was well prepared and ready to compete, which it did throughout the entire contest. Any team can be knocked off if it isn't ready to compete and fails to do so. Wekiva: Oviedo had a 20-5 over second and third quarters to take command

they are kept track of. We committed 15 turnovers. That number in itself is average. It doesn't stick out

"But almost all of them were unforced and the result is sloppy and wasted possessions. Then many of them led to the Lions getting into transition. Even if the Lions don't score, it was one more time we had to come up with a stop and defenses can't stop the opponent on every possession. The mistakes, both tangible and intangible, were brutal as far as the effect they had on us."

Also in low-scoring games, a 20-5 run like Oviedo had can determine the outcome.

Oviedo generated that 20-5 run between 2:19 of the first half and 3:31 of the third period. Wekiva began the game doing everything it needed to do to slay its biggest rival. As Williams pointed out, at the top of the list was clean possessions. The mistakes were limited and, statistically, limiting the turnovers will produce a high field goal percentage because the team is getting good looks at the basket.

But then the wheels fell off as the Lions made adjustments.

"We went to our half-court traps," Oviedo coach Ed Kershner said. "The game began with them doing whatever they wanted. We couldn't seem to slow them down on either end of the floor. We were befuddled. Using the half-court traps forced them to move the ball, make decisions quicker and when they don't want to. We were able to create a couple of steals and it steadied our rhythm for the first time. When we are in rhythm, we are able to move the ball like we like to. The half-court traps and steals also allowed us to spread them out when they had the ball and limit the impact of their ability to get into transition.

"Their players were isolated as far as having passing lanes to move the ball. And, of course, without a passing lane, passing the ball is tough. When we are in rhythm on offense, it allows us to get quickly into our defense and move the way we like to. The rhythm carries over from one to the other."

The game opened with Wekiva tallying the first seven points. As Wekiva's play was smooth and very efficient in creating situations which allowed them to use their strength, the lead was maintained at 14-6 after the first period and then at 23-15 with 2:32 left in the second period after Ruben Monroe tip-in off a missed field goal. Up until that point of the game, Wekiva had converted 10-of 17 field goal attempts. The total was 8-of-24 for the rest of the game and it was added into the mix with as Williams said, a high percentage of unforced turnovers and the consequences of such.

Then, as the adjustments were being made, another law of basketball hurt the Mustangs – the big play sustains long runs and leads. A free throw by Oviedo's Matt Milon began the run. But the first big play which came to roost for the Mustangs was a steal by R.J. June as he stripped the ball at the top of the key and subsequently points gave the Lions the lead for the first time at 26-25. However, it was a lead which they would never relinquish.

"When teams don't play good offense, it can hurt them, especially against top teams like Oviedo," Williams said. "They are athletic and play transition so well, they create good looks, open shots and layups in a matter of a few seconds after the rebound. That is what happened during the second and third periods. Good teams take advantage of those mistakes and do it when they put together runs. A game which is going back-andforth is turned into a three- or even four-possession game with a couple of mistakes. The complexion of the game changed when they turned our mistakes into points.

"Instead of going into the half with us holding them at arm's length because we are doing what we do well, they are in the lead and we are scrambling. It wasn't a particularly large amount, but at times, we got a little quick, a little impatient. However, once again, they were damaging, because a bad offensive possession allows them to be relentless in transition."

A three-point field goal from scored on a powerful slam dunk Milon with a defender's hand in as the clock reached 0:00. Those his face and a coast-to-coast layup after grabbing a defensive rebound accounted for the rest of the run which occurred during the first half.

Then, three more big plays during the second half sealed the Mustangs' fate as the Lions inched the lead to just one possession too large to overcome.

Oviedo surged ahead and closed the third period with a trev off the hands of Milon with 3.7 seconds remaining in the quarter. Milon took an inbounds pass as play resumed following a timeout and although guarded closely all the way up the court, created a small window of space to take the shot off the dribble as the buzzer sounded for a 38-30 lead with eight minutes to go.

The Mustangs cut the eightpoint deficit down to one. But with three minutes left in the game, Maffuz juked-and-jived, creating some separation for a second, but enough to drain another trey to up the lead to two possessions again at 42-38. It sapped the momentum from the Mustangs just as they appeared ready to retake the lead.

That was followed up with another fast break layup as Maffuz banked the ball high on the glass and as he was leaning away from the basket after another steal at half-court. On the third consecutive possession, Maffuz set up June for a 12-foot jumper which suddenly extended the lead back to eight at 46-38 with 2:08 left.

Once again, Wekiva cut the lead to one possession as Oviedo missed its last four free throw attempts and had possession of the ball last. Wekiva crossed midcourt with 25 seconds left in the game, but it couldn't get a good look at the basket and then was able to get only an attempt at a trey from the right wing. The attempt was average as far as the location but the shot was off-balance. When Wekiva tried to pass it back out to the top of the key following the rebound, Maffuz made the steal.

"When we first came down the court with the ball, we had the opportunity to get it into Ruben in the middle of the paint, but we didn't read it," Williams said, "It was only there for a two or three seconds. We didn't see it and the opportunity passed us. After that, we panicked. That is on the coaches.

"Still games consist of 80-100 possession. In the end, they made two or three more clean possessions than us and took advantage of our mistakes better than we did theirs. We had our opportunities. Nonetheless, I am proud of this team and the players. They all sacrificed. I am just sorry the players didn't get to fulfill their aspirations."

Monroe led the Mustangs with 16 points. Another combined 22 were added by Nathan Powell and Malcolm Stevenson.

Five players scored at least nine points for Oviedo with Milon tallying 12.

"It was like a heavyweight fight,' Kershner said. "They are good enough to win the state championship. Unfortunately, two teams which are final four teams had to play each other tonight. But that is the way it is and someone had to lose. We made the plays down the stretch."

As a result of wrestlers falling into the wrestlebacks/consolation bracket at the end of each round, the round of the championship/ winners bracket.

His opponent was Abe Nereim of Winter Springs. Both Semrad and Nereim lost matches during the Hauser said. "This the first occasions, Paz was able to fight off Celella's attempts to turn the body into an offbalance position.

"The goal is to place,"

"It is good to see Nick make it to the finals of the wrestlebacks/consolation and to become a state placer," Hauser said. "He earned it. There is still no substitution for hard work and dedication. Nick is the athlete who always set that example and made sure his level of doing it matches the expectations he had of placing at the state championship meet. In other words, he knew just how hard he had to work and that he would have to go beyond the norm to reach the goal and he never hesitated in doing it. Nick never missed a practice. He competes with several club teams year-round. And he also had to do double-duty so to speak.

"He was a football player. He started wrestling several weeks after the start of the season. It is very rare for a top wrestler to compete in two sports because of the overlap and how hard it is to overcome. The coaches and program will miss him sorely. But the coaches are happy he ended his career as a state placer and for him to do so. He left a great legacy and model for this program to build on and to take the next step of consistently placing at the state championship meet. He is the embodiment of what a program's first wrestler to place at the state championship meet is supposed to be."

Held at The Lakeland Center Friday, February 14, and Saturday, February 15, as part of the Class 3A state championship meet, senior Kyle Vangel of Olym-

The wrestlers placing first through fourth in each weight class at each of the four regional championship meets throughout the state qualify for the state championship tournaments.

Facing Tucker Hardwick of Palm Harbor University, Celella began the tournament with the type of surge which wrestlers are looking for.

The match ended with the official result being a victory by Celella due to injury within the first minute of the second round.

However, Celella had built a 5-0 lead when the match was declared over and he looked very much in command. In particular, Hardwick was having a very difficult time scoring points.

With the victory, Celella avoided starting the tournament with a bad taste and having to overcome a hole as well as avoiding having to wrestle an extra match by falling into the wrestlebacks

The next opponent was Brian Perez of St. Thomas Aquinas (Ft. Lauderdale). Celella pulled out an exciting and dramatic victory by a 4-3 score. The match went beyond the excitement of every point being critical as defense and low scoring ruled the day. The winning points were tallied with five seconds tacking the legs. Finally, the relentlessness paid the dividends he was looking for as Perez lost his balance and his legs collapsed under Celella's weight.

Winning the second match (which takes place with only eight wrestlers still alive in the winners bracket) assured Celella he would place.

The wrestlers who earn first through sixth place are considered to have placed. At that point of the tournament, only six wrestlers are still competing.

The two winners of the semifinal matches of the winners bracket advance to the championship finals. The other four wrestlers are competing in what is called wrestlebacks the (also known as the consolation bracket). The two losers of the semifinal matches of the championship/winners bracket fall into the semifinal matches of the wrestlebacks/consolation bracket, increasing that number to four and the total of wrestlers to six.

Also, by winning his first two matches, Celella had to compete in five matches to place as opposed to the six or even seven for the other wrestlers

With a berth in the championship/winners final on the line, Celella couldn't quite parlay what he had done in the previous two matches into a third consecutive victory. The match ended at 1:51 of the first period with Anthony Cooper of South Dade scoring a pinfall. Celella got caught in a cradle when two who eventually earn third and fourth place have to compete in five matches as opposed to the four the finalists of the championship/winners bracket have to and with the pressure of being eliminated with a loss Celella made sure he didn't have to wrestle in six or seven matches.

Falling into the wrestlebacks, Celella and Jared Semrad of Lyman renewed an old rivalry for one last time. They had faced each other four times this season. Most recently during the semifinals of the winners bracket at the Region 3A-1 championship meet. Celella won that match by an 11-5 score. With that victory advancing Celella to the championship/winners bracket finals and no worse than second place, most importantly, it secured a berth for him at the state championship meet.

Once again, the official result was a Celella victory due to injury. However, there were only eight seconds left in the match and trailing by an 8-6 count, Semrad was not in any type of position to score points. Celella advanced to the finals of the wrestlebacks/ consolation bracket or third-place match. It also assured him of no worse than fourth place as only four wrestlers were left (two in the championship finals and the two in the wrestlebacks/consolation finals).

Brandon Paz of Wellington also fell into the consolation bracket after losing during the semifinal very first round and then faced opponents who fell into the wrestlebacks/consolation bracket only after losing during the semifinal round.

As expected when the level of the competition reaches the wrestlebacks/ consolation final and only two matches are left, the competition was a display of the highest quality. But this match had the excitement of a different storyline as Celella almost captured third place by completing an unheard of rally from seven points down.

Brian Paz earned third place with the 8-7 victory.

At the end of the first period Paz had built a 7-0 lead, taking Celella to his back twice. Celella cut the lead to 7-6 after the second. With the score at 7-6 midway through the final period, Paz tallied a point for an escape and ultimately it was the winning difference. During almost all of the final 30 seconds or so of the match, Celella had Paz in position for a takedown. But on multiple occasions, Paz was able to get out of bounds. On multiple other season we did it. We went from wrestlers qualifying for the state championship meet to winning matches at the state championship meet to placing at the state championship meet. We have taken the right steps and continue to do so, even though Nick was our only state championship meet qualifier this season. To be able to put up a picture of a wrestler who state-placed with the AHS logo across his chest for all of the others coming after him to see is huge.

"It shows Apopka is capable and has a program which produces wrestlers who can compete and succeed at the highest of levels. Every program which wins and has wrestlers who regularly qualify for the state championship meet have that generational legacy and it started with that one wrestler doing so. Nick's picture will be a goal for everyone to match which can be visually seen. It says this is what the Apopka program is about, success at the highest level through the hard work and dedication."

ing the exertion of its game was manufactured and arrived midway through the third.

Crestview mounted the exertion of its game first, using two offensive rebounds and then getting into transition to score six consecutive points to take a 48-41 lead with 4:06 left in the third period.

But in the end, literally and figuratively, how it used its calling cards was the means by which the Mustangs' sustained the exertion of its game. And when the Bulldogs broke long enough for the exertion to become sustained, the Mustangs didn't merely settle for just the opening. The opening morphed into a run of 19-2, the hammer blow to the stomach. Never catching their collective breaths again, the Bulldogs succumbed to the hammer blow.

"The coaches preached to the players throughout the third period, now is the time for us to exert our game and we can do it," Butts said. "We had done it all season with our defense. If we can get a couple of stops, we can get into transition and build those one or two possessions into four or even five possessions which end with us scoring. We got a couple of turnovers and it seemed like they were here and there, but they gave us some momentum and got us back into our game. They had scored six points. So the contest was at its critical juncture. Energy comes from a team gaining control of the flow of the contest.

"Both were shifting to them. We didn't feel like the victory was slipping away from us beand have done. We felt we could make the plays to swing the flow of the contest back to us. But we knew it was something we had to do or we would be too far behind for our game to have an effect on the flow of the contest and for us to be able to get the rhythm of making the types of plays which win contests. We were working hard all contest, but we channeled it into the rebound and that led to us getting into transition, which wore them down."

Executing an inside-outside play following an offensive rebound, Wekiva kicked the ball out to Arial Colon, who drained a trey from the right wing and with the turnovers escalating while the good looks at the basket were decreasing for Crestview, the hammer blow had begun. Following the trey, a field goal by Ciara Cumbie and two free throws by Colon tied the contest at 48-48 with 1:18 left in the third.

The Mustangs then took the lead for good at 52-50 when Cumbie received an entry pass along the left blocks of the paint and executed the traditional spinto-the-basket move for a layup as the third period came to an end. "We had to close out on the shooters to create stops and rebounds," Butts said. "In particular, we weren't closing out on K.K. McTear-White. She was burying the field goals when she got good looks. Our defense has been our rock all season. We have believed in the 2-3 zone we use all season. This time, we had to adjust to the opponent, but we did it without losing anything in the way we play the 2-3. We made cause of what our players can do some rotation adjustments in the 2-3. The secondary help on the outside shooters was much better and the individuals guarding the outside shooter were more trusting.

> "Closing out so much better on McTear-White really stood out with the change. We channeled working hard into rebounds so we could get into transition because their rotation wasn't deep. Specifically, we were willing to work twice as hard to get to the rebound after the six points and we improved the securing of the ball when we grabbed it. We felt we were much more in control after the channeling translated to more rebounds, even though we didn't take the lead until midway through the (19-2) run."

And as Wekiva was cementing the victory with the back half of the run, McTear-White was being held to an inconsequential four points over the course of the second half. She had accounted for 17 points during the first two periods

A trey by Katie Atkins from the left corner off an assist by Allison further flamed the fire of the run as the Mustangs rambled off the first 10 points of the final period. The basket upped the lead to 57-50 with 6:20 left in the contest

Ten of the points during the 19-2 run came in transition and another six were the result of offensive rebounds. Even when Wekiva didn't score, such as the first 1:30 of and first two times it was on offense during the final period, the exertion of its game was growing stronger with each exchange of possessions as at the same time the hole Crestview was falling into was deepening. Crestview could not afford scoreless possessions and especially wasted possessions, such as turnovers and bad field goal attempts.

"We felt the victory was ours for the taking when we tied the contest," Butts said. "We still had work to do, but we had created a situation where everything we needed to do to win was in our favor. We had created a lot of momentum to do what we had to to win. After that it was a matter of quality possessions and shortening the contest. Everybody played their roles to perfection.'

The Bulldogs' field goal percentage dropped to 22 for the second half while three times more shots were taken.

The free throw line was also an ally of Wekiva, converting 15of-17 attempts. Crestview's total was 8-of-21 attempts.

While in its previous two victories during the FHSAA postseason tournament, the Mustangs relied on a couple of players to put up big scoring numbers, as Butts alluded to, against the Bulldogs, everyone was called upon to contribute equally in all areas.

Cumbie had an 18-point, 16-rebound performance. Another 16 points and nine rebounds were added to the totals by Cupidan.

Allison accounted for 13 points. Twelve points apiece were garnered by Atkins and Colon.

"Palm Beach Lakes has lost one contest all season for a reason," Butts said. "They are good for a reason. They are at the final four for a reason. They are talented and athletic. Defeating them will be a task. They have tremendous guards who are the starting point of their great ability to get up and down the court. But they are not invincible. We have some weapons, too, and will be coming into the final four playing our best basketball of the season.

"Again, it's going to be a tough task for us, but we have as much to say about controlling the final outcome as Palm Beach Lakes does. It will be a great contest with a lot of competition between the two teams."

Counselor loves job at Apopka High School

By Roger Ballas Apopka Chief Staff

"I love it here. I really like to come to work."

Lisa Munyon will tell you that with a smile and not moment's hesitation. Apopka High School is where she wants to be. "The students, the faculty – most everyone here – loves it here," Munyon said. "There's a pride here that's special."

Her enthusiasm may be one reason she was recently named OCPS 2013-2014 High School Counselor of the Year. Munyon was nominated by AHS Assistant Principal Kenya Nelson-Warren.

"Although she is somewhat a novice to Apopka High School, her work ethic comes from experience," Nelson-Warren said. "She is very genuine and passionate about the children and their families. She reaches out beyond high school to her stuNelson-Warren added

dents."

Nominees also came from the other high schools in the Orange school district. "I don't think it was one thing the counseling association was looking for in selecting a winner," said Munyon. "I'm just so proud and humbled to have been selected."

This is Munyon's second year at the high school. Prior to that, she worked 18 years in other Orange County schools, mostly in elementary schools. "Elementary schools were not as well staffed as we are here," she said. "We have seven counselors here. In elementary, counselors wore many hats. such as counseling and staffing"

Munyon's office is neatly kept, with straight piles of papers, a tidy desk and nicely arranged bookshelves. "I have to be organized," she said. "I must be efficient."

She has about 440 students assigned to her, as do each of the other counselors. "There are about 3,080 students here and we each have a section of the population assigned to us," Munyon said. "They are from all grades."

Munyon, who has a master's in guidance and counseling, said she and the other counselors are always available to talk with students. "We get referrals from teachers, calls from parents and students who want to talk," she said. "We try to find out ... to see what's going on.

Soccer fields coming to Lust Road

By Roger Ballas Apopka Chief Staff

Something big is planned for the restoration area on the east side of Lake Apopka very near Lust Road and State Road 429, and it promises to be a real kick in the grass ... literally.

The Orange County Parks and Recreation Division has confirmed plans to build a 66-acre commu- age for now as part of the nity park which will include two lighted soccer tions and park developments. Orange County already operates six existing soccer field locations.

"The parcel was declared surplus and donated by the St. Johns River Water Management District (SJRWMD), so we accepted it," said Suedmeyer. "We must leave a conservation easement and the district will use part of it for its sand stordeal."

Eddie Fernández was sworn in Friday morning, February 7, as the new Orange County Clerk of Courts. The Honorable Belvin Perry Jr., chief judge of the Ninth Judicial Circuit, administered the Oath of Office as a large gathering of judges, attorneys, elected officials, community leaders and Clerk's Office em-

"My priority is to be accessible," Fernández, 33, said in his comments after taking the oath. "To be accessible to the bench, the bar, the public and my deputy clerks. I want to know what I can do better. I want to know what the office can do better. I also want to know what we are doing great. There are a lot of fields with stands, baseball fields, parking, restrooms and open fields for play. The two complete soccer fields are planned for the first phase of development.

According to Matt Suedmeyer, manager for Orange County Parks and Recreation, the facility, tentatively called North Shore Community Park, is one of six planned community soccer field loca-

Suedmeyer said the land was an old nursery. "It is a cleaned and cleared site," he said. "That means it's ready for re-use and safe." His original community soccer field presentation was made before Orange County Board of-

Resistance

Dacterial infections, Dcancer cells, and pests all have something in common, besides the fact that they are all seen as hostile to human life and our interests, and that is that all of them have the tendency to develop resistance, to antibiotics, chemotherapy drugs, and to pesticides, respectively. This is a result of the fact that they all evolve rapidly, mutating and thus changing so rapidly that the original weapon used against them no longer works for that purpose. Mutation, and thus evolution, seems built into the very fabric of nature as a protective – Christopher Simon mechanism. It may seem odd to say that cancer is somehow built into the fabric of life, but that seems to be the upshot of oncogenes, which are abundant in nature. What allows life to adapt and change rapidly, thus protecting our species from toxins and infectious agents is also what makes us prone to cancer. Life is resilient, and not easily vanquished, just like cancer, the common cold, and the cockroach. But don't be too quick to lament that fact, for what makes it hard to annihilate cancer is also what makes it hard to annihilate us.

Fifth-graders get an up-close look at Lake Apopka

More than 100 fifth-grade students from Apopka Elementary School had the opportunity to see Lake Apopka up close and personal during a recent field trip held in conjunction with the upcoming Lake Apopka Wildlife Festival and Birdapalooza.

Prior to the field trip, teacher Mike Roberts' students built nest boxes to be put up at Orange County's Magnolia Park. The nest boxes will contribute to the already legendary bird numbers and diversity surrounding Lake Apopka.

The field trip was a group effort between the University of Florida Mid-Florida Research and Education Center (UF/MREC), Orange County's Magnolia Park, and volunteers from the Orange Audubon Society (OAS). Students rotated through three stations. The first was located lakeside on the shore of Lake Apopka where OAS volunteers guided the students on a nature walk. Students were able to check off a few avian species on their new checklists provided by OAS. Volunteers also discussed terrestrial and aquatic habitats as well as touching on the restorative efforts being made to improve the water quality of the lake.

Students then participated in an eco-adventure tree/plant scavenger hunt throughout Magnolia Park. Their mission was to locate and learn about 15 of the many flora found on the property. After 30 minutes of exploration, the group reconvened and was challenged by a nature game put on by the Magnolia Park education staff. Teachers were provided with handouts and materials to use back in the class-

The final stop on the trip was a laboratory experience at the UF/ MREC facility adjacent to Magnolia Park. Representatives from the Reedy Creek Improvement District Environmental Services Department exposed students to careers in environmental science and water quality. Staff engaged students by demonstrating field sampling techniques and screening methods for chemical parameters such as pH and allowed them to test a variety of liquid samples. Students had the opportunity to identify live aquatic insect specimens using state-of-the-art microscopes. They also learned the importance of analyzing both chemical and biological properties when determining the overall health of a water body. The information

Know Your Candidates for

Mayor and City Council

The Apopka

Voter Guide

Unlike your boss, your friends, your next-door neighbor, your in-laws or many of the people stuck in traffic with you today, you actually care who speaks for you in city, county, state and federal government.

You care so much, in fact, that you spend the time researching races, issues and candidates before you vote. It might be your civic duty to mark a ballot, but you take it to the next level.

You are our kind of voter, and we want to do something for you. You probably wish you could sit down and ask candidates questions designed to reveal something about them and elicit contrasts with their opponents.

So your friends in our editorial department do it for you. We've compiled questions for all candidates' and they'll submit their answers into what we proudly call The Apopka Voter Guide. BEINFOR

There are other ways to learn about the candidates, but we believe our voter guide is an excellent, sideby-side, one-stop shop for voters like you, the ones willing to go the extra step to do more than show up by actually casting an informed ballot.

Please your taste buds with foods from A Harvest of Recipes cookbook

This week's recipes are from the vegetable and other side-dish recipes section of one of our

Kitchen Kapers many Apopka By Ramona Whaley area community cookbooks, Calvary Church of the Nazarene's A Harvest of Recipes.

That cookbook's publication date is 2007, but it surely seems like no time at all ago since we so eagerly opened our copy for the first time seven years ago. How did that time fly by so quickly? Apopka is privileged to have a large and always still growing collection of Apopka cookbooks published through the years, all packed with very interesting as well as nutritious and delicious recipes collected from local families and from our community's various organizations, a lot of local churches and some of our schools.

If your group has ever published a cookbook which has not yet been included in this column, please do send or bring a copy to The Apopka Chief and The Planter office. We would very much like to share your book's recipes with all our readers. If some group is working on a new cookbook project, please tell us so we and our readers can look forward to that. A town can never have too many of its own homegrown community cookbooks created by hardworking local citizens with well-honed cooking skills, generously shared recipes and a strong spirit of culinary adventure.

Learning very different ways to cook interesting meals never gets old and it is fun exchanging ideas for preparing and serving tasty and nutritious new foods. Collecting and presenting area residents' best and favorite recipes in an always eagerly welcomed just hot-off-the-press latest cookbook can be a lot of fun.

Enjoy this week's local recipes below from A Harvest of Recipes, an especially attractive and memorable community recipes collection whose attention catching cover art shows a big beautiful basket filled with fresh produce and blooming flowers mixed in together, all tied up with a blue-ribbon bow creators as their hard work of collecting so many recipes from their congregation members, friends, family and the community and surely was a difficult challenge. Their cookbook is a joy indeed.

ANGELA HOUSE'S STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS 4 green peppers, halved 1 pound ground beef 2 cups onion, chopped 1-1/2 teaspoons salt 1/8 teaspoon pepper 2 (eight ounce) cans tomato sauce

Mix all ingredients above except the halved green peppers, but use only half a can of tomato sauce. Stuff peppers and pour remaining sauce over peppers. Cover with foil. Bake at 350 degrees for 75 minutes.

DONNA COLEMAN'S GLAZED CARROT COINS

12 medium carrots, cut into 1-inch pieces

1/2 cup packed brown sugar 3 tablespoons butter or margarine 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract

In saucepan, cook carrots in a small amount of water until crisp-tender. Drain. Remove carrots from pan and keep carrots warm. In the same pan, heat brown sugar and butter until bubbly. Stir in lemon peel. Return carrots to pan. Cook and stir over low heat for 10-15 minutes or until carrots are glazed. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Recipe yields six servings.

MARLENE RUIZ'S CORN PUDDING 2 cans corn

2 eggs 1 cup milk

1/4 cup sugar

2 tablespoons flour 1/2 teaspoon salt

2 tablespoons butter

Set oven at 350. In large bowl, mix flour, sugar, salt and eggs, adding one ingredient at a time. Stir in milk and corn. Place mixture in a 13- by 9-inch pan. Dot top of mixture with butter. Bake for 45 minutes.

> ANGELA HOUSE'S IMPOSSIBLE PIE

4 eggs, beaten 1-3/4 cups sugar 1/2 cup self-rising flour 3/4 cup butter 2 cups milk 7 ounces coconut 2 teaspoons vanilla

Mix all ingredients by hand. Spray two eight-inch pie pans with Pam. Pour mixture into the two pans and bake at keep and one to share!

AMBER RIEVES' FRIED CORN 6 ears of fresh corn 2 cans sweet corn 4 teaspoons butter

Salt and pepper, amounts to your taste

Remove corn from cob. Melt butter in large skillet and add both the cutfrom-cob corn and the canned corn. Cook over medium high heat for 10-12 minutes, adding salt and pepper, amounts to your taste.

JEAN HICKS' COUNTRY CORN PUDDING 2 tablespoons sugar

1-1/2 tablespoon cornstarch

- 1 cup milk
- 1 can creamed style corn
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 2 tablespoon melted butter

Mix sugar and cornstarch together, then add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Pour mixture into a one-quart baking dish. Place baking dish in a pan of water.

Bake at 300 degrees for 1-1/2 to 2 hours, until knife inserted in middle comes out clean.

BEVERLY VANCE'S SWEET POTATO SOUFFLE

By coincidence, Slim was privileged to meet and converse with several persons who are very talented, sincere, inspiring, conscientious, educated, entrepreneurs who were nurtured here in Apopka attending Phyllis Wheatley School and Apopka High School. Many also went to college, majoring in business administration. Two matters of brief encounters stood out exclusively being their interest in our ethnic businesses of the past and presence. The consistency of those encounters regarding their people of their ethnicity involved in entrepreneurship both past and present precipitated Slim penning this article. The period of time covered shortly after the United States of America Civil War of 1861-1865 and well into the 20th century.

There were several slave owners with 10 or more slaves in Northwest Orange County area namely James R. Stewart, Matthew Bryan, and William S. Delk, who migrated from the sovereign state of Georgia and fathered a son by a Negro slave maid servant. Delk was a steward environmentalist who utilized the natural resources of the Rock Springs to promote lumbering, basic farming practices, turpentine harvesting and food milling. Delk was noted for numerous innovations he created and promoted. He and his son, Joseph G. Roberts, would become the leading entrepreneurs within the Rock Springs area at that

Trouble near post office

Linda Vu, of San Francisco, stands by her display table of anti-Obama material near the Apopka Post Office on Friday, February 14, just after Randall J. Vatalaro of Sorrento knocked down and removed many of her placards along Tanglewild Street. Police reports state he was agitated and repeatedly yelled at her for blocking his view of traffic while exiting the post office. Vatalaro was charged with assault and petit theft. While being handcuffed, he complained of chest pains and asked to be taken to the hospital. The Apopka Fire Department was called.

AHS students winners in essay competition

By Roger Ballas Apopka Chief Staff

More honors are being heaped on the students of Apopka High School as juniors Carolyn Davis, Lindsay Sabiston, and Hunter Nielson placed second, fifth, and sixth respectively at the Atlantic Institute Art and Essay Contest (formerly the Nile Foundation) on Saturday, February 15.

Both Sabiston and Nielson received cash prizes, and Davis received both cash and a trip to Turkey (excluding airfare).

The trio had placed in the top 10 of The Atlantic Institute-Central Florida Essay Contest. The Advanced Placement English Language students wrote 1,000 words or less on the theme: Connecting Cultures in the Digital Age: How Will Social Media Change the Future of Our World?

They were notified on February 6 that they were winners, but they did not know at what level until the day of the awards ceremony.

The ceremony was formed that next year

The first Negro taxicab entrepreneurship existed as to Slim's knowledge during WW II with its proprietors being "Shorty" Bentley, Nolle Dixon and Steve Brannon. In the 1960s, Ed die "Big E" Williams obtained county and state licenses for the purpose of transporting people lasting into the 1970s. According to concrete sources of business operations, John T. Vereen initiated a citrus business in the 1950s into the 1980s and Marvin C. Zanders established an undertaking business operations in approximately 1962. Slim tried to be brief. Sarah Mead, a person of color and a renowned, competent entrepreneur, homesteaded an area wherein it was so favorably called Mead's Bottom near the "Lodge" where U.S. 441 and SR 436 bifurcates in Apopka with that gullylike appearance to give the name Mead's Bottom.

Presently on the previous site mentioned houses the famous Eldredge Mansion of Samuel W. Eldredge a pioneer from Malden, Maine, and his wife Mary Stewart Eldredge of an Apopka pioneer Stewart's family.

It was donated in the latter 20th century by Dr. Thomas "Tommy" Mc-Bride, M.D., whose family once relocated from North Highland Avenue near William Edwards Baseball Park to Mead's Bottom.

Slim's uncle Michael, a prominent civic advocate and entrepreneur during his boyhood days, lived at Mead's Bottom in the early 1900s and on numerous occasions would often elaborate on Sarah Mead's management skills of rental shanty shotgun houses, horse stables, and commissary. Also, her ability to convince the powers that be on issues relative to her ethnicity. Sarah's presence and actions prepared him for his proprietorship some 10-15 years hence in the avenues of business.

In January 1918, a disastrous tornado struck the town, destroying his building thus precipitating Mobley to relocate at East Ninth Street in Apopka wherein he maintained a lucrative business well into the 1950s Between 1912-1918, the company store established, as it was called then, located on East Ninth Street near Central Avenue tainment in "Soulsville.

Ella Walls, also of Negro ethnicity, owned real property and a home near the Amos Starbird & Sons (aka C.L. & V.C.) sawmill nearing the 1920s.

At that time, Ella was able to obtain slabs lumber materials free by just asking. These slabs suited the purpose of constructing shanty shotgun houses that influenced her to enter the rental housing entrepreneurship, which she turned into a lucrative enterprise. Many of the colored employees at C.L. & V.C. were in need of housing accommodations along with newcomers to the area who usually rented these facilities. Well after her demise in the early 1940s until late into the 1960s, several of those shanty shotgun houses still remained and were occupied.

Midwives, even in our modern day society of advance technology of professional medical practices or procedures, are a mainstay of childbirth. Midwives were frequently being utilized to perform their old profession of assisting birthing whenever requested

Two renowned, competent midwives of the 1920s-1950 being of Negro heritage from Clarcona namely were Epsie Williams and Rosa Barnes. Mrs. Pickett, of similar ethnicity, was also a renowned midwife who lived in northeast Apopka just a stone's throw away from Mead's Bottom. 1. While city government's primary function is to provide quality services; i.e., police, fire, sewer, water, streets, infrastructure and recreation, as the economy starts to rebound the city can begin to entice new businesses to our city. In partnership with the Apopka Area Chamber of Commerce and local developers, the city will promote new commercial growth including retail and restaurants.

With phase one of Martin Pond's restoration under way, the beautification to the entrance to our city is moving forward. New lighting and landscaping along S.R. 441 has enhanced the appearance of our downtown corridor. Projects such as Cooper Sports Complex, the Northwest Distribution Center, South Apopka's Enterprise Zone, the Lake Apopka North Shore Restoration Project, Kelly Park Crossing, and the Orange Blossom Express Commuter Rail are all developments that will pull in multiple business opportunities.

While it is the private sector's responsibility to construct new enterprises, it is the city's responsibility to provide the infrastructure and incentives needed to bring them to our city.

2. During the late 1950s, the city of Apopka worked with and promoted the North Orange Memorial Hospital Tax District, and, in 1967, the North Orange Memorial Hospital was constructed as a solid medical foundation in the core of our city. In 1975, the hospital was purchased by the Southern Adventist Health and Hos-

residents of Apopka, to include several of my neighbors have been commenting that the City Council has been approving the opening of too many dollar stores and gas stations. Additionally, many fast-food restaurants have become the landscaping of the City of Apopka, especially on Main Street (441).

Velazquez

These businesses, dollar stores. gas stations and fast-food restaurants are legitimate businesses that serve many in our community, but these businesses should not define our city. The perception that Apopka has become a city that conforms to only lower standing establishments has become the norm. We need to change this perception. With the expansion of 429 and 414, the proposed Sunrail project, the continuing growth of the Apopka airport, and many other future projects, the city council will have the opportunity to consider other types of business franchises. Apopka is very diverse in its financial and cultural demographics, so approving higher-end establishments would be welcomed by the community as a whole. In return and as a result, our residents would have the option of shopping in Apopka or somewhere else. If our residents shop here in our community, the business owner will benefit, the city will benefit and our residents will benefit by not traveling capacities 1. I believe the city's role is to actively market Apopka and the region to targeted businesses and industries and entice them to locate here in our city. The mayor, commissioners and chief administrator act as the team, along with our Tri-City Partnership (TCP) alliances. The master plan is the city's 2030 Comprehensive Plan, a continually changing document. The Community Development Department is the key to success via planning, zoning, future land use, permitting, etc., and in making sure those elements are in place efficiently and expeditiously.

The city has already been proactive, and, with the TCP, commissioned a study on the economic development issue. I believe there are, most probably, some targets that have already been identified and contacted. Negotiations may well be under way. We need a larger daytime population in order to attract some of the businesses people want. Good economic growth will change that over time. I expect that the city will take the findings of the study under advisement and use those findings as a tool going forward.

As an aside, I know there has been a lot of chatter about certain types of businesses that some people want, or do not want, in Apopka, but I believe that if a business approaches the city and wishes to establish themselves here, we are not able to prohibit them if they meet all the requirements and regulations. The market will determine success or failure. 2. I had more than one issue to choose from, but I have homed in on our hospital. Apopka has created a hospital district specifically to support Florida Hospital Apopka and their Vision 2020, with a CRA (Community Redevelopment Area) to support the anticipated new growth of hotels, office space, retail, etc. Now we learn that Florida Hospital Apopka, part of the Florida Hospital System, is leaving the present location and moving near the convergence of SR429/SR451 and SR414, but that there are no plans to raise it to a Class I in conjunction with the move. Physicians and related support services are located nearby; residents are comforted that they can get emergency services around the clock with a quick ride "downtown," and; most important is that the good people of Apopka have poured hundreds of thousands of dollars, maybe even millions, into the facility for equipment, expansion, etc. So now what? Will the health care facilities nearby begin to move to be near the hospital? Will the area cease to be a hospital district? What can be done? Apopka is growing and estimates are that by 2030 we will have 125,000 residents, so I believe that if we cannot change their minds and hearts, we need to attract a replacement. As a former volunteer firefighter/emergency medical technician (EMT), I know the importance of getting a patient to a trauma center in a very short period of time. To me, this issue must rise to the top, or darned near the top, of the issues/challenges facing our city today. This is where mayor, commissioners and our chief administrative officer work with our talented Community Development Department and find a solution that is best for our city both now and in the future. I want to be part of that effort. 3. Unfortunately, because I am a member, and the chairman, of the committee, I am prohibited from espousing my opinions outside of a public Charter review meeting ... BUT ... I would like to explain the purpose of a Charter and its importance as well as say a few

1. There is no doubt that the city has experienced a high volume of duplication as relates to retail and restaurants-which apparently has not been popular with some citizens. Nonetheless, I think it is noteworthy to point out the fact that these businesses have created jobs and stimulated our economy. The current process for business approval in Apopka appears to be open and fair provided one meets the city's criteria. Companies spend millions of dollars on market research analyses prior to selecting their destinations without influence. I think it would be a travesty for the city to micromanage this process, because it would certainly deter potential businesses and create a negative stigma for working with the city. However, I feel the city should take a lead in creating balance in its commercial growth by reaching out to preferred businesses. They can showcase their assets (land for development, low tax base, expressways, etc.) in Apopka and convince them on why they should locate here.

2. I find job creation a major staff encourage quality growth in Apopka. I hear concerns from residents about their negative view of too many dollar stores and fast food restaurants rather than the growth of quality restaurants, shopping opportunities and unique boutique shops like Mosquito Creek.

The city's role in encouraging the right kind of growth can occur in the following ways:

* Revising the Comprehensive Plan * Upgrading roadways and landscaping to make a more pleasing streetscape.

* Work more closely with other leaders to secure funding for areas like the future downtown commuter rail depot

* Streamline city permitting processes

* Enhance website functionality to make business services more customer-friendly

* Follow the recommendations of the 2014 Tri-City Economic Development Study

* Revitalize the city economic development office

* Develop new incentives for attracting quality industries.

2. I believe we must break out of a strong prevailing attitude of complacency and resting on past success. The city was innovative pital System, Inc. and re-named Florida Hospital Apopka. Once the hospital was sold, the tax district was converted into the North Orange Tax District Scholarship Committee. The city of Apopka, local businesses, non-profit organizations and individual families have supported the growth of Florida Hospital Apopka for over 60 years. With the hospital being a large portion of Apopka's central core, the relocation of Florida Hospital Apopka, will create a vast void in the center of our community. The new location for Florida Hospital may create new opportunities for a larger facility and medical research park, but it will leave a large hole in the center of our city. The Apopka City Council will need to re-visit the CPP and FLUM and consider enticing a college or university into the present Florida Hospital Apopka location.

3. Even though I have my own personal opinion on each issue, I feel as the present city commissioner Seat 2, it is my responsibility to keep an open mind and consider the decisions of the 11-member committee before making any final decision.

4. The city Charter is the fundamental document the city follows for leadership, it is not a document that should be altered unless essential for the betterment of the city. Only the items presented to the 11-member Charter committee should be addressed.

5. Prior to approving the installation of cameras at high traffic intersections, I completed extensive studies on the pros and cons of red-light cameras. Our city had experienced a substantial increase in vehicles running red lights creating a higher risk for accidents.

Citizen safety has always been a top priority for me and red-light cameras give our law enforcement one more tool to insure driver and pedestrian safety. The statistics have proven the cameras slow down traffic at intersections creating a safer driving situation in our city.

The Insurance Institute for High-facing Apopka today is the lack of leadership to connect with the residents and/or constituents. The fact that three people have filed to run against the sitting mayor and four candidates are running for city council seats, one against a commissioner that's been in office 18 years or so, is a strong indicator of the dissatisfaction the residents are experiencing.

Our leaders were elected to represent all the residents of the city, not just the people that voted them in. It's my opinion that the current leadership has not established a pathway of confidence with the residents of Apopka. During my many visits while attending city council meetings and interacting with neighbors, friends and having casual conversations with people at different locations throughout the city, the consensus is that the level of trust in our elected leaders seems somewhat diminished. Apopka has become a city with many people of different ethnic backgrounds. Our leaders need to understand and recognize that it's important to interact with all people. Our leaders were elected to lead, make decisions and protect the interest of the people they represent; they should also encourage resident participation. I believe "City Government Matters," and it should to all.

3. The population in Apopka has grown to over 40,000 residents. The need to increase the 4-member City Council to 6 has arrived. Adding two seats to the council would insure that the city continues its growth in an orderly fashion without overburdening the present City Council and the mayor. With all the growth predicted in Central Florida, especially in the Apopka area, it's essential the city stay in pace with the planned and predicted growth. Making sound decisions within the boundaries of good government and using common sense should be the goal of the city council. This can be accomplished by adding two additional commissioners on the city council.

I believe in term limits. I believe term limits are essential to good government. With relation to the Apopka problem facing Apopka and its citizens. Since I have been campaigning and knocking on doors, more citizens have expressed a lack of employment as one of their top issues. As a city where a great percentage of residents work outside of the city, it is vital to our sustainability to offer citizens employment which would allow them an opportunity to re-invest in. A strategic effort should be made on attracting various businesses to Apopka that are able to generate quality jobs. Also, the city should form alliances with current businesses and inquire what type of non-monetary resources can be extended to assist them with jobs creation.

3. I have been actively involved with city government in the capacity of attending council meetings on a monthly basis since 2009. As someone who participated and voted in 'The Committee as Whole' process at the city Charter review meetings, I have mixed feelings about these issues. Throughout the process, I have gained an abundance of knowledge about each issue and heard interesting perspectives from experts, elected officials and citizens. My opinions are as follows:

Number of commissioners: I understand the desire expressed by citizens to increase the council by adding two commissioners, but I don't think there is a need. I find the five-member council to be highly effective and sufficient for Apopka's 42,000 plus citizens. Research of comparable cities reflects that Apopka has the proper representation for its population, with the rule of thumb being 1:10,000 ratios for commissioner to citizens. Also, I don't feel citizens should take on the additional expense of paying two more commissioners without justification. However, I would certainly support additions and compensation in accordance with the above stated population growth.

Term limits: I fully support in times past with reducing costs through initiatives like the Rosen model of clinic-driven health, selling emergency services to neighboring cities, and preparing utilities for coming growth. I applaud leadership on these past initiatives.

However, let us never forget it is a competitive time. With the poor economy, the city must remember we are competing against other municipalities like Altamonte Springs, Mount Dora and Winter Garden. Even Florida Hospital dealt a blow to the downtown area by announcing their move to a more central area for them to the south. We must aggressively work with hospital leaders and consider incentives to encourage new tenants and businesses to relocate on the Park Avenue site. It is imperative that the facility does not become an eyesore.

Here are some ideas to make sure Apopka is a top destination place in Central Florida:

* Develop ecotourism potentials to their fullest

* Work closely with the Kelly Park Crossing and commuter rail projects * Ensure there are greater quality educational opportunities in the city * Seek assistance from arts leaders for greater utilization of the amphitheater

* Develop a strategic plan with citizen participation that has measurable markers to properly spend tax dollars in achieving our goals

* Expand the issues covered by a Charter review commission to be sure the city structure is adequate for a growing populace.

3. I don't have an issue with the number of commissioners that we currently have. I believe that termlimits are essential. The lack of turnover on the council, unfortunately, leads to groupthink and is very difficult for leaders to generate new ideas that benefit the entire community.

At this time, given the lack of term limits for council members, center that is open for extended hours will provide a home for cultural programs of all kinds, mentoring programs, meetings, classes, parties, and much more. A state-of-theart community center, located at the heart of Apopka, will serve all age brackets and help make the community more cohesive. It will also lower the cost threshold for organizing events, thereby opening the door to more groups and individuals being able to contribute. In addition, it must be noted that churches and community organizations in nearby cities sponsor skate parks, trampoline parks, coffee houses, and other largescale, permanent ministries that provide youth with positive recreational activities. These essential elements of community life are largely absent in Apopka. It is imperative that the mayor takes the lead in breaking down the barriers blocking the development of these kinds of ministries so that Apopka can also reap the rewards they offer.

3. I believe the number of commissioners is too low and that there should be only single-member districts. A key tenet of local, representative government is that citizens must have meaningful access to their representatives. The current council size is too small given the population growth in Apopka. A larger number of members, each representing a specific district, will provide a greater voice for individual citizens in daily affairs of Apopka. Further, term limits are essential. Local government must have regular changes of elected representatives if it is to keep perspectives fresh and avoid stagnation.

4. One major issue is the term of office for Apopka officials being in April. That forces elections to be held in March, at a time when few citizens are focused on voting. This should be changed so that elections for city officials can be held in November when voting occurs for most other offices and initiatives. This will increase voter participation and make elections more a reader poll conducted by a local newspaper on the downtowns of various cities in Central Florida. Apopka didn't even make it out of the first bracket. What can be done to change this perception? My view is that, as Apopka's next mayor, I will bring a new sense of energy, focus and direction to the job that will begin to change how people inside and outside Apopka view our city.

3. * Number of commissioners: Four commissioners and a mayor are adequate to represent the population today. When Apopka reaches a population of 60,000 to 70,000, let's re-visit that issue.

* Term limits: I favor term limits. Among Apopka's many needs is that we ought to be investing in the next generation of leadership in Apopka. Term limits will provide our young people with certainty that council seats will open up one day in the future. My sense is this will encourage young leaders to become more involved in Apopka today with the idea they will be building a track record of community service to which they can point in a future campaign. My recommendation is 12-year term limits. I believe 12 years will give an individual enough time to learn the job, develop some expertise and use their skills on behalf of Apopka residents. At the end of 12 years, a group of new individuals would be given a free-and-clear opportunity to offer themselves in service.

* Single-member districts: When we reach a population of 60,000 to 70,000, we ought to re-visit this issue. Until then, elections on a citywide basis are perfectly reasonable.

4. My recommendation is that we should start the Charter review process over again. Let's put every possible Charter issue on the table and go through a process in which all Apopka residents can have confidence.

2. The single most important issue facing Apopka is the continued slow recovery of our economy.

I'm a full-time mayor so I'm not distracted from city business by having other clients or business interests. And because I'm full-time I hear from a lot of our citizens every day. And what they say is that we need to be focusing on creating jobs.

And that's why I'm working so hard to plan for our future while creating jobs today with the Apopka Town Center and Kelly Park Crossings.

If you drive past 436/441 today you will notice that work is being done and we are moving forward with our dream for the Apopka Town Center, so the city is rolling up its sleeves to get our economy back on track.

3. The purpose of all citizen committees is to get the citizens' input - citizen-tocitizen. And in order to do that we must let the process happen. The committee's job is to seek input, discuss the issues and bring to the commission recommendations. My policy has been to not meddle in the work of committees, but rather to allow them to work and report back to the commission.

Almost four years ago, when no one had the vision to discuss the City Charter, I recommended to the City Council on July 7, 2010 that, since Apopka had grown in size in recent years, we should give thought to how we might change representation on the Council. I further stated that since population growth had slowed due to the recession, now was the time to begin that process; and, that the most important element would be to seek the input from our citizens since any change would need to be made by referendum

My suggestion received no support from the Council, public or press. After the passage of time, I called for a Town Meeting with a "Committee of the Whole" charged to study the Charter. This started citizens Apopka. Apopka residents should be encouraged to show up at meetings regularly and have their voices heard. We have projects that city officials spend money on, and these projects are never followed through with. Why is this money being wasted? We have a beautiful amphitheater that is seriously underutilized. We should be encouraging Apopka clubs and organizations, as well as outside organizations, to use this amazing venue, which would in turn generate revenue for Apopka. Our residents have serious concerns about whether or not they can park on the street in their own neighborhood. Our current mayor is appointing committees to make decisions that he should be able to work on with his own city commissioners. These are just some of the issues facing Apopka right now, but due to space limitations, I simply cannot address them all here.

3. I believe that term limits are a good thing. City government should not be a lifetime job. You are there to work for the city and its citizens; it is not the other way around. Without limits, a person can become too comfortable in office, and start working for their own best interest and not that of the people that they were elected to serve. I believe that there should be a threeyear term maximum. That gives someone 12 years to help the city, and then turn the office over to someone with new ideas that will help our city keep moving forward.

I think that single member districts are a great plan. It gives the people of a specific area of Apopka a single person to address their issues and concerns with. It makes a commissioner responsible for a group of people, and the entire council responsible to the city as a whole.

4. I believe that the Charter committee should deal with the issues that they have in front of them, and when their job is complete, they are finished. We have a mayor and a city council that should be dealing with these issues. In my opinion, this Charter committee was put there to take the pressure off of our current mayor and city council members. While I respect him greatly, our current mayor's age and declining physical health make it difficult for him to do his job. A mayor's job is to acknowledge a problem, sit down with his colleagues, find a solution that is best for the city, and take action to resolve the problems. A mayor should be a leader, not a committee former. The city council should work with the mayor; collectively, they should be working for the citizens of competitive.

5. Red-light cameras should absolutely be banned within Apopka for a variety of reasons. Besides being unconstitutional, red-light cameras increase accidents while making the city appear unfriendly to visitors and residents alike. They should be abolished immediately.

6. The borders of Apopka are confusing, and quite a few areas are bounded on three sides by the city, but not eligible for city emergency services. These areas should be evaluated for incorporation within the city limits as residents frequently complain about long response times from Orange County. It has also been brought to my attention that the IT infrastructure, including that which supports emergency services, is out-of-date and in need of upgrade. All critical IT systems must be reviewed and budgeted for replacement to ensure smooth, uninterrupted service.

A community policing vision needs to be articulated for the Apopka police force so that high-crime areas receive the detailed attention necessary to prevent crimes from occurring. Community-based policing would entail a complete change in the value system of the Apopka police force. The emphasis would shift from pure law enforcement to working cooperatively with citizens, citizen groups, and organizations to improve the livability of specific neighborhoods that have crime problems. Through constant presence in selected neighborhoods and in partnership with others, police can deal with issues at an early stage, rather than letting them escalate to major problems. Key to this effort is encouraging officers to spend time and effort maintaining personal relationships with concerned citizens, businesses, schools, and community organizations.

The vision of recreation needs to expand beyond playgrounds and ball fields. The city should encourage or fund the development of splash zones, swimming areas, skate parks, and other physical activities that are currently underserved in our area. Fun, educational activities need to be expanded as well. Apopka should also em-

5. When we talk about red-light (or safety) cameras, my view is that we ought to begin by talking about our fundamental values. For me, I begin with the value that human life is sacred. Saving and preserving lives ought to be above any other consideration. In that light, a study issued Feb. 10, 2014 by the Florida Legislature's Office of Policy Analysis and Government Accountability (OPAGA) stated that traffic fatalities at red-light camera intersections in Florida have decreased by 49 percent. If these cameras are saving lives and improving traffic safety, I can think of no reason why we should change that. At the same time, it is clear that many people hold the perception that red-light cameras are a ploy to raise revenue without raising taxes. My view is that Apopka can and should be working harder to educate not only our residents, but our visitors, that we are serious about making our roads safe for all drivers, cyclists and pedestrians. Our goal ought to be clearly stated: Apopka is more interested in saving lives and being in compliance with traffic laws, not with raising revenue.

6. The management and operation of our police, fire, utility and recreation departments are outstanding. My No. 1 concern is that we continue to ensure that we maintain the superior ratings that these departments have earned. I also want to ensure Apopka city workers are compensated competitively with their colleagues at local governments across Central Florida. Regarding our city's website, I believe there are a number of improvements than can be made. For example:

* We ought to post the back-up packets of information that every city commissioner gets for each city council meeting. Residents who want to participate in their local government ought to be able to see these public documents at their convenience.

* We can do a better job posting news releases about events taking place in the city on the website so that Apopka residents can know – at a glance – on a daily basis about their opportunities to participate in the life of the city.

* Finally, we ought to put the focus of the talking about the Charter that had not been discussing this before. We had a straw vote, a Charter change vote, and a committee to study representation on the council (number of commissioners), term limits and single member districts. This is where we should be.

* Number of commissioners: I think we should consider adding more commissioners when we hit certain population thresholds - so maybe we add commissioners when we get to 50,000 – which might be in 3-5 years.

* Term limits: Term limits limit democracy, the same as poll taxes and freeholder elec-

Apopka deserves a chance to become the best community in Central Florida. As mayor, Glen Chancy has pledged to:

- Ban Red Light Cameras
- Improve the business climate to attract more growth and development
- Expand cultural, educational, and entertainment opportunities
- Build a true downtown that Apopka can be proud of
- Expand recreational options
- Create a safe secure environment through community-based policing
- Return government to the people of Apopka through greater citizen participation, transparency, and renewed emphasis on public service
- Legalize the sale of alcohol on Sundays along with working to repeal other antiquated laws words about the committee.

Our Charter gives us life as a city. It authorizes us to exist, establishes our home rule authority and lays out the guidelines under which we operate; i.e. our form of government, type and number of elected officials, elections, etc. Its importance is that we, the citizens of our city, get to chart our own course.

The committee is charged with making a recommendation to City Council on three issues; 1.) number of commission seats; 2.) term limits; and, 3.) districts. These are nonbinding recommendations only. City Council may accept, change or reject altogether, those recommendations. Any recommendations accepted will then go to us, the voters, to make the final decision. - Meetings are held the fourth Thursday of each month at 6:30 p.m. at City Hall.

4. I have a few suggestions. Some are general housekeeping issues:

* I would like the city to consider striking outdated sections of the charter, such as the transition schedule in section 2.02 and reserving the section number for future use; striking or amending section 4.04 to reflect current practices; change section 6.06 term limits and feel they should be instituted on the council. I understand and have heard arguments on both sides of the issue for term limits. A couple of the top supportive arguments are: new council members bring fresh ideas; more people would be attracted to public service. And some non-supportive arguments are: The loss of experience and expertise from long-term public officials and lack of performance by exiting members. For better or worse, the federal government only allows two four-year terms for the president of the United States; I feel we should follow their lead.

Single-member districts: As stated above in my response on 'Number of commissioners,' I find the five-member council to be highly effective and sufficient. I have found them to be extremely knowledgeable and helpful. My experience over the years with the council has been positive in the sense that they have been approachable and have always followed through with requests. Also, I appreciate the luxury of being able to present my issues to any of them, as op-

4. I am sure in times past the charter was adequate for a small, rural city. However, with 43,000 residents and growing, the imminent arrival of commuter rail, and completion of the Wekiva Parkway - we must consider ways to thoroughly upgrade the charter while preserving our hometown charm. I recommend we hire a professional facilitator from the League of Cities, consider looking at the document in its entirety and implementing their recommendations. The citizens deserve a government poised and prepared for a brighter future.

5. Red-light cameras were designed to reduce accidents at busy intersections and not become another tax or revenue generator. I simply do not understand why the number is increasing if adeway Safety statistics show that red light cameras save lives. 676 people were killed and 113,000 injured in crashes that involved red light running in 2009. Of the 676 people killed, 46 percent were occupants of a vehicle that did not run a red light, 36 percent were the red light-running driver, 12 percent were passengers of a red light running vehicle, and 6 percent were pedestrians, bicyclists or other road users.

A 2011 Insurance Institute for Highway Safety study found red-light running fatal crash rates were reduced by 24 percent in the 14 largest U.S. cities using cameras. The same study found 159 lives were saved in these cities because of cameras; 815 lives could have been saved had red light cameras been used in every large U.S. city.

It is the responsibility of your city to provide each citizen with the safest environment possible. With increased population, and a reduction in law enforcement funding, I, as your city commissioner, must find ways to protect our citizens through technology. I support red-light safety cameras as much as I support speed limits, seat belts and every other traffic law and safety device available to drivers today. If one life has been saved, then the cameras have served their purpose.

6. No matter how proficient, there is always room for improvement. The Apopka Fire Department received their second ISO 1 rating this year. However, to maintain this rating, training, equipment and technology must constantly be upgraded. With new development on the rise, the planned fifth Fire Station will be a consideration which means additional equipment and manpower.

Under the leadership of Chief Manley, the Apopka Police Department, in my opinion, is second to none. However with a 33-square mile radius to patrol, an anticipated increase in population, increased development along S.R. 429, 451 and S.R. 414, the city must increase manpower, training and equipment to insure the highest level of service and safety to our citizens. The city's Community Development Department ment Highway Safety Officer oversees the city's Building, Engineering and Planning and on automobile and pedestrian Zoning Departments. This de- accidents in the city. City Council, it is my opinion that three 4 year terms should be the limit for both the mayor and city council commissioners. City leaders are elected to office based on ideas and agendas presented to their constituents. They should be able to accomplish their goals in a set time, thus term limits insure that the elected officials meet a timeframe

I believe single member districts will not adequately serve or benefit the residents of Apopka. With a population of over 40,00 people, it's my opinion that single member districts would divide the city and separate its residents and council members. The City Council should be working as a unit not as separate entities.

4. I believe the 11-member Charter committee should first complete its present task without engaging in any additional task not recommended or mandated by an authorized entity. The Charter committee was created by the mayor and city council for a specific purpose. Taking on additional issues would only delay its original mandated goal.

5. The purpose of using red-light cameras in a particular intersection or accidentprone intersections is to reduce accidents that are caused by motorists running red lights. This is a sound idea. A study conducted by the Texas A&M Texas Transportation Institute indicated that overall accidents were reduced by one-third, significantly reducing injuries and deaths at intersections using red-light cameras. My opinion on this subject is that when the cameras are used as a tool, they work. I believe this tool has improved the driving habits of many motorists resulting in safer roads and pedestrian safety. Red-light cameras improve the flow of traffic by reducing accidents

On the other hand, using cameras to raise revenue is not in the realm of red-light cameras. Should every intersection in Apopka have one? Absolutely not. Increasing or changing zoning regulations. The Community Development Department also maintains and updates the city's Comprehensive Policy Plan (CPP), the Future Land Use Map (FLUM) and the city's Land Development Code (LDC), which provide specific land use criteria. These documents are up-dated on a regular basis to insure consistency with present and future growth. Through their expertise the city council determines the consistency of growth in our city. My only recommendation is for the city to find ways to help create a more user-friendly process for developers and local businesses with the Community Development Department.

Public Services is a multidepartmental section of city government. Their focus is on utilities, streets and infrastructure. Several projects they have begun are the restoration of Martin's Pond which will enhance the entrance to our city, while providing additional retention for re-use water. New lighting and landscaping along SR 441, the extension of Lester Road to Rock Springs Road, along with sidewalks, and street maintenance are several projects Public Service is focused on. Public Services oversees water and sewer, garbage pickup, cemetery maintenance, and city landscaping. Throughout the year I review a variety of creative ways to enhance our residents' quality of life while reducing cost to our city; i.e., automated garbage pick-up, which the city has the lowest rates in Orange County, automated water meter reading, CNG (Compressed Natural Gas) motor fleet which saves the city over $75,000.00 in fuel costs every year. With the anticipated amount of growth during the next 10 to 15 years it is the responsibility of city government to continue discovering innovative ways to supply services while keeping costs down, and, as your city commissioner, I will continue to push this technology forward.

Parks and Recreation has been undergoing changes over reports. It's essential we comthe past year and is working to

6. In my opinion and from my own experience, I'm very satisfied with the quality of service provided by the city agencies in Apopka. I'm extremely satisfied with the police, fire and EMT personnel in Apopka. Their professionalism, knowledge, and training is superb. I've also witnessed the compassion and caring these men and women have displayed when in contact with the residents of Apopka. We should always support the emergency care personnel. They work night and day, on holidays and weekends to keep Apopka safe; we should recognize their dedication

Let's not forget that Apopka continues to grow, and the need to increase staff will be a demand for the future. We should stay in pace with the growth we are witnessing. All our agencies at some time or other will see shortages in staff. We need to address their needs in a timely manner, so they can continue to provide the quality of service we are accustomed

The website, while it has been slightly improved, still has a way to go before it becomes more user-friendly. Additionally, it needs more information on the finances of the city, ongoing projects, proposals, public record reports, and, in general, transparency; who's doing what and why? Not every resident can attend the city council meetings, so their path to information is the City of Apopka website. Our city leaders need to address this deficiency and correct it. It will benefit everyone.

An example of omission is the recent Tri-City Economic Development Report page that has not been updated. Additionally, the Angelou report and recommendations are not on the website. All reports that are public record should be available on the website or the process of how to obtain completed recommendations and municate with our residents, especially our young profes-

* I would also like to see some clarity in some areas, such as the general description of the duties and powers of the city clerk, city attorney and chief administrative officer.

* I would like to see a new sub-section of 5.01 that would establish a charter review on a regular basis, such as every four, six, eight or (no more than) ten years. It could read: A charter review committee shall be appointed by the city council every (number) years. It shall consist of no less than ten and no more than fifteen members. All members shall be electors of the city. No elected official shall be appointed to the committee. The committee shall be empowered to recommend revisions to the city charter to city council.

* And finally, I would like to see section 2.04 contain two sub-sections; one for the existing mayoral job description and powers, and a second section for commissioners, generally.

5. I am in favor of the cameras. I believe the city should continue to use them and place them in additional areas if war-posed to just one designated to my area. I feel it creates a form of division, and, for those reasons, I am not in support of single-member districts.

4. No, I feel the main three issues that impact us most are now are being addressed and am anxiously awaiting those decisions. My initial concerns were addressed during the city Charter Review meetings as I learned not all issues require a charter revision and can simply be addressed by ordinances.

5. I have watched a presentation presented by the city about red-light cameras reflecting a decrease in accidents since their inception, so I accept the safety aspect of them. However, with the level of controversy surrounding technical issues, Florida Statute conflicts and clerical problems and what I feel is an invasion of privacy, I feel they should be removed. And, for the record, I have never received a citation to date. I understand the impact it will have on the city's revenue during a tough economy, but feel it

6. I have no specific complaints about the service provided by the departments listed. However, with the creation of community-driven strategic plans, measurable objectives will be developed to help the employees be recognized for improvements and greater success. The functionality and format of the city's website has gotten better; however, it does not adequately showcase our proximity to attractions or accessibility through new highways. Public works still has some serious congestion on older roadways. Increased communication with other local governmental agencies should result in better roadways. During the campaign, many voters have complained about poor customer service in utilities and other city departments. A method of reporting poor service needs to be created immediately so that city employees and management can be made aware of problems. The city is here to serve the citizens. Poor service must be reported, investigated, and corrected.

The Apopka city website could be improved in a number of ways. Some suggestions:

* Email contact forms and phone numbers should be provided to allow citizens to contact all council members, and the mayor. The website currently does not list any contact information for the elected officials. Further, all elected officials should be required to maintain a social media presence on at least Facebook and Twitter. Connecting with local representatives should be effortless for the average citizen in the 21st century.

* All open contracts should be listed on the city website, as well as all bidders, bids tendered, and winners of all bids. The average citizen should be able to instantly review the list of vendors being awarded city money and easily spot any suspicious patterns. * All materials pertaining to budgeting such as proposed budgets, amendments, etc., should be listed on the site. The goal should be total transparency.

* Forms and payments, such as business tax city's website on the residents of Apopka, not on City Hall. The mayor's picture belongs somewhere within the city's website, but not on the home page.

7. I have lived in Apopka for 25 years, and I have been a member of the Apopka City Commission for the past two years. I am 56, married to Cheryl Kilsheimer and I own a public relations consulting firm. For many years, I was the average Apopka resident, living in Apopka and working in downtown Orlando. It was after I started my own public relations consulting business in 2001 that I was able to join the Apopka Chamber and become more involved in the daily life on Apopka. And so I am one of the fortunate few to have both an outsider's view and an insider's view of how the city of Apopka is perceived and how the city of Apopka works. Over the past 10 years, I have been fortunate to serve as the board chair of two non-profit organizations, Sustainable Florida and the City of Life Foundation. I have experience leading organizations in the process of establishing vision plans, executing against strategic goals, measuring results and holding our organizations accountable. * Single-member districts: There was a lot of talk years ago about single members districts, but the truth is that we have a good diversity of commissioners without having to make our commissioners become so parochial that they only care about one area of the city. I see single-member districts in other cities and they seem to create a situation where members put their section of the city above the city as a whole, and I understand that, but I don't like it. I would hope that folks would look at our city and keep the commissioners representing the entire city, not just one little section.

4. These three issues, combined with the Charter amendment voted on in December represent the potential for lots of structural change to Apopka, and I think that's probably enough to consider for right now.

5. I understand some people oppose red-light cameras, and I respect that view. We instituted red-light cameras because we saw it as a way to cut down on accidents – fatal accidents and non-fatal accidents.

As mayor, I get called by our police chief or fire chief, and when they call me late at night, it's usually not with good news. I've had to get those calls saying someone died because a car ran a red light. So when the city was presented with a way to lower red-light camera violations, a way to enforce the existing law and save lives, I was supportive.

Our data confirms that approximately 75 percent of all red-light camera violations are committed by drivers who are not from Apopka. I think red-light cameras make our citizens safer, but I'm always open to discussing the issue and seeing if we can smooth out the rough edges. In fact we've made? How about the city's website? What other information should be available on the website?

7. What else would you like to tell the voters of Apopka and why should residents vote for you?

Apopka.

5. We definitely have some issues with our red-light cameras that need to be worked out. I think they need to be reevaluated to determine if there is truly a benefit of them being in our city. Just as there is research that shows that they are helpful, there is just as much research that shows otherwise. I need to see both sides of the issue myself. I believe there needs to be changes to the Florida statutes that govern the use of red-light cameras. But, with that being said, it would be greatly irresponsible to simply start banning red-light cameras without considering all of the repercussions of doing so. I think they are unnecessary in many locations that we have them in now. In the other locations where they are helpful, they need to be more consistent so that a person has no questions about their presence and how they work.

6. I believe that our police and fire department are doing a fantastic job. I have seen them both in action, and I think that the police and fire chiefs have put together great departments with an incredible group of heroes. I believe that these individuals who put their life on the line every day to protect the citizens of Apopka are underappreciated, and deserve our sincere respect and admiration.

The recreation department is in need of some work. We need more events that give the people of Apopka something to stay in town for instead of going elsewhere to find entertainment. I would like to see more of our children involved with our sports programs. I would like to create a scholarship program for our underprivileged youth to help them to play a sport, or take a dance class. If we keep a child busy with sports and activities such as dance, music, and Big Brother/Big Sister programs, they are more likely to become a good citizen and a productive member of society.

had a number of public hearings on this issue, and most of the people who came out to express opposition were from outside Apopka.

6. We've had a few tough years when the Great Recession hit us. We had just purchased the land for the Apopka Town Center, and we had to put that project on hold, and we had to tighten our belts at City Hall. It was around that time that I refused to take a salary as mayor. It made sense at that time because we needed to show our citizens that everyone was sacrificing during this bad economic time.

Now I feel like we are starting to climb out of the recession. Home values are increasing and jobs are increasing – we still have a ways to go, but it feels like we are at least headed in the right direction.

The truth is that our city departments reacted with great care during these past few years – they didn't spend money we didn't have. Our fire department has an ISO 1 rating, the highest possible in the United States, and this equates to lower property insurance rates for our citizens. And our police department has led the way in reducing crime to one of its lowest levels in years. We've been able to maintain the lowest property taxes in Orange County along with the lowest garbage collection rate in Orange County for many years, and that is a testament to the hard work of our city employees.

If there is one area I would like to improve, it would be to create more parks and recreational areas for our citizens. And as our economy improves and we build out the Apopka Town Center and Kelly Park Crossings, I think we can make this dream a reality, much like we've done with the Northwest Recreation Complex – a place that I spent a lot of time at during the recent Old Florida Outdoor Festival.

When you ask about the website you are really asking, "How best can the city of Apopka communicate with its citizens?" Who would have thought just a few years ago that so many daily newspapers would have to drastically cut their budgets and their coverage of local news. Thankfully for us, The Apopka Chief is still thriving and ac-work. It needs to be updated regularly, and community information needs to be more readily available to the public. As of February 11, the election we are discussing right now is not even listed on the community calendar. This should be on the main page of the website. This is the biggest election year in Apopka history, and the website should be promoting it. Apopka also has a News and Events page on Facebook that should show any and every event that is going on in Apopka; and there should be a contact person listed on the page so that the community has someone to connect with when they need to make an announcement. Facebook is not a fad; social media is here to stay, and you would be hard pressed to find many people that do not use Facebook. It should be used for more than just promoting "Food Truck Roundup" and "throwback" pictures of Apopka. This is the era of information, yet our city is uninformed. Proof of this is the fact that we have over 40,000 citizens in Apopka, yet there are only just over 1,600 "likes" on the city's Facebook page.

7. Apopka residents, I want you to know that I care. I care about you, I care about this city, and I care about the future of Apopka. I am asking you to put your trust and faith in me. Have faith that I will always do what is in the best interest of our city as a whole. Rest easy knowing that I am your neighbor, and the challenges you face are the same challenges that I face. My wife and my son are as important to me as your family is to you. I would do anything to protect them, and to ensure that they live in a place where they are happy and feel safe. A place where my family and your family can live, work, and play. I am worthy of your vote, and I will make sure that every day that I walk in to City Hall as the mayor of Apopka, that I continue to remember that you are the ones who put me here and you are the ones that I work for. I have spent my entire professional life finding solutions to problems. That's what I do; I fix problems. receipts, should be available for online submission. There is no reason that routine form submission and fee payment should require a visit to City Hall.

* The city website does not provide a visible, direct link to the city Facebook presence.

* City parks with facilities that can be rented by the public should be eligible for booking and payment online.

* The city website has out-of-date information and multiple links that are dead. It is clear that the site needs routine maintenance. The city must have a dedicated webmaster and social media coordinator to ensure that information is freshly updated.

* The content on many pages is poorly thought out. For example, the page on Relocate Your Business to Apopka is nothing more than a collection of maps. Any page that is selling Apopka as a business location or visitor destination establish contact. For example, prospective business owners in Apopka should be encouraged to immediately call or email a business development coordinator.

* Important events such as city elections and candidate forums are not displayed on the city website. These are important civic activities and should be highlighted.

7. I have an MBA in finance and a certified treasury professional (CTP) designation. I have been designing financial software for over 16 years. While many people think of government as a source of regulation, much of what government actually does involves taking in revenue, planning budgets, and providing services of all types. I am an expert in budgeting, managing funds, and project management. These are important skills for a chief executive of a municipality to ensure that taxpayer funds are used wisely on projects that benefit the community. In addition, my career in the private sector has equipped me with excellent leadership skills and an appreciation for the role of the free market in building a prosperous community.

tually reporting on and covering local news, and that is important for us. If I was only thinking about the way we communicate now or in the recent past I would recommend an overhaul of our website - but I think you have to ask yourself where people get information today and more importantly, where will they get it tomorrow. This is a great discussion and one which I want citizen input on – should we improve the website or should we be more active on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram or other social media platforms? How do our citizens want to get information - is it through a static website or in real time with a more dynamic and new technology? Certainly there will always be a place for a well done website that conveys basic information, but is it the best way to communicate with young people - the future of our city?

These are the hard questions I am asking. I hope to get must provide easy-to-use information and a call-to-action to more input from citizens, especially young people so that we can create a system of communications that works for everyone.

My roots run deep in Apopka - I graduated from Apopka High School, attended the University of Florida and although my studies were cut short because I was called to serve in the United States Army, I returned home to Apopka to marry my wife Betty and raise a family. I am invested in seeing our community thrive while at the same time maintaining its outstanding quality of life and small town atmosphere.

cials who are asking for your vote yet again. The other candidate for mayor has misguided ideas that banning all of the red-light cameras will fix everything but seems to have little input regarding the bigger issues. I won't make you empty promises. What I will guarantee is that I will work tirelessly to make Apopka the best city that it can possibly be. Now is the time to make the changes that you want to see happen by electing a new generation of leadership!

6. The city's various departments are competent, helpful and professional. They are comprised of friendly staff that I have found pleasurable to work with. I have witnessed many employees receive awards/pins at the beginning of City Council meetings and am always impressed with their longevity and dedication to the city. Also, I think we have an outstanding police department that goes beyond the call of duty to keep citizens safe. And it's definitely a plus to have an ISO Class 1 fire department to protect us as well. With regard to the city's website, I use it frequently to stay abreast with city matters in addition to downloading meeting agendas and minutes and have found it extremely functional, user-friendly and helpful. over the past year with new and innovative programs to be added. One new feature is Quick Links; go to the ASK tab; click on a tab and ask a question, find a business, make a request... My one suggestion is on the home-page: provide a list of city applications available on the webpage and their location.

Overall, I feel each department is led by competent professionals who keep our city in the forefront of growth and development. But with the rapid pace of new technology, and in order to stay on the leading edge, the cost continues to increase. As your commissioner I will push for ways to keep our city moving forward; enjoying the best of our past and forging ahead in our future.

7. For the past 20 years, I have strived to push for creative, innovative ways to bring Apopka to the forefront in services and technology. As one of the first cities to provide re-use water to residents, WIFI to our citizens, having an ISO 1 rated fire department, our envied Fields of Fame Northwest Recreation Facility, to multiple new roadways, our city has progressed rapidly. With the restoration of Martin's Pond, the Cooper's Sports Complex, the Northwest Distribution Center, the Westside Research Park and now the Tri-Cities Partnership Vision 2020, the Lake Apopka North Shore Restoration Program, the future Kelly Park Crossings and the re-location of Florida Hospital Apopka, Apopkans are surrounded by new and anticipated growth. Our city needs proven leadership to insure we continue to grow in a progressive and consistent manner.

Florida Hospital's relocation is going to create a large void in our downtown core. Pushing for new development along this corridor is crucial, enticing a college or university is one avenue I look to peruse. However, I would consider other PO/I uses as well. Again, proven leadership is needed to protect our city's downtown area.

For over 100 years, the Ustler family has brought business and jobs to Apopka, striving to improve the economic engine of our community. I have continued to push for projects that will improve the quality of life for our citizens. While maintaining a balanced budget, keeping our city's AAA bond rating and insuring a solvent government, I have worked hard to improve the quality of life for our businesses and residents.

I love our city and I am proud to be an Apopkan. I am honored to have served the citizens of our wonderful city over the past 18 years and I ask you to allow me the honor of continuing my service for 4 more years.

III materials could be dumped immediately and other waivers that were contrary to my beliefs. I believed it to be irresponsible and that the result would be detrimental to the environment and to the planned development at Kelly Park Crossing. I was the only private citizen to speak against this change at both the county's board of zoning adjustment and at the county's final hearing. Where were all those angry voices who spoke in 2012? There were none! Silence! Just me! Very telling. I have been volunteering all my life and brought that desire to serve others to Apopka in September 1997. Space prohibits listing all of my involvement, career achievements, formal education and awards, but it is all listed on my website, www. LindaForApopka.com. 7. I don't want to sound redundant and repeat my position addressed by answering the above six questions, but some things need to be repeated.

* I believe in term limits

* I believe in better strategic planning and making city government more transparent and informative

* Prepare for growth coming from the proposed commuter rail and completion of the Wekiva Parkway

* Continue to enhance police and fire services

* Implement recommendations of the tri-city economic development study

These issues are very important to me, but working with all residents of Apopka is paramount. The voters in this great city should have confidence, respect and believe in their leaders, and that's the leader I will be. A leader that will be available to all residents, a leader that will listen and a leader that will be truthful, honest, and dedicated to the community I serve.

On a personal note, my husband Ed and I have been residents of Apopka for a decade. We moved to Central Florida and love the smalltown feeling of Apopka. We like the intimacy but realize that growth is near by. Since we are both retired from law enforcement and have an understanding of the interactions between city administrators and the community as a whole, I'm certain we can keep the small-town feeling alive. I have been very fortunate and had a great career, but I believe I can help by serving this great community.

I'm presently involved in and a member of several local groups that promote interaction between the residents of Apopka and city hall. I'm a member of the Woman's Group, Toastmaster's Club, VFW Booster member and St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church. My husband is the Jr. Vice Commander of the local VFW post, and is a Vietnam Veteran. My son Samuel, is an Iraqi and Afghanistan war veteran, and I'm the granddaughter of a WWII veteran. I'm also a grandmother to two wonderful grandchildren, Mariah and Julius. They are my pride and joy.

In closing, I will represent all Apopka residents, dedicate myself to the improvement of our city and keep myself available to all. As voters we have a responsibility to demand the utmost of our elected officials and we should not settle for anything else. Remember, City Government Matters.'

Thank you and God bless us all and God bless America. Diane Velazquez, candidate City Council Seat 2 presiding, bylaws, etc.

I had a distinguished career in material handling and in telecommunications. I retired in 2001 and turned my attention to volunteer activities. All my formal education, work experiences and skills I have learned over the years will be put to good use as your representative. I understand how important it is to you to keep our taxes low, keep our services second to none and keep Apopka as a great place to work, play and raise our children. I am knowledgeable in local and county government. I was a commissioner on the Orange County 2012 Charter Review Commission which was a wonderful experience that taught me a great deal about how county government operates. I look forward to learning even more about our city.

best here in Apopka. Overall, Apopka's residents are satisfied, as am I. I often hear stories of how a police officer, a firefighter, an EMT, a city employee, assisted them. The underlying thread is kindness, listening, patience, not hurried, etc. Our fire department's ISO1 rating, in the top 0.9 percent in our country, means we have the lowest possible homeowners' insurance rates. We were fourth or fifth in the state and only 49th in the country (!) to achieve this coveted rating. Our police department's K9 training program is internationally acclaimed. The website is getting better but I want to be able to get the dates of all public meetings and links to the respective agendas in one place. That could perhaps go in the Quick Links, named "Boards and Committees," then as a drop-down to each board/ committee page containing agendas, minutes, archives and any other pertinent information. It could also be linked from the main calendar. List the week's meetings/events as is done now, but include boards and committees and a link to the calendar format so people can look ahead and plan.

I have been asking for an expanded community calendar for years, one that would be the central go-to place to find out what is happening in our city. Every non-profit should be able to post an event that is open to dents "didn't know about it."

7. I am a proven leader. I am involved. Go to www.Linda ForApopka.com and see what I am doing and have done. I have been going to city council meetings consistently for years. I ask a lot of questions and have learned a lot about our city. I am not afraid to speak up and advocate for you. That's what I would do as your representative. It's a delicate balance to grow our city and bring in economic development, promote eco-tourism and watch our city grow while retaining existing businesses and paying homage to our rich history. In 2012, there was a great hue and cry about the upgrade of the Vista Landfill. I recently supported blocking the zon-

I told you in 2012 that I was an insider and would continue to be inside city council meetings and inside the voting booth at the next election. Well, will you be an "insider," too? Will you cast your vote on March 11 at the VFW Post 10147 at the corner of Central and 5th?

If you do not vote, then you have nothing to complain about later if the result is not as you hoped. Let me know when you come to vote that you are coming because you want to be an "insider," too! Please hire me to represent you. I respectfully request that you bubble in the ballot for
