Comments, Notes, and Vignettes

FOR THOSE WHO WANT TO KNOW WHAT'S HAPPENING, HEREWITH, OUR ANNUAL POST-RACE REPORT:

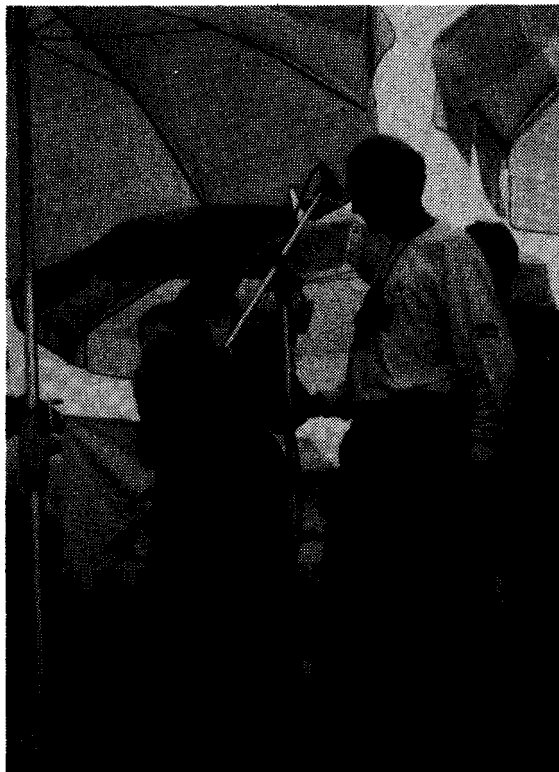

Even though we have a high entry fee, our registrations increased 42%, from 1,647 in 1988 to 2,354 in 1989. Of those registered, 290 did not pick up their bib numbers, so about 2,100 started. Once again, we had an extremely high percentage of finishers: 1,871, or about 89%—same as last year.

As you know, our cow mascot has a new name: Tchaicowsky, (Big Al Kirkman). Here are a few of the late entries that didn't make the program: Ayatollah Cowmeini (William Lennon); Weedeater (Patricia Muirheid); No Bull (Ed Foley); Buttercup, Uttercup, EEE cup (Teresa Timmerman); and our only Vietnamese entry—Moo Vin Along (Bob Arnold).

A very high 34% of our registrants were Hurricane Point Survivors. We think this is the highest number of returnees of any marathon in the nation, but it's hard to tell because many do not keep that statistic. Those that do, average about 20%.

A statistic we would like to have is how many runners set a P.R. on our course, in spite of the difficulty. We are amazed every year at how many runners tell us they ran their best time here.

Humor and whimsy, as you have guessed by now, are important to the Big Sur Marathon. Kind of seems to put things in their proper perspective. Each year we pick our favorite runner's comment and pass it on to you in the Results Book. Last year we liked the remark by a runner that he ran a slow race because there were too many Highway Patrolmen on the course; every time he saw one he instinctively slowed down. This year we laughed at a statement by Jay Kontilis, obviously in reference to the difficulty of the course. In response to the question on the entry form (testing our advertising effectiveness): "Where did you hear about this race?", he wrote, "From a Mortician." A close second place was a runner who wrote on that little line on the bottom left of his personal check, where it says "For: Pain".

*Brad Hawthorne is awarded check for first place finish by George Hirsch, publisher of Runner's World,

Congratulations to Ann Trason for setting the new female course record, and to the 15 runners that set their division records this year:

Female	30-34	Chris Iwahashi	2:55:51	3:02:59
Female	35-39	Claudia Cottrell	2:51:57	2:57:29
Female	45-49	Gail Rodd	3:19:34	3:19:46

Female	55-59	Wilma Maddock	3:36:15	3:52:17
Female	60-64	Victoria Burgess	4:36:11	4:40:30

Note that many of these runners set their records by substantial margins, which is an indication that our race is attracting strong runners. The remarkable Paul Reese, who seems to run a marathon every other day, smashed his division record by almost an hour!

We are thinking about re-naming our race to "The Brad Hawthorne Big Sur Marathon." He set the unbeatable course record of 2:16 in 1987, and ran a 2:20 this year, a time that won't be approached for years. If he signs up next year we'll just send him his money and trophy before the race.

The Walk, a new addition to this year, provided a 500 plus crowd at the 10 mile mark, an unexpected cheering section in the wilderness. Brad echoed the comments of many runners when he said their cheers gave him goose bumps.

Winner of the prize for the best contribution to the Mini-Cow Museum (or Cow Mini-Museum) was Penny Gonzalez, AKA "The Animal", of Milwaukee, for submitting a Wisconsin Cow Patty. We haven't figured out yet what she won.

Ben Jones continued a tradition (that we hope catches on) by once again giving us a $100 bill as he crossed the finish line. We sent the money to the local Salvation Army in his name.

We guaranteed that it would not rain. The race was over at 12:30, and it started to rain at 12:32. Ho hum. Francis Phelps of Unadilla, N.Y., wrote, "How you do that trick with the rain I don't know."

Join us again next year on April 29, and we'll have more treats and surprises for you. Including an 84 piece orchestra playing Tchaikovsky at the top of Hurricane Point.
