SOUTH UIST is a stunningly beautiful island of crystal clear waters with white powder beaches to the west, and heather uplands dominated by Beinn Mhor to the east. The 20 miles of machair that runs alongside the sand dunes provides a marvellous habitat for the rare corncrake. Golden eagles, red grouse and red deer can be seen on the mountain slopes to the east. LOCHBOISDALE, once a major herring port, is the main settlement and ferry terminal on the island with a population of approximately 300. Recently, a brand new marina has opened, with a good walk from the village to the marina and facilities at the end of the breakwater. The island is one of the last surviving strongholds of the Gaelic language in Scotland and the crofting industries of peat cutting and seaweed gathering are still an important part of everyday life. The Kildonan Museum has artefacts from this period. ASKERNISH GOLF COURSE is the oldest golf course in the Western Isles and is a unique test for any grade of golfer.

SOUTH UIST is a wildlife wonderland, archeologists paradise and historians dream. It is also the birthplace of Flora MacDonald and just outside the village of Kildonan, is a memorial to her. Flora gained immortality by her assistance to Bonnie Prince Charlie in the Outer Hebrides after his flight from the mainland following defeat at Culloden in 1746. WALKING is a key part of the South Uist experience with walks at all levels. Ben Mhor, Ben Corodale and Hecla are the three highest peaks on South Uist, and for the keen and experienced hillwalkers, there is a good horseshoe walk to the hills direct from Howmore hostel. In the far south is the ISLE OF ERISKAY with its famous ponies. The ponies are semi wild and often seen in the vicinity of the village. Eriskay is also home to famous wreck the S.S. Politician. The wreck has been the inspiration for the Compton Mackenzie book and film, Whisky Galore. The SS Politician was an 8000-tonne cargo ship which left Liverpool on the 3rd February 1941 laden with amongst other things 260,000 bottles of whisky, bound for Kingston in Jamaica and New Orleans. She went aground off the coast of Eriskay.

Isle of Barra - see map on Page 8

WALKING ON BARRA AND VATERSAY is particularly interesting as very rarely do you lose sight of the sea and the main hills. One particularly good walk is to ascend Heaval, the highest hill and view the surrounding islands. On a clear day, you can view the isles to the South and as far as the Isle of Mull. Sea kayaking, wind surfing, power kiting, rock climbing are all developing around these islands as interest grows in outdoor activities. Remote islands are accessible with boat trips, running on a regular basis, to see the birds, marine wildlife and spectacular cliffs off the Barra Head Islands. Vatersay Walk: This walk is approximately 3 hours of easy to medium going with one short, fairly steep climb to Dun Vatersay. The walk begins at the small car park across the road from the 'Annie Jane' monument. It is a circular walk of about 4 miles, taking in Bagh Siar (West Bay), Bagh a Deas (South Bay), Eorisdale and Baigh Bhatarsaigh (Vatersay Bay). The machair land running along the entire west coast of Barra and Vatersay is fringed with beautiful beaches and is also carpeted with wild flowers throughout the spring and summer months.
