

The Spratly Islands are a conglomeration of islands, reefs and artificial islands built on top of natural reefs. The ownership situation between the neighboring countries is controversial, since the zones of economic use and historical claims are overlapping. A more detailed list can be found on the following pages.

Different sources were used for the tables, some of which are contradictory - such cases are noted accordingly.

About the maps on www.geo-ref.net

All maps published on this site are free to use without costs, meanwhile the same are not modified, especially concerning our own site logotype. This is valid for the PNG and the PDF-files.

We have published on the country page usually the population density of the country, the mostly interesting thematic map. But the real power of our offer consists in the display of your own data, drawing so your own maps with your results or relevant data.

So it works:
