MOTIVATION

OUT of this University and similar ones throughout the country come thousands of men and women each year. Where are they going and what will they take with them? These questions are answered by the students' motivation—what they have set as a goal to be attained during the four years spent in college.

At the University of Dayton this motivation takes on a deeper meaning. Aside from the training of minds to fit machines students here learn to seek a more ultimate goal, namely, the development of their whole nature so that they may give real meaning and purpose to their particular vocations. They see in this formation the knowledge that develops leaders. To each new task in their lives they carry with them the principles learned here on the Hilltop—love and service "For God and Country".

Throughout this volume the reader will be reminded and shown about the way this is accomplished. It is the simple formula of a unified student body studying, serving, recreating, and making new friends—all together. Add to this the wisdom and counsel of our faculty and the ever-present grace of God and the result is a whole man, a well-developed leader, a person of motivation.

UN

IN UNITY there is strength"... "The Union must be preserved." These classic phrases dominate the whole tone of this glorious country of ours. Brotherhood under God, Our Father, fellowship and other like words are also characteristic of our religious life here in America. Such motives make our homes, our cities, and our country the great institutions they are.

Such is what makes this University a vital force. There is portrayed on our campus the beautiful spirit of the Society of Mary—priest and brother, teacher and worker—unified under Mary their Mother.

So also student and teacher, respectively receiving and giving knowledge with that dominant motivation—Unity—work to build the homes, the cities, and the world of tomorrow.

Fr. George Renneker, S. M.

IN HIS twenty-fifth year of administrative work and fifth year as president of the University of Dayton, Rev. George J. Renneker S. M. is the man upon whose shoulders rest the many and varied responsibilities of this executive office. These years of faithful services have given him a wealth of experience in carrying out the duties of his office in a manner befitting the highest standards of Christian education.

Endowed with superior qualities of leadership and humanitarianism, and a quiet, unassuming manner so familiar to us all. Fr. Renneker provides the steady hand which guided the university through the recent war times and which is now directing it on the rough road of progress.

Katherine, Ruth, and Dottie compare notes

CONSTANTLY at work to maintain the rank that the University enjoys among the educational institutes of the country is Fr. Charles L. Collins, S. M., vice-president and dean of the University. In his hands rest the problems of educational standards and requirements, administration, campus housing, student problems and the myriad other duties of his office.

Gifted with remarkable calm and deliberation in all matters, Fr. Collins work is characterized by a far-sightedness and careful discernment which has proved invaluable in the close relationship necessary between administration and student body.

Fr. Collins, despite his many duties, has always displayed a spirit of cooperation which has enabled him to work in harmony with the various groups and organizations under his jurisdiction.

UNDER the capable supervision of Brother Elmer Lackner, the tremendous job of maintaining the school records and directing the enlarged night school program has been carried out.

In his third year in this capacity he is ever alert for new and more efficient methods of administration work. Assisting Brother Lackner is Miss Mary Tuite who as assistant registrar is a familiar face to the students of the University.

Bro. Wm. Dapper
Treasurer

AS BUSINESS Manager for the University Brother Jerome McAvoy is the man who must balance the budget, authorize all disbursements, new buildings, and is in reality responsible for the general supervision of the monetary affairs of the University.

With him in this work are Brother William Dapper, treasurer and Brother James Kline, Purchasing Agent.

Father H. Kobe S. M.

As a former Army Chaplain, Father Kobe is quite capable of handling any situation which his Art Students may present to him. He undoubtedly is one of the better liked men on the campus because of his kindness, sincerity and overall ability to help a student make his selection in the field of fine Arts.

These qualifying traits entitles Father Kobe a share of the lime-light, but these are overshadowed by another of his many virtues—modesty.

Maintaining of high scholastic standards in the Engineering Field is the job of Bro. J. Albert Wehrle. Having one of the largest student bodies on the Hilltop, Br. Wehrle gives counsel and guidance to the Chemical, Electrical, Mechanical, and Civil Engineering branches. The graduates of this division represent the cream of the crop and Dayton is among the top ranking Engineering Colleges in the country.

The problems of lack of space, plans for new buildings and keeping the curriculum up to modern engineering specifications are being adhered to by a man capable of accomplishing the impossible.

Bro. K. W. Nagel S. M.

As co-ordinator of Veterans Affairs and Acting Dean of Business Administration, Bro. Nagle's responsibility is a terrific one. Not only must he adhere to the many problems of the predominantly veteran student body, helping them fill out various forms, and giving advice freely, but also his is the gruesome task of guiding, counseling the Business students in matters of courses, number of hours required, explain the numerous business fields, and how to apply their foundations for future positions.

Perhaps one of the most active and versatile men at the University is Bro. Louis A. Saletel. One would think being Associate Dean of Science and Professor and Head of the Department of Geology would consume every minute possible. However, Dr. Saletel is the moderator and guiding hand of the "Daytonian", even to the point of snapping some of the required photos himself. The Science Students look to him for counseling and guidance which he does quite jovially. Let it be understood that Dr. Saletel's Division of Science is no small one and is continuing to grow with the passing of each semester.

Bro. L. A. Saletel S. M.

May we present the epitome of Deans. "Doc Leary", as he has been laughingly tagged, has been Associate Dean in the College of Education for twelve years. Always ready and willing to do all in his power to help the students academically or in any way the male (or female) may seek guidance. The future instructors and professors have a champion who is constantly working for their benefits.

This is not all that fills out Dean Leary's time. Often he's called on as guest speaker at luncheons and since he's Secretary Treasurer of the Teacher Training Division, his time is never wasted.

DEANS

Sister Agnes Immocolata

Here is the pride and joy of the ladies of our fair campus. Sister Agnes is the Dean of Women and Moderator of the Mother's Club. Any girl with an Academic problem or otherwise finds Sister Agnes prepared to ease the burden on her mind. She is classed by many as the "Mother of the Campus", and well she might be, for hers is truly the task in relation to mother and daughter.

SENIOR CLASS

WE were the first post-war class and the largest since 1942. The first ex-servicemen were coming to the campus. With them came a sober and sincere desire to achieve intellectual advancement. We were sophomores before we knew it.

Life for the new freshmen became miserable as we used our fiendish minds to initiate them. G. I.'s settled down to enter college life with the full sense of "belonging". We had our first homecoming queen election and watched the embarrassed men elected for king, dodge the coeds as they campaigned for Turnabout Tag". Baseball returned to the campus...exams, and again we advanced another step.

Buddy Moreno, furnished the music for our gay Junior Prom. Track was born again, and new tennis courts were being built as warm weather found us all walking about with that forlorn look...will June ever get here.

Then came the all important senior year. We watched a successful season on the gridiron and hardwood, bidding farewell to all senior members. Senior Prom, the big affair and the last for the forty-niners heard the Ray Anthony orchestra furnish the music. We paid honor to those amongst us who maintained scholastic honor for seven semesters. Tears, regrets, fond recollections, unfolded before our eyes as we nervously walked down the long aisle.

JUNIOR CLASS

AFTER three years of school life the Junior Class looks back on many pleasant memories.

Arriving here we were oriented amidst the biggest enrollment the school had seen to date. We were welcomed in traditional style-beanies, welcome dance, and initiation. No one will forget the march to the courthouse. In athletics several bright lights were appearing on the gridiron horizon.

Our sophomore year brought with it the "cool" reception we gave the incoming freshmen. More of our number began to assume leading roles in activities and athletics. Our number had shrunk but our service was increasing.

This past year under the present officers the "anniversary" class rings sales were capably handled as was the Junior Prom. The latter attracted some 600 couples who swayed to the "music that's sweet with a beat" played by Elliot Lawrence and his orchestra.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

ENTERING the U. D. as a veteran student class, the graduates of 1951 managed to escape the usual initiation but did secure the frosh caps. We were officially inaugurated by the Freshman Welcome Dance at the Circle Park. Our young minds were not entirely centered around schoolwork as we did our part toward extra-curricular activities, pep rallies, dances, football, basketball, and baseball games and track meets.

We returned for our sophomore year minus our green look and got into the swing of things by successfully giving the freshman initiation we missed. Attention was focused on the procession of well-floured and lipsticked students as they made their way to the courthouse steps at Third and Main. Later we atoned for our folly by giving the Freshman Welcome Dance at the Miami Hotel. Again we selected many from our ranks who participated in the various campus activities, socials, and sports. We wound up two happy and full years on the hilltop with a well attended and eventful sophomore class picnic. With this we looked ahead to our junior year which will be centered around the centenary.

The officers for the year were: Ralph Fleischman, president; Jim Leary, vice-president; Marianne Roll, secretary; and Jim Dooley, treasurer.

FRESHMAN CLASS

AS THE newest class to the U. D. campus freshmen were initiated into the ranks of the student body of the University by the activities of Freshman Week. This wild-wild week was climaxed by a dance at which two of their members were crowned king and queen.

Although they had been on the campus for a short time, their officers took several progressive steps in order to strengthen the class organization.

The officers of the freshman class tried to promote a feeling of unity in their class by forming an advisory board which consisted of a member from each division represented in the freshman class. Tony Kramer, president; Jack Bramlage, vice-president; Rosie Schmidt, secretary; and Tom Fitzgerald as treasurer planned a picnic for the later Spring months. Tom Hagan was the freshman representative on the Student Council.

The main event of the year was the Freshman Party held in the Student Union. Plans were begun for an organized freshman initiation next year.

In Memoriam

James Brennan

"As we live so shall we die"—and how did James Brennan live? Jim was an ideal U. D. student, cheerful, spiritual, and generous. His cheerfulness was portrayed by his spirited and infectuous smile, and many times he walked out of his way to greet a fellow student with a friendly "hello" and a few other appropriate words. We all had occasion to be favored with his good nature that beamed from a beautiful soul.

Many a time Jim stopped on his way down town to fill his car with students who needed a ride. That little quality portrayed the kind of friendliness and Christian charity that should be seen in all U. D. students, a genuine and useful family spirit.

Jim Brennan realized so well that a healthy intellectual and religious life is impossible without self-restraint in the physical life. He therefore resolved his life in accordance with his ideals. God was pleased with the efforts and he took Jim home to Himself. This little but powerful resolution should be a strong incentive to those who grow weak in their good resolutions during their student days.

Looking back into the pages of his book of life, we realize in the life of James Brennan the fulfillment of the promise of our Lord, "Well done thou good and faithful servant. Because thou has been faithful in a few things, I shall place thee over many things."

Excerpts from a sermon delivered by
Rev. Thomas H. Bodie, S. M.

ONE USUALLY judges the worth of an object by its service. A citizen may be measured by the service he renders to his community—a soldier by the service he renders to his cause. Service is expected of all of us at some time in our lives and we should be ready to give our best to meet the call.

Realizing this, the students and faculty at the University of Dayton heartily endorse all extra-curricular activities, be they academic or social. Teachers believe such activities provide practical application of knowledge gained which will enable a student to perform a greater service in his chosen field. Students, likewise, sense the feeling of pride that comes with serving well and also the burden of responsibility that is imposed by an assigned task. Thus the campus activities at this university play no small part in the student's development. They are the proving grounds of college education.

Student Council

THE Student Council of 1948-1949, guided by president Ed Seeboeck, vice president Jack Wagner, secretary Anita Coberly, and treasurer Leo McGarry, will be remembered as the one that brought the Student Senate into being. This, the most important accomplishment of the year, came about as the result of work done by the Council's Committee for constitutional Revision. The project was originally conceived to accomplish only the revision of the Student Council Constitution. However, it grew and developed until it had created a completely new representative body for student legislation, to work in conjunction with the Student Council. Members of the Revision Committee were Frank Ferrazza, Pete Kuntz, Leo McGarry, Ray Munger, and Jim Walsh.

The Council's other activities included the sponsoring of various social affairs, providing financial backing for several dances and other activities, making recommendations to the administration concerning desired improvements on the campus and within different organizations and among the student body in general.

Student Senate

"Senate Members at work"

STUDENT Senate was composed of a representative from every active organization on campus.

The officers for the scholastic year '48-'49 were Ned Cofer (U. D. Players), president; Dave Burke (Electrical Engineers), vice president; James Leist (Daytonian), treasurer; and Joanne Monaghan (C.S.M.C.), secretary.

The main activity for this year was to raise $1000 for Student Relief principally by sponsoring the Spring Music Festival at the Memorial Hall.

After the revision of the Student Council, Student Senate will take an active part in Student government.

Math Club

"Lecture By George Moon"

THE Mathematics Club has as its purpose the discussion of some of those topics of mathematics which are not ordinarily treated in undergraduate text courses.

During the year the club heard a number of student papers which were entered in the competition for the Dean of Science Award. This award is given each semester to the student who has delivered the best paper to the club.

During November the club traveled to Cincinnati Observatory where Professor Paul Hergert delivered a talk and demonstration on "The Application of Electrical Computing Machines to Astronomical Calculations."

George D. Moon, senior chemical engineering student, was president of the club. John Quinlisk was vice president; Joseph Schell secretary; Jorge NuNez, treasurer; Robert Hennessey, publicity secretary during the first semester, and Richard Segers during the second semester.

SPONSORED by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the M. E. S. has been active on the U. D. campus since 1936, when it was founded, largely through the efforts of Brother Andrew Weber. Its purpose was threefold: educational, fraternal, and charitable.

Lectures given by men prominent in all the fields of engineering serve to acquaint the members of the society with some of the problems encountered in their careers as mechanical engineers. A spirit of fellowship was fostered by consolidated effort of the members in various campus activities throughout the year, and by the annual St. Patrick's Day party, given in honor of the patron saint of mechanical engineers. The M. E. S. was unique among the organizations at the U. of D. in its charitable activities. Each year at Christmas time donations are made, through solicitation of the members of the society, to several charitable organizations.

Brother Jerome Parr acts as faculty advisor for the M. E. S.; this year's officers were Bob Funke, president; Paul O'Brien, Secretary-treasurer; and Jim Riley, publicity chairman.

Sigma Delta

THE Sigma Delta Pi Honorary Premedical Society finished another year in its series of successes since its origin in 1936.

The fall and spring picnics, the Christmas party, and Annual Banquet were the four social events of the year's calendar. The departing seniors perpetuated their memory through the donation of a suitably-framed picture of medical significance, to be hung in the third floor corridor of St. Mary Hall.

The officers responsible for the high interest this year were: Randall McClelland, president; Victor Shampton, vice-president; Alan Wickham, treasurer; and Frances Hussey, secretary. The moderator of the club is Dr. Louis A. Saletel, S. M. dean of the division.

As a part of the year's program of activities, a number of distinguished guest speakers from the I. R. E. and the Industry were presented to the weekly sessions of the branch; a series of technical papers prepared by student members were also presented weekly.

Assisting Mr. Groszewski on the executive committee of the organization were Robert O'Brien, vice-president; John Quinlisk, secretary; Thomas Halloran, treasurer; Dr. Paul Taylor, chairman of student activities of the Dayton Branch of the I. R. E. and Brother Rose, faculty advisor.

PI DELTA RHO, the Electrical Engineering Society was officially founded in 1940. It is an outgrowth of the seminar class for Electrical Engineering students, the prime purpose of which was to familiarize its members with the profession through lectures and field trips.

Pi Delta Rho is the parent organization of the Student Chapter of the Institute of Radio Engineers which was founded this school year on the campus and now functions as an alternate for Pi Delta Rho.

The officers of the organization for this year were Dave Bourke, president; and Joe Warren, secretary. Brother Louis rose serves as faculty advisor.

Electrical Engineers

FIRST among the University's Engineering Societies to be nationally affiliated is the Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers. This year's ambitious program of lectures, inspection trips, ASCE Meetings and Conferences promoted many contacts with practicing engineers and encouraged the development of professional ideals. Junior and Senior Civil Engineering students constitute its membership; Bro. George Spahn is faculty Advisor and Prof. Joseph Chamberlain is Contact Member.

The officers and committee chairman were: Seniors Harry Gaeke, Edward Gmeiner, Theodore Liensch and Philip Ostendorf, and Juniors Charles Dorian and James Tartaglione.

C S M C

"A Weekly C. S. M. C. Meeting"

DUE to a phenomenal increase in membership of 250% the scope of activities of the Catholic Students Mission Crusade included new features of weekly executive meetings, monthly panel discussions with outside speakers, and membership cards.

A national organization with veteran, college, and junior units, the main objects of C. S. M. S. were to study, work, and pray for the missions.

Sociology

THE Sociology Club was organized in 1946 under the guidance of Dr. E. A. Huth, to discuss and attempt to understand existing problems in the social field.

Under the capable leadership of Grover Schinbeckler, president; Anton K. Dekom Jr., vice-president; Jim Walsh, secretary; Sam Houston, treasurer; and Larry Murphy, program chairman, the club discussed various problems that confront our society.

Adding another activity to its schedule the Sociology Club also started issuing a monthly publication, The U. D. Sociologist, which attempted to give the members of the club the opportunity to bring to the attention of all the students the views and possible solutions on problems discussed.

The special features of the Flyers Hangar dances this year were in its decorations which consisted of a different theme for each dance. This work was done with the cooperation of the members of the Flyer's Hangar Committee.

The Flyer's Hangar was operated by a committee of 83 students headed by chairman, Ed Boland; vice-chairman, Dom Gullo; Joanne Bell, secretary; Sue Pohlmeier, treasurer.

Posters were painted and put in various places around the campus. During Homecoming, the Spirit Committee did a big job in decorating the queen stage, float, and passing pennants throughout the downtown area.

They also arranged an excursion to Cleveland and one to Toledo under the general chairmanship of Hank Ferrazza assisted by Dom Gullo, Chuck Crowley, and Jack Walsh.

The officers were: Hank Ferrazza, president; Dominic Gullo, vice-president; Jack Walsh, treasurer; Marianne Roll, secretary.

Guidance Center

UNDER the directorship of Lloyd A. Rensel the University Guidance Center assisted individuals in selecting future employment objectives and rendered aid in attaining these objectives. Interviewing, testing, and counselling techniques were employed in obtaining the results necessary for proper vocational selection.

The Guidance Center's functions were to serve the students of the University, students in the various high school classes, industrial firms, social agencies, and individuals in the community.

Besides placing the students the Center also assisted deficient or withdrawing students at the Dean's request. Guidance was extended in admission and placement, social and religious adjustments, physical examinations, and occupational information.

Mr. Rensel included on his staff Marion Scheurman, assistant director; Robert Misland and William Cahalan, vocational counselors; Charlotte Flory, secretary; and Vera Protsman, clerical worker. Student assistants were Rosemarie Richards, Patricia Olcott, and Susan Waddell.

The Veterans Administration Guidance Program, continued as prescribed under M7-2, explained to the veteran his rights for training institutional and on the job training.

This division of the Center was headed by Deward Rieck, chief of advisement and guidance; and assisted by Lou Tschudi, vocational advisor; Don Malloy, training officer; and Margaret Crooks, secretary. Mr. Malloy also supervised all disabled veterans attending the University.

"Marge Caporal amid the papers"

WITH the enrollment this year at the highest point in the ninety-nine year life of the University, intense demands were placed upon the Publicity Department.

To produce and place publicity originating on campus, Hugh N. Brown, Director of the Department, had a staff of one full and three part time assistants. John "Stretch" Mahoney, U. D. '48, covered the athletic program; Clark Ash, Senior Business, was the staff secretary; and Marjorie Caporal, Senior Arts, acted as utility clerical assistant. Brown coordinated and supervised the program.

Publicising the academic and athletic program of the University was the responsibility of the department.

Football being a major sport, required considerable office activity during the fall. Preparation of the sport press book, the official game program, supervision of the press box, routine releases, picture spreads, and tie-ins with special events such as Homecoming were only a few of the many details arising from the grid sport alone.

Academic publicity consisted of covering routine spot news, arranging for features, maintaining the best possible press relations, and in general doing the cursory work of the local newspapermen and serving as correspondent for area and regional newspapers.

THE BAND

COMPLETING another year of double-duty as a marching unit and a concert group, the University of Dayton Band looks back on a highly successful season with justified pride. Concentrated practice and drill shaped the Band up for the first football game, played with John Carroll at Cleveland. Before the season was completed, the Band had cheered the Flyer team on in nine of the ten contests, including Toledo, Xavier, and long-remembered Chattanooga trips. The southern jaunt was the crowning achievement of the year. Dayton boosters won't forget the reception accorded the Band by the hospitable Tennessee partisans. "Dixie", "St. Louis Blues", and "Tennessee Waltz", all played on the field with appropriate formations led by All-American Bob Dawson, might have had a little to do with the hearty welcome.

While practising for the concert season, the Band livened up the Flyer basketball games at the Coliseum.

The Twenty-third Annual Concert, played in the NCR Auditorium, climaxed the year's concerts, which included performances at the Soldier's Home and local high schools. Soloists featured were Terry Lorenz, piano, and William Fitzpatrick, baritone horn.

THIS year the U. D. chorus looked back over the fruitful activities of twelve years.

Reorganized in 1947 under the leadership of Mr. Nelson Harper, Jr., the chorus became an independent organization with the purpose of devoting its activities in studying and presenting choral music, and to promote better public relations for our University.

Inaugurating this new policy were a series of concerts in Dayton and outside this city.

The present officers of the chorus, Bill Risch, president; Luke Knapke, vice-president; Bill Thornton, business manager; Anton K. DeKom, Jr., publicity manager; Nancy Routzahn, secretary; and Jane Pratt, librarian; and the members, together with Mr. Nelson Harper, conductor, hope to be the true exponents of choral activity on this campus.

The Men's Glee Club, first organized in 1920, has marked another eventful year on its calendar. Although small in number, it presents music in keeping with its high traditions. The final appearance of the Glee Club was as a part of the May Festival program given at Memorial Hall.

The U. D. Players

CURTAIN in two minutes!" "Is that enough eyebrow pencil?" "The nails, stupid, the nails!" With these and similar agitated expressions, the University Players skyrocketed thru their third successful season. Staged this year were the sophisticated comedy "Blithe Spirit," Thornton Wilder's imaginative "Our Town," and the religious pageant, "Lady of Fatima."

An Executive Committee consisting of director John McGrath, assistant professor of speech, and five student members, Sue Pohlmeier, Bob Cochran, Ned Cofer, John Kelly, and Harold Moots, governed the group. These six discussed plays, drew up committees, and wielded the axe when the time came to drop someone. Seniors Peg Ens, Rosemary Busic, Peggy Davis, Mary Van Dyke Brown, and Norris Hellwig left responsible places to be filled, while George Biersack, Tom Aldredge, Ned Cofer, and George Daly showed potential lead material.

The men and women behind the scenes received little credit for their noteworthy achievements with paintbrush, hammer, and switchboard. Laurels should go to Harold Moots, Bob Funk, and George Uher for their superb scenery, and to Annette Anduze who handled a vast amount of administrative work.

High point of the Players' year was "Lady of Fatima," six performances of it being given—two more than were originally scheduled, and four more than other productions. Public opinion was that this was one of the finest amateur plays ever produced in Dayton.

THE Student Union is a home, between classes, for all students and faculty members of the University of Dayton. It serves as a center for extra-curricular activities of the school. The Union houses the headquarters of two publications: The Daytonian and The Marianist. It has a Red Cross Home Service room, special meeting rooms for clubs connected with the University, both on and off campus, and the office and work room of the Dramatic Department.

The Student Union also affords some features of a well-equipped club, providing a study room, faculty lounge, magazine reading room, game tables and musical facilities.

The Dean of the University plans and approves all policies. The counselor, Mrs. Troy Sears, plans and executes these policies.

Equipment for the Student Union building is purchased through the kind efforts of the Mothers' Club, the business manager and the purchaser of the University.

Student Union

THE duties of the counselor are numerous and varied. Mrs. Sears acts as an advisor, a supervisor, a sponsor, to the students and several organizations. She arranges all the tournaments such as billiards, bridge, ping-pong, pinochle, etc. She plays the part of a secretary, teacher, and director. She sets up plans for the noon time Talent Shows and through these shows she acquaints the students with all the extra-curricular activities and all the clubs of the campus.

The Student Union serves as the student club for all social activities of the campus. It provides a congenial atmosphere and unifies the student body. All this adds much to the life of the college.

Exponent

THE Exponent is the oldest literary publication on the campus. The first numbers were mimeographed and they appeared during the school year of 1902-03. Consequently the present volume is number forty-seven in an unbroken line of publication.

The staff of this year attempted to keep the level of the Exponent up to the same high literary standard of past years. Essays and stories and character sketches and humorous writings were handed in by students from all the divisions of the University. The pages of the Exponent are open to all who have a talent and the desire to write.

The editor-in-chief of this year was John Wharton, a junior in the science division. Assisting him on the staff were Erma Fiste, Vera Seiler, William Fitzpatrick, John Kelly, and Mary Jo Huth. Brother Thomas Price, professor of English, has been faculty advisor of the Exponent for the past twelve years.

U. D. News

THE University of Dayton News, for over a decade consistent winner of "All-Catholic" and "All-American" honor ratings, continued its roll as a leading college newspaper, and upheld the highest traditions of the field of journalism.

Under the able guidance of Prof. George F. Kohles, S. M., Editor Richard Trainor and Sports Editor Mike Hennessy headed an earnest and diligent staff of tyros in the detailed tasks of writing, editing, and make-up. Aiding in this work in the capacity of Associate editors were Bernard Ambrose and Walter McMahon.

In any modern newspaper the presence of well-composed and interesting features and columns is a necessity. The News was ably represented in this department by skillful authorship of Feature Writers Erma Fiste and Helen Duderstadt and Columnist Jacqueline Dehn.

Military Staff

WITH an increase of 175 ROTC students, Headquarters Company was added to the Cadet Battalion during '48-'49. From the issue of uniforms during fall registration week to the final examination in June, the theoretical and practical training program moved along smoothly and business-like. The first full-dress parade was held on October 16, by which date all cadet appointments had been made.

Advanced Course students taught Basic students the rudiments of drill and guard duty.

With the advent of winter, Basic instruction was discontinued on Saturday, a fact which greatly depressed some 500 Basic students. And the ROTC Rifle began a season which carried it into the National Intercollegiate matches.

The Army Day parade, the annual formal inspection, and the award ceremony completed the year's formations, while the Military Ball in April highlighted the social calendar. The Military Department officially certified for deferment some 200 basic students.

Pershing Rifles

THIS year marked the ending of the reactivation period of Company B-1. The highlight of business activities of the organization was the revision of the pre-war by-laws of the company.

Striving for closer alliance with other companies of the First Regiment, business meetings and social events were held with open invitations to these units. Several trophies were garnished by B-1 at the Regimental Drill meet. 2nd Lt. Ray Lemming served as Delegate at the National Convention of the Pershing Rifles held in New York City.

Headlining the year's social events were the Christmas Ball and the Military Ball. Under the leadership of Captain William Fitzpatrick, Company B-1 once again proved itself to be one of the outstanding campus organizations in all its activities.

THE major competition facing the ROTC Rifle Team during the 1948-1949 were the two national matches—the Hearst Trophy Match and the National Intercollegiate Matches. The latter was the chief event, and resulted from the fine showing made by the team in the Army Intercollegiate Match against other institutions in the Second Army Area. In addition to these big-time matches, the team fired competition matches against Toledo, Fordham, Xavier, Ohio University, all of which U. D. won. Results of the national matches had not been announced at the time this went to press. High scoring went to the three Roberts—Minnerup, Eisenloh-rand, Tribby in that order.

THE Flyer Rifle Team outshot some of the nation's top teams during the 1948-1949 season. Beginning in October, the small indoor rifle range under St. Marys resounded with the crack of .22 calibre rifles. There were 93 try-outs for the team, which number had to be reduced as quickly as possible to team size. The first matches were held on 11 December, with the season closing 19 March 1949. Of the thirty matches scheduled, the Flyers won seventeen, lost nine, and four of the opponents scores had not reached Dayton when this was written. High lights were Frank Valley's 96 standing, and Bob Minnerup's 386.

TEAM

TEAMWORK was the vital factor in ridding the world of the evils of Nazism and Fascism during the past World War. This is but one graphic portrayal of the value of teamwork. Bigotry, Greed, Atheism—Evil in general stalks the world today as well as a well-knit team. It is the institutions—which are only the results of concerted efforts of teams—which today are evil. Communism, the most outstanding example of teamwork today can only be conquered by an opposing organization—a real team for Good.

To achieve this spirit of teamwork, there is no better training than that which athletics provides. One learns that it takes eleven men to win a football game or nine men to win a shut-out victory in baseball. The sting of defeat is more easily experienced as is also the flush of victory if it is shared. Teamwork builds champions. It is the motivation that leads to success.

Harry Baujan

Athletic Director

IN ASSUMING the Athletic Director's duties at the University of Dayton, Harry Baujan became the first fulltime athletic administrator. Twenty-five years of successful coaching has established the skillful understanding knowledge which Harry is devoting to the development and expansion of the Flyer athletic program.

Throughout his coaching career Harry achieved an outstanding University record gaining national recognition of the Flyers' athletic prowess.

A graduate of Notre Dame in '17, Baujan served as assistant coach in 1922 and rose to head mentor in the following year. Much to the amazement of the men in this hazardous profession, Harry remained in this capacity for a quarter of a century until his elevation in 1947 to Dayton's Athletic Director.

His presentations of this year's outstanding schedule and those of the future seasons are almost certain to place the University of Dayton high in the prestige of the small colleges throughout the nation.

Football Coach

DURING his second year as a college mentor, hardworking Joseph Gavin brought honor rating laurels to the Flyers gridiron with his sparkling strategy. Joe fielded an aggregation so fundamentally sound that even before the season was hardly underway sportsmen and fans alike held high hopes for the brilliant season that was to come.

A Notre Dame prodigy of '31, Joe spent the following 15 years as head football and basketball coach at Holy Name High School in Cleveland. His success in the high school circles brought his recognition to a point where the Flyer system realized that here was the man that they sought.

Joe's first college action was to install the quick moving "T" system. A resounding initial season answered all doubts to the new tactics and after this year's gridiron action had ceased, everyone acquainted with the personable Joe Gavin acclaimed him with admiration and respect as an efficient, hard-working, enthusiastic leader in college football.

Use of Joe's instruction climaxed Bill Gutbrod's brilliant season with his election to captaincy of next year's squad. All Flyer fans anticipate another season comparable to the one just past and applaud the elevation of the efficient end to captain of the 1949 team.

COACHING STAFF

THROUGHOUT the season in thrilling demonstrations of power, the Flyers forward wall completely overshadowed the versatile backs in game domination. This brilliant phase of the season can be attributed to Daniel Piloseno, head line coach, who provided a valuable addition to the Dayton coaching staff.

Danny, a graduate of North Carolina State in '38, and holder of a Master's Degree in Physical Education from Western Reserve came here from Cleveland Heights High School where his record of 54 wins, 4 ties, and 5 losses speaks for itself.

Joining the Flyer coaching staff in '46 as Freshman coach, Joseph Quinn is the only holdover from the previous regime. Upon Gavin's arrival Joe was switched to backfield coach where his efficiency as an outstanding Dayton back could be used at a more useful advantage.

As a graduate of the University of Dayton in '41, Joe's ability on the field earned him the position of a college coach in his first coaching assignment.

One of the toughest jobs of the Freshman coach is the assignment of the future grid prospects to their best positions and to this task John Marschall placed every bit of his enthusiastic energy. His last squad, upon graduation to the varsity, gave tremendous support and depth to this year's successful campaign, and in viewing the prospective talents of Johnny's recent team, next year's season can again be looked upon with high hopes.

James Hanby, retiring captain, leaves quite a gap in the Flyer ranks not only for his tough aggressiveness as a player but also for his dynamic leadership ability. Jim, a Physical Education major and oldest man on the squad, was outstanding both offensively and defensively. His aggressiveness was always an inspiration to his teammates and his presence was felt outstandingly in the familiar goal line stands of the past season. Jim is married and has one child.

FOOTBALL

Edmond Toscani, most valuable player of '48, was ranked as one of the best "T" quarterbacks in this section of the country's small college ball clubs. His vicious tackles still re-sound within the stadium and "Chief's" memorable touchdown pass to Art Bok bringing victory over Miami will never be forgotten by players or fans. "Chief's" left-handed bullet passes and smoothness in ball handling was a constant source of delight to coach and spectators throughout his entire collegiate playing.

TRAVELING to their initial fray under the lights of Cleveland's Municipal Stadium, the Dayton Flyers edged the aerial-minded Blue Streaks of John Carroll with a 26-18 triumph.

"Rip" Janaszek punched across the first tally while "Chief" Toscani and Joe Zaleski capably matched the Streaks with two scoring pitches of their own. Art Bok further unnerved the Carroll squad with a 75 yard sprint to pay dirt.

One of the deciding factors of the win was the Flyer's forward wall which effectively rushed the Streak's passers while giving ample protection to their own tossers.

St. Bonaventure

WEAKENED by injuries to three key players, the Flyers entrained to Olean, New York, to tackle the St. Bonaventure Brownies. The hopes of the Dayton rooters received a jolt as Bonaventure rolled to a T. D. and an extra point early in the second period. To add to their dismay, a 45-yard sprint to the gold line by Delp was called back because of a Dayton offside. The second half produced magnificent line play and fine punting on the part of the opposing backfields. The Flyer "T" began to click early in the fourth period where the team made a sustained 58 yard march featured by the fine passing of Joe Zaleski and the inside-outside running of Delp and Ka-Ne. Zaleski terminated the march by passing to Delp for the Red and Blue's only touchdown. The extra point was missed and the final score was Bonaventure 7, U. D. 6.

RETALIATION spelled a 33 point spree over a stubborn but hapless Big Green of Marshall as the Flyers went into high gear despite the long injured list remaining from the previous week. Leroy Ka-Ne led the squad with three tallies while "Scooter" McKinley ground out the remaining two scores. "Killer" Kilbane had a terrific afternoon at his line-backing chore and his "heads up" game proved a spark that set the Flyers forward wall into an immovable barrier before the Thundering Herd. "Pop" Dunn, Don Mills, Fred Miller, and Bob Wagner were shining lights all during the contest as they continually gave Marshall a five man backfield. Gavin opened the gates of Mercy early in the last half allowing every uninjured squad member to aid in the 33-0 conquest of the "Flying Clear", newest of the U. D. game trophies.

Toledo

S PARKED by Quarterback's Ed "Chief" Toscani and Joe Zaleski, the visiting U D. Flyers ran up a 20 to 0 rout against the Toledo Rockets in a waterlogged evening mud-fest at Toledo. Bill McKinley, Johnny Delp and Leroy Ka-Ne ground out a formidable 309 yards despite the slippery footing, while Dale Babione and Gus Shroyer retained their glue-fingered talents surprisingly well on the receiving end of the Flyer aerials.

After a scoreless first quarter Dayton rammed the initial tally across via a Delp plunge with five minutes remaining in the second period. Roughness, typical in Toledo-Dayton contests, predominated the uneventful third stanza. In the final quarter Zaleski and Jim Uttermohlen each broke loose on splashing end runs for their respective scores. Bernie Otten's kicks registered on the two final T. D.'s after his initial failure in the first half, and Dayton claimed their 20 to 0 victory.

GAVIN'S gridders rumbled over a vaunted St. Louis squad in an afternoon filled with sparkling Flyer talent. Jumping Johnny Delp, aided by Rip Janaszek and Leroy Ka-Ne turned the game into a shambles with their slashing jaunts which propelled the U. D. aggregation to a 41 to 0 victory over the Bili-kens in the Flyer stadium.

Delp and Janaszek powered over the only first half scores early in the initial period with Otten connecting on both point afters. Aerials dominated all second half scores with Shroyer hauling in an 18 yard flip and Ka-Ne galloping 55 yards on an interception. Toscani hit Delp for an early fourth stanza score and a Murphy to Bannister toss tallied the final marker. Bernie Otten had a field day as he successfully hit five out of six conversions in the 41-0 rout.

Xavier

RAY JANASZEK pounded a 75 yard scoring sprint into a 7 to 0 victory over a stubborn Xavier squad on a field turned into a sea of mud by constant rain. The Musketeers had just previously forced an aroused Flyer defense into a story-book goal line stand that saw "X" falter on the one foot line after having gained a first and goal on the U. D. five. The 14,000 rain-drenched fans saw Dayton display brilliant defensive ball against a driving Musketeer team that gave Gavin's Squad almost no opportunity to unleash their vaunted air attack or even a serious ground threat. Defensively, Don Mills, Bob Wagner, Gus Shroyer, Killer Kilbane, Pop Dunn, and Art Bok gave outstanding performances for the close contest in which Dayton racked up 211 yards against 209 yards for Xavier.

Miami

TO AN estimated crowd of 15,000 the Flyers turned in one of the most outstanding victories in the annals of Dayton football. Knowing how to dig in when backed against their own goal line paid off for the second consecutive week, as the U. D. aggregation relinquished a mere 6 yards after Miami had launched their most serious threat from the Dayton 9.

Taking over on their own 3, Gavin's charges rebounded 61 smashing yards in three thrusts with Box, Calahan, and Delp lugging the leather deep into the 'Skin's' territory. Delp hit for three and then for 17 more to the Miami 16. On a handoff Bok plunged to the 9 but here the surprised Redskins found themselves and held for downs. But Dayton felt the nearness of victory and Zaleski's leaping interception set the Flyer squad up again on the Miami 28. The third play saw "Chief" Toscani drop back and flip his southpaw aerial into the waiting arms of Art Bok, alone on the 4 where he easily stepped over for the momentous and deciding tally. Silence reigned as Bernie Otten applied his reliable toe to the important and unerring conversion. A discouraged and desperate Redskin band tried to unleash a score during the remaining 9 minutes and 35 seconds but again the magnificent Dayton line dispelled all Miami hopes. Final score Dayton 7-Miami 0.

Look! Chief's got it

Oklahoma City

HOMECOMING spectators numbering 10,000 saw the Flyers settle with the Oklahoma City Chief's for a 13 to 13 tie. Dayton, a pregame favorite by several T. D.'s, found the mammoth line of the Chief's almost impregnable, and despite their best passing game thus far in the season, they bogged down before an underestimated and highly charged Oklahoma squad which used its bulky weight to every advantage on the muddy field. Only one score came in the first half with the Chief's mighty warrior Wade sweeping his right flank into the end zone during the second period. Johnny Delp's powerful running in the third stanza set Joe Zaleski up for his famous "bootleg" pass to Bill Gutbrod standing alone in pay territory and Bernie Otten's kick made it a new game at 7-7. The fourth quarter saw Oklahoma's Wade again bounce through the line and on to score from his own 20 yard line, but a miss on the point after kept Dayton's chances up. These hopes proved not to be in vain as a barrage of Zaleski passes netted Dayton its second and tying tally, but a high pass from the center rushed Otten into a wide try for the conversion and the scoring for the day was finished.

DAYTON'S 13 points in the last 19 seconds of the afternoon's clash brought to a peak the final quarter's devastating rampage over a light but fast Iowa State Teacher's squad. Seemingly Dayton had again underestimated their foes and were on the short end of a 7-6 count until the spectacular final quarter where 27 points were amassed. Zaleski's earlier quarterback sneak furnished the Flyers their sole scoring in the former periods of the game and the Panther's seven points were looking mighty big. But Art Bok's 20 yard sprint to pay dirt on the fourth stanza's initial play opened the tally gates to U. D. After a quick ball exchange "Chief" Toscani rifled a pass to Joe Bannister on the 11 from where he scampered over and Otten's kick made it 20-7. With four minutes to go the Flyers started from their own nine and advanced to the Panther's 17 where Toscani found Bob Schaefer alone in the end zone with but 19 seconds left. Otten's placement ate up 5 seconds making the score 27-7. Otten's kickoff was fumbled on the Teacher's 23 and Dayton took over. With one play remaining both quarterbacks combined a lateral, Toscani to Zaleski, and a forward pass, Zaleski to Weaver, standing in tally territory, thus creating one of the more memorable events of the season. Otten's busy toe missed and the astonished Teachers found themselves under a 33 to 7 count.

Chattanooga

UD. OUTGAINED the Chattanooga Moccasins in all departments except rushing, but the Mocs, capitalizing on every Flyer mishap, mainly fumbleitis, scored on their first play which set the stage for the eventual outcome. From then on Dayton's "Old Man Luck" had seemingly turned his back, as the Mocs stifled Flyer drives with interceptions and recoveries, and ground out two additional tallies through a dazed Dayton defense. In the game's last stages Joe Zaleski began to connect his aerials, and Kenny Boxwell, Jim Utermohlen, and Joe Bannister romped down the field with Bannister finally squeezing over with but inches to go. Otten further proved the Dayton jinx with a wide conversion and the scoring for the day ended at Dayton 6-Chattanooga 21. All five seniors, Capt. Jim Hanby, "Chief" Toscani, Kenny Boxwell, Dick Dahn and Frank Maloney fought outstandingly in their last U. D. fracas; no Dayton fan is apt to soon forget their many feats on the Flyer gridiron at home or away.

PLAYING against stiff opposition all the way, the Dayton Freshmen compiled a record of one win and four losses under the capable tutelage of coach Johnny Marshall and aides Ray Munger and Dick Glennon.

The freshmen led off the season with a 14-6 decision over the Cincy Bear Cats, Duprey scoring in the second quarter and O'Brien scoring in the last quarter. Traveling to Toledo, the freshmen met a strong Rocket squad and were beaten 19-0. The Musketeers of Xavier were the opposition for U. D.'s next encounter, and they proved that a heavy team wins ball games. X.-14-U. D.-0. Toledo came to Dayton feeling very confident and was held to a 2-0 score by an inspired Flyer squad. A U. D. fumble was the break of the game. Dayton then traveled to Miami for their last game of the season and was overpowered by a strong Redskin eleven

HAVING watched the football team, did you ever happen to think about the men behind the scenes and their connection with the U. D. squad? During this past season there were eight men managing the grid squad with several of these continuing on into the successive seasonal sports. Robert "Boom Boom" Beck, as head manager, directed this able staff of Denny Smith, Robert Cochran, Ray Gaier, William Donahue, Jim Seigle, Johnny Condon, and trainer Bob Conair. These were the men you saw on the practice field lugging and holding dummies, bringing towels to the tired players and giving aid to those who were injured. Many a long hour of their free time was put in handling thousands of dollars worth of equipment and they did a good job of it.

To these men, led by ole "Boom Boom", we say thanks a million for a job well done.

HISTORY on the HARDWOODS

ALSO in his second season as a college mentor, Leonard B. Blackburn, first full time basketball coach, has rounded out one of the best teams in the annals of the Hilltop school.

Tom, a Wilmington graduate of '31 brought 12 years of high school experience with him, the climax riding with the Xenia Central Buccaneers of '42 who copped the State Class A Championship.

Upon arrival at Dayton, Tom immediately molded together a superb unit which has already claimed the accomplishment of scoring the most victories, 16, during a single season, and has also seen the individual scoring laurels toppled two years running.

For the first time in the history of the school he entered the Flyers into tournament play in the All Catholic League in Denver, Colorado. Dayton made a major upset in its first game with a thrilling 53-52 victory over Loras College of Dubuque, Iowa, via a push shot by Flynn in the last 25 seconds. In their second game the Flyers ran into trouble at the foul line and lost a close contest to St. Benedict 59-55 and were eliminated.

In the season's opener the Flyers played host to Cedarville and walked off the court with a thirty-six point lead, 69-33. Eastern Kentucky State made a visit to Dayton and handed the Flyers their first loss, 48-40. Louisville, Olympic semi-finalist, were admonished by the amazing Flyers, 58-55. Playing their first away game, U. D. met John Carroll and handed the Blue Streaks their first defeat, 48-46.

From here Dayton traveled to Cedarville and won another close one, 70-64. The Redskins of Miami invaded the Coliseum and took the Flyers down a notch with the final score showing 41-37. The Red and Blue then took their first eastern trip in many years. Niagara University of New York was the first foe and in a very close game all the way the Flyers failed at the foul line and took their third defeat 62-59. In a double overtime the Red and Blue lost a tough one to Bonaventure in a heartbreak 51-49 score. Pepsaul of Seton Hall pulled his team over the Flyers in a rough floor game 55-47.

Oops, 'scuse Me!

RETURNING home the Flyers met with Jumping Johnny Wilson of Anderson and sent them home with a 63-49 drubbing. Another Indiana team, Manchester, with an eight game winning streak, encountered an inspired Flyer squad which broke their record by handing them a 57-48 defeat. The Big Green of Marshall fell to this same enthused team in the first of a three game series 67-55. Ohio Wesleyan came as far as Xenia to play the Flyers but that was far enough to send Dayton into a 51-45 loss. U. D. then met Ohio U. and in a hard fought game the Flyers emerged victorious 52-47. Moving on to West Virginia the Flyers met the Herd for the second time but Marshall's fast break proved a little too much this time and Dayton fell under a 60-54 conquest.

Fairce Woods, with an average of 25.5 points per game, came with his Kentucky Wesleyan team to Dayton and with Gene Joseph doing a remarkable job of holding Mr. Woods down, Kentucky went down before the Flyers 60-43. In a return match the Blue Streaks of Carroll were snowed under by the Red and Blue 61-40. Dayton then traveled to Athens and Ohio University who took the Flyers in hand and won 57-40. After having suffered nine straight losses to Toledo, the Hilltoppers broke the jinx with a 48-42 victory. The Musketeers of Xavier, traditional rivals from the Queen City, with McMullin and Cady, impressed the Flyers with dazzling play and won a 66-48 decision. Traveling to Anderson, U. D. won easily over the home team 73-57.

RATED tenth in the country, the Falcons of Bowling Green met Dayton on the Oakwood Gym floor and not until the second half were the Flyers run down by the twin giants Share and Otten. Though the Dayton team went down 56-38, the staunch squad was given a deserving ovation at the final gun, as they held the Falcons to their lowest scoring game of the season. Visiting Miami, the Redskins tasted a powerful defeat from the revenging Flyers aggregation who, at this point tied the all-time U. D. record of games won in a single season with the total of 14. Making their last trip of the season, the Flyers again met defeat at Xavier 49-44. Kentucky Wesleyan proved an easy foe and the Flyers romped 80 to 56. In the final seasonal contest Marshall played host in the last of the three game series and the Flyers bowed in the rubber game by a close 60-57 count.

As for the members of this outstanding squad, Capt. Bill Ginn, Brian McCall, and Gene Wolke were the only seniors, but their loss will be heavily felt in the ensuing seasons.

Captain Ginn, with the team for four years, again proved to be a good leader for his team with his dependable scoring and good defensive play. Brian McCall, starting center for U. D., broke the all time individual scoring record in seasonal play with a total of 307 points plus 20 points garnered in the tournament games. Gene Wolke, an excellent rebound artist and playmaker added much strength to the team both at the guard and occasionally center positions. Dick "Razor" Campbell, in his initial season for U. D., became one of the Hilltop's best rebounders and also a top scorer, ranking second in scoring honors. Little Bobby Flynn, fastest man on the squad, broke loose for 27 points against Kentucky Wesleyan for top honors in scoring during a single game. Gene Joseph proved a wonderful defensive man and though small throttled the talents of many outstanding men on opposing teams. Richley West, last year's high point man, got off to a slow start but around midseason rumbled back into form and copped more than 200 points for the year .

Long after the nets have ceased swishing, this aggregation will be remembered for its gameness and determination. The records set during the season were not by accident and any team which surpasses them will have to be of the highest caliber.

FROSH CAGERS

For the first time in many a long year the Varsity prospects from the freshman squad look exceptionally bright. Having amassed a record of 20 wins against three losses, the frosh became known as the scourge of the Midwest. Of the three teams that defeated them, all three were beaten in return matches.

The U. D. frosh, playing under the sponsorship of a local concern, competed in the A. A. U. tournament in Dayton, Cincinnati, and the finals in Oklahoma City. They surprised many of the experts in the West by winning two out of three games in the finals. Oklahoma City University defeated them by a small margin in the third game. But, having established a strong reputation in the Midwest and Southwest, Tom Blackburn's Junior Varsity has greatly increased the respect of the University of Dayton's basketball.

High scorer for the starting quintet was Don Meineke with Junior Norris, another Dayton standout, close behind. Pete Boyle made quite a showing as an all around floor man and Chuck Grigsby's ability to score in the clinches paved many a road to victory. Smooth playing Don Bolton made his defensive ability felt upon arrival at Midseason while Dick Zimmerman and Clet Oberst established themselves as scoring threats throughout the entire year.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

DURING the fall season, the hockey squad of the Women's Athletic Association met five foes on the battlefield and deserved their opponent's respect in both victory and defeat. Two encounters with Wittenberg resulted in one tie and a defeat to Dayton, and a victory over Mt. St. Joseph brought the team into the final stretch where, in two valiant contests, Dayton lost to Miami and Ohio State. In a post season game the Upperclassmen rallied to down a determined Freshmen team.

In the intramural basketball a thrilling battle for first place laurels between the all freshmen "Hot Rods" and the "Villians" dominated the tournament with the "Hot Rods" edging the "Villians" 18-17 in a tensioned playoff game.

In intercollegiate competition U. D. met Wittenberg, Miami, and Antioch on the hardwoods with —wins and —losses resulting.

Practice Session

Weather permitting, tennis, softball, archery, and badminton will predominate the spring sports, with tennis the only possible intercollegiate competition. All others will be intramural activities with tournaments terminating the season.

Many a thrill-packed moment!

BASEBALL

The approach of spring saw the shaping of baseball hopefuls by Coaches Harry Baujan and Andre Nadeau. Nadeau, a newcomer to the Hilltop, is coach of the freshman ball club. A tentative schedule of twenty-two games, fourteen at home and eight away, gives the impression that Baujan and Nadeau, have high hopes for their batterymen.

Pre-season outlooks are good, returning lettermen including Dean Matheney and Jack Bungler as pitchers, Mike Toohey at short, Vince Daly at third, and Norm Justice and Bob Skelton in the outfield. Joe Sullivan is the only returning catcher, but there are a number of aspirants jockeying for regular berths in the remaining positions.

Intercollegiate home games will be played at Wood City, a diamond at Wright Field.

It's a hit

TRACK

Tulley, J. Currin, D. Meineke, J. Tibbs, F. Gombert, J. Bannister, J. Horvath, A. Ehlert, L. Ka-Ne, D. Leary, E. Marinan.

Five dual meets and one triangular encounter comprise the Flyer cinder schedule, with Joe Quinn coaching the tracksters for his second year. After a few years of inactivity, the U. D. thinlies ventured again into competition last year and under the helpful direction of Coach Quinn developed into a potential squad near the end of the season. With practically the same squad returning this year, plus several outstanding newcomers, the Hilltoppers are expecting a successful season this spring.

Topping the schedule for this season is Wilberforce University at Wilberforce, April 30. Following close behind is Louisville, at Louisville, May 6; Toledo at Toledo, May 14; Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware, May 17; Xavier at Dayton, May 20; and the triangular meet with Wilmington and Cedarville at Dayton, May 26.

Tom Blackburn's golf team will endeavor to bring its fourth Ohio intercollegiate championship to U. D. on May 16 at Columbus. The prospects are high with four returning regulars in the personages of Jack Zimmerman, Tom Kenny, Perry Lacy, and Ned Duffy. Newcomers to the link squad are Bob Wise and Buddy Alexander.

Highlight on the schedule is a triangle meet, with Ohio State and the Quantico Marines furnishing the opposition. Ohio State was one of the three teams to defeat the Flyers last year.

Home course for the fliers will be either Madden Park or Walnut Grove.

The cheerleaders, ably captained by Earl Moorman, had a very active year, operating at every football game except the St. Bonaventure and Chattanooga games. The squad, which consisted of thirteen members, split up into groups of three or four to conduct the cheering at the home basketball tilts.

Members of this year's squad were: Earl Moorman, Jo Murray, Frannie Dershem, Jean Stewart, Dan Romer, Rosie McAvoy, Ann Griffin, Al Ponce, Charlie Keiser, Anita Coberly, George Daly, Bill Montague, and Dick Weaver.

Next year's captain will be elected from nominees Dan Romer, Al Ponce, George, and Jo Murray, all of whom will be senior students.

Motivation

FRIEN

IT IS not good for man to be alone..." So says Holy Scripture. Experience makes this clearer. Sad indeed is the man with no friends. Man must live with his fellowmen and converse, recreate, in short, be a vital force in his society. Friendship is the result of all this activity.

So too, in school, students find a common ground for close association through their classes, but more, through their associations at dances, plays, and sports events. The joy of pleasant company and the presence of friends is a feeling that makes graduation all the more difficult. Yet this meeting of student with student, this forming of warm friendships does not end at graduation. Rather it molds the basis of further association which will more than ever develop the whole man. The process may be beautifully likened to a rough diamond that is polished into a gem through its "rubbing" with the grinder. Man is worth more for having "rubbed" shoulders with his fellow men.

Autumn
Winter
Spring

With the turning of the leaves from green to red and gold, our thoughts turned to school and books. Old acquaintances were hailed, and new friendships were formed, in the crisp days of autumn. Vistas of dances, football games, and weiner roasts opened for us, and we entered enthusiastically into college life.

Everything but a flute

Bonner, Batsche, and Beelzebub

WE found many activities to take up our free time. Flyers' Hangar started things rolling with a dance at the Loretto on Sept. 19th, and the plucky souls who ventured there were alternately mouse-trapped on the dance floor and soaked in perspiration at the coke bar.

Hell Week and Frosh Initiation took over the limelight then, and the "beginners" were floured, watered, and marched from the stadium to the courthouse downtown. For those who came thru this ordeal, there was the Frosh Welcome dance at the Miami hotel on Oct. 9th. Eddie Hess and Susie Hickey were voted King and Queen by their classmates, and reigned during the evening.

"I can't look!"

Who hid the bottle?

Birdie-watchers

OUT-of-town football games called for migrations, and many of us boarded the train for Cleveland and John Carroll; three weeks later we took along our webbed feet and the Flyers Special rumbled into Toledo. With two trips under our belts, we decided that we should migrate more often.

The Student Union bustled all year, especially during "talent show" periods. After billiard artist Charles Peterson showed the boys the hows, why's and when of making their shots, the pool-table ranks were four deep.

Jim Losh's weiner roasts out Bellbrook-way lured a fair percentage of U. D. people in that direction, and hardly a week went by without a small army descending upon genial James.

... and Dance

NOT TO be outdone, the C. S. M. C. gave a Hallowe'en dance on Oct. 30th. We trekked to the Miami hotel crackerbox to listen and dance to the music of Bill Rish and his Campus Flyers; at intermission Nancy Niswonger and Ann August, C. S. M. C.'s candidates for Homecoming queen and attendant, were introduced to the crowd, with audible and visual effect.

The Sadie Hawkins theme predominated at the Nov. 7th Hangar, with the fair sex bidding to trip the light fantastic. Anyone who has seen some of the dancing at the Loretto will agree that "fantastic" is an appropriate term.

Numerous parties sprang up on the slightest pretext, especially on the night after Dayton scalped Miami's Sun Bowl champs.

Coronation

THE Homecoming campaign opened on Oct. 25th. For ten days the halls, the cafe, the campus, and even the air above the school was stirred by broadcasts, goats, parachutes, airplanes, "blind" men, parades, bands, and anything else that would get attention. Every conceivable means of phenagling another vote for a particular candidate from eligible balloteers was used. Then the men of U. D. named their choice for Homecoming Queen and Freshman Attendant. When the slips were counted, Marianne Roll was elected Queen, and Ann August her attendant.

Marianne and her court were presented to the student body on the night of the 12th in the stadium. Betty Hodapp, last year's royalty, presented the queen with a bouquet, and things settled down until the game and the dance on the following day.

WEEKEND

SATURDAY the 13th, Homecoming 1948. Dreary skies and chilly weather provided a contrast for the colorful festivities during the game, and gave students and grads alike an excuse to imbibe frequent draughts of 90-proof "cough medicine." Formal presentation of the queen and her court was made at game halftime, with Father Renneker doing the coronation honors. Addresses were made by several dignitaries, and then the stands were rocked when a P-80 jet buzzed the gridiron at not more than ten feet altitude—or so it seemed.

Some people said of the dance: "It wasn't as crowded as last year's—I still have both arms." Attendance was a moot question, with numerous parties blossoming in the Biltmore's rooms, and then moving to the dance floor... and vice versa.

Beauty and the brass

Believe it or not, there were tables and a band, too

Settled by now in the pursuit of Education, our association with fellow students began to take on a more concrete form. As the snowflakes fell, and evenings were tinged with quiet, we grew more appreciative of companionships formed in the semester's early days; knowing what paths to follow, we derived more pleasure from our university days.

Christmas Ball

Ten-minute break

The first big dance of the winter was the Pershing Rifles' Christmas Ball. Formals were taken from closets and pressed, and tuxedos were de-mothballed and surveyed with many a rueful glance. Karl Taylor provided excellent music, and Lakeside's ballroom was filled with couples dancing until the wee hours.

Who could ask for more?

"And here we have..."

HAVING had but a few parties and basketball games to hold us, the classic Junior Prom was something to point for. General chairman Pete Kuntz, master-of-ceremonies Bob Tormey, "Doc" Krause, Leo Kessler, and Vera Seiler worked hard and long to make this dance a remembered one. Elliot Lawrence brought his superlative music to Lakeside Feb. 11th, and the proceedings were just this side of heaven.

The Junior class voted Frannie Dershem queen; princesses were Molly Bucher, Sue Pohlmeier, Mary Frank, and Georgia O'Connell. At intermission Bob Tormey presented Frannie with a rose bouquet, and all the court received autographed Elliot Lawrence recordings.

CONSENUS of opinion was that the Prom was the best dance yet. After all the work and strain was over, Pete Kuntz took a week off to recuperate, and that dazed look left his eyes. Hangar Anniversary

RIGHT on the heels of the Prom—just two weeks later, in fact—and again at Lakeside, came the Flyers' Hangar fourth anniversary dance, featuring not one but two orchestras—Bill Rish's and Eddie James'. As a tribute to founders Eleanor Kurtz, Kenny Trimbach, and Joe Mori, chairman Eddie Boland pulled out all the stops to make the evening a success. Past presidents Chuck Crowley and Hank Ferrazza were introduced; not to be slighted, Larry Fitzgerald and Ed Maj came in for the credit due them as chief Hangar sweeper-outers, being presented with rose-and-straw-topped brooms as staffs of office. At any given moment from 8:30 to 12:30, at least one member of the committee could be seen dashing around checking on music, reservations, ticket sales, and tables. All told, it was quite a night.

Seven no-trump, doubled and vulnerable

OUR coeds pulled another ace from their sleeves when the Women's Athletic Association took over the Towers for a dance, and the lady basketeers and hockeyettes asked the men for an evening out. A capacity crowd turned out to make the affair a profitable one, in more ways than one.

Hangar dances were still going strong, as per usual. Opportunities to play cards, make dates, sip cokes, meet people, and see how the other guy made out presented themselves. Some people (a one-third minority) even danced—provided that a path could be blasted thru the standing army of stags at the doors.

Lent cut down the number of "official" functions, and even hallowed elbow-bending sessions at Sutt's and the Heid went into reverse. Came St. Patrick's Day, and things took a 24-hour vacation from penance and sacrifice; the Double K was the scene of one of the most stupendous blowouts in history. For over twelve hours the door swung in and swung out, and part-and full-time Irishmen passed in and passed out. As long as a person put an "O" or a "Mc" in front of his last name, he was automatically entitled to green beer, green bread, a green hat, and a green face the next morning.

WITH just six weeks till the end of school, a rash of dances broke out. The first of these was the Pershing Rifles' Military Ball on April 22nd at Lakeside.

Dancing from 9 till 1 to the orchestra of Karl Taylor and Les Shephard, the crowd paused at midnight to watch a picked squad of Rifles perform the intricate Queen Anne drill. Climaxing this was past regent Jeanne Stewart's coronation of Anne Griffin, who will preside over all Pershing Rifles activities during the next year.

AS SOON as everyone had run down from the Military Ball, along came the Turnabout Tag to wind us up again. Completely reversing standing operating procedure, coeds asked for the date, bought the tickets, called for the male, presented him with a fantastic corsage, and hied to Wampler's and Elton Dale's music. The men remarked slyly that turnabout could be fun—if it was for every dance!

Nine days later the curtain came down on the social season when the Senior Farewell was held at Lakeside on May 13th. The orchestrations of Ray Anthony added an "Auld Lang Syne" to the end of a wonderful evening, and to a year of cherished memories of parties and dances.

What's Tomorrow Like?

Tomorrow is the day after graduation. What will it be like?

Tomorrow can be a friendly place—a bright attractive office where you'll find old friends and make new ones. Tomorrow can be interesting, important work, good pay and a chance to advance.

Tomorrow can be a pleasant, profitable Telephone Job—IF you can measure up to the fine standards of communications work.

Come in and talk it over . . . today!

Where will you invest YOUR 100,000 HOURS?

At 25 years of age, you have about 100,000 working hours until you reach retirement. Your success in life depends upon how and where you invest those 100,000 hours.

Choosing the field in which you are going to work and choosing the organization of which you will become a part are two of the most important decisions you must make.

In order to arrive at the proper decision, you should know the answers to many questions . . . some about the field, some about the organization. You should be just as interested in what a specific company has to offer you as the company itself is interested in your qualifications.

To answer some questions about one field . . . selling . . . and about one company . . . The National Cash Register Company . . . is the purpose of a booklet entitled "Your 100,000 Hours." It is published by The National Cash Register Company. A copy is available to you, gratis, at any NCR branch office, or you may secure one from the Sales Training Division at the factory.
