PREFATORY REMARKS.

THIS Return sets out the estimated acreage of owners of lands and heritages in Scotland; and the annual value of the same. The names and addresses of owners of one acre and upwards are given, together with the extent and annual value of their lands and heritages, and the number of owners of less than one acre of land, with the aggregate extent and annual value of their property.

The Return is made up in Counties; with separate Returns for Boroughs containing 20,000 inhabitants.

The estimated acreage has been obtained by the Surveyors of Stamps and Taxes from inquiry on the spot, and from the best resources at their command.

The duty imposed on these officers in ascertaining the estimated extent or acreage of properties was one of considerable difficulty, and, occasionally, of some delicacy.

The following was the course adopted:—

Early in January 1873 a circular was addressed by me to the known agents of landed proprietors, setting forth the nature and particulars of the Return sought, and requesting such information as could be conveniently furnished as to the areas of estates under their charge. In many cases, prompt and satisfactory replies were received; but not unfrequently my correspondents referred me to local factors, occupying tenants, and other persons, with an occasional intimation that there was no survey of the estate or estates of their constituents, who could not be reasonably expected to incur the trouble and cost of obtaining the information sought by the Officers of the Government.

On the 10th of February the Surveyors were instructed, when no satisfactory information could be obtained from owners, factors, farmers, or others, to select persons of local knowledge and skill to aid them in ascertaining the acreage of properties. 'A scientific survey,' it was intimated, 'is of course out of the question; but persons may no doubt be found, who, for a moderate fee, will visit the lands and make tolerably accurate estimates of the acreage of the several properties that will fall to be dealt with in that way. As such process, however, of survey and estimate will be an expensive one, it must not be resorted to until all other efforts to obtain information shall have failed, or until the estimated cost shall have been submitted to me, through the Inspector of the Division, and shall have been formally sanctioned.'

Shortly thereafter schedules were furnished to each Surveyor, to be addressed by him to owners, occupiers, and other persons, in his district, soliciting the requisite information.

Schedules were, at the same time, furnished to all parties so addressed, on which answers to certain queries were to be returned, so as to give the least possible trouble to the public in filling up and thereafter posting the schedules to the Officers by whom they had been issued.

Besides the difficulty, in the absence of authentic data, of estimating the extent of lands and heritages, the labour (largely shared by the in-door Officers) of ascertaining correctly the names and addresses of owners of an acre and upwards in extent was very great; but it is believed that the general accuracy of the result will be found to justify the attention and care bestowed on that branch of the Return.

With reference to the matter of annual value, the Valuation Rolls of Counties and Boroughs, made up towards the close of 1872, being authentic documents, have been followed. Such Rolls were prepared by Assessors appointed by the Commissioners of Supply for Counties, and by Magistrates for Boroughs, under the provisions of the Acts 17 & 18 Vict. cap. 91, and 20 & 21 Vict. cap. 58.

The Valuation Roll made up in 1872 by the Assessor of Railways and Canals, appointed under the 20th section of the former Act, has been adopted as representing the true annual value of the property of which that Officer is the Assessor.

When, from whatever cause, lands and heritages have been omitted from the Valuation Roll of a County or Borough, the omission has been supplied by the insertion in this Return of the estimated acreage, and of the annual value of the property, as fixed by experienced and competent persons.

The reason why the annual value of property has been taken from the Valuation Rolls of 1872, is that the compilation of this Return, having been commenced during the early part of 1873, the Valuation Rolls then in force were those made up in autumn 1872, 'for the year commencing at the term of Whitsunday immediately preceding, and ending at the term of Whitsunday immediately following,'—17 & 18 Vict. cap. 91, sec. 12.

In the category of 'Owners' are included Feuars, Leaseholders of 99 years or upwards, and Liferenters, whether in virtue of office or otherwise.

The extent of lands has been estimated in imperial acres. It has not been considered necessary to give fractional parts of an acre; and in stating the annual value, it has been deemed sufficient to give the result in pounds and shillings.

The duties assigned to Inspectors and Surveyors of Taxes in connection with this Return have been discharged with zeal, intelligence, and discretion; and equally satisfactory has been the performance of the duties which devolved on the in-door Officers of Stamps and Taxes, by whom each Return as received was carefully examined and checked. It is satisfactory to be enabled to add, that the services of the several Officers engaged in the work have been given heartily, faithfully, and with a meritorious desire, to the utmost of their power, to promote an object which is felt to be one of national importance and interest.
