

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

92ND ANNUAL
HONORS
CONVOCATION

Hill Auditorium
March 15, 2015 | 2:00 p.m.

This year marks the 92nd Honors Convocation held at the University of Michigan since the first was instituted on May 13, 1924, by President Marion LeRoy Burton. On these occasions the University publicly recognizes and commends the undergraduate students in its schools and colleges who have earned distinguished academic records or have excelled as leaders in the community. It is highly appropriate that those students be honored who have most clearly and effectively demonstrated academic excellence, dynamic leadership, and inspirational volunteerism. The Honors Convocation takes rank with the commencement exercises among the important ceremonies of the University year.

The names of the students who are honored for outstanding achievement this year appear in this program. They include all students who have earned University Honors in both Winter 2014 and Fall 2014, plus all seniors who have earned University Honors in either Winter 2014 or Fall 2014. The William J. Branstrom Freshman Prize recipients are listed, as well—recognizing first year undergraduate students whose academic achievement during their first semester on campus place them in the upper five percent of their school or college class. James B. Angell Scholars—students who receive all “A” grades over consecutive terms—are given a special place in the program. In addition, the student speaker is recognized individually for exemplary contributions to the University community.

To all honored students, and to their parents, the University extends its hearty congratulations.

Honored Students
Honored Faculty
Faculty Colleagues and Friends of the University

It is a pleasure to welcome you to the 92nd University of Michigan Honors Convocation. On behalf of the academic leaders on the Ann Arbor, Dearborn, and Flint campuses, I thank you for joining us today.

The Honors Convocation is an important University tradition, where we recognize and celebrate the outstanding academic achievements of undergraduate students from all three of our campuses.

Today we honor students who exemplify academic excellence, committed and creative leadership, and thoughtful service—all core values of the University. These students have demonstrated a passion for learning—challenging themselves and their teachers with tough questions and innovative ideas that stretch the boundaries of knowledge and open new pathways for exploration.

The University's mission statement includes our commitment to "developing leaders who will challenge the present and enrich the future." The students we honor today give life to that commitment through their purposeful engagement with the world.

Today we also honor a group of distinguished faculty members who have joined us for this ceremony. Recently recognized by the University for their outstanding teaching and scholarship, they represent the many individuals in our community who inspire, challenge, and support our students.

As we congratulate our students, we also recognize, with deep appreciation, the parents, family members, and friends who have nurtured and supported these remarkable students. The University of Michigan shares the pride you feel in their accomplishments. With you, we look forward to the contributions they will make to the future.

Congratulations and welcome!

Martha E. Pollack
Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs

ORDER OF EXERCISES

Honors Convocation, March 15, 2015

“Social Justice and the Role of Higher Education: Can One Person Make a Difference?”

The theme for this year’s event is intended to prompt discussion about how institutions of higher education actively address issues of social justice, including preparing our students to transform society for the better.

HONORS CONVOCATION SPEAKERS

Jennessa L. Rooker

Senior, School of Nursing

Jennessa Rooker, from Grand Ledge, Michigan, is a senior in the School of Nursing.

Winner of the United States Hispanic Leadership Institute Dr. Juan Andrade Scholarship for Young Hispanic Leaders, she has devoted hundreds of hours conducting medical research at Michigan. As an Undergraduate Research Opportunity Program participant and research assistant, she has studied the effectiveness of health behavior interventions on lower socioeconomic status workers and smoking cessation education for hospitalized smokers. A dedicated volunteer, she has helped meet the health needs of senior citizens, the homeless, and migrant workers, and regularly staffs local American Red Cross blood drives. In addition to serving as president of U-M's Student Nurses' Association, she is active in the University's chapter of the National Society of Leadership and Success, the Sigma Theta Tau International Society of Nursing, and the National Association of Hispanic Nurses. Following graduation, she intends to join the Peace Corps and pursue graduate studies.

Alford A. Young, Jr.

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of Sociology
Chair, Department of Sociology
Professor of Afroamerican and African Studies
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Professor Young, a University of Michigan faculty member since 1996, was named a Thurnau Professor in 2005 in recognition of his outstanding teaching and mentoring. He earned a bachelor's degree in sociology, psychology, and Afroamerican studies from Wesleyan University in Middletown, Connecticut, and a master's degree and doctorate in sociology from the University of Chicago. Professor Young's research interests span culture, contemporary sociological theory, race relations and race theory, and urban poverty. His first book, The Minds of Marginalized Black Men: Making Sense of Mobility, Opportunity, and Future Life Chances (2004), explores how young, poor black men understand their social position and determinants of social mobility. Another book, Faculty Identities and the Challenge of Diversity: Reflections on Teaching in Higher Education (2013), which he co-edited, examines how higher education faculty consider and attempt to manage diversity-related issues that emerge during classroom instruction. Professor Young, vice chair of the Ann Arbor YMCA Board of Directors, has served as a volunteer YMCA basketball coach for 10 years and as a member of its Strong Kids Annual Fund Campaign Committee since 2007. Among many honors, Professor Young has received the Ann Arbor YMCA Lifetime Achievement Award, LSA's Excellence in Education Award twice, U-M's Harold R. Johnson Diversity Service Award and John Dewey Prize, and the Michigan Sociological Association's Charles Horton Cooley Award for scholarly contributions to sociology. Through his research, teaching, and example, Professor Young inspires students and the public to think critically about ethnic and racial diversity, poverty, and other significant social issues.

RHODES, MARSHALL, MITCHELL AND GATES CAMBRIDGE SCHOLARSHIPS

Rhodes, Marshall, Mitchell, and Gates Cambridge Scholarships are among the world's most prestigious academic awards for graduate students. Since the estate of British philanthropist Cecil John Rhodes established Rhodes Scholarships in 1904, 26 University of Michigan alumni have studied as Rhodes Scholars at Oxford University. Thirty-two Americans are named Rhodes Scholars each year. International students may apply to or be nominated by 13 other jurisdictions designated by the Rhodes Trust. The College of Engineering's David Moore will study computer science and business at Oxford in the fall as a Rhodes Scholar.

Marshall Scholarships, founded by an Act of Parliament in 1953, finance opportunities for young American scholars of high ability to study in the United Kingdom. The scholarship commemorates the humane ideals of the European Recovery Program (Marshall Plan) and funds one or two years of study. Approximately 40 Marshall Scholarships are awarded annually to American students who demonstrate maturity, self-reliance, and self-discipline.

In 1999, the George J. Mitchell Scholarships were established for American university students. This third competitive national scholarship program, supported by the Irish and British governments and other benefactors, honors former Senator George J. Mitchell for his contributions to the Northern Ireland peace process. The prestigious award allows Americans to pursue one year of post-graduate study in Ireland and Northern Ireland. Up to 12 George J. Mitchell Scholarships are awarded annually to students who have shown both academic distinction and the potential for leadership.

Endowed by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation in 2001, the Gates Cambridge Scholarship provides full funding for graduate study at the University of Cambridge. Each year 40 scholars from the U.S. join 55 scholars from other parts of the world to form an interdisciplinary cohort representing all areas of academic research. Ana Guay will enter the MPhil program in Classics at Cambridge and is the seventh University of Michigan student to receive a Gates Cambridge Scholarship.

We proudly recognize the following students who were endorsed by the University of Michigan this year:

Kevin Bain College of Literature, Science, and the Arts Stephen M. Ross School of Business	Rhodes Nominee
Ana Guay College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Gates Cambridge Recipient Marshall Nominee
Zeinab Khalil College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Marshall Nominee Rhodes Finalist
Sara Ann Knutson College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Gates Cambridge Alternate
Stephanie Leitzel College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Mitchell Nominee
David Moore College of Engineering	Marshall Nominee Rhodes Recipient
James Nadel College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Marshall Nominee

RAOUL WALLENBERG FELLOWSHIP

Inspired by the spirit of Raoul Wallenberg, the Wallenberg Fellowship is awarded in the spring of each year to a graduating senior of exceptional promise and accomplishment who is committed to service and the public good. The fellowship provides $25,000 to carry out an independent project of learning or exploration anywhere in the world during the year after graduation. The Fellow will engage in a self-designed and self-directed area of exploration or project of experiential learning. Through an active and immersive year-long experience, and by connecting in meaningful ways with the lives of other people and communities, the Wallenberg Fellow will prepare to make a difference in the world.

The Fellowship honors Raoul Wallenberg (B.S. Arch. '35), one of the most illustrious graduates of the University of Michigan. At U-M, Wallenberg was recognized for the excellence of his academic work, his eagerness for knowledge of the world and for understanding others, and for his intrepid independence and resourcefulness. He left Ann Arbor resolved to be actively engaged in life. Ten years later, as a Swedish diplomat during World War II, Wallenberg coordinated the rescue of tens of thousands of Jews in Budapest. He disappeared after he was arrested by Soviet authorities. One of the great heroes of the 20th century, Raoul Wallenberg shows that even under the most daunting circumstances, one person can make a difference.

The University of Michigan would like to express its deep appreciation to U-M parents Jon and Lili Bosse and U-M alumnus Bert Askwith (B.A. '31). Jon and Lilli Bosse's generous gift initiated the Wallenberg Fellowship in 2013. In 2014, Bert Askwith generously created the Mary Sue Coleman Endowed Fund for the Raoul Wallenberg Fellowship to support future generations of Michigan students who are inspired by Wallenberg's legacy, and to honor President Coleman's leadership during her tenure at U-M.

2015 THURNAU PROFESSORS

The Thurnau Professorships were established in 1988 to recognize and reward faculty for outstanding contributions to undergraduate education. The professorships honor tenured faculty members who, through their commitment and investment in undergraduate teaching, have had a positive impact on the intellectual development and lives of students.

Arthur F. Thurnau, for whom the Thurnau Professorship is named, attended the University of Michigan from fall of 1902 until spring of 1904. He studied a liberal arts curriculum, but he did not graduate. This was not uncommon for the time, and although his three brothers also attended the University of Michigan, only one of them graduated. In his two years here, Arthur completed 58 credits of French, German, history, English, rhetoric, politics, and economics. He also was a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity and sang in the Freshmen Glee Club.

Arthur later returned to Chicago, and worked as an “ad man,” selling advertising space in various magazines and newspapers. In this role, he eventually rose to the position of vice president and western manager for the firm Paul Block, Inc. He was actively involved in U-M alumni events in Chicago, even trying to arrange a football game between the Wolverines and the University of Chicago Maroons during that period of time when Chicago was part of the Big Ten Conference and Michigan was not. He also put his organizational talents to work during World War II by creating events to encourage the sale of government bonds.

Arthur Thurnau’s generosity to the University of Michigan began in 1966, and continued through the rest of his life. Upon his death in 1979, his estate created the Thurnau Charitable Trust to support the University of Michigan. Since 1988, these funds have been used to support the Thurnau Professorships. Thurnau Professors receive $20,000 grants to support activities that enhance teaching. It is this important recognition for faculty that Arthur F. Thurnau so generously provided for and that the University of Michigan celebrates. The University is pleased to recognize this year’s Thurnau Professors.

Barry J. Fishman

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of Education
School of Education
Professor of Information
School of Information

Professor Fishman is a passionate teacher, devoted to his students, and a leader in the field of educational technology. Winner of the 2010 Provost's Teaching Innovation Prize, he is a true creator when it comes to class design and integration of technological tools aimed at enhancing teaching and student learning. In his signature undergraduate course, Video Games and Learning, Professor Fishman has remarkably and fittingly transformed the coursework into a ludic experience for his students. To do so, he has developed GradeCraft, a tool that gives students more autonomy in their learning, and allows faculty to better understand the relationship between students' motivation, assessment, and learning. With this revolutionary tool, "students have many choices of how they will reach their own goals. They are expected—practically required—to game the system: to find their own best way to learn the material and demonstrate their knowledge." Through GradeCraft and other technologies that enable collaborative writing, instant polling, and videoconferencing with experts, Professor Fishman creates a classroom environment that accommodates the needs of diverse students coming from a variety of academic backgrounds. Professor Fishman's commitment to teaching extends substantially beyond his own students. He shares creative ideas with faculty across campus who attribute their own innovation in large part to their collaboration with him. As one colleague states, "Much of what I do in my teaching owes to what I have learned from him. Barry is a trendsetter and a leader in undergraduate pedagogy on campus."

Anna R. Kirkland

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Associate Professor of Women's Studies
Associate Professor of Political Science
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

An award-winning teacher, Professor Kirkland has established a long record of excellence in teaching across all levels of the curriculum. Her teaching reflects her passion for intellectual exchange and a commitment to diversity that is grounded in her own scholarly activity. In classes on gender and politics and on disability and race policies, she successfully involves students in addressing real-world issues and enables them to make a tangible positive impact. As part of a Gender and Law course, her students researched the accessibility of Michigan's judicial bypass process for minors by surveying all 83 Michigan County courts. Their findings led to an official report distributed to the state courts and organizations, and resulted in policy changes and additional training for court employees. One student reported that the course "awakened me to see the world in a different light," and another recalled it as "the greatest experience of my undergraduate studies." Her mentorship of honors students and undergraduate theses has allowed numerous students to complete superlative work while significantly changing their academic career paths. Moreover, as a Director of Undergraduate Studies, Professor Kirkland secured a grant for the Women's Studies department to establish new research initiatives that support students' learning activities. As one colleague writes, Professor Kirkland "is an exemplary teacher and a model to whom many in our Department have turned for concrete ideas and inspiration in their own teaching."

Matthew D. Lassiter

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Associate Professor of History
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts
Associate Professor of Architecture and Urban Planning
A. Alfred Taubman College of Architecture and Urban Planning

Professor Lassiter's former students describe his classes as life changing experiences and his teaching as a source of continuing inspiration. Winner of the 2004 Golden Apple Award, Professor Lassiter has excelled at teaching many of the department's large courses, including his signature offering, The History of American Suburbia. In this class, he encourages students to conceptualize familiar urban spaces in terms of their historical development, providing a variety of media for critical inquiry, such as popular songs, films, journal articles, memoirs, and historical novels. His teaching is not limited to the classroom, as Professor Lassiter is one of the department's most sought-after mentors for majors and honors theses. As one student notes, he "opened my eyes to see the world in a cosmopolitan way that I never knew was possible." His dedication to undergraduate education is reflected as well in his commitment to leading the transformation of the History curriculum. One of the most important contributions to this successful process was the creation of a methods course for majors, Doing History, which allows students to practice historical research under academic guidance. Additionally, his leadership has enhanced the diversity of the department's student demographics through the inception of courses that are more visible and hospitable for a wider variety of students. His example and service have transformed the culture of his department into one where corridor conversations about pedagogy flourish and faculty invest significant time and energy into creating new courses and improving old ones. As one of his colleagues summarizes, "Professor Lassiter makes all of us better teachers."

Jeremy D. Semrau

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of Civil and Environmental Engineering
College of Engineering

An admiring colleague states that Professor Semrau "is an exceptional teacher, one of the best I have ever observed in my 20 years of teaching." From one-on-one mentoring to the introduction of new, interdisciplinary courses and concentration areas, as well as innovative classroom practices and pedagogy, his commitment to critical thinking, practicality, and student engagement has been unparalleled. A winner of numerous teaching awards, Professor Semrau designs active learning tasks that require students to address real-world, challenging problems. After studying data and reports related to the old U.S. Steel South Works in Chicago, interdisciplinary teams of students in his Sustainable Cities course worked to prepare redevelopment plans taking into consideration a complex array of issues of sustainability, contamination, and legality. A student reports, "The final project was awesome," because it allowed students "to actually apply all the things we have learned throughout the term to a real-world situation." A member of the Graham Environmental Sustainability Institute, Professor Semrau was instrumental in creating the Graham Scholars Program, which provides outstanding students with an innovative, skill-building experience related to sustainability issues. Additionally, in his role as associate director of the Program in the Environment, he introduced a new minor in sustainability. He has approached the design of its curriculum, as he does his classes, from a perspective that encompasses an extraordinarily wide range of disciplines, from engineering to public health, law, and urban studies. Since its inception three years ago, the program has grown to an enrollment of over 500 undergraduate students, due in large part to his efforts.

John P. Wolfe

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor

Professor of Chemistry

College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Professor Wolfe's exceptional classroom pedagogy, teaching effectiveness, and educational innovations have been recognized by a number of awards. His masterful organization of lecture content and approachability are lauded by numerous students who report that Professor Wolfe is always ready "to help his students and does not stop until everyone's issues are resolved." In similarly enthusiastic terms, colleagues talk about Professor Wolfe's coordination of the sequence of undergraduate organic chemistry courses with an average enrollment of about 1,000 students per semester. As one colleague notes, "this is a leadership role that has a very large impact on the experience of thousands of students." Professor Wolfe's dedication to improving the undergraduate experience in STEM fields is reflected as well in his mentorship of new faculty and postdocs teaching introductory courses and his participation in curriculum development. He led a revision and refinement of the curriculum, including the development of a new suite of undergraduate-level special topics courses and an organometallic chemistry course, a critical and emerging interdisciplinary topic. Professor Wolfe has also been a major contributor to U-M's efforts to recruit and retain a diverse student body. As a departmental representative in the M-Sci Academies program, he led the development of a new initiative aimed at recruiting talented students from underrepresented groups into a summer undergraduate research program. In addition, he meets frequently with them to provide advice and mentorship as students navigate the program. In describing Professor Wolfe, a student remarks, "Dr. Wolfe's passion for the subject was infectious. It made me constantly want to know more about organic chemistry and often led me to ponder questions outside and beyond the scope of the course in a way that I have never done for another subject."

ACADEMIC DRESS AND CUSTOM

The colorful gowns and hoods worn by faculty members at commencement and other academic ceremonies represent the degrees, disciplines, and alma maters of the wearers. The American academic costume tradition, imported from England, dates to Colonial days.

Gowns

Bachelor's or master's degree gowns traditionally are black, as are many doctoral gowns in the United States. Some universities prescribe that their graduates wear gowns of another solid color such as blue, crimson, or green. Gowns differ in sleeve cut and trim. For example, the bachelor's gown has long, pointed sleeves while the master's gown has oblong sleeves. Doctoral gowns, with their distinctive bell-shaped sleeves, feature velvet panels down the front and around the neck, as well as crossbars of velvet on the sleeves. Colored trim denotes the field or discipline in which the degree was earned. Usually only a single degree from one institution is indicated by a garment. If more than one degree is held, the gown and hood of the higher or highest degree usually are worn.

Hoods

The hood most precisely describes the wearer's level of degree earned, the major field of learning, and the alma mater. The level of the degree held is indicated by the hood's shape and size and the width of its velvet or velveteen trimming. The bachelor's, master's, and doctor's hoods are 36 inches, 42 inches, and 48 inches long, respectively. The velvet trim is two, three, and five inches wide, with the narrowest being for the bachelor's hood and the widest for the doctor's hood. The color of trim on the hood, as on the gown, identifies the major field of learning in which the degree was awarded. The hood is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree.

Caps

Caps vary in style from the traditional black mortarboard to eight-, six-, and four-corner tams, and Elizabethan-style caps. The mortarboard may be of any appropriate material, such as cotton, poplin, rayon, or silk, to match the gown. Velvet is reserved for holders of doctorates.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The University's mace, a symbol of authority, is carried at the head of academic processions on such important ceremonial occasions as commencements, convocations, and inaugurations. The mace being used today was given to the University in 1968 by the Senior Board, representing all the undergraduate schools and colleges. Crafted of red oak and trimmed with silver, the mace features the seals of the University and of the State of Michigan. Also engraved on the mace are the names of the University presidents.

JAMES B. ANGELL SCHOLARS

Students who achieve an “A” record (all grades of A+, A, or A-) for two or more consecutive terms are recognized as James B. Angell Scholars. The student must have taken a minimum of 14 credit hours each term, including at least 12 credits elected on a graded (A-E) basis.

UNIVERSITY HONORS

The University Honors designation is awarded to students who earned a 3.5 grade point average or higher during a term. The student must have taken a minimum of 14 credit hours during the term, including at least 12 credits elected on a graded (A-E) basis. Students who achieve University Honors designation for both the winter 2014 term and fall 2014 term are recognized at Honors Convocation. Seniors who achieve University Honors for at least one of these two terms are recognized at Honors Convocation.

STATEMENT ON FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND ARTISTIC EXPRESSION

Thank you for attending this program. The University of Michigan strives to create a truly open forum, one in which diverse opinions can be expressed and heard.

It is the right of members of the University community, speakers, artists, and other invited guests to express their views and opinions at the University. We will protect the right of individuals to speak or perform, and the rights of those members of the University community who wish to hear and communicate with an invited speaker or artist.

Protesters also have a right to express their opposition to a speaker in appropriate ways, both within the confines of this building and outside the facility. However, protesters must not interfere unduly with communication between a speaker or artist and members of the audience.

If the hosts of this event or University representatives believe that protesters are interfering unduly with a speaker or performer's freedom of expression, those protesters will be warned. If the warnings are not heeded and the interference continues, then the individuals responsible may be removed from the building.

We reaffirm these policies in order to most fully protect the rights of free expression for speakers, performers, and protesters alike, as set forth by our Civil Liberties Board in our Student Handbook, and in accordance with the U-M Standard Practice Guide; Regents' Ordinance Article XII, Section 1; and state statutes.

NONDISCRIMINATION POLICY

The University of Michigan, as an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action. The University of Michigan is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, religion, height, weight, or veteran status in employment, educational programs and activities, and admissions. Inquiries or complaints may be addressed to the Senior Director for Institutional Equity, and Title IX/Section 504/ADA Coordinator, Office of Institutional Equity, 2072 Administrative Services Building, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48109-1432, 734-763-0235, TTY 734-647-1388. For other University of Michigan information call 734-764-1817.

THE YELLOW AND BLUE

Sing to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!

Yellow the stars as they ride thro' the night,
And reel in a rollicking crew;

Yellow the fields where ripens the grain,
And Yellow the moon on the harvest wain;

Hail!

Hail to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!
