Grammaticalization as Optimization In historical linguistics and language change, grammaticalization (also known as grammatization or grammaticization) is a process of language change by which words representing objects and actions (i.e. nouns and verbs) become grammatical markers (affixes, prepositions, etc.). Thus it creates new function words by a process other than deriving them from existing bound, inflectional ... Grammaticalization - Wikipedia "Basic to work on grammaticalization is the concept of a 'cline' (see Halliday 1961 for an early use of this term). From the point of view of change, forms do not shift abruptly from one category to another, but go through a series of small transitions, transitions that tend to be similar in type across languages. Definition and Examples of Grammaticalization The grammaticalization of manner expression remains understudied, however. This has been attributed to their semantic and syntactic versatility (e.g. König 2015: 39-40), and to the problems associated with making more fine-grained distinctions between markers of manner.
