Rationing Of Canned Fruits Starts March 1

Rationing of canned and frozen fruits and vegetables and dried fruits will begin on March 1, the Office of Price Administration announced in Washington Tuesday.

Grocery store sale of these commodities will stop at midnight February 20 and will not be resumed until the ration date.

This "freeze" was set by officials for the purpose of allowing grocers to stock up, to arrange and mark merchandise, and undertake other preparations for the complicated "point rationing" system.

Registration At Schools

Beginning February 22 and stretching over six days, the entire civilian population of the country will be registered in school houses and elsewhere for this new type of rationing, in a manner similar to the nation wide registration for sugar rationing nearly a year ago.

At this registration, everyone who can show that he has war ration book number one, the coupon sheet for sugar and coffee, will be entitled to receive war ration book number two, which will be used both for canned goods beginning March 1 and will also be used about a month later for meat rationing.

Declaration Required

Before getting the new ration book, however, each family will have to declare how many cans the family had on hand on February 21. From this number will be subtracted five cans for every person in the family, and coupons from the new book will be torn out for any cans in excess of five per person. However, this count of cans will exclude home canned goods and certain types of non-rationed cans such as canned olives or jellies, and all cans containing less than eight ounces (mostly small cans of baby food).

This sermon is a study in the "Gospel of the Infancy," as the earlier chapters in St. Luke's Gospel has been called. It is also peculiarly appropriate to the Epiphany Season and the Feast of the Purification of St. Mary the Virgin, which was observed last Monday.

A handsomely designed and executed dossel with riddle curtains to match has been placed behind the altar in the Children's Corner of the church.

Miss Betty Wooddell will be in charge of the altar for the month of February. She will be glad to receive cut flowers either as donations, thank offerings or memorials.

At the annual meeting of the Altar Guild the vicar appointed Mrs. Edward A. Titcomb, Jr., director for the ensuing year, and Mrs. Craig Pottinger was reelected secretary-treasurer. There were no other nominations. This meeting was held Tuesday night.
